

Charlevoix County Herald.

Vol. 25

EAST JORDAN, MICHIGAN, FRIDAY, MAY 13, 1921.

No. 19

Fair Dates

Sept. 12-16

Officers and Directors Hold Annual Spring Meeting.

The annual spring meeting of officers and directors of the Charlevoix County Agricultural Society was held at the Russell House in this city Tuesday, May 10th.

Those present were President, S. E. Rogers; Vice-president, H. B. Hipp; Secretary, D. L. Wilson. Directors:—Richard Lewis, Nat Burns, E. B. Ward, James Meggison, Frank Bird, R. S. Shapton, all of Charlevoix, and F. H. Wangerman of East Jordan. Directors Robert White and Terry Barber were absent.

Meeting was called to order at 10:00 a. m., and after the minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved, Richard Lewis presented the report of Finance Committee which follows:—

RECEIPTS

Gate receipts, Fair 1920, K. Carson	$ 3504.20
Subscriptions list collected by President, Cash	575.00
Subscriptions list $150.00 applied on bill of E. J. Lbr. Co.
State Appropriation 1920	451.05
State Appropriation 1919	24.05
Charlevoix Co. Appropriation	2000.00
Sec'y's receipts, concessions, adv'g, bus license, etc.	1546.94
Borrowed money	2500.00
Balance on hand Feb. 10, 1920	34.58
From E. B. Ward	40.90
	$10675.72

DISBURSEMENTS

Premium Orders paid	$ 1693.83
General expenses	896.42
Balance on hand May 10, 1921 of which $11.24 is in the hands of the Secretary	25.47
	$10675.72

EDUCATIONAL BUILDING FUND.

Received from Country Dist.	$ 104.67
Paid E. J. Lumber Co.	75.00
Balance on hand May 10, 1921	29.67

RICHARD LEWIS F. H. WANGERMAN Committee

The matter of claim for damages against the Northwestern Shows was presented by the Secretary and on motion of Ward, supported by Shapton the Secretary was authorized to cause suit to be started if necessary, provided an attorney can be secured on a commission basis. Motion carried.

On motion, Sept. 12 to 16 inclusive was fixed as the dates for the 1921 Fair. Following a recess for dinner the Board proceeded to elect H. B. Hipp, vice president; D. L. Wilson, Secretary E. B. Ward marshal.

The following committees and superintendent of divisions were appointed:

Speed Committee—Nat Burns, Frank Bird, Dave Vaughn, Walter Cook and Eugene Adams.

SUPERINTENDENTS.

- Division A—Frank Bird
 - Division B—Terry Barber
 - Division C—D—Martin Staley
 - Division E—F—R. S. Shapton
 - Division G—James Meggison
 - Division H—Sam Straw
 - Division I—Mrs. Nat Burns
 - Division J—Mrs. Peter Lalonde
 - Division L—Robert White
 - Division M—May L. Stewart.
- Executive Committee—H. B. Hipp, Frank Bird, F. H. Wangerman.
- Finance Committee—Richard Lewis, F. H. Wangerman, Nat Burns.

On motion, it was decided that an admission of Fifty Cents be charged for all motor vehicles parked on the fair grounds, the revenue derived from same to be used as a separate fund for improvement on the grounds. Additional parking policemen will be added this year and a system established of parking all cars so that each car's egress may be made at any time.

On motion, Vice President Hipp was given full charge of repairing the race track.

On motion, President Rogers was authorized to repair roof and put in additional windows in the Floral Hall.

The Superintendents of the various divisions were instructed to employ their own assistants and to see to it that the Superintendent or his assistant is in charge of exhibits in his department at all times that the exhibits were open to the public.

Most men are judged by the company they keep, but sometimes it is tough on the company.

After the excitement is all over some people begin to worry over what didn't happen.

E. J. Loses

State Contest

Kalamazoo Normal High School Successful in Close Contest.

The East Jordan High School, which had won nine straight debates so far this year, lost the final debate at Ann Arbor, Wednesday evening, May 4, to Kalamazoo Normal High School in what was generally considered by University people to be the best High School debate ever heard at Ann Arbor. The debate was very close—in fact the judges stated that it was so close that there was practically no choice between the sides.

The Kalamazoo team had defeated everything in southern Michigan and possessed one speaker who was certainly effective. The local boys gave a splendid account of themselves in both constructive and rebuttal speeches—in fact they did as well as they had ever done. Each team gets a cup with the names of the debaters engraved thereon.

Many schoolmen from cities in southern Michigan came to Ann Arbor to hear the debate and it was the general consensus of opinion that East Jordan had fully as good a team as Kalamazoo. The University professors who were associated with the Michigan High School Debating League took particular pains to show the boys a splendid time. The team consisted of Arthur Secord, Floyd Liskum and Paul Franseth. Gayle Hudkins, who always appeared on the negative side, accompanied the team.

The boys went by way of Detroit and spent Wednesday forenoon in seeing some of the prominent points of interest in Michigan's big city.

BAD MOTORCYCLE

ACCIDENT

(From Boyne Citizen)

Lyle Townsend, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Townsend of East Main street, was the victim of a serious accident Sunday which might easily have resulted fatally. While riding on his motorcycle on the East Jordan road, and while descending the long hill about three miles this side of East Jordan, he was precipitated from the motorcycle and was later found in an unconscious condition by the driver of a passing automobile and immediately rushed to East Jordan. Dr. Dicken was quickly summoned and dressed the lad's wounds, after which he was removed to the home of his aunt, Mrs. Meredith where in a short time he regained consciousness. Young Townsend has no recollection of how the accident occurred, but as the front wheel of the motorcycle was completely wrecked, it is believed the wheel suddenly collapsed while he was coasting down the hill at considerable speed, thus precipitating him to the road bed with great force. Mr. Townsend, Lyle's father, who was returning to Boyne City from Charlevoix by way of East Jordan was very much surprised and shocked to learn of his son's condition when he reached East Jordan and immediately brought the boy in his car to their home here where he is resting as comfortably as could be expected.

EAST JORDAN HIGH DEFEATS CHARLEVOIX

The local high school won a rather one-sided baseball game last Friday afternoon from Charlevoix, at Charlevoix. John Gunderson again starred for the local team and the playing of Hockstad, on first base, was particularly commendable. So far this year, Hockstad has not made an error on first base and he has been hitting very satisfactorily. East Jordan got nine hits and twelve runs, while Charlevoix got two hits and four runs. The fact that both teams got more runs than hits indicates that outside of the pitching both teams need to make some improvement. Gunderson struck out sixteen Charlevoix players and Cunningham got nine strike-outs.

East Jordan will play Mancelona at Mancelona this week.

Board of Review.

Notice is hereby given that the Board of Review for the City of East Jordan will be in session at the Council Rooms in the Library Building, Monday, May 16, 1921, at 9:30 o'clock a. m., and will remain in session at least four days. Dated May 5, 1921.

Otis J. Smith, City Clerk.

Name Contest

Coming Fine

About Fifty Lists Already Submitted for Approval.

The Herald's offer of a prize of Ten Dollars to the person submitting a suitable name for East Jordan's Cemetery, is receiving a hearty response, and before the contest closes at 6:00 p. m., Saturday, May 21st, there will probably be several hundred names submitted.

The "beaten path" of names applicable to our cemetery are probably now pretty well covered and contestants are urged to submit names that are original and applicable for our cemetery.

Among those submitting names are several from outside the city—Detroit, Petoskey, Pellston and other places being represented. Remember its a contest open to everyone and we invite former East Jordan citizens to submit suitable names.

RULES GOVERNING

- 1—Any number of names may be suggested by one person.
- 2—Two copies to be made, one copy signed by the contestant; the other without signature.
- 3—Mail or hand to The Herald, marking envelope "contest."
- 4—Contest closes at 6:00 p. m., Saturday, May 21.
- 5—If two or more contestants submit the adopted name, the one received first wins the prize.
- 6—Contest open to everyone.

AT THE TEMPLE THEATRE

The next big special attraction at the Temple will be Wm. Farnum in "Wings of Morning" and Snooky, the Humanzee in "A Tray Full of Troubles" making a big double special feature program which is booked for Friday, May 20. Wm. Farnum is making the best features he has ever made, and "Wings of Morning" is a big special. Snooky, the almost human monk will be seen at his best in "A Tray Full of Troubles", which employs mostly children and animals, it is a comedy that will please every member of the family and is especially appealing to the children.

The rest of the week is taken up with Carmel Meyers on Tuesday in "Beautifully Trimmed", the story of an impoverished society girl who becomes the accomplice of an unscrupulous artist; of an insatiable desire for luxury.

Wednesday's program will consist of Louise Lovely in "Partners of Fate" and the 12th chapter of "The Lost City" which is without a doubt a show that is well worth going a long way to see.

Thursday "The Cup of Fury" by Rupert Hughes with an all star cast, the book was one of the most widely read novels on the book stands and the picture is better than the book.

Saturday, the same strong program on Ruth Roland in "Ruth of the Rockies", Mutt and Jeff, the News Weekly, and a comedy, a show that fits every member of the family and the pocket-book.

Sunday, the ever popular Wanda Hawley in "The Snob", which is a picture that is up to the high standard of Sunday programs. This looks like a week of extra strong shows.

SCHOOL BANQUETS

SCHOOL VICTORS

Last Monday night the Juniors and Seniors of the local high school prepared a banquet in honor of the students who have brought victory to the East Jordan High School during the past year in debating, basketball, oratory, and commercial work.

John Duncan acted as toastmaster and responses were made by Mr. Bartlett, President of the Board of Education, John Gunderson, A. F. Speltz, Ada Hobbs, Kate Sibley, members of this year's debating team, and Supt. Keyworth. Mrs. Wyatt sang two solos and Miss Rosabelle Danto spoke in behalf of the girls.

The banquet was served in the gymnasium and was prepared in the domestic science department.

The Juniors and Seniors, assisted by Mr. Duncan, are to be congratulated upon such a splendid success.

Wreck-Fish Well Named.

The wreck-fish is one of the inhabitants of the sea with peculiar habits, getting its name because it may usually be found floating about a wreck or loose timbers in the South sea. It is closely related to the stone bass of English waters.

New School

Superintendent

Board of Education Elect A. J. Duncanson of Traverse City.

Principal A. J. Duncanson of Traverse City has been elected Superintendent of East Jordan Public Schools for the coming year by the Board of Education. This is Mr. Duncanson's second year as principal of the Traverse City Public Schools. Previously he was principal of high schools at Alpena, Mount Pleasant, and Ithaca.

Mr. Duncanson has proved himself a very successful school man, being widely known as a strong disciplinarian and as an excellent athletic coach. He is a graduate of Alma College and has taken advanced work at Columbia University, New York City.

Both his training and experience qualify him for his new position, and it is believed that he will keep East Jordan on the map in an educational way.

STATE FAIR TEST FOR BOYS

County School Commissioner, May L. Stewart, has received information from G. W. Dickinson, Secretary, Manager, that the Michigan State Fair will conduct the coming year its annual Boys' State Fair School upon a larger basis than ever before.

In every county of the state, competitive examinations will be held, and the boys who show the greatest proficiency in agricultural studies will be given a trip to the Fair at Detroit at the expense of the Fair Association.

At the Fair, they will be given instruction by the State's foremost agricultural experts on the best and most modern methods of agriculture. The Michigan State Fair has conducted this school for years as a contribution toward agricultural education. Expenses of the boys from the most distant counties of the state have been large but have been cheerfully met.

The rules under which the free trip may be won are in part as follows:

Boys must be between the ages of 14 and 18 years of age; effective date September 1, 1921.

They must write both in the regular eighth grade examination and the special Fair examination.

The winner will be selected by the County School Commissioner, Board of Examiners, or a special committee. An alternate will also be selected.

Every effort is being made to have the Fair examination questions entirely practical. It will go into the actual problems of the farm from every angle. Theoretical and practical phases will be jointly studied. A boy who can successfully answer the questions, it is said, must show a pretty thorough knowledge of all phases of farm life.

At the Fair, the management will see that the boys have a good time as well as instruction in agriculture.

Teachers Granted Certificates.

At a meeting of the County Board of School Examiners at the Court House in Charlevoix at 8:30 a. m. Saturday, the following certificates were granted:

- Mary Bird—Second grade expiring May 7, 1924.
- Margaret Burns—Third grade expiring June 30, 1922.
- Ester Miles—Second grade expiring May 7, 1924.
- Clare Marie Thorson—Second Grade expiring May 7, 1924.
- D. Edith Sellers—Third grade expiring June 30, 1923.
- Edith Quinn—Third grade expiring June 30, 1922.

The above were already teaching within the county and the list adds not a one to our list of available teachers for 1921-22.

Arbor Day in Rural Schools.

Forty rural schools planted lilac bushes on Friday last. Several schools closing before Arbor Day planted both trees and shrubs as a part of the closing day exercises. The school ground beautiful is becoming a slogan of rural teachers.

The generosity of Mr. Geo. Hemingway, of Oak Park, Ill., made the planting and delivery of the trees possible, while the courtesy of the Northern Auto companies in East Jordan, Boyne City, and Charlevoix, made it possible to have central points for distribution of the same.

The nickel cigar is beginning to make its appearance again. Some day it may be worth a nickel.

Profiteers

Still Busy

Jobbers and Brokers Keep Hands on Throat of Retail Merchant.

Below article, taken from the Saginaw press, indicates that exorbitant prices on many commodities still prevail throughout the country.

"While the fight is still going on against profiteering in the general commodities of life it has only left a slight dent in the robbery prices marked on goods presented for sale by merchants throughout the United States.

"Warnings and cries have gone up from every available source and now comes the announcement by Secretary Hoover from Washington that he has in mind publication and distribution of fair price lists by the government as a guide to consumers in the cost of commodities. Should this fair price list come into the hands of Saginaw consumers it will be surprising to compare the price of men's suits priced at $50 to $100 while the entire amount of wool in these suits is sold today in Michigan for $4. Who gets the difference and how is it divided? Then too you can see shoes displayed at $10 to $15 a pair while the leather in them does not cost 50c with cowhides selling at $1.50 to $3 with enough leather to make four to eight pair of such shoes.

"Cotton goods are displayed in Saginaw today selling at $1 to $1.50 per yard under the name of 'silk worm cloth' or some other imaginary name when the cotton in a yard of these goods does not bring 5c on the market and the cotton planter of the South cannot make enough out of his production to buy lasses and corn.

Similar citations can be followed all the way down the line including materials for building such as a porcelain water sink selling for $20 to $25 while the cost of material and manufacture does not exceed $5.

"With sugar at a pre-war price the retail charge for candy is held at the old listing. "The retailers are just in the same boat as the consumers as the high-water price mark comes on the goods when they come from the jobbers. Therefore the blame for present high prices is all traced to the manufacturer and jobber and this is the source which Secretary Hoover is endeavoring to remedy by the publication of price lists as no plan has been found to get after the profiteers in any other way."

"The retailers are just in the same boat as the consumers as the high-water price mark comes on the goods when they come from the jobbers. Therefore the blame for present high prices is all traced to the manufacturer and jobber and this is the source which Secretary Hoover is endeavoring to remedy by the publication of price lists as no plan has been found to get after the profiteers in any other way."

SALVATION ARMY DRIVE NOW ON

Efforts Being Made to Raise County's Quota of $4,000.

If the Salvation Army appeal for $255,000, May 9 to 17, is a success, hundreds of tired mothers and "kiddies" in the state will be happy.

The success of the appeal means that $10,000 of the state fund will be used in erecting a state fresh air camp where poor mothers and youngsters will be given a 10 days outing during the hot summer months.

Brigadier Samuel Withers, divisional commander for the Salvation Army in Michigan, already is planning the camp.

The camp will be a little colony of cottages; have proper sanitation and accommodate between 500 and 600 mothers and children during the season. There will also be a bathing beach where the smallest "kiddie" can enjoy the pleasures of the "ol' swimmin' ol' "

To insure the camp and the continuation and extension of the 16 major activities of the Army in Michigan, the full $255,000 must be raised, Charlevoix county's quota is $4,000. This amount is small compared to the service rendered by the Salvation Army, but only the actual needs have been provided for in the state budget.

Mr. Borden of Boyne City is chairman of the local county committee and already has a large organization which has swung into action this week to raise the county quota.

Trout a Cannibal.

The trout is cannibalistic, feeding upon its own kind when necessity compels, says the American Forestry Magazine, and in numerous instances when necessity does not compel.

No Shortage.

"I rented a house in the Street of Dreams," sings a poet. Well, even a poet can pay the rent of that kind of a house.—Boston Transcript.

This is an opportune time to get a start in a good high-yielding strain of Petoskey Golden Russets. One of the finest kind of potatoes is begging for a buyer and can be obtained practically for the asking. There is no excuse of planting inferior or mixed seed potatoes.

The cost of production of raising a bushel of potatoes is inversely related to the yield per acre. He, therefore, who finds this crop the most profitable to grow, is the one who secures the best yields. The potato grower has gone wrong when he attempts to put in a larger acreage than he can properly prepare the ground for, properly plant, or properly spray and take care of. Small acreages and big yields are the aim to work for in the potato industry.

The average yield for Charlevoix County is estimated to be slightly over one hundred bushels per acre, but we have the soil and climate to produce an average of better than two hundred bushels per acre. The potato crop should occupy a definite and fixed place in the farm rotation. The best yields and quality demand that six to eight years elapse before potatoes are planted on the same field again. In the meantime the field should be into clover or alfalfa a good share of the time, with at least one good application of manure applied most advantageously the summer before the potato crop.

We believe we are rapidly coming to high pressure spraying, not only with the usual insecticides, but with good home-made Bordeaux mixture. To compete profitably with other sections where high yields are obtained, we must see to it that potatoes have a fixed place in the farm crop rotation plan and that the field is properly prepared for the crop. We must also know that our seed potatoes are of the best quality and free from all diseases.

Garden Notes

(By M. A. C. Horticultural Dept.)

Plant seed for the late cabbage crop at once. See that the seed bed is fine and moist. Danish Ballhead is the most popular variety for winter storage. Drumhead Savoy is a high quality variety and is excellent for the home garden.

The first early plantings of garden peas are growing well now. Time to make another planting of the mid-season and late sweet wrinkle seeded sorts. Allow 18 to 24 inches between the rows for the dwarf varieties. The tall late varieties need at least 3 or 4 feet between rows. These should be provided with brush, wire netting, or something similar, for support.

Start the cultivator going early. It conserves moisture and means bigger and better crops.

Have you ever grown Swiss Chard for greens? It's better than beets. The leaves may be picked all summer. Fine for canning. A row 15 or 20 feet long will provide a season's supply for an ordinary family. Lucullus is the best variety.

For slugs on roses there is nothing better than a thorough spraying or dusting with arsenate of lead.

Most people sow seed too thickly, consequently many crops require some thinning. When the plants of lettuce, radishes, onions, beets, carrots, etc., are about 2 inches high, they should be thinned until only the best remain, about 2 or 3 inches apart. Thinning allows the plants to develop larger roots, gives the sunlight a chance, and better plants result.

NOTICE

Sealed bids will be received at the office of the County Road Commissioners at the Court House in the City of Charlevoix, Mich. on the 20th. day of May 1921 at one o'clock p. m. for constructing 3.854 miles of gravel-road on what is known as the East Jordan and Elmira road, according to plans and specifications now on file in the Commissioners office at the Court House in Charlevoix, Mich.

RICHARD LEWIS—Clerk

By M. A. McDonald, Deputy Clerk.

Queer Figures on Kamerun Note. The huts of the Kamerun tribe of Africa are decorated with figures which indicate the number of occupants and their relationship. A very large figure in the center stands for the man of the family and other figures for the wives, sons and daughters.

MAKE SURVEY OF INMATES' HEALTH

GOVERNOR AND CABINET START BETTERMENT PROGRAM IN STATE INSTITUTIONS.

COMMISSIONER OLIN IN CHARGE

Department of Health Physicians Already Making Complete Physical Examinations.

Lansing.—Governor Alexander J. Grosbeck and the administrative board are losing no time in putting into effect a big program of betterment, reform and welfare work in the state institutions, bringing necessary and valuable aid to the state wards by making use of the recently conferred power to correlate the work of various branches of the state government.

Practically the first step already has been to set in motion a survey of the health, moral, sanitary and dental conditions in all state institutions, with a view of bringing their inmates up to a normal standard physically recognized in modern methods of handling public wards of all kinds as the first and essential step towards accomplishing the aims for which corrective institutions, educational and penal institutions were established.

The work will be under the direction of State Health Commissioner Olin, who already has state department of health physicians at work making a complete medical and sanitary survey in every state institution. Every state ward—except in the hospitals themselves—will be given a complete physical examination and a standard form of report and record will be kept.

STATE CANNOT STOP JITNEYS

Public Utilities Commission Decides Control is Up to Cities.

Bay City, Mich.—The public utilities commission, after an investigation of the street car and jitney controversy here, decided that it would not rescind its action in ordering the street railway company to bear its share of paving Wenona avenue and referred the proposition of curbing jitney bus competition back to the city commission. The company, claiming that it was in financial straits because of inroads due to jitneys, has declared that either one or the other must go out of business.

The state commission decided it has no authority over jitneys and Commissioner Todd suggested that the matter of their regulation be submitted to a special election.

5 OF AUTO "RING" SENTENCED

Men Convicted of Dealing in Stolen Autos Given Two Years.

Detroit.—Five men, James G. Burroughs, Sven Nyquist, Joseph Galvo, Douglas Moore and Earl Lynn, were convicted in federal court and sentenced by Judge Tuttle to two years in Leavenworth penitentiary for the stealing of automobiles.

Arthur J. Barkley, local agent of the department of justice, estimates that no fewer than 150 cars, all worth at least $2,500, were stolen in Detroit during last year and taken to other states where they were disposed of. Nyquist, one of the convicted men, has filed motion for an appeal.

MICHIGAN NAMES ON FIRST LIST

$50,000 Reward Offered for Capture of 17,000 Draft Dodgers.

Chicago.—The first official list of draft evaders in the 6th army corps area, embracing Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin, received at Fort Sheridan, contains 17,000 names.

The names will be printed and sent out to newspapers, postoffices, draft boards, county sheriffs and chiefs of police. A reward of $50 will be offered for the capture of each man named.

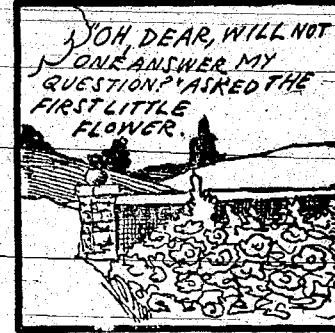

Tax Collections Dropping Off

Washington.—Income and excess profits taxes collected by the government during March fell off by more than $189,000,000 as compared with March of last year, according to reports issued by the internal revenue bureau. Receipts from these taxes during the month totalled $547,481,140, as against $686,939,318 in March, 1920. Collections from these sources from July 1 to the end of March amounted to $2,287,486,997, or a decrease of $21,174,802.

OLD EARTH REPLIES.

ONE night just before the Spring called her children to come forth in all their splendor of color and beauty, a little flower poked out its head and asked: "Where does the snow go that covered the Earth all winter?"

"Oh, what a useless question!" said another flower; "who cares where the snow goes as long as it goes and we can come out and find the sun nice and warm?"

HOW DO YOU SAY IT?

By C. N. LURIE
Common Errors in English and How to Avoid Them

"GRAND."
THE word "grand" has its proper place in English, but it is frequently misused. Used properly, it means "impressive, of imposing character or size, of large proportions." Thus, we may say of St. Peter's in Rome, that it is grand. "The sun rising over the mountaintop presented a grand spectacle" furnishes also an instance of the correct use of the word, as does, "Gladstone is called the 'Grand Old Man' of England."

IN THE earliest days draftsman used simply bits of colored chalk or clay to mark with; a little later metallic lead was used. The modern plumbago or graphite is not lead; there has come to be a confusion of names owing to the ancient use of the metal. The first graphite pencils were manufactured in England in 1564. From there the industry spread to the United States, which now leads in the manufacture.

THE WOODS

BY DOUGLAS MALLACH
JIM.

As you go to the lake
As you follow the road
As it turns to the west
Of the mill,
Till you come to a stake
A surveyor has thrown
Like a knife in the breast
Of the hill,
An' you follow the track
Till you come to a blaze
By the side of the same
In a limb,
You will light on a shack,
In the timber a ways,
Of a party whose name
It is Jim.

In a day that is flown,
Mid the great ex the brand,
In a time when his hair
Was gray,
He was commonly known
By a fancier brand—
In a track that there,
So they say,
But it's Jim, only Jim,
Is the name that he gives,
When you happen to bring
Up the same;
It is plenty for him
In the woods where he lives,
But the mark is the thing,
Not the name.

By the gleam of his eye,
That is steady an' clear,
By the way he will look
In a track that there,
You will know that they lie
Who would make it appear
He was maybe a crook
Over there,
In the church I have stood—
Heard of preachin' a lot
That I never could much
An' yet never the good
From a sermon I got
That I got from a clutch
Of his hand,
I have had an idea
That, if back you could turn
To the start of the trail
For a spell,
That a woman you'd see,
That a lot you would learn—
That the regular tale
An' would tell
Of a fellow to fond,
Of a woman too weak,
Of another who came
To her door—
Then an endless beyond,
Lips that never must speak,
An' a man but a name
Evermore.

THE RIGHT THING AT THE RIGHT TIME

By MARY MARSHALL DUFFEE

WHEN YOU TRAVEL

An agreeable companion on a journey is as good as a carriage.—Publius Syrus.
DON'T open the window until you have asked your seat-companion whether or not she would object, as many a person detests a draught and is seriously tormented by the dust or soot that comes in.
Don't wear a hat with a feather long enough to threaten eyes and cheeks every time you turn, or carry great bunches of flowers which take up too much room in the seat, or else drip water from the rack above.
Don't forget that when you draw up the shade of the window in your own seat you may be causing the rays of the sun to shine directly in the eyes of the person in the seat behind you, by lowering it slightly you can prevent this without blocking your own view.
Remember that when you pay a single fare for a ride in a day coach you are really entitled only to a single seat. You are not, therefore, conferring any favor on the person who asks whether he may ride beside you. You have actually paid for no more than half the section; so when you permit your luggage or other belongings to lop over on the other side you are using something that does not belong to you—something, in fact, that your seatmate has paid for.
Don't forget, however, if you take a seat beside another person to express your thanks if he moves his things to make more room for you. This need be no more than a formal but gracious "thank you."
In short, do nothing that you would not do to your best friend or the person you loved with all your heart, for every train traveler is your brother and sister in a broad sense.
(Copyright.)

THE PENCIL

Champion Stingy Man.
One morning, about three years ago, it snowed very hard. It must have been about three feet deep. I wanted to make some money, so I went across the street from where I lived and asked the man who lived there if he did not want his snow shoveled off. He said, "Go to it."
It took me about two hours to shovel it off. I expected to get about 75 cents for it. I went to the door and asked for my money.
"Do you expect to get anything for shoveling that snow off?" Why, when I was young we thought it good exercise to do a little work like that once in a while.—Chicago Tribune.

A Disadvantage.

Clerk—This is the "newest style skate. It can be put on in three seconds.
Young Man—But I want a pair for my best girl.—Boston Transcript.

THE WOODS

BY DOUGLAS MALLACH
JIM.

As you go to the lake
As you follow the road
As it turns to the west
Of the mill,
Till you come to a stake
A surveyor has thrown
Like a knife in the breast
Of the hill,
An' you follow the track
Till you come to a blaze
By the side of the same
In a limb,
You will light on a shack,
In the timber a ways,
Of a party whose name
It is Jim.

In a day that is flown,
Mid the great ex the brand,
In a time when his hair
Was gray,
He was commonly known
By a fancier brand—
In a track that there,
So they say,
But it's Jim, only Jim,
Is the name that he gives,
When you happen to bring
Up the same;
It is plenty for him
In the woods where he lives,
But the mark is the thing,
Not the name.

By the gleam of his eye,
That is steady an' clear,
By the way he will look
In a track that there,
You will know that they lie
Who would make it appear
He was maybe a crook
Over there,
In the church I have stood—
Heard of preachin' a lot
That I never could much
An' yet never the good
From a sermon I got
That I got from a clutch
Of his hand,
I have had an idea
That, if back you could turn
To the start of the trail
For a spell,
That a woman you'd see,
That a lot you would learn—
That the regular tale
An' would tell
Of a fellow to fond,
Of a woman too weak,
Of another who came
To her door—
Then an endless beyond,
Lips that never must speak,
An' a man but a name
Evermore.

A LINE O' CHEER

By John Kendrick Bangs

YOUR VALENTINE.

Whoever you are, whatever your line,
If you shall need a Valentine,
I'll serve if it shall chance to be
That you've the soul of sympathy,
A heart that beats responsive to
The sufferer in need of you,
And always do the best you can
To serve and cheer your fellow-man.
(Copyright.)

Hawks Migrate En Bloc.

The autumn migration of hawks is made partly en bloc, a large proportion of the total population of several Northern species appearing and passing southward at certain more or less definite times. Often one "wave" of the birds will follow a period of quiescence, which will be in turn succeeded by another wave.

Do you know you can roll 50 good cigarettes for 10cts from one bag of

Last Night's Dreams

—What They Mean

DID YOU DREAM OF MONEY?

WHEN it comes to a matter of money the oracles seem to dispute over "filthy lucre" just as ordinary mortals are apt to do. Some of them say that to dream of finding money is a bad sign, indicating losses; and dreaming of losing money is a good sign, indicating gain; probably working on the "dreams go by contraries" hypothesis. But the best and most eminent authorities do not agree to this. Some of them admit that to dream of finding money signifies worries, but declare that out of these temporary worries great good will come; while others content themselves with the statement that to dream of finding money is lucky. All agree that to dream of losing money is a sign of good business, though one authority darkly hints that you may have a spat with your wife—if you have one—after such a dream. As to dreaming of saving money, there are two schools—the optimists and the pessimists. The optimists declare that to dream that you are saving up money means that you will have comfort and plenty, while the pessimists think it portends losses. The weight of opinion seems to be on the side of the optimists. If you dream that you are swallowing money look out for yourself; for if you don't you will become so penurious and money-grabbing that you will almost, if not quite, commit fraud to get it. So if you get this warning loosen up the purse-strings. If you dream of coughing money you are liable to have a dispute over a bill. In effect it seems lucky to dream about money, but you are warned not to be too much of a millionaire in your dreams, for if you are too disgracefully rich in "Dreamland" your fortune will be only moderate in real life.
(Copyright.)

Not New.

"I suppose aviation will bring in the making of rules in the air."
"The theatrical managers have already done that. They have long been laying out star routes."

As Others Saw Him.

To see ourselves as others see us has its humorous as well as its salutary side. The Fellows of the Society of Antiquaries may take note and fashionable collectors look to their laurels. At Norwich, England, a man was characterized as a dealer in antiques, and the description was added: "He is a man that goes round buying old things new and such like."

Lucky Strike Cigarette

To seal in the delicious Burley tobacco flavor.

It's Toasted

Tired Out?

Do you know that languidness, that "awful tired feeling," heaviness, lame or weak back, sore muscles, stiff or swollen joints, rheumatic pains, lumbago, in the great majority of cases, indicate kidney trouble?

Foley Kidney Pills

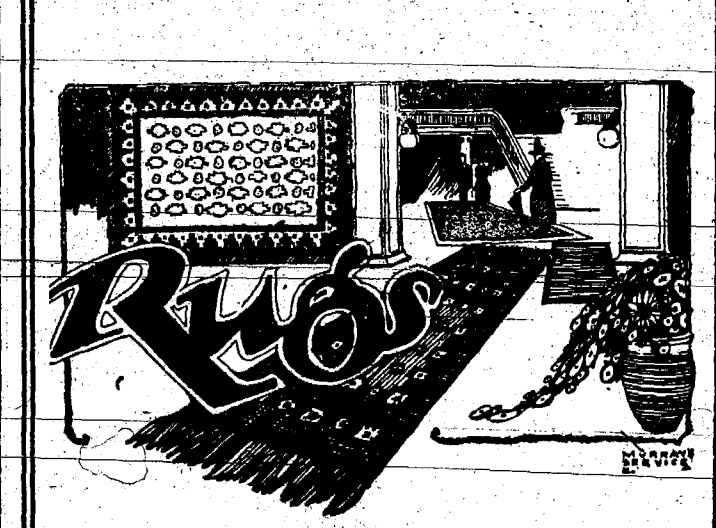

act promptly and effectively to restore weak, overworked or diseased kidneys and bladder to a healthy condition.
Mrs. Robert Blair, 461 S. 20th Street, Terre Haute, Ind., writes: "I suffered two years with kidney and bladder trouble frequently getting backache. Mornings I would arise feeling very tired and having headaches, and see floating spots before my eyes. I saw Foley Kidney Pills advertised and made up my mind to try them. After taking them a few weeks I found my trouble dispelled. The backache stopped and my kidneys were restored to healthy normal action. I am now free of those tired spells and headaches and my vision is no longer blurred. My recovery is entirely due to Foley Kidney Pills, which I gladly recommend."

Good to Remember

NR TO-NIGHT-
Paste in Your Hat

GIDLEY & MAC, Druggists

Select Your Rugs and Linoleum

From Our Stock.

You will find patterns suitable to every room and prices lower than they have been in years.

THE HOUSE OF QUALITY AND SERVICE.

Bamber & Watson

FURNITURE DEALERS
R. G. WATSON, Funeral Director. Phone 66
East Jordan—The Best City Of Its Size In Michigan.

Michigan News Tersely Told

Pontiac—Suit for $50,000 was brought against the D. U. R. by Mrs. Anna Engler, of Pontiac, who claims she was injured in a fall from a car.

Owosso—Forrest Higgins, who is held on a charge of murder in connection with the death of Lucy Wittum, has been refused bail by Circuit Judge Joseph Collins.

Bessemer—Thirty-six miles of roads will be built in Gobebic County next summer at a cost of about $500,000. The work is expected to give employment to about 400 men.

Owosso—Arthur Wiedman awoke to find his house on fire and the exit cut off. He scrambled through a window out onto the roof of the porch and was rescued by firemen.

Kalamazoo—A special election will be held June 16 to vote on the creation of the villages of East Kalamazoo and Milham. Both proposed towns would be in Kalamazoo township.

Mancelona—Mrs. Lucretia Cutting, 77, first white woman to settle in Kalamazoo county, has been buried at Leetsville on the spot where she spent her honeymoon almost 60 years ago.

Saginaw—Mitchell David, 55, working on a county road repair job, was killed when he fell beneath the wheels of a heavy motor truck. He leaves his widow, one son and two daughters.

Grand Rapids—The city's price probe committee has established a net return of 7 per cent as fair for landlords. It estimates the gross earnings should amount to about 12 per cent.

Traverse City—Objecting to signing a contract for three months at $5.30 a day, members of the local plumbers' union went out on strike. Contracts now expiring were for one year at $8 a day.

Mt. Clemens—Daniel Measel, former captain of the police department, has been appointed temporary chief of police to succeed Alan G. Straight, resigned. Straight has been appointed to a position with the United States secret service.

Lansing—In the last minute rush to get through all the necessary measures, the lower house of the legislature overlooked Senator Herbert Baker's bill appropriating $50,000 to pay bounties still due to Civil war veterans by the state.

Traverse City—Dissatisfied customers of the Traverse City Gas company have suggested to the city commission that the city take over the operation of the company's plant for a period of six months to test the earning power of the company.

Kalamazoo—Exploding of many depth bombs in Lyon lake in an effort to recover the bodies of Arthur Genetnaar, Detroit, and Harold Uttermark, Kalamazoo, drowned while fishing, failed to bring the bodies to the surface. Tons of fish were destroyed.

Petoskey—Charles Belounges of Crossville, married, found guilty in the circuit court here for attempting to attack a Harbor Springs girl, was sentenced by Judge Shepherd to serve from two and one-half to 10 years in Marquette prison, with a recommendation he serve six years.

Pontiac—The Cook-Nelson post of the American Legion will take up subscriptions among its members to pay the judgment of $458 which was awarded Harvey Hawley, Groveland farmer, as the result of a "tar and feather" party during the war in which 10 farmers are said to have had a part.

Pontiac—Returning from a shopping trip to Pontiac Mrs. Earl Johnson was instantly killed when the automobile in which she was riding was struck by a D. U. R. car. Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Johnson, accompanying Mrs. Earl Johnson, were badly injured. They attempted to drive across the tracks ahead of an approaching car.

Flint—Charles Ortman, who is alleged to have broken into a young woman's room, and into the arms of two waiting police detectives who arrested him on a charge of breaking and entering, is free. It is understood from police headquarters that Kittie Vanderaag, who summoned the officers to her room to wait for Ortman, after the man's arrest, desired to carry the case no further.

Kalamazoo—Instead of owing his nephews and nieces $40,000, Horace Pierce is their creditor to the extent of $1,321.92, according to a ruling in the suit of the nephews and nieces who sought to recover funds alleged to have been misappropriated by Pierce when he served as guardian for his sister, Mrs. Jeanette Parrish. The court decision held that Pierce's nephews and nieces must pay for the support of their mother during the time Pierce was her guardian.

Pontiac—From the altar of a Highland Park church, where she was married July 4, 1920, Mrs. Ruth Van Tassel Tetrault, of Royal Oak, went back to her father's home and never lived with her husband, Albert Tetrault; she testified in Circuit Court. She said her husband had misrepresented his financial condition and had told her he had a home all furnished and $1,000 in cash. After the ceremony, she said, he admitted he had neither the home nor money. She had her marriage annulled on the showing of St. Louis—Farmers of Grant County have agreed to pool their wool this year. Wool will be collected at St. Louis, Kansas and Middleton.

Monroe—Considerable excitement again prevails in the vicinity of Deerfield, as 23 barrels of oil have been pumped out of the well on the Frank Roe farm within 24 hours.

Kalamazoo—C. C. Brown, of Grand Rapids, was elected president of the Travelers' Protective Association of Michigan at the closing session of the thirteenth annual convention here.

Monroe—Wade Leaverton, 13, received a fractured ankle and other injuries when he was struck by an automobile while attempting to cross the Dixie highway near the village of Erie.

Sault Ste. Marie—Twelve hundred men have been re-employed by the Algoma Steel corporation plant in the Canadian Soo, after a month's idleness, at a wage decrease of 10 per cent.

Flint—Following his pet dog into a field of his father's farm, Orville, aged three, only child of Charles and Florence Vickstrom, fell into a pool of water, caused by heavy rains, and was drowned.

Hillsdale—Rep. William H. Frankhauser, of the Third Michigan district, who has been ill almost all of the time since his election last fall, is improving, and will go to Washington in a few weeks.

Port Huron—William Smith has been awarded a judgment of $9,000 by a circuit court jury in his damage suit against the Port Huron Gas & Electric company. He fell against an electric switch.

Marquette—Marquette lodge, No. 495, of the Elks, has passed resolutions which sound the death knell of public dances in the Elks' temple ball room. Hereafter no dance of a public nature will be permitted.

Grand Rapids—A verdict of $2,000 has been returned in circuit court here against Dudley Barrett, 12, in favor of Charles J. Moll, whose son, Marinus, 6, lost an eye when struck by a bullet from the Barrett boy's air rifle.

Big Rapids—Money in a tin can and money in unexpected corners, is what the administrator has unearthed since the death of Miss Maggie Collins, aged spinster. She had about $4,000 stowed away in lumps. The heirs are out-of-town nieces.

Pontiac—Convicted in Municipal Court of speeding, the Rev. F. B. Osborne, pastor of St. James Methodist Church, announced that he will appeal. Mr. Osborne was fined $20. He was alleged to have driven 38 miles an hour, but says he was going only 23.

Port Huron—A carload of lumber was seized by federal authorities in tunnel yards and when searched six cases and one keg of liquor were found. The lumber was consigned to Chicago by the Ontario Lumber company. The contents of the car were seized.

Bay City—The death of John A. Nelson, 91 years old, at the home of his daughter here, was followed in less than 12 hours by the death of his wife who was 93. The Nelsons were born in Sweden and went to school together. They were married 70 years ago and lived in Tawas City until six years ago.

Mt. Clemens—Charles M. Kennan of this city was the highest bidder in the auction sale held under court orders for the physical assets of the defunct Reynolds Motor Truck Co. The material, land and patents of the company were sold for $35,000. Kennan will immediately start on a production of 400 trucks annually.

Traverse City—H. Robertson and Russ Hallory dropped a stick of dynamite into Brundage pond near here and took away 60 fish killed by the concussion. Traverse City sportsmen, who heard the explosion, called in Game Warden Mark Graw, started an investigation and brought the offenders into police court, where they were fined $57.50.

Saginaw—Disconsolate because, it is said, his wife left him a month ago and refused to return to him, John Steffen took poison in an effort to end his life. His moaning attracted attention, however, and he was rushed to a hospital, where the stomach pump was applied. Physicians say he will recover. Mrs. Steffen, when notified of her husband's act, hastened to bedside and a reconciliation is said to have taken place.

Kalamazoo—The grand encampment of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows of Michigan, the general cantonment of the department of Michigan Patriarchs Militant, and the annual convention of the Ladies Auxiliary department, Patriarchs Militant, will be held in Kalamazoo jointly on May 14-15. These sessions will call together about 2,000 Odd Fellows from all over Michigan as well as hundreds of members of the Ladies' Auxiliary.

Port Huron—Russel Surline, 20 years old, was drowned in St. Clair river when a gust of wind caused him to lose his balance while making ready for the ferry boat Lawrence to land at the Surline dock. Surline, one of the crew, was getting the gang-plank ready and was leaning over to adjust a chain when a stiff wind practically blew him overboard. A number of passengers saw his struggle for life. A boat was lowered but Surline sank. The body was not recovered. He resided in Port Huron with his mother and brother.

NORMA TALMADGE

This young woman, who in private life is Mrs. Joseph Schenck, fairly ran away with the honors in a recent contest conducted by a Chicago newspaper to ascertain the most popular actress in moviedom. Miss Talmadge was born at Niagara Falls, N. Y., in 1897 and educated in the Brooklyn schools. At the age of fourteen she entered motion pictures. She is 5 feet 2 inches tall, weighs 110 pounds and has dark hair and brown eyes.

Of the New-Mown Hay.
The New Zealand black pine, says the American Forestry Magazine, has a faint aroma suggesting new-mown hay.

DETROIT GETS NEW AUTO FIRM

D. M. COLLINS former General Motors, Organizes PROGRESSIVE CORPORATION

New York—Announcement has been made of the formation of a new automobile corporation to be known as the Collins Motor Car company, with a plant at Detroit. R. H. Collins, who recently resigned as president and general manager of the Cadillac Motor company, will head the new company.

The corporation will be capitalized at $10,000,000 under Michigan laws, and expects to place its product on display January 1, 1922.

Dancing Master Gets Two Years

Woodstock, Ont.—Two years in Kingston penitentiary was the sentence meted out here to James A. Skilton, 24, a dancing master, following his conviction on a charge of having led astray a 14-year-old Woodstock girl. The girl disappeared from her home and Skilton, who is married and has a five-months-old baby, left soon afterwards. The couple was traced to Hamilton, Brantford, and finally to Buffalo, where Skilton was placed under arrest.

Do the Himalayas Creep?

Geodetic studies in the Himalayas and the Tibetan mountains seem to show an apparent creeping of these mountain ranges, sidewise toward the south. Surveys may eventually disclose the real facts.

Real Meaning of Thrift

The thrifty man is not necessarily a miser. Thrift means more than hoarded dollars. It embraces not only spending less than we receive, but the investment of our savings in enterprises which yield returns not only to ourselves, but to the public at large.

FAIR GROUNDS ARE IMPROVED

$150,000 Being Spent for Sewer and Lighting Changes.

Detroit—A program of improvements at the Michigan State Fair grounds, representing an expenditure of $150,000, is under way.

When the big exposition opens next Fall, it will be in entirely transformed surroundings. Not in years have so many improvements been under way.

The improved lighting and sewer system which is being installed will be of advantage not only to the fair, but to conventions and gatherings which desire to make use of the fields and buildings.

LIQUOR SEARCH AGAIN LEGAL

State Law Changed At Last Session to Aid Enforcement Officers.

Lansing—Michigan's new search and seizure amendment to the Wiley prohibition enforcement act became law May 5, when Governor Alex J. Groesbeck affixed his signature to legislation speeded through in the closing days of the 1921 session.

Fred Woodworth, head of the food and drug department, upon whom responsibility for the enforcement of the liquor law devolves, has notified officials in all counties of the state that the law, which was given immediate effect by the legislature, can now be made use of in combating liquor offenses.

Miscellaneous

Smithsonian investigators report finding the skeleton of a mastodon in Arizona, but unfortunately the mastodon himself was not at home at the time of the discovery.—Boston Transcript.

DRINK HOT WATER BEFORE BREAKFAST

Says you really feel clean, sweet and fresh inside, and are seldom ill.

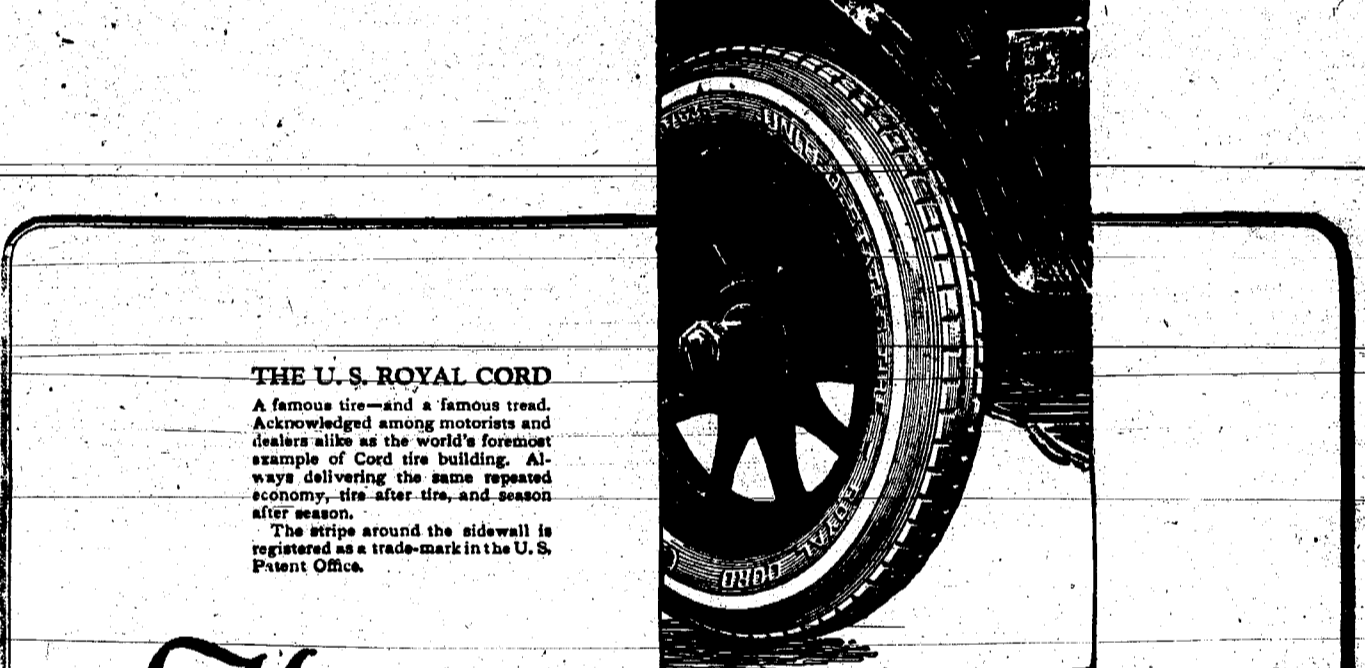

If you are accustomed to wake up with a coated tongue, that means you are dull, drowsy, headachy, or, if you make sour and sour gas, you are adding, you have a real impediment to your day.

To-morrow morning, immediately upon arising, drink a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of Epsom's phosphate in it. This phosphate is first neutralized and then washes out your stomach, liver, kidneys and thirty feet of intestines all the greasy waste, poisons, sour bile, flatulencies, thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary tract. Those subject to indigestion, flatulency, headache, biliousness, constipation, or any form of stomach trouble, are urged to get a quart of Epsom's phosphate, and begin enjoying the morning by side-bath. It is said that men and women who try this become enthusiastic and keep it up daily. It is a splendid health measure for it is more important to keep clean and pure on the inside than on the outside, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing disease, while the bowel pores do.

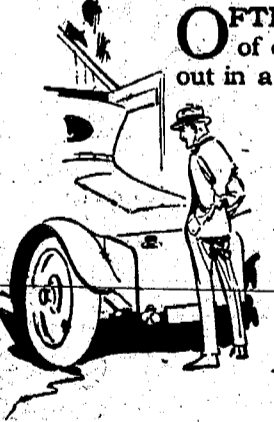

The principle of bathing is not new, as millions of people practice it. Just as hot water and soap cleanse, purify and freshen the skin, so hot water and a teaspoonful of Epsom's phosphate act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. Limestone phosphate is an inexpensive white powder and almost tasteless.

Snow Banner

This is a bannerlike stream of snow blown into the air from a mountain peak, often having a pinkish color and extending horizontally for several miles across the sky.

How you can measure tire value in 1921

"Any U. S. Tire is a universal full-money's worth."

OFTEN it's surprising the number of different tire views that come out in a chance talk at the curb or in the leisure of a friend's garage.

Almost every day you come across the man human enough to believe he can outguess the cut-price tag on "job-lots," "discontinued lines" and "surplus stocks."

His opposite is the hardpan car owner who sticks year in and year out to a standard brand as the only rational economy.

Many will remember the scarcity of U. S. Tires last year.

A hardship at the time, but a benefit now. There are no U. S. Tires to be worked off—no accumulations—no forced selling of any U. S. brand—no shipping of tires from one part of the country to another to "find a market."

There are 92 U. S. Factory Branches. Each one gets its share of U. S. Tires. There is a broad, constant, even distribution of U. S. Tires always going on from these Branches to the dealer.

Buy a U. S. Tire anywhere—in a community of 500 people or even less—and you get a fresh, live tire of current production—with all the original service and mileage the factory put into it.

The owner of a medium or light-weight car stands on equal ground with every other car owner.

Any United States Tire is a universal full money's worth—backed up with a leadership policy of equal quality, buying convenience and price for everybody.

"The different tire views that come out in a chance talk."

United States Tires

United States Rubber Company

EAST JORDAN LUMBER COMPANY

Temple Theater

WHERE EVERYBODY GOES.
PROGRAM
From May 13th to May 20th

FRIDAY, May 13th.
Madge Kennedy in "The Truth." A picture that mingles tears with laughter.
10c and 20c

SATURDAY
10th chapter of Ruth Roland in "Ruth of the Rockies." Mutt and Jeff. News Weekly, and comedy.
10c and 20c

SUNDAY
Bebe Daniels in "Ducks and Drakes." A comedy drama of a reckless girl and four determined men who unite to cure her of flirting.
10c and 20c

TUESDAY
Carmel Myers in "Beautifully Trimmed." Do you dabble in oil? Take a chance on a good thing and see this one.
10c and 20c

WEDNESDAY
13th chapter of "The Lost City." Louise Lovely in "Partners of Fate." A show that can't be beat for the money.
10c and 20c

THURSDAY
Bart Hughes grid story "The Cup of Fate with a special all star cast. Which was the real woman?"
10c and 20c

FRIDAY, May 20th.
Big Double Feature Show.
Wm. Farnum in "Wings of Morning" and Spooky the Humanzee, in "A Tray Full of Troubles." Another one of those big $1.00 shows for 10c and 20c. A show that will more than please and send you out laughing.
10c and 20c

Read the Dictionary.
Reading the dictionary is not a popular indoor sport, but it might well become the habit of any man who likes entertainment and information coming hand in hand. The dictionary, of course, must be unabridged, and not devoted solely to spelling and brief definitions such as are found in the small and incomplete editions. Two or three pages, selected at random, will be found to contain a surprising amount of interesting fact and comment for any man, no matter how learned he may be.—Chicago Journal of Commerce.

An All-British Bird.
The red grouse—probably the most sporting bird that flies—has never been known to nest outside the limits of the British Isles. This bird flourishes in every Scottish county and in most counties of Ireland and Wales. In England the grouse thrives only as far south as Derbyshire, all attempts to stock more southern districts, even when apparently suitable for the purpose, having proved failures, though some grouse survived for quite a long time after such an experiment in the Thetford district.

New Source of Paper.
From a mixture of sugar cane refuse and bamboo fiber a Trinidad planter has succeeded in making a paper equal in quality to the best wood pulp product.

Peoples' Wants

MUNNIMAKERS

Notices of Lost, Wanted, For Sale, For Rent, etc., in this Column is 25 cents for one insertion for 25 words or less. Initials count as one word and compound words count as two words. Above this number of words a charge of one cent a word will be made for the first insertion and one-half cent for subsequent insertions, with a minimum charge of 15 cents.

Lost and Found

STRAYED—Red Cow, Jersey and Durham. Rope on neck. Lost about a week ago in town. Finder please notify HARRY KLING.

Help Wanted

SELL OIL, Grease, Paint, Specialties. All or part time. Commission basis. Should have car or rig. Samples free. Write for the profitable terms. RIVERSIDE REFINING CO., Cleveland, Ohio. 19x

For Sale—Real Estate

FOR SALE—My residence on North Main st. For terms inquire of HARRY GURKENDALL, Harbor Springs, Mich. 45 ft.

For Sale—Miscellaneous

CAR OF FERTILIZER just arrived. 16 percent Acid Phosphate, $24.00 per ton; Armour's Grain Grower $38.50 per ton; Armour's Wheat, Corn and Oat Special, $30.75 per ton; Sheep Fertilizer, $47.00 per ton.—ARGO MILLING COMPANY.

400 CHERVOLET for Sale. Just overhauled. A real buy for some one, step on it. TERMS call 24. 15ft.

We are agents for CHAMPION SILOS, Silo Eaters and Feed Grinders. None better.—ANTHONY ZOLEK, East Jordan, R. 1. Phone 118722. 18x6

HEMSTREET & WHITE, TUBULAR WELLS, General Repair Work. Bellevue, Mich. 19x4

CHARLEVOIX CO. HERALD

G. A. Lisk, Publisher
Subscription Rate, $1.50 per year.

Entered at the postoffice at East Jordan Michigan, as second class mail matter.

PENINSULAR

(Edited by Mrs. E. Hayden)

Ed Price of Ohio and his father Robert Price of East Jordan were calling on old friends in this section Tuesday.

Kenneth and Francis Russell and Bob Jarman, 4th graders of the Star school, killed a large horned owl with a club after school Wednesday. It was sitting in a tree top which was partly tipped over and Kenneth Russell climbed near enough to hit it with a club. It measured nearly 4 feet from tip to tip of the wings.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Loomis, who have been employed in Detroit since last fall drove a car up from Detroit for an East Jordan party last Wednesday, making the trip in 12 hours. They visited Mr. Loomis' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Loomis at the farm and Mrs. Loomis' father, Harlow Sweet, of Advance and called on other relatives and friends, got their own car out of the garage at Charlevoix, where it had been stored all winter and drove it back to Detroit Sunday. They both have jobs.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Earle of Boyne City and their son, James, of Charlevoix were through this section Thursday with a brand new Chevrolet car. Mr. Earle was learning to drive.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. McClure and son, Tracy of Boyne City, called at the Jas. Arnet home and F. D. Russell home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Joel Bennett and son, Orval and Mrs. J. W. Hayden and son, Sam attended Mother's Day services at the Presbyterian church in Boyne City Sunday and were dinner guests at the Wm. Bogart home. The trip was made in the Bennett car and was delightful.

Mrs. Don McKinley of Chicago who is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Phillips in Boyne City came out to the farm Saturday and helped make garden and also made a trip to Hayden Point.

Linn Phillips and a companion of Boyne City spent Friday night at the Phillips farm preparatory to a fishing trip Saturday morning promising to return early and when they had not returned by 2 p. m. the family who had come to the farm later in the morning became alarmed and started a search for them. They were finally located at Diers Lake where they were catching fish and having lots of fun and where the rest of the family went for a fish fry after the boys were found.

Mrs. Jesse Wright has been confined to her bed since Tuesday May 3, by illness caused by being hurt while leading a yearling to pasture. The animal was not used to being led and was all she could manage.

Mrs. Anna Henry who has been in Chicago for some months and who had a stroke sometime ago is with her daughter, Mrs. Will Howe at her farm home on South Arm Lake. She expects to remain all summer.

The Star of Hope S. S. had Mother's day services Sunday and presented the older mothers who had been in the S. S. with a potted plant each. The older mothers were Mrs. Anna Henry, Mrs. Galen Seiler and Mrs. John Dunlop. They were very much honored by the attention.

Mr. M. A. McDonald and his mother Mrs. Ann McDonald and Mr. and Mrs. J. Mitchell of Charlevoix were dinner guests at the Geo. Jardine home Sunday.

Rev. and Mrs. Geo. Weaver, who had held Sunday school services at the Vance schoolhouse in Echo township were dinner guests at the Seiler home Sunday and called on several other friends in the district.

The Mountain school teacher, Miss Anna Metcalf will close her school May 10 with a program in the evening at the schoolhouse, ice cream and cake will be served.

The county road gang have commenced the grade along the highway from the Whiting place to Sid Hayden's house.

C. A. Hayden is working with the county road gang.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Niely and little son, Curtis visited Mrs. Niely's parents Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Hurd at Hortons Bay Sunday.

F. B. Dow who has been very ill for some weeks is slowly improving and is able to sit up a few minutes at a time.

Mrs. Galen Seiler, who has been confined to her bed for a month is quite a good deal better and sits up some every day.

There was a large turnout from this section to the Peninsular Grange at their regular meeting Thursday evening and all report a good time.

The Gleaners met in regular session Saturday evening for the first time in a long time as most of the members are also Grangers and have been helping with the Grange contest.

W. Scott fixed our telephone again Saturday which had been out of commission for several days that was the third time in a month.

Elton Jarman is helping John Seiler with his farm work.

Farmers are taking advantage of the fine weather to get their corn ground ready.

The Pickle Co.'s man was delivering seed Thursday. A large acreage is being planted.

Nearly everybody has their garden planted.

The A. B. Dow cherry orchard at the I. X. L. is worth going miles to see. The apple bloom would indicate a large crop.

Only two more days until the 8th grade examination which will greatly thin out the rural schools and make room for the little fellows who have just entered.

RANNEY NOTES.

(Edited by Mrs. B. E. Waterman)

Mrs. Hollinshead is receiving a visit from her father Charles Secord of Elmira.

Mrs. Clyde Hunter of Boyne City is visiting her sister, Mrs. Chas. Murphy. The Vance School closed Friday May 6, with a picnic at the schoolhouse. There are three finish the 8th grade. Fred Nachazel sold three head of cattle to Hugh Withrop this week.

A. E. Stewart is gaining and able to be out over the farm.

Miss Eva Waterman drove to Boyne Falls Monday morning to take Mrs. Smith, the speaker of Sunday evening at the M. E. Church, to the train.

Mrs. Chas. Secord and son, Earl, of Elmira came to her daughter's, Mrs. Clyde Hollinshead Sunday and Mr. Secord returned with them. There was also a sister of Mrs. Hollinshead with her family, of Elmira to visit them.

There was quite a family reunion at Ira Bradshaw's Sunday when his parents, Geo. Bradshaw and wife, also his two sisters, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Scott, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Barber with their families all from Central Lake visited them.

Mr. Harold Chilson of Mancelona visited at the Jas. Evans home, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Hawley, from Garnett, Kan., arrived last week to visit his brother, John Hawley and family. Since coming here Mrs. Hawley has been quite sick but under Dr. Ramsey's care is improving some.

Mr. and Mrs. Ritter and family, of Mancelona, visited their cousin, Ira Bradshaw, Sunday.

Mr. Frank Hill of Bellaire is visiting at Mrs. Olney's.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Eber Burdick will be interested to know that they have sold their ranch and bought at Walnut Creek, where they will move soon.

Mrs. Herman Schultz is improving rapidly.

Mrs. Walton and her two boys, Theodore and Arthur were at A. E. Stewart's for strawberry plants Monday evening.

Mrs. Chamberlain has sold her farm and bought the little home of Mr. Cramer's near the fair ground. She will move just as soon as Mr. Cramer can vacate.

Jas. Isaman and wife were Central Lake visitors Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hawley went to Petoskey, Tuesday, to see Dr. Reycraft.

AN "IF" FOR GIRLS.

(With apologies to Mr. Rudyard Kipling.)
If you can dress to make yourself attractive
Yet not make puffs and curls your chief delight;
If you can swim and row, be strong and active;
But of the gentler graces lose not sight;
If you can dance without a craze for dancing,
Play without giving play too strong a hold,
Enjoy the love of friends without romancing,
Care of the weak, the friendless, and the old;
If you can master French and Greek and Latin
And not acquire, as well, a priggish mien;
If you can feel the touch of silk and satin
Without despising calico and jean;
If you can ply a saw and use a hammer,
Can do a man's work when the need occurs,
Can sing, when asked, without excuse or stammer,
Can rise above unfriendly snubs and slurs;
If you can make good bread as well as fudges,
Can sew with skill and have an eye for dust;
If you can be a friend and hold no grudges,
A girl whom all will love because they must;
If you sometime should meet and love another,
And make a home with faith and peace enshrined,
And you its soul—a loyal wife and mother—
You'll work out pretty nearly, to my mind,
The plan that's been developed thru' the ages
And win the best that life can have in store,
You'll be, my girl, a model for the sages,
A woman whom the world will bow before.
Elizabeth Lincoln Otis.

A LINE O' CHEER

By John Kendrick Bangs.

THE GRACELESS SNEER.
SOME wights today have only sneers
For those who dwell in Yester-years,
And from their lives for aye would cast
The lessons of the storied past.
But for my part, my heart runs o'er
With gratitude in endless store
To those brave souls who sailed
Life's sea
And charted out the course for me,
That I might safer sail and find
The Ports to which my Soul's inclined,
And count as base the graceless sneer.
At forebear and the pioneer.
(Copyright.)

How It Started

ELEVATORS.
THE first power elevator is said to have been produced by E. G. Otis in a shop near Yonkers, N. Y. in the International Exhibition of 1853 in New York the first elevator with a safety device was shown. The modern elevator is a descendant of the ancient hand-power hoists used in monasteries, where no outsider was admitted, and goods were introduced by baskets and ropes.
(Copyright.)

Save Birds to Save Trees.
With the idea of saving the beautiful oak trees on the campus of Wellesley college, a number of the students have organized a bird club, which will, in every way possible, endeavor to encourage the presence of birds on the campus. It is thought that the pest of destructive insects will be held in check in this manner.

While You Wait.
Operated by an automobile's exhaust, a new vacuum device cleans an automobile top and upholstery and its owner's clothing as well.

Of Interest to Women.
A London zoologist tried to startle the world by announcing that he had discovered a way to hypnotize lobsters. Ha, ho, hum. Women have been doing this very thing ever since Eve first set eyes on Adam in the Garden of Eden.

Guatemala.
Guatemala has an area of 48,290 square miles, slightly larger than that of the state of New York. It has a population of about 2,000,000, which is approximately 40 per cent of the entire population of Central America. A large part of the population of Guatemala is of Indian blood, unmixed with the blood of Europeans. In this respect Guatemala differs from its four neighboring republics, in three of which the majority of the population is of mixed blood, and in one of which the Indians were exterminated.—National Geographic Society Bulletin.

JEAN PAIGE

Handsome Jean Paige has won a large following of admirers in her work as a "movie" star. She is the darling and dainty little actress who has been the center of attraction on many bills offered by the motion picture houses. Miss Paige was reared on her father's model farm near Paris, Ill. She knows horses and loves them.

HOW DO YOU SAY IT?

By C. N. LURIE

Common Errors in English and How to Avoid Them

"PERSONS" AND "PEOPLE."

THE word "persons," used to indicate a number or a gathering of human beings, is numerical; the word "people" is collective. The difference in the use of the words may be illustrated more easily by giving examples than by discussing the grammatical principles involved.

We say, correctly, "Three persons entered the theater," not, "Three people entered the theater." But we should not say or write, "There was a crowd of persons in the theater"; say, "There was a crowd of people." The rector was asked, "How many can be seated in your church?" He replied, "We can seat comfortably about one thousand persons, but if an unusual crowd of people wishes to attend the services we can accommodate more than a thousand." The Standard Dictionary says, "It would be quite out of place to say, 'The pastor desires to meet the young persons of the church.'"

A LINE O' CHEER

By John Kendrick Bangs.

THE GRACELESS SNEER.
SOME wights today have only sneers
For those who dwell in Yester-years,
And from their lives for aye would cast
The lessons of the storied past.
But for my part, my heart runs o'er
With gratitude in endless store
To those brave souls who sailed
Life's sea
And charted out the course for me,
That I might safer sail and find
The Ports to which my Soul's inclined,
And count as base the graceless sneer.
At forebear and the pioneer.
(Copyright.)

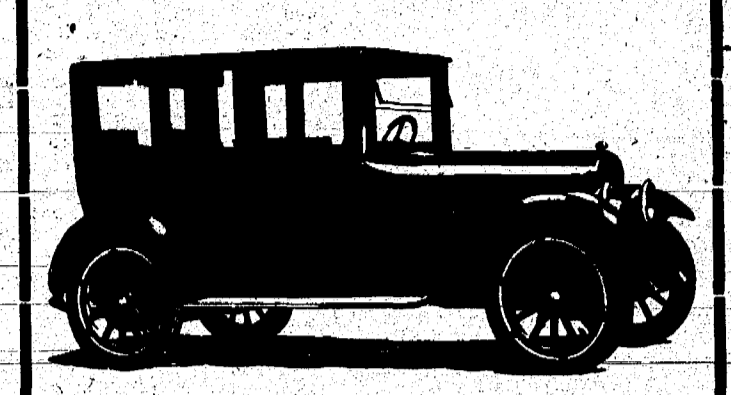

How It Started

ELEVATORS.
THE first power elevator is said to have been produced by E. G. Otis in a shop near Yonkers, N. Y. in the International Exhibition of 1853 in New York the first elevator with a safety device was shown. The modern elevator is a descendant of the ancient hand-power hoists used in monasteries, where no outsider was admitted, and goods were introduced by baskets and ropes.
(Copyright.)

Save Birds to Save Trees.
With the idea of saving the beautiful oak trees on the campus of Wellesley college, a number of the students have organized a bird club, which will, in every way possible, endeavor to encourage the presence of birds on the campus. It is thought that the pest of destructive insects will be held in check in this manner.

While You Wait.
Operated by an automobile's exhaust, a new vacuum device cleans an automobile top and upholstery and its owner's clothing as well.

BUY IT BECAUSE IT'S A STUDEBAKER

The Studebaker Five-Passenger Light-Six Sedan
$2150 F. O. B. South Bend, Ind.

The highest type of enclosed car for year around service in town or country.

A masterpiece of the Studebaker body builders' art; four doors that swing wide, extra broad windows, dome light; mohair velvet plush upholstery, ventilator at driver's feet; roof of three-ply aeroplane wood. Cord tires are standard equipment.

LAKESIDE GARAGE

Dealer in Studebaker Cars.
F. G. CRAIG, Prop'r.

Used Cars For Sale
Oscar Franzen
Repairs on all makes of cars.

How About Your TOWELS?

Kitchen and Hand Towels.

Linen Toweling has been both expensive and hard to obtain but we have a "MIXED" especially good for both uses and very cheap - - -

15c a yard

East Jordan Lumber Co

Briefs of the Week

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Merle Crowell, a son, Monday, May 9th.

Tony LaForest visited friends at Traverse City this week.

W. E. Malpass is at Detroit and Toledo on business this week.

Mrs. Peter Hagerberg visited friends at Mancelona over Sunday.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. H. Rosenthal, a daughter—Fern—May 3rd.

Mrs. E. Shier left Tuesday on a business trip to Flint and Detroit.

Don't beat rugs to pieces. Use a Eureka Vacuum Cleaner. adv.

I will pay cash for a good sedan or touring car. C. J. Malpass. adv.

Miss C. Cabanis of Bellaire visited Mr. and Mrs. John Mikula, Wednesday.

Mrs. Frank Dailey of Maple City is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Len Duffell.

Miss Nellie Courney of Pinconning is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Boudrie.

James Meredith was called to Thompsville, Wednesday, by the death of his sister-in-law.

Mrs. R. G. Watson, who has been visiting her parents at Frankfort, returned home Monday.

Miss Eileen Gussolus went to Elk Rapids, Wednesday, where she will teach school for a month.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Hardy left Tuesday for Grayson, Kentucky, where they will make their home.

Miss Iva Dewey returned to her studies at Big Rapids, Tuesday, after a week's visit at her home here.

Att'y E. N. Clink and daughter, Miss Lelia, and Miss Belle Roy, were at Elk Rapids, this week, to attend the funeral of the mother of Att'y F. R. Williams.

The Annual County Meeting of the W. G. T. U. will be held at the Methodist Church, Saturday, May 22nd. To be addressed by Mrs. Edna Fuller, a State Worker. Subject—"Keeping Michigan Dry."

Mrs. Annie Carney passed away at the home of her son, Mark Carney in South Arm township, Thursday. Deceased was mother of Mrs. H. A. Kimball. At this writing funeral arrangements have not as yet been made.

The Woman's Improvement Club meets Tuesday, May 17th at the High School building for the annual banquet and election of officers for the next year. Each member is expected to bring a guest and requested to bring 2 dinner plates, 2 knives, 2 forks, 4 spoons, 6 bread and butter plates, 2 sauce dishes, and 2 napkins.

You can buy a nice sewing machine for $15.00 at C. J. Malpass Hdwe. Co. adv.

Mellotone for walls. Can be washed. adv.

Sweet Pea Seeds in bulk. Stroebel Bros. adv.

Chickens wanted. C. J. Malpass Hdwe. Co. adv.

Mrs. Oscar Franzen left Saturday on a business trip to Detroit.

Mrs. W. E. Malpass visited relatives at Traverse City this week.

Try our Silage Corn Seed and be satisfied. Stroebel Bros. adv.

Verne Whiteford went to Gaylord, Thursday, where he has employment.

Alvera Bancroft was taken to the Traverse City State Hospital, Saturday.

Maurice M. Gorman left Thursday for Grayling, where he has employment.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Brown of Pellston are visiting her aunt, Mrs. Rosella Hammond.

Mrs. Alfred Williams left Tuesday for a short visit with her brother at Manistique.

Mrs. M. Keller of Kalamazoo is visiting at the home of her daughter, Mrs. P. M. Burgess.

Miss Maurine Weaver of Elmira is visiting at the home of Supt. and Mrs. M. R. Keyworth.

You can buy your roofing for less than catalogue house prices at C. J. Malpass Hdwe. Co.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Thorsen recently moved to Traverse City, where they will make their home.

Mrs. H. Clark of Cheboygan visited at the home of her sister, Mrs. Frank Lenoskey, first of the week.

Take your Tires to the Healey Tire & Vulcanizing Co., when in need of repair. All work guaranteed. adv.

Leave your Laundry at Bulow Bros. Billiard Parlors. Basket leaves every Wednesday for Petoskey Steam Laundry. adv.

Let us skim your skimmed milk with the New Empire cream separator and show you are losing. We sell them on easy payments. C. J. Malpass Hdwe. Co. adv.

Elizabeth Louise, two-weeks-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Genie, passed away Wednesday morning, May 11th. The remains were taken Thursday to Bay Shore for interment.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Hoyt with daughter, Miss Emma Lou, left on an auto trip a fortnight ago for Detroit, Chicago, and South Bend, Ind. At the latter place, Mrs. Hoyt remained for a longer visit. On their return trip Mr. Hoyt and daughter were accompanied by his daughters, Mrs. Jos. Junget and Miss June of Detroit. They arrived here, Sunday.

Alabastine does not rub off. adv.

Alabastine for walls. adv.

Buy your wagons from C. J. Malpass Hdwe. Co. adv.

Eureka Vacuum Cleaner only $37.50 Stroebel Bros. adv.

Refrigerators $18.50 and up at C. J. Malpass Hdwe. Co. adv.

W. H. Sloan returned home Wednesday from a visit at New Castle, Pa.

Mrs. Orden Keller and children of Muskegon are here visiting friends.

Mrs. George Geck left Thursday for a visit with her daughters at Detroit.

Some nice re-finished furniture for sale cheap on easy payments at C. J. Malpass Hdwe. Co. adv.

Twenty per cent reduction on Lee Tires, and six months free vulcanizing. Healey Tire & Vulcanizing Co. adv.

Car of Fertilizer just arrived. 18 percent Acid Phosphate, $24.00 per ton; Armour's Grain Grower, $38.50 per ton; Armour's Wheat, Corn and Oat Special, $30.75 per ton; Sheep Fertilizer, $47.00 per ton.—Argo Milling Co. adv.

The Woman's Society of the Presbyterian Church will meet with Mrs. Fred Lanway on the West Side, Friday, May 20th. Mrs. R. Hammerberg has charge of the program. Our work among the Spanish and Mexican. Geographical roll call of Spanish names in S. S. Appropriate music.

Clifford Mayhew, aged 42 years, passed away at the Charlevoix Hospital, Sunday night, May 8th, after a short illness. Deceased was born in Jordan township, Antrim Co., Nov. 17, 1899. He is survived by his wife, and two small sons, besides four brothers; Harold of Detroit, Gilbert, Erwin and Oral, all of East Jordan, and four sisters; Mrs. David Vandeventer of Elk Rapids, Mrs. Walter Fineout of Walloon Lake, Mrs. Arthur Schneider and Lucy May Mayhew and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Mayhew all of East Jordan. Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon from the M. E. Church at Charlevoix, Rev. Candler officiating. Interment in Brookside Cemetery at Charlevoix.

Prices on hardware, auto parts, tires, paint and garden seed have dropped at C. J. Malpass Hdwe. Co. adv.

You can get repairs for any plow at C. J. Malpass Hdwe. Co. adv.

We are told that war is in the air again, but so long as it remains there we won't worry.

STEER FEEDERS MEET AT M. A. C. ON MAY 17

Conference of farmers and others interested in steer feeding has been called for May 17 at the Michigan Agricultural College. Results of experimental work carried on at the college during the past year, and plans for future programs of test work will be up for discussion during the meeting.

"Everyone interested in beef production is invited to be present," says Prof. George Brown, head of the M. A. C. Animal Husbandry Department.

"We want to get together a representative group of Michigan growers to confer on lines of experimental work in which they are interested, and to take up mutual problems."

Three lots of steers have been on feed at the college during the past six months to determine the relative value of silage made from well matured husking corn (normal silage) and silage made from corn stover (well matured husking corn run through the ensilage cutter after the ears have been removed).

The three lots show a marked difference, and the results of the experiment are said to be of particular interest to the farmers contemplating use of stover silage.

The college breeding herd of beef cows together with their calves being fitted for the International Livestock Show, will be on exhibit during the conference.

Special communication of East Jordan Lodge No. 379 F. & A. M., this Saturday evening May 14th. Work in the F. C. degree.

Regular meeting of South Lake Lodge No. 180, K. of P. every Wednesday evening. All members are urged to attend.

Regular meeting of North Star Tent Knights of the Maccabees are First and Third Tuesday of each month. Try and be present at each meeting.

First Methodist Episcopal Church

Rev. Thomas Marshall, Pastor.

"The Church where your welcome never wears out."

Sunday, May 15, 1921.

10:00 a. m.—Life work service. Subject—"Giving God our Best."

11:15—Church School.

3:00 p. m.—Junior Church.

7:00 p. m.—Sermon by Rev. R. J. Slee D. D. Third Quarterly Conference after service.

7:00 p. m.—Wednesday evening—Community Movie.

7:00 p. m. Thursday—Prayer Service.

Presbyterian Church Notes

Sunday, May 15, 1921.

11:15—Sunday School.

6:00 p. m.—Y. P. S. C. E.

St. Joseph's Church.

D. M. Drinan Pastor.

Masses on 1st and 3rd Sunday of each month at 8:00 and High Mass at 10:00.

Mass on 2nd Sunday of each month at 8:00 o'clock.

High Mass on 4th Sunday of each month at 10:00.

On 5th Sundays Masses at 8:00 and 10:00.

Masses on Holy days and Devotions will be announced.

St. John's Church.

Bohemian Settlement.

High Mass on 2nd Sunday of each month at 10:00.

High Mass on 4th Sunday of each month at 8:00 o'clock.

Church of God.

Hours of services: (Eastern Standard Time)

Sunday School—10:00 a. m.

Preaching at 11:00 a. m.

Evening Service—8:00 p. m.

Wed. Prayer Meeting—8:00 p. m.

Welcome to our services.

Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Burgess, Pastors.

Latter Day Saints Church.

L. Dudley, Pastor.

8:30 a. m.—Young Peoples Prayer Meeting.

10:00 a. m.—Sunday School

11:00 a. m.—Prayer Meeting.

7:00 p. m.—Preaching.

Wednesday—

7:00 p. m.—Prayer Meeting.

Friday—

7:00 p. m.—Religio.

Holiness Mission

Main St., Opposite Commercial House.

Hours of services.

Sunday morning—Sunday School at 10:30 eastern time.

Preaching at 11:30 a. m. and 7:30 p. m.

Prayer meeting Thursday evening at 8:00 p. m.

Everybody welcome.

STATE TO DISTRIBUTE ANTITOXIN FREE JAN. 1

Is Certain Cure For Diphtheria if Given Within 24 Hours After Onset of Sickness.

Free and unlimited distribution of antitoxin—the certain cure for diphtheria—when administered within 24 hours after the onset of sickness—will start Jan. 1, 1922, the Michigan department of health in the meantime planning a state-wide educational campaign to reduce the incidence of the disease, which caused more than 800 deaths last year.

Illustrated pamphlets, explaining the use of the Schick test, of immunization with toxin-antitoxin mixture, and treatment with antitoxin, are being prepared for all health officers, nurses, and physicians. With the transfer of the bureau of vital statistics to the department of health, diphtheria death rates for every community and county in the state will be published and the people instructed that the use of antitoxin will cut the rates in half.

"Diphtheria has a scourge-hold on the state at present," asserts Dr. R. M. Olin, commissioner of health, "that can be overcome only by intensive use of preventive measures. Health officers are not, as a whole, releasing cases of diphtheria properly, many carriers going back into everyday life to spread the disease among innocent victims; and mild cases are not being treated, with the result that post-diphtheric paralysis is crippling scores of children."

"This summer, every child between the ages of two and five years should be immunized with toxin-antitoxin mixture. Mothers should demand it. In this way the number of susceptible persons will be greatly reduced, lessening chances of school epidemics next fall and for years to come. Children more than five years old should be Schick tested—to determine those liable to have diphtheria—and the susceptibles given immunizing doses of toxin-antitoxin. Antitoxin, on the other hand should be used immediately upon the suspicion of diphtheria, or contact with persons sick with diphtheria."

Now that summer is with us again, consistency demands that we begin to yearn for winter.

Another Pay Day

BIG DOUBLE SPECIAL FEATURE SHOW

Wm. Farnum in "Wings of the Morning"

From the Great Novel by Louis Tracy; and

Snooky, the Humanzee, in A Tray Full of Trouble

You remember the last Farnum Picture and Comedy we had. Then remember

The Temple Theatre

Friday, May 20th

"Everybody Goes" A $1.00 Show for 10c and 30c

Something to Think About

By F. A. WALKER

FAITH

A YOUNG woman, at least her handwriting evidences youth, writes as follows: "I have lost faith in everything. Write something to help me to regain it."

You are mistaken my dear young woman. You have not lost faith. You only think you have.

You could not live for a day without faith.

Faith is the twin sister of hope, and both are absolutely necessary to human existence.

Stop for a moment and see how much you depend upon faith.

You open your eyes in the morning and the first thought is of the day and its duties, and you have faith that you will be able to perform them.

You have faith that you will live through the day; that you will have food to sustain you, shelter to protect you.

You start for your place of work and you have faith in the man who operates the conveyance that takes you there that he will see that you arrive safely.

As you go up in the elevator you have faith in the machinery that hauls you from the ground up into the air else you could not risk your life on the strength of those slender cables.

You go to work and for six days you labor with faith that at the end of the week your employer will pay you the money you have earned.

All through the day's work you have faith; faith that your fellow laborers will treat you honestly and kindly; faith that you will be able to fairly accomplish your task and go home to well-earned rest.

You have faith in nature, in tomorrow's sunrise and tonight's fair stars; in the coming of the springtime and the springing grass and flowers. You have faith that the planted seed will bring forth fruit and that all logical results will follow right causes.

How could you go to sleep without faith that you will awaken or eat without faith that the food will nourish and strengthen you?

Older and wiser people than you have thought that they have lost faith and then found that it was not faith but judgment that had fled from them.

Voltaire, a wise man in many things, said and wrote much that was foolish. He said that "Faith consists in believing things because they are impossible."

Of course there is not an atom of truth in that statement. His daily life and your daily life prove its falsehood.

The apostle Paul, writing to the Hebrews, set down this truth, "Now faith is the substance of things hoped for." Some translators of the original have put the word "assurance" in the place of the word "substance."

"Substance" seems to me the better word because from its derivation it means literally "to stand under," and that means foundation. In other words, Faith is the foundation of things hoped for.

Since the present moment is all we have and all that we are assured of the future must be altogether a matter of hope, and hope depends entirely on faith.

Faith is not credulity.

The man who hopes for the impossible cannot have faith in his hopes. Genuine faith is based on truth which is unchangeable and everlasting.

So long as there is life there is faith as well as hope. Perhaps sometimes our faith may lessen because experience shows it to have been wrongly placed. But lose faith we cannot, and our effort always should be to strengthen and sustain it.

Faith and hope are our mental crutches and the lamer we are the more we need them.

How foolish it would be for us, who are at best, in ourselves, so feeble and helpless, to throw away the things which serve best to support and sustain us.

You have not lost faith. You have only turned away for a moment from the light which God has mercifully given to all of us and the darkness frightens and overwhirls you.

Turn back. Your faith will return.

(Copyright)

Irish Poplin Supreme.

Ireland leads the world in the manufacture of poplin and, although most of the silk used is of foreign manufacture, the Dublin weavers treat it in such a manner as to make Irish poplin a distinct fabric. It is composed of worsted made from the finest wool, and silk in combination, and so makes but the Irish seem to be able to produce the softness of texture and brilliance of coloring that is so characteristic of the best poplin. This is attributed to the peculiarity of the Dublin water and the skill and knowledge of the makers.

REPORT OF THE CONDITION OF THE

at East Jordan, Michigan, at the close of business April 28th, 1921, as called for by the Commissioner of the Banking Department.

RESOURCES
Loans and Discounts, viz.:	Commercial Savings
Secured by collateral	$ 18,121.21 $ 11,797.50
Unsecured	182,578.33 57,108.38
Totals	$200,699.54 $ 68,905.88 $269,605.42
Bonds, Mortgages and Securities, viz.:
Real Estate Mortgages	76,794.40
Municipal Bonds in Office	9,710.50 68,403.01
U. S. Bonds and Cert. of Indebtedness in Office	21,950.00
Other Bonds	27,377.57 16,835.00
Totals	$ 37,088.07 $183,982.41 $221,070.48
Reserves, viz.:
Due from Banks in Reserve
Cities	$ 52,678.97 $ 34,029.97
Exchanges for clearing house	40.94
Total cash on hand	17,455.97 5,000.00
Totals	$ 70,175.88 $ 39,029.97 $109,205.85
Combined Accounts, viz.:
Overdrafts	$ 172.75
Banking House	5,925.49
Furniture and Fixtures	2,350.00
Other Real Estate	4,568.08
Total	$612,898.07
LIABILITIES
Capital Stock paid in	$ 50,000.00
Surplus Fund	15,000.00
Undivided Profits, net	5,084.57
Commercial Deposits, viz.:
Commercial Deposits Subject to Check	$195,984.84
Demand Certificates of Deposit	54,325.45
Certified Checks	2,975.32
Cashier's Checks	4,718.19
Total	$258,003.80 $258,003.80
Savings Deposits, viz.:
Book Accounts—Subject to Savings By-Laws	$233,063.78
Certificates of Deposit—Subject to Savings By-Laws	50,567.80
Club Savings Deposits (Xmas, Thrift, etc.)	1,180.18
Total	$284,811.76 $284,811.76
Total	$612,898.07

State of Michigan, County of Charlevoix—ss.
I, A. J. SUFFERN, Cashier, of the above named Bank, do solemnly swear, that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief, and correctly represents the true state of the several matters therein contained as shown by the books of the Bank.
A. J. SUFFERN, Cashier.
Subscribed and sworn to before me this 6th day of May 1921.
LEROY SHERMAN
Notary Public.
My commission expires July 23, 1921.
Correct Attest:
A. A. SWINTON
F. M. SEVERANCE
W. J. ELLSON
Directors.

MARKET REPORT

FURNISHED BY U. S. BUREAU OF MARKETS, WASHINGTON

Grain Prices trended upward during week... Wheat - Cash No. 2 red, 1.57...

Fruits and Vegetables Baked round white potatoes... Apples - Farm and Produce...

Market continues weak with... Butter - Markets unsettled, price tendency mostly downward...

Live Stock and Meats Chicago hog prices underwent practically no change the past week...

DETOIT QUOTATIONS Feed and Grain WHEAT - Cash No. 2 red, 1.53...

Live Stock and Poultry CATTLE - Best heavy steers, 7.50...

Butter and Eggs BUTTER - Fresh creamery, 30c per lb...

"Ex-Con" Nominated for Mayor Terre Haute, Ind. - Donn Roberts...

U. S. Debt Increased $15,480,378.64 Washington - An increase of $15,480,378.64 in the public debt...

Mother's Cook Book

And this for comfort thou must know, Times that are ill won't still be so...

SALADS AND SALAD DRESSINGS A SALAD which may be made in almost any season...

Raisin Salad. Cut one-half cupful of raisins with the shears into fine pieces...

Almond Salad. Take one-half cupful of mild vinegar, if strong, dilute it with water...

Sour Cream Drop Cookies. Take one cupful of sugar, one-half cupful of shortening...

Fruit Salad. Combine the pulp of two oranges and one grape fruit, three slices of pineapple...

Ever-Ready Salad Dressing. Beat three eggs until light and take an equal measure of mild vinegar...

NEELIE Maxwell (© 1921, Western Newspaper Union)

MILITANT MARY I'd like to hug each soldier and each sailor that I meet...

SCHOOL DAYS

The night the picture was shown

THE ROMANCE OF WORDS "MASCOT." ONE of the most general of superstitions...

THE GIRL ON THE JOB How to Succeed—How to Get Ahead—How to Make Good

HOW DO YOU SAY IT? By C. N. Lurie Common Errors in English and How to Avoid Them

"BALANCE" AND "REMAINDER." ALTHOUGH grammarians writing in recent years say that the use of "balance" in the sense of "rest" or "remainder" is now used so frequently...

Veratilis. William Lyon Phelps, professor of English literature at Yale, declares he gets credit for only 25 per cent of the after dinner speeches he actually makes.

MR. RAT'S ONE LIFE

MR. RAT was cornered and he knew if he tried to use force with big Mr. Tom Cat he would come to grief...

"Of course I would," said Tom, knowing that he would not smother, and thinking how surprised Mr. Rat would be to see him come out alive after he thought him dead.

"Are you dead yet?" asked Mr. Rat. Mr. Tom, to make him think he was, did not reply...

"Oh, I'll take your word for it," said Mr. Rat. "You have five lives left and I have only one, and if I let you out my one life would not be worth a grain of corn."

"I will take your word for it, Mr. Tom, that you are alive, and as you have five of your lives still left I will take care you do not see me again."

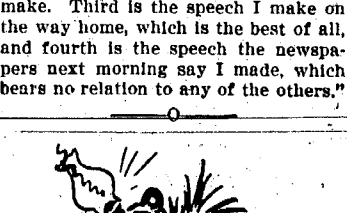

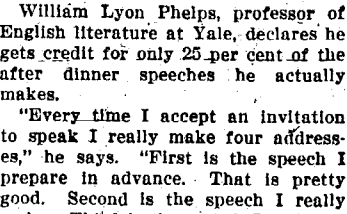

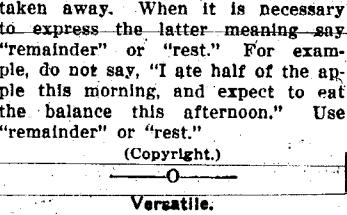

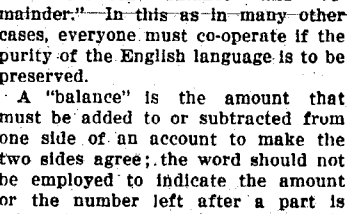

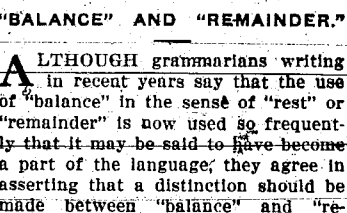

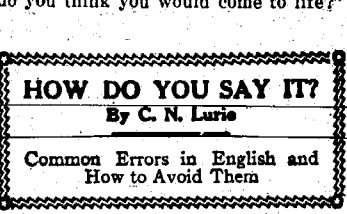

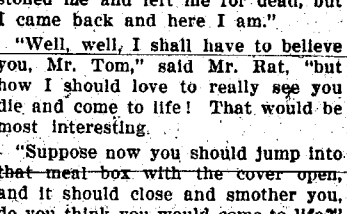

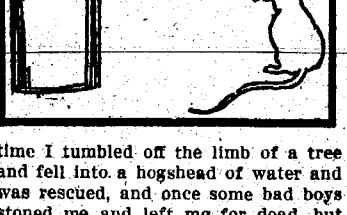

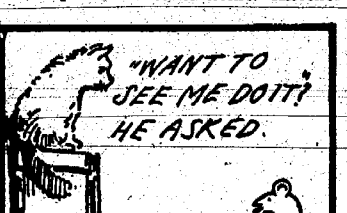

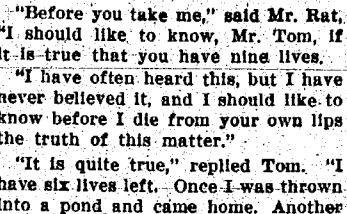

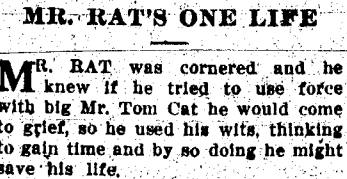

Beauty Chats By EDNA KENT FORBES THE BEST EXERCISE ONE has a few moments a day to devote to exercises for increasing one's beauty...

RUB BACKACHE AND LUMBAGO RIGHT OUT Rub Pain and Stiffness away with a small bottle of old honest St. Jacobs Oil

HEAD STUFFED FROM CATARRH OR A COLD Says Cream Applied in Nostrils Opens Air Passages Right Up

IF SKIN BREAKS OUT BURNS AND ITCHES APPLY THIS SULPHUR Just the moment you apply Mentho-Sulphur to an itching, burning or broken out skin...

Lina Forms at the Night. This story, as told by a toy salesman "on" his chief, a big doll manufacturer, is going the rounds in New York...

DRUGS BRUTE YOUR KIDNEYS, THE SALTS

If your back is aching, bladder bothers, drink lots of water and eat less meat.

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs...

Drink lots of water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts...

The Death Cup. The death cup is a very poisonous mushroom of wide distribution. It ranges in color from pure white to more common form in the United States...

DRINK HOT TEA FOR A BAD COLD Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, pour a cup of boiling water upon it...

Beauty Chats By EDNA KENT FORBES THE BEST EXERCISE ONE has a few moments a day to devote to exercises for increasing one's beauty...

RUB BACKACHE AND LUMBAGO RIGHT OUT Rub Pain and Stiffness away with a small bottle of old honest St. Jacobs Oil

HEAD STUFFED FROM CATARRH OR A COLD Says Cream Applied in Nostrils Opens Air Passages Right Up

IF SKIN BREAKS OUT BURNS AND ITCHES APPLY THIS SULPHUR Just the moment you apply Mentho-Sulphur to an itching, burning or broken out skin...

Lina Forms at the Night. This story, as told by a toy salesman "on" his chief, a big doll manufacturer, is going the rounds in New York...

Stretch Like a Cat to Be Healthy," is the Advice of a Famous Woman Physician.

hips, raise the body to a sitting posture, with the trunk bent well forward. Lie down again slowly, and rise once more, and repeat this several times...

This exercise gives the desired slender classic lines to the shins, groins and stomach. Authorities say that if a young woman did this exercise a dozen times a day, protracted and painful childbirth would be done away with...

The body must be raised steadily and slowly, jerky motions will not do any good.

Lina Forms at the Night. This story, as told by a toy salesman "on" his chief, a big doll manufacturer, is going the rounds in New York...

"Stretch Like a Cat to Be Healthy," is the Advice of a Famous Woman Physician.

BETTER BE MOVING BACKWARDS LOOKING AHEAD THAN GOING AHEAD LOOKING BACKWARDS

The night the picture was shown

The Wreckers

By FRANCIS LYNDE

Copyright by Chas. Scribner's Sons

(Continued)

Realizing that wasn't Tarbell, I stood perfectly still. The house was lighted with gas, and the dining-room chandelier had been turned down, so there was a chance that the stalker under the trees wouldn't see me standing in the corner of the box window. To make it surer, I edged away until the curtain hid me. I was just in time. The man had crept out of his hiding-place and was coming up to the window on the outside. As he passed through the dim beam of light thrown by the turned-down chandelier, I saw that he had a pistol in his hand, or a weapon of some kind; anyway, I caught the glint of the gaslight on full steel.

I Saw That He Had a Pistol in His Hand.

That stirred me up good and plenty. I still had the gun I had taken out of Fred May's drawer; I had carried it ever since the night when it had mightily nearly got me killed off in the Red Tower coal yard. I fished it out and made ready, thinking, of course, that the skulker must certainly be one of Clapham's gunmen. I still had that idea when I felt, rather than saw, that the man was pulling himself up to the window so that he could take a look into the dining room.

The look satisfied him, apparently, for the next second I heard him drop among the bushes; and when I stood up and looked out again I could just make him out going around toward the back of the house. I knew the house like a book, and without making any noise about it I slipped through the butler's pantry and got a look out of a rear window. My man was there, and he was working his way sort of blindly around to the den side of the place.

I knew there was only one window in the major's den room, and that was nearly opposite the screened doorway. So I ducked back into the dining room and took a stand where I could see the one window through the door-curtain net-work of bamboo beads. I was so excited that I caught

Them Were the Happy Days. In those cave days a man was his own barber, his own plumber, his own grocer and everything, if married, except his own boss.—Detroit News.

COMB SAGE TEA IN FADED OR GRAY HAIR

If Mixed with Sulphur it Darkens so Naturally Nobody can Tell.

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and attractive with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, all ready to use, at very little cost. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and beautiful. This preparation is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

only snatches of what Mrs. Sheila was saying to the boss, but the bits that I heard were a good deal to the point. "No, I mean it, Graham. . . it is as I told you at first. . . there is no standing room for either of us on that ground. . . and you must not come here again when you know that I am alone. . . No, Jimmie isn't enough!"

I wrenched the half-working ear-ense aside and jammed it into my eyes, concentrating hard on the window at which I expected every second to see a man's face. If the man was a murderer, I thought I could beat him to it.

The suspense didn't last very long. A hand came up first to push the window vines aside. It was a white hand, long and slender, more like a woman's than a man's. Then against the glass I saw the face, and it gave me such a turn that I thought I must be going batty.

Instead of the ugly mug of one of Clapham's gunmen, the haggard face framed in the window-sash was a face that I had seen once—and only once—before; on a certain Sunday night in the Bullard when the loose-lipped mouth belonging to it had been babbling drunken curses at the night clerk.

CHAPTER XI

The Name on the Register So long as I was holding on to the notion that the man outside was one of Clapham's thugs, hanging around to do the boss a mischief, I thought I knew pretty well what I should do when it came to the pinch. Would I really have hauled off and shot a man, in cold blood? That's a tough question, but I guess maybe I could have screwed myself up to the sticking point, as the fellow says, with a sure-enough gunman on the other side of that window—and the boss' life at stake. But when I saw that it was young Collingwood, that was a horse of another color.

What on earth was the president's nephew doing, prowling around Major Kendrick's house after eleven o'clock at night, lugging a pistol and peering into windows? I could see him quite plainly now. He had both hands on the sill and was trying to pull himself up so that he could see into the end of the room where the fireplace was.

Just for the moment, there wasn't any danger of a blow-up. Unless he should break the glass in the window, he couldn't get a line on either the boss or Mrs. Sheila—if that was what he was aiming to do. All the same, I kept him covered with the automatic, staudying it against the door-jamb.

While the strain was at its worst, with the man outside flattening his cheek against the window-pane to get the sidewise slant, I heard the boss get out of his chair and say: "I'm keeping you out of bed, as usual; look at that clock! I'll go and wake Jimmie, and we'll vanish."

Just as he spoke, two things happened: a taxi chugged up to the gate and stopped, and the man's face disappeared from the window. I heard a quick padding of feet as of somebody running, and the next minute came the rattle of a latch-key and voices in the hall to tell me that the major and his folks were getting home. I had barely time to pocket the pistol and to drop into a chair where I could pretend to be asleep, when I felt the boss' hand on my shoulder.

"Come, Jimmie," he said. "It's time we were moving along," and in a minute or two, after he had said good-night to the major and Mrs. Kendrick, we got out.

At the gate we found the taxi driver doing something to his motor. With the scare from which I was still shaking to make my legs wobble, I grabbed at the chance which our good angel was apparently holding for us.

"Let's ride," I suggested; and when we got into the cab, I saw a man stroll up from the shadow of the sidewalk cottonwoods and say something to the driver; something that got him an invitation to ride to town on the front seat with the cobby when the car was finally cranked and started. I had a sight of our extra fare's face when he climbed up and put his back to us, and I knew it was Tarbell. But Mr. Norcross didn't.

When we reached the Bullard the boss went right up to his rooms, but I had a little investigation to make, and I stayed in the lobby to put it over. On the open page of the hotel register, in the group of names written just after the arrival of our train from the West at 7:30, I found the signature that I was looking for, "Howard Collingwood, N. Y." Putting this and that together, I concluded that our young rounder had come in from the West—which was a bit puzzling, since it left the inference that he wasn't direct from New York.

Waiting for a good chance at the night clerk, I ventured a few questions. They were answered promptly enough. Young Mr. Collingwood had come in on the 7:30. But he had been in Portals City a week earlier, too, stopping over for a single day. Yes, he was alone, now, but he hadn't been on the other occasion. There was a man with him on the earlier stop-over, and he, also, registered from New York. The clerk didn't remember the other man's name, but he obligingly looked it up for me in the older register. It was Bullock, Henry Bullock.

I suppose it was up to me to go to bed. It was late enough, in all conscience, and nobody knew better than

I did the early-rising, early-office-opening habits of Mr. Graham Norcross, G. M. Just the same, after I had marked that Mr. Collingwood's room-key was still in its box, I went over to a corner of the lobby and sat down, determined to keep my eyes open, if such a thing were humanly possible, until our rounder should show up.

Finally my patience, or whatever you care to call it, was rewarded. Just after the baggage porter had finished sing-singing his call for the night express westbound, my man came in on the run.

When he rushed over to the counter and began to talk fast to the night clerk, I wasn't very far behind him. He was telling the clerk to get his grips down from the room, adjectively quick. While the boy was gone for the grips, my man made a straight shoot for the bar, and when I next got a sight of him—from behind one of the big onyx-plated pillars of the bar-room colonnade—he was pouring neat liquor down his throat as if it were water and he on fire inside.

That was about all there was to it. By the time Collingwood got back to the clerk's counter, the boy was down with the bags. Collingwood looked up sort of nervously at the big clock, and paid his bill. And while the clerk was getting his change, he grabbed the pen out of the counter inkstand, and made out as if he was shading in a picture, or something, on the open register.

A half-minute later he was gone. When the taxi purred away I turned to the open register to see what our maniac had been drawing in. What he had done was completely to obliterate his signature. He had scratched it over until the past master of all the hand-writing experts that ever lived couldn't have told what the name was.

It was while we were eating breakfast the next morning in the Bullard cafe—the boss and I—that we got our first news of the Petrolite wreck. The story was red-headlined in the Morning Herald—the Hatch-owned paper—and besides being played up good and strong in the news columns, there was an editorial to back the front-page scream.

At two o'clock in the morning a fast westbound freight had left the track in Petrolite Canyon, and before they could get the flagman out, a delayed eastbound passenger had collided with the ruins. There were no lives lost, but a number of people, including the engineman, the postal clerks and the baggageman on the passenger, were injured.

The editorial, commenting on the wire-stuff, was sharply critical of the Short-Line management. It hinted broadly that there had been no such thing as discipline on the road since Mr. Shaffer had left it; that the rank and file was running things pretty much as it pleased; and with this there was a dig at general managers who let old and time-tried department heads go to make room for their rich and incompetent college friends—which was meant to be a slap at Mr. Van Britt, our own and only millionaire.

Unhappily, this fault-finding had a good bit to build on, in one way. As I have said, we were having operating troubles to beat the band. With the rank and file apparently doing its level best to help out in the new "public-be-pleased" program, it seemed as if we couldn't worry through a single week without smashing something.

Latterly, even the newspapers that were friendly to the Norcross management were beginning to comment on the epidemic of disasters, and nothing in the world but the boss' policy of taking all the editors into his confidence when they wanted to investigate kept the rising storm of criticism somewhere within bounds.

Mr. Norcross had read the paper before he handed it over to me, and afterward he hurried his breakfast a little. When he reached the office, Mr. Van Britt was waiting for the chief. "We've got it in the neck once more," he gritted, flashing up his own

"How did it happen?" "It's like a good many of the others. Nobody seems to know: Brockman put the freight engine crew on the rack, and they say there was a small boulder on the track—that it rolled down the canyon slope just ahead of them as they were turning a curve. They struck it, and both men say that the engine knocked it off into the river apparently without hurting anything. But two seconds later the entire train left the track and piled up all over the right-of-way."

The boss was sitting back in his chair and making little rings on the desk blotter with the point of his letter-opener. "Upton, these knock-outs have got to be stopped."

"Good Lord!" exclaimed the little millionaire; "you don't have to tell me that! If we can't stop 'em, Uncle Duntun will have plenty of good reasons for cleaning us all out, lock, stock, and barrel! I was talking with Carter, in the claim office, this morning. Our loss and damage account for the past month is something frightful!"

"It is," said the boss gravely. And then: "Upton, we're not altogether as bright as we might be. Has it never occurred to you that we are having too much bad luck to warrant us in charging it all up to the chapter of accidents?"

Mr. Van Britt blew his cheeks out until the stubby, cropped mustache bristled like porcupine quills. "So you've been getting your pointers, too, have you?" he threw in.

"Mr. Norcross didn't answer the question directly. "Put Tarbell on the job, and if he needs help, let him pick his own men," he directed. "We want to know why that boulder tumbled down ahead of Number Seventeen, and I want to see Tarbell's report on it. Keep at it night and day, Upton. The infection is getting into the rank and file and it's spreading like a sickness. If it becomes psychological, we shall have all the trouble we need."

"I know," nodded the superintendent. "I went through a siege of that kind on the Great Southwestern, one winter. It was horrible. Men who had been running trains year in and year out, and never knowing that they had any nerves, went to pieces if you'd snap your fingers at them."

"That's it," said the boss. "We don't want to fall into that ditch. Things are quite bad enough, as they are."

This ended it for the time. The Petrolite Canyon wreck was picked up, the track was cleared, and once more our trains were moving on time. But anybody could see that the entire Short-Line had a case of "nerves." Kirgan, Kirgan—the cold-blooded, showed it one afternoon when I went over, to his office to return a bunch of blue-prints sent in for the boss' approval. The big master-mechanic had a round-house foreman "on the carpet" and was harrasing him like the dickens for letting an engine go out with one of her truck safety chains hanging loose.

Ever since we had gone together on the rescue run to Timber Mountain, Mart and I had been sort of chummy, and after the foreman had gone away with his foot in his hand, I joshed Kirgan a little about the way he had hammered the round-house man.

"Bad medicine," I told him. "It's worrying-the-bosses, too. What's doing it, Mart?"

"Maybe you can tell," he growled. "It's a hoodoo—that's what it is. Seven engines in the shops in the last nine days, and three more that haven't been fished out the ditch yet. I wish Mr. Van Britt'd fire the whole jumpy outfit!"

It didn't seem as though firing was needed so much as a dose of nerve tonic of some sort. Tarbell was working hard on the problem, quietly, and without making any talk about it, and Kirgan was giving him all the men he asked for from the shops; quick-witted fellows who were up in all the mechanical details, and who made better spotters than outsiders would because they knew the road and the ties. But it was no use. I saw some of Tarbell's reports, and they didn't show any crotchiness. It seemed to be just bad luck—one landslide after another of it.

Meanwhile, New York had waked up again. President Duntun had been off the job somewhere, I guess, but now he was back, and the things he wired to the boss were enough to make your hair stand on end. I looked every day to see Mr. Norcross pitch the whole shooting-match into the fire and quit, cold.

He'd never taken anything like Mr. Duntun's abuse from anybody before, and he couldn't seem to get hardened to it. But he was loyal to Mr. Chadwick; and, of course, he knew that Mr. Duntun's hot wires were meant to nag him into resigning. Then there was Mrs. Sheila. I sort of suspected she was holding him up to the rack, every day and every minute of the day.

It was one evening after he had been out to the major's for just a little while, and had come back to the office, that he sent for Mr. Van Britt, who was also working late. There was blood on the moon, and I saw it in the way the boss' jaw was working.

"Upton," he began, as short as plectrum, "have you thought of any way to break this wreck hoodoo yet?"

Mr. Van Britt sat down and crossed his solid little legs. "If I had, I shouldn't be losing sleep at the rate of five or six hours a night," he rasped.

"There's one thing that we haven't tried," the boss shot back. "We've been advertising it as bad luck, keeping our own suspicions to ourselves and letting the men believe what they pleased. We'll change all that. I want you to call your trainmen in as fast as you can get at them. Tell 'em—from me, if you want to—that there isn't any bad luck about it; that the enemies of this management are making an organized ruid on the property itself for the purpose of putting us out of the fight. Tell them the whole story, if you want to; how we're trying our best to make a spoon out of a spoiled horn; and how there is an army of grafters and wreckers in this state which is doing its worst to knock us out of the box."

"If you give the force something tangible to lay hold of, it will work the needed miracle. It is only the mysterious that terrifies; railroad employes, as a whole, are perfectly intelligent human beings, open to conviction. The management which doesn't profit by that fact is lame. If you do this and appeal to the loyalty of the men, you will make a private detective out of every man in the train service, and every one of them 'keen to be the first to catch the wreckers. You can add a bit of a reward for that, if you like, and I'll pay it out of my own bank account."

"For a full minute our captive millionaire didn't say a word. Then he grinned like a good-natured little Chinese god.

"Who gave you this idea of taking the pay-roll into your confidence, Graham?" he asked softly.

"For the first time in all the weeks and months I'd been knowing him, the boss dodged, dodged just like any of us might.

"I've been talking to Major Kendrick," he said. "He is a wise old man, Upton, and he hears a good many things that don't get printed in the newspapers."

I could see that this excuse didn't fool Mr. Van Britt for a single instant, and there was a look in his eye that I couldn't quite understand. Neither could I make much out of what he said.

"We'll go into that a little deeper some day, Graham—after this epileptic attack has been fought off. This idea—which you confess isn't your own—is a pretty shrewd one, and I shouldn't wonder if it would work, if we can get it in motion before the hoodoo breaks us wide open. And, as you say, the accusation is justifiable, even if we can't prove up against the Hatch outfit. That turned-over rail in Petrolite Canyon, for example, might have been helped along by—"

It was Kelson, Mr. Van Britt's stenographer, smashed in with the interruption. He was in his shirt-sleeves, as if he'd just got up from his typewriter, and he rushed in with his mouth open and his eyes like saucers.

"They—they want you in the dispatcher's office," he panted, jerking the words out at Mr. Van Britt. "Durgin has let Number Five get by for a head-ender with the 'Flyer,' and he's gone crazy!"

CHAPTER XII

The Helpless Wires

When Bobby Kelson shot his news at us we all made a quick break for the dispatcher's office, the boss in the lead. Durgin, the night dispatcher, had been alone on the train desk, and the only other operators on duty were the car-record man and the young fellow who acted as a relief on the commercial wire. When we got there, we found that Tarbell had happened to be in the office when Durgin blew up. He was sitting in at the train key, trying to get Crow Gulch, the one intermediate wire station between the two trains that had failed to get their "meet" orders, and this was the first I knew that he really was the expert telegraph operator that his pay-roll description said he was.

Durgin looked like a tortured ghost. He was a thin, dark man with a sort of scattering beard and limp black hair; one of the clearest-headed dispatchers in the bunch, and the very last man, you'd say, to get rattled in a tangle-up. Yet here he was, hunched in a chair at the car-record table in the corner, a staring-eyed, pallid-faced wreck, with the sweat standing in big drops on his forehead and his hands shaking as if he had the palsy.

Morris, the relief man, gave us the particulars, such as they were, speaking in a hushed voice as if he was afraid of breaking in on Tarbell's steady rattling of the key in the Crow Gulch station call.

"Number Four"—four was the east-bound "Flyer"—"is five hours off her time," he explained. "As near as I can get it, Durgin was going to make her 'meet' with Number Five at the blind siding at Sand Creek tank. She ought to have had her orders somewhere west of Bauxite Junction, and Five ought to have got hers at Banta. Durgin says he simply forgot that the 'Flyer' was running late; that she was still out and had a 'meet' to make somewhere west of Five."

Brief as Morris' explanation was, it was clear, enough for anybody who knew the road and the schedules. The regular meeting-point for the two passenger trains was at a point well east of Portals City, instead of west, and so, of course, would not concern the Desert Division crew of either train, since all crews were changed at Portals City. From Banta to Bauxite Junction, some thirty-odd miles, there was only one telegraph station, namely, that at the Crow Gulch lumber camp, seven miles beyond the Timber Mountain "X" and the gravel pit where the stolen 1016 had been abandoned.

Unluckily, Crow Gulch was only a day station, the day-wires being handled by a young man who was half in the pay-off of the railroad and half in that of the saw-mill company. This young man slept at the mill camp, which was a mile back in the gulch. There was only one chance in a thousand that he would be down at the railroad station at ten o'clock at night, and it was on that thousandth chance that Tarbell was rattling the Crow Gulch call. If Five were making her card time, she was now about half-way between Timber Mountain "Y" and Crow Gulch. And Four, the "Flyer," had just left Bauxite—with no orders whatever. Which meant that the two trains would come together somewhere near Sand Creek.

Mr. Van Britt was as good a wire man as anybody on the line, but it was the boss who took things in hand. "There is a long-distance telephone to the Crow Gulch saw-mill; have you tried that?" he barked at Tarbell.

The big young fellow who looked like a cow-boy—and had really been one, they said—glanced up and nodded: "The call's in," he responded; "Central says she can't raise anybody."

For the next three or four minutes the tension was something fierce. The boss and Mr. Van Britt hung over the train desk, and Tarbell kept up his insistent clatter at the key. I had an eye on Durgin. He was still hunched up in the record-man's chair, and to all appearances had gone stone-blind and letting the men believe what they pleased. We'll change all that. I want you to call your trainmen in as fast as you can get at them. Tell 'em—from me, if you want to—that there isn't any bad luck about it; that the enemies of this management are making an organized ruid on the property itself for the purpose of putting us out of the fight. Tell them the whole story, if you want to; how we're trying our best to make a spoon out of a spoiled horn; and how there is an army of grafters and wreckers in this state which is doing its worst to knock us out of the box."

"If you give the force something tangible to lay hold of, it will work the needed miracle. It is only the mysterious that terrifies; railroad employes, as a whole, are perfectly intelligent human beings, open to conviction. The management which doesn't profit by that fact is lame. If you do this and appeal to the loyalty of the men, you will make a private detective out of every man in the train service, and every one of them 'keen to be the first to catch the wreckers. You can add a bit of a reward for that, if you like, and I'll pay it out of my own bank account."

"For a full minute our captive millionaire didn't say a word. Then he grinned like a good-natured little Chinese god.

"Who gave you this idea of taking the pay-roll into your confidence, Graham?" he asked softly.

"For the first time in all the weeks and months I'd been knowing him, the boss dodged, dodged just like any of us might.

"I've been talking to Major Kendrick," he said. "He is a wise old man, Upton, and he hears a good many things that don't get printed in the newspapers."

I could see that this excuse didn't fool Mr. Van Britt for a single instant, and there was a look in his eye that I couldn't quite understand. Neither could I make much out of what he said.

"We'll go into that a little deeper some day, Graham—after this epileptic attack has been fought off. This idea—which you confess isn't your own—is a pretty shrewd one, and I shouldn't wonder if it would work, if we can get it in motion before the hoodoo breaks us wide open. And, as you say, the accusation is justifiable, even if we can't prove up against the Hatch outfit. That turned-over rail in Petrolite Canyon, for example, might have been helped along by—"

It was Kelson, Mr. Van Britt's stenographer, smashed in with the interruption. He was in his shirt-sleeves, as if he'd just got up from his typewriter, and he rushed in with his mouth open and his eyes like saucers.

"They—they want you in the dispatcher's office," he panted, jerking the words out at Mr. Van Britt. "Durgin has let Number Five get by for a head-ender with the 'Flyer,' and he's gone crazy!"

CHAPTER XII

The Helpless Wires

When Bobby Kelson shot his news at us we all made a quick break for the dispatcher's office, the boss in the lead. Durgin, the night dispatcher, had been alone on the train desk, and the only other operators on duty were the car-record man and the young fellow who acted as a relief on the commercial wire. When we got there, we found that Tarbell had happened to be in the office when Durgin blew up. He was sitting in at the train key, trying to get Crow Gulch, the one intermediate wire station between the two trains that had failed to get their "meet" orders, and this was the first I knew that he really was the expert telegraph operator that his pay-roll description said he was.

Durgin looked like a tortured ghost. He was a thin, dark man with a sort of scattering beard and limp black hair; one of the clearest-headed dispatchers in the bunch, and the very last man, you'd say, to get rattled in a tangle-up. Yet here he was, hunched in a chair at the car-record table in the corner, a staring-eyed, pallid-faced wreck, with the sweat standing in big drops on his forehead and his hands shaking as if he had the palsy.

Morris, the relief man, gave us the particulars, such as they were, speaking in a hushed voice as if he was afraid of breaking in on Tarbell's steady rattling of the key in the Crow Gulch station call.

"Number Four"—four was the east-bound "Flyer"—"is five hours off her time," he explained. "As near as I can get it, Durgin was going to make her 'meet' with Number Five at the blind siding at Sand Creek tank. She ought to have had her orders somewhere west of Bauxite Junction, and Five ought to have got hers at Banta. Durgin says he simply forgot that the 'Flyer' was running late; that she was still out and had a 'meet' to make somewhere west of Five."

Brief as Morris' explanation was, it was clear, enough for anybody who knew the road and the schedules. The regular meeting-point for the two passenger trains was at a point well east of Portals City, instead of west, and so, of course, would not concern the Desert Division crew of either train, since all crews were changed at Portals City. From Banta to Bauxite Junction, some thirty-odd miles, there was only one telegraph station, namely, that at the Crow Gulch lumber camp, seven miles beyond the Timber Mountain "X" and the gravel pit where the stolen 1016 had been abandoned.

Unluckily, Crow Gulch was only a day station, the day-wires being handled by a young man who was half in the pay-off of the railroad and half in that of the saw-mill company. This young man slept at the mill camp, which was a mile back in the gulch. There was only one chance in a thousand that he would be down at the railroad station at ten o'clock at night, and it was on that thousandth chance that Tarbell was rattling the Crow Gulch call. If Five were making her card time, she was now about half-way between Timber Mountain "Y" and Crow Gulch. And Four, the "Flyer," had just left Bauxite—with no orders whatever. Which meant that the two trains would come together somewhere near Sand Creek.

Mr. Van Britt was as good a wire man as anybody on the line, but it was the boss who took things in hand. "There is a long-distance telephone to the Crow Gulch saw-mill; have you tried that?" he barked at Tarbell.

The big young fellow who looked like a cow-boy—and had really been one, they said—glanced up and nodded: "The call's in," he responded; "Central says she can't raise anybody."

For the next three or four minutes the tension was something fierce. The boss and Mr. Van Britt hung over the train desk, and Tarbell kept up his insistent clatter at the key. I had an eye on Durgin. He was still hunched up in the record-man's chair, and to all appearances had gone stone-blind and letting the men believe what they pleased. We'll change all that. I want you to call your trainmen in as fast as you can get at them. Tell 'em—from me, if you want to—that there isn't any bad luck about it; that the enemies of this management are making an organized ruid on the property itself for the purpose of putting us out of the fight. Tell them the whole story, if you want to; how we're trying our best to make a spoon out of a spoiled horn; and how there is an army of grafters and wreckers in this state which is doing its worst to knock us out of the box."

"If you give the force something tangible to lay hold of, it will work the needed miracle. It is only the mysterious that terrifies; railroad employes, as a whole, are perfectly intelligent human beings, open to conviction. The management which doesn't profit by that fact is lame. If you do this and appeal to the loyalty of the men, you will make a private detective out of every man in the train service, and every one of them 'keen to be the first to catch the wreckers. You can add a bit of a reward for that, if you like, and I'll pay it out of my own bank account."

"For a full minute our captive millionaire didn't say a word. Then he grinned like a good-natured little Chinese god.

"Who gave you this idea of taking the pay-roll into your confidence, Graham?" he asked softly.

"For the first time in all the weeks and months I'd been knowing him, the boss dodged, dodged just like any of us might.

"I've been talking to Major Kendrick," he said. "He is a wise old man, Upton, and he hears a good many things that don't get printed in the newspapers."

I could see that this excuse didn't fool Mr. Van Britt for a single instant, and there was a look in his eye that I couldn't quite understand. Neither could I make much out of what he said.

"We'll go into that a little deeper some day, Graham—after this epileptic attack has been fought off. This idea—which you confess isn't your own—is a pretty shrewd one, and I shouldn't wonder if it would work, if we can get it in motion before the hoodoo breaks us wide open. And, as you say, the accusation is justifiable, even if we can't prove up against the Hatch outfit. That turned-over rail in Petrolite Canyon, for example, might have been helped along by—"

It was Kelson, Mr. Van Britt's stenographer, smashed in with the interruption. He was in his shirt-sleeves, as if he'd just got up from his typewriter, and he rushed in with his mouth open and his eyes like saucers.

"They—they want you in the dispatcher's office," he panted, jerking the words out at Mr. Van Britt. "Durgin has let Number Five get by for a head-ender with the 'Flyer,' and he's gone crazy!"

CHAPTER XII

The Helpless Wires

When Bobby Kelson shot his news at us we all made a quick break for the dispatcher's office, the boss in the lead. Durgin, the night dispatcher, had been alone on the train desk, and the only other operators on duty were the car-record man and the young fellow who acted as a relief on the commercial wire. When we got there, we found that Tarbell had happened to be in the office when Durgin blew up. He was sitting in at the train key, trying to get Crow Gulch, the one intermediate wire station between the two trains that had failed to get their "meet" orders, and this was the first I knew that he really was the expert telegraph operator that his pay-roll description said he was.

Durgin looked like a tortured ghost. He was a thin, dark man with a sort of scattering beard and limp black hair; one of the clearest-headed dispatchers in the bunch, and the very last man, you'd say, to get rattled in a tangle-up. Yet here he was, hunched in a chair at the car-record table in the corner, a staring-eyed, pallid-faced wreck, with the sweat standing in big drops on his forehead and his hands shaking as if he had the palsy.

Morris, the relief man, gave us the particulars, such as they were, speaking in a hushed voice as if he was afraid of breaking in on Tarbell's steady rattling of the key in the Crow Gulch station call.

"Number Four"—four was the east-bound "Flyer"—"is five hours off her time," he explained. "As near as I can get it, Durgin was going to make her 'meet' with Number Five at the blind siding at Sand Creek tank. She ought to have had her orders somewhere west of Bauxite Junction, and Five ought to have got hers at Banta. Durgin says he simply forgot that the 'Flyer' was running late; that she was still out and had a 'meet' to make somewhere west of Five."

Brief as Morris' explanation was

GOITRE REMOVED

For Reed City Woman by External Home Treatment in Three Weeks—Neck Reduced 5 1/2 Inches.

Note: It would be illegal to publish these statements if they were not true.

Mrs. Geo. Dicatre, Reed City, Mich., says in her own home paper, the Osceola County Herald: "I have suffered with inward goitre for three years. I was so affected with it that I hated to go to bed because I choked so. When I started the treatment three weeks ago my neck measured 17 1/2 inches. Today my goitre is gone and my neck measures 12 inches. How much better I feel. Now I sleep good and don't choke. You put this in the Reed City papers. If anyone wants to know what Sorbol did for me, just come to Reed City. If you can't come, write."

Sorbol Quadruple comes in small bottles containing enough for most cases. It will not stain or irritate. Does not interfere with regular work. Leaves parts in healthful, normal condition. Requires 10 minutes daily.

Get further information at Gidley and Mac's Drug Store, drug stores everywhere or write Sorbol Company, Mechanicsburg, Ohio.

Kennesaw Mountain is in Georgia.

Kennesaw mountain is in Cobb county, Ga., 25 miles northwest of Atlanta. It was the scene of fighting between the federals under Sherman and the Confederates under Johnston in June, 1864.

TRUMAN H. NEWBERRY

Michigan senator whose conviction by Judge Sessions at Grand Rapids, on a charge of conspiracy to violate the election law in the senatorial campaign of 1918, was reversed by the United States Supreme Court. The opinion of the court, rendered by Justice McReynolds, holds that the Federal Corrupt Practices Act is unconstitutional. Sixteen co-defendants with Senator Newberry were also freed by the decision.

CANADA INCLUDED IN ROAD TOUR

Starts at Detroit and Covers District Around Lake Superior.

Detroit.—The second annual international good roads tour of the Michigan-Pikes' association, to start from Detroit July 9 and finish here July 26, will carry the party through the upper and lower Michigan peninsulas, and through parts of Wisconsin, Minnesota and Ontario.

The excursion this year will be called the "Around Lake Superior Tour."

The road mileage for the tour will be more than 1,500 miles, while the Lake Superior trip will add 276 miles. The tour will be conducted primarily to preach the gospel of better highways.

Value of Home Experience.

"The middle-aged mothers who have successfully managed large homes and sent out their children as good citizens have proven that such training is invaluable in any national or public work. Any work requiring intricate knowledge and care of detail can be handled by such women just as well as by the younger women who have been led to believe are the only leaders of the 'new race,'" says a writer in the Independent Woman. "The middle-aged woman has countless opportunities for world usefulness."

"Where There's a Will."

You've got to get up every morning with determination if you are going to bed at night with any satisfaction.

Writes His Thanks From Washington. Only men and women who have suffered from kidney trouble can realize how grateful one feels when relief from suffering is achieved. Nathan Harned, 621 N. St., N. W., Washington, D. C. writes: "I was troubled with my kidneys for years, but got no relief until I took Foley Kidney Pills."—Hite's Drug Store.

PROBATE ORDER

STATE OF MICHIGAN, The Probate Court for the County of Charlevoix. At a session of said court, held at the probate office in the city of Charlevoix, in said county, on the 26th day of April A. D. 1921.

Present: Hon. Servetus A. Correll, Judge of Probate.

In the Matter of the Estate of Elizabeth Cook, Deceased.

Walter M. Cook, having filed in said court his petition praying that the administration of said estate be granted to Henry W. Cook or to some other suitable person,

It is ordered, that the Eighteenth day of May A. D. 1921, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, at said probate office, be and is hereby appointed for hearing said petition;

It is further ordered, that public notice thereof be given by publication of a copy of this order, for three successive weeks previous to said day of hearing, in the Charlevoix County Herald a newspaper printed and circulated in said county.

SERVETUS A. CORRELL, Judge of Probate.

MELLON BOOSTS LIBERTY BONDS

TREASURY CHIEF WOULD MAKE ISSUES MORE ATTRACTIVE BY CUTTING EXPENSE.

ECONOMIC LAWS ARE IGNORED

Official Says—Greater Savings and Reduction of Outstanding Bonds, Will Improve Situation.

Washington.—Liberty bonds will be made attractive by reductions in federal expenditures, existing loans and taxes, under the government's economy program, according to the plans of the treasury department.

The treasury department's policy became known through emphatic official statements that the administration will not sanction moves for interest rate advances of bonds.

The opinion of the treasury is that change in the rates would not materially affect the Liberty bond situation. Liberty bonds declined to present low marks because of the great quantity issued and the fact that the country has not fully digested them, it was declared.

Officials said that if the higher Liberty bond interest rate suggested should be adopted it would reduce the value of all other securities. They contend that it also would affect the soundness of the savings banks, life insurance companies and other institutions, which now hold the bulk of lower interest bearing securities.

The treasury's view is that the value of government securities will be greatly enhanced by better business management within the government itself and the enforcement of badly needed economies of administration, which will gradually lower the present staggering debts and taxation.

"Certain economic laws are ignored by the authors of plans for higher rates on Liberty bonds," said a high official. "The law of supply and demand is inexorable, in Liberty bonds, as in other things. Greater savings and reductions in the bonds outstanding will improve the situation."

Treasury officials agree that the government's national assets alone will not be a determining factor in the price of Liberty bonds. The determining factor, it was said, is to be found in the extent to which the government's liabilities are reduced.

DETROIT BOY ENLISTS FOR CAMP

Eight States Represented in Enrollments for Muskegon Outing.

Chicago.—Arthur Werbe is the first boy from Detroit to register for attendance at Camp Roosevelt, the big summer training camp for boys near Muskegon, Mich., for the summer of 1921. Arthur expects to be in the scoutcraft division and learn the mysteries of woodlore and campfire.

Eight states are already represented in the early enrollments, and it is anticipated that the summer of 1921 will be the banner year for the camp.

The camp was founded solely in the interests of our young manhood to be a great outdoor playground and health-builder.

GIRL FLINGS SELF TO DEATH

Ignores Cries of Passersby and Jumps from Fifth Story Window.

New York.—Ignoring shouts and cries of scores of women on a pass-by to church, Miss Helen Fiedler, an accomplished singer and pianist, 28 years old, clad only in a nightgown and bathrobe, dropped from the fifth story window of her home in the Bronx. She died in the arms of a passer-by before the arrival of an ambulance. It is said Miss Fiedler had been jilted. She was chief clerk in the foreign exchange department of the Irving National bank, in the Woolworth building.

1921 BEET ACREAGE PLENTIFUL

Beet Sugar Factories Make No Efforts to Make Contracts.

Lansing.—The Michigan Farm bureau announces that the beet sugar factories have refused to bargain with the Sugar Beet Growers' association for beets this year, indicating the factories are able to procure all the acreage necessary to operate their plants.

This obviates the difficulty the growers and the factories encountered last year when beet-growing strikes were inaugurated in an attempt on the part of the growers to force a higher beet price.

Appropriations Reach $41,570,909.20.

Lansing.—The grand total of all appropriations for the next two years made by the 1921 legislature is $41,570,909.20. The amount for the year ending June 30, 1922, is $22,363,347.98, and for the year ending June 30, 1923, $19,207,561.24. Final figures for a few departments have not been checked, and these totals will be subject to correction until all the enrolled acts have been tabulated and classified by the auditor-general's department.

THE GIRL ON THE JOB
How to Succeed—How to Get Ahead—How to Make Good
By JESSIE ROBERTS
DOES TEACHING PAY?

THE talk that was started by Miss Helen Taft, acting president of Bryn Mawr college, when she asserted that in her opinion the professors of the country should strike for higher salaries has led many people to ask themselves whether or not teaching pays. It has long been called the "worst paid profession" and there is no doubt that the teacher must sacrifice any hopes of a great income, however eminent he or she may become.

Yet there is no profession of a more vital importance than teaching, and the teacher should be treated as, and receive the remuneration of, a valuable member of society. Teaching should be made attractive, and every means that could induce people of talent, force, energy and charm to take up teaching should be used as a matter of course, since the community is bound to benefit.

There are some who say that the vacations of teachers are longer than in the other professions, and this is so. But the work itself is extremely fatiguing; even with the long vacations, many teachers break down in what should be the prime of life. Then these vacations are often curtailed by summer work and extension work.

Teaching in America is largely in the hands of women. It is woman's duty to see that teaching is brought to its highest efficiency, and that it is made attractive to the right people. Teaching must be better paid or the men and women who are most needed as teachers will go into other work. (Copyright.)

THE ROMANCE OF WORDS

"TRAGEDY."

DISCOVERY of the fact that the word "tragedy" is a compound of two Greek words meaning "goat" and "song," and that a literal translation of the original term would be "a song of the goat," throws but little light upon the modern use of the word, until one examines the custom in vogue in ancient Greece, particularly in connection with the production of tragedies.

Here, though, we find that the goat played a central role in these entertainments. Not only was a prize for the best performance by the actors but, because the goat is very partial to eating grape-vines, and therefore an enemy of Bacchus—the pagan god of wine in whose honor the festivals were held—one of them was sacrificed at each production of a tragedy. Further to carry out the simile, the actors were dressed for the most part in goat skins, because many of them posed as martyrs, a custom from which we obtain our word "satirical." The singing of a solemn, melancholic song was the signal for the sacrifice of the goat, and it is because of this connection that we apply the word "tragedy" to something which is extremely sad, whether on the stage or in everyday life. (Copyright.)

THE WOODS
By DOUGLAS MALLOCH

THE CODE.

YOUR morals down there in the city
Are different morals from ours:
Both punish, ner pardon, ner pity,
The serpent thet gits in the fow's;
Both punish, when punishment's comin',
An' yet on a different plan:
You generly brand the woman—
We generly shoot the man.
(Copyright.)

Country's Oil Refineries.

Today there are more than 400 oil refineries in the United States, with an aggregate daily capacity of nearly 2,000,000 barrels. Texas leads all the states with more than seventy plants completed. Oklahoma is second and Pennsylvania third.

THE CHEERFUL CHERUB

There is a certain little star I worship with a love devout. No matter what goes on up there it never lets its fuse blow out. (Copyright.)

Nothing But Goodness in Everything Made With IRON DUKE FLOUR
ARGO MILLING Co.

First Map Met Acts as Host.

Within the confines of Persia there are many different people, but none are more interesting than the semi-savage though somewhat civilized—Lulhrish tribesmen, who still survive in the mountain fastnesses. They are a strange people, with laws and customs all their own. Murderous, quite unmoral, and ruthless when they descend from the mountain sides into the valleys to drive off any strangers who approach their borders, they are, nevertheless, the most hospitable of people.

Convict's Unhappy Knowledge.

The philosophers worry about the relations between space and time, but the convict doesn't. He knows that he is doing a large amount of time in a limited amount of space.

ASPIRIN FOR HEADACHE

Name "Bayer" is on Genuine Aspirin—say Bayer

Baggy Knee Trousers Style.

Tailors are always reaching after styles that the men will welcome. Why, in the name of all that's merciful, don't they make baggy knee trousers fashionable?—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

CUT THIS OUT—IT IS WORTH MONEY.

Get out this slip, enclose with five to Foley & Co., 2835 Sheffield Ave., Chicago, Ill., writing your name and address clearly. You will receive in return a trial package containing Foley's Honey and Tar Compound, for coughs, colds and croup, Foley Kidney Pills and Foley Cathartic Tablets. Hite's Drug Store, adv.

Insist on "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin" in a "Bayer package" containing proper directions for Headache, Colds, Pain, Neuralgia, Lumbago, and Rheumatism. Name "Bayer" means genuine Aspirin prescribed by physicians for nineteen years. Handy tin boxes of 12 tablets cost few cents. Aspirin is trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monoacetic-acidester of Salicylicacid.

Going to paint this season?

If you are thinking of painting your house, or any of your out house buildings this season we want you to come in and talk to us about our paints and supplies. We know just how many gallons of paint you'll need, how much oil and white lead. In short, we are in a position to suggest and furnish you with ideas that will go a long ways toward cutting down your cost.

Please remember, also, that we carry a complete stock of household needs, from kitchen utensils to lawn mowers. All at prices unrivaled, quality considered. See our complete new stock of stoves and ranges before you buy elsewhere.

Interior decorating cannot be done right without ALABASTINE—the beautiful coating for walls. We sell and recommend it to you for all your interior finishing.

STROEBEL BROS.

Break Chest Colds With Red Peppers

Rub It on Congested, Aching Chest—Loosens Up that Tight Feeling at Once—Surely Brings Quickest Relief.

Ease your tight, aching chest. Stop the pain. Break up the congestion. Feel a bad cold loosen up in just a short time. "Red Pepper Rub" is the cold remedy that brings the quickest relief. It cannot hurt you and it certainly seems to end the tightness and drive the congestion and soreness right out. When heat penetrates right down into colds, congestion, aching muscles and sore, stiff joints, relief comes at once.

Nothing has such concentrated, penetrating heat as red peppers. The moment you apply Red Pepper Rub for colds, backache, sore muscles, stiff neck, lumbago, or the pains of rheumatism or neuritis, you feel the tingling heat. In three minutes the congested spot is warmed through and through. When you are suffering so you can hardly get about, just get a jar of Rowley's Red Pepper Rub, made from red peppers, at any drug store. You will have the quickest relief known.

If in a Hurry To Go Anywhere Call McKINNON'S Taxi Service
Day and Night Service. Enclosed Car. Main-st., opposite E. J. L. Co. store. Phone 7. LET'S GO.

Dr. W.H. Parks
Physician and Surgeon
Office second floor Kimball Bldg., next to Peoples Bank. Phone 158—4 rings. Office hours; 1:30 to 4:00 p. m. 7:00 to 8:00 p. m. X-RAY in Office.

Hugh W. Dicken
Physician and Surgeon
East Jordan, Mich. Phone No. 128. Office Hours: 11:00 to 12:00 a. m. 2:00 to 4:00 and 7:00 to 9:00 p. m.

Dr. F.P. Ramsey
Physician and Surgeon.
Graduate of College of Physicians and Surgeons of the University of Illinois. OFFICE E. J. LUMBER CO. BLOCK East Jordan, Mich. Phone No. 196.

Dr. G.W. Bechtold
DENTIST
Office Hours: 8:00 to 12:00 a. m. 1:00 to 5:00 p. m. Evenings by Appointment. Office, Second Floor of Kimball Block.

Dr. C. H. Pray
Dentist
Office Hours: 8 to 12 a. m. 1 to 5 p. m. And Evenings. Phone No. 111.

Frank Phillips
Tomorial Artist.
When in need of anything in my line call in and see me.

We sell Hirth-Krause More Mileage Shoes
Albert Tousch