County Fair

To Be Held at East Jordan Sept. 12, 13, 14, 15, 1911.

Facts About the East Jordan Fair.

Charlevoix County Agricultural Society was organized in 1885 and has held a Fair each fall since that time and as we look back to the first one held and compare it with the exhibits made in recent years, we feel that comparison justifies the claim, that Charlevoix County has developed into a wonderful agricultural region.

Some years ago the society acquired 40 acres of ground near the city and built buildings that at that time were considered very commodious and up-to-date, but the exhibits have each

The Cattle Barn is 34 x 100 ft. with stalls arranged for cattle so that they may be shown to the best advantage. Water is furnished to all barns by wells conveniently located.

All the old sheds have been removed and the fence set back so that about 16 acres has been added to the size of the original grounds and good streets graded and gravelled the entire length of the grounds.

A grove of small trees furnish shade for those who desire picnic dinners and add much to the beauty of that part of the grounds.

Ample space has been provided to tie teams that are driven on the grounds and is located in the rear of the barns.

Our Schools

School will begin on Monday, Sept. 4th. Everything is in readiness to take up the regular work at once. All foreseen contingencies are provided for as far as possible. It only remains for the teachers and pupils to present themselves properly equipped for their respective tasks.

We give herewith the names and positions of our teachers. We suggest that this list be clipped out and retained until the acquaintance of the teachers has been made. Parents and teachers should early in the year make it a point to become acquainted. Especially should this be done in case of the teacher of your own child. The success of the teacher's work in behalf of your child depends vitally upon the maintenance of helpful personal relationship of parent, teacher, and child. The teacher is not merely your employee; she is the guide, counselor, and friend of your child for several hours every day. The wise mother will not fail to establish the most helpful and sympathetic understanding possible and as soon as possible with the young woman who is to share with her the tremendous responsibility of the training of her child. Call at the school room at an early date and introduce yourself if necessary.

year called for more room and at the close of the 1910 Fair it was decided to build modern and up-to-date buildings that would accommodate the increasing number of exhibitors and furnish the required room for the large crowd of visitors that spend a few pleasant days on our Fair grounds.

That you may be prepared for the many changes made, that you will see when you visit the 1911 Fair, that opens Sept. 12, a short description is herewith given.

The fair grounds are well situated for the purposes intended as it is on ground slightly sloping to the west, well drained and yet level enough to accommodate one of the best 1/4 mile race tracks in Northern Michigan with a grand stand that will seat 500 people and ample room for 4000 people to see the races satisfactory.

The picture of the new Dining Hall shows ample dimensions of the first of the buildings erected. A combined dining hall and home for the care takers. This building is 18 x 74 ft with dwelling 14 x 24 attached, and furnishes seating capacity for 150 people in the dining room; with kitchen conveniently located so that prompt service is assured.

Mrs. E. Newson has been secured to manage the dining hall and her successful career as proprietress of the Russell House assures our patrons of the same courteous treatment always accorded guests of that popular hostelry.

The Speed Barn as it is called, was erected for the exclusive use of the

FALL AND WINTER CORSET STYLES MAKE THEIR BOW HERE

We rightfully expect the greatest corset business of this vicinity; we have the correct styles, satisfactory assortments—wear-well qualities, comfortable models, all at prices to meet your approval. But the particular claim in your patronage is that we have the styles that impart that note of fashion and touch of smartness to the attire so necessary to the correctly gowned woman—the longer hip, lower bust and straighter lines. We have no end of models that accomplish this aim for women of every build.

Leaders among the lines are the J. C. C. Corsets—a gathering of style and quality within the range of most any woman. Prices $1.00 to $3.00.

Our idea is not just to sell you but to help you buy wisely.

In every transaction which takes place at this store, you benefit by our expert knowledge of merchandise.

We endeavor always to supply you with the goods which will BEST serve your needs.

Not just the goods that LOOK best, but goods that wear best—ARE best.

This building has a passage way 12 ft. wide running the entire length through the center and 14 box stalls with slatted doors, making the interior a model of convenience and comfort.

All the barns are painted red with white trimmings, presenting a very neat appearance.

The Exhibition Horse Barn is modeled after the Speed Barn and is 34 x 100 ft. containing 40 stalls.

Loss of Time means Loss of Pay.

Kidney trouble and the ill it breeds means lost time and lost pay to many a working man. M. Halent, 1214 Little Penna St., Streator, Ill., was so bad from kidney and bladder trouble that he could not work but he says: "I took Foley Kidney Pills for only a short time and got entirely well and was soon able to get back to work, and am feeling well and healthier than before." Foley Kidney Pills are tonic in action, quick in results—a good friend to the working man or woman who suffers from kidney ill. Hite Drug Store.

Curing Husband Man Made to Take New Interest in Life

By DR. P. C. BRANSCOMB, Montreal, Can.

SOME time ago a lady of whom I thought a great deal and to whom I stood in the relation of family physician came to see me, as she said, to have a heart-to-heart talk about her husband, a very close friend of mine and a most worthy man.

I asked her if her husband had ever tried golf, and finding out he hadn't I told her to send him to me. When he called I told him with all gravity I could muster that he needed a new interest in life and that if he would take my counsel I'll give him, gratis, a prescription that would lengthen his life at least ten years.

Mr. Golfer's wife met me the other day as I was leaving home and told me she was absolutely happy over the change in her lord and master. She said he had ceased drinking, ceased hanging about her when she didn't feel up to the task of amusing him, and that he had rather do without his dinner than his regular game.

As One Wage Earner Views Salary Question

By J. D. KELLUS

We are seeing constantly the employers' side. Employees are urged, "to hitch their wagon to a star," to do the best work possible, and the question of recompense will solve itself.

For instance, I know a girl, competent and successful, who was working for the sum of $6 a week. Another business man saw her worth and offered her $10.

Another instance was that of a young man working for $15 a week. A rival firm offered $21, with an increase of $1 a week for each succeeding year until a maximum of $25 was reached.

Now, this is not intended as a tirade against employers. I have no special grievance. Though far from being adequately paid, I am considered one of the successful workers.

Laborers Blind to Their Own Interest

By DR. JAMES BANNING of London

The average workingman of Great Britain is greatly in favor of a scheme of insurance against invalidity, so that he will have a support no matter what happens to him.

In Germany the state, the employer and the worker all contribute, which is a fair proposition, especially as the percentage given by the employe is very small.

Suppose a person fails in these days of highly efficient postal and telephone service to make a reply, either in the affirmative or negative, to a courteous business letter or polite social note or invitation.

Suppose one makes an appointment with another by mail or telephone and then fails to keep it, without so much as deigning to give a reason for doing so.

Can such a person by any stretch of the imagination be considered a person of honor or good breeding?

I maintain that such a person is nothing more or less than a boor.

Selfish Person Makes Boor of Himself

By H. FINNEGAN

For Late Summer

FORESHADOWING already what we may expect for the coming fall season, the hats for late summer indicate that we shall have many bonnet-like shapes, tall crowns and large hats few in number as compared to small and medium-sized models.

In the trimmed models pictured here. One of the cone-shaped hats, of which we may expect to see numbers during the fall season, is shown in the illustration. It is trimmed with a full ruche of silk "plinked" at the edges and laid in quadruple box-platings.

AFTERNOON DRESS.

Peacock blue Irish poplin is chosen for our model. The plain skirt has a row of satin-covered buttons sewn part way up the seam at right side of front.

Sew the pocket of your apron on the inside, a little in from the right-hand edge. Nothing will drop from it then, it will stay clean and a great deal can be carried in it without showing any ugly fullness.

TO PREVENT SAGGING SKIRTS

Have Garment Properly Prepared Before It Is Turned Up to Be Hemmed.

Summer dress skirts when made of thin material will always sag after they are hemmed and finished if care is not taken to prevent it.

This is done after the skirt is completely finished excepting the hem, from the band to the final fitting and the last hook and eye is in its place.

After several days of this strain the material will have sagged to its fullest extent, and the hem may be measured and turned up. Anything will do for weighing.

A Curious Fashion.

The latest models in skirts or in costumes with attached skirts and waists show the skirt decidedly shorter in front than at the back, a difference which, in the walking length, is very noticeable.

Why such an untidy fashion should have come from Paris at a season when all the crudeness of spring has usually been eliminated from its garments is a puzzle.

Sashes.

One of the greatest aids in varying the white summer gowns is the use of the sash, which is the style as much as ever.

The velvet sash of the winter is superseded by the pastel colored moires and the lighter chiffon ruches, black in color, as an edging, this finished with black chenille fringe and flowers of the same at the ends, some being decorated with wreaths of gold roses at the ends in place of the other decoration.

These are some of the newer fancies that seem at once to become popular, as they are shown in some of the most exclusive shops.

SOMETHING NEW IN FORKS

The Latest Has an Attachment for Pushing Things Off the Tines—Handy in Kitchen.

A fork with an attachment for removing things that may be stuck on the tines has been devised by an Illinois man. The attachment consists of a piece of wire wound around the tines and doubled upon itself to form a long shaft that runs up the handle of the fork.

sions in the kitchen when it will come in handy. For instance, in transferring a piece of meat from the dish to the pan, or vice versa, the clean cook does not touch the meat with her hands, but lifts it with a fork.

TWO WAYS TO COOK POTATOES

Methods That Possibly May Be New to Some of Our Housewife Readers.

First—Take fresh, new potatoes, about the size of a marble, and boil them about 20 minutes. When done, pour off water and let steam evaporate. Have boiling lard in skillet; fry about five minutes.

Second—Boil, peel and mash fine six potatoes. Add one tablespoon butter, minced parsley and half an onion minced very fine. Add yolks of two eggs, beaten very light; then form the potatoes into balls and throw them for two minutes into boiling water; take out, brush with the whites of the eggs, roll in powdered bread crumbs and fry in boiling lard. Drain and serve with fish or meat.

The Housekeeper

The cleaning of the kitchen range will be made much easier if all grease is rubbed from it or the gas stove with a newspaper while still hot.

When light oak trays have been badly marked, wash well and rub with warm beer until the stains have disappeared. Polish in the usual way.

When sweeping carpets always remember to sweep the way of the grain. To brush the wrong way is not only bad for the carpet, but it tends to brush the dust in instead of out.

Traces of mud may be removed from black materials by rubbing with slices of raw potato.

Stains in table linen may be easily removed by plunging the articles in pure boiling water. Soap and water would have the effect of fixing the stains.

Scalloped Macaroni and Beef.

Take the remnants of any fresh roasted meat and cut in thin slices. Lay them in a dish with a little plain boiled macaroni if you have it, and season thoroughly with pepper, salt and a little catchup. Fill a deep dish half full, add a very little finely chopped onion and a layer of sliced tomatoes, having previously covered the meat with stock or gravy. Make a thick crust of mashed potato, and bake till this is brown in a not too hot oven.

A Cleaning Hint.

When you are cleaning your sewing machine and cannot reach parts of it with a cloth, try using a bicycle pump. The suction of the pump will drive away the dust and threads. Use the pump first, then wipe the more accessible parts with a soft cloth and end with a thorough oiling.

Summer Drink.

Mix in a jug one-half ounce cream of tartar and one quart of boiling water, flavor with lemon peel or essence of lemon and sweeten to taste. This is a pleasant and refreshing drink.

Currant Ice.

To one pint of currant juice add one pound of sugar, one pint of water; when partly frozen add the whites of two eggs well beaten and freeze.

The current report that the Anheuser-Busch Brewing company of St. Louis had bought the big Hotel Victoria at Put-in-Bay and was planning to expend $100,000 on improvements to the hotel and on its fittings and surroundings, direct attention to the general activity of that brewing company and other brewing companies in providing patrons for their output.

In the cities and villages of every state in the union, brewing companies have become possessors of present and prospective good locations for saloons. Geo. Kibbe Turner recently stated in McClure's magazine that the breweries own or control the great majority of saloons in America. This expenditure of $100,000 by the Anheuser-Busch Brewing company because of its desire to control the bar privileges of the Hotel Victoria and the resort with which it is connected makes something evident as to the strength of the money power behind the saloon business. No other form of trust or combination or corporation in the United States possess larger power or make more arbitrary and unjust of political strength than do the brewing companies in behalf of their saloon extension system. These facts make it very evident that the fight against the saloon in this country must include the overthrow of the brewery and the vicious evils that it represents and insists upon.

MIRACLE IN THE MELONS
 Where Do Those in Oklahoma Get the Water in a Season of Drought?
 Bishop Quarle of the Methodist Episcopal church spoke at a camp-meeting and referred to miracles about which people talk so much. He said down in Oklahoma they have not had a good ground-soaking for two years, nor have they had any dew on the ground for many a long morning. The crops are parched and the fruit grows pale. But the watermelons come up, verdant and rotund, and filled with water.

The Tailored Suit for 1911-12

The new tailored suit is not the old-fashioned, severe, form-fitting garment, built on lines becoming to but very few people. Nor is it the box-like suit of last season, with a skirt uncomfortably tight. It's still rather straight and narrow, but the coat is fitted in a bit and there is a greater fullness to the skirt.

COATS LONGER

Coats are very nearly all about 28 inches long. In the fancier models shorter coats are seen, but the more practical, tailored models are usually about 28 inches in length.

SKIRTS WIDER

Skirts are all very simply made. In some of them added fullness has been let in by means of clusters of plaits at the bottom. Wide bias bands of the material set on to give the effect of an overskirt are seen on some of the exclusive models. Skirts are from 2 1/2 to 3 yards in width—anything narrower than this is very rare.

Sleeves are very close fitting and set in without any fullness, after the manner of a man's coat sleeve.

RICHER MATERIALS—NO TRIMMINGS.

There is less trimming on the new tailored suits. The heavier, richer materials used in the making do not need it.

Every season the first thought of the woman who always looks well dressed, is her tailored suit.

For the woman who wants the material, workmanship and style of an expensive, custom-made suit at the price of an ordinary ready-made garment, we suggest a Bischof model.

For years Bischof has been bringing to American women the best of Paris' styles. Whether you live in one of the large fashion centers or in a small town, you can benefit by his world-wide knowledge of what the season's fashions will be.

We have a splendid assortment of the new models—exclusive coats and suits designed by Bischof for us. Come in and see them.

TIRED OF "TRIAL" MARRIAGE

Colored Man Fell Into the Trap and Had Nothing But Tribulation.

"T'anky, sah; 't'anky!" gratefully said a ramshackle-looking colored citizen who had percolated into the office of a prominent attorney of Polkville, Arkansas. "And dis yuh am what yo' kin do for muh, cuhnel, if yo' please; I wants to git dis trial marriage dat I's into busted up so's I kin git out'n it ag'in."

"Trial marriage—?" echoed the legal luminary.

"Yessah! Dat's what it's done been—a trial—fuh de beginnin' twell plumb yit! Trial, sah—trial-and tribulation!—all de time! And I knowed how 'twould be befo' I got into de trap. Didn't want to marry, nohow; allus was 'unskered o' de marryin' notion, and now—"

"Well, then, why did you marry if you didn't want to?"

"Who?—me? Eh-kaze I hatter, sah! Hatter do it; dat's why! Dar wa'n't no way 'round it; 'twuz de law! When dat 'ar yaller lady fell into de creek at de picnic an' I plunged in an' drig her out at de risk o' muh life, right dar, sah, I got up ag'in de law—de marry-law! De young white men told me 'bout it, soon 's dey found out what I'd done; had'n't uh-told me I'd uh-gone 'bout muh bidness like a fool twell I landed in de pentichery for muh ignuce. Dey done told me what I was 'bleeged to do—man saves a 'oman fum drownin' he's sho' gotter marry her. Fo'ced to do it, sah, an' I done did it. An' now, cuhnel, for goodness' sake won't yo' please tell muh how to git out'n de scrape? Kin I git a divorce, or suppin', or must I take de lady down to de creek whuh I drig her out, an' throw her in ag'in?"—Tom P. Morgan, in Puck.

FATTENER OF SPRING POETS

Farmer Took Them Lean and Mournful and Taught Them Life is Worth Living.

"That feller, settin' on the fence yonder," said the local historian of rural life, "has plowed more spring poets than any farmer in the settlement."

"Plowed them?"

"Yes; learn't 'em how to plow—how to run a straight furrow and manage a Georgia mule. 'Plowed 'em, an' fattened 'em, and made 'em know that life's wuth livin'. They come loadin' roun', lean as a razor-back shoat, an' hungry an' lonesome, singin' songs 'bout trees an' flowers, an' cowbells, an' cool grass, an' Lord knows what, an' that feller takes 'em in' an' astonishes 'em with three meals a day—lets 'em hang roun' easy, an' rest up for a week, mebbe, then puts 'em to plowin', with 'hoefin' on the side for recreation, an' before you know, they're too fat to sing!"

"You see, these here poet-fellers never do none o' that melancholy writin' or 'singin', as they call it, 'cept when they're short-on vittles, an' as holler as a dead tree; then they feel that the world owes 'em a living, but they ain't gittin' it, an' midnight owls can't beat 'em at complainin'. But you jest work 'em an' fatten 'em, an' there's change in their dispositions an' life looks as bright as a torchlight procession to 'em. 'Stidder singin' 'bout beautiful trees, they git healthy exercise cuttin' 'em down, an' they soon find that a breakfast of ham an' eggs is fur an' away ahead of rose-leaves an' dreams."

"Here come two new ones—them lean-looking chaps, climbin' the fence. Watch that farmer git 'em!"—Atlanta Constitution.

SURE

Down Where It's Hot.

The deepest hole in the world up to date is the boring begun ten years ago at Czuchow, Silesia, with the object of attaining a depth of 2,500 meters, and which has now reached a depth of 2,240 meters (7,349 feet). The bore is 44 centimeters in diameter at the top, and diminishes progressively to five centimeters. Measurements of temperature have been made regularly. At 2,220 meters, the temperature is 82.4 degrees C. (182 degrees F.). This gives a "geothermic degree" (amount of descent corresponding to a rise of temperature of 1 degree C.) of 31.8 meters. The change of temperature does not proceed uniformly. In fact, an interesting "temperature inversion" occurs between the depths of 640 and 730 meters, where the temperature actually falls, with descent, about two degrees.—Scientific American.

KNOTS INSTEAD OF BUTTONS

Chinese Diplomat's Explanation of the Various Kinds Used by His Countrymen.

A Chinese diplomat, dressed in brocade silk, was sitting out a dance beside a fountain with a Bar Harbor girl.

"Yes," he admitted, "my dress is pretty, and one queer thing about it is that it has no buttons—only knots and knotholes."

He showed her the fastenings of his flame colored jacket.

"You see?" he said. "Short cords, each with a knot at the end, and on the other side a knothole, as you would say, a buttonhole. That is simpler than buttons, simpler and easier. Do you wear pajamas? Yes? Then you must know that what I say is so."

"On my pajamas," said the girl, laughing a little, "I have buttons and buttonholes instead of knots and knotholes."

"How foolish of you!" said the diplomat. "But what I was going to say was that the knots we employ in place of buttons are of many kinds, and they have many names. There are plum blossom and cherry blossom knots for young girls' garments. Such you would wear. There are winter and snow knots for the aged. Soldiers have death knots."

"What kind of knots are yours?" the young girl asked.

"Mine?" he replied. "Oh, mine are just the usual married man's knots."

"And what are they called?" she pursued.

"Knots of resignation," he answered, with a sigh.

A Rossini Joke.

One of Rossini's jokes, Rossini promised a place in the opera orchestra to a trombonist, and then forgot it, says the Musical Courier. At one of his dinner parties the butler announced the visit of this same protege. Rossini hastened to welcome him, and relieving him of his instrument disappeared a few minutes to return with his friends. Handing the instrument to the trombonist with a request to let the company hear him, Rossini prepared to listen. Trombone to lips the musician blows—dismay—no sound; cheeks bulging, eyes distended. In vain the unhappy man makes superhuman efforts to produce harmonious sounds. At last—O effort supreme! With a sound like a hoarse goose cackle there shoots from the trombone a mass of sticky macaroni. "No harm, my friend," said Rossini, "you have proved yourself a strong musician." And the next day the coveted position was offered to the trombonist.

Gangrene and Oxygen.

A remarkable instance of the advantage which medical men may derive from chemistry has been published in the reports of the Hospital Hotel Dieu, at Paris. A young student wrote a thesis in which he showed that gangrene and deficiency of oxygen were to be regarded as cause and effect. Dr. Langier, surgeon-in-chief of the hospital, having a case of spontaneous gangrene under his care, proceeded to test the theory. The patient, a man seventy-five years of age, had the disease in one foot—one toe was mortified, and the whole member was in danger. The diseased part was enclosed in an apparatus contrived to disengage oxygen continuously, and in a short time the gangrene was arrested and the foot recovered its healthy condition. A singular experiment tried upon another patient, equally aged, and equally successful, from which the inference follows that treatment with oxygen is an effectual remedy for a disease which too often infests hospitals.

Didn't Need It.

It was the anniversary of his young son's birthday, and the proud father, who felt that he ought to give the lad something, stepped into a bookseller's shop.

"What kind of book would you like, sir?" asked the assistant, to whom the other had confided his purpose.

"Something that would be useful and educative," answered the father, forgetting that he always detested such books in his own boyhood.

"Well, here is a very excellent one on 'Self-Help!'"

"Self-Help!" exclaimed the father. "Ben don't need anything of that kind. You ought to see him at the dinner-table!"

Sociable Swallows.

Two society-loving swallows have built their nest in a chandelier in the dining-room of Gersdorfslund, a country seat in Denmark. They have five young ones, and do not seem to mind people in the room. During meals they generally sit on the curtain rods and watch the people at the table, but if a dog or a cat enters the room they at once become frightened.

Hay Fever, Asthma and Summer Colds

Must be relieved quickly and, Foley's Honey and Tar Compound will do it. E. M. Stewart, 1034 Wolfram St., Chicago, writes: "I have been greatly troubled during the hot summer months with Hay Fever and find that by using Foley's Honey and Tar Compound I get great relief." Many others who suffer similarly will be glad to benefit by Mr. Stewart's experience. Hite Drug Store.

ALL DRUGGISTS

WILLING TO OBLIGE

Evelyn—Oh, well, let's kiss and make up!

Lorraine—All right, dear. I'll do the kissing, but you've had more experience with the other part of the performance.

EITHER WAY WOULD DO

The Artist—You've got that impressionistic painting hung upside down.

The Art Exhibitor—Don't make much difference. Nobody can make head nor tail out of it.

HIS IDEA.

Teacher (catching Tommy fishing on Sunday)—Do you know the wages of sin?

Tommy—Is this a sin?

Teacher—It undoubtedly is.

Tommy—I don't want wages for this. I'm satisfied to do it for fun.

WHY, OF COURSE

Hoax—I can't see any similarity between becoming a congressman and baking good bread.

Joax—Isn't success largely a matter of dough in both instances?

Hoax—Purchase completed.

The little boy sat by the roadside idly poking the dust, says the Youngtown Telegram. When the big man came along the little boy looked up and said: "Mister, is this your park?"

"What'll you give for it?" quizzed the big man. "Fourteen hundred thousand million dollars," replied the little boy. "All right," smiled the big man, "just take it right along with you."

HAS THEORY OF STONEHENGE

Professor Norton of Harvard Believes It Connected With Similar Erections in North Africa.

Prof. Richard Norton of Harvard is credited with the theory that the cyclopean structures at Stonehenge are connected with similar erections that are found in northern Africa. Professor Norton has just returned after a period of research in the Greek city of Cyrene in Africa, and his theory of Stonehenge is partly the result of his work. Stonehenge is ordinarily supposed to be the work of the Druids, and it may be said that the Druids in British archaeology have always occupied the place sacred to the cat in domestic matters. Whatever was inexplicable upon any other theory would always yield to the Druidic hypothesis. The Druids, in fact, were a sort of lesser Providence whose powers it was impious to doubt. If one asked how the gigantic rocking stones of Cornwall were balanced upon a point all perplexities were banished by a reference to the Druids, while the feat of erecting Stonehenge and bringing those mighty monoliths from a distance, a feat well-nigh impossible to modern engineering, was explained in a moment and to the meaneast intelligence by a simple reference to the Druids.

An Interesting Program.

"You think that the question of the cost of living can be solved by cheap sugar?"

"Entirely," replied the elaborate logician. "Cheap sugar will promote the use of confectionery until everybody's teeth are ruined, and then we will all be forced to eat the simplest foods."

A Summer Butterfly.

"That fellow thinks he has a license to flirt, but he'll get his."

"Why his sense of security?"

"Oh, he was divorced by some judge, with a proviso that he must not marry again."

AN OPEN LETTER.

Newberry, Mich., Feb. 12, 1910.
Petoskey Rug Mfg. Co.,
A. T. Washburne, Prop.
Petoskey, Mich.

Dear Sirs:—

The Rugs came yesterday and are simply superb. If I could see old sinners converted and made over as new as those Rugs are I should think that perfection was reached in transforming men.

How you can do it out of such old carpets is a surprise to me. Your changes are reasonable. Your work is excellent. Your attention to patrons is commendable. And the products of your looms surpassing all our expectations.

With many thanks, we remain,
Sincerely,
Rev. Levi Bird, Ph. D.,
Pastor Newberry M. E. Church.
P. S.—You are at liberty to use this letter if you care to do so.

We have hundreds of such letters as above coming from nearly every state in the Union on file at our office for inspection.
