Get Your Exhibits Ready

For Our County Fair To Be Held This Coming Week.

Remember that the Charlevoix County Fair is to be held at East Jordan next week—Sept. 5, 6, 7 and 8.

The management desires to call your attention to the fact that this is a County Fair and not an East Jordan Fair and that as such, it deserves the patronage and support of every citizen of Charlevoix County.

Premiums are offered in the following Departments:

- A—Horses Supt. S. E. Rogers
- B—Cattle Henry Nowland
- C—Swine F. H. Wangeman
- D—Sheep F. H. Wangeman
- E—Poultry F. J. Meech
- F—Farm Implements F. J. Meech
- G—Grain & Vegetables Ira Olney
- H—Fruit John Newville
- I—Dairy Products Mrs. Robt. Price
- J—Fancy Work Mrs. W. F. Empey
- K—Flowers, Plants, etc., Mrs. R. Price
- L—Miscellaneous E. B. Ward
- M—School Work May L. Stewart

Premium Lists may be obtained by writing to Dwight L. Wilson, Secretary, at East Jordan.

Practically every one in Charlevoix County has an article which could be entered in one of these departments and which would have a good chance of being awarded a premium. If all Departments are not flooded with entries it will be your fault and not that of the Management. See to it that you are one of those who helps out the Fair by entering articles for Premiums and thus making the competition keen.

The Fair is held early this year and that means that many visitors from other parts of the State and other States will be in attendance. Enter your articles and advertise the productiveness of this County to these visitors.

All residents of the County know what it can produce and each of you who have articles of quality know that they are good. Be loyal. Enter these for premiums. Demonstrate to each outsider that this County is a very productive one. Do this and increase the value of your farm.

The Free Attractions of this Fair have been advertised in previous issues and are of the highest class. The School exhibit alone is worth the price of admission.

Membership tickets are on sale at $1.00 each. These make you a member of the Society for one year, give you the right to vote for Directors of the Society and admit you to the grounds for three days of the Fair.

Get one of these and vote for the Director that you think will serve the best interests of the Society.

EAST JORDAN WINS EIGHTH STRAIGHT GAME

Nursery Rhymes Retwisted

There was an old woman who lived in a shoe, Who had so many children she didn't know what to do; So she learned them to sing, and to dance and be funny, And now they're in vaudeville, earning big money.

Close Contests In Primaries

Results Still Doubtful In Many Offices.

Election returns, as a rule, are rather slow and the returns for the August Primaries this year seem exceptionally so.

At the present writing Albert E. Sleeper is the choice of Michigan for Governor, with ninety per cent of the vote in. These latest figures give Sleeper 52,200; Leland 45,370; with Diekema's vote being less than 25,000 and Gardner's less than 20,000.

In the senatorial contest the renomination of Townsend is assured the latest reports giving Townsend a lead over Hill of approximately 20,000.

For Lieutenant Governor Dickinson is nominated by a safe majority over Heinenan.

In the State Senatorial fight, the contest is rather close but the indications are that Morford has been safely renominated over Hinkley.

In the County, J. E. Chew will be the Republican Candidate for Representative, having won a decisive victory over the four other candidates.

For Register of Deeds McDonald is leading Emery by approximately one hundred votes.

For Road Commissioner House won the nomination over Lorch and E. C. Chew.

The balance of the ticket will remain the same as heretofore, Judge Correll and Sheriff Noyak having no opposition. Clerk Richard Lewis and Pros. Att'y Rollie L. Lewis both won out over their contestants. Treasurer Weaver had no opposition. For Coroners, Drs. Wilkinson of Charlevoix and Dicken of East Jordan will be the candidates. Surveyor Robinson and Drain Com'r Smith had no opposition.

STANDARDIZING MICHIGAN FARM MARKETING

East Lansing, Mich., Aug. 28.—The Michigan Standard Co-operative Ass'n, as outlined by the Markets Department of the Michigan Agricultural College, has several distinctive features.

First, it has no capital stock; second, it is composed only of those who make their living by growing farm or horticultural products; third, there are no profits, the savings obtained because of the economies of collective activity are distributed among the members in accordance with the amount of business done by each member with the association; fourth, there is no proxy voting. It is an association of men and not a combination of capital. The association has capital, but there are no shares, and the capital is only a means to an end. This capital comes from membership fees and loans made by the members to the organization. The operation of the Ass'n does not result in profits but in savings to the members because of the economies of large-scale transactions. Any surplus that may accumulate because of exceptional savings is distributed at the close of the year among the members in accordance with the amount of business they have done with the organization.

The standard association enjoys the protection of the Clayton amendment to the Sherman Anti-Trust law, because it is constructed according to the suggestions contained in the amendment.

The standard association is the first step in Michigan toward a general promotion of efficiency in the distribution of farm products. The second step will be the establishment of uniform grades for quality, and the third step will be the classifying and harmonizing of the accounting systems, so that the operations of the different associations will be comparable one with another. The federal and state governments have already done much toward standardizing and accounting systems used by the railroads, the banks and the insurance companies and it is only reasonable that it extend a similar service to the organizations marketing the great food crops of the country.

WISE AND OTHERWISE

He (or she) is a queer voter who cannot find a candidate to his (or her) liking this year.

Happiness is a perfume you cannot pour on others without getting a few drops on yourself.

Where are the weather prophets who along in May, staked their reputation that this would be a cool summer?

It is said the United States has enough salt to supply the world, and yet the United States is not so fresh as it used to be.

Our idea of a true disciple of preparedness is the man who spends his summer vacation in cleaning out the furnace and splitting up kindling wood.

When you see two white shoes drying on a window-sill and a girl hanging out of the window to dry her hair, you can bet she is not going to eat onions for supper.

Next to a bow-legged girl in a short skirt, our idea of the funniest thing in sartorial eccentricity is a man with the pyramidal Adam's apple and a sport shirt.

Things are getting serious for the wets in Chicago. Since the mayor has revoked 200 licenses there are only 5000 saloons left in the city, and it is said there are districts where people must walk two whole blocks to get a drink.

Hints for Housewives

If silver is to be stored away for some time, pack it in dry flour, it will not be tarnished.

If fruits are canned as soon as they are picked, there will be less loss by fermentation.

Under arm perspiration may be removed by mucic acid. Other perspiration by a strong soap solution and hot sun.

To save both time and the cream in whipping it, whip it in a pitcher instead of a bowl. There is no chance of splattering.

A common brass cup hook, such as is used in China closets, can easily be screwed into the end of the broom handle, to hang it by.

If a tablespoonful of cold water is added to the beaten white of an egg, and then sufficient confectioners sugar to thicken is put in. You will have a frosting that will cut without breaking.

It should be a matter of common knowledge, since flour is always within convenient reach, that wheaten flour is the best extinguisher to throw over a fire caused by the spilling and igniting of kerosene.

WHAT IS GOOD FOR ONE SHOULD BE GOOD FOR ALL

Anybody can work for himself, be selfish, friendless, accumulate money and property, die, be buried and not be missed. Not the selfish interests of one or a few, but the welfare of all must be the standard rule for every transaction. In the building of roads, all must work together for the common good. If a man cannot have a good road come to his farm, but can get it a short distance away, is it not his duty and to his advantage to have it come to as near his own farm as is possible? It would be better for him to either haul a load over his poor road to the good road, there unload it and go back and get another load and when he reaches the good road, reload the one he had hauled there and so go on to town.

This, of itself, is proof that good roads are profitable and a great economizer of both time and wear and tear. There are lots of ways to make money, but none easier nor more positive than this way. Concrete roads can now be built nine feet wide, with shoulders on either side of crushed hard heads, making a seventeen foot road, for approximately two thousand dollars a mile more than the nine foot gravel road that we are now building.

Have you any idea what it would mean if we had such a road on the entire west end of our county to accommodate the tourists who come up over the Dixie Highway and West Michigan Pike and then to have a concrete road that would run from Charlevoix to Boyne City, from Boyne City to Boyne Falls, from Boyne City to East Jordan and from East Jordan to the West end of the county to accommodate that business, and then from East Jordan into Charlevoix. Well, I can tell you something about it. Clubs and associations would be formed, new golf links laid out and just think for a moment that the caddie boys in this town received last year more than five thousand dollars for their work and this year will receive even more. In a few years, there wouldn't be a fine prominent building spot that would not be occupied by a summer cottage and prices for land throughout the whole county and in fact, some of the adjoining counties, also, would soar aloft just as the resort property has in the city of Charlevoix. It is estimated by those who ought to know that more than half a million dollars will be paid out in Charlevoix by the tourists alone this year and we would think we were a wonderful city if we had manufacturing interests here that would pay out the same amount. We would have motor boats—not by the dozen but by the hundred on Pine Lake and Charlevoix County (I want the young people to take particular pains to remember what I am saying) would be the mecca and would be known virtually the world over as the greatest resort county in the United States.

We now have the opportunity, if we will embrace it, to use the State money and get a double free reward for it on the West Michigan Pike and Dixie Highway and some day the State may conclude that they cannot continue to keep this up and withdraw their offer. So it seems to me that it would be a good business proposition to go to work and build these roads right away, particularly, the one just mentioned, and so get our double reward.

Get together, friends, think it over and talk it over, because what is good for you is good for me and what is good for me is also good for you.

PAVING FOR THE FOLKS

(Editorial From Duluth News-Tribune, February 4, 1916.)

According to Commissioner Farrell, there are now over ten miles of reinforced concrete streets in Duluth. When the News-Tribune began the advocacy of this material for paving, there was one in the city. That was about three years ago.

We believe in another five years there will be but little of any other material used here. It has every other material backed off the boards in every quality needed in Duluth. In addition, it is open to the use of any contractor. It is the one material absolutely as free to one as to the other; no one can have any advantage in its use save what comes from equipment and organization.

Every other material uses concrete as a base. All others provide only a wearing surface. They all depend upon concrete for their sustaining power. Yet it only needs a portion more of cement to make this base the best wearing surface in the world.

Repeated tests have proved this. Common sense endorses it. Once in place and set, only chisels and sledges can pick it out. It is, in fact, the equivalent, as stipulated in Duluth, of solid trap rock. Who can imagine a more enduring wearing surface than our trap rock?

It also has the best traction surface. It gives the best grip to both horses and wheels. It is the one best answer to the problem of steep grades. It is used here successfully on 11 per cent grades; it is used with equal satisfaction elsewhere on 18 per cent grades. On it wheels neither slip nor skid.

The one objection brought to it that sticks and cannot be disproved is that it is cheap. It costs far less than any other kind of paving. It will not then be suitable for 'high-brow' streets; but everywhere else on business streets and, with this one exception, in residence streets, it will be, in time the one paving of general use.

The News-Tribune has persistently advocated this paving because it is both the best in traction surface and in endurance of them all and the cheapest. It is the ordinary man's one answer to the cost of paving. It is backed by no organization. No one can profit by its promotion. Even the cement manufacturers do not use newspaper advertising, in which they are, mighty short sighted. So, we give it to them for the good of Duluth.

A Legend of the French Poppy

During the early stages of the present war a strange phenomenon on the battlefields of Northern France was the abundance of poppies, all the roads being bordered by large tracts of red flowers, which gave the impression that there had come forth to the surface once more. In any case this is the popular belief among the peasants of the districts where battles raged only some months ago; but the real explanation is that the poppy is the companion of wheat in France, just as the bluebell mingles with the corn in Russia, and that the poppy has usurped all the space.—Ex.

HOW PROHIBITION WORKS

Some Very Interesting Facts Gathered By a Michigan Editor.

Port Huron, Mich.—Louis A. Well, editor of the Port Huron-Times-Herald, returned recently from a trip to the Pacific coast, bringing several interesting incidents which show that prohibition is taken very seriously in Oregon.

"They told me," said Mr. Well, "that few people in Oregon believed the lumber camps could be run without booze, on account of the wild and irresponsible nature of the workmen. Since January 1 it has been proved that a lumber camp in Oregon not only can retain its full force of men under prohibition methods, but that much greater efficiency and general content is the result of saloon abolition.

"A striking incident in Portland came to my attention from the social welfare department. A day nursery was established some time ago in which mothers could leave their babies while they went out to work. Since prohibition went into effect this nursery has practically lost its patronage. The mothers do not have to work because their husbands now have jobs.

"The pleasures of a people are not unimportant. In Seattle I found one of the leading hotels managed by a man who fought prohibition hard. He had been conducting dances for the public and of course there were convivial features in connection. When I stopped at the hotel the people were dancing in the evening and having a thorough good time, though without the attendant inspiration of alcoholic beverages and without the other objectionable results which frequently follow public dances.

"Altogether the dry regime seemed to be thoroughly welcome wherever I went in Washington and Oregon."

ANALYZING WET STATEMENTS

Liquor Withdrawn From Bond Not Wholly For Drink.

Some advocates of prohibition become discouraged when they read in the public prints that notwithstanding the facts that prohibition has become effective in seven states since July 1, 1916, the internal revenue office reports an increase in revenue from distilled spirits of ten million dollars, and an increase of about seven and one-half million gallons of liquors distilled between January 1, 1916, and June 3, 1916.

The liquor journals are loudly proclaiming that this means an increased consumption of liquor despite the prohibition victories. But these figures need to be explained and the explanation falls to prove the liquor traffic's contention, says the American Issue.

First. The Internal Revenue department admits that at least one-half of this increase in revenue is due to increased efficiency in collecting.

Second. This revenue is collected by the government when the liquor is withdrawn from the bonded warehouses, and much has been withdrawn during the past year because the time limit for storage in these bonded warehouses had expired.

Third. Withdrawal from bond and the payment of the government tax is never proof that the liquor has been consumed. It is often withdrawn because of time expiration and placed in private warehouses, much of it is shipped abroad, much is used in the arts and sciences. The National Liquor Dealers' Journal of July 12, 1916, on page 8, says: "Withdrawal from bond may not mean increased consumption."

Fourth. The fact must also be borne in mind that since the opening of the European War many of our distilleries have been kept busy distilling spirits to be used in making high explosives. Tens of thousands of barrels have been shipped to Europe and blown into the air, and not consumed here as a beverage. This increased production of the liquor traffic would have us believe means an increased consumption. Do not be deceived.

Fifth. Mida's Criterion, the great distillers' organ, recently sent out a blind ballot to the distillers, asking a vote as to whether or not they believed in a curtailment of the amount of liquor to be distilled during the next year and 109 voted for producing a smaller amount and 21 voted against it; thus 84 per cent of the distillers believe it is poor business policy—not to curtail the production of distilled liquors.

Would these distillers favor a smaller output if the demand for their goods were keeping pace with the past production, or if the consumption were really increasing?

No one knows as well as the makers of liquor how the demand for liquor in this country is decreasing, and how the amount consumed is largely diminished.

A perusal of the liquor journals of the nation reveals the fact that the liquor trade is bad and growing worse, and liquor stock is low. Prohibition is really prohibiting and rapidly lessening the amount of liquor consumed.

MR. HUGHES ANSWERS.

Those Who Claimed for His Views Are Hearing Them.

Those friends of Democracy who clamored so loudly for Mr. Hughes' opinions upon current issues while he still held the high office of justice of the supreme court, are now fully answered by the private citizen, who surrendered his judicial position to accede to the wishes of a majority of the people as expressed through their instructions to their delegates to the Republican national convention.

Mr. Hughes has not disappointed those who have reposed confidence in his character and judgment. In his speech of acceptance he has clearly set forth the vital issues upon which the Republican party proposes to conduct the campaign this fall. On the platform he is telling the nation wherein the present administration has been at fault and what is necessary to be done to restore the United States to the place of respect and honor to which it is entitled in the eyes of the world.

MR. HUGHES HAS EXPLODED THE "KEPT-US-OUT-OF-WAR" ARGUMENT.

Mr. Hughes' attack upon the "kept-us-out-of-war" argument has aroused a story of enthusiasm.

"Kept us out of war?" he demands. "Why, there were nineteen men—good American soldiers, shot down at Vera Cruz, and many Mexicans were killed by our men. That was war. Moreover, it was a very ignoble war. I have heard three explanations of the Vera Cruz move.

"First, it was explained that it was made in order to compel somebody to salute the flag—somebody who had insulted us. But the flag was not saluted and has not been to this day. Then it was said that the salute was not what we sought, but to prevent the landing of a boatload of ammunition intended for Huerta. The ammunition landed, however, and it has been shown that it reached Huerta in due season without interference on our part.

"When that reason was shown to be untenable, a third one—and possibly the real one—finally was advanced. It was said that our seizure of Vera Cruz was a move to compel the retirement of Huerta. It seems possible that this is true, although we had promised the Mexicans that we would not interfere in their affairs and told them more than once that we wanted them to handle their own affairs.

"That is why the Mexicans could not understand us and that is why they show little faith in our promises."

WE WANT THE AMERICAN FLAG UNSULLIED.

"Now, my friends, we want not only American efficiency in business, in efficiency in the organization of business, in the protection of the factors of human industry and commerce, we want the American flag unsullied and the American name honored throughout the world."

—From Mr. Hughes' speech at Chicago.

MANANA

Manana, which is Mexican for "watchful waiting," is the Democratic keynote in the campaign. The Wilson drive is to begin "sometime" after September 1; but no definite engagements have been made, it is announced, for him to commence making political speeches. He has tentative engagements to make some Western visits about the middle of September but nothing positive. Plans are being formulated for carrying on a campaign to capture the woman vote of the country, but who will make the speeches on this phase of the controversy has not been determined. It had been expected that Mr. Bryan would speak in the Maine campaign, but it is now believed he cannot do so, but will make some speeches later. And so it goes. Watchful waiting will prevail while, in the meantime, Mr. Hughes is carrying on a positive campaign and arousing the entire Western country.

WILSON'S POLICIES BLOWN UP.

Charles Evans Hughes did have explosives with him when his motor car was searched by a Canadian soldier, but they were under the candidate's hat. Mr. Hughes will set them off on his Western tour and some of Mr. Wilson's policies will be blown up.—New York Sun.

HUGHES and FAIRBANKS.

How the Wilson Administration Has Penalized Patriotism

"Having in view the possibility of further aggression upon the territory of the United States from Mexico and the necessity for the proper protection of that frontier," President Wilson, on June 18, called out the militia arms of the National Guard for federal service.

He did not call them out at their existing peace strength, but at war strength, which is practically double. Lacking a system of reserves, the National Guard organizations immediately had to start a campaign of recruiting, to bring about the desired increase in their numbers.

Patriotic young citizens, under the urge of the cry, "Your country needs you," volunteered for service in great flying numbers. According to Senator Chamberlain, chairman of the Senate Committee on Military Affairs, the result is that about 135,000 citizen soldiers have been mustered into the federal service and are now on the Mexican border or in camp in their home states. There may be more, but the administration refuses to make known the exact figures.

The movement is costing the public treasury many millions of dollars; it is costing the individual citizen soldiers many millions more. They went to the front believing the cry, "Your country needs you," for war service. They sacrificed advancement in their civil occupations, severed home ties, suffered, in thousands of instances, great financial loss. The less patriotic, who did not believe the cry, or believing, declined to make sacrifices, fatten at home on these losses.

The real purposes of the call are slowly developing. They are two in number:

First, a patrol of the border to do the work which President Wilson's friend, Carranza, finds it impossible to do. Because the recognized government in Mexico is too ineffective to keep its own citizens in check and prevent them murdering Americans on American soil, the American government under takes the costly task of doing that work for them. The murder of American citizens on Mexican soil is another matter. Carranza may go as far as he likes in that direction.

Second, a purpose of the mobilization on the border and in the camps is to train citizens to perform effective military service. The regular military establishment of the nation is manifestly too small for the actual military needs. To this extent the cry, "Your country needs you," was correct.

But these facts were not made clear when the call was issued. The idea was promulgated that men were needed for actual war service; not for military training. Deceit was practiced.

Opposing in the open legislation for universal military service, the administration by its acts has established what in essence is a system of compulsory military service. It is a system all the more vicious because it operates only against the patriotic, whereas a legalized universal training system equalizes the burden of military service among all men and all classes of men.

When, in 1914, Europe plunged into the greatest war of all history, and conditions in Mexico grew intolerable, intelligent men realized the fact that it was incumbent on this nation to build up its tiny regular army and put its other military resources in condition for use. National safety demanded this. And yet, in December of that year, four months after the European war began, President Wilson went before Congress and declared that all agitation for military preparedness was hysterical; that we were adequately prepared.

After a while the administration changed its mind and professed to believe in the necessity for preparedness. First came an enactment to increase the regular army by 20,000. But the body of the country, and even all parts of the Democratic administration, could not change front so quickly as the head. Recruiting for the regular army lagged. Not yet have the 20,000 been secured.

The need pressed. A new national defense act, providing for still more men in the regular army, was enacted. But still the men were not forthcoming.

Suddenly and without warning the administration issued the call for mobilization of the citizen soldiery. It seemed still obsessed with the Bryan notion that an army could be created by presidential ukase.

When the call went out the government did not own enough uniforms, shoes, socks, blankets, hats, wagons, trucks, horses, mules and other things essential to equip the men called; it had made no provision for transporting the troops called to the points where they were required.

Who suffered most by this amazing lack of foresight, this isaying before looking?

Only the 135,000 patriots who believed that their country needed them for national defense; only the men who are making the great sacrifices.

The whole disgraceful story may be summed up in the phrase, the administration has penalized patriotism.

True, it is accumulating, by subterfuge, a reserve of trained soldiers, but events have demonstrated that it cried "wolf" when there was no wolf. Should it be forced to cry "wolf" again, when the wolf is at the door, what will be the result?

QUESTION CRAZE SEIZES THE G.O.P.

ATTRACTS BUSINESS MEN.

Mr. Hughes has not tried to scare anybody, but has merely portrayed the errors of the present Administration and set forth certain principles on which the affairs of the country should be managed in the future. There is a political logic in this portrayal, the culmination of which in the mind of the voter is expressed by the frequent remark: "He is the kind of man we want to steer us through."

This has been said by many a business man. The qualities seen in Mr. Hughes are poise, a strong, sane mind, sincerity and a willingness to sacrifice life, physical or political, to the good of the country. Nor is there any question as to the quality of nerve to meet the emergencies of the four years beginning March 4, 1917.

HOME OF AVERAGE MAN.

"But America is not simply a land for the man of special talent or of distinguished aptitude. This is the home of the average man, the ordinary man who is doing his best, whatever, by talent or aptitude and in our large industrial occupations where thousands are gathered together in one service, we want a recognition of human brotherhood in providing for the welfare of those who make the wealth of this great country."

"We want workmen to be safeguarded from every injury that can be prevented. We want the health of the workmen looked after; every means provided which conduces to the proper standpoint of living; every means provided for proper recreation; appropriate means for education, for vocational training. In short the workman who is on the job and expects to continue in that job ought to feel that he is doing something worth while for a community that appreciates it and gives him a fair chance to lead a happy and decent life.—From Mr. Hughes' speech at Detroit.

FARMERS SIZE UP HUGHES AS "PRETTY GOOD FELLOW"

Fargo, N. D.—Charles E. Hughes campaigned for the first time among the sturdy farmers of the eastern part of North Dakota and left behind him the reputation of being a "pretty good fellow."

He was forced to undergo a critical scrutiny before the verdict was given. Mr. Hughes preached the doctrines of government efficiency, Americanism, tariff as protection to the farmers and preparedness, and in each instance won applause, despite the fact that the farmers are not the strongest advocates of the last named issue.

They cheered for preparedness the loudest when Mr. Hughes told them that it meant not militarism, but ability to uphold national honor.

As they cheered for Mr. Hughes, one broad-shouldered old farmer said "It's because there's something about him that makes you believe he's telling the truth."

DENIES ASSAILING MR. HUGHES.

Percy Mackaye Writes He Never Saw "Authors' Letter" With His Name Appended.

Percy Mackaye, playwright, whose name appeared as one of the signers of the so-called "authors' letter," published in the newspapers last week, knew nothing about the matter until after publication, according to a statement given out yesterday at Republican national headquarters. The letter attacked Charles E. Hughes' criticism of President Wilson as "non-constructive" and propounded ten questions for Mr. Hughes to answer. In a letter to Mr. Hughes Mr. Mackaye said:—

"My attention has just been called to an open letter addressed to you, printed in the New York Herald of August 2, signed by a number of professional writers, among whom my name is included. I beg to send you this word, to say that I did not sign the letter and never saw or heard of the letter until it was shown to me in print."

It was stated at Republican headquarters that neither Mr. Hughes nor any of his staff had seen the letter except as it appeared in the newspapers.

PERTINENT PARAGRAPHS FROM HUGHES' SPEECHES.

"What is the President's policy—does anyone know? Has the Executive ever had a policy for more than six months on the Mexican question?"

"If I am elected President I will see to it that American rights in Mexico are respected."

"There is no man who could successfully present to an American community the platform that an American citizen's rights stop at the coast line."

"We will get through with this old strife between capital and labor. We are not laborers and capitalists in this country. We are fellow-citizens."

"All that the workmen want is a square deal."

"We want the United States efficiently managed. I want to see men in office who believe in prosperity."

"The Republican Party stands for a prosperity produced by sound American policies."

"We have removed from office men of experience and substituted others to satisfy partisan obligations. This must stop."

THAT FULL DINNER PAIL.

Relying foolishly upon the full dinner pail to accomplish for them what it has so often accomplished for the Republican party, the Democrats proceed to pile extravagance upon extravagance and to make flabby claims of being at peace, even when we are at war, says the Detroit Journal.

For the dinner pail has been filled with munition money, which presently must be supplanted by the true coinage of protected American industry after the war.

And while the dinner pail is full, observe with what inflated foods. This administration promised the worker a lower cost of living. But, as a matter of fact, the worker Democratic prosperity is a false prosperity. It is a mirage.

Every man with a dinner pail knows that, unless his wages have been increased 20 per cent. under Democratic munition prosperity, he is poorer than he was four years ago. For Wilson rents are from 20 to 40 per cent. higher; the Wilson meat, the Wilson sugar and the Wilson wool are 40 per cent. higher, and the Wilson steel and tin and household goods are from 20 to 40 per cent. higher.

The Wilson bread has advanced faster than the Wilson wage, and the Wilson taxes have risen higher than the Wilson prosperity.

Democracy may have enriched the munition manufacturer, but has it enriched the worker, whose cost of living has increased faster than his earnings?

If the Administration can re-lect itself on the ground that the worker is obliged to move out of his home into an inferior one, or to take to double up in tenements and to have in boarders to make up for his loss of economic advantage under the present increased cost of living, then there is no reason why the Administration should not be as extravagant in its taxes as it chooses.

CARTER in New York Evening Sun

"I've had enough of it"

EDITORIAL COMMENT

The fact that the Democratic campaign managers have booked Secretary Daniels for a speech in Maine seems to indicate that they have abandoned all hope of carrying the State and simply don't care what happens to the ticket in the September election.

Senator J. Ham Lewis, a spokesman for the administration, in attempting to apologize for the President's mollycoddle expression that we are "too proud to fight," explains that it is an old Latin quotation. But the people already know that it is out of date and the expression of a decadent nation.

"We don't want to maintain a political almshouse," remarked Mr. Hughes to the North Dakota farmers, and a nation applauds him. Americans are beginning to see a possibility in the near future of regaining their self-respect.

The administration seems to have sold everything it could, from the nation's honor down to the smallest rural postmaster's shop.

Secretary Daniels says this is no time for politics. And it's no time for Secretary Daniels, either.

Senator Lewis, defending the President on his "too proud to fight" expression, intimates that it was due solely to the ignorance of his audience that the popular interpretation that has been put upon it was evolved, and that anyway it didn't mean what it appeared to mean. The latter statement can be taken with some degree of confidence, as it is quite a well-known fact that most of the things the President says do not mean what they are supposed to mean.

Secretary Redfield has presented another of those living illustrations of the old adage that "fools rush in where angels fear to tread," with one important modification. The difference in the Secretary's case is that he walked right in and turned around and was kicked right out again.

The Democratic contingent in the Senate is all worked up over the fact that the terms of the treaty for the purchase of the Danish West Indies "leaked out." "Pitiless publicity," you understand, has been assigned to the scrap heap with a large assortment of various other Democratic policies and promises.

Of Mr. Wilson it may be said he meant well, but he now finds himself buried under the evidence of inefficiency that Mr. Hughes has brought forth.

Mr. Wilson has made no reply to the charges of Mr. Hughes. Is he still too proud to fight?

FLEETING PROSPERITY IS FOOL'S PARADISE

Don't Let Smoke From Munition Factories Cloud Your Brain With Belief It's Abiding.

PROTECTION, OUR BULWARK

Forget Not the Dire Conditions Which Depressed This Country Under the Democratic Free Trade Tariff Prior to the War—They Will Return to Plague and Hunger You Unless the Republicans Are Restored to Power.

"When we contemplate industrial and commercial conditions," says Mr. Hughes, "we see that we are living in a fool's paradise." This is the condition to which the administration and its supporters have deliberately closed their eyes. When the war cloud broke over Europe, this country was experiencing the most serious depression it had known since 1893, when the Democratic party and its policies were in full control of the United States.

Suddenly there came from over the sea a demand for munitions of war, clothing, food, supplies, everything needed by vast armies and by countries whose sons were taken from the field and the workshop, never to return.

As a result our exports and the balance of trade in our favor have reached figures far surpassing any ever before known. Temporarily, especially in the East, there is no lack of work at high wages, for Europe must pay whatever price America asks. No thoughtful person would imagine that this condition is anything like real prosperity. How false it is, we in Oregon, who have the clearer vision, because not clouded by the smoke from munitions factories, have fully felt and fully appreciated.

What the Republican candidate for president says about it the Democrats know to be true: "Our opponents promised to reduce the cost of living. This they have failed to do, but did reduce the opportunities of making a living. Let us not forget the conditions that existed in this country under the new tariff prior to the war. Production had decreased; business was languishing; new enterprises were not undertaken; instead of expansion there was curtailment and our streets were filled with the unemployed."

THE RIGHTS OF AMERICAN CITIZENS DO NOT STOP AT THE COAST LINE.

"When I say that I am an American citizen, I ought to say the proudest thing that any man can say in this world. But you can't have that pride if American citizenship is a cheap thing, if it is not worthy of protection this wide world over. There is no man who could successfully present to an American community the platform that an American citizen's rights stop at the coast line and that beyond that American life is to be the prey of any marauder who chooses to take it."—From a speech of Mr. Hughes in the West.

TELL HOW WOMEN VOTERS WILL CONTROL POLITICS

Congressional Union Leaders Explain the Movement in Opposition to President Wilson.

Just how the decision of the woman's party to oppose President Wilson for re-election is expected to change the national political situation was explained in a statement by suffrage leaders at the headquarters of the Congressional Union for Woman's Suffrage at Washington.

It was pointed out that unless he wins the West the defeat of Mr. Wilson "seems inevitable."

Needed to Offset Loss of Ohio. To counteract the loss of Ohio alone, which, judging from indications at the primaries, will go with its twenty-four electoral votes to the Republican count, the Democrats will have to win in the West, California, with its thirteen electoral votes; Nevada, with three; Colorado, with six, and Arizona, with three, woman's party representatives here asserted.

"In Idaho the Progressive party is dissolved," they continue, "so that the Democrats will have to work hard to get any electoral votes there. Illinois is practically conceded to the Republicans, in the view of woman's party members, three-fourths or more of the Progressives there having returned to the Republican ranks."

Conditions in Other States. In Kansas the Progressives and Republicans are practically one again. In Montana there is great dissatisfaction over the proposed Democratic tax on copper. Oregon and Washington are expected to go Republican. These two states were hit hard by the Panama Canal tolls act and the Democratic tariff is seriously felt by the lumber industry there. Utah is considered safe by the Republicans, in Wyoming the Progressives and Republicans have joined hands.

DRINK HOT WATER IF YOU DESIRE A ROSY COMPLEXION

Says we can't help but look better and feel better after an inside bath.

To look one's best and feel one's best is to enjoy an inside bath each morning to flush from the system the previous day's waste, sour fermentations and poisonous toxins before it is absorbed into the blood. Just as coal, when it burns, leaves behind a certain amount of incombustible material in the form of ashes, so the food and drink taken each day leave in the alimentary organs a certain amount of indigestible material, which if not eliminated, form toxins and poisons which are then sucked into the blood through the very ducts which are intended to suck in only nourishment to sustain the body.

If you want to see the glow of healthy bloom in your cheeks, to see your skin get clearer and clearer, you are told to drink every morning upon arising, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, which is a harmless means of washings the waste material and toxins from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary tract, before putting more food into the stomach.

Men and women with sallow skins, liver spots, pimples or pallid complexion, also those who wake up with a coated tongue, bad taste, nasty breath, others who are bothered with headaches, bilious spells, acid stomach or constipation should begin this phosphate hot water drinking and are assured of very pronounced results in one or two weeks.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate costs very little at the drug store but is sufficient to demonstrate that just as soap and hot water cleanses, purifies and freshens the skin on the outside, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the inside organs. We must always consider that internal sanitation is vastly more important than outside cleanliness, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, while the bowel pores do.

The chronic kicker is always on the job.

Woman's sphere seems to be the earth.

Some men seem to enjoy being mean.

Time is money to a man who buys on time.

IF BACK HURTS USE SALTS FOR KIDNEYS

Eat less meat if Kidneys feel like lead or Bladder bothers you—Meat forms uric acid.

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean, and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is harmless to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity. It also neutralizes the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is harmless; inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everybody should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean, thus avoiding serious complications. A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

COMB SAGE TEA IN FADED OR GRAY HAIR

If Mixed with Sulphur it Darkens so Naturally Nobody can Tell.

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and attractive with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, all ready to use, for about 50¢ a bottle. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and beautiful. This preparation is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

The Iron Man of Drama Camera

J. P. McGowan, Director in Charge at Signal-Mutual Studios.

Probably the sternest good natured photoplay director in the business in the square jawed J. P. McGowan, whose genius has given to the screen such thrillers as "The Girl and the Game," and such master productions of the drama as "Whispering Smith" and "Medicine Bend." McGowan will rehearse a scene a hundred times if he wants to, but when he says "camera" it is right.

POLITICAL JOTTINGS

At that, however, from beginning to end this has been more of a "you kick me and I'll kiss you" administration.

Vance McCormick says the Progressives are stampeding to Wilson, and it's a ten to one bet he wishes he could believe it.

The Democrats are finding out that pork comes home to root out their standing.

The men and women who prefer a man who does things to a man who writes notes about them will vote for Hughes. Government by correspondence takes too long to get anywhere, but government by deeds is always on the job.

Those who are concerned to know what Mr. Hughes would have done had he been in Mr. Wilson's place may rest assured he would not have done as Mr. Wilson has. And that is answer enough.

Mr. Hughes is not only going direct to the public, but the public is going direct to him. A genuine American fifty-fifty!

President Wilson's alarm clock is ringing at 5 o'clock these mornings.
He can reach out of bed and turn it off the morning of March 5.

Postmaster General Burleson is too foxy a politician to adopt for his department the McAdoo rule forbidding Treasury department employees participating in politics. Mr. Burleson realizes that postmasters are entitled to some exercise for the money.

There are no strings or mental reservations to the public pledges of administrative reform given by Charles E. Hughes. His record as governor of New York guarantees the fulfillment of every promise.

Democrats are now convinced that Charles Evans Hughes is a warm proposition.

It is gratifying, indeed, to find that Mr. Wilson still stands on the suffrage question where he stood at the beginning of his administration. He has changed on about everything else.—
Philadelphia Evening Ledger.

It strikes one that instead of wildly hustling for the State of Maine, Vance McCormick might do better work by taking his wrecking crew to the West to repair the Democratic bridges that are being dynamited by Justice Hughes.

According to the week's latest work of action, the Democratic Campaign Book, the wage-earners of the country received during the Wilson Administration $3,000,000,000 more than they received under Taft. And all it cost them to keep something in the dinner pail was $8,000,000,000 more.

At the annual meeting of postmasters in Washington recently, the first assistant postmaster-general lauded the postal savings system. That must have been a bitter pill for Postmaster-General Burleson, who sat on the same platform with his assistant. When the postal savings bill was passed, Mr.
Burleson, then a Congressman from Texas, voted against it. Every vote cast against it was cast by a Democrat. Not one Democratic Congressman voted for it. Yet President Wilson says the Republican party has not had a new idea in thirty years. Whose idea was it?

It was the instinct of a lawyer for Hughes to support his damning charges against Wilson, by calling Wilson's own secretary of state as a witness to prove them.

Mr. Hughes says there should be firm dealing in Mexican affairs. Maybe so; but we have had enough of the firm of Wilson, Carranza & Co.

The impression is growing at the White House that Mr. Hughes is deliberately unfriendly. Look out for notes.

If those Democratic notifiers put off their notifying much longer they may find Mr. Wilson in no mood to accept.

POINTS FROM HUGHES' SPEECHES

Reckless extravagance of the Democrats is an insult to the American people.
Deserving Democrats! Deserving in heaven's name of what?
We have a splendid system of government, on paper, but we want that system vitalized.
The pork barrel bill brings a blush of shame to the cheeks of every American.

I am here because I have a vision of what America needs.
An idle American will always feel uncomfortable.

America will not hold her own
by high-sounding phrases.
Are we not a nation great enough to have sufficient foresight to protect our borders in a sensible fashion by means of sensible preparedness?

If we state our rights in a firm and determined manner it should carry conviction. There should be no vacillation in connection with that assertion.

ALCOHOL INSIDE RETARDS THOUGHT

THE MENTAL POWERS ARE MUCH CRIPPLED EVEN WHEN USED IN MODERATE DOSES.

EVILS OF BEER AND HIGHBALL

How Booze Really Affects One Who Drinks Moderately Is Startling
To Those Who Think.

The Department of Health of the city of Chicago in a bulletin issued for June under the caption, "Booze
and Brains," says:

The fellow with alcohol in his system is not a good witness as to its effects upon himself, for his mind as well as his body is bribed by the drug, and is as full of prejudice as his breath is full of fumes.

You had a glass of beer or three fingers of rye today, didn't you? You think that it puts snap in your wits and steam in your cylinders. You feel fine and think you are ready to tackle your job and meet any problem in sight with a clear head and a strong hand. But your feeling has deluded
you. The fact is that the drink you took actually diminished your power to add numbers, to memorize, to associate ideas and to see, hear and think quickly.

Facts Have Been Proved.

This statement is not the result of guesswork or a question of anti-this or anti-that on moral grounds. It is based on experiments made by an eminent scientist, Professor Kraepelin, of Vienna, who has devised a series of tests and applied them to many individuals, before and after they have taken alcoholic liquor. His findings have been duplicated by other scientific men.

In all cases the ability to add, to memorize and to think quickly were greatly reduced within a few minutes of taking the drink, and the handicap lasted for as long as three days. The more difficult the task, the greater was the handicap, and the more numerous were the mistakes made by the one tested.

Experiments upon four typesetters showed the results of drinking in every-day work. On the average the falling off in efficiency under alcohol amounted to over 15 per cent, as compared to normal conditions. These men were not drunk, but simply had a moderate drink, just like the one you had today.

Daily moderate drinkers are constantly under this harmful influence of alcohol, since the effects of one drink, as is clearly shown by these experiments, do not wear off before the drinkers observed imagined that he was doing work fully up to grade, while the tests showed it was far below par. These men were not conscious of their mental deficiency.

Think Before You Drink.

This should make you think before you order another stein; for while you may drink another fellow's health in it, you are hurting your own brain power. And who does not need all the mind he can muster in these days?

Schiller said, "Wine invents nothing; it only blabs it out."
The great Helmholtz asserted that the slightest amount of alcohol destroyed his power of scientific insight.
Goethe repeatedly declared that so-called stimulation by liquor "could produce only a forced, inferior creation" of ideas.

Happiness and contentment are said to spring from the numbing influence of alcohol upon the higher brain functions. Such happiness is false, such contentment bought at the expense of individual mental liberty.

John Stuart Mill put it right when he said, "Who would not be a human dissatisfied, rather than a pig satisfied?"
Think before you drink, for after a beer or highball you cannot think so well.

TO KEEP WELL—DON'T DRINK

Dr. W. A. Evans, Medical Editor of the Chicago Tribune, Says That Temperance is a Health Matter.

Heading his article "Alcohol Versus Health," Dr. W. A. Evans, in the Chicago Tribune says:

"No health authority anywhere advocates the use of alcohol as a medicine, food, or beverage. Until a few years ago health departments were silent on the subject. At the present time a considerable minority of the health departments are actively campaigning against drinking. Among this minority are some of the best in the country."

The contents of the May Bulletin of the New York City Health Department in opposition to the beverage use of alcohol, Dr. Evans declares, "proves that it is bad from every standpoint."
He cites the research work of insurance men as proof that "moderate" drinking has a distinctly bad effect upon life expectation.

The man who was quarantined for smallpox lost his "personal liberty"— for the public good.

NO PROTECTIVE MEASURE FROM DEMOCRATIC CONGRESS.

"You couldn't get a protective measure out of a Democratic Congress sectionally organized any more than you could get a revival meeting out of a disorderly house."—From Mr. Hughes'
Speech at Chicago.

PREPARE FOR THIS.

When we contemplate industrial and commercial conditions we see that we are living in a fool's paradise. The temporary prosperity to which our opponents point has been created by the abnormal conditions incident to the war. With the end of the war there will be the new conditions determined by a new Europe. Millions of men in the trenches will then return to work. The energies of each of the now belligerent nations highly trained, will then be turned to production."—
Charles E. Hughes.

"WORDS, OR DEEDS?"

"If anything in this campaign is real it is that we are now facing the question whether we want words or whether we want deeds; whether we want that which is written and spoken, or whether we want American action in the interests of the American people, worthy of the American name, maintaining the American honor, and buttressing the prosperity of the United States."—From Mr. Hughes'
speech at Chicago.

MR. WILSON HAS HAD NO MEXICAN POLICY.

"We cannot let the American spirit fall so low that, lapped in the luxury occasioned by a foreign war, we shall see American lives sacrificed without a determination to prevent it and to make the American name honored and respected wherever our flag flies. The trouble with this administration is this:—I don't think it ever has had a policy in Mexico worthy of the name."—
From Mr. Hughes' speech at Chicago.

MR. HUGHES OPPOSED TO FOOLISH GOVERNMENT.

"I have no respect for the idea that because democratic government is a government of the people, by the people and for the people it is a government of the foolish, for the foolish and by the foolish."—From Mr. Hughes' speech at Chicago.

"I don't care, if I am elected President, what becomes of my personal political fortunes. I propose that we shall have no more if I can stop it, of these
"kiss me and I'll kiss you" appropriations in Congress."—
From Mr. Hughes' speech at Chicago.

Now that Mr. Hughes knows he has been nominated for president, we may wait patiently for a few days longer to hear what Mr. Wilson has to say about it.
