Milford Endorsed

Republican Co. Convention Re-nominated Com'r of Schools

The Republican County Convention held at Boyne City on Friday last, the most important business was the nomination of a candidate for Commissioner of Schools. Com'r J. H. Milford who has served the county well in this capacity, had no opposition whatsoever, and, being placed in nomination by Wm. F. Bashaw, the rules were suspended and Mr. Milford was declared the unanimous choice.

The Committee of Resolutions made the following report, which was adopted:

We, the delegates of the Republican party of Charlevoix County in Convention assembled, in the city of Boyne City, on the 24th day of February, 1911 do hereby make the following resolutions:

We assert our unflinching faith in the principles of the Republican party, and its ability to cope successfully with the various problems which confront the nation.

That we have unlimited confidence in the executive ability of our president, William Howard Taft, and commend him for his fearlessness in upholding the principles of our party and the redeeming of the pledges made by it to the people.

That we commend our governor, Chas. S. Osborne and the other administrative officers of our state in their earnest endeavor to enact beneficial legislation and guard the best interests of the people.

We hereby endorse the candidacy of the Hon. John M. Harris for membership on the State Board of Education and pledge him to the unanimous support of the Charlevoix delegates to the State Convention and commend him to the favorable consideration of the entire convention of March the 2nd.

That we pledge our unqualified support to the State, Judicial and County ticket, to be nominated by the Republican party.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

Big Collection of Photographs.

The Western Michigan photographic collection now consists of approximately 1,000 different scenes. These are orchard, farm, city and village views from all parts of the Western Michigan territory. There are in the collection scenes from every one of the 20 counties making up the territory covered by the Western Michigan Development Bureau. The Bureau has been at work for two years collecting the pictures and securing the data that makes the collection of more than ordinary value. The pictures are used in the illustrating of the magazines, booklets and leaflets issued in behalf of the advertisement of Western Michigan and for the purpose of illustrating magazine and newspaper articles with "Western Michigan" as the theme.

The Saginaw Evening News is published in one of the most "liberal" cities of the state so far as all saloon and liquor questions are concerned, and the Saginaw News is not supposed to possess any anti-saloon or local option sentiment. And yet no newspaper in Michigan has ever given expression to a more severe arraignment of the saloons and their deplorable purposes and results than has been editorially given by the Saginaw News. In the course of a recent article referring to an immediate need that the number of saloons in its city should be reduced the Saginaw paper says: "It is not open to argument that so many drinking bars have for years and are today a detriment to the public welfare and an injury to the city. They are giving the city a bad reputation, they have damaged commercial business, they have promoted inebriety, they have fostered vile and immoral resorts which traffic in young men and young women and they have made the policing of the city difficult and expensive." The News further refers to the moral, industrial, commercial and general benefit that would follow the restriction of the liquor business in Saginaw and says, "What is still more important, it would materially lessen the saloon influences in city politics which for years has been of a vicious and sinister character." As charges against the saloon which would justify its prompt and permanent banishment from every city and village in Michigan and the declarations of the Saginaw Evening News are remarkably strong and complete.

Material is being gathered for an illustrated lecture entitled "Road Building in Western Michigan." The territory covered by the Western Michigan Development Bureau is the most active section in the state in the matter of highway improvements. During the five years ending June 30, 1910, $512,984.64 were expended in improving 199 miles of Western Michigan roads. Ten of the 20 Western Michigan counties are working under the county system and are improving their highways as a whole.

FOLEY KIDNEY PILLS

Are tonic in action, quick in results. A special medicine for all kidney and bladder disorders. Henry Bower, Traverse City, Mich., says: "Since the first of the year I have been a very sick man. Have spent a lot of money in doctoring, have bought various kidney medicines and used them but to no effect. Foley Kidney Pills were brought to my notice through a friend and I decided to try them. After using them a short time I was greatly relieved and can honestly say that they did me a world of good."

Nurko Buys Frazer Stock.

J. Nurko one of our prominent dry goods merchants on Water street has just purchased the M. Frazer dry goods stock at East Jordan and will conduct the business at the same stand. This does not mean however that we are going to lose Mr. Nurko and his estimable family as citizens of Boyne City and we are glad to say that he will continue to reside here and conduct his dry goods store in person in this place as before.

In conducting the two stores Mr. Nurko will be enabled to buy goods in larger quantities thereby placing him in a position to give still greater bargains to the customers of both stores.—Boyne City Journal.

AVOID HARSH DRUGS

Many Cathartics Tend to Cause Injury to the Bowels.

If you are subject to constipation, you should avoid strong drugs and cathartics. They only give temporary relief and their reaction is harmful and sometimes more annoying than constipation. They in no way effect a cure and their tendency is to weaken the already weak organs with which they come in contact.

We honestly believe that we have the best constipation treatment ever devised. Our faith in it so strong that we sell it on the positive guarantee that it shall not cost the user a cent if it does not give entire satisfaction and completely remedy constipation. This preparation is called Rexall Orderites. These are prompt, soothing and most effective in action. They are made of a recent chemical discovery. Their principal ingredient is odorless, tasteless and colorless. Combined with other well known ingredients, long established for their usefulness in the treatment of constipation, it forms a tablet which is eaten just like candy. They may be taken at any time, either day or night, without fear of their causing any inconvenience whatever. They do not gripe, purge nor cause nausea. They act without causing any pain or excessive looseness of the bowels. They are ideal for children, weak delicate persons and aged people as well as for the most hearty person.

They come in two size packages, 12 tablets 10 cents, 36 tablets 25 cents. Remember you can obtain them only at our store.—The Rexall Store, The W. C. Spring Drug Co.

Orphan Girl's Career Shows What May Be Done With Pluck and Energy.

An orphan girl, left to shift for herself early in life, saved and applied three separate educational funds before she got where she wanted to be. The first was made up of money she earned at odd jobs.

When her widowed mother died the girl, then 12 years old, found a home with a married sister, who boarded her and gave her some clothing in return for her services. She worked at whatever her hand could be turned to in the little town where her sister lived, saving every dollar she could and putting it into the savings bank. Before she was 15 she had enough to take a course in dressmaking, and after following that a couple of years set out in the world for herself, going to a large city, where she got a place in a fashionable dressmaker's establishment.

City life soon gave her larger ambitions, and when she had saved enough money she took a course of training that fitted her to become a professional nurse.

This paid better and also opened up further fields of endeavor. By thrift and the skillful use of every opportunity she saved enough money to take a full course in a medical school.

While she was at college work was incessant and funds often ran dangerously low; but she stuck to it pluckily and helped herself along by her knowledge of nursing. Today she is a full-fledged physician, and is just coming into a profitable practice in a large city.—Saturday Evening Post.

Liberty Without Bloodshed.

The present emperor of Japan virtually forced constitutional government upon his people, says Adachi Kinoshita in an article on the emperor of Japan. It was original on a monarch's part; absolutely without precedent. Elsewhere, even in the homes of Christian enlightenment, blood has ever been the price that a people paid for their charter of liberty—witness the struggle with King John; the American war of Independence, the French revolution. When the Japanese emperor wished to limit his own absolute powers and give us constitutional liberty, the people did not want it; they did not understand it; they were entirely indifferent about it; they accepted it out of respect to his majesty's wishes. On Feb. 11, 1889, the constitution of the empire was promulgated. It passed into history as the first and the only bloodless Magna Charta known.

The Short-Lived Pin.

By a series of experiments conducted on his estate a French investigator has discovered that pins go the way of all flesh and are resolved into dust. Harpins, which the experimenter watched for 154 days, disappeared at the end of that time, having been resolved into a ferrous oxide, a brownish rust, which was blown away by the wind.

Bright pins took nearly 18 months to disappear; polished steel needles nearly two years and a half; brass pins had but little endurance, steel pens at the end of 15 months had nearly gone, while their wooden holders were still intact.

Pencils, with which he also experimented, suffered little by exposure; the lead was unharmed, and the cedar almost as good as new.

Man-Carrying Kites.

Man-carrying by kites was demonstrated for the first time in America at the Boston-Harvard aviation meet last September. There it was shown that a man could be sent 200 feet in the air supported by from six to fifteen 18-foot passenger-carrying kites. The height to which man can rise (up to 1,000 feet) by this method varies according to the wind velocity. Army officers present testified to the great value of the man-carrying kite for scouting purposes in time of war. It is certainly a point in favor of the plan that such a kite is at its best when the winds are so strong that aviators dare not venture out with their aeroplanes.

To Brighten Gilt Frames.

Try the following for brightening the gilt frames which have become dulled, though not actually injured by the "peeling" of the applied gilding: Taking sufficient flour of sulphur to give a golden tinge to about one and one-half pints of water, and in this boil four or five bruised onions, or garlic, which will answer the same purpose. Strain off the liquid, and with it, when cold, brush with a soft brush all the gilding which needs restoring. When dry it will be found it has come out almost as bright as when new.

A New Animal.

A gigantic carnivorous mammal, hitherto unknown, was discovered recently in Dutch New Guinea. This animal, found and named by English naturalists in the course of coast explorations, lives at an altitude of 650 yards in a place inhabited by a tribe of black dwarfs. The gazaka, as this beast is known, is striped like a zebra, but its aspect is ferocious. The animal is like a tapir, and is of a species supposed to have died out thousands of years ago. Its protruding teeth give it an appearance of extreme cruelty.

Man's Complaint

When a Fellow Is Married He Loses Many Friends

By ALICE MONTGOMERY

Oh, the modern trend of the young men who lie back complacently in the all-embracing comfort of a deep armchair in some cozy drawing room and prate of marriage to their women friends! It is the one topic. They rehearse it from every point of view. They wallow in its intricacies and glory in its mysteries.

"It is our last resort," they say resignedly. "It is bound to happen some day, and as woman is the pursuer and man the pursued, why, the responsibility of the initiative is lifted from our shoulders. We are mere puppets," they say excitedly, straightening themselves for a moment from their lounging positions in the flush of their new discovery. "Mere puppets, dangling to a string controlled by a woman. When the appointed day is come, she beckons and we follow. It may be the voice of nature, or it may be the stirring of the life force, or it may be—oh, call it what you will—but one thing is certain—we obey. And, hang it all, think of what we have to give up in the doing of it. When a fellow is married he loses his best friends. At first they drop in casually and try to pretend things are just as they were, and admire the new fixings, and make pretty speeches to your wife; but somehow it is not the same, and they feel it, and you feel it, and try to fight it, but it won't go. There is a feminine constraint, an invisible barrier that can't be ignored, and so gradually your best chums have other engagements and gather new interests, and you are not included, of course. And you feel an outcast. And then in sheer self-defense you have to throw in your lot with the other married people and watch some poor chap struggling in the marriage toils, and often it isn't a pretty sight. Say, marriage isn't all beer and skittles—it has its drawbacks."

"And then, too," these same young men continue, warming to their subject, "how we fellows have to toil and spin to make the wheels go round. There is no limit to the yards of bills that have to be met at the first of the month, and as for appreciation—there is no such thing nowadays. The women just take all they can get as a matter of course, in a sort of deign the queen kind of way that makes you feel pretty mean for not giving them more."

But all this time the women, who have a deeper insight into things marital and a keener intuition, smile whimsically into the embers. They know the men are having the time of their lives, and, incidentally, one of their own missions, that of affording entertainment, is being fulfilled. If the men were not really enjoying themselves, why on earth were they there at all, and why that particular topic, if it wasn't of paramount interest?

Much Benefit by Sleeping Out of Doors

By A. MORGAN Milwaukee, Wis.

I have been sleeping outdoors on my back porch some six years and do not come in for zero temperatures or snow or rain. I use a sanitary folding couch and have a waterproof canvas cover which keeps the mattress dry in the day time and serves as an excellent top cover tucked in over all clothing and mattress at night. I use an extra mattress over the thin one which came with the couch.

For covers I use four heavy all-wool blankets and one comforter and over all this the waterproof cover acts as a protection from rain, snow and wind. About ten minutes before retiring I put in two or three quart water bags. The water should be steaming hot when put into the bags. The bags of hot water keep the bed nice and warm all night.

I use a wool stocking cap pulled down to the end of my nose, covering and protecting the eyes.

I was weak and sickly when I started this game and have gained 50 pounds and am strong as Sandow.

I sleep like a child and get up in the morning with a ravenous appetite.

Nothing can induce me to sleep indoors again.

How the Public Loses Much Money

By PROF. W. C. LANGDON University of California

The consumer in this country not only pays the tariff, but he pays in many other ways where he gets the worst of it. Take, for instance, the buying of articles where a fraction of a cent comes in. The American housewife in this era of high prices is often forced to buy in small lots. She goes to market and purchases, say, a half-dozen eggs, at 35 cents per dozen, but there being no half-pennies, must tender 18 cents. In the same way she expends 13 cents for half a dozen oranges instead of 12 1/2 cents.

The same rule applies to dry goods, many articles selling at a figure where there is no even division if a fraction be bought.

While it may seem a trivial loss, I can tell you that the aggregate that is thus taken from the earnings of the poor and middle class will amount to a vast sum annually.

The condition could be easily remedied by the coining of half-pennies.

Birds That Stay During Winter Months

By J. HOWARD MOORE Chicago

Last summer the south park commissioners installed a number of feeding stations for birds in Jackson and Washington parks. During the winter months now these stations are kept well stocked with food, consisting of seeds of various kinds, with which suet is mixed. As a result a number of birds are spending the winter here that usually fly south for the cold months. Besides the bluejays, which have been here regularly for several winters, and the robins, which appear off and on every winter, there are several Kentucky cardinals, a mocking bird, juncoes (snow birds), shrikes, creepers, downy woodpeckers, nuthatches, wild ducks and a flock of 45 or 50 cedar waxwings. These last feed chiefly on the berries of the fruit and wild viburnum.

BEAR GIVEN A WOMAN BY BORNEO SAVAGES

WIFE OF A NEW YORK ZOO MAN GETS PRESENT FROM CANIBALS.

New York—All the way from the wildest parts of the island of Borneo has journeyed a little black ball of teeth, claws, fur and bad temper, to look out of steel bars of a zoological cage. Its name is Heldretos Malayanus, but Keepers Landsberg and Kane in the small mammal house of the Bronx Zoo called it "Sunny" today, because it is the cutest, round-eyed, sun bear cub that has ever been brought to the big animal enclosure.

While in that portion of the Island of Borneo known as Sarawak, C. William Beebe, the curator of birds of the Bronx Zoo, who is now on a two-year trip into the unknown portions of the earth collecting rare specimens of bird life for exhibition here, was accompanied by Mrs. Beebe, an enthusiastic naturalist as her husband.

When the curator's party reached the region peopled by the Dyaks, the aboriginal race of that island, feared as the "wild men of Borneo" and known to be head hunters and cannibals, Mrs. Beebe's presence in the wilds created great curiosity, for the head hunters beheld a white woman for the first time.

While on the slopes of Mount Kluahu, near the source of the River Kluabatangan, the naturalist's camp was suddenly surrounded by fierce looking Dyak chiefs, some robed in fantastic garments made of birds' skins, some without clothes, some wreathed around the waist and temples with leaves and feathers.

As Mr. Beebe noticed the head chief rush in the direction of Mrs. Beebe, the curator drew his automatic pistol and threw himself in a posture of defense. But the precaution was unnecessary, for the "wild man" merely laid a furry animated little bundle in the white woman's lap. It was a tiny, week-old sun bear held in great reverence by the Dyaks. Mrs. Beebe carried the bear the rest of the journey and fed it from a bottle until the party reached Brunel, a seaport, from which the little cub was dispatched to the Bronx Zoo.

COLD STORAGE FOR DEBTOR

Butcher Put a Man on Ice When He Wouldn't Pay His Bill.

Scranton, Pa.—Cold storage as a means of collecting a debt was used by Michael Youhas, a butcher of Scranton, to a point where the police came to the rescue of a shivering debtor. John Maleski was passing Youhas' store, according to the police, when the butcher rushed out and demanded that he pay the bill. An argument ensued, and before Maleski could realize what was happening he was pulled into the store by his enraged creditor.

Butcher Locks Debtor in Ice Box.

Youhas thrust him into a refrigerator and fastened the door from the outside. The incident caused a commotion in the neighborhood. A squad was sent from police headquarters and found Maleski still in the icebox on the verge of collapse.

WINNIPEG, MANITOBA, THE GREATEST WHEAT MARKET ON THE CONTINENT

REMARKABLE YIELDS OF WHEAT, OATS, BARLEY AND FLAX IN WESTERN CANADA LAST YEAR.

Figures recently issued show that the wheat receipts at Winnipeg last year were 88,269,330 bushels, as compared with the Minneapolis receipts of 81,111,410 bushels, this placing Winnipeg at the head of the wheat receiving markets of the continent. Following up this information it is found that the yields throughout the provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, as given the writer by agents of the Canadian Government stationed in different parts of the States, have been splendid. A few of the instances are given:

Near Redvers, Sask., Jons Hortness threshed about 50 acres of wheat, averaging 29 bushels to the acre. Near Elphinstone, Sask., many of the crops of oats would run to nearly 100 bushels to the acre. A Mr. Muir had about 200 acres of this grain and he estimates the yield at about 60 bushels per acre. Wheat went 35 bushels to the acre on the farm of Mr. A. Loucks, near Wymyard, Sask., in the fall of 1910. K. Erickson had 27 and P. Solvason 17. In the Dempster (Man.) district last year, wheat went from 25 to 30 bushels per acre. Fifteen acres on the Mackenzie & Mann farm today went forty-three bushels to the acre. In the Wainwright and Battle River districts yields of wheat averaged for the district 26 bushels to the acre. M. B. Ness, of the Tofteld, Alberta, district, got 98 bushels and 28 lbs. of oats to the acre, while near Montrose, over 94 bushels of oats to the acre was threshed by J. Leonte, notwithstanding the dry weather of June. Further reports from the Edmonton district give Frank McLay of the Horse Falls 100 bushels of oats to the acre. They weighed 45 lbs. to the bushel. A 22-acre field of spring wheat on Johnson Bros' farm near Agricola yielded 40 1/2 bushels to the acre. Manitoba's record crop for 1910 was grown on McMillan Bros' farm near Westbourne, who have a total crop of 70,000 bushels, netting $40,000 off 2,200 acres. G. W. Buchanan of Pincher Creek, Alberta, had 25 1/2 bushels of No. 1 spring wheat to the acre. Mr. A. Hatton of Macleod district had wheat which averaged 21 bushels to the acre. B. F. Holden, near Indian Head, Sask., threshed 950 bushels of wheat from 20 acres. On the Experimental Farm at Indian Head, wheat has gone below 40 bushels, while several, such as the Marquis and the Preston, have gone as high as 5 1/2 bushels to the acre. At Elstow, Sask., the quantity of wheat to the acre ran, on the average, from 20 right up to 40 bushels per acre, while oats in some cases yielded a return of 70 to 80 bushels per acre, with flax giving 13 to 14 bushels per acre.

W. C. Carnell had a yield of 42 bushels per acre from six acres of breaking. Neil Callahan, two miles northwest of Strome, had a yield of 42 bushels of wheat per acre. Wm. Lindsay, two miles east of Strome, had 1,104 bushels of Regenerated Abundance oats from ten acres. Joseph Scheelar, 11 miles south of Strome, had 12,000 bushels of wheat and oats from 180 acres. Part of the oats yielded 85 bushels to the acre, and the wheat averaged about 40 bushels. Spohn Bros., four miles southwest of Strome, had a splendid grain yield of excellent quality wheat, grading No. 2. A. S. McCulloch, one mile northwest of Strome, had some wheat that went 40 bushels to the acre. J. Blaser, a few miles southwest of Strome, threshed 353 bushels of wheat from 7 acres. Among the good grain yields at Macklin, Alberta, reported are: D. N. Tweedie, 22 bushels to the acre; John Curran, 24 bushels wheat to the acre; Sam Fletcher, 20 bushels to the acre.

At Craven, Sask., Albert Clark threshed from 60 acres of stubble 1,890 bushels; from 20 acres of fallow 900 bushels of red fire wheat that weighed 65 pounds to the bushel. Charles Keith threshed 40 bushels to the acre from 40 acres. Albert Young, of Stony Beach, southwest of Lumsden, threshed 52 bushels per acre from summer fallow, and George Young 5,000 bushels from 130 acres of stubble and fallow, or an average of 38.1-2 bushels to the acre. Arch Morton got 5,600 bushels of red fire from 160 acres. James Russell got 8,700 bushels from stubble and late breaking, an average of 23 1/2 bushels.

At Rosthern Jacob Frieseen had 27 bushels per acre from 80 acres on new land and an average over his whole farm of 21 1/2 bushels of wheat. John Schultz threshed 4,400 bushels from 100 acres, or 44 bushels to the acre. John Lepp had 37 bushels per acre from 200 acres. A. E. Dirk had 42 bushels per acre from 25 acres. Robert Roe of Grand Coulee threshed 45 bushels to the acre from 420 acres.

Sedley, Sask., is still another district that has cause to be proud of the yields of both wheat and flax. J. Cleveland got 30 bushels of wheat per acre on 100 acres and 18 bushels of flax on 140 acres. T. Dundas, southeast of Sedley, 40 bushels per acre on 30 acres; M. E. Miller, 34 bushels per acre on 170 acres of stubble, and 35 bushels per acre on 250 acres fallow; W. A. Day had 32 bushels per acre on 200 acres of stubble, and 35 bushels on 250 acres of fallow; J. O. Scott had 30 bushels of wheat per acre on 200 acres, and 18 bushels of flax per acre on 800 acres; James Bullock averaged 29 bushels of wheat; A. Allen 30 bushels; Jos. Runions, 40; Alex Ferguson, 38; W. R. Thompson, 35, all on large acreages. The flax crop of J. Cleveland is rather a wonder, as his land has yielded him $60 per acre in two years with one ploughing. Russell, Man., farmer, threshed 30 bushels of wheat and 60 to 80 bushels of oats. A. D. Stenhouse, near Melford, Sask., had an average yield on 13 1/2 acres of new land, 63 1/2 bushels of Preston wheat to the acre. Hector W. Swanston, a farmer near Welwyn, Sask., had 5,150 bushels of wheat from one quarter section of land. John McLean, who owns two sections, threshed 12,880 bushels of wheat.

His Head Was Hard.

It is a common belief that the negro's head is hard, capable of withstanding almost any blow.

The following story told by a prominent young dentist of Danville, Ill., would seem to indicate something of the kind anywhere. Two negro men were employed on tearing down a three-story brick building. One negro was on top of the building taking off the bricks and sliding them down a narrow wooden chute to the ground, some thirty feet below, where the other was picking them up and piling them.

When this latter negro was stooping over to pick up a brick the former accidentally let one fall, striking him directly on the head.

Instead of its killing him, he merely looked up, without rising, and said, "What you doin' thar, nigger, you make me blue my tongue."—The Circle.

Precisely Got Off.

Appropos of certain unfounded charges of drunkenness among the naval cadets at Annapolis, Admiral Dewey, at a dinner in Washington, told a story about a young sailor.

"The sailor, after a long voyage," he said, "went ashore in the tropics, and it being a hot day, he drank, in certain tropical bars, too much beer."

"As the sailor lurched under his heavy load along a palm-bordered avenue, his captain halted him indignantly."

"Look here," the captain said, "suppose you were my commander, and you met me in such a condition as you're in now, what would you do to me?"

"Why, sir," said the sailor, "I wouldn't condescend to take no notice of you at all, sir."

THE CAPITAL OF ECUADOR

VIEW OF QUITO AS SEEN FROM A NEAR-BY HILL

How would you like to live in some fairy land that always enjoyed the glorious climate of Indian summer, that season of ethereal mildness which places the genuine spring in the second place? Such is the climate of Quito, the capital of Ecuador, which lies but a few miles south of the equator. It is situated among the most magnificent peaks of the lower Andes at an altitude of more than 9,000 feet, and the effects of its proximity to the equator are so modified by this that the climate is probably the most spring-like in the world. In Quito, they have perpetual Indian summer, glorious sunshine, soft tempered breezes, and only occasionally the violent rainstorms which so thickly intersperse the year in the northern hemisphere. These delightful conditions have charmed Mrs. William C. Fox, wife of the United States minister to Ecuador, who says of the picturesque southern capital:

"We have lived in Quito during the transition period, and have seen it passing from one of the most picturesque old Spanish cities into a modern municipality. My first journey to the capital of Ecuador was made on a burro. It required several days, and though it has magnificent scenery and life in the interior is most interesting, yet I leave it to any woman of my acquaintance if the experience should be relished more than once. Now the railroad has penetrated the mountains and comes direct from the seaport of Guayaquil to Quito. With the railroad, of course, have come all the progress and change incident to it all over the world. But Quito still retains its ancient charm, though it is taking on some of the less attractive features of modern civilization. The streets have long been lighted by electricity, but it has been until now a city of two-story houses. There are plans afoot to begin a new residential addition in the west side, and no doubt the high offices and nine-story apartment houses will follow in time.

"The charm of Quito is the poetic atmosphere which envelops the plainest phases of life. Everyone takes the world at his leisure, and there is time to enjoy everything. The homes are the old Spanish type, which is so characteristic in the Latin-American cities. The houses are all of adobe built in a square and facing a court, and invariably of two stories only. But the average Quito residence is somewhat different in that seldom can a lessee obtain the use of the ground floor, even for stables or for storage and the servants. Under the American legation are several shops, and every foreigner and the state officials also reside in the same style. The entrances to all the homes are under a great archway removed from the immediate proximity of the shops, and as nearly all the residence is on the second floor, the guest gains access through a beautiful stairway lined with palms and gay with flowers. There are humming birds about, and the patio, as the court is called, is alive with butterflies, with the warbling of birds and the soft drone of insect life, as though it were in the center of a tropical forest. The other corridors of the second floor are a succession of beautiful rooms open to the sunny day on one side and hemmed in with palms and rich flowering trees on the other three. We live in these open places, for Quito has none of the strength-devouring qualities of other tropical cities. Pianos and all sorts of musical instruments are about, we have to partake of all except the most ceremonious meals in this environment of birds and flowers.

"Like all of their race, the women of Ecuador are hospitable and enjoy intercourse with each other and with properly presented strangers. The residents are devoted to dancing, and this delightful exercise is not confined to the younger coterie as in American cities. In the United States only the waltz and two-step prevail at balls, and this is rather strenuous for those who have passed the heyday of youth. The Latin delight in the stately quadrille and various graceful adaptations of the lancers and minuet. The young girls and youths are splendid dancers, and frequently entertain a company by a solo with castanets and with tambourine. There are dances which are common to the country, and when a distinguished Peruvian is a guest, it is considered quite a delicate courtesy to have his special dance performed. The Ecuadorian dance is very pretty after the fandango style and danced without castanets.

Considerable talent in painting, the fine arts and literature is ascribed to the Quitenos and the women enjoy a high reputation for beauty. The city was from remote antiquity the capital of the Quitus, a semi-civilized race kindred to the Quichuas or Incas of Peru, and the valley of Quito, next to the valleys of Mexico and Cuzco, was the seat of the earliest American civilization. The mass of the inhabitants are still of the same race, though they have adopted Christianity and the Spanish language. The modern city of Quito was founded by Sebastian Bencaezar in 1534.

A Drawback.

VISION OF MAINE SINKING

Woman Claims to Have Seen Mental Picture of Disaster to the Battleship.

Washington.—Mrs. A. W. Frazer, who now resides in New York, claims to have mentally witnessed the disaster which befell the ill-fated battleship Maine in Havana harbor thirteen years ago.

Mrs. Frazer states that she distinctly saw the sinking of the battleship before she was told of it. A young man rushed to her in her cottage, which was ten miles from Washington. He told her to tell him what she could see.

"It disturbs me to have some one challenge me to a psychic test," she said. "Nevertheless, I sat down and saw a battleship in full regalia. It was black. Suddenly it collapsed and sank into the sea."

"Then I saw, near at hand, a man in uniform, with upraised sword, standing with a handful of men. He had a mustache and side whiskers. He said to the men, 'Reserve your comment till you hear from us.' As the vision disappeared, I heard a voice say, 'The Spaniards did not blow up the Maine.'"

"Then the young man told me that news had just reached Washington of the blowing up of the Maine and said he was sorry I had seen the ship black, as all our war vessels were white. I later learned that the Maine was the only black ship in the navy. 'How did I see the ship black and how did the papers later on print a message from Sigsbee which in substance was what I heard the man in uniform say, 'Public opinion should be suspended until another report?'"

OLD LODGE BUILDING RAZED

Historic Structure at Williamsburg, Va., Torn Down to Make Room for Improvements.

Williamsburg, Va.—By order of Williamsburg lodge the historic, old Masonic hall on Francis street of this city has been razed to the ground. This is the building in which the convention was called for the organization of the Grand Lodge of Virginia, on May 6, 1777, and in which the deliberations ended in the establishment of the Grand Lodge of Virginia on October 13, 1778, it being the first Grand Lodge of Ancient York Rite Masons in America. Rev. John Blair, Past Master of Williamsburg, was unanimously elected Most Worshipful Grand Master. In 1784 the Grand Lodge was removed to Richmond, Va. The most prominent men and Masons of early times attended lodge in this old Masonic hall. George Washington was a member of Williamsburg lodge and many times presided as master, occupying the famous chair presented by Governor Batetourt in 1769. The chair is still in the possession of the lodge. In 1824 General Lafayette visited the lodge and presided as master. For many years the old building has been unused, and it was fast falling to pieces when it was determined to tear it down to make room for modern improvements.

Noted Cats of Maine.

Lewiston, Me.—The feline pride of Maine is a waltzing cat, owned by Mrs. Lottie Rowe of 80 Lowell street, Lewiston. Prince, the cat, dances whenever he hears music of any sort. This clever feline is one year old and tips the scales at 11 pounds. He is a fighter, and thus far in life has escaped without serious injury.

There arrived by express from Galveston, Tex., at Hallowell, Me., a few days ago, a cat that was the only companion of Capt. E. E. Wall, who remained alone on the derelict schooner Holliswood until rescued. It is pure white and weighs 18 pounds. It was billed by the captain to his wife. The cat was five days on the trip. On the box were the words: "Water Me, Feed me, Tom."

PRODUCTIVE QUALITIES OF STANDARD-BRED CHICKENS

Farmer Is Concerned Chiefly With Table and Egg-Laying Capability of Poultry—Get Away From Dunghill Idea and Fancy Breeds.

(By JAMES DRYDEN.)

Poultry breeders have been telling us for years that the pure-bred poultry are the best layers, and this is echoed and re-echoed every day in the year by the poultry papers, and most of us have come to believe it. But has any one ever been able to demonstrate by careful experiments or tests that the pure-breds are better layers than the cross-breeds or the ordinary farmyard fowl?

We are apt to tell the farmers every day that they know nothing about poultry; that they ought to study up. We tell about this system and that system, and special poultry farms, and tell them to go and do likewise. But he goes on in his own ignorance and produces $600,000,000 worth of poultry and eggs a year while a certain egg farm produces $6,000 and a certain "system" produces $1,500 in one year on a vacant lot.

The best poultry keeper in the country is the farmer or the farmer's wife. I have been ashamed a hun-duction and at the same time help the farmer to increase his profits, it seems to me that that is the way to begin. The country wants eggs and poultry, and we cannot get these by building on a foundation of feathers or fancy points. Let the foundation be of eggs and poultry meat. We can then build a superstructure with feather trimmings. If we want eggs let us first get a hen that lays, no matter what her color or shape. Let us study her external characters, and when we find that certain characters or points indicate the good layer, let us breed for those characters regardless of everything else. Then, after we have developed an egg type and have got a sufficiently large flock we may, if we wish, give some attention to feathers; but let us adhere strictly to the egg type and breed for eggs.

We will make slow improvement in breeding without an egg record for each hen in the flock. This record can be obtained only by the use of the trap nest, which is about the best thing we have yet discovered in the dred times in my chicken career that we who were "educating the farmers" were raising sickly, constitutionally weak chickens, and then to go on to a farm and see running around the barnyard, without apparent attention or care, thrifty, robust, lively chickens. The farmer is the best poultryman in the country. We are the slaves of the dogma of the feather and the standard, and the farmer produces the eggs.

The way to develop the poultry industry—one way—is to stop advocating pure-bred or standard-bred fowls for the farmer. The way for the farmer to increase his profits is to get away from the dunghill idea and to avoid fancy-bred fowls. He should decide on the type of fowl to breed and forget the names of the breeds. Let him decide, bearing in mind the conditions of his markets, whether he wants an egg type or a small fowl; a meat type, a large fowl; or a general-purpose or medium-sized fowl, and then purchase pure-bred males of the proper type and of good vigor, and grade up his flock. The way for the farmer to start in the poultry business is to buy a few cross-bred fowls, or eggs from cross-bred fowls from his neighbor, and then use pure-bred males to grade up his flock.

Feather is all right, pure-bred fowls are all right, but the question is, shall the farmer make feathers and fancy points of primary or secondary importance. It is no use talking to the farmer about fancy points, or about standard or perfection, unless we can show him that there is some connection between them and productive qualities. He is not concerned about such things. He is concerned about supplying the market with poultry and eggs.

If we want to increase poultry pro-poultry business. It has opened our eyes and pointed out a clear line of distinction between the so-called standard-bred poultry and practical poultry.

Locating Henhouses.

Farmers who locate their poultry houses with the front toward the sunny side, who keep the fowls well supplied with extra scratch food, grit and balanced rations and protects them at all times from dampness and chills at night, will have no trouble to get a full egg basket, says a writer in an exchange. The soil should be of a light type, so the poultry can easily scratch and dust themselves in order to get rid of the mites and lice. It is necessary to drain off any water that may settle in hollows and later become foul. The henhouse should be protected from the north wind by the barn. I prefer the management of a henhouse by making winter and its surroundings as nearly like summer as possible.

Feeding Meat Bones.

If you have a lot of meat bones on hand and have no bone mill to grind them, put them in the stove and burn them till they can be broken easily with a hatchet and feed to the hens. They will be delighted with them and they will do in place of meat as well as being very healthy and take the place of charcoal.

Charcoal is Valuable.

Charcoal is valuable in the poultry yard, broken in small pieces and placed where the fowls can have ready access to it, or pulverized and mixed with soft food.

CONSTITUENTS OF GOOD FOOD

The illustration shows the close connection between the constituents of the food and of the body. Mineral matter or ash is contained in the bran of wheat and goes to make up bone and shell. Protein is transformed largely into lean meat or the white of the eggs. Carbohydrates and fats supply heat and fat to the animal body.

Real Courage.
 He was the small son of a minister and his mother was teaching him the meaning of courage.
 "Supposing," she said, "there were twelve boys in one bedroom, and eleven got into bed at once, while the other knelt down to say his prayers, that boy would show true courage."
 "Oh," said the young hopeful, "I know something that would be more courageous than that? Supposing there were twelve ministers in one bedroom, and one got into bed without saying his prayers?"

 "On crutches, like the rest of them," the Londoner replied.

IT'S FOOD That Restores and Makes Health Possible.

There are stomach specialists as well as eye and ear and other specialists.
 One of these told a young lady, of New Brunswick, N. J., to quit medicines and eat Grape-Nuts. She says: "For about 12 months I suffered severely with gastritis. I was unable to retain much of anything on my stomach, and consequently was compelled to give up my occupation."
 "I took quantities of medicine, and had an idea I was dieting, but I continued to suffer, and soon lost 15 pounds in weight. I was depressed in spirits and lost interest in everything generally. My mind was so affected that it was impossible to become interested in even the lightest reading matter."
 "After suffering for months I decided to go to a stomach specialist. He put me on Grape-Nuts and my health began to improve immediately. It was the keynote of a new life."
 "I found that I had been eating too much starchy food which I did not digest, and that the cereals which I had tried had been too heavy. I soon proved that it is not the quantity of food that one eats, but the quality."
 "In a few weeks I was able to go back to my old business of doing clerical work. I have continued to eat Grape-Nuts for both the morning and evening meal. I wake in the morning with a clear mind and feel rested. I regained my lost weight in a short time. I am well and happy again and owe it to Grape-Nuts." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

MAYNE RE-NOMINATED

Received About 1000 Majority at the Polls, Wednesday.

Judge F. W. Mayne was re-nominated at the Republican primaries of the thirteenth judicial circuit, Wednesday, by about 1000 majority. The vote was light throughout the district. His opponent, Elsha N. Clink, was at Traverse City on that day directing his forces and he carried the second and fourth wards.

South Arm Township gave Mr. Clink a seventy-five per cent ballot the vote being 198 for Clink and 68 for Mayne, our business man voting almost solidly for his nomination.

Only 91 votes were cast in Boyne City and all over the district only about one-third of the total vote was cast. From this it would seem that, while the primary is undoubtedly a good measure, the electors as a whole care little for it.

In South Arm, the election board saw to it that only those who had registered were allowed to vote, with a result that a number were turned away. Only one registration is necessary, and as the law has been in effect nearly five years, it seems almost incredible that so many would be careless in this respect.

Rural Carriers Meet.

The semi-annual meeting of the Rural Letter Carriers' Association of Antrim, Charlevoix and Kalkaska counties was held in Mathers' hall, Wednesday, February 22, with a crowd present. There was not much doing in the forenoon but the dinner served by the gleaners and the Grange was the one big feature of the day. After dinner a short business meeting was held and L. A. Brintnall of East Jordan was elected as a delegate to the state convention to be held in Bay City in July. The afternoon session was taken up with a discussion of state reward roads. Asa Maxwell of Elk Rapids, Thomas D. Meggison and J. M. Lichty of East Jordan were the principal speakers on this topic. A general discussion was indulged in. It seemed to be the general opinion that it would not be best to bond in order to build roads but to go ahead this year and build a mile of state reward road and if the experiment proved satisfactory it would then be well to bond. The next meeting will be held in Charlevoix on Labor Day.—Central Lake Torch.

One Secret of Success

is to identify yourself with a financial institution where you can receive advice on all your business affairs. We often have the opportunity to save people money, simply by showing them where they are making foolish moves. We see so many people buying homes, and farm land without a clear title being secured, or the proper legal papers being drawn. Again we see people paying more than property is worth. How much better they would be off if they could secure good business advice. We are always willing to help you in this way. Once you realize what it

The day is not far distant when "card of thanks" will be a thing of the past. When death enters a home neighbors never fail to do all in their power to place a silver lining back of the dark cloud, and they do not expect or desire any thanks through the public press. One subscriber however, not to be outdone, sent in the following: "Mr. Editor: I desire to thank the friends and neighbors most heartily in this manner for their cooperation during the illness and death of my late husband, who escaped from me by the hand of death on last Friday, while eating breakfast. To my friends and all who contributed so willingly towards making the last moments and funeral a success, I desire to remember most kindly, hoping these lines will find them enjoying the same blessing. As Seen By Others

The Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada is one of the most progressive companies doing business to-day in the world. In looking over the annual statement for the past year we find that large gains were made in all important items:—The Company is growing stronger as each year rolls around.

The Company paid to policyholders last year nearly three million, and since organization the amount is $23,243,167. The life assurance in force stands at nearly 130 millions.

The Company's growth during the past ten years is as follows: Income in 1899, $2,596,207 in 1909, $7,778,132; assets in 1899 $9,247,664 in 1909 this item is $32,804,996; the life assurances in force in 1899 were $52,806,035 in 1909 this item is nearly 130 millions.

This is certainly fine progress, and one the officers and stockholders may be proud of. The Company is well managed by President Robertson Macaulay and Managing Director T. B. Macaulay.

They are piloting this staunch old Company along safe lines, and have built up an institution which is looked upon as one of the strongest life assurance companies in the world.—Insurance News, Philadelphia.

Presbyterian Church Notes

Rev. A. D. Grigsby, Pastor.
The annual Praise Service of the Ladies Missionary Society of the Presbyterian church last Sunday evening was a great success in every way. The program was most unusual and attractive. The beautiful singing of the chorus choir of twenty-six voices sustained and enriched by the strains of the pipe organ, the rich full voice of Mrs. Cameron heard by most of the audience for the first time and that of Mrs. Stanley Bush always a favorite, the masterly flute playing of Jay Hite and Wm. Webster on the violin made a perfect musical program, perfectly carried out. In addition every one was delighted with Miss Martha Freiberg's interesting telling of the story of Miss Li a Chinese convert, and with Mrs. Grigsby's very practical and helpful talk. Mrs. J. Jamison presided. An offering of nearly $25 enriched the ladies fund.
Services as usual in the Presbyterian church next Sunday morning at 10:30, and evening at 7:00. A very hearty welcome. Short, practical, up-to-date talks on vital topics at both services. Chorus choir of the best singers in the city to render anthems and hymns accompanied on the pipe organ.—Come with us and we will help you.

Alfalfa as a Soil Builder.
The great virtue of alfalfa is its ability to increase the nitrogen content of the soil. About 77 per cent of the air is nitrogen. It is estimated that there are 35,000 tons over every acre of land, and is worth, at the present rate of 18 cents a pound, over $12,000,000, if it could be used. It is taken out of the air into soil by very minute plants called bacteria, which live in the little nodules found on the alfalfa roots. It takes about 25,000 bacteria to measure an inch.
They take the nitrogen from the air and use it in their life process and then give it up to the alfalfa plant in another form. Alfalfa plants remove a large amount of nitrogen from the soil, but the bacteria collect so much that a portion is left for other plants that follow.

OTTUMWA WOMAN CURED

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Ottumwa, Iowa.—"For years I was almost a constant sufferer from female trouble in all its dreadful forms, shooting pains all over my body, sick headache, spinal weakness, dizziness, depression, and everything that was horrid. I tried many doctors in different parts of the United States, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done more for me than all the doctors. I feel it my duty to tell you these things, for my heart is full of gratitude to you for the cure."—Mrs. HARRIET E. WAMPLER, 524 S. Ransom Street, Ottumwa, Iowa.

Consider This Advice. No woman should submit to a surgical operation, which may mean death, until she has given Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial.

This famous medicine, made only from roots and herbs, has for thirty years proved to be the most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism. Women residing in almost every city and town in the United States bear willing testimony to the wonderful virtue of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., invites all sick women to write her for advice. Her advice is free, confidential, and always helpful.

An Obituary Poem

By LAWRENCE ALFRED CLAY

(Copyright, 1911, by Associated Literary Press.)

In the village where Major Lee, retired on half pay, had taken up his residence, it was generally argued by the villagers that he was dictatorial and without sentiment. Moreover, he was blunt-spoken and a kicker. He had run a regiment, and he felt it his duty to run the town. His wife and his daughter Nellie were well liked, but the people kept clear of the major. He didn't carry a loaded gun with him, but he had a very sarcastic tongue.

And yet underneath his bluff, as his own family knew, Major Lee had a heart, and that heart was filled with sentiment. He had revealed it on several occasions, and now the family parrot had died he was almost in tears. That the major should have endured the presence of a squawking parrot for a single hour was a matter of astonishment outside the family, but he had endured her for three years, but that her death should bring a look of melancholy to his face caused certain people to think they had done him injustice.

Poll was dead. She had been found on her back beneath her perch, with all the squawk and chatter gone out of her. It was a case of old age and being too good. The major was the one to discover her lifeless remains, and for the first time in 15 years he was so choked up that he could not eat his breakfast.

"Gad, but it's tough—it's tough!" he said to wife and daughter. "We had a mutual affection for each other. She would swear when I told her to, and shut up when I raised my finger. Each of us had come to understand the moods of the other. She knew when I wanted to take my nap, and I knew when she wanted to take hers. I believe she thought of me when drawing her last breath."

"But, papa, she was a good deal of a nuisance, after all," replied Miss Nellie.

"Not a bit of it—not a bit. Nothing of the kind."

"But she swore at the minister and called him names."

"That was just one of her little ways to keep things moving along. She didn't know she was swearing."

"But I'm booked for the Catskills." "They be hanged! Nicest town—nicest climate—best fishing—nicest girls. Why, you'll own the whole show in a week. All you've got to do is to steal an editorial or two on our relations with Japan, and the boys will do the rest."

There was further protesting and arguing, but in the end the "Eagle" man carried his point, and that was how Mr. Clarence Thorpe, author and journalist, came to be occupying the editorial chair of the village paper when Miss Nellie Lee's poem appeared.

The poem was first read with surprise, then with ridicule, then with indignation. It was an insult to send a parrot obituary to the "Eagle." Mr. Thorpe was about to return it to the major with some caustic observations when Fate stayed his hand. Although Miss Nellie's name did not appear as the author, her father had given her credit in his letter. She might be one of the nice girls the editor had mentioned. The poem would not bear publication, even as a burlesque, but why hurt a nice girl's feelings?

Mr. Thorpe laid aside the manuscript and took a walk. A boy told him in which direction to walk to pass Major Lee's residence. He didn't know exactly why he wanted to pass it, but he walked on. The major was sitting on the veranda with his cigar, and Providence ordained that a summer shower should begin to fall at that moment.

"Come in, sir—come under shelter till it's over!" called the old soldier, and the invitation was taken advantage of.

The two discussed politics and other things and exchanged names. The major received the impression that Mr. Thorpe had selected the village in which to pass a month or so, and perhaps gather material for another book. This gave him an opening to relate the death of the parrot and the construction of the poem, and to add in his blunt way:

"Yes, mailed the poem to our paper last night. I've been told that the editor is an ass, but perhaps he'll see the beauties in these verses. If he doesn't I'll call at his office and make it my business to find out why he isn't running a sawmill."

The "Eagle" was to be issued in three days. If the poem did not go in the major would keep his word. But Mr. Thorpe was determined that it shouldn't go in. He would dodge the major. He would even bribe the office boy to do it.

On the day the paper was to be issued, he encountered the man of war on the street and was taken home with him for another talk on the veranda. On this occasion he was introduced to Mrs. Lee and daughter, and two hours had passed very pleasantly when a boy brought a copy of the "Eagle." It was hurriedly opened by the major. No poem!

"Nellie, my hat and cane!" he shouted. "I'm going down there and call that editor a fool!"

Away he went in spite of protestations, and after he was outside the gate, Miss Nellie said:

"Oh, I do, so hope he won't find the editor in! It was an awful foolish thing to send such a poem as that. Mr. Thorpe, can't you help me to get it back? I want to get it without father knowing it."

Mr. Thorpe promised to see what could be done. The major found the editor out, and that he brought the office boy 50 cents. The next day it was 50 cents more, and the next and the next. Then the major gave up the quest. His emotions over the death of Poll had begun to wane.

Every two or three days Mr. Thorpe occupied a seat on the veranda for a time, and then he began to be invited to dinner. The editor returned from California, but still Mr. Thorpe lingered. It was at the end of three months, with a trip now and then to the city, that he major said to him:

"Yes, go in and win her if you can. Hang you, you rascal, I found out that you suppressed that poem on me, but I haven't laid it up against you."

French for Grandmothers.

One of society's latest fads is the conversational French class for mothers and grandmothers. The first one was begun so that the debutantes would not feel their superiority too keenly because of their ability to speak French and German while the elders converse only in English. Although an ambitious mother before this has often made use of the French nurse and thus gained a smattering of the foreign tongue, she has doubts today of her accent and the quality of her vocabulary, so she becomes a member of a class as speedily as possible, using the nurse only for practice between times. Once fired with linguistic fervor, the members of a class endeavor to make each meeting an occasion for conversing in French.

Effective Threat.

"I hear that old Grabit has agreed to give his son an allowance of $5,000 a year."

"Yes. The boy swore that if his father didn't give him more than $500 a month for spending money he would down and run the 'Eagle' for me."

Practical Joker Meant to Abolish His Wife, and Doubtless He Did.

When the first shipment of frozen eggs arrived from Australia their extreme hardness astonished the brokers.

One man, calling at a broker's office, was amazed to see him taking aim at the wall with an egg.

"What the dickens are you at?" he said.

But the broker let drive, the only result being a slight dent in the wall. The thing being explained, the man took a couple of the eggs, put them in his pocket, and left to settle his wife. Arriving home, he waited till the family was assembled for dinner, and then banged an egg at the new dodo.

But the smile quickly faded from his face. The egg had thawed.—London Tit-Bits.

SUCCESSFUL TREATMENT OF PIMPLES AND BLACKHEADS.

A speedy and economical treatment for disfiguring pimples is the following: Gently smear the face with Cuticura Ointment, but do not rub. Wash off the ointment in five minutes with Cuticura Soap and hot water and bathe freely for some minutes. Repeat morning and evening. At other times use hot water and Cuticura Soap for bathing the face as often as agreeable. Cuticura soap and ointment are equally successful for itching, burning, scaly and crusted humors of the skin and scalp, with loss of hair, from infancy to age, usually affording instant relief, when all else fails. Send to Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Boston, Mass., for the latest Cuticura book on the care and treatment of the skin and scalp.

And It Was All Imagination

"I wonder how much imagination governs some persons' senses?" remarked a visitor at the St. Regis yesterday. "For a Christmas present I sent to a young woman of my acquaintance one of the most elaborate sachet cases I could find. It was such a beautiful thing that I didn't put perfume in it, for some women prefer to use a certain kind all the time, and I thought I would leave it to the recipient to put her own particular sachet powder in the case. You may imagine I was somewhat amazed to read this in her enthusiastic letter of thanks: 'It's perfume has pervaded the whole room.'"—New York Press.

England's Oldest School.

A controversy has arisen in England as to which school has the right to claim greatest age. There are two schools which were founded in the early part of the seventh century—the King's school, Rochester, and the King's school, Canterbury. Justus, on his appointment to the see of Rochester in 604, made provision for a school in connection with the cathedral. Augustine established the Canterbury school about the same time. St. Peter's at York dates back to the eleventh century.

Simple, Rather.

He—You are the only woman I ever loved.

She—Do you expect me to believe that?

He—I do. I swear it is true.

She—Then I believe you. Any man who would expect a woman to believe that cannot have been much in the company of women.

Woman as Bank Cashier.

Miss Ethel Boynton is cashier of the National Bank of Bayside, L. I., the only woman in the state holding such a position. She says that to be trustworthy a man or woman must first be kind, then he cannot find it in his heart to betray the trust that is reposed in him.

Commercial Anxiety.

"A clockmaker must be the most uneasy of manufacturers."

"Why so?"

"Because there is always the prospect of a strike in his works."

The Human Heart

The heart is a wonderful double pump, through the action of which the blood stream is kept sweeping round and round through the body at the rate of seven miles an hour. "Remember this, that our bodies will not stand the strain of over-work without good, pure blood any more than the engine can run smoothly without oil." After many years of study in the active practice of medicine, Dr. R. V. Pierce found that when the stomach was out of order, the blood impure and there were symptoms of general breakdown, a tonic made of the glyceric extract of certain roots was the best corrective. This he called

BLOOD HUMORS

It is important that you should now rid your blood of those impure, poisonous, effete matters that have accumulated in it during the winter.

The secret of the unequalled and really wonderful success of

as a remedy for Blood Humors is the fact that it combines, not simply sarsaparilla, but the utmost remedial values of more than twenty ingredients—Roots, Barks and Herbs—known to have extraordinary efficacy in purifying the blood and building up the whole system.

There is no real substitute for Hood's Sarsaparilla, no "just as good" medicine. Get Hood's today, in liquid form or tablets called Sarsatabs.

What To Do FOR Sickly Children Letters from Mothers

"I wish I could induce every mother, who has a delicate, sickly child, to try your delicious Cod Liver and Iron Tonic VINOL. It restored our little daughter to health and strength after everything else had failed."—Mrs. C. W. STUMP, Canton, Ohio.

Mrs. F. P. Skogard, of Minneapolis, Minn., writes, "I want to recommend VINOL to every mother who has a weak or sickly child. My little boy was sickly, pale, and had no appetite for two years." I tried different medicines and doctors without benefit, but thanks to VINOL, he is a well and healthy boy to-day."

C. Allen, of New Bedford, Mass., writes, "My two puny children regained rapidly in flesh and strength in a very short time after taking VINOL."

We positively know VINOL will build up little ones and make them healthy, strong and robust. Try one bottle, and if you are not satisfied, we will return your money.

THE LORD IS MY SHEPHERD.

This twenty-third psalm is like a harp, whose strings being touched, awaken sweetest melodies that thrill the heart with joy and gladness. It is one of the brightest gems in the golden setting of God's blessed Word. The very first verse contains a volume, in the sense of strength, protection, rest and love it imparts. "The Lord is my shepherd." The Lord, the creator and preserver of all things, whose voice is heard in the tempest, whose smile is seen in the rainbow, whose finger-touch kindles the watch-fires that gleam on the brow of night; who paints the clouds with amber and gold and drops the purple veil of twilight over land and sea, bringing peace and rest to all the world—"The Lord is my shepherd."

What does a shepherd do? He leads his flock in the morning light, out over hill and plain, through the barren and waste places to green spots, where is abundant herbage; he guides them by cool streams where they may refresh themselves and quench their thirst; he watches unceasingly; and when they are weary, lifts the tender ones to his bosom, folds his plaid about them, shelters them from the storm and tempest and brings them safely to the fold again. So does our shepherd—the Lord, the Saviour—lead his own. So does he guard our trembling feet over the rough and stony paths of life; so does he bring us into sunny places where we may feed on the Word of his promises; so does he give us the water of life to quench our thirst, and when storms and tempests overtake us, he puts his arm around us, saying: "Fear not, my child; find rest and shelter here on my breast. I will never leave thee nor forsake thee." Is there one who would trust to trust him while we hear the whisper of that divine voice within us?

The soul exults in the conscious verity of that verse: "Yea though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil, for thou art with me; thy rod and thy staff they comfort me." It is said of Alpine shepherds that as the sun sinks to rest behind the distant snow-capped peaks and the silver mist comes creeping over the valley and up the mountain-side, the shepherds on the cliffs called to those above them, "Praise be to God, good-night!" so from cliff to cliff the words echo and re-echo until the sound is lost in infinite space. "Praise be to God, good-night!"—a note of adoration and thanksgiving for the mercies of the day.

THERE IS NO DEATH.

The sunlight glitters keen and bright,
Where miles away,
Lies stretching to my dazzled sight,
A luminous belt, a misty light,
Beyond the dark pine burls and wastes of sandy gray.

The tremendous shadow of the seal
Against its ground
Of silvery light, rock, hill and tree,
Still as a picture, clear and free,
With varying outline mark the coast for miles around.

I draw a freer breath—I seem Like all I see—

Waves in the sun—the white winged gleam
Of sea birds in the slanting beam—
And far off sails which fit before the south wind free.

So when time's veil shall fall asunder
The soul may know
No fearful change, nor sudden wonder,
Nor sink the weight of mystery under.
But with the upward rise, and with the vastness grow.

And all we shrink from now may seem
No new revealing;
Familiar as our childhood's dream,
Or pleasant memory of a dream,
The loved and cherished past upon the new life's gleam.
—John Greenleaf Whittier

DANGER IN DELAY.

Kidney Diseases Are Too Dangerous for East Jordan People to Neglect.

The great danger of kidney troubles is that they get a firm hold before the sufferer recognizes them. Health is gradually undermined. Backache, headache, nervousness, lameness, soreness, lumbago, urinary troubles, dropsy, diabetes and Bright's disease follow in merciless succession. Don't neglect your kidneys. Cure the kidneys with the certain and safe remedy, Doan's Kidney Pills, which has cured people right here in East Jordan.

Mrs. R. M. Coon, west side, East Jordan, Mich., says: "I know that Doan's Kidney Pills are a good remedy for kidney troubles. I first used them about three years ago and they did me a world of good. Last spring I had another attack of kidney trouble and my back ached intensely. I did not rest well and upon arising in the morning felt tired and lame. Doan's Kidney Pills, procured from the Spring Drug Co., promptly relieved the aches and pains and also regulated the passages of the kidney secretions. I have been feeling so much better in every way since I took Doan's Kidney Pills that it gives me pleasure to say a word in their praise."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50c. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

To Consumptives.

Edward A. Wilson's Preparation of Hypophosphites and Biotin from the original formula is the Sovereign Remedy for Consumption, Asthma, Bronchitis, Catarrh, LaGrippe, Coughs, Colds and all Throat and Lung Maladies.

Thousands of people say they have been relieved by it. Those who have used it will have no other, and recommend it to their fellow sufferers.

It has cured many after they were given up as incurable by their physicians.

The undersigned as a consumptive can testify from his own experience as to its value.

Write at once—delays are dangerous, and may prove fatal.

People Will Talk You Know

And that's the reason why Dr. Pierce's Family Medicines are advertised so little now-a-days. They have made hundreds of thousands of cures in the past 40 years, and some of the grateful people whom they have restored to health are to be found almost everywhere. There's scarcely a hamlet that don't contain some. Look them up. Interview them. They are living, walking, active advertisements

For Dr. Pierce's Family Medicines.

You can believe your neighbors. Therefore ask them. What cured them will very likely cure you, if similarly afflicted—only give them a good, fair trial.

It's a good, sound, common sense policy to use medicines only of KNOWN COMPOSITION, and which contain neither alcohol nor habit-forming drugs. The most intelligent people, and many of the most successful, conscientious physicians, follow this judicious course of action. The leading medical authorities, of all schools of medicine, endorse the ingredients composing Dr. Pierce's medicines. These are plainly printed on wrappers and attested under oath. There's no secrecy; an open publicity, square-deal policy is followed by the makers.

We have a profound desire to avoid all offense to the most delicate sensitiveness of modest women, for whom we entertain the most sincere respect and admiration. We shall not, therefore, particularize here concerning the symptoms and peculiar ailments incident to the sex for which Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has for more than 40 years proven such a boon. We cannot, however, do a better service to the afflicted of the gentler sex than to refer them to Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, a great family doctor book of 1000 pages, bound in cloth and given away gratis, or sent, post-paid, on receipt of 31 one-cent stamps—to cover cost of mailing only, or 21 cents for paper covered book. All the delicate ailments and matters about which every woman, whether young or old, single or married, should know, but which their sense of delicacy makes them hesitate to ask even the family physician about, are made plain in this great book.
