

Charlevoix County Herald.

Vol. 17

EAST JORDAN, MICHIGAN, SATURDAY, OCTOBER 18, 1913.

No. 42

OPENING NUMBER NEXT MONDAY East Jordan Lyceum Course at Temple Theatre.

The opening number of East Jordan's Lyceum Course will be the International Operatic Company, Monday evening next, October 20th. One of the distinct advantages gained by our patrons in engaging a company of this kind in the great variety of work they are able to offer, and the wide experience they have had in concert and operatic work.

Their program will include vocal solos, duets, quartets, piano solos, and an operatic production in costume. These thoroughly trained artists are costumed in a rich beautiful manner for their character songs and the selections from grand opera and popular operas, at the same time have shown good taste in recognizing the limitations of lyceum requirements.

The following from the Two Rivers, Wisconsin, Chronicle, shows that the company made a hit in that city:

"We do not possess the musical knowledge to make comment on the work of the artists who presented this program. Telka Farm is a singer with a remarkably sweet voice and a charming personality; Burt McKinnie captivated his audience in his singing of 'The Brigand' by Spencer, and was called back repeatedly; Miss Heidenreich did her part of the program in a faultless manner and her acting the last act from 'Martha' was delightful; Mr. Grubb has a delightful tenor voice which was greatly appreciated by all; last, but by no means least, the pianist, Miss Day, scored a triumph. If the other numbers of the lecture course are as good as the first every person in the city should support the movement. They are entertainments of a class seldom if ever seen outside the larger cities and we have them at our door."

Reserved seats now on sale at Mack's Jewelry Store.

NEXT ATTRACTION

Theatregoers and amusement lovers of East Jordan and book lovers who are familiar with George Barr McCutcheon's famous fantastic novel "Brewster's Millions" will be delighted with the announcement that Frederick Thompson's elaborate production of the stage version of the celebrated story will appear at the Temple Theatre, next Wednesday October 22nd.

Louis Nilsen, the star of this organization, and one of the most finished and spontaneous light comedians on the stage will give his splendid characterizations of McCutcheon's prodigal spendthrift, whose compulsory dissipation of a million dollars in a year in order to inherit another seven million has made the whole country laugh.

The company supporting Mr. Nilsen

this season is headed by the charming and winsome young actress, Miss Katherine Francis, who won the high eulogiums from the critics when she essayed the character of "Peggy" Gray in "Brewster's Millions."

The remaining long list of characters are in practically the same capable hands as last season, including Emily Burke, Beulah Leighton, Earl Christie, Jack Murray, Will Lyons and others.

Mr. McCutcheon's story has an intensely fantastic scheme. It turns the prevailing mad chase for dollars topsyturvy; and entirely disposes of the almost universal belief that money is essential to either happiness or contentment. The dramatic version of the book was made by Winchell Smith and Byron Ongley. The claim is justly made that the great yacht and Mediterranean storm scene in the third act completely overshadows any other stage picture ever presented.

Frederick Thompson has amply demonstrated that his name is a sufficient warrant for the public confidence in the matter of complete pictorial surroundings and an acting company of the first class.

State Teachers' Association

The sixty-first annual meeting of the Michigan Teachers Association will be held in the city of Ann Arbor on October 30 and 31, and November 1st.

The officers of the association are aiming to make this the best meet in the history of the association and a study of the program of the meeting will convince any teacher that they are going to be successful in their efforts.

The citizens of Ann Arbor will offer a complimentary concert to the teachers of the state which will be a rare treat. Teachers will have the opportunity to witness the big University football games.

The instructors are educators of national fame and no teacher who listens to the various addresses can help but go back to her work with a clearer conception of her duty and better prepared to perform that duty. This is a state institute and teachers are authorized to close their schools and attend.

I know that all rural teachers who can possibly do so will be well repaid if they will attend this great meeting. Trusting that I may see a great many of the rural teachers in the "University town" I am

Most cordially,
J. H. MILFORD.

Notice Citizens Mutual Policy Holders.

There will be a meeting of Policy Holders at Charlevoix Court House on Tuesday, October 21st, 1913 at 2:00 o'clock p. m. All attend. Important.

J. L. BARBER, Receiver.

All things are to be sneezed at when one is taking cold.

AFTON COUPLE MARRIED.

Miss Nettie Hott, daughter of Chas. Hott, of Afton, and Claude Sutton, son of Joel Sutton, also of Afton, were quietly married at Boyne City, Saturday evening. The ceremony was solemnized at the Methodist parsonage at 7:00 o'clock. Rev. Matt W. Duffey officiated with Miss Myrtle Garberson, of Boyne City, and Chas. Shepard, of Afton, acting as witnesses.

Following the ceremony the bridal party repaired to the home of the groom's brother Will Sutton, of Pleasant avenue, where a wedding supper was served by Mesdames Herb and Will Sutton.

The bride and groom spent the night at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. William Gates, and on Sunday drove to Afton to make their home temporarily with Mr. Sutton's parents.

On Sunday afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Hott; parents of the bride, gave a wedding dinner at their home in honor of the bridal couple, who received many beautiful and useful gifts and hosts of good wishes for a happy future.

Among the guests present from Boyne City were: Mr. and Mrs. Will Gates and daughter, Mf. and Mrs. Will Sutton and children and Mrs. Herb Sutton and daughter. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hott, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Shepard, Mrs. B Price and daughter Marie, and the Misses Nell and Lela Hott of East Jordan, and Mr. and Mrs. John Hott and children, Mr. and Mrs. Joel Sutton, and Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Sloan and daughter Cleo, of Afton.—Boyne City Journal.

Annual School Officers' Meeting

The annual school officers' meeting for Charlevoix County will be held in the Normal room of the High School building in Charlevoix on Wednesday, October 23rd, beginning at 9:30 a. m.

Mr. G. R. Otwell, Assistant Superintendent of Public Instruction, will have charge of the meeting. Mr. Otwell is a pleasing instructor and is thoroughly versed in matters pertaining to rural school work. He will discuss school matters in general and will give special attention to the latest school laws.

School directors are entitled to compensations and traveling expenses and it is their duty to attend this meeting.

All officers are urged to attend as they will be well repaid for the time and trouble taken.

Deliver us from the sympathetic man who always sympathizes with himself.

Inject common sense into a love affair and it will soon cease to be interesting.

When a man works fifteen hours a day trying to earn money enough to buy his wife all the fool things she wants, that is love.

After a timid woman faces the parson with a man, her fear of mice and burglars is transferred to dashing widows and festive chorus girls.

Some Observations of the Commissioner of Schools.

As one travels in the various communities of Charlevoix Co. from year to year he is impressed with the fact that as a rule the citizens of the county are of the progressive type.

New silos, new buildings, new machinery, young orchards and many other indications of wide-awake progressive farming are to be seen on each successive visit to any particular community in the county.

It is a lamentable fact that in many of the seemingly most progressive portions of this great country (and we of this county are no worse than in other counties of the state or in other states of the union) our educational facilities do not keep pace with other things in the march of progress.

We can see in many communities that are straddled with big horse and cattle barns, warm and well ventilated, supplied with clean cement floors, litter carriers and many other modern conveniences, poultry houses that are the pride of Biddy's heart, and other modern conveniences that are and should be the pride of any community, a school house that is by no means in keeping with the general make-up of the community.

That same school house will be so lighted that the child will be forced to face a strong light which constantly annoys him, so seated that a number of children will be forced to sit all day with their feet swinging, so ventilated that the children will either be forced to sit in a draft or breathe the same air over and over, so heated that part of them will be roasting while others will be freezing.

In the same community in which you find the newest and most up-to-date tools, the most modern conveniences, the latest modes of travel, etc., you will find a school teacher who is forced to use a text book that is entirely out of date, a map that gives Cuba and the Philippine Islands as a part of the Spanish domain, history that does not mention either Roosevelt or Taft and a wooden blackboard that is shiny and can be clearly seen from just a certain angle of the room.

But why this grouch? In spite of conditions such as we have described our schools are doing a bigger work than they have ever done before.

In these same school houses will be found teachers who have had special training for their work and who are training the young people of the county in many things which are new to the parents of the community.

What is there to the making of a paper chain or a paper toy or working the picture of some animal on a piece of cardboard?

It is true that the intrinsic value of the thing may be small but the habits of industry that are being taught, the pride that is developed in being able to do something will more than repay the time and trouble taken in the development of this kind of work. Children who are taught to employ their time in doing something will not be inclined to loaf later in life. Many people are unable to see the value of this and many other lines of work now being introduced in the public schools but that is not surprising for a score of people said that Fulton's boat would not go but it did. It is hoped that we may get our schools under the control of boards who can see the same necessity for modern improvements in the schools that they see in other lines of work.

Give our teacher tools to work with and demand results but look things over carefully before you expect the average rural teacher to do work that is on a par with the work of the up-to-date and well equipped city school.

This is my grouch. My next will be a description of some of the good things (and there are many of them) that I see as I go from school to school.

Respectfully submitted,
J. H. MILFORD, Com.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to thank the many friends for the kind deeds and floral offerings during the illness and death of our darling baby Gwendolyn.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer C. Hott.

Young people seem to have a monopoly on good luck. Unburned letters frequently get a man into hot water.

It takes a man of strong will power to look unconcerned when his wife tells him he has been talking in his sleep.

If a woman has a good figure and knows it, she thinks other women are envious if they don't appear to notice it.

EXCEEDED EXPECTATIONS

OTTAWA, Ont., March 13, 1913.
Messrs John R. & W. L. Reid, Mgr's Eastern Ontario, SUN LIFE ASSURANCE CO. OF CANADA, Ottawa, Ont.

Gentlemen:—Permit me to thank you for the Company's cheque in settlement of my Limited Life policy taken twenty years ago through Mr. Ira J. Cramer of Aultsville.

This cheque is all the more acceptable in view of the fact that the proceeds of the policy exceeded my expectations by about $30.00.

As I have assurance in a Fraternal Order it occurs to me that I should make your Company the same allowance for the cost of carrying my risk, say $10 per year, and by doing so I find that the balance of my premiums has been compounded at nearly 8 per cent in order to give me the cash return which the above-mentioned cheque places in my hands. It is evident, therefore, that I have had a profitable investment as well as safe and sure protection.

Wishing the Company continued success in its efforts to live up to the motto, "Prosperous and Progressive," I remain, Yours very truly, W. H. KANEY.

GROWTH of the SUN LIFE ASSURANCE CO.

Year	Income	Assets	Life Assurances in Force
1872	$ 48,210.93	$ 96,461.95	$ 1,064,350.00
1892	1,108,680.43	3,403,700.88	23,901,047.00
1902	3,561,509.34	13,480,272.38	67,181,602.00
1912	12,333,081.60	49,605,616.43	182,732,420.00

V. G. HOLBECK, DIST. M'GR
EAST JORDAN, MICH.

Making Customers vs. Making Sales

We like to make sales—but we like better to make friends.
We never could see the profit in a sale that cost a customer.

We think of this every time we buy goods. We keep it in mind every time we make a sale. All our salespeople are trained to the same policy—"It is better to lose a sale than to lose a customer's confidence."

That is why we never have goods too cheap to be safe. That is why we sell Wooltex coats, suits and skirts.

And that is why we are making new customers daily—and keeping them.

M. E. ASHLEY & CO.

The Store That Sells Wooltex
Coats Suits Skirts

Get a "Safety Lifter" at this office.

Scene from "BREWSTER'S MILLIONS" at Temple Theatre Next Wednesday, Oct. 22.

Relative Merits of Genius and Talent

By LINDSAY SWIFT

When Macaulay described that tiresome New Zealand...

What are these two qualities or possessions of human mind?

Perhaps it would not be going too far to say that Aristotle and Julius...

But we may, I think, dismiss any consideration of these marvelous personalities of every age.

A very simple instance of the application of this quality of genius...

Now the man of talent will take up these wonderfully simple, yet potentially great ideas...

When Macaulay described that tiresome New Zealand...

Mr. Henry Adams, in his remarkable "Letter to the American Teachers of History..."

Perhaps it would not be going too far to say that Aristotle and Julius...

But we may, I think, dismiss any consideration of these marvelous personalities of every age.

A very simple instance of the application of this quality of genius...

Now the man of talent will take up these wonderfully simple, yet potentially great ideas...

Lindsay Swift

HEART TRUE AS GOLD

By GEORGE ELMER COBB.

"That is the one mean act of my life," asserted Lewis Daniels in a self-deprecatory way.

The cause of it all was an open letter he had picked up in the main office.

Then the remarks were chronicled, a flashing look of determination in the eyes of the young man usually so calm and smiling...

Lewis had charge of a department and no one had ever excelled him in his position.

"Mr. Wilson," spoke Lewis outright, "I wanted to see if I couldn't get a vacation for Miss Durham..."

"And we decided that we couldn't break the rules. The others have been here a year, which entitles them to the two weeks and full pay."

Lewis looked worried. He passed his hand over his face thoughtfully.

"How about my own vacation?" "Take it when you like, only—last year you devoted most of it to nursing one of the hands, I hear. That isn't resting."

"Now what are you after?" "Read that letter."

The manager ran his eyes over the written page in his usual rapid, business-like way. It was from Esther room that night, Lewis Daniels aimed the spot on his hand where that pearly tear had rested, he hoped he was, and he knew that the silent love he bore for Minna Durham could not fail to make him a better one.

Minna went away on her vacation with a happy heart. Two days later the manager was called to a distant city to attend a manufacturers' convention.

Circumstance or fate, a strange event happened. Wilson had left memoranda as to what credits should be given. There was a firm sold freely, with orders not to restrict the account.

"So, you see, if I hadn't been here through giving Miss Durham my vacation, the firm would be out about twelve thousand dollars," suggested Lewis.

Minna learned of this; she learned, too, of the noble sacrifice of Lewis soon after her return. The happiness he had brought into her life was not forgotten.

"New contract," he observed in his usual terse way, tossing over a written sheet. "The house appreciates your services—fifty per cent. raise in salary."

"Thank you," said Lewis heartily. "I hope I deserve it."

"Deserve it?" repeated Wilson, and his lips twitched suspiciously. "Daniels, you're a man with a soul. You have done some fine things I wish my hard, selfish business had made my heart as true gold as yours is."

"Did you ever—that is, well, did you ever try love?" suggested Lewis, blushing red as a peony.

"Oh, that's the secret, is it?" "I think so."

"That young lady, Miss Durham—I suppose you don't regret giving up the vacation you earned so hard to cater to a girlish whim?"

"If you knew what happiness the whim, as you call it, led to, you would not be sorry for letting me have my own way," replied Lewis, his voice full of earnest emotion.

"That unexpected family reunion, from all I learn, was one of those bright spots of life that make people believe in good and heaven."

"Hem!" coughed Wilson, and turned aside, a gleam of the heartsome sweeping his face. Then, the old, stern business man, he resumed: "By the way—this protege of yours?"

"Meaning Miss Durham?" "Exactly. I suppose you feel partial enough towards her to be asking a raise in salary, now that her year is up?"

Lewis Daniels placed a loving hand on the manager's shoulder. "Wilson," he said, "if I did, you would grant it, I can see that, which is a credit to your just, helpful nature; but Miss Durham is going to leave the first of the month."

"Going to leave?" repeated the manager in some surprise. "Yes, she has a new position, and I am going to ask for a few days' vacation, after all."

"Why, where are you going?" asked the bewildered Wilson. "On our honeymoon." (Copyright, 1913, by W. G. Chapman.)

Air Scouts Proved of Value. Recent wars have served to show how valuable the air scouts may be in the carrying on of a campaign.

Origin of Authors' Rights. The recent jubilee meeting of the French Societe des Gens de Lettres, attended by President Poincare, has led to an inquiry as to the origin of that most important thing for writers—authors' rights.

Painfully Mixed. A very fashionable young man stopped at a florist's one hot summer day to order a box of flowers sent to his lady love.

"Hoping this may help you to bear the heat." The other card bore the one word, "Sympathy."

Very soon the girl telephoned: "Thank you so much for the flowers. But why did you write 'Sympathy' on the card?"

HADN'T TOLD ANY UNTRUTH

Colored Witness Slightly Stated a Fact, Though It Was Not the Information Desired.

In St. Louis a stout colored woman, apparently about forty years old, was called as a witness in an assault case before a police judge.

"Right here in St. Louis, in July, '74."

"Then," cried the lawyer in a triumphant tone, "what do you mean by saying that you are eighty-four?"

"Oh," replied the old darky, "that ain't my age; that is my bust measurement."

PIMPLES ON FACE AND ARMS

411 Howard St., Dayton, Ohio.—"About a year ago my face, neck, arms and back were beginning to become afflicted with pimples and blackheads."

"I used a cream and the more I used the worse they got. Shortly after, I read the advertisement of Cuticura Soap and Ointment and determined to use them."

A striking illustration of the saying that the pith of a lady's letter is in the postscript occurred in the case of a young lady who, having gone out to India, and writing home to her friends, concluded with the following words: "P. S.—You will see by my signature that I am married."

Water in bluing is adulteration. Glass and water makes liquid blue costly. Buy Red Cross Ball Blue, makes clothes whiter than snow. Adv.

"Eternal punishment" may be the price of being too poor to buy a divorce.

The pleasures of youth become misfits in after years.

Uric Acid Is Slow Poison. Excess uric acid left in the blood by weak kidneys, causes more diseases than any other poison.

Among its effects are backache, headache, dizziness, irritability, nervousness, drowsiness, "blues," rheumatic attacks and urinary disorders. Later effects are dropsy, gravel or heart disease.

If you would avoid uric acid troubles, keep your kidneys healthy. To stimulate and strengthen weak kidneys, use Doan's Kidney Pills—the best recommended special kidney remedy.

A Wisconsin Case. Mrs. Jane Smith, 614 W. St., Madison, Wis., writes: "I could hardly get out of bed. My back ached, my body bloated and my ankles were swollen. I lost 16 pounds in weight. Doctors said they couldn't help me. Finally, Doan's Kidney Pills and they cured me. All the swellings disappeared. Doan's Kidney Pills saved my life."

Get Doan's at Any Store, 50c a Box. DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS. FOSTER-MILBURN CO., BUFFALO, N.Y.

The Up-to-Date Lighting System for Country Homes. The Improved Jenne Pit Acetylene Generator. Installed in the ground and covered over like a cistern.

The Jenne Acetylene Gas Machine Co., Meridian Life Bldg., Indianapolis, Ind.

W. L. DOUGLAS. $3.00 $3.50 $4.00 $4.50 AND $5.00. SHOES FOR MEN AND WOMEN. BEST BOYS SHOES in the WORLD $2.00, $2.50 and $3.00.

The largest makers of Men's $3.50 and $4.00 shoes in the world.

Ask your dealer to show you W. L. Douglas's $3.50, $4.00 and $4.50 shoes. Just as good in style, fit and wear as other makes costing $5.00 to $7.00.

If you could visit W. L. Douglas's large factories at Brockton, Mass., and see for yourself how carefully W. L. Douglas shoes are made, you would then understand why they are warranted to fit better, look better, hold their shape and wear longer than any other make for the price.

W. L. Douglas's shoes are not for sale in your vicinity, order direct from the factory and save the middleman's profit.

Write for the illustrated catalog. I will show you how to order by mail, and will give you extra money on your first order.

W. L. DOUGLAS, Brockton, Mass.

WOMAN FEELS 10 YEARS YOUNGER

Since Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Health.

Louisville, Ky.—"I take great pleasure in writing to inform you of what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me."

"I was weak, nervous, and cared for nothing but sleep. Now I can go ahead with my work daily and feel ten years younger than before I started taking your medicine."

"I am cured of the displacement and the bladder trouble is relieved. I think the Compound is the finest medicine on earth for suffering women."

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

Don't Put Off

seeking relief from the illnesses caused by defective action of the organs of digestion. Most serious weakness get their start in troubles of the stomach, liver, bowels—troubles quickly, safely, surely relieved by

BEECHAM'S PILLS

Sold everywhere. In boxes, 10c., 25c. DR. J. D. KELLOGG'S ASTHMA

Remedy for the prompt relief of Asthma and Hay Fever. Ask your druggist for it. Write for FREE SAMPLE NORTHROP & LYMAN CO., 14, BUFFALO, N.Y.

BLACKS OPTICIANS

THE NEW FRENCH REMEDY. THE RAPID THERAPION. THE RAPID THERAPION LASTING POWER.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM. A salient preparation of merit. Restores Color and Beauty to Gray or Faded Hair.

Readers of this paper desiring to buy anything advertised in its columns should insist upon having what they ask for, refusing all substitutes or imitations.

W. N. U., DETROIT, NO. 39-1913.

Advance of Women All Over the World

By J. E. DUMARS, Boston, Mass.

go into many subjects that heretofore have only been published for men. I am connected with a magazine that has a circulation of two million.

Each subscription is paid in advance and the magazine is devoted entirely to woman and her work. The bettering of the school systems is one of the things that has interested women in the higher grades of fiction.

They have the same love for their home and children, but the advancement of the school room has had a great deal to do with the change in their mode of life and way of thinking.

I do not mean to say that because the modern woman does not want to know how to make a pie that she does not take interest in her household duties.

Years ago the only reading matter contained in women's magazines was devoted to receipts and useful household hints. But it is different now. Women have a great work in the world and their advancement has been very rapid.

A number of the magazines published exclusively for women are among the most widely circulated periodicals in this country.

World Has Little Use for Jesus

By Rev. William Rader, San Francisco

when Jesus was popular, and that was when he fed the multitude bread; a few days later he was unpopular because he talked to the same multitude about their souls and bread from above.

He was popular when he ministered to bodily wants, but unpopular when he ministered to spiritual ones. It is the same today—a preacher or a church can be popular by ministering to things of the flesh.

Should we turn this church into a hospital every newspaper in the city would applaud because we were doing some practical good, and the populace would cheer.

When it comes to the church doing its main function, to remind people of the city to come, then the world turns away.

It is because he is a man of sorrow that he means so much to us Christians, because he tells us of the unseen world.

The modern woman does not want to know how pies are made or read a string of useful receipts in women's magazines.

Women of the present day read fiction. They also go into many subjects that heretofore have only been published for men.

Each subscription is paid in advance and the magazine is devoted entirely to woman and her work.

The bettering of the school systems is one of the things that has interested women in the higher grades of fiction.

They have the same love for their home and children, but the advancement of the school room has had a great deal to do with the change in their mode of life and way of thinking.

I do not mean to say that because the modern woman does not want to know how to make a pie that she does not take interest in her household duties.

Years ago the only reading matter contained in women's magazines was devoted to receipts and useful household hints. But it is different now.

Women have a great work in the world and their advancement has been very rapid.

A number of the magazines published exclusively for women are among the most widely circulated periodicals in this country.

The world has no use for a person with a long face. Sorrow drives away friends, and it is because Jesus was a man of sorrow that the world has so little use for him.

There was one day when Jesus was popular, and that was when he fed the multitude bread; a few days later he was unpopular because he talked to the same multitude about their souls and bread from above.

He was popular when he ministered to bodily wants, but unpopular when he ministered to spiritual ones. It is the same today—a preacher or a church can be popular by ministering to things of the flesh.

Should we turn this church into a hospital every newspaper in the city would applaud because we were doing some practical good, and the populace would cheer.

When it comes to the church doing its main function, to remind people of the city to come, then the world turns away.

It is because he is a man of sorrow that he means so much to us Christians, because he tells us of the unseen world.

Ran His Eye Over the Written Page.

Durham to her sister Minna. It was a wholehearted story in a few words. It told of an invalid mother who had not seen her children for two years.

It related how they had all arranged to spend their vacation at the dear old home their united efforts as workers had saved. Could not Minna come. It would mean life and happiness to the dear old mother.

"We all have our troubles," growled Wilson. "Let me give my vacation to Miss Durham," pleaded Lewis softly.

The manager regarded him fiercely. But it was all put on. Steel-hearted business man as he was, a touch of rare, genuine nature in the splendid fellow at his elbow affected him deeply, despite himself.

"Daniels," he burst out, "you're a fool!" "In this case let me be one," urged Lewis.

"Take your way—lots of thanks you'll get in the end; that's my experience."

Lewis Daniels proceeded to the office. His first plan was to place the letter on Miss Durham's desk. He had barely done so when she approached it.

"You were waiting to see me, Mr. Daniels?" asked the girl, with her usual bright smile.

"Hem—why, yes, quite so," stammered Lewis guiltily. "You see, that is about your vacation."

"Yes, you told me," responded Minna, a trace of sadness in her deep expressive eyes. "I am sorry, but then, you see, I can look forward to next year."

"The hem—special time you desired, I believe, was the first two weeks in August?" continued Lewis. "It will be all right—two weeks, full pay, and your work this far, Miss Durham, excellent, most excellent."

How Many Society Women Drink Cocktails

By CHAS. T. WILSON, Chicago

Formerly when fashionable women wanted to drink a cocktail they had to do a lot of maneuvering to get one.

At present all a woman has to do is to enter the dining room of the first fashionable hotel she is passing and hand her order to the waiter. It may be that she does not want it known that she is ordering a drink.

She need have no fear, for the waiter is well aware of this, and will not serve it to her openly. Perhaps it will reach her in an after-dinner coffee cup, or the chances are that she will receive it in an ice-cream glass surrounded by a lot of fancy cakes or some pretty tulle to hide the contents of the glass.

FRAN

BY JOHN BRECKENRIDGE ELLIS

ILLUSTRATIONS BY O. IRWIN MYERS

(COPYRIGHT 1912 BOBBS-MERRILL CO.)

HIGHWAY IMPROVEMENT

ROAD IN RURAL COMMUNITIES

Ever Recurring Problem of Upkeep Can, in Large Measure, Be Solved by Use of Road Drag.

(By R. H. FLINT, University Farm, St. Paul, Minn.)

Because of its cheapness the earth road is, and for many years to come will continue to be, the most common form of road in use in rural communities. The ever recurring problem of upkeep on such roads can, in a large measure, be solved by the use of the so-called split-log drag, which can be constructed as shown in the accompanying picture by any one who has suitable material at hand. A log is not necessary, or perhaps not desirable, for its construction. Choose four pieces of plank of some strong wood, such as elm or red pine, two inches thick and eight feet long. Two of them should be ten or twelve inches in width, but the other two may be narrower as shown in the picture, since they are simply bolted to the backs of the wider planks for reinforcement. If planks three and a half or four inches thick can conveniently be obtained, a single thickness of them should be used, instead of building up as shown in the cut. In any case, the drag can be put together with round poles wedged into anger holes as shown, or the cross-pieces may be set in with mortise and tenon joints and kept tight by long bolts reaching through the front and back planks.

Road Drag.

A piece of iron about three and one-half feet long, three or four inches wide and one-fourth of an inch thick should be used for a blade. By means of bolts with flat, counter-sunk heads, this blade should be attached to the front plank in such a manner that its edge will project a half-inch below the plank at the ditch end, while the end of the iron toward the middle of the road should be flush with the edge of the plank. If the face of the plank stands plumb it will be well to wedge out the bottom of the iron with a wedge-shaped piece of wood to give the iron a set similar to that of a plane bit.

A platform of inch boards cleated together, with cracks an inch wide between the boards to prevent dirt from collecting on top, is placed on the cross-pieces of the drag to furnish a platform for the driver. This platform should rest upon the cross-pieces between the planks without being fastened to the drag. It is not shown in the illustration.

Any chain having the strength of a trace chain may be used to draw the drag and should be attached as shown in the picture, but the proper position for attaching the doubletrees must be determined by experiment and will vary with the kind of work done. The chain should be about nine feet long for a drag of the size shown in the cut and should have the eye for the clevis put in about three feet from the end. The chain attaches by means of an eyebolt, as shown in the picture, to the ditch or blade end of the drag. The other end of the chain should finish with a grabhook for use in adjusting the length of the hitch after the chain is passed around the cross-piece at the road end of the drag.

Commonly the drag should follow the team at an angle of about forty-five degrees with their line of travel, to cause the dirt to move steadily and freely along the faces of the planks from the ditch toward the center of the road. In every case the angle at which the drag will travel can be governed by the position of the hitch, which is changed within reasonable limits by lengthening or shortening the chain, and by the position of the driver on the drag. A very little experience will enable anyone to adjust these things satisfactorily.

To Clean Plumage.

The plumage of a white fowl can be cleaned of stain by washing with a clean white or transparent soap that is free from much alkali. Make a strong lather and use your hand feathers downward, from the head to the tail.

Abuse of Roads.

Using the roadside for a "public dump" and filling the side ditches with waste material doesn't help appearances any, nor does it help to solve the drainage problem in the maintenance of roads.

Takes Out Wrinkles.

If you are riding in a swiftly moving vehicle, like an automobile, you can easily tell whether the road has been dragged or not. Dragging takes out all the "wrinkles."

like the rest of the crowd. "Do you mean that you never want to see me again? Do you mean that you want me to marry Mr. Clinton?"

"I do not care what you do," he said, still more roughly.

"You do not care?" she stammered, bewildered. "What has happened? You do not care—for me?"

She looked deep into his eyes, but found no incense burning there. The shirine was cold.

"Mr. Gregory! And after all that has passed between us? After I have given you my—myself—"

Gregory seized her arm, as if to hold her off. His eyes were burning dangerously. "I saw murder in your heart while you were watching Fran," he whispered fiercely. "That's my daughter, do you understand? I know you now, I know you now."

Grace stared after him with bloodless cheeks and smoldering eyes. Clearly, she decided, the sight of Fran's fearful danger had unbalanced his mind. But how could he care so much about that Fran? And how could he leave her, knowing that Robert Clinton was beginning to climb upward with eyes fastened upon her face?

But it was not the sight of Fran's danger that had for ever alienated Gregory from Grace Noir. In an instant, she had stood revealed to him as an unlovely monster. His sensitive nature, always abnormally alive to outward impressions, had thrilled responsively to the exultation of the audience. He had endured the agony of suspense, he had shared the universal enthusiasm. If, in a sense, he was a series of moods, each the result of blind impulse, it so happened that Gregory had deserted Fran's mother; he was false to Mrs. Gregory; he would perhaps have betrayed Grace in the end; but Clinton was at hand, and his adoration would endure.

In the meantime, the voice of Fran was to be heard above that of the happy crowd: "I love you all. You helped me do it. I should certainly have been mangled but for you perfect heroes. Yes, thank you. Yes, I feel fine. . . . And, oh, men and women, I could just feel your spirits holding mine up till I was so high—I was in the clouds. That's what subdued Samson. He knew I wasn't afraid. He knew it! And I wanted to win out for your sakes as well as my own—yes I did! Thank you men. . . . Thank you women.

Well, if here aren't the children, too—bless your brave hearts! . . . And is that your baby? My goodness, and what a baby it is! . . . No, I'm not a bit tired."

She stopped suddenly, on feeling a crushing grip. She looked down, a frown forming on her brow, but the sun shone clear when she saw Abbott Ashton. She gave him a swift look, as if to generate his inmost thoughts.

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

SYNOPSIS.

Fran arrives at Hamilton Gregory's home in Littleburg, but finds him absent conducting the choir at a camp meeting. She repairs thither in search of him, laughs during the service and is asked to leave. Abbott Ashton, superintendent of schools, escorts Fran from the tent. He tells her Gregory is a wealthy man, deeply interested in charity work, and a pillar of the church. Ashton becomes greatly interested in Fran and while taking leave of her holds her hand and is seen by Sapphira Clinton, sister of Robert Clinton, chairman of the school board. Fran tells Gregory she wants to come with him. Grace Noir, Gregory's private secretary, takes a violent dislike to Fran and advises her to go away at once. Fran hits at a twenty-year-old actor, and Gregory in agitation asks Grace to leave the room. Fran relates the story of how Gregory married a young girl, Springfield while attending college and then deserted her. Fran is the child of that marriage. Gregory had married the present wife three years before the death of Fran's mother. Fran takes a liking to Mrs. Gregory. Gregory explains that Fran is the daughter of a very dear friend who is dead. Fran agrees to the story. Mrs. Gregory insists on her making her home with them and takes her to her own home. Gregory's secretary must go. Grace begins nagging tactics in an effort to drive Fran from the Gregory home. Fran tells Gregory she will stay at midnight. Fran on a bridge tells her fortune by cards. She tells Abbott that she has found her father. Fran tells Gregory she is tired of circus life and wishes to go to Springfield to investigate the truth about her father. Fran offers her services to Gregory as secretary during the temporary absence of Grace. The latter hearing of Fran's purpose, returns and interrupts a touching scene between father and daughter. Grace tells Gregory she intends to marry Clinton and quit her service. He declares that he cannot continue his work without her. Carried away by passion, he takes her in his arms. Fran walks in on them, and declares that Grace must leave the house at once. To Gregory's consternation he learns of Clinton's mission to Springfield. Clinton returns from Springfield and at Fran's request, Abbott urges him not to discuss what he has learned. On Abbott's assurance that Clinton will leave Gregory at once, Clinton agrees to keep silent. Driven into a corner by the threat of exposure, Gregory is forced to dismiss Fran. Grace offered the job of book-keeper to Clinton's grocery store. Gregory's infatuation leads him to seek Grace at the grocery store and find her alone and tells her the story of his past. Grace points out that as he married the present Mrs. Gregory before the death of Fran's mother, he is not now legally married. They decide to flee at once. They attempt to escape during the excitement of a street fair and are forced to enter the lion tent to avoid Clinton.

CHAPTER XXIII.—Continued.

The show-girl was fastened in the central cage. The clowns raised the inner doors, and the lions shot from their cramped quarters with a tawny roar. They were almost against the slight figure, without seeming to observe her. For the fourth time since noon they stood erect, sniffing the air, their bodies unconfined by galling timbers and chilling iron. For the fourth time this day, they were to be put through their tricks by force of fear. They hated these tricks, as they hated the small cages in which they could not lash their tails. They hated the "baby carriage" in which one was presently to sit, while the other pushed him over the floor, his sullen majesty sport for the rabble. They hated the board upon which they must see-saw, while the woman stood in the middle, preserving equilibrium.

But greater than the lion's hatred, was their fear of the woman; and greater than their fear of her was their terror of that long serpent which no matter how far it might dart through space, remained always in the woman's hand. They well knew its venomous bite, and as they slunk from side to side, their eyes were upon its coiling black tongue.

"Samson, Up! Samson, Up! Samson, Up!"

"I met Fran on the street," murmured Abbott, as he watched, unblinkingly. "She said she was going to visit a sick friend. When did you see Fran last, Simon?"

"Don't know," Simon said, discouragingly. "Now they're going to see-saw. The black-maned one is the hardest to manage. I reckon, one day, he'll just naturally jump afoot of her, and tear her to pieces. Look at him! I don't believe this girl is going to make him get up on top of that board. My! how he is showing his teeth at her. Say! This is a pretty good show, hey? Glad you came, uh? Say! Look at his teeth!"

In truth, the black-maned lion opened his mouth to a frightful extent, making, however, not the slightest sound. He refused to budge. Abbott shuddered.

"Samson!" cried the woman, impellingly. The other lion was patiently standing on his end of the board, waiting. He seemed fast asleep. Samson, however, was wide awake and every cruel tooth was exposed as he stretched his mouth. In his amber eyes was the glow of molten copper.

Suddenly Samson wheeled about, and made a rush for his end of the see-saw. He stepped upon it. He was conquered. His haste to obey, evidently the result of fear and hatred, produced a ripple of laughter. The other lion, feeling the sudden tremor of Samson's weight, opened his eyes suddenly and twitched his tail. He was not asleep, after all.

Abbott found himself intensely nervous. He longed to have it all over, anxious, above all, to prove his fears groundless. Yet how were so many coincidences to be explained away? Fran had been a show-girl, a trainer of lions, and Abbott distinctly remembered that she had spoken of a "Samson." Fran had just those movements and this height. He missed Fran's mellow voice, but voices may be disguised; and the hands now raised toward the audience may have been stained dark. Who was that "sleek friend" that Fran had possibly mentioned only as an excuse for escaping? Was that a subterfuge? And why this red mask which, according to Simon Jefferson, was an innovation?

At every trick, the black-maned lion balked. When the time came for the clown to hand the woman her violin he was afraid, and withdrew his arm with marvelous rapidity. His grotesque disguise could not hide his genuine uneasiness. The members of the band, too, played their notes with unusual care, lest the slightest deviation from routine work bring catastrophe. Nothing had gone right but the see-sawing act; but of all this, the crowd was ignorant.

After the violin playing—"Now," Simon Jefferson announced, gleefully, "there's only one more act, but it's a corker, let me tell you—that's why she's resting a minute. La Gontzett gets astride of Samson—the one that's mad—and grabs his mane, and pretends to ride like a cowboy. Calls her self a rough rider. Makes Samson get on top of that table, then she gets up on top of him."

"But this isn't La Gontzett," Abbott protested, shuddering again. "Now you've said something. That's right. But it looks like she's game—she'll try it—we'd better stand a little farther back."

A hand was laid upon Abbott's arm. "Abbott," said the voice of Robert Clinton, harsh from smothered excitement, "You went to Gregory's house—did you see him?"

Abbott did not hear. The refractory lion, knowing that his time had come to be ridden, was asserting his independence. He would not leap upon the table. The other lion stood watching sleepily to see if he would obey.

"That you, Clinton?" Simon's greeting was tense with enjoyment. "Got here for the best of it didn't you? Seems to me I saw Gregory somewhere not long ago, but I wasn't thinking about him."

"Hercules!" the masked woman addressed the gentler of the lions. "Go to your place. Hercules—go to your place!"

Hercules turned to his blue box, and seated himself upon it, leaving his tail to take care of itself.

The show-girl was fiercely addressing the black-maned lion. "Now! Now! To the table! To the table!"

Samson did not budge. Facing the woman of the mask, he opened his mouth, revealing the red eave of his throat—past the ivory sentinels that not only stood guard, but threatened, one could look down and down. This was no yawn of weariness, but a sign of rebellion—a sort of noiseless roar.

The trainer retreated to the farther side of the cage, then made a forward rush, waving her whip, and shouting clangorously. "Up, Samson, up, Samson, up!" She did not pause in her course till close to his face.

Again he opened his mouth, baring every tooth, voiceless, but unconquered.

Hercules, finding that affairs had come to a halt, slowly descended from his box, keeping his half-opened eyes upon the woman. Restlessly he began to pace before the outer door.

The slight figure with drowsy general steps, then smote the rebellious lion a sharp blow across the mouth. He snapped at the lash. It slipped away from between his teeth. Having rescued her whip, she shouted to the other lion: "Back to your place, Hercules. Hercules—back to your place!"

She stood pointing sternly toward the box, but Hercules stretched himself across the place of exit and lay watching her covertly.

The faces of the band boys had become of a yellowish paleness. From behind the mask came the voice so loud that it sounded as a scream—"Up, Samson, up, Samson—up!"

Then it was that Samson found his voice. A mighty roar shook the loose-set bars of the central cage—they vibrated visibly. The roar did not come as one short sharp note of defiance; it rose and fell, then rose anew, varying in the inflections of the voice of a slave who dares to threaten, tears even while he threatens; and gathers passion from his fear.

At that fearful reverberation, the audience started up, panic-stricken. Hitherto, the last act had been regarded as a badly-played comedy; now tragedy was in the air.

Gregory and Grace Noir at that instant, became alive to their surroundings. Hitherto, despising the show, rebellious at the destiny which had forced them to attend it, they had been wholly absorbed in their efforts to escape observation. The roaring of the lion startled them to a perception of the general alarm.

Grace clung to Gregory. "Oh, save me!" she panted hysterically.

The voice of the woman behind the bars rang throughout the tent—"Sit down!" The voice was not loud, now, but singularly penetrating. "Sit down, all of you, and remain absolutely motionless, or I am lost."

Grace Noir, her eyes closed, her cheeks pallid, leaned her head upon Gregory's shoulder, quivering convulsively.

"There, there," Gregory whispered in her ear, soothingly, "everything will be all right."

The masked woman for the second time addressed the terrified audience, still not venturing to turn her head in their direction: "Whoever moves, or speaks, or cries aloud, will be my murderer. I have only one hope left, and I'm going to try it now. I ask you people out there to give me just this one chance for my life. Keep absolutely still!"

Again Samson uttered his terrible roar. It alone was audible. Tier above tier, faces rose to the tent-roof, white and set. The audience was like one huge block of stone in which only faces have been carved.

The penetrating voice addressed the band boys: "Don't play. He can tell you're frightened."

The agitated music ceased. Then the woman walked to the farthest side of the enclosure. In doing so she was obliged to pass the crouching form of Hercules, but she pretended not to know he was there; she moved slowly backward, always facing Samson.

At last the vertical bars prevented farther retreat. Then she lifted her hand slowly, steadily, and drew off her crimson mask. It dropped at her feet. Despite the muffled street-noises that never ceased to rumble from afar, the whispering sound of the silken mask, as it struck the plank floor of the cage, was distinctly audible.

"Grace!" Gregory whispered in horror—"It's Fran!"

Grace started from his embrace at the name and glared down upon the stage. She sat erect, unsupported, petrified.

Gregory's brow was moistened with a chilled dew. "It's Fran," he murmured, "It's Fran! Grace—pray for her!"

Fran looked steadily in the eyes, and Samson glared back fixedly. For a few moments, this quiver between life and death remained at the breaking point. Had a stranger at that moment looked under the tent entrance, he might have thought every body asleep. There was neither sound nor movement.

Grace whispered—"It is the hand of God!"

Her tone was almost inaudible, but Gregory shrank as from a mortal blow; its sinister meaning was unmistakable. Swiftly he turned to stare at her.

In Grace's eyes was a wild and ominous glare akin to that of the threatening lion. It was a savage conviction that Fran was at last confronted by the justice of heaven.

Suddenly Fran crouched forward till her head was almost on a level with her waist, in so much that it was a physical exertion to hold her face upright. In this sinuous position she was the embodiment of power. If she felt misgivings concerning this last resource, there was no look to betray it. Straight toward Samson she rushed, her body like and serpentine, her direction unerring.

To the beast, Fran had become one of those mysterious flying serpents which bite from afar. He felt the sting of her terrible eyes and his gaze grew shifting. It wandered away, and on returning, found her teeth bared, as if feeling for his heart.

Rushing up to his very face—"Samson!" she cried, impellingly. Again he seemed to feel the lash upon his tawny skin.

"Samson. Up, Samson, up, Samson—up!"

Suddenly Samson wheeled about, and leaped upon the table.

Fran stamped her foot at the other lion. "Go to your place, Hercules!" she cried, with something like contempt.

Hercules slowly rose, stretched himself, then marched to his box. He looked from Fran to the immovable Samson waiting upon the table, then mounted to his place, and seemed to fall asleep.

And now, at last Fran looked at the spectators. Stepping lightly to the bars, she threw kisses this way and that, smiling radiantly. "Oh!" she cried, with vibrating earnestness, "you people out there—you can't think how I love you! You've saved my life. You are perfect heroes. Now make all the noise you please."

"May we move?" called a cautious voice from a few feet away. It was Abbott Ashton, with eyes like stars.

Fran looked at him, wondering at his thoughts. She answered by an upward movement of her hand.

As though by a carefully rehearsed arrangement, the audience rose to its feet, hand boys and all. Such a shout! Such waving of hats and handkerchiefs! Such unabashed sobbing! Such inarticulate—such gasps of neighboring hands! The spectators had gone mad with joyful relief.

Fran leaped upon the table, and mounted Samson.

"Now, I'm a rough rider!" she shouted, burying her hands in the mane, and lying along the lion's back in true cowboy fashion. She plucked, she shouted loudly, but Samson only closed his eyes and seemed to sleep.

After that, making the lions return to their cramped side cages was a mere detail. The show was ended.

Fran, remaining in the empty cage, stood at the front, projecting her hand through the bars to receive the greetings of the crowd. Almost every one wanted to shake hands with her.

"Look, look!" Simon Jefferson suddenly grasped Robert Clinton's hand, and pointed toward the tent-roof. "There they are!"

Something very strange had happened up there, but it was lost to Clinton's keen jealous gaze—one of those happenings in the soul, which, however momentous, passes unobserved in the midst of the throng.

"Not so fast!" Grace cautioned Gregory. "We must wait up here till the very last—don't you see Mr. Clinton? And Simon Jefferson is now pointing us out. We can't go down that way—"

"We!" Gregory harshly echoed. "Well, I have nothing to do with you, Grace Noir. Go to him, if you will!"

Grace turned ashen pale. "What do you mean?" she stammered. "You tell me to go to Mr. Clinton?"

"I tell you to go where you please. That girl yonder is my daughter, do you understand? Don't hold me back! I shall go to her and proclaim her as my child to the world. Do you hear me? That's my Fran!"

Grace shrank back in the suspicion that Hamilton Gregory had gone mad

IRVING WAS NOT ALL MIND

English Actor One of the Most Lovable Men, According to Life-long Associate.

It has been said of Irving that he lacked feeling, that he was all mind and no heart. Speaking to me, Miss Ellen Terry said: "He is gentle, not tender." The late Henry Labouchere wrote of him that "he was always acting." Greater errors could not have been made. Irving knew enough of human nature to know that it is frequently selfish and in many ways inart, and he realized that "there is no firm to find the mind's construction in the face," but, essentially, he was one of the most loving and lovable of men—when and where he fully trusted. He was singularly sensitive to kindness, and any little token of remembrance that reached him from a friendly hand, if it were only a trifling as inconsiderable as a cravat or a cigar case, was treasured by him with a gratitude almost pathetic. But he did not "wear his heart upon his

Not Her Fault.

Mr. Robinson—What a singular girl you are, Miss Jones!

Miss Jones (cooly)—Well, that can be altered, you know.—Stray Stories.

The Gallant.

Judge: The lady from whom you stole a kiss declares herself ready to waive her demand for punishment if you will ask her pardon and express your regret for what has happened.

Gentlemen (to the offended lady)—Yes, I am willing to beg your pardon. But to regret that I gave you the kiss, dear madam, that I cannot!

Keeps Your Stove "Always Ready for Company"

A bright, clean, glossy stove is the joy and pride of every housekeeper. But it is hard to keep a stove nice and shiny—unless Black Silk Stove Polish is used. Here is the reason: Black Silk Stove Polish sticks right to the iron. It doesn't rub off or dust off. Its shine lasts four times longer than the shine of any other polish. You only need to polish one-fourth as often, yet your stove will be cleaner, brighter and better looking than it has been since you first bought it. Use on your parlor stove, kitchen stove or gas stove. Get a can from your hardware or stove dealer. If you do not find it better than any other stove polish you have ever used before, your dealer is authorized to refund your money. But we feel sure you will agree with the thousands of other up-to-date women who are now using Black Silk Stove Polish and who say it is the "best stove polish ever made."

BLACK SILK STOVE POLISH

LIQUID OR PASTE ONE QUALITY

Be sure to get the genuine. Black Silk Stove Polish costs you no more than the ordinary kind. Keep your grates, registers, fenders and stove pipes bright and clean by using Black Silk Air-Drying Enamel. Brush with each can of enamel only. Use Black Silk Metal Polish for silverware, nickel, tinware or brass. It works quickly, easily, and leaves a brilliant surface. It has no equal for use on automobiles.

Black Silk Stove Polish Works STERLING, ILLINOIS

SCHOOL NOTES.

The eighth grade pupils are studying the metric system and making all sorts of measurements and computations with a view to becoming familiar with the system.

It is expected that just previous to the high school foot ball game this afternoon the second teams of Boying City and East Jordan will play their first game.

The second spelling exercise, conducted this week shows considerable improvement on the part of each class. The results are as follows: seniors 97, juniors 93, sophomores 95, freshman 83.

Miss Winters room has been provided with new seats to accommodate the large enrollment in her room.

The literature class is now studying the authors in the Elizabethan age.

Miss Johnson was absent from school three days this week on account of illness.

County Normal Notes.

A very interesting letter was received from Merle Brecheisen, class of 1912, who is teaching near Clarion. She has a school of seven, and is getting along nicely.

Esther Walker was absent the latter part of the week on account of illness.

A letter was received from Bertie Howe. Her sisters are much better and we are glad we will have Bertie with us again Monday.

The class is enjoying two pictures, the "Divine Shepherd, by Murella, presented by the class of 1912, and the "Windmill" by Ruysdael, presented by the class of 1913.

The class is preparing a debate on the prohibiting of the saloons.

Lila Howe is assisting Miss Jarvis this week.

It is no compliment when a woman says "Oh, all men are alike!"

Before she has been married a year every woman discovers that her husband is a brute.

NEMO

THE NEW CORSET

with extremely long skirt, having elastic extensions at the back, which produce superb style with absolute ease.

Greatest figure-reducing corset, and greatest corset-value in the market.

For Sale at M. E. ASHLEY & CO'S.

St. Joseph's Church

Rev. Timothy Kroboth.

Sunday, October 19
8:00 a. m. low mass, Communion for the Ladies Altar Society.
Monday, October 20th
7:30 p. m. Meeting of the Altar Society.

Thursday, October 23rd
8:00 p. m. Meeting of Sodality and Children of Mary, in school building. Important business.

Presbyterian Church Notes

Rev. A. D. Grigsby, Pastor.

Public worship Sunday morning in the Presbyterian church at 10:30 and evening at 7:00. Sunday School at 11:45. Y. P. S. C. E. at 6:15.

Annual offering for Board of Home Missions. The needs of this board are very pressing, and increasing, and a very liberal response is asked.

The annual offering for the Board of Education will be taken at the same time.

Christian Science Church Notes.

Christian Science Society hold services in their room over the postoffice Sunday morning at 10:30; Subject of lesson "Doctrine of Attemperment."

Sunday School at 12:00 p. m.

Wednesday evening meeting at 7:30. Reading room in the same place open every Tuesday and Thursday afternoons from 2 to 4.

All are cordially invited to attend the services and visit the reading room.

First Methodist Episcopal Church

Rev. T. Porter Bennett, Pastor.

"The Appointed Way" will be the subject for the morning service. All are welcomed.

11:45 Sunday School Rally service. A good program has been provided. Let every scholar be present at the Rally Day service. A souvenir will be given to every scholar that is present. New scholars are especially invited. Parents are requested to come and unite with us in this school. If you cannot come regularly you are invited to join the Home Department, you will then receive a quarterly to study your lessons. Let us show to Mr. McDonald, our efficient superintendent, that we will make next Sunday a record day in this live up-to-date Sunday School. All are invited to be with us next Sunday.

6:15 Epworth League, Mrs. Mary Robertson, leader. You cannot afford to miss this service, try and be there.

7:00 "The Sin of Achin" will be the theme for the evening service. Come. Good singing, a live service, interest increasing. No class distinction, all are wanted.

The first Quarterly Conference will be held next Tuesday evening at 7:30. Rev. W. Kendrick will have charge of the service. Let every member of the Conference be present.

The Bible Study Class will meet on Monday evening at the parsonage. You are invited to come and assist us in the study class.

Henry A. Johnston, a business man of L'Anse, Mich., writes: "For years, Foley's Honey and Tar Compound for coughs and colds has been our family medicine. We give it to our children, who like it on account of its pleasant taste. It is a safe cure for coughs and colds." It contains no opiates. Hites Drug Store.

Even fortune comes to him who waits—it he doesn't starve to death in the meantime.

A narrow-gauge man never gets very far on a broad-gauge track.

HAVE YOU CATARRH? Is nasal breathing impaired? Does your throat get husky or clogged?

Modern science proves that these symptoms result from run down health. Snuffs and vapors are irritating and useless. You should build your general health with the oil-food in Scott's Emulsion—its nourishing powers will enrich and enliven the blood, aid nutrition and assimilation and assist nature to check the inflammation and heal the sensitive membranes which are affected. Scott's Emulsion will raise your standard of health to correct catarrh. Shun alcoholic mixtures and insist on SCOTT'S

CHARLEVOIX COUNTY HERALD

G. A. Lisk, Publisher

ONE DOLLAR PER YEAR

Entered at the postoffice at East Jordan Michigan, as second class mail matter.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 11th, 1913.

SEED DEALERS MUST OBSERVE NEW LAWS

Provisions Under Which Packages May be Sold in Michigan Hereafter.

Of particular interest to seed dealers throughout the state are the provisions of sections 2, 3, 6 and 8 of the new law regulating the sale of seeds. This law was passed by the session of the state legislature which adjourned May 15, the law going into effect August 15 of this year. The old law provided that packages under one pound in weight did not come under its restrictions while the present law lowers this limit to eight ounces.

The most important provision, however, is that it provides that all such packages of eight ounces or more that are offered for sale shall be labeled. This does not mean that it is necessary that there shall be formal printed labels although it is probable that wholesale dealers, both outside and in the state, will furnish such to retail dealers to be affixed to packages made up from the bulk seed sold by the wholesaler. The features that will require the approximate percentages by greatest care are those that require weight of purity and the approximate percentages by weight of contaminants, specifying the kinds that are present in quantities greater than one per cent and also the provision that no seed may be sold or offered for sale that contain one seed in a thousand of quack grass, Canada thistle, and the two dodders mentioned. This point will make it necessary that the seed dealers or the wholesalers from whom the smaller dealers purchase their seed must analyze their seed. In case this is done by the wholesalers or by the larger seed firms these analyses will naturally be furnished by the retail dealers either on printed reports furnished by the wholesalers or on the label itself that is attached to the lot so that the retail dealers will be able to obtain his analysis in that way. However where the retail dealer buys his seed from the growers, it will be necessary for him to make the analysis himself, he can have this made by another person who is competent to do the work, or, on payment of twenty-five cents for each sample analyzed, can have it made by the state board of agriculture or more accurately by the seed analyst appointed by the state board of agriculture and placed under the supervision of the department of botany of the college. In case the dealers make their own analysis, these should conform in general to the regulations and methods of testing used by the United States department of agriculture.

The act does not apply to growers selling seed to seed merchants or growers shipping seed to be cleaned and graded before being sold or to seed which is held in storage for the purpose of being cleaned or for seed marked "not cleaned" and held or sold for shipment outside the state. The latter, however, must conform to the government regulation governing shipment of seeds in interstate commerce.

Of interest to the consumers are the paragraphs concerning the purity of the seed. It is particularly desirable that consumers take great care not to buy seed that has not the proper labels as the very fact that this seed is not labeled should be prima facie evidence that the dealer is not conforming to the provision of the law. It should also be noted that seed containing quack grass, Canada thistle, and the dodders to the amount of one seed in two thousand is not only forbidden to be sold but also may not be sown.

Any further information concerning the law may be obtained from the secretary of the state board of agriculture, or from the department of botany at the Agricultural College, East Lansing, Mich.

Every rich man imagines he would enjoy helping his poor kin—if he hasn't any.

Not even an ingenious woman can make a really good husband out of poor material.

Occasionally a woman weighs her words—then throws in a lot for good measure.

Roy K. Moulton, the famous humorist, is now on the editorial staff of the Grand Rapids News. Old Cap Whipple Grandma Whipple, Hank Tumms, Elmer Spink, the village milliner, the town constable, the station agent and all the other "Hoppertown" characters have followed Mr. Moulton to The News.

AT THE TEMPLE THEATRE
Wednesday, Oct. 22nd

ABSOLUTELY CONTINUOUS LAUGHTER PRAISED BY EVERY DRAMATIC CRITIC IN THE COUNTRY

"The Big Record-Breaking Success" AL RICH COMEDIANS
and entire Metropolitan production of Geo. Barr McCutcheon's famous story

BREWSTER'S MILLIONS
Dramatized by Winchell Smith and Byron Ougley.

16 PEOPLE 16

PRICES, $1.00, 75c, 50c, 35c
Seats on Sale at Mack's.

MOST THRILLING YACHT SCENE EVER STAGED!

EAST JORDAN LUMBER CO. STORE

Fine Autumn Showing Of The Celebrated

"Palmer Garments"

Now on at this store.

The Very Latest and Most Authentic Styles in

Ladies', Misses' and Children's COATS and SUITS

"There is a newness and originality about these garments that bespeak individuality and good tailoring. When you try on a model that is becoming to you, you need have no further concern about the style and the quality for we guarantee every garment sold."

East Jordan Lumber Co.

Briefs of the Week

The Argo Milling Co., are receiving large quantities of corn this season.

James Gidley will give away—absolutely free—a beautiful new Piano. See particulars in this issue.

Stroebel Bros. expect a yield of 2500 bushels of corn from 25 acres. It averages about three bushels to the shock.

Captain Henry C. Plum, a resident of Charlevoix for the last twenty-five years, died in that city, Sunday, aged 70 years.

George Finucan and Miss Minnie Weaver, popular Charlevoix young people, were united in marriage at that place, Tuesday.

Frank Rebec, at the Bohemian Settlement, harvested 1700 bushels of potatoes this fall. About half of these he sold for 60c a bushel.

VIOLIN PUPILS—I have opened my studio over Stroebel's Hardware and am now ready to receive a limited number of violin pupils.—M. S. BERGER.

W. C. Walsh's private bank at Boyne Falls is closed, owing to a "run" on that institution, the fore part of the week. The bank was established six years ago. Mr. Walsh claims to be able to make good all deposits.

S. E. Burton of Minneapolis was in the city this week looking up a site for a speckled trout farm which is a profitable business at Minneapolis. He is much pleased with the soil of the surrounding country and with the general appearance of our city.

Marriage licenses issued this week were to, George Leperd, aged 20, and Eva Melee, age 16, both of Boyne City; Lee E. Sneathen, age 21, and Ila May Touse, age 16, both of Hayes Township; Claud Sutton, age 20, and Nettie Hott, age 20, both of Wilson Township; T. George Finucan, age 24, and Winifred P. Weaver, age 24, both of Charlevoix; John Devoll, age 62, and Grace Tibbils, age 42, both of Boyne Falls.

The Board of Supervisors, in session at Charlevoix this week, voted $600 toward the County Fair held in this city; also a like amount as aid to the Western Michigan Development Bureau.—Through the efforts of East Jordan supervisors, headed by W. C. Spring, of the third ward, granted East Jordan's petition for an appropriation of $1000 toward rebuilding the 700-foot bridge across the "arm."

Mrs. Charles Murphy, died at her home near Intermediate lake, South Arm township, Thursday evening. She had been a sufferer for years from tubercular trouble. Funeral services will be held from the South Arm Grange hall Sunday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock, conducted by Rev. A. D. Grigsby of this city. Deceased was born in Moorehead, Minn., in 1884, her maiden name being Ida M. Sandin. On Dec. 26th, 1903, she was united in marriage to Mr. Murphy. They came to East Jordan about two years ago; Three children were born to them, one boy and two girls, aged eight, six and four years. These, together with her husband, mother, four brothers and five sisters, are left to mourn her loss.

Auditor General Fuller has notified the state highway department that the state is not in a position to pay any more highway awards until next January, when state taxes will be paid in and the general fund of the state treasury will be reimbursed. So far this year $153,000 has been paid for state award roads and $41,000 from the trunk line highway fund. The legislature appropriated $450,000 last session for the highway fund, to be used in paying state awards. Auditor Fuller has received replies from 12 state institutions in answer to his letters, suggesting that they do not draw on their funds any more than is absolutely necessary, and all the replies are favorable.

Paul Schnelle of Hitchcock was in the city Friday.

W. M. Sheldon of Bay City is at the Russell House.

Mrs. Robert Carson is convalescing at the present.

Clyde Danforth returned from Beulah last Saturday.

W. C. Walsh of Boyne Falls was in the city, Tuesday.

H. I. McMillan was at Boyne Falls on business Thursday.

Sam Robertson of Charlotte was in the city this week.

Atty E. N. Clink was at Charlevoix Friday on business.

Miss Grace Keenholts is home from Clarion over Sunday.

A. M. Finney of Crawfordville, Ind., is in the city this week.

Mrs. A. Cameron entertained the Whist Club on Wednesday.

Miss Susie Blaha visited friends at Horton's Bay over Sunday.

Mrs. G. F. Kimball, on the West Side is visiting relatives at Alpena.

Mrs. L. Bala and Miss Belle Roy were at Boyne Falls Thursday.

Fabian Lalonde left Tuesday for Pontiac where he has employment.

C. A. Brabant and Dan Goodman were at Charlevoix on Tuesday.

Mrs. A. Wood of Charlevoix is guest of Mrs. M. E. Heston for a week.

M. Kling of Frederic was in the City on business Thursday and Friday.

The Boiler Inspectors of the Iron Furnace were in the city this week.

Mrs. Elmer Grennon will leave first of the week for her home at Detroit.

Miss Jeanette Morrow of Central Lake is guest of her sister, Mrs. T. Joynt.

Paul, little son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Henry, is under a physician's care this week.

Wm. Pickard was called to Traverse City this week by the death of his mother.

Len Swafford will move his family into the Fred Palmiter house next Monday.

Mrs. John O'Neil of Phelps was guest of her daughter, Mrs. P. Hipp, this week.

Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Waterman and Bert Holbeck and wife drove to Petoskey Sunday.

Mrs. John Severance of Gaylord will spend Sunday with Misses Agnes and Carrie Porter.

Mrs. M. Misqnar has sold her farm on the State road to Mrs. St. Charles who will occupy same.

Wm. Nachazel, who is employed at Charlevoix, was at home over Sunday, guest of his parents.

Mrs. Chester Thompson left this week for Grand Rapids where she joined her husband.

Jos. Cummins and family have moved this week into their home just purchased on Fifth street.

Mrs. Taylor of Green River, who has been guest of Mr. and Mrs. M. Tyner, returned home Tuesday.

Mrs. Herman Goodman was called to Ubley, Mich., on Thursday by the illness of her grandmother.

Mrs. Love went to Traverse City and Sutton's Bay Saturday last called there by the illness of a nephew.

Mrs. R. Supernaw entertained a few of the school teachers at her home on Third St. Thursday evening.

Mrs. Jane Carver, of Elk Rapids, mother of Mrs. Geo. Bell, is expected here today for an extended visit.

Dr. G. W. Baeholdt was at Bellaire Tuesday, to meet his parents who have just returned from their trip abroad.

Mrs. Sarah Gifford returned to her home at Bancroft on Tuesday after a weeks visit with her sister, Mrs. Geo. Miles.

Edith Ramsey returned from Traverse City this week, after a two weeks visit with her brother, George, and family.

Atty E. N. Clink and the Misses Belle Roy, Gladys Kenny and Verschel Lorraine drove to Charlevoix, Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Berger now occupy rooms over Stroebel's Hardware Mrs. Berger joined her husband here last week, coming from Flint.

Mrs. J. L. Weisman assisted by Miss Jennie Boosinger entertained the Electric Club at her home on Second St., Thursday evening. About forty were present. A good musical program was much enjoyed and refreshments were served. About $4.00 was received toward the piano.

Asa Loveday went to Lansing Thursday.

The Chemical Plant resumed work this week.

Miss Irene McGuirk is clerking at Weisman's.

Wm. Stroebel drove to Petoskey Sunday last.

Fred Bennett was at Charlevoix on Thursday.

Mrs. E. Smatts returned from Central Lake this week.

Mrs. M. Chaplin was a Charlevoix visitor Tuesday last.

C. A. Hudson is out on his farm this week harvesting apples.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Muma now occupy their old home on Main St.

Mrs. Sandy Dean was guest of friends at Traverse City last week.

Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Loveday returned from Charlevoix Thursday.

Mrs. H. Rosenthal returned home from Traverse City, Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Weisman returned home from Petoskey Sunday.

Roy Blair of Iron Mountain is in the city this week guest of relatives.

Mrs. Geo. Crouter of Charlevoix was calling on relatives here, Tuesday.

W. A. Stroebel and R. O. Bisbee were at Boyne Falls on business Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Trumble returned this week from their southern trip.

Allison Pinney now has employment in a razor strop factory at Adrian.

Mrs. A. F. Bridge of Charlevoix was guest of friends in the city Tuesday.

Guy Hunsberger and wife of Petoskey are guests of their parents for a time.

Miss Olive Hunsberger returned from a weeks outing at Petoskey, Wednesday.

Ray McDonald of Central Lake was guest of his brother, R. T., over Sunday last.

John Fortune of Frankfort, Ind., is guest of his brother, W. G., and family, this week.

Mrs. Thomas Joynt returned from a visit with her relatives at Central Lake last week.

Miss Edna Thompkins, who is teaching near Traverse City is home for two weeks vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. John Dolezel returned home from a visit with Mancelona friends Monday.

Miss Isabella Reed, teacher of Bellaire school spent Sunday at the home of Mrs. A. Hilliard.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Pinney drove to Bay Shore on Sunday last guest of her brother and family.

Mrs. Barricks went to Bay City Tuesday to join her husband who has employment there.

Miss Eileen Gunsolus is rooming at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Pinney and going to school.

Miss Anna Sagorske returned home to Charlevoix Thursday after a week's visit with Emma Nachazel.

Mrs. Austin Bartlett received word Thursday of a legacy left her by the death of a relative in Germany.

Martin Hart, Electrical Engineer, left on Friday morning for a ten days visit with his family at Fenton, Mich.

Mr. and Mrs. Mickie, Miss Rosella Friend, and Elmer Gate, all of Bellaire, were guests of East Jordan friends on Sunday last.

Mrs. Fairchilds of Scottville, Mich., is guest of Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Robertson for a few days this week. She was a former resident here.

Mrs. John Adams and daughter of Lansing who have been guests at Mrs. S. L. Gregory's, for a week returned to her home Wednesday.

Mrs. C. Huggard shipped her household goods to Newberry this week, and after a short visit with Ironton relatives, the family will follow.

Bert Reid, of the Reid-Graff Plumbing Co., went to Rogers City, Wednesday, where they have a contract to install a heating system in a school house.

Miss Agatha Kenny entertained about twenty-five of her friends to a hap-hazard party, Wednesday evening, in honor of Miss Sagorske of Charlevoix.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Davis, who have been guest of their brother, M. H. Robertson, and family left last week for a visit with Archie Creigo, their son, at Clarion.

A. W. Peck and wife of Traverse City, start from Alba Saturday morning on a hunting and fishing trip up the Manistee River, Austin Bartlett going as guide.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Carr drove to Boyne Falls Friday, and brought Miss Rita, who is teaching near there home to spend Sunday. Mrs. Gray of that place accompanied them.

The hares has lots of competition.

Moss are like trees; they grow either crooked or straight.

Do bad fish that bite on Sunday deserve to get the hook?

Monday, Columbus Day, was a holiday at St. Joseph's School.

Y. M. HOLLAND HERRING in Bulk at VOTRUBA'S CASH STORE.

Get your DISHES this week. Ask about it.—M. E. ASHLEY & CO.

MARE FOR SALE—Enquire of Mrs. A. Ashbaugh, East Jordan, Mich.

Mrs. C. E. Mills of Ann Arbor was a visitor at C. S. Pinneys, the latter part of last week.

Ask about ATHENA UNDERWEAR $1.00 union suits in all styles.—M. E. ASHLEY & CO.

Jordan Court, Tribe of Ben Hur, will give a Dance at the Sherman Hall next Friday, October 24th. Everybody invited.

Call at Gidley's Pharmacy and look over their FREE PIANO. Play on it; test it; and then enter your name in the contest.

HOUSE FOR RENT—Five-room house with woodshed, City water in kitchen. Stone's Addition.—E. A. LEWIS.

HOUSE WIRING—We are now prepared to do your Electric Light Wiring, either for a new system or repairing. Work guaranteed to be first class.—GEORGE SPENCER.

FOR RENT—The residence on my farm near Cooperage. House in good condition, with good cellar, sheds and well. Will furnish single-line telephone. Only $6.25 per month IRA D. BARTLETT.

The Ladies Auxillary of the L. D. S. Church will serve a Chicken Pie supper in the church on the West Side, Thursday evening, October 23rd, there will be some Fancy Work also some aprons on sale. Supper 10c and 20c. Everyone welcome.

A very beautiful, Irish-lace, hand-made lady's collar and cuffs, the work of Miss Agnes O'Neil, was presented to the Catholic Ladies' Bazaar. They are on exhibition at Miss G. Senecal's store and constitutes one of the prizes at the Catholic ladies' bazaar next month.

Beautiful FUR SETS or separate pieces at prices to suit all—$3.70 to $200.00.—M. E. ASHLEY & CO.

To Be Faultlessly Dressed

Requires more than cloth, cut and needle. Symmetry enters largely into its requirement and study of the human figure is imperative. There's a certain "hang" and "snappiness" about some women's garments that always gives the impression of faultlessness.

Search for the label of these attractive garments and you will find

LA VOGUE

Then come to our store and we will demonstrate that faultlessness on your personal form.

L. WEISMAN

Our Students

Were registered from 12 States this year. Every year our patronage increases. The popularity of this great school grows rapidly as the work done by our students becomes better known.

Its equipment is unsurpassed. Its system of instruction is time-tried and up-to-the-minute. The success of its graduates is a living tribute to a Business School most worthy in every particular.

Nearly 400 Students placed in positions annually. GET OUR BEAUTIFUL CATALOG

McLachlan BUSINESS UNIVERSITY

110-118 PEARL STREET GRAND RAPIDS, MICHIGAN

Get a "Safety Lifter" at this office.

HOW TO SECURE THIS $350 PIANO FREE

I will give certificates with every cash purchase at my store, so enter your name as a contestant or help your friend, lodge, school, church or Sunday school to win this beautiful Piano.

My prices will remain the same, low as ever. It will not cost you one penny more to trade with me. Besides I will offer many special bargains during the contest. My stock will be more complete than ever.

Cut out the coupon at the bottom of this advertisement, fill it in properly, mail or bring it to my store. Then collect your certificates and get your friends to help you, and deposit them to your credit at my store Wednesday of each week. The Piano will be given to the one securing the greatest number of certificates between Monday, Oct. 20, 1913, and April 30, 1914.

Come to the store today and see the Piano. Play on it, test it, then enter your name in the contest and commence saving certificates.

(FILL OUT, CUT OUT, AND MAIL OR BRING TO OUR STORE)

Cut out, sign name and bring to the store today.

NOMINATION COUPON

JAMES GIDLEY, EAST JORDAN, MICH.

I wish to nominate as a candidate in your Piano contest,

I understand that this is merely a nomination, not a vote, and does not obligate me in any way.

Name _____

Date _____ Address _____

James Gidley, Druggist

STATE BANK OF EAST JORDAN

Capital $50,000 Surplus $4,100

4 PER CENT

PAID ON DEPOSITS

Officers
W. P. Porter, President
W. L. French, Vice Pres
Geo. G. Glenn, Cashier
Directors W. P. Porter, W. L. French,
Chas. M. Schaffer, F. M. Severance,
M. H. Robertson, Carl Stroebel, Fred
Smith, B. E. Waterman, Geo. G. Glenn
WE WANT YOUR BUSINESS.

Western Michigan logo with text: A Region that is Rapidly Developing as a Fruit Growing and General Farming Section

A WESTERN MICHIGAN PEAR ORCHARD.

When the census enumerators went around in 1920 they found nearly a quarter of a million pear trees in the county...

GOOD CROP OF FRUIT

PROFESSOR EUSTACE FINDS CONDITIONS VERY ENCOURAGING.

Fair Crop of Summer and Fall Apples and an Exceptional Crop of Winter Apples Promised—Peach Crop Smaller.

Prof. H. J. Eustace, head of the horticultural department of the Michigan Agricultural college, after an inspection tour over the fruit-growing sections of the state...

Among the many observations made by Prof. Eustace during his trip was that there is appearing a summer population in western Michigan that is getting a good income from orchards...

"Ohio men," he said, "are getting their living from Michigan's fruit lands. They come to our state in the summer and return in the fall. They have seen the possibilities of profit in Michigan fruits, something that our own folks have not learned, although we are right on the ground."

AGRICULTURE IN SCHOOLS

Special Instruction to Be Given in Many Schools in Western Michigan.

The agricultural development of western Michigan will move along apace this year with the opening of school in the cities and villages of the territory. Last season agriculture was taught in no less than a dozen of the schools of the region.

SEAMEN'S MEMORIAL

New Stone Tower Light House at Vineyard Haven.

Boston Seamen's Friend Society Erect It in Memory of the Dead of the Merchant Marine—Chaplain Originates Idea.

Boston.—A unique and striking memorial structure is the new stone tower in the form of a lighthouse, erected at Vineyard Haven, Martha's Vineyard, in memory of dead seamen of the merchant marine...

The chaplain, Madison Edwards, originated the idea of such a memorial five years ago. Funds to the amount of nearly $500 were collected from the seamen in the harbor...

Stone Tower at Vineyard Haven, Erected as Memorial to Sailors of Merchant Marine.

wards and some of the visiting sailors in hoisting into place the cap that crowns the tower. This cap alone weighs about a ton...

HOTELS HIS WAITING ROOM

St. Louis Rural Visitor Camps in Lobbies of Big Hostels to "Wait for Train."

St. Louis.—A rural visitor from "near Jefferson City," six feet three inches tall, and imbued with a be-killed Labor day spirit...

The clerk explained that trains did not pass the hotel, and asked a policeman to direct the ruralite to the Union station. An hour later guests at another large hotel saw the stranger walk in, remove his shoes and settle down for a quiet sleep.

Would Marry a Poor Girl.

Vieña.—Because he learned that his fiancée, Mrs. Gustav Mahler, widow of the composer, had a private income of $10,000 a year...

Wife Forced Him to Cook.

New York.—Answering his wife's separation suit, Goodwin Rosenblum of this city filed a similar countersuit charging that his wife compelled him to cook his own meals, wash and do dishes and scrub the floors.

BISHOP'S POINT WELL MADE

Rebuke to Which It is Hard to See How the Curate Could Make an Answer.

Bishop Oliphant of Llandaff had a well-to-do young man as curate who had rather sporting instincts. He kept his own horses and always drove tandem. The bishop disapproved, and decided to administer a rebuke on a favorable opportunity.

"I really must protest," said the bishop, "at your driving about in such a manner."

"Well, my lord," said the curate, "you are driving two horses, and so am I. What is the difference?"

"After a few moments' reflection Bishop Oliphant replied: 'If, when you are, at prayers at the cathedral, the congregation placed their hands in the same position as you have placed your horses what would become of the dignity and solemnity of the service?'"

Had His Goat, Evidently.

A Springfield man, replying to his wife's petition for divorce, says: "Defendant states that the plaintiff is much better qualified than the defendant to carry her part in nagging contests; that she commands a better and more extensive vocabulary than the defendant, and simply overwhelms him with her complaints and reproaches; and she was so master of her feelings that she could readily pass from storm to sunshine, from abuse to tears, from harsh language to tenderness, and from nagging to pleading."

Quiet English Parish.

The tiny parish of Clannahorough, North Devon, England, a little village, has a population of only 42, so that baptisms, marriages and burials are not very frequent.

The first marriage ceremony for 15 years took place, but even then the couple were not parishioners, the bride coming from St. Austell, the bridegroom, whose home is at Exmouth, being the rector's brother-in-law.

Their Two Industries.

Vacational (at seaport town)—What do you do here in summer? Native—Loaf and fish. V.—And in the winter? N.—We cut out the fishin'.

In the Stilly Night.

Country Innkeeper—Did you hear the fight out in front about one o'clock this mornin'?

Poverty of Idea.

Madeline—Why, Mrs. Beauway; are you back? Mrs. Beauway—Yes, dear; are you?—Judge.

Few men are prominent enough to claim that they were misquoted.

Few men are prominent enough to claim that they were misquoted.

The less a man amounts to the larger he shows up in a group photograph.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children teething, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, allays pain, cures wind colic, 25c a bottle.

It is something difficult to forget the mean things we know about ourselves.

Foley Kidney Pills Suggested

because they are a good honest medicine that cannot help but heal kidney and bladder ailments and urinary irregularities, if they are once taken into the system. Try them now for positive and permanent help.

Advertisement for Hirth-Krause Company shoes, featuring an image of a shoe and text: As Good As It Looks and Better. Rouge Rex shoes have proved their worth to thousands.

Advertisement for Spohn's Medical Co. featuring a circular logo and text: For DISTEMPER Pink Eye, Epizootic Shipping Fever & Catarrhal Fever.

Remarkable. "I had pneumonia when I was a child, and it was the most unexpected thing that ever happened to me." "I had pneumonia when I was a child, and it was the most unexpected thing that ever happened to me."

The Food Route To Steady Health

Advertisement for Grape-Nuts cereal, featuring text: Many people are kept ill because they do not know how to select food that their own particular bodies will take up and build upon. Grape-Nuts is a safe and very sure road back to health.

HANDLING AN APPLE CROP SUCCESSFULLY

Japanese Ladder.

(By W. H. UNDERWOOD.)
In handling the apple crop successfully it is important to have a sufficient number of ladders, receptacles, sorting tables and all accessories on hand. The early apple must be gathered and shipped promptly. They may be sent to market in one-third, one-half, or one bushel boxes or baskets; but a little later these small packages are not wanted and the three bushel barrel is the proper thing.

Prices are most always good at the beginning of the apple season, even for green cookers, and this induced some to pick and ship half-grown Ben Davis and other winter varieties. But experience has proven that this is folly, as the market is soon overloaded with poor, green apples and the returns are next to nothing.

This glut is apt to continue as long as the warm weather lasts; because there are so many neglected orchards neither sprayed or cultivated, in which the apples begin falling from the trees early; and they are picked and rushed to market to avoid loss from this cause.

In picking apples some prefer the use of baskets while others prefer sacks. However, they both have their advantages and disadvantages. The advantage of using a basket lies entirely in the fact that the apples are carefully placed in the same they are not bruised and the blooms if there be any are not rubbed off.

The objections to the baskets are that they are not so handy as the sacks and that careless pickers are disposed to toss apples into them as they hang on a limb or stand upon the ground several feet away.

The advantage of using a sack is that it can be slung over the shoulder with a strap and the mouth kept open with a part of a barrel hoop basket from the limbs, thus enabling the picker to use both hands.

In picking apples every specimen should be handled as carefully as if it were an egg. I usually have my apples picked and piled under the trees in the shade and take the barrels to the orchard and pack as fast as possible. When the barrels are filled and headed I haul to the shed and stow away in as cool a place as possible, until I get enough to fill a car.

The packing should be done by an experienced hand as this is of great importance and is always the danger point. A layer of uniform apples even in size and color should be placed on the inside of the barrel and another layer of similar fruit put on top and the facers and the barrel filled with fruit free from defects of any kind. It is very important that the barrel be well shaken each time a basketful of fruit is put in as the fruit will be tight in the barrel and require less pressing of the head and consequently less bruising of the fruit.

Wolf Apples.

The markets are not filled with an overproduction of good fruit. It is the overproduction of poor fruit that knocks down the price of good fruit.

There is never a time that a large, well-matured apple will not bring a fancy price in any market. And when nothing but this class is put into a barrel a handsome profit is realized. Retailers buy fruit from its outward appearance and when they purchase a package of seemingly nice fruit and find on opening it that inferior stuff is packed between, that does the grower as far as that man is concerned.

Feed Fowl Meat.

Meat in some form must be fed to poultry; they must have animal matter. Fowls running on free ranges where insects are plentiful obtain a sufficient supply of animal matter, but those kept in closer quarters must be given this food in another form. Finely chopped fresh meat is an excellent bone and muscle builder for the young stock, but should not be fed more than two or three times a week. Green bone, cut freshly just before feeding, is equally as beneficial, but must also be fed with judgment as to how much and how often. Meat foods assist feather, bone, muscle, and comb development, consequently too much is apt to cause too much forcing along these lines.

Dried Corn.

Sweet corn may be dried in the same way as beans. Prime sweet corn, when properly dried, properly stored and nicely cooked, is excellent and is preferred by some to canned corn. Select corn that is just right for table. Be sure it is not too old. Husk it and carefully remove all silks. Plunge the corn into boiling water, and allow it to cook four or five minutes. Cut it from the cob, and put it on plates or trays to dry.

Winter Radishes.

Winter radishes are not as generally produced as they should be. When grown in moist, fertile soil they are tender, succulent and most delicious. Both white and colored varieties are grown in American gardens. The seed should be sown in August in fat, well-prepared soil.

Single Rail Ladder, Very Light.

sewed into the edge of the mouth and partly around the opening, allowing the picker to easily carry it and use both hands.

The objections are that the blooms are likely to be rubbed off the fruit and the shifting of the sack puts many small bruises on the apples where they rub against each other which, with light colored or delicate skinned varieties is quickly noticed. I prefer the baskets. My baskets are the round half-bushel kind with drop handles. I had an iron hook made for each one, which is attached to the handle to suspend the

U. S. MOST WONDERFUL LAND

Resident of Bombay Says He Regards America Most Remarkable Nation on Earth.

Washington.—"India, to Americans the most wonderful country in the world, is not nearly so interesting as the United States," remarked J. B. Rose of Bombay, a practitioner of the new science of chiropractic, who with his American wife is making a tour of this country, and is at the Raleigh.

Full Dress Costume of the Children of Mr. Rose's Home Land.

"Many Americans have told me that they enjoyed India more than any other country," he continued. "I cannot understand it, for I look upon this country as the most remarkable nation on earth. If I were to select a place to live, I should pick Washington as the most delightful city. It is far more beautiful, cleaner, and more interesting than any city I have visited in this country; and as for Europe, there is no city that can compare with it. Bombay and Calcutta, the two principal cities of India, are exceedingly interesting and curious, I have no doubt. I was born in Bombay. My father was a Hindu and my mother an American of Scotch-Irish parentage. When I was a boy I went among the sick and I found that I was deeply interested. I studied the science of chiropractic and have practiced it for several years. There are very few chiropractors in the United States. In India the science is growing rapidly in popularity. It is an advanced form of osteopathy, and it is claimed that many diseases can be permanently cured by it. It is a simple method of adjusting the spine, which as we know, is the seat of the nervous system.

"Calcutta is the most modern city in India," added Doctor Rose. "It has skyscrapers, improved streets, sewerage, public utilities, including trams, electric lights, and telephones, and while the climate is exceedingly hot, it is invariably tempered by daily rainfalls. Our hotels are not so modern, perhaps, as the best hotels of your principal cities, but life is pleasant in the cities of India.

"Mohammedanism, perhaps, received a severe blow when the war against Turkey in Europe drove the religion out of Europe," concluded Doctor Rose. "I am a Mohammedan, and nothing could ever persuade me to change my religion, but I am forced to the belief that the victory over the Turks will in all probability lead to many of them changing their faith. Mohammedanism, however, will flourish as long as the world lasts."

SPOILS OF ATHENS FROM SEA

Ancient Treasures of Fabulous Value Found on Ship Off Tunis—Cargo of Sculpture.

London.—Sunken art treasures of fabulous value have just been recovered from the wreck of a ship off Madhia on the Tunisian coast.

Tunisian ships sent to investigate the report of Greek sponge fishers found a sunken vessel of about 400 tons, 100 feet long and 25 broad. She was laden with an extraordinary cargo, consisting of blocks of marble, bases and capitals for columns, cippi, statues, furniture, tiles, leaden piping, lamps, amphorae, etc.

Among the fragments were found figures of a demigod and a maiden and faun, which correspond almost exactly with the Borghese vase dug up in Rome and now in the Louvre. A Hermes of Dionysos bears the signature "Boethos," the sculptor of the celebrated "Child With a Goose" of the second century B. C.

In the bottom of the hold the treasure seekers found about 60 columns of bluish-white marble 13 feet high. All the inscriptions deciphered relate to Attica and personages of the middle fourth century B. C.

Some writing on lead ingots also is in the Latin of that epoch and experts have concluded that the vessel was loaded in Attica for Rome and probably the cargo was the spoil after the sacking of Athens by Sulla in 86 B. C.

Deprive Town of Water.

Denver.—In an effort to kill off the new town of Hamoun, where the sale of liquor is permitted, prohibitionists of Colorado Springs cut off Ramona's water supply, it is alleged. An investigation is under way.

PRETTY NAMES FOR BOOKS

Real Old-Time Titles Sound Decidedly Strange to the Eye of the Reader Today.

The following are some of the curious titles of old English books:

"A Most Delectable Sweet Perfumed Nosegay for God's Saints to Smell At."

"Biscuit Baked in the Oven of Charity. Carefully Conserved for the Chickens of the Church, the Sparrows of the Spirit, and the Sweet Swallows of Salvation."

"A Sigh of Sorrow for the Sinners of Zion Breathed Out of a Hole in the Wall of an Earthly Vessel Known Among Men by the Name of Samuel Fish" (a Quaker who had been imprisoned).

"Eggs of Charity Layed for the Chickens of the Covenant and Boiled With the Water of Divine Love. Take Ye Out and Eat."

"The Spiritual Mustard Pot to Make the Soul Sneezes With Devotion."

Most of these were published in the time of Cromwell.—London Strand.

Important to Mothers
Examine carefully every bottle of CASTORIA, a safe and sure remedy for infants and children, and see that it bears the Signature of Dr. J. C. Fletcherson In Use For Over 30 Years.

Children Cry for Fletcher's Castoria

After a Pleasant Evening.

Mr. Sydney Buxton told an amusing story for the purpose of illustrating a point at a recent dinner. A certain convivial soul, who had been invited to dine with a friend, whose house was at the end of a dark and muddy lane, was advised to bring a big lantern. After a very jovial evening the convivial one left and struggled home through the mud, firmly gripping his heavy burden by the handle. Next morning he received this message from his host: "Here, with your lantern; please return parrot and cage."

Scorned.

"It's true, Miss Plummer, that I should not have tried to kiss you on such a slight acquaintance and I am heartily sorry. What can I do in palliation of my offense?"

"If you are sincere, Mr. Pinhead, in what you say, you might betake yourself to some other part of the lawn and leave the coast clear for a man I see approaching who has the reputation of getting what he goes after."

After the Premiere.

"You're a gay kind of a friend!" said Whimper to Wigglesworth. "Laughing like a hyena all through the first act of my tragedy!"

"Tragedy? Tragedy?" echoed Wigglesworth. "Why, Whimper, old man, I really was trying to help you! I thought all along the darned thing was a very amusing farce!"—Judge.

Rejected.

He—Be mine and you will make me the happiest man in the world.
She—I'm very sorry; but unfortunately I want to be happy myself.

Bulky.

"That fat man over there used to be a page in the Senate."
"A page, eh! Well, he's grown into a volume now."

WINCHESTER
REPEATING SHOTGUNS.
Winchester Repeating Shotguns are not only safe to shoot; but sure to shoot. They are easy to load or unload, easy to take down or put together, and strong and reliable in every way. That's why the U. S. Ordnance Board endorsed them as being safe, sure, strong and simple. Over 450,000 satisfied sportsmen are using them.
Stick to a Winchester and You Won't Get Stuck Winchester Game and Winchester Ammunition—the Red Brand—are Made for Each Other and Sold Everywhere W

Constipation Vanishes Forever
Prompt Relief—Permanent Cure
CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS never fail. Purely vegetable but gently on the liver. Stop after dinner—cure indigestion, improve the complexion, brighten the eyes
SMALL PILL, SMALL DOSE, SMALL PRICE
Genuine must bear Signature W. Wood

HIDES TANNED
For Hides and Coats
Send us your Cat and Horse Hides, or any skins you have, and we will make you a Fine Coat, Robe or Fur Suit at a reasonable price.
We have one of the largest Fur Coat and Robe Factories in the country, and tan and dress in our own plant all the hides and skins we use. We can therefore handle your custom work in the very best manner. All hides are soft and pliable when finished. We guarantee our work. Send for our circular. Write now.
HUGH WALLACE CO.
Custom Department
2636 E. Grand Boulevard
Detroit, Michigan

READERS of this paper desiring to buy anything advertised in its columns should insist upon having what they ask for, refusing all substitutes or imitations.

Like a Balloon.

Apreros of the divorce evil, Dr. Herbert M. Shisholm, the Reno statistician, said with a sigh:

"An exhaustive study of divorce statistics forces me to the belief that the average woman's heart is like a toy balloon—lighter than air, and most restless men tied to somebody."

Speak Louder.

An old farmer in Ayrshire had a habit of feigning deafness when he wanted to avoid answering an awkward question. One day a neighbor said to him:

"I'd like to borrow your cart this morning; mine is having a spring mended."

"You'll have to speak louder," the old farmer answered. "I don't hear very well—and I don't like to lend my cart, anyhow."—Glasgow Spy.

Plaint of a Plant.

"But, your honor, my wife won't let me work."

"Won't let you work?"

"No; I got a job last week, and she made me quit."

"What kind of a position was it?"

"At the burlesque theater, sitting in the audience where a soubrette could come down twice a day and kiss me."—Judge.

An Endearing Act.

Wife (pleading)—I'm afraid, Jack, you do not love me any more—anyway, not as well as you used to.

Husband—Why?
Wife—Because you always let me get up to light the fire now.
Husband—Nonsense, my love! Your getting up to light the fire makes me love you all the more.

Knocking, as a profession, is badly overcrowded.

He who has no mind to trade with the devil should be so wise as to keep away from his shop.

Some people carry economy crase to excess. A dispatch records attempts of a man to fit new bristles to an old toothbrush.

Can't Buy Those.

"I suppose your neighbors, the New-riches, have the best of everything."
"Yes, except manners."

Conditional.

"Figures can't lie."
"Well, that depends on whether they are on paper or in a bathing suit."—Exchange.

Tommy's Hands.

Ma—Tommy, did you wash your hands this morning?
Tommy—I washed one of them, mother. The other didn't need it.

A Steady One.

"There is one enterprise into which everybody manages to get."
"What is that?"
"The directory."

Nothing To It.

"I believe in calling a spade a spade."
"Guess you might as well. I've never been able to pass one off for a diamond or a heart."

His Idea.

Coed—I don't think clothes makes the man!
College Man—Nor I. I think it all depends on the cigarettes he smokes.

Post Toasties
Bully Good—Breakfast, Lunch or Supper
Ready to eat direct from package with cream and sugar—sometimes add fruit.
A genuine treat that meets favor with guests and home folks.
Sold by Grocers Everywhere!
Post Toasties

Authority Styles

Add the finishing touch to the well dressed man.

$400 to $600 in all the newest shapes.

C. A. HUDSON

JORDAN COURT No. 131
TRIBE OF BEN HUR.

Regular meetings second and fourth Wednesdays of each month.
Visiting members welcome.

Frank Phillips

Tonsorial Artist.

When in need of anything in my line
call in and see me.

Dr. G. W. Bechtold
DENTIST

Office, Second Floor of Kimball Block.
Office Hours: 8:00 to 12 a. m., 1:00 to 5:00 p. m.
Evenings by Appointment.

Dr. C. H. Pray
Dentist

Office Hours:
8 to 12 a. m. 1 to 5 p. m.
And Evenings.

Phone No. 223

Dr. F. P. Ramsey

Physician and Surgeon.

Graduate of College of Physicians and Surgeons of the University of Illinois.

OFFICE SHERMAN BLOCK
East Jordan, Mich.
Phone No. 196.

THE FINEST IN THE STATE

Is the big modern plant recently purchased from the Booth Fisheries Co. by A. T. Washburne and located at foot of "Midway" on the bay shore, as a permanent home for the constantly increasing business in the manufacture of "Sanitary Rugs from old Carpets" (trade mark established 1899) in which line a trade has been successfully established all over the United States on the excellence of products.
This also gives much needed room to the Carpet Cleaning and Refitting department, which includes a large sterilizing abattoir for purifying rugs and carpets. The cleaning department is fully equipped with all modern and time saving machinery devices run by electricity. Two of the largest rotary renovating machines for general cleaning and a powerful Vacuum machine 100 per cent times more powerful and efficient than the portable ones this latter is for the rugs and oriental. The plant is also equipped with three machines for the sewing of carpets of all kinds in the most approved manner with fine elastic seams. Thus with the largest facilities, most up-to-date equipment, highest grade of workmanship, lowest possible prices, and prompt service, bespeaks a busy future for the Petoskey Rug Co. of which A. T. Washburne is proprietor and to which address all orders and correspondence should be addressed. NO AGENTS. -Petoskey Evening News, April 13, 1911. -Make your purchases as early as possible.

APPLE RECIPES

DELICIOUS HEALTH-GIVING APPLE RECIPES
EACH TESTED BY AN EXPERT IN DOMESTIC ECONOMY. □ □ □ □ □ □ □ □

PART 5.

APPLES WITH OATMEAL.

Core apples, leaving large cavities, pare and cook in a syrup made by boiling one cup of sugar with one and one-half cups of water for five minutes. When the apples are soft, drain and fill cavities with the hot, well-cooked meal, and serve with cream and sugar.

APPLES A LA PARISIENNE.

Pare several sour apples, cut them in half crosswise and remove the cores. Cook them with one cupful of sugar to one cupful of water, taking care to retain the shape. Drain the apples and set each half on a round stale sponge cake, sprinkle with orange juice and either orange or peach marmalade. Cover the apple with a mer-ingue and some chopped almonds and set in the oven to brown delicately. Serve either hot or cold.

APPLE PAN DOWDY.

Lane a baking dish with thin slices of buttered bread. Fill in the center with sliced apples, sprinkle over the top four tablespoons of dark brown sugar and one-half teaspoon of cinnamon. Add one-half a cup of water and cover with another layer of buttered bread, with the buttered side up. Bake for one hour in a moderate oven.
Serve with liquid pudding sauce.

APPLE PRALINES.

Core and peel six apples and cook in one and one-half cups of sugar and two cups of water. Make a candy of one cup of sugar, a little water and one-half cup of minced nuts. When this begins to caramel, put a spoonful on the top of each apple. Pour the syrup in which the apples were cooked over the apples and serve with whipped cream.

APPLE PONE.

Pare and chop fine one quart of sweet apples. Pour a pint of boiling water over one quart of white oatmeal; when cool, add enough sweet milk to make a very soft batter; add two tablespoons of sugar and one-half teaspoonful of salt. Add the apples and pour into a well-buttered pan, cover and bake in a moderate oven for two hours.

PORCUPINE APPLES.

Select apples of equal size. Pare, core and cook in syrup made of one cup of water to each half cup of sugar. Boil syrup down and pour in it. Stud with blanched almonds; fill the centers with jelly. Arrange on a large plate with rolled wafers between apples.

APPLE PUNCH.

Cut six tart apples in quarters; core, but do not pare; put into a preserving kettle and add one cup of raisins, two bay leaves, a small piece of stick cinnamon, the grated rind of three lemons and two quarts of cold water; let come to a boil and add two quarts more of cold water, cover and let boil for thirty minutes; drain through a muslin bag. When cold add the juice of three lemons and two pounds of sugar; stir until the sugar is dissolved. When ready to serve add a little shaved ice.

RAISED APPLE BISCUIT.

Scald one cup of milk, add one tablespoon of sugar and one tablespoon of butter; let cool. Add one-half cake of yeast dissolved in warm water, one teaspoonful of salt and one cup of flour. Let rise, add cup of apple, pared and grated, and one cup of flour sifted with one-half teaspoon of soda. Let rise for one hour. Shape into two flat cakes, let them double their bulk, bake in hot oven, split while hot and butter. Serve hot with sugar and butter.

APPLES IN RICE CUPS.

Boil rice in salted water until tender. Half fill coffee cups and let stand until cold. Stand in a pan of hot water until they will slip from cup easily. Scoop out a small place and lay a quarter of an apple that has been cooked in a rich syrup in the cavity. Serve with the apple syrup or cream.

APPLE RELISH.

Three pounds of apples diced with the skins on. Take three pounds of sugar, one pound raisins, one pound pecans, two oranges, remove peeling and grind in meat grinder; then cut the oranges in to small pieces. Cook for one hour, adding the nuts five minutes before removing from the stove.

APPLE SCHMARREN.

Make a batter of one tablespoon of pastry flour, two tablespoons of milk, a pinch of salt and a well-beaten egg. Slice into this batter one good sized apple. Put into a frying pan one tablespoon of clear lard, heat it and pour in the batter, fry a nice brown and serve with powdered sugar.

APPLE SHERBET.

Boil one quart of apples in a pint of water until soft. Mash through a sieve. Add the juice of one orange and one lemon, half a pound of sugar and a quart of water. Beat well and freeze. When it becomes like slush, add the well-beaten white of one egg and finish freezing.

CRAB APPLE SHERBET.

Put two quarts of quartered crab apples over the fire with enough water to keep them from burning. Cover and let simmer until tender; drain as for jelly. Boil one quart of water and one pint of sugar for twenty minutes from the time that it begins to boil. When cool, add one pint of the crab apple juice and the juice of one lemon and freeze.

SPICED CRAB APPLES.

Select round Siberian or Transcendent crabs with the stems on.
Boil three pounds of sugar and one and one-half pints of cider vinegar to a rich syrup; Add two ounces of stick cinnamon. Drop a few of the apples into the syrup, turn and cook until tender, remove and place in jars; continue until the apples are all used; boil the syrup down and pour over the fruit. If the crab apples are very ripe it is better to steam them until tender; place in jars and pour the syrup over them.

SAUSAGES AND FRIED APPLES.

Prick the sausages well with a fork. Place in a deep frying pan; pour in enough boiling water to cover the bottom; cover and cook over a moderate fire. When the water evaporates, remove the cover and turn several times, that they may be nicely browned.
Turn onto a platter. Core a number of large, tart apples, cut them in rings an inch thick and fry in the sausage fat. Garnish the sausage with the apples and serve.

STUFFED APPLES TO SERVE WITH ROAST.

Into a large pan put two half cups of white stock, add a bay leaf, one teaspoonful full of minced onion, half a teaspoonful of salt and a very little pepper. Simmer for twenty minutes and strain.
Pare and core ten tart, red apples, put them in a granite pan, cover and simmer until tender, but not broken. Carefully remove from the stock and set aside. Blanch two cupfuls of chestnut meats, slice, cover with the stock, add four teaspoonfuls of currant jelly, half a teaspoon full of salt, a little paprika and simmer until the meats are tender. Fill the center of the apples heaping full and garnish the roast meat with them.

(Continued next week.)

"THE LIGHT ETERNAL"

"The Light Eternal," a magnificently staged romance of the fourth century transcribed from Cardinal Wiseman's
"Fabiola," will be given at the Temple Theatre, Monday evening, October 27th.
Spectacular in its investiture of barbaric splendor, abounding in dramatic episode of intense suspense, and dealing with a serious theme of deep religious import, the action of this great drama moves forward briskly and with the finality and realism of life itself.
Every movement is fraught with dramatic action and subtle meaning as the story is unfolded. The audience is literally transported down through the ages to the proud and wicked days when Rome flourished in all its glory.

From the roof of the house of Valerius, the first setting of the play, a panoramic glimpse of the ancient city is had, as the members of the household avow their allegiance to the Christian faith. Here is told how Marco Valerius, just decorated by the Emperor Diocletian, in a moment of incautious zeal has disclosed his faith, and prophecy is made of his destruction, as well as of all followers of the Nazarene.
Then is shown the beautiful rose garden of the villa of the Princess Artemis in the Campagna, with its tender declaration of love, its betrayal, and proclamation of the doom of all Christians. The first scene of the third act finds the characters in the gloomy dungeons beneath the palace of the Caesars, and the second scene shows the magnificent throne room of the reigning emperor. Here effort is made to force pagan worship upon the condemned Valerius; and here the power of paganism, as typified by the altar of Jupiter, god of gods, is shattered and gives place to a miraculous cross of fire. Then comes the narrow sacrificial door through which the martyrs pass entering the arena where the hapless Marco Valerius pays the Roman price for his faith and shares the glory of a Christian death with her who has brought him thither.

Throughout the four acts the persecution of the Caesars is visualized to a degree unattained by any of the forerunners of "The Light Eternal." There is a certain dramatic power and earnest reverence of theme that lifts the play above the commonplace and makes of it an enthralling romance and a moral lesson.

Home-Keeping Women Need Health and Strength.

The work of a home keeping woman makes a constant call in her strength and vitality, and sickness comes through her kidneys and bladder oftener than she knows. Foley Kidney Pills will invigorate and restore her, and weak back, nervousness, aching joints and irregular bladder action will all disappear when Foley Kidney Pills are used. Hites Drug Store.

The supply of talk exceeds the demand.

By the time a flirt gets tired of the game there is seldom a man worth having that she can get.

Will G. Richmond, a resident of Inglewood, Cal., will answer any inquiries about Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. He says further, "Foley's Honey and Tar Compound has greatly benefited me for bronchial trouble and cough, after I used other remedies that failed." Do not accept a substitute. Hites Drug Store.

STATEMENT OF OWNERSHIP,
management, circulation, etc., of Charlevoix County Herald, published weekly at East Jordan, Mich., Editor, G. A.
Lisk, East Jordan Mich. Business manager and publisher, same.

Known bondholders, mortgages and other security holders, holding one percent or more of total amount of bonds, mortgages, or other securities: State Bank of East Jordan.

G. A. LISK.
Sworn to and subscribed before me this 1st day of October, 1913. Belle Roy, Notary Public. (My commission expires June 21st, 1915.)

PROBATE ORDER.

State of Michigan, the Probate Court for the County of Charlevoix.

At a session of said court, held at the probate office, in the City of Charlevoix, in said county, on the 26th day of September, A. D. 1913.

Present: Hon. Servetus A. Correll,
Judge of Probate.

In the matter of the estate of Sophronia Sweet, deceased.

Almond Brooks having filed in said court his petition praying that said court adjudicate and determine who were at the time of her death the legal heirs of said deceased and entitled to inherit the real estate of which said deceased died seized,

It is ordered, that the 27th day of October, A. D. 1913, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, at said probate office, be and is hereby appointed for hearing said petition.

It is further ordered, that public notice thereof be given by publication of a copy of this order, for three successive weeks previous to said day of hearing, in the Charlevoix County Herald, a newspaper printed and circulated in said county.

SERVETUS A. CORRELL,
Judge of Probate.

A true copy.

Scene from "Brewster's Millions," Temple Theatre, Wednesday.

A COMBINATION VEST AND BAND FOR THE BABY

Made double quite up to the neck. One side of back-flap laps entirely over the other.
Easy to put on. All weights and fabrics.

A WORD TO MOTHERS
ATHENA UNDERWEAR
FOR THE CHILDREN

MOTHERS appreciate the difficulty of securing proper-fitting garments for their children.

Most underwear makers seem to forget that children are proportioned altogether differently from adults. Children from two to six years old are usually round, chubby, broad in proportion to their height, while those from six to sixteen are inclined to be slender.

The Athena scheme of sizes takes these important facts into consideration.
The Athena garments for children are sized by ages—not by numbers; so it is easy to obtain a correct fit for your child by asking for "Athena garment age two" for a two-year-old child, "age ten" for a ten-year-old, and so on. Union suits and separate garments fit with equal comfort. In many weights and qualities.

At M. E. ASHLEY & CO.'S
THE STORE THAT SELLS WOOLTEX.

We Guarantee
this Flour.

It will make more bread cost you less; make a whiter bread than the bread you can make from any other flour.

Try a sack. If not satisfied after trying, return it to your grocer and he will refund your money without a question.

The ARGO MILLING CO.
At Mill B, East Jordan.

East Jordan Planing Mills Co.,
B. E. WATERMAN, Manager.

Custom Planing Mill.

Manufacturers and Dealers in Doors, Windows and Glass, Siding, Ceiling and Flooring Mouldings, Turned Work, and Scroll Sawing.

FINISHED LUMBER, FRAMES, CASINGS

