OKLAHOMA PIE GIRL A LOSER

ENID CHAMPION HELPS JUDGES OUT BY DECLARING HERSELF DEFEATED

SHE ADMITTED IT "RAN OVER"

Anyhow Her Friends Admit Creations Are Good Enough for Them

Enid, Okla.—Miss Ressie Warrenberg of Enid claims the pie baking championship of Oklahoma. She goes still further and claims the championship in this intricate art in Kansas and Texas also.

At that, the Oklahoma daughter was not badly beaten. The judges, three of them, gave Mrs. Cummings and Miss Warrenberg two points, Mrs. Cummings winning on quality baking and Miss Warrenberg earning her points on flavor and time.

Here is Miss Warrenberg's recipe for pie crust. Two cups flour. One teaspoonful salt. Two thirds cup lard. Ice water to moisten to the proper consistency for rolling.

NEGROES ACCUSED OF DIGGING INTO GRAVE CLOSED 61 YEARS

For Years Blacks at Gloster, Miss., Have Heard of Treasure in Coffin.

Gloster, Miss.—Charged with digging into the grave and breaking the glass in the coffin in which Dr. T. M. Rogers was buried 61 years ago, five negroes have been arrested here.

Woman 100, Walks Nine Miles English, Ind.—Mrs. Mary Hobbs, who is 100 years old, residing at Birds eye, fifteen miles west of English, a few days ago walked from her home to that of her daughter at Doolittle Mills, a distance of nine miles.

BUGS FOR SALE HERE; STEP RIGHT IN, PLEASE

Sow Bugs, Squash Bugs, Moppers, Buzzers, Toads, Flies, Boll Weevils—Germs a Specialty.

To talk without technicality, at this new store you can buy big, fat jelly fish at 25 cents to $1.50 each.

One customer, evidently a lover of variety, has a standing order for a dozen of everything in stock. Of course, it must be understood that the Southern Biological Supply Company caters only to the scientific trade.

Germs living in stagnant water, are somewhat of a specialty with Mr. Viosca. Healthy varieties he sells at $1 per bottle, for which there is a great demand.

Nearly every season Mr. Viosca ships in the aggregate at least one solid carload of his special make of bugs, snakes, toads, germs, flies—every variety of animal life.

The orders nearly all come in about the end of the school term, and Mr. Viosca spends his summer in the swamps collecting materials to fill orders.

BROTHER TOM WASN'T A TIGHTWAD

He Didn't Know That the Man He Found Sleeping on His Lawn Was Brother John

Oklahoma City, Ok.—John McElwain came here from California to visit his brother, Thomas, whom he had not seen for 20 years.

John will hereafter have his choice of a bed in the house or on the sleeping porch.

IMPROVES LOW GRADE COTTON

Bierne Gordon Jr., formerly of Huntsville, Ala., at present superintendent of a cotton mill at Utica, N. Y., has invented an attachment for cotton cards which is attracting much attention among manufacturers of cotton textiles.

"DOCTOR SAM" LIVES' ALL ALONE ON FARM; HAPPY!

His Little Home Contains Many Articles That Hark Back to Days of the Stage Coach.

Windsor, Vt.—The day of the alchemist on the back streets of the cities are probably gone, but the unusual continues to keep abreast of its record in the country districts.

The doctor never served an apprenticeship to the printer's trade but he is a very careful compositor and better than the average man on the job press, so that the work turned out by him would pass as that of a finished craftsman.

The once well tilled farm of his antecedents no longer shows the touch of the plow. It is all meadow land now but looks all the more in harmony with the spirit of leaving nature alone that seems to pervade the surroundings.

It is the metaphysical that interests this retired doctor now. He completed a book in the year 1908 called the "Philosophy of the Great Unconscious."

Dr. Stevens is a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania in the class of 1871, practiced in Vermont and in Iowa, and is still a registered pharmacist.

The old home farm where this man lives has been christened as "Spring Lodge." Perhaps it gets its name from the spring water that is a short way from the house.

Dr. Stevens never married to which fact he attributes his ability as a housekeeper and cook. He can cook skillfully and his house betrays no sign of masculine neglect.

WRITER OF FATHER BALLAD IS DEAD

Fred Helf Told of Everybody Working but My Old Man.

New York—J. Fred Helf, popular song writer is dead. For almost a quarter of a century Helf's songs written in ballad form, were sung the country over.

Another Helf song, "Everybody Works but Father," was translated into many languages and sung both in Europe and America.

Everybody works but father, He sits around all day, His feet in front of the fire, Smoking his pipe of clay;

Some music is given out by the choir but the drummer dispenses it by the pound.

MANY HEROES SLEEP IN OLD CHEROKEE CEMETERY

Officers and Soldiers Who Helped Make 19th Century History at Rest in Oklahoma.

Park Hill, Ok.—For many years there was a United States national cemetery near the center of the Cherokee nation of Indian Territory, and now that the great tract of country once occupied by that nation has become a portion of the State of Oklahoma this old cemetery is the only one of its kind in the state.

Fort Gibson was established by the noted frontier officer, Col. Matthew Arbuckle, in 1824. During the eventful years since its establishment as the second military post of the United States west of the Mississippi River many noted officers of the army have been stationed at this fort.

In 1832 Second Lieutenant Jefferson Davis of the Dragoons was among the young officers of the post. The noted Capt. Thomas Henry, a turbulent and notorious officer was cashiered at Fort Gibson in the 50's, and joining Walker's expedition to Honduras, was fatally wounded by a comrade in a personal difficulty.

Buried in the officers circle at the foot of the flagstaff is Maj. J. H. Elliott who was killed at Custer's battle of the Washita in 1868. Lieut. Lewis McLane Hamilton, a grandson of Alexander Hamilton, was also slain in this battle.

A brown sandstone slab bears the name of John P. Decatur, a brother of Commodore Stephen Decatur, who died at Fort Gibson in 1832. John P. Decatur is said to have been connected with the quartermaster's department.

Near-by is the monument of Samuel H. Benge, who was a Cherokee Indian and an officer in the volunteer army in the Civil War. Another grave not far from this one is that of "Talhina," alleged to have been the Cherokee wife of Gen. Sam Houston, the liberator of Texas.

While it is true he was enamored of a beautiful woman of mixed white and Cherokee blood her name was Diana Rogers and she died early in the 40's and was buried on the banks of picturesque Flower Creek, several miles north of Fort Gibson.

There are more than 2,500 persons buried in the cemetery and about three fourths of them are men of Cherokee blood for when the Civil War came up three regiments of Cherokees were enlisted and took part in the conflict.

Among the noted officers of Cherokee blood were Col. Lewis Downing afterward principal chief of the Cherokee nation; Capt. Thomas Peggs, Capt. James Vern, Capt. White Catcher and Samuel H. Benge, a noted orator.

The cemetery is a beautiful place, surrounded by a massive stone wall and shaded by large and splendid trees. It is about one and one half miles east of the old fort which was abandoned some years ago, after having been in charge of men like Colonel Arbuckle, Colonel Loomis, Col. Benjamin N. Grierson, Col. John J. Coplinger and others.

DROPS CASH IN MAIL SLOT

Pursued Man Saves His Money From Robbers

Centralia, Kas.—Hounds Le Strange of Eldadstone is thankful a self addressed and stamped envelope prevented highwaymen from robbing him of $600. Le Strange went to Philadelphia and procured that amount in $100 notes, with which to make a payment upon his store property.

A moment later the men closed in on him and while one thrust a revolver in his face the other searched him. Some small change was all they found and they permitted him to go on his way. Le Strange was at the Post Office early the next morning and received his valuable letter.
