Let's Have Done With Soft Stuff Roads

Charlevoix County Must Build Concrete Roads for Stability.

For many years the publisher of The Charlevoix County Herald has been a firm believer in the good roads gospel of Uncle George Van Pelt—not in the kinds of "good" roads that we have built in the main, but in CONCRETE—the only kind of road that will hold up under heavy traffic.

Go out and ask any man or woman what they consider the best roads and invariably the answer is—CONCRETE.

Then why go on year after year building "good" gravel roads, only to be at an endless expense of maintenance in the years to come?

The City of East Jordan has its lesson on the two-kinds. On its main thoroughfare cement pavement was laid over ten years ago. It has stood up under the most trying kinds of heavy traffic and the cost of maintaining it in good condition has been practically nothing. "The road to the Fair Grounds," as it is commonly termed, is another story. Built—and built well—of gravel and soft stuff it is a failure. Built some eight years ago, it has been a constant source of expense in keeping it in good repair, and today is so full of "ruts" that a general repair will be practically imperative before our annual fair next month when the road will be jammed with traffic.

What is a fact within our city limits holds true on our main trunk highways between Charlevoix and Boyne City. Every year the traffic is becoming heavier and every year since these roads were built of soft stuff the cost of up-keep is becoming greater.

"Uncle" George never wrote a truer sentence than when he wrote in 1917 he stated: "Every mile of gravel road built in Charlevoix immediately becomes a mortgage on the county, which grows larger and larger each year, because it will have to be repaired all of the time and rebuilt every two or three years. Now, when the difference in the cost between a gravel road and a good concrete road is so small why not build concrete?"

Let's be done with Gravel and Soft Stuff.

LET'S BUILD CONCRETE.

EAST JORDAN'S GOOD ROADS COM. FOR CONCRETE ROADS

We, the undersigned, members of the Good Roads Committee and the business men of East Jordan heartily endorse all our worthy Editor has said. The time is surely at hand when the taxpayers should take a hand in the road business.

We cannot understand why our State Highway Commissioner is averse to giving Charlevoix County the privilege of building good concrete roads when we can build 9 ft. concrete roads just about as cheap as we can a 16 ft. Gr. and S. S. (gravel and soft stuff) as Uncle George has so appropriately named them.

EAST JORDAN GOOD ROAD COMMITTEE.

R. O. Bisbee, Carl Stroebel, John J. Porter, James Gidley, John F. Kenny.

SLAYER OF DETECTIVE CAUGHT

St. Paul Police Arrest "Tommy" O'Connor, Wanted in Chicago.

Chicago. — Thomas ("Tommy") O'Connor, Chicago "bad man" and slayer of Detective Patrick J. O'Neill of the Chicago police force, for whom a nation-wide search has been made, has been caught in St. Paul, Minn.

The elusive "Tommy" was identified when he tried to hold up a Chicago Great Western passenger train in the St. Paul yards, according to a message from that city. He carried three guns.

A reward of $1,000 was offered for O'Connor's arrest.

U. S. Flyers Killed at Coblenz.

Coblenz. — Two Americans, Lieut. Col. Gunther, of Frankfort, Ind., and Corp. L. O. Rogers, of Hillsboro, Tex., were killed when their airplane crashed at Weissenturm Field, near here. The airplane, which burst into flame as it fell, was said by spectators to have developed engine trouble immediately on taking off, and to have started falling at an altitude of 150 feet, when Lieut. Gunther tried to turn back for a quick landing when he noticed the trouble.

Appointed To State Office

Com'r Stewart Now State-County Normal Supervisor.

A telegram from Com'r May L. Stewart to her parents here, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Stewart, was received Tuesday from Lansing stating that she had been appointed State County Normal Inspector, and was sending in her resignation as Commissioner of Schools of Charlevoix County.

The appointment comes as a deserved promotion to one of the best school workers that Charlevoix County has ever had. During her years as Commissioner, Miss Stewart has worked faithfully for the upbuilding of our rural schools, and she has accomplished much in their advancement. Her work has been commended on various occasions by state officials, and the appointment comes as a fitting promotion.

While her retiring from the supervision of our Rural Schools is a matter of sincere regret, her many friends in East Jordan and Charlevoix County join in congratulating her on the promotion.

FRANK SCHWARTZ

Frank Schwartz, twenty-six-year-old artist of Greenich village, New York city, who was penniless and about to be dispossessed of his $12-a-month "studio," won the most coveted of art awards, the Prix de Rome, which is a three-year fellowship in the American Academy of Arts in Rome. The Fellowship carries with it transportation expenses and an annuity of $1,000 during the three-year course.

DIES TRYING TO RESCUE WIFE

Dr. Stone, Purdue University Head, Loses Life in Rockies.

Banff, Alberta. — Dr. W. E. Stone, president of Purdue university, at Lafayette, Indiana, gave his life in the solitary fastness of Mount Eanon in an effort to save his wife, who had fallen to a narrow ledge on the face of a deep crevice. With Mrs. Stone in his arms, he was attempting to scale the almost perpendicular side of the cliff when he lost his footing and hurtled to the bottom of the chasm.

Mrs. Stone, who slid back to her former position far above the body of her husband, will recover from her injuries and the effects of being virtually without food for eight days and nights, according to the rescuing party.

Mr. and Mrs. Stone left Banff on July 25 to attempt the ascent of Mount Eanon. Both were experienced mountain climbers.

Insurance Bureau Chief Would Cut Out "Army Red Tape."

Washington. — Re-examination of the 4,500,000 former service men, and the elimination of the statutory red tape was suggested by Colonel Charles R. Forbes, director of the war risk insurance bureau, as the best solution of the soldier relief problem. It would cut off much "justifiable criticism," he said, and build a firm foundation for future dealings with veterans.

Testifying before a senate committee, Colonel Forbes said the bureau still suffered from too much "ambiguity" and too little human interest and contact.

This is the open season for light waists and dirty elbows.

IN THE SADDLE AND ON THE JUMP FOR CONCRETE ROADS

Uncle George Van Pelt dropped in our office just as we were going to press. He said he never felt better nor looked worse, that he had all his fighting togs on, that he is hoping to "resurrect" Charlevoix Co. from building any more Gr. and S. S. roads (gravel and soft stuff roads) and to never do any more new work of that kind.

The contract way is the only way to build permanent roads; they are the only roads to build—concrete-of-course 9 feet wide, built from the middle of the road to one side (the side which carried the heaviest loads) this, with a gravel shoulder which can be easily moved to the extreme outside when the time comes to build the other half of the road, by the use of a road plane. In this case you have a well settled road bed for the new road, the gravel for the shoulder is already in its place, all you have to do is level it, then you have a road which ought to last a hundred years and such roads are the only kind that will put the old-Gr. and S. S. R. gang out of commission. Of course we have 50 miles of it to be kept up, that means hundreds of thousands of dollars before you can get a permanent road.

We now have Six Hundred Thousand Dollars invested in roads and what have you got to show for it—about ten miles of concrete road. The road from here to Charlevoix ought to be rebuilt now. In many places it is only six or seven feet wide and going to pieces very fast.

MUST PAY CORPORATION TAX

Attorney General Rules Law Effective Pending Court Action.

Lansing.—Attorney General Merlin Wiley has mailed a letter to a large Detroit manufacturing firm notifying it that the new state corporation law is effective, and will be held effective until some decision on the suit of the Union Steam Pump Sales company, of Battle Creek, to test the validity of the new law, is handed down by the supreme court.

The letter is generally accepted as a warning to all corporations that failure to comply with the provisions of the corporation law will make them liable to the full penalties prescribed in that statute.

FORD'S RATE SLASH PROTESTED

Coal Reduction Hurts Business, I. C. Told By Mine Owner.

Washington. — The Consolidation Coal company of Baltimore has protested to the interstate commerce commission against the reduction of rates on coal from the Ohio river to Detroit, proposed by Mr. Ford's road. The company owns mines in Kentucky and West Virginia and in its complaint said the proposed reductions would be prejudicial to the rates it has to pay on coal to the same points. The reduction proposed by the Detroit, Toledo and Ironton amount to 72 cents a ton on coal.

The losses in the navy, which are included in the foregoing figures, were 84,256 men killed and 31,085 wounded.

New York.—Government agents confiscated jewelry valued at $10,000 which they said was not declared by Mr. and Mrs. Max Fischer, passengers aboard the steamship Oscar II, which arrived here from Denmark. Fischer, who said he was a New York merchant, was apprehended, agents said, when he attempted to pass the jewels to a boy over a fence at the end of the pier. He and his wife were detained there for satisfactory explanation.

Haiti's Forest Wealth.

Large forests of pines are to be found in the mountains in the interior of Haiti, but lack of transportation makes it impossible to utilize this timber even for domestic needs. Large quantities of pine are imported from the United States. A few small saw-mills are located in various sections of the island, but these cannot begin to supply the local markets. Dyewoods are plentiful.

TAXI DRIVER'S DEATH CLEARED

Two Negroes Confess to Murder and Robbery—Got Only $21.

Detroit.—The "slaying" of Oscar Abraham, Detroit taxicab driver, strangled and beaten to death Thursday night of last week, and left in a cornfield on Pumpkin Hook road, east of Detroit, has been explained by confessions from two men.

These men who were arrested in Port Huron where they tried to sell the auto they had stolen, are Emery Stretcher, and Lee Kearney, described in the police record as being 22 and 28 years old, respectively, and both colored.

The two stated that they killed Abraham by hitting him over the head with a pop bottle and later finished the victim with an iron bar.

That they found but $21 on Abraham's person is their assertion, whereas it was stated by officials of the Yale Taxicab Co. he was supposed to be carrying more than $500.

KILLS FRIEND TO GET MACHINE

First Hit Him With Rail Then Held Head Under Water.

Hastings, Mich.—The mystery of the unidentified man whose body was taken from Bullhead lake on the Moore farm near here last week, was cleared up Sunday when the police wrung from Frank Soules, 21, former service man, a confession that he had killed Harry Robinson, clerk of the Parker hotel here, to get possession of Robinson's automobile. After striking Robinson on the head with a piece of fence rail, he told Sheriff Walter Burt and Prosecuting Attorney John M. Gould, he pushed him in the water and held his head down until he made no further struggle.

Soules, who has been using Robinson's automobile, was arrested Saturday afternoon when identity of the murder victim was established.

LOW DEATH, HIGH BIRTH RATES ARE REPORTED IN CO.

Lansing, Aug. 25.—High birth rates and low death rates prevailed in Charlevoix County during the first six months of 1921, according to semi-annual compilations of the division of vital statistics of the state department of health.

Rural districts of the county with 156 births and 67 deaths reported from Jan. 1 to July 1 had a birth rate of 27.1 and a general death rate of 11.6 per 1000 population. Ten infant deaths reported in rural communities correspond to an infant mortality rate of 64.1 per 1,000 living births.

Boyer City reported 58 births and 22 deaths. This is equivalent to a birth rate of 27.1 and a general death rate of 10.2. Deaths of three children under one year of age gave the city an infant mortality rate of 51.7.

STATE TO INSPECT ALL HEAVY SCALES

Recognizing that reliable weighing and measuring devices are as necessary to good business as dependable currency, and that 75 per cent of the products of Michigan Agriculture passes over heavy platform scales each year, the Bureau of Weights and Measures of the State Department of Agriculture will add two enclosed trucks for inspection purposes to its heavy-scale equipment. Funds for the purchase of the trucks were allowed in the budget by the 1921 Legislature.

Each truck will be equipped with measures to test gasoline pumps used at filling stations, and one ton of test weights for heavy scales. Correction of errors detected in scales will be made by the inspectors whenever possible. Frequently, it is said, the faults may be corrected by minor adjustments which the inspectors can easily make, obviating the necessity of merchants sending for scale experts.

"In the past," says H. H. Halladay, Commissioner of Agriculture, "the Bureau of Weights and Measures has not been able to look after any scale work except complaints on individual scales. Under the old system the test weights had to be shipped by freight, often taking weeks before the scales were examined. Systematic examinations can now be carried out by the Department which will in time bring the scales of every county in the state to a higher degree of accuracy.

"The only parts of the State heretofore that have been getting scale inspection have been the more progressive communities having local scales of weights. The new truck equipment will be at the disposal of the local officials wherever it is needed."

PENINSULAR

(Edited by Mrs. E. Hayden)

Last Tuesday morning Mr. Dilworth and a carload of children from Boyne City called at the Joel Bennet farm. Mr. Bennet was extremely friendly and the bees were very friendly and very anxious to give every caller a stinging reception. After Mr. Dilworth and some others got stung the car beat a hasty retreat. The next time Mr. Dilworth wishes to call at a honey farm on a bright sunny day he will call up to hear "what's doing".

Misses Mamie Gaunt and Marie Johnston returned home Tuesday evening after a two weeks visit with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Rose in Bay City.

Miss Pauline Boington of Boyne City is stopping with her aunt, Mrs. A. B. Nicely and helping with the house work.

H. Russell and C. A. Hayden who have been working on the county road and batching it in the C. A. Hayden residence in Boyne City but who are laid-off until further notice, took supper at Orchard Hill Wednesday eve.

Miss Metta Sandford, who is employed in a photograph gallery in Bay City is spending her vacation with her father, John Sandford at the Boiling Spring farm.

John Sandford received a telegram Saturday stating his son, Rex, who has been employed in Iowa for the past 3 months, had fallen from a telephone pole where he was working as lineman and broken his arm and he would be home as soon as he is able to travel.

Little Clare Bogart who has been stopping with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Joel Bennet for the past month went to the southern part of the state Friday with his father, Wm. Bogart where they will visit relatives until Mrs. Bogart who is attending summer school at Mt. Pleasant is ready to come home, the first of August.

A large and merry crowd picniced at Cedar Hurst, the C. A. Crane place Sunday p. m.

Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Reich of Bunker Hill and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hayden and Robert of Orchard Hill drove to the n. w. corner of Eveline twp. Saturday afternoon to deliver the school reports to the twp. Clerk, W. J. Flanders when within 1-4 mile of Mr. Flanders they were caught in the edge of the hail storm, which did so much damage on the Peninsula. Mr. Reich run his horses and soon gained shelter, just as they got under cover the storm stopped having lasted not more than five minutes and doing no damage.

F. D. Russell of Ridgeway is drawn on jury next week.

Joe Kemp, H'y Com'r of Eveline twp engaged a crew of men and teams to repair roads on the Peninsula Monday but he did not show up. After waiting most of the forenoon they went at other jobs.

Part of the roof of Will Frank's barn on what is known as the Geo. Wood farm was blown off Saturday afternoon by the cyclone.

Johnnie Healey spent Sunday repairing the 240 telephone line which had been broken in six places by the cyclone.

The 237 line seems to be out of commission as we are unable to get anyone on that line.

The worst cyclone that ever struck this section came at about 3:00 p. m. Saturday. The wind came in circles of terrific force accompanied by a great quantity of hail as large as hen's eggs which broke a large number of windows and damaged corn and other crops including beans and potatoes and totally destroying the pickle crop where it struck with full force. Five beautiful evergreens in the Advance cemetery were destroyed and a beautiful clump of Cedars at Cedar Lodge was uprooted, several large apple trees in the S. D. Hayden orchard were split down blocking the road to Hayden Point until removed, several cherry trees in the F. B. Dow orchard were broken over and a good many were split down causing a great loss. Two large window panes in the A. Reich residence at Bunker Hill were broken and five panes in the Joel Bennet house and several in Cedar Lodge occupied by A. J. Etcher and family. The storm lasted about 15 minutes and is the first to do damage in this section.

Since it has commenced to rain it does not know enough to stop.

There has been so much rain in the past two weeks it is impossible to get the oats that are cut dry enough to haul in or cut more. A great many acres are still standing or lying on the ground.

Everybody was thankful for cooler weather, now they're looking for frost.

Mr. and Mrs. David Gaunt, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Gaunt and family and Mr. and Mrs. C. Johnston and family motored to Ellsworth Sunday to visit the Joe Gaunt family.

Nearly everybody has been black-berrying east of Boyne Falls with good success.

The Russell boys took the Lone Scouts to Ironton in their truck Sunday where they played a game of baseball They got beat but had a good time.

The Ironton ball team expect to play the Lone Scouts at the Hayden Point diamond Sunday Aug. 7.

Bird Sews Leaves With Silk.

The winter is a good time to find birds' nests, as the hedges are leafless, and nests may be found in places which have been carefully searched in vain in summer. The kingfisher's nest is a wonderful thing, being composed of fishbones. It is possible that these bones are the remains of fetuses, the bird going to the same hole year after year when nesting. Still more wonderful is the craftsmanship of the noisy tailor birds of India, which with their bills thread leaves together with the silk of caterpillar cocoons.

U. S.-RUSSIA TRADE PACT IS PROSPECT

Washington.—Complete resumption of trade relations between the United States and Russia is forecast by the promise of Russia to release American prisoners, according to the opinion expressed by Republican senators.

Senators who were entertained at dinner by the president during the past week disclosed that the chief executive had stated then that he expected the release of the Americans very shortly and had expressed a desire for early settlement of the entire Russian question.

Senator France Favors Pact.

Riga.—Soviet Russia has agreed to release American prisoners and to accept famine aid from the American Relief association just at the moment that United States Senator Joseph I. France of Maryland has returned to Riga from Moscow determined to advocate renewal of trade relations, and perhaps diplomatic relations, between Russia and the United States, and bringing with him one of the prisoners, Mrs. Marguerite E. Harrison of Baltimore, who was enthusiastic over his efforts at Moscow.

Senator France, who entered Russia several weeks ago skeptical of the advantage of immediate diplomatic relations with the Soviets, but believing that trade relations were admissible, has returned an ardent enthusiast for both.

The senator talked with both Lenin and Trotzky and was impressed by them.

"I found that the Russian government is handling the situation in a statesmanlike way," he said. "Lenine is much interested in American relations. The Russian factories have not all ceased operating; many are working well. They are short of raw material, but that is not their fault. The peasants are working the land and the farms are prosperous where they are not in the famine and drought belt."

"I am convinced that Russia will carry out any guarantee or concessions made in return for credit," the senator declared.

Describing his visit, he said he was free to move about and see what he liked, and the officials frankly admitted bad conditions where they existed.

UNDER FOUR FLAGS

This picture was taken by official photographers representing the allied governments and released by the Committee on Public Information and purchased by the State of Michigan.

The only picture produced of the actual engagements showing air raids, barrages, gas attacks and battle scenes featuring the BATTLE OF CHATEAU THIERRY, and other engagements, where American forces took part, and was the actual turning point of the success of the allied armies. Every American Legion will be interested and recognize the authenticity of this wonderful production.

POST OFFICE BLDG.

Charlevoix, Mich.

TYPHOID FEVER—Typhoid fever is also known as enteric fever, abdominal fever, abdominal typhus, and autumnal fever. It is an acute febrile disease characterized by a general fever and localized ulcerative inflammation of Peyer's patches of the small intestines. During the initial stage there is a swelling of the mucous membrane of the small intestine, and especially of the solitary glands. Peyer's patches become enlarged, whitened and raised above the surface of the mucous membrane of the intestine. The blood vessels of the intestinal mucosa are congested and an exudation soon follows. This becomes purulent in character because of the necrosis that rapidly ensues. During this stage the glands slough off, leaving deep ulcers at their former sites. During the stage of cicatrization, the connective tissue cells in the floor of the ulcers begin to proliferate, thus forming scar tissue, which contracts, thus obliterating the former ulcer.

Typhoid fever begins slowly, with prodromal symptoms of headache, malaise, anorexia, nausea, and vomiting, cough, epistaxis and chilliness but no real rigours; there is pain and aching in the region of the spine, especially over the kidneys, and usually constipation early in the disease, which may turn to diarrhoea later. The fever rises gradually until the seventh or eighth day the temperature has reached 104 to 105 degrees. From the sixth to the twelfth day there is a rash over the region of the abdomen. There are other symptoms of less importance but the foregoing is the main manifestation of the disease when allowed to run its usual time of from 28 days which consists of the so called regular course to 56 days in rare cases.

What does a chiropractor do in a case of typhoid? — The specific adjustment is the center place or fifth dorsal, kidney place or eleventh dorsal and the upper lumbar, usually the second lumbar vertebra. The adjusting of the fifth dorsal vertebra affects the thermomagnetic subsidiary centers and especially those of the liver, thus decreasing the amount of heat production. The adjustment of the eleventh dorsal vertebra affects the thermolytic subsidiary centers, thus increasing heat dissipation via the skin and kidneys, while the adjustment of the second lumbar vertebra affects the local pathological condition of the small intestine restoring normal function to its parts, which affects its restoration to normal. Under adjustments the disease does not run its usual course of 28 days, and in fact if adjustments are given in time recovery is so rapid that often the affection would not be recognized as typhoid 24 hours after the first adjustment has been given. Under chiropractic adjustments there is seldom complications or sequelae, while under ordinary treatment and nursing there is usually both.

Typhoid fever is claimed to be a germ disease caused by the bacillus of Eberth which is a microscopic organism formerly classed as among the infusoria but now regarded as belonging to the vegetable kingdom. In one sense it is germ disease but like other so called germ diseases is not capable of a successful attack until there is a diminished nerve supply and in the case of typhoid fever in a diminished supply to the small intestines. Kidneys that are functioning abnormally help to increase the chances of the bacillus of Eberth making a successful attack. This explains why two persons drinking the same infected water one will have an attack of typhoid and the other will not. A perfect spine allowing normal nerve supply to all organs is the surest health insurance. Advertisement.

A SURPRISING EPISODE. I bade him build for hungry me, A sandwich filled with ham. I stood right there where I could see, Shrewd buyer that I am! He took two slabs of splendid bread And buttered them just right. Then through the ham his sharp knife sped. With all its little might. The lean ham o'er the slices spread, Till every bit was hid; You don't believe a word I've said, But that's just what it did. The moral of this tale is this: Far oftener we get A square deal, than that deal we miss; We love to growl and fret. He Thought Bill Was Meant. "Are you in favor of Sunday closing?" "Sure! But what's the use? Some other evangelist would break right out again!"

ONE MAN. "Why do they call them one-man tops?" asked the weary citizen after he and four other persons had succeeded in getting it up. "Because when it's about to rain everybody in the neighborhood, as one man, goes to the rescue of the owner."

A Prayer Ruff? Mrs. Rugg returned home Saturday evening after several days spent with friends at Montezuma and also at the J. W. Little home near Brooklyn, where she took in the meetings held by the Montezuma Gospel team.—Round Grove Items in What Cheer Patriot.

THESE ROMISH RUMORS. The Indians smoked a common pipe When their wars would cease, But now, from what we see in type, It is "the pope of peace."

THE MOTORWISE CHILD. The modern youth of tender years is motorwise. Recently a less-than-seven lad of our very familiar acquaintance was trying to induce his new window-washer pup to take a drink of water. Nix on the irrigation. "Humph!" said the boy, "I guess he's a Franklin."

Concrete Example of Progress. They made a new cement porch at the schoolhouse Saturday.—Wellston Items in Washington (Ia.) Journal.

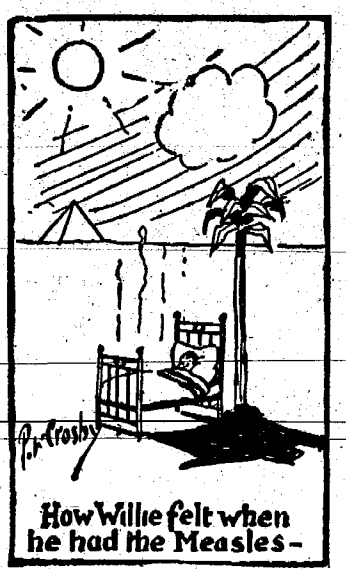

A Solvent. "Liquor always loosened up our patrons," said a waiter reminiscently. Meaning, we suppose, that it released the "tip" from the tipplers.—Boston Transcript.

CROSBY'S KIDS

How Willie felt when he had the Measles— Pimentoes Not Canned in Oil. The Department of Agriculture says that it is a mistaken idea that oil is added in canning pimentoes. They say that pimentoes contain in themselves a natural oil which is sufficient for the purpose. The real Spanish pimentoes are invariably canned in their own juices.

SALTS IF KIDNEYS OR BLADDER BOTHER

Harmless to Stomach Kidneys and normal. No irritating acids—Splendid for system.

Kidney and Bladder weakness result from uric acid, says a noted authority. The kidneys filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it often remains to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread, the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; a man, there is difficulty in voiding it.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it, because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is really one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, continue this for two or three days. This will neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs which then act normally again. Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by uric acid irritation. Jad Salts is splendid for kidneys and causes no bad effects whatever. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink, which quickly relieves bladder trouble.

GRANDMA USED SAGE. TEA TO DARKEN HAIR

She mixed Sulphur with it to Restore Color, Gloss, Youthfulness.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, streaked or gray. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound at any drug store all ready for use. This is the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, not only can you retain your natural color, but you can draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant. This preparation is a delightful toilet requisite and is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

IN YOUR HOUSE.

IF YOU are not a careful reader of the Bible you may have the idea that all the miracles which it details are in the New Testament, but if you will turn to the fourth chapter of II Kings you may read an entertaining story of one of the remarkable things performed by Elisha in the multiplication of the pot of oil.

Elisha performed many miracles, but of them all this one is perhaps the most interesting.

A widow, one of the wives of the sons of the prophets, tells Elisha that her creditors have come to take her two sons as bondmen in settlement of what she owes.

Elisha asks her what she has in the house which might be available to settle the debt. Her reply is that her only possession is a pot of oil.

At his direction the woman sends her sons to gather all the empty receptacles in the neighborhood and when they have been brought she obeys the command of Elisha that she shall pour from the pot of oil into the empty vessels and this she continues to do until all are filled and then she sells enough of the store of oil to pay her debts and there is sufficient left to supply her and her sons.

What have YOU in YOUR house? The trouble with most of us is that we never value very highly the possibilities of what we have.

The apple on the high branch always looks bigger and fairer to us than the one in our hand.

The job that the other fellow has always seems easier and more satisfactory than our employment. The other man's lot always seems pleasanter than ours and his prospects and chances brighter and more attractive.

The trouble is we do not properly examine and truly estimate and wisely use what we have "in OUR house."

Success is made up entirely of what we have and how we use it.

No man was ever born who did not have the possibility of success.

No man ever lived who did not have plenty of opportunity to succeed.

The man who says "I never had a chance," is just lying to himself as an excuse for his failure.

Lord Bacon said, "A wise man will make more opportunities than he finds," and that is much truer than the famous poem Senator Ingalls wrote that pictured opportunity as knocking only once at a man's door or the picture which Rabelais drew of Opportunity as a woman with a lock of hair on her forehead but with the back of her head completely bald; meaning that Opportunity must be grasped as it comes toward you for once it has passed there is nothing to seize.

Every day has its opportunity. Most of us think that these everyday opportunities are not big enough to bother with and we wait and wait, thinking that something tremendous will come along and ask us to accept it.

If the widow had decided, despite the directions of Elisha, that the pot of oil had no possibilities of solving her financial difficulties, she would have lost her sons to her creditors and the whole plan of the restoration of herself and her family to happiness and comfort would have miscarried.

It is well to know accurately just what our resources are. We should know just what we are capable of accomplishing and then be sure that the accomplishment itself is 100 per cent of our possibilities.

Look through your mental house and your physical house and you might even take a hurried glance at your moral house.

See what is there of which you are not making the fullest and most profitable use.

See, too, what is there that should NOT be there, that is hindering instead of helping you, and get rid of it.

Maybe you have a lot of oil quite as valuable as was the widow's and are laboring as she was under the impression that you are without resources. The old-time miracle can be repeated in YOUR case, if you go about it in the right way.

Mother's Cook Book

When we say we are undone, we mean only that we have weakened and run up the white flag. We are contented because we are happy and not happy because we are contented.—Burke.

SOMETHING GOOD TO EAT.

A PUDDING that you may give the children is:

Crumb Pudding.
Roll one quart of bread crumbs and put into the oven to brown. Place in a pudding dish and pour over the following custard: Beat the yolks of three eggs, add three-fourths of a cupful of sugar, three tablespoonfuls of flour, a tablespoonful of butter and a grating of nutmeg. Cook over hot water until the custard is set. Cover with a meringue and brown in the oven.

Orange and Lemonade.
Prepare two cupfuls of sugar syrup rather heavy, add the juice of half a dozen lemons and two oranges, scald, then bottle and when cool place in the ice chest. A few spoonfuls of this fruit nectar added to cold water will prove welcome on a hot day.

Noodles and Ham.
Butter a baking dish and put into it a layer of cooked noodles, cover with a layer of ham or any chopped meat, then add another layer of noodles, add enough thin white sauce or broth to moisten, cover and bake until well heated through.

Mutton Stew With Peas.
Stew a piece of mutton until nearly tender, then add a pint of shelled peas, more or less according to the size of the family. When the peas are tender, thicken the broth with a very little flour and serve the peas around the meat. New potatoes may be added to the kettle and served with the peas.

Frozen Pudding.
Beat the yolks of six eggs until light, add a sirup made of two cupfuls of sugar and one cupful of water boiled for five minutes. Beat one moment, take from the fire and beat until smooth, chill, add one quart of cream, a teaspoonful of vanilla and freeze until mushy; then add a pint of fruit that has been crushed and put through a sieve. Peaches are especially good, or any fruit finely mashed. Freeze and let stand to ripen.

LYRICS OF LIFE

By DOUGLAS MALLOCH

BRAVERY.

ALL bravery is not in death. However glad and glorious—
To breathe the gases' toxic breath,
Among the clouds a bird to be,
Or to go down within the sea—
Oh, it is brave to battle thus,
And yet not all of bravery.

There is some bravery in life
That never wins the world's applause:

There is no thrill in daily strife
To set our pulses leaping high—
Yet braver men may live than die,

May suffer more in some good cause
Than they who now in slumber lie.

All bravery is merely this:
To live or die, as fate demands,
But living, dying, never miss
The duty Conscience makes so plain:

To know the right, the right maintain,
Although it lose us life or lands
And pay no recompense but pain.

To face old Death amid men's cheers,
Yea, that is bravely indeed—
But to fight on through losing years,
Some unencouraged task to do,
Believe when none believe in you,

In public smile, in secret bleed—
May God not count this something, too?

Derivation of Custard.
Custard was a corruption of a middle-English word meaning a pie or tart and was allied to the modern French word croustade of the same meaning. All these words came from the Latin crusta, meaning a crust.

THE ROMANCE OF WORDS

"YANKEE."

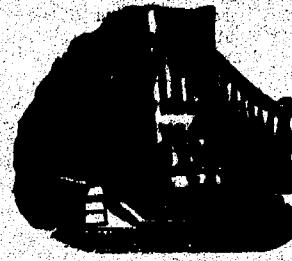

WHILE the genesis of the term "Yankee" as applied by the English to Americans in general, by Southerners to those residing in the North and by Northerners to New Englanders, is shrouded in the mists of colonial antiquity, there are at least two explanations which bear the ear-marks of truth and logic.

The first, and most generally accepted of these, is that the word is a corruption of the French Anglais or "English" used by the northern Indian tribes during the early days of the colonies. History states that "Yengeese" was as close as the Indians could come to the pronunciation either of the word "Anglais" or "English" and it is easy to see how this, in turn, could have become transmuted into "Yankee."

Another explanation, a trifle more scholarly, is that Yankee came either from the Scotch "yankie" meaning smart or shrewd or from the Dutch "Jankin," which was the diminutive of Jan or John. One authority goes so far as to declare that "Jankin" was the generic name applied to the English settlers of Connecticut by the Dutch settlers of New York.

The first known use of the term in print occurred in a poem entitled "Oppression," published in 1765, in which appeared the line "From meanness first the Portsmouth Yankee rose." The coupling of the words Portsmouth and Yankee would appear to bear out the contention that the term was one applied principally to New Englanders and therefore originally of Dutch origin.

THE U. S. NOBBY TREAD

Where the going is specially heavy with snow, mud or sand, in hilly country where maximum traction on the road is a factor, no other tire tread yet devised is quite so effective, or so wholly approved by motoring opinion, as the U. S. Nobby Tread.

In its very simplicity—three rows of diagonal knobs, gripping the road—is the result of all the years of U. S. Rubber experience with every type of road the world over.

If every one listened to experience, how much they'd save

STOP and talk to the next man you see with U. S. Tires on his car. Ask him why.

Most likely you'll hear an interesting story about his tire experiments—before the answer was found. Money wasted. Promises unkept. Trouble on the road—humorous to every one except the man who went through it.

Finally U. S. Tires. And U. S. Tires ever since.

Perhaps it's the experience of U. S. Tire buyers that makes them more emphatic in their preference than over this year.

When these men have tried most everything by the way of "staggering bargains," "hurrah discounts," "discontinued lines at less" and so forth they know what not to get.

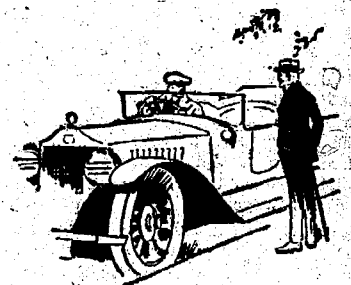

They want a fresh, live tire. With a good reputation. That's everything it says it is. With the people behind it who back it up.

There are 92 U. S. Factory Branches.

Your local U. S. Dealer is drawing upon them continually to keep his stocks sized up, complete—to give you service.

Whenever he gets one or a hundred tires from a U. S. Factory Branch, they are newly made this season's tires.

Sold to you at a net price. Full value. Square-dealing. A reputable maker. A reputable dealer. The whole transaction as befits the leadership of the oldest and largest rubber organization in the world.

OLD DANDELION.

MR. DAN DE LION awoke one morning to find growing near him pretty Miss Daisy.

Dan was ever bold, but this pretty little flower growing so close beside him made Dan bolder than ever.

He turned his bright face toward her and spoke. "Miss Daisy," he said, "in this beautiful world there cannot be two more certainly made for each other than you and I.

"Just look at the yellow in your gown. Doesn't it just match the yellow of my clothes? Now what do you say if we are married and live in this field where the sunshine is bright and warm, as two happy lovers should?"

Miss Daisy shook out her white petaled skirt and looked down at the

"BUT," SHE SAID, PERHAPS TOMORROW I SHALL BE ABLE TO ground, then she turned a sidewise glance on Dan, who was swaying with impatience waiting for her answer.

"The sky is so beautiful and blue today," she said. "I cannot think of anything else; perhaps tomorrow I will give you my answer."

So poor Dan had to be content and wait until the morrow, but when the sun rose the next morning and Dan asked Miss Daisy for her answer she

HOW DO YOU SAY IT?
By C. N. LURIE

Common Errors in English and How to Avoid Them.

"ELDER" AND "OLDER."

THE former word, "elder," should be used when one refers to members of the same family; thus, "My elder brother left for Europe today," not "My older brother." But "older" should be used in referring to members of another family, and in referring to objects. Thus, say, "He is the older of the two brothers," and "This table is older than that chair," not "elder." The same rule is applied to the words "eldest" and "oldest." One should say, if he has more than one brother, "My eldest brother left for Europe today," not "My oldest brother." "This chair is the oldest of the three," not the "eldest."

When direct comparison is made between two persons, use "older," as in the sentence, "My mother is older than my father." But when the comparison is not made directly, use this form: "My mother is the elder of my parents."

Painstaking Author.

Paul Bourgot, the French author, attended for four months the clinic of a prominent Paris specialist in order that he might accurately describe the symptoms of a certain disease in one of his stories. On another occasion he postponed writing a chapter of a novel in which he wished to mention the after-effects of tropical malarial fever until a certain physician returned from Central America, where he had gone to make a study of this malady, and published his notes on the subject.

They Go.

"Are prize fights really so brutal?" asked the New York matron.

"I've never seen one," replied the man. "Ask some of the debutantes."

reflected that the sun was so bright and warm she could think of nothing else.

"But," she said, "perhaps tomorrow I shall be able to think about your proposal and give you your answer."

So Dandelion sat all day with his face bright and happy because he felt sure the morrow would certainly bring rain and then Miss Daisy would have time to think about him.

The next morning the raindrops were falling fast on the meadow and Miss Daisy's upturned face never once looked toward her lover. She was drinking the longed-for water and had no time to notice poor Dan.

The next morning after the rain everything was so clean and fresh and all the flowers were so bright and happy that Dan again spoke to Miss Daisy of his love.

"Oh, the world is so beautiful and fresh this morning I cannot think of anything else," replied Miss Daisy as she flirted the dewdrops from her white skirt.

But Dan was not discouraged; he still waited and hoped for his answer; but one morning poor Dan awoke with a head quite white. He had grown old with waiting and his long, white locks fluttered in the breeze.

Then one day Miss Daisy grew tired of the beauty around her. She cast her eye toward her lover and, to her horror, she saw he was quite bald. Not even one spear of white hair was there on his head.

"Oh!" exclaimed Miss Daisy. "How funny you look. Why, you are old Mr. Dan D. Lion. I could not think of marrying you now. Good-day!"

And that is the reason, so the meadow flowers say, that the Dandelion grows faded and old with long, white locks on its little round head. Long ago its ancestor waited, so long for Miss Daisy's answer that he grew old and bald.

THE RIGHT THING AT THE RIGHT TIME
By MARY MARSHALL DUFFEE

ABOUT YOUR BOARD.

How many things, both just and unjust, are sanctioned by custom—Terence.

IN DAYS long, long gone by the head of a large and important family sat on a raised dais at meals, with members of his immediate family and specially honored guests. Others sat at a table on the floor of the room, the least important guests or retainers sitting at the greatest distance from the host. Even in our colonial days it was customary to have a huge salt cellar in the center of the table and the older and more important personages sat above the salt cellar toward the host who sat at the head of the table, while those less important sat below that point.

With such an arrangement it was possible to have almost the entire household—save for those who were serving the meal—to sit at the same time without embarrassment to anyone. Sometimes, in these days, embarrassing questions come up concerning the placing of members of one's household at the dinner table.

"Shouldn't the housekeeper be seated with members of the family at dinner?" writes a woman who is so employed.

Obviously it is not for the housekeeper to decide but for those who employ her, and if she feels that not to have meals with the family is an act of disrespect to her why, then, for her own peace of mind she ought to find employment somewhere else. In the homes of those who employ many servants the housekeeper would not dream of eating with the family—on the contrary, her meals would be served in her own sitting room. Some governesses do not usually eat at the family table unless their charges do, and in large establishments children very often have their meals served in the day nursery. If they dine earlier than their elders, then customarily the governess does also. Usually trained nurses employed in private homes have meals with the family, but sometimes it is customary for them to eat after the family and this is sometimes a matter of convenience, as some member will be free to take the nurse's place at the patient's bedside while she is eating. On ocean liners nurses in uniform do not eat at the first table, but have their meals in the general dining room at the hours appointed for children and their nurses. Of course, some young women resent this, feeling themselves quite the social equals, possibly the superiors, of those who employ them, but, if they have good sense, they realize that they are suffering no real indignity and that it is the truly professional spirit to accept conditions as they find them.

Justifiable Vigor.

"Is Gipping a profane man?"

"I wouldn't go so far as to say that."

"No?"

"But when a woman driving in a car ahead of him puts out her left hand and then keeps going straight ahead he's capable of using language appropriate to the occasion."

BANKER'S DUAL LIFE DISCLOSED

AGENTS LOCATE WOMEN ALLEGED TO HAVE BEEN ASSOCIATES OF SPURGIN.

DEPOSITORS WERE "TIPPED OFF"

Grand Jury Investigation Likely to Name Others in Wrecking of Trust Company.

Chicago.—Three women who figured in "the other life" of Warren G. Spurgin, fugitive president of the Michigan Avenue Trust company, who is charged with embezzlement of $1,500,000 of depositors' funds, have been located by W. C. Burns, who is investigating the case for Lloyds of London. One of them, a New York woman, is alleged to have received $10,000 in the stock of a producing oil company, in exchange for a series of endearing letters.

The others are Chicago women, one of whom, a brunette, figured with Spurgin in the wild night life of the north side. The other, a blonde, without any visible means of support, lived at a fashionable south side hotel, maintained a costly limousine, a Pomeranian dog and other appurtenances supposed to indicate the possession of abundant wealth. This woman disappeared immediately following the bank crash, but is believed to be in hiding somewhere in Chicago.

Rumors persist that a grand jury investigation will involve others besides Spurgin, in the wrecking of the trust company. The state attorney's office has received so many "tips" to this effect that it is planned to make a thorough investigation. It is said that certain depositors had been given a hint in ample time to permit them to withdraw their funds.

According to information in the hands of the assistant state's attorney, three days before the crash came, a number of large withdrawals were made from the bank. One of them it is charged, was "tipped off" as to the shaky condition of the institution by the chauffeur of one of the directors. This depositor who is in the automobile business, drew out $16,000, his entire deposit. Another check for $18,000 is said to have been presented the evening before the bank closed. He was asked to "wait until tomorrow morning." He is still waiting.

Spurgin's wife and daughter, it is believed, have told all they know of the case. They have been released from custody but are under surveillance of a police woman.

LIBRARIANS.

THE demand for the trained librarian is on the increase. But many young women are leaving the regular library to take up allied work that pays better.

The new demand outside of the regular library comes from big business corporations who want their business organized. Special literature of all sorts is part of their daily material, and they see the need of a proper indexing for all this material, and for making it available for immediate use as the books in a library are available.

Aside from the bigger concerns are such clients as a lawyer or a doctor with a large practice. Such men will often have a whole library that is useless unless properly indexed.

Many women who began as librarians are now holding excellent positions, where their library training proved the essential in their new work.

As the librarian can as yet look forward at best to hardly more than $1,500 a year, the best trained and more ambitious women are following the commercial path.

But a librarian's training is proving to be excellent for other work. Many girls do not stop at organizing special libraries for their new employers. They go on to become heads of departments, undertake the installing of business systems, of filing and cataloging, and even run offices of their own.

Chess vs. Checkers.

Chess appeals to mature minds, and wood supplies most of the accoutrements with which it is played. Some of the best are of ebony and boxwood, but very satisfactory games may be played with yellow poplar, basswood, walnut, maple and birch outfits. The same holds true of checkers, but that game usually is rated a little lower than chess in scientific points; though no less an authority than Edgar Allan Poe holds that as a mental exercise of the highest and purest sort checkers surpasses chess.

The Scots and the English.

The Scots, who first lived in Ireland, settled in the land which now bears their name, Scotland. The Angles with other tribes from Germany settled in what came to be called Angleland or England.
