CHARLEVOIX COUNTY FAIR, Sept. 16, 17, 18, 19, DAY and NIGHT EAST JORDAN, MICH.

GREATEST COUNTY FAIR IN THE STATE

HAS HELD ANNUAL EVENT FOR THE PAST THIRTY-FIVE YEARS WITHOUT A BREAK.

The Charlevoix County Fair will hold its Annual Fair at East Jordan, September 16, 17, 18 and 19th. The first Charlevoix County Fair was held at East Jordan thirty-five years ago this Fall and it has held a Fair each and every year since its organization. Its first Fair was a good one but was entirely different from the Fair which will be held this year. The first Fair was held in one building, the old Roller Rink, which afterwards became the Loveday Opera House and which has since been burned. Old residents say that there was a fine display of fruit, vegetables and grain at this Fair but very little else.

The 35th Annual Fair will be held on the modern, well-equipped Fair grounds owned by the Charlevoix County Agricultural Society and will utilize fourteen buildings with a total floor space of approximately fifteen thousand square feet to display its exhibits and take care of the patrons of the Fair. The 35th Fair will not only have an excellent exhibit of fruit, grains and vegetables but will also have unsurpassed exhibits in fancy work, school work, poultry and pets, horses, cattle, sheep, swine, canned goods both by grown-ups and children, and modern farm equipment and in addition excellent horse races, band music, exciting and interesting free attractions including Carlisle's Frontier Wild West Shows and a pageant each evening featuring the development of the United States. There will be a midway with large and small tent shows, merry-go-round, jumping horse carrousel, ferris wheel and the usual concessions. It will hold a night Fair at which all exhibit buildings will be open and which will feature each evening the pageant, free attractions, band music, fun on the midway and dancing. The 35th Annual Fair will celebrate Constitution Day on Wednesday, September 17th. School Day on Thursday, September 18th, and Farmer's Day on Friday September 19th. There will be speakers of National repute on each day of the Fair including speakers on patriotic, educational and agricultural subjects.

The first Fair had local judges while the 35th Fair will have in every department expert judges from out of the county. The first Fair had exhibits from the vicinity of East Jordan only; the 35th Annual Fair will have exhibits from every section of Charlevoix County and many exhibits from Antrim and Emmet Counties. The first Fair was lighted with kerosene lamps; the 35th Annual Fair will be lighted as brilliant as day with more than five hundred electric lights.

These comparisons show to what a great institution the Fair has developed from a very small beginning and it is no wonder that people flock from all sections of Northern Michigan to the Charlevoix County Fair.

The first Fair was held at an expense of not to exceed $200; the 35th Annual Fair will cost at least $5000. The first Fair had no amusement features; the 35th Annual Fair will have many amusement features the total cost of which will be $3000.

The Charlevoix County Fair is one of the few Fairs in the State of Michigan which has held a Fair for the past thirty five years without missing a year. Many Fairs in the State of Michigan were started before the Charlevoix County Fair but with hardly an exception due to lack of interest or financial condition each Fair other than the Charlevoix County Fair has missed at least one year in its chain of Fairs. This speaks volumes for the Charlevoix County Fair as the people will not patronize a Fair year after year which is not a good one.

If you have been thinking of taking a day away from business you cannot do better than to take this day either the 17th, 18th or 19th of Sept., enjoy a pleasant ride to East Jordan and have the time of your life at the Charlevoix County Fair. It will be worth coming miles to see.

Ewing's Zouave Band of Campaign, Illinois, America's most popular Chautauqua and Fair Band for the last fifteen years will furnish the music day and night at the Charlevoix County Fair. This is the same band which has just finished a long chautauqua engagement and which is secured as the star attraction at such Fairs as the South Bend, Indiana, Fair, from which Fair they this year come to East Jordan to furnish unexcelled music for the Charlevoix County Fair.

The band is directed by Mr. W. M. Ewing. The organization is a sixteen piece handsomely uniformed Zouave Band under the direction of Professor W. M. Ewing, who is recognized as one of America's leading band directors. The members of this organization, with four exceptions, have played together for the past five years and their repertoire includes many selections from the best classical music as well as all the latest popular band pieces. It is accompanied by Miss Alma Huntley, lyric soprano, who will lead the community singing in the educational building as well as render selections with the band and Mr. Turner Nearing, cornet soloist of recognized ability.

This organization was secured by the Charlevoix County Fair at an expense of $800 and the Fair management assures all lovers of good band music that a treat is in store for them in Ewing's Zouave Band.

FAIR FACTS

On Wednesday and Friday afternoons the East Jordan Base Ball team will play Base Ball with the Boyne City and Suttons Bay teams. The East Jordan team was badly defeated by the Boyne City team early in the season but has been strengthened since then and is going into this game with a determination to even up the old score. Suttons Bay was defeated by the East Jordan team by a very close score and has been clamoring for a return game every since the defeat. Both of these games will undoubtedly be close and exciting and well worth watching.

There will be no difficulty in securing meals at the Charlevoix County Fair. The dining hall on the Fair grounds will be in charge of the Ladies Aid Societies of East Jordan, will be run on the cafeteria plan as last year and will serve dinners and suppers at the grounds. In addition to this there will be a great many eating stands on the midway at which the less fastidious will be able to satisfy the demands of their stomachs. Restaurants and hotels in East Jordan all have plenty of help engaged and will be able to handle the crowds rapidly. Anyone coming from a distance and desiring to bring basket lunches will be able to find good places in the grove on the grounds to eat their picnic dinners. Come early, stay on the grounds all day and evening, enjoy all the many educational entertainment features of the Fair and have such a good time as you never had before.

LIVE STOCK and SCHOOL EXHIBITS

All residents of Northern Michigan who are interested in registered cattle and horses should not fail to attend the Charlevoix County Fair this year as it will have the finest exhibition of registered animals to be found anywhere north of the West Michigan Fair. In addition to owners of registered stock in Charlevoix County who are with practically no exception planning on exhibiting their best animals at the Fair there will be on exhibition registered stock from Antrim and Emmet Counties. In the Holstein, Guernsey and Shorthorn classes there will be keen competition and the winners of the Blue Ribbon in these classes will have the keen satisfaction of knowing that his animal is without doubt the best animal in the three counties. Many exhibitors this year are taking so much interest in the Fair that they have gone to considerable expense and trouble to fit their animals for the purpose of exhibiting them. The Fair Association this year is not worrying as to whether their exhibition buildings will be full but rather as to whether they will have room for the animals which will be on exhibition.

In addition to the animals exhibited, in connection there will be a fine exhibit of imported horses and of registered Holstein cattle from the Loeb Farms. These animals will not be entered in competition and can be seen at the Loeb building which is now being built on the Fair grounds. This building will be 34 by 60 feet. Will be so arranged that feeding and care of the animals can be done without interfering with the patrons of the Fair, the feeding troughs being in the center of the building and there, being a walk clear around the outside of the building. This building and its exhibit will be a great addition to the Fair grounds and the exhibit which it will contain will be well worth seeing.

Never in the history of the Charlevoix County Fair has there been so much interest in stock and never has there been such a fine exhibit of cattle and horses as will be seen at the County Fair.

In former years the Charlevoix County Fair has been justly famed for its wonderful school exhibit. The competition between the schools of the county has become so keen that the old building as good as it was has become entirely inadequate. The Fair Association realizing that if this department was to grow as it has done in the past it must have a much larger building to meet the need for more room, it has constructed an addition to the present building which gives 2500 square feet of additional floor room. One part of this addition is a large hall capable of accommodating an audience of 1000 people. The other addition is a modern school house equipped with the latest seats, sanitary toilets and heating and ventilating system. This school house is lathed and plastered, painted with the correct tint for school rooms and in fact is a building which is entitled in every respect to being awarded the Standard School Plate. The old building with the new addition makes the finest educational exhibition building to be found at any of the County Fairs in the State of Michigan. Miss Stewart who is the superintendent of this department has arranged a three day program to dedicate this building which will be found elsewhere in this issue. The association feels that if it had nothing on the grounds other than this building and the exhibit which it will contain and the three day program which will be held in the building that that alone would be worth more than the price of admission.

Good Horses and a Fast Track

The horse races of the Charlevoix County Fair promises to be unusually good. The Association has arranged a good three days program, commencing Wednesday, Sept. 17th and offering One Thousand Two Hundred Fifty Dollars in purses. The Secretary is in receipt of inquiries from owners of a number of horses which have never raced at East Jordan and these horses together with the old ones will undoubtedly furnish an excellent race program.

The Exhibits

The exhibits in the Floral Hall at the 1919 Charlevoix County Fair will be of wonderful interest. This building contains the exhibit of grain and vegetables, fruit, canned goods, ladies fancy work and the booths of the merchants of the county. This year all these booths will contain interesting exhibits by the merchants. The grain and vegetable exhibits will be unusually fine and the fruit exhibit will convince everyone that we are indeed living in a fruit belt. Reports from the southern part of the State indicate that there will be no fruit there this Fall. Charlevoix County has lots of fruit, a great variety and of the very best quality. This exhibit will be put up in a more attractive form than in previous years and you should not fail to see it.

BIG MIDWAY

The midway at the Charlevoix County Fair will be a joy forever to all those who like Fair figures, riding on the merry-go-round, jumping horse carrousel and ferris wheel, eating hot dogs cooked by those experts who each year make the round of the Fairs, seeing the side shows, some good, some bad, some indifferent, hearing each concession man telling the people of the unexcelled opportunity which his stand gives them of getting something for nothing, a souvenir of the Fair or what not.

This year's Fair for the first time in the history of the Charlevoix County Fair will give to the patrons a real midway. It will be such a midway as the State Fair, only of course on a smaller scale. The midway commences opposite the dining hall, where last year the Red Cross bowery dance was constructed and runs about 300 feet north of the grand stand. The Association has under contract already forty concessions and the public is assured that all of this space will be taken up with the midway concessions of some description.

The same merry-go-round and ferris wheel which were at the Fair in 1918 will be there again and in addition to these a jumping horse carrousel of the Muskegon Amusement Park will be there. The large tent show requires a frontage of 100 feet. The show will be in the nature of a circus. In addition to this large tent show there will be a number of smaller ones and with the other concessions which are coming any patron of the Fair can find just what he enjoys most on the midway.

Each night of the Fair there will be a community dance on a good floor with first class dance music.

If you enjoy a Fair with a good midway you will certainly enjoy the Charlevoix County Fair this year.

EWING'S ZOUAVE BAND

Twenty-five years ago Professor Wallace M. Ewing conceived the idea of organizing a juvenile band for professional purposes. Thirty boys, ranging in age from ten to fifteen years, were accordingly banded together and received thorough instruction for five years under Professor Ewing. From time to time during that period several members who failed to show sufficient ability were dropped and their places filled with more promising material, until today Professor Ewing has under his direction one of the best professional musical organizations in the United States. This band has traveled continuously since 1902, and has appeared in nearly all the principal cities of the country, from coast to coast, and from the Klondike to the Gulf. This talented aggregation of youthful musicians, having grown up in the very atmosphere of American music have attained a degree of proficiency that would be difficult to equal. During their ten years of actual experience, the personell of the band has remained practically the same as when finally organized, there being but four changes in its make-up during that time. Today it is ranked among the foremost American bands, and its continued success renders the statement 'undisputable'. The instrumentation comprises sixteen pieces, many of whom are soloists.

Carlisle's Frontier Wild West Show

This is the second time which the Charlevoix County Agricultural Society has advertised that it will have as its free attractions a Wild West Show. Last year the Fair Association through war conditions, were at the last moment disappointed and had to substitute other acts in place of a Wild West Show which it had advertised. This year it has the assurance of the Collins Amusement Company that Carlisle's Frontier Wild West Show will be on hand to furnish the free attractions for the Fair.

This is a whole Wild West Show by itself, consisting of ten people and riding stock and has enough different acts so that it will furnish amusement throughout the afternoon and evening of each day of the Fair without repetition. Carlisle's brings with it one of the best educated horses in the United States and its ability to do things almost human is a source of constant amazement to the on-lookers. The Wild West Show will camp on the Fair grounds and its members will be dressed in the costumes of the Wild West giving a picturesque effect which will be much appreciated by the patrons of the Fair. Their acts include capturing the horse thief, picking up articles from the ground while riding at a break neck speed, riding bucking bronchos, lassoing wild horses and many other feats of daring from horse back. They present a picture of the Wild West of former days which is very instructive and amusing and well worth alone the trouble of attending the Fair and the price of admission.

If you like this kind of a show don't fail to see Carlisle's Frontier Wild West Shows at the Charlevoix County Fair.

Wm. T. Boswell Passes Away

Well-known Citizen Dies After Brief Illness

William Thomas Boswell passed away at his home in this city Sunday morning, Sept. 7th, following an illness of only a week from bowel complication.

Mr. Boswell was born at Flint, Michigan, June 3, 1879, his parents being Mr. and Mrs. William Boswell. He came to East Jordan in 1902, and in 1909 was united in marriage to Miss Grace Gregory of this city. Two children were born to them—William Gregory and Blanche B.—who, together with the wife survive the deceased. Also the following brother and sisters:—Miss Ida Boswell and John Boswell of Traverse City, Mich.; Mrs. Thomas Holbrook of Clare, Mich.; Mrs. W. E. Palmiter of East Jordan.

Mr. Boswell embarked in Photography shortly after coming to East Jordan and has conducted a studio during these years. He built the Boswell block just north of the postoffice a number of years ago, and located his studio on the second floor.

Deceased was a member of East Jordan Lodge No. 379 F. & A. M. and North Star Tent Knights of the Maccabees. At the time of his death he was city treasurer and finance keeper of the Maccabee lodge. A citizen universally beloved, his untimely passing away is felt keenly, not only by his immediate relatives but the community in general also.

Funeral services were held from his late home Tuesday afternoon, Sept. 9, conducted by Rev. M.—E. Hoyt. The remains were taken to Traverse City, Wednesday morning for interment.

BIDS WANTED!

Bids will be received by the City of East Jordan, Michigan, until September 20th, for the fabrication and delivery of a steel highway bridge consisting of two 60 ft. clear spans with 20 foot roadway, and one 6 ft. sidewalk. Specifications can be secured from the Fargo Engineering Company, Jackson, Mich. The right is reserved to reject any or all bids.

HELL-FOR-CERTAIN BOASTS WARHERO

Boy From Mountains of Kentucky Rivals Deeds of Sergeant York.

VOUCHED FOR BY PERSHING

Cleaned Out Three Machine Gun Nests Which Were Holding Up Line, Kills 24 Germans and Captures Six Guns.

Lexington, Ky.—Hell-for-certain, in Leslie county, Kentucky, is now laying its claim to fame on exploits of Sergt. Willie Sandlin. The citizens of Hell-for-certain have read with pride the official army citation of heroic deeds of the boy who was reared on their creek and was their neighbor until he joined the army in 1913.

The exploits of this mountain boy are vouched for by General Pershing himself, who pinned the Congressional Medal of Honor on his breast.

The official citation of the war department is as follows:

"Sergt. Willie Sandlin, Serial No. 2078103, Company A, One Hundred and Thirty-second Infantry.

"For conspicuous gallantry and intrepidity above and beyond the call of duty in action with the enemy at Bois de Forges, France, September 26, 1918.

"Sergeant Sandlin showed conspicuous gallantry in action at Bois de Forges, France, September 26, by advancing alone directly on a machine gun nest which was holding up the line with its fire. He killed the crew with a grenade and enabled the line to advance. Later in the day Sergeant Sandlin attacked alone and put out of action two other machine gun nests, setting a splendid example of bravery and coolness to his men."

Given Other Honors.

Sergeant Sandlin enlisted in Jackson, Breathitt county, April 18, 1913, and served out his term of enlistment, being in Nogales, Ariz., when discharged. On the following day he re-enlisted.

His discharge shows that he was awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor, the French Croix de Guerre and Medal Militaire for heroic action September 24. The discharge is dated May 30, 1919, Camp Grant, Ill.

On September 26 his division, the Prairie, was advancing through the Argonne forest, fighting its way step by step. Sandlin was in command of a platoon of 57 men when the advance started.

The line had been fighting for hours, advancing slowly, when they were suddenly held up by a machine gun nest about 150 yards in front. Sandlin charged up the slope at the machine gun nest, with bullets from the machine guns and automatic pistols of the Germans whistling by him. He was 100 yards in front of his men when he stopped and threw a grenade at the nest. This fell short and he ran forward and threw two more grenades into the midst of the Germans.

He then charged the nest with his bayonet and found five dead men and three men still living. These he bayoneted.

When the line advanced and came up with him he rejoined his platoon and borrowed four more grenades. The line then advanced again, going up the slope of the hill with very little protection from the trees. At the crest of the hill another machine gun nest halted the line, but Sandlin kept right on going. When he was within 20 yards of the machine gun nest he threw two grenades, both making clean hits, and again charged with his bayonet. This time he found four dead and three wounded Germans, and he bayoneted the latter. Two machine guns were captured.

Destroys Third Nest.

After the line had again come up with him they advanced over the crest of the hill and down the other slope toward the Meuse river.

When they had proceeded about 500 yards another nest stopped the line, which was advancing down the slope toward the river. But it did not stop Sandlin; he kept right on under fire from the machine guns and the pistols of the Germans and threw three grenades into the nest, killing eight men, the entire German crew, and capturing two more machine guns.

Sandlin had thus far killed 24 men by himself while his companions were taking cover and captured six machine guns.

Later in the day he was slightly wounded by shrapnel on his right hand and forehead. A small piece of shrapnel is still in his forehead just under the skin and the hand bears scars.

Bear Leaves Cuba.

Williamsport, Pa.—M. O. Welshans, a farmer living in Nippenose valley, was walking with a neighbor when the dogs, with them began barking and acting in such an unusual manner that they investigated and found them before a large hole, from which protruded the head and forepaws of a bear. They withdrew and called off the dogs. The bear made a break for liberty as soon as the coast was clear. Going back to the den, the two men poked it with poles and discovered a litter of cubs, but, being unarmed, they did not attempt to remove them. That the bear should leave its young unprotected is considered unusual.

JEW IN SERBIA IN BAD PLIGHT

Economic Ruin and Epidemics Have Fallen to Their Lot in Balkans.

BULGARIAN OUTLOOK BETTER

Investigator Urges Shipments of Food and Clothing to Roumania—Fund of $35,000,000 Being Sought in United States.

New York.—Reports of the condition of Jews in the Balkan countries, as made to the American Jewish Relief committee by its investigators abroad show that economic ruin, epidemics of typhus, tuberculosis, and other diseases have fallen to the lot of Balkan Jews to an extent equal to that suffered by their co-religionists in other war-torn countries, but that political and religious repressive measures have been lacking.

The first detailed account of the situation in Serbia in many months is from Dr. Isaac Alcalay, chief rabbi of Serbia, with headquarters in Belgrade. He said Belgrade was still without regular communication with the provinces, because the railroads and bridges destroyed by the Austrians have not been restored.

"During the war," he wrote, "Jews in Belgrade suffered proportionately more than the rest of the population. Most of their habitations were exposed to gunfire throughout the 15 months that the city was under bombardment. Almost all homes are destroyed. The Jewish population of the city, formerly 8,000, now numbers no more than 4,500. The number is being increased daily by returning refugees. Many men are still with the colors."

Have Suffered Terribly.

"Economically, the Serbian Jews have suffered terribly. Because of the uncertain political situation, all regular commerce is impossible, and it is difficult for Jewish citizens to improve their condition. This has deprived institutions of financial aid from the native population. Jewish schools are totally destroyed and the children cannot be educated."

"Such a situation is unfortunate, for the war has brought us new duties. The Jews of old Serbia took a very active part in the Balkan wars and in the world war. The years of fighting have deprived more than 400 families of their bread winners. These people have to be helped."

In Bulgaria, according to a report from Miss Hetty Goldman of this city, the condition of the Jews is somewhat better than in Serbia. Poverty is not so widespread, nor are health conditions so bad.

The families of Jewish residents receive allotments ranging from 45 to 70 levas a month, according to the size of the family. Recently the maximum was raised to 90 levas to meet the rising cost of living. The pensions will be continued for widows and orphans.

"Bulgarian Jews are able to meet the needs of their own poor, but they have recently been confronted with a new responsibility. Roumanian Jews are seeking refuge in Bulgaria, and their Bulgarian co-religionists are at a loss to know what to do with them. There is no work, even for skilled artisans."

"A soup kitchen is being run for these people of Sophia, but many are desperate. An allotment from our American Jewish relief fund must be made to care for them."

In Roumania there is need of clothing and staple foods. It was Miss Goldman who made the investigation in this country also.

Clothing Greatest Need.

"The people needed clothing above everything else," her report reads. "Almost everybody is shabby, and a large percentage of the poor are practically without clothing. I went into many homes where the inmates had on mere rags or were huddled in torn blankets of sacking."

"The second greatest need is for staple foods, such as dry beans, peas, rice, vegetables, fats and the like. Such supplies as are to be had are sold at exorbitant prices. American Jewish relief committees should send clothing and food for about 85,000 persons. Only if this is done will they have protection against the hardships of next winter."

"I was painfully impressed by the number of sick in Roumania. In Bucharest, out of a Jewish population of 45,000 there was an average of eight funerals a day last winter. A large percentage of typhus cases in Bucharest and Jassy have been among Jews. The lack of clothing, especially of clean underwear, has been a contributing cause. The inability to obtain fuel made families huddle in their rooms. Some did not go outside their homes practically all winter."

Machinery for the effective distribution of relief in the Balkan countries is in operation. More than $200,000 worth of supplies, including several tons of kosher meat, was sent from New York late in July to Constantza, Roumania. The American Jewish relief committee, under the chairmanship of Louis Marshall, plans to continue regular shipments of this kind to the Balkans and to Poland, Galicia, Czechoslovakia, and the other countries.

For this purpose a fund of $85,000,000 is being sought in the United States this year.

BLUE UMBRELLA

By LIZZIE M. PEABODY.

A tear slowly coursed its way down Eileen's smooth, round cheek and splashed upon the sewing machine as her Aunt Polly's voice shrilled monotonously on and on.

With a sudden change of mood the girl stopped the motion of the machine and faced about.

"This blue umbrella all day long, and I dream of it at night," she cried out impatiently. "I hated to carry the faded old thing anyway, and now there has been so much trouble about it I'll never carry it again, even if you find it."

Then she returned to her stitching with a sob in her throat. While Aunt Polly resumed her monologue.

"If Annette returned the umbrella, where is it?" she asked with an air of triumph. The thin, trembling lips tightened as she continued: "Those Plumbs! They're such a careless, happy-go-lucky, shiftless lot. I have determined that neither Annette nor her brother, Stacy, shall come here again with my consent until that umbrella is found."

"Don't worry!" Eileen returned quietly. "I don't think they want to come."

When leading the umbrella to Annette Eileen had whispered: "Return it as soon as possible, dearie; Aunt Polly values it for the sake of bygone associations." And careless little Annette, their neighbor, had promised with a sweet little giggle to return it within 24 hours.

Ever since that time she had stoutly maintained that she brought back the umbrella the night of Eileen's candy party, and that she had set it in the corner of the little entry at the foot of the stairway.

That was three months ago, and Stacy and Annette had ceased to visit the Waverlys; for Aunt Polly, although constantly forgetting things of greater importance, always remembered to ask each time she saw them if the umbrella had been found yet, and fair-minded Eileen could not blame them for remaining away, although she missed them terribly.

When spring came the mystery was as far from being solved as ever. Eileen had grown pale and thin, Stacy had gone to a distant city to work. Annette now greeted Eileen very coldly, and Aunt Polly, tiresomely insistent, still asked daily: "If Annette brought back that umbrella, where is it?"

Then, one particularly bright and warm morning, Aunt Polly told Eileen that it would be a fine time to put things to rights in the attic, and Eileen gathered pails, brooms, brushes and soap, and sang at her work. She jerked up the cover of the large box in which they kept the extra bedding.

Her brown eyes widened in surprise as something went crashing to the floor, and with a little scream of joy she seized the old blue umbrella and hugged it closely. No one could complain of lack of color in Eileen's cheeks now as, clutching tightly the umbrella, she ran swiftly down the stairs to the sitting room, where her aunt rocked slowly back and forth by the window.

"See what I found in the bedding box," she shouted joyously, and Aunt Polly's face turned slowly to an ashy gray, while it in turn expressed surprise, pleasure and—yes—chagrin.

"Why, Eileen! You have found the umbrella," she cried faintly.

"But, Eileen, where did you find it?" she asked, breathlessly. And then, again, with a slight wrinkling of her forehead, "Who could have placed it in the box?" "I wonder," was all that Eileen said.

It happened that Stacy came home the next day for a short visit, and after Eileen had told her story he remained silent for a moment.

"Eileen!" he cried at last, "don't you remember that we cleared out the lower bedroom the night of the candy party to make room for playing games? And don't you remember that as I reached the entry I struck the pile of quilts I was carrying against the rail at the foot of the stairway? I dropped some of them and had to stoop to pick them up again."

"You rushed out to me to hurry and get the bedding in the box up to the attic, as the guests were beginning to come."

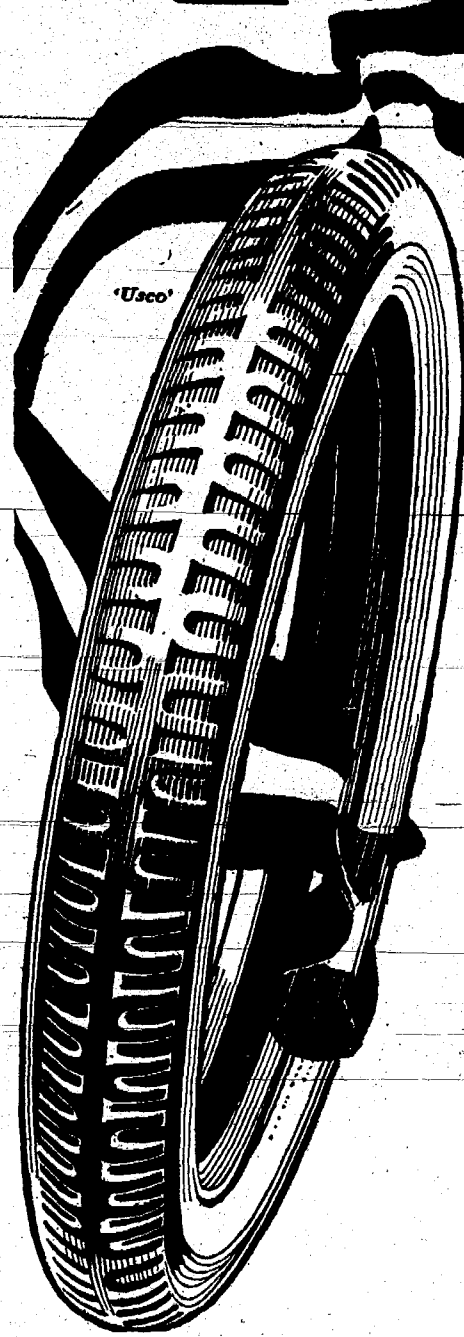

"I hurried and I must have first knocked down the umbrella, and then I must have picked it up among the quilts."

Then with a cheerful grin he remarked: "Your Aunt Polly'll say, 'I told you so!' Just Plumb-carelessness."

But Aunt Polly received the explanation very quietly and not at all as she was expected to. Afterward Eileen found her crying softly.

"Forgive me, Elly," she sobbed. "Oh, I have been so hateful. I remember now that I placed the umbrella among the folds of the comforters, intending to take it upstairs myself, and then I forgot all about it. And, Elly, I thought perhaps you knew where it was and wouldn't tell me. We'll give the umbrella to the junkman," she said, still sobbing.

Need Help to Pass the Crisis Safely—Proof that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Can be Relied Upon.

Urbana, Ill.—"During Change of Life, in addition to its annoying symptoms, I had an attack of gripple which lasted all winter and left me in a weakened condition. I felt at times that I would never be well again. I read of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and what it did for women passing through the Change of Life, so I told my doctor I would try it. I soon began to gain in strength and the annoying symptoms disappeared and your Vegetable Compound has made me a well, strong woman so I do all my own housework. I cannot recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound too highly to women passing through the Change of Life."

—Mrs. FRANK HENSON, 1816 S. Archdale St., Urbana, Ill.

Women who suffer from nervousness, "heat flashes," backache, headaches and "the blues" should try this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

SOLDIERS ARE SUPERSTITIOUS

British War Museum Official Digs Up Some Interesting Information.

NEARLY ALL WEAR AMULETS

One Officer Carrying Charm Refuses to Reveal Its Nature for Fear of Bad Luck—Another Carries Piece of Coal.

London.—Certain interesting superstitions prevalent among British colonial troops at the front are described by Edward Lovett, an official of the Imperial War museum at London, in the Morning Post. He says: "Many of the superstitions held by British soldiers are also held by our troops from overseas and by men of the allied forces. One day I happened to meet an Australian soldier who wore the figure 5 on the collar of his tunic. This 5 is known on the continent as the Pentad, and in Belgium the Fifth regiment is considered to be the lucky regiment. The logic of the Pentad is as follows: Figure 1 stands for God, absolutely alone. Figure 2 is the mind of God in operation as shown by the works of nature. Figure 3 represents man as the highest work of God. Taking, therefore, figure 1 as being unique, the figures 2 and 3, that is, God's work in the hands of man, equal 5, and this 5 is said to represent everything. In this country we do not fully appreciate the meaning of the figure 5.

Lucky Australian Five.
"To come back to our Australian soldier. He told me that he knew nothing of the Pentad, and he was rather inclined to sneer at luck in general. But he told me that his company, which was the Fifth, was very lucky, and day after day the men had many narrow escapes from death or wounds. The company, in fact, had lost only 15 men out of 180, while the Second company had lost a much larger proportion. He also told me that the No. 13 was considered by them a lucky number, and most of the men in the Fifth company, curiously enough, had 13 in their regimental numbers, his own number being 1327.

"On one occasion, after lecturing to some men from New Zealand and Australia, I was entertained for the night and put up in an officer's hut. Before turning in I chatted over the subject of folklore and soldiers' mascots with four officers. One of the officers told me that he carried a charm, and I said I would like to know what it was. It turned out to be simply a Swastika, which was apparently new to him, and he was glad to hear more about it. The second officer took from his pocket a small cross of grotesque form, which, he informed me, was his mascot. The third officer laughingly added, "Well, I need not show you mine, because it is only a piece of coal, wrapped in a little bag which I brought over from Australia." The fourth (and this to my astonishment, being the "highest possible") said, "I also have a mascot, but I regret to say that I don't intend to show it to you. I won't even tell you what it is, because it would spoil my luck." Nothing I could say would induce him to alter his decision. His was the most superstitious case of all.

"The commonest charms among the soldiers of France and Belgium are made of aluminum and copper fragments of German shells. It is considered that if you wear a piece of an enemy's projectile it inoculates you against future danger from such sources. In Italy the men wore the kinds of charms and amulets which have been common in that country for many generations—even centuries, I may say. They consist chiefly of phallic emblems, and may be seen by thousands in the streets and markets of Naples especially.

What the Germans Wear.
"I have a number of examples of 'German' charms, some of which were taken from German prisoners, while others were collected by myself in Germany about 12 years ago. They are of a character you might expect from such a people, and consist largely of pigs, many of which, I regret to say, are grossly vulgar and offensive. Another German charm is a small model of a fungus, which is of natural blood-red color. This is really a phallic emblem. A third kind is a teetotum, the meaning of which is 'chance.' On the other hand, in the German navy, or what remains of it, they have rather a pretty charm. It consists of a small, cheap medal, bearing the figure of Christ stilling the tempest, with the motto 'Safety in storms.' I gathered from several of my friends that the charms in common use by the Germans were generally small objects, such as I have mentioned, which had been presented to the wearers by their mothers or sisters, but in few cases had the charm any definite logical meaning.

Marine Good Walker.
Richmond, Va.—Ralph Walter Slater ambled over from his home at Mount Tell, W. Va., to Charleston, a distance of 26 miles, to join the marine corps. Having successfully passed the examination he strolled over home—another 26 miles, to tell his folks good-by. Completing his farewell he made his way over the West Virginia mountains back to the recruiting office. In all Slater walked 76 miles to become a marine.

DAIRY INDUSTRY IS $3,000,000,000 A YEAR INDUSTRY

Its Greatness Will Be Exploited at National Dairy Show in Chicago in October.

BIGGER, BETTER THAN EVER

It has been estimated that 7,000,000 persons in the United States are directly interested in the dairy industry. Figures place the value of the yearly output of the industry as high as $3,000,000,000 a year, it is one of the really great industries of the country.

The great gathering place of the people of the dairy industry and those interested in it will be in Chicago this year from October 6 to 12. On those dates the National Dairy Show, the big annual exposition of the business that furnishes man's most vital food to millions every day in the year, will be held in the International amphitheater, Union stock yards.

The National Dairy Show is always the most important event of the year for the dairy industry and this year will be by far the largest, best and most important of all National Dairy Shows. The fact that the United States government has a post-war message on dairying to deliver to the world and has chosen the show as the medium through which to deliver it at once raises the National Dairy Show to a position of extreme importance. The show will take on an international character because official delegations from many foreign countries will be present to hear what Uncle Sam has to say.

Whole Industry to Be Shown.
For the National Dairy Show the entire industry—"from the grass roots to the delivery of the finished product to the home"—will be brought to Chicago. Nothing will be missing; there will be everything that has to do with dairying in any of its branches. There is every indication that record-breaking crowds will see the show.

To tell all that the National Dairy Show of 1919 will contain would fill columns.

There will be cattle for the lovers of cattle—1,000 head of the best dairy cattle in the whole world. These will include cows and bulls for which fabulous prices have been paid. Every kind of feed and storage will be shown. The exhibits of butter, milk and cheese in competition from all parts of the country will be enormous. The largest cheese ever made, weighing 31,980 pounds, will be on exhibition. There will be exhibits of every method or device perfected for the manufacture of butter, cheese, ice cream, milk powder, evaporated milk or cream.

Wonderful Government Exhibits.
There will be exhibits of every device perfected for use in the barn, on the farm or in the factory for the better care and handling of dairy products and the lessening of human labor.

The United States government will make exhibits comprehending the work before the industry to meet the world's demand for dairy products. Through the Child Welfare bureau the government will treat on the nutrition side of the milk question and through the educational bureau of the department of the interior the subject of proper nutrition for school children.

Actual children will be used in these demonstrations and also in the exhibits and demonstration arranged by the woman's department under the supervision of Mrs. Ira Couch Wood of Chicago.

Entertainment for Women and Children.

Especially pains are being taken to make the National Dairy Show of 1919 particularly attractive to women and children. There will be many features for their benefit, including exhibits on domestic science, the weighing and scoring of children for health standards, afternoon teas, receptions, etc.

There will be conventions and meetings all during the week, cattle sales, cattle judging, competitions, milking contests, students and boys and girls' judging contest and a variety of other entertainment.

There will be a horse show every night with some of the best show horses in America being put through their paces.

In short, the National Dairy Show will be a week to revel in, a week of enjoyment, entertainment and instruction.

The dates of the show are from October 6 to 12.

Make Hotel Reservations Now.
It is none too early to make hotel reservations in Chicago for the week of the National Dairy Show—October 6 to 12. There is every indication that the crowds at the show will be the largest in the fifteen years of its existence.

Motortrucks will have a place in the exhibits of the National Dairy Show in Chicago this year. The motortruck is in general use now for moving the products of the dairy.

Over fifteen tons in a single cheese! This cheese will be an exhibition at the National Dairy Show this year.

Governor Lowden of Illinois will be an exhibitor at the National Dairy Show in Chicago this year.

Heavy Polarine Oil Stanolind Tractor Oil Extra Heavy Polarine Oil

ONE of these three is the correct oil for your particular tractor. Our Engineering Staff, after a careful and exhaustive study of all tractors, has prepared a chart on which is shown your tractor and which of these three oils is the correct one for you to use.

This is part of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) service to the farmers of America.

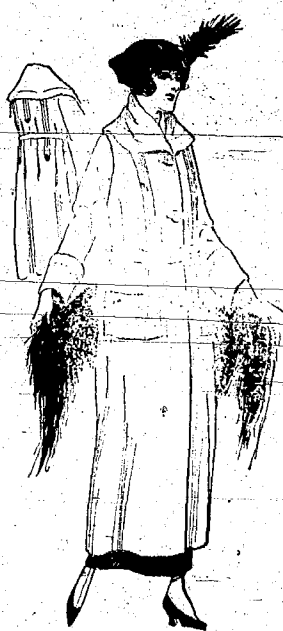

The nearest Standard Oil representative has this chart and he will be glad to show it to you.

Send for 100 page book "Tractor Lubrication." It is free and the information it contains is invaluable. Read it carefully—apply the information given and you will be able to keep your tractor in service longer.

FALL'S NEW FASHIONS ARE ASSEMBLED HERE!

NOW COMES THE FALL SEASON, THE FIRST AUTUMN OF PEACE, AND WITH IT THE DESIRE TO BE WELL DRESSED, IN KEEPING WITH THE GENERAL PROSPERITY OF THE LAND.

Never before has it been so necessary to buy good, serviceable clothing that has Style, for the trend of price is upward, and the woman who equips herself today is laying by savings for the future.

It is a time to purchase clothing of recognized value from merchants of recognized integrity, and we are proud to be numbered among these of that class.

AND SO, IN ANNOUNCING OUR FALL FASHION DISPLAY, we want you to come fully convinced that the merchandise you will see is the kind you should buy, the kind that will make your dollars stretch their furthest limit.

The new garments for Fall are more beautiful by comparison than in past seasons. They are more ornately designed, more richly embellished. Whether suits or coats, gowns or hats, you will instantly recognize the difference.

Now as to prices—and every woman is interested in this. Good merchandise never was cheap. Good materials, good workmanship, good designing—they never were low in price.

Consequently, if you want the right kind of goods—the kind that is always lower-priced, in the end, you will not find prices extraordinary. It is the cheap goods that have soared until they are of still less value today than they ever were before.

We present these facts for your consideration. It is our duty, as merchants who are striving to retain and add to the patronage that brings us success.

The New Styles

Cloth Coats—Backs are both loose and belted. Most loose coats made with belt that can be worn inside or outside. Average length, 48 inches.

Fur Fabric Coats—30 to 36 long, loose and flowing. Style determined by fur coats' which often present the modified Dolman type.

Suits—tendency is toward trimmed garments, although tailored type is much worn. A bloused style with vest and high buttoned collar is also good.

Dresses—Both straight line and draped gowns are shown, often the style developing in the panels and trimming. The variety is wide.

Staple pluses—the large sleeve is the feature of these garments; oval effect predominates, although straight lines are good.

The New Materials

Not for a decade has there been such variety; never, we believe, were they so beautiful.

Think of such coatings as Chameleon Cord, Tinseltone Twill, Sweet Brier Cord, Frostilla, Lustrola, Cyprus, not to mention Seal-skinette, Beaverette and other Fur Fabrics that in appearance and lustre fairly rival genuine furs.

The colorings are radiant. Russet, Teatteau, Wood Brown, Cobalt, Brazillian, rich new tones of Blue and soft shades of Brown—these artful shadings are wonderful.

The Chameleon Cord, found only in the better coats, merits special attention as to shades. It is a very scarce fabric—we could obtain very few coats made of it.

To get these new fabrics, we would suggest your very early inspection and selection. We cannot buy any more; the mills are not weaving them.

These New Autumn Hats

They are large and they are small; they are trimmed and they are not trimmed. But here, where we have put in stock a variety larger than ever before, we believe you will find "your" hat.

New hues are to be seen everywhere, new trimmings, new shapes. And arriving right on schedule for our opening, comes a shipment the stunning contents of which will be exhibited to you. Of many, there will be but one of a kind.

Tricotine and Serge Dresses, a wonderful variety, prices $20 to $60.
Wool jersey for dresses $5.00 per yard; colors, navy, pekin and taupe.
A wonderful Black Plush Coat, $35.00.
Skirts in the embroidered as well as braid trimmed; new lot for your inspection more beautiful than ever.
