The Crops in Michigan

Monthly Review Given by the Secretary of State.

Lansing, Mich., April 7, 1916.
WHEAT—The condition of wheat on April first in the State was 78, in the southern counties 73, in the central counties 82, in the northern counties 89 and in the Upper Peninsula 98. The condition one year ago was in the State and southern counties 86, in the central and northern counties 85 and in the Upper Peninsula 94.

The average depth of snow on March 15th in the State was 5.32 inches, in the southern counties 1.41, in the central counties 4.53, in the northern counties 13.34 and in the Upper Peninsula 23.35 inches.

On March 29th the average depth of snow in the State was 1.42, in the central counties 0.05, in the northern counties 2.85 and in the Upper Peninsula 17.75 inches.

The number of days protection to wheat by snow, in the State was 16, in the southern counties 10, in the central counties 21, in the northern counties 26 and in the Upper Peninsula 30.

In answer to the question, "Has wheat during March suffered injury from any cause?" 194 correspondents in the southern counties answer "Yes" and 51 "No," in the central counties 29 answer "Yes" and 65 "No," in the northern counties 4 answer "Yes" and 78 "No," and in the Upper Peninsula 20 answer "No."

The total number of bushels of wheat marketed by farmers in March at 60 flouring mills is 49,710 and at 82 elevators and grain dealers 61,891 or a total of 111,601 bushels. Of this amount 75,214 bushels were marketed in the southern four tiers of counties, 22,284 in the central counties and 4,906 in the northern counties and Upper Peninsula.

The estimated total number of bushels of wheat marketed in the eight months, August-March, is 7,000,000. Fifty-five mills, elevators and grain dealers report no wheat marketed in March.

RYE—The average condition of rye in the State is 84, in the southern counties 80, in the central counties 88, in the northern counties 91 and in the Upper Peninsula 99. One year ago the condition in the State and southern counties was 90, in the central and northern counties 89 and in the Upper Peninsula 98.

MEADOWS—The average condition of meadows in the State is 89, in the southern counties 87, in the central counties 90, in the northern counties 94 and in the Upper Peninsula 101. The condition in the State one year ago was 88, in the southern counties 86, in the central counties 87, in the northern counties 91 and in the Upper Peninsula 98.

LIVE STOCK—The average condition of horses and cattle in the State is 95, sheep and swine 94.

FRUIT—Fruit correspondents throughout the State report that the winter has been very favorable for fruit and that present prospects are above the average. The following table shows the prospect for an average crop of the various kinds of fruit in the State and the different sections.

	Southern Counties.	Northern Counties.
Apples	84	91
Pears	81	85
Peaches	76	84
Plums	81	88
Cherries	85	92
Small fruit	87	88

In regard to the question "what per cent. of orchards are being sprayed?" correspondents report 44 in the State, 48 in the southern counties, 33 in the central counties, 45 in the northern counties and 12 in the Upper Peninsula.

COLEMAN C. VAUGHAN,
 Secretary of State.

Woman's Ingenious Handbag Seat

With a woman's ingenuity, Kathline V. Minehart of Philadelphia has patented No. 1, 140,997, a hand bag composed of two similar sections hinged together at one end, to form the bottom of the bag and connected at their edges by the flexible sides of the bag of such size as to permit the bag to be opened, so that one of its similar sections may serve as a seat, and the other as a back rest for a person sitting on the seat, when the latter is flat on the ground or other support.

COMBINED AGES OF TEN MEN IS 760 YEARS

Birthday Party at Wm. Harrington's Where Ripe Old Age Predominates.

In honor of William Harrington's birthday anniversary last Tuesday nineteen members of the G. A. R. and W. R. C. gathered at his home on the West Side to assist him in celebrating the event. Of the gathering assembled there were nine ladies whose combined ages amounted to 599 years, and the ages of ten Grand Army veterans present amounted to 760 years. It is against newspaper propriety to venture on the delicate subject of a lady's age, so only a list of the gentlemen follow:

- Fowley Steel... aged 83 years
- L. C. Madison... aged 76 years
- George Bowen... aged 77 years
- John Cummins... aged 73 years
- James Handy... aged 74 years
- J. W. Rogers... aged 79 years
- Frank Smith... aged 73 years
- George Pringle... aged 73 years
- Aldrich Townsend... 79 years
- William Harrington... 70 years

The event was a pleasant affair, and the afternoon's dinner was established by several of the host's poultry that had insisted on bothering the neighbors.

ELBERT BEDE SAYS

Senator Clapp of Minnesota may be just the encore.

Kissing is said to spread the grip.

Kissing does not quiet a grip on us.

After an automobile turns turtle it does not travel as fast as it did before.

The man of 80 hasn't much sympathy for the man of 45 who talks about getting old.

The folks who are looking forward to the end of the world are going to injure their eyes.

When we hear a person say that he always calls a spade a spade, we feel like saying, "O, Shovel!"

Sometimes we suspicion that a woman's tears are for the purpose of getting a chance to laugh at us.

The man who talks about flying machines these days is no longer accused of having a flight of fancy.

The trouble of doing a favor sometimes is that others will consider that you have done them a wrong.

The easiest way to swindle a man is to tell him he is capable of certain great things when he knows it is a doggone lie.

Sometimes a man thinks he is making a noise that should impress the world, while those who watch him wonder what he is making such a face about.

A girl in skin tights on the stage doesn't attract as much attention as she would on the street the next day in full dress holding her skirts a foot too high.

About the worst pessimist in the world for the time being is the little boy who has been shown a cord of wood which he must saw and split during vacation.

Uncle Sam trying to act as a peace intermediary at the present time would probably be in about the same position as the umpire in a ball game between two home teams.

A person shouldn't be considered a pessimist merely because he finds that the opposing administration has done everything wrong, nor an optimist because he can see nothing wrong in the action of the members of his own party.

History of the Week as it Isn't

Monday, Apr. 10.—T. DeWitt Talmadge invents Pinocle, 1867.

Tuesday, Apr. 11.—Michael Angelo paints a life size portrait of Andrew Carnegie, 1602.

Wednesday, Apr. 12.—Emperor William forbids the Crown Prince playing with a pop-gun, 1870.

Thursday, Apr. 13.—Rameses II poses for Charles Dana Gibson, 1916.

Friday, Apr. 14.—Robert Fulton talks across the continent, through the telephone, about his steamboat invention, 1790.

Saturday, Apr. 15.—Ivan the Terrible, of Russia, weeps over the tomb of Napoleon, in Paris, 1800.

Sunday, Apr. 16.—Sir Joshua Reynolds assists the Queen of Italy in the composing of "Carmen," 1799.

In Agreement

The milkman was new to his job and lacked the wisdom of more experienced members of the species.

"It looks like rain this morning, m'm," he said, pleasantly, gazing skyward, as he poured the milk into his customer's jug. "It always does," said the customer.

Boost for East Jordan and Michigan

When you buy goods at home you have the opportunity of seeing what you are buying and if everything is not just right the difficulty can be adjusted promptly and satisfactorily without expense or loss of time.

It is to be regretted that occasionally a merchant is shortsighted and does not appear willing to render the right kind of service to his patrons. Such a policy is inexcusable and such merchants are a disgrace to their community and a hindrance to their town.

BUT! There are also altogether too many consumers who are running bills from thirty days to one year at their dealer's expense and annoyance, often times forcing him into bankruptcy, and during that same period are sending hundreds of miles away without even giving the local man an opportunity to bid upon the order.

There is not a drop of red blood in such an individual's veins or a spark of patriotism in his make-up. His community would be better off without him.

We once heard a man excuse himself for ordering goods of a mail-order house in another state by saying that the local dealer was holding him up, yet upon investigation learned his dealer was worth only a few hundred dollars while the mail-order house was worth several millions, so evidently had not held up as many as the other fellow.

We ascertained by asking a few questions that this particular person had run a bill with his dealer for over six months and yet was complaining because the merchant could not quote him as low a price on a small order on a six month's credit basis as the mail-order house would on a good sized order, cash in advance. The home merchant was a tax-payer and a part of the town that made this party's property more valuable while the mail-order house never paid a dollar's worth of taxes in Michigan, but on the other hand was drawing upon the resources of the town and the State, making them poorer instead of richer.

Shame on any person who would even listen to such an argument without making a protest. Shame on the fellow who makes it a hundred times more.

Michigan folks should get together and work hand in hand for the advancement of their own prosperity. Common sense teaches it is the proper thing to do.

MICHIGAN MERCHANTS AND MICHIGAN PEOPLE GIVE EACH OTHER A FAIR SHOW—BOOST MICHIGAN.

REMOVAL NOTICE

Owing to the ill health of my father he has decided to have me take charge of the Men's and Boy's clothing and furnishings department of his store.

I will endeavor to give to the people of this community the best service that I am capable of in my new capacity.

I wish to thank my many friends who traded with me in "The Toggery" for their past favors and hope to give them even better service in my new field.

We will continue to handle the same good lines only in a greater range and variety. Our aim will be to give the best at the lowest price possible.

Again thanking you for your past patronage and hoping that I may continue to serve you I am always at your service.

MOSES WEISMAN.

Commission Proceedings.

Special meeting of the City Commission held at the commission rooms, Wednesday, March 29, 1916.

Meeting was called to order by Mayor Cross. Present—Cross, Gidley and Lancaster. Minutes were not read.

The petition of Geo. Spencer asking the Commission to appoint a member of an arbitration board to determine the extent of damage by fire to his building at the corner of Main and Williams streets, according to the provisions of ordinance No. 40, was placed on file.

In accordance with the provisions of said ordinance No. 40, the Mayor appointed H. I. McMillan as the city's member of said board and on motion by Gidley the appointment was confirmed.

On motion by Lancaster meeting was adjourned.

Regular meeting of the City Commission held at the commission rooms, Monday evening, Apr. 3rd, 1916.

Absent—Cross, Gidley and Lancaster. No quorum being present, meeting was adjourned.

OTIS J. SMITH,
 City Clerk.

A Delightful Desert

Is well worth getting acquainted with because it will serve a company of 30 people at a cost of sixty cents. It requires one quart of milk, one pint of cream, two cups of sugar, one pound of dates, and the juices of one lemon and one orange. Wash and chop dates and blend with the milk, then add cream, sugar and lastly the fruit juices. Pack in ice and salt and freeze. Could anything be simpler?

If a married man ever becomes truly great his wife nearly always assumes the responsibility for it.

ALONG THE FIRING LINE

Democratic State Committee of New Jersey would as soon be hanged for an old sheep as a lamb. At its recent meeting, not content with endorsing Wilson, the Committee went on record in approval of the Underwood Tariff Bill which is declared to have "substantially contributed toward the promotion of vastly improved times which are observable on every hand." We hereby offer a prize of one large red apple for each and every instance of "vastly improved times" to which the Underwood tariff has "substantially contributed."

Debating the Shields water power bill in the Senate, Mr. Nowlands of Nevada tried—and succeeded—to demonstrate that the Democratic majority in Congress has persistently legislated in defiance of the platform pledges of its party. This is not in the nature of the news, nor was it really illuminating to the debate. But it is refreshing to have an eminent Democrat stand up in either branch of Congress to admit it. The Nevada statesman was not content with showing that his party had violated the pledges of its platform of four years ago, but he quoted from earlier Democratic platforms to show that violation of campaign pledges is a Democratic habit. Fortunately, the country has no intention of giving the Democrats further opportunity to display their tendency in this direction.

Nebraska's Secretary of State has turned down a complaint that Bryan is not entitled to enter the Democratic primaries because he is not a Democrat so far, so good. Now that it has been officially determined that Bryan is a Democrat, cannot some method be devised to determine whether he is a Wilson man?

Dr. Wiley says he prescribed sugar for the Harvard football team and Yale has not won a game since. Yet the prescription of sugar which Woodrow Wilson's administration has just had to take will not have the same effect.

Every schoolboy knows the axiom, "The whole is equal to the sum of its parts." But Mr. Underwood evidently forgot his boyhood training when he drew his renowned "competitive" tariff bill. That measure provides for a ten per cent duty on cattle, and lets in free all the parts that make up cattle.

The importer of a live cow must pay the ten per cent ad valorem on Bossy, but the bones, hide, flesh, hoofs, blood, horns, milk and hair of cows are on the free list. The same inconsistency exists in certain provisions regarding machinery. Some machines pay duty, but all of their parts may be brought in free.

Did Mr. Underwood regard a cow or a steer as a piece of machinery—or what?

Having dilly-dallied and delayed consideration of legislation in every possible way, the Democrats in the Senate now plan to introduce a cloture rule to stifle debate, and Senator Gore is to introduce such a rule. This is for the purpose of relieving a congestion which has been caused by their own delays.

The rule will prevent such careful consideration of bills as might otherwise have been possible, and there has been no disposition on the part of Republicans to block legislation. This is a Democratic method of going about the country's business used chiefly on the House side—procrastinate, then cut off debate—but which appears to have found its way into the Senate. They threatened cloture at the beginning of the session, the plan was killed in their caucus, and again makes its appearance. Seasickness is the result of following the Democratic changes of mind.

Fort Scott, Kan., Republican—To save our face, we had better not ask Villa to salute the flag.

Washable Toys are the Safest

Childish ailments are often difficult to account for, and even doctors are puzzled at times. But in cases like this one medical man, with children of his own, always asks: "Where are the children's toys?"—Then often the problem is solved, and the case can easily be diagnosed as one of mild poisoning.

Most toys find their way into the children's mouths, the gaudy paint is sucked off, and trouble naturally follows. Some toys, wooden or tin trumpets, for example, have the paint actually on the mouthpiece or within an inch of it. India rubber toys are favorites, but they should be uncolored, as the paint becomes brittle, breaks off, and a piece may be swallowed and cause severe stomach trouble.

Washable toys are always the best.

"OBSERVATIONS"

By Our Man About Town

He was only a young man—surely not more than twenty-two or twenty-three years old, yet he was at once recognized as a "tramp."

He approached me while I was standing on the platform at the depot, and asked for a match. Given the match, he thanked me in such a way that I was agreeably surprised, and, seeing that he was not anxious to get away, I decided to work into a conversation with him and, if possible, learn for my own satisfaction just why he was a tramp.

"No," he answered me, "I do not consider myself a tramp, although I do look like one and I imagine that is what I am in the eyes of all I meet."

I told the young fellow that people now-a-days consider every idle, ragged stranger a tramp and asked how he had fallen into his misfortune if he did not wish himself to be classed with other tramps.

"Well, sir," he told me, I guess I have only myself to blame, but really I am not a bad sort. I left my little home town a few years ago and for a time worked in different cities. But I started traveling in the summer, found it pleasant, and it's a fact that 'tramping' as the world calls it is not such a hard lot. Of course I've been pretty hungry at times, and I've slept on bare floors, but I consider the experience worth it. I am getting to see the United States, and I probably never would have seen it had I stayed at my home town. I work now and then and very rarely have to beg. Sometime, and soon, I think, I am going to find work, prove myself capable, and climb to a respectable position."

Asked if he thought the average so-called tramp was like him he said he did not know, but that he imagined all of them rather liked it, as he, at least, had always been able to find work when he really wanted it.

Home Grown Daffydills

If you had been designing a new flag in colors, and found it would look better in black and white, would you use Pennon ink?

When a book is so bad that it gives you pain, why not have revenge by putting it on the rack?

If music were taught in the ocean, would it take long for a salmon to learn the fish scale?

Could a pair of black knitted gloves be called crow shade?

If a button was broken through the middle, could a needle and thread make the button whole?

Resolutions Passed by Our Fair Association

Whereas, The Supreme Ruler of the Universe has called to his final resting place, our beloved President, Herbert L. Olney, whose death occurred at Petoskey, Michigan, January 3rd, 1916, and

Whereas, in his death our Society has lost one of its best and most respected members; and Charlevoix County one of its finest citizens,

Therefore, Be It Resolved: By the Charlevoix County Agricultural Society, that we give expression of our appreciation of the long service of Mr. Olney to this Society and extend to his family our sincere and heartfelt sympathy. He has been a faithful and untiring officer and member for many years. His rugged honesty and strict integrity coupled with his prudent and sound judgement made his presence in the councils of the Society of inestimable value. As a man he was kind, courteous and considerate. As a friend he was as true as steel. His manly life will stand as an enduring monument to his memory and be an object lesson to all who knew, admired and loved him.

Resolved Further, that this Resolution be spread upon the records of this Society and a copy duly engrossed presented to the family of the deceased.

$10,000 GRIP KICKED AROUND

OWNER LOST IT FROM AUTO AND BAG WAS STORED IN HOTEL CLOSET

OWNER FOUND IT ONLY BY CHANCE

Heard of Farmer Who Picked Up Old Case and Then Traced It

Geneseo, Kas.—An old grip lost from a motor car while the owner was driving in Rice county, handed by a dozen persons and finally thrown into a dark closet in the Pacific Hotel here to await the call of its owner, has been restored to L. C. Rippey. He opened it in the presence of the landlady, who had kept it for him, the porter, who had thrown it into the rubbish heap, and the clerk, who had stumbled and fell over it before it was stored away. The eyes of the witnesses opened wide when they saw that the old grip was full of currency, the contents totaling more than $10,000. Rippey breathed a sigh of relief, turned to the man who had accompanied him and said:

"Now I'll pay you the rest of that farm before I lose it again."

Rippey lives at Ellis. He was to close the deal for a farm the afternoon he took the grip with him. The owner wanted the price in cash, refusing to take a check. So Rippey, fearing robbery, put the money in the worst worn grip he had, threw it into the back end of the car and left town. When he reached the farm the grip and $10,000 was missing. He immediately retraced the route, but the grip was gone.

Instead of reporting the matter to the police Rippey remained silent, believing he would have a better chance to recover his money. He made no inquiries.

The grip was found by a farmer, who took it to the hotel to await the call of its owner. It lay in a corner of the little office three days and nights—then was put in the store-room, and when that place became crowded was thrown into an unused closet, where it lay until Rippey called for it.

Meanwhile Rippey met the farmer who found the grip and was told of it. He drove to the hotel, and describing the old suit case, asked if it still was there. The porter remembered it and the Ellis man soon was in possession of the price of the farm he had bought. Rippey gave Mrs. W. O. Wilson, the landlady, $5 as storage charges on the small fortune.

KISS DOES NOT MEAN BETROTHAL

Opinion Given in Breach of Promise Suit of Spinster Against Los Angeles Doctor.

Los Angeles, Cal.—The meaning of a kiss—a real kiss and kisses on paper—was the determining factor in the $10,000 breach of promise suit brought by Miss Nellie C. May, a neat appearing spinster, against Dr. J. H. Johnson a physician 15 years her senior which was tried before Judge Taft.

The court didn't undertake to pass judgment on "What is a kiss?" or "Why is a kiss?" as defined by the two from the witness stand, but he did not find that a kiss, even when delivered and received by those who should be well past the age of idle flirtation does not necessarily mean the sealing of a marriage vow, and is not to be taken ipso facto, as evidence that a marriage vow exists. So he decided the case against Miss May.

Miss May said there had been an engagement. The doctor denied it. She said he had proposed and repeated the proposal many times for he had kissed her and sent her kisses by letter when he was on a trip in the Orient. "What did you mean by sending kisses to a woman if you did not intend to marry her?" asked Attorney Edward Diertch, for Miss May.

"Didn't you ever kiss a girl you did not intend to marry?" was the doctor's reply. "To me kisses are kisses, nothing more, and kisses on paper mean less. A kiss is a kiss—that's all."

SLAYS GRAY WOLF WITH CLUB

Animal Becomes Entangled in Woven Wire Fence.

Winston, Mo.—"A gun! My kingdom for a gun!" was the earnest wish of Robert Calhoun of near this place, a few days ago, when he saw a large gray wolf running across a pasture and quite near him.

While Calhoun was regretting that he was unarmed, he saw the animal make a spring to clear the fence. And then the strange thing happened. In stead of jumping the fence the wolf landed across it and became entangled in the woven wire. As it vainly struggled to extricate itself, Calhoun seized a club from the roadway, rushed upon the animal and soon dispatched it.

Built Wall at 84.

Centralla, Kas.—If a man is as old as he feels Eli Avery must be about 40 years younger than the 84 years the family Bible says he is. He has built a cement retaining wall 80 feet long and 4 feet high around his residence property at Gott.

FIRING MAN'S FOOT PROVES POOR JOKE

Supreme Tribunal Frowns on Bartender's Fun with Customer.

St. Paul, Minn.—The official frown of the Supreme Court was placed on the didoes or out-ups of the old style played in saloons such as setting fire to papers under a sleepy patron's chair and playing jokes unsuspecting patrons when such caprices work an injury.

When a bartender plays a trick on a guest and injury results the saloon keeper can be sued for damages, according to an opinion of the court. The case originated at Ranier, James Brennan owned a saloon. He had given a bond to keep a quiet and orderly place. The American Surety Company stood sponsor for the bond. William Tracy was a bartender.

According to complaint filed by John Lynch, formerly foreman of a gang of men on the Canadian Northern Railway, he was in the saloon keeping quiet on Sunday, June 4, 1911. Lynch alleged that while he was sitting in the place, Tracy, the bartender, poured alcohol on his foot and set fire to it, with the result that Lynch was injured and laid up for some time. He started suit for $2000.

The defendants in the action, the saloonkeeper and the American Surety Company demurred. Their contentions were overruled and the case was appealed with the result that the Supreme Court affirmed the order of the lower court and the case will go to trial.

The case hinged mostly on the meaning of "quiet and orderly."

The syllabus follows:

1. Under Chapter 246, Laws 1905, G. S. 1913, Section 3117, both the principal and surety on a saloon keeper's bond are liable for any damage proximately caused by any act which is a violation of the conditions of the bond.

2. Where the person in charge of a saloon pours alcohol upon a guest and then sets fire to him there is a violation of the condition of the bond that the licensee will keep a quiet and orderly house.

3. It is not necessary to a violation of this condition that the licensee shall be guilty of the statutory crime of keeping a disorderly house. That crime involves habitual or repeated acts of disorder, not necessary to a breach of the bond.

4. The six-year limitation of actions applies to a cause of action on such a bond.

Order affirmed. The opinion was written by Justice Hallam.

SEVENTY YEAR OLD MAN GETS ENTIRE NEW FACE

For 47 Years Unable to Close Eyes—Sight Now Ruined by Alaskan Lights

Port Angeles, Wash.—John Watson 70 years old, who has traveled all over the world and who for forty-seven years could not close his eyes because he was without eyelids, has had his face remodeled. The new face, which is his third one, includes a perfect set of eyelids and changes his appearance to such an extent that his old friends here did not recognize him when he landed for a visit this week.

Watson has been around the world twice and has tried the life of a pioneer in the wildest parts of the North American continent. Most of his adventures took place during the forty-seven years between the disfigurement of his face by an accident and the coming into the possession of a fortune he inherited some time ago. During this time he was known as the man who couldn't close his eyes.

At the age of 20 years at his home in Indianola, Iowa, the explosion of a can of asphaltum varnish tore away much of the flesh of his face and destroyed his eyelids, altho his sight was not injured. With a badly disfigured face he started out in the world and blazed trails thru Montana, the Northwest and Alaska.

Sleep was almost impossible for him. "At first my sleep was limited to brief, fretful periods," he said, "but as time went on I would drop into slumber staring straight ahead in the darkness. I could see things in the dark probably more clearly than any one else could."

In the far north the summers with practically no darkness, almost ruined his vision, and he returned to Seattle. He was without means and for years drifted around the country. Some time ago a rich relative left him a fortune. Watson went to a Philadelphia surgeon, who removed pieces of skin from various parts of his body and grafted them upon his face, restoring it to a nearly normal appearance. At the same time the surgeon, from other pieces of skin, skillfully fashioned him a new set of eyelids, the artificiality of which can hardly be detected.

Strong Deserve the Fair.

San Francisco, Cal.—"To the strong the fair," commented Judge Morgan in granting a divorce to Duke R. Lee, a strong man in a circus, from Elizabeth Lee, a bareback rider.

Lee testified he was married in New York in 1911. Shortly afterward he said, his wife became acquainted with Lee Sampson, who, he admitted, was stronger than he and was, in fact, second to none but the Biblical Sampson.

"As soon as she discovered that Sampson was stronger than I she left me for him," said Lee. "She is still with him."

LITTLE RED ROCK SOLD FOR $32,000

Cowboy Says He Chanced to Pick It Up in Draw One Day.

Omaha, Neb.—How A. C. Olson, a well known young horseman of Pine Bluffs found $32,500, is related in a letter written to the Bee by P. G. Rosa of Buffalo, N. Y.

Mr. Rosa states that he was returning from the San Francisco fair when a cowboy boarded the train at Sidney, Neb. This cowboy proved to be an old friend, whom he had first met in Weiser, Idaho, when but 14 years old. Rosa was in the smoking car talking with a New York precious stone dealer when Olson boarded the train and took a seat opposite. They recognized each other. The letter continues:

"Olson pulled out a bottle of beer and while searching his pockets for an opener pulled out a shingle nail, two small stones and one large red-looking stone. Brown, the precious stone dealer looked at it carefully, and asked what he called it.

"Oh, it's just a little red stone I chanced to pick up in a draw one day said Olson.

"Brown asked what he was going to do with it, and Olson said he was going to have it mounted and present it to a friend.

"Well, what'll you take for it?" asked Brown.

"Oh, I don't care to sell it," said Olson.

"They dickered for a while and finally Brown said:

"I'll give you $10,000 for it."

"Well, Mr. Olson came near fainting right there. You could have knocked his eyes off with a stick, and he reached for the little red stone, looking at it for a while.

Finally Brown said, "well are you going to sell?"

Mr. Olson studied a while and then said, "What is the best you will give?"

"And finally, after parleying till we were near North Platte, Neb., Brown had come to $30,000.

"Wanting to go to bed," said Olson, "I'll take $35,000."

Brown said, "No, it's more than I'll give," and left the car, but soon returned and offered $32,500, and they finally came to an agreement, after Brown had promised to cut two small stones out and mount them.

I asked Olson what he was going to do with the money.

"Well," he said, "I'll go home in a couple of weeks, pay my debts, buy some more calves and start a new business that I have always wanted to go into since I was a boy."

ENOUGH TO KILL 40 PERSONS

San Francisco "Fiend" Requires 30 Times as Much Dope as Ordinary Habitual.

San Francisco, Cal.—Twenty grains of cocaine and morphine a day.

Enough to kill 40 men.

And 80 times the amount the average dope fiend consumes.

Fifteen years at it, too.

This is the human dope marvel found by the State Board of Pharmacy in its combing of the San Francisco underworld.

"Dopey Phil" Harris is his name. Thirty-four years his age and healthy and robust looking at that. The pharmacy board officials confess themselves dumbfounded.

"This man is a marvel," said Secretary Zeh of the pharmacy board today. "He consumes enough dope every day to kill 40 average men. He requires 80 times as much hop as an ordinary drug user consumes. Yet to look at him you'd think he had lived all his life on some baby's malted milk. Take the dope away from him, though, for 48 hours and he would die in the next 24.

BALDHEADS NEVER INSANE

Wisconsin Doctor Gives Grain of Comfort to Hairless Men.

Monroe, Wis.—Here is a grain of comfort for the baldheaded men. No matter to what extent they are compelled to bear the ridicule of their friends because of their shining domes the fact that it is falling out is a guarantee they will never be inmates of an insane asylum. So says Dr. Robert B. Clark who has made a lifelong study of insanity.

"I have examined several hundred patients as to their sanity," said Dr. Clark. "I have had the opportunity of studying many hundreds of others, and in all my experience I have yet with a single exception to see an insane man who was baldheaded." Asked why, the doctor declared himself entirely in the dark.

Twins Return With Riches

Milwaukee, Wis.—With less than a dollar between them the Poppert twins—Oscar and Walter—left Milwaukee fifteen years ago to seek their fortune in the Klondike.

A few days ago they returned as owners of mining property in Alaska said to be worth several hundred thousand dollars. They are visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Poppert 394 Twenty-seventh avenue.

The adventures of the Poppert twins rival those read about in the wildest of Alaskan tales. The first years in the North were spent in "whaling" on rickety vessels, their cruises taking them to Siberia, China, Japan and the Hawaiian Islands. Later they herded cattle and finally, with a team of dogs, set out for the interior of Alaska.

The men are now known as the most daring explorers in the Arctic region.

Warning To Auto Owners and Chauffeurs

The State authorities have notified the Prosecuting Attorney that all auto owners and chauffeurs must have taken out their State 1916 licenses on or before April 15, 1916. Any one found driving a car under the old license after that date will be prosecuted. Local authorities have been notified to this effect and no exceptions will be made. If auto owners do not have the new license by April 15th they must keep their cars in their garages to avoid arrest.

There's Individuality in a G-D Justrite

THE DISTINCTIVE note of individuality of a G-D Justrite corset is reflected in the perfect fit of the costume. Discriminating women are wearing G-D Justrite corsets because they have found they give to their figures the needed outline for the present modes.

The new G-D Justrite models portray the latest and most advanced ideas in corset design and construction.

IT'S THE DESIGNING THAT GIVES TO G-D Justrite CORSETS

The ability of a G-D Justrite corset, back laced or front laced, to mould your figure into pleasing lines, lies in its designing and perfect fitting qualities.

To choose your corset with the idea of what it will do for your figure, should be your aim.

Get the Habit of Drinking Hot Water Before Breakfast

Says we can't look or feel right with the system full of poisons.

Millions of folks bathe internally now instead of loading their system with drugs. "What's an inside bath?" you say. Well, it is guaranteed to perform miracles. If you could believe these hot water enthusiasts...

There are vast numbers of men and women who, immediately upon arising in the morning, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This is a very excellent health measure. It is intended to flush the stomach, liver, kidneys and the thirty feet of intestines of the previous day's waste, sour bile and indigestible material left over in the body which if not eliminated every day, become food for the millions of bacteria which infest the bowels...

SHARKS BITE? THEY'RE AFRAID, HAWAIIANS CLAIM

Why, One Native Drummer Actually Rides Astride of 'Em as He Slashes With Deadly Knife.

Honolulu, Hawaii.—South Sea fishermen have branded the shark story as a myth, made up by authors of adventure stories.

They say there is no such thing as a man eating shark.

There is "Dudley" Miller for instance. Every one in the South Pacific knows "Dudley" Miller of Honolulu.

Recently he dangled naked in the tide, hanging in a life preserver in 100 fathoms of water, spearing fish. A 14 foot shark began circling him, attracted by dead fish the man carried in a sack strapped to his waist.

"I want to show you something," said Miller, summoning two canoe-men. They watched the man eater sweep around the fisherman poised in his life belt.

"Dudley" merely laughed. The canoe-men lifted him from the water and deposited him again 100 yards away. And there the fisherman and the shark hobnobbed all afternoon.

Kahia Moe, maker of Hula drums, is another of these myth shatters.

Kahia Moe, a native Hawaiian, stretches shark skin across his far-famed dance drums. And to make them properly resonant, as well as to consecrate them fittingly, the shark, "must be slain in mortal combat," he maintains.

And so Kahia Moe kills his shark in the water, with a knife, slitting the pallid belly with a dexterous slash. He has dispatched hundreds of this kind of "mortal combat." And he speaks of them as cowards.

David Mahu is an expert killer. When the water is low he leaps into the Pakule and rides sharks, straddling them with his naked limbs.

"Shark attack living men?" chuckles David Mahu. "It is a joke! They are even afraid to bite a dead horse until they're almost gone with hunger!"

HIT BY FIVE BULLETS

Leadén Pellets From Revolver Strike His Breast But Leave Only Slight Bruises.

Atlanta, Ga.—A. W. Villard, 33 years old, signal operator of engine house No. 1, is apparently bullet proof. This was most convincingly demonstrated when W. S. Bacon, Jr., 36 years old, went to work at an Atlanta paper, fired five 32 caliber bullets into Villard from a revolver held a few inches from his body.

The shooting occurred in the Empire Life building, where Villard said he found Bacon in an office with Mrs. Villard, his wife, from whom the fireman had been separated for some time.

When Bacon started shooting at Villard, the latter was very close to the gun. Bacon fired at Villard's chest; the latter, said Bacon, instead of dropping to the floor, cursed him; Bacon fired again, and he said, Villard cursed him again. This performance was repeated five times.

Then Bacon stood with the smoking, empty revolver in his hand, while Villard, somewhat dazed and confused from loud noise of the gun and the thumping shock of the five leaden pellets striking against his chest, reached down and picked up two of the bullets which hit him.

Later Villard picked out the other three bullets from against his skin, where they lodged harmlessly, leaving nothing more serious than blue bruises.

The police could not assign any reason for the bullets not taking fatal effect upon Villard, except that at the time Villard was wearing a heavy coat and overcoat.

Mrs. Villard, her husband declared, formerly worked for Bacon as a stenographer, and for about a year had been "going with" Bacon. For a long time Villard and wife have been living apart. He said he began to suspect recently that she was still going with Bacon. So, on the afternoon of the shooting he followed Bacon to the Empire Life Building, and then up into the building and to an office of a friend of Bacon's, where the shooting occurred.

BOOK MADE HIM "MR. HYDE"

Frightener of Girls Blames Stevenson's Tale.

Elizabeth, N. J.—After having terrorized more than a score of young girls and women upon the streets, Loring Cross, college graduate and member of a prominent New England family was arrested. After he was identified by a dozen girls from Battin High School Cross told Chief of Police Michael Mulcahey that he had been seized with a mania to frighten girls and women into a state of terror after he had read Robert Louis Stevenson's "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde."

"It was soon after leaving college at Haverford, Pa., that I read Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde," Cross is said to have told Chief Mulcahey. "The book completely transformed me. When I attempted to overcome my nocturnal wanderings, which left trails of terror-stricken girls I was helpless. I never felt any desire to offer harm to any living person. When seized with the mania I could not sleep or remain in my room. During the day when my Dr. Jekyll nature was in power I shuddered at what I had done and actually prayed for strength to prevent the return of Hyde."

Cross has lived in Elizabeth since last November. He was employed as an engraver in New York City.

TRAIN INSANE IS NEW MOVEMENT

PHYSICIANS AND NURSES ADOPT SYSTEM AT PHILADELPHIA GENERAL HOSPITAL

TO SELL THE WORK OF PATIENTS

Instructor of Handicrafts Gives Regular Lessons to the Unfortunates

Philadelphia, Pa.—One of the most encouraging movements within the walls of the Philadelphia General Hospital at Brockley is the movement for the training of the insane. While this is being taken up by the physician and nurses in charge, and while insane patients are being given, under the supervision of Miss M. E. Turner, supervisor of the woman's department, a new vision of life and a new opportunity for forgetting their maladies, great credit for the occupational work done in the insane department is due to the Association for the employment of the insane.

The association will hold a sale of patients' work at 115 South Thirteenth street, which will demonstrate the capacity of the insane for artistic achievement. The work includes many varieties of handicrafts, embroideries, basket weaving, matmaking and kindred occupations, the introduction of which have completely changed the patients' outlook upon life, and has proved the immense value in maintaining discipline in the hospital.

So thoroughly have the physicians in charge of the insane department appreciated the value of the occupational training for patients that they have encouraged the association to employ an instructor of handicrafts, who gives regular attention to the work.

Miss S. Lillian Clayton, chief nurse of the hospital says in a letter that has been sent out to members of the association and deals with the tremendous advantage of the work, that it has roused a spirit of anticipation among the patients; that they forget their pains, fancied or real; that they talk of their work and plan for it, and have become so absorbed that the new interest has brought life and interest into the wards where previously there was only deadly monotony.

While the work of the association dates back to 1896, it has taken on new aspect and become part of the socializing movement which is gradually taking hold within the walls of Brockley. Those in charge of the sale are particularly anxious that it should be a success, for the money realized will go toward carrying on the work during the coming year and providing funds for the monthly baths given to the patients.

MAN LOST SEEKING MINE

Prospector Insane from Suffering Thought Desert Sand Was Water

Prawley, Cal.—Losing himself in search for the lost "Peg Leg" mine, Henry Zimmerman, 50, of Alhambra, was found in the desert west of the Salton Sea, crazed from thirst and stumbling over the sands under the delusion that he was wading in water.

He was found by Tom Marshall of Brawley.

Marshall was on his way to Harper's Well for water and when eight miles this side came upon Zimmerman. The prospector was wild and delirious. He had removed his shoes and carried them in his hands. His trousers were rolled to his knees. His mouth was open and sand stuck to the thick lips where he had scooped handfuls thinking it water. Marshall gave him a sip of liquid from his canteen and took him to camp.

There Zimmerman was cared for and he had so far revived that his speech became rational. He talked but a short time when he lapsed again into unconsciousness. He said he and his partner were looking for gold, for the "Peg Leg" mine.

The story of the mine is that years ago a stump legged miner descended upon Los Angeles periodically and each time with a new supply of wealth. He jealously guarded the secret of his store and eluded those who sought to trace him.

In a brawl in a dance hall of those days, he was killed and ever since of forts have been made to find the lost mine. The common supposition is that it was in the superstitious Mountains west of the valley.

Zimmerman says he became separated from his partner, lost his bearings, and finally drank the last drop from his canteen. The partner returned to Rockwood a station north of here, and reported Zimmerman missing.

MAN OPERATED ON 131 TIMES

St. Louis, Mo.—Harry Smyth, 42 years old, is one of the most cheerful patients at the city hospital here; despite the fact that 311 surgical operations have been performed on him. Tuberculosis of the bones have made these operations necessary. Since childhood Smyth has passed most of his time in hospitals.

To occupy his time Smyth took up sewing and crocheting and he is now an expert with the needle. He is always good natured.

INDIANS RETAIN OLD NAMES

Picturesque Titles Brought to Light by Reservation Sale.

St. Paul, Minn.—That Indian names still possess their early strength and picturesque quality is shown by those which figured prominently in the recent sale of Indian lands in the Standing Rock Reservation in North and South Dakota.

An inspection of the list reveals such names as Kate Good Crow, whose nearest neighbor is Barney Two Bears Mary Yellow Fat adjoins Melda Crow-ghost while Mrs. Crazy Walking, on the southeast quarter of section 19-23-25, has probably reached the condition indicated by her name through being in the same section with Elk Ghost.

Mary Lean Dog rather envies Agatha Big Shield for her aristocratic name. In like manner, Jennie Dog Man and Mary Shave Head may be all too willing to assume on short notice the heroic name borne by Morris Thundersheld, heir apparent to Long Step Thundersheld.

Mrs. Did Not Butcher, judging from her name, is in no condition to supply the wants of her nearest neighbor, Mrs. Frosted Red Fish, who lives on a half section not far from Helen Difficult.

SEES HUMAN GROWTH CONTROL

Science May Dictate Size and Weight of the Race

Philadelphia—That science is on the threshold of discoveries which will make it possible to retard or hasten the growth of human beings was the statement made by Dr. M. W. Jacobs. He asserted that experiments with rats have proved that animals fed on certain proteins for extended periods maintain a constant weight, but as soon as other necessary constituents are added, growth is resumed. He cited one instance in which a rat was kept stunted for 532 days, an age corresponding to about 45 years in human life. By changing the diet growth was permitted to develop that would, normally have taken place in youth.

"We have it in our power," said Dr. Jacobs, "to say whether an animal shall do its growing in youth or old age or whether it shall have several periods of growth. This being true, it is not too much to expect that the ultimate outcome of such work will be the scientific control of the forces of organic growth even in human beings."

RECOVERS LONG LOST WATCH

Eighteen Years in Mill Race and Still Running

Penn Yan, N. Y.—One day eighteen years ago W. Henry Townsend, county superintendent of the poor, lost a watch from his pocket. He worked at two tasks that day—assisting in cleaning out a mill race and unloading straw. He searched the straw without finding the timepiece. The mill race was soon full of water so that further search could not be made.

A few days ago the race was cleaned out and a watch was found. Townsend examined it and found in it his old timepiece. It was in excellent condition after its long rest under the water.

One of the official's friends asked him if the watch was still running and Mr. Townsend gravely replied that it surely was. It was a stem-winder, he said and very likely the action of the swiftly running water kept it wound up all these years.

DISPLAYS HIS HAPPY FAMILY

Printing Firm's "Zoo" Proves Real Attraction.

Perry, Okla.—In the front show window of the Southern Printing Company's office here is a "Happy Family" that attracts the attention of hundreds of people. Living happily together and eating from the same dishes are many beautiful canary birds, guinea pigs of different kinds, squirrels, white and spotted rats, horny toads and a pair of beautiful Persian kittens. It is a sight worth looking at.

Back of the office is a garden of beautiful flowers and cages in which are tame possums, pet coons that will follow visitors around like dogs, over a hundred guinea pigs of many kinds pigeons and other birds and animals. "Wish you could all enjoy them with us" is the company's message to Blade readers.

COCKEREL STEALS DIAMOND

New London, Conn.—Lloyd Hallenbeck of Greendale, N. Y., had a diamond stolen from his scarf pin while acting as judge at a poultry show here, the thief being a cockerel in a pen of Rhode Island Reds on exhibition. Hallenbeck values the stone at $100.

The cockerel attracted by the sparkle of the gem as Hallenbeck stood close to the pen, removed the stone from its setting with a well directed jab of its beak and swallowed it.

As the owner of the diamond does not know which of the exhibits has his jewel it may be necessary to kill a number of them to find the right one a proceeding which, it is said, promises complications with the owner of the poultry.

There is an element of success in every man but it seldom begins to operate until some woman comes along and treads on his heels.

A man can usually manage to keep himself busy by attending strictly to his own business, but some men have a mania for working overtime.

HOME JOYS

The day is done and I desire a quiet evening by the fire, reclining in my easy chair, without a worry or a care. I have a corking book to read—what more, for comforts does one need?

I'm half way through with chapter one, in which the hero gets his gun, when wife remarks, "The fire is low, so, William Henry, kindly go out to the shed, with dauntless soul, and bring in forty kinds of coal. You ought to do such things indeed, before you seat yourself to read, and then you wouldn't have to rise with fury glowing in your eyes." I bring the coal and feed the fire, and try to hide my righteous ire, and stretch out in my cozy nook, to read once more that corking book. I've got to where the hero goes to throw the harpoon in his toes, who have abducted Mary Jane, a heroine both safe and sane, when comes my wife with fretful mien, and promptly queers that peaceful scene.

"The rain is falling," she remarks, "enough to float ten Noah's arks, and you had better go, old scout, and put the tub beneath the spout, so it will catch that precious juice, which is the best for laundry use. I told you just the other day, when you that washtub took a way, that you'd forge to put it back; so now go hunt around the shack, until you've raked it up again and put it where 'twill catch the rain."

I lay my treasured volume down, and, spring three adjectives, a noun, and gundry interjections, too, which make the atmosphere seem blue. And then into the storm I go, and wander grimly to and fro, until that dratted tub I've found, and dragged it my abode around. The rain runs down my swanlike neck, the mud converts me to a wreck, and when I've to my chair—returned, all kinds of language I have hurled.

The hero takes the villain's trail, and says, "I'll ride him on a rail." The book grows warmer as I read; now I'll enjoy myself, indeed. Alas, the chronic, dreary bore who has his residence next door, has come to talk about the war, and what the kings are scrapping for. He'll sit around and talk and talk until the striking of the clock proclaims the dawning of a day; I sign and put the book away.—By Walt Mason from Judge.

COMB SAGE TEA IN HAIR TO DARKEN IT

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Keep Her Locks Dark, Glossy, Beautiful.

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's recipe, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" for about 50 cents a bottle. It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive. This ready-to-use preparation is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire a more youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

DRUGS EXCITE YOUR KIDNEYS, USE SALTS

If your Back is aching or Bladder bothers, drink lots of water and eat less meat.

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean by flushing them with a mild, harmless salt which removes the body's urinous waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness. Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this, also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache.

RIFLE SHOOTING REALLY FINE ART

Wonderful Stories Told of Art of Kentucky and Tennessee Marksmen
Rochester, N. Y.—The current number of Recreation contains an interesting paper by Robert Lindsay Mason, which deals with the old time rifleman and rifles used by the Smoky Mountain men who lived in Kentucky and Tennessee in the days before the war, before well meaning but near sighted reformers had ordained legislative enactments that rifle shooting matches constituted gambling.

Mr. Mason tells a fascinating story of the achievements of these mountain riflemen. It was an era when lead for molding into bullets was equivalent to legal tender in the mountains, and the spent bullets were extracted carefully from the hardwood slab targets and formed portions of the prizes for the successful competitors. And, if the recreation writer is not relying upon uncertain tradition, or drawing on his imagination, the backwoodsman won their choice portions of the prize steer and the re-cooped bullets by firing at real targets. The description of the usual target is worthy of careful consideration by the riflemen of today, who are in training for shooting in defense of the nation, should occasion demand. This was the target which confronted the old time Smoky Mountain riflemen:

"The targets were clapboards charred black. Upon each of these was placed a white spot of the contestant's own selection, which served as a bull's eye. Every participant had his own method of centering" his shots. That is he chose his center upon his first shot if it was satisfactory. The main thing was to hit it thereafter.

"A favorite style of a bull's eye used by the marksman of Tuckaleechee Cove consisted of a solid slip of paper—preferred to new—in which was cut an inverted V with an inch diamond half an inch above it. The marksman aimed at the apex of the inverted V and at 50 yards the trajectory of his missile would, if the aim was true, place it in the center of the diamond. "When the marksman had chosen his center a cross was made through the center of it with a knife by one of the judges, who was generally a reputable man of his community. The shooter then proceeded until he had expended his allotment, whereupon his board was laid aside for future reference. All bullet holes were filled with corn starch pith.

Considering the size of these targets and the primitive method of manufacturing the guns and calibrating the sights it is not after all, a matter of wonderment that legislators regarded attempts to hit the bull's eye" as plain, ordinary gambling.

And it would be imprudent gambling to wager on even terms that straight scores could be made, on such targets, by latter day militia men, with modern rifles, at comparative ranges. Indeed, with men trained in rifle shooting—as these southern mountain men are credited by Mr. Mason with having been trained—confronting each other in the European trench war, the contending armies would soon be annihilated. For, when bullets were so precious that they must be recovered, riflemen had an ever present motive for hitting the mark.

BAD $100 BILL PROVES GOOD

Supposed Counterfeit Was of Issue Called in.

Kansas City, Mo.—A few days ago Martin Crowe, County Marshal, deposited a $100 bill at a local bank. The bank sent it to another bank, where it was pronounced counterfeit. The Fidelity Trust Company, which left with the supposed counterfeit on its hands, took the bill to Fred N. Tate, Federal Secret Service Agent here. Mr. Tate took the supposed counterfeit up with Washington. "Now a telegram has come: 'The $100 bill is genuine.'"

However, the treasury Department kept the bill and sent back to the Fidelity Trust Company another bill in its place. It seems that 14 years ago a clever counterfeit of that issue of $100 bills was put out. It was so nearly like the genuine that the treasury department recalled the genuine issue and destroyed most of the bills. But some of the originals were not returned and the supposed counterfeit was one of them. The Treasury department is destroying bills of this issue as fast as it can get hold of them, giving the holders new $100 bills in return.

Jigs and Marches Make Pupils Work.

Burlington, N. J.—Making the fingers of pupils dance over the keys of typewriters in time with lively melody from a talking machine, as a means of increasing speed, and efficiency is meeting with remarkable success at the Robert Stacy High School, where Prof. William Beck has introduced the innovation in the commercial courses. Irish jigs, marches, two steps and other brands of canned music may become an indispensable feature in other classes if experiments now being tried out by the faculty bring expected results.

Penmanship of pupils is improving under the rhythmic influence of Yankee Doodle and Hawaiian waltzes, which it is claimed, arouse the interest of the pupils, increase their speed and improve the clearness and regularity of their writing.

It is claimed that the time and energy usually devoted to typewriting during school term can be reduced 40 per cent and the same proficiency attained.

SMITH BOYS DID IT, IS THE PLEA

BROTHERS BLAMED FOR TRAIN, BANK, AND OTHER ROBBERIES BUT ONE CHARGE UPHELD

BIG REWARDS OUT FOR THEM

Officers of Four Counties Engaged in Continuous Search and Expect No Easy Capture

Muskogee, Ok.—Officers of Muskogee, McIntosh, Haskell and Sequoyah counties are conducting an almost continuous search for Joe and Dave Smith brothers and alleged contenders for the "bad men" championship.

For each of them there is outstanding a reward of $300, offered by the American Express Co., on suspicion that they were principals in the M. K. & T. train robbery at Onapa, Ok., and Sheriff J. S. Barger has also offered a reward of $100 for Dave, who broke jail here after a jury had sentenced him and Cole Shoemaker to serve terms of seven years each in the penitentiary for robbing a drug store at Porum of less than $50, the druggist being severely beaten.

It has come to pass that almost every crime committed in this section of Oklahoma is credited to the Smith brothers, and this is generally accepted as fact by the officers for the simple reason that there seems to be nothing for the fugitives to do but dodge officers and live from day to day on the fruit of law violations. So far as can be ascertained, the boys have not slept in a bed since the night Dave escaped from the Muskogee jail. They are believed to be on horseback every day, sometimes eating at their own campfire of game they have killed, at others in the house of someone whom they know will not betray them.

In the way of ammunition and clothing, the Smiths are believed to have sufficient to last them for years. Recently a store at Webber's Falls was robbed, a large lot of ammunition and clothing being taken. The Smiths are held to have done the job.

But the officers trailing Dave and Joe Smith are not fearing surprise by them and violent death or injury. They are convinced the fugitives are guided by purpose to evade the law and not to add to their difficulties the charge of killing an officer or posseman. It is the belief of Sheriff Barger that should a lone officer encounter the brothers he would be well treated, probably fed and entertained with account of some lively experiences, but they would not harm him unless attempt were made to force them to surrender. No one, so far as known, entertains an idea that the boys will become prisoners unless surprised and overwhelmed or without being beaten in a shooting match.

Dave and Joe Smith are Muskogee county products. They hail from the southeastern part of the county and are said to be related to most of the denizens of the Kiamichi Mountain region. They are sons of Famous Smith, who himself had a record for killing men, not as a murderer, but because he reached them before they could get to him, so that his plea of self defense always had foundation.

The first charge of violence registered against the Smith brothers, so far as is recalled, arose several years ago, when Joe shot a rival for a girl's favor at a country dance.

Two years ago complaints were made to county authorities that Dave and Joe were rustling cattle from farmers. Warrants for their arrests were issued, but the arrests were not made for the reason that the boys could not be located.

Then followed the report that Dave Smith and Cole Shoemaker had entered the drug store at Porum and robbed it. This time the officers found their men, brought them to this city and the trial ended with a sentence of both to seven years in state prison. In engineering the escape in March last, Dave Smith entered the jail runway and, awaiting a moment when a guard named Payne turned his back, dealt him a blow with a flatiron.

Payne was left for dead and Smith, Shoemaker and Will Burnett, another prisoner, hastened into the jailor's office, beat him down, seized guns and fled. Outside the jail they seized a buggy and drove to the fair grounds, where they took three race horses and escaped to the Warner Bottoms. Shoemaker was recaptured after being wounded, and Burnett, whose whereabouts was disclosed by farmers, was also returned to jail. Smith has not since been a prisoner.

Nothing but suspicion exists upon which to hang the charge that Dave and Joe Smith were members of the gang of eight men who recently held up the Katy train at Onapa, but every officer who has had a part in the investigation entertains no doubt that they were, and that the express company so believes is shown by the offer of $300 reward for each of the brothers.

There also is talk that the boys have committed some of the bank robberies, which have so aroused people of the state that the legislature enacted a law offering specific rewards for capture of that class of criminal, but, so far as known, as in the case of the train robbery, positive evidence is not available.

COURT TESTS DICE USED IN GAMBLING

Owner Fined After Demonstrating How to Win at Game

Chicago, Ill.—The dice that until recently rattled out free pie to North High School students or made them pay double for it to Napoleon F. Guilmont, confectioner at 1100 Twentieth avenue North, rattled on the municipal court bench later, thrown by Judge G. L. Smith and License Inspector H. K. Radcliff, who wanted to see what proportion of the pie the boys got free.

The test had merely to do with pie and cream puffs that have already been eaten. Boys who go to Guilmonts hereafter will pay a regular price for the goodies.

"I guess they're all right," said the court, after Radcliff had tried them. Then he fined Guilmont, who had already pleaded guilty, $15. Guilmont also told how he came to wager his pies on a game of chance.

"Why, I hardly ever shook dice before yesterday, but the boys were all ways matching for jelly rolls and pastry and so, when one of them offered to shake me for a cut of custard, why I shook him.

"I won, you honor."

At this point Radcliff exhibited the dice and told the court they didn't look just right.

"The edge is rounded there," he said as he handed the dice over.

Judge Smith took the dice and threw them. Then Radcliff rattled and did better.

"You see those smooth edges will make you throw a deuce or a four oftener than any others if you aren't careful," said the inspector. "I was careful."

Guilmont again promised to be good, paid his fine, and went back to the store.

Parents of high school boys complained that the boys were shaking dice for pastry in the place and Radcliff arrested Guilmont after he had watched the dice shaking operations.

TREED BY PACK OF WOLVES

Deluth, Minn., Youth 14, Sees Animals Attack, Kill and Devour Bull Moose

Deluth, Minn.—Frightened, weary hungry and nearly naked Oscar Pinord, 14, of Deluth, stumbled into an Indian camp near Cloquet, and to an old squaw told a story of adventure that caused the red skinned stoic to weep with sympathy.

The boy cried for water and food, and when these had restored his strength he told of being chased by a moose, of watching from a treetop a pack of howling wolves tear the moose to pieces, of sleeping in the same treetop for three days and of wandering hopelessly about swamps, marshes and forests for a trail that would bring him back to Deluth.

This excitement was crowded into six long days. The boy, accompanied by Joseph Storms, left Deluth on a hunting trip. The hunters built a camp at Rice Lake, 22 miles west of Duluth, and Storms set about cooking the evening meal. Through the trees Pinord saw a rabbit and started in pursuit. The rabbit led the boy far into the woods.

Twilight was fading. Soon night had come and for hours Pinord roamed the woods, searching for camp. He found himself in a swamp and decided to sleep in a tree.

In the morning he heard the bellow of a bull moose in the distance and a moment afterwards the howl of wolves. Soon the frantic moose and his cow came running through the swamp, with the wolves following. The moose made for the boy, who got out of reach by climbing the tree where he had found refuge in the night. Under the tree the pack caught the moose and tore him to pieces, while the shivering boy watched.

For three days and nights Pinord was afraid to leave the tree except in daytime, when he went a short distance for water. On the third day the howl of timber wolves was no longer heard and the boy tried once more to find his way back to camp.

It was the Indian camp that he found after a day's search. His clothing had been torn from him. Even his shoes were gone. The old squaw gave him clothing and he started home.

Omaha Judge Lets Boyhood Friend Go

Omaha, Neb.—Frank Randall of Nelson, Neb., was brought before Judge Foster for a slight offense.

"Hello, Charlie," said Randall.

"Hello Frank," replied the judge. "I'm glad to see you, how long are you going to be in town."

"That's up to you Charlie," replied Randall.

The Judge kily fingered a blotter and for a moment gazed dreamily off into space. He had visions of a weather-beaten school house, two kids flung in a rippling stream and later plunging into a calm, deep pool, sunlight reflected dazzlingly from the school house windows.

Evidently the reflection hurt his eyes, for he brushed them with the back of his hand—started—and looked down at the prisoner.

"I guess you can go, Frank," said the judge.

"Thanks, Charlie," replied the prisoner and turning left the room.

"I haven't seen that fellow since we were youngsters," remarked the judge. "My, how things have changed!"

OLD TIME BARBECUE IS REVIVED IN NEW JERSEY

Once Popular Outdoor Feast Seldom Heard of Now—Artist Explains the Work.

Gloucester, N. J.—There was a barbecue "out to Stone's place" on the Mount Ephraim pike, the other day. This is noteworthy because barbecues are not often held in south New Jersey any more. Once they were so common that many of the rural dwellers got weary of eating. In the winter especially public sales, shooting matches, hog killing and all sorts of festive occasions were featured by the roast ox, accompanied by the ever necessary lubrication. Now, these feasts in the open are few and far between. They are passing away with other attractions of life in the rural sections. But they had one "out to Stone's place," and it was just like old times to see the hungry ones gather for the juicy morsels.

The event was a shoot in which competitors from Philadelphia, Wilmington, New York, Camden and many other Jersey town participated. Jerry Blake accepted as a past master in all matters pertaining to barbecues was in charge. By those who know anything about barbecues, other comments will not be expected. Under his judicial eye the ox was roasted to a turn and when the "eats" had all been passed out nothing was left of the huge beast but a glistening skeleton, as innocent of meat as a hound's tooth.

Barbecues mean the making of preparations such as few people like to undertake. It is not only necessary to pick just the right kind of a critter, but some one must be found who understands open fire cooking on a big scale. Contrary to general opinion, all barbecued meats are not necessarily "baked" in a great pit with a little smoking volcano above it. In fact, the best barbecued meats come off the spit where before a great blazing open fire it has been turned and roasted until every fiber is cooked to a turn, while still running juicy. It is the easiest thing in the world to sear it, and when that happens the flavor is greatly impaired.

Naturally barbecues is the one subject upon which Jerry Blake is always willing to talk. In fact, he will discuss it as long as anyone will listen, and listening to him is sure to convince one that life's experiences will never be complete unless there is included from one such event to as many as a man can possibly take in.

"Before I took to the barbecuing business I was a butcher," said Jerry after the "Stoney" barbecue. "Like everybody else round here, I used to

BUSINESS IS BASED ON CONFIDENCE

A Theory Put Into Practice by Well Known Business Man

J. C. BRADY

"A druggist has many opportunities to make lasting friends of his customers," said Mr. J. C. Brady, popular Rexall Pharmacist of Fall River, Mass. "The very nature of his business draws their confidence for little helpful suggestions on the matter of health. Many people have thanked me for recommending Rexall Orderlies as the best relief for constipation and its resultant ills. Put up in dainty candy tablet form, they are pleasant to the taste and make an ideal laxative for the home—for men, women and children alike."

We have the exclusive selling rights for this great laxative.

Many a man's success at poker depends on the way he is raised.

If a man praises his wife's cooking he may never have to pay alimony.

It costs all it is worth to be popular but it is seldom worth what it costs.

Most of the crazy people we know have managed to sidetrack the asylum so far.

The spinster who celebrates her birthday anniversaries usually does so in silence.

A man is sometimes his own worst enemy, but he is more likely to be his own best friend.

MOTHER TELLS HOW VINOL

Made Her Delicate Boy Strong
New York City. "My little boy was in a very weak, delicate condition as a result of gastritis and the measles and there seemed no hope of saving his life. The doctor prescribed cod liver oil but he could not take it. I decided to try Vinol—and with splendid results. It seemed to agree with him so that now he is a strong healthy boy."—Mrs. THOMAS FITZGERALD, 1090 Park Ave., N.Y. City.
We guarantee Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic, for run-down conditions, chronic coughs, colds and bronchitis.

County Normal Notes.

"Rena Carroll"
The class displayed their artistic ability in free hand sketches of a hyacinth, Friday morning, under the direction of Mrs. Coulter.

Miss Lillian Akins, a member of last year's class, visited the normal last week Monday. As there was no school that day, owing to the holiday granted the class, Miss Akins left a note. She is teaching near Mancelona.

The class and the sixth grade of the training room went to the Western Union Telegraph Office, Tuesday morning in time to hear the correct time given as it is sent from Washington, D. C. The time is given at noon at Washington which makes it 11:00 a. m. standard here.

A letter was received from Professor W. B. Barrows, who is professor of zoology at the M. A. C., in answer to the letter sent in regard to the report of the evening gros beaks. He asked that all those interested in birds take special notice of their food; if they ate the buds of trees, and if so of what kinds, and also if the birds injured the trees in anyway.

Green Cream of Fish Soup.

The following makes an excellent fish soup, and may be colored a delicate green by the addition of spinach coloring, made from spinach boiled to a pulp and squeezed through a sieve. This, of course, if one does not approve of the green coloring liquid. A few bits of parsley should float daintily about the top. Here is the recipe:

Cream of Fish Soup—Rid cold cooked fish (fresh) of any kind of bones, fat and skin, and mince fine; season to taste. For each cupful of this allow two cupfuls of boiling water, in which a sliced onion has been boiled, and set over the fire to cook. Heat in another saucepan a cup of milk, not forgetting the pinch of soda. When boiling stir into it a tablespoonful of butter, rubbed smooth with a teaspoonful of flour. Add half a cupful of bread dust, already soaked soft in the same quantity of cold milk. Beat well together over the fire with a raw egg whipped light, pour into a tureen, turn in upon it, stirring all the while, the boiling fish and water. As soon as it is thoroughly mixed send to table.

Hounds Discovered Fox's Trick.

In the stone wall countries of Ireland foxes sometimes resort to the stratagem of running along the top of the walls for a considerable distance, throwing hounds off the scent.

There was an incident of this kind with the Waterford Hounds after their meet at Carrick-on-Suir. A fox jumped on to the top of a wall at Corbally, but Mr. Pollok was equal to the emergency and held his hounds along by the side. Suddenly one of the pack jumped on to the wall, and running along the top carried the scent unerringly for a mile and a half. Finding his tactics of no avail, the fox took to terra firma, but the hounds were now close on his brush and bowled him over.

Chinese Learning Spinning.

Six young Chinamen are among the pupils of the New Bedford, Mass., textile school, having been sent to this country to learn all about the making of cotton fabrics. The purpose in this procedure is to expedite China's industrial development. Not only will their government expect them to develop their talents to the best advantage, but their services will be required in imparting to others less favored than themselves a knowledge of modern methods of spinning and weaving cotton.

Heights and Seasons.

Averages for the height of women show that those born in summer and autumn are taller than those born in spring or winter. The tallest girls are born in August. As far as boys are concerned, those who first see the light during autumn and winter are not so tall as those born in spring and summer. Those born in November are the shortest; in July the tallest.

Hats were first made by a Swiss. They were introduced in Paris in 1404, and in England in 1510. Silk hats were introduced in 1820.

That an option on a piece of property whereby the owner binds himself to sell, but the holder of the option is not bound to buy, as was unknown to Louisiana law until the year 1910 when the legislature passed an act which makes such a contract valid.

That after a lease is signed, no agreement to repair, paint, etc., not embodied in the lease, can be enforced.

That all movable property, whether belonging to the tenant, or not, except the property of a sub-tenant who has paid his rent, found in a leased house, can be seized for the unpaid rent.

That as between seller and buyer, a title deed needs only to be in writing and can be enforced against the seller whether it has been acknowledged before a notary, or recorded or not. To be protected against the claims of third parties, however, a title deed should be recorded.
