

Charlevoix County Herald.

Vol. 15

EAST JORDAN, MICHIGAN, SATURDAY, APRIL 1, 1911.

No. 13

State Ticket

Brief History of the Republican Candidates.

Next Monday, April 3rd, is the annual spring election at which several important state offices are to be filled. The Republican candidates comprise a high class ticket worthy of your support.

For Justice of Supreme Court

Russell C. Ostrander, of Lansing, was born at Ypsilanti, Michigan, September 1, 1851, and removed with his parents to Lansing in April, 1858, where he has since resided. He was educated in the ward and high school of Lansing, and received a practical and thorough commercial education. He entered the law department of the University of Michigan in 1874 receiving his degree in 1876. Mr. Ostrander was nominated September 8, 1904, for justice of the supreme court and was elected November 8, 1904, for the term of seven years. He was unanimously re-nominated at the State Convention at Saginaw, March 2, 1911.

For Justice of Supreme Court

John E. Bird, of Adrian, was born at Clayton, Lenawee county, Michigan, December 19, 1862. He received his education in the high schools and at Adrian College. He was admitted to the bar in November, 1888. He was prosecuting attorney of Lenawee county four years, 1895-99, was elected to the office of attorney general for the terms of 1905-6 and 1907-8, and elected for a third term in 1908. In 1910, Mr. Bird was appointed to the Supreme Court to fill a vacancy, the appointment being confirmed at the last election. He was nominated by acclamation for the full term of six years at the Saginaw convention.

For Regent of the University

Benjamin S. Hanchett was born in Grand Rapids in 1868. He received his education in the public schools of that city, but left school at the age of 14 to become office boy for the Grand Rapids Street Railway Company. He has been in the service of the latter company continuously for twenty-seven years, and through industry and ability, passing through all the offices of that concern, he is now its president and general manager. Mr. Hanchett is a member of the Republican State Central Committee.

For Regent of the University

Lucius L. Hubbard, of Houghton, was born at Cincinnati, Ohio, August 7, 1849. He received his education at Harvard University, where the degree of LL. B. was conferred upon him, at the University of Boston receiving the degree of Ph. D., and at the University of Bonn, graduating in 1886. From 1891 to 1893 he was instructor in Mineralogy in the Michigan College of Mines and State Geologist for the six years following. He is the author of several papers on mineralogy and geology and is a member of numerous engineering and mining societies.

For Supt. of Public Instruction

Luther L. Wright, of Ironwood, was born at Canton, New York, January 18, 1856. He is of Scotch-Irish descent. He was educated in the common schools of Wisconsin, and Ripon College, from which he graduated with the degree of A. B. He was chosen county commissioner of schools of Gogebic county five successive terms without opposition, was superintendent of the public schools of Ironwood twenty years. He was appointed a member of the state board of education in 1901, and was later twice elected to that office. In July, 1906, he was unanimously chosen candidate for superintendent of public instruction and was elected for the term of two years. Mr. Wright was re-nominated by acclamation in 1908 to succeed himself and re-elected. At the Saginaw convention, he had no opposition and was re-nominated by acclamation.

For State Board of Education

Thomas W. Nadal, of Olivet, was born at Milroy, Indiana, June 17, 1875 and was educated at De Pauw University, Indiana, graduating in 1898, and at Harvard University where the degree of M. A. and Ph. D. were conferred upon him. He has spent considerable time in traveling and study.

(Continued on fourth page.)

Some Scrap

Indulged in by South Arm Republicans, Saturday.

A total of 578 ballots were cast at the South Arm Republican primary last Saturday. From this vote it would seem that the citizens of this township are more interested in local politics than in county or state.

Below are the number of votes cast and the majorities:

Supervisor: Jacob H. Graff 326, Hanson E. Hutton 216. Majority 109.
Clerk: William A. Pickard 302, Samuel E. Rogers 173. Majority 129.
Treasurer: Daniel E. Goodman 272, Martin Runling 205. Majority 77.

Highway Commissioner: George W. Hayner 276, James M. Isaman 264. Majority 12.

Overseer: George Pringle 251, Josiah St. John 150, Nathan Liskum 134. Majority 101.

Justice of the Peace, full term: Herman I. McMillan 316, W. Asa Loveday 183. Majority 127.

Justice of the Peace, to fill vacancy: Charles McCalmon 450.

Member Board of Review: Herbert L. Olney 267, Alexander Bush 193. Majority 74.

Constables, four: William Johnson 210, Arthur Ward 344, Thomas J. Smith 196, Elias Hammond 3.

Township Committee: Roy L. Lorraine, Harry Curkendall, Chas. A. Hudson.

State Teachers' Institute.

A teachers' institute has been appointed for Charlevoix county same to be held in the city of Charlevoix on Friday and Saturday, April 7-8, 1911.

Prof. K. D. Calkins of Mt. Pleasant has been appointed an instructor and he will have charge of the meeting.

Prof. Calkins is a specialist in the line of Geography and will give a course of lectures on this subject that no teacher in the county can afford to miss.

This meeting was appointed by the Department for an earlier date but owing to the prevailing health conditions of the county at that time it was thought unwise to hold same.

We realize that the date set is a little late but hope that it will serve to brighten the pathway of the teacher whose pupils yawn and look toward the trout streams during the warm weather of the closing months of the term.

Full program will be mailed to teachers this week.

Teachers will be expected to close their schools on Friday and will receive certificate of attendance which will entitle them to pay for the day.

It may require an effort on the part of some of the teachers of the county to reach Charlevoix but the meeting will be worth the effort.

Take due notice thereof and meet with us at Charlevoix on April 7-8, 1911.

J. H. MILFORD,
Commissioner.

Strawberry Profits of $246.66 an Acre.

J. E. Jones of Manton, Wexford county, Western Michigan, reports the clearing of $370 from an acre and one-half devoted to raising strawberries. Part of the ground had a southern slope and part a northern. That part facing the south was set to berries that ripened early and the portion sloping to the north to berries that ripened late. Water was purchased by the wholesale from Manton village to tide over dry spells. The early berries were shipped to Petoskey and Harbor Springs where they brought top prices, and the late berries to Kalamazoo where they sold at fancy figures, because of the great size and fine flavor. The net profits from the patch after all expenses were paid, including labor, water and marketing was $370. This is a return of $246.66 an acre.

A Special Medicine for Kidney Ailments.

Many elderly people have found in Foley's Kidney Remedy a quick relief and permanent benefit from kidney and bladder ailments and from annoying urinary irregularities due to advancing years. Isaac N. Regan, Farmer, Mo., says: "Foley's Kidney Remedy effected a complete cure in my case and I want others to know of it." Hite Drug Co.

E. H. CLARK

The Charlevoix County Fruit Growers' Association with E. H. Clark of East Jordan as president was recently organized for the purpose of developing the fruit growing industry in the Charlevoix County Section of Western Michigan. The members of the association believe that the county about Lake Michigan and Pine Lake is as good as any in the wide world for producing "fruit with flavor."

Mr. Clark has one of the finest fruit farms in this county and is an enthusiast on the subject of apples. His exhibit at the last County Fair at East Jordan attracted considerable interest and since then he has prepared for display in different places some of the finest specimens of apples shown from this region and grown on his farm near here.

A Summer Resort Campaign.

A fund of $2,000 has been provided by the enterprising citizens of Traverse City for the purpose of advertising the resort advantages that that city and the surrounding territory have. An effort is being made with fair chances of success, of increasing the fund to $3,000. A large fraction of the money will be used in placing display advertisements in papers in cities to the south of Chicago for the purpose of getting people to come to the Grand Traverse region for the hot weather season.

Marriage Licenses

Marriage Licenses issued for the week ending March 25th.

Anthony Schaffer, 49.....Charlevoix
Esther Boston, 53.....Charlevoix
Charles Robinson, 22.....Boyne City
Ruth Frazee, 16.....Boyne City
Edward Green, 25.....Charlevoix
Georgia Miller, 18.....Charlevoix
Clarence Bowen, 21.....Boyne City
Mabel Gladstone, 16.....Boyne City

D. S. PAYTON,
County Clerk.

HAIR HEALTH

If You Have Scalp or Hair Trouble, Take Advantage of This Offer

We could not afford to so strongly endorse Rexall "93" Hair Tonic and continue to sell it as we do, if it did not do all we claim it will. Should our enthusiasm carry us away, and Rexall "93" Hair Tonic not give entire satisfaction to the users, they would lose faith in us and our statements, and in consequence our business prestige would suffer.

We assure you that if your hair is beginning to unnaturally fall out or if you have any scalp trouble, Rexall "93" Hair Tonic will promptly eradicate dandruff, stimulate hair growth and prevent premature baldness.

Our faith in Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is so strong that we ask you to try it on our positive guarantee that your money will be cheerfully refunded if it does not do as we claim. Two sizes 50c. and $1.00. Sold only at our store.—The Rexall Store. W. C. Spring Drug Co.

The Lambert 1911 Model

W. F. Empey wishes to say to the public that he is agent for the Lambert Auto. His car goes out regardless of roads or conditions and never finds sand too deep or hills so steep that it cannot take you to your journey's end and bring you home without a tow.

A demonstrating car is here on display. If you anticipate getting a car be sure you see the Lambert before deciding.

BOOK SALE

We are closing out a quantity of Books for 25c per copy

This is an opportunity for book-lovers to secure high grade books at an unusual price as they are by standard authors and when copyrights formerly sold for $1.25 and $1.50 each.

Call and look them over; more than 100 copies to select from.

Your choice, 25c.

W. C. SPRING Drug Co.

Real Estate
W. A. Loveday
FIRE INSURANCE.

The Family Theatre

Invites you to attend their clean, wholesome, entertainments.

Open Every Evening, Except Sundays.

MATINEE Saturday afternoons, to which we invite those from the farm who are unable to attend in the evening and all local people who care to do so.

Change of Program Each Day

Admission 5c to all entertainments except Saturday evening, when a double program is given for 10c. See Program Elsewhere.

C. V. MILES, Prop'r.

Jepson Block.

Hot Water

For cleanliness and comfort hot water is absolutely indispensable. If you already have it in your house, and any of the faucets are leaking and needs fixing, send for us. If you have not a hot-water system in your house, let us put it in. We will do it in the very best manner by skillful workmen and at moderate cost. —Let us do it and it will be done right.

MARINE SUPPLIES,

GEORGE H. SPENCER.

Fred E. Boosinger

Read — Reflect — Consider — Compare

Steel Fabric Suits

All Wool Fabrics. Thoroughly shrunken. Fast colors. Steel fabric hair cloth fronts. Padded shoulders. Sanitary. Weatherproof. Hygienic.

This is the kind of Boy's Clothes that we sell.

Boy's Knickerbocker Suits. Ages 6 to 17 years, from $3.00 to $12.00.

Long Pant Suits, 12 to 18 years, from $5.00 to $12.00.

Odd Knee Pants, 4 to 17 years, 50c to $1.50.

This is the kind of a line with which you can supply your wants, and you are bound to be pleased with the beautiful patterns and the wide variety of swell models. If you buy Steel Fibre Clothes, you will be pleased all the way through, and you will get the worth of your money. "Wear-Proof" is the name of this clothing and it is true to its name.

"Quality First of All"
Our Motto.

Fred E. Boosinger

SAYS LIZARDS ARE LOVABLE

John Muir Stands Sponsor for Their Elevation to the Grade of Pets.

John Muir, writing of lizards in the Atlantic Monthly, affirms that these creatures, repulsive to most people, are really lovable.

"The eye can hardly follow them, but they never make long sustained runs, usually only about 10 or 12 feet, then a sudden stop and as sudden a start again, going all their journeys by quick, jerking impulses.

"These many stops I find are necessary as rests, for they are short winded and when pursued steadily are soon out of breath, pant pitifully and are easily caught.

"Some are colored like the sky, bright as bluebirds, others gray like the lichened rocks on which they hunt and bask.

"One specimen fourteen inches long which I observed closely made no use whatever of its tender sprouting limbs, but glided with all the soft ease and grace of a snake.

"Gentle saurians, dragons, descendants of an ancient and mighty race. Heaven bless you all and make your virtues known, for few of us know as yet that scales may cover fellow creatures as gentle and lovable as do feathers or hair or cloth."

When Love is Barred.

"Susie," said the handsome plumber, laying down his tools, which he had taken up by mistake—"Susie, I love yer."

"Get along now, do!" sniggered the coy kitchen-maid. "You're jokin'!"

"No, I ain't!" said the man of plies and screws. "I mean it straight!"

"Well, why don't yer choose time for love-makin' when I'm not busy?" answered the basement Venus, with a pout. "Can't yer see I'm washin' up?"

"All right, Susie; don't get cross. Look 'ere, if I splins out this 'ere job so that it lasts till tomorrow afternoon will yer promise to get yer work out of the way so that we can chat things over like?"

"Tomorrow afternoon, indeed!" snapped Susie. "Yer ain't in a hurry, I must say! What's the matter with tonight?"

"Tonight—in my own time?" retorted the plumber scornfully. "I don't think!"—Exchange.

Lobbying for Scallops.

A unique method of lobbying has been adopted by the fishermen who are anxious that scallops along the Maine coast should be better protected.

In Judgment on Himself.

An amusing story of the adventures of a defendant comes from the Swansea (Eng.) Quarter Sessions, held some days ago. A man named Henry Craggs was indicted for stealing meat, but when the case was called the prisoner could not be found.

Of Course Not.

"A woman will forgive a man a great deal if he says her mouth is a perfect Cupid's bow."

"But suppose her mouth isn't a perfect Cupid's bow?"

It May Be So.

"Sarah Bernhardt says a woman is as old as she acts."

Wealthy Men

There Is No Royal Road to Vast Fortunes

By GEORGE BRANDEN

THE world at large, longing for wealth as the symbol of ease and cheerful indolence as one great hungry, but stupid giant, certainly fails to realize how much real, genuine hard work the men whose names are associated with fabulous work have done and in many cases are doing right now.

And moreover it is not spasmodic work, done in fits and starts against their will; their great success is not always a matter of luck and in many cases not even a matter of supreme ability; it is rather a matter of supreme energy and capacity for genuine hard work.

It seems a strange arraignment of things which allots wealth to the man who does not enjoy idleness and chafes at inaction and decrees that the man who sighs for ease and luxurious surroundings shall never realize on his sighs. But that is most certainly the arraignment. The men of great wealth frequently have the fortune of a hundred because they have the energy of a hundred and give their capacity for work full play.

Take, for example, George Westinghouse, whose name appears often on your electrical fans, on the car brakes, if you notice them, and on many things electrical which you happen to see.

If you had never seen this man and knew nothing of him you would probably picture him as a bulky, diamond-studded person with an apoplectic complexion who does not know the topography of his own plant and would yawn if you asked him how many men he employed—one of those mythical creatures which exist chiefly in the public imagination spending their only moments of real activity on the Muldoon physical culture farm.

In so far as this relates to Mr. Westinghouse it is ridiculously untrue. As it happens, the great Westinghouse is no longer ensconced in that line of buildings which bears his name, but in an adjacent factory amid all the beautiful and pleasant places of residence on the American continent.

Proper Studies for Children at School. BY OSCAR THIELE Chicago

It is just as essential to learn the arts of sewing and cooking as to learn reading, writing and arithmetic. My motto is, "One can never learn too much."

A girl is not compelled to take up sewing or cooking. She does it of her own free will. Still I must criticize the way cooking is taught in school.

I have two girls at school. The older studies cooking and she enjoys it. Before she studied cooking in school, she never took any interest in cooking at home, although my wife is a very good cook.

I think the teachers are doing their share toward teaching the pupils, but it depends much on the children whether they learn or not.

Some are slow in learning and others are bright. What I do not approve of is the fact that the pupils of the higher grades get too much home work and their parents are expected to help them with their lessons.

Should the parents be poorly educated or have half forgotten their learning, then their help would be useless and the child's lessons poor.

Therefore their school hours ought to be one or two hours longer, so that they can do most of their home work at school with the teachers to assist them.

Need of Fresh Air for Our Cattle. By F. SCHMIDT

In my opinion the importance of the sanitary conditions under which cattle are kept is not sufficiently taken into consideration.

We know that it is recommended that cattle should be treated with serum against tuberculosis. But there is very little done to keep cattle in sanitary stables in order to prevent tuberculosis.

We hear almost every day the preaching of pure air for people in order to prevent sickness, particularly tuberculosis. But when do we hear anybody advocating plenty of pure air for the cattle?

I have the opportunity to see every day a lot of slaughtered cattle that are condemned as unfit for human food on account of the tuberculosis from which they suffer.

I think that it would more than pay to keep cattle in perfectly sanitary stables. This would tend to provide humanity with wholesome food, and besides it would prevent the loss of cattle on account of unhealthful conditions.

Widower Should Contract Second Marriage. By MARY LIGHTE

There is no real reason why an elderly man should not make a second marriage. I have had the care of my father for ten years, and he has been a widower 23 years.

He might have been married 20 years of this time only for other people's interference.

I am not sorry that I have given ten years of my life to his care, or that I am still doing so.

But what I cannot check is my father's oft-repeated "Dear, I'm so lonely."

CARACAS THE CAPITAL OF VENEZUELA

VIEW OF CARACAS, VENEZUELA

THE capital of the United States of Venezuela deserves to be known better than it is as one of the most charming cities to visit and one of the most beautiful and pleasant places of residence on the American continent.

Venezuela is a federal republic like the United States, Mexico, Brazil and Argentina, a union of sovereign states. Caracas is the capital of the Union, and like Washington, Buenos Ayres, Rio de Janeiro and Mexico City, is not located in any one of the states composing the union, but in a federated district especially set apart as the seat of government.

One may sail around the world, but nowhere else will he find so bold a shore as that presented to the Caribbean.

Caracas was founded in 1567 by the Spanish captain, Diego de Lozada. Its principal claim to historical distinction is that it is the birthplace of Miranda and of Bolivar. Gen. Francisco Miranda, born in 1752, served with distinction on Washington's staff and with the patriots in the French revolution and organized and commanded the first serious attempt against Spanish rule in the western hemisphere.

Caracas is now a city of something less than 100,000 inhabitants, neither very modern nor yet very ancient in appearance, less attractive in buildings, but more beautiful in its environment than most of the Spanish American capitals. Surrounded by picturesque mountains and in one of the prettiest little valleys, it has a charm not possessed by more pretentious capitals. The valley of the Guaire is a garden spot and one of the richest in natural fertility in the world.

Bolívar's Statue, Bolívar Square, Caracas

The city is lighted with electricity and gas. It has a complete telephone system and other modern conveniences. Some of the avenues are broad and shaded by tropical trees, with here and there handsome buildings of modern architecture, bits of Caracas which compare favorably with the larger and more stately capitals of Mexico, Brazil, Argentina or Uruguay.

The principal square in Caracas is the Plaza Bolívar, in the heart of the city, and containing four handsome bronze fountains. The walks are mosaic and the intervening spaces are little gardens set out with tropical plants and flowers. In the center is the equestrian statue of Bolívar on a handsome granite pedestal. Plaza Bolívar is the place of rendezvous of Caracas society. Twice a week and on holidays in the evenings a military band gives concerts.

Washington square, opposite the church of Santa Teresa, with very pretty flower plats and some very fine trees, contains in the center a statue of George Washington. Pantheon square, in the northern section of the city, is larger than either the Bolívar or Washington squares. It contains a statue of Miranda, the martyr of independence, who died in the Spanish fortress of Ccuta a prisoner of war on July 14, 1816.

The federal palace and the capitol together occupy the entire block to the southwest of the Plaza Bolívar. They are the two most important modern structures in Caracas. The federal palace in Corinthian style occupies the northern half of the block. It is the home of several of the executive departments of the government and of the high federal court. The capitol is an imposing building of the Doric style of architecture. It contains the halls of the chamber of deputies and of the senate.

Particularly the Ladies.

Not only pleasant and refreshing to the taste, but gently cleansing and sweetening to the system, Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna is particularly adapted to ladies and children, and beneficial in all cases in which a wholesome, strengthening and effective laxative should be used.

Its wonderful popularity, however, has led unscrupulous dealers to offer imitations which act unsatisfactorily. Therefore, when buying, to get its beneficial effects, always note the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—plainly printed on the front of every package of the genuine Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna.

For sale by all leading druggists. Price 50 cents per bottle.

POOR HUBBY!

Dick—That is Mrs. Gabber. She fell downstairs and bit her tongue in two.

Harry—I feel sorry for her husband. She was a terror when she had only one tongue!

HEAD SOLID MASS OF HUMOR

"I think the Cuticura Remedies are the best remedies for eczema I have ever heard of. My mother had a bald who had a rash on its head when it was real young. Doctor called it baby rash. He gave us medicine, but it did no good. In a few days the head was a solid mass; a running sore. It was awful, the child cried continually. We had to hold him and watch him to keep him from scratching the sore. His suffering was dreadful. At last we remembered Cuticura Remedies. We got a dollar bottle of Cuticura Resolvent, a box of Cuticura Ointment, and a bar of Cuticura Soap. We gave the Resolvent, as directed, washed the head with the Cuticura Soap, and applied the Cuticura Ointment. We had not used half before the child's head was clear and free from eczema, and it has never come back again. His head was healthy and he had a beautiful head of hair. I think the Cuticura Ointment very good for the hair. It makes the hair grow and prevents falling hair." (Signed) Mrs. Francis Lund, Plain City, Utah, Sept. 19, 1910. Send to the Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Boston, Mass., for free Cuticura Book on the treatment of skin and scalp troubles.

Swimming Hole Defined. Mrs. Suburb—What is a swimming-hole? Mr. Suburb—A body of water entirely surrounded by boys.—Suburban Life.

The Lady and the Hobble. "Do you think the hobble gown will remain long in vogue?" "If it doesn't you can cast it aside." "Yes; but I hate to waste time learning to hobble."—Suburban Life.

THE YOUNG BRIDE'S FIRST DISCOVERY

Their wedding tour had ended, and they entered their new home to settle down to what they hoped to be one long uninterrupted blissful honeymoon.

But, alas! the young bride's troubles soon began, when she tried to reduce the cost of living with cheap big cake baking powders.

She soon discovered that all she got was a lot for her money, and it was not all baking powder, for the bulk of it was cheap materials which had no leavening power. Such powders will not make light, wholesome food. And because of the absence of leavening gas, it requires from two or three times as much to raise cakes or biscuits as it does of Calumet Baking Powder.

Thus, eventually, the actual cost to you, of cheap baking powders, is more than Calumet would be.

Cheap baking powders often leave the bread bleached and acid, somewhat yellow and alkaline, and often unpalatable. They are not always of uniform strength and quality.

Now the bride buys Calumet—the perfectly wholesome baking powder, moderate in price, and always uniform and reliable. Calumet keeps indefinitely, makes cooking easy, and is certainly the most economical after all.

Common sense in an uncommon degree is what the world calls wisdom.—Cokeridge.

TO CURE A COLD IN ONE DAY. Take LAXATIVE BROWN Quinine Tablets. Druggists refund money if it fails to cure. W. W. GROVE'S signature is on each box. 2c.

Some women are good to look at, but bad to be tied to.

A cup of Garfield Tea before retiring will insure that all-important measure, the daily cleaning of the system.

Many a man who swears at a big monopoly is nourishing a little one.

NOTES FROM MEADOWBROOK FARM

By William Pitt

Look out for mites.
Select seed corn early.

The cow never tires of silage.
Don't put a sick fowl in a coop with healthy ones.

Scrap from the table will help to reduce the feed bills.
Old corn is the best feed until the new gets well cured out.

Every corn grower should test every ear of seed corn this year.
In buying a cow the first thing to do is to look well into the breed.

Green-cut bone must not be confused with ground bone or bone meal.
A great deal of interest is being manifested these days in the small farm.

Horses, hogs, pigs and calves eat silage and thrive on it as well as does the dairy cow.
The milk from a cow in a poor run-down condition is certain to be correspondingly poor.

Every orchard ought to be planted in checks to admit of clean cultivation with the smallest amount of hoeing.
On an average farm, fifty hens bring big returns as the best cow in the herd with less feed and care.

Many times, one hill will produce six eight-ounce potatoes; which is at the rate of 520 bushels per acre.
Chicken-eating sows are said to be cured by a tablespoonful of baking soda in slop three times a day for a week.

The cream separator, the silo and the manure spreader should find a place in the equipment of every dairy farm.
The feeding of clover hay to poultry is a very simple matter and can be successfully done by any farmer or poultryman.

Scales are a good thing for a man to have. They enable him to know just what he has to sell and also what he buys.
Eggs that go into their winter quarters in an unthrifty and low flesh condition cannot bring good vigorous lambs in the spring.

There is often a tendency on the part of beginners to increase their herds too rapidly. Better go slowly and breed only the best.
A variety of crops certainly adds to the pleasure of living, if he can have on his table the early strawberries and the late blackberries.

Go carefully over your farming scheme as you worked it last season, try to discover the weak spots and set to work to remedy them.
If you have plenty of pasture and milk, that veal calf will make nice baby beef this fall late, either for market or for the home meat supply.

It is estimated that 90 per cent of the poultry product of the country come from the farm, and that the value of those is close to $300,000,000 yearly.
A few drops of tincture of iron in the drinking water makes an excellent spring tonic for the poultry. It tones up the system and makes rich, red blood.

While there is more or less prejudice against the use of rye as food for farm animals, it forms a valuable addition to oats and barley for live stock in Germany.
The matter of keeping records is important. The farmer should be able to take account of stock at the beginning of every year, the same as any merchant does.

If we neglect the hen houses this spring till they are alive with lice and mites, we deserve the consequences. It will take but a few minutes to clean it out thoroughly and not much longer to soak roosts, boxes and everything else with kerosene. A coat of whitewash can be put on almost as quickly, and good dry clean earth shoveled in when the filthy floor has been cleaned out. Follow this kerosene business up every ten days or so for a time and it will be a pretty tough louse or mite that stays around such a place.

Spray for soft scale.
Buy only the best seeds.
Plant some strawberries this spring.
If a hen is very sick, it scarcely pays to doctor her.

Strawberries work in well with vegetable growing.
The first week is the critical time in the life of the little pig.

Don't try to feed ten hogs in a trough big enough for only six.
Under domestication the hog has become an animal of wide distribution.

Now is the time to produce lots of milk. Plenty of time and prices are high.
A weak point in dairying is the lack of cleanliness at all times and in all things.

Treating small grains with formalin is too important to be overlooked by farmers.
To give profitable returns dairy cows must be well bred, well fed and well managed.

The most profitable nut trees for the middle states are the chestnuts, walnuts and shellbarks.
The first great requisite in the care of stock is perfect cleanliness, pure air and abundant sunshine.

A hen that does not lay usually does not bother the trap nest unless she is after eggs for food.
Flax has been found a profitable crop in the West and seems well suited to the prairie soils.

In buying a barrel churn don't get one too small; if you do you will find it takes a long time to churn.
Raising of broilers is a business by itself. Start on a small scale and then with success increase the capacity.

Scrub poultry may serve a good purpose in the pot, but they should not be permitted to propagate their kind.
Stables should be well lighted and so arranged that the light will not strike the animals directly in the eyes.

Few farmers and poultrymen know about the feeding value of bright, well-cured clover hay for laying hens.
You can not make a greater mistake than to confine your breeding ducks, especially if they are Indian Runners.

One of the very important things to do this month is to make your selection of seeds and plants and order them now.
Pruning apple trees involves so many principles that only the most general survey can be given in a short discussion.

The dairy cow is one of the best money makers on the farm; but, like hens, she pays only according to "value received."
The Holstein, the Ayrshire and the milking shorthorn are the best breeds for the milk farmer to raise. For cream select the Guernsey.

Good comfortable housing and judicious feeding are the two cardinal principles of successfully wintering the breeding ewes.
The value of skim milk on the farm when fed in conjunction with grain is greater than it is usually given credit for being.

It is a good time now to take an inventory of your farm and plan to keep records of all transactions connected with your farming operations.
Don't be in a hurry to get rid of the old bull. Remember that he has proven himself and the calf that you buy will be more or less of a lottery.

A chilled egg will bring forth a weak chick if it hatches at all and a weak chick that has hard work to live is sometimes worse than no chick at all.
During the breeding season mate one drake with four ducks until the last of April, then diminish the number of drakes to one drake to five or six ducks.

The lack of success which so many farmers have with chickens is largely due to a lack of planning, and they neglect to give the fowls the attention these plans call for.
Anyone can easily see that bone is one of the best feeds for producing eggs, as the fat assists in forming the yolk of the egg and also in sustaining the fowl in winter.

Butter is a good price. Feed is comparatively cheap, especially so if you have saved all of your roughage, such as cornstalks, the best of our straw, and things of that sort which frequently go to waste.
In making good butter and wrapping the prints with paper printed with your name and the name of the farm, the goods will advertise themselves and by making up your milk at home you are sure to get all there is in it if you go at the work properly.

WHAT THEY SAID.

Penelope—Charley called last night. Justine—That's twice in a week, isn't it?
Penelope—Yes.
Justine—I suppose he'll come three times in the next week?
Penelope—That's what my brother says.
Justine—And six times the next?
Penelope—That's what aunt says.
Justine—And seven times the next?
Penelope—That's what papa says.
Justine—And then what?
Penelope—Then we'll get married; that's what everybody says.
Justine—And then what?
Penelope—Then I shan't see him any more of an evening; that's what mamma says.

HIS FIRST CAVIARE.
"Poor Uncle Henry embarrassed us all when we dined in the ultra-fashionable restaurant."
"In what way?"
"Why, the waiter brought the dear old man a caviare sandwich, and guess what he said?"
"What, my dear?"
"Why, he said he didn't care about blackberry preserves smeared on his bread for dinner."

Another Version.
"Mother, may I go out to skate?"
"You may, my little Myrt."
But you must stay close by the stove and wear your hobble skirt."

A Puzzler.
"Pop, you know everything, don't you?" said little Joe.
"Some very few things in the universe might have escaped me," answered the parent, modestly, "but they are hardly worth mentioning. What do you want to know?"
"I want to know," replied little Joe, "what relation an august king is to a May queen?"

Interpreted.
"Ma'm," said the new cook, "I should like to ask you something. It's about Jenkins, the butcher. He says I shall have five per cent. on all orders I give him. What does that mean?"
The lady of the house looked thoughtful. "These technicalities, Jane," she said, "are hard to explain exactly. Broadly, it means that we shall get our meat from Jones in future."

Merely Wished to Know.
"Mother, did father have to ask you more than once to be his wife?"
"Why, dearest, what makes you ask such a question?"
"I just wanted to know whether you always answered no before you thought, the same as you do to me now."

Accomplishments Demanded.
"Do you think a diplomat should know the language of the country to which he is assigned?"
"Certainly. He should have such perfect command of it that it will be as hard to grasp his exact meaning as if he were unfamiliar with it."

Modesty.
Lady (standing on a window ledge of burning building about to cave in, to firemen below)—You either tell those naughty men down there to shut their eyes, or I'll jump head first—fudge.

FATHER'S PATENT.
Johnnie—Why do you have three pairs of glasses, father?
Father—I use one to read with, one to see at a distance, and the third to find the other two.
"Oh, Sugar!"
"Sweet little feet," is not poetic. At least not altogether.
Since we have learned the trusts are putting glucose into leather.

A Protest.
"Please ask the orchestra not to play 'Gilding Eyes,'" said the cranky patron to the head waiter.
"Beg pardon, sir, but that piece is being played by special request."
"I don't care a rap about that. I'm trying to eat spaghetti and I can't do it to syncopeated time."

That Moved Him.
Staylate—Has your father any objections to my paying you visits, ... is Brightly?
Miss B. (glancing at the clock)—I think he would prefer that you paid them in installments, Mr. Staylate.

TOO COMPLACENT.
He simply wouldn't worry. But also wouldn't hurry.
Nor took part in the bustle. When others 'gan to hustle.
Just sat around still dreaming. His brain with fancies teeming.
Till Fortune passed right by him. And vowed she'd never try him.
Although, in sooth, 'tis needful To stay serene, the speedful
Progressive sort of fellow. Yet kindly-souled and mellow.
Is one who'll cop the prize out. And bulge old Envy's eyes out.

A Useful Remedy.
Little four-year-old Billy was visiting his neighbor, Jerry. Billy showed every evidence of a bad cold. Jerry's mother asked with grave solicitude: "Don't your mother give you anything for your cold, Billy?"
Whereupon Billy answered, feeling in all his pockets at once: "Yes, ma'am, she gives me a clean handkerchief."—Lippincott's.

Unchanged.
"Do you act toward your wife as you did before you married her?"
"Exactly. I remember just how I used to act when I first fell in love with her; I used to hang over the fence in front of her house and gaze at her shadow on the curtain, afraid to go in. And I act just the same now when I get home late."

A Stern Chase.
"What is that old man tearing down the road in that fashion for, do you suppose?"
"In pursuit of happiness."
"You don't expect me to believe that racing himself half to death makes him happy?"
"Of course not. He is in pursuit of his daughter and her lover who are eloping."

His Excuse.
"What was your father doing in the back yard so early this morning?"
"Looking for his pipe. He threw it away on New Year's day, but last night he and ma had a spat and now he's going to smoke again just for spite."

Two Comparisons.
Mrs. Sage—Look how different the fate of these two sisters. Emily married and became a miserable wife.
Miss Giggie—How hard to bear!
Mrs. Sage—Her sister Jane took warning by her fate and remained an old maid.
Miss Giggie—How unbearable!

RIGHT.
He—What makes you think that girls who dance are all right?
She—Because those who don't dance are generally left.

Always Thus.
You are a most unlucky cuss—Of course, it has occurred to you That it is always some else Somebody leaves a million to.

An Exception.
"I have observed," said the old professor, mournfully, "that women nowadays are too frivolous. The average woman's reading is not productive of any profit."
"Don't you believe it," put in the family man. "When she reads the bargain ads it's productive of profit to the advertisers."—Catholic Standard and Times.

Miss Pretty—We are warning all our friends that they have to take care of themselves when they come to our house, for we are going to hang up mistletoe.
Miss Oldgirl—I'd like to see anybody dare to kiss me.
Miss Pert—Don't worry. Nobody would do it, even on a dare.

Back From Abroad.
The city niece was telling about her European trip.
"And Brussels," she related with much enthusiasm. "Ah, Brussels was such a charming city."
"Do tell!" exclaimed the rural aunt. "And which did you enjoy the most, dearie, Brussels carpets or Brussels sprouts?"

Profound Egotism.
"Twiggs aspires to be looked on as a strong-minded man."
"Why do you think so?"
"He's going around telling everybody that he hasn't made a single New Year resolution."

RECORD HARD-LUCK STORY

"Bill" Jordan Has an Experience That Caps All Stories of Misfortune.

You've heard all those funny hard-luck stories, but this is one that happens to be true and caps them all, says the New York correspondent of the Cincinnati Times-Star. "Bill" Jordan is a teamster. He hadn't eaten for 24 hours and had been out of work for a week when he met a man who promised him a job. "Meet me on the corner of Fifthth street and Lexington avenue at nine o'clock in the morning," said the man. Jordan was getting weak from hunger. He went to one of the Bowery pawnbrokers and traded his clothes for a worse suit and enough money to fill him with buckwheat cakes. He had just called for the cakes in one of the dumps on the Bowery where cash accompanies each order as a guarantee of good faith—and had paid for them—when the broke out in the restaurant. Jordan managed to seize three off the top and ran into the street, munching them, but his cakes and his money were irretrievably gone. That was at night. He walked about all night—and it was a bitterly cold night—because he didn't have a nickel with which to buy a "flop" downtown. Jordan is a self-respecting man and he would not beg. Pretty shaky from want of food and the all night fight against the cold, he appeared at the corner of Fifthth street and Lexington avenue an hour before time. While he was there the explosion took place in the Grand Central station. Jordan was shot across the street by it and when he came to some time later he noticed people laughing at him. The entire rear elevation of that miserable old suit he had rescued from the pawnbroker had been blown out. He couldn't even walk on the streets until he had picked up some castoff newspapers and plinted them across the gaps. And then he dared not sit down. He returned to the corner where he had been told to wait and stayed there for hours, shaking in the chill breeze, waiting for the man to come to whom he had hired. In the meantime he volunteered his services to those who were clearing away the ruins, although he was almost too weak to do any good. He helped carry out one of the victims of the explosion. It was the man who had hired him.

Aviators' Superstitions.
A chapel in the department of the Charente-Inferieure, France, called Notre Dame du Plantin, has just been dedicated to aviators, and a medal with the effigy of this new Notre Dame is going to be struck and distributed to all flyers who ask for it. It is a curious commentary upon our human weaknesses that the adepts in this newest science or sport, who seem to brave everything, are really rather superstitious persons. Santos-Dumont attributes his immunity from accidents to a medal of St. Benoit, presented to him by Comtesse d'Su, which he wears on a bracelet. Edmond Poillot always carries about with him a four-leaved clover, and is very fond of horseshoes, which he collects. Tabuteau, who holds several records, believes, like a Monte Carlo gambler, the number 28 is favorable to him, while poor Delagrangue, who met with his death at Bordeaux, had a passion for the figure 13—for no other reason apparently than that he was born on March 13, 1873.

Arts and Crafts in Japan.
Of a total membership of 839, as reported at the annual meeting in the Twentieth Century club, the Society of Arts and Crafts has 237 members in Boston, 133 in Massachusetts outside of Boston, twenty-six in other states and territories and five in foreign countries, one being in Japan. The jury reported that the work in metals had improved much during the year, enamels had improved in color and design. Wood carving has improved somewhat; textile work and embroidery have not improved, nor has work in ceramics. The membership committee reported that eighty-six craftsmen and sixteen associates were added to the society during the year, and fifty-one have dropped out of membership.

"One Man."
"I have a servant girl who is capable and good natured and whom I wouldn't willingly part with, but she troubles me one way," said Mrs. Clockley to a visitor. "She is a Finn and knows but a few words of English, so the arrival of anyone from a guest to a grocer boy is heralded by her footsteps and the solemn words:
"One man."
"It is laughable and vexing. I have to go all the way downstairs to ascertain who it is. I am thinking of having a series of mirrors put up to reflect the visitor's image upstairs. Or perhaps I can invent a conning tower such as submarines are equipped with."
"At any rate I shall never be able to stand it until she learns enough English to tell who wants me."

Children Work at Home.
Miss Mary Van Kleeck, who is employed by the Sage Foundation, said recently in New York that the agitation against the child in the factory had simply meant the transfer of the bulk of the work to the homes of the poor. She says the law provides that no work shall be turned out of a tenement that has not been licensed, but it does not seem hard to obtain the license, and there are now more than 12,000 licensed tenements.

Woman Was Not Superstitious, but She Cut Short Her Visit to the Country.
"I'm not a bit superstitious, not in the least bit, but—I don't ever want to hear another screech owl in the night," said a woman who remained in the country until the holidays. "Positively, I believe I should go mad if I ever heard that blood-curdling sound again.
"You know they say in the country that if a screech owl comes crying around the house it's a sure sign of death. Of course, I've no faith in that sort of nonsense, but all the same the coachman's mother died after the owl's first appearance.
"The owl came back and one of the employees died. It came back again and I decided that, after all, I didn't want to spend Christmas in the country and lighted back to town. The coachman said something about 'the old rule,' and I just naturally packed up my duds and bought a ticket for New York.
"Ugh-h-h! I shiver now whenever I think of that owl in the apple tree."

A Way of Getting Even.
Hewitt—When I asked the old man for his daughter's hand he walked all over me.
Jewett—Can't you have him arrested for violation of the traffic regulations?

HONEST CONFESSION
A Doctor's Talk on Food.
There are no fairer set of men on earth than the doctors, and when they find they have been in error they are usually apt to make honest and manly admission of the fact.
A case in point is that of a practitioner, one of the good old school, who lives in Texas. His plain, unvarnished tale needs no dressing up:
"I had always had an intense prejudice, which I can now see was unwarrantable and unreasonable, against all muchly advertised foods. Hence, I never read a line of the many 'ads' of Grape-Nuts, nor tested the food till last winter.
"While in Corpus Christi for my health, and visiting my youngest son, who has four of the ruddiest, healthiest little boys I ever saw, I ate my first dish of Grape-Nuts food for supper with my little grandsons.
"I became exceedingly fond of it and have eaten a package of it every week since, and find it a delicious, refreshing and strengthening food, leaving no ill effects whatever, causing no eructations (with which I was formerly much troubled), no sense of fullness, nausea, nor distress of stomach in any way.
"There is no other food that agrees with me so well, or sits as lightly or pleasantly upon my stomach as this does.
"I am stronger and more active since I began the use of Grape-Nuts than I have been for 10 years, and am no longer troubled with nausea and indigestion." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.
Look in pkgs. for the famous little book, "The Road to Well-being."
"There's a Reason."
Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Will purify your blood, clear your complexion, restore your appetite, relieve your tired feeling, build you up. Be sure to take it this spring.

Get it in usual liquid form or chocolate tablets called Sarsatabs. 100 Doses $1.

PATENTS Fortunes are made in patents. Protect your ideas. Our 10 page book from W. T. Fitzgerald & Co., Washington, D. C.

The entire object of true education is to make people not merely do the right thing, but enjoy the right thing.—Ruskin.

Dr. Pierce's Pellets, small, sugar-coated, easy to take as candy, regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. Do not gripe.

A Significant Selection.
"That was a mighty inconsiderate brass band that serenaded me on election night," remarked the defeated member of congress.
"What was the trouble?"
"It didn't play anything but Home, Sweet Home."

His Aspiration.
Richard, aged 12, Warburton, aged 14, and Gordon, aged 10, were discussing what they would do with a million dollars.
Richard said: "I would buy a motor boat."
Warburton said: "I would spend my million for music and theater tickets."
Gordon, the 10-year-old, sniffed at them derisively. "Humph!" said he, "I'd buy an automobile, and spend the rest in fines!"—Harper's Bazar.

ONE PAIR OF GOLD-FILLED BEAUTY PINS
will be sent to you FREE, also our new Premium List. Buy three packages of Jellycon at 10c each and cut out and send to us the red diamond trade mark on each package; also tell us your favorite way of serving JELLYCON. This offer is made to induce you to try JELLYCON, the perfect jelly dessert. YOUR GROCER SELLS JELLYCON, or will get it for you. E. S. BURNHAM CO., NEW YORK CITY, PREMIUM DEPARTMENT.

FEARED THE SCREECH OWL
Woman Was Not Superstitious, but She Cut Short Her Visit to the Country.
"I'm not a bit superstitious, not in the least bit, but—I don't ever want to hear another screech owl in the night," said a woman who remained in the country until the holidays. "Positively, I believe I should go mad if I ever heard that blood-curdling sound again.
"You know they say in the country that if a screech owl comes crying around the house it's a sure sign of death. Of course, I've no faith in that sort of nonsense, but all the same the coachman's mother died after the owl's first appearance.
"The owl came back and one of the employees died. It came back again and I decided that, after all, I didn't want to spend Christmas in the country and lighted back to town. The coachman said something about 'the old rule,' and I just naturally packed up my duds and bought a ticket for New York.
"Ugh-h-h! I shiver now whenever I think of that owl in the apple tree."

A Way of Getting Even.
Hewitt—When I asked the old man for his daughter's hand he walked all over me.
Jewett—Can't you have him arrested for violation of the traffic regulations?

HONEST CONFESSION
A Doctor's Talk on Food.
There are no fairer set of men on earth than the doctors, and when they find they have been in error they are usually apt to make honest and manly admission of the fact.
A case in point is that of a practitioner, one of the good old school, who lives in Texas. His plain, unvarnished tale needs no dressing up:
"I had always had an intense prejudice, which I can now see was unwarrantable and unreasonable, against all muchly advertised foods. Hence, I never read a line of the many 'ads' of Grape-Nuts, nor tested the food till last winter.
"While in Corpus Christi for my health, and visiting my youngest son, who has four of the ruddiest, healthiest little boys I ever saw, I ate my first dish of Grape-Nuts food for supper with my little grandsons.
"I became exceedingly fond of it and have eaten a package of it every week since, and find it a delicious, refreshing and strengthening food, leaving no ill effects whatever, causing no eructations (with which I was formerly much troubled), no sense of fullness, nausea, nor distress of stomach in any way.
"There is no other food that agrees with me so well, or sits as lightly or pleasantly upon my stomach as this does.
"I am stronger and more active since I began the use of Grape-Nuts than I have been for 10 years, and am no longer troubled with nausea and indigestion." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.
Look in pkgs. for the famous little book, "The Road to Well-being."
"There's a Reason."
Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

HONEST CONFESSION
A Doctor's Talk on Food.
There are no fairer set of men on earth than the doctors, and when they find they have been in error they are usually apt to make honest and manly admission of the fact.
A case in point is that of a practitioner, one of the good old school, who lives in Texas. His plain, unvarnished tale needs no dressing up:
"I had always had an intense prejudice, which I can now see was unwarrantable and unreasonable, against all muchly advertised foods. Hence, I never read a line of the many 'ads' of Grape-Nuts, nor tested the food till last winter.
"While in Corpus Christi for my health, and visiting my youngest son, who has four of the ruddiest, healthiest little boys I ever saw, I ate my first dish of Grape-Nuts food for supper with my little grandsons.
"I became exceedingly fond of it and have eaten a package of it every week since, and find it a delicious, refreshing and strengthening food, leaving no ill effects whatever, causing no eructations (with which I was formerly much troubled), no sense of fullness, nausea, nor distress of stomach in any way.
"There is no other food that agrees with me so well, or sits as lightly or pleasantly upon my stomach as this does.
"I am stronger and more active since I began the use of Grape-Nuts than I have been for 10 years, and am no longer troubled with nausea and indigestion." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.
Look in pkgs. for the famous little book, "The Road to Well-being."
"There's a Reason."
Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

HONEST CONFESSION
A Doctor's Talk on Food.
There are no fairer set of men on earth than the doctors, and when they find they have been in error they are usually apt to make honest and manly admission of the fact.
A case in point is that of a practitioner, one of the good old school, who lives in Texas. His plain, unvarnished tale needs no dressing up:
"I had always had an intense prejudice, which I can now see was unwarrantable and unreasonable, against all muchly advertised foods. Hence, I never read a line of the many 'ads' of Grape-Nuts, nor tested the food till last winter.
"While in Corpus Christi for my health, and visiting my youngest son, who has four of the ruddiest, healthiest little boys I ever saw, I ate my first dish of Grape-Nuts food for supper with my little grandsons.
"I became exceedingly fond of it and have eaten a package of it every week since, and find it a delicious, refreshing and strengthening food, leaving no ill effects whatever, causing no eructations (with which I was formerly much troubled), no sense of fullness, nausea, nor distress of stomach in any way.
"There is no other food that agrees with me so well, or sits as lightly or pleasantly upon my stomach as this does.
"I am stronger and more active since I began the use of Grape-Nuts than I have been for 10 years, and am no longer troubled with nausea and indigestion." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.
Look in pkgs. for the famous little book, "The Road to Well-being."
"There's a Reason."
Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

HONEST CONFESSION
A Doctor's Talk on Food.
There are no fairer set of men on earth than the doctors, and when they find they have been in error they are usually apt to make honest and manly admission of the fact.
A case in point is that of a practitioner, one of the good old school, who lives in Texas. His plain, unvarnished tale needs no dressing up:
"I had always had an intense prejudice, which I can now see was unwarrantable and unreasonable, against all muchly advertised foods. Hence, I never read a line of the many 'ads' of Grape-Nuts, nor tested the food till last winter.
"While in Corpus Christi for my health, and visiting my youngest son, who has four of the ruddiest, healthiest little boys I ever saw, I ate my first dish of Grape-Nuts food for supper with my little grandsons.
"I became exceedingly fond of it and have eaten a package of it every week since, and find it a delicious, refreshing and strengthening food, leaving no ill effects whatever, causing no eructations (with which I was formerly much troubled), no sense of fullness, nausea, nor distress of stomach in any way.
"There is no other food that agrees with me so well, or sits as lightly or pleasantly upon my stomach as this does.
"I am stronger and more active since I began the use of Grape-Nuts than I have been for 10 years, and am no longer troubled with nausea and indigestion." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.
Look in pkgs. for the famous little book, "The Road to Well-being."
"There's a Reason."
Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

HONEST CONFESSION
A Doctor's Talk on Food.
There are no fairer set of men on earth than the doctors, and when they find they have been in error they are usually apt to make honest and manly admission of the fact.
A case in point is that of a practitioner, one of the good old school, who lives in Texas. His plain, unvarnished tale needs no dressing up:
"I had always had an intense prejudice, which I can now see was unwarrantable and unreasonable, against all muchly advertised foods. Hence, I never read a line of the many 'ads' of Grape-Nuts, nor tested the food till last winter.
"While in Corpus Christi for my health, and visiting my youngest son, who has four of the ruddiest, healthiest little boys I ever saw, I ate my first dish of Grape-Nuts food for supper with my little grandsons.
"I became exceedingly fond of it and have eaten a package of it every week since, and find it a delicious, refreshing and strengthening food, leaving no ill effects whatever, causing no eructations (with which I was formerly much troubled), no sense of fullness, nausea, nor distress of stomach in any way.
"There is no other food that agrees with me so well, or sits as lightly or pleasantly upon my stomach as this does.
"I am stronger and more active since I began the use of Grape-Nuts than I have been for 10 years, and am no longer troubled with nausea and indigestion." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.
Look in pkgs. for the famous little book, "The Road to Well-being."
"There's a Reason."
Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

HONEST CONFESSION
A Doctor's Talk on Food.
There are no fairer set of men on earth than the doctors, and when they find they have been in error they are usually apt to make honest and manly admission of the fact.
A case in point is that of a practitioner, one of the good old school, who lives in Texas. His plain, unvarnished tale needs no dressing up:
"I had always had an intense prejudice, which I can now see was unwarrantable and unreasonable, against all muchly advertised foods. Hence, I never read a line of the many 'ads' of Grape-Nuts, nor tested the food till last winter.
"While in Corpus Christi for my health, and visiting my youngest son, who has four of the ruddiest, healthiest little boys I ever saw, I ate my first dish of Grape-Nuts food for supper with my little grandsons.
"I became exceedingly fond of it and have eaten a package of it every week since, and find it a delicious, refreshing and strengthening food, leaving no ill effects whatever, causing no eructations (with which I was formerly much troubled), no sense of fullness, nausea, nor distress of stomach in any way.
"There is no other food that agrees with me so well, or sits as lightly or pleasantly upon my stomach as this does.
"I am stronger and more active since I began the use of Grape-Nuts than I have been for 10 years, and am no longer troubled with nausea and indigestion." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.
Look in pkgs. for the famous little book, "The Road to Well-being."
"There's a Reason."
Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

HONEST CONFESSION
A Doctor's Talk on Food.
There are no fairer set of men on earth than the doctors, and when they find they have been in error they are usually apt to make honest and manly admission of the fact.
A case in point is that of a practitioner, one of the good old school, who lives in Texas. His plain, unvarnished tale needs no dressing up:
"I had always had an intense prejudice, which I can now see was unwarrantable and unreasonable, against all muchly advertised foods. Hence, I never read a line of the many 'ads' of Grape-Nuts, nor tested the food till last winter.
"While in Corpus Christi for my health, and visiting my youngest son, who has four of the ruddiest, healthiest little boys I ever saw, I ate my first dish of Grape-Nuts food for supper with my little grandsons.
"I became exceedingly fond of it and have eaten a package of it every week since, and find it a delicious, refreshing and strengthening food, leaving no ill effects whatever, causing no eructations (with which I was formerly much troubled), no sense of fullness, nausea, nor distress of stomach in any way.
"There is no other food that agrees with me so well, or sits as lightly or pleasantly upon my stomach as this does.
"I am stronger and more active since I began the use of Grape-Nuts than I have been for 10 years, and am no longer troubled with nausea and indigestion." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.
Look in pkgs. for the famous little book, "The Road to Well-being."
"There's a Reason."
Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

HONEST CONFESSION
A Doctor's Talk on Food.
There are no fairer set of men on earth than the doctors, and when they find they have been in error they are usually apt to make honest and manly admission of the fact.
A case in point is that of a practitioner, one of the good old school, who lives in Texas. His plain, unvarnished tale needs no dressing up:
"I had always had an intense prejudice, which I can now see was unwarrantable and unreasonable, against all muchly advertised foods. Hence, I never read a line of the many 'ads' of Grape-Nuts, nor tested the food till last winter.
"While in Corpus Christi for my health, and visiting my youngest son, who has four of the ruddiest, healthiest little boys I ever saw, I ate my first dish of Grape-Nuts food for supper with my little grandsons.
"I became exceedingly fond of it and have eaten a package of it every week since, and find it a delicious, refreshing and strengthening food, leaving no ill effects whatever, causing no eructations (with which I was formerly much troubled), no sense of fullness, nausea, nor distress of stomach in any way.
"There is no other

The Return Shoe Co's.

Get your size in a pair of dainty WHITE HOUSE Shoes.

Step your feet in. You'll find the shoes snug, pliable, smooth and graceful.

They are built over foot-form lasts—that's why they fit. If you want pretty, snug, easy-fitting shoes, get a pair of our

WHITE HOUSE SHOES. You can get them at

HUDSON'S
EXCLUSIVE SHOE STORE.

WILSON

Several inches of the beautiful fell last Wednesday night.

Emerson Collins and family of Boyne City visited relatives in Wilson last Sunday.

James Simmons has been quite ill with pneumonia the past week. Dr. Risk is in attendance.

A. B. Nowland's little girl, who was suffering with eczema, is reported some better.

Jasper Warden was buzzing up wood for the farmers in Afton and vicinity the first of the week.

Miss Grace Hamlin, assisted by the young people, is preparing for a school entertainment in the near future.

Mrs. Baker, who is visiting her daughter Mrs. E. S. Brinton, has been ill the past week.

Terry Barber of Deer Lake left for West Virginia recently to visit a sister whom he had not seen for 28 years.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith Jr. were called to Grand Rapids last week by the serious illness of Mrs. Smith's father, C. F. Johnston. News from there since stated that he died on Wednesday and was buried on Friday afternoon. The many friends of Mrs. Smith's will sympathize with her in her sorrow.

An attendance of 47 members and 25 visitors at Wilson Grange last Saturday evening. During the business session it was decided to set up a stand in the hall to sell candy, peanuts etc. for the benefit of the grange. After the initiation an interesting program was given assisted by members of Deer Lake Grange. Evening closed with a supper served by the ladies.

Do not forget that the Columbia Carpet can only be got at Empey Bros. The spring designs are very artistic and fast colors.

I have Fruit Lands, Lake Shore Farms, Improved Farms and City property in all parts of Charlevoix County to sell or trade. Also farms and business chances anywhere in United States. JOEL JOHNSTON.

"Mary, where did you get this beautiful wall paper? You must have paid 35c a roll for it." "I got it at WHITTINGTON'S for 15c a roll."

Koley's Honey and Tar for the children. Is best and safest for all coughs, colds, croup, whooping-cough and bronchitis. No opiates. Hite Drug Co.

Chancery Order

State of Michigan, Thirtieth Judicial Circuit, Chancery Court for the County of Charlevoix, in Chancery. At the City of Charlevoix, on the 23rd day of March, A. D. 1911.

DWIGHT H. FITCH, Circuit Judge.

CHARLEVOIX COUNTY HERALD

G. A. Lisk, Publisher.
ONE DOLLAR PER YEAR

Entered at the postoffice at East Jordan Michigan, as second class mail matter.

SATURDAY, APRIL 1, 1911.

Republican Ticket.

STATE

Justices of the Supreme Court—
RUSSELL C. OSTANDER, Lansing.
JOHN E. BIRD, Adrian.

Regents of the University—
BENJAMIN S. HANCHETT, Grand Rapids.
LUCIUS L. HUBBARD, Houghton.

Superintendent of Public Instruction—
LUTHER L. WRIGHT, Ironwood.

Member of State Board of Education—
THOMAS W. NADAL, Olivet.

Member of State Board of Agriculture—
JOHN W. BEAUMONT, Detroit.
JASON WOODMAN, Paw Paw.

JUDICIAL

For Circuit Judge—
FREDERICK W. MAYNE, Charlevoix.

For County Commissioner of Schools—
JOHN H. MILFORD, East Jordan.

Directions for Spraying Trees.

Get ready to spray the orchards. For the best results the work must be done at the right time and with the right materials.

Directions for spraying the different fruit crops and potatoes, the mixtures to use and how to make them are all given in a very plain way in the new bulletin on spraying just issued by the Experiment Station. It will be sent upon request to Director R. S. Shaw, East Lansing, Michigan, and asking for Special Bulletin No. 54.

Presbyterian Church Notes.

Rev. A. D. Grigsby, Pastor.

Sacrament of the Lord's supper next Sunday morning at the Presbyterian church. The pastor urges all members to be present without fail and not to allow any little excuse to keep them away. It is only four times in a year that we are able to meet in this way to renew our allegiance and strengthen our faith.

Usual service in the evening at 7:00.

Sunday School at 11:45.
Junior C. E. at 3:15.
Senior C. E. at 6:15.

First Methodist Episcopal Church

Rev. T. Potter Bennett, Pastor.

10:30 Rev. W. P. Mosher of Belaire will preach. Don't fail to hear him.

11:45 Sunday School.
2:45 Junior Epworth League, Miss Fern Howard leader.

6:30 Senior Epworth League, Irene McEachran leader.

7:30 A musical will be given by the choir on Sunday evening, also Rev. Mosher will give a short address. This service will be worth attending. The choir has spared no pains to make this service a success. Come to this home-like church and be made to feel that you are wanted.

Please note the change in time in reference to the evening services.

Large crowds attended the services last Sunday. The Men's class was very interesting and the interest is growing. Plans are being laid for Easter exercises. The Sunday School will render the program in the morning and the choir will give a special service in the evening.

A number of the members of the Holy Grail took the examination for Tenderfoot in the Scout work.

Rev. T. Bennett will preach at Belaire on Sunday, it being the annual sermon to the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society.

Bids Wanted on Theatre Building

Sealed proposals will be received at the office of secretary East Jordan Realty Co., East Jordan, Mich., until noon, Monday, April 10th, 1911, for the erection of a cement and brick theatre building in accordance with plans and specifications proposed by E. D. Van Volkenburg and B. H. Christian, architects of Kalamazoo and Ludington, Mich. Copy of plans may be obtained at the office of Secretary W. C. Spring. Plumbing and Heating let under separate contracts at same time. Right reserved to reject any or all bids.

EAST JORDAN REALTY CO.

"Well Mary you said you only paid 15c a roll, but who did you get to hang it? Did you get a paper-hanger from the city?" "Why no, I got Moyer to hang it. Better tell your friends to get him to hang their paper too. Phone 203 and they can get him."

State Ticket

Brief History of the Republican Candidates.

(Continued from first page.)

ing in Europe. Since 1898 he has been professor of English in Olivet College. In 1906 he was made Dean of Olivet College, a position he still holds. He has published a number of articles on educational subjects and has had considerable experience on the platform in lecturing before Teachers' Institutes. During the last campaign, he was an effective speaker for the Republican State Central Committee.

For State Board of Agriculture

John W. Beaumont, republican candidate for member of the State Board of Agriculture, was born at Elizabeth, New Jersey, July 20, 1858. He moved to Michigan in 1875, and graduated from the Michigan Agricultural College in 1882. He was admitted to the practice of law at Saginaw in 1888 and has practiced his profession continuously ever since in the city of Detroit. He is one of the lecturers in the Detroit College of Law, his subject being "Legal Ethics."

During the Spanish-American war he served as a seaman on the U. S. S. Yosemite, which was manned by the volunteer sailors from Michigan.

Mr. Beaumont, as an alumnus of the institute, is keenly interested in the welfare of the Michigan Agricultural College, and would make an admirable and highly competent public official.

For State Board of Agriculture

Jason Woodman, of Paw Paw, was born at Paw Paw, Van Buren county, Michigan, in 1860, of New England ancestors on the farm where he now lives. He graduated from the Michigan Agricultural College in 1881. He was lecturer of the Michigan State Grange for eight years, and has served four years as chairman of the Van Buren Republican county committee. Mr. Woodman is a strong Republican, and was elected to the state senate of 1903-4 and 1905-6 from the Eighth Senatorial District, comprising the counties of Allegan and Van Buren.

The appeals being made by Rev. A.

P. Doyle, pastor of the Catholic church at the corner of 59th street and 9th Avenue, New York, are receiving unusual attention from the members of his own faith and church and from others. Father Doyle especially appeals for the union of all Christian and moral agencies in opposition to the saloon. "The saloon evil is malignant enough to make us sink what differences of policies we have and unite on the broad platform of antagonism to the saloon so that public sentiment may be strengthened enough to place it under the ban. The liquor traffic thrives on the growing demand for alcoholics, and in many instances saloons deliberately set to work to increase this demand by ways and means well known in the trade. In a thousand and one ways interlarded with a man's life the saloon winds its net about men. I believe that the more odium I can cast on the saloon business and practice of saloon-going the more it will protect the defenseless wives and helpless children and cheerless homes of the victims of drink." As the priest of one of the best known Catholic churches in the United States, Father Doyle is an anti-saloon advocate of national influence and national value.

Laundry basket leaves Mack's every Tuesday noon.

THE DOCTOR'S QUESTION

Much Sickness Due to Bowel Disorders.

A doctor's first question when consulted by a patient is, "Are your bowels regular?" He knows that 98 per cent of illness is attended with inactive bowels and torpid liver, and that this condition must be removed gently and thoroughly before health can be restored.

Rexall Orderlies are a positive, pleasant and safe remedy for constipation and bowel disorders in general. We are so certain of their great curative value that we promise to return the purchaser's money in every case when they fail to produce entire satisfaction.

Rexall Orderlies are eaten like candy, they act gently, and have a soothing, strengthening, healing influence on the entire intestinal tract. They do not purge, gripe, cause nausea, flatulence, excessive looseness, diarrhoea or other annoying effect. They are especially good for children, weak persons or old folks. Two sizes, 25c. and 10c. Sold only at our store—The Rexall Store—W. C. Spring Drug Co.

THE SATISFACTION OF OWNING A STRICTLY HIGH-GRADE PIANO IS YOURS IF YOU PURCHASE A
GRINNELL BROS. Own Make PIANO

To make certain of this fact you have only to investigate the instruments of our manufacture. The policy back of the construction of these Pianos is to build the best instrument on the market. Ample capital, finely equipped factories—a positive knowledge of those features which make for perfection—a force of workmen whose skill and experience well fit them to produce the perfect work demanded—and the personal supervision of a member of this firm all assure that this policy of excellence shall be fully carried out.

We have sold Pianos for over Thirty Years and in this time we have learned definitely just what principles of construction insure excellence and which are of questionable quality. Our own make Piano embodies those features whose worth has been fully proven by years of service, while in addition we have incorporated original and exclusive features of our own which contribute in no small degree to the high standing of this superb instrument.

Sold Only Through Our Own Stores

So great is the popularity of this splendid instrument that our entire output is sold through our Twenty-four Music Houses. The perfect satisfaction the Grinnell Bros. (own make) Piano is giving in thousands of music-loving homes, is positively assured to every purchaser.

We sell at Factory-to-home price and arrange convenient payment terms. Write for finely illustrated Catalog and Booklet of Purchasers if you can't call.

Factories: GRINNELL BROS. Petoskey Store
Detroit and Windsor 434 Mitchell St.

Real Estate
W. A. Loveday
FIRE INSURANCE.

Truck Garden Land.
FOR SALE—Twenty acres of land suitable for truck gardening, cleared and fenced. Level land, good soil. Creek runs through property. 14 miles south-east of town. Will sell all or in lots of 5 acres. For particulars address ELMER PORTER, East Jordan, Mich.

WOOD FOR SALE
We have a quantity of 16 inch Seasoned Hardwood Slabs and Edgings. The edgings are sorted from the slabs and are prime for cook stove use ready to burn—$1.75 per cord. Phone in your orders. Phone No. 123.
East Jordan Cooperaage Co.

EAST JORDAN LUMBER CO.

Values in Hardware Dep't

- Sherwin-Williams Paints and Sundries
- Onyx Wood Fiber Pulp Plaster $9.00 per ton
- Atlas Portland Cement, the kind the government is using on the Panama Canal $175 per barrel.
- A fine line of Building Hardware. Flue Lining.
- Clover Seeds Timothy Seeds and Bylk Garden Seeds
- Keystone, that washable wall finish; call for card at our store.
- Ready-Mixed House Paints, $1.50 a gallon.
- Nails, $2.25 base in keg lots.

We are Headquarters for GROCERIES

- 20 pounds Sugar for $1.00
- White Rose Flour $5.00 per bbl.
- Boardman River Flour $5.00 per bbl.
- Crescent Flour $5.00 per bbl.
- Iron Duke Flour $5.50 per bbl.
- Win Gold Flour $5.75 per bbl.
- Washburn & Crosby Flour $5.75 per bbl.
- 3 cans Corn for 25c
- 3 cans Peas for 25c
- 3 cans Tomatoes for 25c
- 10 lbs. Oatmeal for 25c

As we turn our stock over every month, you will always get Fresh Stock. Yours for Bargains,

East Jordan Lumber Co.

Briefs of the Week

April fool!
Register today.
Easter, April 10th.
Vote "Yes" on the amendment relative to the Primary School Fund, Monday.

East Jordan's quota of college students are home for the spring vacation.

L. P. Holliday, principal of the Hudson, Mich., public schools, was home for a few days this week.

Annual W. R. C. Maple Sugar Social at the Town Hall this Saturday afternoon, commencing at 4:00 o'clock. Only 15c.

A quantity of flower seeds have been received at this office from Congressman Dodds for free distribution. Call and get a package.

Truant Officer Bashaw brought a delinquent parent before Justice Boosinger, Thursday, charged with neglect to send a child to school. He plead guilty and was assessed a fine and the costs.

Among those home from studies for spring vacation: Miss Flora Porter from Oberlin, Miss Fay Nicholas from Mt. Pleasant, Miss Marjory Hoyt from the M. A. C., Miss Ida Price and Miss Phyllis Hurlbert from Ypsilanti.

B. C. Hubbard & Co. and Mrs. Jay Hite will have their annual Spring Opening next Friday and Saturday, April 7th and 8th, and extend a cordial invitation to the ladies of East Jordan and vicinity to be present. A beautiful showing of all the latest and most artistic in Dry Goods and Millinery will be on display.

Mrs. Michael C. Bancroft, wife of H. T. Bancroft, died at her home on the West Side, Wednesday morning, of broncho pneumonia. Deceased was aged thirty-seven years and leaves three children. Funeral services were conducted by Elder Dudley from the L. D. S. church, Friday morning. Interment in the Jones Cemetery.

Robert Supernaw, aged 19 years, died at his home in Norwood township last Friday evening. Deceased was brother of Richard Supernaw and Mrs. W. L. French of this city, who, together with the former's wife attended the funeral services on Monday. He was a member of the Methodist Episcopal church and the funeral services were conducted by his pastor, Rev. J. G. Biery.

Earl Fox was a Manclona visitor over Sunday.

Miss Nabel Pinney is seriously ill with pneumonia.

Miss Pearl Lewis is home from Charlevoix for a vacation.

Supervisor Graff was a Charlevoix business visitor, Thursday.

F. A. Kenyon is down from Mackinaw Island to spend Sunday.

Dr. C. A. Sweet is confined to his bed with threatened pneumonia.

John Munroe returned home, Wednesday from a tour of the West.

Miss Agnes Lewis is among those confined to her home by sickness.

Miss Violet Grigsby is able to be out again after a few days' illness.

Miss Lola Cross, teacher in the St. Clair high school, is home for a vacation.

Miss Beta Carr, who is attending at the County Normal, was home over Sunday.

Clyde Hipp was a Deward visitor this week in the interest of Boosinger's Store.

Mrs. A. L. Hillard with daughter Helen is guest of Peloskey friends this week.

Mrs. Robert Gonsolus left, Thursday, for a visit with relatives at Grand Rapids.

Lewis Bagshaw returned, Tuesday, from California where he has been on a vacation trip.

Black Sateen Petticoats, worth $1.25 for only 89c. at the East Jordan Lumber Co. Store next week.

Misses Constance Loveday and Lucile Boosinger are spending a week's vacation at Lansing.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Cameron are entertaining the latter's father, W. Turnbull of Huntsville, Ont.

Spring Opening at B. C. Hubbard & Co.'s and Mrs. Jay Hite's next Friday and Saturday. Don't forget the date, ladies!

Claude Wheelock returned home to Levering, Friday, after a visit at the home of his uncle, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Lancaster.

Supt. Allen D. Grigsby of Cheboygan who has been spending a few days with his parents left Wednesday for Lansing.

Mrs. W. Stone entertained about twenty young people to a supper Thursday evening, in honor of college students home for vacation.

Special Sale on Black Sateen Petticoats at the East Jordan Lumber Co. Store all next week. A high grade petticoat worth $1.25 for only 89c.

Deputy Game Warden F. L. Stanford of Boyne City, arrested John Magonb for fishing in the Jordan river last Monday. He was taken to Manclona and had a hearing before Justice Watters' who gave him a fine of $10 and costs. He had caught seven fish.

Mrs. Sarah Mackey died at her home on Main-st Friday morning after a lingering and painful illness. The funeral services will be held from the Presbyterian church Sunday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock, conducted by Rev. A. D. Grigsby, and interment will be made in the Marsh cemetery, Echo township. Mrs. Mackey was born in Canada in 1857 and removed to this section about 25 years ago. Her husband preceded her to the beyond a few years ago. Three daughters and one son are left to mourn her loss. Mrs. Elmer Richards, Mrs. Frank Crowell and Miss Eva, and Roscoe Mackey—one of our well-known business men.

Millinery Opening at Mrs. Jay Hite's next Friday and Saturday.

GIRL WANTED—For general house work. Small family. Good wages. Mrs. A. DANTO.

FOR RENT—Two dwelling houses on the West Side. Good garden plot and good water. Rent cheap.—Mrs. JAMES COX, East Jordan, West Side.

A Western Michigan Apple Show is announced for Grand Rapids for the fall of 1911. This exposition will be under the auspices of the Evening Press of that city.

A license for real estate dealers is the novel idea advanced by Land Commissioner Huntley Russell, and he says there is possibility of its being written into law at this session.

The twenty-fourth of March was the L. O. T. M. M.'s silver anniversary. Sororians here celebrated by having a masquerade party. The hall was prettily decorated for the occasion. The evening was heartily enjoyed by the many guests and members.

At the Wilson township caucus held last Friday the following officers were placed in nomination:—Ticket No. 1—Supervisor, Charles Hudkins; Clerk, John F. Quay; Treasurer, Charles Knop; Highway Commissioner, Elmer Harner; Highway Overseer, Max Osterburg; Justice, E. S. Brintnall; Board of Review, O. D. Wilson; Constables, Stephen Sloan, Louis Marvin, Fred Griffin, James St. John.

Ticket No. 2—Supervisor, Thomas Shepard; Highway Commissioner, A. R. Nowland; Highway Overseer, John Vondron; Constables, John Crozier, John Ingraham, Charles Brooks, H. C. Barber.

Mrs. Aldrich Townsend died at her home in this city Tuesday last of heart trouble, following a brief illness. Mary Jane Freeman was born in Dearborn, Wayne county, Michigan 72 years ago and was married fifty-four years ago to Aldrich Townsend. To this happy union was born ten children three of whom are living, Mrs. Cretta Clark of Janesville, Wisconsin, Alder in the West and Miss Ina at home. While Mr. Townsend served in the Civil War the deceased remained on her father's farm with her children. She has been a member of the Methodist Episcopal church of this city for years, and also a member of the W. R. C. The funeral took place on Friday from her late residence and was conducted by Rev. T. Porter Bennett, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church.

At the meeting of the executive committee of the Western Michigan Development bureau held at Traverse City, Wednesday, it was decided to eliminate the show at the National Land and Irrigation exposition in Chicago next year. In its place two field men will be put to work on the orchards, demonstrating proper methods of spraying, pruning, etc., as well as give illustrations, lectures in the evening after the method adopted by John L. Gibson, the present secretary of the bureau. John L. Gibson will conduct an advertising campaign throughout southern Michigan, Ohio and Indiana, during the coming season by giving illustrated lectures throughout that territory. It was also decided to make displays at the West Michigan fair in Grand Rapids and at the Michigan state fair in Detroit. It is believed that these will be of greater benefit to the region than the exhibit at the Chicago land show.

The Brotherhood Class of the Methodist Episcopal church held a banquet at the Oddfellow's Hall, Wednesday evening, in which about forty of its membership and their friends participated. The feast was the result of a membership contest, Harry Sloan's cohorts being the victors over Arthur Vance's troop of trustees. Poor, lone man, however, did not dare tackle the culinary end and, thanks to the ladies, this part of the feast was an unqualified success. Following the material came the intellectual. Rev. T. Porterhouse Bennett, as the class-leader, acted as Roast-master, and the many quaint and old-time stories he told made each one feel at home for they all recognized their old-story friends. His many attempts at punning brought forth considerable laughter. The evening was hugely enjoyed, particularly by the editors present who are case-hardened to "roasts." In the several impromptu speeches given a number of good thoughts were offered. The Brotherhood class was but recently organized and already has a membership of about sixty men from all walks in life. Rev. Mr. Bennett is to be congratulated on the success it has already achieved, and we predict if the same spirit of good-fellowship continues it will reach the century mark in a very few weeks.

At the Wilson township caucus held last Friday the following officers were placed in nomination:—Ticket No. 1—Supervisor, Charles Hudkins; Clerk, John F. Quay; Treasurer, Charles Knop; Highway Commissioner, Elmer Harner; Highway Overseer, Max Osterburg; Justice, E. S. Brintnall; Board of Review, O. D. Wilson; Constables, Stephen Sloan, Louis Marvin, Fred Griffin, James St. John.

Ticket No. 2—Supervisor, Thomas Shepard; Highway Commissioner, A. R. Nowland; Highway Overseer, John Vondron; Constables, John Crozier, John Ingraham, Charles Brooks, H. C. Barber.

Mrs. Aldrich Townsend died at her home in this city Tuesday last of heart trouble, following a brief illness. Mary Jane Freeman was born in Dearborn, Wayne county, Michigan 72 years ago and was married fifty-four years ago to Aldrich Townsend. To this happy union was born ten children three of whom are living, Mrs. Cretta Clark of Janesville, Wisconsin, Alder in the West and Miss Ina at home. While Mr. Townsend served in the Civil War the deceased remained on her father's farm with her children. She has been a member of the Methodist Episcopal church of this city for years, and also a member of the W. R. C. The funeral took place on Friday from her late residence and was conducted by Rev. T. Porter Bennett, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church.

At the meeting of the executive committee of the Western Michigan Development bureau held at Traverse City, Wednesday, it was decided to eliminate the show at the National Land and Irrigation exposition in Chicago next year. In its place two field men will be put to work on the orchards, demonstrating proper methods of spraying, pruning, etc., as well as give illustrations, lectures in the evening after the method adopted by John L. Gibson, the present secretary of the bureau. John L. Gibson will conduct an advertising campaign throughout southern Michigan, Ohio and Indiana, during the coming season by giving illustrated lectures throughout that territory. It was also decided to make displays at the West Michigan fair in Grand Rapids and at the Michigan state fair in Detroit. It is believed that these will be of greater benefit to the region than the exhibit at the Chicago land show.

The Brotherhood Class of the Methodist Episcopal church held a banquet at the Oddfellow's Hall, Wednesday evening, in which about forty of its membership and their friends participated. The feast was the result of a membership contest, Harry Sloan's cohorts being the victors over Arthur Vance's troop of trustees. Poor, lone man, however, did not dare tackle the culinary end and, thanks to the ladies, this part of the feast was an unqualified success. Following the material came the intellectual. Rev. T. Porterhouse Bennett, as the class-leader, acted as Roast-master, and the many quaint and old-time stories he told made each one feel at home for they all recognized their old-story friends. His many attempts at punning brought forth considerable laughter. The evening was hugely enjoyed, particularly by the editors present who are case-hardened to "roasts." In the several impromptu speeches given a number of good thoughts were offered. The Brotherhood class was but recently organized and already has a membership of about sixty men from all walks in life. Rev. Mr. Bennett is to be congratulated on the success it has already achieved, and we predict if the same spirit of good-fellowship continues it will reach the century mark in a very few weeks.

At the Wilson township caucus held last Friday the following officers were placed in nomination:—Ticket No. 1—Supervisor, Charles Hudkins; Clerk, John F. Quay; Treasurer, Charles Knop; Highway Commissioner, Elmer Harner; Highway Overseer, Max Osterburg; Justice, E. S. Brintnall; Board of Review, O. D. Wilson; Constables, Stephen Sloan, Louis Marvin, Fred Griffin, James St. John.

Ticket No. 2—Supervisor, Thomas Shepard; Highway Commissioner, A. R. Nowland; Highway Overseer, John Vondron; Constables, John Crozier, John Ingraham, Charles Brooks, H. C. Barber.

Mrs. Aldrich Townsend died at her home in this city Tuesday last of heart trouble, following a brief illness. Mary Jane Freeman was born in Dearborn, Wayne county, Michigan 72 years ago and was married fifty-four years ago to Aldrich Townsend. To this happy union was born ten children three of whom are living, Mrs. Cretta Clark of Janesville, Wisconsin, Alder in the West and Miss Ina at home. While Mr. Townsend served in the Civil War the deceased remained on her father's farm with her children. She has been a member of the Methodist Episcopal church of this city for years, and also a member of the W. R. C. The funeral took place on Friday from her late residence and was conducted by Rev. T. Porter Bennett, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church.

At the meeting of the executive committee of the Western Michigan Development bureau held at Traverse City, Wednesday, it was decided to eliminate the show at the National Land and Irrigation exposition in Chicago next year. In its place two field men will be put to work on the orchards, demonstrating proper methods of spraying, pruning, etc., as well as give illustrations, lectures in the evening after the method adopted by John L. Gibson, the present secretary of the bureau. John L. Gibson will conduct an advertising campaign throughout southern Michigan, Ohio and Indiana, during the coming season by giving illustrated lectures throughout that territory. It was also decided to make displays at the West Michigan fair in Grand Rapids and at the Michigan state fair in Detroit. It is believed that these will be of greater benefit to the region than the exhibit at the Chicago land show.

The Brotherhood Class of the Methodist Episcopal church held a banquet at the Oddfellow's Hall, Wednesday evening, in which about forty of its membership and their friends participated. The feast was the result of a membership contest, Harry Sloan's cohorts being the victors over Arthur Vance's troop of trustees. Poor, lone man, however, did not dare tackle the culinary end and, thanks to the ladies, this part of the feast was an unqualified success. Following the material came the intellectual. Rev. T. Porterhouse Bennett, as the class-leader, acted as Roast-master, and the many quaint and old-time stories he told made each one feel at home for they all recognized their old-story friends. His many attempts at punning brought forth considerable laughter. The evening was hugely enjoyed, particularly by the editors present who are case-hardened to "roasts." In the several impromptu speeches given a number of good thoughts were offered. The Brotherhood class was but recently organized and already has a membership of about sixty men from all walks in life. Rev. Mr. Bennett is to be congratulated on the success it has already achieved, and we predict if the same spirit of good-fellowship continues it will reach the century mark in a very few weeks.

At the Wilson township caucus held last Friday the following officers were placed in nomination:—Ticket No. 1—Supervisor, Charles Hudkins; Clerk, John F. Quay; Treasurer, Charles Knop; Highway Commissioner, Elmer Harner; Highway Overseer, Max Osterburg; Justice, E. S. Brintnall; Board of Review, O. D. Wilson; Constables, Stephen Sloan, Louis Marvin, Fred Griffin, James St. John.

Ticket No. 2—Supervisor, Thomas Shepard; Highway Commissioner, A. R. Nowland; Highway Overseer, John Vondron; Constables, John Crozier, John Ingraham, Charles Brooks, H. C. Barber.

Mrs. Aldrich Townsend died at her home in this city Tuesday last of heart trouble, following a brief illness. Mary Jane Freeman was born in Dearborn, Wayne county, Michigan 72 years ago and was married fifty-four years ago to Aldrich Townsend. To this happy union was born ten children three of whom are living, Mrs. Cretta Clark of Janesville, Wisconsin, Alder in the West and Miss Ina at home. While Mr. Townsend served in the Civil War the deceased remained on her father's farm with her children. She has been a member of the Methodist Episcopal church of this city for years, and also a member of the W. R. C. The funeral took place on Friday from her late residence and was conducted by Rev. T. Porter Bennett, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church.

At the meeting of the executive committee of the Western Michigan Development bureau held at Traverse City, Wednesday, it was decided to eliminate the show at the National Land and Irrigation exposition in Chicago next year. In its place two field men will be put to work on the orchards, demonstrating proper methods of spraying, pruning, etc., as well as give illustrations, lectures in the evening after the method adopted by John L. Gibson, the present secretary of the bureau. John L. Gibson will conduct an advertising campaign throughout southern Michigan, Ohio and Indiana, during the coming season by giving illustrated lectures throughout that territory. It was also decided to make displays at the West Michigan fair in Grand Rapids and at the Michigan state fair in Detroit. It is believed that these will be of greater benefit to the region than the exhibit at the Chicago land show.

The Brotherhood Class of the Methodist Episcopal church held a banquet at the Oddfellow's Hall, Wednesday evening, in which about forty of its membership and their friends participated. The feast was the result of a membership contest, Harry Sloan's cohorts being the victors over Arthur Vance's troop of trustees. Poor, lone man, however, did not dare tackle the culinary end and, thanks to the ladies, this part of the feast was an unqualified success. Following the material came the intellectual. Rev. T. Porterhouse Bennett, as the class-leader, acted as Roast-master, and the many quaint and old-time stories he told made each one feel at home for they all recognized their old-story friends. His many attempts at punning brought forth considerable laughter. The evening was hugely enjoyed, particularly by the editors present who are case-hardened to "roasts." In the several impromptu speeches given a number of good thoughts were offered. The Brotherhood class was but recently organized and already has a membership of about sixty men from all walks in life. Rev. Mr. Bennett is to be congratulated on the success it has already achieved, and we predict if the same spirit of good-fellowship continues it will reach the century mark in a very few weeks.

At the Wilson township caucus held last Friday the following officers were placed in nomination:—Ticket No. 1—Supervisor, Charles Hudkins; Clerk, John F. Quay; Treasurer, Charles Knop; Highway Commissioner, Elmer Harner; Highway Overseer, Max Osterburg; Justice, E. S. Brintnall; Board of Review, O. D. Wilson; Constables, Stephen Sloan, Louis Marvin, Fred Griffin, James St. John.

Ticket No. 2—Supervisor, Thomas Shepard; Highway Commissioner, A. R. Nowland; Highway Overseer, John Vondron; Constables, John Crozier, John Ingraham, Charles Brooks, H. C. Barber.

Mrs. Aldrich Townsend died at her home in this city Tuesday last of heart trouble, following a brief illness. Mary Jane Freeman was born in Dearborn, Wayne county, Michigan 72 years ago and was married fifty-four years ago to Aldrich Townsend. To this happy union was born ten children three of whom are living, Mrs. Cretta Clark of Janesville, Wisconsin, Alder in the West and Miss Ina at home. While Mr. Townsend served in the Civil War the deceased remained on her father's farm with her children. She has been a member of the Methodist Episcopal church of this city for years, and also a member of the W. R. C. The funeral took place on Friday from her late residence and was conducted by Rev. T. Porter Bennett, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church.

At the meeting of the executive committee of the Western Michigan Development bureau held at Traverse City, Wednesday, it was decided to eliminate the show at the National Land and Irrigation exposition in Chicago next year. In its place two field men will be put to work on the orchards, demonstrating proper methods of spraying, pruning, etc., as well as give illustrations, lectures in the evening after the method adopted by John L. Gibson, the present secretary of the bureau. John L. Gibson will conduct an advertising campaign throughout southern Michigan, Ohio and Indiana, during the coming season by giving illustrated lectures throughout that territory. It was also decided to make displays at the West Michigan fair in Grand Rapids and at the Michigan state fair in Detroit. It is believed that these will be of greater benefit to the region than the exhibit at the Chicago land show.

The Brotherhood Class of the Methodist Episcopal church held a banquet at the Oddfellow's Hall, Wednesday evening, in which about forty of its membership and their friends participated. The feast was the result of a membership contest, Harry Sloan's cohorts being the victors over Arthur Vance's troop of trustees. Poor, lone man, however, did not dare tackle the culinary end and, thanks to the ladies, this part of the feast was an unqualified success. Following the material came the intellectual. Rev. T. Porterhouse Bennett, as the class-leader, acted as Roast-master, and the many quaint and old-time stories he told made each one feel at home for they all recognized their old-story friends. His many attempts at punning brought forth considerable laughter. The evening was hugely enjoyed, particularly by the editors present who are case-hardened to "roasts." In the several impromptu speeches given a number of good thoughts were offered. The Brotherhood class was but recently organized and already has a membership of about sixty men from all walks in life. Rev. Mr. Bennett is to be congratulated on the success it has already achieved, and we predict if the same spirit of good-fellowship continues it will reach the century mark in a very few weeks.

At the Wilson township caucus held last Friday the following officers were placed in nomination:—Ticket No. 1—Supervisor, Charles Hudkins; Clerk, John F. Quay; Treasurer, Charles Knop; Highway Commissioner, Elmer Harner; Highway Overseer, Max Osterburg; Justice, E. S. Brintnall; Board of Review, O. D. Wilson; Constables, Stephen Sloan, Louis Marvin, Fred Griffin, James St. John.

Ticket No. 2—Supervisor, Thomas Shepard; Highway Commissioner, A. R. Nowland; Highway Overseer, John Vondron; Constables, John Crozier, John Ingraham, Charles Brooks, H. C. Barber.

Mrs. Aldrich Townsend died at her home in this city Tuesday last of heart trouble, following a brief illness. Mary Jane Freeman was born in Dearborn, Wayne county, Michigan 72 years ago and was married fifty-four years ago to Aldrich Townsend. To this happy union was born ten children three of whom are living, Mrs. Cretta Clark of Janesville, Wisconsin, Alder in the West and Miss Ina at home. While Mr. Townsend served in the Civil War the deceased remained on her father's farm with her children. She has been a member of the Methodist Episcopal church of this city for years, and also a member of the W. R. C. The funeral took place on Friday from her late residence and was conducted by Rev. T. Porter Bennett, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church.

At the meeting of the executive committee of the Western Michigan Development bureau held at Traverse City, Wednesday, it was decided to eliminate the show at the National Land and Irrigation exposition in Chicago next year. In its place two field men will be put to work on the orchards, demonstrating proper methods of spraying, pruning, etc., as well as give illustrations, lectures in the evening after the method adopted by John L. Gibson, the present secretary of the bureau. John L. Gibson will conduct an advertising campaign throughout southern Michigan, Ohio and Indiana, during the coming season by giving illustrated lectures throughout that territory. It was also decided to make displays at the West Michigan fair in Grand Rapids and at the Michigan state fair in Detroit. It is believed that these will be of greater benefit to the region than the exhibit at the Chicago land show.

The Brotherhood Class of the Methodist Episcopal church held a banquet at the Oddfellow's Hall, Wednesday evening, in which about forty of its membership and their friends participated. The feast was the result of a membership contest, Harry Sloan's cohorts being the victors over Arthur Vance's troop of trustees. Poor, lone man, however, did not dare tackle the culinary end and, thanks to the ladies, this part of the feast was an unqualified success. Following the material came the intellectual. Rev. T. Porterhouse Bennett, as the class-leader, acted as Roast-master, and the many quaint and old-time stories he told made each one feel at home for they all recognized their old-story friends. His many attempts at punning brought forth considerable laughter. The evening was hugely enjoyed, particularly by the editors present who are case-hardened to "roasts." In the several impromptu speeches given a number of good thoughts were offered. The Brotherhood class was but recently organized and already has a membership of about sixty men from all walks in life. Rev. Mr. Bennett is to be congratulated on the success it has already achieved, and we predict if the same spirit of good-fellowship continues it will reach the century mark in a very few weeks.

At the Wilson township caucus held last Friday the following officers were placed in nomination:—Ticket No. 1—Supervisor, Charles Hudkins; Clerk, John F. Quay; Treasurer, Charles Knop; Highway Commissioner, Elmer Harner; Highway Overseer, Max Osterburg; Justice, E. S. Brintnall; Board of Review, O. D. Wilson; Constables, Stephen Sloan, Louis Marvin, Fred Griffin, James St. John.

Ticket No. 2—Supervisor, Thomas Shepard; Highway Commissioner, A. R. Nowland; Highway Overseer, John Vondron; Constables, John Crozier, John Ingraham, Charles Brooks, H. C. Barber.

Mrs. Aldrich Townsend died at her home in this city Tuesday last of heart trouble, following a brief illness. Mary Jane Freeman was born in Dearborn, Wayne county, Michigan 72 years ago and was married fifty-four years ago to Aldrich Townsend. To this happy union was born ten children three of whom are living, Mrs. Cretta Clark of Janesville, Wisconsin, Alder in the West and Miss Ina at home. While Mr. Townsend served in the Civil War the deceased remained on her father's farm with her children. She has been a member of the Methodist Episcopal church of this city for years, and also a member of the W. R. C. The funeral took place on Friday from her late residence and was conducted by Rev. T. Porter Bennett, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church.

At the meeting of the executive committee of the Western Michigan Development bureau held at Traverse City, Wednesday, it was decided to eliminate the show at the National Land and Irrigation exposition in Chicago next year. In its place two field men will be put to work on the orchards, demonstrating proper methods of spraying, pruning, etc., as well as give illustrations, lectures in the evening after the method adopted by John L. Gibson, the present secretary of the bureau. John L. Gibson will conduct an advertising campaign throughout southern Michigan, Ohio and Indiana, during the coming season by giving illustrated lectures throughout that territory. It was also decided to make displays at the West Michigan fair in Grand Rapids and at the Michigan state fair in Detroit. It is believed that these will be of greater benefit to the region than the exhibit at the Chicago land show.

The Brotherhood Class of the Methodist Episcopal church held a banquet at the Oddfellow's Hall, Wednesday evening, in which about forty of its membership and their friends participated. The feast was the result of a membership contest, Harry Sloan's cohorts being the victors over Arthur Vance's troop of trustees. Poor, lone man, however, did not dare tackle the culinary end and, thanks to the ladies, this part of the feast was an unqualified success. Following the material came the intellectual. Rev. T. Porterhouse Bennett, as the class-leader, acted as Roast-master, and the many quaint and old-time stories he told made each one feel at home for they all recognized their old-story friends. His many attempts at punning brought forth considerable laughter. The evening was hugely enjoyed, particularly by the editors present who are case-hardened to "roasts." In the several impromptu speeches given a number of good thoughts were offered. The Brotherhood class was but recently organized and already has a membership of about sixty men from all walks in life. Rev. Mr. Bennett is to be congratulated on the success it has already achieved, and we predict if the same spirit of good-fellowship continues it will reach the century mark in a very few weeks.

At the Wilson township caucus held last Friday the following officers were placed in nomination:—Ticket No. 1—Supervisor, Charles Hudkins; Clerk, John F. Quay; Treasurer, Charles Knop; Highway Commissioner, Elmer Harner; Highway Overseer, Max Osterburg; Justice, E. S. Brintnall; Board of Review, O. D. Wilson; Constables, Stephen Sloan, Louis Marvin, Fred Griffin, James St. John.

Ticket No. 2—Supervisor, Thomas Shepard; Highway Commissioner, A. R. Nowland; Highway Overseer, John Vondron; Constables, John Crozier, John Ingraham, Charles Brooks, H. C. Barber.

Mrs. Aldrich Townsend died at her home in this city Tuesday last of heart trouble, following a brief illness. Mary Jane Freeman was born in Dearborn, Wayne county, Michigan 72 years ago and was married fifty-four years ago to Aldrich Townsend. To this happy union was born ten children three of whom are living, Mrs. Cretta Clark of Janesville, Wisconsin, Alder in the West and Miss Ina at home. While Mr. Townsend served in the Civil War the deceased remained on her father's farm with her children. She has been a member of the Methodist Episcopal church of this city for years, and also a member of the W. R. C. The funeral took place on Friday from her late residence and was conducted by Rev. T. Porter Bennett, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church.

At the meeting of the executive committee of the Western Michigan Development bureau held at Traverse City, Wednesday, it was decided to eliminate the show at the National Land and Irrigation exposition in Chicago next year. In its place two field men will be put to work on the orchards, demonstrating proper methods of spraying, pruning, etc., as well as give illustrations, lectures in the evening after the method adopted by John L. Gibson, the present secretary of the bureau. John L. Gibson will conduct an advertising campaign throughout southern Michigan, Ohio and Indiana, during the coming season by giving illustrated lectures throughout that territory. It was also decided to make displays at the West Michigan fair in Grand Rapids and at the Michigan state fair in Detroit. It is believed that these will be of greater benefit to the region than the exhibit at the Chicago land show.

The Brotherhood Class of the Methodist Episcopal church held a banquet at the Oddfellow's Hall, Wednesday evening, in which about forty of its membership and their friends participated. The feast was the result of a membership contest, Harry Sloan's cohorts being the victors over Arthur Vance's troop of trustees. Poor, lone man, however, did not dare tackle the culinary end and, thanks to the ladies, this part of the feast was an unqualified success. Following the material came the intellectual. Rev. T. Porterhouse Bennett, as the class-leader, acted as Roast-master, and the many quaint and old-time stories he told made each one feel at home for they all recognized their old-story friends. His many attempts at punning brought forth considerable laughter. The evening was hugely enjoyed, particularly by the editors present who are case-hardened to "roasts." In the several impromptu speeches given a number of good thoughts were offered. The Brotherhood class was but recently organized and already has a membership of about sixty men from all walks in life. Rev. Mr. Bennett is to be congratulated on the success it has already achieved, and we predict if the same spirit of good-fellowship continues it will reach the century mark in a very few weeks.

At the Wilson township caucus held last Friday the following officers were placed in nomination:—Ticket No. 1—Supervisor, Charles Hudkins; Clerk, John F. Quay; Treasurer, Charles Knop; Highway Commissioner, Elmer Harner; Highway Overseer, Max Osterburg; Justice, E. S. Brintnall; Board of Review, O. D. Wilson; Constables, Stephen Sloan, Louis Marvin, Fred Griffin, James St. John.

Ticket No. 2—Supervisor, Thomas Shepard; Highway Commissioner, A. R. Nowland; Highway Overseer, John Vondron; Constables, John Crozier, John Ingraham, Charles Brooks, H. C. Barber.

Mrs. Aldrich Townsend died at her home in this city Tuesday last of heart trouble, following a brief illness. Mary Jane Freeman was born in Dearborn, Wayne county, Michigan 72 years ago and was married fifty-four years ago to Aldrich Townsend. To this happy union was born ten children three of whom are living, Mrs. Cretta Clark of Janesville, Wisconsin, Alder in the West and Miss Ina at home. While Mr. Townsend served in the Civil War the deceased remained on her father's farm with her children. She has been a member of the Methodist Episcopal church of this city for years, and also a member of the W. R. C. The funeral took place on Friday from her late residence and was conducted by Rev. T. Porter Bennett, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church.

At the meeting of the executive committee of the Western Michigan Development bureau held at Traverse City, Wednesday, it was decided to eliminate the show at the National Land and Irrigation exposition in Chicago next year. In its place two field men will be put to work on the orchards, demonstrating proper methods of spraying, pruning, etc., as well as give illustrations, lectures in the evening after the method adopted by John L. Gibson, the present secretary of the bureau. John L. Gibson will conduct an advertising campaign throughout southern Michigan, Ohio and Indiana, during the coming season by giving illustrated lectures throughout that territory. It was also decided to make displays at the West Michigan fair in Grand Rapids and at the Michigan state fair in Detroit. It is believed that these will be of greater benefit to the region than the exhibit at the Chicago land show.

The Brotherhood Class of the Methodist Episcopal church held a banquet at the Oddfellow's Hall, Wednesday evening, in which about forty of its membership and their friends participated. The feast was the result of a membership contest, Harry Sloan's cohorts being the victors over Arthur Vance's troop of trustees. Poor, lone man, however, did not dare tackle the culinary end and, thanks to the ladies, this part of the feast was an unqualified success. Following the material came the intellectual. Rev. T. Porterhouse Bennett, as the class-leader, acted as Roast-master, and the many quaint and old-time stories he told made each one feel at home for they all recognized their old-story friends. His many attempts at punning brought forth considerable laughter. The evening was hugely enjoyed, particularly by the editors present who are case-hardened to "roasts." In the several impromptu speeches given a number of good thoughts were offered. The Brotherhood class was but recently organized and already has a membership of about sixty men from all walks in life. Rev. Mr. Bennett is to be congratulated on the success it has already achieved, and we predict if the same spirit of good-fellowship continues it will reach the century mark in a very few weeks.

At the Wilson township caucus held last Friday the following officers were placed in nomination:—Ticket No. 1—Supervisor, Charles Hudkins; Clerk, John F. Quay; Treasurer, Charles Knop; Highway Commissioner, Elmer Harner; Highway Overseer, Max Osterburg; Justice, E. S. Brintnall; Board of Review, O. D. Wilson; Constables, Stephen Sloan, Louis Marvin, Fred Griffin, James St. John.

Ticket No. 2—Supervisor, Thomas Shepard; Highway Commissioner, A. R. Nowland; Highway Overseer, John Vondron; Constables, John Crozier, John Ingraham, Charles Brooks, H. C. Barber.

Mrs. Aldrich Townsend died at her home in this city Tuesday last of heart trouble, following a brief illness. Mary Jane Freeman was born in Dearborn, Wayne county, Michigan 72 years ago and was married fifty-four years ago to Aldrich Townsend. To this happy union was born ten children three of whom are living, Mrs. Cretta Clark of Janesville, Wisconsin, Alder in the West and Miss Ina at home. While Mr. Townsend served in the Civil War the deceased remained on her father's farm with her children. She has been a member of the Methodist Episcopal church of this city for years, and also a member of the W. R. C. The funeral took place on Friday from her late residence and was conducted by Rev. T. Porter Bennett, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church.

At the meeting of the executive committee of the Western Michigan Development bureau held at Traverse City, Wednesday, it was decided to eliminate the show at the National Land and Irrigation exposition in Chicago next year. In its place two field men will be put to work on the orchards, demonstrating proper methods of spraying, pruning, etc., as well as give illustrations, lectures in the evening after the method adopted by John L. Gibson, the present secretary of the bureau. John L. Gibson will conduct an advertising campaign throughout southern Michigan, Ohio and Indiana, during the coming season by giving illustrated lectures throughout that territory. It was also decided to make displays at the West Michigan fair in Grand Rapids and at the Michigan state fair in Detroit. It is believed that these will be of greater benefit to the region than the exhibit at the Chicago land show.

The Brotherhood Class of the Methodist Episcopal church held a banquet at the Oddfellow's Hall, Wednesday evening, in which about forty of its membership and their friends participated. The feast was the result of a membership contest, Harry Sloan's cohorts being the victors over Arthur Vance's troop of trustees. Poor, lone man, however, did not dare tackle the culinary end and, thanks to the ladies, this part of the feast was an unqualified success. Following the material came the intellectual. Rev. T. Porterhouse Bennett, as the class-leader, acted as Roast-master, and the many quaint and old-time stories he told made each one feel at home for they all recognized their old-story friends. His many attempts at punning brought forth considerable laughter. The evening was hugely enjoyed, particularly by the editors present who are case-hardened to "roasts." In the several impromptu speeches given a number of good thoughts were offered. The Brotherhood class was but recently organized and already has a membership of about sixty men from all walks in life. Rev. Mr. Bennett is to be congratulated on the success it has already achieved, and we predict if the same spirit of good-fellowship continues it will reach the century mark in a very few weeks.

At the Wilson township caucus held last Friday the following officers were placed in nomination:—Ticket No. 1—Supervisor, Charles Hudkins; Clerk, John F. Quay; Treasurer, Charles Knop; Highway Commissioner, Elmer Harner; Highway Overseer, Max Osterburg; Justice, E. S. Brintnall; Board of Review, O. D. Wilson; Constables, Stephen Sloan, Louis Marvin, Fred Griffin, James St. John.

Ticket No. 2—Supervisor, Thomas Shepard; Highway Commissioner, A. R. Nowland; Highway Overseer, John Vondron; Constables, John Crozier, John Ingraham, Charles Brooks, H. C. Barber.

Mrs. Aldrich Townsend died at her home in this city Tuesday last of heart trouble, following a brief illness. Mary Jane Freeman was born in Dearborn, Wayne county, Michigan 72 years ago and was married fifty-four years ago to Aldrich Townsend. To this happy union was born ten children three of whom are living, Mrs

SYNOPSIS.

Howard Jeffries, banker's son, under the evil influence of Robert Underwood, a fellow-student at Yale, leads a life of dissipation, marries the daughter of a gambler who died in prison, and is disowned by his father. He tries to get work and fails. A former college chum makes a business proposition to Howard which requires $2,000 cash, and Howard is broke.

CHAPTER II.—Continued.

"You know I wouldn't, Annie," he said earnestly. "Not one second have I ever regretted marrying you—that's honest to God!"

A faint flush of pleasure lit up the young wife's face. For all her assumed lightheartedness she was badly in need of this reassurance. If she thought Howard nourished secret regrets it would break her heart. She could stand anything, any hardship, but not that. She would leave him at once.

In a way she held herself responsible for his present predicament. She had felt a deep sense of guilt ever since that afternoon in New Haven when, listening to Howard's importunities and obeying an impulse she was powerless to resist, she had flung aside her waitress' apron, furtively left the restaurant and hurried with him to the minister who declared them man and wife.

Their marriage was a mistake, of course. Howard was in no position to marry. They should have waited. They both realized their folly now. But what was done could not be undone. She realized, too, that it was worse for Howard than it was for her. It had ruined his prospects at the outset of his career and threatened to be an irreparable blight on his entire life. She realized that she was largely to blame. She had done wrong to marry him and at times she reproached herself bitterly.

There were days when their union assumed in her eyes the enormity of a crime. She should have seen what a social gulf lay between them. All these taunts and insults from his family which she now endured she had foolishly brought upon her own head. But she had not been able to resist the temptation. Howard came into her life when the outlook was dreary and hopeless. He had offered to her what seemed a haven against the cruelty and selfishness of the world. Happiness for the first time in her life seemed within reach and she had not the moral courage to say "No."

If Annie had no education she was not without brains. She had sense enough to realize that her bringing up or the lack of it was an unsurmountable barrier to her ever being admitted to the inner circle of Howard's family. If her husband's father had not married again the breach might have been crossed in time, but his new wife was a prominent member of the smart set, a woman full of aristocratic notions, who recoiled with horror at having anything to do with a girl guilty of the enormity of earning her own living. Individual merit, inherent nobility of character, amiability of disposition, and a personal reputation untouched by scandal—all this went for nothing—because unaccompanied by wealth or social position. She had not even education. They considered her common, impossible. They were ever ready to lend an ear to certain ugly stories regarding her past, none of which were true. After their marriage, Mr. Jeffries, Sr., and his wife absolutely refused to receive her or have any communication with her whatsoever. As long, therefore, as Howard remained faithful to her, the breach with his family could never be healed.

"Have some more stew, dear," she said, extending her hand for her husband's plate.

Howard shook his head and threw down his knife and fork.

"I've had enough," he said despondently. "I haven't much appetite."

"She looked at him with concern. "Poor boy, you're tired out!"

As she noted how pale and dejected he appeared, her eyes filled with sympathetic tears. She forgot the appalling number of cigarettes he smoked a day, nor did she realize how abuse of alcohol had spoiled his stomach for solid food.

"I wish I knew where to go and get that $2,000," muttered Howard, his mind still preoccupied with Cox's proposition. Lighting another cigarette, he leaned back in his chair and lapsed into silence.

Annie sat and watched him, wishing she could suggest some way to solve the problem that troubled him. She loved her husband with all her heart and soul. His very weakness of character endeared him the more to her. She was not blind to his faults, but she excused them. His vices, his drinking, cigarette smoking and general shiftlessness were, she argued, the result of bad associates.

The Third Degree

A NARRATIVE OF METROPOLITAN LIFE
By CHARLES KLEIN
AND ARTHUR HORNBLOW
ILLUSTRATIONS BY RAY WALTERS
COPYRIGHT, 1908, BY G.W. DILLINGHAM COMPANY

He was self-indulgent. He made many good resolutions and broke them. But he was not really vicious. He had a good heart. With some one to watch him and keep him in the straight path he would still give a good account of himself to the world. She was confident of that. She recognized many excellent qualities in him. They only wasted fostering and bringing out. That was why she married him. She was a few years his senior; she felt that she was the stronger mentally. She considered it was her duty to devote her life to him, to protect him from himself and make a man of him.

It was not her fault, she mused, if she was not a lady. Literally brought up in the gutter, what advantages had she had? Her mother died in childbirth and her father, a professional gambler, abandoned the little girl to the tender mercies of an indifferent neighbor. When she was about eight years old her father was arrested. He refused to pay police blackmail, was indicted, railroaded to prison and died soon after in convict stripes. There was no provision for Annie's maintenance, so at the age of nine she found herself toiling in a factory, a helpless victim of the brutalizing system of child slavery, which in spite of prohibiting laws still disgraces the United States. Ever since that time she had earned her own living. The road had often been hard, there were times when she thought she would have to give up the fight; other girls she had met had hinted at an easier way of earning one's living, but she had kept her courage, refused to listen to evil counsel and always managed to keep her name unsullied. She left the factory to work behind the counter in a New York dry goods store. Then about a year ago she drifted to New Haven and took the position of waitress at the restaurant which the college boys patronized.

Robert Underwood was among the students who came almost every day. He made love to her from the start, and one day attempted liberties which she was prompt to resent in a way he did not relish. After that he let her alone. She never liked the man. She knew him to be unprincipled as well as vicious. One night he brought Howard Jeffries to the restaurant. They seemed the closest of cronies and she was sorry to see what bad influence the elder sophomore had over the young freshman, to whom she was at once attracted. Every time they came she watched them and she noticed how under his mentor Howard became more hardened. He drank more and more and became a reckless gambler. Underwood seemed to exercise a baneful spell over him. She saw that he would soon be ruined with such a man as Underwood for a constant companion. Her interest in the young student grew. They became acquainted and Howard, not realizing that she was older than he, was immediately captivated by her vivacious charm and her common-sense views. They saw each other more frequently and their friendship grew until one day Howard asked her to marry him.

While she sometimes blamed herself for having listened too willingly to Howard's pleadings, she did not altogether regret the step she had taken. It was most unfortunate that there must be this rupture with his family, yet something within told her that she was doing God's work—saving a man's soul. Without her, Howard would have gone swiftly to ruin, there was little doubt of that. His affection for her had partly, if not wholly, redeemed him and was keeping him straight. He had been good to her ever since their marriage and done everything to make her comfortable. Once he took a position as guard on the elevated road, but caught cold and was forced to give it up. She wanted to go to work again, but he angrily refused. That alone showed that he was not entirely devoid of character. He was unfortunate at present and they were poor, but by dint of perseverance he would win out and make a position for himself without his father's help. These were their darkest days, but light was ahead. As long as they loved each other and had their health what more was necessary?

"Say, Annie, I have an idea," suddenly blurted out Howard.

"What is it, dear?" she asked, her reveries thus abruptly interrupted.

"I mean regarding that $2,000. You know all about that $250 which I once lent Underwood. I never got it back, although I've been after him many times for it. He's a slippery customer. But under the circumstances I think it's worth another determined effort. He seems to be better fixed now than he ever was. He's living at the Astoria, making a social splurge and all that sort of thing. He must have money. I'll try to borrow the $2,000 from him."

"He certainly appears to be prosperous," replied Annie. "I see his name in the newspapers all the time. There is hardly an affair at which he is not present."

"Yes," growled Howard; "I don't see how he does it. He travels on his cheek, principally, I guess. His name was among those present at my stepmother's musicale the other night." Bitterly he added: "That's how the world goes. There is no place for me under my father's roof, but that blackguard is welcomed with open arms!"

"I thought your father was such a proud man," interrupted Annie. "How does he come to associate with people like Underwood?"

"Oh, pater's an old dot!" exclaimed Howard impatiently. "There's no fool like an old fool. Of course, he's sensible enough in business matters. He wouldn't be where he is to-day if he weren't. But when it comes to the woman question he's as blind as a bat. What right had a man of his age to go and marry a woman 20 years his junior? Of course she only married him for his money. Everybody knows that except her. People laugh at him behind his back. Instead of enjoying a quiet, peaceful home in the declining years of his life, he is compelled to keep open house and entertain people who are personally obnoxious to him, simply because that sort of life pleases his young wife."

"Who was she, anyway, before their marriage?" interrupted Annie.

"Oh, a nobody," he replied. "She was very attractive looking, dressed well and was clever enough to get introductions to good people. She managed to make herself popular in the smart set and she needed money to carry out her social ambitions. Dad—wealthy widower—came along and she caught him in her net, that's all!"

Annie listened with interest. She was human enough to feel a certain sense of satisfaction in hearing that this woman who treated her with such contempt was herself something of an intriguer.

"How did your stepmother come to know Robert Underwood?" she asked. "He was never in society."

"No," replied Howard with a grin. "It was my stepmother who gave him the entrée. You know she was once engaged to him, but broke it off so she could marry dad. He felt very sore over it at the time, but after her marriage he was seemingly as friendly with her as ever—to serve his own ends, of course. It is simply wonderful what influence he has with her. He exercises over her the same fascination that he did over me at college. He has sort of hypnotized her. I don't think it's a case of love or anything like that, but he simply holds her under his thumb and gets her to do anything he wants. She invites him to her house, introduces him right and left, got people to take him up. Everybody laughs about it in society. Underwood is known as Mrs. Howard Jeffries' pet. Such a thing soon gets talked about. That is the secret of his successful career in New York. As far as I know she's as much infatuated with him as ever."

A look of surprise came into Annie's face. To this young woman, whose one idea of matrimony was steadfast loyalty to the man whose life she shared and whose name she bore, there was something repellent and nauseating in a woman permitting herself to be talked about in that way.

"Doesn't your father object?" she asked.

"Pshaw!" laughed Howard. "He doesn't see what's going on under his very nose. He's too proud a man, too sure of his own good judgment, to believe for a moment that the woman to whom he gave his name would be guilty of the slightest indiscretion of that kind."

Annie was silent for a minute. Then she said:

"What makes you think that Underwood would let you have the money?"

"Because I think he's got it. I obliged him once in the same way myself. I would explain to him what I want it for. He will see at once that it is a good thing. I'll offer him a good rate of interest, and he might be very glad to let me have it. Anyhow, there's no harm trying."

Annie said nothing. She did not entirely approve this idea of her husband trying to borrow money of a man in whom his stepmother was so much interested. On the other hand starvation stared them in the face. If Howard could get hold of this $2,000 and start in the brokerage business it might be the beginning of a new life for them.

"Well, do as you like, dear," she said. "When will you go to him?"

"The best time to catch him would be in the evening," replied Howard. "Well, then, go to-night," she suggested.

Howard shook his head.

"No, not to-night. I don't think I should find him in. He's out every night somewhere. To-night there's another big reception at my father's house. He'll probably be there. I think I'll wait till to-morrow night. I'm nearly sure to catch him at home then."

Annie rose and began to remove the dishes from the table. Howard nonchalantly lit another cigarette and, leaving the table, took up the evening newspaper. Sitting down comfortably in a rocker by the window, he blew a cloud of blue smoke up in the air and said:

"Yes, that's it—I'll go to-morrow night to the Astoria and strike Bob Underwood for that $2,000."

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

"Not One Second Have I Regretted Marrying You—That's Honest to God!"

A MINISTER SPEAKS.

His Statement Should Convince the Most Skeptical.

Kidney sufferers should take fresh courage in reading the statement of Rev. Marlon S. Foreman of Greenfield, Ind., given below. He speaks for the benefit of suffering humanity. Says he: "I had kidney trouble in a bad form and was unable to get relief until I began the use of Doan's Kidney Pills. They did such good work that I strongly recommend them. I hope my testimonial will prove of benefit to other kidney sufferers."

Remember the name—Doan's. For sale by all dealers, 50 cents a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

Reason Enough. A negro near Xenia, O., had been arrested for chicken stealing. He had stolen so many that his crime had become grand larceny.

He was tried and convicted, and brought in for sentence. "Have you any reason to offer why the judgment of the court should not be passed upon you?" he was asked. "Well, judge," he replied, "I can't go to jail now, nohow. I'm buildin' a shack out yonder, an' I jus' can't go till I git it done. You kin sholy see dat."—Philadelphia Sunday Evening Post.

Fighting Tuberculosis in Hungary. The anti-tuberculosis movement was started in 1894, and in 1898 there were five institutions for the treatment of consumption. Today the campaign is encouraged and financed by the government, and over 200 different agencies are engaged in the fight. A permanent tuberculosis museum has been established at Budapest and a carefully conducted campaign of education is being carried on.

IMPROVE CONDITIONS. An interesting illustrated booklet will be mailed free to any lady or gentleman wishing to improve their financial condition by small investments. It's new, add instructive and may benefit you. Only a few copies left free distribution. Write for one today. Address: W. H. Hills, 234 La Salle St., Chicago, Ill.

Tasted Good. "I saw John, the butler, smacking his lips, just now, as he went out. Had he been taking anything, Katie?" asked the mistress. "What was he doin', ma'am?" asked the pretty waiting girl. "Smacking his lips."

"Sure, he'd just been smacking mine, ma'am!"—Yonkers Statesman.

A Card. We, the undersigned, do hereby agree to refund the money on a 50-cent bottle of Greene's Warranted Syrup of Tar if it fails to cure your cough or cold. We also guarantee a 25-cent bottle to prove satisfactory or money refunded. Your Druggist, My Druggist, Any Druggist in Michigan.

Music Hall Losing Vogue. Music halls have increased very little in the last few years. Some have gone back to drama. Others have been run partly with drama. Others have gone over to picture entertainments. The picture houses have not immensely added to their own by new buildings.—London Stage.

LADIES CAN WEAR SHOES. One size smaller after using Allen's Foot-Paste, the antiseptic powder to be shaken into the shoe. It makes tight shoes feel easy. Retain substitutes. For free trial package, address Allen S. Olmsted, Le Roy, N. Y.

Intends to Be Boss. Maud—Do you intend to marry or to retain your liberty? Ethel—Both.

Sore Throat is no trifling ailment. It will sometimes carry infection to the entire system through the food you eat. Hamlin's Wizard Oil cures Sore Throat.

Take This to Heart. Some men work harder trying to get out of doing a thing than it would take them to do it.—Exchange.

PILES CURED IN 8 TO 14 DAYS. Contingent will refund money if PAIN OINTMENT fails to cure any case of Itching, Blind, Bleeding or Protruding Piles in 14 days. 50c.

What sculpture is to a block of marble, education is to a human soul.—Addison.

For constipation, biliousness, liver disturbances and diseases resulting from impure blood, take Garfield Tea.

One kind of a brute is a man who refuses to flatter a woman.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Cures croup, softens the bowels, relieves inflammation, allays pain, cures wind colic. 25c a bottle.

It is more disgraceful to distrust than to be deceived.—Rochefoucauld.

Remedies are Needed. Were we perfect, which we are not, medicines would not often be needed. But since our systems have become weakened, impaired and broken down through indiscretions which have gone on from the early ages, through countless generations, remedies are needed to aid Nature in correcting our inherited and otherwise acquired weaknesses. To reach the seat of stomach weakness and consequent digestive troubles, there is nothing so good as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, a glyceric compound, extracted from native medicinal roots—sold for over forty years with great satisfaction to all users. For Weak Stomach, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, Pain in the Stomach after eating, Heartburn, Bad Breath, Belching of food, Chronic Diarrhea and other Intestinal Derangements, the "Discovery" is a time-proven and most efficient remedy.

The genuine has on its outside wrapper the Signature

You can't afford to accept a secret nostrum as a substitute for this non-alcoholic, medicine of known composition, not even though the urgent dealer may thereby make a little bigger profit.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. Sugar-coated, tiny granules, easy to take as candy.

UNGALLANT.

Bloom—I'm glad I met you. She seemed to take a fancy to me. Bloom—Did she? I wish you'd met her sooner.

Rebuffed. Mrs. Richquick—John, I want you to buy a new parlor suit. Mr. Richquick—Maria, I've been agreeable enough so far to get different clothes for morning, noon, afternoon and night, but I'm consarned if I'll change 'em every time I go into a different room."

People seldom improve when they have no model but themselves to copy after.—Goldsmith

Don't Persecute your Bowels. Get out catarrhs and parasites. Try CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS. Fully responsible. Ask your druggist for the five-cent bottle, and receive the same number of members of the board. Only a few copies left free distribution. Write for one today. Address: W. H. Hills, 234 La Salle St., Chicago, Ill.

Small Pill, Small Dose, Small Price. Genuine must bear Signature

FENN'S ADJUSTABLE POST-HOLE AUGER

is warranted to dig faster in any soil than any other on the market. Digs different size holes. Handles gravel and hard pan soils better than any other, and will go through sod like a knife. No castings to break or rivets to work loose. Money back if it fails to do work as claimed. Write for free book and price today.

The Fenn Mfg. Co., Charlotte, Mich.

92% IN 6 MONTHS. Our clients who acted on our advice in the purchase of only three established dividend-paying stocks made 92.1% on their investment between August 3, 1910 and February 14, 1911, or at the rate of 184.2% annually.

CHARLES A. STONEHAM & CO. COMMISSION BROKERS 58 Broad Street New York City

Quick Relief for an upset stomach, hic-coughs, a sick headache, constipated bowels, or a bilious attack is secured by using BEECHAM'S PILLS. Sold Everywhere. In boxes 10c. and 25c.

DR. J. D. KELLOGG'S ASTHMA. Remedy for the prompt relief of Asthma and Hay Fever. Ask your druggist for it. Write for FREE SAMPLE. NORTHPROP & LYMAN CO. LTD., BUFFALO, N.Y.

A COUNTRY SCHOOL FOR GIRLS in New York City. Best features of country and city life. Out-of-door sports on school park of 35 acres near the Hudson River. Academic Course Primary Class to Graduation. Upper class for Advanced Special Students. Music and Art. Write for catalogue and terms.

Miss Sagar and Miss White, Riverside Avenue, near 253rd St., West, N. Y.

Remedies are Needed. The genuine has on its outside wrapper the Signature

You can't afford to accept a secret nostrum as a substitute for this non-alcoholic, medicine of known composition, not even though the urgent dealer may thereby make a little bigger profit.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. Sugar-coated, tiny granules, easy to take as candy.

Remedies are Needed. Were we perfect, which we are not, medicines would not often be needed. But since our systems have become weakened, impaired and broken down through indiscretions which have gone on from the early ages, through countless generations, remedies are needed to aid Nature in correcting our inherited and otherwise acquired weaknesses. To reach the seat of stomach weakness and consequent digestive troubles, there is nothing so good as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, a glyceric compound, extracted from native medicinal roots—sold for over forty years with great satisfaction to all users. For Weak Stomach, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, Pain in the Stomach after eating, Heartburn, Bad Breath, Belching of food, Chronic Diarrhea and other Intestinal Derangements, the "Discovery" is a time-proven and most efficient remedy.

The genuine has on its outside wrapper the Signature

You can't afford to accept a secret nostrum as a substitute for this non-alcoholic, medicine of known composition, not even though the urgent dealer may thereby make a little bigger profit.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. Sugar-coated, tiny granules, easy to take as candy.

Remedies are Needed. Were we perfect, which we are not, medicines would not often be needed. But since our systems have become weakened, impaired and broken down through indiscretions which have gone on from the early ages, through countless generations, remedies are needed to aid Nature in correcting our inherited and otherwise acquired weaknesses. To reach the seat of stomach weakness and consequent digestive troubles, there is nothing so good as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, a glyceric compound, extracted from native medicinal roots—sold for over forty years with great satisfaction to all users. For Weak Stomach, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, Pain in the Stomach after eating, Heartburn, Bad Breath, Belching of food, Chronic Diarrhea and other Intestinal Derangements, the "Discovery" is a time-proven and most efficient remedy.

The genuine has on its outside wrapper the Signature

You can't afford to accept a secret nostrum as a substitute for this non-alcoholic, medicine of known composition, not even though the urgent dealer may thereby make a little bigger profit.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. Sugar-coated, tiny granules, easy to take as candy.

Remedies are Needed. Were we perfect, which we are not, medicines would not often be needed. But since our systems have become weakened, impaired and broken down through indiscretions which have gone on from the early ages, through countless generations, remedies are needed to aid Nature in correcting our inherited and otherwise acquired weaknesses. To reach the seat of stomach weakness and consequent digestive troubles, there is nothing so good as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, a glyceric compound, extracted from native medicinal roots—sold for over forty years with great satisfaction to all users. For Weak Stomach, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, Pain in the Stomach after eating, Heartburn, Bad Breath, Belching of food, Chronic Diarrhea and other Intestinal Derangements, the "Discovery" is a time-proven and most efficient remedy.

INFLAMMATION AND PAIN

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Creston, Iowa.—"I was troubled for a long time with inflammation, pains in my side, sick headaches and nervousness. I had taken so many medicines that I was discouraged and thought I would never get well. A friend told me of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it restored me to health. I have no more pain, my nerves are stronger and I can do my own work. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cured me after everything else had failed, and I recommend it to other suffering women."—Mrs. Wm. Seals 005 W. Howard St., Creston, Iowa.

Thousands of unsolicited and genuine testimonials like the above prove the efficiency of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which is made exclusively from roots and herbs.

Women who suffer from those distressing ills should not lose sight of these facts or doubt the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore their health.

If you want special advice write to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. She will treat your letter as strictly confidential. For 20 years she has been helping sick women in this way, free of charge. Don't hesitate—write at once.

A Woman's Letter.
Women, it is generally admitted, write better letters than men.
M. Marcel Prevost has discovered the reason for this superiority. The obvious meaning is never the one we should read into a woman's letter. There is always a veiled meaning. Woman makes use of a letter just as she employs a glance or a smile, in a way that is carefully thought out, and with an eye to effect. And, after all, does a woman's hat serve to cover her head? Does a woman's parasol keep off the sun? Why, then, should a woman's letter serve to convey her real thoughts to the person addressed, just like the letters of some honest grocer, who writes, "I send you five pounds of coffee," because he really does send you five pounds of coffee."

NO STOP.

Ticket Collector—We don't stop here, sir.
Montague Swank (who has just given up a ticket)—Stop where?
Ticket Collector—At the pawnbroker's.

Work and Marriage.

In the New York courts recently a girl, aged 17, on being told by her mother that she was old enough to go to work, replied: "Work, I will not; I prefer to marry." Whereupon she was married before night to a young man earning $8 per week. That is of a piece with the reasoning of another girl who, being interrogated by a friend, "Where are you working now, Mamie?" answered promptly, "I ain't working; I'm married."—Boston Herald.

The Taste Test—Post Toasties

Have a dainty, sweet flavour that pleases the palate and satisfies particular folks.

The Fact— that each year increasing thousands use this delicious food is good evidence of its popularity.

Post Toasties are ready to serve direct from the pkg. with cream or milk—a convenient, wholesome breakfast dish.

"The Memory Lingers"

POSTUM CEREAL CO., Ltd.
Battle Creek, Mich.

Politics—and Priscilla

By STACY E. BAKER

(Copyright, 1922, by Associated Literary Press.)

Andy Morgan bought a controlling interest in the Arlington "Morning Arrow," and realized a cherished ambition by settling down to the none too prosaic life of an editor.

Arlington was a thriving little city of about 12,000 population. The "Arrow," under the old editorial management, had long been a sluggish dispirited sheet, with limited patronage and little voice in civic affairs. The town smiled broadly when Morgan fortified himself behind this decadent timber.

Before Andy Morgan had gone away to complete his college course he had been more than ordinarily interested in pretty Priscilla Wilson. His return to the home town found Priscilla blossomed to as dainty a flower as ever he had hoped to see. Morgan's subjection was complete.

Dan Wilson, father of Priscilla, was a politician of some note in the community. "Honest Dan" was his sobriquet, and his "square" methods were matters of pride with his constituents.

Wilson was one of the first callers at the "Arrow" sanctum under the new control.

"Congratulations," he said, as he entered the presence of the young editor.

Morgan laughingly waved the older man to a seat. "Wait until I've made good," he cautioned. "It isn't going to be the easiest thing in the world to be the editor of the 'Arrow'." If the question isn't personal, do you stand in politics?" Wilson stared straight at the young man.

"I shall affiliate myself with no party," came from Morgan. "The 'Arrow' will be for the best man, always."

"Quite right," approved Wilson, with a keen glance analyzing the new editor. "But sooner or later, my boy, you will find that influence will be brought to bear upon you to bring you her until she has proven herself seaworthy."

"Just so," agreed Wilson. "But I, for one, have confidence in your ability to handle the tub. Just how, if the question isn't personal, do you stand in politics?" Wilson stared straight at the young man.

"I shall affiliate myself with no party," came from Morgan. "The 'Arrow' will be for the best man, always."

"Quite right," approved Wilson, with a keen glance analyzing the new editor. "But sooner or later, my boy, you will find that influence will be brought to bear upon you to bring you her until she has proven herself seaworthy."

"Just so," agreed Wilson. "But I, for one, have confidence in your ability to handle the tub. Just how, if the question isn't personal, do you stand in politics?" Wilson stared straight at the young man.

"I shall affiliate myself with no party," came from Morgan. "The 'Arrow' will be for the best man, always."

"Quite right," approved Wilson, with a keen glance analyzing the new editor. "But sooner or later, my boy, you will find that influence will be brought to bear upon you to bring you her until she has proven herself seaworthy."

"Just so," agreed Wilson. "But I, for one, have confidence in your ability to handle the tub. Just how, if the question isn't personal, do you stand in politics?" Wilson stared straight at the young man.

"I shall affiliate myself with no party," came from Morgan. "The 'Arrow' will be for the best man, always."

"Quite right," approved Wilson, with a keen glance analyzing the new editor. "But sooner or later, my boy, you will find that influence will be brought to bear upon you to bring you her until she has proven herself seaworthy."

"Just so," agreed Wilson. "But I, for one, have confidence in your ability to handle the tub. Just how, if the question isn't personal, do you stand in politics?" Wilson stared straight at the young man.

"I shall affiliate myself with no party," came from Morgan. "The 'Arrow' will be for the best man, always."

"Quite right," approved Wilson, with a keen glance analyzing the new editor. "But sooner or later, my boy, you will find that influence will be brought to bear upon you to bring you me well enough to do something for me? To sacrifice something—for my sake?"

"Ask me," cried Morgan.

"Are you positive that you will grant me this favor?"

"Dearest, how can I help it?"

"Then listen!" The girl's clear eyes were on the youth. "You are championing Anderson Dorn for congressman from this district, are you not?"

"Yes, but—"

"I want you to turn against him, and support David Kennedy, the candidate on the other ticket."

"You want me," exclaimed Morgan, hardly believing his own ears, "to 'knife' the logical man for the office, and work for that—scoundrel, Kennedy?"

"Just so," answered the girl coldly, "but I already know what your answer will be. Your love for me is not strong enough to allow you to grant me this slight favor."

"Slight favor," repeated Morgan, ironically. "I would hardly call it that, Priscilla. If I acceded to your wishes, I would be put down as a political sharper immediately, and all my prestige in the community, my hard-won reputation for honesty and square dealing, and, above all, clean politics would be gone. I can't do it, girl. I love you, and I will do anything in the world within reason for you, but I can't besmirch my own name. I don't understand it. What put such an idea into your head?"

"All that is immaterial," came from the girl crisply. "It is sufficient for you to know that I asked and you refused—a favor. I want you to believe me when I say that I will never ask anything more from you. From now on, we are strangers."

"Priscilla, you can't mean it!"

"O but I do. On second thought, however, I will give you a chance. I will allow you until Saturday to think it over. If you decide to do as I ask, come to me and—and I will love you forever, otherwise—"

Morgan took his hat and plodded dully from the house. He could not understand it. To his knowledge "Honest Dan" Wilson and this Kennedy, a crook politician of the worst type, could have nothing in common with each other.

The next day Wilson called at the "Arrow" office. "My daughter," the politician began bluntly, "asked a favor of you last evening. Don't you think it would be wise for you to grant it?"

"I do not," came from Morgan shortly. "Nor do I care to talk about the matter."

"Honest Dan" bowed curtly and left the office. "Now," ruminated Andy, as he watched the older man stride past the window, "I have antagonized him. Well, he may as well know how I stand."

On Saturday evening a disconsolate Andy called at the Wilson home. Priscilla glanced at the visitor keenly.

"Well?" she interrogated. They were alone in the parlor.

"I have come to say good-by," announced the youth sadly. "I can't do as you wish me to do, Priscilla. I wouldn't be fair to myself, if I did."

The girl came swiftly across the room, and to the astonishment of Morgan, her fair head suddenly bent over his shoulder. "Nor did I believe you would, you big boy," she cried exultingly. "Father is so skeptical in reference to political honesty that I—I wanted to show him that you couldn't be bribed, and—and—you couldn't."

Two arms were suddenly thrown around the youth's neck and a flushed face hid itself from his happy eyes.

Men Are Poor Hosts.

"Did you have a good time?" queried the friend of the girl who had attended a studio tea.

"Good time!" echoed the other scornfully. "Men don't know the first thing about entertaining, and after this I'm going to avoid their old parties. He greeted me charmingly and seemed so glad I had come, but, do you know, that creature never introduced a man to me, and he has met loads of girls at his house. He showed me all his newest pictures, but never offered me a thing to eat or drink, though there was a big bowl of punch and piles of cake and sandwiches. Absent-mindedness, of course, but that's just the difference between a man and a woman. However great a genius a woman may be, when she entertains she knows what to do for her guests, and usually, a man doesn't. No more men's parties for me! Where is the nearest soda fountain?"

Expecting Too Much.

"The Count has promised that he will never beat or kick me if I will marry him," said the beautiful heiress.

"But has he promised to work for you?" her father asked.

"Oh! papa, don't be unreasonable."

Contrary Ways.

"Didn't Julia make up her mind very suddenly to go to Florida for the winter?"

"Yes, very suddenly; but then she always takes a summary way of wintering."

HOW TO COOK ONIONS

THEY NEED NOT ALWAYS BE PLAIN BOILED OR FRIED.

Formula for Stuffing Them With Sausage and Egg—Variations in Preparing Potatoes and Cauliflower.

The days are here when the average housewife who must cater for herself is put upon her mettle as a marketer.

Onions we always have with us, and they are excellent in other ways besides plain boiled or fried, as they commonly figure in the household.

For instance, they can be stuffed, the sweet Bermuda onions being especially good for the purpose. Here is one popular formula:

Large specimens are selected and boiled until nearly tender, but not quite so. The inside is taken out, leaving just a shell. Mince the part taken out with three cooked sausages, a hard-boiled egg, two tablespoonsful of bread crumbs, seasoning as liked, an ounce of butter, four drops of tabasco and a little minced parsley. The shells are filled with this mixture, cracker crumbs scattered over the top, a tiny bit of thin bacon is put on each, after which they are baked 30 minutes, or until agreeably soft.

Potatoes, the dependable, have the culinary virtue of being infinitely variable.

For instance, when boiled and baked and fried they have become a little wearisome and the homely tubers are no longer young enough to carry a sauce gracefully, try them baked with eggs. For a moderate-sized dish in this style you will need four cold-boiled potatoes and six hard-boiled eggs, all cut in slices about a fourth of an inch thick.

Put a layer of the potatoes in the baking dish, which must be well buttered, seasoning with salt and pepper, and cover with a layer of the eggs. Repeat this, and pour over the result two cups of thin white sauce. Cover with cracker crumbs soaked in butter, and bake until brown on top.

For those to whose digestions the sturdy sausage fillings would be anathema, this more delicate method may appeal.

Cook and scoop out the vegetables as before, but stuff with a filling made of equal parts of chicken (cooked), soft stale bread crumbs, and the remainder part of the onions. This should be slightly seasoned with salt and pepper, if liked, and is to be moistened with a little cream or melted butter. Sprinkle with crumbs soaked in butter and bake as described above.

In cooking cauliflower, try simmering it tender in half milk and half water, it greatly improves the flavor and appearance of the flower. Afterward the liquor, which will have boiled down in the process, for this vegetable should never be cooked with the lid on the vessel, may be thickened with butter and flour, after which one has a tasty sauce without further trouble.

In cooking cauliflower, try simmering it tender in half milk and half water, it greatly improves the flavor and appearance of the flower. Afterward the liquor, which will have boiled down in the process, for this vegetable should never be cooked with the lid on the vessel, may be thickened with butter and flour, after which one has a tasty sauce without further trouble.

In cooking cauliflower, try simmering it tender in half milk and half water, it greatly improves the flavor and appearance of the flower. Afterward the liquor, which will have boiled down in the process, for this vegetable should never be cooked with the lid on the vessel, may be thickened with butter and flour, after which one has a tasty sauce without further trouble.

In cooking cauliflower, try simmering it tender in half milk and half water, it greatly improves the flavor and appearance of the flower. Afterward the liquor, which will have boiled down in the process, for this vegetable should never be cooked with the lid on the vessel, may be thickened with butter and flour, after which one has a tasty sauce without further trouble.

In cooking cauliflower, try simmering it tender in half milk and half water, it greatly improves the flavor and appearance of the flower. Afterward the liquor, which will have boiled down in the process, for this vegetable should never be cooked with the lid on the vessel, may be thickened with butter and flour, after which one has a tasty sauce without further trouble.

In cooking cauliflower, try simmering it tender in half milk and half water, it greatly improves the flavor and appearance of the flower. Afterward the liquor, which will have boiled down in the process, for this vegetable should never be cooked with the lid on the vessel, may be thickened with butter and flour, after which one has a tasty sauce without further trouble.

In cooking cauliflower, try simmering it tender in half milk and half water, it greatly improves the flavor and appearance of the flower. Afterward the liquor, which will have boiled down in the process, for this vegetable should never be cooked with the lid on the vessel, may be thickened with butter and flour, after which one has a tasty sauce without further trouble.

In cooking cauliflower, try simmering it tender in half milk and half water, it greatly improves the flavor and appearance of the flower. Afterward the liquor, which will have boiled down in the process, for this vegetable should never be cooked with the lid on the vessel, may be thickened with butter and flour, after which one has a tasty sauce without further trouble.

In cooking cauliflower, try simmering it tender in half milk and half water, it greatly improves the flavor and appearance of the flower. Afterward the liquor, which will have boiled down in the process, for this vegetable should never be cooked with the lid on the vessel, may be thickened with butter and flour, after which one has a tasty sauce without further trouble.

In cooking cauliflower, try simmering it tender in half milk and half water, it greatly improves the flavor and appearance of the flower. Afterward the liquor, which will have boiled down in the process, for this vegetable should never be cooked with the lid on the vessel, may be thickened with butter and flour, after which one has a tasty sauce without further trouble.

In cooking cauliflower, try simmering it tender in half milk and half water, it greatly improves the flavor and appearance of the flower. Afterward the liquor, which will have boiled down in the process, for this vegetable should never be cooked with the lid on the vessel, may be thickened with butter and flour, after which one has a tasty sauce without further trouble.

In cooking cauliflower, try simmering it tender in half milk and half water, it greatly improves the flavor and appearance of the flower. Afterward the liquor, which will have boiled down in the process, for this vegetable should never be cooked with the lid on the vessel, may be thickened with butter and flour, after which one has a tasty sauce without further trouble.

In cooking cauliflower, try simmering it tender in half milk and half water, it greatly improves the flavor and appearance of the flower. Afterward the liquor, which will have boiled down in the process, for this vegetable should never be cooked with the lid on the vessel, may be thickened with butter and flour, after which one has a tasty sauce without further trouble.

In cooking cauliflower, try simmering it tender in half milk and half water, it greatly improves the flavor and appearance of the flower. Afterward the liquor, which will have boiled down in the process, for this vegetable should never be cooked with the lid on the vessel, may be thickened with butter and flour, after which one has a tasty sauce without further trouble.

In cooking cauliflower, try simmering it tender in half milk and half water, it greatly improves the flavor and appearance of the flower. Afterward the liquor, which will have boiled down in the process, for this vegetable should never be cooked with the lid on the vessel, may be thickened with butter and flour, after which one has a tasty sauce without further trouble.

In cooking cauliflower, try simmering it tender in half milk and half water, it greatly improves the flavor and appearance of the flower. Afterward the liquor, which will have boiled down in the process, for this vegetable should never be cooked with the lid on the vessel, may be thickened with butter and flour, after which one has a tasty sauce without further trouble.

In cooking cauliflower, try simmering it tender in half milk and half water, it greatly improves the flavor and appearance of the flower. Afterward the liquor, which will have boiled down in the process, for this vegetable should never be cooked with the lid on the vessel, may be thickened with butter and flour, after which one has a tasty sauce without further trouble.

In cooking cauliflower, try simmering it tender in half milk and half water, it greatly improves the flavor and appearance of the flower. Afterward the liquor, which will have boiled down in the process, for this vegetable should never be cooked with the lid on the vessel, may be thickened with butter and flour, after which one has a tasty sauce without further trouble.

In cooking cauliflower, try simmering it tender in half milk and half water, it greatly improves the flavor and appearance of the flower. Afterward the liquor, which will have boiled down in the process, for this vegetable should never be cooked with the lid on the vessel, may be thickened with butter and flour, after which one has a tasty sauce without further trouble.

In cooking cauliflower, try simmering it tender in half milk and half water, it greatly improves the flavor and appearance of the flower. Afterward the liquor, which will have boiled down in the process, for this vegetable should never be cooked with the lid on the vessel, may be thickened with butter and flour, after which one has a tasty sauce without further trouble.

In cooking cauliflower, try simmering it tender in half milk and half water, it greatly improves the flavor and appearance of the flower. Afterward the liquor, which will have boiled down in the process, for this vegetable should never be cooked with the lid on the vessel, may be thickened with butter and flour, after which one has a tasty sauce without further trouble.

In cooking cauliflower, try simmering it tender in half milk and half water, it greatly improves the flavor and appearance of the flower. Afterward the liquor, which will have boiled down in the process, for this vegetable should never be cooked with the lid on the vessel, may be thickened with butter and flour, after which one has a tasty sauce without further trouble.

In cooking cauliflower, try simmering it tender in half milk and half water, it greatly improves the flavor and appearance of the flower. Afterward the liquor, which will have boiled down in the process, for this vegetable should never be cooked with the lid on the vessel, may be thickened with butter and flour, after which one has a tasty sauce without further trouble.

In cooking cauliflower, try simmering it tender in half milk and half water, it greatly improves the flavor and appearance of the flower. Afterward the liquor, which will have boiled down in the process, for this vegetable should never be cooked with the lid on the vessel, may be thickened with butter and flour, after which one has a tasty sauce without further trouble.

In cooking cauliflower, try simmering it tender in half milk and half water, it greatly improves the flavor and appearance of the flower. Afterward the liquor, which will have boiled down in the process, for this vegetable should never be cooked with the lid on the vessel, may be thickened with butter and flour, after which one has a tasty sauce without further trouble.

In cooking cauliflower, try simmering it tender in half milk and half water, it greatly improves the flavor and appearance of the flower. Afterward the liquor, which will have boiled down in the process, for this vegetable should never be cooked with the lid on the vessel, may be thickened with butter and flour, after which one has a tasty sauce without further trouble.

In cooking cauliflower, try simmering it tender in half milk and half water, it greatly improves the flavor and appearance of the flower. Afterward the liquor, which will have boiled down in the process, for this vegetable should never be cooked with the lid on the vessel, may be thickened with butter and flour, after which one has a tasty sauce without further trouble.

In cooking cauliflower, try simmering it tender in half milk and half water, it greatly improves the flavor and appearance of the flower. Afterward the liquor, which will have boiled down in the process, for this vegetable should never be cooked with the lid on the vessel, may be thickened with butter and flour, after which one has a tasty sauce without further trouble.

In cooking cauliflower, try simmering it tender in half milk and half water, it greatly improves the flavor and appearance of the flower. Afterward the liquor, which will have boiled down in the process, for this vegetable should never be cooked with the lid on the vessel, may be thickened with butter and flour, after which one has a tasty sauce without further trouble.

In cooking cauliflower, try simmering it tender in half milk and half water, it greatly improves the flavor and appearance of the flower. Afterward the liquor, which will have boiled down in the process, for this vegetable should never be cooked with the lid on the vessel, may be thickened with butter and flour, after which one has a tasty sauce without further trouble.

In cooking cauliflower, try simmering it tender in half milk and half water, it greatly improves the flavor and appearance of the flower. Afterward the liquor, which will have boiled down in the process, for this vegetable should never be cooked with the lid on the vessel, may be thickened with butter and flour, after which one has a tasty sauce without further trouble.

In cooking cauliflower, try simmering it tender in half milk and half water, it greatly improves the flavor and appearance of the flower. Afterward the liquor, which will have boiled down in the process, for this vegetable should never be cooked with the lid on the vessel, may be thickened with butter and flour, after which one has a tasty sauce without further trouble.

In cooking cauliflower, try simmering it tender in half milk and half water, it greatly improves the flavor and appearance of the flower. Afterward the liquor, which will have boiled down in the process, for this vegetable should never be cooked with the lid on the vessel, may be thickened with butter and flour, after which one has a tasty sauce without further trouble.

In cooking cauliflower, try simmering it tender in half milk and half water, it greatly improves the flavor and appearance of the flower. Afterward the liquor, which will have boiled down in the process, for this vegetable should never be cooked with the lid on the vessel, may be thickened with butter and flour, after which one has a tasty sauce without further trouble.

In cooking cauliflower, try simmering it tender in half milk and half water, it greatly improves the flavor and appearance of the flower. Afterward the liquor, which will have boiled down in the process, for this vegetable should never be cooked with the lid on the vessel, may be thickened with butter and flour, after which one has a tasty sauce without further trouble.

In cooking cauliflower, try simmering it tender in half milk and half water, it greatly improves the flavor and appearance of the flower. Afterward the liquor, which will have boiled down in the process, for this vegetable should never be cooked with the lid on the vessel, may be thickened with butter and flour, after which one has a tasty sauce without further trouble.

In cooking cauliflower, try simmering it tender in half milk and half water, it greatly improves the flavor and appearance of the flower. Afterward the liquor, which will have boiled down in the process, for this vegetable should never be cooked with the lid on the vessel, may be thickened with butter and flour, after which one has a tasty sauce without further trouble.

In cooking cauliflower, try simmering it tender in half milk and half water, it greatly improves the flavor and appearance of the flower. Afterward the liquor, which will have boiled down in the process, for this vegetable should never be cooked with the lid on the vessel, may be thickened with butter and flour, after which one has a tasty sauce without further trouble.

In cooking cauliflower, try simmering it tender in half milk and half water, it greatly improves the flavor and appearance of the flower. Afterward the liquor, which will have boiled down in the process, for this vegetable should never be cooked with the lid on the vessel, may be thickened with butter and flour, after which one has a tasty sauce without further trouble.

In cooking cauliflower, try simmering it tender in half milk and half water, it greatly improves the flavor and appearance of the flower. Afterward the liquor, which will have boiled down in the process, for this vegetable should never be cooked with the lid on the vessel, may be thickened with butter and flour, after which one has a tasty sauce without further trouble.

In cooking cauliflower, try simmering it tender in half milk and half water, it greatly improves the flavor and appearance of the flower. Afterward the liquor, which will have boiled down in the process, for this vegetable should never be cooked with the lid on the vessel, may be thickened with butter and flour, after which one has a tasty sauce without further trouble.

FRENCH BEAN COFFEE, 1 CENT A POUND

It will grow in your own garden. Ripening here in Wisconsin in 90 days. Splendid health coffee and costing to grow about one cent a pound. A great rarity; a healthful drink. Send us today 15 cents in stamps and we will mail you package above coffee seed with full directions and our mammoth seed and plant catalog free. Or send us 31 cents and we add 10 packages elegant flower and unsurpassable vegetable seeds, sufficient to grow bushels of vegetables and flowers. Or make your remittance 40 cents and we add to all of above 10 packages of wonderful farm seed specialties and novelties. John A. Salzer Seed Co., 132 S. 8th St., La Crosse, Wis.

The Point of View.
This is a true story. A certain belle was present at a certain Chopin recital. During the "March Funebre," her eyes glistened and her whole attitude of rapt attention was as if the music had entranced her very soul. Her whole face was expressive of admiration and intense interest. When the pianist had finished, the escort of Miss "Belle" turned to her and said: "How beautiful!" To which she replied: "Yes, indeed; doesn't it fit her exquisitely in the back? How much do you suppose it cost in Paris?"

Down With 'Em.
Young Lord Fairfax, in a brilliant after-dinner speech at the club house in Tuxedo, praised women.
"Down with the misogynist," said Lord Fairfax. "Down with the cynical type of male brute who says with the Cornish fisherman: "'Wimmen's like pilchards. When 'em's bad 'em's bad, and when 'em's good, 'em's only middin'!"

A Generous Gift
Professor Munyon has just issued a most beautiful, useful and complete Almanac. It contains not only all the scientific information concerning the moon's phases, in all the latitudes, but has illustrated articles on how to read character by physiognomy, palmistry and astrology. It also tells all about card reading, birth stones and their meaning, and gives the interpretation of dreams. It teaches beauty culture, manicuring, gives weights and measures and antidotes for poison. In fact, it is a Magazine Almanac, that not only gives valuable information, but will afford much amusement for every member of the family, especially for parties and evening entertainments. Farmers and people in the rural districts will find this Almanac almost invaluable.
It will be sent to anyone absolutely free on application to the Munyon Remedy Company, Philadelphia, Pa.

I honor any man anywhere, who, in the conscious discharge of what he believes to be his duty, dares to stand alone.—Charles Sumner.

Garfield Tea has brought good health to thousands. Unequaled for constipation.

The reward of a thing well done is to have done it.—Emerson.

900 DROPS
CASTORIA
ALCOHOL—3 PER CENT
Vegetable Preparation for Assimilating the Food and Regulating the Stomachs and Bowels of INFANTS CHILDREN
Promotes Digestion, Cheerfulness and Rest. Contains neither Opium, Morphine nor Mineral
NOT NARCOTIC
Recipe of Old Dr. J. C. Fitcher
Pumpkin Seed -
Sassa -
Rhubarb -
Sulphur -
Castor Oil -
Ginger -
Cinnamon -
Mint -
Cloves -
Nutmeg -
Peppermint -
Sage -
Thyme -
Rosemary -
Lavender -
Eucalyptus -
Mastic -
Benzoin -
Gamboge -
Turmeric -
Saffron -
Annatto -
Carmine -
Indigo -
Cochineal -
Madder -
Rust -
Iron Oxide -
Zinc Oxide -
Cadmium Oxide -
Lead Oxide -
Copper Oxide -
Silver Oxide -
Gold Oxide -
Platinum Oxide -
Iridium Oxide -
Rhodium Oxide -
Osmium Oxide -
Tellurium Oxide -
Selenium Oxide -
Arsenic Oxide -
Antimony Oxide -
Bismuth Oxide -
Mercury Oxide -
Cadmium Oxide -
Lead Oxide -
Copper Oxide -
Silver Oxide -
Gold Oxide -
Platinum Oxide -
Iridium Oxide -
Rhodium Oxide -
Osmium Oxide -
Tellurium Oxide -
Selenium Oxide -
Ars

How Old People May Prolong Their Lives

At advanced age the organs act more slowly than in youth. Circulation becomes poor, blood thin and watery, appetite fitful, and digestion weak. This condition leaves the system open to disease such as Coughs, Colds, Grippe, Pneumonia, Rheumatism, etc.

VINOL is the greatest health creator and body builder we know of for old people, as it supplies the very elements needed to rebuild wasting tissue and replace weakness with strength.

HERE IS THE PROOF
A case is recorded in Albany, N. Y., of a woman who felt she was breaking down by age and was doomed to the weak and feeble condition of old people. She had no strength and the slightest exertion tired her, but VINOL made her well and strong, and she states that she feels ten years younger than she did before taking VINOL.

We ask every aged person in this neighborhood to try a bottle of VINOL with the understanding that we will return their money if it does not prove beneficial.

W. C. Spring Drug Co., East Jordan, Michigan.

If Your Are Intending to Build this coming season now is the time to get ready. Get your plans and let us do a little figuring.

All work done in a substantial and workmanlike manner.

Estimates Free. Yours for business.

Arthur Vance

East Jordan, Mich. Phone No. 111.

WANTED LOGS AND BOLTS

We will pay best market prices for all kinds of Hardwood Logs and Bolts delivered to our mill or on the line of the E. J. & S. R. R. or D. & C. R. R. We want your Logs and Bolts. Write us, phone us or call at the office for prices and specification.

East Jordan Coopers Co.
East Jordan, Mich.

Dr. C. H. Pray Dentist

Offices Over Payton's.

Office Hours:
8 to 12 a. m., 1 to 5 p. m.,
And Evenings.

Phone No. 223.

Dr. F. P. Ramsey Physician and Surgeon.

Graduate of College of Physicians and Surgeons of the University of Illinois.

OFFICE SHERMAN BLOCK
East Jordan, Mich.
Phone No. 196.

W. C. T. U.

The Girlhood of Frances Willard

This is a story of a girl who lived on a farm in Wisconsin sixty years ago. Her name was Frances. There were no neighbors within a mile. Yet Frances and her elder brother, Oliver and her younger sister, Mary, were never lonesome. There were calves, pigs and chickens to tend and to play with. The children learned to use carpenter's tools. They made carts, sleds, stilt, cross-guns, bows and arrows, and other toys. They plied the city children who got their toys from the stores, and had no chance to make anything for themselves.

Some boys are apt to think their little sisters in the way. But Oliver was very kind to his little sisters and let them do anything they liked that he did. In this way Frances and Mary learned to do many things that few girls do.

Frances' father, like her mother, joined in the children's sports. Once, when the mother was away for a visit in the east, he made the girls tall paper hats, shaped like cornucopias and trimmed with peacock feathers. With these gay hats on their heads, swords and bunches of arrows tucked into the red flannel belts made by their mother, and cross-bows over their shoulders, away the two went on hunting expedition which were really picnics in the woods. On these hunting expeditions it was usually gentle Mary who wore the badge marked "Provider." Mary had a goat. Painters were fastened on its back, in which the lunch was carried. A sheep-bell was tied on the goat's neck.

The wearer of the badge "Provider" had the say about what the lunch should be, and where and when it should be eaten. The hunting ground or picnic place, was a grove of big trees on the bank of the river not far from the house. The chief sport was fishing for "minnows."

When the time came for a lunch a nice white tablecloth was laid on the ground. Light, sweet bread, spread with butter and sugar, pumpkin pie and hickory nuts were set out. Water was brought in a bottle. The children drank it through a straw. A blessing was always asked at these outdoor feasts, just as at the home table.

When the fishing and luncheon were over, Mary would sit and draw pictures. Frances liked best to lie stretched on the ground and look up through the tree-tops to the wonderful blue sky. She thought of how the world was made, and of the great Creator who made it all. She stretched her hands up toward heaven to see if she could feel God's touch.

"Though I do not see that He reaches down to me, I believe God cares," she used to say.

"I know he does," responded her little sister, "for mother says so."

The mutual love of the two sisters showed itself in a beautiful habit early formed of each night asking forgiveness for any word or act that might have been unjustly.

"I ask your pardon," and thank you."

"I freely forgive you and thank you."

Each in turn would thus ask and receive reply before closing her eyes to sleep. Indeed, the Golden Rule of the Bible was always the order in that Wisconsin farm home, among "The Happy Five," as Frances loved to call the family.

(Continued next week.)

County Normal Notes.

Monday was house cleaning day in the normal room.

The normal class received their pins last week and were very much pleased with them.

Lilla Shapton was absent last week Thursday and Friday and Monday of this week because of illness.

Miss Arbutus Nordrum and Miss Emma Rasmussen and her sister visited the normal class Friday the 24th. Misses Nordrum and Rasmussen are graduates of the class of 1910.

Mrs. Harry Mitchell, formerly Mina Banister, of the class of '08, visited the normal class last week.

FOLEY KIDNEY PILLS

Are tonic in action, quick in results. A special medicine for all kidney and bladder disorders. Harry Bower, Traverse City, Mich., says: "Since the first of the year I have been a very sick man. Have spent a lot of money in doctoring, have bought various kidney medicines and used them but to no effect. Foley Kidney Pills were brought to my notice through a friend and I decided to try them. After using them a short time I was greatly relieved and can honestly say that they did me a world of good."

A Cup of Mo-Ka Coffee

For breakfast or dinner is more than half the meal.

Absolute certainty of cleanliness and purity are found in Mo-Ka Coffee, the high-grade Coffee at the reasonable price.

At all Grocers. Ask for it.

THE FAIR STORE

We have just received a fine line of Men's Shoes for Spring and Summer.

Odds & Ends

A fine lot of Men's and Children's Shoes to be sold very cheap. Call early as they will go quick, they're a bargain and you'll save money.

MEN'S AND BOY'S SUITS. A fine line, tailor-made. With every suit we are giving away a hat worth $2.00 to $3.00.

MEN'S PANTS—LATEST STYLES— from $2.50 to $5.00 per pair. FREE—a 50c. cap with each pair.

WALLACE WEISS

PROP'R THE FAIR STORE

TAX SALE NOTICE

To the owner or owners of any and all interest in the land herein described, and to the mortgagee or mortgagees named in all undischarged recorded mortgages against said land or any assignee thereof of record:

Take Notice that sale has been lawfully made of the following described land for unpaid taxes thereon, and that the undersigned has title thereto under tax deed issued therefor, and that you are entitled to a reconveyance thereof at any time within six months after return of service of this notice, upon payment to the undersigned or to the Register in charge of the county in which the lands lie, of all sums paid upon such purchase, together with one hundred per cent. additional thereto, and the fees of the Sheriff for the service or cost of publication of this notice, to be computed as upon personal service of a declaration as upon commencement of suit, and the further sum of five dollars for each description, without other additional cost or charges. If payment as aforesaid is not made, the undersigned will institute proceedings for possession of the land.

Description of Land—State of Michigan, County of Charlevoix, Northwest quarter of the Southwest quarter, Sec. 4, Town 33N Range 6W. Amount bid—$2.31. Tax for 1908—$7.06. Tax for 1909—$7.51. Tax for 1905—$4.44. Tax for 1906—$7.44. Tax for 1907—$4.58. Tax for 1908—$6.30. Tax for 1909—$5.56. Tax for 1910. Total, $61.70. Amount necessary to redeem, $108.40.

FRANK COLEMAN

Place of Business Boyce City, Mich. Dated, March 19th A. D. 1911.

To LEWIS S. POTTER
Grantee under the last recorded deed, in the regular chain of title, to said land.

PLINTZ LAND CO., LTD.
Grantee under the last recorded tax deed issued by the Auditor General.

A Cold, LaGrippe, then Pneumonia is too often the fatal sequence. Foley's Honey and Tar expels the cold, checks the lagrippe, and prevents pneumonia. It is a prompt and reliable cough medicine that contains no narcotics. It is as safe for your children as yourself. Hite Drug Co.

Pruning Time

Is now at hand and we solicit your orders. Having had years of experience, we can guarantee satisfactory work.

Wm. Tate
East Jordan, R. F. D. 4.

ALFRED PEATS WALL PAPER

Chintzes and Cretonnes to Match covers and bedspreads. Cut-Out Borders.

In securing that atmosphere of cheerful comfort which every bedroom should possess, cretonnes are almost indispensable. One of the newest and most attractive ideas for chamber decoration consists in using a cut-out cretonne border which carries the same design as the cretonne curtains, chair covers and bedspreads. The side walls being covered with a self-toned stripe, chambray or fabric effect.

The Alfred Peats' "Prize" Wall Papers afford the widest range of choice in coloring, design and price. The accompanying illustration is but one of the many beautiful effects shown in the new book of suggestions on Home Decoration. Let us show you the others.

W. L. CORNELIUS
Paper Hanger and Plasterer

The East Jordan Produce Fuel & Ice Company

Respectfully solicits the patronage of our citizens. In addition to Produce Buying, they will have for sale Hard and Soft Coal, Wood, Hay and Feed, Lime and Cement, and Ice.

Warehouse on State St., Phone No. 206.

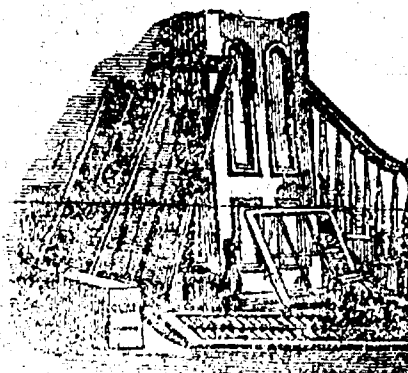

East Jordan Planing Mills Co.,

B. E. WATERMAN, Manager.

Custom Planing Mill.

Manufacturers and Dealers in Doors, Windows and Glass, Siding, Ceiling and Flooring Mouldings, Turned Work, and Scroll Sawing.

FINISHED LUMBER, FRAMES, CASINGS

Knowledge Will Put YOU in the Spot Light

The fellow that does only what he has to, and spends his spare time in theatres or pool rooms or on the street corner—that fellow need not expect to go very high.

How did your superintendent, or general manager, or foreman, or department chief land the position he holds? By showing knowledge of his work; by proving that he had ability; by getting ready when he was in the same job you now hold.

How can you get into the spot light? How can you mount over the crowd and attract the attention of the "big man?"

By your own efforts properly directed. By being willing to devote to study a part of your spare time. By giving the International Correspondence Schools a chance to direct your efforts and lead you to the front.

Your spare time, if you would but realize it, could be made more profitable than the time sold to your employer.

Mark and mail the coupon to find out all about the I. C. S. plan to put you into the spot light. Doing so will cost you nothing, and will bring to you a full explanation of just what kind of Course you will learn, and what has been done by other students of the same Courses.

Three hundred I. C. S. students a month write to tell of progress.

Don't wait.

Mail the Coupon NOW.

International Correspondence Schools

BOX 826, SCRANTON, PA.

Please explain, without further obligation on my part, how I can qualify for a larger salary and advancement to the position before which I have marked an X.

| | | |
|----------------------|----------------------|----------------------|
| Bookkeeper | Electrical | Stationary Engineer |
| Stenographer | Electrical Engineer | Building Contractor |
| Ad Writer | Power-Station Supt. | Architect |
| Show-Card Writer | Telegraph Engineer | Architectural Drafts |
| Window Trimmer | Telephone Engineer | Structural Engineer |
| Commercial Law | Mechanical Engineer | Structural Draftsman |
| Illustrator | Mechanical Draftsman | Mining Engineer |
| Civil Service Exams. | Machine Designer | Mine Foreman |
| Chemist | Civil Engineer | Gas Engineer |
| Textile-Mill Supt. | Surveyor | Plumbg & H'tg. Con. |

Name.....
Street and No.....
City..... State.....
Those residing outside U. S. and Canada should address nearest branch office.