Issues Armistice Day Proclamation Urging Nation to Honor Heroes.

The American people were called upon by President Harding in a proclamation to offer a silent two-minute prayer at noon on Armistice day, November 11, when the body of an unknown American soldier, killed in France, will be laid to rest in Arlington National cemetery.

The proclamation calls upon "all devout and patriotic citizens to pause for two minutes—from 12 o'clock noon until two minutes past 12, for a period of silent prayer of thanks."

The text of the proclamation is as follows:

"By the president of the United States of America, a proclamation:

"Whereas, the congress of the United States, by a concurrent resolution adopted on the fourth day of March last authorized the secretary of war to cause to be brought to the United States the body of an American, who was a member of the American expeditionary forces in Europe who lost his life during the World war, and whose identity has not been established, for burial in the memorial amphitheater of the National cemetery at Arlington, Virginia; and,

"Whereas, the remains of this unknown American to be brought to the United States in pursuance of the said concurrent resolution will be buried in the said memorial amphitheater at Arlington on the 11th day of November next; and,

"Whereas, these remains will be representative of all unidentified dead who in the World war gave their lives in their country's cause; and,

"Whereas, it is desired that grateful recognition of their loyal devotion to country and of their sacrifice should be appropriately shown with due solemnity by their God-fearing and patriotic fellow countrymen;

"Now, therefore, I, Warren G. Harding, president of the United States of America, do hereby call on all devout and patriotic citizens of the United States to pause from their accustomed occupations and labors on Friday, the 11th day of November next from 12 o'clock noon to two minutes past that hour for a period of silent prayer of thanks to the Giver of all good for these valuable and valorous lives and of supplication of His divine mercy for His blessings upon our beloved country.

"Furthermore, I hereby direct that the national flag be displayed at half-mast upon all public buildings of the United States and all stations of the army, navy and marine corps throughout the world as well as upon all American embassies, legations and consulates, from sunrise to sunset, on November 11, 1921.

"In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed. Done in the District of Columbia this thirteenth day of September, in the year of Our Lord one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one, and of the independence of the United States of America the one hundred and forty-sixth.

Rockefeller would give millions for a good stomach. If you have a good stomach therefore you are worth millions. Next time you wish a loan from the bank we suggest you list your stomach as an asset and see how you come out.

Human nature is so much alike that if you are inclined to be original it is bound to resent it. The commonplace is easily understood and always approved.

Another Potato Warehouse

Miller Michigan Potato Co. In Local Field.

Earl Jones, representing the Miller Michigan Potato Co., has been in our city the past few weeks making plans to erect a potato warehouse and enter the local market for the farmers' potatoes.

They have secured some vacant lots between the Lakeside Garage and the E. J. & S. R. R. tracks on Esterly-st., and have commenced the erection of a warehouse. To care for present needs, Mr. Jones has rented an adjoining warehouse and they are now in the market for potatoes.

The petition signed by Thomas W. H. Nays: None.

New Cigar Manufactory

Ross A. McEachern Now Making "The Jordan" Cigar.

During the past month East Jordan has had a new-old industry—that of a Cigar Factory.

About a month ago Ross A. McEachern opened a cigar factory in his father's residence, located on Third-St., and since then has been preparing to place a locally-made cigar on the market. Mr. McEachern has followed the cigar-making trade for years, and is conversant with the art of making a good "smoke."

"The Jordan" cigar was placed on the market among our local dealers last Monday—to retail at two for 15c. Those who have sampled them say that they are a good trade. Our smokers should give them a good try-out and encourage a home-town industry.

AT THE TEMPLE THEATRE NEXT WEEK

Sunday, Alice Brady in "Little Italy," the gripping story of life in an Italian colony in America. The soul struggle of a girl who tried to be loyal to her family and keep the family feud alive, even though she loved a man of the rival clan.

Tuesday, Carmel Myers, in "Cheated Love." Her one big chance in life was gone, she was nameless, tagged only with a number, yet the terrible panic stilled at the sound of her voice. Do you believe that only a great tragedy brings out the best in human beings.

Wednesday, there will be an added attraction to the regular picture program, Mrs. Ida Brown who is known to all of the East Jordanites and will be remembered for her sweet and powerful voice. It is a long time since Mrs. Brown has sang in public and the lovers of good will have a treat in store for them on Wednesday night when she will render a choice selection of vocal numbers. The picture will be Wm. Russell in "Children of Night." The name of Russell is enough to guarantee that the picture will be above the average, this will make a strong program for Wednesday.

Thursday, Eugene O'Brien in "Is Life Worth Living," in which he has a chance to display his best talents, as a lover he has few equals and is a modern Romeo up-to-date. This picture contains a good story and is of the society drama kind.

Friday, Mabel Normand in "What Happened to Rosa" It is a whimsical tale of a shop girl who took a flyer into romance. It sizzles with exciting situations and is threaded by the golden vein of humor. Miss Normand will be remembered for her wonderful character in the picture "Mickey."

Saturday, the original Family Night is proving more popular every week for the wholesome entertainment it provides for the whole family. Hoot Gibson in "The Movie Trail" is a western picture right up to the minute. "The Diamond Queen" is drawing near the end and is full of excitement. The Weeb Pollard comedy and the News Snubly provide the comedy and educational part of the program.

"EMPTY" MAIL BAGS GUILTY OF CONCEALING MUCH "LOST" MAIL

Started by the revelation that an average of 50 parcels of second, third and fourth class mail, and 20 letters are found daily in empty mail sacks sent to the Mail Bag Repair Shop in Washington for repairs, Postmaster General Hays has issued orders for the immediate inspection of nearly 2,000,000 sacks, and 400,000 pouches, which are sent to the depositories at Boston, New York, Atlanta, Cincinnati, Chicago, St. Louis, St. Paul and San Francisco, for storage or distribution, in order to ascertain if other mail in like manner has become lost.

Special delivery letters and parcels are frequently found. Some letters bear recent postmarks and others old postmarks. Even first class mail with uncanceled stamps is often shaken out of sacks which would indicate that this particular mail is left in the sacks after the collections by city collectors are supposed to have been completely removed.

Such mail when found will be specially marked so that the addressee may know the cause of the delay.

Maintenance of Highways

Comm'r Rogers Gives Instruction on Subject.

Lansing, Mich. Sept. 26, 1921. To Township Highway Commissioners.

Even though the state is spending vast sums of bond money in road construction, it is still true that the greatest road tax in Michigan is the tax which the people in rural sections vote upon themselves at the annual town meetings. Last year this amounted to $18,495,380.04.

As much of this money is expended in hauling gravel to roads, a word or two as to the application of gravel and the maintenance of gravel roads afterwards, may not be amiss.

Too commonly a first class job is spoiled by neglecting the gravel after it is dumped, (too often not spread) on the road. In fact it is left to pack itself and immediately becomes full of bumps and hollows which become so hard that they can hardly be smoothed except by using a scarifier.

This could easily and cheaply be prevented by spreading the gravel with the use of the four-wheeled grader followed by a spike tooth harrow and the road drag. In fact the gravel which is placed on each day should be spread in this way and made as smooth as possible before quitting work at night.

Later the constant use of the road drag would make many of those township gravel roads which have been cheaply built, as pleasant to drive over as many of the more costly highways.

Probably no implement used in road building or maintenance has done so much to keep the roads constantly smooth as the use of the patrol road drag and grader.

WHEN TO DRAG. As soon as the frost begins to come out of the ground in the Spring use the road drag. Use it frequently, especially after rains, until the ground freezes in the Fall. When the road softens during the winter months smooth it up with the road drag so the surface will freeze smooth.

HOW TO DRAG. Hitch to the drag in such a way that it will be drawn at an angle, forcing some gravel towards the center of the road. If the drag cuts too deep shorten the hitch; if too little lengthen it. Drag one side of the road, then the other, lastly making a trip down the center. If the road is not smooth, ride the drag, stepping around on it sufficiently to vary the cutting depth to work out high places and fill low ones.

Strive toward a uniform crown in all gravel roads. When you drive over the road you will readily detect if it is too crowning. If too flat it will hold water.

Large stones embedded in the surface should be taken out as it is impossible to handle a road drag properly when it is bobbing over stones.

One year's faithful use of the road drag will convince the taxpayers of any township that the money had been well expended. WON'T YOU TRY IT?

Very truly yours,
FRANK F. ROGERS,
State Highway Commissioner.

Postmaster General, postmasters are to be held strictly responsible to see that every mail sack and pouch is hereafter thoroughly inspected before it is cast aside or stored. There are approximately 7,500,000 sacks and 100,000,000 pouches used in the postal service.

Also birds of a feather fall to the same hunter.

It's not the quantity but the quality of brains. One kind can be bought in a sandwich for ten cents.

Often wondered what happens when the square-jawed type of man marries the lantern-jawed type of woman.

Just because all education is not found in the schools some "self-made men get the idea that none of it is there.

That hare and tortoise story has had a bad effect on humanity. It is the only time that a turtle ever won a race and it will be the last; and besides it didn't win that one because there wasn't any such race.

It's always been discouraging to the young man who has been in the big city and made a success, to return to his old home town and find that half the population didn't know he'd been away and the other half criticizing him for carrying a cane.

SCHOOL NOTES

EAST JORDAN HIGH SCHOOL

Mass Meeting

An enthusiastic crowd of students attended the Mass Meeting held in the High School Auditorium last Thursday afternoon held to arouse interest in the opening football season. Mr. Nesman and Mr. Snellenberger were speakers of the afternoon with Mr. Secord and Mr. Coykendall and Mr. Saellenberger leading as yell masters. Loyal support of the team is desirable and Thursday's meeting indicated the spirit of the school.

Foot Ball Game

East Jordan played its first game in foot ball, Friday afternoon, with Boyne City at the latter's home grounds. Owing to the inexperience of the Jordan players and the fact that this is the first time they have played for two seasons, the boys made a better showing than was expected of them. Boyne City's men were players of last year and they out-weighted all of the East Jordan players. Boyne City made six touchdowns and six goal kicks.

Boy's Cooking Class

When the five boys of the High School took cooking as a subject, many laughed and made wise remarks such as "They will soon tire of it." As yet this has not come to pass. On the contrary, the boys look forward eagerly to the second hour in the afternoon, which is the cooking hour. This may be due to the excellent instruction given by Miss Massalin and perhaps to the novelty of eating in school which is strictly forbidden in the other rooms. Some day they will be great chefs if they keep up the good work.

Debating Team

Again East Jordan is on the list as one of the competing cities for debating. More students of the East Jordan High School have turned over for the trial contest than ever before. It is hoped that this year will be the biggest debating year that Michigan has ever seen. The question for the debate is: "Resolved, That the principle of the closed shop in American industry should receive the support of public opinion." The students who are on the list for the contest of debaters are: Arthur Secord, Virginia Pray, Francis Coykendall, Gayle Hudkins, Mabel Maddock, Fern Flannery, and Cecil White.

Assembly

The second assembly of the year was held in the auditorium September 28. Singing was led by Ingram Little. A talk on "The Man of Vision" was given by Reverend Marshall. The talk in general was that everyone has a vision in his life and the people who count are the people who put their vision into action. After a few announcements and song the meeting was dismissed.

Travel is Man's Greatest Enemy

Accidental Deaths While Victims Were Traveling Number 465.

Travel is man's greatest enemy, outside of disease, statistics of the state department of health prove.

Accidental deaths have totaled 1,675 during 1921 up to Sept. 1, travel accounting for 465. Drowning, the nearest rival to travel in the accidental list, caused 320 deaths.

Automobile accidents are credited with 245 of the 465 deaths resulting from travel; steam railroad accidents with 115; electric railroads with 56; and other modes of travel with 39. Detroit reported 129 of the deaths; the rest of the state 336.

Eighteen other causes of accidental deaths claimed 1,210 victims, the more important causes including poisoning, burns, falls, conflagration, electricity, fractures, injuries by animals, and external violence. Four persons died from starvation; 4 from extreme cold, and 68 from effects of heat. Due to the mild winter of 1920-21 the number of deaths from extreme cold is below normal, while the number of deaths attributed to effects of the heat is in excess of other years.

Lightning, one of the most commonly feared causes of death, killed 20 persons—a trifle more than an average week's toll of travel.

More than three times as many men died from accidental causes as women the totals being 1,266 to 409.

to square stock and make simple things like bench-hooks. The lumber used by the junior students is furnished by the school and it did not come until a few days ago but the students were ready for it when it came. The other grades are doing advanced work such as furniture making.

Mr. Gibbs, the manual training teacher, says that before the boys start to make anything this year they must know what they are going to make and how to make it and then they will make it right. He thinks that boys should not take manual training just to make things but to learn how to make them. Undoubtedly the classes will progress rapidly and at the end of the year will know much about the subject and will have many fine things finished to their credit.

ROAD BANQUET AT WOLVERINE

(From Boyne Citizen)

In the pleasantly decorated grillroom of the Wolverine Hotel, the Charlevoix County Good Roads Association, on Tuesday evening, sat down to one of the artistically prepared, perfectly served, delicious repasts for which that popular hostelry is so justly famous.

Following the dinner the president "Uncle George" Van Pelt, called the meeting to order, and all the phases of good road building and maintenance were discussed by earnest, competent speakers.

A resolution was drafted by an appointed committee and unanimously adopted, requesting that on all future conducted and repaired trunk line roads nothing but concrete be used in this county. This resolution was sent to the State Highway department, and a copy of it will go to the supervisors of our county.

Another committee, consisting of the superintendents of schools of Boyne City, Charlevoix, East Jordan and Boyne Falls, was appointed by the chair, to frame advertise, and carry on a contest in which all the school children of the county will be allowed to compete for a prize awarded for the best essay to be written on the subject "Concrete Roads."

The evening was most enjoyably spent by the fifty gentlemen present and the meeting did not adjourn until midnight. It was attended by representative men from every section of the county.

Menominee—Michael Moran, of Falt-horn, Menominee county, is the youngest person ever arrested in the upper peninsula on the charge of attempt to murder. He is 15 years of age and was arrested after he had fired a charge of buckshot into the back of Matt Plohar, a settler. Moran's younger sister, 14, is alleged to have told Plohar that her father had killed a deer and needed help to drag it out of the woods. The girl started ahead and Plohar followed. The boy, thinking his sister was being chased by a man, fired.

With the exception of mutton and fresh pork Johns eastern wholesale fresh meat prices showed rather substantial declines compared with prices prevailing week ago. Lamb declined $1@4 and veal $1@3 per 100 lbs. Beef was 50c@1.50 lower while pork prices were steady to $1 lower. Mutton prices were practically unchanged. September 23rd good grade meats: Beef $13.50@15.50; veal $16@20; lamb $16@18; mutton, $11@15; light pork loins, $25@28; heavy, $23@25. Dairy Products Butter markets during the week were firm on top grades but undergrades continued to move slowly at unsettled prices. An shipment of 40,000 lbs. of Danish butter arrived at New York and sold on Sept. 27 at 48c for the 33 score city. Chicago prices for week ending Sept. 23: Chicago 43 3-4; Philadelphia and Boston 45 cents. Grain An improved export demand caused higher prices first two days of week but after that the price trend was downward to the close of the market on Sept. 23rd, when an oversold condition caused a rush to cover and prices rallied from the low point previously reached. Export demand eased off during latter part of week. Country spring wheat was scarce in all markets. Cash premiums were well maintained. Cash wheat prices were generally higher than wheat. Not much export or domestic demand for corn was noted. First husking returns from Illinois were reported to have shown disappointing yields and also some damage by worms and mold. Closing prices in Chicago cash market: No. 2 red winter wheat, $1.29; No. 3 hard winter, $1.27; No. 2 mixed corn, 42c; No. 2 yellow corn, 40c; No. 3 white oats, 32c. Chicago Sept. wheat closed $1.13 1-4; Sept. corn at $1.22; Minneapolis Sept. wheat at $1.15 1-2; Kansas City Sept. wheat at $1.10 1-4 and Winnipeg Oct. wheat at $1.35 1-2. Washington—Revocation of the charter of the First National Bank of Hagerstown, Md., is sought in a suit filed by Comptroller Crisinger, who alleges "persistent violation of the National Banking Act." Glass and Tin Churns. True Wealth and Happiness. A patent was granted in England in 1851 for a cylindrical glass churn, and these were tested at the exhibition of 1851 in competition with French tin churns and the old English wooden churns. The small wooden family churn worked so well that it was awarded a prize medal over its more aristocratic glass relations. —Scientific American.

Onnir had the right idea of what constitutes wealth and happiness. A lot of bread, a jug of wine and thou—under the bough, meaning food and drink and shelter and congenial companionship. Another poet expressed the same belief in slightly different language: "Give me neither poverty nor riches; feed me with food content for me."—Exchange.

Duration of Thunder. The chief factor in the prolongation of a peal of thunder is the difference of time required for the sound to travel to the observer from different points along the path of discharge, which may be a mile, or perhaps several miles, in length. Under some conditions reflections of the sound from clouds, hills, etc., further prolongs the peal.

How It Started

"THE MOVIES."

THE toy zootrope was the grandfather of the motion-picture machine of today. The oldest invention was one of these toys, patented by W. E. Lincoln, 1807. In 1869 O. B. Brown patented a machine which projected "moving pictures" from a series of glass plates. Muybridge, in 1880, also produced a glass-plate machine. M. Marey, of the French institute, first used the continuous film, and Lumiere, in 1895, invented the "Cinematograph." The first real machine came to America in 1894, and one Edward Hanley is supposed to have the honor of being the first motion-picture operator in America.

THE CONTEST.
OLD age complains when Winter reigns.
But youth runs out to play
And finds in storms a thing that warms

Its pulses all the way—
It is the contest so intense
With Winter's angry elements.
The weak perspire beside the fire
And shiver with the cold;
The sturdy go to meet the snow
With hearts increasing bold,
With hearts made stronger by the gale,
Whatever arrows may assail.

The timid groan, the timid moan,
When troubles cloud the sky;
The brave go out and do not doubt,
Unfriendly fate defy,
And find each contest bravely met
Makes each contestant braver yet.

When thunders roll before your goal,
What will your answer be?
Will you go forth to face the north,
Or from the norther flee?
Does Winter drive you to your fire,
Or each new storm new strength inspire?

THE GIRL ON THE JOB

How to Succeed—How to Get Ahead—How to Make Good

By JESSIE ROBERTS

NEVER A BETTER TIME

THERE never was a better time than today for the girl or woman who wants to do well in business to make a success. The world needs constructive work. It doesn't care who does it, provided the work is good. Women are picked for jobs that not long ago would certainly have gone to men. In Washington, for instance, a girl has been made manager of the lunch room in the Treasury building. This restaurant serves lunches to 1,000 government employees every day. The business detail of running such a place is great, and only a trained woman could undertake it. But Miss Dorothy Chapman is trained, having been graduated in home economics at Cornell university, one of a large class. And these trained women will find the field ready for them.

There are other ways for women who have taken special training in domestic science to make money. One such woman serves box lunches to office workers in one of the big city office buildings. These lunches are put up at different prices, three grades, each containing a balanced ration, excellent food, well-prepared and daintily served in its white box.

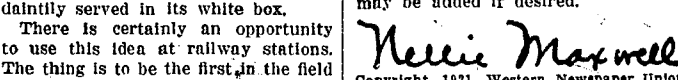

There is certainly an opportunity to use this idea at railway stations. The thing is to be the first in the field at the chosen center.

Honest value and sound methods are what are needed—and training! Training is by no means a college career or work in a business school, though these are fine things to have. Training can be self-acquired if you really want it.

Beauty and joy—the bread and wine and all—
We have foresworn; our noisy hearts forget;
We stray and on strange altars cry and call.
Ah, patient gods, be patient with us yet,
And Pan pipe on, pipe on, till we shall rise,
And follow, and be happy, and be wise.

SEASONABLE FOODS.

THERE must be something wrong with the people who do not enjoy the luscious muskmelon and the rosy-meat watermelon, yet you find men who even dislike lemon pie, so it is hard to suit all tastes; however, "there is no loss without some gain," for there wouldn't be enough of such good things to satisfy all appetites if everybody wanted the same food at the same time.

Orange Ice in Melon Cups.

This is really the nift power of serving, for each alone is delicious enough. Wash the small melons, cut in halves and scrape out the seeds and membrane carefully. Chill and fill with orange ice. Boil one cupful of sugar with a pint of water and the grated rind of an orange, add the juice of one lemon and the juice of four oranges, strain and freeze as usual.

Pimento Cheese.

A most delicious cheese may be prepared at home at a small fraction of the cost usually paid for such an article. Take one-fourth of a pound of good, snappy American cheese, put through the meat chopper, also grind with three hard-cooked eggs, three or four canned pimentos. Alternate the egg and peppers through the grinder to save the juice of the pepper, season with salt and cayenne, add mayonnaise dressing to moisten, and put away to chill. Cover with paraffin paper and keep in the ice chest. It never spoils, for it doesn't last long enough. This is excellent for the sandwich filling for hungry boys and men who carry lunches to school or work.

Fried Chicken With Boiled Rice.

Cut up the chicken for frying, add butter to the hot frying pan, sprinkle the seasoning in flour and roll each piece until well covered. Place in the pan and cook slowly, closely covered, until quite tender, then brown. The chicken will be much more delicious and moist than if fried brown at once. Heap a mound of well-cooked hot rice in the center of the platter, surround with the chicken and serve with ripe olives.

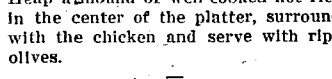

Twin Mountain Muffins.

Cream one-third of a cupful of butter, add one-fourth of a cupful of sugar, then alternately add three-fourths of a cupful of milk, two cupfuls of sifted flour, sifted with four teaspoonfuls of baking powder and one-fourth of a teaspoonful of salt; add one egg well beaten, mix and bake in gem pans. A cupful of well-floured blueberries, or dates finely cut, may be added if desired.

THE SANDMAN STORY

PUPPY AND THE FOWL

THE Barnyard Fowl lived very comfortable with old Towser, but when Jack Puppy came there to live they found out they knew nothing about dogs.

"I thought all dogs were good," said old Brown Hen, looking after her bit of bread which Jack had stolen and run off with. "I wish I could catch him and give him a sharp peck."

"He tipped over my dish of mush this morning and then rolled in it," said Mrs. Duck, with a snap of her big bill. "He could not eat that either, and my little ones had no breakfast."

At last the ducks and hens could stand it no longer and then went to old Towser and told their troubles. "You must help us," said old Brown Hen. "I should think you would be outs, just like Jack is sowing now." "It is plain we must take matters into our own hands," said old Brown Hen. "Towser will not help us, so we better call a meeting and see what can be done."

That afternoon under the currant bushes at the end of the garden all the hens and ducks and Mr. Rooster held a meeting.

Jack Puppy ran all around the barnyard trying to find them, and when at last they returned he ran at them barking and jumping. "Make the most of it, young fellow," said Brown Hen, pecking at him as he ran past her. "Tomorrow you will not be so gay."

The next morning when Jack ran out in the yard to get his breakfast he found all the hens and ducks around his plate of food helping themselves.

"Get away! Get away!" he barked, running at them with wide-open mouth, but to his surprise no one ran. Instead they kept on eating, and when he ran up to them the older hens and Mr. Rooster pecked at him.

The ducks quacked and one old drake took Jack by the ear in no gentle manner.

Jack "killed" loudly as he ran to Towser's home for protection, but they all chased him, and if the farmer had not come out just then with a dish of corn there is no telling what would have happened.

"He won't bother us any more," said old Brown Hen. "Don't one of you young hens run when he comes around here now. Just stand still and peck at him, and he will run from you instead of your running from him."

It was just as old Brown Hen said. Jack found out his day was over for scaring the fowl, and he became a well-mannered dog and behaved as he should after that.

HOW DO YOU SAY IT?

By C. N. LURIE
Common Errors in English and How to Avoid Them

"DIFFER WITH," "DIFFER FROM."

BETWEEN the proper use of the term "differ from" and the proper use of "differ with" there is a clear distinction, although it is forgotten frequently, even by some writers and speakers who are careful in the use of words.

For a person to differ from another, or for a thing to differ from another, he or it must be unlike, in appearance, in manner, or in some other characteristic, while to differ with a person means to disagree with him in opinion or belief. It follows, therefore, that, while a thing may differ from another, it cannot differ with another, since only thinking beings can have a difference in belief or opinion. For example, "I differ from John in stature, but I differ with him in our views on the present national policy."

THE RIGHT THING AT THE RIGHT TIME

By MARY MARSHALL DUFFEE

WHEN TO GO HOME.

And often took leave, but was loth to depart—Prior.

TIME is money to most of us, in one way or another. Yet many of us forget to go home—and so waste a lot of somebody else's money, in the guise of time.

Were you ever in this position? The maid had gone out for Thursday afternoon, or else there was no maid. A guest was coming at half-past six. The dinner was partly prepared—thanks to your desire to be ready for emergencies. At half-past five it would be time to put the meat in the oven, and at six the vegetables must go on. You must in the meantime dress yourself, and perhaps put a child to bed, or else help an older one to dress. A neighbor called at half-past four. You looked thankfully at the clock, realizing that she could not stay long enough to harm your dinner. But she stayed.

At five you began to be nervous, thinking of the things yet to be done. At half-past five, making some excuse about hearing a knock at the kitchen door, you scurried out to the kitchen and put in the meat. Then you sat in agony, waiting for the caller to take her departure, and when she did, about six, you madly dashed down again to whip the cream for the dessert and mix the salad, and air the dining room, and heat the soup, and set the table, and put things to rights in the living room, and light the lights and do the dozen of last-minute things that ought to have been done in the last hour—not in the last minute.

Most of us have been in some such predicament, and, remembering this, it behooves us to remember to go home before we have worn out our welcome.

This is just one of the occasions when a guest should make an early departure. There are many others.

A caller on a sick person should always make a short call, unless by staying for a longer, specified time, she can relieve the nurse.

When guests are expected, a caller should always take her departure promptly. If unexpected callers arrive, the first callers should go before many minutes have passed.

If there is illness in the house, a caller should not keep the members of the household very long. Even if they are not hearing the duties of nurse, they probably have many calls on their time.

If your hostess is going out later in the afternoon—if you have found out this to be the case in some chance manner—you should not keep her in, even if she protests that she is in no hurry.

Put yourself in the place of the hostess on all occasions when you are wondering whether or not it is time to go home.

About Bosses.
One of the fool notions young men get is that the boss doesn't know what is going on in the plant. We never yet have known a boss who didn't somehow manage to know more about what was going on in the concern than any of the employees gave him credit for. Or to put it another way: We've never known a boss who raises the pay of a shirker under the false belief that he was a worker.—Exchange.

EAT LESS AND TAKE SALTS FOR KIDNEYS

Take a glass of Salts before breakfast if your Back hurts or Bladder bothers you.

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out, they weaken from overwork, become sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine.

This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water beverage, and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.

GRANDMA NEVER LET HER HAIR GET GRAY

She Kept Her Locks Dark and Glossy, with Sage Tea and Sulphur.

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it's done so naturally, so evenly. Preparing this mixture, though, at home is messy and troublesome. At little cost you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients called "Weyth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all gray hair disappears, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully darkened, glossy and luxuriant.

Gray, faded hair, though no disgrace, is a sign of old age, and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance, get busy at once with Weyth's Sage and Sulphur Compound and look years younger. This ready-to-use preparation is a delightful toilet requisite and not a medicine. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

SOIL SURVEY IN U. P. SHOWS FARMING LAND

That agricultural development is justified in 80 per cent or more of the area of Ontonagon County, Michigan, is the belief expressed by Dr. M. M. McCool, head of the soils department at the Michigan Agricultural College.

A soil survey of this Upper Peninsula county is being made at the present time through the college and the U. S. Bureau of Soils, classifying and mapping the principal soils of the area and collecting information of value in the agricultural development of the region.

The field work, which will be completed this fall, is being handled under the direction of J. O. Veatch, of the M. A. C. soils department.

"Results of the survey so far show a surprisingly large acreage of arable land in Ontonagon County," said Dr. McCool in discussing the work. "Final estimates have not been made, but it is believed that in an area aggregating 80 per cent or more of the total, the soil and topography are such as to justify development at present and in the near future for farming purposes."

"Most of the land at present is cut-over timber land, or is occupied by virgin hardwood forest. The principal soil in areal extent is a heavy clay which contains a comparatively high percentage of lime, and which is probably rich in other elements of fertility. The soil is naturally adapted for clover and small grains which may be made the basis of a dairy industry. There is also a large area of lighter textured soils, silt, sand and sandy loams, characterized by level or gently rolling topography, adapted to the growing of potatoes and also to grain and root crops while fruit and a variety of vegetables may be grown for home use."

"The public is cordially invited to attend these services."

Two young women tell me that they are making money with a small sheep farm. There is plenty of demand both for the wool and the meat. But these two women also run a spray, marketing their honey, in a distinctive package. It is the finest honey, and they charge a high price for it. They have worked up a trade with a list of private purchasers, and sell through the mail.

The thing is to have only the very highest class of produce, to charge high for it, to put it into attractive and striking packages that are an advertisement in themselves, and to sell direct to the consumer. With the parcel post this is possible. We find it better to specialize in several things rather than in one. Establish a market for one of your items and you establish it for all.

This sounds like good talk, and I recommend it to my readers who may be thinking of turning to the farm as a source of income.

Lack of funds is said to have caused a delay in the completion of a Catholic church at Good Hart. The pretty little building is being erected by the Indians of that place under the personal direction of Father Dorotheus, their pastor. The building is to replace one used many years ago but in which church services have not been held in many years.

Alpena's new Memorial Hall, built at a cost of $35,000 contributed by citizens will be formally opened to the public. The building has a 178-foot front, a depth of 105 feet and covers 18,868 square feet of ground. One side is the federal building and on the other the City Hall. The building will be used as a community center. In the basement is a banquet hall, kitchen, gymnasium, shower baths, etc.; on the main floor, auditorium, lobbies, rest rooms, smoking rooms, etc.; on mezzanine floor, balcony orchestra, platform, lobby, rest rooms, smoking rooms, etc.

Fred E. Fisher, Wayne county school commissioner, has accepted appointment as assistant state superintendent of schools and will leave soon for Lansing to take up his new duties. Fisher says that conditions in the rural schools of which he will be in charge in his new position, are disgraceful and that the reason for this is that people do not realize the conditions that exist in them. The new superintendent will insist that only expert teachers be employed in rural schools in the future instead of high school graduates, many of whom are now so employed. In the rural schools these young girls teach eight classes and are absolutely unfit for the work, Fisher says.

Warm in Alaska.

Although less than thirty degrees from the North pole, the climate of south central Alaska is very mild, the temperature seldom registering below zero, says the American Forestry Magazine. The mean annual temperature for Prince William sound is thirty-eight degrees Fahrenheit, and it is warmer during the winter months than at any other point in the world in similar latitude. The temperate climate is due largely to the beneficent influence of the Japan current which sets into the head of the Gulf of Alaska.

When Dogs Bark.

It is rather curious that dogs bark only when they are connected with human beings in some fashion; for instance when a burglar is suspected to be near. When the dog is alone, he is given no groans, growls, howls or whines. Possibly the act of barking is the dog's method of talking. It would seem like it when your pet dog sees you carrying food and barks as if he were asking for it. Another dog, which is in the habit of going to bed at sundown, will bark to tell you that he is ready when the time comes.

NEW STATE TAX VOID, SAYS COURT

JUDGE TUTTLE, IN U. S. DISTRICT COURT RULES CORPORATION LAW UNCONSTITUTIONAL.

EXTRA SESSION IS POSSIBLE

If Decision is Upheld in Highest Court, Governor Will Ask for Needed Amendment.

Detroit.—If the ruling on Michigan's new corporation tax made by Judge Tuttle in federal court Saturday is upheld by the United States supreme court, the state will stand to lose the $6,000,000 revenue, which the collection of this tax is estimated will bring, unless a special session of the legislature is called and the law amended so as to remove the flaw pointed out in the decision.

In his ruling denying a motion to dismiss the suit brought by the Detroit Mortgage corporation and the Republic Acceptance corporation, both foreign corporations, to restrain the state from collecting the tax, Judge Tuttle declared that the corporation tax law was unconstitutional and void.

The motion to dismiss the suit was made by the state on the ground that the plaintiff was not entitled to relief. The corporation tax law was passed by the last regular session of the legislature as a means of raising additional revenue for the state; and to relieve real and personal property of the heavy burden of taxes now being borne by them.

It provides that each corporation, both domestic and foreign, doing business in Michigan, must pay a franchise fee of approximately 1 1/2 mills on each dollar of capital stock and surplus.

Lansing.—That the new corporation tax will continue to be collected, in case the present law imposing it is upset on the grounds advanced by Judge Arthur J. Tuttle, in the United States district court, was decided by Governor Groesbeck and the leaders of the legislature during conferences held when the new law was first attacked on this angle.

It was decided at these conferences that if the courts should hold that the present law is unconstitutional, because it fails to put the proceeds from the corporation tax into the primary school interest fund, the legislature will be called in extraordinary session and will amend the law so as to put the money in that fund.

The law has been attacked in the state courts by domestic corporations as well as in the federal court in the present case.

That the present constitution of Michigan does not, however, require that such taxes as that levied under the corporation tax law shall go into the primary school fund, is the main contention of Merlin Wiley, attorney general, in his brief filed in the state supreme court Monday morning in answer to the suit of the Union Steam Pump Sales company, of Battle Creek, the first corporation to attack the validity of the new tax law.

Hundreds of corporations have paid the fee under protest.

QUAKES SCARE 3 UTAH TOWNS

Residents Flee As Brick and Stone Structures Are Destroyed.

Salt Lake City, Utah.—After more than 50 hours of recurrent earthquake shocks and almost continuous trembling, the seismic disturbances at Richfield, Elnore and Monroe, 120 miles south of Salt Lake City, subsided. Property damage at Elnore and Monroe is estimated at more than $100,000.

Not a brick or stone structure remains intact in either Elnore or Monroe, it is said, and several residences and business houses are total wrecks.

The exodus of residents from the three towns south of here, near the center of disturbance, continued throughout the disturbance.

Bees "Steal" Honey Supply.

Rochester, N. Y.—A crime wave has broken out among bees. This became known when H. L. The raiding party, however, suffered heavy casualties, for Case picked up four bushels of dead bees which apparently had fallen exhausted.

BE RID OF THAT ACHE

If you are a sufferer with lame back, backache, dizziness, nervousness and kidney disorders, why don't you try the remedy that your own neighbors recommend?

Mrs. Wm. Harrington, East Jordan, says: "I am pleased to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills for I have used them with very beneficial results. I was troubled considerably with dull, nagging backaches and distressing pain through my kidneys. My kidneys were very irregular in action. I used Doan's Kidney Pills and they helped me wonderfully by relieving the backache and correcting the action of my kidneys. I have used Doan's in the past and they have always given me the best of relief and satisfaction." (Statement given on Aug. 3, 1908.)

On April 23, 1920, Mrs. Harrington added: "I haven't had occasion to use a kidney medicine since Doan's Kidney Pills cured me years ago. The cure proved to be complete in all respects and has stood the test of time. I recommended Doan's in 1909 and I am happy in saying that I am as strong for them as ever. I gladly confirm the state I made in that year."

Reprisal!

There's a little boy in our town who was given a puppy for Christmas, and the gift being at the puppiest age, when everything looks good to chew, he bites harder sometimes than he should. One morning, several days after Christmas, the little dog ran howling from the room. When the little boy's mother inquired what was the matter he replied: "He bit my finger and he can't learn to stop biting, so I bit his ear."—Topeka Journal.

A Distinction.

What Constitutes Real Wealth.

Real wealth does not consist in the material things of life—gold, and silver, and jewels—but in the intangible possessions on which there is no income tax to pay. A clean conscience, hosts of friends, love of wife and child, appreciation of nature's beauty, and the sublimity of art, clear faith in the progress of humanity—these are the things that constitute real wealth. They cannot be counted up in dollars, they exclude the tax-assessor, but they are real wealth, and priceless.—Pittsburgh Dispatch.

Co-operation Necessity of Today.
Some one once said: "Half the people know not how the other half lives." This is truer today than ever. There is need of knowledge that will give co-operation. People cannot longer live unto themselves alone if the country prosper as it should.

SHARPE GROVER, "BEST SCOUT GOVERNMENT EVER HAD"

"The best scout the government ever had," said some of the army officers for whom Sharpe Grover scouted during the Indian wars in Kansas in 1867-68, and more than once he showed himself worthy of the title. He had married a Sioux woman, and lived with the tribe for years. He could speak their language and knew their ways. As a trailer and reader of signs, Grover was without a peer.

He could tell how long since the tracks had been made; whether they were by horses or ponies, sled or unshed; how many were ridden, how many were driven; whether it was a war party or one moving from one camp to another.

When the Sioux went on the war-path in 1866, Grover left them and joined the army as a scout for Custer. In August, 1868, with Billy Comstock, another noted scout, he visited the camp of Chief Turkey Leg of the Cheyennes, whose warriors were supposed to be friendly. One of the Indians, however, saw the fine pearl-handled revolver carried by Comstock and determined to have it. When the scouts left the camp seven Cheyennes rode away with them.

While engaged in friendly conversation, the Indians suddenly dropped to the rear and opened fire. Comstock was killed instantly and Grover badly wounded, but lying on the ground and making a desperate defense of Comstock's body, he fought off the Indians until nightfall and escaped.

The next month Grover joined Gen. G. A. Forsyth's band of scouts and was with them at the celebrated Beecher's Island fight. As Roman Nose's warriors shouted to each other, Grover understood everything they said, and told Forsyth what they were planning to do. After the biggest charge of the Sioux and Cheyennes had been turned back, Forsyth turned to Grover and said: "Can they do better than that, Grover?"

"I have been on the plains, man and boy, for 30 years, and I never saw such a charge before," was the scout's reply. "I think they have done their level best."

"All right, we're good for them, then," said Forsyth.

For years the fact that Grover was with Forsyth that day was kept from the Indians, for he was friendly with them, and they would have killed him without mercy, had they known. Later they did learn it and attempted several times to kill him, but he always escaped. Unfortunately Grover drank heavily, and a few years after the Beecher fight he was killed in a row at Pond City, near Fort Wallace, an inglorious end for so great a scout.

FRANK NORTH, "WHITE CHIEF OF THE PAWNEES"

Only once in history did Indians succeed in wrecking one of the "white man's iron horses," and this occurred in 1867 when a band of Cheyennes ditched a freight train on the Union Pacific near Plum Creek, Neb. A strange scene followed. Among the wrecked cars were hundreds of bolts of calico. In a sportive mood, the young warriors ditched the ends of the calico to their pointed tails. Then they went careening over the prairie, the long waves of many-colored cloth billowing and floating behind them.

While the Cheyennes were still enjoying this sport, from the surrounding hills dashed a band of mounted Indians led by a white man of soldierly bearing. When the Cheyennes saw him charging down upon them, they fled in every direction, crying "The White Chief of the Pawnee! The White Chief of the Pawnee!"

Major Frank North was the "White Chief of the Pawnees." He had lived among them and they loved him. They adopted him into the tribe, calling him Pawnee La Sharo. This meant "great chief of the Pawnees" and chief even of the Pawnee chiefs. No other Pawnee and only one white man, Gen. John C. Fremont, ever held that title. Major North enlisted his first Pawnee scouts in 1864, and in every war on the plains thereafter they did valiant service. The scouts were issued regulation blue uniforms, but they had their own ideas about how to wear them. A full dress parade was an amusing sight. Some wore only the trousers and were bareheaded; others wore the big black hat, but had a breech cloth in place of trousers; and others cut out the seat of the pantaloons, leaving only leggings. All wore spurs, whether they had on boots, moccasins or were barefoot. But they were good fighters for all of that.

They were with General Carr at the Battle of Summit Springs, Colo., in 1869, and here Major North killed the Sioux chief Tall Bull, although Buffalo Bill is sometimes credited with that feat.

During his scout career Major North became a close friend of Buffalo Bill, and when he disbanded his scouts, Cody and North went into the cattle business in Nebraska together, and were partners for many years.

OLD JIM BAKER'S DUEL WITH A FRENCHMAN

Next to Uncle Bill Hamilton's duel with the Englishman, the strangest one in frontier history was that which Old Jim Baker, friend of Kit Carson, Jim Bridger and Uncle Dick Wootton, fought with a Frenchman in the early days of Wyoming. Baker had established a trading store where the Oregon trail crossed the Green river. He was doing a good business with the emigrants passing over the trail until a Frenchman opened up a rival store nearby. A quarrel between the two men soon resulted.

The quarrel ended in a challenge. Both men ran to their cabins, seized pistols and from the doors of their cabins, which were only about 100 yards apart, they began firing at each other. Neither was hurt at the first shot, for both the Frenchman and Old Jim had been drinking heavily and their aim was unsteady.

Then the duellists retired to their rooms, loaded their guns again and, taking another drink to keep up their courage, they opened fire once more. The bullets flew wild. For several hours the duel continued, each man becoming more unsteady all the time. At last, finding themselves unable to hit each other, they gave it up in disgust, and the oddest duel in history ended.

Baker was born in Illinois in 1808, and went west with a fur-trading party about 1823.

Old Jim was a mighty hunter. At one time he was attacked by two full-grown grizzly bears. The old scout was armed only with his long hunting knife, but after a terrific struggle, in which he was almost torn to pieces, he killed both bears.

In 1857 Baker was a guide and scout for Gen. Albert Sidney Johnson on his expedition against the Mormons in Utah. Returning from that trip, he wandered back to Colorado and became one of the first settlers of Denver. Later in life Old Jim drifted to northern Colorado. On the banks of the Little Snake river he built a block house, which became a rendezvous for all of his old trapping companions and a place of refuge when the Indians went on the war-path.

Baker died in 1898 after a life that had been filled with more adventure than that of any other man of his time, excepting possibly Old Jim Bridger, whose close friend he was.

American Women As Hostesses.
It has often been said that American women make the most delightful and successful hostesses in the world. Perhaps this is because the men of our land, so deeply absorbed, as they usually are, in business or profession, nowadays generally leave the duties and pleasures of hospitality to their wives, daughters, mothers and sisters. Many a man is like a guest in his house at a dinner or house party, and leaves entirely to his wife to see that the guests are introduced and that they are made to feel at ease.

Asked whether he had anything to say, he replied in the affirmative, and as a shrill wail was heard from his head, started the song, "Oh, Pa, why don't you answer me?" He was singing when the trap dropped.

There are pads prepared expressly for this use, but wanting these or anything of sufficient body to protect it, use newspapers, on the stair and folded so that they will project three or four inches beyond the stair. Your Voice is You

There is a peculiar quality in each human voice that is so individual that the very personality of the speaker is given out.

How often do your friends say to you, "Oh, I knew you by your voice?"

For this reason long-distance telephone conversations have an emphatic value aside from the convenience of an immediate reply to questions and the opportunity for discussion.

Send your own voice over the Long Distance wire in all important transactions and it is as if you had been present yourself. This is the satisfying way—the modern way to transact your affairs.

The following information about different classifications of Long Distance calls will aid you in using the telephone most economically and efficiently.

1. If you will talk to any person answering the telephone, the toll charge will be about one-fifth less than as if you had asked for a particular person at that address.
2. Such service between 8:30 P. M. and Midnight costs only about one-half the day rates and between Midnight and 4:30 A. M. it costs only about one-fourth the day rates.
3. Particular person calls are those in which you ask to talk with a particular person in another city. On this class of calls a report charge is made if the person asked, for cannot be communicated with through no fault of the Telephone Company. This charge is not made if the connection is established. The report charge amounts to about one-fifth of the particular person rate.
4. Charges can be reversed only on particular person calls.

REPORT NEWBERRY LEGALLY ELECTED

MICHIGAN SENATOR ENTITLED TO SEAT, SENATE COMMITTEE DECLARES.

MINORITY FAVORS UNSEATING

Democrats Agree Ford Was Not Elected, But Recommend Declaring a Vacancy.

Washington—Truman H. Newberry was legally elected over Henry Ford in Michigan in 1918 and is entitled to be seated in the senate, according to the majority report submitted late last week by the senate privileges and elections committee.

The report clears Mr. Newberry of all charges of corruption in connection with his election and recommends that the contest of Henry Ford be dismissed and that Mr. Newberry be declared duly elected. It is stated that Mr. Newberry's qualifications for the office of United States senator have been established conclusively.

Both the majority and minority reports, the latter being submitted by the Democratic members of the committee, agree that too much money was spent in the Michigan campaign and that Mr. Ford could not under any evidence be considered as elected.

The Republican committeemen held that Mr. Newberry was not personally responsible for the unduly bulky campaign outlay, while the Democrats contended the reverse.

The minority report submitted by the Democratic committeemen on strict party lines, opposes the seating of Mr. Newberry and recommends that his seat be declared vacant.

With the filing of the reports the case now goes to the senate for final decision, which will probably not be made for several weeks. In the meantime, it is understood, Senator Newberry will not attend the senate sessions.

Claims of Mr. Ford to the Michigan seat were denied by both majority and minority members on the same grounds—that all charges against Senator Newberry related to the primary and not the general election and that it was established conclusively that in the general election Senator Newberry had received a majority of the votes. Mr. Ford's charges of bribery, illegal voting, undue influence and intimidation of voters in the general election were declared by the majority to be without foundation.

The majority report after setting out the senate resolution under which the hearings were held, proceeds to give a chronology of the case from the time when Newberry and Ford were candidates for the Republican senatorial nomination at the primary of August, 1918, down to the end of the recount of ballots in Washington, which recount showed conclusively, the report says, that Truman H. Newberry was elected United States senator, "and that there is no evidence to sustain any of the charges of the contestant with regard to the general election."

FORD WILL HARVEST LUMBER

Auto Manufacturer Has Plan for Conserving U. P. Tracts.

Iron Mountain, Mich.—"One hundred years from now we will have more timber on our upper peninsula lands than we have today," declared Henry Ford, Detroit motor manufacturer, discussing plans of the Ford company for systematically managing the timber harvest on the immense tract of land recently acquired by his company.

"We will not cut a single tree less than one foot in diameter," Mr. Ford declared, "unless that cutting is necessary to the growth of some other tree. Our company is going to harvest its timber, but not clear it out."

Mr. Ford urged greater efforts at fire protection and more systematic forest management in the upper peninsula, also the reforestation of all lands cut over.

NAVAL RESERVE IS DISBANDED

Only Two Classes Left, Result of Economy Measure.

Washington.—The naval reserve of the United States is virtually abolished under an order issued by Secretary Denby disbanding all classes, except one and six and affecting approximately 155,000 men of the reserve.

The order was effective September 20. All "men of the classes affected who are now on active duty are exempted from the workings of the order at present."

In making the announcement Secretary Denby pointed out that the step of such importance was taken only through the pressure of economy and with great regret by the department.
