MRS. H. A. CARR PASSES AWAY.

Mrs. H. A. Carr, a resident of Charlevoix for the past 30 years or more, died at the Petoskey hospital Friday of last week shortly before being placed on the operating table, the direct cause of her death being due to cancer.

The remains were brought to the home of her son, George A. Carr of East Jordan, at whose home she had been visiting when taken to the hospital.

Decensed was one of the pioneer residents of Charlevoix and enjoyed the respect and confidence of the entire community, and her death is deeply regretted by her numerous friends. She was 68 years of age, and had been in poor health for some time.

Funeral services were held from the home of her son in East Jordan, Monday, at 2:00 p. m., conducted by Rev. H. R. E. Quant of the M. E. Church. The remains were taken to Charlevoix and laid to rest in Brookside Cemetery. Charlevoix Courier.

STATE ACTS TO CLEAN UP TOWNS

TROOPERS ORDERED TO END REIGN OF BOOTLEGGERS NEAR DETROIT.

CORRUPT OFFICIALS MUST GO

Governor Declares Local Police Who Failed to Enforce Laws Will Be Driven Out.

Detroit—The threat that state troopers were on the way to the down river towns of Wyandotte, Ecorse, Ford, River Rouge and Lincoln Park to end the reign of bootleggers, blind piggers and other law-breakers proved sufficient to throw the customarily riotous blind pigs of those places into gloom early this week.

Gov. Alex J. Groesbeck ordered the troopers to the territory where Sheriff Irving Coffin and the local police are said to have failed to control the situation, and the Governor gave orders that the troopers "should determine responsibility for past laxness of law enforcement as well as to see to it that law is now enforced."

Almost simultaneously with issuance of the governor's orders, Merlin Wiley, attorney general, announced that he had arranged with Governor Groesbeck for a conference Sunday morning, at which the whole situation as to the tolerance in Wayne county of bootlegging on an organized commercial basis, and the alleged failure of numerous county enforcement officials to do their duty, will be gone over.

"I have been at my home in Saint Ste. Marie over the Fourth, and am not entirely in touch with the most recent developments in this deplorable situation but I can say that I am in hearty accord with the governor's attitude, and I will say further that the governor means just what he says when he declares that the law must and shall be enforced," Mr. Wiley said.

Then Attorney-General Wiley added: "There are more ways to enforce the law than one. It is not generally known, but it is a fact, that the governor of Michigan, under a law enacted in 1921, can remove any chief of police in the state."

Governor Groesbeck said he had directed Colonel Vandercook to send "about 40" state police to do the law, enforcing work in which, citizens of the down-river towns say, the proper officials thus far have utterly failed.

When asked what instructions he gave to Colonel Vandercook, the governor replied: "I told him that the law must be enforced."

Sending of the state police followed a long conference between Governor Groesbeck and Prosecutor Voorhies and it was intimated that the governor's action was taken on the suggestion of the county prosecutor.

Bird Friend of the Rhinoceros

The rhinoceros bird is a little bird, about the size of a thrush, with which the rhinoceros makes friends. The bird perches on the animal's head or broad back, and hops about devouring the insects and vermin which torture the huge beast. These birds are also believed to warn the rhinoceros of approaching danger, because they frequently have been observed running about the animal's head, flapping their wings and uttering shrill warning notes, the beast seeming to understand their meaning.

Telephone Rates Are Changed

East Jordan Receives Both Increase and Decrease.

Telephone rates were reduced throughout Michigan Wednesday by an order issued by the Michigan Public Utilities Commission. The reduced rates will go into effect August 1st and will mean a saving of approximately $1,125,000 a year to telephone users.

One-hundred and forty-seven cities and villages are affected by the new rate order. In 130 of these the rates either were reduced or left as at present. In the other 17, slight increases were made in various class rates, while still others received reductions.

Here are the new rates as announced for East Jordan and all other cities of "Group Eight":—Business Telephone, 1 party, per month $2.50; 4 party, $2.25. Residence, 1 party, $2.00; 4 party, $1.50.

Rural rate:—Within six miles of Central office, $1.50 per month; more than six miles from Central office, $1.75 per month.

Residence Extension Telephone, not more than 600 feet from main telephone, 50c per month.

Perhaps the most drastic step taken by the commission was the eliminating of the so-called "four and one-half per cent contract." Under this contract the American Telephone and Telegraph company, the parent organization of the Bell Telephone companies, taxes 4.5 per cent of the gross revenues of the State company for the use of telephone instruments and expert service. This amounted to $2.30 a year per subscriber. By the terms of the order the payment is cut to 90 cents a year, the actual cost of the engineering and other expert service rendered by the parent company and the depreciation and return on the value of the telephone instruments.

Another thing the order does is to spread this 90 cents over the whole property instead of charging it against the individual telephones. This is because the commission holds that the toll system derives more benefit from the service furnished by the A. T. & T. than do the local exchanges.

The company claimed the right to earn on a valuation of $75,000,000. The commission declared in its opinion that rates will be allowed on the basis of only $39,369,163.

COURT TO SETTLE JAIL MIXUP

Governor and Wayne Prosecutor to Test State's Authority.

Detroit—An agreement has been entered into between Gov. Alex J. Groesbeck and Paul W. Voorhies, prosecuting attorney, by which, through court action, they will try to fix responsibility for the freedom of Benjamin Holland.

Holland, convicted of forgery, was refused admittance to the Detroit House of Correction when he was taken there by deputy sheriffs. The House of Correction has said it will not accept prisoners who have violated state laws because under the law the state will pay only $1 a week for their board, and this is held insufficient. Holland was left in the prison office by the deputies and later walked away.

LOOK FOR SEIZING OF MINES

Government Ready to Take Drastic Action in Coal Strike.

Washington—Ultimate seizure of key mines to guarantee a supply of fuel for next winter has virtually been decided on by the Harding administration as a final drastic step to end the nation-wide coal strike.

The president is said to have held out for postponement of this action until he had exhausted all efforts to achieve a peaceful settlement of the strike through arbitration. Administration supporters were urging him to end the strike Monday, with an executive proclamation, ordering temporary government operation of "key" mines to meet the national emergency.

Respectfully submitted,
CHARLES H. EMREY

To the Voters of Charlevoix County, Mich.

I desire to announce that I will be a Candidate for the office of County Treasurer on the Republican Ticket at the Primaries 12th of Sept. 1922. ### Had 'Em, Going and Coming.

The ostrich is certainly a bird at making excuses; it really takes the plume, if we can credit the Arabians. They call it the camel bird, and in one of their sayings it took advantage of the name in this manner: "They said to the camel bird, 'Carry!' It said: 'I cannot, for I am a bird.' They said: 'Then fly!' It answered: 'I cannot, for I am a camel.'"—Boston Transcript.

Melbourne's Mot.

"Who remembers when one's newspaper used to come damp and clammy?" Speaking of that, the story is told of Lord Melbourne in the old days meeting an editor who had attacked him in his newspaper. The editor was a severe cold. "Ah!" said Lord Melbourne, "that comes from lying on damp sheets."

Four-Footed Bird.

The hoatzin is a bird with four feet which was discovered along the Amazon river in South America. Two of its feet serve as hands and the young birds are able to climb about with remarkable agility.

Co. Agricultural Agent, Boyne City.

CHARLEVOIX COUNTY WILL GET CLEAN BILL OF HEALTH

EVERY HEAD WILL BE GIVEN TUBERCULOSIS TEST IN AUGUST

TEHN COUNTY WILL BE QUARANTINED AGAINST ALL BUT CERTIFIED ANIMALS

After August of this year Charlevoix County is to be one of the cleanest in Michigan as far as tuberculosis in cattle is concerned.

Starting in August, between fifteen and twenty state and federal veterinarians are to make a thorough drive throughout the county, city and towns, examining every head of stock for bovine tuberculosis, culling out those affected, and giving a clean bill of health to those free of the disease. When this has been completed the entire county will be tightly quarantined against the importation of any but T. B. tested stock.

RULES ARE RIGID.

Drastic measures will be used on those stock owners who refuse to have their herds tested, according to state and federal government information. All stock farms, where the herds are not tested, may be closely quarantined, and no stock will be allowed to leave such farms until test are made. Such stock owners will then have to pay costs of tests, and receive nothing for condemned stock.

Following is a copy of a letter received at the County Agent's office from Dr. B. J. Killham, Chief Veterinarian, which conveys an idea as to the methods which will be used in order to make the campaign complete and efficient.

"As you probably know, it has been decided that whenever an obstinate owner is encountered in the area work and he has refused to have his herd tested, that steps will be taken to compel a test upon such a herd.

"All of the details in connection with the plan have not yet been worked out but we believe that the matter should be given some publicity in your county in view of the fact that a drive is about to be conducted.

"It would be my suggestion that the fact that this department has the power to compel a tuberculin test be not emphasized but the herd owner should be given to understand that all cattle must be tested and no exceptions will be made unless cattle are used for feeding or grazing purposes only, and are not allowed to contact breeding and dairy cattle in any way what ever.

"It is our intention to give each herd owner a reasonable opportunity to have his herd tested before applying quarantine. Once a quarantine is applied it will tie up the milk supply as well as the herd."

CHARLEVOIX COUNTY APPROPRIATES $1,500

The Charlevoix County board of supervisors at its June session has appropriated $1,500 to pay the expense of the workers while in the county, the salaries of the veterinarians are paid by the state and federal departments.

Michigan cattle from sections free of T. B. are bringing premium prices in the east where stockmen are replacing their herds with fine stock.

LAND SURVEY WELL STARTED IN COUNTY

HAYS TOWNSHIP PRACTICALLY COMPLETED

SURVEY INVOLVES FEATURES OF ECONOMIC AND AGRICULTURAL IMPORTANCE. FARMERS URGED TO CO-OPERATE.

The economic soil survey for the State of Michigan, fostered by the State Department of Agriculture, the Michigan Agricultural College and the University of Michigan, which is starting in Charlevoix County, is well under way. When it became known that this survey was to be started somewhere in the upper portion of the state, several counties, realizing the intrinsic value of such work, were anxious for the efforts to be made in their immediate vicinity. However, due to several reasons, Charlevoix County was chosen as the starting point. The present headquarters of the camp is in the grove opposite Susan Lake, south and east of Charlevoix. There are about twelve men working at present, but this number will soon be increased and two camps established. It is the plan of the State Departments to use this survey when completed as a model for the remaining counties in the state. Consequently, although this is the first work of this nature to be conducted throughout the state, we are sure that every effort will be put forth to make it complete and authentic.

Hays township now is practically completed. The investigators will go from this township in to Bay. Here the experience obtained in Hays Township will be taken advantage of in this and the remaining townships of the county.

The survey involves factors of agricultural and economic importance. Some of the most outstanding factors of agricultural importance are brought out by securing information regarding soil type, location of marl beds, mineral resources, if any, drainage, basins, gravel pits, kinds of sub-soil, natural vegetation, location of cut-over lands, merchantable timber, kinds of timber soil is adapted to, whether or not land is fit for agricultural purposes or should be reforested, size of farms, kinds and types of land cleared, amount of livestock, and much more information which is not only valuable to the present farmer, but is of great importance to the prospective purchaser as well as the pioneer settler.

There is also at the same time a survey taken regarding lakes, rivers and streams. The water of all rivers and streams is noted, kinds of vegetation growing on banks and bottoms, depth of water, temperature, whether clear or muddy and recommendations are made as to kinds of fish with which they should be re-stocked.

Factors effecting wild life, as well as the presence of any, are noted, such as deer, beaver, partridge, etc., and tabulations made accordingly.

These last few items are of such nature that they should appeal to the resorter, fisherman and sportsmen. Charlevoix County receives thousands of dollars revenue yearly from these kinds of people and if these assets of the county are widely advertised not only from a state standpoint, but over an area of several states, the income will be much greater.

It is the urgent wish of the writer that whenever farmers see khaki clad men with soil auger and knapsack over their shoulders that their mission will be understood and it is further hoped that the farmers will realize that they are working in an attempt to further the interests of Charlevoix County. The information given the men regarding crops and livestock will be used only for their best interests.

The men heading the work of this survey are Prof. Schuman, of the University of Wisconsin, and Prof. Young of the University of Michigan. Mr. Schuman has charge of the soil survey and Mr. Young of forestry survey. Any co-operation and accommodations that can be given these men which will further the efficiency of the work will not only be greatly appreciated by them, but will be of a benefit to every business man, tourist, resorter and farmer of Charlevoix County.

IRISH REPUBLICAN LEADER SAYS PACT IS TORN UP.

EAMONN De VALERA

London—Eamonn de Valera, Irish republican leader, in a message addressed to the people of the United States, declares the pact between the Irish parties has been torn up, that civil war has broken out, that the Dail Eireann is not allowed to meet and that the provisional government has assumed a military dictatorship, supported by British big guns.

CHECK RAISER NOT PUNISHED

Judge Lenient Because Youth Spent Money for Dying Wife.

Los Angeles—William Strickler, 19, whose wife and baby were sick, got a day's work, and a check for $4 in payment.

He put a cypher after the figure four and cashed the check, and spent the $40 on his family.

Strickler admitted everything to Judge Sidney N. Reeve, of the superior court, and the public defender told how, a few days later, Strickler's wife had died, and how Strickler, at her grave with his four-month-old baby in his arms, was arrested, handcuffed, and taken to jail.

Then the public defender asked probation for Strickler.

"Probation!" thundered the court, "Why, the case is dismissed."

Studebaker Bodies

Don't Rattle or Squeak

Studebaker bodies rest squarely on the chassis frame—not on the body sills. The body and the frame form a rigid unit that successfully resists the rack of the road.

Studebaker bodies are built in Studebaker shops by men, many of whom have been building vehicle bodies for Studebaker for upwards of 30 years—and their fathers before them. Studebaker has been building fine bodies for seventy years.

Studebaker Special-Six bodies, because of their quality and soundness, weigh more than those of other cars around the Special-Six price. You cannot skimp in material and build a body that will not rattle.

Freedom from rattle or squeak is just another of the fine-car refinements that emphasize the extra value of the Studebaker Special-Six.

Something to Think About

By F. A. WALKER

THE WRONG KEY

OF THE hapless earthlings who call themselves men and women, thousands are wandering hither and thither in life, trying with the wrong key to unlock the door of fame, success and honor.

If you will observe closely, you will see them every hour endeavoring to force a key into a lock which stubbornly refuses to respond to the violent twists and turns of nervous fingers.

The man who carries the key which will open the door to minor places, where he is sure of earning an independent competence, persists in tampering with locks behind whose paneled door there reposes the coveted chair of manager or president, too big for his occupancy.

Instead of reshaping his key by hard work and high thinking, flitting away the roughness to make it smooth, he continues foolishly to waste his time and energy, quite oblivious all the while to what he is really doing.

And so it is frequently with men of talent, too indifferent or indolent to do anything but routine work, when instead they should make use of the key given them by an all-wise Providence, unlock the right door, and rise to greatness.

If persuaded by reason to do this, they would find opportunity waiting with open arms to receive them, glad to round out their lives with happiness and prosperity.

Not to all is given supreme wisdom in these matters, but such as is bestowed, is generally hidden away in a napkin and ignored or forgotten.

Thus, when a young man or woman in a burst of passion unlocks the door to enmity, instead of friendship, to evil, instead of good, it becomes at once apparent that use has been made of the wrong key.

Proper judgment and action, all the exalted things in life, including faithfulness, honor and virtue, decline to show their shining faces to the carriers of the improper key.

What the foolish do with keys entrusted to them to open the world of life, makes wise men and women shudder.

And yet, when all has been said, when the story of life has been revealed from the morn of the tottering age, who shall say that he or she has not at some time or another in his or her folly, used the wrong key?

GOOD THINGS FOR THE FAMILY

EVERYBODY in the household likes cinnamon rolls or cinnamon buns. The following is a reliable recipe:

Take one cupful each of milk, water and sugar, two eggs, three-fourths of a cupful of shortening, one yeast cake and a teaspoonful of salt. Scald the milk and while it is still hot pour it over the shortening and add the sugar and hot water; when cool add the yeast cake which has been softened in one-half cupful of water, add the salt and enough flour to make a batter which drops from the spoon. Beat it thoroughly and let stand in a warm place over night. In the morning add the well beaten eggs and flour to make a dough which can be kneaded; knead lightly and well, put back into a well buttered bowl and let rise until double its bulk. Separate into two parts and roll out into a sheet. Spread this with soft butter, brown sugar, cinnamon and well washed and dried currants. Roll in a long roll and cut the buns in inch slices. Place them in a pan and set in a warm place to become light. Bake in a moderate oven with a grate under them if there is danger of burning.

If the family likes sticky buns put one tablespoonful of butter, one-half cupful of brown sugar, one-half cupful of sirup, and one-half cupful of water in a sauce pan and boil until thick. Add currants to it. When the buns are baked turn them upside down and spread this mixture evenly over the sides and bottom of the buns.

Pimento Cheese Rolls.
Roll out a raised dough like the above cinnamon bun mixture, spread with a layer of softened butter, then with pimento cheese. Roll up and cut in slices one inch thick, place cut sides up in a greased pan, let rise until light and bake in a moderate oven.

A good finish for a plain raisin cake is to spread it while hot very generously with butter, then sprinkle with a mixture of cinnamon and powdered sugar, using a teaspoonful of cinnamon to one-half cupful of sugar—more if desired.

Zion Chief Declares Wicked World is Ripe for Sickle.

Chicago—Wilbur Glenn Voliva, overseer of Zion, the Holy City north of Chicago, is beset with fears that the world may come to an end in 1925.

4 AMENDMENTS LACK SIGNERS

Proposed Charges Will Not Be Voted Upon Next Election.

Lansing—Failure of the backers of four constitutional amendments to file the required 105,000 signatures, required to place them on the ballot by 5 o'clock July 6, barred the proposed amendments from submission to the electors at the coming state election.

The four amendments, for which petitions have been in circulation for several months, include the legislative apportionment amendment, the parochial school amendment, that which would have provided for appointment of the superintendent of public instruction by the state board of education, and the county home-rule amendment.

FEDERAL ROAD AID CONTINUED

$50,000,000 Appropriation Recently Authorized Now Available.

Washington—Approximately $100,000,000 will be spent for good road construction throughout the country during the fiscal year which began July 1. This will be brought about by the continuation of federal aid for roads under recent authorization of an appropriation of almost $50,000,000 for distribution among the states.

Under the conditions each state must match the sum allotted it.

THE OPEN SEASON

APRIL now, and I must take
A Rod and reel and hunt a lake;
Tramp the shore light-hearted, glad;
Cast out 'neath some lily-pod,
Fill my lungs with clean ozone,
Lift my voice in lusty tone;
Watch the white clouds sailing high
'Cross the blue of April's sky.

April now, my desk is clean;
Trees and grass are showing green;
Tang of springtime in the air—
Good-by, now, old office chair!
Off I lay life's weary load
And go tramping down the road—
Down the road between the trees,
Drinking deep the April breeze.

April now, and field and stream
Bathed in April's golden gleam
Bid me up and bustle away
Where the sunbeams dance and play.
Where the sunbeams dance and play,
Close to Mother Nature's heart,
Out where springtime wakes anew
'Neath the April sky of blue.

April now, and songbirds wake
Echoes from each bough and brake.
Green the grass beneath my feet,
Flowers spread their odors sweet;
Out across the field and fen,
Onward through the woodland glen,
Where the long, black furrows lie
'Neath the sheen of April's sky.

QUIT MEAT IF YOUR KIDNEYS ACT BADLY

Take tablespoonful of Salts if Back Hurts or Bladder bothers—Drink lots of water.

We are a nation of meat eaters and our blood is filled with uric acid, says a well-known authority, who warns us to be constantly on guard against kidney trouble.

The kidneys do their utmost to free the blood of this irritating acid, but become weak from the overwork; they get sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and thus the waste is retained in the blood to poison the entire system.

When your kidneys ache and feel like lumps of lead, and you have stinging pains in the back or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or the bladder is irritable, obliging you to seek relief during the night; when you have severe headaches, nervous and dizzy spells, sleeplessness, acid stomach or rheumatism in bad weather, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with bicarbonate, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in urine so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus ending urinary and bladder discomfort.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, and nobody can make a mistake by taking a little occasionally to keep the kidneys clean and active.

To The Citizens And Taxpayers

You are, or at least should be, interested in the special election to be held on Monday next, regardless of whether you use electricity or not.

The common council of your city deemed it advisable to call this election for the purpose of considering the issuing of bonds, the proceeds of which is to be used for the purpose of erecting a municipal light and power system.

The following is a statement of what has been done by the present company and what it has cost you. The amounts quoted are taken from the appraisal made by the Fargo Engineering Company in 1918. The total value of all property of the East Jordan Electric Light & Power Company at that time was estimated to be $35,833.00.

Now the important question of taxes. Your taxes cannot be raised because you are at present paying the full two per cent allowed by the charter of your city. It is a fact that of all the money raised by taxes in the city of East Jordan, practically one-third of the city taxes are paid to the present light and power company. This means that we are paying approximately ten thousand ($10,000.00) Dollars per year for street lighting and pumping of the water for the city. This makes you interested in the result of the election whether you are a consumer of electricity or not.

From the best information obtainable we are informed that the total income of the present light and power company in 1921 was over Twenty-nine Thousand ($29,000.00) Dollars. In 1918 the cost of production with a steam plant was estimated by the Fargo Company at four and seven tenths cents ($.047) per kilowatt and today we are paying fifteen cents ($.15) per kilowatt with the privilege of a reduction of ten per cent if our bill is paid before the tenth of each month. This statement is based upon the use of coal for the manufacture of steam power and the present lighting company is now getting about two-thirds of its power from water.

The council asks you to cast your vote in favor of bonding the city for Seventy Thousand ($70,000.00) Dollars. This amount is considered to be more than will be required to build an entire new up-to-date plant.

We can use the Ten Thousand [$10,000.00] Dollars of the taxpayer's money, which is now being paid yearly to the present light and power company, for the retiring of these bonds. We believe this will take care of the bond issue.

The maintenance of the new plant we believe will be taken care of by revenue from private consumers, who, in 1921 paid on bills presented to them by the company, approximately Seventeen thousand [$17,000.00] Dollars, while the Fargo Company's estimated cost of operation under steam in 1918 was only Seven thousand three hundred forty-five [$7,345.00] Dollars.

We expect to reduce the cost to the consumer about one-third.

The city will have no taxes to pay on its own plant.

Mayor

DREAD PELLAGRA FOUND CURABLE

Proper Quantities of Animal Protein in Diet Both Cure and Preventive.

TAKES HEAVY TOLL OF LIFE

Scientists of United States Public Health Service Give Results of Many Years' Study of Disease —Need Eggs and Meat.

Pellagra, a mysterious disease which has caused widespread illness and taken a heavy toll of life in the United States and many countries of Europe, is caused primarily by lack of animal protein in the diet, and is both preventable and curable by proper quantities of animal protein being included in the diet, it is announced by the United States public health service. Doctors Goldberger and Turner, surgeon and past assistant surgeon, respectively, reporting the results of many years' study of the disease, assert that forty grams per day of beef or milk proteins in the diet will, for practically all normal individuals, prevent the contraction of pellagra. The necessary forty grams of animal protein are contained in about a half pound of beef, or three pints of milk.

Must Get Enough.
"Thus it does not suffice," says the report, "merely to include milk or meat in a diet to prevent pellagra. The quantity of either of these or of other like foods, alone or as supplements, must be considerable to be effective. This may help to explain some of the instances of pellagra in individuals, (including some of those very rare ones in nursing infants), who are alleged to have had a 'good' diet. They did not consume enough for their particular needs."

The following selected quotations set forth the logic of the situation as expressed by Goldberger and Turner: "There is now at hand a considerable and convincing body of evidence in support of the view that diet is the primary controlling factor in the prevention and causation of pellagra."

"To begin with, account must be taken of the fact that no unequivocal evidence of the transmissibility of the disease has yet been adduced."

"Of outstanding significance are, on the one hand, the demonstration that pellagra may be completely prevented by means of a suitable diet, without intervention of any other known factor, hygienic or sanitary, and, on the other, the absence of any sound evidence that the disease is preventable by any other means."

The Protein Factor.

"Thus, by a process of exclusion we are led to conclude that of the known dietary essentials the protein factor alone was concerned in our failure to prevent the development of the cases herein cited. And if our interpretations are, as we believe, sound, (and if all dietary factors essential in human nutrition are known) the further conclusion may properly be drawn, namely, that the dominating role of diet in the prevention and causation of pellagra must be referred primarily to the character of the protein supply."

"Some of the perplexity and confusion will also be prevented if it is not forgotten that the biological quality of a protein and its adequacy in relation to pellagra may, and doubtless frequently do, depend on the plane of intake. In our experience, a supplement of not over 40 grams of milk or beef proteins will, for practically all normal individuals, adequately supplement a pellagra-producing mixture of proteins from maize, wheat, rice, and cowpeas, but 20 grams (representing somewhat over a pint of milk or a quarter of a pound of round steak) may not do so."

Infant Girl Swims Like a Duck.

Don't Worry, Sweetheart; I'll Escape in Two Years

Washington. — "Don't worry, sweetheart, I'll escape inside of two years," Joseph Lauzon, charged with 200 burglaries here in the last eighteen months, replied to the warm embrace of the woman who had gone into his cell to bid him good-by the other day. Arrested with him, but later released, Miss Virginia Betty Carroll told Lauzon: "If they give you fifty years, I'll still be waiting for you when you're free."

VOTE NO!

On The Proposed Bond Issue BECAUSE

1. A $70,000.00 bond issue means a $70,000.00 Mortgage on the property in East Jordan that you must help pay.
2. East Jordan already has an efficient, up-to-date Electric Light Plant as witness the report of Fargo Engineering Company, made for the city, which report commends the efficiency of the Steam Plant of the East Jordan Electric Light and Power Co. (See this report for yourselves at the City Clerks Office and confirm this statement).
3. With this efficient Steam Plant the local Company did not make interest on investment when running on steam as shown by statement for the years 1919-1920 of Merrill-Dodge Co., certified accountants, which statement so certified may be seen at the local office of the Electric Light and Power Co. at any time.
4. $70,000.00 will not build a water power plant as Fargo Engineering Co. report to Commission of East Jordan states that this is not practicable for East Jordan as cost would be prohibitive. It will only build a steam plant which cannot be operated without a loss at less than the present rates.
5. You as a fair minded individual, do not want anyone to furnish you electricity at less than cost and especially you do not want the City of East Jordan to do this as that would mean that you would have to dig down and pay part of the loss.
6. The burden of taxation is already unbearable and you do not wish to increase that burden by at least $70,000.00 more.
7. The proposed course of the Common Council of the City of East Jordan would result in endless litigation from which only the lawyer would benefit as the local Company has a franchise and vested rights in the streets. See Public Acts 1905-Act No. 264 and City of Lansing vs Michigan Power Co. vol. 183 Mich. Supreme Court Reports page 400, a parallel case which so holds. The City of East Jordan would have to compete with the local company which would be ruinous.
8. The present rates compare favorably with the rates of neighboring cities as witness the following. These rates are correct, if you doubt call the various cities for their rates;

Stradivarius Violins.
Stradivarius was born in 1644 and died in 1737. He worked until he was over ninety years of age and turned out a large number of violins and violoncellos. Altogether, according to estimates, about one thousand violins and about three hundred other instruments are attributed to him. These other instruments include different kinds of viols, some bass viols and also some lutes, guitars and mandolins, very exquisitely wrought. The label in a genuine Stradivarius instrument is supposed to have been made of paper. Only an expert can distinguish a genuine instrument.

The Stork's Mistake.
"Oh, mother," said a little girl excitedly, "there's a new baby over at Mrs. Brown's; but don't you think the stork meant it for Miss Jones, who boards there? 'Cause Mrs. Brown has four children already and Miss Jones hasn't got a single one."—Boston Transcript.

The Guest.
At a London dinner party was an unconventional young fellow, fresh from an out-of-the-way village in America. His hostess, who knew his brother well, tried to make him feel at home. "I hope," she said, as they sat in the drawing room, "I do so hope this room isn't too cold for you."
"Lordy," he answered, "I might have been in h—l for 37 years for all the iceles there are on me."—London Answers.

JUDGE DENOUNCES WAYNE DEPUTIES CONVICTED AS BOOT-LEGGERS.

HEAVY SENTENCES ARE IMPOSED

Two of the Deputy Sheriffs Given Four Years in Penitentiary and $20,000 Fines.

Detroit—In what court officials and attaches declared was the most scathing arraignment ever uttered from the bench of a federal court in Michigan, Judge Arthur J. Tuttle, in the United States court scoured three deputy sheriffs who had just been convicted by a jury of violating the prohibition law, and pilloried the sheriff's office of Wayne county as "crooked" and as an "obstructor of justice".

"You men are so crooked that you are a disgrace to yourselves, to manhood and to Wayne county," Judge Tuttle told Deputy Sheriffs James Baker, William Parmenter and Max Corrigan when he called them before him for sentence.

Then he pronounced sentence as follows:
David Baker, four years in the federal penitentiary and $20,000 fine.
William Parmenter, four years in the federal penitentiary and $20,000 fine.
Max Corrigan, three years in the federal penitentiary and $3,000 fine.
James Quick, four years in the federal penitentiary and $4,000 fine.
Henry Rives, one year in the Detroit house of correction. Jess Flowers, agent for the rum runners, one year in the Detroit house of correction. Joseph Dofinos, nine months in the Detroit house of correction.

The jury in reporting the conviction of Deputy Sheriffs Baker, Corrigan and Parmenter and of Flowers and Dofinos, acquitted Fred Ackley, formerly a deputy sheriff and now a constable in Wyandotte, and Henry Plovias, a farmer, on whose farm the liquor concerned in the case was "cached" for a time.

Just before passing sentence on the three deputies, Judge Tuttle declared that he regarded it as peculiarly deplorable that "the very office that should have kicked you crooks out has, instead, rallied to your support while you have been on trial in this court, from the moment the trial opened until this moment."

"I cannot conceive that anyone would believe you to be innocent, and it would be entirely consistent with the past conduct of the sheriff's office to permit you to continue as deputy sheriffs after you have been duly received at the federal penitentiary where I shall consign you when I get around to it."

The crime for which Deputy Sheriffs Baker, Parmenter and Corrigan and Quick, Rives, Flowers and Dofinos were convicted, and Ackley and Plovias acquitted, took place May 27, 1920.

Through testimony brought out in the three weeks of the trial, it was established that the seven convicted defendants had engaged with Alfred J. Woods, of Amherstburg, Canada, wealthy liquor dealer, to bring 1,600 quarts of whisky to the Detroit shore, to be sold at $90 a case.

THE SANDMAN STORY

FOX SPOILS THE FUN

WHEN Toby Dog and Ikey Drake were tired of living in the barnyard they did not know that Mr. Fox was going to spoil all their fun, or they would not have set up housekeeping in a hut by the river close to the woods.

Ikey Drake said he was tired of having all of his relatives quacking after him every time he went anywhere, and Mr. Dog said he was tired of sleeping with both eyes open at night to watch for the farmer, when in the daytime he was always chained up. So one night off they tramped and went to live in a hut by the river, and all went well until Mr. Dog growled over having so many worms for food instead of a nice ham bone or something.

Ikey Drake began to quack loudly that bones were too hard to digest and that Mr. Dog would find his health much better if he made a diet of things such as he ate.

It was just then that Mr. Fox, strolling by in the woods, heard the noise and came that way to see what was going on. When he saw fat Ikey

Drake he forgot all about Toby, only that he was a young dog and might be fooled if necessary. He wanted Ikey very much for a dinner some night, so he set his wits at work to find a way.

The next day Ikey went swimming on the pond and Mr. Fox, who was watching in the woods, strolled along to the hut and said:

"Ah, I see I have a neighbor. Mr. Dog! I do not live far from here, and you and I ought to have some fun hunting. Do you like chasing rabbits?"

"Rabbits?" repeated Toby, his ears sticking straight up. "I love nothing better. Show me one and see."

Mr. Fox knew just where to take Toby Dog, and it was not long before he was running through the woods after poor Mr. Rabbit, and Mr. Fox, knowing that Toby would be busy for some time, ran back to the hut to wait for Ikey Drake.

Now it happened that Ikey had met all his family on the pond, and because they were afraid he would leave them again followed him back to the hut, in spite of all poor Ikey could do to get rid of them.

Mr. Fox, who was hiding inside, could hardly keep still, he was so anxious to pounce upon them. His eyes sparkled as Ikey and his family came nearer, but, to his surprise, he heard Ikey telling them, "You better go home; old Mr. Fox might be around."

"He will get you, too, Ikey," said one plump duck. "Why don't you run?"

"I am not afraid of Mr. Fox," pretended Ikey, strutting toward the hut, "but if you will all start for home I'll come along soon. There, what did I tell you?" he said, pointing to the tip of Mr. Fox's nose sticking through where the boards were broken.

Of course, Ikey Drake thought it was Toby Dog's nose, and he laughed as his family turned to run; but he soon changed it to a loud "Quack!" and ran for Mr. Fox, thinking all the plump ducks would get away, canoe running out after them. But, luckily, he got only a few tail feathers and the ducks swam safely home.

When Toby Dog missed Mr. Fox he began to think of poor Ikey, and away he ran for the hut by the river, to find only the tail feathers of poor Ikey strewn by the water side. Sadly he went back to the farm, and he made up his mind on the way to watch over Ikey's family from now on, to make up for leaving poor Ikey to his sad fate, for, of course, he was sure Mr. Fox had caught him and carried him off to his den. But the first ones he saw when he reached the barnyard were Ikey Drake and his family.

"Did you chase Mr. Fox?" they all asked, for Toby Dog looked very warm from running.

"He won't bother you any more," said Toby. But he never told Ikey how Mr. Fox had got him to go hunting, and then had run back to catch Ikey Drake. However, he kept his word, for Mr. Fox did not bother them any more.

Toby Dog slept none that night, and when Mr. Fox came skulking around he was after him with a bound, and by the way he acted Mr. Fox knew that if he wanted to live he had better keep away from that farm.

Helene Chadwick

Miss Helene Chadwick, the charming little "movie" star, has made quite a success of "vamp" parts in screen pictures and in order to secure first-hand color for some of her future work, recently attended a murder trial. She was so impressed with the court proceedings and the effect some of the evidence had on the audience that she has declared she will never again take the part of either the "vamp" or the woman who kills.

THE RIGHT THING at the RIGHT TIME

By MARY MARSHALL DUFFEE

THE BOY'S MANNERS

EVERY age has its own peculiar bad manners. The self-satisfied mother is most apt to show one type of ill breeding; the pretty girl is prone to be rude in another. The business man errs in this direction and the college boy in another. So just because you don't transgress one set of rules for good manners don't imagine that you have not your own failings of another sort.

"What shall I do to teach my boy of fifteen good manners?" writes a mother who seems to have had rather bad luck in this respect so far.

First of all try and give him the point of view that the really manly, grown-up thing to do is to be courteous to women, especially to women older than himself. Show him that it is the man's man who doesn't forget to offer his seat to a woman on the car, to stand aside when a woman passes, and generally to be considerate where women are concerned. If your son meets you in the street and you are carrying packages, don't say, "Bob, I want you to carry these things for me, do you hear?" Instead tell him that now that he is getting to be a grown man he must act as a man would act and that a man would of his own accord offer to take packages from a woman he met in the street.

It is especially hard to teach a boy good manners if his father is lax in this regard, for usually a boy thinks of his father as the embodiment of all that is thoroughly manly. In fact, usually a father has better luck in instilling a fondness for good manners in a boy than does a mother.

Perhaps we don't realize fully the importance of teaching boys the superficialities of good breeding. It is important because it is so difficult for a man to master these things once they have been neglected in boyhood.

What's in a Name?

By MILDRED MARSHALL

Facts about your name; its history; meaning; whence it was derived; significance; your lucky day and lucky jewel

ROBERTA

ROBERTA, the charming boyish name signifying "bright fame," is one of the many examples of feminine names coined directly from the masculine cognomen, Robert. Though Robert can be clearly traced, there is no record of the evolution of the feminine and it can only be deduced that some parent, disappointed at the birth of a daughter, bestowed the family name upon the girl-child and added the final "a" as a concession to the sex.

Roberta has a charmingly poetical heritage. Her counterpart appears in the most famous passages of England's early history. The origin of the name was in "red," which accounts for the translation of "bright."

One of the wild dukes of Normandy brought it back to England and numerous earls and nobles seized upon it, establishing its vogue permanently.

The dearly beloved Robin Hood, whose deeds are recorded in English ballads, did much toward making it popular. Robin was the epithet by which Queen Elizabeth addressed the two earls, stepson and stepfather, who sunned themselves in her favor. Robert of Bruce was the national hero of Scotland and Robin Lawless was a favorite Irish character.

Roberta is essentially American, though the contraction, Bertie, which is the endearment for several other names as well as Roberta, has the real Yankee sound.

Roberta's talismanic stone is the sapphire, which is said to guard her from danger and disease. Tuesday is her lucky day and 7 her lucky number.

THE ROMANCE OF WORDS

"TARIFF"

OFF the coast of Spain, just outside the straits of Gibraltar, is the Promontory of Tariffa. When the Moors had possession of Spain they established a customs house upon this cape and the taxes and payments were fixed, not by law, but by the collector himself.

Every vessel passing through the straits in either direction was brought in and held up for as much as the collector of customs thought should be paid. If the captain delivered up about 15 per cent of his cargo, or paid its equivalent in money, he was allowed to go in peace, but if he proved stubborn, both his vessel and his cargo were confiscated. Generally, though, no resistance was offered, for the strength of the Moors was well known and it was part of discretion to pay the ransom and charge it up to the perils of the Journey.

In time, the custom came to be recognized just as the "right of the feudal barons" to demand a portion of the caravans passing through their domains was admitted and it is because of the place where the custom was first started that all taxes collected on cargoes are now known as the "tariff."

ENJOY THE GAME

GENTLEMEN who play golf will tell you that the man who tries too hard never does very well at it. Incidentally, he never gets any fun out of the game.

There are many parallels between golf and life, which is doubtless the reason that so many people are devoted to it.

Golf, of course, is a game, and only a game. Yet there are many of its followers who can see only the advantage of winning, and who come in sour and ill-tempered if they lose.

Others, while they try to win, get just as much fun out of it if they lose. And they never stamp on their clubs or throw them away, or swear at the caddies.

It is very important to win in any thing. But it is more important to get your allowance of fun out of it as you go along.

Sitting wheezily in any rich man's club you will find old gentlemen who wanted to win more than anything else, and who did win fortunes, but lost their health and their happiness in the effort. And, with all their money, you can set them down as losers.

There is good sportsmanship in all human effort. There are things the good sportsman will not do, even to win. One of them is cheating; another is becoming so absorbed in the pursuit of victory that he forgets everything else as he goes along.

John Burroughs, who probably never had more than the necessities of life in all his existence, got full measure of enjoyment that was denied to many who made a thousand times as much money. Incidentally, he was a very successful man, for he added to the sum of human knowledge.

Win if you can. Get a fortune if you can. Money means independence, and the ability to do good in the world.

But never forget that there is enjoyment as well as trouble in life, and that if you are not too intent on winning what the world calls success, you will be happier as you go along, and stand just as good a chance of making your life worth while, and the world better off because you lived in it.

Something to Think About

By F. A. WALKER

SILENCE

PLAY the silent part in all your joys and sorrows. Let neither excessive happiness nor great grief overwhelm you.

Control your speech and spirit under all conditions, even when the clanging din around you urges you to trumpet-tongued retorts.

When the storms of mischief-makers shake your house of clay to its very foundations and cause your soul to tremble with apprehension, hold your peace.

Be cool and calm and patient. To be otherwise is perilous as it invites fresh attacks from those seeking your destruction.

Curb resentment through the snarling temper; lift up your face to the whirling clouds, and remember that beyond them there is always the clear, serene, sunlit sky, indifferent to the clamorous noises below.

"Let not your heart be troubled." Think of the content that will ultimately be yours if you hold loyally to the right course and continue in well doing.

Think of the eyes that are watching you, the loved ones who are dependent on you, trusting and believing in the nobility of your soul.

Do nothing, think nothing and say nothing that will shake their faith in you, or cause you to lose faith in yourself.

By keeping still in great stresses of emotion the atmosphere around you becomes cooler, and your enemies or accusers gradually lose their heat and become more easily susceptible to reason.

Silence is the most magnificent and impressive thing in the universe.

What more sublime than the hush of a starry night in the solitude of vast hills or endless plains?

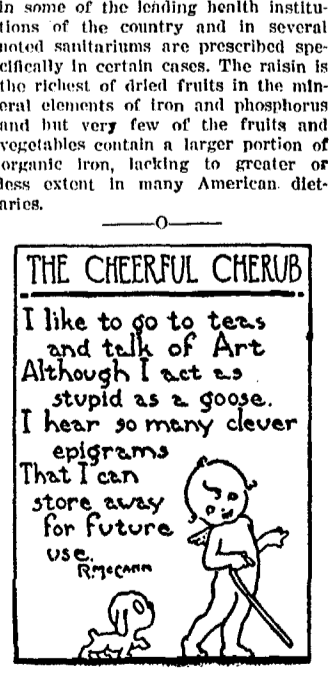

What more than silence impresses so deeply, so profoundly, the thoughtful man or woman of his or her insignificance?

These close intimacies with Nature, beyond all others, bring home to us long forgotten promises, old faces and friendships lost in the mist of years, with startling clearness.

But the best thing about silence, whether we be with it in the verdured fields or forest, or in our own rooms, is that we get a closer view of our faults and frailties in quite a new and surprising light, frequently dazing our wondering eyes and changing us for the better.

HAVING FRIENDS

Be bright and jovial among your guests. Shakespeare.

AT THIS season visiting around is a popular diversion. And it is well. Most of the pleasure in life comes through associations of one kind or another. Without real friends to greet or to welcome one, no person could find much enjoyment in life. But it is essential that our guests be the proper kind and that those whom we visit welcome us because they like us and not because an ulterior motive is back of the hand they proffer us.

Unless those we would welcome to our hospitality are those we can welcome to our respect and esteem, if not our friendship, it is far better that the latchstring be not left out for them. We cannot be false in our greeting without feeling a keen resentment against ourselves.

And the same rule applies when we go visiting. For our own happiness and self-respect it is far better never to visit with people at all than to realize the welcome given us is hypocritical.

Someone has said: "First day, a guest; the second, a burden; the third, a pest." Do those you invite to enjoy the hospitality of your own roof come under this category; or do you fit in to it when you accept the invitation of so-called friends? It is well carefully to consider this question before trying to be one of the jovial throng in your home or elsewhere. There must be sincerity or false greetings are certain to find one out!

Just as one's sins will find him out, will false friends deceive him and will his own hypocrisy lead him to a sorry route.

DARKEN GRAY HAIR, LOOK YOUNG, PRETTY

Sage Tea and Sulphur Darkens So Naturally that Nobody can tell.

Hair that loses its color and lustre, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our Grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture improved by the addition of other ingredients by asking at any drug store for a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite to impart color and a youthful appearance to the hair. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

NEWBORN DANGER IN YELLOW FEVER

May Cross Ocean in Event of Quick Transit Between American and African Tropics.

GORGAS' WARNING RECALLED

In Former Days Time of Transit Across Atlantic Was Long Enough to Allow all Cases of Fever on Board to Kill or Cure.

Panama.—The two Portuguese aviators flying across the Atlantic from Africa to South America bring to mind a prophetic warning of the late General Gorgas. This was to the effect that when quick transportation between tropical Africa and tropical America should develop, as it eventually would, it would greatly increase the danger of the spread of yellow fever to the Eastern Hemisphere as long as the disease remained in South America, especially in Brazil.

Days of the Slave Trade.
The reason why yellow fever did not spread from America to Africa in the days of the slave trade, as malaria did spread from Africa to America then, illustrates beautifully an important difference between the two great tropical plagues, as well as gives point and pertinence to General Gorgas' warning. Yellow fever kills or cures in a very short time; malaria may linger in the system for a very long time. In former days the time of transit across the Atlantic was long enough to allow all cases of yellow fever on board a ship to die or to recover before the voyage ended. Recovery conferred immunity on the fortunate, and if a mosquito should bite them after they reached Africa they found no germs in them to transmit to others. So it required a very quick transit to get the infection across. It is not yet positively certain that yellow fever ever did cross the ocean. General Gorgas was on his way to the west coast of Africa to settle this question definitely when he died in London.

An Important Difference.
But malaria, which seems to have originated in Africa, does not confer immunity upon those who recover from an attack. The germs may survive in the system of the sufferer for months, or even for years, in a more or less dormant state, even if acute attacks do not again develop, and these germs may infect the anopheles or malaria-carrying mosquitoes, and so enable them to infect others. In this way the African slaves brought malaria to America with them, but the slave traders did not carry back yellow fever with them to Africa—at least it is not definitely known that they did—and the long time of transit was unfavorable to any considerable transportation of the infection. It is certain that Africa has not suffered from the imported American plague of yellow fever as much as America has from the malaria imported from Africa.

Airplane May Change This.
But the airplane may easily change all this. If the Atlantic is crossed in two or three days any member of the crew of an airplane having an infection of yellow fever may easily carry the disease to where the mosquitoes are waiting to do their part on both sides of the Atlantic. Yellow fever does not reveal itself immediately after a man is bitten by an infected mosquito. The only safety would lie in a strict quarantine at the port of arrival in Africa or Europe, the crew and passengers all being detained under watch until the period of incubation has passed. The other remedy is to clean up South America of yellow fever, as General Gorgas so strongly urged.

USE CHAPELS ON WHEELS

Methodists of Northwest Plan Extensive Campaign in Country Districts This Summer.

Seattle, Wash.—A number of district conferences of Northwest Methodist Episcopal churches advocate a chapel-on-wheels campaign this summer to cover a vast area of territory where the population is scattered. There are hundreds of hamlets, agricultural communities and isolated places where the Gospel is not now heard.

The mounted chapels are to be constructed on trucks equipped with living quarters for the parson, a platform in the rear from which services may be conducted. In the equipment will be included graphophone with Gospel records, portable organ, books of songs and Bibles for collective reading.

The first of these wheeled churches will leave here early in May for the lumber camps above Snoqualmie. The pastor in charge of the first chapel will be a student from the College of Puget Sound (Tacoma) Theological school.

Wooden Leg as Flask.

Spartanburg, S. C.—The storied "uses of adversity" proved anything but sweet the other day for Alex Dallengor, a one-legged Spartanburg Negro. When a faint and muffled "splash, splash" was heard to accompany him as he hobbled down Main street a policeman took him in. At the station a canteen in his wooden leg was found to contain a pint of liquor. The judge imposed a fine of $100 for transporting intoxicants.

I was handling lumber at that time and my back got so weak and sore I couldn't stoop over. I couldn't get rested and always felt tired and worn out. When dizzy spells came over me I couldn't see anything. My kidneys were often weak and irregular and I had to get up during the night. The secretions were often badly colored and painful in passage. I used Doan's Kidney Pills and they cured me."

UNIQUE MEMORIAL

In an upper window of one of the well-to-do houses of Cologne, Germany, is an astonishing memorial, a pair of horses' heads, facing the street. They were carved hundreds of years ago and were placed there to commemorate one of the quaintest events in all history, by an ancient noble of the city.

The story runs that his wife died, and while he was mourning at the deathbed, his stable man ran to him and told him that his wife's horses had disappeared. When he went down to their stalls he saw that they were gone, but when he turned back to the house he saw them emerging from the death chamber and concluded that they were bringing his wife's soul to heaven. The horses were never found again, and this strange memorial was set up here in their honor.

PULLS TOOTH TO TOOT FLUTE

Schoolboy Sacrifices Crooked Incisor to Further Life's Ambition to Become a Musician.

Philadelphia.—A real martyr to music has been brought to light by Miss Winnetta L. Stacks, superintendent of the Methodist Episcopal Deaconess home here. Miss Stacks in describing her efforts to inculcate music classes in settlement work, told of one small boy who confided that his life's ambition was to play the flute. The teacher struggled in vain to teach, but his lips would not pucker right.

"Joe, I guess you will never learn to blow a flute because of the way that front tooth has grown. It is in the way," she said finally.

A few days later the lad's mother returned home to find her son's face bloody, but shining with triumph. He had borrowed pliers and had pulled the tooth.

"And at the first recital of the students of the class," Miss Stacks concluded, "the blew notes on the flute."

Plump Wives Preferred.
The Moors, like the Turks and other orientals, have a preference for plump wives, and throughout the empire of Morocco and in Tunis there are villages where the elder members of the adult population make a profession of fattening young women for the matrimonial market of Barbary.

The fur seals which make their home on the Pribilof Islands, a barren group in the Bering sea, disappear from the islands at the beginning of the winter, and throughout that season are scattered about the waters of the North Pacific. But wherever they may be, when spring comes instinct leads them back to the desolate little islands.

He Ain't Talking About Our Town

The Open Forum

East Jordan, Michigan
June 12, 1922.

Dear Editor—
In the Charlevoix County Herald of June 30th I saw a lengthy account of the city council work in regard to the $70,000 Lighting Plant that is to illuminate the taxpayers of East Jordan, of whom I am one and feel it my privilege to express a few views.
The Council stated that the service of the present lighting plant was O. K., the only fault our city fathers find is the exorbitant price of electricity. As a taxpayer, I feel justified in asking our City Council to tell the people of East Jordan how much more it will cost when we get a municipally owned plant run by politicians without an interested manager.

I heard one of the leaders of the East Jordan Lumber Company remark that East Jordan was to die a natural death, be past, and no other business would come to East Jordan to furnish employment. Is it then wise to confiscate so much of the taxpayers property in order to give East Jordan a brilliant funeral decoration in form of a $70,000 Lighting Plant? Although the Council stated a definite price, the taxpayers must bear in mind that these $70,000 might not half complete the undertaking.

When the City Council refers to exorbitant prices it makes me believe that they are slightly behind time. There are many commodities in East Jordan that have advanced five to ten times, and yet there is no hue-and-cry about it.

I really do not believe it is the welfare of the people that is the generator of this, but rather a seed house affair on a big scale.

Sincerely,
JACOB O. WAAGBO,
A taxpayer.

Geo. Staley is driving a Ford these days.

Geo. C. Ferris is driving an Overland Six I hear.

The Horton Bay ball team did not come Sunday for the game at Hayden's Point with the Whip-poor-Will's, because of the rain.

Word from Detroit states Juanita Loomis, only child of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Loomis, who was injured by an automobile two weeks ago is getting along nicely and it is thought she will not be much scarred. She is likely out of the hospital by this time.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Loomis made a trip to Thompsonville, Tuesday, in company with Mr. and Mrs. Lon Hewitt of Charlevoix, for a visit with Mr. Alvin Hewitt, brother of Mrs. Loomis and Mr. Hewitt. They returned Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gaunt motored to Thompsonville, Tuesday, for a visit with Mrs. Gaunt's brother, Mr. Alvin Hewitt.

Geo. Jarman and daughter, Mrs. Charles Woerful of Gravel Hill, Mrs. Laura Stanley of Mountain District and Mrs. Jennie Howie of North Boyne motored to Copenish, Sunday, for a visit with their brother, Will Jarman, of the Copenish Progress. They stopped at the Northern Asylum to see Mr. Charles Woerful, an inmate there since last Nov. Mr. Woerful did not know them and there is no hope he will ever be any better. They report Will Jarman, once on the Boyne Citizen and also East Jordan Enterprise staff, as suffering from a growth on his eyes, which makes him unable to publish his paper. Otherwise the family was well. They returned Tuesday.

Douglas Tibbitt of the I. X. L. Fruit Farm had 70 pickers Monday and has all his early Richmonds picked. He is shipping to the Canning Factory at Northport.

Mrs. J. W. Hayden and sons, Sam A. and Robert of Orchard Hill, accompanied by Mrs. Alty Cox and daughter, Mrs. John Weiland and little son of Boyne City, 318 North Park St., made an auto trip Sunday, touching Advance Boyne City, East Jordan, Finken, Central Lake, Eastport, Norwood, Charlevoix, Petoskey, Clarion, Walloon Lake and back to Boyne City and home to Orchard Hill. They were from 9:00 a. m. to 6:00 p. m. They called on Mr. and Mrs. John Mombberger at East Jordan, West Side, Mr. and Mrs. John Hawley in Echo township and had dinner at the Loren Butten farm in Echo township. The trip was most delightful.

A very nice letter from Elmer Faust of Grand Rapids, Gen'l Delivery, stating Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Faust his parents, Mrs. Bailey, his sister, and Mr. and Mrs. Jay Bailey and three children of Detroit motored up and visited them from Saturday to Tuesday. And Miss Vernet Ruth Faust arrived July 7th for a permanent stay, mother and baby are doing well.

Our telephone still gives wretched service. Will it never get fixed.

The dance at the Gleaner Hall Friday evening gotten up by the Whip-poor-Will ball team was very well attended for the first attempt. Richard Russell, captain of the team, furnished the music, assisted by others who also donated their time. They netted $6.00 for the ball team, which was fine indeed for the first attempt.

A. B. Nicloy has been assisting Douglas Tibbitt with his truck with his cherries.

We are surely having lots of rain. The Annual School Meeting's were held Monday evening because of defective telephone service I could get no reports from any but the Star. There every thing went very smoothly Mrs. Emma Arnot was voted treasurer by acclamation and Mrs. Christeena Loomis director by acclamation. They voted 8 months school.

S. Archie Hayden received a very nice letter from his friend O. E. Stevens of Detroit, who spent the 4th of July 1921, at Orchard Hill, he spoke very kindly of Northern Michigan, spoke of several whom he met and stated he expected to visit here again in September.

If time and the telephone permitted I could get many more interesting items.

Miss Marie Bennett went Walloon Lake to wait table at a hotel.

VACUUM-TUBE USED AS RADIO DETECTOR

How This Device Depends on Emission and Control of Electrons for Its Operation.

Readers of the radio column are urged to clip each article and paste it in a file book. The articles printed are continuous and the entire series will be valuable for reference.

The greatest advances made in the past few years in the radio art have been due in one way or another to the use of vacuum tubes. In view of this fact a more careful consideration of them will be of interest.

All of these tubes, known by a variety of names, such as radiotron, audion, serotron (trade names of the manufacturer) depend upon the same fundamental principles for their operation. Briefly these will be referred to in this column simply as vacuum tubes. A vacuum tube can be made to function as a detector, as an amplifier, or as an oscillator.

The vacuum tube depends on the emission and control of electrons for its operation. The electron is the smallest subdivision of matter which mankind recognizes and it carries the smallest known charge of negative electricity. For years previous to electron research it had been held by scientists that matter was built up of distinct particles or units which they called atoms and molecules. At first the molecule was assumed to be the smallest quantity of matter that could have a separate existence or take part in chemical action, but more vigorous research pointed to the fact that the molecule is made up of still smaller elements which are termed atoms; that is, a molecule may be composed of several atoms. Then for a time it was assumed that the atom was the very smallest quantity of an element that could exist, but later researches have revealed that atoms may be further subdivided into particles called electrons. The apparent mass of an electron is about one-eighteenth hundredth part of that of an atom of hydrogen which is the smallest of the chemical ions.

According to the electron theory an atom consists of a definite number of electrons grouped around a nucleus having a positive charge and so long as none of the component electrons are driven from the atom, the latter possess no detectable charge. The positive charge on the nucleus is said to be exactly neutralized by the negative charges on the electrons grouped about it.

Suppose now that by some means an electron can be detached from the atom. Then the atom becomes what is known as a positive ion and it exhibits the properties of a positively charged body, or in other words since an electron which carries a negative charge has been removed from the atom which has equal positive and negative charges, the portion of the atom now remaining has a deficiency of negative charge and acts like any positively charged body.

On the other hand if some force can be brought to bear that will add an electron to a normal atom which is neutral as far as electrical charges are measured, the result will be a negative ion, which will possess all the properties of a negatively charged body. An atom then which has a deficiency of electrons is called a positive ion and one having excess of electrons is called a negative ion.

Since each electron carries a negative charge of electricity an electron represents a certain quantity of electricity. Forcing electrons to move from one point to another causes electricity to flow. The ability of any medium to conduct electricity or allow a current to flow through it depends upon the number of free electrons available as carriers of charges.

It has been known for many years that the space surrounding a piece of heated metal is a conductor of electricity. It has been demonstrated more recently that this is due to the release of electrons and that if an incandescent metal be placed in a bulb exhausted of all gases, pure electrons will be liberated from the incandescent metal.

In a vacuum tube such as we are using at the present time, the piece of metal used to furnish the electrons is called the filament and is usually made of tungsten and sometimes is coated with oxides to increase the electron emission. For convenience the filament of a vacuum tube is heated by a battery current and it is this heat furnished by the battery current that constitutes the force that disrupts the atoms of the filament and liberates electrons.

Fig. III is a spherical glass bulb from which all the air and gases have been exhausted and having mounted in it a filament C-D which can be heated to incandescence by the "A" battery connected to it, and the metallic plate E. When the filament C-D is heated to incandescence by the "A" battery connected across its terminals electrons are emitted. Connecting the cold plate E to the incandescent filament C-D by means of the circuit B-F-G-H which includes a current meter and a "B" battery, with its negative side connected to the filament lead at H and its positive side connected through the current meter, the plate becomes electrically positive with respect to the filament.

Since like charges repel and unlike charges attract, there will be a movement of electrons from the filament to the positively charged plate, and the current meter will show a deflection which indicates that a current is flowing in the circuit B-F-G-H.

Increasing the "B" battery voltage causes an increase in the current flowing in the circuit B-F-G-H, the plate circuit, until the positive charge on the plate E is so strong that all of the electrons given off by the filament are attracted to it. Assuming that the temperature of the filament is kept constant and that the plate voltage has been increased to the point where all of the electrons given off by the filament are attracted to it, any further increases in the "B" battery voltage will not cause any increase in the current in the plate circuit.

Increasing the temperature of the filament will increase the total number of the electrons emitted.

FRISCO TALKS TO HONOLULU

New Radio Station at the Presidio Can Be Heard Half Way Around the Globe.

"Hello, Honolulu." That may sound like fiction, but it is a reality, nevertheless.

The new radio station at the Presidio, San Francisco, with aerial conditions right, can be heard half way around the globe. Officials in charge of construction declare it to be the most powerful vacuum tube transmitter on the Pacific coast.

Located on the highest point in the Presidio, overlooking San Francisco Bay, two 150-foot aerial towers to augment its efficiency, the new station will command similar stations in Salt Lake City and Cheyenne.

Radiophones on German Trains.

Wireless telephone instruments will be installed on a number of important German express trains, and receiving instruments will be placed in hotels and embassies, according to an announcement made recently. Experiments conducted in a moving freight car have shown that the wireless system works well, the men engaged in the testing of the instruments being able to hold conversations with friends in Berlin. The tests were made under the observation of engineers, military attaches and the diplomatic representatives of the United States and Sweden.

Handling Vacuum Tubes.

When you handle the vacuum tubes of your receiver great care should be exercised that they are not knocked about or that the elements are broken. These little lamps are the heart and soul of the set. A good way to operate these tubes is to keep the glow just a little below the critical point.

ADVICE FOR AMATEURS.

The voltages applied to the plate circuits of amplifying tubes are not extremely critical and one voltage control will suffice. The detector tube, however, is often very critical and an efficient potentiometer will work wonders in controlling it. Apparatus used for the reception of broadcasting is exactly the same as that used for the reception of code signals. The transmitting equipment, however, is different.

The use of a single wire for reception is advantageous because it lessens the amount of objectional interference in the way of static. It is equally as good as a multiple wire system for reception.

Defective "B" batteries will often cause roaring in the telephone receivers.

The electron often talked about is the smallest known quantity of negative electrical energy. In motion it makes up the electric current.

A "soft" vacuum tube is used as a detector tube and a "hard" vacuum tube as an amplifier. The terms "hard" and "soft" refer to degree of evacuation.

Radio waves travel at the same speed as light, namely 186,000 miles per second.

A wavemeter is an instrument used for checking up the wave lengths of sending and receiving stations.

Gas pipe or water pipe systems may be used for grounds, the latter being more advisable.

Lightning protection secured by grounding the antenna when not in use is essential and is required by the underwriters.
