Inui April 18th.

Here under Auspices East Jordan High School.

What will probably be one of the best literary treats our citizens are allowed to enjoy will be the lecture given Thursday evening, April 18th, by Kiyō Sue Inui, A. B., on "The Sick Man of Asia and His Doctors." He comes highly recommended by the press everywhere he has lectured. Tickets will be on sale by our students for only 25 cents, and later at Mark's.

Life Sketch of Kiyō Sue Inui.

"Kiyō Sue Inui was born at Muya, on the island of Shikoku, Japan, March 23, 1884. At the age of ten he was sent to the city of Kobe, Japan, where he entered the grammar school. Later he attended a Methodist mission school, Kwān Sei Gakuin, of the rank of a high school, from which he graduated at the age of eighteen, with the first rank of his class. He came to America in the summer of 1902, and in September entered the Literary Department of the University of Michigan, from which he received the degree of A. B. in June, 1906. By his energy and thrift he has been able to make his way through college. During the past two years he has been much in demand as a lecturer, having appeared at several Chautauqua assemblies during the summer of 1905, and before lecture associations during the winter season.

"Ever since he entered the University, Mr. Inui has been a most persistent student of the English language and of oratory. He began his study of English at Kobe, Japan, two years before he came to America. But even after a year's residence here he found great difficulty with his pronunciation of the English and the construction of his sentences. But so rapid was his progress that in his junior year in a competition he won the right to represent his class in the annual Oratorical Contest. In this contest, in which he was pitted against representatives from five other classes, he won second honor and the position of Alternate to the Northern Oratorical League. In 1906, with his oration on "The Mission of New Japan," he not only won the Senior Class contest, but the University contest, and was awarded the Kaufman Testimonial of $100, the Chicago Alumni Medal, and the honor of representing the University of Michigan in the contest of the Northern Oratorical League. In the League contest, which was held May 4, 1906, under the auspices of Oberlin College, Mr. Inui was awarded first honor and the Lowden testimonial of $100, decisively defeating the representatives of the other six universities.

"During his college course honors have come to him at the hands of his fellow students. He was elected class orator of the Senior class, is President of the Cosmopolitan Club, is a member of the Toastmasters' Club, and of Delta Sigma Rho, a National honor society, made up of men who have distinguished themselves in college as public speakers.

"Mr. Inui is small of stature, but he has a strong, well modulated voice, a pleasing manner, and a strong personality. His speaking is characterized by perfect directness and intense earnestness. He selects subjects of vital importance, in which he himself is personally interested, and brings a stirring message to his audience which wins their sympathy from his first words."

PREPARE THIS YOURSELF.

For those who have any form of blood disorders; who want new, rich blood and plenty of it, try this:

Fluid Extract Dandelion, one half ounce; Compound Karyon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces.

Shake well in a bottle and take in teaspoonful doses after meals and at bedtime. Any good pharmacy can supply the ingredients at small cost.

This is the prescription, which when made up, is called "The Vegetable Treatment," by others "The Cyclone Blood Purifier." It acts gently and certainly does wonders for some people who are sickly, weak and out of sorts, and is known to relieve serious, long standing cases of rheumatism and chronic backache quickly.

Make some up and try it.

High School Notes.

The senior class began Pope's "Rape of the Lock" Wednesday.

Mr. Fuller's reading class have taken up the study of Matthew Arnold's "Sohrab and Rustum," and are enjoying it very much.

The ninth grade are studying "Silas Marner."

The Extempore class, last Tuesday night, delivered selections from the world's famous orators. The meeting was very successful, the delivery in some cases being especially fine.

The seniors are very busy now preparing commencement speeches. They hope to make the class day this spring a memorable one.

The East Jordan girls have learned that the girls' B. B. Team of Mancelona has had its picture taken and labeled, "Champions of Northern Michigan." Mancelona forgets that East Jordan is still five points ahead of her in basket ball. It is true that Mancy beat Petoskey by a small score and that in turn Petoskey beat East Jordan by a very small score, but we want this distinctly understood, our girls outplayed Petoskey and can beat them—decidedly in a return game which Petoskey is trying hard to avoid.

When you are introduced.

"When she is being presented to an older woman, a lady should rise, but she keeps her seat when a younger woman or a man is presented to her. A hostess, however, always rises and offers her hand to all her guests. Upon receiving an introduction, it is not necessary to say anything at all, such as 'how do you do,' 'pleased to meet you,' etc. A woman may smile and bow her acknowledgment unless she wishes to be especially friendly, when she extends her hand. Men usually shake hands with each other. It is a mistake to embarrass a lady by leading her about a room and presenting her thus to a roomful of people. If there is a small group of people, the hostess then may say, after greeting her, 'Mrs. Black, let me present Miss Brown, Miss Elsie Brown, Captain White and Doctor Green.' Men should always be taken to a lady to be introduced. In her own home a hostess may introduce as she pleases, everyone to everyone else, but it is always well to remember, at other places, such as large balls, receptions, of indiscriminate gatherings of any kind, that we must consult the wishes of others before giving introductions. As the introducer is responsible for the person presented, much care should be taken in this respect, and the possibility of thrusting upon another an unwelcome acquaintance avoided. A lady's permission must always be asked before presenting to her a man who wishes to make her acquaintance. Of course, there are exceptions to all rules and at small, informal dances among young people who know each other well, girls and boys freely introduce their friends without asking permission."—New Idea Woman's Magazine for May.

THERE is a reason why "Queen Quality" Shoes are preferred above all others by women of discrimination and taste. To ordinary shoes they are as a Worth gown is to an ordinary dress. Only a shoemaking genius can impart their "chic" and style and marvelous fit. Such shoes could be produced in small quantities only at an extravagant price. "Queen Quality" methods bring them to you at prices no higher than you pay for ordinary shoes.

Confidence.

The charm and the variety of the new "Queen Quality" low shoes cannot be expressed in cold type. You should see the shoes to fully appreciate the variations of shape and style, and you should try them on to test their accurate fit. It will mean another pleased and satisfied "Queen Quality" customer. You see we are confident of the result "Queen Quality" shoes speak for themselves.

Dress Goods Satisfaction

depends on many points that are hidden to the average person. A piece of goods may be "all wool" and still not prove satisfactory. The pattern may be just what you want, but if the skirt "sags" the fault is in the fabric, and you can't fix it, no matter how hard you try.

DEPENDON TRADE MARK DRESS FABRICS

will give more general satisfaction than any other, the fact that we know of, because quality has not been sacrificed for finish and outward appearance. Only the best dyes are used in making the colors impervious to water, and the fabric easily cleaned. In every particular DEPENDON Dress Fabrics are superior, although we do not charge more for them than you have always paid when you wanted a reliable piece of goods. And when you buy DEPENDON you get that kind.

Light IN DEMAND

INFORMATION WANTED AS TO THE TARIFF SITUATION.

If Our Government Contemplates Enlarging the Channels of Foreign Competition the Producers of the United States Have a Right to Know It.

Now that congress has adjourned and a new hand is at the helm of the treasury department, perhaps the state department will deem it no longer incompatible with the public interest to make known the contents of the report of the commission sent to Germany to inquire concerning matters bearing upon the tariff situation between that country and the United States. Some two weeks ago a resolution asking for information on this subject was under consideration by the house committee on ways and means, but the committee found itself unable to proceed further with the question because of the unwillingness of the secretary of state to supply any details of the report in question.

This is an old habit of our state department, this withholding of facts of vital import to producing interests. The same policy of secrecy was observed seven years ago when the Kassar treaties were negotiated. For several months our government refused to furnish any particulars as to the tariff reductions provided for in those drafts. Foreign governments, however, were not so secretive. Information as to the provisions of the proposed French treaty was quite freely published in Paris and found its way to the United States by cable, so that by the time the veil of secrecy had been removed in Washington the country was pretty well advised as to the extent to which Mr. Kassar had consented to assassinate certain of our domestic industries in order to get upon a "reciprocity" basis with France. It might be remarked, as a fact in history, that no French industry was threatened with assassination.

It is to be hoped that, with no congress in session to ask inconvenient questions or make unpleasant comment and with a treasury department supposed to be favorable to what is called "a broader trade policy"—that is, larger competition from foreign mills and factories—our state department will find it compatible with the public interest to tell American producers what they have to expect in the matter of concessions that are calculated to give to German exporters a bigger slice of the American market. If, for example, it shall be decided to so relax or modify our customs regulations as to make it easier for the German exporters to undervalue their goods and thereby escape the payment of the tariff duties provided by law, that fact would be of great interest to a large body of industrialists who have heretofore found it extremely difficult to hold the domestic market against undervalued consignments from Germany, and who are deeply concerned in knowing how much the gate to undervaluation is going to be widened as the result of the new cicker.

It is not by any means impossible that a readjustment of the matter of production cost—a reduction alike in the volume and rate of wages paid—would be necessitated. Such would unquestionably prove to be the case in many lines of domestic production if greater latitude for undervaluation should be granted in the shape of greater laxity on the part of our appraising officials in the determination of values of imports. It is not, of course, to be supposed that the new secretary of the treasury would knowingly strike such a blow at domestic production, employment and wage paying. But there are, presumably, some things which he does not know as well as they are known by those more intimately related to the business of manufacturing goods and employing labor, and he might make a mistake in his judgment as to what could be done in the way of relaxation and laxity of customs collections.

He may not know, for example, that even under the strictest of methods undervaluation is a giant evil, most difficult to deal with effectively, and that the aim should be not to increase but to lessen the fraud. In order that he may learn these and other things closely related to the general subject it would seem that the secretary of the treasury should be among the first to solicit from the secretary of state prompt and full publicity of the report of the German tariff commission. Certainly the American people have a right to that information at the earliest possible moment.

The Texas Idea.

The Texas cattle growers, as the American Economist remarks, are "fiftieths" free traders on general principles, but protectionists where cattle, hides and wool are involved. So are the Texas rice growers, so far as rice is concerned. None of them wants to meet competition with Mexican or Argentine cattle or with Philippine rice. But they wouldn't mind having the tariff lifted from articles produced outside the state of Texas, if that would open a foreign market for their meats. That is the Texas tariff idea.—Washington Herald.

Col. Bryan's new scheme is to deny the use of the mails to the trusts. But isn't the colonel a little ungrateful to the trusts that have brought so much credit to his talk mill?

THE ONE GREAT QUESTION.

Whether Tariff Disturbance Will Be Better Than Tariff Stability.

The tariff is, let us all cheerfully admit, imperfect. It is, in spots, worthy of immediate revision. So much is generally believed by all protectionists, we imagine. Then comes the added question, whether, in view of the gravity of the business, the time is ripe? Even granting that in many places there seems to be good ground for immediate changes in sections of the tariff law that produce considerable hardship, does it necessarily follow that the net benefit to be derived from the remedy applied at once is sufficiently commanding to overbalance the possibilities of serious general harm? Apparently Mr. Roosevelt thinks that this is far from established, while Gov. Gull is convinced that it is. Probably we all realize by this time that every revision of the tariff must of necessity beget great disquiet and unrest, not to say apprehension, all along the line. These and their effects on the general well-being are so far-reaching that they are not lightly to be entered into, but only to be endured for a season because of the proved desirability of the ultimate outcome. Is that outcome so certainly beneficial in the net result at this time as to warrant us in taking this most unruly bull immediately by the horns? It is over this that many of us hesitate. We are far from believing that the Dingley schedules are "sacred" for all time. We are far from preaching any gospel of stand-patism radically interpreted. The one question is whether the evils that we have are so intolerable that we should endeavor to shake them off, even at the risk of the stock evils that will always beset tariff revision? If they are, then Gov. Gull is right. But the trouble is that the president seems not yet fully convinced of it, and that a great many other wise leaders of party councils are not yet convinced of it, to the extent that Gov. Gull is. Do we even know for a fact that the majority of Massachusetts Republicans are convinced of it, in view of the circumstances that the most of the tariff revision support comes from very unorthodox protective sources, such as the mugwump newspapers and mugwump orators?—Lowell Citizen.

POWER IS WITH FARMERS.

They Are in Position to Demand and Compel a Square Deal.

The Rocky Mountain News sounds a note of warning to those who flatter themselves that they can retain the benefits of protection for their own industries, while withholding protection from the agricultural interests. The warning is especially addressed to the Sugar trust, which is accused of an inclination to grab more than its share of the profits of beet sugar production at the expense of the Colorado beet growers. The News reminds Mr. Havemeyer that the tariff on refined sugar is in force by the consent of the farmers of the United States, and that the farmers have the power to take off that tariff. Hence he had better deal fairly in the matter of the farmer's interest in sugar beet prices. The administration may well apply to others than Mr. Havemeyer. There are people urging free trade in "raw materials" that are the farmers' finished products, but with no idea of relinquishing protection for their own finished products. They foolishly imagine that they can keep for themselves the protective tariff shield against foreign competition and at the same time expose American farmers to unrestricted competition. It cannot be done. In the matter of votes the American farmers hold the balance of power. They are in a position to demand and compel a square deal.

LIKE SHEEP THROUGH A GAP IN THE FENCE.

Neither Necessary, Nor Desirable.

Most of the clamor for tariff removal, which from time to time rises above the din and roar of the industries of the busiest people on the globe, comes either from those who expect to profit personally or politically by the changes they urge. This clamor does not come from the great body of the farmers or miners, or from the men of the mills or factories, who have by far the greatest interest in protection's results. It is assumed by a certain class of "statesmen" that periodical changes of the tariff must be made, and that a kind of popularity awaits the leader who will anticipate the coming of the next change-period and will shout the longest and strongest for its arrival. But in the opinion of a very large majority of the American people these periodical changes are not necessary, and are far from being desirable.—Hancock (Mich.) Journal.

ROOMS FOR THE CHILDREN.

Apartment for Them Should Be Made Very Attractive.

It is most desirable that the child from the first should have a room of his own, where he can play without hurting things. Formerly the least desirable room in the house was always set aside for the nursery, and furniture which was not wanted anywhere else in the house was put into it. Nowadays in the best homes the nursery is the most carefully planned room in the house. It should always have sunlight, for the sun vitalizes the air and kills germs. The windows should always be open, for ventilation prevents disease. To keep out dust stretch cheesecloth over the netting, and to prevent draughts have a ventilating board nailed across the foot of the window.

Have small furniture with rounded corners. Imagine our discomfort if we were obliged to live among furniture designed for the use of giants 12 feet tall. Have no unwashable curtains or draperies. Keep the room simple.

In a millionaire's home in New York the nursery had tiled walls, and on each tile is painted a scene from "Mother Goose." It is enough to weary and distress the mind of any child. The tiles are beautiful for hygiene, but very expensive. Leave the walls bare, tinted in some plain, delicate shade, perhaps. Have a few pictures which are truly artistic, for the child's taste for the good in art can be trained from the very first. It is a curious thing that little children often choose copies of the Madonnas of Raphael and Murillo in preference to pictures of child life.

A very small child takes great comfort with a nest of blocks, all of which he can put inside the largest one and then take out again. Children love a plaything which can be taken to pieces and put together again, a horse that can be harnessed and unharnessed, a doll that can be dressed and undressed.

FOR BLACK BEAN SOUP.

One of the Best and Most Nourishing of Dishes.

Wash one pint of the black or turtle beans, cover well with cold water and let them soak over night. In the morning put in the soup kettle over the fire, adding five quarts cold water, a half pound of salt pork cut in fine pieces and a quarter pound lean, fresh beef. Cover closely and cook over a moderate fire for an hour. Chop fine one carrot, one small turnip and two small onions. Add to the other ingredients and continue the cooking two or three hours longer. Half an hour before serving season with salt, pepper, a tiny pinch of mace and a little ground clove. Strain through a colander, then add a half gill sherry or port. Have ready in a hot tureen three or four hard-boiled eggs, sliced and one lemon cut in thin pieces. Pour the soup over them and serve with croutons, which are simply little cubes of bread toasted to a golden brown in the oven. After cutting the bread spread on pie tins and watch closely, shaking the tin from time to time until all the pieces are evenly colored. Kept in glass cans these croutons may be made ahead, as you have a few slices of stale bread, and are then always ready for immediate use. Sometimes very small sausages are boiled for ten minutes in this soup, and served one in each plate.

Carrot Pie.

There are several desserts that can be prepared with carrots as a foundation. To make the pie, add to two carrots, boiled and mashed, two table-spoonfuls each cracker crumbs and butter, four of milk and three beaten eggs. Sweeten to taste, season with nutmeg and bake in an open crust. To make a meringue, make like the pie, omitting the whites of the eggs. After the pie is baked whip the whites of the eggs to a stiff froth, with three table-spoonfuls sugar and orange juice for flavor, spread light on top the pie and set in a coolish oven until puffed and a golden brown.

Rice With Mutton.

Line a buttered baking dish with a wall of rice an inch in thickness. Fill the center with cold roast or boiled mutton, chopped small and freed from bone and gristle. Season to taste. Add a little onion juice and moisten with gravy. Cover with a layer of rice and bake, covered, in a moderate oven for half an hour. Then remove the cover, spread lightly with melted butter and let it stay in the oven until delicately browned. Serve hot with a tomato sauce. Chicken or veal may be used instead of the mutton.

Rice Waffles.

Soften a cup of boiled rice with the yolks of three eggs and two table-spoonfuls melted butter. Alternately add two cupfuls of milk and one and one-half of flour, into which a heaping tea-spoonful of baking powder has been mixed, and lastly the beaten whites. The waffles are baked quickly over a good fire in an iron thoroughly heated. Dust with powdered sugar and serve at once with maple sugar or with jelly.

Titania's Toast.

Cut some bread into very thin slices and remove all the crusts; then butter the pieces lightly, and between every two slices lay an extremely thin shaving of the breast of a chicken. Press the slices of bread firmly together, put them in the oven and toast them until they are a delicate brown. They should then be served at once while they are very hot.

THE DRAMA

Beautiful Actress

Who Has Made a Hit in London.

BELASCO'S CHERISHED GEM.

He Possesses a Black Pearl Presented to Him by Adelaide Neilson.

Here is an interesting anecdote of David Belasco:

David Belasco carries a pocketful of mascots. That which he most prizes he trusts to no uncertain receptacle. It remains among the precious things of romance and tradition to be a Belasco heirloom unto many generations. It is a black pearl pin given him by Adelaide Neilson.

The manager was a slender boy with big, wistful eyes and a pensive, haunting personality. In his humble capacity in the theater where she was playing in San Francisco he attracted her attention. As assistant stage manager he performed for her some slight services, which the great Juliet wished to reward with a parting gift.

Calling him to her dressing room on the day she was leaving the city, she spread her jewels before him and with an indifferent wave of the hands said: "You have been very kind to me. Take one of these and when you look at it remember that one actress was grateful."

The boy, David Belasco, looked at the flashing diamonds that lay in a prodigal heap upon her dressing table. To take one of them would be to accept a fortune. He looked beyond to a simple black pearl pin in a rusty setting. "I will take that," he said.

Surprised at her silence, he glanced up at her face and saw that it was swept by some great emotion. "Why do you choose that?" she asked.

"I don't know," he answered. "I thought I should like it."

"Take this, instead," and she thrust a diamond pin into his hand.

He went to the train with her and she said as she boarded it at Oakland.

"I shall write you."

From Virginia City, Nev., she wrote and inclosed the black pearl pin.

"Your boy's face of disappointment has haunted me," she wrote. "Why did you want the black pearl pin? It was given me long ago. I have had it since the beginning. I feel as though if I part with it something terrible will happen to me, and yet here it is, you weird, strange, little fellow. Keep it and remember your friend, Adelaide Neilson."

Miss Neilson finished her tour of America and went to Paris. There she died a few months after she yielded up the black pearl pin that had been her mascot.

An Exciting Visit.

Henry Kolker of "The Three of Us" company tells this story of an old colored woman he knew down in Virginia, who made her first and only trip to Washington.

"I've been mighty troubled, Mr. Kolker, since you was here," she said. "I've been to Wash'ton. Der railroad had a scurston. Took you dar and back to a dollah. I gets to Wash'ton all right 'bout 'leven o'clock. It's Jes' gran, an' mighty excitin'."

"I suppose you saw the capitol, and the treasury building, where all of Uncle Sam's money is kept?" observed Mr. Kolker.

"Didn't see as much as I might, honey, 'count der crowds. I jus' staid in der depo on er bench till free o'clock, when it wuz thro' to go home," she replied.

SLEPT IN THE JAIL.

Town Policeman Provides Accommodation for Traveling Thespians.

Frederick Burton, the character actor who plays Bub Hicks with the eastern College Widow company, is full of singular anecdotes. Here is one of them:

"I've only been in jail once since becoming an actor. It happened in a small town in Illinois. I was playing the rube town marshal with a rube show. However, I would have you know that it wasn't my performance of the character nor the character of my performance that sent me to jail, but rather because we were unfortunate in reaching town when the hotel and all the boarding houses were crowded.

"We arrived from Chicago late in the afternoon very tired and hungry and found the entire police force at the station to meet us. We knew it was the police force, because he showed us his badge.

"The town's chuck full and I guess you un's'll find no place to put up," said the police force.

"Notwithstanding this discouraging information, we proceeded to the Royal Palace hotel and, after much persuasive talk and the presentation of a few passes to the theater our manager succeeded in having cots placed in the parlor for the ladies. Being unable to secure accommodations for the men, we went to the only house that evening not knowing where we would make our bed.

"After the performance the police force suggested that we sleep in the calaboose. We accepted his kind invitation. The ladies went to their cots and the actors went to jail."

De Angelis Protests.

Jefferson De Angelis has a grievance. It is not against the public, of whom most actors complain, but his grievance is mainly with authors. He does not think that the author gets the fair share of condemnation when things go wrong. Things will go wrong in the theatrical business once in a while in spite of everything.

"An actor cannot be funny," said Mr. De Angelis recently, "unless the author gives him a chance to be by supplying him with either humorous lines or situations. Sometimes a humorous situation will make just as good a hit as a funny line. I remember the case of an actor who made a big hit in a play by not knowing which of two hats to pick up. He did not have a word to say, but the audience could easily see that if he picked up the wrong hat, and they both looked just alike, he would get himself into no end of a scrape and compromise the heroine. That, of course, is the easiest way an actor can be funny. It is what we call on the stage 'fat'."

"I don't write the plays. I don't create the situations. I interpret what is given me to the best of my ability. If I do a lot of slapstick work, fall down on my nose, kick up my heels and squeal, it is because the part calls for it. Personally I assure you that I would much prefer to play straight, legitimate comedy. The public seems to prefer me in something more active."

USE ELECTRIC POTATO PEELER.

Bread Made at West Point Without Touch of a Hand.

The first thing which attracts one's attention is the electric potato peeler—a tublike machine with revolving knives.

A bushel of potatoes is thrown in at a time, a button is pressed and in the space of five minutes the tubs fall into another tub neatly peeled. As four or five barrels of potatoes are used every day the labor saving of the apparatus will be readily understood.

One hundred and fifteen loaves of bread are baked every 24 hours, and nearly 100 rolls, with occasionally 50 spice cakes. Pies are used once a week and 125 are baked.

There is an electric bread-mixing machine, with funnel through which the flour, water and yeast may flow according to the wish of the baker. The loaves are also cut and rolled by machinery, the whole baking being done without a hand touching the bread until it comes from the oven and is placed on the cooling racks.

An electric dough divider is used for cutting rolls. The dough is thrown on an iron plate, and a cutter drops, separating it into pieces of the size required for each roll. These are quickly transferred to a pan and are set to rise.

The eggs used in cooking are beaten by electricity, and the silver used in the dining-room is polished with a brush run by the same motive power.

Dishes are washed by placing them in a wire rack and touching a lever which causes the rack to sink into scalding water, where the dishes are cleaned. Another lever lifts them, and they are turned out on trays to dry.

Ice is made in the basement, and comes from the freezer in 50-pound cakes.

The sterilizing machine is an electric apparatus, and with its aid 180 gallons of milk are sterilized every morning. The milk is poured into a large can and heated to 180 degrees, which kills the bacteria, and is less than three-fourths of a minute it is cooled to 38 degrees. Leslie's Weekly.

COURT TRIALS OF ANIMALS.

in Olden Times They Were Arraigned Before Justices.

The decision of the southwestern police court (London) magistrate that a monkey may use the pavement if he causes no obstruction, reminds us that, down to a comparatively late period on the continent, the lower animals were considered amenable to the law.

Domestic animals were tried in the common criminal courts; wild animals, fell under ecclesiastical jurisdiction. French antiquaries have discovered the records of 92 processes against animals, conducted with the strictest formalities of justice, from 1120 to 1740, when the last trial and execution of a cow, took place. Thus, there was a lawsuit that lasted from 1445 to 1487 between the inhabitants of St. Julien and a kind of beetle, and at Lavigny, in 1457, a sow and her six young ones were tried on a charge of having murdered and partly eaten a child. The sow was found guilty and condemned to death, but the little pigs were acquitted on account of their youth, the bad example of their mother, and the absence of direct proof against them.—London Chronicle.

For Brittle Nails.

Where the nails are brittle soak them every night in a little warm olive oil; let it soak in and then rub on vaseline, which is one of the best applications to make the nails nice. It softens the cuticle around the base so it can be pushed back and the half "moons" perfectly shown.

A nail brush should be medium, bristles neither too stiff nor too soft; if it is used every time the hands are washed there will be no need for the usual "digging" under the nails with a sharp instrument. A blunt-pointed orange wood stick is the best, but a bit of soft old linen used on one hand with the nails of the other should be sufficient. It is the use of hard steel points on the nails, under and around them, that makes them all the harder to keep clean because they are roughened. As little polishing powder should be used as possible; it has the effect of making the nails thin and brittle.

Made an Impression.

The witty vicar of a country parish in the north of England was often pained at the apparent apathy displayed by members of his congregation towards matters of religion. He did his best to impress them for good, but somehow he seemed to make very unsatisfactory progress. One day, as he was out for a ride on horseback in his parish, the horse made a sudden plunge, and he found himself lying full length on his back in a ditch bottom. Fortunately, it was soft, otherwise the consequences might have been more serious. He got up and, taking a survey of the place, exclaimed as he walked away:

"Well, there is at least one place in my parish now where I have left an impression."

Her Head Was Hot. Lady Dorothy Nevill in her reminiscences tells this story of the two Misses Walpole, her cousins: "On one occasion, when both of the two were well over ninety, Miss Fanny, the younger, who had that day been rather ill, joined her sister in the sitting room just before dinner. On her arrival downstairs the latter (Miss Charlotte by name) remarked: "Fanny, I am going to be ill too. I feel so hot about the head. It must be apoplexy."

The First Dancers. People have danced for thousands of years and will probably continue to do so for ages to come. This custom is of ancient origin. The first people to dance were the Curetes, who adopted dancing as a mark of rejoicing in 1543 B. C. In early times the Greeks combined dancing with the drama, and in 22 B. C. pantomimic dances were introduced on the Roman stage.

Daily Duties. The best part of one's life is the performance of one's daily duties. All higher motives, ideas, conceptions and sentiments in a man's life are of little value if they do not strengthen him for the better discharge of the duties which devolve upon him in the ordinary affairs of life.

Instantly Killed.

Louis Currier Met Death While Loading Logs.

At Hitchcock Friday noon—Louis Currier was instantly killed by a log falling upon him. A gang of men were engaged in loading an East Jordan Lumber Company's car and had placed the bunk load in position and started on the second tier; three logs were placed on this tier and the fourth was being placed when, as a comman occurrence, the hooks let loose allowing the log to roll to the ground. Mrs. Currier walked in the skidway to rehook same and was bending over when a log dropped off the car catching him between the shoulders crushing them in and fracturing the base of skull, killing him instantly. Dr. Sweet was called by telephone and the body taken to his home at Hitchcock.

Mr. Currier was aged about thirty years and was married about five months ago to Miss Nettie Ward, a sister of Mrs. Chris Atkinson of this village. Funeral services will be held here tomorrow, probably from the M. E. church.

Generous to the Church.

Lady Dorothy Nevill in her reminiscences tells this story of George Payne, who dropped his worldly means in the quicksand of the turf, but was always unruined and pleasant in conversation: "Are you not coming to church, Mr. Payne?" was on one occasion the stern interrogation of his hostess, a very great lady, who descended upon him in all the severity of her Sabbath panoply. "No, duchess, I am not," he replied, making swiftly for the door; but, pausing as by a polite afterthought previous to his exit, he exclaimed, with magnificent emphasis, "not that I see any harm in it."

FOR SCHOOL

The schooling children's feet get in "Educator" shoes, is a safeguard against the foot trials of their parents.

The joints and bones are permitted to grow to their full size in the exact shape nature intended.

Children who wear "Educator" shoes, will grow up in happy ignorance of the suffering and ill health due to unscholarly footwear.

—E. A. LEWIS.

Oh, George, I'm so glad you're come!" exclaimed the girl. "Father is so excited and disturbed. Do go in and calm him!"

"Very well," replied George, "what's the matter with him?"

"Why—er—I just told him you wanted to marry me."

State Bank of East Jordan

CAPITAL, $20,000.00. SURPLUS, $5,000.00.

OFFICERS and DIRECTORS:
W. L. French, President; John A. Boosinger, M. H. Robertson, Vice Pres.
W. P. Porter, Geo. G. Glenn, Cashier.

The Hon Yach Club gave a lunch at their Club Rooms last Saturday evening in honor of Walter Cook who was home for vacation from his studies at Big Rapids. An Easter Supper was served and the boys report a jolly good time.

At the township meeting, Monday, it was decided to build one mile of road under the supervision of the State Highway Department. This is an excellent move as the State contributes well toward the building of different kinds of road.

Chas. E. Turrell and Capt. Geo. Weaver have bought a boat at Muskegon for the Charlevoix-East Jordan route, and expect to have her here soon. She is a gasoline boat, 75 feet long, with 120 horse power engine and is said to be a fine little passenger boat.—Charlevoix Sentinel.

The Fourth, Fifth, Sixth, Seventh and Eighth Grades of our High school took an arithmetic test the past week on a series of questions sent out to a number of schools in Northern Michigan in order to determine the relative standings in each grade and school. A comparison will be given next week.

Two cases were before Justice Boosinger Thursday afternoon. They were Matthias Struck vs. Alonzo Graves, assumpsit, and Matthias Struck vs. Alonzo and Joseph Graves, garnishes. The plaintiff was given a judgment of $77.49 in the first case and in the second Justice Boosinger decided there was no cause for action.

Some of East Jordan's young bloods got boozey Sunday, and Pros. Atty Clink got busy. As a result the bartender of the Erieks saloon ducked town before a warrant was issued and on Monday morning the proprietor was given the option of surrendering his license or being prosecuted. He chose the former. Mr. Clink is after saloonists and druggists who violate the law and has given them fair notice of the consequences if they do. We understand a warrant has been issued for a Charlevoix druggist charged with selling liquor to an habitual drunkard.

TILE FOR SALE.—The East Jordan Brick Yard has a quantity of 3 inch tile on its hands and while it lasts will be disposed of at $12.50 per M.

The case of Ezra F. Megek vs. the Citizens' Insurance Co. of Missouri reported as reversed by the Supreme court several weeks ago in these columns was in reality ordered retried by the lower court, and same will be on the docket for the May term of circuit court. Atty A. B. Nicholas represents the plaintiff.

Mrs. E. N. Clink entertained a company of ladies on Monday evening, April 1st. A guessing contest, in which Meadames Sherman and Dickson were the prize winners, then music, mirth and dancing, were enjoyed. The Stone and Sherman orchestra furnishing the music. Refreshments were served, which proved to be real instead of what might have been at that particular time. On the following Wednesday afternoon she entertained with a thimble party. Refreshments were served on small tables and a chat over teacups enjoyed.

For the purpose of encouraging the freer use of electricity especially for heating, cooking, ventilating and small motor uses, the Electric Light Co. have adopted a new rate card which is quite a change from the old rates and especially favorable to house lighting. As East Jordan is favored with day service something very few small towns have there seems no reason why the Electric Company should not succeed in furnishing current for scores of flat irons and fans, as well as many different kinds of heating and cooking devices, which are now coming into practical use. The electric flat iron made quite a start in the homes of electric consumers last year and proved to be one of the handiest, most convenient and economical fixtures in the home.

IN THE HOUSEHOLD

MATTERS OF GENERAL SANITARY IMPORTANCE.

Proper Care of the Bathroom and Its Appurtenances—To Clean Incandescent Mantles—Getting Rid of Ants.

Besides the stationary belongings to the bathroom—tubs, shower bath, lavatory and closet—there should be a room completely furnished, a soap dish, spongeholder, soiled linen basket, tumbler holder, robe hook, match box, and toilet paper holder. Each one of these articles should be kept in order with exactness and regularity. Plenty of soap and warm water should be used on the enameled work, with occasional additions of ammonia. The nickel plating should be rubbed with a soft dry cloth, whiting being used as a polisher.

Patent prescriptions for nickel plate should be avoided, as they often contain an acid that destroys the metal.

Sanitary plumbing is of such great importance in building a house every item that makes for show should be cut out if it deprives the bathroom of the best class of work. Cases of illness are certain to follow cheap plumbing, with doctors' bills to prove a severe punishment for the false economy.

To clean incandescent mantels, first remove the globe, then lift off the remaining parts, and place on a table. Take off the chimney, then with a hatpin put half way through the cord at the top of the mantle, lift off carefully and place each end of the pin on the side of a tumbler, the mantle hanging down between them. Then pour carefully over the mantle a little methylated spirits. Remove the film and with a soft brush clean the mantle. Then apply a lighted match to burn the spirits off mantle (as when new). Clean the chimney with a little of the spirits left in tumbler, then the globe.

Replace both, and you will have a beautiful, clear light and your mantle will last at least a few months longer. Be careful not to put a lighted match near the spirits.

In cleaning a stopped waste pipe, first remove the grate in the sink. Get three round pieces of leather which will fit the waste pipe, cut a piece of broom handle one and one-half feet long, and place the three pieces of leather on top of each other. Drive a long nail through the center and into the end of the handle. Insert in the waste pipe and move quickly up and down.

To eliminate ants, the surest way is to find the nest and destroy it. Place some grains of coarse granulated sugar where it will be found easily by the ants and then watch each loaded body as it scampers over the line of march to the nest. Often the track ends at a well, especially if the house is old, and it may be necessary to cut away a portion of the surface before the nest can be reached. At other times the little fellows make straight for out of doors with a wisdom one only can marvel at. Then if followed they will be seen to enter a hole in the ground. This is the nest. When the nest is in the house, saturate it thoroughly with kerosene, or with boiling water, doing the work quickly, for the spray itself will carry the kerosene to get away from the death-dealing fluid. Any portion of the wall or of the flooring that has been removed in order to reach the nest can be replaced when the work is accomplished.

TIME TO CLEAN FURS.

Bran is the Best Agent That Can Be Employed.

Every woman who wears furs should clean them this season, no matter how carefully they have been worn, for they are surely dirty, though dark skins may not show the soil. Many light ones, however, give marked evidence how of the need of cleansing.

This cleaning process that restores the luster and "life" may be easily done at home by rubbing bran into the fur. For this work buy a pound of bran; divide it into two portions, and place one in the oven to heat. Spread the fur on paper on a table and rub it well all over with the cold bran. Then shake out the bran and brush the fur with a soft hat brush. When the rest of the bran feels hot, rub it evenly into the fur in the same manner as before. Shake it out and brush it till the fur is quite free from all bran and dust.

Ermine, white fox and other white skins require slightly different treatment. Sawdust and plaster of paris, mixed half and half, should be heated and rubbed into the skin several times. Then the coat, collar, etc., should be put in the sun to air or else hung near a radiator.

A white felt of chignon hat may be much freshened by rubbing powdered ammonia into it as firmly as one can without injuring the material. Then brushing out with a soft brush. Repeat this several times.

Rust Blemishes.

Rust may be removed from nickel plating by covering the spots with rotten fallow and letting it stand for several days. If this treatment is followed by a rubbing with powdered rottenstone and then by a thorough washing with strong ammonia, succeeded by clear water, and a final polishing with dry whiting, stubborn cases will yield.—Woman's Life.

Benefits of the X-Ray.

It is noted from Baltimore that during the ten years since the discovery of the X-ray important research has been made by the medical department of Johns Hopkins university through the use of the ray as a diagnostic agent; and the results of great benefits derived from the early diagnosis and study of aneurisms, or morbid dilation of the walls of arteries, through this agent, have just been compiled and described by Dr. F. Howard Baerjar, of the university.

Big Port of New South Wales.

Newcastle, N. S. W., is now a very important port, with its 80,000 people and situated 102 miles by rail or 60 miles by sea from Sydney. The principal shipments are coal. Last year 1,779 vessels entered and cleared, having a combined tonnage of 2,768,401. Labor troubles are its chief drawback.

BLOOD GETS SOUR.

Every Family Should Make Up This Home Mixture and Take Now.

At this time of year, says a well-known authority, the kidneys become weak, clogged and inactive, failing to filter out the poisons and acids, which sour the blood, causing not only fevers and bodily eruptions, but the worst forms of Rheumatism, Nervous and Stomach troubles, Backache and painful, annoying urinary affections.

It is worth anyone's time now to get from some good prescription pharmacy the following ingredients: Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Karger, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Mix by shaking well in a bottle and take in teaspoonful doses after your meals and at bedtime.

This simple home-made mixture will force the kidneys to normal, healthy action, so they will filter and strain all uric acid and poisonous waste matter from the blood, and expel this in the urine, at the same time restoring the "full blood count"—that is, 45 per cent. red blood corpuscles—which is absolutely indispensable to perfect health.

Best Violin Strings.

The best strings for violins are of Italian make and are from the intestines of spring lambs, killed in September. The process of drying and bleaching of the woods and strings by the hot Italian sun, rather than by the artificial method used in other countries, accounts in a great measure for the superior quality of both materials. This intense heat was also the reason for the slow distillation of the oils used by the Italian makers, which always remained at a high temperature, and the varnish, slowly soaking into the woods of the violins beneath the heat of those Italian summers, produced, in part, the mellowness of tone that gives to a Cremona instrument its value, after a lapse of 200 or more years.—March Circle.

Autographs in Demand.

At the present time the greatest demand is for autographs of the English literary celebrities, some of which bring thousands of dollars. Keats and Shelley command such high prices that they sell best abroad, where there are more collections. In London, Berlin and Paris there are continual autograph sales during the season.—The Citizen.

A FRIENDLY GROCER.

Dropped a Valuable Hint About Coffee.

"For about eight years," writes a Michigan woman, "I suffered from nervousness—part of the time down in bed with nervous prostration. 'Sometimes I would get numb, and it would be almost impossible for me to speak for a spell. At others, I would have severe bilious attacks, and my heart would flutter painfully when I would walk fast or sweep.

"I have taken enough medicine to start a small drug store, without any benefit. One evening my grocer was asking husband how I was and he urged that I quit coffee and use Postum, so he brought home a pkg. and I made it according to directions and we were both delighted with it.

"So we quit coffee altogether and used only Postum. I began to get better in 6 months' time and look like another person, the color came back to my cheeks, I began to sleep well, my appetite was good and I commenced to take on flesh and become interested in everything about the house.

"Finally I was able to do all my own work without the least sign of my old trouble. I am so thankful for the little book, 'The Road to Wellville.' It has done me so much good. I haven't taken medicine of any kind for six months and don't need any.

"A friend of ours who did not like Postum as she made it, liked mine, and when she learned to boil it long enough, her's was as good as mine. It's easy if you follow directions." Name given by Postum Company, Battle Creek, Mich. Read the little book, 'The Road to Wellville,' in pkg. There's a reason."

How a Swan River Settler Has Succeeded.

Benito, Manitoba, Nov. 26, 1906. At Swan River Valley, in May, 1900, a settler took up a homestead on Section 30, in Township 34, Range 29 West of the First Meridian, at that time 50 miles from a railway, telegraph, school or church. One of the Important Duties of Physicians and the Well-Informed of the World is to learn as to the relative standing and reliability of the leading manufacturers of medicinal agents, as the most eminent physicians are the most careful as to the uniform quality and perfect purity of remedies prescribed by them, and it is well known to physicians and the Well-Informed generally that the California Fig Syrup Co., by reason of its correct methods and perfected equipment and the ethical character of its product, has attained to the high standing in scientific and commercial circles which is accorded to successful and reliable houses only, and, therefore, that the name of the Company has become a guarantee of the excellence of its remedy.

TRUTH AND QUALITY

appeal to the Well-Informed in every walk of life and are essential to permanent success and creditable standing, therefore we wish to call the attention of all who would enjoy good health, with its blessings, to the fact that it involves the question of right living with all the term implications. With proper knowledge of what is best each hour of recreation, of enjoyment, of contemplation and of effort may be made to contribute to that end and the use of medicines dispensed with generally to great advantage, but as in many instances a simple, wholesome remedy may be invaluable if taken at the proper time, the California Fig Syrup Co. feels that it is alike important to present truthfully the subject and to supply the one perfect laxative remedy which has won the approval of physicians and the world-wide acceptance of the Well-Informed because of the excellence of the combination, known to all, and the original method of manufacture, which is known to the California Fig Syrup Co. only.

This valuable remedy has been long and favorably known under the name of Syrup of Figs—and has attained to world-wide acceptance as the most excellent of family laxatives, and as its pure laxative principles, obtained from Senna, are well known to physicians and the Well-Informed of the world to be the best of natural laxatives, we have adopted the more elaborate name of Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna—as more fully descriptive of the remedy, but doubtless it will always be called for by the shorter name of Syrup of Figs—and to get its beneficial effects always note, when purchasing, the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—plainly printed on the front of every package, whether you simply call for—Syrup of Figs—or by the full name—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna—as—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna—is the one laxative remedy manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. and the same heretofore known by the name—Syrup of Figs—which has given satisfaction to millions. The genuine is for sale by all leading druggists throughout the United States in original packages of one size only, the regular price of which is fifty cents per bottle.

Every bottle is sold under the general guarantee of the Company, filed with the Secretary of Agriculture, at Washington, D. C., that the remedy is not adulterated or misbranded within the meaning of the Food and Drugs Act, June 30th, 1906.

It acts at once upon the organ afflicted and the nerve centers, dispelling effectually all those distressing symptoms. No other medicine in the country has received such unqualified endorsement or has such a record of cures of female ills as has

Seldom Wear Out

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills relieve pain—not only once, but as many times as it is necessary to take them. Many persons who suffer from chronic ailments find in them a source of great relief from the suffering which they would otherwise be compelled to endure. Their soothing influence upon the nerves strengthens rather than weakens them. For this reason they seldom lose their effectiveness.

"I am 62 years old and have suffered for 42 years from nervous troubles, rheumatism and neuralgia; palpitation of the heart, shortness of breath, sleeplessness, and pain around the heart. The Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills have been a blessing to me. I don't know what I should do without them, and they are the only remedy I have ever used that either did not wear out in less time than I have been using them, or else the injurious results were such that I would be obliged to cease their use."

Learn Independence.

Girls as Well as Boys Should Know Life's Requisites.

We hear a great deal about the modern girl developing manliness, independence and losing her femininity. A great many people are much alarmed because girls are not trained, as formerly, in womanly gentleness. It is a beautiful figure of speech to describe the feminine character as the ivy which clings to the massive oak for support, and in return covers and beautifies its hideous knots and scars. But, if the oak falls, what becomes of the ivy?
There is too much of this ivy clinging and beautifying idea in training girls. They should be taught that it is just as necessary to be independent, to be self-supporting, as to be able to cling and beautify. In other words they ought to be able to stand alone if the tree falls and not go down with it.—Marden in "Success."

The Annihilation of Distance.

How much nearer to each other the nations of the world are today than they were a few decades ago! When weeks were required to get news from the whole world seemed a long way off. Now the whole earth is belted with telegraph and cable lines, and yesterday's happenings in Europe, Asia, Africa, South America, Australia and the islands of the sea are read at this morning's breakfast table. Distance is annihilated and the nations are becoming friendly neighbors in consequence. The marvelous change is brought home to the mind most strikingly upon reading a great modern newspaper whose telegraphic news covers the whole world each day—a paper such as the Chicago Record-Herald, which has a veritable army of correspondents in every important city. In addition to its own staff of correspondents The Chicago Record-Herald has the benefit of the foreign news service of the New York Herald, famous for its world-wide cable system and for the reliability of its foreign news; also that of the New York World and New York Journal of Commerce, besides that great co-operative news-gathering organization, the Associated Press.

The News—No Pure Drug Cough Cure Laws would be needed, if all Cough Cures were like Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure—and has been for 20 years. The National Law now requires that if any poisons enter into a cough mixture, it must be printed on the label, or package. For this reason mothers and others, should insist on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. No poison marks on Dr. Shoop's labels—and none in the medicine, else it must by law be on the label. And it's not only safe, but it is said to be by those who know it best, a truly remarkable cough remedy. Take no chance, particularly with your child. Insist on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. Compare carefully the Dr. Shoop package with others and see. No poison marks there! You can always be on the safe side by demanding Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. Simply refuse to accept any other. Sold by Warne's Pharmacy.

The Best Laxative for Children.
Parents should see to it that their children have a normal, easy movement of the bowels each day. Not done by the use of pills or griping pills, are too powerful in effect, and likely to do little besides to irritate the bowels, and cause colic and discomfort. Laxative Iron-Ox Tablets tone and strengthen the bowels, and stimulate all the little organs of the body. They are easy to take, and never grip or nauseate. 10c, 25c and $1.00.

Indigestion

Stomach trouble is but a symptom of, and not in itself a true disease. We think of Dyspepsia, Heartburn, and Indigestion as real diseases, yet they are symptoms only of a certain specific Nerve sickness—nothing else.
It was this fact that first correctly led Dr. Shoop in the creation of that now very popular Stomach Remedy—Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Going direct to the stomach nerves, alone brought that success and favor to Dr. Shoop and his Restorative. Without that original and highly vital principle, no such lasting accomplishments were ever to be had.
For stomach distress, bloating, biliousness, bad breath and sallow complexion, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—and see for yourself what it can and will do. We sell and cheerfully recommend it.

OLD FAVORITES.
Victor.
He was a hero, fighting alone,
A lone warrior, never one more brave.
Discreet, considerate and grave;
He fought some noble battles, but he gave
No voice to fame, and passed away unknown.
So grandly to occasions did he rise,
So splendid were the victories he planned.
That all the world had asked him to command
Could it his native valor understand—
He fought himself and, winning, gained the prize.
—Ironquill.

I Blow You a Kiss.
I blow you a kiss on the evening wind,
Across the water, wherever you be,
Up in the north or down in the south
Or over the rolling sea.
I blow you a kiss, but after the kiss
Do you know what follows, my dear?
Something that wind cannot bring to you—
Only a little tear.
—William Stanley Beaumont Brathwaite.

The Old Clock on the Stair.
Somewhat back from the village street
Stands the old fashioned country seat,
Across its antique portico
Tall poplar trees their shadows throw,
And from its station in the hall
An ancient timepiece says to all:
"Forever—never!
Never—forever!"

Halfway up the stairs it stands
And points and beckons with its hands
From its case of massive oak,
Like a monk, who under his cloak
Crosses himself and sighs, alas,
With sorrowful voice to all who pass:
"Forever—never!
Never—forever!"

By day its voice is low and light,
But in the silent dead of night,
Distinct as a passing footstep's fall
It echoes along the vacant hall,
Along the ceiling, along the floor,
And seems to say at each chamber door:
"Forever—never!
Never—forever!"

Through days of sorrow and of mirth,
Through days of death and days of birth,
Through every swift vicissitude
Of change of time unchanged it has stood,
And as if, like God, it all things saw,
It calmly repeats those words of awe:
"Forever—never!
Never—forever!"

In that mansion used to be
Freud's hearty Hospitality,
His great fires up the chimney roared,
The stranger feasted at his board,
But like the skeleton at the feast,
That warning timepiece never ceased—
"Forever—never!
Never—forever!"

These groups of merry children played,
These youths and maidens dreaming strayed,
O precious hours! O golden prime,
An affluence of love and time!
Even as a miser counts his gold,
Those hours the ancient timepiece told—
"Forever—never!
Never—forever!"

From that chamber, clothed in white,
The bride came forth on her wedding night,
There in that silent room below
The dead lay in his shroud of snow,
And in the hush that followed the prayer
Was heard the old clock on the stair:
"Forever—never!
Never—forever!"

All are scattered now and fled—
Some are married, some are dead,
And when I ask, with throbs of pain,
"Ah, when shall they all meet again?"
As in the days long since gone by,
The ancient timepiece makes reply:
"Forever—never!
Never—forever!"

Never here, forever there,
Where all partings, pain and care,
And death and time shall disappear—
Forever there, but never here!
The horologue of eternity
Sayseth this incessantly:
"Forever—never!
Never—forever!"
—Longfellow.

A Day's Wage.
Love wore a suit of hidden gray
And toiled within the fields all day,
Love welded pick and carried pack
And bent to heavy loads the back.
Though meager fed and sorely lashed,
The only wage love ever asked—
A child's wan face to kiss at night,
A woman's smile by candlelight.
—Margaret E. Sangster.

A Nation's Strength.
What builds a nation's pillars high
And its foundations strong?
What makes it mighty to defy
The foes that round it throng?
It is not gold, its kingdoms grand
Go down in battle's shock;
Its gates are laid on sinking sand,
Not on abiding rock.

Is it the sword? Ask the red dust—
It scarpens paths away,
The blood has turned their stones to rust,
Their glory to decay.
And is it pride? Ah, that bright crown
Has seemed to nations sweet!
But God has struck its tuster down
In ashes at his feet.

Not gold, but only man, can make
A people great and strong;
Men who for truth and honor's sake
Stand fast and suffer long.
Brave men, who work while others sleep,
Who dare while others fly—
They build a nation's pillars deep
And lift them to the sky.
—Emerson.

Memory.
My mind lets go a thousand things,
Like dates of wars and deaths of kings,
And yet recalls the very hour—
'Twas noon by yonder village tower
And on the last blue noon in May—
The wind came briskly up this way,
Crisping the brook beside the road,
Then, pausing here, set down its load
Of pine scents and shook listlessly
Two petals from that wild rose tree.
—Thomas Bailey Aldrich.

To Youth.
You have the rose for token;
I have dry leaf and rhyme,
I have the sobbing weeper;
You morning bells at chime,
I would that I were younger
(Yet you gray never old—
Would I had less of silver,
And more of gold.)
