

Charlevoix County Herald

Vol. 8

EAST JORDAN, MICHIGAN, SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 24, 1904

No 5

County Fair Next Week

To Be the Event of the Year for Charlevoix County.

Everything that Goes to Make Up a Good Fair to be Seen Including

Horse Races, Football Games, Exhibits of Every Description, Etc., Etc.

Next Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday will witness the biggest gathering in East Jordan that we have seen in many a day. The Charlevoix County Agricultural Society give their Twentieth Annual Exhibition on their grounds just outside our city; the officers have been busy the past month preparing for the event and nothing has been left undone to make this the best Fair ever held. Already every booth has been taken and the officers are supervising the building of an addition to the Floral Hall to accommodate the exhibits.

Attractions are numerous and well selected. The East Jordan Military Band will furnish music for the occasion. Football games have been arranged for each day, and the usual
"Merry-go-square" and other minor attractions will be much in evidence.
The exhibits will probably be the finest ever seen on our grounds as already a number have entered such of a high order.

A number of Race horses are already here and entered and are getting their speed up on the track which is now ready. "Tornado," an old favorite with horse lovers hereabouts, is among them and is showing up good speed.
The Races, while subject to change by the Committee, will be practically as follows: Wednesday, Sept. 28; 3:00
Class, County horses, trot or pace, purse $100.00; 2:18 Class, trot or pace, purse $150.00; Name Race, Sir Henry,
Tornado, Dick Jerome, Bell Boy, John
B., owners to drive their own horses, purse, $100.00, Thursday, Sept. 29;
Free for all, trot or pace, purse $150.00;
2:35 Class, trot or pace, purse $100.00;
Farmer's Race, trot or pace, purse $25.00. The Committee in charge of the races is composed of Charles Hud-san, chairman; John Fitzgibbons,
W. L. French; B. W. Miller and W. J.
Pierson.

Officers of the Association are as follows: President, D. S. Parton; Secretary, LeRoy Sherman; Treasurer,
Charles Hipp. Directors: Win.
Mears, Boyne Falls; Richard Lewis,
East Jordan; Henry Nowland, Ironton; J. M. Tice, East Jordan; Joseph H. Lanway, South Arm; John A. Newville, Boyne City; Alfred VanDusen, Charlevoix; Herbert Olney, East Jordan; Martin Rhuling, East Jordan; E. B. Ward, Charlevoix; Robert Paddock, Charlevoix; Robert Price, East Jordan.

The annual election of officers takes place on Thursday from 10 a. m. until noon. President Parton wishes The Herald to announce that he is not a candidate for re-election and we do so with considerable reluctance. The gentleman feels that other matters will occupy his attention the coming year to the extent that it will be next to impossible for him to accept the office again.

Michael Strogoff at Loveday Opera House.

There will be presented at Loveday
Opera House on Tuesday and Wednesday night the great Russian war drama Michael Strogoff ("For God, the Czar, and for my Country.")

This great company of twenty performers including the Russian Hussar Band has been secured for a special production. All those familiar with the journey of Michael Strogoff, his many strange adventures in carrying the messages of the Czar to the relief of the Grand Duke at Irkursk—know that the story forms one of the greatest dramas ever presented to the American public. Special scenery, gorgeous costumes, elaborate electrical effects are carried to make the production complete in every detail and every one may rest assured that this will be one of the banner attractions of the season. Prices for this engagement will be 25 to 75 cents. Don't fail to secure your seats in advance.

Is This Statesmanship?

The speech of candidate Ferris at Newaygo, as reported in the Detroit Tribune, is a disappointment to those who have read that paper's praises of his large-minded and high-minded qualities. He said, "I know of no state in the Union where there is greater opportunity for the betterment of conditions, than right here in Michigan." He did not attempt to prove this by comparison with South Carolina and Mississippi and Arkansas, where a majority of the voters are disfranchised, and burning men alive is a popular pastime; nor with Colorado, rent with civil war, nor Montana and Delaware where voters are bought and owned wholesale. But Michigan has greater need of betterment in conditions than they, and why? because "It has come to pass that a man cannot run for office if he is not a wealthy man." Neither did he stop to prove this by showing the riches of the present officers of the state and the candidates who are now running for those offices, not ten per cent of whom could at all be spoken of as wealthy. But he passed on in his indictment to a topic that seems to occupy a prominent place in his campaign for reform, and said, "Do you know that there are officials riding on free railroad passes and charging it up to the state of Michigan, at ten cents a mile?" It may be so, or may not be so; but if so, is it a ground on which Mr. Ferris finds greater need of betterment in Michigan than in any other state? or on which the people may be appealed to to displace republicans from control in Michigan and enthroned the democrats? He evidently thinks so, for he concludes, "If you don't believe in human rights, if you don't believe in direct nominations, don't vote for me, but if you believe in equal rights to all,
in the sacredness of the ballot, then I ask suffrage at your hands." Is this the broad-gauge statesmanship that has been so vaunted? or is it a very cheap and ordinary brand of political clap-net?

Metropolitan for October.

A special feature of the October number of THE METROPOLITAN MAG-AZINE is a notable study of the office of the Chief Executive, by Alfred Henry Lewis. Mr. Lewis entitles his paper "The Story of the Presidency." It is a remarkable review of American history as reflected by the successive occupants of the White House. Careful perspective and a freedom from political bias characterize the article, as do also the author's well-known virile style and candor of statement. Mr.
Lewis's ability to see clearly the true meaning of things is rivaled only by his knack of stating, so that every one can understand him, the things that he sees and the conclusions he draws.

The first of a set of pastel drawings
by George Gibbs, entitled "The Evolution of an American Girl," which are reproduced in full color, appear in this number, together with a beautifully illustrated paper on recent achievements in pictorial photography, and the fiction, articles, poetry and other illustrations contribute to make this issue the most interesting number of the METROPOLITAN MAGAZINE which has ever been published.

Teachers Examination

Will be held in the High School building in the village of Boyne City on Thursday and Friday Oct. 20-21 1904, beginning at 8:30 a. m. standard time.

Only second and third grade certificates will be issued at this time.

Thanatopsis will be taken as the basis in reading.

On Friday evening and Saturday following the examination, a Teachers' and Patrons' rally will be held. The Program will be announced next week.

J. H. MILFORD,
Com. of schools.

"To-Morrow."

"To-morrow" and "To-morrow," so you say:

To-morrow and your lips are mine to kiss.

Who knows but when that red sun
goes his way,

He may not light another day than this?

What if to-morrow in Death's borderland

Two wistful, pulseless ghosts we meet and say,

With grasping hands that touch no
other hand,

"God pity us—we wasted yesterday!"

—Theodora Garrison, in THE METRO-POLITAN MAGAZINE for October.

A MATTER OF HEALTH

ROYAL BAKING POWDER
Absolutely Pure
HAS NO SUBSTITUTE

Fall Excursion on East Jordan &
Southern, Oct. 4th.

That awful grinding, stabbing pain in the back is from the kidneys. A dose of Pineules will cure it over night.
Pineules is a new discovery put up in a new way. A delightful remedy and specific for all Kidney and Bladder troubles. Sold by Warner's Pharmacy.

Now is the season of the year when you want that job of Panting or Paper Hanging done at once. O. H. Moyer is prepared to give you first class work at a reasonable price. Leave orders at Landrum's. 28 t

When You Buy Spoons
knives, forks, etc., buy reliable brands, even if they do cost a little more.
They are worth the difference. If "1847 ROGERS BROS."
is the stamp, it insures genuine Rogers quality, famous for wear.
Sold by leading dealers everywhere;
For Catalogue "C.L." address the makers.
International Silver Co., Meriden, Conn.

S. BURAK,

Will pay the Highest Market Price for Hides, Pelts,

Furs,
Old Rubbers,
RAGS, and OLD METALS.

Will also take orders for enlarging Pictures, Picture Frames—all sizes and very cheap.

S. BURAK.

Residence Cor. Third and Garfield Sts.
East Jordan, Mich. P. O. Box 74

A Dollar

soon produces many dollars in your pocketbook.
By our system you can qualify, in spare time, for advancement in your profession, or change your occupation without loss of salary. Fill out and send in the coupon
TODAY!

INTERNATIONAL CORRESPONDENCE SCHOOLS,
Box 799, Scranton, Pa.
Please explain how I can qualify for position marked X below.

| | |
|-------------------------|------------------------|
| Mechanical Engineer | Surveyor |
| Electrical Engineer | Electric Engineer |
| Refrigeration F. E. | Ice and Mill Supt. |
| Electrical Estimator | Woolen Mill Supt. |
| Electrician | Architect |
| Ship, Harbor, and Canal | Contractor and Builder |
| Electric Lighting Supt. | Coal Traffic Supt. |
| Electric Railway Supt. | Steam Engineer |
| Telephone Engineer | Bookkeeper |
| Chemist | Teacher |
| Steel-Metal Dr. Planer | Stenographer |
| Military Engineer | Translator |
| Naval Engineer | To Speak French |
| Civil Engineer | To Speak German |
| | To Speak Spanish |

Name _____
& No. _____
City _____ State _____

HOLLISTER'S
Rocky Mountain Tea Nuggets
A Busy Medicine for Busy People.
Brings Golden Health and Renewed Vigor.
A specific for Constipation, Indigestion, Liver and Kidney Trouble, Pimples, Eczema, Impure Blood, Bad Breath, Stomach Bowels, Headache and Backache. It's Rocky Mountain Tea in tablet form, 35 cents a box. Genuine made by HOLLISTER, Drug Company, Madison, Wis.
GOLDEN NUGGETS FOR SALLOW PEOPLE

NOW IS YOUR TIME
TO INSPECT OUR LINE OF

IRON BEDS

Our stock is strictly Up-to-Now and Complete in every particular.

Give us a call.
C. H. WHITTINGTON.

Furniture and Undertaking.

Phone No. 66.

We are making COFFEE
our Specialty

And we are now able to furnish you with the very best grades in the market.

We have a new brand of Coffee, DUTCH JAVA, selling at the reduced price of 20c Per Pound.

Goods Delivered Free.

Sherman & Son's.

BOOSINGER BROS.

Our customers tell us that our

Ladies', Misses' and Children's Coats

Are the handsomest garments (as they are the most practical in style) that they have seen. They are puzzled to account for the lowness of the prices —quality considered. Quality first, Quality second, Quality third. That's what the wearer wants, and demands. We guarantee that every garment will give you fair, honest, wear; we have that guarantee from the makers and we pass that same guarantee along with our own added; you therefore have a double assurance if any were needed. It matters little however to the wearer by what route the garments reach him from the factory as long as he or she gets quality. Neat in appearance, easy, and again long-wearing.

These are the essential points which qualify our ready-to-wear garments and lead them to please you and the young wearers. Our garments at $5.00, $7, $10, $12 and $15 are especially attractive.

You not only get your money's worth but you get satisfaction. Reputation is everything but not more than in the handling of thoroughly reliable merchandise.

Sole agents for the celebrated Pingree & Rindge Shoes.

BOOSINGER BROS.

Content is something you think other people have when they haven't.

A negro recently fell seventy feet in New York and lost neither his life nor his religion.

Some men find it more difficult to get divorced from their illusions than from their wives.

Georgia has a town called Shake Rag, whose citizens, however, are said to be no great shakes.

Viewed through the smoke of his hookah, all battleships look much alike to Sultan Abdul Hamid.

Krupp's gun works are now working overtime, and peace is still looking in vain for the proverbial "balm."

Holland's new airship may cost but $10, but it is likely to cost somebody his life before we hear the last of it.

A man drank nine quarts of whisky and died. Even the temperance folks must admit that rum has some value.

A New York society man has been fined for swearing. Still, the tailor may have given him great provocation.

That Boston society leader who has taken up the blacksmith's trade is going to get on the black list if he isn't careful.

A western expert on alcoholism claims that the reason so many men fail to walk straight is that they can't see straight.

The czar's edict abolishing whipping in his domains will interest the heir apparent when he arrives at the spanking age.

In Georgia the catfish have taken to swallowing rattlesnakes. The water must be almost as bad up there as it is in Kentucky.

Squabs advanced to $5 a dozen in New York, but the old familiar political squabble may still be had upon most any terms.

Russia claims that flour is "contraband of war," and will do all in her power to discourage the hot-biscuit habit within her borders.

The reappearance of the kissing bug at the seaside resorts is taken to mean that the sea serpent story is not good form this year.

In Philadelphia an actress killed herself sooner than marry. Death lasts a great deal longer, though, than the average theatrical marriage.

If King Edward were to meet the emperor of the Hottentots would he wear the uniform of a Hottentot admiral as a mark of courtesy.

Love is the greatest thing in the world, but it has its drawbacks when the loved one pawns your jewels without notifying you in advance.

Marie Dressler, the actress, has adopted one of those "incubator babies," and her press agent will now have something substantial to work on.

The new Holland-flying machine costs but $10. Glad to see these little modern conveniences gradually getting down to within $9.99 of their actual value.

A suit against Armour for $1,200,000 is said to be a friendly action. The average man would take it as unfriendly, to say the least, to be sued for a million.

An irreverent contemporary describes society as "moving along toward Saratoga." Those poker chips and "Saratoga chips" will soon be moving along also.

The birth of the czar's son is expected to weaken the influence of Poyed-onstseff. That will mean something worth while if the boy never does anything else of importance.

Croesus, the multi-millionaire of antiquity, is said by scholars never to have laughed. Probably made the people "laugh out of the other side of their mouths," though.

The young Russian Alexis has already been made an honorary colonel, but this will naturally cause his royal mother less anxiety about him than if he were serving in the navy.

News that a citizen of Rochester has died at the age of 101 lacks completeness. The public does not know whether his length of years was due to tobacco and alcohol or to abstinence.

Once a boyhood friend visited Roscoe Conkling when a law student. Meeting a supercilious reception when he asked, "Studying to be a lawyer, Roscoe?" he retorted, "You ought to study to be a supreme court justice!" He meant it for a sneer, but that's the way every law student ought to study.

No one can blame Europeans for believing that all Americans are rich. A Boston woman left a quart of diamonds in a London hotel and wired back to the proprietor to "keep them until I come over again next summer."

Boys and Girls

Baby.
Wee tow-headed baby,
Like a butter ball,
Half inclined to laughter,
Half inclined to squall,
Dimples in your elbows,
Dimple in your chin;
Looks like God had made you
To put dimples in!

Looks like God had made you,
Roly poly boy,
With your mouth a picker,
Eyes a-dance with joy,
Just to carry dimples,
What have you a pain?
Dear, such twisty faces
Are a sign of rain.

Half a laugh, half crying,
Don't know what to do,
Gulping, sobbing, sighing,
Tell you, baby, you
Stick like that to mother
Always when in doubt—
All the years of all your life,
And you can't lose out.

—Houston Post.

Parlor Magic.
To fill with smoke two apparently empty bottles—Rinse out one bottle with hartshorn and another bottle with spirits of salts; next, bring the bottles together, mouth to mouth, both will at once be filled with white vapors. The vapors in question are composed of sal ammoniac—a solid body, generated by the union of two invisible gases.

To obtain fire from water—Throw a small quantity of potassium on the surface of a little water in a basin. Immediately a rose-colored flame will be produced. Any chemist will supply the quantity for several of these experiments for a very small sum.

To give a party a ghostly appearance—Take half a pint of spirits and, having warmed it, put a handful of salt with it into a basin; then set it on fire, and it will have the effect of making every person look hideous. This feat must be performed in a room.

To make a card jump out of the pack—Take a pack of cards and let any one draw any card that he may choose and afterward put it in the pack, but so that you may know where to find it at pleasure; then take a piece of wax and put it under the thumb nail of your hand and fasten a hair to your thumb and the other end of the hair to the card; then spread the pack of cards upon on the table and say "Come forth!" and the card will jump out of the pack.

Magic breath—Half fill a glass tumbler with lime water; breathe into it frequently, at the same time stirring it with a piece of glass. The fluid, which before was perfectly transparent, will presently become quite white, and, if allowed to remain at rest, real chalk will be deposited.

To produce instantaneous light upon ice—Throw upon ice a small piece of potassium, and it will burst into a bright flame.

To light a lamp with a piece of ice—Attach a piece of potassium of the size of a small shot to the wick of a lamp; have also ready a piece of ice, with which, when you touch the potassium, the lamp will blaze immediately. To perform the experiment, place the lamp upon the table before the audience. Question the ladies as to what means they generally employ to light their lamps. If they answer in the usual way, you may respond that you know a much better plan. Raise the lamp, that they may perceive that it is not lighted; then take the ice and touch the potassium, which will blaze instantaneously. Advise the ladies to try the experiment at home when they wish to light their lamps.

Diamond.

Cork Walking Down the Board.
Cork can walk, and this is the way to bring about that unusual spectacle. Get as large a cork as you can find, and stick side by side in one end a pair of flat-headed nails. Then get two forks and insert them, one in each side, near the other end of the cork, as shown in the picture.

Now get a strip of wood—four or five feet long and about two inches wide, and make an inclined plane of it by piling books or boxes under one end. Place the cork on this, standing on its nail legs, with one fork hanging down on either side of the strip of wood. Start the fork swinging from side to side, and you will see the cork walk jerkily down the board, taking ridiculous stiff-legged little steps on its nail legs.

Can You Spin the Egg Shell?
Here is a trick which will surprise the whole family.

The next time you eat a boiled egg moisten the rim—not merely the edge, but all the raised part—of your plate and place the empty egg shell on the wet surface.

The shell should be broken off evenly all the way around, so as to form a little cup.

Now, if you hold the plate up and tip it slightly, the egg will not merely slide, but spin, along the rim, and by continually altering the inclination of the plate you can make the shell spin all the way around it. I do not mean that it will spin rapidly, like a top, but that as it goes around the plate it also revolves slowly about its own axis in the same direction.

Now this, you know, is just what the earth does in traveling around the sun, so here you have an easy and pretty lesson in astronomy at the breakfast table.

It is not exactly nice to muss with one's food, but in this case it may be allowable to make a dab of egg yolk in the center of the plate, with rays streaming out all around, to represent the sun.

A Cat Angler.
Cats can be trained as easily as dogs, and form the same habit of following one about, says a writer. My big black Tom has gone everywhere with me since his kitten days, long tramps in the woods, coaching tours, picnics—no journey proves too hard for him. Once when we were starting on a fishing trip, I locked him up quite securely as I thought, supposing, of course, that he would not enjoy the uncertain motion of the boat or the inevitable wetness of the surroundings. But at the last moment he came bounding down the wharf and serenely established himself on the cushions in the stern, evidently prepared to take fisherman's luck with the rest of us. He showed no sign of fear as long as we were around. He enjoyed the minnows that fell to his share, and since then the collection of rods and tackle is a sign for him to trot off happily to where the boats are moored.

He has now become quite an experienced sport, watching the water keenly for the ripples that tell of a "bite," and cocking his shiny black head excitedly on this side and that as the line grows taut and the rod curves in the struggle. His joy knows no bounds when the victim is landed at last, and he runs from one end to another, purring and rubbing his back against any projecting hand or foot, apparently in an ecstasy of congratulation. Some one frivolously suggested that in my black beauty revived the soul of a complete angler, and since then he has been "ike" to his numerous friends and acquaintances.

A Tripod on a Tea Table.
Some time, when tea is late and the family is all about the table waiting,

God's Messengers.
Unseen they walk through all life's crowded ways;
Unknown, they touch the aching brow of pain;
Unheard their footsteps echo through the night,
Leading the lost ones back to life again.

The stars of heaven behold their stately march;
And myriad worlds join echo to their song;
'Tis only human eyes that see them not—
Eyes darkened by the bitter sin and wrong.

Oh, God! to see with angel eyes—to see aright,
To hear with ears that catch Thy whispered word;
To touch with hand as tender brows that ache,
And thus to serve as angels do, our Lord.

—Robert Hare.

Japan's Newspapers.
Nowhere else in the world has the "progress of the press" been so rapid as in Japan. The first "daily" made its appearance in 1872. In 1890 there were already 716 journals of one kind or another, with a circulation of well over 2,000,000, figures which have been very largely increased since then. The increase of all kinds of printed matter is facilitated by the prevalent low wages and the cheapness of paper. The number of books of all kinds is also exceedingly high, an average of nearly 24,000 having appeared between 1895 and 1899.

Brilliant Clocks.
The municipality of Berlin has decided to hang clocks, worked by electricity and in connection with the observatory, at all the principal corners of the leading streets. The dials of these clocks will be illuminated at night. They will be suspended from the poles supporting the electric lamps which light the streets. A beginning has been made with seventeen clocks, and should the experiment succeed 300 of these clocks will be scattered over the city.

Is the Sea Pushing Back Boston?
J. R. Freeman, of the Metropolitan Water Board of Massachusetts, is the authority for the statement that Boston is sinking into the sea. He asserts that the present datum plane, to which all elevations are referred by the engineering department of the city of Boston, and which is commonly known as Boston base, probably coincided almost exactly in the year 1832 with the mean low water at the Charlestown navy yard. Today, after a lapse of seventy-two years, the same datum plane, as defined by numerous bench marks on solid ground, according to the best available determination is 0.79 foot below mean low water. This comparison shows that the land now stands about 0.79 foot lower relatively to the sea than it did about seventy-two years ago, and shows that the land in Boston and vicinity is sinking at the rate of about one foot per hundred years.

Prevents Soiling the Pages.
Little thumb attachment which will make it easy to turn the pages without soiling. It consists of a spring clamp for attachment to the thumb near the end, while from one side of the clamp projects a thin flat plate which is designed to be inserted between the leaves of the book. In the illustration this device is shown in conjunction with an index, for which it is especially adapted, enabling a bookkeeper to find in an instant any name he is looking for without subjecting the book to the same treatment as the class of persons mentioned.

Charles A. Evans of Haverhill, Mass., is the designer.

Is the Sea Pushing Back Boston?
J. R. Freeman, of the Metropolitan Water Board of Massachusetts, is the authority for the statement that Boston is sinking into the sea. He asserts that the present datum plane, to which all elevations are referred by the engineering department of the city of Boston, and which is commonly known as Boston base, probably coincided almost exactly in the year 1832 with the mean low water at the Charlestown navy yard. Today, after a lapse of seventy-two years, the same datum plane, as defined by numerous bench marks on solid ground, according to the best available determination is 0.79 foot below mean low water. This comparison shows that the land now stands about 0.79 foot lower relatively to the sea than it did about seventy-two years ago, and shows that the land in Boston and vicinity is sinking at the rate of about one foot per hundred years.

Japan's Newspapers.
Nowhere else in the world has the "progress of the press" been so rapid as in Japan. The first "daily" made its appearance in 1872. In 1890 there were already 716 journals of one kind or another, with a circulation of well over 2,000,000, figures which have been very largely increased since then. The increase of all kinds of printed matter is facilitated by the prevalent low wages and the cheapness of paper. The number of books of all kinds is also exceedingly high, an average of nearly 24,000 having appeared between 1895 and 1899.

Brilliant Clocks.
The municipality of Berlin has decided to hang clocks, worked by electricity and in connection with the observatory, at all the principal corners of the leading streets. The dials of these clocks will be illuminated at night. They will be suspended from the poles supporting the electric lamps which light the streets. A beginning has been made with seventeen clocks, and should the experiment succeed 300 of these clocks will be scattered over the city.

Is the Sea Pushing Back Boston?
J. R. Freeman, of the Metropolitan Water Board of Massachusetts, is the authority for the statement that Boston is sinking into the sea. He asserts that the present datum plane, to which all elevations are referred by the engineering department of the city of Boston, and which is commonly known as Boston base, probably coincided almost exactly in the year 1832 with the mean low water at the Charlestown navy yard. Today, after a lapse of seventy-two years, the same datum plane, as defined by numerous bench marks on solid ground, according to the best available determination is 0.79 foot below mean low water. This comparison shows that the land now stands about 0.79 foot lower relatively to the sea than it did about seventy-two years ago, and shows that the land in Boston and vicinity is sinking at the rate of about one foot per hundred years.

Prevents Soiling the Pages.
Little thumb attachment which will make it easy to turn the pages without soiling. It consists of a spring clamp for attachment to the thumb near the end, while from one side of the clamp projects a thin flat plate which is designed to be inserted between the leaves of the book. In the illustration this device is shown in conjunction with an index, for which it is especially adapted, enabling a bookkeeper to find in an instant any name he is looking for without subjecting the book to the same treatment as the class of persons mentioned.

Charles A. Evans of Haverhill, Mass., is the designer.

Is the Sea Pushing Back Boston?
J. R. Freeman, of the Metropolitan Water Board of Massachusetts, is the authority for the statement that Boston is sinking into the sea. He asserts that the present datum plane, to which all elevations are referred by the engineering department of the city of Boston, and which is commonly known as Boston base, probably coincided almost exactly in the year 1832 with the mean low water at the Charlestown navy yard. Today, after a lapse of seventy-two years, the same datum plane, as defined by numerous bench marks on solid ground, according to the best available determination is 0.79 foot below mean low water. This comparison shows that the land now stands about 0.79 foot lower relatively to the sea than it did about seventy-two years ago, and shows that the land in Boston and vicinity is sinking at the rate of about one foot per hundred years.

Combat Between Tarantula and Centipede Witnessed by Scientist.
"In a bottle on my shelf at home, preserved in alcohol, is a tarantula locked in death with a centipede," said Mr. Henry Williamson, a taxidermist from Los Angeles, Cal. "They are the bodies of two of the most poisonous insects in the world, and each killed the other in what was probably as remarkable a battle as was ever fought."

"The battle occurred several years ago in the southern part of California. I was camping in the desert, had established quite a settlement, in fact, with a board shack, cages, pens, etc., and was engaged in adding to my collection of rattlesnakes, insects, horned toads, and other life of the desert with a commercial value to tourists. One day, chancing to step outside the back door I was struck by the sight of a mammoth tarantula engaged in combat with a centipede.

"The insects were in a small wash-tub. The centipede had the tarantula by the throat, and the hairy tarantula was stinging his adversary to death. Around and around the tub they fought, like two gladiators, for it was to be a fight to the death. The fight lasted for ten minutes after I first stumbled upon it.

"The battle got so fierce I had to stop it. O, no, it wasn't tenderheartedness. I wanted to preserve them, and they were rearing each other to pieces, so that I was afraid they'd spoil, a prospective exhibit in my collection. Stories of the enmity of the tarantula and the centipede are common in the west, but I never saw but one fight between the two insects."—Washington Post.

Music Cure for Dyspepsia.
Gustave Luters, the composer, has a friend, a teacher of singing, to whom there came a few days ago a woman somewhat advanced in years to make arrangements for vocal instruction. She was accepted as a pupil, but at the second lesson the conscientious instructor felt it his duty to inform the lady that her ear was far from true. She received the remark, however, without the slightest resentment; said she knew she had slight vocal ability, but that she was determined to pursue her course to its inharmonious end.

"It is hopeless, madam," protested the musician at the conclusion of the third lesson. "You will never learn to sing in tune. You are simply wasting your time."

"It doesn't matter," was the reply. "I care nothing about music, but my physician said that singing would help my dyspepsia immensely, so I determined to take the lessons. Let us continue."—New York Times.

When They Haw-Hawed.
Judge Parker was the center of a little group the other day, comprising politicians, a newly returned traveler from abroad, and a newspaper woman. The traveler was giving a long and somewhat tiresome account of his experiences in Europe, and the newspaper woman was slowly but surely driving the judge to desperation by bombarding him with questions on many subjects.

"Judge, the most impressive thing I saw in Japan was an idol," said the traveler. "It was the figure of a woman, seated, and resting her chin in the palm of her right hand. I couldn't find out what she had done to be so immortalized."

"The judge parried the newspaper woman's forty-ninth query, then said to the traveler: "I know. The Japanese are wise, and they erected that idol as expressing their reverence for a woman that can hold her own jaw."

"Then the politicians to a man said 'Haw-haw!'"—New York Times.

An Autograph Calendar.
The home-made calendar is just now one of the holiday gifts which is in course of manufacture, and certainly there is no gift which is warranted to keep new all the year in the same way that the hand inscribed calendar is. To make this calendar it is first essential that 365—no, 366 (for 1904 is leap year)—slips of paper be cut of a uniform size—three inches wide by four inches long is a fair measurement—and then, after having an inked line drawn across one inch from the top edge, they are ready to inscribe. A line in red ink is suggested. The space above the line is reserved for the date, and may be added last, just before the slips are mounted into a block and cemented at both sides so that the owner may not anticipate the contents of the various leaves.

The leaves are now sent about to the various friends of the one for whom the calendar is intended, and each is invited to inscribe a leaf with an appropriate sentiment, either original or quoted, but in the person's own handwriting. As may be seen, there are daily surprises all during the year for the recipient.

One of these autograph calendars is now in process of construction for a young fellow at college, and it is being made by the young girls of his social set at home. On some of the slips he will find a tiny photograph of the sender. On another a sketch of some significant subject; on another an allusion to some event in the past, a reminder of an occasion to cause him amusement. There is fine opportunity here for the display of originality, and by the time each girl has done her best, the calendar is sure to be filled.

This same calendar idea works up beautifully for a birthday gift, when it may begin with the birthday, no matter when it comes, and extend through the following year to the next birthday. If it is preferred, the slips of paper, instead of being mounted on a block and cemented, may be perforated with two round holes at the top and then mounted on the wooden back with wire hooks, the same that finds favor on many desks, enabling the owner to examine all at any time.

How to Hold the Coins.
one on either side of the coin's edge. You may hold the coin securely in this position if you press firmly with both pins.

Now, blow smartly against the upper edge of the coin, and it will fly around and around, revolving with great rapidity between the pins.

Pretty Parlor Game.
From red or pink tissue paper cut large, medium and small rose leaves until you have enough to make an immense, full-blown rose that will fit in a large salad bowl. Arrange these to make the flower as perfect as possible. To as many of the leaves as there are guests tie green baby ribbon, which must hang over the outside of the bowl. At the bottom of each leaf thus prepared fasten a slip of paper on which is written a prophecy of some kind. For instance, on one write "You will have a long, happy life;" on another, "You will soon go on a journey across water."

A pretty fancy is to have a ring fastened to one of them which will fall to the one who receives the slip of paper on which is written "All things that are good fall to you."

When these are all arranged each

A Tripod Complete.
you may surprise all by a very clever and at the same time simple and easy trick.

Take a napkin ring, and through it pass three forks with the points upward and rest their handles on the table. Spread the tops of the forks apart and inside them place a plate or any round dish which will fit within the space they afford. This will surely lock the whole thing, and a heavy dish may be placed upon the plate without fear of its being broken.

Champion Stalk of Rye.
There is an exhibition in Beverly, Mass., a stalk of rye measuring over seven feet from the roots to the tip. The rye was grown at Prides Crossing by Louis Larson.

God's Messengers.
Unseen they walk through all life's crowded ways;
Unknown, they touch the aching brow of pain;
Unheard their footsteps echo through the night,
Leading the lost ones back to life again.

The stars of heaven behold their stately march;
And myriad worlds join echo to their song;
'Tis only human eyes that see them not—
Eyes darkened by the bitter sin and wrong.

Oh, God! to see with angel eyes—to see aright,
To hear with ears that catch Thy whispered word;
To touch with hand as tender brows that ache,
And thus to serve as angels do, our Lord.

—Robert Hare.

Japan's Newspapers.
Nowhere else in the world has the "progress of the press" been so rapid as in Japan. The first "daily" made its appearance in 1872. In 1890 there were already 716 journals of one kind or another, with a circulation of well over 2,000,000, figures which have been very largely increased since then. The increase of all kinds of printed matter is facilitated by the prevalent low wages and the cheapness of paper. The number of books of all kinds is also exceedingly high, an average of nearly 24,000 having appeared between 1895 and 1899.

Brilliant Clocks.
The municipality of Berlin has decided to hang clocks, worked by electricity and in connection with the observatory, at all the principal corners of the leading streets. The dials of these clocks will be illuminated at night. They will be suspended from the poles supporting the electric lamps which light the streets. A beginning has been made with seventeen clocks, and should the experiment succeed 300 of these clocks will be scattered over the city.

Is the Sea Pushing Back Boston?
J. R. Freeman, of the Metropolitan Water Board of Massachusetts, is the authority for the statement that Boston is sinking into the sea. He asserts that the present datum plane, to which all elevations are referred by the engineering department of the city of Boston, and which is commonly known as Boston base, probably coincided almost exactly in the year 1832 with the mean low water at the Charlestown navy yard. Today, after a lapse of seventy-two years, the same datum plane, as defined by numerous bench marks on solid ground, according to the best available determination is 0.79 foot below mean low water. This comparison shows that the land now stands about 0.79 foot lower relatively to the sea than it did about seventy-two years ago, and shows that the land in Boston and vicinity is sinking at the rate of about one foot per hundred years.

Prevents Soiling the Pages.
Little thumb attachment which will make it easy to turn the pages without soiling. It consists of a spring clamp for attachment to the thumb near the end, while from one side of the clamp projects a thin flat plate which is designed to be inserted between the leaves of the book. In the illustration this device is shown in conjunction with an index, for which it is especially adapted, enabling a bookkeeper to find in an instant any name he is looking for without subjecting the book to the same treatment as the class of persons mentioned.

Charles A. Evans of Haverhill, Mass., is the designer.

Is the Sea Pushing Back Boston?
J. R. Freeman, of the Metropolitan Water Board of Massachusetts, is the authority for the statement that Boston is sinking into the sea. He asserts that the present datum plane, to which all elevations are referred by the engineering department of the city of Boston, and which is commonly known as Boston base, probably coincided almost exactly in the year 1832 with the mean low water at the Charlestown navy yard. Today, after a lapse of seventy-two years, the same datum plane, as defined by numerous bench marks on solid ground, according to the best available determination is 0.79 foot below mean low water. This comparison shows that the land now stands about 0.79 foot lower relatively to the sea than it did about seventy-two years ago, and shows that the land in Boston and vicinity is sinking at the rate of about one foot per hundred years.

Japan's Newspapers.
Nowhere else in the world has the "progress of the press" been so rapid as in Japan. The first "daily" made its appearance in 1872. In 1890 there were already 716 journals of one kind or another, with a circulation of well over 2,000,000, figures which have been very largely increased since then. The increase of all kinds of printed matter is facilitated by the prevalent low wages and the cheapness of paper. The number of books of all kinds is also exceedingly high, an average of nearly 24,000 having appeared between 1895 and 1899.

Brilliant Clocks.
The municipality of Berlin has decided to hang clocks, worked by electricity and in connection with the observatory, at all the principal corners of the leading streets. The dials of these clocks will be illuminated at night. They will be suspended from the poles supporting the electric lamps which light the streets. A beginning has been made with seventeen clocks, and should the experiment succeed 300 of these clocks will be scattered over the city.

Is the Sea Pushing Back Boston?
J. R. Freeman, of the Metropolitan Water Board of Massachusetts, is the authority for the statement that Boston is sinking into the sea. He asserts that the present datum plane, to which all elevations are referred by the engineering department of the city of Boston, and which is commonly known as Boston base, probably coincided almost exactly in the year 1832 with the mean low water at the Charlestown navy yard. Today, after a lapse of seventy-two years, the same datum plane, as defined by numerous bench marks on solid ground, according to the best available determination is 0.79 foot below mean low water. This comparison shows that the land now stands about 0.79 foot lower relatively to the sea than it did about seventy-two years ago, and shows that the land in Boston and vicinity is sinking at the rate of about one foot per hundred years.

Prevents Soiling the Pages.
Little thumb attachment which will make it easy to turn the pages without soiling. It consists of a spring clamp for attachment to the thumb near the end, while from one side of the clamp projects a thin flat plate which is designed to be inserted between the leaves of the book. In the illustration this device is shown in conjunction with an index, for which it is especially adapted, enabling a bookkeeper to find in an instant any name he is looking for without subjecting the book to the same treatment as the class of persons mentioned.

Charles A. Evans of Haverhill, Mass., is the designer.

Is the Sea Pushing Back Boston?
J. R. Freeman, of the Metropolitan Water Board of Massachusetts, is the authority for the statement that Boston is sinking into the sea. He asserts that the present datum plane, to which all elevations are referred by the engineering department of the city of Boston, and which is commonly known as Boston base, probably coincided almost exactly in the year 1832 with the mean low water at the Charlestown navy yard. Today, after a lapse of seventy-two years, the same datum plane, as defined by numerous bench marks on solid ground, according to the best available determination is 0.79 foot below mean low water. This comparison shows that the land now stands about 0.79 foot lower relatively to the sea than it did about seventy-two years ago, and shows that the land in Boston and vicinity is sinking at the rate of about one foot per hundred years.

Japan's Newspapers.
Nowhere else in the world has the "progress of the press" been so rapid as in Japan. The first "daily" made its appearance in 1872. In 1890 there were already 716 journals of one kind or another, with a circulation of well over 2,000,000, figures which have been very largely increased since then. The increase of all kinds of printed matter is facilitated by the prevalent low wages and the cheapness of paper. The number of books of all kinds is also exceedingly high, an average of nearly 24,000 having appeared between 1895 and 1899.

Brilliant Clocks.
The municipality of Berlin has decided to hang clocks, worked by electricity and in connection with the observatory, at all the principal corners of the leading streets. The dials of these clocks will be illuminated at night. They will be suspended from the poles supporting the electric lamps which light the streets. A beginning has been made with seventeen clocks, and should the experiment succeed 300 of these clocks will be scattered over the city.

Is the Sea Pushing Back Boston?
J. R. Freeman, of the Metropolitan Water Board of Massachusetts, is the authority for the statement that Boston is sinking into the sea. He asserts that the present datum plane, to which all elevations are referred by the engineering department of the city of Boston, and which is commonly known as Boston base, probably coincided almost exactly in the year 1832 with the mean low water at the Charlestown navy yard. Today, after a lapse of seventy-two years, the same datum plane, as defined by numerous bench marks on solid ground, according to the best available determination is 0.79 foot below mean low water. This comparison shows that the land now stands about 0.79 foot lower relatively to the sea than it did about seventy-two years ago, and shows that the land in Boston and vicinity is sinking at the rate of about one foot per hundred years.

Prevents Soiling the Pages.
Little thumb attachment which will make it easy to turn the pages without soiling. It consists of a spring clamp for attachment to the thumb near the end, while from one side of the clamp projects a thin flat plate which is designed to be inserted between the leaves of the book. In the illustration this device is shown in conjunction with an index, for which it is especially adapted, enabling a bookkeeper to find in an instant any name he is looking for without subjecting the book to the same treatment as the class of persons mentioned.

Charles A. Evans of Haverhill, Mass., is the designer.

FOUGHT TO THE DEATH.

Combat Between Tarantula and Centipede Witnessed by Scientist.
"In a bottle on my shelf at home, preserved in alcohol, is a tarantula locked in death with a centipede," said Mr. Henry Williamson, a taxidermist from Los Angeles, Cal. "They are the bodies of two of the most poisonous insects in the world, and each killed the other in what was probably as remarkable a battle as was ever fought."

"The battle occurred several years ago in the southern part of California. I was camping in the desert, had established quite a settlement, in fact, with a board shack, cages, pens, etc., and was engaged in adding to my collection of rattlesnakes, insects, horned toads, and other life of the desert with a commercial value to tourists. One day, chancing to step outside the back door I was struck by the sight of a mammoth tarantula engaged in combat with a centipede.

"The insects were in a small wash-tub. The centipede had the tarantula by the throat, and the hairy tarantula was stinging his adversary to death. Around and around the tub they fought, like two gladiators, for it was to be a fight to the death. The fight lasted for ten minutes after I first stumbled upon it.

"The battle got so fierce I had to stop it. O, no, it wasn't tenderheartedness. I wanted to preserve them, and they were rearing each other to pieces, so that I was afraid they'd spoil, a prospective exhibit in my collection. Stories of the enmity of the tarantula and the centipede are common in the west, but I never saw but one fight between the two insects."—Washington Post.

Music Cure for Dyspepsia.
Gustave Luters, the composer, has a friend, a teacher of singing, to whom there came a few days ago a woman somewhat advanced in years to make arrangements for vocal instruction. She was accepted as a pupil, but at the second lesson the conscientious instructor felt it his duty to inform the lady that her ear was far from true. She received the remark, however, without the slightest resentment; said she knew she had slight vocal ability, but that she was determined to pursue her course to its inharmonious end.

"It is hopeless, madam," protested the musician at the conclusion of the third lesson. "You will never learn to sing in tune. You are simply wasting your time."

"It doesn't matter," was the reply. "I care nothing about music, but my physician said that singing would help my dyspepsia immensely, so I determined to take the lessons. Let us continue."—New York Times.

When They Haw-Hawed.
Judge Parker was the center of a little group the other day, comprising politicians, a newly returned traveler from abroad, and a newspaper woman. The traveler was giving a long and somewhat tiresome account of his experiences in Europe, and the newspaper woman was slowly but surely driving the judge to desperation by bombarding him with questions on many subjects.

"Judge, the most impressive thing I saw in Japan was an idol," said the traveler. "It was the figure of a woman, seated, and resting her chin in the palm of her right hand. I couldn't find out what she had done to be so immortalized."

"The judge parried the newspaper woman's forty-ninth query, then said to the traveler: "I know. The Japanese are wise, and they erected that idol as expressing their reverence for a woman that can hold her own jaw."

"Then the politicians to a man said 'Haw-haw!'"—New York Times.

An Autograph Calendar.
The home-made calendar is just now one of the holiday gifts which is in course of manufacture, and certainly there is no gift which is warranted to keep new all the year in the same way that the hand inscribed calendar is. To make this calendar it is first essential that 365—no, 366 (for 1904 is leap year)—slips of paper be cut of a uniform size—three inches wide by four inches long is a fair measurement—and then, after having an inked line drawn across one inch from the top edge, they are ready to inscribe. A line in red ink is suggested. The space above the line is reserved for the date, and may be added last, just before the slips are mounted into a block and cemented at both sides so that the owner may not anticipate the contents of the various leaves.

The leaves are now sent about to the various friends of the one for whom the calendar is intended, and each is invited to inscribe a leaf with an appropriate sentiment, either original or quoted, but in the person's own handwriting. As may be seen, there are daily surprises all during the year for the recipient.

One of these autograph calendars is now in process of construction for a young fellow at college, and it is being made by the young girls of his social set at home. On some of the slips he will find a tiny photograph of the sender. On another a sketch of some significant subject; on another an allusion to some event in the past, a reminder of an occasion to cause him amusement. There is fine opportunity here for the display of originality, and by the time each girl has done her best, the calendar is sure to be filled.

This same calendar idea works up beautifully for a birthday gift, when it may begin with the birthday, no matter when it comes, and extend through the following year to the next birthday. If it is preferred, the slips of paper, instead of being mounted on a block and cemented, may be perforated with two round holes at the top and then mounted on the wooden back with wire hooks, the same that finds favor on many desks, enabling the owner to examine all at any time.

How to Hold the Coins.
one on either side of the coin's edge. You may hold the coin securely in this position if you press firmly with both pins.

Now, blow smartly against the upper edge of the coin, and it will fly around

A Queen of Palmistry.
There was a church fair in the old skating rink and half the town of Highland was in attendance. Seemingly not a chance to swell the treasury of the society had been overlooked, and tempting maidens, with rosy cheeks, were everywhere hypnotizing the male portion of the audience into "taking chances" on everything, from a baby-cab to "the handsomest man in the house."

In a remote and darkened corner of the great building, a large placard announced in large, glaring letters that Madame Forensell, the queen of palmistry, having come all the way from Chicago, would "analyze life through the language of the hand" for 50 cents an analysis.

The black curtains were drawn closely about the Madame's adyta, within which a small oil lamp, the flame almost extinguished and covered with a smoked chimney, cast a weird, uncanny light. Madame Forensell, her face masked, was dressed in a long robe of black and red, and from the garment ornaments of foreign black-art hung like feliches of magic. About her neck was suspended a circle of serpents' fangs, and on her fingers she wore strange gems that glistened.

Seated on a chair before her was a young man of twenty-six years, dark and handsome. Bending over his hand she scrutinized the lines sharply.

"You have large and strong hands, hence are capable of details," she said in a low, pure voice, with a foreign accent.

The Madame drew her chair a bit closer and placed a well-shaped hand over the fingers held in her left palm. Bending low over the hand she said with an effort: "You are in love."

The young man started perceptibly, while a blush mantled his dark cheek.

"But do not marry the small woman with pointed fingers. She is beautiful and accomplished, and you may think you love her, but your fingers are not compatible. Your heart is large and knows no boundaries. She will fret and worry you—and you will tire of her."

The Madame felt the hand within hers twitch nervously. Her voice trembled perceptibly as she continued rapidly:

"This long line bespeaks an excess of tender love. Some ideal you think you have lost, but you are in error. She has not passed from your life. She loves you with a pure and lasting love that time cannot efface."

As the Madame spoke thus a tremor passed through the body of the man opposite her, and the woman felt the warm blood surge even to his finger tips.

"Proceed, Madame," he said, striving to be calm, his voice harsh and strained.

"This beautiful love crossed your path and set all nature to singing when you were just passed into man's estate. The parting almost broke your heart and hers."

For neither ever found another To ease the hollow heart from pining.

"You have tried to be manly, sought to forget the past and to blot from memory with pride and false affection the image of one toward whom your love will never die. You have not forgotten, you can not forget. There is only a deceit of self, for without Anita—"

"Enough! Enough!" cried the young man in agitated tones. "My God, woman, enough!" He sprang up like one stricken with some sudden grief greater than human can endure, while the pain in his heart was portrayed in his face, set and ghastly.

Quickly tossing Madame Forensell a coin, he hurried from the booth and the building. Memory was pouring aloof into the old wound. Hurriedly he slipped into a side street and walked as in a dream toward the river. Down on the grassy bank he threw himself, his face buried in his hands. In his brain there surged a ferment of regret. Fool that he had been to lose the pleasure of his life ere that life was scarce begun! Now she had gone from him; for three long years he had not seen her. She had traveled—and yet she loved him! No, she did not love him. Why should this woman, this Madame Forensell, know aught of the love of a heart so chaste? No; it was only a ghost of the past to destroy his peace again, when he was striving so hard to forget her.

Voices aroused him. Two glowing coals of fire apprised him that strolling smokers from the fair were wandering on the river's brink. He almost averted them for breaking in upon his grief. He could hear their voices plainly now. They were near him.

"By the way," one was saying, "did you know the fortune teller, Madame Forensell, at the fair to-night?" "Some woman from Chicago, the bills said."

RECLAMATION OF DESERT.

Good Work Goes on with Certainty of Ultimate Success.
The desert is commonly considered a forbidding place, and numerous difficulties are encountered in the endeavor to make it "blossom as the rose." A dweller on the Mojave says that "with plenty of land ready for the plow, it took three of us sixteen months to raise enough to feed two horses continuously." The alkali was death to almost everything, and even a liberal irrigation would not cause the bloom to come. Wherever a spring of green appeared the rabbits would appear also and sweep the board.

While this was the industrial situation, the comforts of life were illustrated by the winds, which blew strenuously for days at a time, and, of course, the heat was intense. Under the influence of the searching atmosphere the melons of a sickly garden

WARS COST 14,000,000 LIVES.

Prof. Charles Richet Counts Meritful Tragedies of Nineteenth Century.
Prof. Charles Richet, the noted French apostle of peace, is quoted as saying that during the nineteenth century 14,000,000 human beings died in consequence of war.

"Napoleon," he said, "is usually credited with having caused the death of 2,000,000 men. As a matter of fact, 8,000,000 men died for his glory. The war of the Crimea cost 300,000 lives; the American civil war 500,000. Prussia doomed 800,000 men to death between 1860 and 1871, the Russo-Turkish war 400,000.

"The wars in the South American republics are generally laughed at," continued the professor, "but as a matter of fact they are far from ridiculous. In the nineteenth century they cost, all told, 500,000 lives, and the South American republics are not

THE WORLD'S WHEAT CROP.

Estimates Show a Reduction in Almost All Countries.
Estimates of the wheat crop put the total yield of this country at 533,000,000 bushels. This would indicate a reduction from the yield of last year of about 100,000,000 bushels, while the figures are more than 200,000,000 below those of 1901 and more than 130,000,000 below those of 1902. It should be noted, however, that they come pretty close to those of 1900 and 1899, being slightly in excess of the one and slightly below the other, and that only twice before 1899 did the crop amount to as much as 600,000,000 bushels.

But again, while this is true, it is to be noted also that there is not a falling off merely, but a very serious loss owing to unfavorable weather conditions. Earlier expectations have been disappointed, and, furthermore, reports indicate that there is a short crop in many countries. "Canada has been hit like the United States, the estimates in Manitoba being reduced by one-half. We learn also from a general review in the London Economist that the English crop will be much below the average, and that of the entire United Kingdom a meager one. In France there will be a reduction of about 33 per cent from the yield of last year. Austria-Hungary, Spain, Italy, Roumania and Russia are all sufferers. Damage by drought has seriously affected the prospects in the Argentine, and India seems to furnish the only marked exception to the generally discouraging returns. Her crop of last spring was 352,000,000 bushels, the largest in her history, and The Economist says: "If wanted in Europe, India, accordingly, has an enormous surplus, which would be attracted by a moderate advance in the price."

This surplus, however, is not large enough to make up the deficit in other countries, and it is certain that the world's crop will be the smallest produced in recent years. At the same time this country is fortunate in the prospect of a large yield of Indian corn. The estimate is 2,400,000,000 bushels, which would give a crop far above the average and second only to that of 1902.

Baron Rothschild Changes Politics.
Nathan Meyer Rothschild, first

Jack's Fatal Oversight.
"I like you well enough, Mr. Uxmal," said the perplexed young woman; "for, at least, I'm not sure I like you as well as I do Jack Cawdrey. He says he thinks of me 365 days in the year."
"He wants one day off every four years, does he?" exclaimed young Uxmal, with indignant scorn. "That kind of devotion doesn't commend itself to you, does it, Clarice?"
Jack's doom was sealed from that moment.

Edythe—How sweet the moon is! Why do you start so, Willie, when you look at it?
Willie—Er—why, you see, I've been knocked over by automobiles several times.

In Early Days.
Capt. Kidd had just lowered a chest of treasures into the sea, after carefully charting the spot.

"I suppose," he mused, as he watched the bubbles rise and float upon the water, "I suppose that one of those corporation pirates would call that my sinking fund."

"Those who heard him afterward claimed that the captain was one of the pioneers in the watered capital game."

Wrong Remedy.
"Is it true," asked the caller, "that your husband ordered Dr. Smoother out of the house?"
"Yes. Poor Jack had been carrying the baby all night and every night for a week, and was run down to a thread. I called the doctor, and he told Jack that he must take exercise."—Detroit Free Press.

Failed to Make Good.
Miles—Did you ever read that wonderful book, "How to live a Hundred Years?"
Giles—Yes; the author was an old schoolmate of mine.

Miles—Indeed? Where is he now?
Giles—He died at the age of thirty-seven.

Safe for a While.
"It's funny," said the sick man's wife, "but the doctor says he hasn't discovered yet what's the matter with you."
"Thank heaven!" exclaimed the sick man, "then I'm safe for a while yet."

In the Blood.
Adelle—Clarence, don't you think you could overcome somewhat your fondness for your club?
Clarence—No that would be impossible. I inherit it from my mother. She was a club woman.

Leading Man.
Theespi—When were you a leading man?
Foyer—When the company had to walk back from Chicago, and they selected me to show the way.—Town Topics.

Keeps It from His Wife.
Knicker—Is he modest?
Bocker—Very. He doesn't let his right hand know when he puts his foot in it.—New York Sun.

Irony.
Spick—She rules her husband with a rod of iron.
Span—I guess that accounts for my seeing her chase him with a poker this morning.

Had Him Guessing.
"Come up to the house, and if you are fond of music, I'll have my daughter play and sing for you."
"What effect would that have on my fondness for music?"—Houston Post.

Moses and Pharaoh.
Certain summer tourists visited a Highland church about five years ago, when the worthy clergyman chanced to be expounding the story of the destruction of Pharaoh and his host. His peroration was in these sublime words: "And Mossus and his people crossed over safely to the other side, but Pharaoh and his host were submerged in the water. And Pharaoh lifted up his eyes and saw Mossus standing safely on the other side, and he cried and said, 'Oh, Mossus, safe me!' But Mossus never let on that he was hearing him. And he cried again, and said, 'Oh, Mossus, safe me and I will let the children of Israel go!' And Mossus turned and looked at him, and said, 'Pharaoh, I think I hat seen you before.'"—Scottish American.

Snakes' Eyes Never Closed.
Snakes may almost be said to have glass eyes, inasmuch as their eyes never close. They are without lids, and each is covered with a transparent scale, much resembling glass. When the reptile sheds its outer skin the eye scales come off with the rest of the transparent envelope out of which the snake slips. This glassy eye scale is so tough that it effectually protects the true eye from the twigs, sharp grass and other obstructions which the snake encounters in its travels, yet it is transparent enough to allow the most perfect vision. Thus, if the snake has not a glass-eye, it may, at any rate, be said to wear glasses.

Little Nutrient in Strawberry.
The Lancet, ever keen in its task of disillusionment, analyzes the strawberry to show its lack of nutritive value. The analysis is as follows: Water, 89.500 per cent; soluble salts (including free acid), 1.146; lime and iron salts, 137; protoid, 300; sugar, 3300; city matter, 164; cellulose and seeds, 2.463. The strawberry is consumed rather for the sake of its moisture, sweetness and flavor than for any value that it may possess as a food and, according to analysis, this value

DESTRUCTIVE WORK OF THE STORM AT MINNEAPOLIS.

St. Paul City and High Bridge, which Was Wrecked.

"simply dried up, standing up stiff in all the pride of life," and the sweeping sand carried on an unceasing assault upon every visible object. With one side of the picture thus revealed, hopes of reclamation would die, and it would seem incredible that any one should attempt to maintain the discouraging fight against such odds.

It is a fact, however, to which this very witness testifies in the Los Angeles Times, that the battle continues, and that, too, with prospects of ultimate success. Human intelligence finds a way to combat all the enemies that are supplied in nature and to derive aid from nature's gift of a rich soil. There can be no doubt that many vast tracts which now seem condemned to eternal barrenness will yield heavy crops in time and support a large population. The inducements for extensive irrigation schemes are sufficient to justify the efforts that are being made by individuals and state to bring these waste areas under cultivation.

Nor are the comforts of the desert life all summed up in the driving winds and sandstorms. One comes to enjoy the dry-heat. "When it reaches 105 degrees you will hardly know or care when it goes five or ten more, and even another five or ten will not bother you very much. This is largely offset by the ease of sleeping outdoors, by the absence of fog, almost total absence of rain and the great number of lovely days in fall and winter." It is a subject for congratulation also that there are no fleas, no mosquitoes, no bedbugs. If alfalfa has its trials, flies and gnats have theirs, too, and preferably seek other climates.

In fine, what appears uninhabitable to those who pass on in ignorant repulsion and amazement is attractive, even fascinating, to those who understand all the conditions and who are doing the pioneer work. And if some of the latter may be carried too far by their optimism the country will derive its profit from their struggles.

Life's Most Important Acts.
A magazine editor, seeking an increase of circulation, sent to each of his 3,500 subscribers this query: "What was the most important act of your life? Fifty dollars for the best true answer." He received more than 1,000 replies, all but one relating some particular deed of which the writer was proud. The exception—and prize winner—was brief and to the point—"Being born." Encouraged by the success of his scheme of advertising, the editor sent out a second query, offering another $50 for the best answer. "Last month you stated what was the most important act of your life, now tell us what is the most important act of your life." The variety of replies would have made several pages of rare humor, but the winner solemnly wrote, "Breathing."

Authority on Penology.
Major R. W. McClaughey, warden of the United States penitentiary at Leavenworth, has just celebrated the thirtieth anniversary of his management of prisons. He was first appointed warden of a penitentiary in August, 1874. In the last thirty years he has been warden of three different penitentiaries and two reformatories. He was warden of the Joliet, Ill., penitentiary longer than any other. In the thirty years' service he has had about 24,000 prisoners under him. Major McClaughey has aided in the building of two prisons, and the work on the big new United States penitentiary at Leavenworth is being done under his supervision.

overburdened with citizens, are they? "I am sorry to say that the twentieth century bids fair to rival the nineteenth century in the killing line."

QUAY GAVE UP STAKES.
"Joe" Cannon's Singing Voice Too Much For Pennsylvania Senator.
The late Senator Quay circulated a story wherein Speaker Cannon is represented as a singer. The occasion was a political banquet where a discussion broke over the song, "The Old Oaken Bucket." Senator Quay remarked: "I never heard it sung through in my life." "I will bet you a dollar that I can sing it through," asserted Mr. Cannon. "Take you," said the senator. "And the toastmaster will hold the stakes and be referee." Mr. Cannon cleared his throat and attacked the famous old melody with grim earnestness. At the end of the first stanza Senator Quay got upon his feet and interrupted the song. "I wish to say, if I may be pardoned," he commenced, "that I dislike to lose a dollar, but I am willing to concede the stakes to my adversary and take his word for the accuracy of his knowledge if he will stop singing right where he is."

Arak is 120 Years Old.
Perhaps the oldest man in the world is Sid Ahmed Salim, a wonderful relic of the eighteenth century, who has long been one of the sights in Cairo, Egypt. He was born about 1784, his father having been a shiek of the Cairo tannymakers. Until a few years ago he could describe with every appearance of accuracy many of the stirring scenes he witnessed when Bonaparte was in Egypt with his army. Now, at the age of about 120, he is confined to his bed with extreme feebleness, having lost feeling in his extremities. Aged Arabs remember him as an old man when they were children. A great-granddaughter, herself getting along in years, looks after him.

Baron Rothschild in the peerage of Great Britain and head of the English branch of the celebrated family of bankers, has incurred the displeasure of the present ministry by transferring his political allegiance to the liberal party. While the great financier has not much influence over votes by means of his territorial possessions, which are small when compared with a number of his fellow members of the house of lords, he commands a large amount of political influence not only in the city of London, but throughout the United Kingdom.

Norwegian Lutheran Church Damaged to the Extent of $5,000.

Baron Rothschild in the peerage of Great Britain and head of the English branch of the celebrated family of bankers, has incurred the displeasure of the present ministry by transferring his political allegiance to the liberal party. While the great financier has not much influence over votes by means of his territorial possessions, which are small when compared with a number of his fellow members of the house of lords, he commands a large amount of political influence not only in the city of London, but throughout the United Kingdom.

Baron Rothschild in the peerage of Great Britain and head of the English branch of the celebrated family of bankers, has incurred the displeasure of the present ministry by transferring his political allegiance to the liberal party. While the great financier has not much influence over votes by means of his territorial possessions, which are small when compared with a number of his fellow members of the house of lords, he commands a large amount of political influence not only in the city of London, but throughout the United Kingdom.

Baron Rothschild in the peerage of Great Britain and head of the English branch of the celebrated family of bankers, has incurred the displeasure of the present ministry by transferring his political allegiance to the liberal party. While the great financier has not much influence over votes by means of his territorial possessions, which are small when compared with a number of his fellow members of the house of lords, he commands a large amount of political influence not only in the city of London, but throughout the United Kingdom.

Baron Rothschild in the peerage of Great Britain and head of the English branch of the celebrated family of bankers, has incurred the displeasure of the present ministry by transferring his political allegiance to the liberal party. While the great financier has not much influence over votes by means of his territorial possessions, which are small when compared with a number of his fellow members of the house of lords, he commands a large amount of political influence not only in the city of London, but throughout the United Kingdom.

Baron Rothschild in the peerage of Great Britain and head of the English branch of the celebrated family of bankers, has incurred the displeasure of the present ministry by transferring his political allegiance to the liberal party. While the great financier has not much influence over votes by means of his territorial possessions, which are small when compared with a number of his fellow members of the house of lords, he commands a large amount of political influence not only in the city of London, but throughout the United Kingdom.

Baron Rothschild in the peerage of Great Britain and head of the English branch of the celebrated family of bankers, has incurred the displeasure of the present ministry by transferring his political allegiance to the liberal party. While the great financier has not much influence over votes by means of his territorial possessions, which are small when compared with a number of his fellow members of the house of lords, he commands a large amount of political influence not only in the city of London, but throughout the United Kingdom.

East Jordan Lumber Company

A Complete Line of Men's Clothing

has just arrived and is now on display. A finer line you never saw. Every garment is perfect in each particular point.

It would do you lots of good to come in and look over our Fall & Winter Stock.

IN SWEATERS

We have them in all Colors, Sizes and Prices.
 Children's Juvvenile Sweaters 50c, 75c, 1.00 and $1.50.
 Boys' All Wool Sweater 1.00 and $1.50
 Men's All Wool Sweaters 2.00 to 5.00
 Ask to see this line.

Men's Dress Shirts

with or without Collars, in all shades and sizes.
 Prices $1.00, $1.50, $2.00, $2.25, $2.50 and $3.00.

To dress comfortably and in style this season you need a few Model Shirts. Famous for fit. Cut right—give you plenty of room—have correct style of made-to-order shirts. All styles—new fabrics—popular prices.

Men's Fine Dress Pants.

In Blue Serges, Fancy Worsteds, Black Clay Worsteds, Cheviots, Cassimeres, from $2.50 to 6.00 per pair.

Underwear

We carry the Staley Underwear which is noted the country over to be the best garment made. Price 1, $1.25, $2.

In Farm and Lumbermen's

Working Clothing

We have Mackinaws, Pontiacs, Sheep-lined Coats, Duck Coats, Kersey Pants. The famous Malone Pants $3, the Standard Check Shirt $1.50.

Drop in and see us. We'll be pleased to show you through our stock.

YOURS FOR GOOD GOODS,

East Jordan Lumber Company.

CHARLEVOIX COUNTY HERALD
 G. A. Lisk, Publisher
 ONE DOLLAR PER YEAR

Entered at the postoffice at East Jordan, Michigan, as second class mail matter.

Republican Nominations

NATIONAL.
 For President—Theodore Roosevelt, of New York.
 For Vice President—Charles W. Fairbanks of Indiana.

CONGRESSIONAL.
 For Member of Congress, Eleventh District—Archibald B. Darragh, of St. Louis.

STATE.
 For Governor—Fred M. Warner, of Farmington.
 For Lieutenant-Governor—Alexander Maitland, of Negaunee.

For Attorney General—Charles A. Blair, of Jackson.
 For Auditor General—Dr. J. B. Bradley, of Eaton Rapids.

For State Treasurer—Frank P. Glazier, of Chelsea.

For Secretary of State—George A. Prescott, of Tawas City.

For Commissioner of the State Land Office—William H. Rose, of Clinton County.

For Superintendent of Public Instruction—Patrick H. Kelley, of Detroit.

For Member of the State Board of Education—Luther L. Wright, of Ironwood.

SENATORIAL.
 For State Senator, 27th District—Orlando C. Moffatt.

REPRESENTATIVE.
 For Representative in State Legislature, Alonzo J. Stroud, of Bay.

COUNTY.
 For Judge of Probate—John M. Harris, of Evangeline.

For Sheriff—Elmer W. Coulter, of Charlevoix.

For Clerk—Darwin F. Meech, of Charlevoix.

For Treasurer—Daniel S. Payton, of Eveline.

For Prosecuting Attorney—Alfred B. Nicholas, of South Arm.

For Register of Deeds—William J. Pearson, of Charlevoix.

For Surveyor—E. A. Robinson, of Boyne Valley.

For Circuit Court Commissioner—A. L. Fitch, of Charlevoix.

For Coroners—Dr. C. A. Sweet, of South Arm, and Dr. J. R. Kay, of Melrose.

Smoke Union made goods—the Pride for instance.

Don't forget the dates of our Fair—Sept. 27-28-29.

W. E. Malpass was at Traverse City several days last week.

Are you thinking of buying a Watch? See my line before purchasing. C. C. Mack, Jeweler.

Supervisor Jacob Graff is entertaining a large sized caribuncle which is taking up a good deal of his attention.

Miss Effie Landrum left Tuesday morning for Kalamazoo where she takes up a course of study in the Seminary at that place.

If you want to see a fine line of Watch's, Chains, Fobs, Charms, Rings, Lockets, Brooches, Bracelets, etc call on Mack, the Jeweler.

$3.00 to Detroit & Toledo, $6.00 to Chicago, $4.00 to Grand Rapids on G. R. & L annual excursion October 4th $5.00 to Richmond, October 11th.

When people tell you that East Jordan don't pull for home made goods simply tell them they are way off at last—in my business. They consume at least 3000 Pride Cigars every week.

The East Jordan & Southern R'y will run their Annual Southern Ten-Day Excursion Tuesday, October 4th. This excursion will include all southern points touched by the Pere Marquette system and prices to the following points are as follows: To Grand Rapids, $4.00; to Detroit, Toledo and LaCrosse, (Ind) $5.00; to Chicago, $6.00.

A special car will leave East Jordan at 5:45 a. m. of that day and no transfer will be necessary. Tickets good to return up to and including the 14th. See Agent Crossman for particulars.

If all Union men that call themselves Union men would patronize sister Unions better wages would prevail. The Pride Cigar is Union-made.

List of Advertisers Letters.

Following is a list of the letters remaining uncalled for in the East Jordan postoffice for the week ending Sept. 19, 1904:

- Benjamin, G. W.
- Wetzel, Mr. John E.
- Somnerman, Mrs. Lizzie
- Prebble, Mrs. Clara
- Linder, Mrs. Clifford
- Holben, James
- Brown, Mrs. Dave
- Bowen, Mr. David

Wm. PARSONS, P. M.

Men of Oak

Timbers of oak keep the old homestead standing through the years. It pays to use the right stuff.

"Men of oak" are men in rugged health, men whose bodies are made of the soundest materials.

Childhood is the time to lay the foundation for a sturdy constitution that will last for years. Scott's Emulsion is the right stuff.

Scott's Emulsion stimulates the growing powers of children, helps them build a firm foundation for a sturdy constitution.

Send for free samples

SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists,
 10-415 Pearl Street, New York.
 50c. and $1.00; all druggists.

Ring's Dyspepsia Tablets cure indigestion, dyspepsia and strengthen the stomach. Sold by Warner's Pharmacy.

MORTGAGE SALE.

Date of first publication Sept. 3, 1904. Default having been made in the conditions of a mortgage made by Christopher Vandewater and Emma Vandewater, his wife, to G. A. Allen, dated December 31, A. D. 1902, and recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds, for the County of Charlevoix, and the State of Michigan, on the 28th day of December, A. D. 1902, in liber 33 of mortgages, on page 445, on which mortgage there is claimed to be due at the time of this notice the sum of $221.41, Three Hundred and Twenty One Dollars and Seventy-five cents, and an Attorney's fee of $20.00, Twenty Dollars, provided for in said mortgage; and a suit or proceedings at law having been instituted to recover the moneys secured by said mortgage or any part thereof;

Notwithstanding, by virtue of the power of sale contained in such mortgage, and the statute in such case made and provided, notice is hereby given that on the 28th day of November, A. D. 1904, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, I shall sell at Public Auction, to the highest bidder, at the East front door of the Court House in the Village of Charlevoix, in said County (that being the place where the Circuit Court for the County of Charlevoix is held) the premises described in said mortgage or so much thereof as may be necessary to pay the amount due on said mortgage, with seven per cent. interest and all legal costs together with an Attorney's fee of Twenty Dollars, as covenanted therein; the said premises being described in said mortgage as follows, to-wit: Commencing at the North West Corner of the South West quarter (N. W. 1/4) of Section Thirty Six (36) in Township Thirty Two (T. 32) North of Range Seven (R. 7) West, in South Arm township, Charlevoix County, Michigan, thence South along the section line, forty (40) Rods thence East to the Elmira State Road, in said township of South Arm, thence North Westerly along said State Road to the East and West quarter line of said Section Thirty Six, thence West along said quarter line to the place of beginning; said described piece of land containing Ten Acres of land more or less;

Also that part of the North East quarter (N. E. 1/4) of the South East quarter (S. E. 1/4) of Section Thirty Five (35) in Township Thirty Two (T. 32) North of Range Seven (R. 7) West, in said township of South Arm lying and being East of what is known as the Long River said quarter of South Arm and in said Section Thirty Five (35) (excepting the Rail Road right of way, of the East Jordan & Southern Rail Road, as surveyed and established and now occupied by said Rail Road Company.

Dated, this 22d day of September, A. D. 1904. L. E. ALLEN, Mortgagee.
 A. B. NICHOLAS, Attorney for Mortgagee.

MORTGAGE SALE.

Date of first publication, Aug. 13, 1904. Default having been made in the conditions of a mortgage made by William Renard and Anna Renard, his wife, to William J. Veikel, dated August 4th, A. D. 1899, and recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds, for the County of Charlevoix, State of Michigan, on the 5th day of August, A. D. 1899, in liber 32 of mortgages, on page 12, on which mortgage there is claimed to be due at the time of this notice the sum of $221.41 Three Hundred and Twenty One Dollars and Forty One Cents, and an attorney's fee of Twenty Five Dollars, provided for in said mortgage and which said mortgage was assigned to George G. Glenn on the 22nd day of March, A. D. 1901, and which said assignment of said mortgage was recorded in the office of said Register of Deeds for said county and said State of Michigan on the 22nd day of March, A. D. 1901, in liber 34 of mortgages, on page 22, and no suit or proceedings at law having been instituted to recover the moneys secured by said mortgage or any part thereof;

Notwithstanding, by virtue of the power of sale contained in such mortgage, and the statute in such case made and provided, notice is hereby given that on the 7th day of September, I shall sell at Public Auction, to the highest bidder, at the East front door of the Court House in the Village of Charlevoix, in said County (that being the place where the Circuit Court for County of Charlevoix is held) the premises described in said mortgage, or so much thereof as may be necessary to pay the amount due on said mortgage, with seven per cent. interest, and all legal costs together with an attorney's fee of Twenty Five Dollars, as covenanted therein; in said premises being described in said mortgage as follows, to-wit: Commencing at the South East corner of Lot One (1), of Block Four (4), of the Village of South Arm, commonly known as East Jordan, as per recorded plat of said Village now on file in the office of the Register of Deeds of said County of Charlevoix, thence North on the East line of said lot (1) to the East line of Lots One and Two (1 and 2) of said Block Four (4), thence West Eighty Seven feet (87) along the North line of said Lot Two (2) thence South One Hundred and Twenty feet (120), to the South line of said Lot One (1), thence East Eighty Seven feet (87) along the South line of said Lot One (1), to the place of beginning.

Dated, this 12th day of August, A. D. 1904. GEORGE G. GLENN, Assignee.
 A. B. NICHOLAS, Attorney for Assignee.

Detroit & Charlevoix R. R.

Time Schedule in effect Sunday, Sept 4th, 1904.

Going East Stations Going West

| A. M. | Leave | Arrive | P. M. |
|-------|--------------|--------|-------|
| 9 00 | South Arm | 7 15 | |
| 9 20 | Wards | 6 45 | |
| 9 25 | Jordan River | 6 40 | |
| 9 30 | Graves' Camp | 6 35 | |
| 9 40 | Green River | 6 25 | |
| 10 30 | Alba | 6 00 | |
| 11 40 | Deward | 5 05 | |
| 12 15 | Frederic | 4 30 | |

CLARK HAIRE, General Manager.

While Visiting The Fair

Next Week You are Cordially Invited to make the FURNITURE PARLORS of

C. H. Whittington

Your headquarters. Please call and inspect our fine line of

FURNITURE

Always welcome and no trouble to show goods. Yours to Please.

Phone No. 66.

Annual Low Rate Excursion

via PERE MARQUETTE RAILROAD TO Chicago $6.00 Toledo $5.00 Detroit $5.00

 La Crosse $5.00 Grand Rapids $4.00

TUESDAY, October 4th

Tickets good to return until Oct. 14th, inclusive. See bills or ask agents. H. F. MOELLER, G. P. A.

THE CHICAGO DAILY NEWS

Regularly maintains its Special Correspondents in war or peace at

TOKYO, NAGASAKI, YOKOHAMA, KOBE, PORT ARTHUR, PEKIN, SHANGHAI AND HONGKONG.

As well as at the principal capitals of Europe. Its normal service, therefore, for covering the

Russo-Japanese War

not only in the field of war but also in that of diplomacy, is more complete than that of any other Chicago newspaper. In addition it also has the service of The Associated Press with its great allied foreign news agencies. And the whole is now supplemented by its OWN SPECIAL WAR CORRESPONDENTS IN THE FIELD.

No other paper in Chicago has so complete an equipment for printing the war news promptly and fully. That the people of Chicago and the Northwest appreciate the policy of The Daily News in printing all the news of all the world all the time is attested by the fact that its circulation exceeds 320,000 a Day.

The largest similarly attested daily newspaper circulation, morning or evening, in America.

Westward the orb of glory takes its way.

Wisconsin is the state, you hear, everybody say,

It's made itself famous by one great stride;

Rocky Mountain Tea has made its name world wide.

At F. C. Warner's

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE

PATENTS

TRADE MARKS DESIGNS & COPYRIGHTS &c.

Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. HARRISON PATENT AGENCY, 309 N. 3rd St., Philadelphia, Pa. Special notice, without charge, in the Scientific American.

A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a year; four months, $1. Sold by all newsdealers. MUNN & Co. 361 Broadway, New York

Washington, D. C.

G. R. & I. ANNUAL EXCURSIONS

TO

DETROIT, $5.00

TOLEDO, $5.00

CHICAGO, $6.00

GRAND RAPIDS, $4.00

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 4th

and

Richmond, Ind., $5, Tuesday, Oct. 11.

Tickets good for 10 days. See any G. R. & I. agent for full information or advs. ss.

C. L. LOCKWOOD, Gen'l Passenger Agt., Grand Rapids, Mich.

THE ELDREDGE
Noiseless Roller Bearing Sewing Machine.

Automatic Drop Head. The best and finest of all modern sewing machines. Most beautiful and attractive. All wearing parts of the best tempered steel. A complete and perfect set of attachments made of the finest tool steel. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

Stroebel Bros.

Jos. G. GLENN, President. W. L. FRENCH, Vice President.
GEO. G. GLENN, Cashier.

State Bank of East Jordan.
CAPITAL, $20,000.00 SURPLUS $1,500.00.

Money to Loan on Short Time.
Deposits of $1.00 and upward received and interest allowed if left on deposit three months or longer.
Bank Money Orders sold at lowest Rates.
Fire Insurance Written - we have seven good companies.
Private Deposit Boxes to Rent at $2.00 per year.

DIRECTORS - JOS. C. GLENN. W. L. FRENCH. WM. P. PORTER.
M. H. ROBERTSON. GEO. G. GLENN.

Briefs of the Week

The High School enrollment is the largest it has ever been.

Miss Erma Stone has charge of the Wilson school this year.

W. A. Loveday left Wednesday for a business trip to Chicago.

Rev. R. E. Yost has been returned to the Methodist Episcopal charge here for another year.

Rev. C. T. Stout will hold regular services at the Episcopal Church next Monday evening.

Tell your friends when they come to see the Fair, about the good qualities there is found in the Pride Cigars, 5c.

Contractor Harry Price has been awarded the contract to build the Antrim County Court House at Bellaire.

The East Jordan Literary Club will meet Saturday, October first at the home of Mrs. Crossman. All members are requested to be present and to respond at roll call with a quotation from Shakespeare. Year books will be there for distribution. All interested in literary work are cordially invited to be present.

The East Jordan Creamery, J. J. Pfender propr, shipped 1200 pounds of fancy creamery butter, Tuesday morning, to Chicago via Str. Missouri. The shipment went to Kemper Bros., wholesale Commission Merchants. In the short space of a few months our Creamery has shown remarkable strides and it's only a matter of a short time until it stands at the head of the best creameries in the state. Both Mr. and Mrs. Pfender are experts in the butter-making line and the quality put out by them is unsurpassed.

When you call for a Pride Cigar see that you get one - take it out of the box yourself.

Michael Strogoff at the Loveday Opera House. That portion of the theatre going public partial to the great war dramas will have a chance to witness the greatest of all Russian war productions, Michael Strogoff at the Loveday Opera House on Tuesday and Wednesday nights. The pages of Russian history are brimful of strange and wierd adventures, but none more strange or grand in the unfolding of the wonderful tale of Michael Strogoff. Every one has read of his long and perilous journey, how his mother betrayed him to the Tartar chief, how he was blinded with a hot iron, how he still continued his journey, led by a poor Peasant girl, how in the end he triumphs, his sight returns and he kills his enemy, a traitor to the Russian cause - special scenery, elaborate electrical effects, magnificent costumes, and a grand cast of 20 performers including the Russian Hussar Band are carried to make this production in every respect.

Prices for this engagement are 25 to 75 cents.

When men are willing to pay 10c for a nickel Cigar, you can make up your mind it must be good. That is what some are willing to do with the Pride, 5c Cigar.

Fair.

Michael Strogoff.

Ed. Fisher is in town.

C. C. Mack, the Jeweler.

To try a Pride Cigar is to like one.

Mack, the Jeweler sells Roger Bros 1847 Silverware.

It is made to-day the same as it was 4 years ago - the Pride 5c Cigar.

Mrs. W. A. Stroebel is entertaining a brother - James Fagley of Saginaw.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. James Quinlan a nine pound girl, Saturday last.

Mrs. E. P. Dunlap and children are here from Detroit to spend the winter.

The Flooring Factory will start up in about a week and employ about 25 men. Good.

Mack, the Jeweler, sells the best Fountain Pens made, and fully guarantees every one.

George Lisk, who has been guest of his son G. A. the past week returned to his home at Lander, Tuesday.

Mrs. Elmer Ernest and children is here from Applegate, visiting with her sister, Mrs. Robert Miles and family.

G. R. & I. annual excursion to Detroit, Toledo, Chicago and Grand Rapids, Tuesday, October 4. To Richmond, October 11.

For the best Sewing Machine and the easiest terms get a Singer, E. A. Lewis has just received a large consignment direct from the factory.

Some men know all about my business, but ask them about their own and they only know when pay day comes. So never mind them but smoke the Pride Cigar.

The barn of John Peterson, of Iron-ton, with all its contents, consisting of a new reaper and hay press, were destroyed by fire Sunday night. It is thought to be the work of an incendiary.

George Hull and family left Thursday morning for Coopersville, Mich., where they visit Mr. Hull's parents and other relatives. Mr. Hull has been employed in the Shingle mill here for several years and is a steady and reliable employe.

Mrs. Harriet Goodman died at her home here last Friday evening, aged 88 years. Deceased received a stroke of paralysis a fortnight prior to her death from which she never recovered. Funeral services were held Tuesday from the Episcopal church. She was a resident of this place since 1871, and leaves a husband and several children by a previous marriage.

As the time draws near for the big production of the Great Russian War Drama, Michael Strogoff, the interest seems to keep increasing and every one is looking forward with additional interest to this grand drama at Loveday Opera House on Tuesday night by Messrs. Rodney & Kellogg's carefully selected company of twenty (20) artists including the Russian Hussar Band, also special scenery, magnificent costumes and elaborate electrical effects will be used.

The Soldiers' Reunion.

The Soldiers' Reunion here last week left many pleasant memories, among which was the Address of Welcome given by Atty. J. Ernest Converse. It was spoken of very highly by those who heard it and for those who were unable to be present, we herewith publish same in full.

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen: To me has been given the honor of representing our Village President in the exercises and saying to you those words of welcome that may be said. Let me say to you all that the citizens of East Jordan are very glad to have you with them for this reunion. They are one and all; I think, appreciate what these gatherings mean to the old veteran and are glad that they may take some small part in showing to you the Country's gratitude for heroic services. As one of them and as their representative let me say to you that you are welcome to East Jordan and all she has. The town is yours to do with as you will so long as you leave us enough to do business with again after you are gone. If anything may be omitted, through carelessness for your entertainment or comfort, let me ask of you that you consider it an omission of the hands and not of the heart.

Nearly four decades have passed since the close of that struggle that your meeting here today commemorates and reckoned by the calendar of time they have been short indeed but when reckoned by events they have the longest of any similar period of history. Well may you congratulate yourselves that you have lived when you did. It was the most advantageous time of all time to live except one and that is the present, but I say to you that it seems very improbable to me that one will ever see such changes of vast magnitude as you have had the privilege of taking your part in.

My friends, the war is not closed. While the fierce personal strife is a thing of the past and forgotten and the shedding of human blood is stopped the results of that struggle have not stopped and never will so long as time can chronicle events. I do not need to tell you of the difference in conditions your sacrifices have made.

You know them as well as I. You found a nation supposed to be a Union of States but it was questioned; you found a feeling of hatred existing between those that should have been brothers; you found a country with no commercial standing and no navy to support trade; you found a country with no standing with other powers of the world; you found a country supposed to be weak making a sublime effort to uphold those principles of American liberties guaranteed by our form of government. The question was put to you squarely and you said, "We believe those principles are eternal and we are willing to give out life's blood if need be, in order to protect and nourish them. You were met squarely by a strong and earnest opposition. You did lose your blood as the red flowers of many a Southern battlefield will testify, but you prevailed. Even then it was doubtful if the results obtained were worthy the sacrifices. You did not despair but firm in the hope of a bright future you departed from the field of carnage and took up the peaceful labors of the citizen. The fact that today we have a united country in every way; that we are the richest nation of the earth; that our commercial supremacy is recognized by all nations; that we have the best equipped army and navy and that our people are the best governed, the best clothed, the best paid and the best educated of any people all go to evidence the fact that your sacrifices and labors were not in vain.

Neither should we forget those who lacking strength for the strife of the front, were filled with love of country and fought the battles of home while you fought those of mortal combat. It is not taking one star from your crown when I say to you that those at home played as much a part in the final success as you did. You know better than I of the hardships and the struggles of mother, wife and sweetheart that you left behind you. You can feel yet the warm moisture of the loving kiss, the firm pressure of loving arms as they gave you that last embrace and sent you forth to fight your country's cause. They had a smile and a God Speed on their lips but their eyes were dimmed with tears that fell after you left. Not the least of a country's success in battle fields depends on the prayers of those at home. Every night when you lay with your comrades on the camp ground did not the thought that back in the Northland thousands of brave women were bending the knee to the Father of mercies give you added strength for the fray of the morrow?

To these women we would also give our choicest gifts and say to them that you are welcome to all we have and may you carry with you until the end of your life's journey the ever increasing gratitude of a peaceful country and

Ayer's

You know the medicine that makes pure, rich blood - Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Your mother, grandmother, all your folks, used it. They trusted

Sarsaparilla

It. Their doctors trusted it. Your doctor trusts it. Then trust it yourself. There is health and strength in it.

"I suffered terribly from indigestion and thin blood, I found no relief until I took Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Four bottles permanently cured me."

Mrs. F. R. HART, Mt. Vernon, N. Y.

for Rich Blood

Ayer's Pills are gently laxative. They greatly aid the Sarsaparilla.

may you know that in our present grandeur, your labors of love both in the front and at home were most important factors.

Venerable men, you are the remnants of a once vast army; you can tell me by personal experience of Sumter, Bull Run, Antietam, Vicksburg, Gettysburg, The Wilderness, Chickamauga and Appomattox. Little did you think when you put yourself at your country's command that you would ever see an hour like this. You come to us from another generation. Your lives have been lengthened, until you can be hold the magnificent results of your labors. How much better they are than you even in your fondest hopes ever imagined they could be. Even this much ought to make you feel that your lives have been worth the living.

Your halting steps and your thinned gray hairs give notice that your course is nearly run. Every day adds to those wearers of the blue that have crossed the Great Divide and while we are enjoying the pleasant things of this reunion may we each drop a tear in their memory. Veterans as a representative of the present generation I grasp your hands. I look out around me and behold the magnificent heritage you have given us. Where you had discord you have left us peace. Where you could show your love for country by personal valor you left us the peaceful callings. Each in their place may be made the work bench of a patriotic people. We accept your heritage in the spirit that it is given. We promise to guard and carefully watch over it. Those principles so freely nourished by you shall be our guiding stars. More than this we cannot do but must leave the proof to the recorder of events.

My friends, may this reunion be all to you that you expected and may each and all of you have such a hold on the thread of life that you may yet enjoy these occasions in the years to come.

There is nothing better than the Pride Cigar for 5 cents.

Rev. C. T. Stout has received an appointment as delegate from the diocese of Western Michigan to the "International Sunday Rest Congress" to be held at the Universal exposition, St. Louis, Oct. 11, 12, 13 and 14.

Did you ever stand on some corner of the town and listen to men speaking about the wonderful things in this world? the majority of them class the Pride Cigar among them.

Just at this time when the Russian-Japanese war is raging, Michael Strogoff is very appropriate, dealing as it does with the Russian War and the desolate country in which it is fought. The prices for this engagement are 25 to 75 cents.

Some men are bound to smoke prison made goods, simply because they are advertised very highly. But a good judge of tobacco prefers the Pride, 5c Cigar.

Jan. Taylor, of Kendallville, Ind. was seriously diseased with kidney and bladder trouble for 20 years. He tested every known remedy without much benefit, until he used Pineules. This new discovery cured him, and Mr. Taylor, advises all persons suffering from kidney or bladder trouble to get a bottle of Pineules at once. Sold by Warner's Pharmacy.

Rugs FROM OLD CARPETS

It will pay you to investigate before you place your orders for rugs. We are a responsible incorporated concern with a capital of fifteen thousand dollars and have factories at Potoskey, Michigan Soo, Canadian Soo, Ontario. We are the originators of "Sanitary Rugs," trade mark, from old carpets. All others are imitations. Write for a booklet. We have no agents canvassing. We pay the freight. All work guaranteed. Potoskey Rug Mfg. Carpet Co., Ltd., 55-57 Michigan street.

School Clothing

We have just received and have now on display a Big Variety of Boy's Clothing for School Wear. Fit the boy out with one these tasty and durable Suits.

The prices are Very Reasonable. It will pay you to look over our stock.

"Never mind, Johnnie, don't cry. It's easy to get a Grindstone Suit. I just got one. Best on earth, see?"

J. L. WIESMAN
LEADER OF LOW PRICES.
Loveday Block, East Jordan.

For a full line of Pure Drugs
Go to Warne's Pharmacy.
Prescriptions Carefully Compounded.

HAVE YOU TRIED
Shelters' Baked Goods?
They're superior to anything put out in East Jordan. Try and be convinced.
A full line of GROCERIES always kept in Stock.
LUNCHES served at all hours.
E. E. SHELTERS, PROP'R JORDAN BAKERY AND GROCERY.
C. A. Brabant sells our baked goods at South Arm.

Brightest and Best OIL HEATERS
(Best Oil Heater on the Market.)
Just the thing at the present time to keep out the chilly air.
OIL CANS of all descriptions.
LANTERNS warranted not to blow-out.

Hygenic Kalsomine.
To brighten up your home.
For Sale at
The W. E. Malpass Hardware Co.

HARVARD PIANOS are preferred by teachers on account of wonderful tone quality, and remarkable durability.
WE HAVE AN ATTRACTIVE PROPOSITION TO MAKE YOU
If you intend to purchase a piano at any time in the near future. It will cost you nothing to learn what we have to offer.
THE HARVARD PIANO CO., Manufacturers, CINCINNATI, OHIO.

At Night.

Yonder a June night moon rides high,
The sparkling stars are faint and blurred,
A wind goes ruffling earth and sky
And the silver smoke is idly stirred.

And I through the city streets alone
Go thumping between the window'd walls,
Lost in a silent world of stone,
A solitude of vacant halls.

What are my thoughts in this weird Night?
The wonders of science? the world? the new?
No, men are stiff of the human race;
I think of a woman; I think of you.

—James Oppenheim in New York Sun.

AN ACT OF CHARITY

Mrs. Boldero, having been advised by the doctor "to keep up her strength," had ordered for luncheon a rump steak and kidney pudding, which she was just about to carve, and some mutton cutlets, now in front of Miss Lucy Westlake, her companion, whose principal duty was to read Mrs. Boldero to sleep after the present meal and dinner.

The pudding was served in a white basin with a napkin around it, and the parlor maid stood, interestedly looking on, while Mrs. Boldero cut a V-shaped piece, out of the top, placed this on a plate, and began to spoon out the contents. Suddenly pausing, with the spoon in her right hand, she turned wrathfully toward Mary.

"Where," she severely demanded, "are the kidneys?"

"Cook said the butcher didn't send them in time," was the answer.

Mrs. Boldero felt disappointed. She had thought of the pudding once or twice since her 10 o'clock breakfast. "Take it away!" she exclaimed, and Lucy Westlake tried somewhat markedly to look as if the affair possessed no interest in the world for herself, as, indeed, it would not if Mr. Roper had not chanced to pass the house at that moment.

Mr. Roper occupied one room in a very small house a few hundred yards away. He looked more than sixty years of age; he was short, erect, and remarkably thin. His limp-brimmed hat, once black, had now become green; his tightly fitting coat had faded from dark blue to brown. From one of her servants (Mrs. Boldero had a habit of exchanging confidences of the kind) she had learned that Mr. Roper had starved himself. "He certainly looks as if a good meal would do him good," she would remark.

Nevertheless, Mrs. Boldero felt a kind of interest in the old man, who often passed her window, and this afternoon she happened to look up in time to recognize him.

"Ah!" she cried, "it would be an act of charity to give it to that poor man!"

"What is that?" asked Lucy.

"Mr. Roper," was the answer. "It would make him a meal every day for a week. I have a good mind to send it."

"Oh, but—"

"I beg your pardon?" said Mrs. Boldero, sharply.

Lucy's cheeks were crimson, for she perceived what Mrs. Boldero could not see—that, although his clothes were fit for the dust-bin, Mr. Roper was a gentleman.

"You couldn't do such a thing," murmured Lucy.

"Not perform an act of charity? An' why not, pray?" asked Mrs. Boldero. "Mary," she added, "take away my plate and the pudding. I will have some cutlets. Cook can put the basin in a basket, and Miss Westlake shall carry it to poor Mr. Roper directly after luncheon."

Lucy Westlake looked inclined to rebel. But, although Mrs. Boldero might be a trying woman to live with

"I am Major Roper," he said.

In many respects, Lucy had a comfortable home with sufficient salary to enable her to help her own people. Caution prevailing, she set forth half an hour later with tingling cheeks and reluctant steps. A wide-brimmed hat shaded her face from the sun, the basket hung on her left arm as she timidly drew near to the terrace of small houses where Mr. Roper lodged.

Lucy's voice trembled as a short, stout, red-faced woman opened the street door.

"May I speak to Mr. Roper?" she asked, and, turning her back, the woman of the house shouted his name at the foot of the narrow staircase. He came down a few moments later in the act of buttoning his shrunken, faded coat.

"You wish to see me?" he inquired, with a bow.

"Ye-es, if you please," said Lucy.

Never since his boyhood had he felt such temptation at the sight of anything to eat.

glancing from the basket to Mr. Roper's face, and scarcely knowing how to explain her errand.

"A remarkably fine day," cried Mr. Roper, with a cough.

"Mrs.—Mrs. Boldero saw you pass our window," Lucy faltered.

"I have not the pleasure of Mrs. Boldero's acquaintance, I believe."

"Still," said Lucy, becoming more nervous every instant, "she knows you very well by sight."

Mr. Roper straightened his back; he had been somewhat of a buck in his day—major in a line regiment, retired on half pay some years ago. His only son had come to a melancholy end, and, having left numerous debts of honor undischarged, Major Roper had felt it incumbent to take them on himself. In order to raise immediately the necessary sum of money, he had sequestered the bulk of his pension, retaining, in fact, sufficient only to support the barest existence. Another year and the debt would be wiped out; then Major Roper told himself, he would once again be able to hold up his head.

"Mrs. Boldero presents her compliments," said Lucy, drawing on her invention, "and she—she has sent you this—"

"And what is 'this'?" he demanded, fixing his single eyeglass, and leaning forward to peer into the uncovered basket.

"A—rump steak pudding."

He stood glaring at Lucy's rosy face while he ferociously twirled his mustache.

"I am Major Roper!" he said.

"Mrs. Boldero thought—"

"She evidently thought that she could insult me with impunity."

"I am very sorry," faltered Lucy.

His annoyance was the greater, if possible, on observing that the pudding was not even whole, yet, inconspicuously enough, the sight of it tickled his palate. Still, Major Roper found his appetite easier to control than his pride, which had never been more aggressive than now, when he looked forward shortly to leave Borrowfield and to live again within reach of a London club.

"You will kindly present my compliments to Mrs.—er—"

"Boldero," faltered Lucy.

"To Mrs. Boldero, and tell her that I am very much—very much obliged."

"She will be rather hurt," said Lucy.

"And I," said Major Roper, "am rather hurt."

"I do wish you would let me leave it!" cried Lucy, holding out her arm with the basket in her left hand close to his face.

"I have told you I am Major Roper," he answered, stepping backward.

"Mrs. Boldero will be immensely angry," murmured Lucy, gazing from the basket into his face.

"Angry—with you, do you mean?"

"I am afraid she will," said Lucy, with a deprecatory smile.

Major Roper began to cough.

"You will kindly present my compliments to Mrs.—er—Boldero, and say that I am greatly obliged, and accept her—her gift in the spirit in which, no doubt, it is offered."

"Oh, thank you!" exclaimed Lucy, and, with an air of extreme relief, she saw Major Roper take the basket.

"You will wait a moment for the—for the basin?" he suggested, as she would have turned away.

"I can come to-morrow."

"There is no necessity to give you that trouble," he insisted, "if you will pardon my closing the door." He did not wish her to follow his movements, so, leaving Lucy standing on the top step and the street door ajar, the major held the basket gingerly as he walked along the passage to another door which led to a back yard.

There he removed the basin from the basket, standing this on the red tiles while he gazed with mingled sensations at the top of the half cold but still savory pudding. Never since 'his boyhood had he felt such temptation at the sight of anything to eat. Holding the basin now at arm's length, he stepped toward the dust bin, and therein emptied the enticing contents. A few feet to the right was a tap, and, stooping in front of it, Major Roper turned the water into the basin, which he afterward dried upon a duster that hung from a nail in the wall. Having replaced the empty basin, he carried the basket into the house and opened the street door.

"A thousand apologies for keeping you," he said, offering the basket to Lucy, whose face looked quite cheerful again.

"I hope you will enjoy the pudding, major!" she cried, with a laugh which made him feel almost young again.

"You will kindly tell Mrs.—er—Mrs. Boldero it is one of my favorite dishes," he answered, with a bow, and Lucy nodded brightly as she walked away with the basket.—New York Telegraph.

HE WOULD TAKE NO RISKS.

Cowboy Wanted to Have Decent Chance of Spending His Money.

"In the West," said Mr. William Sturges of Cheyenne, Wyo., "the people take very slowly to the notion that government should busy itself in the endeavor to regulate public morals."

"For that reason, although we have a pretty stiff state anti-gambling law, the statute is of little potency, and the boys gather in the old familiar centers to bet their coin against faro, roulette, hazard or poker."

"Not long ago one of my clients, of the cowboy tribe, who had deposited $1,000 with me, made a trip to town, and for several days got me to let him have about $100 per diem. I thought he was trying his luck at faro, and finally, when he had spent just half his capital, I advised him that the writing of checks was getting monotonous, and that if he meant to keep on playing to withdraw the remaining $500 in a lump, so that he need not 'bother to hunt for me.' At the same time I advised him in strong terms to stop then and there and take no chances in losing the money he had acquired through months of patient toil on the plains. He heard me through with the utmost patience, taking no apparent heed of my rebuke and then said: 'I know what you say is true, Judge; but supposing I should die right sudden and get no chance to spend that other $500?'—Washington Post.

Their First Falsehood.

"It is said there should be implicit confidence between married folk," said a Fifth avenue clergyman whose church is not far from Fortieth street. "I am a believer in this little injunction, but I am also certain that I once married a couple who tried to deceive not only one another, but even themselves, at the altar. I knew them both. He was a bachelor of seventy; she was a spinster of about sixty. But you would not have thought so when they came to get me to marry them. She was attired like a shopgirl out for her first ball, and his raiment bespoke the youthful duke of twenty-two or twenty-three. His snow white mustache had been dyed black and waxed until the ends looked like knitting needles."

"I asked them their ages."

"Thirty-five," he said gravely.

"Thirty," she simpered.

"Now each was aware of deceiving the other, but I want to tell you both looked positively happy and untroubled over the conscienceless falsehoods with which they had begun their married life."—New York Herald.

To a Haven at Last.

I have seen the worst of the world, and I care no more for chances and changes, for perils afloat and ashore. God is over them all; a spirit more calm than fate.

My times upon Him wait.

In the uttermost parts of the sea there the corals grow.

And the wealth of its oozy floor no divers know.

When the laboring ship strains on through an ocean of weed

Our captain takes good heed.

But better heed takes he who steers without chart the storm.

Who hath bidden the north blow cold and the south breathe warm?

That, though he splinters the ship on the coral marge,

He hath her crew in charge.

From the peril of fire and flow, from the roof and rock

We have gathered them man by man—

He will bring them home to the haven where they would be.

Over a Jasper sea.

—Black and White.

Rubles of Great Value.

Oriental rubies are worth, weight for weight, about twelve times the value of diamonds.

IN FAIR C EY L O N

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE

After sixteen days on tropical seas, varied by picturesque falls and gardens at Penang, the passenger has sampled the wines, tested his friends, spun his best yarns, and proved all the pleasure and monotony of sea life. He welcomes a glimpse of fair Ceylon, even though he has little notion of its beauties. He would welcome anything which hinted of change, and the entrance to the harbor is entrancing, because of its novelty.

The trip from steamer to shore is by small craft, and passage and landing are made easy by John Bull's official in white duck and helmet, and the cudgel which he freely brandishes to subdue the human vultures, who fleece the wanderer of his ducats.

In the thick of the town one finds the vivid contrast between native and foreign life. Huddled in the black man's quarter are the tiny, indigenous huts, swarming with naked babies, mannerly. They are lazy and liars, of course, but that is eastern. "Boys" of advanced years serve the hungry guests. They are bare-footed, clad in white loose trousers and jacket, trimmed with green cuffs and collars. The hair is twisted in a little knot at the back, and a round shell comb fits jauntily on the top. Many of these tortoise combs are very choice; the costly delight of the wearer. The boys move noiselessly, like shadowy spectres, black and white, gliding from the tomb. Boat-nights the big dinner is an especially festive scene, when the rich trotters have washed off the stain of travel, and stately men and gracious women in evening suits and rustling silks and flashing gems slough off Bohemianism and become the conventional lords and ladies of the salon.

Day rightfully begins at six, when a dusky "boy" patters up to the bed with the dainty breakfast of coffee, while the gaudy ornaments and brilliant drapes of the elders flash, gorgeous colors through the crowded alleys. In the foreign center stand stately buildings of the English. The hotels in town, the English banks, Cook's office, the Governor's home, church and theater, mark the white man's path, while Cargill's huge department store, which has its branches throughout the island, offers all the comforts of civilization to resident and tourist. The tall clock tower is Colombo's special landmark. Fourteen miles at sea, its large lantern, with revolving lights, is the sailor's guiding star. From the clock tower runs the brown-red roadway through a mile of plain. On one side rise the white houses of the English, soldiers' barracks and the club. On the west is the broad stretch of ocean, dazzling blue, dancing in the sun of the tropics, while the battling waves beat on the boulders and break in foam and thunder on the beach. Wonderful in beauty and variety, the drive leads to the proud Galle Face, best hotel in all the East, rearing its red facade behind a grove of towering pines which balance in the wind, wearing on their tops the feathery fronds which sweep the air like monstrous plumes. No matter how nerve-shattering be the island heat, the marble vestibule and office are always swept by a current of sea breeze; and birds are fluttering everywhere. Here lounges the idle world, watching the ceaseless sweep of the changing ocean and spying the stately ships which ride the waters in the distance.

Cabbage Palms. (Kandy.)

Life is quite complete within the precincts of Galle Face. Its galleries are lined with little shops of the vendors, gay with things oriental, jewels, costumes, silks, laces, ivory, ebony and curios. The fantastic booths of bananas, toast and jam. Woe betide the lazy mortal who neglects the banquet. Many uninvited guests arrive, and there will soon not be a mouthful! They are glossy black creatures, with big eyes and long, sharp beaks. They are always hungry, these robbers bold. They step through the window, gay and proud, with a loud "caw-caw." They throw a quick glance here and there and seem to say, "Look me square in the eye and be glad of the chance. I am a handsome chap, and I know it." They perch before the mirror and admire their fine feathers; they jump on the pitcher for their morning drink, and they devour the jam. Keys, money, jewels, letter-of-credit, must be hidden from the thieves, as they steal, for the love of stealing things they cannot need nor use. One gentleman barely saved his watch from the beak of a rogue. Everyone sleeps under a net in Ceylon, and the crows have all the curiosity of a Paul Pry to peep under the folds and make acquaintance.

Fortune tellers, bent and dirty old graybeards, with long hair hopelessly tangled, haunt the hotel and find many a dupe. They hold the knowledge of the future, and carry a torn and greasy chart of the heavens whereon they read our fate. Never were they known to tell anything disagreeable, and their signs and omens are full of charm. According to their horoscope the future holds nothing but bliss, and we are the luckiest of earth's mortals. They drive a good trade, casting the lot of the unwary, for there are always the simple, the curious and the superstitious willing to pay to hear their happy fate.

Magicians are many and they have a fair field in Ceylon, for clever indeed are the tricks of the Orient, and jugglers and tricksters arrive with

Street Scene.

the jewelers flash with the gems of Ceylon, the rubies of Birmah. The vast dining room raises its white walls two stories high, and its western arches give off to terraced lawn and dazzling ocean. The fluttering birds nest freely in its niches. Hundreds of dainty tables, gay with eastern flora, are scattered through the hall. The Ceylonese make fine servants. They are gentle and kindly, quick and attentive, quiet and bananas, toast and jam. Woe betide the lazy mortal who neglects the banquet. Many uninvited guests arrive, and there will soon not be a mouthful! They are glossy black creatures, with big eyes and long, sharp beaks. They are always hungry, these robbers bold. They step through the window, gay and proud, with a loud "caw-caw." They throw a quick glance here and there and seem to say, "Look me square in the eye and be glad of the chance. I am a handsome chap, and I know it." They perch before the mirror and admire their fine feathers; they jump on the pitcher for their morning drink, and they devour the jam. Keys, money, jewels, letter-of-credit, must be hidden from the thieves, as they steal, for the love of stealing things they cannot need nor use. One gentleman barely saved his watch from the beak of a rogue. Everyone sleeps under a net in Ceylon, and the crows have all the curiosity of a Paul Pry to peep under the folds and make acquaintance.

Fortune tellers, bent and dirty old graybeards, with long hair hopelessly tangled, haunt the hotel and find many a dupe. They hold the knowledge of the future, and carry a torn and greasy chart of the heavens whereon they read our fate. Never were they known to tell anything disagreeable, and their signs and omens are full of charm. According to their horoscope the future holds nothing but bliss, and we are the luckiest of earth's mortals. They drive a good trade, casting the lot of the unwary, for there are always the simple, the curious and the superstitious willing to pay to hear their happy fate.

Magicians are many and they have a fair field in Ceylon, for clever indeed are the tricks of the Orient, and jugglers and tricksters arrive with

bananas, toast and jam. Woe betide the lazy mortal who neglects the banquet. Many uninvited guests arrive, and there will soon not be a mouthful! They are glossy black creatures, with big eyes and long, sharp beaks. They are always hungry, these robbers bold. They step through the window, gay and proud, with a loud "caw-caw." They throw a quick glance here and there and seem to say, "Look me square in the eye and be glad of the chance. I am a handsome chap, and I know it." They perch before the mirror and admire their fine feathers; they jump on the pitcher for their morning drink, and they devour the jam. Keys, money, jewels, letter-of-credit, must be hidden from the thieves, as they steal, for the love of stealing things they cannot need nor use. One gentleman barely saved his watch from the beak of a rogue. Everyone sleeps under a net in Ceylon, and the crows have all the curiosity of a Paul Pry to peep under the folds and make acquaintance.

Fortune tellers, bent and dirty old graybeards, with long hair hopelessly tangled, haunt the hotel and find many a dupe. They hold the knowledge of the future, and carry a torn and greasy chart of the heavens whereon they read our fate. Never were they known to tell anything disagreeable, and their signs and omens are full of charm. According to their horoscope the future holds nothing but bliss, and we are the luckiest of earth's mortals. They drive a good trade, casting the lot of the unwary, for there are always the simple, the curious and the superstitious willing to pay to hear their happy fate.

Magicians are many and they have a fair field in Ceylon, for clever indeed are the tricks of the Orient, and jugglers and tricksters arrive with

bananas, toast and jam. Woe betide the lazy mortal who neglects the banquet. Many uninvited guests arrive, and there will soon not be a mouthful! They are glossy black creatures, with big eyes and long, sharp beaks. They are always hungry, these robbers bold. They step through the window, gay and proud, with a loud "caw-caw." They throw a quick glance here and there and seem to say, "Look me square in the eye and be glad of the chance. I am a handsome chap, and I know it." They perch before the mirror and admire their fine feathers; they jump on the pitcher for their morning drink, and they devour the jam. Keys, money, jewels, letter-of-credit, must be hidden from the thieves, as they steal, for the love of stealing things they cannot need nor use. One gentleman barely saved his watch from the beak of a rogue. Everyone sleeps under a net in Ceylon, and the crows have all the curiosity of a Paul Pry to peep under the folds and make acquaintance.

Fortune tellers, bent and dirty old graybeards, with long hair hopelessly tangled, haunt the hotel and find many a dupe. They hold the knowledge of the future, and carry a torn and greasy chart of the heavens whereon they read our fate. Never were they known to tell anything disagreeable, and their signs and omens are full of charm. According to their horoscope the future holds nothing but bliss, and we are the luckiest of earth's mortals. They drive a good trade, casting the lot of the unwary, for there are always the simple, the curious and the superstitious willing to pay to hear their happy fate.

Magicians are many and they have a fair field in Ceylon, for clever indeed are the tricks of the Orient, and jugglers and tricksters arrive with

bananas, toast and jam. Woe betide the lazy mortal who neglects the banquet. Many uninvited guests arrive, and there will soon not be a mouthful! They are glossy black creatures, with big eyes and long, sharp beaks. They are always hungry, these robbers bold. They step through the window, gay and proud, with a loud "caw-caw." They throw a quick glance here and there and seem to say, "Look me square in the eye and be glad of the chance. I am a handsome chap, and I know it." They perch before the mirror and admire their fine feathers; they jump on the pitcher for their morning drink, and they devour the jam. Keys, money, jewels, letter-of-credit, must be hidden from the thieves, as they steal, for the love of stealing things they cannot need nor use. One gentleman barely saved his watch from the beak of a rogue. Everyone sleeps under a net in Ceylon, and the crows have all the curiosity of a Paul Pry to peep under the folds and make acquaintance.

Fortune tellers, bent and dirty old graybeards, with long hair hopelessly tangled, haunt the hotel and find many a dupe. They hold the knowledge of the future, and carry a torn and greasy chart of the heavens whereon they read our fate. Never were they known to tell anything disagreeable, and their signs and omens are full of charm. According to their horoscope the future holds nothing but bliss, and we are the luckiest of earth's mortals. They drive a good trade, casting the lot of the unwary, for there are always the simple, the curious and the superstitious willing to pay to hear their happy fate.

Magicians are many and they have a fair field in Ceylon, for clever indeed are the tricks of the Orient, and jugglers and tricksters arrive with

bananas, toast and jam. Woe betide the lazy mortal who neglects the banquet. Many uninvited guests arrive, and there will soon not be a mouthful! They are glossy black creatures, with big eyes and long, sharp beaks. They are always hungry, these robbers bold. They step through the window, gay and proud, with a loud "caw-caw." They throw a quick glance here and there and seem to say, "Look me square in the eye and be glad of the chance. I am a handsome chap, and I know it." They perch before the mirror and admire their fine feathers; they jump on the pitcher for their morning drink, and they devour the jam. Keys, money, jewels, letter-of-credit, must be hidden from the thieves, as they steal, for the love of stealing things they cannot need nor use. One gentleman barely saved his watch from the beak of a rogue. Everyone sleeps under a net in Ceylon, and the crows have all the curiosity of a Paul Pry to peep under the folds and make acquaintance.

Fortune tellers, bent and dirty old graybeards, with long hair hopelessly tangled, haunt the hotel and find many a dupe. They hold the knowledge of the future, and carry a torn and greasy chart of the heavens whereon they read our fate. Never were they known to tell anything disagreeable, and their signs and omens are full of charm. According to their horoscope the future holds nothing but bliss, and we are the luckiest of earth's mortals. They drive a good trade, casting the lot of the unwary, for there are always the simple, the curious and the superstitious willing to pay to hear their happy fate.

Magicians are many and they have a fair field in Ceylon, for clever indeed are the tricks of the Orient, and jugglers and tricksters arrive with

bananas, toast and jam. Woe betide the lazy mortal who neglects the banquet. Many uninvited guests arrive, and there will soon not be a mouthful! They are glossy black creatures, with big eyes and long, sharp beaks. They are always hungry, these robbers bold. They step through the window, gay and proud, with a loud "caw-caw." They throw a quick glance here and there and seem to say, "Look me square in the eye and be glad of the chance. I am a handsome chap, and I know it." They perch before the mirror and admire their fine feathers; they jump on the pitcher for their morning drink, and they devour the jam. Keys, money, jewels, letter-of-credit, must be hidden from the thieves, as they steal, for the love of stealing things they cannot need nor use. One gentleman barely saved his watch from the beak of a rogue. Everyone sleeps under a net in Ceylon, and the crows have all the curiosity of a Paul Pry to peep under the folds and make acquaintance.

Fortune tellers, bent and dirty old graybeards, with long hair hopelessly tangled, haunt the hotel and find many a dupe. They hold the knowledge of the future, and carry a torn and greasy chart of the heavens whereon they read our fate. Never were they known to tell anything disagreeable, and their signs and omens are full of charm. According to their horoscope the future holds nothing but bliss, and we are the luckiest of earth's mortals. They drive a good trade, casting the lot of the unwary, for there are always the simple, the curious and the superstitious willing to pay to hear their happy fate.

Magicians are many and they have a fair field in Ceylon, for clever indeed are the tricks of the Orient, and jugglers and tricksters arrive with

bananas, toast and jam. Woe betide the lazy mortal who neglects the banquet. Many uninvited guests arrive, and there will soon not be a mouthful! They are glossy black creatures, with big eyes and long, sharp beaks. They are always hungry, these robbers bold. They step through the window, gay and proud, with a loud "caw-caw." They throw a quick glance here and there and seem to say, "Look me square in the eye and be glad of the chance. I am a handsome chap, and I know it." They perch before the mirror and admire their fine feathers; they jump on the pitcher for their morning drink, and they devour the jam. Keys, money, jewels, letter-of-credit, must be hidden from the thieves, as they steal, for the love of stealing things they cannot need nor use. One gentleman barely saved his watch from the beak of a rogue. Everyone sleeps under a net in Ceylon, and the crows have all the curiosity of a Paul Pry to peep under the folds and make acquaintance.

Fortune tellers, bent and dirty old graybeards, with long hair hopelessly tangled, haunt the hotel and find many a dupe. They hold the knowledge of the future, and carry a torn and greasy chart of the heavens whereon they read our fate. Never were they known to tell anything disagreeable, and their signs and omens are full of charm. According to their horoscope the future holds nothing but bliss, and we are the luckiest of earth's mortals. They drive a good trade, casting the lot of the unwary, for there are always the simple, the curious and the superstitious willing to pay to hear their happy fate.

Magicians are many and they have a fair field in Ceylon, for clever indeed are the tricks of the Orient, and jugglers and tricksters arrive with

bananas, toast and jam. Woe betide the lazy mortal who neglects the banquet. Many uninvited guests arrive, and there will soon not be a mouthful! They are glossy black creatures, with big eyes and long, sharp beaks. They are always hungry, these robbers bold. They step through the window, gay and proud, with a loud "caw-caw." They throw a quick glance here and there and seem to say, "Look me square in the eye and be glad of the chance. I am a handsome chap, and I know it." They perch before the mirror and admire their fine feathers; they jump on the pitcher for their morning drink, and they devour the jam. Keys, money, jewels, letter-of-credit, must be hidden from the thieves, as they steal, for the love of stealing things they cannot need nor use. One gentleman barely saved his watch from the beak of a rogue. Everyone sleeps under a net in Ceylon, and the crows have all the curiosity of a Paul Pry to peep under the folds and make acquaintance.

Fortune tellers, bent and dirty old graybeards, with long hair hopelessly tangled, haunt the hotel and find many a dupe. They hold the knowledge of the future, and carry a torn and greasy chart of the heavens whereon they read our fate. Never were they known to tell anything disagreeable, and their signs and omens are full of charm. According to their horoscope the future holds nothing but bliss, and we are the luckiest of earth's mortals. They drive a good trade, casting the lot of the unwary, for there are always the simple, the curious and the superstitious willing to pay to hear their happy fate.

Magicians are many and they have a fair field in Ceylon, for clever indeed are the tricks of the Orient, and jugglers and tricksters arrive with

bananas, toast and jam. Woe betide the lazy mortal who neglects the banquet. Many uninvited guests arrive, and there will soon not be a mouthful! They are glossy black creatures, with big eyes and long, sharp beaks. They are always hungry, these robbers bold. They step through the window, gay and proud, with a loud "caw-caw." They throw a quick glance here and there and seem to say, "Look me square in the eye and be glad of the chance. I am a handsome chap, and I know it." They perch before the mirror and admire their fine feathers; they jump on the pitcher for their morning drink, and they devour the jam. Keys, money, jewels, letter-of-credit, must be hidden from the thieves, as they steal, for the love of stealing things they cannot need nor use. One gentleman barely saved his watch from the beak of a rogue. Everyone sleeps under a net in Ceylon, and the crows have all the curiosity of a Paul Pry to peep under the folds and make acquaintance.

Fortune tellers, bent and dirty old graybeards, with long hair hopelessly tangled, haunt the hotel and find many a dupe. They hold the knowledge of the future, and carry a torn and greasy chart of

BILIOUSNESS AND CONSTIPATION CURED BY THE DRAUGHT

Because the liver is neglected, people suffer with constipation, biliousness, headaches and fevers. Colds attack the lungs and contagious diseases take hold of the system. It is safe to say that if the liver were always kept in proper working order, illness would be almost unknown. Theford's Black-Draught is so successful in curing such sickness because it is without a rival as a liver regulator. This great family medicine is not a strong and drastic drug, but a mild and healthful laxative that cures constipation and may be taken by a mere child without possible harm. The healthful action on the liver cures biliousness. It has an invigorating effect on the kidneys. Because the liver and kidneys do not work regularly, the poisonous acids along with the waste from the bowels get back into the blood and virulent contagion results. Timely treatment with Theford's Black-Draught removes the dangers which lurk in constipation, liver and kidney troubles, and will positively forestall the inroads of Bright's disease, for which disease in advanced stages there is no cure. Ask your dealer for a 25c. package of Theford's Black-Draught.

The oxygenized strength of the healing pines, combined with other well known kidney and bladder remedies, is presented in Pineules. This new discovery gives immediate relief and permanently cures all kidney and bladder troubles. Sold by Warne's Pharmacy.

Three papers free with a year's subscription to Herald.

Mary—Sponge the pimples with warm water. You need a blood tonic; would advise you to take Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea. It drives away all eruptions. 35 cents. Ten or tablet form. At F. C. Warne's.

East Jordan & Southern R. R.

TIME TABLE.
(In effect June 26, 1904)

LEAVE EAST JORDAN at 8:20 a. m., and 1:15 p. m.; Arriving at Bellaire at 9:30 a. m., and 2:15 p. m.

LEAVE BELLAIRE at 10:45 a. m., and 3:00 p. m.; Arriving at East Jordan at 11:45 a. m., and 4:00 p. m.

All trains daily except Sunday. Trains run by central standard time.

W. P. PORTER E. J. CROSSMAN,
Gen. Manager. Traffic Mgr.

Grand Rapids & Indiana R. R.

Trains Depart from Petoskey:

Going South—9:30 a. m., except Sunday, 3:20 p. m., daily; 5:35 p. m., daily; 6:35 p. m., daily; 11:22 p. m., except Saturday.

Going North—9:35 a. m., daily; 2:55 p. m., except Sunday; 8:20 p. m., except Sunday; 6:25 a. m., daily; 9:25 a. m., daily.

Trains Depart from Alba:

Going South—10:50 a. m., except Sunday; 6:40 p. m., daily; 12:38 a. m., except Saturday.

Going North—1:40 p. m., daily; 8:05 a. m., daily.

M. F. Quintance C. L. Lockwood
Ag't Petoskey, Mich. G. R. T. A.

PERE MARQUETTE

In effect, June 26, 1904.

Trains leave Bellaire as follows:

For Traverse City, 10:37 a. m.; 3:57 p. m., and 8:47 p. m.

For Grand Rapids, Chicago and West 10:37 a. m.; 3:57 p. m., and 8:47 p. m.

For Saginaw and Detroit—10:37 a. m.; 3:57 p. m., and 8:47 p. m.

For Charlevoix and Petoskey—9:40 a. m.; 2:25 p. m., and 7:24 p. m.

H. F. MOELLER,
General Passenger Agent.

F. N. STEWART, Agent, Bellaire.

EXCURSIONS VIA THE PERE MARQUETTE

SETTLER'S FARES TO THE SOUTH and SOUTHEAST.

One way second class tickets on sale at all stations on first and third Tuesdays of each month. Ask agents for particulars.

WORLD'S FAIR, ST. LOUIS.

Round trip tickets at low rates. On sale at all ticket stations. Ask agents for rates, limit of tickets, and full particulars.

ITEMS OF INTEREST.

Dr. Dade's Little Liver Pills cure Liver Ills. Sold by Warne's Pharmacy.

CARPET LINING. Best corrugated carpet felt, cedar pulp, vermin proof 35 cts for roll of 50 yards.

At WHITTINGTON'S.

California Prune Wafers will preserve your health, cleanse your system and purify your blood. Try them. 100 for 25 cents. Ask your Druggist. For sale at Warne's Pharmacy.

FOR SALE.—We have on our list one of the finest Farms in this section. Only 2 miles from East Jordan.—JAS. L. HACKETT.

"Throw Physic to the Dogs." California Prune Wafers are nature's own remedy for constipation and biliousness, 100 for 25 cents. Ask your Druggist.—For sale at Warne's Pharmacy.

Building Lot For Sale.—The lot located on north side of Main-st between the Steffes Cigar Factory and Landrum's Furniture Store, is for sale at a most reasonable figure. It has 44 ft. front and a quantity of building stone on the ground.—For further particulars inquire at The Herald office.

Maddaugh has just received the finest line of Fall and Winter Samples ever displayed in this city. Call early and inspect them.

Pinesalve acts like a poultice. Sold by Warne's Pharmacy.

World's Fair excursion tickets are on sale daily to St. Louis via G. R. & I., with choice of routes. Rates from Petoskey $19.75 good 35 days, $23.70 good 60 days, and $28.40 good until Dec. 15th.

Bee's Honey and Tar is different from all other remedies offered for the relief of cough, lung and bronchial troubles. It contains Antiseptic properties that destroy the germs, and solvent properties that cut the phlegm, allowing it to be thrown off, moves the bowels gently. Cures Croup, Whooping Cough and Colds in one night. Sold by Warne's Pharmacy.

O. H. Noyr has a first class Violin which he will sell at a reasonable price. A new theory that is proving successful in the cure of Coughs, Lung and Bronchial affections is offered in Bee's Laxative Honey and Tar. This remedy cuts the mucus, heals the membranes lining the throat, lungs and bronchial tubes; wards off Pneumonia and strengthens the system generally. Croup and Whooping Cough disappear before its use as snow before the sunshine of spring. It's pleasant. Sold by Warne's Pharmacy.

As a remedy for poor appetite, indigestion, weak stomach and constipation. California Prune Wafers are unequalled. 100 for 25 cents. Ask your Druggist. For sale at Warne's Pharmacy.

WANTED.—Quickly, few persons to represent long established wholesale house among retail merchants and agents. Local territory of few counties. $18 salary and expenses paid weekly. Expense money advanced. Commission extra. Permanent engagement. Business successful. Previous experience not essential. Enclose self-addressed envelope. Address, SUPERINTENDENT TRAVELERS, 325 Dearborn St., Chicago. 3-12

A perfect Anti-Bilious and Anti-Malarial protection and cure for old and young. California Prune Wafers, 100 for 25 cents. Ask your Druggist. For sale at Warne's Pharmacy.

You cannot cure piles by external application. Any remedy to be effective, must be applied inside, right at the seat of the trouble. Manzan is put up in a collapsible tube, with a nozzle, so that it reaches inside and applies the remedy where it is most needed. Manzan strengthens the blood vessels and nerves so that piles are impossible. Manzan relieves the pain almost instantly, heals, soothes, cools and cures. Sold by Warne's Pharmacy.

A safe, agreeable and mild remedy for constipation, biliousness and indigestion. California Prune Wafers, 100 for 25 cents. Ask your Druggist. For sale at Warne's Pharmacy.

THIRTY DAYS TRIAL FREE. YOUR CREDIT IS GOOD; SEND US NO MONEY.

You know what Elgin watches are. There are no better made. All of our watches are made there and are warranted by the manufacturer as the best gold filled watches each one guaranteed to wear for ten years. They are fitted with guaranteed movements and are in every way equal to watches sold by jewelers at $20.00. Gentlemen's 18 size or Ladies' 6 size, our price $5.00. Send us your name, postoffice address and nearest express office, together with the name and address of any business man who knows you and we will forward to you by express one of these handsome timepieces. Examine it at the express office and if you find it perfectly satisfactory, pay the agent the charges and $4.00. Carry the watch for thirty days and if you are not fully satisfied with it at the end of that time, return it to us by registered mail or express and we will at once return to you $4.00. If, however, at the end of thirty days you are fully satisfied that you have the best watch bargain you have ever known of, send us the balance of $1.00 and keep the watch. In ordering mention which size is desired, and ask for our illustrated catalogue of Silverware, Watches and Household Necessities. Our Reference—Any bank or business house in our city.

THE LINCOLN RODGERS CO., Muskegon, Mich.

LADIES READ THIS.

We send one pair of excellent lace Curtains, 24 yards long, 2 feet 6 inches wide, for securing only two subscriptions for McCall's Magazine at 50 cents each. This is a most remarkable offer, but is only one of 375 offers in our Premium Catalogue, N., that we send free on Request: Curtains (11 styles), Rugs, Silverware and Tableware of every description, Jewelry (Solid Silver Watches, Rings, Bracelets, Guard Chains), Albums, Furniture, Bureau Scarfs, Centerpieces, Linen Napkins, Wrist Bags, everything you need. Do not lay this paper aside without writing for a copy of McCall's Magazine—the very best Home and Fashion Magazine—and Catalogue of Premiums N. No charge for either. We want you to see our beautiful Magazine and to know about our Premiums. Will you not kindly write us at once?—A postal will do.

THE McCALL COMPANY,
113-115-117 West 31st Street, New York City. We design and make the celebrated McCall Patterns.

HAY FEVER SEASON HERE.

Victims of this annoying disease will experience great benefit by taking Foley's Honey and Tar, as it stops difficult breathing immediately and heals the inflamed air passages, and even if it should fail to cure you it will give instant relief. Remember the name, Foley's Honey and Tar. Sold by L. C. Madison.

California Prune Wafers, nature's cure for all bowel troubles. Act promptly without pain or inconvenience. 100 for 25 cents. Ask your Druggist. For sale at Warne's Pharmacy.

BEE'S LAXATIVE HONEY AND TAR

An improvement over all Cough, Lung and Bronchial Remedies. Cures Coughs, Strengthens the Lungs and Gently Moves the Bowels. Pleasant to the taste and good alike for Young and Old.

PREPARED BY Pineale Medicine Co., Chicago, U. S. A.
Sold by F. C. WARNE.

California Prune Wafers, nature's cure for all bowel troubles. Act promptly without pain or inconvenience. 100 for 25 cents. Ask your Druggist. For sale at Warne's Pharmacy.

BUY THE NEW HOME SEWING MACHINE

Before You Purchase Any Other Write THE NEW HOME SEWING MACHINE COMPANY ORANGE, MASS.

Many Sewing Machines are made to sell regardless of quality, but the "New Home" is made to wear. Our guaranty never runs out. We make Sewing Machines to suit all conditions of the trade. The "New Home" stands at the head of all High-grade family sewing machines. Sold by authorized dealers only.

FOR SALE BY
W. E. Malpass Hardware Co.

FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR
stops the cough and heals lungs

For a Good Home Meal—Go To—Chew's Restaurant

Meals Served at Seasonable Hours. Always Welcome.
MRS. J. E. CHEW, Manager.
State-st, East Jordan.
Candy, Cigars, Etc.

Moses Lemieux
Practical Horseshoeing and General Blacksmith

All kinds of wood repair work done promptly.
Last Shop East end of State-st.

Frank A. Kenyon,
Register of Deeds and Abstracter

These abstracts are the only Record of Title up to the time of the fire which destroyed the Court House

JOHN KENNY,
GENERAL DRYMAN

Moves household goods, baggage and Merchandise of all descriptions.
Stove wood and lumber delivered.
EAST JORDAN, MICH.

Frank Phillips
Tonsorial Artist.

When in need of anything in my line call in and see me.

LaLonde Building, East Jordan

BANNER SALVE
is the most healing salve in the world. It cures Sores, Cuts, Burns and all Skin Diseases. It positively Cures Piles

S. Kingsbaker, 80 East Ohio Street, Chicago, writes: "I had a bad case of Piles for several years. BANNER SALVE cured me quickly and permanently after several doctors and remedies had failed to relieve me."

GUARANTEED. Price 25 Cents

REVIVO RESTORES VITALITY
Made a Well Man of Me.

THE GREAT FRENCH REMEDY produces the above results in 30 days. It acts powerfully and quickly. Cures when all other fail. Young men will regain their lost manhood, and old men will recover their youthful vigor by using REVIVO. It quickly and surely restores Nervousness, Lost Vitality, Impotency, Nightly Emissions, Lost Power, Failing Memory, Wasting Diseases and all effects of self-abuse or excess and indiscretion, which unite one for study, business or marriage. It not only cures by starting at the seat of disease, but it repairs nerve roots and blood vessels, bringing back the pink glow to pale cheeks and restoring the fire of youth. It wards off insanity and Consumption. Based on having REVIVO, no other. It can be carried in your pocket. By mail, $1.00 per package, or six for $5.00, with a positive written guarantee to cure or refund the money. Send no money. Address: TRAVYER BUILDING, ROYAL MEDICINE CO., CHICAGO, ILL.

For sale at WARNE'S PHARMACY.

ROYAL MEDICINE CO., CHICAGO, ILL.

Richardson's GROCERIES
Are Superior Groceries.

We are constantly adding new goods to our stock and are making prices satisfactory to all. Fully appreciating the extensive business diverted to us. We pride ourselves in keeping our stock fresh by selling at small profits and quick sales. Come and see us, we are sure to please you on quality, price and treatment.

Crockery Lamps Glassware
A complete and up-to-date stock in every line. If you don't see what you want, ask for it at

WILL RICHARDSON'S
State Street Grocery.

WEAK, NERVOUS, DISEASED MEN

Thousands of Young and Middle Aged Men are annually swept to a premature grave through early indiscretions and later excesses. Youthful and Constitutional Blood Diseases have ruined and wrecked the life of many a promising young man. Have you any of the following symptoms: Nervous and Dependent; Tired in Morning; No Ambition; Memory Poor; Easily Fatigued; Excitable and Irritable; Eyes Blurry; Pimples on the Face; Dreams at Night; Restless; Haggard Looking; Bloated; Sore Throat; Hair Loose; Pains in the Body; Sunk in Energy; Lifeless; Distrustful and Lack of Energy and Strength. Our New Method Treatment will build you up mentally and physically. Cures Guaranteed or No Pay. Established 25 years. Bank Security. No Names Used Without Written Consent.

A NERVOUS WHOOP—A HAPPY LIFE

T. P. Emerson has a Narrow Escape. "I live on a farm. Youthful diseases weakened me physically and mentally. Family doctors said I was going into 'decline' (Consumption). Finally, 'The Golden Monitor' edited by Drs. Kennedy & Kergan, fell into my hands. I learned the truth and cause. Excesses had sapped my vitality. I took the New Method Treatment and was cured. My friends think I was cured of Consumption. I have sent them many patients, all of whom were cured. Their New Method Treatment supplies vigor, vitality and manhood."

Consultation Free. Question Blank for Home Treatment and Books Free.

DRS. KENNEDY & KERGAN, 148 SHELBY STREET, DETROIT, MICH.

New Line of Fall and Winter SAMPLES

Have just been received at MADDAUGH'S TAILOR SHOP. The Samples include Drapes, Feltons and Novelty Suitings. We shall be pleased to show them to you.

C. H. MADDAUGH, - TAILOR.

Ayer's Pills Ayer's Pills. Ayer's Pills. Keep saying this over and over again. The best laxative.

Want your moustache or beard a beautiful brown or rich black? Use BUCKINGHAM'S DYE FIFTY CTS. OF DRUGGISTS OR E. T. HALL & CO., NASHUA, N. H.

JAS. L. HACKETT

Rooms 6 and 7 Votrubia Block, East Jordan, Mich.

Will write your Fire-Insurance in FIRE TRIED companies. Will give prompt and efficient service in making all kinds of Deeds, Mortgages, Contracts, Leases, Bonds etc., for which we carry a complete line of legal forms.

Will loan money on first class improved farms at 7 per cent. interest, in sums of $100 to $5000 for from one to six years.

SOLDIERS AND PENSIONERS! Are you receiving the amount of pension to which you are entitled under the Act of March 15, 1904? If not, perhaps we can assist you in getting an increase.

NOTARY PUBLIC—WITH SEAL.

J. W. COATES
Buggy and Wagon Doctor

Will prescribe and operate on Carriages, Buggies and Wagons. This is the time of the year you should send your sick and crippled vehicles for a new lease of life to our hospital.

Office Days: Six Days of each week—Sabbath closed.
All work guaranteed to wear out or money refunded. Consultation Free.

STATE STREET, EAST JORDAN.

New Top Buggies and Open Road Wagons on hand for sale. Look them over before buying.

YOUR KIDNEYS ARE THEY WELL?

Unless they are, good health is impossible.

Every drop of blood in the body passes through and is filtered by healthy kidneys every three minutes. Sound kidneys strain out the impurities from the blood, diseased kidneys do not, hence you are sick. FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE makes the kidneys well so they will eliminate the poisons from the blood. It removes the cause of the many diseases resulting from disordered kidneys which have allowed your whole system to become poisoned.

Rheumatism, Bad Blood, Gout, Gravel, Dropsy, Inflammation of the Bladder, Diabetes and Bright's Disease, and many others, are all due to disordered Kidneys. A simple test for Kidney disease is to set aside your urine in a bottle or glass for twenty-four hours. If there is a sediment or a cloudy appearance, it indicates that your kidneys are diseased, and unless something is done they become more and more affected until Bright's Disease or Diabetes develops.

FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE is the only preparation which will positively cure all forms of Kidney and Bladder troubles, and cure you permanently. It is a safe remedy and certain in results.

If You are a sufferer, take FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE at once. It will make you well.

Some Pronounced Incurable Had Lumbago and Kidney Trouble

Mr. G. A. Stillson, a merchant of Tampico, Ill., writes: "FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE is meeting with wonderful success. It has cured some cases here that physicians pronounced incurable. I myself am able to testify to its merits. My face today is a living picture of health and FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE has made it such."

Edward Huss, a well known business man of Salisbury, Mo., writes: "I wish to say for the benefit of others, that I was a sufferer from lumbago and kidney trouble, and all the remedies I took gave me no relief. I began to take FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE, and after the use of three bottles I am cured."

Two Sizes, 50 Cents and $1.00.