SLEEPER INDORSED BY WELFARE LEAGUE

Citizens' Organization Approves Candidacy of Bad Axe Man In Lively Session.

[Detroit Free Press, Apr. 23.] In a lively session at Hotel Statler Saturday evening the Citizens' Welfare League of Michigan carried a motion to indorse the candidacy of Albert F. Sleeper, of Bad Axe, for governor of the state.

Regarding the indorsement of Mr. Sleeper, Mrs. J. K. Gailey, founder of the league, said: "We are standing behind Mr. Sleeper because he stands for the same humanitarian movements which the league is fighting for. He stands for an honorable, efficient, business administration carrying out the will of the people and looking out for their best interests."

"With the regard to the need for an administrative board for state institutions Mr. Sleeper thinks as the Citizen's Welfare League, that it is high time that an efficient, sociologically intelligent body was formed to care properly for the moral and physical well being of the thousands of individuals in state, penal and charitable institutions, and to provide room for the feeble-minded now abroad in the state propagating their kind for the state later to look after."

With the final decision to stand back of Mr. Sleeper came the announcement of plans for immediate opening of headquarters from which the league will further the cause of their candidate and will inaugurate a campaign to secure thousands of signatures to a petition praying that the 1917 legislature pass the bill creating a board of administration for state institutions for which the league is sponsor.

Speakers for the evening were Dr. Guy L. Kiefer, chairman of the public health committee of the State Medical association, who urged the league to get back of the district health officers bill or a similar measure to provide qualified full-time full-pay health officers throughout the state, and Geo. M. Clark, of Bad Axe.

ELBERT BEDE SAYS

Who can name off hand all the presidents of Mexico since Diaz?

Villa has all the refined and delicate ways of a mongrel jackal and hyena. We often make politics a matter of charity and then wonder why taxes are high.

The woman who chews the rag has no right to criticize the man who smokes tobacco.

We believe the income tax should reach those with incomes just a notch higher than ours.

The republican bosses will agree to any kind of a platform this year—for what's the use of being a boss if there's nothing to boss.

Talk about a married woman being the boss. Nine cases out of ten she isn't half as much boss after marriage as she was before.

With the parcel post limit at fifty pounds, subscribers of country newspapers have no excuse for not paying their subscriptions.

If kisses are poisonous, perhaps they act as their own antidote. That's the only way we can account for our own repeated escapes from a terrible death. It is often a good policy not to do a thing about which you are doubtful but how much progress would this old world have made if it all had followed that policy.

Over in England the women refuse to marry men who won't go to war. Evidently the women over there want men who are thoroughly seasoned for a matrimonial career.

The wise leap year girl always pretends to know a trifle less than the young man she is planning to face the person with.

BOOST MICHIGAN

Every Michigan merchant knows that the prosperity of his town and the value of his property is enhanced a hundred fold by a productive, progressive farming community, and he should do everything he can to further the interests of the farmer as well as the manufacturer and the laborer.

Every Michigan farmer knows a farm of one hundred acres of good land near a prosperous town is worth many times what it would be worth back twenty-five miles in the country, and yet some farmers are buying goods from mail-order houses in other states hundreds of miles away from their property instead of boosting their own town through buying goods at home, thereby creating greater prosperity in their own community and automatically enhancing the value of their own property.

Remember the balance of trade decides whether Michigan is getting richer or poorer. Every man in every community is a factor in the prosperity of Michigan. It makes a lot of difference whether you are knocking or boosting. It makes a lot of difference whether you are trading in Michigan or abroad.

The size of your town depends upon the amount of business done in it and you can't build up your town or your State by trading hundreds of miles away, besides the outsider pays no taxes in Michigan but on the other hand is coaxing all the money he can out of Michigan, drawing upon the resources of the State continuously and is making Michigan poorer instead of richer.

Whenever you have one dollar in cash, or a hundred, to pay down for merchandise of any kind, give your merchant a change and if he doesn't at least try to meet you half way he is not made of the right kind of stuff but do not expect him to quote you as low a price on a small order to be charged and carried on the books for from a month to a year, as the outsider is willing to quote you on a large order for cash in advance.

Michigan merchants and Michigan people give each other a show. Get together and buy everything possible in Michigan. Keep your money in circulation within your own range instead of sending it hundreds of miles away to help fill the coffers of those who are only interested in what they can get out of you and return nothing in particular to your town or your community. MICHIGAN MERCHANTS AND MICHIGAN PEOPLE SHOULD CO-OPERATE—BOOST MICHIGAN.

Immortalizing a King's Nose

If the nose of Cleopatra had been shorter, as Pascal, the French philosopher, has said, the whole face of the earth would have been changed. "But, adds a writer in Cartoons Magazine, "that an inch or two, or even three, in the matter of the King of Bulgaria's nose is all the same to the cartoonist, will be evident from a survey of the great gallery of caricatures which this monarch has inspired. "The cartoonists have done nothing—except immortalize King Ferdinand's nose. There have been famous noses in history. Cyrano de Bergerac was blessed with one, Ferdinand's nose, however, threatens to go thundering down the hills of time.

Arbor and Bird Day

Proclamation By the Governor

Long years ago a loyal Michigan citizen planted hundreds of maples on either side of the highway fronting his large farm. These trees are now large and beautiful. These trees did not affect the productivity of his farm. When he planted these trees he had in mind the thousands of men, women and children who would receive real joy from his gift to this "main traveled road." Some day both city and country will come to appreciate the importance of tree-planting along the highways, on the hillsides, in yards and in parks.

Trees without birds would get lonesome. Trees and shrubs are the natural homes of many of our birds. These winged creatures are man's best friends. They not only destroy millions of destructive insects, but they appeal to man's sense of beauty, in their plumage, in their song and in their graceful movements.

The trees and the birds teach "mutual aid," teach a universal poetry, teach the beneficence of the Father of us all.

Therefore, I, Woodbridge N. Ferris, Governor of the State of Michigan, do hereby designate Friday, May 5th, 1916, as Arbor and Bird Day, and do request that this day be observed by all schools, public and private, and other educational institutions by the planting of trees for beautifying school grounds and parks, and by conducting suitable exercises for promoting the spirit of protection to trees and birds.

Given under my hand and the Great Seal of the State, this twenty-fourth day of April, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and sixteen, and of the Commonwealth and eighth.

WOODBRIDGE N. FERRIS,

By the Governor: _____ Governor.

Will Leave for Spring Lake

Harry Potter and Ray Fox Have Purchased Garage.

East Jordan is about to lose two of its popular citizens who have found a good business opening at Spring Lake and will leave for there, with their families, in a few days. Harry Potter, who has been our postmaster for the past four years and grew to manhood in our midst, and Ray Fox, the popular R. F. D. Carrier on Route 5, have decided that the business opportunity presented them at Spring Lake is a good one, and have purchased the Garage and Lunch Room in that village, which is near Grand Haven.

Their going is a matter of sincere regret to their many friends here. Both gentlemen are public-spirited citizens and are a valuable asset to any community.

School Commissioner's Notes

May L. Stewart, Commissioner

Ten real school visits and seven school room calls made this week.

Clarion has a ventilating problem to figure out. It will probably be a new furnace with registers in the partition eight feet from the floor replacing the old floor-just fans.

The Dec Lake teacher is happy to learn from her director that her boys and girls may have new seats next year.

The school district on East Chandler hill has the biggest water supply problem in the county. Their well is 300 feet deep and their wind mill failed to give satisfaction. A cement cistern with a supply hauled regularly has been tried but it is difficult to keep it clean. They are now debating on trying a gasoline engine with which to do their pumping.

Clarion has purchased some masterpieces from Landseer and Mauve.

Miss Margaret Stroud of the Undine School is now taking 7th and 8th grade work and has not been absent or tardy for eight years.

26 more Corn club contestants from Eveline township on Friday the 21st.

The Star school has just had the first closing day exercises in its history. Salutatorian and valedictorian both gave splendid addresses. The recitations were well chosen and well rendered. They called it "Standard Plate" day and had the commissioner there to talk on that subject. A big potluck dinner had made all happy before the program began.

You ought to see the Boyne City Key Stone set.

Pleasant Valley is to have a box social on the 29th. They plan on a Standard School program with variations.

See notice of the eighth grade examination in another column.

If all schools had the recommended texts for uniform books every teacher could profit the second year from her first year's experience with the nature of what she is to teach. That's just one argument. It saves time.

There will be a big crowd of Charlevoix county teachers in the state normals this summer. Three cheers for the professional spirit of the teacher who wants training and goes after it.

Already Given Out—four hundred certificates for those not absent or tardy for four months. The supply in this office is gone but more are ordered. If your school lets out before the new order gets here just send in the names of the boys and girls deserving them so that the commissioner may send them their certificates when the order arrives.

Those not absent or tardy this spring get a free ticket to the fair.

In a thick forest the saplings are weak and slender. What is nature's lesson to the school room?

To have what you want is wealth; to do without is power.

If a man has money his funny stories will always get a laugh.

The man who tells you he is no fool may merely be mistaken.

A pretty girl finds nothing but pleasant reflections in her mirror.

And many a dear girl makes the mistake of marrying a cheap man.

If a man has a true sense of humor he knows when not to get funny.

ALONG THE FIRING LINE

Through an error Champ Clark found himself the other night at a hospitable table where some Republican Congressmen were giving a dinner. He enjoyed himself hugely, the reports say; and it is safe guessing that he found himself at a board where there might be a more pronounced emphasis in favor of the present occupant of the White House.

It is significant that in every State where a presidential preference vote is taken and where the State is one whose electoral vote is essential to win, the Democratic vote invariably falls far behind the Republican vote. It will be the same when the conclusive presidential preference vote is taken in November.

Japan is spending about $500,000 annually for paint for ships' bottoms. The seamen's law having driven the last vestige of America foreign-going tonnage from the high seas there is nothing left for the American seamen to paint but the town.

Mexico is to issue "fiduciary money" to the amount of 500,000,000 pesos. Like McAdoo's "New Balance," the public is asked to take it on faith.

Meredith Nicholson, author of the "Port of Missing Men," and other works of fiction, has been spoken of as assistant secretary of war to succeed Henry Breckenridge, who resigned with Garrison. Mr. Nicholson's training in the world of letters commends itself to Mr. Wilson, who is afflicted with writer's itch. If the Children's Bureau is ever vacated during Mr. Wilson's administration, he will probably appoint Laura Jean Libbey to that position. This is a pen and ink administration.

Seven years ago a Republican Secretary of State tried to have Congress establish the office of Under Secretary but the highly democratic Democrats reared up and denounced the scheme as a patterning after the effete monarchies of Europe. So, while the job was established, the title given to it was that of Counsellor. Now the Democrats have brought in a bill to change the name of the place to Under Secretary. It is a small matter, perhaps, but taken with all the other Republican notions which Democrats nowadays are adopting, it is worth noting.

An amendment to the sugar bill, offered by Senator Lodge, provided for a tariff on dyestuffs, a measure of legislation which has the approval of Democrats and Republicans alike, outside of Congress. The Democrats voted it down, of course. The dyemakers will have to possess their souls with patience until 1917. This action of the Senate is a pretty certain indication that there will be no attempt on the part of the House Democrats to bring in a protective dyestuffs tariff. The Hill bill will go into the discard for this Congress.

Merchandise left the port of New York April 6th to the value of $15,356,000; for France, Italy and Great Britain. Of this total, horses brass and wheat made up $12,000,000. The remainder was automobiles, chemicals, explosives, etc. And Doctor Pratt denies that our exports are swollen chiefly by war orders.

Breadboards and other wooden utensils may be kept white and stainless by scrubbing with soap and lukewarm water, to which may be added a little common soda or household ammonia. To clean white ostrich feathers make a solution of four ounces of white soap (cut small) and four quarts of rather hot water. Beat this into a lather with a paddle or clean large spoon. Dip the feather in this and rub it gently but well for five or six minutes. Then wash in clear water as hot as the hands can bear, and shake until dry. A clever idea for storing away hats, furs, blouses, etc., was evolved by a woman who lived in a tiny apartment. She had a wide shelf erected across one end of her bedroom, about a foot and a half below the ceiling. Then she bought six or seven hat boxes and covered them with wall paper in a rose design that harmonized with the rose color of her room. These formed a kind of frieze across one wall, and without detracting from the general appearance made a little store-room easily accessible. On the outside of her cupboard door was kept a list showing just what was in box No. 1, box No. 2, etc.

BRIEF DECISIONS

The most regrettable feature of the average auto accident is that the driver escapes with few bruises. Everybody knows just what a widow is going to do next, but no one can be sure just when. Politeness doesn't cost anything. It wouldn't be worth anything if it did. Some people sell out for money, while others let money give them away. There is plenty of room at the top, but there isn't any place to sit down. A pessimist is a man who doesn't know anybody who cares to know him. It isn't what a man knows that counts, but what he is reputed to know. When there isn't anything to talk about, woman alone can do it justice. He learns most in the school of experience who loves his teacher best. All things come to him who waits—if he gets there in time. A man is always in a hurry to marry the wrong woman. Prosperity has ruined many a man for his own good. There isn't any trouble going to waste. Some men are married to hush money.—From Judge.

Constantinople is a city of mosques and minarets. There are about 300 mosques in it, many of them being buildings of the most beautiful and picturesque sort. The first national bird census shows that the densest bird population is at Chevy Chase, near Washington, D. C., where 161 pairs of 34 species were found nesting on 33 acres.

Merchants in China often leave their places of business unguarded for more than half an hour. If customers arrive in the meantime they find the prices of goods plainly marked, select what they want, and leave the money.

Birds, in the construction of their nests, almost without exception, avoid bright-colored materials, which might possibly lead to the discovery of their place of abode by an enemy.

RAISE THINGS

When the farmer's family could raise what they ate, weave what they wore, fashion most of the crude implements they used, pay taxes in poultry or things other than cash, it was not necessary for the farmer to raise much to sell even if it were possible. But that day has forever passed away. The farmer of this century is a buyer of things—most of the necessities he and his family used to make and a host of implements, machines, comforts, luxuries and pleasures. His taxes must be paid in cash. He is a part of an advanced and an advancing civilization, he wants to act his part and does so. He cannot bring all these things home from town unless he raises things to take to town in exchange for them. Civilization demands that farmers raise things—for the sustenance of others, for the development of the nation, and especially for their own business and social advancement. The men who raise most at least cost, who find best markets for their products, who are not given to waste and extravagance, these men are the substantial farmers and solid citizens of our nation. They are creating wealth out of the soil, the sunshine and the rain without impoverishing any man or destroying any asset of civilization. Raising things is the cleanest kind of business. The farmer as an individual must raise things in order to live and prosper. Farmers as a class must raise things to exchange for the products of other men or else fall behind others in every way. And the measure of what farmers raise is the measure of their economic and social standing in all lands. The "poor white" of the southern mountains raises a handful of grain and a bite of hay for his beast of all purposes. He lives in a cabin and has missionaries sent into him and his household. The farmer on fertile soil raises a surplus to sell, lives in a good home replete with conveniences and luxuries, gives his children an education, rides in an automobile and helps to pay the missionary to the man who can't produce more than a bare existence. That expresses the economic and social difference between raising things and not raising them. Let us raise things for the sake of ourselves, our families and our standing among men if for no higher reason.—National Stockman & Farmer.

A SABBATARIAN NUT

Orville L. Kiplinger, chaplain of the Michigan City, Ind., reformatory, tells the following instance of a scrupulous conscience: Some years ago an insane patient was given to the immodest not to say expensive, habit of tearing his clothing from him and converting jeans, ticking, denim or whatever the clothes were made of into carpet rags. The prison physician remonstrated with the shredding nut as follows: "Say, old man, you're certainly making a lot of unnecessary trouble for us. We don't think it's fair. Wouldn't you like to make money?" The insane man emphatically averred his willingness to make ready cash. "Well, I'll tell you what I'll do," resumed the doctor. "I will give you ten cents for every day you don't tear your clothes off. Eh?" The offender assented eagerly, and started in to make good. Tuesday his clothes remained intact; Wednesday, ditto; Friday and Saturday the same. His reformation was the talk of the institution. But on Sunday morning the garments the crazy man had worn all week—were torn into strips and thrown to the four winds of his cell. "What does this mean?" asked the indignant physician. "I thought I had you hired to keep your clothes on and be good!" "Well," said the prisoner, innocently, "you didn't suppose I was going to work on Sunday did you?"—From Judge.

If only sensible women were permitted to marry there would probably be more old bachelors in the world.

If some people would take the trouble to conceal that they think they would be more popular.

"Live and let live" is a good motto for all men—with the exception of butchers and undertakers.

No man is a nonentity unless he is the husband of a too prominent woman.

Some women have married titles. Those who have not are countless. Too many men can see faults in others, but are blind to their own.

The man who served a jail sentence long ago often is the first to kick the other fellow who finds himself in the same predicament.

The man who censures the son of another often overlooks the sort of life that his own son is leading.

TO RESTORE CABIN

Frontier Home of Simon Kenton at Covington May Be Placed in Park. Covington, Ky.—Patriotic orders here are interested in the restoration of the cabin of Simon Kenton, one of Kentucky's most celebrated pioneers. The cabin which is in Ninth street, is a rambling shack that seems entirely out of place among the excellent buildings which are its neighbors, and proponents of the "city beautiful plan" are for removing the cabin, without reference to its historical associations. Daughters of the American Revolution are engineering a movement whereby the cabin will be removed to one of the parts of the city and restored to its original picturesque ruggedness. The cabin was built by the famous pioneer and Indian fighter in 1872 and has been occupied until 10 years ago. It is about 20 by 30 feet in dimensions, and has the half story, or loft, to which in early days those who slept above climbed by means of a short ladder. The logs of the cabin are oak and cedar and have withstood the ravages of time remarkably well. The building has been added to by its various tenants until it now represents the handiwork of half a dozen carpenters, but the plan is to restore the building to its original lines when it is removed to the park. Kenton was born in Virginia. He left his home there at the age of 16, because he thought he had killed a rival for the hand of a young woman. He crossed the Alleghenies and roamed for a time changing his name to "Simon Butler." He heard of the wonderful "Cain Land" called by the Indians "Kaintuckee," and decided to visit it. He met and became a friend of Daniel Boone, and once rescued Boone from the Indians. Kenton in later years was very poor until the State of Kentucky granted him a pension.

RESEARCH URGED FOR ENGINEERS

DEAN GOETZE ASKS VAST LABORATORY WHICH WILL HELP INDUSTRIAL CORPORATIONS

NEEDS $500,000 TO START

His plan Based on Famous Schools of Engineering in Germany

New York—Research laboratories, the equal of those of Germany, are under consideration by Columbia University according to the report of Dean Frederick A. Goetze of the graduate engineering school.

After outlining the successful research work accomplished by Dr. Walter Rittman and Prof. Armstrong and Pupin in the field of wireless telephony and telegraphy, Dean Goetze's report says:

"There is no doubt that much could and should be done to extend our engineering research and to make it of even greater value to the university and to the industries of our country.

"Many of us are firmly convinced that this can best be accomplished by establishing, on a site of ample area, easily accessible to the university, but among neighbors who will not be too particular as to the smells and noises which we will create, laboratories adequately equipped for all branches of industrial engineering research and administered by the heads of four engineering departments, to which manufacturers and practicing engineers could turn for the solution of problems which are beyond the scope of their equipment or the capabilities of their force.

"In my mind these laboratories should be patterned after those of the German Reichsanstalt, connected with the Technische Hochschule at Charlottenburg, and located in the outskirts of Berlin.

"If Columbia were to establish laboratories of this kind, equipped with every facility for experimentation and research with the staff of our technical schools available for consultation and advice manufacturers and individual experts would be glad to avail themselves of these facilities and to establish research fellowships for solving their industrial and engineering problems.

"These laboratories should be developed around a special technical library, the business of which should be to collect, compile and classify in a way to make it best available every scrap of information bearing upon the special problem to be investigated. At the present time our technical library facilities are rather meagre for a school of our standing.

"The cost will depend largely upon the site, which should be close to tide-water and railroad facilities. The site at the northeast corner of 116th Street and Broadway has been tentatively assigned for the next applied science building. A building on this site would have to conform with Hamilton, Kent and Journalism and would cost at least $500,000. With the same amount of money we could buy a site with railroad and water facilities, within five minutes walk of the university, erect on it a building twice the size of a modern factory construction and have about $150,000 left for equipment.

"We should however, make provision for extension and endowment as well, and from $2,000,000 to $5,000,000 will be needed. It would not all be required at once, but in installments as the work developed and justified the expenditure. No greater or more enduring monument could be erected by the public spirited persons who would equip and endow laboratories for this purpose."

STUNG BY THOUSAND BEES

Falls Unconscious From Tree and Breaks Three Ribs

Beaver, Pa.—William Scherm is in the hospital here suffering from at least a thousand bee stings. His condition is critical. Scherm climbed a tree and started to saw a limb on which the bees had swarmed. The limb broke and the angry bees attacked Scherm covering his head and ankles.

Fighting to save himself from the stinging of the insects he lost consciousness and fell to the ground, breaking three ribs and otherwise injuring himself.

Rescuers tried to reach the injured man, but were driven back by the bees. A hose was finally attached to a nearby hydrant and the bees were driven off by the stream of water.

"MOVE UP" ORDER NO GOOD

Street Car Passengers Not Pawns, Supreme Court Decides

Washington, D. C.—Railroads which take on more passengers than a car can seat have no right to move such passengers about "like pawns on a chess board," according to a decision by the District of Columbia Supreme Court.

A judgment of the lower court was affirmed, awarding $1,000 damages to William A. Morgan from the Capital Traction Company, whose motorman tried to enforce a move up front order.

BARN LIKE RESTAURANT IS 'FRISCO SHOW PLACE

Dining at the Manger is Quite the Proper Caper Just Now—Humorous Italian's Idea.

San Francisco, Cal.—One of the most unique places to be found in this city is a restaurant known as "The Manger," run by an Italian. The entire interior of the place is built and furnished like the inside of a barn, with hay mows filled with real hay, sickles and scythes hanging on wooden pegs, old lanterns, horseshoes, horns of cattle and other animals, stuffed roosters and birds and dried roots and plants hung at every conceivable point.

Most marvelous of all are the beautiful candlesticks formed by allowing the colored wax from alternately used red and green candles to drip down the sides of tall wine bottles, forming a bright and heavily fringed covering for the upper part of the bottle, which projects out several inches all around and gives the appearance of a palm tree after its branches have become dead and bent down around the trunk.

Many curious signs are hung about the establishment. At the foot of the stairway leading up to the restaurant is a sign roughly painted on a board, which bears the queer injunction: "Drive your horses right up and turn to the left for the barn." The door at the bottom of the stairway is a heavy wooden one of stout planks and beams, with a long wooden catch which must be lifted before the door can be opened, and a cobweb attached to the door loudly announces each visitor.

Another sign attached to a gate leading into the grill, forbids shooting, camping and cutting trees, starting fires, etc. Still another sign reads: "When you open the gate close it again. Don't let the bull out of the Corral."

The waiters have a unique method of adding local colors to the scene by dressing in the full regalia of a cowboy. Some of the ladies visiting the place for the first time get quite a thrill out of being waited upon by a cowboy whose six-shooter brushes their elbows every now and then.

BUILDS AN AUTO OUT OF CANS

Only a Toy, but Cripple Boy Displays Genius in Its Making.

St. Paul, Minn.—Kenneth O'Brien of this city is 13 years old, an orphan and a cripple, but he is the sole maker of an automobile, the like of which has never been seen in the whole Northwest. It is a tiny auto, to be sure but it is the real goods for all that.

Kenneth's home made auto has a body made from tin taken from a coffee can. It is enameled black. The doors are made of wood taken from a grape basket. The chassis came from the same grape basket. The mud guards, running board, gasoline tank and tool box are also made from tin cans. It is as neat a toy as any boy could desire.

"Took me two weeks to make this auto," says Kenneth, who is suffering with a bone disease and his left leg is crippled.

Woman Has Fiance Pinched

Chicago, Ill.—For two years Steven McBeth had been trying to get up his nerve to get a marriage license. After numerous attempts he and his fiancee, Mrs. Maria Alphonso, got to the city hall door before he weakened.

"Wait till I get a drink," said McBeth, ducking through a doorway and starting at top speed up the street.

"Stop, thief; he's got my pocket book," cried Mrs. Alphonso, and started in pursuit.

McBeth collided with a traffic policeman who permitted no explanations until they reached the Central Police Station.

Before the desk sergeant the woman broke down. "He's no thief," she confessed, "but I knew if he got away now he'd never get this close again."

McBeth pleaded for delay, but with the companionship of the crossing policeman he and his fiancee got the license. When they started for a marriage judge McBeth's pleas for a priest's services prevailed and the pair disappeared.

This is One Good Boy

Chicago, Ill.—Mrs. Atherton had tried to impress upon her young son, Eugene, that he should play only with good boys.

"Mother," said Eugene, as he came in one day, "you don't want me to play with wicked boys do you?"

"No, indeed," said the mother pleased that her son had remembered her teachings.

"Well if one boy kicks another little boy, isn't it wicked for him to kick back?"

"Yes, indeed, it is certainly very wicked," was the mother's reply.

"Then I don't play with Richard Whitney any more," said Eugene; "he's too wicked. I kicked him this morning, and he kicked me back."

Balky Mule Causes Suit

Pittsburg, Pa.—A balky mule in a mine is a defendant in a suit filed in the district court here. Joe Dimarco of Franklin insists that a coal company pay him $4053 because of injuries received in a mine when the mule refused to do his duty. Three cars of coal were being hauled. When the mule stopped a timber was put under the wheels of the car. Finally the driver got the mule in the notion of going and told Dimarco to pull out the timber. Dimarco did so and was crushed so badly by the car that he cannot work any more.

INDIANS RETAIN OLD NAMES

Picturesque Titles Brought to Light by Reservation Sale.

St. Paul, Minn.—That Indian names still possess their early strength and picturesqueness is shown by those which figured prominently in the recent sale of Indian lands in the Standing Rock Reservation in North and South Dakota.

An inspection of the list reveals such names as Kate Good Crow, whose nearest neighbor is Barney Two Bears. Mary Yellow Fat adjoins Melba Crow-ghost while Mrs. Crazy Walking, on the southeast quarter of section 19-23-25, has probably reached the condition indicated by her name through being in the same section with Elk Ghost.

Mary Lean Dog rather envies Agatha Big Shield for her aristocratic name. In like manner, Jennie Dog Man and Mary Shave Head may be all too willing to assume on short notice the heroic name borne by Morris Thundershield, heir apparent to Long Step Thundershield.

Mrs. Did Not Butcher, judging from her name, is in no condition to supply the wants of her nearest neighbor, Mrs. Frosted Red Fish, who lives on a half section not far from Helen Difficult.

SEES HUMAN GROWTH CONTROL

Science May Dictate Size and Weight of the Race

Philadelphia—That science is on the threshold of discoveries which will make it possible to retard or hasten the growth of human beings was the statement made by Dr. M. W. Jacobs. He asserted that experiments with rats have proved that animals fed on certain proteins for extended periods maintain a constant weight, but as soon as other necessary constituents are added, growth is resumed. He cited one instance in which a rat was kept stunted for 532 days, an age corresponding to about 45 years in human life. By changing the diet growth was permitted to develop that would normally have taken place in youth.

"We have it in our power," said Dr. Jacobs, "to say whether animal shall do its growing in youth or old age or whether it shall have several periods of growth. This being true, it is not too much to expect that the ultimate outcome of such work will be the scientific control of the forces of organic growth even in human beings."

RECOVERS LONG LOST WATCH

Eighteen Years in Mill Race and Still Running

Penn Yan, N. Y.—One day eighteen years ago W. Henry Townsend, county superintendent of the poor, lost a watch from his pocket. He worked at two tasks that day—assisting in cleaning out a mill race and unloading straw. He searched the straw without finding the timepiece. The mill race was soon full of water so that further search could not be made. A few days ago the race was cleaned out and a watch was found. Townsend examined it and found in it his old timepiece. It was in excellent condition after its long rest under the water.

One of the official's friends asked him if the watch was still running and Mr. Townsend gravely replied that it surely was. It was a stem winder, he said and very likely the action of the swiftly running water kept it wound up all these years.

DISPLAYS HIS HAPPY FAMILY

Printing Firm's "Zoo" Proves Real Attraction.

Perry, Okla.—In the front show window of the Southern Printing Company's office here is a "Happy Family" that attracts the attention of hundreds of people. Living happily together and eating from the same dishes are many beautiful canary birds, guinea pigs of different kinds, squirrels, white and spotted rats, horny toads and a pair of beautiful Persian kittens. It is a sight worth looking at.

Back of the office is a garden of beautiful flowers and cages in which are tame possums, pet coons that will follow visitors around like dogs, over a hundred guinea pigs of many kinds and other birds and animals. "Wish you could all enjoy them with us," is the company's message to Blade readers.

COCKEREL STEALS DIAMOND

New London, Conn.—Lloyd Hallenbeck of Greendale, N. Y., had a diamond stolen from his scarf pin while acting as judge at a poultry show here, the thief being a cockerel in a pen of Rhode Island Reds on exhibition. Hallenbeck values the gem at $100.

The cockerel attracted by the sparkle of the gem as Hallenbeck stood close to the pen, removed the stone from its setting with a well directed jab of its beak and swallowed it.

As the owner of the diamond does not know which of the exhibits has his jewel it may be necessary to kill a number of them to find the right one a proceeding which, it is said, promises complications with the owner of the poultry.

There is an element of success in every man but it seldom begins to operate until some woman comes along and treads on his heels.

A man can usually manage to keep himself busy by attending strictly to his own business, but some men have a mania for working overtime.

YOUNG BRIDE IN JAIL WARNS GIRLS OF DRUG

Tells Tragic Story of Ending of Romance and Her Fight Against Morphine.

Los Angeles, Cal.—A little wanderer in the gray land of drugs tossed and turned on a cot in a cell at the matron's department of the city jail.

"Never take the first dose," she sobbed. "It's grip is terrible."

She was Mrs. James Dellarocca, 19 years old, and a bride of but three months.

In a separate cell on the floor below was her husband, facing a charge of forgery.

But even in the torment of her soul, that "little wanderer" sobbed that her next fight against the use of morphine would be a successful one, and with tears rolling down her cheeks told the story of her life in the clutches of drug habit.

"When I did start" she sobbed. "Oh, that is the worst part of the story. It was a woman who started me—a woman who said she was my friend. That was about four months ago. I knew that she was queer—that is, she was a drug user."

"One day I was very sick. I had been ill for several weeks. I was suffering terribly. Then this woman came to me and told me she could relieve my suffering. I knew what she meant and I refused."

"She kept right after me. I was in agony. She said I could take it once and then not again. Finally I gave in. The pain was numbed."

"Oh, it's the same old story from then on. I could not stop."

"I was compelled to increase the dose every day. Inside of a few weeks I was taking a grain and a half."

"Then I met Jimmy—Dellarocca—it was love at first sight. I loved him. He asked me to marry him. I was foolish and told him yes. He did not know I was taking morphine. I decided it was best to tell him before we were married and I did so—two days before."

"I remember he put his arm around me and said, 'Never mind, little girl, you and I will fight it out together. You'll be all right in a little while.'"

"We were married and we started to fight. We began saving our money so that I could be cured. I could not stop. I would take a little each day. But we fought hard and we smiled as we fought, because we were going to win."

"Then his business went broke. Our money went fast. He could not bear to see me in agony without morphine. He would buy it altho it hurt him to do it and give it to me."

"I became worse. The fight seemed hopeless. I was taking two grains 3 or 4 times a day. Then we were arrested."

"I am glad I have been arrested. I will have another chance to fight morphine. They tell me, I can be cured and I am going to try, oh, so hard, for Jimmy's sake and my sake."

"Oh, tell girls never to touch drugs. Tell them to run from it. Tell them to stop their ears every time it is mentioned. Please do, because it may do some good."

The "little wanderer" declared that her husband was innocent of the charge of the forgery of counter signatures to nine $100 checks.

"I will stay by him until the end," she sobbed as she turned her face to the wall.

GOVERNOR GETS SHOCK

WITH EACH HANDSHAKE

Iowa Executive Puzzled Over the Repetition of Sensations—Discovery Is Made.

Des Moines, Iowa—Governor Clarke's dynamic personality was much more so than usual the other day, so much more so that the Governor, or shocked himself and kept on shocking without knowing what was the matter.

As visitors came and went during the afternoon, every time one received the gubernatorial handshake, the executive winced a bit and drew back his arm. Finally he decided to see what was wrong.

"Say, Gus, what's going on here?" he demanded of A. C. Gustafson, his secretary. "Every time I shake hands with somebody I get a shock."

A brand new thick velvet carpet had just been placed on the floor in the Governor's office.

"Ah," exclaimed the secretary. "I'll bet that's it."

Gustafson dragged his feet over the heavy carpet as children used to do in the evening in the parlor before the gas was lighted. From the ends of the secretary's fingers the sparks of static electricity shot out.

"That's it," the secretary announced. "This new carpet is dried thoroly now with the radiator heat and all you have to do is walk across it to stir up the current."

Visitors in the office experimented and succeeded in making vivid electric flashes come from their fingers on contact with some other individual or with something leading to the ground. In the course of an argument arising from the governor's experience, one man in a downstairs office succeeded in lighting a gas jet with a spark which came from his fingers after dragging his feet over a heavy carpet.

The man who boasts of being able to spell every word correctly may not be much good at anything else.

Some music is given out by the choir, but the drummer dispenses it by the pound.

BOOKS AND AUTHORS

When J. O. Curwood writes a story about the wilderness he knows, about the grandeur and the glory of Arctic woods and Arctic snows, about adventures super-human, the epic struggles of the strong, why does he drag in lovely woman, where cultured females don't belong? Why must there be a lot of wooing, the wearied reader's soul to vex, and why are lovers billing cooling, when they're in snow up to their necks? Alas, the moldy superstition that love must light up every tale, whatever the scene or the conditions—the iceberg or the forest trail.

There was one dauntless story teller, who laughed the ancient rule to scorn—that gifted Robert Louis fellow—and "Treasure Island"—then was born; there are no mistif demsels in it, no lovers waiting in the sun; and when the readers once begin it, they do not eat until they're done.

The publishers, to Robert Louis, when they beheld the manuscript, no doubt exclaimed, "Great Scott! Beware us! Your intellect has surely slipped! The sales would never pay the carriage; the whole book world would stand aghast; there's not a word of love or marriage in this romance, from first to last! Ring in some maidens, blithe and merry, and let John Silver marry one; then it will be delightful, very, and we will sell it by the ton."

There's Randall Parrish who is writing some splendid stories of the days when whites and Indians were fighting in dark and solemn ways. If he'd defy the old tradition that love must cumber every tale, we'd have the book for which we're wishing—an epic of the lonely trail.

But no; to scenes all red and gory, he introduces Sarah Jane; she hangs around throughout the story, and fills me with a pale pink pain. Where blood is deep and scraps are sorest, she with the hero gaily flirts, and though a hundred leagues of forest she trails her long bedragged skirts. I bless the woman and her daughter; they are the savor of this life; but they are fishes out of water in Berserk tales of force and strife—By Walt Mason From Judge.

CULTURE

Culture is the faculty of reading books with appeal just as much when perused from the last page to the beginning.

It is the ability, in a man, to wear delicate whiskers and talk indeterminate things about incomprehensible topics.

In a woman it is the ability to wear flowing garments and speak softly, and knowingly about airy symptoms of inapplicable impossibilities.

The great charm about this kind of culture is that neither the talker nor the talkee need bother to try to understand what is said.

Yet both are benefitted, for each feels himself or herself understood at last.

Culture, therefore, is bestowed upon people in the proportions each is best able to carry.

The common or garden variety of culture, which has to do with a gentle regard for the thoughts, opinions and wishes of others, and with an ordinary enjoyment of the human side of books, pictures and the world in general, is too easily adapted to be of interest to the folk who adopt the other form of culture.—From Judge.

FACTS YOU MAY NOT KNOW

That agreements of sale or purchase powers of attorney authorizing another to sell or any other contract regarding real estate must be in writing. No verbal agreements are binding.

That if Smith succeeds by fraud or misrepresentation in buying a farm from Jones at less than one half of its value, Jones may, by refunding the purchase price, annul the sale.

That one who pays the taxes on the property of another acquires no other right on same than a lien on the property for the repayment of the amount paid.

The Perfect Man.

Oriental cloth merchants call in the sun as an expert witness in determining the quality of the finer products of the loom. Servants of the seller pass the web slowly between the purchaser and the sun. If no blemish is revealed by the flood of light, which this incorruptible witness pours through warp and woof, the piece is passed and paid for as perfect. Most lives will go as currency in the measurement of some men. A few will endure the scrutiny of their intimate friends. Some men do not seriously violate their own conscience. But how very few there are who are pure in the white light of the Gospel, whose lives are blameless by the searching standards of the Sermon on the Mount!—Home Herald.

A Wise Caution.

It is important to wait the moment of God to correct others. We may see real faults, but the person may not be in a state to profit by being told his faults. It is not wise to give more than one can receive. This is what I call proceeding the light, the light shines so far in advance of the person that it does not benefit him. Our Lord said to His Apostles: "I have many things to say to you, but you cannot hear them now."—Madam Guyon.

Temperance

(Conducted by the National Woman's Christian Temperance Union.)

A WORLD-WIDE WAR.

"A world without a liquor nation by 1930"—this, said Daniel A. Poling, in an address delivered at the Panama-Pacific exposition, this is the goal of the National Temperance Council. The membership of this organization, of which he is president, is made up of leaders from 97 national religious and reform societies and its activities are to be international in scope. The first great word of its declaration of principles is unite, the second educate, and the third exterminate. "The temperance fanatics today," affirmed Mr. Poling, "are not preachers and women, but railroad presidents, owners of steel mills, scientists, popular novelists and war lords. Medical authorities are laying charges against the door of John Harleycorn that the most rabid temperance orator of five years ago never dreamed of making."

"Chief Actuary Hunter of the New York Life Insurance company has claimed prosperity in human life for Russia as the result of the prohibition of vodka that takes away the breath of a third party Prohibitionist. Sam Blythe is writing temperance articles for the Saturday Evening Post that discount the Union Signal."

"William Jennings Bryan, delivering a temperance address in Cooper Union, New York, has used language that vies with the choicest epithets John B. Gough ever employed. The Carnegie Steel works is strict in its total abstinence requirements for its employees than is the average church for its members."

"And just now Emperor William and Czar Nicholas have, in the trenches of Flanders and on the plains of Poland, Galicia and Russia, the greatest temperance societies in the history of the race."

"There is a white ribbon around the world."

A MAYOR'S TESTIMONY.

Mayor James R. Hanna of Des Moines, Ia., gives his personal testimony to the advantages of prohibition as follows:

"The saloons were closed on the 15th of February. All the desirable locations were picked up by other businesses within the next few weeks following. A few out-of-the-way locations are still vacant."

"I cannot see that there is any appreciable effect because of throwing men out of employment and certainly no increase in demands for charity. In fact, it is exactly the other way. The men who lost employment have gone into other lines. Some of them have followed up their former calling in other cities, but the men who were spending in the saloons the money which their families needed are now buying groceries and shoes instead. The consequence is a very much better tone in every way. In the first place their families are not now in want and in the second place, they are paying their bills for the ordinary necessities. This is making collections noticeably better in other lines, so our merchants report."

"Our experience proves that a decisive policy can handle the bootlegging very effectually. There will be some illicit sales, to be sure, but they can be reduced to a very small minimum."

NO FRIENDS OF J. BARLEYCORN.

The saloonkeepers of Washington, D. C., were sorely disappointed, it is said, because few of the veterans attending the Grand Army encampment spent their money for drinks. Of the 20,000 marching only one or two were seen "under the influence." One of the old soldiers explained it thus: "The fellows who could drink it or let it alone are not here—nearly all of them are in their graves." It is worthy of note that every one of the 128 members of the post at Hagerstown, Md., is a total abstainer and a prohibitionist. One of the features of the parade which evoked much cheering from the crowds of onlookers was the "West Virginia Water Wagon," which headed the delegation from that state.

THE PROOF.

A gentleman was riding on the street car the other day, when he saw on the advertising spaces, printed in large, clear letters, these words: "Pure Rye Whiskey—Tones Up the Body, Brightens the Intellect, Invigorates the Soul." After reading it his eyes dropped involuntarily to the seat beneath the advertisement, and there was a drunken man! His eyes were bleared, his face bloated, with red lines of dissipation in it, and his body slouched down in a sort of collapsed way common to men under the influence of liquor. The drunken man was an illustration of the advertisement, and proved the falsehood of it. "Wine is a mocker."

MONTANA WAKING UP.

Richland county, Montana, gave a vote of two to one against the liquor traffic in the first county option election in the state. The liquor men put up a hard fight with five orators working overtime to hold the territory. Montana, one of the blackest states on the prohibition map, is waking up, and the days of the liquor traffic in the state are numbered.

DIMS BATTING EYE.

"I do not drink; it dims my battling eye," said Ty Cobb.

Ladies' Waist 1544, Ladies' Skirt 1545

Ladies' waist pattern 1544 and Ladies' skirt pattern 1545 were used to produce this stylish effect. The waist is good for linen, batiste, madras, crepe, tafetta or serge. The fronts are full at the shoulders, and may be tucked, gathered, or, as illustrated, finished with smocking. At the center front two tucks in slot style conceal the closing. The sleeve has a new shaped cuff. The pattern for this waist is cut in six sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44 inches bust measure. It will require 2 1-8 yards of 44 inch material for a 36 inch size. The skirt is new and becoming and lends itself readily for development in any of this season's materials. It is finished at normal waistline, and has shaped tucks above a cluster of plaits that supply graceful fullness at the sides. Serge, tafetta, velvet, corduroy, gabardine, crepe, poplin or broadcloth are nice for this style. One could evolve a neat and stylish street or afternoon dress from the combination of this waist and skirt. In blue or green serge with skirt and waist trimming of matched satin, or in plaid tafetta or woolen with braid trimming, the effect would be smart and becoming. The skirt pattern is cut in six sizes: 22, 24, 26, 28, 30 and 32 inches waist measure. It requires 3 5-8 yards of 44 inch material for a 24 inch size, and measures 3 1-4 yards at the foot.

This illustration calls for two separate patterns which will be mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cents for each pattern in silver or stamps.

A SEASONABLE POPULAR STYLE

1534. Semi-Princess Dress for Misses and Small Women.

A leading and becoming style is here shown, youthful and trim, and cut on graceful lines. The waist and skirt fronts are combined. The side portions and back of the skirt join the waist at hip length. Tiny revers facings outline the neck and meet a jaunty flare collar. The sleeve is close fitting and shaped at the wrist. The plaited fullness of the skirt is a good style feature. This model is nice for serge, poplin, velvet, gabardine or broad cloth. Tafetta or satin in matched shade are good for its trimming. The pattern is cut in 3 sizes: 16, 18, and 20 years. It requires 5 7-8 yards of 36 inch material for an 18 year size.

A SMART COSTUME FOR MANY OCCASIONS

1593—Waist. 1594—Skirt.

Composed of ladies waist pattern 1593 and ladies' skirt pattern 1594. This combination is especially nice for mature figures. The waist is made with full fronts that are finished with revers portions and open over a vest that may be of lace embroidery or matched satin. The skirt has six gores and shaped trimming sections over the fronts. As here illustrated, brown novelty suiting was used with velvet for trimming. Blue serge with matched satin is also good. If desired, the waist and skirt may be made as separate garments. Silk or crepe could be employed for the waist and broadcloth serge or gabardine for the skirt. The pattern for the waist is cut in six sizes: 36, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46 inches bust measure. The skirt pattern is cut in 6 sizes: 24, 26, 28, 30, 32 and 34 inches waist measure. It requires 3 1-4 yards of 36 inch material for the waist, and 4 yards of 44 inch material for the skirt for a medium size. The skirt measures 3 1-4 yards at the lower edge. To make the skirt and waist of one material will require 8 yards of 36-inch material.

This illustration calls for two separate patterns which will be mailed to any address on receipt of ten cents for each pattern in silver or stamps.

A wise woman never intimates to her husband that she "took him in."

And many a man has lost money thru the hole at the top of his pocket.

A POPULAR SMART STYLE.

1546. Ladies' Dress in Semi-Princess Style with Sleeve in Either of Two Lengths.

Graceful and becoming, and showing several new style features is this up-to-date model. The dress is made with a shaped front panel, and waist sections over the sides which are lengthened by skirt portions, cut with fashionable fullness. The back forms a panel below the belt. The sleeve, in wrist length, is close fitting and finished with a stylish cuff. In short length, a neat turnback cuff supplies becoming trimming. A high roll collar outlines the neck edge, which is cut low in front. If developed as an evening or dinner gown or for other formal occasions, the neck outline may be cut with more depth in front. This style would make a fine street or business dress, and is also pleasing for afternoon or calling. It is good for serge, corduroy, velvet or silk; also for combinations of materials, now so much in vogue. In serge with panels and trimmings of satin it would be very stylish. The pattern is cut in 6 sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44 inches bust measure. It requires 6 1-4 yards of 44 inch material for a 36 inch size. The skirt measures 3 1-2 yards at the lower edge.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of ten cents in silver or stamps.

A TRIM AND BECOMING STYLE

1509. Junior Dress in Semi-Princess Style With Convertible Collar.

Plaid woolen in soft blue and brown tones would be nice for this, or shepherd check suiting with facings of white pique. For more dressy effect, one could choose poplin, tafetta or velveteen, with facings of silk or satin. Plaid silk with brown velvet, white satin with black tafetta, or messaline with poplin would all be equally attractive. The pattern is cut with panel fronts, that join full skirt and waist portions. The waist back has no lines. It has a deep tuck at the sides, and is stitched over the skirt below the belt. The pattern is cut in 3 sizes: 12, 14 and 16 years. It requires 5 1-2 yards of 36 inch material for a 14 year size.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10c in silver or stamps.

Clear, Peachy Skin Awaits Anyone Who Drinks Hot Water

Says an inside bath, before breakfast helps us look and feel clean, sweet, fresh.

Sparkling and vivacious—bright, alert—a good, clear skin and a natural, rosy, healthy complexion are assured only by pure blood. If only every man and woman could be induced to adopt the morning inside bath, what a change would take place. Instead of the thousands of sickly, anaemic, thin, women and girls, with their sallow or muddy complexions, and of the multitudes of "nervous wrecks," "rundowns," "brain fags" and pessimists we should see a virile, optimistic throng of rosy-cheeked people everywhere. An inside bath is had by drinking each morning before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and ten yards of bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour fermentations and poisons, thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. Those subject to sick headache, biliousness, nasty breath, rheumatism, colds; and particularly those who have a pallid, sallow complexion and who are constipated very often, are urged to obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store which will cost but a trifle, but is sufficient to demonstrate the quick and remarkable change in both health and appearance, awaiting those who practice internal sanitation. We must remember that inside cleanliness is more important than outside, because the skin does not absorb impurities to contaminate the blood while the pores in the thirty feet-of bowels do.

SALTS IS FINE FOR KIDNEYS, QUIT MEAT

Flush the Kidneys at once when Back hurts or Bladder bothers—Meat forms uric acid.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which clogs the kidney pores so they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood, then you get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which all regular meat eaters should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

IF HAIR IS TURNING GRAY, USE SAGE TEA

Grandmother's Recipe to Darken and Beautify Faded Hair.

That beautiful, even shade of dark, gray hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray or streaked, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the mixture; you can get this famous old recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients for 50 cents a large bottle, all ready to use. It is called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound. This can always be applied upon to bring back the natural color and lustre of your hair.

Everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it works so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply wash a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking the small strands at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after regular application it becomes beautiful, black and appears glossy and healthy. It is ready-to-use preparation is a beautiful toilet requisite for those who want dark hair and a youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

HOW MEN DIFFER FROM ANIMALS

The chief difference between man and the lower animals lies in man's capacity for sinning. Obviously he has no monopoly of the virtues. A dog may be faithful, an elephant may be kind and true, a cat is said to love home and fireside; the parental instincts of the penguin would put ninety-ninths of the leaders of our best society to shame. It is not by possessing such attributes that animals become "almost human." It would be fairer to our furred and feathered friends to say that the man who possesses these traits in fine degree is almost animal. There is a horse of vaudeville fame that reckons simple sums in addition, and answers a wide variety of questions, if my memory serves me; I will even allow him to write his own first name with his hoof in the sand. The show bills call him human yet we feel no sense of kinship as we watch the performance, even though we should grant him all the ratiocination his exhibitors claim. We simply say, "What a wonderfully clever horse!" bestow a word of praise upon his trainer, and that is the whole story. I have seen a dog perform agile tricks with prompt obedience and obvious enjoyment, and to me he was still a dog. But when some canine friend hides on his washday; when he steals the cat's milk and pretends he did not; when he slinks in at a door with eery expression of eye and limb crying "peccavi," ah, then I say to myself, "There is something human about that dog."—Harper's Magazine.

NOTIONS ABOUT "WIMMIN"

The average woman can do more with a hairpin in the way of manufacturing history than a man can with a canal boat and a pair of mules.

One way for a man to find out just what a woman really thinks of him is to make her angry.

When a girl tells you that she dreamed of you the night before it is up to you to beat it to an installment man and dig up the furniture.

Every girl knows lots of things that she doesn't want you to know she knows.

Apparently women haven't enough troubles in this world to keep them busy, so they have taken to lacing their shoes up the back just in order to make life harder and a little more complicated for the next few months.

No two women could say as much in an hour's conversation as is expressed in that silent book of soul communion which passes between two men just about to take a drink.

Some people are so busy criticizing creeds that they have no time left for practical religion.

The path to success is paved with good intentions that were carried out.

But a physician who takes life seriously is not always a dangerous man.

Really square men are seldom rounders.
