Reapportionment Queries

Here are questions frequently asked about the reapportionment plan as sponsored by the Michigan Committee For A Balanced Legislature. The answers are from the point of view of that committee.

1. WHAT DOES THE PLAN PROPOSE TO DO?

a. Senate—It proposes to leave the Senate remain as at present with the addition of two sets—one representing Oakland County and the other Macomb County.

b. House of Representatives—It proposes to reapportion the House on the basis of population.

c. Continued recognition will be given to county boundary lines.

d. The provision (moiety) that permits a county to have a full representative if it has over 50% of a population unit is retained.

e. It proposes to district Detroit to eliminate the "bed-sheet ballot" in a fair fashion.

f. It increases house membership by up to 10 new members.

2. WHO IS "BEHIND" THE PLAN?

a. Practically every individual citizen of Michigan with the exception of the C.I.O. and A.F. of L. organizations, the Americans for Democratic Action, the NAACP, the Farmers Union, the socialists, the communists and their friends.

b. Probably the greatest outpouring of volunteer petition circulators ever to engage in a single cause in Michigan resulted in the gathering of an overwhelming number of signatures—at no cost to the Michigan Committee For A Balanced Legislature which had no funds and which was not supported by the treasury of a powerful labor union.

3. THIS PLAN IS SUPERIOR TO THE C.I.O. PLAN BECAUSE:

a. It is practical for it provides both fair representation and a balanced legislature.

With the House of Representatives membership based on population the urban areas have the direct and most powerful voice.

With the Senate based on population and recognizing geographical areas the rural areas and minority groups are not disenfranchised.

b. It does not—as does the C.I.O. plan—place controlling membership of both House and Senate in the hands of 3 counties of Michigan. This is an obvious fault of the C.I.O. plan because it is well recognized that the C.I.O. controls and can continue to control the election of a pre-dominant number of members from these three counties and would therefore control both Houses of the Legislature. The Michigan Committee For A Balanced Legislature does not believe that any single organization should control the Michigan legislature even if that organization is as philanthropic and altruistic minded as the C.I.O. has proven to be in the past.

4. WHAT WILL HAPPEN IF THIS REAPPORTIONMENT PLAN DOES NOT PASS?

The people want it. It is fair. It will pass.

Now that the Republican and Democratic national conventions are over Americans can pause to catch their breaths and take a quick look at November.

They're sure of one thing . . . they'll only elect one president then.

But Michigan voters face a more unusual situation on their state ballot. They can approve two amendments to the state constitution, two amendments that are as opposed as the GOP and Dem candidates will be.

That prospect is causing brow-wrinkling in Lansing as the experts study the odd situation. And with most of those experts already wrinkling their foreheads over problems of their personal political campaigns, we may wind up with a lot of Michigan prototypes of the famous Mrs. Pruneface of Dick Tracy notoriety.

This is how the unprecedented

We got a gentle "jacking-up" from Mrs. Archie Sutton who says, although she's a grandmother and not up on her spelling too well, she knows how to spell people. It's spelled p-o-p-l-a-r.

Mayor Sam Arbuckle and ex-mayor Harry Tompkins are still breaking the front pages. Latest outbreak this time was forwarded to us by Gladys and Jim Howie, of Vassar, Mich. who clipped a front page of the Saginaw News in which the famous Tompkins-Arbuckle battle was made the subject of a front-page editorial in the July 15 edition. They write:

"Everyday in the Saginaw paper there is an article called Sidewalk Sermons. Jim and I always enjoy them and we got quite a kick out of the enclosed one. When we mention to anyone down here we are from Boyne City, they always say that's the place that Harry Tompkins lives isn't it?"

One of the best articles we've read on the subject of night fishing appears in the August edition of Outdoor Life and is entitled Moonlight Serenade. It's written by Byron Dalrymple, of Wolverine. Dalrymple is that rare species of writer who has the ability of putting the pole in your hands and letting the fish tug at the line while you're reading the lines.

H. E. Carver, 78, of Tulsa, Oklahoma, has written a letter to Guy Stanhope about whom we recently carried a story. Carver, a construction contractor, says he's been sticking bottles containing information about his jobs, dates, and other details in every building that he's built for a number of years. Carver wonders what the people will think when they run across his bottles in 2117 or thereabouts. That's a very provocative question. With budgets and the power of bombs increasing in astronomical proportions, it's problematical as to who will be around to read the contents of the bottles.

If a couple of our drinking friends live long enough and run onto one of Carver's bottles, we can safely predict their reactions. They'll say, "The darned things are empty."

Edna Anzalone reports that the Power Squadrons are anxiously awaiting on opportunity to make Boyne City one of their cruise ports and would have been here this season if the docks had been in shape. Next year, with the docks completed, there will be a variety of club burgees drifting in the breezes of Lake Charlevoix.

Back in 1940 editorial writers were bemoaning the fact F.D.R. had spent 60 billion dollars in 8 years time for preparedness. This year they're bemoaning the fact that we're now spending 80 billion per year. This disputes that old adage about the pen being mightier than the sword. Twelve years of typewriter attacks in the name of horse sense haven't produced a thing.

Back in 1940, too, Hitler had just proclaimed the victory in Flanders as the "greatest military victory in the history of mankind." Some things work themselves out quicker than others.

Street Scene: Heinie Lee borrowing a penny to plug a parking meter while makin' a quick stop. He was out of change. Ten minutes later, two youngsters sticking pennies into the parking meters just to hear them zit.

situation comes about.

There will be two amendments to reapportion the state legislature on the November ballot. Voters can say yes or no to each one. If they say yes to both there will develop the question of which one will be effective.

Obviously both can't be, any more than we can have two presidents in the White House.

If voters say no, then both sides will be unhappy because it will scuttle long-held plans and hopes for overdue realignment of representation in the legislature, something that hasn't been done in the past 26 years despite the tremendous growth and shift of Michigan population in that time.

"When in doubt, vote no." That old political maxim might be followed if the voters get too confused between now and November.

There's plenty of room for confusion.

In the first place, reapportionment is hardly the subject for a third grade English theme. It's a complicated question with more side-roads than a Miami Beach subdivision.

Because it's sheer Greek to so many voters, it gives a good chance for the silver-tongued boys to appeal to emotion and prejudices. The phrase-coiners are minting "bright terms and witty sayings." Well fed on oratory coming out of the Chicago convention halls and due to be served even more generous helpings as the campaign progresses, John Q. Citizen is apt to "frow up."

Even the names of the sponsoring organizations are enough to make the best informed capitol newsmen pause to unwind his tongue once in a while.

The Committee for Representative Government filed its proposal first.

The Committee for a Balanced Legislature came in with its own just under the deadline.

Both groups are made up of many different segments in the best tradition of politics making strange bedfellows. But in each committee there are dominant groups. They'll lend their names to the proposed amendments and make it a little easier to follow the game without a program.

The CIO sparks the Representative Government committee; the Farm Bureau and mutual insurance companies are the dynamoes for the Balanced Legislature group.

Briefly, the CIO amendment would set up legislative representation on strictly population basis. The farm-business amendment would keep the Senate on an area-representation basis and divide the House on population lines.

Opponents say the CIO proposal would give Wayne, Oakland and Genesee counties, with their huge industrial unions, dominance over the whole state.

Anti-farm-business factions contend that that plan gives representation to "beans and cherry trees instead of people."

Just what will happen if both proposals get an affirmative vote is something that can kick up an argument as fast as the assertion that Freddy Hutchinson is a better baseball manger than Red Rolfe.

There has never been a similar case in Michigan history so there is no clear-cut precedent. Attorney-General Frank G. Millard (officially) to wait until he gets to the bridge before crossing it. But unofficially he's looking at the roadmaps—books in his law library—for a rough idea of where the highway might cross the river come November.

Common sense might lead to the assumption that if both amendments do carry the one with the greatest majority would be in effect. But common sense and the strict letter of the law don't always coincide and every i has to be dotted and every t crossed before an amendment gets hem-sitched onto the Constitution.

As one State House newsmen puts it, "We, the people, will probably have to go to the Supreme Court to tell us what our votes say we intended."

The only bright spot in the whole snafu is the consolation it could have been worse. The AF of L and a Detroit teachers organization scrapped their plans to enter amendment proposals of their own.

Had they come into the tournament, we might have wound up with four amendments!

Whether Gov. Williams enjoyed the spirited GOP convention last week as much as he'll enjoy the Democratic powwow next week is problematical.

But its timing couldn't have been any better for him.

Preoccupation of Michigan delegates with the big Chicago fracas took their minds off another golden opportunity to unleash their big caliber guns against the governor . . . the second riot at Jackson Prison.

Actually it didn't begin to compare with the vicious and costly one this Spring. But coming in the dog-days news slump, it would have made black headlines (and ideal oratorical black powder) if the Ike-Taft hassle hadn't crowded it off the top of page one.

The Gov can thank the Chicago convention for deceiving that one off his political trail.

Anti-Biotics Don't Solve Hog Worries

Addition of aureomycin and vitamin B-12 to feeds does not overcome the ill effects of worms in hogs, Ed Rebman, county agricultural agent, told farmers this week.

He said that some hog raisers have the mistaken idea that antibiotics and vitamins will let them forget their worm worries.

Rebman cited an experiment conducted by the U.S. Department of Agriculture to illustrate his point. Eight 10-week-old pigs were divided into two groups of four. Each group contained pigs from the same two litters. At the beginning of the experiment there was not more than a pound difference in weight between the groups of pigs.

One group was fed a regular diet—the other was fed the regular diet, plus six pounds of a crude mixture of vitamin B-12 and aureomycin per ton of feed. Two days after the pigs were divided, two pigs in each group were infested with worms. All the pigs were weighed and slaughtered 169 days later.

Results showed that the worm free pigs on the special diet gained 161 pounds each, but those infested with worms on this diet gained 118 and 120 pounds, respectively. The worm-free pigs on the regular diet gained 98 and 154 pounds each. Those infested with worms on the regular diet gained 70 and 84 pounds each.

These experimental results show that pigs do gain more when fed antibiotics, but this growth is limited if worms are present.

The Race Is On Only the first leg of one of the most important political races in history has been decided. You are needed on the Michigan team for the big race—the Michigan Primary Election on Tuesday, August 5. Go to your polling place on that day, rain or shine, without fail, and make it a point to get your friends and neighbors to do the same. This leg of the election race is one that really counts, and is the one to which most voters pay the least attention. This is the election that too often puts unqualified and least desirable candidates for local and state jobs into office, only because you and your friends stay home on primary election day. We must elect officials who can re-establish world confidence in the United States. We can be liberal without being absurd or foolish. We can and will do something constructive for humanity, including the minorities, but without blindly following a path to more confusion, hate and chaos. We can and must bring some semblance of order and unity into the higher echelons of the Federal government. We can and must render impotent the lawless racketeer element that pervades the political arena. The various candidates have published their personal qualifications and the things they believe in and stand for. From this you can decide how to cast your ballot. Don't make the dangerous mistake of staying home and criticizing the voting system or the candidates. Remember it is the lesser of two evils. The other "system" means you are forced to go to the polls and cast your ballot for but one candidate. That has been happening to millions and it can happen here. Get in this race now—Tuesday, August 5. This series of advertisements paid for by citizens who believe that the public should have essential information regarding the present administration to help guide them in the fall election.

MUCC Clubs Get Grant For Youth Camp Project

The Michigan United Conservation Clubs has received a $900 grant from the National Wildlife Federation to help finance a motion picture depicting the program of the junior conservation camp sponsored annually by MUCC at Ludington State Park, to purchase needed equipment for the camp and to help provide one or two college scholarships in the conservation field.

The financial aid was announced by Dr. Paul Herbert, East Lansing, head of the conservation department of Michigan State College. Dr. Herbert is regional director of the National Wildlife Federation of which MUCC is an affiliate.

The East Lansing conservation leader said similar grants for projects of outstanding merit were awarded this year in 23 other states. Sponsored in each case by a state organization affiliated with the National federation, the approved projects included teachers workshops in 13 states, youth camps in 4 states, wildlife research in 3 states, and miscellaneous activities such as pollution-control campaigns in 4 states.

Money for the grants-in-aid, as well as for other activities of the National Wildlife Federation, is secured through the distribution of sheets of wildlife poster stamps. The stamps, full-color reproductions of paintings by leading nature artists, have been issued annually by the Federation since 1938. Interested persons send in small contributions in return for the stamps.

FRED M. ALGER
Secretary of State

When Fred M. Alger, Michigan's three-term Secretary of State, first entered public life, one of his outspoken supporters was Arthur H. Vandenberg, late United States Senator from Michigan.

"My support," said Senator Vandenberg, "is not only prompted by a debt of gratitude to his illustrious parents, but by the outstanding record of young Fred Alger himself."

Today, as the leading Republican candidate for Governor, Fred M. Alger is opposed by another Vandenberg.

Needless to say, his opponent is in no way related to the great Arthur H. Vandenberg, whose words of confidence helped launch Fred M. Alger's successful career of public service.

NOTICE

Of Election to Vote on Franchise

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN to the qualified electors of Melrose Township, Charlevoix County, Michigan, that a Special Election to be held at the Township Hall in said Township, on the 5th day of August, 1952, said electors will vote on the question of the confirmation of the granting of a franchise to Northern Michigan Electric Cooperative, Inc., its successors and assigns, for the purpose of constructing, maintaining and using electric lines on, along and across the public highways, streets, alleys, bridges and other public places, and to transact a local business in the Township of Melrose, Charlevoix County, Michigan.

This Notice is given pursuant to law, by order of the Township Board

ORPHA COREY, Township Clerk

Township of Melrose Charlevoix County, Michigan

Granted to Northern Michigan Electric Cooperative, Inc. June 18th, 1952

The Township of Melrose Ordains:

Section 1. Permission is hereby granted to Northern Michigan Electric Cooperative, Inc., a Michigan Corporation, its successors and assigns, to construct, maintain and operate in the public streets, highways, alleys and other public places in the Township of Melrose, Charlevoix County, Michigan, all needful and proper poles, towers, mains, wires, pipes, conduits and other apparatus requisite for the transmission and distribution of electricity, and to transact a local business within said Township, subject, however, to all conditions and restrictions hereinafter contained.

Section 2. The conditions of the foregoing grant are as follows:

- A.—The grantee shall do no injury to any street, highway, alley or other public place, or to any shade trees, or in any manner disturb or interfere with any water or gas pipes, or with any public or private sewer, now or hereafter laid or constructed by any authorized person or corporation.
B.—The Board of County Road Commissioners of Charlevoix County, or other proper authority, may in their discretion grant permission for the trimming of trees when necessary to make the lines safe and accessible, such trimming to be done under their supervision.
C.—The said grantee before entering up any street, highway, alley or other public place for the purpose of erecting and constructing any poles, mains, wires, pipes, conduits or other apparatus, shall in writing notify the Board of County Road Commissioners of Charlevoix County, or the Superintendent of said Board, or other proper authority, of the proposed construction, and obtain thereof, and shall, if the Board so requires, file with it a sufficient plan and specification showing the nature and extent of the proposed erection and construction.
D.—No street, highway, alley or public place shall be allowed to remain encumbered by the construction work of the said grantee for a longer period than shall be necessary to execute the said work, and the Board of County Commissioners of Charlevoix County shall determine the question of such necessity, and the grantee shall at all times conform to all ordinances of the Township now or hereafter in force relative to the fencing and lighting of obstructions and excavations.
E.—The grantee shall save the Township harmless from any judgment that may be recovered against the Township by reason of the wrong-doing or negligence of said grantee in the erection and maintenance of said poles, mains, wires and other apparatus or construction.
F.—Said grantee shall make due provision upon forty-eight hours notice in writing by raising its wires or otherwise, for the passage of any barn, building or other structure on or over any street, highway or public place occupied by the mains, wires, poles and apparatus of said grantee.

Section 3. This grant shall take effect, if said grantee shall within thirty days from the date of the passage of this ordinance, file with the Township Clerk its written acceptance of the terms of same, and upon the confirmation of this grant by the affirmative vote of a majority, of electors of said Township, voting thereon at the SPECIAL election to be held on the 5th day of August 1952, as provided for by the Statutes and State Constitution.

If not confirmed by the electors voting at said election, this ordinance shall be null and void.

Section 4. This Franchise and Ordinance shall be and remain in force for thirty (30) years from and after the date of its confirmation by the electors of Melrose Township, Charlevoix County, Michigan.

Section 5. Nothing in this grant shall be construed to alienate the title of the public in and to any street, highway, alley or public place or any portion thereof, neither shall anything herein be construed in any manner as a surrender by the Township of Melrose of its legislative power with respect to the subject matter hereof, or with respect to any other matter whatsoever; now as in any manner limiting the right of the said Township of Melrose to regulate the use of any street, avenue, highway, alley or public place within its jurisdiction.

Queenie Still Holds Brownie Record

The brown trout recently taken out of Ogemaw county's Houghton creek may well be a new state sport fishing record, but the office wall at Marquette fish hatchery is displaying a bigger Michigan specimen.

Known as "Queenie," the 24-pound brown at the conservation department hatchery died of suffocation in attempting to swallow a large frog back in 1949. Age at the time was estimated at 13 to 14 years. Queenie originally was a wild trout taken from Cherry creek, Marquette county.

Harold Crawford of Cass City caught a 17-pound and five-ounce brown on Houghton creek, topping a sport fishing record on Michigan browns which had held for 12 years.

Speeding Autos Kill Many Deer

Lansing—Proof of damage done Michigan's deer herd by speeding automobiles is provided by a three-year study made in a heavy deer population area north and east of Houghton lake.

More than 1,000 were killed from 1949 to the present time in Roscommon, Ogemaw, Crawford, Oscoda, Alcona and Iosco counties.

Along one 11-mile stretch of route 76, between Roscommon and Lake St. Helen, 67 deer were reported killed during the period. Conservation department analysts believe this figure represents only a portion of the kill, however, as many deaths go unreported.

Another heavy kill area is on route 23 along Lake Huron between East Tawas and Oscoda. One 12-mile stretch reports 72 killed by autos.

Heavily-traveled US-27 between the southern border of Roscommon county and the north edge of Higgins lake, a distance of 24 miles, reports 88 deer deaths.

From the south edge of Ogemaw county to Mio on M-33, a distance of about 38 miles, 96 deaths were reported.

BIG DECISION COMING

On August 7th or 8th our Michigan Conservation Commission is going to have to make up its mind about the department's recommendations on shooting antlerless deer in some parts of the state during a special season. Right now they're weighing public opinion in the matter—as well as their own. And there's plenty of opinion available!

Trouble has been brewing for a long time with Michigan's deer herd—and the trouble has been winter starvation on a widespread basis. Winter before last we lost a carefully estimated 50,000 animals who couldn't find enough to eat in the overbrowsed yards where deer concentrate when the snows get too deep.

That means a loss of 50,000 deer and all the meat that goes with them to hunters—but there's more to it than that. If those 50,000 deer had been legally killed in the fall there would have been far more feed for the rest of the herd through the hard winter months.

Herd in Poor Condition

Proof that the health of Michigan deer is on the decline has been established by the fact that twin births of fawns, which is normally expected, is on the decrease. Worse than that, many does are not reproducing at all, and these conditions are most noticeable in the starvation areas.

Inasmuch as artificial feeding is completely impractical there's only one realistic approach to the problem, and that's the one recommended by game biologists in our Conservation Department: A special open season for the taking of a limited number of antlerless deer in specific starvation areas.

Wisconsin Leads The way Wisconsin, Michigan and Pennsylvania each have an estimated million deer, accounting for three million of the nation's seven million total. Wisconsin has faced the starvation problem, too, and is now making unprecedented progress in deer management. Their usual kill of bucks was around the 50,000 mark each year. In 1949 they killed their usual crop of bucks, plus 160,000 does

Weekly Fire Toll At Low Mark

The smallest weekly forest fire toll since the hazard period started last spring, two blazes damaging five acres, is disclosed by the conservation department.

Latest fire report shows no fires, for the first time in the 1952 hazard season, anywhere above the Bay City-Muskegon line. With much rain, especially in the north, state forest firemen had to put out two fires in the southwestern Plainwell district.

So far this year 899 fires have burned over 5,276 acres.

On Deer's Side
Buffalo, N. Y. — Hundreds of children booed as William C. Sullivan, SPCA superintendent, carried out his job. While the youngsters watched, Sullivan was forced to destroy a 125-pound doe which jumped through a schoolroom window.

Blue sky laws are resigned chiefly to regulate the sale of stocks, bonds and other securities to protect investors.

GREEN

America's Favorite Color

Many millions of Americans visit forest areas each year to hunt, fish, hike, camp, and enjoy the beauties of nature. Yet, in an average year careless citizens cause forest fires that leave 30 million acres burned and bare—worthless for recreational purposes.

All of us can help prevent forest fires and Keep America Green. Do your part by being careful with fire in wooded areas.

Cross Village Prepares For Its Indian Festival

Cross Village—There's a bustle of activity in this Land of the Crooked Tree as villagers here prepare for their annual Indian festival to be held at the Holy Cross church grounds, August 10.

On the bluffs where as many as 20 tribes once gathered for councils of war and peace the local Ottawas are rehearsing tribal chants that once echoed through the virgin forests of this historic location. While the present cast may be but a pitiful remnant of the once powerful Ottawa nation, the spirit of the festival still burns high.

"We have only a tradition to hang onto now," Father Walbert Galerno, pastor of Holy Cross parish explained, "and so we keep the festival alive."

Since the festival was started 25 years ago, it has marked the high point of this community's seasonal activities. The little village (population 300) is swamped with hundreds of tourists and visitors from nearby resorts who come to aid the celebration. Souvenir shops, the local inn and grocery do a boom-town business and at Holy Cross parish hall the women pitch-in to serve 400 to 500 chicken dinners.

But with all the lavish preparations, the Indian, his history, and the romantic lure of the Land of the Crooked Tree are still the attractions that make this out-of-the-way village a favorite rendezvous of the tourists who visit in Michigan.

At Holy Cross church, the tribal costumes are held in well-kept storage and at festival time passed out to the Indian residents of the village. "In the old days, they brought their own," Rev. Walbert Galerno said, "but now we have to pick the Indians to fit the costumes."

The vicissitudes of time have dealt harshly with this community. Once the capitol of the Indian nations in the Great Lakes area, it declined with the westward withdrawal of the Indian nations. It prospered briefly in the lumber and tan bark era and then became a thriving fishing village. And then the lamprey dealt its fishing industry a mortal blow and high water destroyed its docks.

But now, with the paving of M-131 and the extension of the shore route through to Mackinaw City, a new "life-line" is pumping blood into its economic life.

Joe Smolak, one of the town's youthful white residents, summed up the prospects with the remark, "We're starting out to make history again."

An earthquake coupled with an eruption of lava from Mount Vesuvius destroyed Pompeii in 63 A.D.

Trench Silo Can Hold Grass Silage

About 21 percent of the tillable acres in Northern Michigan are in pasture, Ed Rebman, county agricultural agent, said today. Because of this high percentage, it is important that pasture be given serious attention. Native grasses supply good pasture early in the season; however, by midsummer they mature and become dry so they are no longer capable of supplying the needs of producing livestock.

Alfalfa and brome grass, and reed canary grass are some of the better high producing types of pasture that will hold up during a dry period. A program that has become popular is to make grass silage out of some of the early, plentiful supply of forage for midsummer feeding. A trench or horizontal type silo may be used.

To further hold down the cost of this job of preserving some of the feed for the famine, this silage can be put into this trench without chopping. It is important to have the sides fairly straight on the silo and to pack it well by driving over it with a tractor. The top may be covered with saw dust to a depth of about six inches to prevent spoilage.

A field planted to fall rye in mid-August will give early fall pasture. This may solve the problem of having a field to pasture while the alfalfa-brome takes its fall rest period. Fertilizing reed canary grass will make it more palatable. Those who do not have reed canary should remember that it is the summer dry months when the water table is low that those areas suitable for this crop can best be worked up. Seeding should be by mid-August or else late fall after plant growth has stopped. This usually means November 15.

Duck Outlook Better for '52

While production of Michigan waterfowl compares favorably with the last three years and may be slightly higher, this fact alone is only one barometer of how good hunting may be this fall.

According to conservation department information, the majority of ducks and other waterfowl killed in Michigan are produced in west-central Canada. For a variety of reasons, Michigan-produced waterfowl generally are only a small portion of the total state kill.

That is one reason recommendations made by Michigan and other states to the Fish and Wildlife service must be weighed lightly in favor of the Canadian production scene.

The Mississippi flyway council, of which Michigan is part, recently made recommendations that urged a liberalized migratory bird hunting season. The Fish and Wildlife service considers information and recommendations from the fly-way states and the National Waterfowl Council before setting bag and season limitations.

Production of waterfowl in Michigan this year was shown to compare favorably with the last three years as a result of department ground and aerial surveys of breeding populations, nesting conditions, and brood counts.

Dining Room P. O. To Close Doors Forever

Eldorado—The postoffice here, which Mrs. Boyd Funsch, operated from her dining room for the past 29 years and which serviced about ten families in southwestern Crawford county will close here, Aug. 1. Eldorado, located between Luzerne and Roscommon was once known as "Jackpine" and its name was changed in 1908 when the region became a clover growing center.

Vets To Collect Unemployment

Federal unemployment compensation to the Korean veterans, similar to the servicemen's readjustment allowances paid World War II veterans, will be paid after October 14, 1952, Harvard Smart, manager of the Petoskey office of the Michigan Employment Security Commission announced today. The announcement was made in response to dozens of daily queries at M.E.S.C. branch offices throughout the state, Mr. Smart said.

The payments will amount to $26.00 a week for not more than 26 weeks, and are paid by the federal government through the M.E.S.C.'s claims division. To be eligible, a veteran must have service in the armed forces after June 26, 1950, and must have been discharged under conditions other than dishonorable.

Unemployment compensation under the program may be paid within 31 days after discharge if the veteran received $100 in mustering out pay; not within 61 days if he receives $200 of such pay; not within 91 days if eligible for $300. (This provision is inserted because $300 is paid overseas veterans with more than 90 days service; $200 to veterans with more than 90 days service in the United States, and $100 to veterans with less than 90 days service.)

The veteran's Readjustment Assistance Act, under which this unemployment compensation is payable to veterans of Korean conflict, provides that veterans must serve a one-week waiting period after their claim has been filed. They will be eligible for compensation in the second week, if still unemployed. He must be able to work, and available for work. If the veteran has benefit rights under any state unemployment insurance program, or under the Railroad Unemployment Insurance Act, he must first claim such benefits. In Michigan, Korean veterans' wage credits in employment covered by the Michigan Employment Security Act are frozen as of the time they entered military service. This entitles them to state benefits if they had previously earned any wage credits. However, Mr. Smart said, many of the Korean veterans have entered the armed forces without having any work experience at all. The Federal Act is of particular benefit to these young vets.

RIGHT ANSWER

Dwight D. Eisenhower

NO SHIRT-TAIL RIDER — FRED M. ALGER

Fred M. Alger

Alger became an enthusiastic Eisenhower for president supporter more than a year ago, when the two met and talked over the country's needs, seeing eye to eye.

Alger was the first state official, and the only candidate for governor to endorse Eisenhower. He was criticized for doing so. It wasn't good politics. Good politics dictated that he ride the fence. He wouldn't because he believes the people should know where a candidate for office stands.

The Eisenhower-Alger combination is a natural. Both are agreed that the Nation's defense comes first. Both have proven themselves good and able administrators, Ike in the European zone, Alger as an efficient, economy-minded, three-term Secretary of State.

Both are full-time veterans of World War II. Both have records bespeaking unalterable hatred of dictatorship, Ike in arming the western world against Stalinist aggression; Alger as leader of the movement which ended machine rule of the Republican Party of Michigan.

They understand each other.

It's a pair that can't be beat.

For Michigan and the nation, it's
