WASHOUT CAUSES WRECK OF TRAIN

ABOUT 50 KILLED WHEN SPECIAL GOES OVER BANK NEAR CAMDEN, N. J.

RETURNING VACATIONISTS DIE

Relief Flyer Carrying Nurses and Doctors Rushed to Scene to Care for Many Injured.

Atlantic City, N. J.—Fifty persons were reported killed and several hundred injured in the wreck of a Philadelphia & Reading train, packed with vacationists, at Winslow Junction, between Camden and this city, early July 3.

Seven cars of a 12-car train went over the railroad embankment at Winslow Junction. The accident was said to have been caused by a track washout due to the violent rain storm of Sunday night.

Summoned by telegraph and telephone calls for help over a radius of 20 miles, physicians, ambulances, police and firemen equipped with relief outfits, lanterns and torches were hastening to the scene.

A relief train left here with scores of doctors and nurses. Another has left Camden. Both trains will pick up additional rescue workers along the route.

Trainmen arriving here aboard a New York "empty" sent back from New York to handle outgoing traffic Sunday, declared the wrecked Reading express, which runs under the Pennsylvania bridge at Winslow, could be seen piled up across the south-bound tracks, where it had plunged down the embankment.

One of those men said the engineer apparently had gotten the wrong signal and had taken the cutoff to the Cape May branch.

From the indications, he said, the train had reached the Winslow Junction spur during a heavy rain storm, and in some way the signals had been confused. The clear signal for the Atlantic City route is above that of the Cape May semaphore, and railroad men believe the engineer got this light instead of his own and hit the cutoff at the peak of his speed.

Messenger reports by telephone said that the intense darkness at the foot of the embankment was greatly handicapping the rescue work. Lanterns, flashlights and even lamps from the surrounding farmhouses were pressed into service to aid the work of the men and women who hurried to the rescue.

Were Pretty Well Advanced. Chenting contractors and crooked officials of Sumerian civilization in Mesopotamia 5,000 years ago were tried briefly and thrown into the river, according to recent scientific discoveries.

Among other things, they had an elaborate banking system, with a reserve bank comparable to our own of today, a postal system with a parcel post branch and circulating libraries, which distributed clay tablet books.

INSECTS USE RADIO

Wireless Expert Discovers Electric Power in Bugs.

Cockroach Has Wave Length of Between One-Half Inch and One Inch—Send Messages to Each Other—Accidentally Discovered.

Harrisburg, Pa.—The troublesome cockroach is a radio "fan" and communicates by wireless with his brothers and sisters.

Howard Zimmerman of Harrisburg, sergeant major of the Fifty-third Infantry brigade headquarters company, Pennsylvania National Guard, believes and seeks to prove it through experiments, the results of which were made public here.

The experiments, Sergeant Zimmerman said, have been under way here for a year as the results of an investigation begun in a bug-infested barracks in Luxembourg, under the direction of Captain Armstrong of the Fifth division signal corps with which Sergeant Zimmerman was serving shortly after the armistice.

"At that time we were having night school and were working on the shortest possible wave length, getting as low as one-fourth of a meter," the sergeant explained. "Radio sets were located three feet apart on a glass-topped table.

"One night everything was working perfectly when suddenly our tubes began to act queerly. By the flickering light of the candle we finally located 'Mr. Cockroach' sitting in the space between the receiving and transmitting apparatus. We removed him and, to our surprise, the apparatus became normal. This led us to believe he was capable of making electric power."

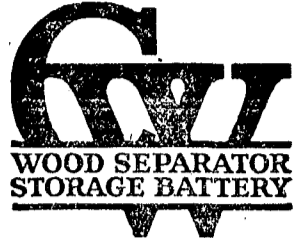

The sergeant declared one insect radio to another, and this belief, he said, is supported by his experiments.

"I have found in my experimental work," he asserted, "that a cockroach has a wave length of between one-half inch and one inch, with a very low frequency."

The tumble bug and moth are also endowed with radio power, he added, while beetles show only slight evidence of possessing wireless habits.

BALTIMORE ROAD HIT BY BLAZE

Lightning Bolt Causes $5,000,000 Loss At Railroad's Waterfront.

Baltimore, Md.—Starting from a lightning bolt one of the biggest fires in Baltimore in years July 2 swept property of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad at Locust Point and caused damage estimated at more than $5,000,000.

Virtually all fire fighting apparatus in Baltimore was called into action, but at first was unable to cope with the blaze. The flames swept across open spaces and across the water, igniting all inflammable material in their path, notwithstanding the heavy rain falling at the time. The entire Locust Point section was threatened.

Port McHenry, an army base hospital, two blocks from where the fire started, did not escape. Several buildings were partially burned, being saved only by the rain. A panic among the 400 patients resulted. Ambulances were called from Camp Holabird and city hospitals to haul them to places of safety.

The easiest way to avoid trouble is to fail to recognize it.
