The Carnival's The Thing

Merry-go-Round, n' Ferris Wheel, n' Whip, n' Everything.

The Legion Carnival is the big attraction at East Jordan this week, and the attractions—furnished by the Ackley Independent Shows—are all good, many and varied.

The three big features—merry-go-round, whip and Ferris wheel, are by far the finest and best ever placed in operation in East Jordan and we've had some pretty good ones at our County fair. The children took to the "merry-go-round" like a duck to water, the grownups couldn't resist "the whip" and both old and young took a trip up in the Ferris wheel.

In the tented attractions it is hard to say what is best as all are above the ordinary class. The Circus Side Show and Powers Garden of Mystery both have exhibits and entertainment worth while. In the first named is Sampson—a giant boa constrictor which is over 20 feet long weighs over 200 pounds, and is between 100 and 150 years of age. Sampson eats only once in three months, but when he does eat—he eats. His meal consists of a dozen live chickens and the chickens around East Jordan had better roost high. The Powers Garden of Mystery contains several acts of illusion to baffle the spectators. In addition there is a gentleman who is an adept at card tricks. Then there is the lady who answers questions through a crystal bowl. Some of these are "foolish questions number 'steen," and we wonder if she doesn't tire of answering. This is a good, clean entertainment and well worth the price of admission.

There are two other attractions which draw the crowds:

"Jolly Dixie" of 675 pounds weight, who, like all fat people, has 100 per cent of happiness. Jolly Dixie" is proof of the productiveness of Northern Michigan, as she grew to womanhood at Northport and is known by many in this region who remember her dancing the light fantastic when only a slip of a girl of 400 pounds weight.

"Bush Bluey," an African pygmy, is drawing big crowds and none should miss this feature. An ebony-hued gentleman, whose age is around the century mark, and measures up about a yard-stick length. Now he is known that Mr. Bluey while a foreigner, is a rabid prohibitionist. To carry on the Carrie Nation campaign he collects all the empty beer and whiskey bottles he can lay his small hands on, smashes up in a large wooden box, and then grinds the glass to powder with his bare feet. And it's a "feat" that none of the hundreds of spectators would care to tackle.

Mr. Ackley has one of the best Carnival companies in the state today, and the personnel from manager down consists of a group of thorough ladies and gentlemen. Should they ever visit East Jordan again, they will be assured of a large attendance.

The Carnival closes with performances this Saturday afternoon and evening. They go from here to Mt. Pleasant.

ALL CATTLE EXHIBITS MUST HAVE PERMITS BEFORE ENTERING FAIRS

In order that the regulation requiring that cattle exhibited at Michigan fairs and shows during the 1922 season come from herds which have been properly tuberculin tested, H. W. Norton, Jr., director of the bureau of animal industry, is notifying the cattle breeders of the state to secure permits from his department. If you are a breeder of cattle and have not received a blank application, notify Mr. Norton at Lansing and he will mail you one, which you should fill out and return to him. Permits will be issued as promptly as possible.

Frank F. Bird, secretary of the Charlevoix County fair, will require each exhibitor to show a permit before allowing him to bring his cattle into the fair grounds. This regulation has been issued at the request of a large number of cattle exhibitors and should not result in any hardship to the fairs.

All stalls and pens at East Jordan used for housing livestock exhibits of any sort will be thoroughly cleaned and disinfected prior to the fair.

Brought Greig Back for Trial

Sheriff Weaver Lands Much
Wanted Man In Jail.

Sheriff George W. Weaver was at Montreal, Canada, the past week where he landed A. J. Greig, returning with his prisoner to Charlevoix, Sunday morning.

This is but the beginning of another interesting chapter in the case of Greig, whom Sheriff Weaver has been after for a long time and who is charged with misuse of funds belonging to the Title, Guaranty and Casualty Company of America, and also is in contempt of the Michigan securities commission for skipping to Canada when ordered to appear before that body with the company's books so they might be examined.

Greig was deposed from the presidency of the company by the stockholders who took the business out of his hands last January, and since he was taken in Canada he has been held by the authorities there for peaceful return or extradition. He chose the latter alternative. Three audits of the company's books have been made, one by the state insurance department and one by the securities commission and one by a private auditor. It was just after he was deposed and the securities commission instructed him to appear with the books that Greig left the country.

It was Charlevoix county purchasers of the stock who made the first complaint, but much of the collateral was sold by Greig in Emmet county. S. C. Smith, Petoskey real estate salesman, who was secretary of the concern during part of its early days and who afterward resigned that post and became field salesman, has been absolved by the three audits from having had any questionable part in the organization of the concern and has been given a clean report by the stockholders' committee.

The offices of the Title, Guaranty and Casualty Company of America were in the Michigan Trust Company building in Grand Rapids and the Campau building, Detroit. Authorized capital was $500,000 and authorized surplus the same. Shares were sold at $100, the first $50 being paid in surplus and the other $50 being the par value. Twenty-five dollars in cash was accepted as the first payment per share, the balance being covered by promissory notes.

Best Game of the Season

East Jordan Defeats Petoskey
In 15 Inning Contest

The "tightest" game played this season in the Northern Michigan Base Ball League was that of last Sunday at Petoskey when, after fifteen innings of fast base ball, East Jordan managed to get another run across, winning the game by the small score of three to two.

The game was a pitchers battle throughout, both Johnson and Gunderson each securing 12 strike-outs to their credit, Coby for Petoskey securing 19. East Jordan secured 9 hits off Coby, Petoskey 5 hits off Gunderson and one off Johnson.

East Jordan had Petoskey blanked up to the ninth frame when that team took a rally and tied the score. In this inning, Gunderson retired in favor of Johnson who held the opposing team blank. The summary:—

MAGAZINE SOLICITOR TRIES HOLD-UP GAME ON LOUIS KOWALSKIE

Under Sheriff Cook was called upon Tuesday evening, July 18th, to locate a man and woman who tried to pull a hold-up on Louis Kowalskie near East Jordan.

The man and woman, driving a Ford Coupe with an Indiana license, stopped at the Kowalskie farm residence and solicited subscriptions to the Capper publications. As Mr. Kowalskie was about to pay him, the "agent" made a grab for Mr. Kowalskie's money, which he failed to get. Mr. Kowalskie then noticed the woman hold a revolver in her hands. At this time another party approached the car and the would-be thieves made a get-away.

Owing to delay in notifying Sheriff Cook they secured a lead and the only trace he could secure of the couple was their securing gas at Ellsworth and inquiring the road to Traverse City.

The couple "sold" others in this territory, giving a Capper's publication's blank-form receipt in exchange for the money. The signature is not legible.

Wm. J. Pearson for State Senator

Charlevoix County Man Is Candidate for Senatorial Honor.

William J. Pearson, of Boyne Falls, prominent lumberman and farmer of Charlevoix county. Monday announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for state senator from the 29th district. The present incumbent is Herbert E. Baker, of Cheboygan, who entered the primaries for United States senator on July 22.

Mr. Pearson was a member of the 1909-1911 Michigan legislature, making an enviable legislative record at the state capitol, where he was considered one of the most able men of that period. He established the present forest fire organization as fire warden, and his practical knowledge of forest products and fire risks resulted in an administration that was marked with efficiency and general reduction of fire losses.

In political circles his candidacy was urged some months ago, and the change of plans of Senator Baker made the way clear for the wellknown Boyne Falls legislator.

1922 Fair Augurs Well

Secretary Bird Now Busy on the Work.

Frank F. Bird, Secretary of the Charlevoix County Agricultural Society, has entered upon his official duties with an enthusiasm that augurs happily for the success of the annual fair to be held at East Jordan Sept. 11th to 16th.

Mr. Bird is all optimism. He declared that only bad weather can interfere with a week of pleasure, and that while he has not consulted the almanac or one of those slickers who can tell you the number of your watch before seeing it, he nevertheless feels that we will have a week of good weather. The affable secretary further stated that his associates have endorsed his policy of conservative press notices.

"It is our desire to have patrons of the fair pleasantly surprised with an honest program and not go away feeling they have been misled by flowery promises of attractions which do not appear," said Mr. Bird. "We expect to deliver the goods, keep the amusements clean and hereby justify the support of all classes."

Several new features have been added to amuse and instruct fair visitors, Mr. Bird believing that the educational side should receive more consideration. It is his plan to arrange these exhibits so that they will prove as popular as the sports.

EAST JORDAN MISS LIKES TO WALK AROUND ON WINGS OF FLYING PLANE.

"Like walking on the ground in a strong blow."

That is the way Adeline Trojanek, clerk in the auto title division of the department of state describes walking on the top wing of a plane traveling 80 miles an hour at a height of 3,000 feet.

Miss Trojanek does not profess to be a stunt flier, but likes the thrills. She has never piloted a plane but as a passenger had done about all the stunts in the air curriculum.

Yesterday morning, dressed in knickers, she made an acquaintance with Lieut. A. J. Davis, Michigan Agricultural college flier, who pilots a plane and owns the Michigan Airways Inc., East Lansing.

"I want to take a ride on your plane," she said. "If you don't mind I will ride on the top wing and walk around a bit."

Lieut. Davis looked over the pretty young lady rather carefully. Her knickers and a pair of goggles she carried, caused him to inquire about her experience. She admitted she had never tried the top wing stunt before, but wanted to very badly. Furthermore, the cool look in her eyes and her easy movements convinced him she was not seeking suicide.

So they took a ride, Miss Trojanek standing on the top wing. At 3,000 feet she one-stepped around from end to end. That was in the morning. Principally for her own entertainment and also the entertainment of many hundreds of spectators in the afternoon she rode the top wing again. "It was easy yesterday," she said. "There were no bumps, for the air was very clear."

Lieut. Davis has asked her to ride again next Sunday. She probably will if the air is not too full of bumps. If it is bumpy, she will take a little trip in the passenger's seat, while Lieut. Davis makes the plane do a tail spin or two, a falling leaf and several loops. Miss Trojanek likes these stunts, too, but they are old to her for last season she rode through them many times.

Miss Trojanek's home is at East Jordan. Up there life is rather quiet. Skating, swimming and boating are the principal amusements. They are very beneficial, too, judging from the excellent health and exceedingly pretty face of this young lady stunt flier.—Lansing (Mich.) Daily.

A good friend stands by you when in need. East Jordan people tell how Doan's Kidney Pills have stood the test. H. H. Cummings, proffed and grain business of Main St., endorsed Doan's many years ago and again confirms the story. Could you ask for more convincing testimony?

"My kidneys were not acting right and I had a dull ache in the small of my back just over my kidneys," says Mr. Cummings. "I used a box of Doan's Kidney Pills and they acted promptly in correcting the action of my kidneys and ridding me of the backache and pains. I know Doan's have been beneficial to me." (Statement given Aug. 3, 1909.)

On April 23, 1920, Mr. Cummings added: "I haven't had any further need of a kidney medicine since Doan's rid me of the trouble years ago. I gladly confirm the statement I made before."

COAL SHORTAGE CUTS TRAIN RUNS

DRASTIC REDUCTIONS MADE IN MICHIGAN TRAIN SCHEDULES

ONLY 185,000 MINERS AT WORK

Survey Issued by Secretary of Labor Shows 610,000 Men on Strike—Situation Becomes Serious.

Detroit—Further curtailment of passenger service, affecting the greater part of Michigan and part of Canada, was announced by the Pere Marquette railway Sunday. Several trains have been cancelled, due to the acute condition brought about by the strike of the coal miners, in addition to the score cut off by the company last week. Other roads have also curtailed schedules.

The situation is becoming more serious each day, officials of the road said. Railway service during the coming week was declared uncertain. Boat lines operating out of this city also have been affected by the strike. The Detroit & Cleveland Navigation company announced last week it would suspend the day run to Cleveland.

The Nicholson Transit company has cancelled the Monday boat to Kingsville, Ont. The White Star line and the Detroit & Windsor Ferry company still are maintaining normal schedules, although Walter E. Campbell, manager of the latter concern, said he did not know how long this would continue, so far as his company is concerned.

Three-Fourths of Miners Idle.

Washington—Operators from coal producing districts of six states were asked Monday by Secretary Hoover to co-operate with the government and railroads in a plan to insure distribution of fuel to carriers and public utilities and to prevent profiteering during the strike emergency.

All angles of Hoover's scheme, which contemplated formation of a central committee to operate through local committees in producing districts of Virginia, West Virginia, Tennessee, Kentucky, Pennsylvania and Alabama, were threshed out Sunday at a series of conferences of federal agencies involved.

Mr. Hoover's program is intended to give the country the full benefit of the present bituminous production in the face of a rapidly dwindling coal supply and active mine force.

According to a survey issued by James J. Davis, secretary of labor, 610,000 miners are now out on strike and 185,000 are still at work.

The policy of the Administration to go slow in the assignment of Federal troops to guard duty in the mine fields was indicated by John W. Weeks, secretary of war, who stated that except at the request of state governors troops would be detailed only after a survey of the situation in a troubled district.

BOY AVERTS WRECK OF TRAIN

Halts Flyer in Time to Save Lives of 300 Passengers.

Grand Rapids, Mich.—Standing on the track facing a speeding locomotive, waving a torn red handkerchief, an unknown farmer lad, signalled a train on the Pennsylvania system, and caused it to stop in time to save the lives of 300 resorters.

A defective rail had attracted the boy's attention, and although a part of the train passed over the break, it was not going fast enough to cause a wreck.

The lad disappeared and railroad officials are looking for him to offer a reward.

U. S. PLANS NEW RESERVE ARMY

National Guard Divisions To Be Officer by War Veterans.

Washington—Steps to establish "a national position in readiness" for the army as a development of the national military policy are forecast in a memorandum submitted recently by General Pershing to Secretary Weeks and made public Sunday at the war department.

The project contemplates assignment of national guard divisions to specific defensive positions on coasts and borders to which they would be rushed in event of war.

What the Strikes Are Costing.

Washington—The twin coal and rail strikes have caused a loss of over $600,000,000 to workers, employers and American industry generally and the figures grow daily, according to best estimates made by government statisticians.

U. S. Expenses Cut Over a Billion.

Washington—Ordinary expenditures of the government during the fiscal year just closed fell off by $1,392,000,000 as compared with the previous year, while public debt disbursements showed a decline of $2,111,000,000 according to a statement of classified expenditures for the 12 months ending June 30, issued by the treasury. For the last fiscal year, ordinary expenditures aggregated $3,372,000,000 against $5,116,000,000 for the year ending June 30, 1921.

EDWIN DENBY

Pekin, China—Edwin Denby, secretary of the American navy, whose home is in Detroit, Mich., narrowly escaped death here last week in an airplane accident.

He was flying at a height of 4,000 feet over the Great Wall when the engine of the plane broke down. The machine was demolished in landing, but Mr. Denby was uninjured.

The gasoline feed line on the engine of the airplane choked while over a mountain gorge. The expert aviation ability of Captain Charles Dolan, a Bostonian and former member of the Lafayette Esquadron, averted what might have been a serious accident.

Pilot Dolan skillfully effected a landing in an open field, going through a horseshoe turn without injuring anyone.

The landing was effected in a plowed field, where the natives had never seen an airplane before and tremendous crowds gathered.

SOLDIERS GUARD STATE MINES

Refusal of Mine Union Head to Permit Men to Work Brings Action.

Lansing—Following receipt of a telegram from John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, that Michigan miners would not be permitted to return to work until the national strike is settled, Governor Groesbeck conferred with John Harris, state mining inspector, on the phases of state operation of the coal mines.

Shortly after his arrival at Saginaw, the governor conferred with representatives of both the operators and the men. He found the operators ready to re-open the mines on the old wage scale, pending a national wage agreement and the miners willing to return to work on the same conditions.

The Governor's plan was to put the mines under the protection of the State Department of Public Safety, using State Police and Michigan National Guardsmen if necessary, and then offer the miners their old jobs back, urging them to disregard the orders of John L. Lewis, head of the United Mine Workers' national organization, not to return.

U. S. MOVES TO APPORTION COAL

If Situation Becomes More Serious, Priority Orders Will be Issued.

Washington—Evidently not counting on President Harding's plan to use troops around the mines as a sure producer of coal for the needs of the immediate future, Secretary Hoover started the wheels of the administration working to effect a distribution of the available supplies of coal that will care for the needs of the railroads and the northwest.

Secretary Hoover said that as yet, the situation did not warrant the issuance of priority orders on the movement of freight. He said, if the government is forced to issue priority orders, necessities of life would first be moved, and then essentials would have to be sidetracked.

Railroads must be given first call on current supplies of coal, in order to increase the current supplies. Production in the non-union fields is falling off because of the lack of sufficient transportation.

Courtney Ryley Cooper

One who was born in Kansas City, Mo., and spent much of his young life farther west; who ran away from school and became a clown in a circus; who later graduated into a special writer on the Kansas City Star, New York World, Denver Post and Chicago Tribune, and who has written over 200 stories for magazines, would seem to know something of life and how to interpret it in an interesting manner. You will think so if you read his excellent mining romance entitled "The Cross-Cut," which is soon to start in this paper.

Let's not dismiss his experiences with the above brief summary. After clowning, Mr. Cooper became the press representative of the Sells-Floto circus and later with Col. W. F. Cody (Buffalo Bill). In 1918 he became a private in the U. S. Marines, and afterwards was commissioned second lieutenant and sent to France to collate historical matter concerning the Marines. He is the author of "Shoe-String Charlie," "The Eagle's Eye," "Dear Folks at Home" and other stories, as well as several successful plays. With Mrs. W. F. Cody, he wrote "Memories of Buffalo Bill." Also writes under the pen names of Barney Furey, William O. Grenolds and Jack Harlow. Don't fail to read "The Cross-Cut."

Her First Love Adventure.

I was fifteen then. It was after midnight, when my girl friend and I left a dance, and we were afraid to go home. Two young men asked us if they might escort us home, and we consented. The young man who took me, asked me to call him up the next day. My affair was love at first sight, but ended when I called him up. He asked who was speaking and I said, "I'm the girl you escorted home last night." Imagine how I felt when he said, "Which one?" I hung up the receiver, and that ended my love affair. I haven't seen him since.—Chicago Journal.

Beautiful Ceylon.

Drowsing in the Indian ocean, and about three times as large as our state of New Jersey, lies the beautiful tropical island of Ceylon, an island of Asia. Known as far back as the time of the ancient Greeks and Romans but conquered by Great Britain in 1796 and now one of her colonies, ruled by a governor chosen by the crown. Its name means "the Island of Lions," but in its jungles today wild elephants live and roam at will.

Lure of the Dunes.

Much of the mysterious lure of the dunes is in the magnificent sweep of the great lake along the wild shores. Its restless waters are the complement of the indolent sands. The distant bands of deep blue and green, dappled with dancing white-caps, in the vistas through the openings, impart vivid color accents to the gray and neutral tones of the foregrounds. —Earl H. Reed.

Bankers Originally Lombards.

The great bankers and money lenders of the Middle ages were Italian merchants who came principally from the cities of Lombardy and settled in London, Paris, and other large European cities. Lombard street in London became a great financial center and the name Lombard came to be a synonym for money lender or usurer.

To Be Greatly Good.

Potato markets generally steady to firm during the week. Chicago and Pittsburgh slightly weaker, supplies limited in certain cities. Markets stronger at shipping points; watercress about steady for good stock, some stock showing decay.

Corn kept narrow limits and closed lower with wheat.

Volume Savings Permit Greater Value

There are hundreds of parts in a motor car. Many companies buy all, some makers build a few, of the parts that go to make up a complete motor car. For every part they buy, a partsmaker's profit must be included in the final price.

Studebaker plants, under Studebaker control and inspection.

The savings, because of tremendous volume, give the buyer extraordinary value.

Complete manufacture also explains the uniform high quality that you get in a Studebaker car, whether it is a Light-Six, a Special-Six or a Big-Six.

And uniform high quality has made Studebaker cars known everywhere for their dependable performance in owners' use.

Studebaker builds every vital part. Motors, bodies, axles, transmissions, frames, tops and other parts are designed and manufactured completely from raw material to finished product in USCO set the high value mark for 30 x 3 1/2 tires when it originated the $10.90 price last fall.

USCO today betters that mark with a new and greater USCO—an USCO improved in many important ways.

For instance, a thicker tread—with a surer hold on the road—thicker side walls, adding strength and life to the tire.

And the price is $10.90—with the tax absorbed by the manufacturer.

Men have always looked to USCO for the biggest tire money's worth on the market.

Joe Bennett was extracting honey for E. F. LaCroix, Monday.

While enroute to East Jordan Saturday, Mrs. J. W. Hayden and son S. C. were much pleased to learn a woman whom they had invited to ride with Mrs. Wm. Tate, a very close neighbor and friend of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Faust when they lived at Rock Elm and she was also acquainted with Mrs. Elmer Faust, near Ruth Hayden, and that she always read the Peninsular items.

I am in receipt of a box by mail of a wonderful collection of Hollyhock blossoms. There is nearly 100 blossoms and nearly 20 varieties, some of which I have never seen before. They make a very large platter full. The sender did not add a name, but I am very much pleased. I am very fond of Hollyhocks. I am also indebted to Mrs. Charles Woerfler for a very large bouquet of beautiful sweet peas.

A letter of recent date from F. B. Dow at Kissimmee, Fla., their new home states Mrs. Dow has been very poorly all summer and was ill in bed at the writing.

F. D. Russell has begun harvesting his cherries at Ridgeway farms. He has an immense crop. He is shipping to North Port on the boat.

Joe Bennett is picking his cherries and shipping them to the canning factory at North Port on the boat.

Mrs. George Weaver and children of Boyne City spent last week with Mrs. Weaver's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ira McKee in Star District, picking berries and cherries. The rest of the family returned home Saturday, but Ira, the oldest boy remained to help his grandparents for a few days.

The Ironton ball team who were to have played the Whip-Poor-Will at Hayden Point Sunday, did not show up so they got enough together for two teams and spent the time practicing. They hope to have a game next Sunday with the Tannery team.

WOODY'S BATTLE

LITTLE WOODY CHUCK found himself one day all alone in the big world, for his mother had put him, with his brothers and sisters, out of their home, and told them they must look out for themselves.

Mrs. Woodchuck is not a very loving mother—not at all like Mrs. Fox, who takes the greatest care of her children, or Mrs. Possum, who often is bringing up two families at the same time.

And so it happened that little Woody Chuck found himself looking for a home one day when he was quite young.

Dropping his tail, he ran for home.

He was not at all afraid, because he had never seen a dog or a gun; so he hunted around and found a place to make a new home.

Now, woodchucks are not very hard working animals; so, when Woody had finished his home he went inside and stayed until the next day, when the sun was nice and warm, for woodchucks are very fond of sunning themselves.

For a long time Woody Chuck thought the world was a very nice place. The garden was near, and of course he thought all the vegetables were grown for his use; so he ate all he wanted.

But one day he had a rude awakening, for Mr. Dog saw him, and after him he ran; but as Woody is a good runner, he easily reached his home ahead of Mr. Dog and turned around in the doorway to chuckle satirically at poor Mr. Dog. But Mr. Dog went right up to the door and began to dig, and pretty soon Woody knew that he would have to move, or the chuckling would be done by Mr. Dog this time.

So Woody Chuck began to burrow, filling up the hole as he went and keeping ahead of Mr. Dog, who kept right on digging, for he knew Woody must be in there somewhere.

Woody intended to make an opening when he was far enough away from Mr. Dog; but, to his surprise, he came against a rock, which seemed to hold him prisoner, and it was then he found out he had good, sharp teeth. Mr. Dog kept right on digging, and coming closer and closer, Woody Chuck knew then he would have to fight to save himself; so he waited, and just as the end of Mr. Dog's nose came through the earth, Woody set his sharp teeth in it with so much force that Mr. Dog did not stop even to say good-by, he just backed out, ki-yi-ing loudly, and dropping his tail, he ran for home, stopping every now and then to rub his hurt nose.

Woody Chuck came out, and, sitting up on his hind legs, he looked about and chuckled again. "I thought Mr. Dog was going to laugh this time," he said, "and if I had not found how long and sharp my teeth are, I know he would. I really must take good care of my teeth, for I have learned today that they are useful to me in other ways than eating. And now I must find a place to make a new home, for Mr. Dog has certainly wrecked this one."

THE WEDDING

"A thing of custom—'tis no other—"
Shakespeare.

"I AM about to be married," is the way one correspondent starts her query, "but we have not announced our engagement, as we wish to give our friends a genuine surprise. We are going to slip off some day soon and get married, but want to send wedding cards. Will you kindly tell me how they should be worded?"

To begin with, do not attempt anything original or informal. It is quite all right to announce an engagement in an original way, but the wedding announcement should be entirely formal. In most cases the announcements should be sent out in the name of the bride's parents, or those who stand in the place of a parent in case the bride is an orphan, or an aunt, uncle or grandparent. If possible, have these announcements engraved and send them out the day of the marriage as soon as it is over. Have all envelopes addressed and stamped and ready to send out directly. All announcements should be sent at exactly the same time. Here is the usual form:

Mr. and Mrs. John Brown have the honor to announce the marriage of their daughter to
Anne

Mr. James Smith Jones
on Thursday, May the eighth nineteen hundred and twenty-two at St. Thomas' church
New York.

If it is a grandparent, sister or brother whose name need not be the same as the bride, then in place of the single word Anne, on the fourth line should be inserted "Miss Anne Brown." In the unusual event that the contracting persons have no near relatives to send these announcements they may send an announcement worded thus:

and Miss Anne Brown
have the honor to announce their marriage
on Thursday, May the eighth etc.

If you do not feel that you can afford engraved announcements the best thing to do would be to write letters on the day of the wedding, to be posted immediately afterwards, telling your nearest friends of the event, but wording them as you would any other friendly note. It is a good idea to send an announcement to the society editor of your local paper also, because the chances are that the paper will get news of the event, and surely you want to do everything in your power to make their notice of the event accurate.

There is no reason why any one who wishes to do so should not have this quiet sort of marriage without a previously announced engagement; however, the fact is that society girls seldom do, nor do persons who occupy a rather high position socially, unless, of course, there is parental objection and the event is in the nature of an elopement.

"What's in a Name?"
By MILDRED MARSHALL

VIVIAN

THE charming name of Vivian is almost the equivalent of the adjective "vivacious." It means lively, having been derived from the Latin via signifying life, and was used by the Roman Christians to express their hopes of eternity.

The first feminine name formed from vita is Vivia, a name made famous by Vivia Perpetua, the noble young matron of Carthage, whose martyrdom is one of the most touching histories of the early church. Her many votaries gave vogue to her name.

In later Roman days Viviana came to be popular through a Christian maiden of that name who was put to death by a Roman governor on the charge that she had destroyed the sight of one of his eyes by magic. Much later a church was erected over her remains. Her fame and name lingered, and appears prominently again in "Morte d'Arthur" when Viviana is the enchantress of King Arthur's court.

Scotland took over the name of Vivian, applying it as both a masculine and feminine name. France adopted the masculine form as Vivien and straightway formed the now-popular feminine Vivienne. England has always favored Vivian and America received and popularized the name under that spelling. Viviana is the favored form in Spain and Italy, the latter country still employing the early Roman Vivia.

Vivian's talismanic gem is the life-giving ruby. Its inextinguishable flame promises her dauntless courage, bodily health and strength, and dispels evil spirits. To dream of it signifies unexpected guests. Friday is her lucky day and three her lucky number. The lily, signifying purity, is her flower.

WHY?
DO THEY CALL IT
"HONEYMOON?"

THE custom of alluding to the time immediately after one's wedding as a "honeymoon" is from the ancient tribes of Central Europe, where the newly married couples drank and served to their friends a wine made from honey gathered the first 30 days (or moon) after the performance of the wedding ceremony.

After persisting for several years, this custom finally died out, but its significance remained particularly as the serving of the honied wines was succeeded by the practice of the married couple's leaving their home for a varying length of time. For this reason, the trip which follows the marriage ceremony is now known as a "honeymoon," though it has nothing to do with wine and generally lasts less than a month.

RADIO

POSITION AND SIZE OF GRID IMPORTANT

Determine Value of Negative Potential Necessary to Reduce the Plate Current to Zero.

In using a three-electrode vacuum tube in a radio set it is preferable to maintain the grid negative with respect to the filament in order to require the minimum amount of energy in the control of the plate circuit.

The relative position of the grid with respect to the filament and the plate and the size of the mesh of the grid, determine the value of E. E is the negative potential which must be applied to the grid in order to reduce the plate current to zero. The value of F, which is the positive grid potential that will cause the maximum or saturation current to flow in the plate circuit, is also determined by the relative position of the grid with respect to the filament and plate. If the grid is of very fine mesh, the value of E is small because the electrons in passing through the small mesh of the grid on their journey from the filament to the plate will negatively charge the grid and will be repelled. Similarly a small positive charge applied to a fine mesh will tend to accelerate the velocity of the electrons.

In case of a very coarse mesh grid, the electrons can pass through the apertures in the grid without coming in so close to the charge on it and a relatively high potential will be required on the grid to control the electron stream, or in other words, the current flowing in the plate circuit.

Referring to Fig. VIII, O-G, is the current that will flow in the O-I circuit when there is no potential applied to the grid. Suppose a positive potential as O-I is applied to the grid. The corresponding plate circuit current will be I-D or I-D' more than it was when the grid had no potential applied to it.

A negative potential of O-H is now applied to the grid where O-H is equal in value to O-I, but opposite in sign. The application of the negative potential when applied to the grid will cause the plate current to be reduced to a value H-C or A-C, less than it was when there was no potential applied to the grid. So it is seen that a negative potential when applied to the grid does not reduce the plate circuit current as much as the same positive potential increased the plate circuit current. This irregular conductivity of the tube is made use of when the tube is used as a detector or rectifier of radio signals.

The incoming radio signal is a high frequency alternating current. Let us apply an alternating difference of potential whose maximum positive value is equal to O-I and whose maximum negative value is equal to O-II, the three-electrode tube whose characteristic curve is the same as that shown in Fig. VIII. In Fig. IX is shown the alternating difference of potential applied to the grid. Through the first quarter of a cycle, from zero at J to a maximum negative value at K, equal to O-II, the plate circuit current will vary from O-G, its value at P when no grid potential is applied to a value at Q equal to H-C.

During the next quarter of a cycle the grid potential changes from a maximum negative value at K to zero at L. The corresponding values of plate circuit current are shown by the portion of the plate current curve Q-R.

During the next or third quarter of a cycle the applied grid potential increases from zero at L to a maximum positive value at M, equal to O-I, and causes the plate circuit to increase from I-D, its value when the plate potential is zero, to I-D, an increase in plate current equal to B-D.

During the remaining fourth quarter of a cycle as the applied grid potential varies from a maximum positive value at M to zero at N, the plate circuit current varies from a value S to T.

Assuming that the characteristic curve as shown in Fig. VIII and Fig. IX was with a potential of 40 volts on the plate, then, if the plate current is to be reduced to zero by a variation of plate voltage—with no potential applied to the grid—the plate voltage must be reduced to zero or a reduction of 40 volts must be made.

If the 40 volts is maintained on the plate and a negative potential of E-O is applied to the grid, it will reduce the current to zero.

Suppose O-E represents five volts. It can be seen then that a change of five volts in grid potential will accomplish the same result that 40 volts will in the plate circuit. The ratio of the voltage change in the plate circuit is called the factor of the tube and is denoted by the letter "K."

In the tube just discussed the amplification factor would be 40 divided by five or eight. The amplification factor of the tubes available for amateur use at present is usually between 4 and 10. The amplification factor is a function of the dimensions and relative positions of the elements in the tube.

An incoming radio frequency alternating current applied to the grid of a three-electrode vacuum tube is not only rectified but the variation in the plate is multiplied by "K," the amplification factor of the tube. This makes the three-electrode vacuum the most sensitive detector available.

In actual tubes the point "Q" on the characteristic curves as shown in Fig. VIII and Fig. IX may not fall on such a point of the curve that symmetrical changes in grid potential will cause a symmetrical change in plate current, starting with zero potential on the grid.

It then becomes necessary to apply a constant potential to the grid by means of a battery in the grid circuit, called the "C" battery, to maintain the grid at such a point on the characteristic curve that symmetrical changes in grid potential will cause the maximum symmetrical current to flow in the plate circuit.

Big Ships' Radio.
The radio equipment of the ships Paris and Lafayette is described in a recent issue of Radioelectricity. On both steamers a five-kilowatt tube transmitter has been installed with a wave range of between 2,000 and 5,000 meters. A five-kilowatt motor-generator set is used to produce the plate-high tension for four rectifying and four oscillatory tubes, and the low voltage current for the heating of the filament of these tubes. Both vessels are equipped with a radio range-finder, or "radio goniometer," which, reduced to plain English, means a radio compass. A distance of 3,400 kilometers has been covered safely by messages sent from the transmitter of the Paris.

Radio for Animal Training.
Experiments with the radiophone as an aid in animal training are to be made at the Hippodrome, New York city, by George Power, trainer of the elephants, to determine whether it will be possible for his big pets at some future date to execute his orders on the stage while the trainer himself is absent.

Professor Bell a Radio Fan.
Finding the telephone, his own invention, a source of annoyance to him, Alexander Graham Bell had it removed from his home. With the radiophone there is a difference, it seems, for Mr. Bell, now seventy-five years old, is said never to tire of "listening in" and experimenting with the new device. There are few more ardent enthusiasts, declare his friends.

RADIO DON'TS
Don't expect the circuit to oscillate with equal strength over a great range if you tune the grid circuit with capacity alone. Keep the ratio of L to C as near constant as possible while tuning.
Don't expect a circuit to oscillate if the natural period of the tickler circuit is equal to the natural period of the grid circuit.
Don't place the tickler or plate variometer tight against the grid coil or a change in the plate circuit will detune the grid circuit.
Don't expect high impedance tubes to oscillate freely in a circuit designed for low impedance tubes.
Don't discard a regenerative receiver until you have tried more than one detector tube.
Don't forget that a soft gaseous tube is the best detector, and that a hard tube is the best oscillator.
Don't treat inductance coils with shellac or any other varnish or compound that will absorb moisture.

LESS MEAT IF BACK AND KIDNEYS HURT
Take a glass of Salts to flush Kidneys if Bladder bothers you—Drink lots of water.
Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well-known authority, because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish; clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.
The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.
Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus avoiding serious kidney disease.

LADIES! SECRET TO DARKEN GRAY HAIR
Bring Back its Color and Lustre with Grandma's Sage Tea Recipe.
Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use preparation improved by the addition of other ingredients in a large bottle, at little cost, at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of fuss.
White gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant, and you appear years younger. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

APPLY SULPHUR ON YOUR ECZEMA SKIN
Costs Little and Overcomes Trouble Almost Over Night
Any breaking out of the skin, even fiery, itching eczema, can be quickly overcome by applying Mentho-Sulphur, declares a noted skin specialist. Because this sulphur preparation instantaneously brings care from skin irritation, soothes and heals the eczema right up and leaves the skin clear and smooth.
It never fails to relieve the torment without delay. Sufferers from skin trouble should obtain a small jar of Mentho-Sulphur from any good druggist and use it like cold cream.

Told of Victor Hugo.

Of Victor Hugo it is told that once when a word used in one of his poems was criticized as "not French," he calmly replied: "It is now." The story may not be true, but it might have been, for no doubt, if occasion had arisen, Victor Hugo was quite capable of saying just that, and of believing it, too. Moreover, his confidence in his power was not without excuse, or even reason, for in his day his right to increase the French vocabulary was about as good as that of anybody else—New York Times.

Fire in Forests.

Destruction by fire of mature forests and areas of second growth remains our most serious problem, says the American Forestry Magazine. If we can only make every man, woman and child appreciate the danger of fire and eliminate it to the degree that European nations have done, we will soon find ourselves well on the road to realize that perpetual forest dream, and insure for all time a steady and constant supply of the wood and paper upon which we all depend.

Many people who have followed the mining history of Colorado will recognize the Silver Queen and the Blue Poppy mines, described in Mr. Cooper's story. Everyone will find it a tale of most absorbing interest in its unusual combination of love, mystery, humor and the excitement of hunting the earth's hidden wealth.

The hopes, the disappointments and the realizations; the elements of calculation and of blind luck which enter into the most fascinating of human pursuits are fascinatingly told by one who knows his subject thoroughly, and, in addition, is one of America's most accomplished story writers. Readers will take a personal interest in the struggles of the hero and his pal, and feel a personal gratification in the good fortune which finally rewarded their perseverance and grit.

How The Master Driver Became Master Tire Builder.

IN 1903, driving the "999" racing car, Barney Oldfield started his career of victories that later earned him the title of "Master Driver of The World." To overcome the tire weaknesses that made racing difficult and dangerous, he studied tires—specified materials—supervised construction.

Today, Barney Oldfield is known as the "Master Tire Builder." Starting with the crude tires which carried the "999" one mile in sixty seconds, Oldfield gradually developed his famous Cords—a set of which covered 500 miles at eighty-eight miles an hour without a change.

In three years Oldfield tires have won every important race on American speedways. They are the only American tires that have ever taken first place in the French Grand Prix. They have won for three consecutive years in the 500-mile Indianapolis Sweepstakes. So far in 1922, Oldfields have lowered four World's Records and seven track records.

The Wichita Test Run gave evidence of Oldfield superiority in touring—when a set of four Cords covered 34,525 miles over rutted, frozen, winter roads—a performance attested by the Mayor of Wichita.

See your dealer and get a set of these rugged tires that Barney Oldfield has developed and perfected through a lifetime of practical tire experience. Their performance will convince you that they are "The Most Trustworthy Tires Built."

You Need the Newspaper

The newspaper of today is the most powerful medium of advertising on earth. In the old days the merchant may have thought he was a benefactor and that he was contributing his bit "as a public-spirited citizen" when he carried a two-inch space in the village paper every week in the year and generally without change of copy. Possibly he was.

But that is changed now. A new order has arrived. People read advertisements. Many find their greatest interest in looking over the advertising pages to get news that will save them money, and, take it from John D. Rockefeller, the way to save your dollars is first to save your pennies.

Advertisements today are right up to the minute. They are as fresh as the news of the world or the latest baseball score. Live merchants cater to live people and they know they must not alone be up to the minute, but they must be some distance ahead. They must anticipate the wants of their customers.

And they do. Turn to the advertisements in this paper right now. Just read what the merchants are offering. Notice the invitations for you to do business with them. Notice how attractively the advertisements are set up and how inviting they are.

Do you know that some firms think so much of a style of type that they buy series of it just for their advertisement? You can never mistake B. Altman's advertisement. As soon as you see the open type you know it is Altman's advertisement without looking for the name. This is true of many firms.

Business men—that is the successful ones—know advertising pays big returns. Unsuccessful men don't advertise because they are unsuccessful. That's the answer. Look over your town right now and pick out the big firms. They're the advertisers. Advertising is the tonic that puts dividends in the banks.

Everybody reads advertisements today. Mr. Merchant, is your advertisement in this newspaper?

SENATORS RAIL PARLEY FAILS

CONFERENCE WITH HEADS OF ROADS ENDS WITHOUT AGREEMENT.

OFFICIALS REFUSE TO YIELD

Points at Issue Said to Have Been Seniority Rule, Pension Status and Adjustment Board.

Washington—A settlement of the strike of railway shopmen appears more remote than ever following what was said to have been an insistent refusal by railway executives who conferred here with members of the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee to accede to some of the union demands.

The position taken by the heads of leading railroads at the suddenly arranged conference last Friday night, said to have been called on the initiative of Senator Cummins, chairman of the Senate committee, was viewed by those participating as making further such efforts at a settlement appear fruitless.

The principal points in dispute between the executives, who were called here more or less secretly, and the union were gone over in detail at the conference together with the possibility of legislation to meet the situation. It was said that no legislation was practicable to deal with the present strike.

The rail executives, it was stated, were insistent upon three points which the unions are demanding as a recession to send the men back to work. These are the seniority rule, the restoration of the pension status and the question of boards of adjustment between the employers and employees.

At the conference, it was said that the rail executives declared they could not and would not yield to the union demand for a national board of adjustment. They also were said to be insistent upon refusing to restore the status quo of employees on strike with respect to their seniority and pension rights.

All of these have been demanded by the union representatives as necessary before they would order the men back to work pending a rehearing of the question of wage scales.

DENOUNCES FORD SHOALS OFFER

Senate Committee Brands Proposal as "Soulless Piracy."

Washington—Rejection of Henry Ford's offer for Muscle Shoals and enactment of legislation for development of the war-built projects in Alabama by a government-owned and government-controlled corporation was recommended to the senate last week by Chairman Norris, of the senate agriculture committee.

The charges against Ford and his effort to get control of Muscle Shoals were made by the majority report of the senate agriculture committee, which voted 9 to 7 against accepting his offer. Instead of being the philanthropist and magical benefactor of millions of people as his admirers have pictured him, Henry Ford was characterized as the head of the "piratical" corporation seeking through his bid for Muscle Shoals a virtual donation of $14,500,000,000 from the taxpayers of the country.

Ford, the report asserted, not only wanted the property with its water power potentialities greater than any project in the world, at "unreasonable terms," but in addition demanded that the government furnish all the money for its development and the taxpayers of the country assume all the risk involved.

STRIKE BOOSTS COAL PRICES

Fear of Shortage Causing Consumers To Pay For Inflated Values.

Detroit—Scarcity of soft coal due to the strike of miners and railroad men has sent prices soaring in Detroit.

Many consumers have become panicky and are paying $6.75 and $7 a ton at the mines. To this must be added $2.58 a ton for freight and from 25 cents to 28 cents for unloading, which brings the price in Detroit to approximately $10 a ton.

The skyrocketing of prices is in defiance of the order of Herbert Hoover, secretary of commerce, fixing $3.50 as the maximum price at the mines. The same grade of coal now being sold at $6.75 and $7 a ton could be had at the mines a short time ago for $1.25 a ton.

Even with the purchase at the mines at these prices there is no assurance of prompt delivery, because the railroad strike is interfering with the movement of cars.

Kills Baseball Umpire With Bat.
St. Louis—Charles Bouzek, 33, a deputy sheriff of Rock Creek, died of a fractured skull caused by a blow over the head with a baseball bat in the hands of Charles Woolsey, 18, of Valley Park. Woolsey, enraged by a decision made by Bouzek, who was umpiring a baseball game at Fenton, near here, struck Bouzek with a bat during an argument. Woolsey fled and was overtaken by fans attending the game. He was placed in jail at Clayton.

THE ROMANCE OF WORDS

"JUBILEE"

THOUGH a number of etymologists maintain that this word is derived from the Latin jubilate, to shout for joy, its pedigree really antedates the birth of the Latin language, going back to the Hebrew, where we find the word yobel, meaning literally the blast of a trumpet, and by extension, the year of jubilation which was announced by this trumpet.

According to the law in Leviticus 25, this was an epoch of general restoration and emancipation, celebrated every fifty years, when liberty was to be proclaimed throughout the land with the blowing of trumpets in the synagogue. During this jubilee year the land was not tilled, all lands that had been sold were returned to their original owners or their heirs, and all bondsmen of Hebrew blood were liberated.

The Christian church adopted the term from the Jewish, and in turn, a number of secular governments took up the idea, the jubilees of George III and Queen Victoria being two of the most famous in modern history. (Copyright.)

And I know the prudent one
With nothing but his back,
Would never try to stop a train
By standing on the track.

Beginning of "Bootlegging."
Conflict between private makers of whisky and the government began with the passage of the Alexander Hamilton excise law in 1791. This led to the whisky rebellion in 1794, when it was demonstrated that organized and public opposition to the law was futile and such distilleries began to resort to secrecy and evasion.

A LINE O' CHEER

By John Kendrick Bangs.

THE WORLD
BAD old world? Well, I don't know.
When I see the lilies blow;
When I watch the roses bloom;
With their beauty and perfume;
When at dawn I see the Light
Rise triumphant from the night;
When I note the golden yields
Of the autumn harvest fields;
When I hear the birds hard by Singing, winging through the sky;
When I hear a Mother's song—
Even with its wealth of wrong
This old world appears to me
Fairly good and sweet to me.

Surgeon Cuts Extra Head Off of Boy Born With Two

Brussels.—A report is being made to the Belgian Academy of Medicine of a remarkable surgical operation performed by Chief Surgeon Gianolla at the Jumez hospital in the village of Torgnier, when an abnormal secondary head on a boy born a week ago was successfully amputated. The remaining head of the boy is normal. The one removed was larger and malformed.

FUR SEALS GO NORTH

Migration Begins for Rendezvous in the Bering Sea.

Herd Leaves South Pacific Waters and Follows the Western Coasts of United States, British Columbia and Alaska.

Port Angeles, Wash.—The Pacific fur seal herd is on the move.

The annual migration to the northward has begun, and the vanguard soon will appear off the coasts of Washington and British Columbia, leading the way to the summer rendezvous on the Pribilof Islands in the middle of Bering sea.

All winter long the seals have been scattered through the South Pacific, but as spring approaches the mating instinct turns their heads to the North and they converge toward the California coast and then follow their time-worn groove along the western coasts of the United States, British Columbia and Alaska, the milestones of their route being the deep sea fishing banks, where succulent salmon, halibut and other fish keep them sleek and fat.

Pew, if any, other animals are so carefully pampered and nursed by Uncle Sam, and except for such fostering the fur seal probably now would be an extinct animal. With the exception of a small colony that summers on the Commander Islands, off the coast of Kamchatka, Siberia, the herd which propagates on the Pribilofs is the only fur seal herd known to be in existence.

When Alaska was purchased from Russia, the seals on the Pribilof Islands numbered, according to various official estimates, from two to five million animals, but due to ruthless operations by sealers of many nations the herds were decimated annually. The United States government, year after year, endeavored to negotiate treaties for the protection of the seals and in 1891 a measure of success was obtained in a treaty with Great Britain which practically eliminated Canadian sealers.

The massacre of the herds continued, however. Numerous schooners flying the Japanese flag annually reaped a rich harvest, and the Japanese government steadfastly refused to interfere with the enterprise. Finally, in 1911, when the herds by unrestrained pelagic sealing had been reduced to approximately 250,000 animals, the efforts of the United States were rewarded and a treaty among four nations—Russia, Great Britain, Japan and the United States—was negotiated, to continue in force for 15 years.

This agreement prohibited any of the nationals of the signatory powers from taking seals at any time anywhere, with the provision, however, that agents of the United States might take a few thousand skins each year from bachelor males summering on the Pribilofs. This does not interfere with the propagation of the herds. By the terms of the treaty the United States not only amply rewarded the nations for any loss sustained by their nationals, but agreed to give annually 15 per cent of the proceeds of the skins taken from the few animals killed.

NEW YORK? IT'S IN THE ALPS

Swiss Peasant, Sending Telegram, Insists on It and Then Proves It.

Geneva, Switzerland.—A peasant handed in a telegram of a few words at a branch telegraph office for his wife in New York and placed a franc on the counter for payment.

The clerk asked whether the wire was really meant to be sent to New York and proceeded to make the calculation. When the comparatively large sum required was announced to the peasant, he protested loudly and insisted that New York was in Switzerland.

So it was found to be, but it took long and patient search through a large ancient volume to discover that there is a New York in Switzerland, an Alpine hamlet of fifty inhabitants not far from Lucerne.

Moss Ruins Wool.

Centralia, Wash.—Sheep came in for shearing from shears on the ranges of Lincoln creek with a luxuriant growth of moss on their backs. During the winter the locks were permitted the liberty of feeding in the open country. The wool became drenched in the misty rains and, mixed with the soil of the feeding pens, formed the basis for the formation of the moss. According to local buyers the sheep, so affected, cannot be shorn as the fleeces are so damaged as not to be worth the expense. The wool will be allowed to die and shed out as nature designed.

A story which effectually sets forth the romance of mining for precious metals. The scene is laid in Colorado and the principal incidents have to do with attempts to steal a rich mine. A tale of high order made more interesting by the author's intimate knowledge of mining-town life and his ability to inject a pleasing humor in the telling of it. The plucky hero and the spirited heroine will make a strong appeal. With a superb plot, a realistic background and excellent characterization, "The Cross-Cut" will be liked by all lovers of virile American fiction.

This Splendid Story Will Be Printed as a Serial in The Charlevoix County Herald commencing next week.
