I wuz a tellin' Old Bill thet I went intew a meet market an' asked the feller fur a nise tender beaf rost, an' he kut off a nice chunk an' he sez, "thair that'll fairly melt in yure mouth. That's a leetel tew tender sezzi, hain't yew got sum thet wood jest kry on yure showlder fur a minit ur so? An he gived me a kinda kweeer look an sez, "Mister yew air in the rong plase ov bizniz, this ain't Detroit."

Old Bill sez tew me, sezze, Josh dew yew like peeches? Oh yes, sezzi, but I don't enjoy them very much fur the durned seeds git under mi fake teeth plates an it hurts like the dickens, ur thet uther feller whose naim begins with D. Wel sezze tha don't bother me much that way fur I've got good teeth, but the seeds lay heavy on my stummick, an' mi wife don't like tew heer me krack 'em between mi teeth, she sez it aint polite an' aint dun in good society. Wel I woodnt no az tew that sezzi fur I don't go owt much now that I'm a gittin along in years, woodent say old sezzi. Speakim' about goin out in sassiety we wuz out tew supper wun nite last weak—I spoze I shoosay dinner, az most fokes git up so late now daze thet tha don't eet dinner til supper time, an' tha don't eet supper til breakfast time but tha dew ring in a mele sumwhair along the line thet tha kall "lunch", tho when I wuz a yung feller we yused tew kall a sandwich an a glass ov b—b—I mene milk a lunch an I kind a liked that purty dew, and we jest forgot about brekfast.

I wuz a tellin Old Bill thet I see sum great big headlines in the papers thet sed, "Here Are the Facts in the Matter!" An' I sez, "now I wonder what Harry an' the Jestise Dept has bin upfer now? then as I red a littel further along I see twas nothin' but a durned Ad fur a Shevrolay kar, It maiks me so durned mad sumtimes when I git kot a readin' sum add when I think it's a going to be a nice joosy slam at the Demokrats, that I am tempted tew reed mi Bibell Oh, yeah sez Bill!"

Who air yew oldin tew vote for for President Old Bill asked me? Well sezzi, I aint shur yet how twill be, but wun thing I am shure ov is twill be the first wun thet kums owt flatfooted fur bringin ower sholders an' sailers an, marines an' awl ov ower fitin men home an a lettin Korea an China an France an England an awl uther nashions fit their own battels, an' kritt taxin' thet peepul ov the U.S. til the wax runs owt ov their eers an eyes an' nose ur whair ever else it runs, tew—Wel tew what? Yew tell, I don't know. Tew maik thet Wurd safe fur Democracy ur tew fite a war tew end awl wars, (an' insidientally tew make a lot ov crooks an' grafters millionaires.) ur whatever slogan tha think will appeel tew the peepul so tha kin spare their boys an' girls tew lay down their lives fur what? (pleeze oxkuse I kinda got off frum the beetin' track).

Rites at Charlevoix

For Resident of North Area.

Burial services were held at Charlevoix, Tuesday, for Lee Scroggie, 63, Detroit attorney, who died Sept. 13 at his home of a heart attack.

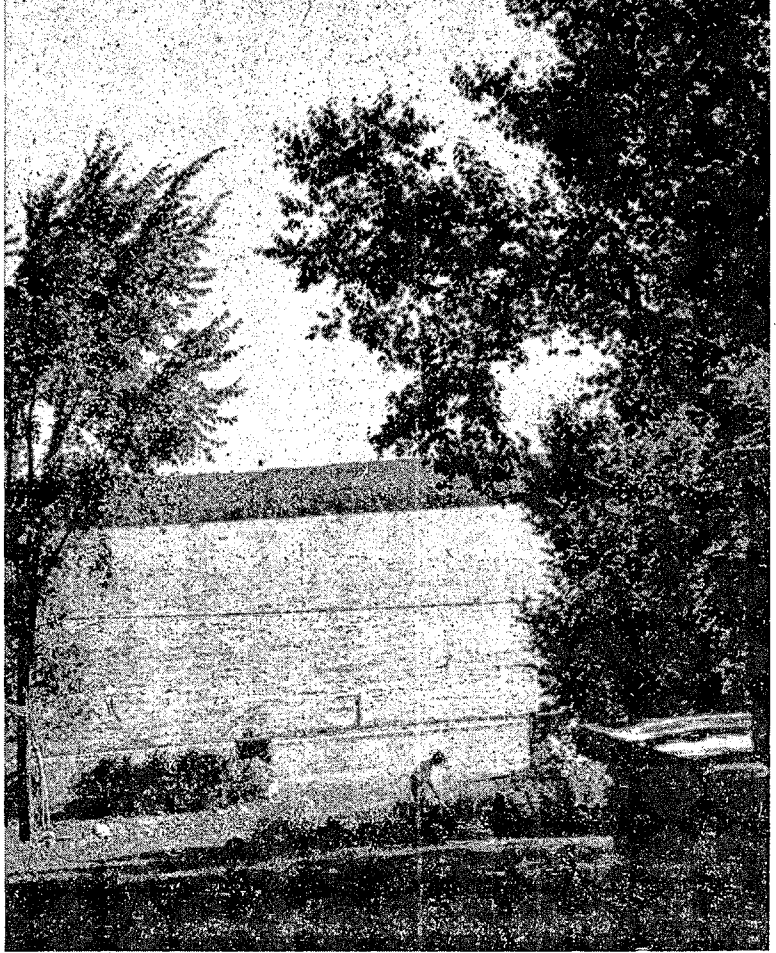

Mr. Scroggie, a member of the law firm Loey, Scroggie, Buchanan and Jones, was a native of Charlevoix and has many relatives in the Wallow Lake, Ironton and Charlevoix areas, including Mrs. Maryellen Kaden and her daughter, Mrs. Ira Bowman, of Boyne City, who are cousins of the deceased.

Funeral services were held in Detroit, Monday evening, prior to bringing the body to Charlevoix for interment. He had been a resident of Detroit for 40 years.

The porcupine fish can blow itself up like a small balloon and erect sharp spines outward from its body so that it looks something like a ball of pins.

Green Paint Withstands Blistering Council Session

The freshly painted interior of the city council room emerged still unscathed and brilliant green following a blistering session in the newly decorated interior Monday night as the council mulled over several controversial issues.

Remarks were frequently pointed and the evening was marked by verbal squabbles, wisecracks, and gavel beating.

The council reviewed claims, heard a progress report on the construction of the city breakwater, appointed Talmon Brudy to fill Gilbert Lindsay's unexpired term as city assessor, attempted to settle the re-opening of a platted street in North Boyne, extended the suspension of parking meters on South Lake street, agreed to look over a used grader at $500 offered for sale by the Miller Machinery Co., agreed to rent the stand-by fire pumper to Northern Michigan Electric Co. to pump a sump at the Advance plant (4 hours time), set next Monday night for a hearing on a proposed building code, and adjourned.

A proposal that the city join with Consumers Power in removing trees along the powerline on Front street was tabled.

The council's action in appointing Talmon Brudy as tax assessor was taken after the reading of a letter of application from Mr. Brudy, and after he had explained how he intended to operate the office of city tax assessor. He prefaced his remarks with the statement: "I'm talking before I know exactly what I can do." Then he explained that he didn't think there was a necessity of "all this measuring" in determining tax assessments and cited his experiences on the board of review.

First ward councilman, Herbert Gould, then raised the question of what methods Mr. Brudy intended to follow whereupon the applicant said he wouldn't measure quite so closely. Gould then told the council: "We sent Mr. Lindsay to a tax assessor's school at Michigan State to learn a method of assessment. It's a good method. We should stick by it."

Mr. Brudy then explained his salary terms, which would be based on the same rate he receives as cemetery sexton until the current survey is completed. The appointment was confirmed unanimously.

After listening to discussions by Joseph Wolf, Detroit; Treff Heteu, and Robert Richardson, Boyne City, the council authorized Mayor Arbutkue to obtain the advice of an attorney to determine the legality of re-opening of a street that had been closed by councilor action in 1932.

Straight Football To Mark Opening Tilt

Grid fans and Charlevoix scouts who travel to Onaway tomorrow to see Coach Tom Weede take the wraps off his first Weede-coached Rambler grid team will see straight football played from a straight T formation.

As the squad worked through extensive skull drills in their wind-up of training today Weede indicated that he would rely on basic football against Onaway with running plays predominating in the attack pattern to be used by the Ramblers.

Maurice Dixon, backfield coach, and Weede have worked the squad extensively in basic fundamentals of blocking, charging, and tackling throughout the season. With but four lettermen returning, the coaches have patterned their training toward fundamentals to build up the large, but "green" squad of newcomers who will make up future Rambler teams.

While Weede has not committed himself to a starting lineup, he has worked Whale and West at the ends, LaCroix and Anderson at the tackles, Capelin and Smith at the guards, Karlskin at center, Arner at fullback, Erber at quarterback, and Pratt at left halfback. The right halfback spot is still a toss-up between Florenski and Newville. The working lineup will probably get the nod for tomorrow's starting assignment.

There's plenty of reserve talent that could possibly break through for starting assignments. On the second team, Tex Beebe has been ending in capable style; Yahr and Detlaff have been at tackle; Boyer and Eggers at guard; Oral Sutliff, at center, and Chub Rothemberger at half.

Rotary Starts Third Year of Junior Leader Program

The third year of the Rotary club's Junior Rotarian program will be initiated Monday night.

Each year four high school juniors are selected for being outstanding in leadership, dependability, sportsmanship and morality. These boys together with four seniors selected the year before attend five Rotary meetings each during the year, each time as the guest of a different Rotarian. For their final meeting the boys take over the club, conducting the business and the program.

One of the boys, Dennis Pratt, attended a leadership training camp for one week with all expenses paid by the Rotary club. The senior boys who are serving in their second year in the program are Roger Paquette, Robert Fairchild, Allyn Robinson and Dennis Pratt.

The third year of the Junior Rotarian program will begin on Monday night, October 22nd.

The boys recently selected from the junior class who will serve for two years are: Merton Erber, Jack Lucas, Roy Kindy, and Norman Nowland.

Monday the boys will be introduced to the club, will hear brief outlines of the Junior Rotarian program and a report of the leadership training camp by Dennis Pratt.

Lt. Gunderson Dies In Alaska Crash

Second Lt. John Gunderson, jr. 26, one time a resident of this community, was killed in a plane crash on a flight from Elmsdorff airforce base, Alaska, where he was stationed.

He lived here while his father, John Gunderson, sr., was stationed at the local conservation department forest fire headquarters in 1946. The senior Gundersons now live at Mio, Mich. Lieut Gunderson was married two months prior to his death.

Pfc. Robert Nemecek, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Nemecek, East Jordan, was reported killed in an auto accident near Camp Polk, La. where he was camped.

Scouts Report to Rotary on Trip To New Mexico

Monday night the Rotary club heard a report of the scouts who took the trip to New Mexico last June.

Norman Nowland, Roy Kindy and Jack Lucas presented the Rotary club and the Boyne City Bank each a plaque in appreciation for their trip to Philmont Ranch. These senior scouts together with Oren Moore, who has since moved to Midland, were sent on this month-long trip through the financial efforts of the two organizations.

In their report the boys told of many points of geographic importance that they had seen besides the many benefits they had received in the form of education in forestry, and natural resources.

Wins "Hurricaner" Rating in Navy

Carl Kujawski, Navy radioman, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Kujawski, has qualified as a full fledged "hurricaner" having completed five weather missions into Caribbean hurricanes during the past few weeks.

Attached to VJ-2, Navy weather observation squadron, Jacksonville, Florida, Radioman Kujawski has been temporarily based at Puerto Rico.

Students Pick Class Officials for Council

Monday each of the classes from grade 7 through 12 held elections of officers and representatives to the student council at the high school.

The three upper classes found incumbents re-elected to the positions they held last year with Shorty Smith, Norman Nowland and Ella Clute re-elected to the presidency of the senior, junior and sophomore classes respectively.

Nominating petitions are now being circulated preliminary to the election of student council officers. Members of the student council include class presidents and two representatives from each class.

In Monday's election, the seniors elected Shorty Smith, president; Denny Pratt, vice-president; Betty Cadwell, secretary; Roger Paquette, treasurer; and Gloria Calleson and Roger Paquette, representatives to the student council.

The junior class officers are president, Norman Nowland; vice-president, Roy Kindy; secretary, Shirley Hampton; treasurer, Mary Melin; and representatives, Merton Erber and Bunny Van Hoessen.

Students Go G.O.P. in Surprise "Straw Test"

Boyne School Makes First Poll in Nation

General Eisenhower won an overwhelming victory in his first test at the polls in this community Wednesday when students at Boyne City high school (grades 6 to 12) balloted 318 for Ike and 139 for Adlai Stevenson.

The straw test taken is believed to be the first in the nation sounding out student opinion on the outcome of the November elections.

In 1948, in a poll conducted in the high school alone (grades 9 through 12), students carried for Truman by a vote of 143-137 in a straw ballot conducted about a week before the general November election.

The 1948 test was preceded by considerable "electioneering" conducted under the sponsorship of the student council.

But in 1948, the community remained Republican by a total vote of 598 for Dewey and 452 for Truman. The local high school had accurately forecast the national if not the local trend of the election.

In Wednesday's test, the straw vote came as a surprise to all students when Superintendent L. E. White announced the poll to be taken just as the first morning classes were about to start.

White said: "We thought a quick test of student sentiment would aid in pointing up interest in a 'Get out the Vote' campaign as well as other benefits such as creating interest in government within the student body and sounding out sentiment as to whether or not students were thinking about the candidates."

White said that the test was "inconclusive" but "worth thinking about."

In the 1948 elections, the student body voted on the entire ticket. As prognosticators of voting sentiment they fell down however, on the state governor's race by voting in favor of Kim Sigler over G. Mennen Williams by a vote of 142 to 138. There were no split tickets in Wednesday's elections—students voted only on the presidential candidates.

Women's G.O.P. Club Hold Sept. Meeting

The Charlevoix County Women's Republican club met in East Jordan, Monday, at the home of Mrs. Howard Porter.

President Mrs. Wanda Hill presided at the meeting. Minutes of the previous meeting were read by the secretary, Mrs. H. Ruback. Guest speaker of the evening, Mrs. Marjorie Karger, was introduced by Mrs. Juanita Erber. Mrs. Karger, from the Farm Bureau at Lansing, gave a detailed explanation of amendments numbers 2 and 3.

The October meeting is scheduled for October 8 in Boyne City and will be held in the gym dining room. Charles Potter, candidate for United States senator will address the group.

Army Engineer Says Breakwater Design Best Practicable One

The city breakwater, originally scheduled to be a rock crib structure has been redesigned due to difficulties encountered by the Sears Marine Construction Co.

Sidney Drew, area engineer for the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers, appeared before the council, Monday night, and discussed the design change stating: "The new design is a good type of construction for the type of sub-structure that has been encountered, and I also think it was a good idea that recognizing and changing the design was undertaken."

Two important design changes have been made from the original structure that was planned. First, the shape, length, and direction of the dock was re-designed to conform to a practical working depth. Second, the stone fill was eliminated in favor of a solid front because of a faulty substructure would not hold the weight of the stone.

When changes in the breakwater design were first rumored here, they were the subject of considerable criticism. In approving the proposed change in plans, the Michigan Waterways commission informed both the city and Frank Sears, contractor, of the following considerations:

"Two of the commissioners visited the site and thus are personally acquainted with the problem. The engineering member of our commission, Geo. Kronski, has approved these changes from the standpoint of engineering. The reasons for the changes are as follows: Previous soundings have indicated the existence of a sand bar tending across the mouth of the bay. This bar permitted construction in a reasonable water depth, and the dock was originally designed to make use of this condition. Probing were conducted from a small boat. These indicated that from 4 to 6 feet of marl and sand were on top of a hard clay. A structural design was accomplished which could be built economically under the then existing conditions. Thereafter, the contractor discovered that preliminary probings were incomplete, and that underneath approximately 2 feet of hard clay there existed a marl deposit. High water conditions and storms also destroyed the bar and tended to move it further inland. Delta sands deposited by the small stream were blocked by higher water levels, and did not replace sand washed away by storms during the fall and spring season.

"The only way we could stay within our budget was to move the dock so as to follow the changed character of the sand bar... it is our opinion that under the circumstances it would have been disastrous mistake to put a heavy stone load on the thin clay shell. If this shell had broken, it would have forced the piling at the foot of the dock out. The purpose of the stone was primarily to provide stability. Its loss has been compensated for in the present plan by the use of batter piles. These are placed so as to combat the overturning effect of ice and storm driven waves."

Cook Named

Make Your Voice Heard

Next Monday night there will be a special meeting of the city council to consider the adoption of a building code for this community. The occasion is being duly advertised by the city council in the hope that all interested parties will be present to air their views with respect to either the adoption or rejection of a code that was presented to the city council by the city planning commission.

Three months ago, the public was invited to a similar hearing over the adoption of parking meters for the city. Few people showed up to voice their opinions—but when the meters were installed, it was a different story. There were many objections to them. It was too late then to do anything about the matter.

While the two issues may cover different subject matter, the object lesson of the situation remains the same. Those who want to make their voices heard should be present, or forever after accept the decisions of its duly elected governing body.

The building code that is reprinted in this edition of the Citizen was forwarded to the city planning commission by the Michigan Municipal League, of which Boyne City is a member. The league is an advisory body which aids Michigan cities in their civic problems relative to financing, ordinances, adoption of taxing practices, bonding, construction, and other matters. It watches the progress communities make, records their experiences, and passes the information on to other communities as they can profit by the experiences of others.

The code in question was received by the planning commission about a year ago. It was reprinted and presented to the council almost in its entire form as it applied to the city of Belding, Mich. Since that time it has lain dormant in the drawers around the city council table and many efforts have been made to have it brought up for action. The code is amendable in part, or its entirety; it is rejectable or adoptable. It is in use in other communities, and there are many communities who have no code of any kind.

The code provides protection to the owner of property who is constantly threatened by devaluation through the construction of a shack next door. It also leaves room for a certain amount of "politicking" with respect to the granting of various permits—but that's the human equation one must always deal with.

It would tend to place the city in a favorable light with respect to new residents and industrial prospects who contemplate the construction of new homes. They would have a certain amount of protection that they could build without the threat of a trailer shack being constructed next door.

Most of the progressive communities in the state have some form of an enforceable building code. Some progressive communities have none and many regressive communities have none. The citizens can decide the issue by studying the code and appearing at the special council meeting next Monday night.

Boom time is returning again to Michigan's Copper Country at the edge of the Porcupine Mountain State park near Ontonagon.

We've just visited Keweenaw-land and drove over to examine Ontonagon—revived White Pine mine.

It was our first trip into Keweenaw since VJ-Day in 1945. Then we traveled by the chugging Copper Queen boat from Copper Harbor to Isle Royal national park in company with Dave Wilcox of the state conservation department. It was good to see this scenic bit. Memories of that jaunt still linger of Michigan wonderland again.

Copper boom at the White Pine mine, formerly operated by Calumet & Hecla, involves a new process just perfected by the Copper Range Mining company at a cost of many millions and over a period of several years.

Back at the turn of the century Ontonagon county was the scene of 1,000 men working in a galaxy of mines. There were the Minnesota, Michigan, Rockland, Victoria, National, Nonesuch, Carp Lake (Porcupine Mountain), Norwick, Mass, Adventure and the White Pine mine.

The White Pine was opened in 1881 and was closed down one year later. Calumet & Hecla, Michigan's biggest copper enterprise, took an option and finally stated operations in 1914.

Approximately 18 million pounds of the red metal were produced between 1914 and 1921. This was a relative low grade of copper ore, the highest average yield being 4.76 pounds to the ton of rock.

At a public sale held in Ontonagon in January, 1929, White Pine holdings were picked up by the Copper Range Mining company. The purchase price was $119,000 just enough to pay off $116,000 in bills.

After years of experimenting with methods to extract copper profitably from the White Pine type of low grade rock, Copper Range applied to the Reconstruction Finance Corporation for a loan. Diamond drill cores were submitted to RFC engineers as proof of mining potentials. RFC offered $100 million on the basis of the ore findings, together with a study of the Copper Range research methods.

The final agreement was $57 millions at 5 per cent from the federal government, while the Copper Range company was to put up $13 millions of their own money.

Copper Range is reported to be confident that the White Pine will turn out to be a bonanza. The chalcocite rock can be mined in much the manner as coal at lower cost than the traditional methods employed in following veins of native copper down deep into the earth. The old Nonesuch mine and much of the Porcupine Mountain State park have the same potentials. Calumet and Hecla officials do not agree. They say, "Uncle Sam has bought a lemon."

When White Pine is in full operation, estimated now for 1954, approximately 1,000 men will be employed. A brand new community is being created out of the bush. A 40-acre trailer park, for example, is now under construction with all modern facilities. Hospital and schools will be available.

A railroad is to be constructed some 20 miles from the Duluth South Shore and Atlantic line at Bergland, to the south on M-64. The state highway will be re-routed to go through the town of White Pine.

The Copper Country near Ontonagon has had its ups and downs for more than a century. The Civil War furnished the first real boom; then mines shut down when prices tumbled. Lumber mills thrived for 20 years, agricultural boom came in this century with promise of good times.

If the White Pine project proves that low grade copper ore can be produced profitably, there is enough ore available in this region to keep mines in operation for a half century or more, it is estimated.

Space does not permit analysis of the potentials for the upper peninsula in similar mining of low grade iron ore. It is well known that the region possesses millions of tons of this metal that only awaits the perfecting of research methods, already well under way. Don't sell the iron and copper counties on the upper peninsula short!

That was our conclusion after digging a little for information about the 1952 copper boom at Ontonagon and the revived interest in iron mining elsewhere.

However, Darbee, still hasn't been able to fathom Willson's lucky silver dollar which always performs "right" in matching games.

The Pierced Ear club picked up another new member this week.

Back in the early days of World War II when the Japs put the run on our forces in the Philippines and wiped out the last traces of what was known as the Asiatic Fleet in the battle of Java Sea, the survivors of the defeat got the idea that they'd look unique if they'd have one ear pierced and wear a gold ear ring. They looked unique—so much so that within a few months the idea spread and became so popular that even the saltier graduates of boot camp were wearing a gold ear ring before they even set out on their first cruise. Judging by the number of one-ear ringed sailors, the Java Sea battle must have been a major conflict. Soon the tradition had spread to include survivors of Guadalcanal, Bougainville, Pelelieu, those who had crossed the equator, the 180th meridian, and Kelly's Dance Marathon.

Michigan dairy leaders are studying the vigorous competition the revived oleomargarine business is giving butter makers.

In 1940, butter eaters used 17 pounds per capita. Then came the war years and butter was scarce. Many housewives turned to oleo from necessity. When it became legal to sell colored oleo and the housewife was spared the laborious chore of kneading coloring into white oleo, the per capita consumption of butter tumbled to nine pounds little more than half of the pre-war figure.

Twenty years ago, America used 2.3 billion pounds of butter annually; last year it ate 1.4 billion pounds. Oleo meanwhile went from less than 2.5 pounds per capita in 1940 to about seven pounds last year.

Michigan has fared better than the national average because oleo is still a favorite in tenement areas. But you can bet a buffalo nickel that the huge dairy industry of our state isn't going to sit idle and not protect its butter market, a source of economic strength not only to that industry but to all of Michigan.

Michigan pays more federal revenue taxes than any state except New York and Illinois. It's sixth in the number of tax returns filed and seventh in population.

Yet the latest Internal Revenue Bureau plan is to lump Michigan with Ohio and make Cleveland the division headquarters. And Michigan doesn't like that one little bit.

Every businessman who deals with Uncle Sam's tax boys—that's everyone from a farmer in Huron County to General Motors in Detroit—fears that Cleveland will be just another sand bar in the channel to Washington. Tax problems will take weeks longer to be cleared up, they fear.

"Michigan taxpayers, who file nearly three million returns and pay approximately 1/12 of the total tax collections in the United States, cannot be serviced efficiently and economically with a District Commissioner in another state," argues John S. Coleman, president of the Detroit Chamber of Commerce, acting as spokesman for all Michigan businessmen.

Business leaders in your community may soon be asking you to add to the protesting telegrams being sent to Treasury Secretary Snyder.

The Declaration of Independence was written and signed and the Constitution of the United States drawn up at Philadelphia.

Bowling News

The two men's bowling leagues are off to a good start. There have been several changes made in both sponsors and personnel. In the Businessmen's league Pfeiffer's Beer has taken over the Whitfield Packing and the Nite Hawk has taken over Olson's and Sheaffer's Service. In the Fraternal League the St. Matthew's church dropped out and the Eagles have put in a second team. The Royal Arch team of the Masons have changed their name to Dark Angels. The Eagles teams will be designated as Eagles Claws, and Eagles Beaks. The March Inn team have changed their name to Marchmen.

The Socialists are Learning

Wages cannot be increased indefinitely by cutting into business profits.

This truth was uttered recently, not by a businessman or industrialist but by the head of the iron and steelworkers union of Britain.

In reporting on a Trades Union Congress at Margate recently, Time Magazine states that Lincoln Evans, union leader, "even dared attack the ark of the Socialist covenant—the notion that wages can be increased indefinitely by cutting into business profits. In Britain, said Evans, this 'simply isn't true. Let us be honest. Broadly, the position today is that we all pay each other's wages.' Higher wages inevitably mean higher prices: 'How far can we go on this road before we are continually engaged in chasing each other's tails.'"

Time continues: "It was the kind of bitter medicine that British Socialists are apt to call 'criminal' when handed out by employers. But getting it from one of their own, the T.U.C. gulped it down. By a whopping 6,856,000 votes to 504,000 (delegates vote for their union membership by proxy), the congress accepted its leaders' call for wage restraint."

One cannot help compare this willingness to face an economic truth with the attitude of the present administration in the recent steel strike. The administration believed, with CIO labor, that wage increases could be paid without increasing the price of steel. This kind of Socialist thinking has even been abandoned in England where Socialism has had something of a trial period.

America clearly needs better leadership in Washington to help save this country from the mistakes of Socialism. Your vote in November can be used to save America's free economy and to protect your own welfare.

This series of advertisements paid for by citizens who believe that the public should have essential information regarding the present administration to help guide them in the fall election.

Serves in NATO Naval Exercises

James L. Stoneham, seaman, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Przybycki, of Route 2, Boyne City, is serving aboard the destroyer USS Dorch, one of more than 150 warships representing the eight nations taking part in the NATO naval exercise "Main Brace" beginning Sept. 13.

The exercise is taking place in the waters off northern Europe and is providing training in fast carrier task force, anti-submarine, command and amphibious operations. For the purpose of the exercise, it is assumed that the NATO naval forces are cooperating with NATO land forces in the defense of Western Europe against an attack on Europe's northern flank by the theoretical "enemy" forces.

"Main Brace" is the first exercise involving the forces of the two North Atlantic Treaty Organization Supreme Allied Commanders, Admiral Lynde D. McCormick, USN, Supreme Allied Commander, Atlantic, and General Matthew B. Ridgeway, USA, Supreme Allied Commander, Europe.

Military forces of Canada, Denmark, France, The Netherlands, Norway, Portugal, the United Kingdom and the United States are participating.

Too Much Competition
Pawtucket, R. I.—The 10:45 a. m. chimes on St. Paul's Episcopal church are ringing 10 minutes late this summer at the request of the Park Congregational church across the street. Because the Park church has its summer services an hour earlier than normal, the St. Paul chimes were drowning out the start of the Rev. Carl A. Glover's sermon.

Mothers Hold District Meet
Delegates from Port Huron, Flint, Big Rapids, Manton, Traverse City, Petoskey, Boyne City and Sault Ste Marie attended the Blue Star Mothers Northwest District meeting September 13 at the local gymnasium. State and District officers included State president, Ann Clumfoot, rehabilitation president, Nellie Leonard, state hospital chairman, Leon Sterling, Northwest district vice-president, Ada Aldread, Southwest district vice-president, Mayme Jones, Northeast, Etta Drayton and state chaplain, Zelda Moore. Registration totaled 80 mothers.
The noonday luncheon was served by the LaBreeque chapter No. 76. Table decorations were prepared by Mrs. Ben Ellis, Mrs. Ada Aldread, Mrs. Susanna Eastman, Mrs. Bertha Burns, Mrs. Genevieve McGeorge and Mrs. Mable Bradley.
The afternoon session opened with ritualistic floor work by the drill team as instruction to the chapters. An impressive memorial service by the drill team and chaplain, Zelda Moore portrayed the formation of the cross and Mrs. Susanna Eastman lighted the candles and Mrs. Rose Crozier and Mrs. Elizabeth Erber carried the memorial basket of flowers. Historian, Mrs. Dora Ikens and patriotic instructor, Mrs. Isa Erber carried the stars and stripes and chapter banner.
Gifts were awarded to Hazel Shaw and Anna Pratt.

Seedlings for Fall Now Available
Forest tree seedlings and transplants are now available to farmers in Charlevoix county. The Charlevoix Soil Conservation District will have about 30,000 red pine for this fall planting. These trees will arrive in the county next week. Anyone interested in obtaining some of these trees should contact Ed. Rebmam, county agricultural agent in Boyne City as soon as possible. Order blanks for trees from the Conservation Department and Michigan State College will also be available at the county extension office.
Tree planters through the state are faced with the problem of choosing the proper species to plant on their particular land. Ac-

Flight of Widgeon Hails Approach Of Duck Hunting

Two flights of baldpate ducks (widgeon) made their annual pinpoint landings in Michigan during the first week of September, heralding the start of bird migrations through the state.

Each year, thousands of the wily little ducks land off Maisou island, Saginaw bay, and off Strawberry island, St. Clair flats, the conservation department reports. The first flights appear during the first week of September, regardless of weather. The occurrence is doubly unusual in that only rarely do baldpates nest in Michigan; the flights probably came from Manitoba, summer home of the birds.

Baldpates are noted for their thieving ways, stealing much food from the bigger, diving ducks. Unable to stay underwater very long, a baldpate waits for a big duck to dive and dig up choice vegetables. When the big duck surfaces, out of breath, the busy thief is there to snatch it from his mouth.

But other ducks profit by having the widgeons nearby; they are first to see danger approach and spring from the water with a terrified cry, giving warning to slower ducks.

State To Offer First Copper Lease On Historic Range

The conservation department may soon issue the first lease ever to be granted for copper exploration and mining on state-owned land.

The department's lands division discloses that it has received an application to lease 1,080 acres in the Baraga state forest. Most of the acreage is in the Mass, Greenland and Winona areas. If approved by the conservation commission at its October 9-10 meeting, such a lease will be offered at public auction in accordance with state statute.

The acreage, located on the copper-bearing backbone which extends southwest from the Keweenaw peninsula, is about 25 miles east from the big White Pine copper mining development where beneficiation of low-grade copper ores is planned.

However, the last copper mining on the land currently in state ownership was for malleable copper. Mining operations ended in 1921 when copper prices dropped below production costs. Land subsequently became tax delinquent and reverted to the state.

First copper mine in the Mass area was accidentally discovered in the 1840's, by a prospector who fell into an ancient mine tunnel. The mine probably was operated by roving Indian tribes who mined copper for use as implements and for use in inter-tribe barter.

Copper from these mines was carried south by Indians. In fact, it definitely has been established that some of the copper actually was picked up by Columbus when he landed on the South American coast. That it was upper peninsula copper was unknown to Columbus.

Probate Officer Tells Details of New Firearm Rules

Floyd Supp, judge of probate, has called attention to a law that passed by the 1952 legislature as a warning to children and adults using BB guns and pea shooters. Judge Supp says the new definition for firearms according to the act is: "Any weapon or device from which is propelled any missile, projectile, bullet, shot, pellet or other mass by means of explosives, compressed air or gas or by means of springs, levers, or other mechanical device."

The law further provides that any person who shall, because of his careless, reckless, or negligent use of any firearm, kills or injures another person, shall be punishable by not more than two years in state prison or fine of not more than $2,000; and when one shall injure or destroy the property of another, by the careless, reckless and negligent use of any firearms, may be imprisoned in the county jail for ninety days or fined $100.00; and, if the damages be more than $50 then said offense shall be punishable by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than one year or fine not to exceed $500.00.

Judge Supp added, "Most people consider BB guns, sling shots, and pea shooters to be rather harmless weapons. Under the law as it now exists, severe penalty can be imposed for injury or damage resulting from the use of them."

(The Famous Battle of Pine River)

The early history of Charlevoix County centers about the present site of the village of Charlevoix, known as an early day as Pine River. Of this point, as at all the lake fronts, the first comers were fishermen, who plied their avocation of catching fish during the summer and making fish barrels in the winter. As at other places, the fishermen were a migratory class, though some who came here to fish at an early day remained and engaged in the permanent pursuits of general progress and development.

A scrimmage between the fishermen and a company of Mormons dignified by the title of "the battle of Pine River," was the first event of any unusual character connected with the locality.

As early as 1852, and perhaps earlier they were located about Pine River, and in the spring of 1853 quite a colony was located there. Capt. T. D. Smith had an establishment in the bay, southwest of the mouth of the river, between it and Pine River Point. There were four more west of Smith, between him and the point, three at the mouth of the river, and one half a mile farther north. These were not simply bachelors' homes, but contained families of women and children. There were also two other families in the vicinity, and other fishermen.

At this time Charlevoix County belonged to the county of Emmet, which had just been organized by the Mormons, under authority of an act of the legislature passed the previous winter. The Mormons were in possession of the county officers, and an attempt on the part of the sheriff to subpoena three men at Pine River, to serve as jurors, resulted in the "battle of Pine River," which was the only event of any interest that occurred prior to the attempts at permanent settlement.

This difficulty occurred on the 13th of July, 1853. Two versions of it are given; one by the Mormons and another by the Gentiles, both of which we give. It is claimed by the latter that two men named Hull and Savage were fugitives from Egaver Island, who made their escape by pretending to embark, with Strang's approval for Drummond's Island, where he proposed to plant a colony. Once on the lake, they had laid their course for Pine River, and asked the protection of the fishermen. The fishermen had promised protection, provided the fugitives would help to protect themselves.

"One of the fishermen, named Moon, had had a serious difficulty with the Mormons. To get Hull, Savage, and Moon into their powers, seems to have been thought important by the Mormon Leaders. Knowing that either stratagem or force would have to be employed, they still thought it prudent to proceed under color of law. The time of the sitting of the circuit court at St. James was chosen for the execution of the project. An armed party, accompanied by an officer with a subpoena for the three men, embarked for Pine River.

"There was a quilting at the house of a fisherman named Morrison, at the mouth of the river, on the south side, at which all the women of the settlement were assembled. Some of the men had gone up Pine Lake. Nearly all the others were at the "other end of the town," as the westernmost houses in the settlement were called. Two boats were seen approaching, heading for the mouth of the river. It was noticed that they seemed careful to keep close together. One of the fishermen had a spy-glass, by the aid of which he was able to count the strangers. There were nine men in each boat. The circumstances looked suspicious, and the fishermen determined to ascertain at once the object of the visit.

"Between them and the river there was a stretch of beach where it was difficult to pass between the water and the bank. Launching a boat, ten or twelve men, seizing their weapons, sprang into it, and rowed past the difficult place. Then they landed, and proceeded on foot, following the beach till they reached the sand hillocks, when they turned into the woods, where they struck a path that led them over the bluff and down to Morrison's house. The Mormons had arrived before them, and had been blustering about, declaring they would have what they came after or they would wade in blood. The women were terribly frightened. On the arrival of the fishermen, the Mormons ceased their threats, and said they had not come to make trouble, but insisted on having the three men for whom they claimed to have subpoenas. They were at once distinctly told they could not have them. This was followed, as the fishermen learned from the women the purport of the Mormon's threats, by an intimation that the best thing they could do was to leave immediately, and that if they did not go voluntarily, they would be made to go. The Mormons prudently consented to leave, and went to their boats. Among the fishermen was a young man, named Louis Geboo, who had lived a year or two on the island, and now recognized some of his former acquaintances in the Mormon party. Thinking the danger of a collision was over, young Geboo started for the beach, where the Mormons were embarking, for the purpose of speaking to those he had formerly known. When half way to the beach, it occurred to him that as a matter of precaution, he ought to know that his gun was ready for effective use. Stopping a moment to examine it, he heard the sound of a gun, and felt the bullet strike his leg. He learned afterward, from his acquaintances in the Mormon party, that the shot was fired from a horse pistol by Jonathan Pierce, one of Strang's "hard-fisted men," who accompanied the act with the exclamation, "We are running away, like a set of cowards; I'll let them know that I'm not afraid." As Geboo started to limp back to his own party, the latter opened fire on the Mormons, who got away with the utmost haste, and war soon beyond gunshot. There is no evidence that they returned the fire. Three of their number were severely wounded. The fishermen manned a boat, and went in pursuit, and followed them until they were picked up by the bark "Morgan."

Louis Geboo is still a resident of Charlevoix.

Atomic Eggs

The goose that laid the golden egg had nothing on "Mister Drake's Duck." The value of gold has never been quite the same since the United States went off the Gold Standard in the early thirties. But since that fateful day in August, 1945 the value of uranium has been inestimable. All this is by way of saying that in "Mister Drake's Duck," the comedy Thursday and Friday at the Boyne Theatre, the "duck" lays "atomic eggs." Starring in the United Artists release are Douglas Fairbanks, Jr. and Yolande Donlan. Val Guest directed.

'Jesse James'

The thrilling story of America's most famous outlaws, Darryl F. Zanuck's production of "Jesse James," is playing Saturday at the Boyne Theatre.

Recounting the life of the notorious badmen and showing the daring exploits of the James' gang, the Twentieth Century-Fox Technicolor encore triumph co-stars Tyrone Power in the title role, Henry Fonda, Randolph Scott and Nancy Kelly and features Brian Donlevy. Directed by Henry King, "Jesse James" recreates the west at its wildest moments bringing to audiences scenes of the historic train robberies and hold-ups which are synonymous with the memory of the James brothers.

Actors To Maintain Barbershop Quartet As Permanent Group

The all-star barbershop quartet organized for Twentieth Century-Fox's Technicolor drama, "Wait 'Til The Sun Shines, Nellie," is going to continue as a permanent organization.

The membership includes David Wayne, Hugh Marlowe, Albert Dekker and Alan Hale, Jr., who joined voices for the first time in the nostalgic film Sunday and Monday at the Boyne Theatre.

The group has serenaded, in turn, the wife of each of the members, thus insuring distaff support for the venture. Plans call for participation in competitive barbershop singing events with their official name being the "Clip and Snip Crew."

'Kangaroo'

Tuesday and Wednesday at the Boyne Theatre is one of the biggest films of the "Movietime, U.S.A." season, "Kangaroo" (The Australian Story), Technicolor spectacle of the land "down under" entirely filmed in actual Australia locations by Producer Robert Bassler and Director Lewis Milestone.

Heading up a cast of thousands, involved in the most perilous animal stampedes and outdoor terrors since "King Solomon's Mines," are Maureen O'Hara, Peter Lawford, Finlay Currie, Richard Boone and Australia's own top film star, Chips Rafferty.

Notice of Public Hearing

To Be Held in the City of Boyne City at a Special Meeting of the Common Council

MONDAY, SEPT. 22, 1952

At 8:00 o'Clock in the Evening for the purpose of discussing a proposed building code for the City of Boyne City before the qualified voters of the community subject to such revisions and local adaptations as may be proposed at this meeting. The text of the code is published below to acquaint the public with the provisions of the proposed code prior to the above meeting when it will be discussed for either adoption or rejection.

AN ORDINANCE TO PROMOTE THE HEALTH, SAFETY AND WELFARE OF THE INHABITANTS OF THE CITY OF BOYNE CITY BY REGULATING THE SANITATION, FIRE PROTECTION, CONSTRUCTION, MAINTENANCE, ALTERATIONS, IMPROVEMENTS AND MOVEMENT OF DWELLINGS, BUILDINGS AND STRUCTURES BY ESTABLISHING THE OFFICE OF BUILDING INSPECTOR TO ESTABLISH ADMINISTRATIVE REQUIREMENTS AND TO ESTABLISH REMEDIES AND FIX PENALTIES FOR THE VIOLATION THEREOF. THE CITY OF BOYNE CITY ORDAINS:

ARTICLE I—GENERAL PROVISIONS

Section 1—Title

This ordinance shall be known as "The Building Code", may be cited as such and may be referred to hereinafter as "This Code".

Section 2—Purpose

The purpose of this code is to safeguard the health, safety, order and good government of the City of Boyne City and the general welfare of the inhabitants thereof by regulating the construction, maintenance, alteration, improvement and removal of dwellings and the like ventilation, sanitation and fire protection thereof.

Section 3—Scope

(a) This Code shall apply to all new buildings and structures hereinafter erected within the City of Boyne City and the buildings and structures moved into or within the City.

(b) If any building, dwelling or structure shall hereinafter be moved from one lot to another it shall thereupon be made to conform with the provisions of this ordinance relative to new construction. No building shall be moved from one place to another without a written permit from the Building Inspector.

(c) Additions, alterations, repairs and changes of use or occupancy shall comply with the provisions for new buildings, except as otherwise provided in Section 4.

Section 4—Existing Buildings

(a) This Code shall not apply to alterations or repairs involving expenditures for material or labor of less than One Hundred ($100.00) Dollars to complete the same, nor shall be construed to include the ordinary maintenance and such repairs as are necessary to keep the original building in good condition.

(b) When additions, alterations or repairs within any twelve months' period exceed fifty (50%) per cent of the value of the existing building or structure, such building shall be made to conform to the requirements for new buildings.

(c) Additions, alterations and repairs complying with the requirements for new buildings may be made to any portion of an existing building without making the entire building comply with this code, provided that the total cost of such additions, alterations and repairs within any twelve months' period does not exceed fifty (50%) per cent of the value of the existing building.

(d) Buildings moved into the City shall comply with the provisions of this Code.

ARTICLE II—ORGANIZATION AND ENFORCEMENT

Section 5—Building Inspector

(a) That the office of "Building Inspector" be and the same is hereby created and established, said office to be held by appointment by the Mayor subject to confirmation by the Common Council, for a term of one year.

(b) The Building Inspector is hereby designated and authorized as an officer, charged with the enforcement of this ordinance, and for such purposes shall have the powers of a police officer.

Section 6—Enforcement

The Building Inspector upon accurate information from any citizen or upon his own initiative may institute any appropriate action or proceedings in the name of the City of Boyne City to correct, restrain or abate violations of this ordinance.

Section 7—Violations and Penalties

Any person, firm or corporation who violates or resists enforcement of this ordinance shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished for each offense upon conviction by a fine of not more than $200.00 or by imprisonment in the county jail for a period not exceeding 90 days or by both such fine and imprisonment in the discretion of the court.

ARTICLE III—PERMITS AND INSPECTION

Section 8—Permits Required

No person, firm or corporation shall erect, construct, enlarge, alter, repair, move, improve, remove, convert or demolish any building or structure in the city or cause the same to be done without first obtaining a separate building permit for each such building or structure from the Building Inspector.

Section 9—Application

To obtain a permit the applicant shall first file an application therefor in writing on a form furnished for that purpose. Every such application shall:

(a) Describe the land on which the proposed work is to be done by lot, block, tract, house, street, addition, or similar description that will readily identify and definitely locate the proposed building or work.

(b) Show the use or occupancy of all parts of the building.

(c) Be accompanied by plans and specifications as required by the Building Inspector.

(d) State the valuation of the proposed work.

(e) Give such other information as reasonably may be required by the Building Inspector.

Section 10—Issuance of Permit

If the Building Inspector is satisfied that the work described in an application for permit and the plans filed therewith conform to the requirements of this Code and other pertinent laws and ordinances, he shall issue a permit therefor to the applicant.

Section 11—Expiration of Permits

Every permit issued by the Building Inspector under the provisions of this Code shall expire by limitation and become null and void if the building or work authorized by such permit is not commenced within 60 days from the date of such permit, or if the building work authorized by such permit is suspended or abandoned at any time after the work is commenced for a period of 60 days. Before such work can be re-commenced a new permit shall first be obtained so to do and the fee therefor shall be one-half the amount required for a new permit for such work, provided no changes have been made or will be made in the original plans and specifications for such work and provided further that such suspension or abandonment has not exceeded one year.

Section 12—Zoning Ordinance

The certain document, copies of which are on file in the office of the City Clerk, being marked and designed "City of Boyne City Zoning Ordinance No. V", and "An ordinance to regulate the location of trades and industries and the location of buildings designed for specified uses, to regulate and limit height and bulk of buildings hereafter erected or altered, to regulate and determine the area of yards, courts and other open spaces surrounding buildings, regulate and limit the density of population and for said purposes to divide the city into districts and prescribe penalties for the violation of its provisions." Said ordinance being effective as of is hereby made a part hereof as if fully set out in this ordinance.

Section 13—Building Permit Fees

Before a building permit is issued a permit fee therefor shall be paid to the Building Inspector as set forth in Table A.

Table A—Building Permit Fees

TOTAL VALUATION	FEE
Less than $100.00	No Fee
$100.00 to and including $2,000.00	$2.00
Each additional $1,000.00 or fraction and including $15,000.00	$1.00
Each additional $1,000.00 or fraction to and including $15,000.00	.50

Section 14—Inspection

All construction or work for which a permit is required shall be subject to inspection by the Building Inspector to ascertain compliance with the provisions of this Code.

ARTICLE IV—MINIMUM CONSTRUCTION REQUIREMENTS

Section 15—Foundations for Buildings

(a) All buildings shall be supported on concrete footings at least 8 inches wider than the wall, projecting 4 inches on each side of the wall and at least 6 inches thick.

(b) All footings and piers shall be carried below frost level and shall rest on firm soil.

(c) Where soil conditions are unstable the Building Inspector may require additional safeguards to insure stability, and drain tile shall be used around basement foundations wherever conditions are such as to warrant its use.

Section 16—Chimney Construction

(a) Chimney footings shall have a projection of 6 inches beyond the outside dimensions of the chimney and a minimum depth of 12 inches.

(b) Chimneys shall be constructed in accordance with good building practice of brick, stone, or reinforced concrete, with a minimum flue area of 65 square inches.

(c) No chimney shall be constructed of hollow or cement chimney block masonry units unless such units shall be in accord with good building practice and meet all safety requirements pertaining thereto, and in no case shall any framing bear on or be supported by chimneys.

Section 17—Damp Proofing

If in the opinion of the Building Inspector water and soil conditions necessitate damp-proofing basements, the exterior walls below finished grade shall be protected by means of a water-proofing treatment or other satisfactory method.

Section 18—Heating

The provisions of Act 319 of the P. A. of 1929 as now existing or hereafter amended, relating to the use, handling, storage or sale of fuel oil and the arrangement, design, and construction and installation of burners, tanks and other equipment for the burning of fuel oil for heating purposes, are hereby adopted in whole as a part hereof.

Section 19—Smoke Pipes

No more than one (1) smoke pipe shall be connected to a chimney at the same level and no smoke pipe shall pass through a ceiling, floor, roof or other combustible material and in no case shall any framing bear on chimneys.

Section 20—Frame Wall Construction of Dwellings

All wall and partitions for wood frame dwellings shall be constructed of at least 2" x 4" studs (mill size) and placed not over 16" on centers. Wood frame dwellings shall be sheathed with wood sheathing not less than 5-8" in thickness, or fibre board not less than 7-16" thick.

Section 21—Floor Construction for Dwellings

Floor joists for wood frame dwellings shall be at least 2" x 8" (mill size) and placed not over 16" on centers. Floor joists shall be bridged with no less than 1" x 2" wood cross bracing, set not less than 8 feet apart. Joists for second floor construction shall be at least 2" x 8" if there is not over a 16 foot span.

Section 22—Ceiling Construction for Dwellings

Ceilings shall be constructed of at least 2" x 4" (mill size) joists placed not over 16" on center.

Section 23—Roof Construction for Dwellings

Rafters for roof construction shall be at least 2" x 4" (mill size) and placed not over 24" on center, and 2" x 4" rafters over 9 feet long shall have at least 2" x 4" intermediate supports.

Section 24—Foundations for Commercial and Industrial Buildings

Foundations for commercial and industrial buildings shall be constructed in accordance with good standard building practices for the particular type of building, and the plans and specifications for commercial or industrial buildings shall be submitted to the Building Inspector for his approval at the time the building permit is requested.

Section 25—Electrical Wiring and Outlets

The installation of all electrical work, including equipment, shall in every case be done in a safe and workmanlike manner; the regulations of the National Electrical Code, 1947 Edition, shall be considered as good standard practice by the Building Inspector. Installations shall comply with the requirements of the electrical utility serving the area. Such code or regulations as applies to any dwelling or building shall be the latest edition of that code effective at the time of the beginning of such construction of such dwelling or building.

Section 26—Plumbing

The installation of all plumbing work shall comply with all requirements of the Michigan Plumbing Code (Act 260 P.A. 1933) as now existing or hereafter amended.

ARTICLE V—PUBLIC HEALTH AND SAFETY

Section 27—Dangerous or Offensive Materials

No dwelling or building or any part thereof, nor lot upon which it is situated, shall be used for the storage, keeping or handling of any articles dangerous or detrimental to life or health or so unsightly appearance as to tend to diminish the value of adjoining property, nor any inflammable articles or materials, except under such conditions as may be prescribed by the Common Council under the authority of a written permit issued by the Fire Chief or the Building Inspector.

Section 28—Basement Dwellings

No permit shall be issued for basement dwelling and used for living quarters for more than two (2) years and no basement dwelling shall be rented at any time.

Section 29—Sewage Disposal

(a) Public sewage system connections shall be made to the public sewage system when available. A sewer line extending from the dwelling to the sewer in a street, alley or basement shall be at least 4" in diameter and have a fall of at least 1/4" per foot. Such sewer shall be constructed of impervious materials and have water-tight joints. The installation of a house or building sewer and its connections to the public sewer shall not be covered until inspected and approved by the Building Inspector.

(b) When a private sewage disposal system is required, the type, size and construction of all septic tanks, tile disposal fields or seepage pits shall be in accordance with the recommendations now or hereafter made by the Michigan Department of Health and provided that it shall be unlawful to erect or use an outdoor toilet within the City of Boyne City.

Section 30—Unsafe Buildings

Whenever the Building Inspector finds any building or part thereof within the City to be in his judgement so old, dilapidated, or so out of repair as to be dangerous, unsafe, unsanitary, a fire hazard or otherwise unfit for human habitation, occupancy or use, and so that it would be unreasonable to repair the same, he shall order the owner to raze and remove such building or part thereof, or if it can be made safe by repairs, to repair and make safe and sanitary or to raze at the owners option.

Section 31—Damaged Buildings

A dwelling, building or structure damaged by fire, collapse, wind or act of God to such an extent that the cost of repair and construction exceeds the assessed valuation thereof at the time the damage occurred, shall not be repaired or reconstructed except in conformity with the provisions of this ordinance relative thereto.

Section 32—Temporary Buildings

Any person desiring to build a dwelling and use it as a temporary shelter may do so providing at the same time such owner shall agree to erect a permanent home within three (3) years from date. The Building Inspector shall, before granting any permit for the erection of a temporary dwelling, insist that such owner show plans and specifications for the erection of the permanent home, or such other information as shall be desired by the Building Inspector in order to insure the good faith of the applicant. Any home having a floor area of not more than 400 square feet on a single floor, and which is out of proportion in size and dimensions or otherwise inconsistent with existing buildings and or sub-divisions restrictions, shall be classified as a temporary home. Buildings erected as garages and occupied as a dwelling shall be classified as a "temporary home" and shall come within the provisions of this ordinance.

Section 33—House Trailers

Movable temporary dwellings or other structures on wheels which can be readily transferred from one place to another, and, in particular, house trailers attachable to automobiles as a means of conveyance, shall not be used as a temporary or permanent residence in excess of a period of sixty days. If it is desired to use such temporary home for any length of time, notice shall be given to the Building Inspector that such temporary home is intended to be used and give the date. At the expiration of the sixty day period the temporary dwelling shall be removed from the lot and immediate vicinity. If the applicant desires to use any structure on wheels as a dwelling, before gaining a permit from the Building Inspector, he must show that toilet facilities have been adequately provided for and shall not throw such waste and refuse in and upon the ground. This shall include drain water from sinks as well as toilet wastes. If at any time such structures used as dwellings, even though a permit has been issued and the Building Inspector after inspection determines that the occupant is not using the premises as herein provided and is creating a nuisance, he shall immediately revoke the license and give notice that such temporary dwelling must be removed. It is not intended in the interpretation of this section that the provisions shall apply to the occupancy of movable temporary dwellings located on municipally owned or municipally licensed trailer parks.

ARTICLE VI—APPEALS

Section 34

All ordinances or parts of ordinances in conflict with the provisions of this Code are hereby repealed, provided that the restrictions of the Zoning Ordinance shall not be deemed to be modified by any provisions of this Code, and such restrictions shall be controlling except insofar this Code provides greater restrictions by reason of type of construction used, in which case the provisions of this Code shall prevail.

Section 35—Board of Appeals

Section IX of the Zoning Ordinance for Boyne City, Michigan, heretofore adopted by reference as constituting part of this ordinance, is hereby specifically referred to as creating a Board of Appeals for the Building Code Ordinance. The rules and regulations set forth in said Section IX shall be accepted as providing the rules and regulations governing the Board of Appeals for the Building Code Ordinance and the appellant appealing from the decision of the Building Inspector.

Section 36—Constitutionality

If any provision of this Code or the application thereof to any person or circumstance is held invalid, such invalidity shall not effect other provisions or applications of the Code which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of this Code are declared to be severable.

The Ramblers

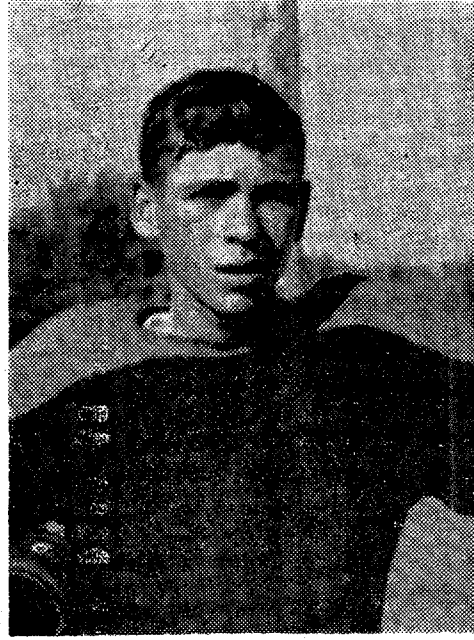

To Onaway, Friday, September 19, 2:00 p.m.

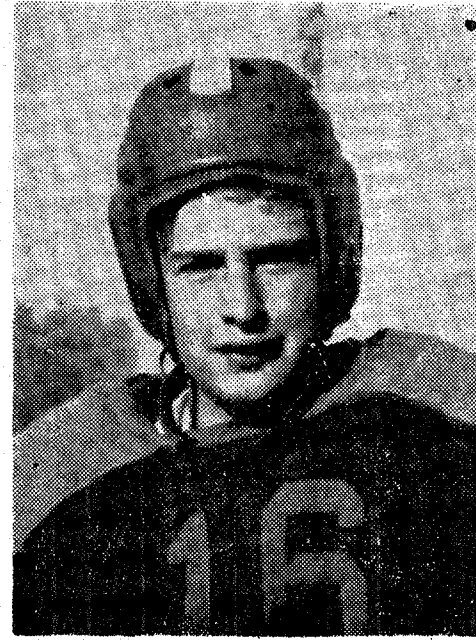

Freshman Roger Cyr, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Cyr, is trying out for a guard spot on the Rambler line. He is 14 years old and still a little on the light side tipping the beams at around 130 pounds with his fighting togs on. Like the other freshmen, he saw service with the junior high cage team prior to donning a grid uniform.

Freshman Louis Hammond, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hammond, is a candidate for a line spot. He is 15 years old and runs big for his age tipping the scales at 155 pounds, and stands 6 foot 1 inch tall. He saw service with the junior high basketball team before joining Dixon's junior varsity. He sings with the high school chorus.

Freshman Charles Stocker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Stocker, is a candidate for one of the Rambler line positions. He is 15 years old and weighs about 140 pounds with all his gear on. Like many of the other freshmen he is a veteran of service with the junior high basketball team. In his spare time, his favorite sport is hunting.

Freshman Loren Rhinehardt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Rhinehardt, is a candidate for one of the line positions (probably an end). He is 14 years old and tips the scales at around 135 in his running gear. He saw service with the junior high basketball team for two years before donning a Rambler grid uniform. His favorite sport is baseball.

Bug Wrecks Truck

VanWert, O.—It was a great big truck and such a little bug but it flew right in Driver Sylfred E. Brown's eye. Brown, of Harvey, Ill., was blinded by the insect as his truck lumbered down U. S. 224. He lost control and the truck tumbled over in the highway, spilling 22,000 pounds of refrigerated pork.

HARD LUCK STORY OF THE YEAR

You and I have heard many a tale of woe from fishermen in our time—stories of sea monsters that got away, alibis for coming home empty-handed, and a sweeping statement to the effect that there "never were any fish in that lake anyway."

But the season's most dismal wail, and one that will bring genuine tears to the eyes of thousands of fellow-fishermen, is told by Eugene Eicher of Detroit. Brother Eicher is a reputable business man, vice president of Harry Sufferin, Inc., and is addicted to exaggeration. Besides, he had many wittinesses. "Ike" as he is affectionately known to his many friends, was fishing on Houghton Lake last Memorial Day. Trollini leisurely with a fly rod along the edge of one of the many weed banks in search of walleyes, he had a sudden strike, set the hook, and failed to move the fish more than a few inches from the bottom. Actually there was not a great deal of commotion at the beginning, and Ike figured it was another dogfish—species which is somewhat common to the lake, and which displays these not too sporty fighting tactics.

In fact our hero was so sure of this that he hailed a passing boat and mentioned disgustedly that his arcing fly rod was supporting a dogfish. Soon the gallery grew larger. A well-trained rod will always draw a pretty good crowd. When the "dogfish" suddenly surfaced and splashed water for 20 feet with the sweep of an enormous tail, Ike and everybody else suddenly found out big bass can grow in Houghton lake. After a terrifying and agonizing battle, during which the fly rod lost much of its future usefulness, the monster was boated. Old-time Houghton Lakers gathered in nearby boats, and gasped. Ike just about stopped breathing. It was a gigantic small-mouth bass, all agreed. Out came the tested and proven "De-Liar" pocket scales. The needle wiggled, then settled at 7 $\frac{1}{2}$ pounds! Everyone knew that Ike had a prize-winner this time, for, as every angler can tell you, a small-mouth bass of such dimensions is a once-in-a-million-life-time catch. And to cap the climax it was caught on a fly rod!

Ike carefully and thoroughly placed the fish on a strong snap-hook type chain stringer, threaded the chain between the boat rail and the gunwale, but, in his understandable excitement failed to wrap the end around the rail. Instead, he snapped the end faster back on the chain itself, under the rail.

Soon another boatload of anglers came along, for the big news had spread fast. "Let's see that record-breaking small-mouth," they called. And Ike was proud to grab the stringer at the water's edge, and to hold up the great fish for all to see. Alas, as he dropped it back, the weight of that wonderful bass pulled the stringer through the rail. Horror swept the faces of the spectators. The luckless Mr. Eicher frantically and vainly reached for the sinking prize. And hours later, after dragging thousands of square yards of the bottom, the citizens of Houghton lake gave up. Gloom settled over the community. Eugene Eicher returned to Detroit in exceedingly low spirits, and if any fishermen reading this column have a more tearful tale to tell I have yet to hear it in Michigan Outdoors!

Here's a Tip

Here's today's good dairy management tip from Steve Carter of General Mills. Steve reminds us that the SIXTY DAYS before she freshens is one of the most important periods in a cow's entire lactation cycle. And, as Steve Carter puts it, this SIXTY DAY PERIOD is the time when you've GOT TO build up a cow's body so she will be in shape to produce a lot of milk when she freshens. And to get her back in shape... to "fit" her for the next lactation, she should be fed hay, pasture and LARRO Dairy Feed. Here's the method recommended by specialists at LARRO Research Farm. Feed all the good hay each cow will eat . . . plus pasture . . . plus FIVE POUNDS OF NEW LARRO Dairy Feed per day for JERSEYS . . . SIX POUNDS OF LARRO, plus hay and pasture for other breeds. You CAN'T BEAT LARRO for your producing herd either. It contains LARROMIN, General Mills own blend of essential minerals including trace minerals . . . it's coarsened to the EXACT TEXTURE cows like best . . . it contains molasses for taste appeal. And as an added service of General Mills you can NOW get a WRITTEN MONEY -BACK GUARANTEE of satisfaction on purchases of LARRO Dairy Feed up to THREE TONS. Ask your dealer, Arbuckle & Smith for LARRO Dairy Feed NOW . . . ask them for YOUR COPY of the GENERAL MILLS GUARANTEE on LARRO Dairy Feed too. Get LARRO NOW because . . . you're MONEY AHEAD when they're LORRO FED! Insist on LARRO Dairy Feed.
