County Books To Be Audited At Once.

The committee appointed at the last meeting of the Board of Supervisors-in January-met at Charlevoix Saturday last and engaged the services of an expert accountant.

Supervisor Graff as chairman as well as Mesers Karcher and Wagner, the other members of this important committee, have shown their good judgment in the choice they made. Julius A. Dresser of the City of De-particular, To those who have read of the developments in the counties of Lapeer and Shiawases lately might be pleased to know the fact that Mr. Dresser was the accountant who sudited the books in both of these countles.

He was on his way home from the upper peninsula where he had just quette, Iron, and several other counties up there. He goes to Owosso to this community takes a dollar out of finish a little work and then he will take up his work at Charleyoix at circulation many miles distant.

The price paid is $10.00 per day and expenses which is cheaper than many offers received to do the work. It is strange the committee appoint-ed last fall to attend to this matter could not have acted as well, but it is too evident they wished to only spend the county money to further the in terests of their personal political to the building fund whenever a new aspirations, and not to obtain what church is to be built, or any public the people desired-a complete and systematic audit of the books from the time of the fire up to the present.

It is not only economy to get Shoes made from the best materials, but the very style and fit of the Shoe depend upon it.

See that you get the well-known Pingres Shoes as $2.00, $2.50, $3.00 or $3,50. They are an assurance of correctness and economical investment.

New things for Spring. We are ever "springing" something new. All the newest Spring novelties, the adyanced styles, are on our counters and ready for your most critical inspection.

If you want the best, insist on having the Pingree Shoes for fine dress-up-wear. LARGEST OF SHIP DOCKS.

THE "DEWEY" NOW PLOWING FOR THE PHILIPPINES.

Will Require Four Months to Make Trip.—Capable of Lifting Biggest War Ship.—Superior to Stationary

The huge storm waves of the Atlantic in midwinter seem to roll onward in a resistless torrent of destruction to all in their pathway. But this year they are beating against an indom-itable structure, for the United States Government is shipping to its far-off naval station at Cavite something that floats but is yet not a war vessel, a fortress or a merchant ship. Capable of use in either peace or war, it is a very necessary adjunct to Uncle Sam's Navy. This structure which has been the gigantic new floating dry dock, "Dewey," but recently built by the Maryland Steel Company of Sparrows Point, near Baltimore.

While there are numerous dry docks in the far East which are available for Uncle Sam's Navy in times of peace, the gates of these would be barred to ment to build a great dry dock which could be towed from one port to another, or used in the open seas. The recent success attained by the Government floating dry dock at New Orleans, induced the naval officials to decide that this new factor in ship-repair should not be stationary, but rather one of the floating variety. In order that it might be capable of docking the largest battle ships, not only of the present day, but of such possible ex-pansion as the future might bring hours from the time the warrior en-tered the trough to the moment the keel was out of water.

Such specifications meant that upon completion of the "Dewey" the Government would possess the largest floating dry dock in the world. The contractors went further than the Government of the contractors went further than the dock the contractors went further than the contractors were contractors with the contractors were contractors with the contractors were contractors with the contractors were contractors which is the contractors will be contractors with the contractors were contractors with the contractors were contractors where we contractors were contractors where the contractors were contractors where we can be contractors where the contractors were contractors where the contractors we

Af-ter the vessel is within the enclosure, of water is pumped out of the tanks and the great trough rises until the after going through the straits of Malacca, it will pass up the China Sea Fracting and the ship on becoming dry may be painted, cleaned or repaired. The giant leviathan of war is handled as though it were of war is handled as though it were a toy. The "Dewey" has a total length iest battleships of the Navy, it can lift itself as well. In other words, it raises its own bottom out of the water while floating only upon its great hol-low side box, and the bottom in turn height to permit of its being scraped cleaned and copper painted.

Notwithstanding the apparently in tricate problems confronted in the construction of such a huge engine, the Navy Department had a still greater problem to solve when it considered methods of sending the Dewey to the Philippine Islands. The great size of the machine meant that it could make but slow progress through the water and the Government had had no experience in sending such structures across the uncertain Atlantic. How g that ever, the inducement of extra good ssalaries enabled the officials to obtain a crew of experienced men to handle the dock. The hollow sides of the enor mous engine provide abundant living quarters for the crew of thirty, and are as good as the best quarters on any man of war. There is on board a com plete distilling apparatus for making fresh water and the ration allowances are double those received by the men of the United States Navy. Since the dock has left the United States it has been in almost continuous communica-tion with the shore by means of the wireless telegraphy apparatus on board as well as on the three naval vessels towing it. It is supposed by the Gov ernment officials that it will take near ly four months for the structure to make the trip to the Philippines.

Games for the Mariners.

The great floor of the Dewey is of sufficient size to allow of a regulation game of base ball, a fact which probably will be taken advantage of when the warmer climates are reached. Should the little fleet meet with a hur forth, the Government specifications towing steams could throw off the tow required that the "Dewey" should be lines and the Dewey could be compared to dock a 16,000 ton ship in the country of the coun which would assure its safety until the towing boats could find safe refuge vithin the dock.

The route taken by the fleet is as follows: After passing out of Ches apeake Bay, it takes a course due east ward across the Atlantic to the Ma-deira Islands, from whence it enters the Mediterranena through the Straits contractors went further than the Government specifications and gave the new dock a capacity of 20,000 tons.

The question might be asked, what sort of monster is this which floats and yet can bodily lift the huge fighting terrors of the sea? It is nothing more than a large steel floating box, with a bottom and two long sides but with the top and ends missing, the bottom resting upon great square tanks, 18½ feet deep. With an opening of certain valves, enough water is allowed to after passing through the Suez tanks, not whether the Mediterranena through the Straits of Gibraltar, until the Suez Canal is reached. The traversing of the Suez Canal was another problem which faced the officials of the Navy Departs would easily pass through the Canal the officials of the Navy Departs would easily pass through the Suez Canal is reached. The frace of Canal was another problem which faced the officials of the Navy Departs would easily pass through the Canal the officials of the Navy Departs would easily pass through the Canal the officials of the Navy Departs would easily pass through the Canal the officials of the Navy Departs would easily pass through the Canal through the Suez Ca reclamation law was passed setting aside the proceeds from the sales of public lands in certain Western States and territories for the construction of irrigation works within their borders. The law at the same time provided that every dollar so expended should be returned to the Government by the settlers who take up the lands re-claimed. In other words, the nation made an advance of the receipts from the sales of certain public property to make marketable other public prop-erty. Out of the many millions expended by the Government in river and harbor improvements, not a cent has ever been returned directly to the Treasury, nor was it expected that any return would be made.

Whether or not there is to be the specific railroad rate legislation in Congress after the lines of the vigor-ous demands of the President, it is a fact that many laws have been started rejoicing on their initial courses at both ends of the Capitol. Senator Morgan recently made the

There is a vast difference of opinion on the railroad rate question. There are some who tell us that the term junction against any read which is found to be charging an excessive rate. The bill which has been introduced by Representative Hogg, formulated by first argument in the Senate on the Representative Hogg, formulated by Judge Peter Grosscup of the United States District Court of Chicago who endered the decision against the Trust, provides for a special railroad court to decide all such matters Judge Grosscup's bill establishes sever Courts of Transportation, situated in different sections of the country, to try the particular cases arising within their territory. During a stated period of each year the judges of the seven courts are to meet together and hold court en banc in Washington or elsewhere, just as the Supreme Court of the United States sits together for a stated term, after having held individtal court in the different Federal dis-tricts of the United States. There is right of appeal from this Court of Transportation to the Supreme Court of the United States. It is argued in favor of this bill that inasmuch as railroad rate matters, even where they are decided upon by the Inter-state Commerce Commission, must a nally go to court the matter can be road This bill is favored as a measure the whose provisions overcome the danger the creation of a Commission at Washington which would hold the vast railroad interests of the United States in the hollow of its hand. There is an apparently growing sentiment among many people that to constitute any body of men a political commission with such vast power as the ability to make or unmake any religious rate on. make or unmake any railroad rate on the 70,000 miles of railroad in the country, would afford such an enor country, weuld allord such an enor-mous centralized power as has never heretofore been dreamed of by the most radical advocates of the central government idea as against the diffugovernment idea as against the diffusion of power among the people and the several States. It is realized that such power in the hands of any administration would, if misused in any degree, make possible the indefinite continuance in power of that political party and require an absolute uprising of the entire nation, en masse, to bring about political changes.

The great number of railroad bills

COFFEE WAR

The Coffee Importers and Roasters are Attacking POSTUM FOOD COFFEE

All Along the Line.

"THERE'S A REASON."

Many people have found out the truth about oldfashioned coffee.

They have overcome disease caused by it.

The plan was easy and sure

Quit Coffee and use Postum. Proof with one's self is stronger than any theory.

The Postum army grows by hundreds of thousands

The old-fashioned Coffee Magnates are now deriding Postum through the papers.

Because their pocketbooks are hurt, they would drive the people back to the old coffee slavery. One coffee prevaricator says: "It (Postum) has lately been exposed and found to contain an excess of very ordinary coffee." Another that "it (Postum) is made from a small amount of parched peas, beans, wheat, dried sweet postatoes, and paste of wheat middlings.' Here's to you, oh faithful followers of the tribe of

into every cranny and examine every ingredient and process. Each visitor sees Postum made of different parts of the wheat berry treated by different mechanical methods and one part blended with a small part of pure New Orleans molasses. So he knows Postum contains not one thing in the world but Wheat and New Orleans molasses. It took more than a year of experimenting to perfect the processes and learn howto develop the diastase and properly treat the other elements in the wheat to produce the coffee-like flavor that makes suspicious people "wonder." But there never has been one grain of old-fashioned or drug coffee in Postum and never will be.

Another thing, we have on file in our general offices the original of every testimonial letter we have ever published. We submit that our attitude regarding coffee is now and always has been absolutely fair. If one wants a stimulant and can digest coffee and it does not set up any sort of physical ailment, drink it.

But, if coffee overtaxes and weakens the heart (and it does with some).

Or if it sets up disease of the stomach and bowels (and it does with some).

Or if it causes weak eyes (and it does with some). Or if it causes nervous prostration (and it does with many).

Then good plain old-fashioned common sense might (without asking permission of coffee merchants) suggest to quit putting caffeine (the drug of coffee) into a highly organized human body, for health is really wealth and the happiest sort of wealth. Then if one's own best interest urges him to study into the reason and "There's a reason," he will unearth great big facts that all of the sophistries of the coffee importers and roasters cannot refute.

A direct Congressional appropriation for such a loan is not believed to be at all beyond the bounds of accomplishment some time in the future after, as stated, the systems now under construction shall have demonstrated themselves to be the successes predicted. I laughingly said: Make yourself perfectly at home, old fellow, at which he grinned back at me as 44 he accepted it as a compliment, and curled himself upon the blanket with a great grunt of satisfaction, where I left him.

"The next morning Fernando brought out the monkeys, divided them into two gangs, and commenced the picking. Pythagoras would lead one gang for a while and then hurry over to the head of the other, run ning back to see if any cotton had been skipped and like the most com petent overseer, keeping a watchful supervision over the whole work. Nothing like it had ever been known

"We stopped an hour at noon and by night, by actual weight all form-er records had been beaten by over one-half. What also appeared to me very remarkable was that the pick-ers seemed just as lively and active when the days work was over, as when it commenced. That evening was a repetition of the former, but before retiring I thought I saw some men moving around near the house. twice Pythagoras uttering a lov grunt darted down the steps, returning and shaking his head each times if something disturbed him. Notice ing, however, occurred, and I finally went into my room and lay down, al though but partially undressing.

"It could not have been very long after midnight when I awoke with that indescribable feeling that some had closed my windows on retiring, but now felt the cool night air blowing soft across my face. As I meit and raised myself suddenly to a sitting posture, I felt the point of a sharp instrument piercing my neck. I faintly heard the sound of a shot, the room seemed full of smoke and everything went black as I fell back sense

"Several days had passed before I opened my eyes to returning consciousness and what occurred during that interval, I have learned only from those to whose untiring care, assisted by my naturally strong constitution. I owe my life.

"The darkey I had discharged, had crawled in through my window with the evident intention of robbery and murder. My watch and pure lay one the floor and my necktie with a valuable diamond pin had been thrust in the pocket of his blouse. Pythagoras evidently heard the noise, slight as it was, or perhaps his sense of smell was, as Fernando said, extremely acute, and his devotion to his maser's friend brought him at once to my bedside.

"I do not know whether or not moneys can see in the dark, but if not Pythagoras's intuitions must at least have given him a sort of second sight, for when Fernando and the overseer rushed in with lights, they saw that the big ape had grasped the darkey's right wrist which held the knife, with his right hand, and twisted and broken the wrist, in spite of the darkey's great strength, while the long fingers of his left hand were pressed tightly around the throat of the darkey whom

Then they would troop down to the corner of the plantation and point away off towards the South. So Fernando said he would not let them out until I was well enough to give the matter my personal attention. That morn ing Fernando took the lead and spoke kindly to them and tried to act as that timber over to the left partially concealed by some bushes, watching the work and wondering how it would all turn out, when I saw two of the monkeys skulking in my direction, evidently trying to escape to the woods.
I had my revolver with me, not on their account, but because some of the darkey's friends had been heard to make threats, and as the two Wait now, placing his hand on my knee, 'your superintendent at the mine says you have offered a half interest of $10,000.00. He bids fair to prove a strong-er lad physically than "Teddy" and has always gone in for athletics and out-door life in general. Not long ago he went on a hunting expedition in the Northwest, under the guidance of a man who had been a companion of his man who had been a companion of in-father in his ranching days and the big game bagged by Kermit proved con-clusively that he in time will be as good a sportsman as his father.

A Brooder for a Dollar

The Department of Agriculture has ecently published a method of constructing a chicken brooder, the total cost of which might come well within $1.09. Such a brooder has been given careful trial by the Connecticut experiment station, and has given excellent results when used in a shed or colony house. The lower section of the brooder which contains the lamp for heating is a box 3 ft. square made of 10 inch boards and covered with tin or gal-vanized iron. About this cover, around the edges of the lamp box, one inch strips are nailed. Two one inch holes are bored through these strips on each side of the box for the purpose of ven-tilation. If the individuals and the newspapers who are giving so much of their time and labor to finding, fault with affairs in Michigan would take the trouble to compare conditions and movements in this state with the best state they can select, no matter in what direction it may proceed or for what purpose their comparisons may be made, they would probably have reason to change their criticism to commendation. That spirit which seeks to suppress reference to all that is good and to exaggerate every weakness and every error may have a purpose in the economy of human affairs, but that much can be said of some other seemingly worthless and detestible creatures.
