Geo. G. Glenn Passes Away

Well-Known Banker Dies Following Brief Illness.

Geo. G. Glenn, who for nearly twenty years has been closely identified with East Jordan's business interests than probably any other man in our community, passed away at his home in this city at an early hour Thursday morning. Septicaemia was the immediate cause of his death.

Mr. Glenn was in usual good health up until about a fortnight ago, when he was taken ill and confined to his bed. Every effort was made to save his life, but the disease had fastened itself upon him and the end came Thursday morning.

Mr. Glenn succeeded his father in the active management of the State Bank of East Jordan about a dozen years ago, and since that time has been in touch with all things pertaining to the city's business interests. A man of quiet, unassuming ways, always pleasant and courteous, he endeared himself to the hearts of the people of East Jordan, where he grew from boyhood up, and his untimely demise is a matter of heartfelt sorrow to our entire community.

Mr. Glenn was forty-two years of age and leaves besides his wife, three children, Dorothy, Helen and George Gilbert.

Funeral services will be held from his late residence this Saturday morning at 10:30, conducted by Rev. Robert S. Sidebotham.

The only excuse some people have for marrying is that the woman wants a home and the man wants a servant.

It is harder for some men to slip upstairs at 2 a. m., than it is for them to slip down after they get half-way up.

The only safe way to contest a man's will is to wait until the undertaker gets thru with him, then hire a lawyer.

MANY THRILLING SCENES IN "RULE G"

Among the wonderfully realistic scenes in "Rule G" are the wrecking of the first club-house with a wild engine, and the narrow escape of the occupants of the building, shop accidents involving a journal lathe and a six-ton steam hammer, the demolition at a crossing of the wagon containing a farmer and his wife, the saving of two passenger trains by the automatic action of the block signal, the flight of Myra on the lineman's speeder, and the pursuit by the men on the handcar, who have a close call for their lives, the mob scene, in which hundreds of men are half-drowned and driven out of the gates by four determined men using a locomotive in a way that is thrilling and marvelous to behold, and the terrific bare-headed fight between Ned and Spike—a battle that is claimed to be the climax of all such struggles ever done for the film.

Realism enters into the lesser as well as the larger scenes. No such insight into a cab, for instance, was ever afforded before. The audience will be able to see with its own eyes the gravity of a trainman's responsibilities, will see how wrecks occur and why wrecks are becoming rare. It is possible to show these things only because the actors actually are railroaders. In the great scene in E. H. Harriman's office the part of Harriman is played by a man who was repeatedly mistaken for the magnate in the closing years of his life. Every detail of this scene is historically accurate, and it is a significant chapter in railroad annals.

The machine shop, roundhouse, yard and mob scenes were made at the West Oakland yard of a railroad company, with the putting aid of Assistant Master Mechanic John Keller. Most of the road scenes were made on the San Jose-Almaden branch, and most of the depot scenes at the West San Jose station. The club-house scenes were made at Tracy and Roseville. The interiors were done in the Blazon studio in Berkeley.

Commission Proceedings.

Regular meeting of the City Commission held at the commission rooms, Monday evening, March 20th, 1916.

Meeting was called to order by Mayor Cross. Present—Cross, Gidley and Lancaster. Absent—None.

Minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

On motion by Gidley the following bills were allowed:

Enterprise Pub. Co., printing $ 36.60

G. A. Lisk, printing 17.25

City Treas., payment of labor 18.80

Moved by Lancaster that the application of Fred Nelson for permission to build a garage on the vacant lot north of Kitsman's restaurant be accepted and permission granted. Carried.

The Mayor appointed H. I. McMillan as city assessor and on motion by Gidley, the appointment was confirmed.

On motion by Gidley, meeting was adjourned.

Why Water Gurgles

Water or any other liquid cannot flow from a bottle in a steady stream because until the bottle is empty there is a continuous struggle between the tendency of the liquid to fall from the bottle and the rushing of the air to get in.

When a full bottle without a cork is turned upside down there will be an alternate realization of two operations—the liquid to follow the attraction of gravitation and the air to obey its natural impulse to fill a void.

Don Watkins Finds Himself

Sought For for Two Year and Didn't Know It.

The two-year search for Don Watkins terminated suddenly last week when he made his sister at Detroit a short visit.

Don is well-known in East Jordan having resided here for some time with his sister, Mrs. Arthur K. Hill. About two-years ago the brothers and sisters fell heir to considerable property and an effort was made to locate Mr. Watkins. Last summer Mrs. Hill attended the Ringling circus at Petoskey and inquired about him of some of the men in charge but failed to get any information. As a matter of fact he was with the circus people, but had laid off at Grand Rapids to have a tape-worm removed at the hospital there. He has made his home in New York the past three years and traveled with Ringlings circus during the summer.

Having some business at Toledo, he decided to visit his sister at Detroit and this was the first intimation that he had that he was heir to a considerable fortune and had been sought for for two years.

ROCK ELM NOTES

The calendar says that spring has come but most people are inclined to doubt it when they step out of doors and would sooner believe winter had come to stay.

H. E. Hutton was at the township clerk's office on Tuesday settling with the town board.

James Secord had the misfortune to lose a young colt last week.

Fern Hutton had a party of her little friends help her celebrate her seventh birthday anniversary last week.

It keeps the farmers hustling to keep their wood sheds and feed barns replenished this winter as the frost last summer ate up their feed and the cold weather eats up the fuel pretty fast. There will be a time of rejoicing when warm weather comes once more.

Mrs. Whitfield who has been on the sick list for the past two weeks is slowly improving.

Miss Cora Metz, who has been sick for several weeks, is considerable better at this writing.

The regular meeting of Rock Elm grange was held at the hall on Thursday, March 16. Quite a number of visitors from Ironton and South Arm granges were present. All present were decorated with a St. Patrick's badge. An elaborate feast was prepared by the ladies which was enjoyed very much. A very chic and dainty dessert prepared by Mrs. Secord was the feature of the feast. All went away feeling that it was good to be there, and many too full for utterance.

One thing very noticeable since the above feast is that the remaining inmates of the neighborhood chicken coops are very suspicious since then.

"OBSERVATIONS"

By Our Man About Town

If our school boys and girls of today were given names like the Indian boys and girls were given years ago, I know several youngsters who might be called "Young Man Afraid of His Report Card."

I imagine our school teachers will agree with me when I say pupils do not take the interest in school they should take—and I imagine they will go farther with me in the assertion that in most cases this lack of interest in the pupil is brought about by the lack of interest in schools on the part of parents.

I am not even intimating that all our boys and girls are disinterested in their school work. In fact, I know one boy a youngster of some dozen years, who is "absorbed" in his studies, and it is this example I wish to place before other boys and girls, both older and younger than he.

In the first place, I will give the parents of this "model" most of the credit for the boy's standing. They have made him realize the importance of good daily grades. They have done this not by coercion but by persuasion. They have even offered him "cash prizes," giving him a nickel for every "hundred" he earned in his daily studies, and a dime for every "ninety" on his monthly examinations. I have not learned what this "high finance" is costing the parents, but I do know the result is well worth the price—and they realize it even more than anyone else could possibly do.

The boy in question is not a "pet." He is as much boy as is possible to crowd into a youngster of his age—but he has been taught the value of earnest study during school hours, and he will ever thank his parents for that teaching.

County Normal Notes.

Catherine LaLonde

Mrs. C. E. Taggart and Mrs. Harry Nicholls visited the normal room last Tuesday.

Ruth Chellis substituted for Miss Mary Niles in the fourth grade room, Wednesday afternoon.

J. H. Milford of East Jordan visited the normal room, Wednesday morning and talked to the class on the conservation of game.

Misses Zoe Burnett and McLain visited the normal room last Wednesday afternoon. Miss Burnett was a member of the class of 1910. She gave a very interesting talk to the students, telling of her experience in teaching and of her new work, that of nursing which she is now taking.

Florence Maddaugh had charge of the fifth grade in the central building, Friday afternoon, during the absence of Miss Madge Allen.

The class is always pleased with a visit from the county school commissioner, Miss May L. Stewart spent Friday at the normal and gave some very good suggestions concerning school discipline.

The last meeting of the Teacher's Reading Circle for this school year will be held in the county normal room, Saturday, March 25th, at 2 o'clock. The topic for discussion will be Agriculture and Life. Mr. D'Ooge and County School Com'r, May L. Stewart will be present and will speak on this subject.

Oriental Cream

Grate a fresh coconut, adding the milk after grating. Knead into it as much confectioner's XXXX sugar as it will take up. Roll on sugared board, 1/2 inch thick. Cut in two pieces, cover one-half with finely minced dates, lay the other portion on top. Press firmly together and with a sharp knife cut in blocks like caramels. Set away to dry for a few hours.

Fill stoned dates with small portions of the Oriental cream before roiling it. Then roll dates in granulated sugar.

Sometimes the world thinks a man wise simply because he doesn't make the mistake of talking when he has nothing to say.

Changeable Weather Brings Sickness

The changeable weather of March causes coughs, colds, croup and gripes. There is no such thing as a "light cold"—none that a person can safely neglect.

Foley's Honey and Tar is a safe and reliable family medicine that heals inflamed, congested air passages, stops coughs and eases breathing.—Hites Drug Store.

ALONG THE FIRING LINE

The Shields water power bill which administration Democrats have just succeeded in driving through the Senate is denounced by Gifford Pinchot as something most outrageous. And Pinchot declares that President Wilson was fully informed of the evil character of the measure and refused to lift a finger in opposition to it. The logical conclusion of this should be that Pinchot, with all whom he can influence, will unite with the Republican party to defeat Wilson's re-election. But Pinchot is always more prolific of language than of logic in political affairs.

Another plank from the Baltimore platform has been thrown into the Democratic furnace now raging in Washington: "We believe in the preservation and maintenance in their full strength and integrity of the three coordinate branches of the Federal Government—the executive, the legislative, and the judicial—each keeping within its own bounds and not encroaching upon the just powers of either of the others," said that relic. But Congress was forced by President Wilson to vote on the armed merchantman question.

The Democrats evidently think it will be time enough to enact a tariff law after the war has closed. They are the kind of people who close the barn door after the horse is out.

The frankness of Uncle Ike Sherwood in declaring that he is unable longer to follow the meandering footsteps of the leader of his party indicates that Sherwood is higher proof than Wilson.

Wonder where Col. House will go next. His ten week's trip to Europe at government expense left him "satisfied," he says—but that is probably only in a diplomatic sense.

It is "dishonor," Tumulty says, to publish a report that the President will resign. Now if Tumulty will only give us a definition of treason and less majesty as this administration understands them, we shall try to be circumspect.

A commercial report informs us that Japan is buying a large number of sheep from Australia. The sheep industry is to be developed in Japan, and her woolen and worsted mills will soon rely on her domestic supply of wool.

Under the Democratic law she is getting into our market with cotton goods to an extent unprecedented in the history of our trade with the Kingdom of the Sun. There is no reason why, under the same law, she can not do so with woolen goods. Voters who are permitting the Democratic party to blindfold them with the foreign policy should remove that bandage and take a look forward before casting their ballot.

Secretary Baker had no sooner taken the oath of office than he found his cake was dough. Villa's raid and Pershing's energetic reprisals put a serious question before the new member of the Cabinet. There was to be no "watchful waiting" for him, it seemed.

Some people have been inclined to attribute the changeable weather of this spring to a suspicious that President Wilson is in personal charge of the weather bureau.

Representative Page of North Carolina decided to quit of his own accord before he was turned down by his constituents.

Jokes as they Didn't Originate

Shakespeare: "There are a lot of pretty chickens on the street today."

Bacon: "Yes, one of them is coming across."

Shakespeare: "By the way, what makes a chicken cross the road?"

Bacon: "This one happens to be my wife and she's coming across to take lunch with me."

After Jonah had been cast up by the whale, he was walking along the shore and encountered a fisherman, who proudly exhibited a large fish he had caught.

"Do you call that a fish?" asked Jonah. "You should have seen the one I had this morning. It was eight times longer than I am,—but it got away!"

AGRICULTURAL NOTES

Conducted by E. J. A. C.

LAYING OUT AN ORCHARD

The laying out of an orchard is a very live question with all fruit growers, and the following plan for locating the place where the trees should stand will simplify this work, especially where the triangular system—sometimes called the hexagonal system—is used.

Square and triangular settings have been fully discussed for many years in all the farm journals, and each system has its advocates. But the triangular system is becoming more popular; with all the trees the same distant apart in each direction, with more trees to the acre, and with three instead of two ways to cultivate between the trees, the advantages of this system are evident.

Also the panoramic view of the orchard is very fine when this system is used, and we believe all growers of good fruit have an eye for the beautiful as well as for the practical.

Locating trees by this plan is accomplished by using a light chain made into a triangle, the sides being of the same length and having rings and handles at each corner.

To make up this setting chain, first decide on how far apart the trees are to be and get enough number twelve jack chain for three times the planting distance. The chain is not undandy for planting apple trees as far apart as forty, forty-five or even fifty feet. Peaches and plums are usually planted one-half the distance of apples; hence this chain may be used in planting all of these kinds of fruit. You will need six one-inch malleable harness rings, one for each corner and one in the middle of each side. The chain must be made very accurately; this can be done by making each of the six sections over some form.

Supposing you want to plant apples forty feet apart, make each of the six sections twenty feet long.

Calmeal vs Skim Milk

For Young Calves.

The calmeal is not as valuable food as skim milk for calves and they will not make same growth on it. Some of the best brands may have the same amount of digestible nutrients but not equal in feeding value as that of the milk. The milk has been nature's food for young and growing animals and as yet man has not prepared a food that is its equal in food value. The younger the calves are the greater is their need of skim milk. And gradually as the calves become older they may be fed this prepared food such as bran calmeal and etc. instead of skim milk. It is a good plan to feed calves with whole milk if it can be spared for about four weeks, then change to skim milk. About this time they will begin eating grain and hay. After they can eat these sufficiently then this food will be fed as supplements to milk.

THE POULTRY MITE

The common poultry mite that infests so many hen houses can be easily gotten rid of. However, the best way is to keep from getting them. Poultry mites are found most often in a dark dirty henhouse with few windows. The mites feed at night and stay in cracks and crevices in the day time.

Sunshine, cleanliness and ventilation are the most important factors in ridding the mites. An extra window is the most certain preventative suggested.

Kerosene emulsion, strong tobacco solutions or commercial stock dips are good for spraying. To make kerosene emulsion dissolve half a pound of laundry soap or a pound of lye soap in a gallon of boiling soft water; take the solution off the stove and add two gallons of kerosene before cooling. Mix them by churning ten or fifteen minutes, and for use, dilute one part of the emulsion to eight or nine parts water.

One spraying is not sufficient to kill all the mites and sometimes four or five applications are necessary.

OF COURSE

"Gimmie a dime's worth o' dried beef an' some crackers," said Uncle Josh to the young lady in charge of the ribbon counter in a downtown store.

"You have evidently made a mistake in the place," she smilingly replied. "This is a dry goods store."

"Waal, now, I reckon I know'd that, b'gosh," said the old man; "an' ef dried beef an' crackers hain't dry goods then I'd like to know what in tarnation you'd call 'em?"

POLITICAL ANNOUNCEMENTS

To The Electors of the City of East Jordan.

I wish to announce to the voters of the City of East Jordan that I am a candidate for the office of City Mayor at the Election to be held April 3rd. Thanking you for past favors and hoping I am worthy of your future support, I am

Yours truly,
A. E. CROSS.

To the Voters of East Jordan

I respectfully offer myself as a candidate for the office of Mayor of your city.

HUGH W. DICKEN, M. D.

To The Voters of South Arm Township.

Having been placed on Ticket No. 1 by the voters of South Arm Township for township clerk, I desire to express my appreciation of their support, and trust that I may receive the same hearty endorsement at the election, April 3rd.

LORENCE O. ISAMAN.

TO THE VOTERS

At the coming election, April 3, 1916, I will be a candidate for Mayor and in asking your support I wish to give you some reasons for my candidacy.

Our city pays out every year in taxes over $3200.00 for salaries, exclusive of street cleaning or repair or water works extension and repair, of this sum the Mayor receives $400 and each commissioner $300. It is my opinion that these salaries should be reduced to $50 each and if it is necessary to do this by a vote of the people I will at my earliest opportunity use my best efforts to word placing the matter before them for their consideration.

I am also of the opinion that some of the appointers offices are receiving more salary than is necessary to be paid for the work they are doing and that a saving can be made the tax payer on that line also.

If elected I will conduct the affairs of the office on a strictly business basis and will endeavor to get one hundred cents worth of labor or material for every dollar of the city's money that is expended.

Respectfully,
HUGH W. DICKEN.

HAS EIGHT CHILDREN

Mrs. P. Rehkamp, 2404 Herman St., Covington, Ky. writes: "I have been using Foley's Honey and Tar for nearly two years and can find no better cough syrup. I have eight children and give it to all of them. They were subject to croup from babies on." It is a safe and reliable medicine.—Hites Drug Store.

WHEN YOU WAKE UP DRINK GLASS OF HOT WATER

Wash the poisons and toxins from system before putting more food into stomach.

Says inside-bathing makes any one look and feel clean, sweet and refreshed.

Wash yourself on the inside before breakfast like you do on the outside. This is vastly more important because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing illness, while the bowel pores do. For every ounce of food and drink taken into the stomach, nearly an ounce of waste material must be carried out of the body. If this waste material is not eliminated day by day it quickly ferments and generates poisons, gases and toxins which are absorbed or sucked into the blood stream, through the lymph ducts which should suck only nourishment to sustain the body.

A splendid health measure is to drink, before breakfast each day, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, which is a harmless way to wash these poisons, gases and toxins from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels; thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate costs but very little at the drug store but is sufficient to make anyone an enthusiast on inside-bathing. Men and women who are accustomed to wake up with a dull, aching head or have furred tongue, bad taste, nasty breath, sallow complexion, others who have bilious attacks, acid stomach or constipation are assured of pronounced improvement in both health and appearance shortly.

HARVARD REGIMENT NOW ORGANIZED

TRAINING OF 1,100 STUDENTS AND PROFESSORS TO BEGIN AS DEFENSE MEANS

OTHER SCHOOLS TO FOLLOW

War Department Designates Army Officer to Take Charge of Work

Boston, Mass.—Harvard College has completed the military mobilization of its scholastic resources, and is training 1,100 students and professors to be officers of the United States army in the event of war.

A dozen other schools and universities of New England, as a result of a remarkable change in undergraduate sentiment which has gone from theoretical pacifism to belief in practical preparedness, have taken up the military idea in some form. Harvard assumes the lead with a plan that is likely to be widely imitated in this section.

Harvard will have a new course in military science and instruction by an army officer, who has been placed in command of the college regiment which will be known as the Harvard Regiment of Infantry. Capt. Constance Cordier, Fourth Infantry, has been designated by the War Department to give the instruction and has completed the work of organization begun by the students. The regiment has already enlisted 910 men from the undergraduate body and the faculty, including two Chinamen, a Hindu, an Indian and a Russian who are as enthusiastic as the Americans.

It is expected that guns will be supplied by the War Department. Gymnasium space will be allotted for an armory, and there are many athletic fields where the regular drills will be held.

The lectures that will accompany the practical course will be delivered by Capt. Cordier and other officers of the army. It is the intention to make the course progressive by enabling the men to attend students' camps which will be established in a number of places in New England.

The War Department is enthusiastic over the quality of the men offering at Harvard. They are just the type of men required for company officers in the event of war, and it is expected that every graduate of the regiment will be fit for a commission at the expiration of his course.

Personal popularity of a student will not gain any man a commission in the undergraduate regiment, despite the fact that these positions are as coveted already as places on the varsity athletic teams. The officers will not be elected, but will be appointed on the basis of military efficiency.

CONFESSES THEFT TO FREE BROTHER

Robber Appears in Court at the Eleventh Hour and Takes Prisoner's Place.

New York.—One time worn stage situation that has tested the credulity of theatergoers for years was enacted in real life when, just as an innocent man was about to be convicted of a crime, his brother came forward, confessed to the crime and took the place of the accused man in the prisoner's chair.

The scene was staged in County Judge Mitchell May's court, in Brooklyn in the afternoon, after John Ricklefs, 22, had been on trial all day long on a charge of robbing the home of John Lintz, 106 Schenck avenue, Brooklyn. Spots of blood were found in the house and it was believed that one of the intruders had been shot. A few days later Ricklefs was found in his home, suffering from a bullet wound in the chin. When some of the loot of the Lintz robbery was found in the house the evidence was believed complete.

When the case came to trial the prosecutor produced his evidence, made his concluding argument and announced that there was no doubt of the man's guilt. Francis X. McCaffrey, attorney for the accused man, attempted to prove an alibi, but was apparent that it was not being credited by the jurors. It was then that Charles Ricklefs, the brother, unexpectedly appeared and confessed his guilt.

But there the stage parallel ends. Instead of walking away a hero, Chas. Ricklefs must remain a prisoner and be tried on another charge of burglary, in which the prosecutor says there is little chance for an eleventh hour escape.

UNIQUE EXHIBIT WINS PRIZE

Miniature Schoolhouse Modeled From Corn and Wheat.

Frankford, Kan.—One of the most unique displays at the recent Farm and Home institute was the miniature schoolhouse made of white kernels of corn, with roof of red kernels, and a playground of wheat. BOOKS AND AUTHORS

When J. O. Curwood writes a story about the wilderness he knows, about the grandeur and the glory of Arctic woods and Arctic snows, about adventures super-human, the epic struggles of the strong, why does he drag in lovely woman, where cultured females don't belong? Why must there be a lot of wooing, the wearied reader's soul to vex, and why are lovers billing cooing, when they're in snow up to their necks? Alas, the moldy superstition that love must light up every tale, whatever the scene or the conditions—the iceberg or the forest trail.

There was one dauntless story teller, who laughed the ancient rule to scorn—that gifted Robert Louis Feller—and "Treasure Island" then was born; there are no misfit damsels in it, no lovers waiting in the sun; and when the readers once begin it, they do not eat until they're done.

The publishers, to Robert Louis, when they beheld the manuscript, no doubt exclaimed, "Great Scott! Beware us! Your intellect has surely slipped! The sales would never pay the carriage; the whole book world would stand aghast; there's not a word of love or marriage in this romance, from first to last! Ring in some maidens, blithe and merry, and let John Silver marry one; then it will be delightful, very, and we will sell it by the ton."

There's Randall Parrish who is writing some splendid stories of the days when whites and Indians were fighting in dark and solemn ways. If he'd defy the old tradition that love must clutter every tale, we'd have the book for which we're wishing—an epic of the lonely trail.

But no; to scenes all red and gory, he introduces Sarah Jane; she hangs around throughout the story, and fills me with a pale pink pain. Where blood is deep and scraps are sorest, she with the hero gaily flirts, and though a hundred leagues of forest she trails her long bedraggled skirts. I bless the woman and her daughter; they are the savor of this life; but they are fishes out of water in Berserk tales of force and strife.—By Walt Mason From Judge.

CULTURE

Culture is the faculty of reading books with appeal just as much when perused from the last page to the beginning.

It is the ability, in a man, to wear delicate whiskers and talk indeterminate things about incomprehensible topics.

In a woman it is the ability to wear flowing garments and speak softly and knowingly about airy symposiums of inapplicable impossibilities.

The great charm about this kind of culture is that neither the talker nor the talker need bother to try to understand what is said.

Yet both are benefitted, for each feels himself or herself understood at last.

Culture, therefore, is bestowed upon people in the proportions each is best able to carry.

The common or garden variety of culture, which has to do with a gentle regard for the thoughts, opinions and wishes of others, and with an ordinary enjoyment of the human side of books, pictures and the world in general, is too easily attained to be of interest to the folk who adopt the other form of culture.—From Judge.

IF BACK HURTS USE SALTS FOR KIDNEYS

Eat less meat if Kidneys feel like lead or Bladder bothers you—Meat forms uric acid.

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean, and the moment you feel a ache or pain in the kidney region, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is harmless to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity. It also neutralizes the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is harmless; inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everybody should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean, thus avoiding serious complications.

A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

SAGE AND SULPHUR DARKENS GRAY HAIR

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Restore Color, Gloss and Attractiveness.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, for about 50 cents.

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does so naturally and evenly. Your dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy and attractive.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire dark hair and a youthful appearance. It is not intended for the mitigation or prevention of disease.

A NEW SHIRT-WAIST MODEL

1482. This simple but stylish design was developed in white Georgette crepe with bindings of new blue satin. Fancy buttons to match the trimming serve to ornament, and affect the closing in front. The style is also good for linen, batiste, madras, lawn, flannel, cashmere, taffeta, plaid and checked silk or other waist materials. The pattern is cut in six sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44 inches bust measure. It requires 2 1/2 yards of 36 inch material for a 36 inch size.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cents in silver or stamps.

A COMFORTABLE DRESS FOR MOTHER'S GIRL.

1551. Girl's Dress, with Sleeve in Either of Two Lengths.

This style follows the lines of a semi-princess "grown-up" model. Back and front are cut to form panel sections. At the sides the waist is lengthened by plaited skirt portions. The sleeve, in wrist length, has a deep cuff cut in points. The short sleeve is finished with a turback-cuff. A new collar in Quaker style forms a pretty neck finish. The pattern is cut in 5 sizes: 4, 6, 8, 10 and 12 years. It requires 3 2/3 yards of 44 inch material for a 6 year size.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of ten cents in silver or stamps.

A PRACTICAL "SHORT CLOTHES" OUTFIT.

2401. Child's Set of Dress, Petticoat and Drawer.

This combination will readily appeal to the home dressmaker. The dress is in simple Bishop style, and may be finished in French waist style and with short sleeves and low neck. The petticoat is cut with a long waist, and is sure to prove a comfortable garment. The good features of the drawers will be at once apparent. Muslin, cambric, nainsook or cotton-flannel are good for the petticoat and drawers, with edges, embroidery or feather stitching for a finish. The dress is lovely for lawn, batiste, nainsook, cashmere, percale, gingham, challie or voile, also for flannelette and crepe. The pattern for this excellent trio of garments is cut in 4 sizes: 1, 2, 3 and 4 years. It requires 2 3/4 yards of 27 inch material for the dress, 2 3/8 yards for the petticoat and 3/4 yard for the drawers for a 3 year size.

A SIMPLE AND ATTRACTIVE TUB DRESS

1259—Ladies' House or Home Dress.

With Chemisette, and with Sleeve in Either of Two Lengths. (In Raised or Normal Waistline) Brown and white checked gingham was used for this style, with white corduroy for collar and cuffs. The model would be nice for striped seersucker, for chambray and percale. It is fine for drill, linen or lineae, and also good for serge, voile, or poplin. It will make a nice neat business suit. The right waist front is shaped over the left, and the low comfortable neck is finished with a deep collar. The sleeve may be long or short as preferred with a neat cuff finish. The skirt is a four gored model, cut on new lines and with ample fullness. The pattern is cut in 6 sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44 inches bust measure. It requires 6 1/2 yards of 36 inch material for a 36 inch size. The skirt measures about 2 7/8 yards at its lower edge.

A PRETTY FROCK FOR THE LITTLE MISS.

1557. Girl's Dress with Single or Double Skirt and with Sleeve in Either of Two Lengths

Blue crepe de chine with "veil" insertion and edging would be nice for this model. White batiste with embroidery, challie with pipings of matched china silk, crepe with feather stitching or embroidery, either or all of these may be used for this charming little design. For a school dress checked gingham could be combined with chambray. For warmth, plaid suiting with serge or cashmere. The dress may be finished with single or double skirt, and with or without the suspenders. The pattern is cut in 4 sizes: 4, 6, 8 and 10 years. It requires 4 1/4 yards of 36 inch material for the dress with double skirt and 3 1/2 yards with single skirt for an 8 year size.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of ten cents in silver or stamps.

A DAWTY LINGERIE COMBINATION

1537. Ladies' dressing sack and underskirt, with or without flounce.

Batiste, lawn, crepe, silk, or organza could be used for these models, with lace or embroidery for the trimming. The flounce may be omitted. The sack is cut in kimono fashion, and is finished with a deep shaped collar. As here shown white batiste was used, with Val edging and insertion for trimming. The skirt is a good model for saten, taffeta, or moreen. The pattern comprising both styles illustrated is cut in three sizes: small, medium and large. It requires 2 1/2 yards for the sack and 4 1/2 yards for the skirt, without flounce, of 36 inch material; with the flounce the skirt will require 6 1/4 yards.

LADIES COSTUME WITH SLEEVE IN WRIST LENGTH

1590—With or Without Deep Cuff or In Short Length With or Without Flare

This portrays a very smart style, suitable for any of the combinations now in vogue. In blue poplin or empire, with satin to match or green serge and matched satin it will make a very handsome gown for afternoon or evening. The waist has surplus fronts which form a yoke over the upper part. The sleeve may be finished in wrist length with a simulated or added deep cuff or in short length with a new flare cuff. The skirt is cut with ample fullness and has plaited extensions at the sides of the front panel. The pattern is cut in 6 sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44 inches bust measure. Size 36 will require 6 yards of 44 inch material for a medium size. The skirt measures 3 1/4 yards at its lower edge.

A pattern of this description mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cents in silver or stamps.

A CHARMING DRESS FOR MOTHER'S GIRL

1576—Junior Dress with Sleeve in Either of Two Lengths and With or Without Bretelle Trimming.

This style will be nice in charmeuse or taffeta and net; in batiste and embroidery, voile or crepe. The waist is pretty indeed with the shaped bretelle trimming. The sleeve in either length is nice and pleasing. The skirt has gathered fullness, and is finished with tucks above the hem. The pattern is cut in three sizes: 12, 14 and 16 years. It requires 2 1/8 yards for the gumpie and 3 7/8 yards of 36 inch material for skirt and bretelle for a 14 year size.

A pattern of this description mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cents in silver or stamps.

A SMART UP TO DATE STYLE

1585—Ladies' Skirt. In Raised or Normal Waistline with or without Girde Yoke.

Broadcloth, chevot, tweed, velour, gabardine, serge, voile, taffeta, velvet and corduroy all are suitable for this style. The yoke could be of contrasting material. It is finished with a point over the center front, and may be omitted or the skirt portions underneath may be cut away. The pattern is cut in 6 sizes: 22, 24, 26, 28, 30 and 32 inches waist measure. It requires 3 5/8 yards of 44 inch material for a 24 inch size. The skirt measures about 3 yards at the lower edge.

A pattern of this description mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cents in silver or stamps.

TWO POPULAR AND DESIRABLE STYLES

1567—Ladies' Jumpers or OverWaists

This illustrates a smart and pleasing fashion—one that may make a waist "two in one," for these jumpers can be worn over any gumpie or blouse. In black silk or satin, in embroidered net or voile, they are charming. They are nice in silk or serge to match the color of a separate skirt, and so worn over a waist of chiffon, crepe or net. The one style shown is gathered at the waist, and may be made with straight or scalloped lower edge. The other style has waist portions lengthened by peplum sections. The pattern is cut in 6 sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44 inches bust measure. It requires 1 yard of 44 inch material for No. 1, and 1 1/4 yard for No. 2 for a 36 inch size.

A STYLISH DRESS.

Waist 1564. Skirt 1565.

Comprising Ladies' Waist Pattern 1564 and Ladies' Skirt 1565. As here shown checked suiting in brown tones is combined with brown serge. The designs would be nice in plaid silk and chiffon broadcloth, or in velvet and satin combined. As a separate skirt pattern 1565 is very attractive in silk, gabardine, crepe, serge or velvet, and the waist, too, is nice worn separately and made of any of the pretty waist fabrics now in vogue. Georgette crepe and embroidery could be combined. Chiffon and net, batiste and lace. The waist pattern is cut in 6 sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44 inches bust measure. It requires 2 1/4 yards of 36 inch material with 3/4 yard for the bolero for a medium size. The skirt pattern is cut in 6 sizes: 22, 24, 26, 28, 30 and 32 inches waist measure and requires 4 yards of 44 inch material for a 24 inch size. It measures about 4 1/8 yards at the foot.

This illustration calls for two separate patterns which will be mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cents for each pattern in silver or stamps.

A VERY ATTRACTIVE DESIGN

1581—Costume for Misses and Small Women (With Sleeve in Either of Two Lengths)

Mixed suiting in green and brown tones was used for this style, with trimmings of brown and braiding in green. The design is unique in its detail and finish. The fronts show a smart vest, topped by an over vest or chemisette. The back and side fronts are gathered below yoke portions. The sleeve is loose, and finished with a shaped cuff at wrist length in short length it has turnback cuff. The skirt flares with fashionable fullness and is fitted with plaits at the sides, in front and back. Pointed tab sections form a smart finish. This design is lovely for broadcloth or serge, with matched satin for trimming, and nice for velvet combined with taffeta. Gabardine, voile, poplin, repp, taffeta, woolen mixtures checked and plaid suitings are also nice for it. The pattern is cut in three sizes: 16, 18, and 20 years. Size 18 will require 6 2/8 yards of 36 inch material. The skirt measures about 3 1/2 yards at the foot.

WEAK, AILING CHILD

Made Strong By Delicious Vinol Lakeport, N. H.—"Our little girl 8 years of age was in a debilitated, run-down condition and had a stubborn cough so she was weak and ailing all the time. Nothing helped her until we tried Vinol. Then her appetite increased and she is strong and well, and I wish other parents of weak, delicate children would try Vinol."—Geo. A. COLLINS.

This is because Vinol contains the tissue building, strengthening cod liver elements and the tonic iron which a weak and run-down system needs.

STOP CATARRH! OPEN NOSTRILS AND HEAD

Says Cream Applied in Nostrils Relieves Head-Colds at Once.

If your nostrils are clogged and your head is stuffed and you can't breathe freely because of a cold or catarrh, just get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm at any drug store. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic cream into your nostrils, and let it penetrate through every air passage of your head, soothing and healing the inflamed, swollen mucous membrane and you get instant relief.

Ah! how good it feels. Your nostrils are open, your head is clear, no more hawking, snuffing, blowing; no more headache, dryness or struggling for breath. Ely's Cream Balm is just what sufferers from head colds and catarrh need. It's a delight.

DRINK HOT TEA FOR A BAD COLD

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea, or as the German folks call it, "Hamburger Brust Thee," at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teacup full at any time during the day or before retiring. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores of the skin, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus driving a cold from the system.

Try it the next time you suffer from a cold or the grip. It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore safe and harmless.

RUB BACKACHE AND LUMBAGO RIGHT OUT

Get Pain and Stiffness away with a small bottle of old honest St. Jacobs Oil

When your back is sore and lame or lumbago, sciatica or rheumatism has you stiffened up, don't suffer! Get a 25 cent bottle of old, honest "St. Jacobs Oil" at any drug store, pour a little in your hand and rub it right into the pain or ache, and by the time you count fifty, the soreness and lameness is gone.

Don't stay crippled! This soothing, penetrating oil needs to be used only once. It takes the ache and pain right out of your back and ends the misery. It is magical, yet absolutely harmless and doesn't burn the skin.

Nothing else stops lumbago, sciatica and lame back misery so promptly!

BRONCHIAL COLD

Yields To Delicious Vinol

Philadelphia, Pa.—“Last Fall I was troubled with a very severe bronchial cold, headaches, backache, and sick to my stomach. I was so bad I became alarmed and tried several medicines, also a doctor, but did not get any relief. A friend asked me to try Vinol and it brought the relief which I craved, so now I am enjoying perfect health.”

SMITH BOYS DID IT, IS THE PLEA

BROTHERS BLAMED FOR TRAIN, BANK, AND OTHER ROBBERIES BUT ONE CHARGE UPHELD

BIG REWARDS OUT FOR THEM

Officers of Four Counties Engaged in Continuous Search and Expect No Easy Capture

Muskogee, Ok.—Officers of Muskogee, McIntosh, Haskell and Sequoyah counties are conducting an almost continuous search for Joe and Dave Smith brothers and alleged contenders for the “bad men” championship.

For each of them there is outstanding a reward of $300, offered by the American Express Co., on suspicion that they were principals in the M. K. & T. train robbery at Onapa, Ok., and Sheriff J. S. Barger has also offered a reward of $100 for Dave, who broke jail here after a jury had sentenced him and Cole Shoemaker to serve terms of seven years each in the penitentiary for robbing a drug store at Porum of less than $50, the druggist being severely beaten.

It has come to pass that almost every crime committed in this section of Oklahoma is credited to the Smith brothers, and this is generally accepted as fact by the officers for the simple reason that there seems to be nothing for the fugitives to do but dodge officers and live from day to day on the fruit of law violations. So far as can be ascertained, the boys have not slept in a bed since the night Dave escaped from the Muskogee jail. They are believed to be on horseback every day, sometimes eating at their own campfire of game they have killed, at others in the house of someone whom they know will not betray them.

In the way of ammunition and clothing, the Smiths are believed to have sufficient to last them for years. Recently a store at Webber's Falls was robbed, a large lot of ammunition and clothing being taken. The Smiths are held to have done the job.

But the officers trailing Dave and Joe Smith are not fearing surprise by them and violent death or injury. They are convinced the fugitives are guided by purpose to evade the law and not to add to their difficulties the charge of killing an officer or posseman. It is the belief of Sheriff Barger that should a lone officer encounter the brothers he would be well treated, probably fed and entertained with account of some lively experiences, but they would not harm him unless attempt were made to force them to surrender. No one, so far as known, entertains an idea that the boys will become prisoners unless surprised and overwhelmed or without being beaten in a snooting match.

Dave and Joe Smith are Muskogee county products.—They hail from the southeastern part of the county and are said to be related to most of the denizens of the Kiamichi Mountain region. They are sons of Famous Smith, who himself had a record for killing men, not as a murderer, but because he reached them before they could get to him, so that his plea of self defense always had foundation.

The first charge of violence registered against the Smith brothers, so far as is recalled, arose several years ago, when Joe shot a rival for a girl's favor at a country dance.

Two years ago complaints were made to county authorities that Dave and Joe were rustling cattle from farmers. Warrants for their arrests were issued, but the arrests were not made for the reason that the boys could not be located.

Then followed the report that Dave Smith and Cole Shoemaker had entered the drug store at Porum and robbed it. This time the officers found their men, brought them to this city and the trial ended with a sentence of both to seven years in state prison. In engineering the escape in March last, Dave Smith entered the jail runway and, awaiting a moment when a guard named Payne turned his back, dealt him a blow with a flatiron.

Payne was left for dead and Smith, Shoemaker and Will Burnett, another prisoner, hastened into the jailor's office, beat him down, seized guns and fled. Outside the jail they seized a buggy and drove to the fair grounds, where they took three race horses and escaped to the Warner Bottoms. Shoemaker was recaptured after being wounded, and Burnett, whose whereabouts was disclosed by farmers, was also returned to jail. Smith has not since been a prisoner.

Nothing but suspicion exists upon which to hang the charge that Dave and Joe Smith were members of the gang of eight men who recently held up the Katy train at Onapa, but every officer who has had a part in the investigation entertains no doubt that they were, and that the express company so believes is shown by the offer of $300 reward for each of the brothers.

There is also talk that the boys have committed some of the bank robberies, which have so aroused people of the state that the legislature enacted a law offering specific rewards for capture of that class of criminal, but, so far as known, as in the case of the train robbery, positive evidence is not available.

TOWN'S JOKE MAYOR TAKES OUT HUMOR

Revives Freak Laws Fining Winkers, Dog Canners and Others in Florida.

Savannah, Ga.—This man was a ditty dresser and he carried a malacca cane. His upper lip was adorned with a sporty little mustache. When he was on parade, just above his yellow suede gloves might be discerned a dainty wrist watch. And he smoked “tailor made” cigarettes.

All these things the citizens of Crystal River, Fla., patiently endured. But when shortly after he set up his hair trimming establishment he took down the time honored sign, “Barber Shop,” and put up a gilt lettered “Tonsorial Parlor,” that was the last straw. Something had to be done.

Now, the job of Mayor of Crystal City is no sinecure. The annual salary would not keep a man in chewing tobacco a month, and the mayor has to preside at council meetings be a town booster for out of town visitors, and enforce the laws. To make the fresh barber the goat they elected him mayor.

He made a post election speech to his assembled townsmen, in which he said he appreciated the honor that had been bestowed upon him and that he would endeavor to show his gratitude by being a real mayor. There were some snickers in the audience and afterwards in sundry secret gatherings some loud guffaws. But the new mayor went to his office and read up on all the town ordinances, old and new.

There were among these ordinances some which had not been enforced for a couple of generations, forgotten freak laws that years ago had outlived their usefulness. Among them was one that interested the new mayor strangely. It imposed a fine of $3.65 upon each and every male person in the town who failed to get cleanly shaved before midnight on Saturdays.

The next day the new mayor called the Town Marshal into his office and, handing him the following obsolete offenses he had dug up, told the marshal to get busy rounding up the violators of them as well as all the newer and more generally known ones:

- Spitting on sidewalks, $5.
 - Tincanning dogs, $8.
 - Baiting or trapping neighbor's chickens, $12.
 - Cursing in public, three words or over, $15.
 - Winking at affinites, either sex, $1.50 and a reprimand.
 - Diluting milk, $8.
 - Abetting municipal weeds, $15.
 - Smoking a tobacco mixture by adults or children, $15.
 - Owning crowing roosters that perform before 6 a. m., $15.
 - Failure to pay dog tax, $15.
 - Failure to get a shave before 12 o'clock Saturday nights, $3.65.
- The town marshal has been faithful to his oath of office. Half the citizens of Crystal River have been pinched and fined the limit for one or more of the offenses, and mayor and marshal are still doing a rushing business. And there is no recall in Crystal River.

BOY FED STOLEN HORSE

Cost Him Last Cent; Besides Going Hungry He Was Arrested.

Detroit, Mich.—Bert McDonald of Bedford is a lover of horses and has spent nearly all his sixteen years in their company. This is the principal reason why Bert withstood the pangs of hunger for twenty-four hours so a horse he is charged with having stolen might not go hungry.

Bert is rosy cheeked, fair haired and sturdy. His father was employed in Detroit until a short time ago. He was thrown out of work and Bert went to Rochester to get a job.

The boy couldn't get the job and walking disconsolately about the street his attention was attracted to a handsome horse.

Bert forgot his troubles momentarily. He patted and rubbed the horse, slapped him on the neck, then sprang into the rig and drove away.

“I was going to take a little ride,” he said in police headquarters. “I thought I would drive to Bedford. Then it occurred to me that if I could sell him I could get some pretty nice things, and I started for Detroit.”

It was late in the afternoon when Bert set out. He had had nothing to eat since morning. Night came on, and Bert stopped under a shed near a little church, put a blanket on the horse, wrapped the other about himself and went to sleep.

Morning came and Bert was hungry. The horse was nibbling at the planks. “Gee, old boy, you're hungry, ain't you? Well, I'll get you something to eat,” muttered Bert to the animal. He fished through his pockets. Ten cents was all he found.

“Both of us can't eat on that,” he thought.

“Giddap, old horse,” he yelled, and drove to a farmhouse nearby and invested the 10 cents in oats.

Bert then drove to Detroit and was trying to dispose of the rig when he was arrested. He was taken back to Rochester and will be tried for larceny.

Found His Old Ten Spot.

Gypsum, Kan.—Fourteen years ago when Charles Milleson, a farmer near Gypsum paid his harvest hands he missed a $10 bill, and concluded that he had been robbed. The other day Mrs. Milleson picked up an old pocket book the children had been playing with, for ten or twelve years, and between the lining and the pocket the missing $10 was found.

LIFE'S PERVERSITY
All night I lie upon my bed, until the dawn is glowing red, and chickens wake and shadows flee, and slumber will not come to me. I try out all the standard schemes for luring people into dreams; I count some fifty million sheep, and 'still' I cannot get asleep. The night seems forty-four nights long, before I hear the breakfast gong, and from my tumbled bed arise, with mold and cobwebs in my eyes. Night after night this useless quest I make for slumber and for rest; when in the morning I am seen, I'm like a joker of Halloween.

It is the balmy Sabbath day, and to the church I take my way. There in my pew I take my seat, in proper mood for discourse sweet. I love to mark the pastor's fire, I love to hear the singing choir. But ere the pastor struck his gait, I feel some seven hundred weight of slumber pressing on my eyes; I do not hear the anthems rise, and not a sentence have I caught, of helpful words the preacher praught. Two deacons drag me from my pew, and push me then the portals through, and call it scandal and disgrace, the way I'm snoring through my face.

I wonder why things go that way, in this old world, so grim and gray. Some leading citizens one day, came to the cottage where I stay, and said they wished I would attend a public meeting and defend the suffrage question, noble cause! I'm always glad to wield my jaws.

I practiced for it night and day; I thought up scorching things to say; I stood before my looking glass, and belabored with my lungs of brass, until the lodgers on my floor began to shoot things through the door. I had my discourse down so fine, I thought a triumph would be mine.

The evening came when I appeared, to push some language through my beard. The hall was full of stately James, who stood behind the suffrage games, and blessed damosels were there, with starry eyes and sunny hair.

I stood before that cultured crowd, and smiled a sickly smile and bowed, and did some gurgling most absurd, but couldn't say a blooming word. They gently dragged me from the stage, and hauled me homeward in a cage, assisted me to soak my brow, and I am feeling better now.

I wonder why things go that way. So none of us will get too gay.—By Walt Mason From Judge.

AN OBSERVER OBSERVES
A South Bend (Ind.) judge has ruled a man has a right to curse when another man takes his umbrella. This is old established custom legalized.

There is only one thing more rare than a real and disinterested friendship between two women, and that is a real and disinterested friendship between a man and a woman.

—There are two ways of killing a love affair. One is to make it go difficult that it is not worth while, and the other is to make it so easy that it is not worth while.

Flirtations before marriage are like cocktails before a meal—they give you an appetite. Flirtations after marriage are like liquors—sweet and sticky, intoxicating and superfluous, and really a great mistake.

Love affairs are all alike, it is only the people who are different.

It is sad but true that most things and people cease to be desirable as soon as they cease to be desired.

To have what you want is not nearly so interesting as getting what you want.

Think of
"BORN"

Clothes for men have been judged by the Born standard of quality and value, for the past forty years.

And why not? M. Born & Company established the first nation wide tailoring service—and the House of Born has tailored more clothes to order than any house in the world.

The magnitude of this business enables "Born" to give you better wools, trimmings, and needle work than you can buy anywhere for the same money.

Let us prove it—ask to see what "Born" offers at $20, or at any price you care to pay.

The Tramp's Luck

A tramp strolled along Wissahickon avenue on Sunday afternoon, while a small dog of uncertain breed followed close to his heels. At Lincoln drive an auto killed doggie. The chauffeur came back.

"My governor told me to give you this. He says he is sorry about your dog, and will you call it square?"

Here the chauffeur handed the tramp a new $5 bill, and then retraced his steps to the waiting car.

The tramp stared speechless for a moment at the money; then as he stowed it safely in his pocket he turned to the still figure in the road and remarked: "Poor doggie! I wonder who he belonged to?"
