Family Affairs Worry Soldiers

DON'T KNOW WHETHER WIVES HAVE FOOD

No European Nation Would Tolerate Such Conditions, Says War Correspondent

San Antonio, Texas, July 24.—Not one soldier that I rubbed elbows with in all the armies of Europe in the last two years ever worried as some of these American soldiers along the edge of Mexico, says W. G. Shepard, war correspondent.

These Americans I refer to are worrying about their families back home; they don't know whether their wives and children have enough to eat. Such a deplorable situation could not possibly exist in any European army, for European governments cares for the families of their soldiers.

The Mexican government doesn't; we don't. I've talked with hundreds of soldiers of six different armies in Europe. I talked today with my first soldier of the new American armies. I talked to Europeans in artillery pits, trenches and dugouts, but I talked with the American in a jitney going from San Antonio to the army post.

If the Germans knew Britishers were treating the families of their soldiers as we are treating ours, or vice versa, the fact would be blazoned world-wide as an indication of governmental cruelty by the enemy. It's not cruelty on our part, only oversight, and the lesson we've learned has cost unhappiness and embarrassment in many American homes.

If an American correspondent learned from a British soldier what I learned from Frank Shepkowski, my first American soldier today, he would break the British censorship to get the story to the world. Shepkowski, of Company H, Second division Illinois Infantry, will march up the steps of his little home at 1462 Emma street, North Chicago, within a couple of days, give his wife a hug and say, "Well, I'm home." He's got a check from Uncle Sam for $67.72 and if he's careful after paying his fare he ought to have about $20 to hand over to Mrs. Shepkowski. He was born in Poland but has served in the militia six years and his term of enlistment expired today, his militia career winding up with a blazing two weeks' holiday here in Texas.

It was from Shepkowski that I got my first inkling that thousands of Americans here who were snatched suddenly from their families in the little breeze of war which struck America three weeks ago are worrying about folks back home and wondering whether they are getting food and other necessities of life.

"It wasn't so bad with me," said Shepkowski, "because my wife was a dressmaker and I could quit my glove cutter's job and go to the front without her starving, but there are lots of fellows whose wives don't work and they're worried stiff."

There were thousands of tragedies, as grim as many in Europe, in American homes three weeks ago which are just coming to light here on the border. Gen. Funston and his staff officers are hearing them. Shepkowski put his finger on the greatest present fault with the American army plan.

Can a man be a good soldier and do good work if he's wondering whether his family at home has enough to eat? I asked General Funston, after leaving the jitney, and making my way to his hot office.

The general, whose perspiring head was leaving patches of dampness on the leather back of the huge chair in which he sat, leaned forward, saying earnestly: "Of course not. I permitted fourteen men to return home yesterday because their dependents were suffering and I have so many requests for relief on like grounds that it will prove necessary to release several thousands within the next few weeks. These men are given three and a half cents mileage homeward. Money which has been spent in bringing them to the border, feeding them and outfitting them, and then after two weeks sending them back home, isn't wasted. It is our payment for the lesson that in our new army plan we must provide well for the care of soldiers' families if we are going to insist on taking men away from their families into the army. "What about my family?" is the biggest question in all militia camps along the border.

Tag Day in East Jordan

WILL BE HELD THIS SAT- URDAY, JULY 29th.

For Benefit of the Michigan Child Welfare League to Aid the Crippled Children.

TO THE CITIZENS OF EAST JORDAN.

I have given the Michigan Child Welfare League permission to have a "Tag Day" Sale in East Jordan, Saturday July 29, 1916. The work is a most commendable one and worthy of the support of all communities in Michigan.

Yours for the Children,
A. E. CROSS, Mayor

The Michigan Child Welfare League is doing a much needed work throughout the State and is demonstrating that it is not necessary for a child to go through life dependent on the charity of others because of physical handicap. The society seeks out these crippled children, often in the most isolated portions of the State, and sees to it that they have medical and surgical aid which fits them to be self supporting in the years to come. The organization works with the family as a unit, and every effort is made to hold families together where poverty is the principal cause for separation of children from parents. Aid is given temporarily while the home is in the process of reconstruction and plans are being worked out to bring the family back to a normal mode of living.

During the past year 188 families, which otherwise would have been broken up and separated, have by means of the League been kept together; hospital treatment has been furnished 88 children; over 100 mothers have been helped with their children; work has been provided for parents; clothing furnished and pension relief secured for needy mothers. A total of 964 children have been benefited and helped during the past year.

Local committees will be assisted by Mrs. Mildred B. Kennedy, District Superintendent.

GRAFF FAMILY REUNION AN ENJOYABLE AFFAIR

The annual reunion of the Graff family was held on Saturday and Sunday last at the farm homes of J. H. Graff and his sister, Mrs. Samuel Persons, in South Arm township.

Nearly fifty members of the Graff family were in attendance and it was one of the most enjoyable events ever held by that family. Next year they will meet at Grand Rapids. The entire family was present with the exception of a brother, G. F. Graff of Chicago and a sister, Mrs. McCaul of Grand Rapids.

Among those from out-of-town attending were W. T. Lancaster, wife and family of Oden; Charles Sydel, wife and family of Grand Rapids, accompanied by Miss Beth Long; Paul Nemice and wife of Traverse City; Roy Crothers of Kalkaska; and Guy Graff of Rogers City accompanied by a couple of lady friends.

WHY WE NEED GOOD ROADS

To attract tourists, who spend loads of money wherever they go. At the meeting of Mackinac, it was estimated that 100,000 cars owned outside the state visit Michigan annually, leaving an average of $50.00 per car. This is a good deal of money and the better the roads the more cars will come and the greater the sum of money left in our State. Prices of land will advance and the results will be the same here as in other places—general prosperity will result.

If you don't go away from your farm or your own city, what do you know about what your neighbors are doing. We are living in an age of progress and progress means prosperity. Charlevoix County is destined to be the Mecca of tourists. We have the climate we have the scenery and we have the fruit with flavor. All we need is permanent roads to attract them here and when once here, we stand a mighty good chance of keeping them here, or else having them pay us yearly visits. When you build a road, build the maintenance into the road at the beginning and not keep up a lot of patchwork.

A successful blacksmith can either shoe a horse or make a horseshoe.

WALLOON LAKE CASE OUT OF COURT

Long Standing Dispute About Water Level Now Settled.

Last week at the invitation of Representative D. H. Hinkley, parties to the Walloon Lake litigation met at his office and came to a mutual agreement which will for all time end this controversy. This case which is now in United States court, involved the height of the water in Walloon lake. The McManus interests and other parties contesting for a lower level, and the Walloon Lake interests advocating a higher level. It has been expensive and costly to both parties, and has created a feeling which heretofore has been detrimental to the welfare of each. Realizing that prolonging this matter was a handicap to both the conference was arranged. Concessions were made by both sides, and a commendable compromise spirit shown, which resulted in a final agreement, the details of which were kept private. Judge Sessions of the United States court, before whom the matter was legally, has placed his official approval on the settlement.

This abrupt end of the suit will be received with favor by the general public and will be the beginning of a better feeling all around. To Messrs. McManus credit should be given for a generous willingness to do their part toward ending the matter, having partially sacrificed their personal interests for the good of the general public. Messrs. Dick and McKecher, who handled the Walloon Lake end, are to be credited with coming through on their part and conceding some of the items for which they have always contended.—Petoskey News.

THE VALUE OF TREES ALONG A HIGHWAY

A letter from Atlanta, Georgia, on Dixie Highway matters calls my attention to many very beautiful places throughout the middle and southern end of this celebrated highway, which runs along the entire west side of Charlevoix County and is destined to become a national highway between the North and South.

The Daughters of the Confederacy have promised to line this highway, entirely across the County of Putnam, Ga., with flowers and shrubbery. Just think what that means for Putnam County and then reflect for a moment what it would mean to have a row of apple trees along the roadside in front of every farm in Charlevoix County. The benefits derived from same by the advanced valuation of farm property would make this one of the very best investments that anyone can make. The tourists would talk about Charlevoix County all over the world.

One great difficulty in our country is that our people have nice trees, or have had them and the road commissioner, or old fashioned path master, has deliberately and wantonly cut them down, thereby destroying one great beauty of our highways. I have seen a farmer thin out and leave standing some nice trees and then go to work deliberately and fool-like to pile brush in close proximity to one of the beautiful trees that he had intended to save, set fire to the brush and destroy the tree. We have all seen that done time and time again. I have seen within the past years a row of beautiful elms, eight to fourteen inches in diameter, cut and many of the trunks remain by the roadside at the present time. This is one of the prettiest viewpoints I know of in this country and should a man wish to purchase the place today, he would give at least $500.00 more if that row of trees were standing.

Some day, there will be a concrete road past this man's house and some rich man will give a big price, not so much for the land as for the location.

Just keep right on thinking, good people, along these lines and see what it means to you in the future.

Yours truly,
GEORGE H. VAN PELT.

Do You Sleep Enough?

Medical authorities are pretty well agreed that eight hours of sleep is the minimum required for the maintenance of health, and all concede that the brain worker needs more sleep than the manual laborer. Habitual deficiency of sleep will undermine the strongest constitution.

Concrete Roads An Asset

Van Pelt Gives Interesting In- terview with O. O. Stone.

O. O. Stone, who is touring East and West, Michigan Pike-Dixie Highway, spent Saturday in Charlevoix, the guest of George H. Van Pelt.

Mr. Stone is a Good Roads enthusiast of unusual interest and says he has firmly been converted from mud, dust and chuck-hole roads to hard, surface, permanent roads, not only from the pleasure and comfort to be enjoyed, but from the every day, good business, common sense viewpoint. The following are a few statements he expressed in his talk regarding good roads:

The road question is a large problem but not a hard one to solve, if we will analyze it as we would our direct and private affairs and by so doing we will calculate benefit to be derived in a community by the improvement. Next we will figure cost and find the cheaper initial cost roads require annually large expenditures for maintenance, which, in a few years, exceeds cost of construction of concrete roads, and yields not more than approximately sixty per cent efficiency. We also discover that at a greater initial cost concrete or cement roads can be constructed, requiring but a very small expenditure for maintenance and yields one hundred per cent efficiency, meaning a number one, mudless, dustless, smooth hard surface road, three hundred sixty-five days in the year, and for years to come, which should solve to the questionable mind the economical type of road to build; the one which improves a community most and serves its purpose best.

While in your city today, my attention was called to Concrete Pavement at the South end of Bridge Street, opposite the Hotel Michigan, laid seven years ago and in number one condition and am told has not required one penny's worth of maintenance. This evidence speaks mutely to you, "Concrete is King."

It might be well to refer to communities older in road building—Wayne County (Detroit) for instance, to heed the errors or profit by the success. About eight years ago, Wayne County built its first mile of concrete or cement road, which today is in excellent condition and serving traffic upwards of Four Thousand Vehicles Per Day, consisting of horse drawn wagons to five ton auto trucks and each succeeding year more has been built until, at the present time, Wayne County contains More Than One Hundred and Forty Miles of Sixteen Foot Wide Concrete Roads.

Wayne County's concrete roads have not only attracted the attention of different states of this country but different countries of Europe, who are profiting by building likewise roads.

There is no other improvement which adds quicker and greater value to the farming community than does good roads, as land and farm product value are actually based on expense and time horse power and general wear and tear of transporting such products to the railroad markets which explains why farming lands of the same soil value ten miles from a railway are not of as much value as land one mile distant.

Now, let us note another important factor, greatly aided by good roads, greater attendance at church and at school; a truer social hospitality; and that every day touch of refinement made more possible.

Picture in thought the great Dixie Highway, beginning at Miami, Fla., extending North through eight States, encircling and paralleling the coast lines of the Southern peninsula of the great and grand State of Michigan, passing through your City, "Charlevoix, the Beautiful." What does it mean to you and our great State? It unquestionably means that your resorts will be visited during the summer months by thousands of touring parties from the Dixie land and it is well spoken when said, "Michigan, the Summer Florida of America."

Gentlemen, I was raised a farmer's son, spent more than half my life on the farm, and am today largely interested in Michigan as a farmer and here are a few facts which touch my quick and arouse my ire:

Statistics from the State authorities prove that, due to poor road conditions it is Costing the Farmers of Michigan Twenty-Six Cents Per Ton Mile to Transport Their Product From Farm to Railroad Station, While the Railroad

Transport the Same Product from loading station to destination For Six Mills Per Ton Mile; something for us to think of. I sincerely believe if the farmers, bankers, merchants, professional men; in fact all, will give the road question good, sound-headed business thought, we will soon get out of the mud, dust and chuck holes, lessen cost of transporting our farm products from plow to railway, and thereby greatly increase land value; more quickly settle the farther back communities and in general get on a higher plane of living."

I regard the statements made by Mr. Stone as of inestimable value to every tax payer in Charlevoix County. I took him to drive on the Horton's Bay road towards Boyne City and I expressed myself that it was highway robbery for the State of Michigan to pay $500.00 per mile for the building of this road and for the residents of Charlevoix County to pay the balance, because this road is virtually out of commission today.

Automobiles are here to stay. It is the big automobiles that wear out our country roads but they are the people we want, because they are the people who spend large sums of money here and the fact is we derive a very large sum of money, which is scattered broad cast, and every man gets a whack at it, from the man who sells an egg to the one who sells a ton of hay. A concrete road, such as is built on the South end of Bridge Street and on Dixon Avenue, would last fifty years and this road will hardly last fifty weeks. "Of course, it is better than it used to be and that is the one reason people feel encouraged, but when they have to pay for the maintenance, which will be a matter of three or four hundred dollars per mile for a few years and a good deal more a few years afterwards, it is plain for any man to see what the building of a concrete road, with four foot shoulders of crushed stone, will mean to the tax payer.

Now, let's stop building any more macadam roads, because they cannot be built strong enough or durable enough to stand the wear and tear of these big automobiles and nothing else will do it except concrete or brick and, of course, brick are so costly that they are out of the question.

Let all good praying people add, "Give us concrete roads" and all who are not praying, say, "We won't accept anything but the concrete road."

How does your garden grow?

"Well," said Mary, "the peach crop is reported ruined as usual, and the grapes a failure, but as we have always done in the past, we will make out somehow."

Don't Whine

Get the whine out of your voice or it will stop the development and the growth of your body. It will narrow and shrink your mind. It will drive away your friends; it will make you unpopular. Quit your whining; brace up; go to work; be something; stand for something; fill your place in the world instead of whining around, exciting only pity and contempt, face about and make something of yourself. Reach up to the stature of a strong, ennobling manhood, to the beauty and strength of a superb womanhood. There is nothing the matter with you. Just quit your whining and go to work. Ex.

Teacher's Examination

The regular teacher's examination for Charlevoix County will be held in the Charlevoix High School building, August 10-12. Certificates of all grades issued. Paper furnished. Reading test on "Ode to a Nightingale" by John Keats. Applicants wishing papers forwarded to other counties must write in ink. In reading 20 per cent credit will be given for written reviews of the reading circle books.

Sincerely yours,
MAY L. STEWART,
Commissioner.

GRAY HAIR BECOMES DARK AND BEAUTIFUL

Try Grandmother's Old Favorite Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients for about 50 cents. Every body uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not attended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

REVIVES THOSE BELIEVED DEAD

New Serum Discovered at Johns Hopkins Causes Heart to React.

WORKING ON A NEW THEORY

Will Revolutionize the Treatment of Persons Apparently Dead From Drowning or Asphyxiation—After Effects Serious in Some Cases.

Baltimore, Md.—A departure in medical science which, if successful, will revolutionize the treatment of persons apparently dead from drowning or asphyxiation is now being experimented with at the Johns Hopkins hospital.

The new treatment will be the injection of a serum to stimulate the blood to such an extent as will form a reaction of the heart. This will keep the person alive until the apparatus perfected some time ago to clear the lungs can be put into use.

The serum has been tried on a number of animals in the laboratories of the institution, and in a number of cases has proved successful. However, in most of the cases there have been after-effects such as high blood pressure or hardening of the arteries.

Dead Four Hours—Revives. According to the physicians, if the serum can be perfected, and there is every assurance at this time that it can, the serum can be injected in the person several hours after the accident and restore the persons to life.

In one case, on an animal, the serum was injected four hours after the drowning took place and the animal was brought back to life, but died later of a high blood pressure. The physicians for more than three years have worked on the theory that the heart in drowned or asphyxiated persons is still active, in a way, for some time after the accident, and that if the organ can be kept in that state until the patient can be treated to clear the lungs hundreds of persons who are given up as dead can be saved.

Restore Freezing Victims. Some time ago a New York physician claimed to have perfected a machine to be used in restoring life to persons frozen to death. The apparatus was tried in a number of cases in the Arctic regions and, according to the accounts, met with some success. It was only a short time after this that the physician at the Johns Hopkins hospital invented a machine to restore to life those apparently dead from drowning. The machine proved successful on animals that could be put under treatment immediately after the accident.

Elkhart, Ind.—It is reported here that Charles Harman, an attorney at Cassopolis, Mich., has been retained by an educated Pottawatomie Indian to prepare to claim property in the heart of Elkhart worth at least $1,000,000. Present owners of the property say they are not alarmed, declaring the court decided the case three-quarters of a century ago. Pierre Morain, otherwise known as Pershing, was allotted Section 5 of Concord township, "and two other sections" by the treaty of Chicago. In 1826 he formally petitioned the president of the United States for permission to sell Section 5 to get means to improve his remaining land. President John Quincy Adams granted the petition. Certain technical steps in the transfer from Morain were not fully perfected, and in later years Morain attempted to recover the land. It is believed the Cassopolis report has reference to some descendants' desire to push this old claim.

CHEER UP

"When I fall down a flight of stairs, or through a trapdoor, unawares, and break a backbone or a limb, there always comes a Sunny Jim, who says, 'Cheer up! It might be worse! And it will do no good to curse.' I listen to his dulcet tones, as I sort out my broken bones, and murmur softly, 'Sunny Jim, I'd like to rend you limb from limb; I might forget my mortal ache, if I could burn you at the stake or poach or fry you in a pan, you dear delightful smiling man!'"

When I am feeling gay and fine, and naught of woe or pain is mine, and life seems like a morning hymn, I always welcome Sunny Jim. I say, "you're speaking sooth, meeseams," when he says woes are idle dreams, and when he says a cheerful face will drive all anguish from the place, I say, "Your words are good as gold; they all are pearls of price untold."

We all agree with Sunny Jim, when feeling in the proper trim; when all our schemes are panning out, we say he is a fine old scout; when we have troubles laid away, and kopecks coming every day, when we have coal enough to last until the winter storms are past, when we have spuds and pork to fry, and our old goose is hanging high—oh, then the words of Sunny Jim call forth our eulogies for him.

But yesterday I took my car, and headed for a burg afar. The roads were good, the weather fine, and speedy was that car of mine; and all the world seemed sweet to me, until I ran against a tree. The tree refused to budge a yard, and so the car was bunged up hard.

Then Sunny Jim came up the road, and laughter from his larynx flowed. He found me seated there, a wreck, one wheel was wrapped around my neck, and portions of my steering gear were pushed into my starboard ear.

"Cheer up!" he cried; "it might be worse—you're not yet ready for a hearse! Dismiss all tragic doubts and fears, and smile and sing and wag your ears. Make up your mind you have no ache, that all your anguish is a fake, just keep your festive smile on straight, and be a sunbeam while you wait!"

And I remarked with eager vim, "If I could boil you, Sunny Jim, if your remains my eyes might see, a dangle from the gallows tree, I'd laugh to scorn the cross cut pain that now is driving me insane!"—By Walt Mason from Judge.

Everyone Should Drink Hot Water in the Morning

Wash away all the stomach, liver, and bowel poisons before breakfast.

To feel your best day in and day out, to feel clean inside; no sour bile to coat your tongue and sicken your breath or dull your head; no constipation, bilious attacks, sick headache, colds, rheumatism or gas, acid stomach, you must bathe on the inside like you bathe outside. This is vastly more important, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, while the bowel pores do, says a well-known physician.

To keep these poisons and toxins well flushed from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, drink before breakfast each day, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This will cleanse, purify and freshen the entire alimentary tract, before putting more food into the stomach.

Get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from your pharmacist. It is inexpensive and almost tasteless, except a sourish twinge which is not unpleasant. Drink phosphated hot water every morning to rid your system of these vile poisons and toxins; also to prevent their formation.

To feel like young folks feel; like you felt before your blood, nerves and muscles became saturated with an accumulation of body poisons, begin this treatment and above all, keep it up! As soap and hot water act on the skin, cleansing, sweetening and purifying, so limestone phosphate and hot water before breakfast, act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels.

HIS BACKACHE GONE

Just how dangerous a backache, sore muscles, aching joints or rheumatic pains may be is sometimes realized only when life insurance is refused on account of kidney trouble. Joseph G. Wolf of Green Bay, Wis., writes: "Foley Kidney Pills relieved me of a severe backache that had bothered me for several months." Men and women who feel their health failing because of weak, overworked or disordered kidneys will be pleased to know that Foley Kidney Pills are prompt in action and give quick results in the relief of rheumatism, sore muscles, aching joints, backache, pains in side, and sleep disturbing bladder troubles.—Hites Drug Store.

SALTS IF KIDNEYS OR BLADDER BOTHER

Harmless to flush kidneys and neutralize irritating acids—Splendid for system.

Kidney and bladder weakness result from uric acid, says a noted authority. The kidneys filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it often remains to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread, the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; a sin, there is difficulty in avoiding it.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it, because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is really one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, continue this for two or three days. This will neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs which then act normally again.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by uric acid irritation. Jad Salts is splendid for kidneys and causes no bad effects whatever.

Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink, which quickly relieves bladder trouble.

LUCKS LIKE A TURKEY; IS ATTACKED BY BADGER

Hunter and "Yarmlin" Then Flee in Opposite Directions—Gypsy Joe Tells the Story. Gainesville, Mo.—Mistaken for a wild turkey and attacked by a badger Joe Williams a gypsy camper, was badly torn and bruised a few days ago across the line in Arkansas near here. Williams was attempting to call up a wild turkey and kill it to replenish his larder, when the accident occurred. With his family the man was enroute to Yellville, Ark. Several deep cuts were inflicted in his neck and back by the claws of the badger.

The Williams family in a covered wagon, arrived at a deep ford on Possum Walk creek a few nights ago. They thought best to wait until morning before continuing, so they camped at the water's edge. Just before sundown Williams saw a large flock of wild turkeys light on a "bald" nearby, so he decided to go turkey hunting early the next morning.

"After seeing them turkeys I decided I'd have one," he said. "I made me a caller out of a piece o' huneysuckle. Early in the mornin' I slipped up on the top of the bald where they went to roost and set down with my back against a big blackjack. Then I started callin' them.

"I hadn't got out morn' a cackle or two when a bird answered me. I showed out my shotgun a'tween my knees, ready to shoot him in the head. I called agin. Then sumthin' hits me in the back and I feels sumthin' enter my neck and back kinda knife like. What it was bowls me over. I looks and there's a big badger, scared as me, runnin' away. Me and him sure was looking for the same game this mornin' for fair. I was so scared and he was so scared that I didn't get a shot at him."

"Did you get a turkey," the correspondent asked.

"Turkey? Nix! I plops up my gun and beats it for that wagon, just as fast as I can. The ol' woman fixes me up with some chewed tobacco and I'm restin' up as you see. With that hurtin' and painin' in my shoulder, I never wants to go turkey huntin' agin."

FIDDLER FOR 4,659 PARTIES

The 53 years Record of a Wisconsin Dance Musician.

Amherst, Wis.—John Ben at Amherst has filed a claim to a world's record for providing music for dances for he has computed his record of the past 53 years as being 4,659 dances. A record he defies any musician in America to equal.

His career dates back to January 16, 1862, when he came with his violin to Amherst, then a village in the heart of the pine woods. In those days he was the only musician who could be obtained for miles around, and he was in constant demand.

His banner year was 1880, when his record was 450 dances, or an average of more than one day for the entire year. Since then the country has settled, and he has had more competition.

In the old days he would not only play, but would call off the square dances, and many is the time when he would make up a missing set on the floor by taking his fiddle to the dancing floor, and dance, call and play at the same time. He still is playing for the country dances, and says he will continue to play as long as he can finger the strings.

RECOVERS LONG LOST WATCH

Eighteen Years in Mill Race, and Still Running.

Penn Yan, N. Y.—One day eighteen years ago Henry W. Townsend, county superintendent of the poor, lost a watch from his pocket. He worked at two tasks that day—assisting in cleaning out a mill race and unloading straw. He searched the straw without finding the time piece. The mill race was soon full of water so that further search could not be made.

A few days ago the race was cleaned out and a watch was found. Townsend examined it and found in it his old timepiece. It was in excellent condition after its long rest under the water.

One of the official's friends asked him if the watch was still running and Mr. Townsend gravely replied that it surely was. It was a stem winder, he said, and very likely the action of the swiftly running water had kept it wound up all these years.

CUTS MEALS TO REDUCE

But Continues to Gain on One Meal Daily—Now Eats All They'll Bring on

Stamford, Texas—Texas lays claim to having the largest man in the United States in the person of Sam Harris of Temmersville. He is 42 years old, and weighs 535 pounds, is six feet two inches in height, and six feet one inch around the abdomen. 69 1-2 inches around the calf of the leg, 47 inches around the thigh, 32 inches around the hips. He requires armholes in his vest of 25 1-2 inches and wears 10 1-2 shoes.

He has most of his clothes made at home, but has to order suits at times and usually has a hard time making the tailors believe the measurements are correct.

He has recently tried the dieting remedy for reducing flesh, limiting his meals to two each day. He gained seven pounds in three months. He then began eating one meal per day and still gained flesh. He says he has returned to his old habit of eating all he can put inside of his belt.

NO FUNNY SONGS IN CONCERT WORK

MARK TWAIN'S DAUGHTER ONCE TRIED THEM BUT FAILED TO GET A SMILE

HUSBAND IS HER ACCOMPANIST

Mme. Gabrilowitsch Started her Musical Career as a Pianist—Describes Her Work.

Philadelphia, Pa.—To be the daughter of America's foremost humorist and the wife of one of the world's greatest pianists would be distinction enough for almost any woman. Mme. Clara Clemens Gabrilowitsch, wife of Ossip Gabrilowitsch and daughter of Mark Twain however, had ambitions of her own and she is now just Mme. Gabrilowitsch, contralto, with a reputation all her own and a good following among the concert goers of New York and many other American and European cities.

"One would think that a singer with your connections would combine music with humor and sing humorous songs once in a while instead of all those serious things which always fill your programs," an interviewer remarked to her.

"Once I tried it," she answered with a humorous twinkle in her eye.

"I was singing German songs to an American audience. Both Beethoven and Brahms have tried their hands at humor. After the group of funny songs almost every face in the audience was serious and I entirely missed the laugh. They hadn't understood the words. So the only thing left me to do was to go back in the dressing room, where I enjoyed the joke all to myself. Since I don't know any really good American songs that are funny and at the same time musical, I've decided to stick to the serious things for the present."

One of the unique features of Mme. Gabrilowitsch's recitals is the fact that the accompaniments of her songs are played by a real virtuoso—her husband. But it is not because she needs any help at the piano. She could play them herself—that is, if etiquette and the fact that singing requires concentration did not demand that she stand up in front of the piano and forget the keyboard.

"I started my musical career as a pianist," she confided, "and was studying in Vienna, when by accident I discovered that I had a voice. The life of the singer appealed to me much more than that of a pianist, so I changed teachers and became a vocalist."

"With all of your pianistic talent, do you ever give joint piano recitals instead of voice and piano entertainments with your husband?"

"During the summer we get much enjoyment from piano duets, and when other pianists are present from works for three and even four players, but we do not play these things publicly. Almost every evening last summer we had our own little piano recitals with no audience except perhaps a friend or two who happened to be with us. I think every singer should be familiar with the best vocalists in instrumental as well as vocal music—to be a musician as well as a vocal performer. Some singers must have their songs drilled into their ears by an assistant at the piano.

"Singing to me would be drudgery instead of pleasure if I could not pick things up myself at the piano. Until a song has been played and sung over and over many times, and committed to memory, it ought not to be sung publicly. The proper way to interpret a song usually does not come until it has been thoroughly memorized."

"In singing publicly the most difficult thing to do is to concentrate the mind on the spirit and character of the role that is being assumed. In the song recital each song means a different impersonation. If the songs are all about similar things monotony results. It is this power to concentrate that makes Mme. Yvette Guilbert such a great artist."

Mme. Gabrilowitsch's favorite singer is Mme. Margarete Matzner, and she also is fond of Miss Emmy Destinn, Miss Elena Gerhardt and Mme. Julia Culp. German songs are her favorite musical compositions, through she sings and likes many Russian and French works. Just at present America is her favorite country.

MAN MADE PRISONER BY CATS

Locked in Barn by His Pair of Playful Pets

Meams, Mich.—Ola Pearson was imprisoned in his barn by a cat. The other night he went into the stable to milk, and the two barn cats in chasing each other playfully around the door managed to slide the wooden bolt on the outside. He called lustily for someone to come and open the door, but the house is some distance from the barn, and no one near him. He finally contrived to wriggle out thru a little window.

OLD SAFE YIELDS MONEY; MAN'S NAME IS CLEARED

Secret Spring Reveals $340 Missed Fifty Years Ago—Clerk Wrongfully Suspected.

Davenport, Ia.—The mere touching of a secret spring releasing a hidden drawer in an old post office safe, revealing $340 in currency, has cleared the black stain covering for 50 years the name of Edward Elliott, once a trusted employe of the government in the United States revenue office at Indianapolis, Ind. At his modest home in the interior of Idaho, where he, years ago settled on a claim, Elliott, now gray haired and aged, learned with joy that the suspicion directed toward him following the mysterious disappearance of the money had been wiped away.

When the shortage was discovered he was forced to make up the deficit from his own savings. He was unable to make a satisfactory explanation of the mysterious disappearance of the money. A few years later he left the Government service and settled on his present claim in Idaho.

A few days ago, John Ohde, a clerk in the Davenport postoffice, in putting away registered mail in the old safe, accidentally touched the spring, which released the hidden drawer and the money. He turned his find over to Postmaster Fred Sharon.

Post office inspectors immediately began to trace the travels of the old safe. Digging into the governmental records of fifty years, they found the safe had at one time been in the Indianapolis postoffice. Records cannot explain why the money was never found in the secret compartment, but it is thought one of Elliott's assistants unwittingly put it here and forgot the incident.

Postal authorities at Washington have been asked to turn over the contents of the drawer to Elliott.

MAN STILL LIVES WHO KEPT NAPOLEON AWAKE

Now 103 Years old and resident of Kansas—Was Born in Wittenberg, Germany.

Omaha, Neb.—There is a man living at Howard, Kan., who once kept Napoleon Bonaparte awake when he might have been enjoying a refreshing sleep. That man is John Munsinger, now 103 years old.

Munsinger was a baby in Wittenberg, Germany, in 1812 when Napoleon with his grand army was on the march to Russia. A huge division of the army camped in and about Wittenberg one night while on the way to the fatal invasion of the Czar's land. Napoleon and his empress, Marie of Austria, in casting about the city for a nice home in which to stop, put up for the night at the Munsinger residence.

Now John Munsinger was just the tiniest kind of a baby at that time, and his milk was not agreeing with him. So he exercised his lungs most lustily during the fore part of the night, and the great French emperor and his empress could not get to sleep for over an hour after retiring. Napoleon was a good loser however, and did not complain. In fact, he cared little about sleep at that time. He was planning the great raid on Russia and Moscow. Indeed, he sat up late that night talking it all over with the Empress.

Recently John Munsinger celebrated his 103d birthday. He wrote his autobiography for the guests without glasses. He told funny stories, enjoyed his dinner and after dinner cleared the floor and danced a jig.

"Don't get the blues," he said. "That is the way to live to be 100. Blues kill people. I never let them bother me."

SAYS OLD MEN ARE TOO SILLY

Bowers Explains His Reason for Giving Up $30,000 Salary

Binghamton, N. Y.—"To me there is nothing more to be avoided in old men than the notion that they are as young and sleek and bright at 60 or 70 as they ever were," declared L. M. Bowers, recently head of the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company, today in explaining why he has resigned a $30,000 a year position with the Rockefeller interests.

"They learn to run automobiles and go scooting at a 40-mile clip, taking chances that younger men would avoid. If they happen to have married a young wife they are pretty sure to be on dress parade most of the time, or one of the other laid up nursing a grouch.

"Old men are generally silly or irritable, and the Lord preserve me from being silly, so I decided to unload a lot of burdens, among them a big salary, and what I do henceforth in active business will be for fun and not for any other consideration."

RABBIT SAUSAGE FROM TEXAS.

State Post to be Transformed into Palatable Delicacy.

Llano, Texas—"Rabbit sausage—Made in Texas." If you come across this new werner you may remember that the Texas legislature has just placed a bounty of five cents per head on jack rabbits. There are many millions of jack rabbits in western Texas. Every one knows what fun it is to hunt rabbits.

The well prepared rabbit is gastronomical delight. Since the passage of the bounty the slaughter of the little jacks has become an important industry. E. T. Castleman of this place is preparing to erect a plant here for the manufacture of rabbit sausage and great numbers of the long eared animals will be required.

RAILROAD WAGES

Shall they be determined by Industrial Warfare or Federal Inquiry?

To the American Public:

Do you believe in arbitration or industrial warfare?

The train employes on all the railroads are voting whether they will give their leaders authority to tie up the commerce of the country to enforce their demands for a 100 million dollar wage increase.

The railroads are in the public service—your service. This army of employes is in the public service—your service.

You pay for rail transportation 3 billion dollars a year; and 44 cents out of every dollar from you goes to the employes.

On all the Eastern Railroads in 1915, seventy-five per cent of the train employes earned these wages (lowest, highest, and average of all) as shown by the payrolls—

	Passenger		Freight		Yard
	Range	Average	Range	Average	Range	Average
Engineers	$1641 3224	$1931	$1585 2992	$1783	$1303 2178	$1543
Conductors	1553 3004	1831	1552 2901	1642	1145 1991	1315
Firemen	951 1704	1128	933 1762	1109	752 1633	935
Brakemen	957 1707	1141	862 1521	973	834 1635	1085

The average yearly wage payments to all Eastern train employes (including those who worked only part of the year as shown by the 1915 payrolls were—

	Passenger	Freight	Yard
Engineers	$1796	$1546	$1384
Conductors	1724	1404	1238
Firemen	1033	903	844
Brakemen	1018	858	990

A 100 million dollar wage increase for men in freight and yard service (less than one-fifth of all employes) is equal to a 5 per cent advance in all freight rates.

The managers of the railroads, as trustees for the public, have no right to place this burden on the cost of transportation to you without a clear mandate from a public tribunal speaking for you.

The railroads have proposed the settlement of this controversy either under the existing national arbitration law, or by reference to the Interstate Commerce Commission. This offer has been refused by the employes' representatives.

Shall a nation-wide strike or an investigation under the Government determine this issue?

PROPHECY

When I was young I took delight in doing things I shouldn't do; I whooped around the town at night, the leader of a ribald crew. I broke into old Kicks-shaw's shed, and kept him from his sitting hen; and graybeards looked at me and said, "He'll end his journey in the pen."

I dyed-old Farmer Jimpson's hogs; they once were white, I made them blue; I tied tin cans to many dogs, and watched them raise a howdydo. With boyish zeal did I aspire to do things better left undone; I set old Wiggins' beard afire, when he was sleeping in the sun. I placed a tack upon the chair on which the teacher used to sit, and laughed to see him tear his hair, and paw around and have a fit. All o'er the country wild and wide, my fame was thick as it could be, and graybeards looked at me and sighed, "He'll end upon the gallows-tree!"

Then I braced up and ceased to play the trick that brought me fierce renown; I studied hard both night and day, I took my books and held them down. I realized that life was short, and if a lad would put up grass, he'd have to cease to be a sport, and let the merry chances pass. My late companions used to come, and cry, "Oh, let us paint the grad! Without some fun this life is bum, and full of prunes and punk and sad."

I sternly schooled the boys afoof, and said, "This is my busy day; I'm storing knowledge 'neath my roof—just watch and see me put up hay!" I kept my resolution strong, I studied days, I studied nights; and soon life's prizes came along, and I climbed up the decent heights. My name was in the magazines, my picture in the Sunday sheets; and I had coin to buy the beans, and sundry other brands of eats.

The graybeards marked me as I rose, those fine old men of sense and wit, and they exclaimed, "Just look at those! We always said he'd make a hit! His young career we marked with joy, his forward-march that naught could stop, and said, when he was but a boy, 'That lad is bound to reach the top!'"—By Walt Mason from Judge.

ABSENT 36 YEARS, HE COMES BACK

OLD MAN 69 GOES HOME TO FIND
ALL KIN DEAD EXCEPT HIS AGED SISTER

WAS THOUGHT DEAD YEARS AGO

"Worn Out Now," He Says—Has Traveled All Over the Country—
Nothing for It.

Pittsfield, Mass.—After wandering for 36 years all over the country George Churchill has returned to this city. In this interval of years all of his relatives have died except an aged sister, Mrs. George Murdock.

Churchill after leaving Pittsfield, never communicated with his relatives. They believed him dead. In 1881 Mrs. Murdock read in the newspapers of the death of George Churchill in Ohio. His body had been buried and the family here believed that the missing George Churchill of Pittsfield was the person who had died.

This week a gray haired bearded stranger revealed himself to the old family physician of the Churchills as the long absent George Churchill. From the physician he learned his sister was still living and was 81 years old, but in feeble health.

The physician prepared the sister for a meeting with the brother she had so long believed to be dead. Churchill now aged 69, and his elder sister, so worn with age that she is being cared for, were brought together again. Mrs. Murdock was greatly shocked by the reappearance of her brother.

Churchill's story is one of wanderlust. He was a woodworker when he went away and he followed his trade for years. New processes of labor saving machinery forced him to abandon his trade. He turned his hand to cooking and for a long time worked in hotels and restaurants.

"All the years," he said, "I have been wanting to come back to see the folks. I couldn't get started. Now I'm old and worn out and there seemed to be no other place for me to go."

Churchill's health is broken and he can no longer work. He will be provided for by friends of the Churchill family.

ELECTRIFIES HIS HOME;
OPERATES MANY DEVICES

Telephone, Clock, Sewing Machine and Kitchen Utensils Operated in Manner He Desires.

Gardiner, Me.—The house at 56 Water street, overlooking the Kennebec River, a structure that is known historically as the original Indian block-house, might almost be said to be electrified.

Edgar E. Ramsdell lives there. He likes electricity and is full of the subject. He likes to experiment along both practical and theoretical lines. He believes electricity has a mission and he makes the subtle fluid work its passage in his own abode.

As one approaches the front door it opens automatically. It is operated from the inside by push buttons. This plan was inaugurated chiefly to save steps when members of the household are coming in at frequent intervals during the day.

One of the first objects seen on entering the front room is a calendar clock that gives the day of the week and month as well as the correct time, and winds itself every eight minutes. The dates all change instantaneously when the stroke comes that marks the midnight hour. The clock strikes the hour and the half hour on three gongs located in different parts of the house. On a large switchboard there are also shown a number of fire alarm boxes, all of them ready to operate at any moment. Mr. Ramsdell takes great delight in showing the mechanism of these fire alarm boxes and the contrast between the old and new patents.

The sewing machine in the sitting room is run by electricity, all the cooking can be done by electricity close to the dining room table, where all the latest devices are installed, and the clothes are washed by electricity. There are electric flatirons, devices for securing all grades of light, especially constructed electric reflectors for the sewing table and another very powerful white light for looking down the throats of his children, if sick with colds or other maladies. There is also a full line of electric heating pads for keeping everybody warm at night and for use, in cases of sickness. About everything in the dining room is run by electricity except the thermometers and Mr. Ramsdell says he knows of no way to hitch that up.

Factory Makes Big Shirt.

Parsons, Kan.—What is claimed to be the largest shirt ever made for a man was made at a factory here for George W. Nickler of Ames, Iowa. The shirt has an 83 inch waist, 23 inch collar, 56 inch chest and 28 inch arms. It is made of chevlot and will cost Nickler $11.

Cats were domesticated in Egypt as early as 1800 B. C.

Charlevoix County Fair Sept. 5-6-7-8, 1916

P. A. puts new joy into the sport of smoking!

YOU may live to be 110 and never feel old enough to vote, but it's certain-sure you'll not know the joy and contentment of a friendly old jimmy pipe or a hand rolled cigarette unless you get on talking-terms with Prince Albert tobacco!

P. A. comes to you with a real reason for all the goodness and satisfaction it offers. It is made by a patented process that removes bite and parch! You can smoke it long and hard without a come-back! Prince Albert has always been sold without coupons or premiums. We prefer to give quality!

Prince Albert affords the keenest pipe and cigarette enjoyment! And that flavor and fragrance and coolness is as good as that sounds. P. A. just answers the universal demand for tobacco without bite, parch or kick-back!

Introduction to Prince Albert isn't any harder than to walk into the nearest place that sells tobacco and ask for "a supply of P. A." You pay out a little change, to be sure, but it's the cheer-fullest investment you ever made!

This Week as it is Not in History

Monday, July 24.—Queen Elizabeth does the Royal washing, 1520.

Tuesday, July 25.—Black hand letter received by George Washington, 1770.

Wednesday, July 26.—Rocking chairs invented by a Hottentot in Africa, 1700.

Thursday, July 27.—First bathing suits worn by Lot and wife at Dead sea, 000.

Friday, July 28.—Henry Ford presents Julius Caesar with Roman chariot, B. C. 10.

Saturday, July 29.—Horse racing made popular by Oliver Cromwell in England, 1610.

Sunday, July 30.—Russian Ballet danced in Turkish harem, 1810.

GAVE THE BABY REST

Children just cannot keep covered at night and that is one way they take cold. Foley's Honey and Tar is a reliable family cough medicine that contains no opiates or harmful ingredients. Mrs. Wm. Leonard, Pottsville, Pa., writes: "My baby had a very bad cough. The first dose gave her relief."—Hites Drug Store.

Old Jokes Re-twisted.

Said she: "New York's a sinful place." Her friend replied, "you bet! The slums and tenderloin are bad. But oh,—you swagger set!"

Girls, don't be snippy and stuck up because you are young and handsome. It may not take long to outgrow it.

The highwayman who requests his victim to throw up his hands and throw down his arms simultaneously is asking too much.

Satan cares nothing whatever about a man's attending church on the Sabbath if he gets his services the other six days in the week.

HER LEFT SIDE HURT

Mrs. Laura Beall, Plattsburg, Miss., writes: "Last April I got in bad health; my left side hurt all the time. I had symptoms of Bright's disease. I took Foley Kidney Pills and feel all right now." They quickly relieve backache, rheumatism, aches and pains. Bladder troubles, too, are corrected by this remedy.—Hites Drug Store.

Faith
A man's faith in himself is his most exclusive possession.

While it may be quite true that faith will move mountains, it is also quite true that it will move an automobile or a creditor.

Those men who try faith instead of elbow grease, know a great deal more about rubber heels than rubber tires. A baby keeps its faith in mankind until someone comes in late with its bottle.

When the average human reaches the age of thirty, his faith in others is about as life like as a stuffed fish.

We read a great deal of "child like faith"—yet most children hide their treasures in the darkest corner of the attic.

Man's faith in the other chap is in indirect ratio to the size of the dividends paid by the padlock and bonding companies.

And yet, but for faith, the subway and the wooden streets of New York City would be about as popular as a fertilizer plant.

Preachers who can speak most powerfully on the subject of faith, can also speak most powerfully on the subject of having their contracts as to remuneration signed in advance.

Faith is such a scarce article that any man, who possesses a fair amount of it, is apt to find that his friends have applied to the courts for the appointment of a committee to take care of his property.—From Judge.

The Expense of Knowing People

For knowing a barber—five dollars a year.

A neighbor, say two dinners, an auto ride every third week and treats—forty dollars a year.

A girl—from forty to four thousand a year.

Any tradesman—about the same.

A friend, average—two hundred.

A close friend—one hundred.

Anyone—average, fifty.

The hermit spends practically nothing. How much do you spend? think this over.—From Judge.

If a young widow should marry again before the late lamented has reigned in the cemetery a year, the neighbor women don't do a thing to her.

Experience may be a great teacher, but a man's experience with a woman seldom teaches him good sense.

The average man is miserable because he spends a lot of his time in making himself think he is.

Nothing is so fatal to the romance of a stolen kiss as to have the girl sneeze at the wrong time.

Some men make good by stepping in other men's tracks.

Anyway George Washington didn't use his little hammer.

Why does the self-made man never suffer from remorse?

Time flies—and the leader of an orchestra can beat it.

In most cases an engagement ring is a band of hope.

Most of the waiters in a hotel are its guests.

Briefs of the Week

Mrs. Estella Sherman left Friday last for a visit with relatives at Lockport, N. Y. She went on the barge Stephenson which was here last week loading with hardwood lumber and cleared for Erie, Pa.

Hon. Michael J. Fanning of Philadelphia, Pa., will give a free Lecture entitled "The Problem of the Age," at the Temple Theatre, on Wednesday Aug. 2nd at 8:00 p. m. He comes under the auspices of the W. C. T. U.

Mrs. Loren Frost passed away at her home in Wilson township, Sunday. She being thirty-nine years of age. A hemorrhage was the cause of her death. Funeral services were held Wednesday conducted by Rev. Wm. Haskins.

Manager Adams of the Temple Theatre returned home from his duties with Company "I" at Camp Ferris first of the week, but has since been confined to his home most of the time, being incapacitated by the after-effects of the vaccinations received.

Owing to a change in circuits by the film house, the Temple Theatre was compelled to discontinue the serial story "The Girl and the Game" for a few weeks. As The Herald is publishing this story in connection with the pictures, we decided that it would be more satisfactory to our readers to omit this story for a couple of weeks, when it will be resumed.

East Jordan experienced its heaviest electrical storm of the season on Thursday morning. Accompanied with a heavy down-pour of rain, lightning struck the tower of St. Joseph's Catholic church, striking just below the cross and entering the tower. The damage is estimated at about $100. Both telephone and electric light wires were put out of commission in various parts of the city. Lightning followed a telephone wire into the home of James Gidley on the West Side, starting a blaze in a closet which was promptly extinguished.

I want one thing distinctly understood—that in no shape, form nor fashion am I figuring on making a dollar out of the building of concrete roads. The experience that I have had warrants me in saying that the building of concrete roads will reduce our road tax very materially and that I don't expect to make a dollar out of the building of a road, the financing, or in any other way, but, if I can succeed in convincing the people of Charlevoix County that it is to their interests to build all the main roads concrete, and those where the traffic is light macadam, and thus give every farmer in Charlevoix County a good road, I shall be satisfied.—George H. Van Pelt.

ADVICE

Advice is a veiled but egotistical attempt to show your neighbor how you surpass him intellectually. It is a magnifying glass which you hand to him, after which you make certain that you are standing at the proper focal distance.

Advice is also used as a sugar coating for criticism, as a diplomatic method of checking offensive conduct, and as a pastime.

There are two classes of people ebullient with a desire to give advice: those who have had experience and those who have not.

A request for advice is usually a subtle form of flattery or else a method of dodging responsibility.

The person who is wise enough to take good advice and the one who is too wise to give it generally tie the knot of perfect friendship.

Advice is a drug on the market. The principle reason why the supply exceeds the demand is because those who need the most take the least.

Advice should never be followed. If it is good advice, it cannot be followed. The only advice which is good is that which drives you.—From Judge.

HOW MEN DIFFER FROM ANIMALS

The chief difference between man and the lower animals lies in man's capacity for sinning. Obviously he has no monopoly of the virtues. A dog may be faithful, an elephant may be kind and true, a cat is said to love home and fireside; the parental instincts of the penguin would put nine-tenths of the leaders of our best society to shame. It is not by possessing such attributes that animals become "almost human." It would be fairer to our furred and feathered friends to say that the man who possesses these traits in fine degree is almost animal. There is a horse of vaudeville fame that reckons simple sums in addition, and answers a wide variety of questions, if my memory serves me; I will even allow him to write his own first name with his hoof in the sand. The show bills call him human yet we feel no sense of kinship as we watch the performance, even though we should grant him all the ratiocination his exhibitors claim. We simply say, "What a wonderfully clever horse!" bestow a word of praise upon his trainer, and that is the whole story. I have seen a dog perform agile tricks with prompt obedience and obvious enjoyment, and to me he was still a dog. But when some canine friend hides on his washday; when he steals the cat's milk and pretends he did not; when he slinks in at a door with every expression of eye and limb crying "pecoyi," ah, then I say to myself, "There is something human about that dog."—Harper's Magazine.

NOTIONS ABOUT "WIMMIN"

The average woman can do more with a hairpin in the way of manufacturing history than a man can with a canal boat and a pair of mules.

One way for a man to find out just what a woman really thinks of him is to make her angry.

When a girl tells you that she dreamed of you the night before it is up to you to beat it to an installment man and dig up the furniture.

Every girl knows lots of things that she doesn't want you to know she knows.

Apparently women haven't enough troubles in this world to keep them busy, so they have taken to lacing their shoes up the back just in order to make life harder and a little more complicated for the next few months.

No two women could say as much in an hour's conversation as is expressed in that silent book of soul communion which passes between two men just about to take a drink.

Some people are so busy criticizing creeds that they have no time left for practical religion.

ADVERTISED GOODS MUST BE GOOD

The advertiser does not succeed because he advertises, but because his goods are worthy to be advertised, and fulfill the claims and promises which the advertising makes for them. Advertising cannot add anything to a commodity, nor take anything away from it. It cannot make people believe that an article is what it is not, nor permanently and profitably sell it if it is undesirable and unworthy.

Advertising does not so much create a market for goods as take advantage of a market which already exists. Advertising enormously increases the volume of demand for the goods, simply by enormously increasing the number of people who know about them.

Advertising performs no miracles. Trade follows a law which is as immutable as any law of nature. Just as water will not flow up hill, trade refuses to flow to those who do not deserve it. The most desirable goods at the most reasonable prices win the final and permanent patronage of the public, provided there is a sufficient opportunity to learn about them and to buy them.

The manufacturer advertises his goods because he believes they will meet his test; because he believes that, of their kind and grade and at their price, they are more desirable and satisfactory than competing goods. If he does not believe this, or if he is honestly mistaken in his estimate of his product, the buying public will soon place him precisely where he belongs.

A common public impression seems to be that advertised goods are uniformly higher in price than equally desirable goods which are not advertised. This belief has been fostered by the publication of the reports of investigating legislators and others purporting to prove that advertising increases the cost of living.

Why, for example, does the discriminating housewife prefer to buy certain brands of advertised food products rather than to buy unadvertised goods at a lower price?

These are the reasons: Because she knows that the factory in which they are made is clean and sanitary; that the materials of which they are made are pure, wholesome and carefully selected; that they are made by careful, cleanly, contented, intelligent workers. She knows this is true because the factory is at all times open to the public, and is annually visited by thousands of people.

Because the goods, on trial in her own home, have proved the truth of the claims made for them.

Because they are always reliable; always uniform in quality.

Because they are advertised in publications which have thoroughly investigated them, and would refuse them space if they were not absolutely dependable.

Because they are packed in a manner which insures their freshness, full strength and flavor, and freedom from contamination.

Because they are more attractive in appearance, and therefore more tempting and appetizing.

Because the few additional pennies they may cost is a small price to pay for this insurance of quality, purity, cleanliness and uniformity.

Now, take careful note of this point for it is of vital importance: Superior materials, model factories, high grade workmanship, mechanical devices which obviate the necessity of touching the product with the human hand, air and moisture proof packages and tasteful and artistic labels cost money. Who pays for it? The consumer? If so she would have to pay a higher price for such goods, even if they were not advertised.—Leslie's

How America's largest cigarette manufacturer has accomplished "the Impossible" by producing a MILD cigarette that SATISFIES. It is the CHESTERFIELD Cigarette

ALMOST anybody can make a cup of coffee. But there are said to be not over a half-dozen restaurants in the United States where they know how to make it right.

Similarly, almost anyone can make a cigarette. Just roll up some tobacco in a piece of pure paper—and there you are.

There are, perhaps, over 800 brands of cigarettes sold in this country today. But not one of them does what Chesterfields do—for Chesterfields are MILD; and yet they SATISFY.

Some cigarettes may be mild, but they don't satisfy. Only one cigarette does BOTH—Chesterfield!

This truly unique cigarette has all of that refreshing taste—delicacy (or mildness) which any good cigarette must have. Yet, without sacrificing any of this delightful mildness, Chesterfields go one step further—they do more than merely "please your taste"—they let you know you've been smoking. They satisfy!

And yet they're mild!

A Step Forward in Cigarette-Making

WE are proud to be the firm that has brought about this important new development in cigarette enjoyment—for that is exactly what the Chesterfield blend is.

This cigarette is an outgrowth of long, earnest effort on the part of this, the largest cigarette manufacturing concern in the United States.

The mild, yet satisfying Chesterfield blend is not the result of happy chance. It is one of the results of our many years of cigarette experience—of the heavy volume of our purchases of cigarette tobacco—of the prestige and advantage these enormous purchases give us in securing the choicest leaf from the tobacco fields of the world.

Chesterfields are an achievement.

A New Thing for a Cigarette to Do

CHESTERFIELDS do the one thing you have always wished a cigarette would do—they satisfy!

Smoke them and we believe you will find that ordinary cigarettes seem by comparison almost flat.

Give Chesterfields (20 for 10 cents) a trial. We believe you will be glad to learn what they can teach you about cigarette enjoyment.

* * *

You have been reading here some rather unusual, almost daring, statements about a cigarette. If Chesterfields were an untried cigarette—if we had not been observing their behavior in other cities—if we did not KNOW that they make good with smokers, we could not afford to make these statements to you over our signature.

But these statements, strong as they are, can mean little or nothing to you until you have actually smoked your first Chesterfield.

You will find that your own dealer has Chesterfields waiting for you.

*The Chesterfield Blend contains the most famous Turkish tobacco—SAMSOJUN for richness; CAVALLA for aroma; SMYRNA for sweetness; XANTHI for fragrance, combined with the best domestic leaf.
