Secret Army Alarms Paris

German Military Moves Exciting France.

Paris—The French government, alarmed at the growth of secret German military organizations, has asked Great Britain to co-operate in compelling Germany to respect the treaty disarmament obligations, it was made known here last week.

Officials lay stress upon the obvious futility of Germany's sounding out Washington or London about peace while the German attitude incites such happenings in the Ruhr and Rhineland.

Paris police last week arrested Herr Oellain, German deputy from Thuringen, who came here to attend a communist meeting of protest against French occupation of the Ruhr.

London—A dispatch to the Daily Mail from Paris says official or semi-official direct negotiations between Germany and France and Belgium will almost certainly be opened soon.

Berlin—A serious blow has been struck at the German plan of passive resistance by the general strike of the miners of the most important Upper Silesian mines, which endangers Germany's main coal reserves.

The workers claim that members of nationalist organizations smuggled themselves into the plants as workers and were terrorizing those who disapproved their political ideas.

At a special meeting they nominated a commission, which asked the directors to dismiss the nationalist workers.

The directors refused and dismissed the members of the workers' council, who submitted the request.

The workers walked out of the mines and sent an ultimatum to the directors demanding an immediate unconditional reinstatement of their representatives.

Berlin—Value of properties seized by the French and Belgians in the Ruhr and adjacent territory is estimated at approximately $625,000,000 by the Prussian ministry of commerce.

The properties confiscated include mines, mills, coke ovens, benzol plants, forests and farms, but the estimate did not include the "intangible assets" such as unmined coal.

In gold marks the sum was estimated at between 2,500,000,000 and 3,000,000,000.

Director Holtze, of the finance division of the department of railways, estimated the value of the railways in French hands at from 25,000,000 to 30,000,000 gold marks.

INCOME TAX IS INSUFFICIENT

Interest On Public Debt Greater Than Amount Collected.

Washington—The nation's $1,500,000,000 income tax bill for 1922, first installment of which was collected last week from about 7,500,000 individuals and corporations is insufficient by about $76,000,000 to pay the interest on the public debt and the upkeep of the veterans' bureau, two of the immediate obligations arising from the World war.

Analysis of preliminary returns received by the treasury department and the budget bureau's estimates of governmental expense, shows the entire cost of running the government, less these two items, is to be met by revenues obtained from the tariff and miscellaneous internal revenue chiefly with receipts from other minor sources falling in.

Receipts last week indicate that the total to be collected by the government in income taxes this fiscal year will surpass $1,500,000,000 by a few millions.

The effect of last year's reviving prosperity is hardly felt in this fiscal year's receipts. The reason assigned for this by treasury officials is that real prosperity did not start until the last three or four months of 1922.

Approximately $100,000,000 in back taxes it is stated will be collected during the present fiscal year. The sum has been popularly stated in the neighborhood of $300,000,000, but that figure, officials said, is incorrect.

The higher sum represents collections plus assessment on tax sums going as far back as 1917 and many firms owing are already out of business.

TROUBLED WITH LIVER AND KIDNEYS

"I was very sick for three months with kidney trouble and my liver was bad. Tried Foley Kidney Pills and they helped me wonderfully," writes Mrs. A. Barnes, Altoona, Pa. Why Fly Can Walk on Ceiling.

The fly has two sharp claws to each foot, by means of which it gets a firm grip of any rough surface it walks over. Besides these claws, it has on each foot a little velvet pad, always kept moist with a special kind of gum which it makes for the purpose. It is by the help of these sticky pads that it can run up a window-pane or take a walk on a ceiling.

Real Wisdom in Advice.

It was a wise philosopher that invented this saying: "Live as if every moment were your last." If we could heed this advice what a different complexion the world would wear for us. Instantly new values would spring into the mind. The common things of life would take on hues of brilliance.

Pure Bred Pig Club Proves Popular

The purebred pig club as announced in a previous issue of this paper, has proven very popular, and indeed it should for it provides an ideal way for the young farmers and farmerettes to get a start in this kind of pure bred livestock.

The requests are coming in from nearly all parts of the County. Requests for pigs have been made by the teachers in communities who have not as yet sent in the children's names. Let's have these so none will be disappointed.

Following is the list of teachers who have taken this matter up with parents and children and report favorably: Mrs. Esther C. Glazier, Vanderbilt; Mrs. Leden Brinton, East Jordan; Miss Martha Wagbo, Bay Shore; LaVarne McCohon, Bay Shore; Miss Ruth Solomon, Charlevoix; Beryl MacDonald, East Jordan; Gail C. Chew, Charlevoix; Avith E. Robinson, Charlevoix.

Following is also the list of names of the children who have agreed to take of one of these pigs and who in a very short time will be the owner of some fine pure bred live stock.

Vanderbilt—Andrew Woodward, Lyle Woodward, Alva Glazier, Melvin Glazier. East Jordan—Percy Batterbee, Lila Batterbee, John Martin, Alice Nowland, Ellen Nowland, Marguerite Chorpenting, Ruby Hardy, Fred Martin, Charles Arnott, Daniel Reich, Francis Russell, W. F. Wurn, Kenneth Russell, Clayton Healey. Bay Shore—Esther Friehe, Lilla Voelker. Boyne City—Robert Turley.

Campaign for Better Fruits.

Dear Reader:— This will announce, invite and urge you to attend a meeting in the interest of better fruit. Not only better fruit but a more economical production of fruit.

The writer realizes that it is the general opinion around here that there is no money in fruit. "Why not," Perhaps for the same reason that Michigan potatoes are selling in many instances for from 60 to 90 cents per hundred pounds less than potatoes from other sections.

Mr. H. A. Cardinell, fruit specialist, from the Agricultural College, will be in the County the last three days in March.

Mr. Cardinell will discuss these subjects and also give actual demonstrations as to pruning, grafting, top working etc. He will also discuss orchard fertilization, mulching, etc. The afternoon meetings will be actual demonstrations in the Orchard, after which there will be lectures and discussions. Following is the schedule:

Thursday, March 29th, Boyne City. Place of meeting—Millsbaugh Orchard where Geo. Hansen now lives.

Friday, March 30th, Marion Center. Place of meeting—Home of W. K. Straw.

Saturday, March 31st, East Jordan. Place of meeting—Home of H. E. Hutton.

Growers in other localities with no better advantage than ours are making money by producing good stuff. The entire community is back of it, they have standardized their varieties and as a result they are attracting buyers who buy in large quantities. We have the season and the climate here in Charlevoix County that puts the color and flavor on in our fruit that cannot be excelled elsewhere.

Years ago, the nuisance wronged the farmers or prospective fruit growers outrageously. Many men thought they were buying Wagners, Spies or some other standard variety. After wasting some five or ten years they found that their supposedly wagners or spies were in many instances not to be identified at all, only seedlings. Consequently this has put the locality in a bad position.

We have heard considerable agitation lately about being "over potato-found." Here is our chance to divert our efforts. If we should make up our minds to grow fruit and could grow a crop in a year and then grow a different crop next year, we probably would find different conditions. But the draw back with fruit, is that we must plan for many years in the future.

Let us look this matter squarely in the face, good fruit was bringing a good price last year on our lower Michigan Markets. The writer knows of one instance here in Charlevoix Co., where a man shipped in 10 bbls. of apples from outstate because he wanted to be sure to get all good apples.

Today Western apples are being sold in a lot of the stores in Charlevoix County. Why? Well, compare the looks of a barrel of Western apples and the look of a barrel of home grown apples, there is the reason. Nine sales out of ten are made by the looks not the taste. Michigan apples have the taste and if properly graded can have the looks, a combination that can't be beaten anywhere.

Well lets remember these meetings and be sure and attend the one nearest to you.

Yours very sincerely,
B. O. Hagerman.

Certified Seed Cuts Cost of Production.

The primary object of the inspection service or the growing of certified seed is to help place potato growing in Michigan on a more profitable basis. Some progress has already been made along this line, but the desired results will not be secured until Michigan growers plant more of the high quality certified seed that is now available.

Last year Michigan farmers planted only 22 per cent of the Michigan Certified Seed that were offered for sale. The remaining 78 per cent went out of the state. Pennsylvania last season planted nearly 40,000 bushels of Michigan Certified Seed which gave them an increased yield of 50 per cent over seed with which it was compared. Pennsylvania farmers appreciate that high quality seed "must be used if yields of good quality are to be expected. This season they have already bought over 30,000 bushels of the Michigan stock.

Heavy inquiries for certified seed are now being received from Indiana, Ohio, Illinois and several eastern and southern states. It is believed that approximately 160 carloads of certified seed will be required by Ohio and Indiana.

The planting season in the states above named is several weeks ahead of that in Michigan, and therefore, their orders are placed quite early in the spring. Michigan growers should make arrangements for their seed promptly so that they will be assured of getting the stock they wish.

East Jordan Public Schools

Archie C. Belding, Comm'r of Schools visited a number of the grade rooms and also the high school and made a very favorable report on the work being done. He especially commented on the work of a number of pupils and the work being done in the kindergarten, first and second grades. Those being the only rooms he visited in the Central Building.

A number of people have been asking when we will have the lecture course, which was unable to get here because of the snow. This number will come later in the season.

The United States History class will finish their history some time before spring vacation. They will then begin their Civics.

Spring vacation will take place the first week in April, thus making it easier for the teachers as they will not be obliged to travel on Easter Sunday. The farmer boys will also be able to get in a good week of farm work. It will make vacation more enjoyable to all because we hope to have nice weather by that time.

The students taking Chemistry have at last begun their laboratory work. They have one of the finest equipped laboratories in the State. There is everything needed in preforming every experiment. We are indeed fortunate in having such a laboratory even if we did have to wait a long time.

Matinee

Friday afternoon the Freshmen class gave a matinee for the high school and grade children. As one entered the auditorium at three-thirty a lively piano introduction was being played by Cleora Smith.

The program was opened by a piano solo by Evelyn Nelson.

Aura McBride read a one act play written by a Junior. As she read, the audience could see the scene in a country school and the present Juniors as bad girls and boys.

Lucas Knight played two selections, one on the mouth organ, the other on the jews harp.

"The Courtship of Long Ago," a miniature play given by miniature people proved an interesting number. Isabelle Kitsman as an old fashioned girl was courted by Dorothy Clark, who was dressed in a young man's colonial costume. Very bashfully, after many false alarms she managed to tell the maiden of her love.

Billy Kogomo was introduced by Mrs. Sebring as a soloist. In true boy fashion he first had to find his pockets and "get set" just right before he could begin. He later confessed to Mrs. Sebring that he had a queer lump in his throat and could not begin. The hesitation only added to the enjoyment of the audience and the appreciation with which they listened to his clear voice when he had manfully overcome a little stage fright. He sang two selections in which every word was distinct and clear.

The children were delighted to hear Mrs. Sebring read "The Bear Story" by James Whitcomb Riley.

A play was given by the 9th grade girls.

"THE OUTSIDER"

Scene I. Act I.—A girl's room at College.

Characters are the girls that are on the team.

One of the girls is well dressed and supposedly snobbish. The plot of the story lies with this girl.

Those that took part in the play are: Inga Anderson, Sylvia Touseh, Dorothy Webster, Eva McBride, Lillian McCollman, Elizabeth Sidebotham.

The coach and girls are to be complimented on the success of the play. The girls worked hard trying to overcome their timidity, and judging by the appreciation of the audience they succeeded very well indeed.

Bellaire vs. East Jordan

Wednesday, March 14th, the Bellaire boys came to East Jordan expecting to win a victory. The Bellaire boys put up a great fight, but our boys were by far the best. At the end the score was 32-21.

The Junior High-Ellsworth game was called off on account of the storm. As the students had already prepared a lunch for the Ellsworth teams, they had a little party Friday night.

Girl's Basketball Party

A party in honor of Miss Massilink was given Saturday evening by the basket ball girls and their friends. The evening was spent in dancing. Coffee sandwiches, cake and salad were served. Everyone had a good time and wore their little green caps home. Miss Anderson presented her with a small gold pencil from the girls to show their appreciation of her service during the year.

The Sophomores Advertise

The Sophomores have taken over the advertising of the Senior play. The proposition is, that the Sophomores get ten dollars up to seventy-five dollars taken in, and ten per cent on everything taken in above that. The Sophomores have discussed things and have appointed a general advertising committee consisting of three people, Leatha Cox, Donald Clark and Howard Cook. After this committee finds out all the details they will appoint other committees for certain parts of the advertising. "The Sophs are sure one peppy bunch." It is certain they can make money both for themselves and the Seniors for there are workers as well as good business heads in the class.

Assembly

Last Wednesday a very interesting assembly was held. The program was in charge of the Agriculture Club of the high school.

The first number on the program was a piano solo by Bessie Kaufman, which was so much enjoyed by the pupils that she had to play another one.

Mr. Nesman gave a very interesting talk on the Agriculture Club, their objects and what they were doing.

Then Jasper Stollard gave a short interesting talk on Radio and what it (Continued to Page Two)

After this Mr. Snellenberger gave a talk on the Basket Ball game which was to be played that evening. Then Mr. Duncanson introduced the speaker who was Mr. Cribbs. He gave a very interesting talk on the Potato growing in Michigan, declaring them to be among the best in the United States.

This talk finally resulting in a quarrel. During this time the old uncle had caused much laughter. Finally they made up and the old uncle came in with a sign reading, "Let Us Have Peace." Paris—Lieutenant Cotton, of an Alpine chasseurs detachment, and a railway official named Joly, were found shot to death at Buer in the occupied Ruhr Sunday, according to the Dusseldorf correspondent of the Agence Radio.

French authorities arrested the chief of police and closed all cafes and cinemas throughout the town, enforcing a 9:00 o'clock curfew as preliminary penalties.

It is likely a 100,000,000 marks fine will be made. It was apparent both victims were ambushed during the night, and other penalties are planned by the French if the assassins are not caught.

France Extends Occupation.

Berlin—Four Germans were killed by French sentries or soldiers, according to German news agency reports.

Increased sabotage in the Ruhr is predicted in government circles here if the French occupy and confiscate mines in order to get coal deliveries. The entire Berlin press carries a dispatch from Essen saying the French have intentions to take this step March 15.

Frankfort was preparing Sunday night for an occupation by the French. It is declared by the conservative party in Paris that more of the Rhineland must be occupied to assure the French position and the industrialists in the Rhineland, especially at Frankfort, have moved documents, valuables and valuable property eastward overnight.

German circles here believe the occupation of Frankfort will be the first move toward an extension of the occupation.

Harbor workers in Karlsruhe struck Sunday, following the refusal of the French soldiers to withdraw.

FIREBUG CAUSED FLINT FIRE

Flare, With Time Fuse, Planted in Court House, Officers Claim.

Flint—An incendiary time fuse, planted in the attic of the Genesee county court house, caused the fire which destroyed that building, investigations have indicated.

An armed cordon of deputies guarded the ruins, while posses of county officers, city and state police were seeking the firebug who set the fuse. Steps in the investigation were advanced rapidly by the supervisors, when they ordered the concentration of every county officer on the case.

Further investigation of the ruins disclosed the cause of an explosion which occurred while the fire was at its height. A large shell, relic of the late war, on exhibition in the "hall of fame," in the lobby of the building, was exploded by the intense heat.

The explosion destroyed historic war relics which had taken several generations to collect.

Complete destruction of all stenographic records of court cases extending over a period of 23 years brings up a serious legal question. To appeal a case to the supreme court it is necessary to send up to the higher court for the records.

MASK VEIL VOGUE

Face Covering Is Made of Many Different Materials.

Lace, Embroidered Chiffon, Fish Net, Metallic Tulle, Are Among the Favored Fabrics.

The renewed success of the coquetish "mask veil" has been very apparent in France this winter, notes a fashion writer in the Boston Globe. These quaint veils are made of many different materials—lace, embroidered chiffon, fish net, metallic tulle, etc. But always they are mysterious and becoming. Quite young girls can wear these veils with certain success; they are really little more than a frill attached to the hat brim, part of the trimming itself, and for this reason they do not look at all set or matronly.

One model is a beautiful turban made of suede kid and panne; quite a simple shape, but made uncommon by the clever way in which a long lace scarf, very fine and supple, is arranged. In the front it makes a mask veil which just reaches the tip of the nose. At one side it forms a sort of waterfall frill, and on the other side it is quite long and mingles with a length of wide ribbon.

The quaint little cloche model will appeal to many American girls. Nothing eccentric about this hat—a simple shape with large, very flat, flowers at either side, these flowers of obviously unreal order—just big decorative ornaments for a simple hat. The veil shown on this model looks like a birdcage veil, but it is not quite that. It falls long and straight from the hat brim and has some fine embroideries on the border.

Over the tricorn model, the veil of purple fish net is winsome.

NEW LONG SKIRTS ARE KIND

Bowlegs and Heavy Ankles Now Hidden from View by the Modern Elongated Garment.

Longer skirts, which are making a strong play for supremacy in the realm of feminine style, not only are supplanting the short ones which were an important element in creating the well-known "flapper," but they are doing much to standardize the lower limbs of the fair sex—so far as the casual observer is concerned.

"Not long ago," said the executive director of the Associated Dress Industries of America, "the variety of types of ankles in plain view of every passerby would easily remind one of the Chinese alphabet—no two alike. It would have been a difficult job to select from a random crowd of women and girls a complete chorus of the Follies. Thin ones resembling pipe stems, shapeless in the extreme, occupied a place in the same picture with stout ones—architecturally built for supporting almost any load.

From now until further changes are made the lady of the land will reveal to the public gaze no more than eight or ten inches of lower extremity.

Smart Headresses.

Headresses are smarter than ever before. Of these, both jeweled and of rich metal fabrics, much might be written, for their role is a most important one. To the particular woman whose hair is not her greatest glory or whose locks are just growing in after bobbing, the elaborate headress comes as a godsend, and this is especially true of the American woman, who is rather negligent in the matter of giving to her hair the admirable, well-groomed appearance achieved by the French woman.

Trimming for Hats.

Bits of moleskin cut in squares, diamond shapes and circles are combined with velvet flowers as trimming on light colored hats of felt and velours.

SCHOOL DAYS

Something to Think About

By F. A. WALKER

HELP YOURSELF

EVERYTHING beneath the sun is available to the deserving, so reach out your hands and help yourself.

To be worthy you should be patient, industrious, persevering, charitable toward the weak, respectful to the strong.

You must overcome foolish pride and envy; be not afraid to soil your hands, but a veritable coward when it comes to the point where you are called upon to smudge your soul.

Go forth with a heart full of faith and a joyous countenance.

Do not grumble if you happen to be in the lower ranks.

Think of the great men of today who came up from humble places and won distinction, whose names are written across the lands and seas in flaming letters.

Hold faith high above your head. Let its unflinching torch illuminate your path all through life, and march on assured that the goal you have set your heart upon is just ahead.

Do not falter if your road should be difficult and your burden wearisome.

Difficulties are common obstacles. No one can get anything worth while without overcoming them.

Affluence and power have their beginning in small things, both capable of being won by well directed thought and effort.

They belong to the capable who are qualified to use them in the right way, not to the doubtful, inefficient and wavering, but to the courageous, the steadfast, who never admit defeat nor turn their faces to the darkest hour from the sun of faith, shining always on every cross and care.

If you would help yourself to the best there is, keep track of your faults. If inclined to procrastinate, take a lesson from the tides, the revolving earth, never delaying or hurrying.

Be methodical, even though it may in the present day of haste and confusion, be considered old-fashioned.

Train your mind to remember what your eyes see; keep your brain sensitized so that the impressions made upon it shall become permanent pictures to which you can turn when they may be needed.

Only what you can recollect in the vital moment is of any use to you, and in that moment if you should fail to remember, your whole future might be blighted.

Uncomfortable Magnificence.

Perhaps the most extraordinary of all beds was the gift of a Russian emperor to the shah of Persia. Made entirely of crystal and surmounted by a chandelier, this monument of discomfort bore automatic fountains whose plashing lulled to sleep the "uneasy head" that wore the crown.

ONCE IS ENOUGH

Has Anyone Laughed At You Because...

By ETHEL R. PEYSER

You are quiet in a crowd? Haven't you suffered torture to see others get away "with murder," while you are scared pink to say anything at all? Haven't you often longed to say something to make the bunch laugh? Haven't you wondered why you were included so often, in the things when you were so quiet and every one said, "Speak up, who's going to hurt you?" Cheer up, if you haven't got anything to say. Keep still! Too many spoil the air saying stupid stuff, or bad stuff, or hurtful stuff. It is good to be able to be amusing; there is nothing more wonderful than to amuse. But how many do anything when they sputter, but confuse? They say still waters run deep. You may be interesting for this reason.

SO
Your get-away is: You have as much right to speak as anyone, else—but if you've nothing to say you are right to "shut up."

Uncommon Sense

By JOHN BLAKE

WISE ADVICE

IT WAS Publius Syrus who said, "Look for a tough wedge for a rough log"—wise and sound advice.

Men prosper better who suit their tools to the job. It is foolish to drive nails with a sledge hammer, or to try to drive piles with a mallet.

The first uses up twenty times as much energy as is necessary; the second accomplishes nothing.

When you see in a legislature or a political meeting an orator tearing the air into tatters over a very small and unimportant matter, you feel that he is using a sledge hammer to drive a nail.

When you see a man in an office employing three times the energy necessary to do a very small and unimportant job, you know that he is doing the same thing.

Save your important weapons for important battles. Don't hunt rabbits with machine guns.

If you have a big task to do, bend to it all your energies. Use the biggest weapons you have.

But on the little jobs save your energy.

We have seen legislators who made motions to adjourn as if they were engaged in a debate over the fate of the nation. We have known architects who planned as elaborately for the construction of a one-car garage as better architects would plan for a skyscraper.

Neither got much but ridicule for his efforts.

Save your energies for the big jobs that will come. You will need them all then—all your thought, all your effort, all your skill.

For the little jobs use just enough of these to do them well—don't skimp them—but don't over-do on them.

You have a mental tool chest which you will soon learn how to employ wisely. Make careful selections before you do your work, and it will be done better and with less expense of time and energy.

Truth Will Out.

I had always longed to see a big city, and had told many friends that I had been all over the United States. One day, while discussing railroads with some of my friends, mother came into the room and happened to mention that we had never traveled anywhere and said that we were all born in the next town. Imagine my embarrassment!—Chicago Tribune.

Something to Think About

By F. A. WALKER

FORMING HABITS

IN A broad sense, habit may be termed the element of conscious or unconscious persistence.

Some habits are opposed to noble growth, such as indolence, indifference to lofty impressions, forgetfulness, the acquirement of ragged tempers, vulgar speech, failure to adapt one's self to new circumstances, fault-finding and the common habit of thinking evil of one's friends and neighbors.

There are hundreds of such habits which are opposed to the development of the best there is in us, ruinous alike to our future careers and contentment.

By following a train of wrong ideas again and again, we gradually lose our ability to distinguish evil from good.

We become skeptical, cynical, narrow, and unless by some fortunate discovery we see the falsity of our position before it is too late to mend, we find ourselves in company with the grouches, sour-faced and fault-finders.

No man or woman who would win success and the good opinion of his or her friends, can hope to do so without first overcoming his or her degrading habits.

To do this there must be formed the practice of mental watchfulness with a will power behind it capable of moving always in the right direction.

The fixed disposition to do a thing comes from numerous repetitions. It is by such a process that good or bad customs are formed, which ultimately take to the bright hilltops or down the dark valley of failure and discouragement.

One of the good habits to form in youth is that of attention, especially in regard to advice from parents, who know from experience what is needed for the stimulation of growing minds.

This applies with like force to everybody in all stations of life, and especially to those who are dependent on others.

The habit of giving intense attention to orders, however trivial, and remembering them when the time arrives for their execution, marks the difference between the competent and the incompetent, the foolish, and the wise, those who are destined for life servitude and those who are destined to lead.

Every good habit is laudable, every bad habit reprehensible.

THE ROMANCE OF WORDS

"GYPSY"

JUST AS America was named for an explorer who had no right to the honor, and the "turkey" (French dinde or poulet d'Inde, Indian chicken) hails from the Western hemisphere instead of the eastern, the name "gypsy" is applied on account of the early belief that these wandering tribes had their origin in Egypt instead of from a more distant land. When these migratory people made their appearance in England at the beginning of the Fifteenth century, their dark complexions and foreign speech, coupled with their admitted knowledge of black arts, supposed to be indigenous to Egypt, led to their designation as "Gyptians," and it was only natural that, in time, this should be shortened into the slightly more euphonious "gypsy"—the name by which they have been known ever since.

"Bohemians," the French appellation for gypsies, involves an error similar to the English—these tribes being taken by the common people of France to be the expelled Hussites of Bohemia. In the German "Zigeuner" there is no indication of the land from which they were presumed to have come, but, instead, a typically Teutonic bit of bluntness—for "Zigeuner" is a slight contraction of "Zieh-Gäuner" or "roaming thieves." NINE KILLED IN POOR HOUSE FIRE

ATTENDANT LOSES HIS LIFE TRYING TO RESCUE AGED BED-RIDDEN WOMEN

ENTIRE BUILDING IS DESTROYED

 Buffalo, N. Y.—Nine persons, seven of them women, lost their lives in an explosion and fire that swept through the Allegany County Almshouse, at Angelica, last Thursday. The women were all aged and helplessly bedridden. One of the men who perished was Charles Saanborn, an attendant. A few minutes before he lost his life he had succeeded in saving three inmates.
 The explosion took place in the boiler room and the fire spread rapidly through the institution.
 When the explosion occurred attendants rushed to the sleeping quarters and carried out many inmates, but fast spreading flames soon cut off their entrance. Saanborn, despite constant warnings, made his way into the sleeping quarters for a third time, after bringing out three women.
 His charred body in the debris of the entrance hall of the sleeping quarters was mute testimony to his courage and extreme sacrifice.
 The second man, who perished was Frank Choe, fireman at the hospital. The fire is said to have been caused by the explosion of a gasoline engine.
 The inmates included 24 women, nearly all of them of advanced age and many of them very feeble and 22 men, most of them feeble.

STORM HITS WESTERN CITIES

Storm Causes Much Damage, Traffic Delayed—Wires Down.

Pueblo, Colo.—A terrific blizzard, driven by a 70 mile wind, caused property damage estimated at $100,000 here. Buildings were unroofed, telephone poles leveled and small out-buildings demolished by the violent wind storm.
 All freight traffic was suspended and passenger trains proceeded under slow orders.
 Several persons were slightly injured when automobiles were dashed against buildings. Sign boards were dashed into the streets and pedestrians had narrow escapes from injury.
 Brick chimneys toppled over and the roof of an apartment house was lifted into the air and lodged on top of a house in the same block.
 Denver—A terrific blizzard, which caused temperatures in Denver to drop 30 degrees in four hours, gripped this city last week. Traffic and wire communication were demoralized. Trains were running several hours late and several were reported stalled.

Ironwood, Mich.—The Gogebic Range was in the grip of one of the worst blizzards of this winter, last week. One foot of snow has fallen in eight hours and the temperature dropped 30 degrees. Traffic is tied up.

WHY THAT LAME BACK?

That morning lameness — those sharp pains when bending or lifting, make work a burden and rest impossible. Don't be handicapped by a bad back — look to your kidneys. You will make no mistake by following this East Jordan resident's example.

Mrs. Wm. St. Charles says: "I was bothered quite a good deal with my back and after I did my washing my back was so lame and sore I dreaded to move. There was a soreness across my kidneys that hurt me all the time and when I was on my feet a little while my back gave out. I often had headaches and was troubled with dizziness. I was nervous, depressed and irritable. My kidneys were weak and irregular. I saw in the paper how well Doan's Kidney Pills were liked and I decided to try them. I purchased a few boxes at Hite's Drug Store and they cured me."

Michigan Bills Pass Congress.
Washington.—All the bills in which Michigan was especially interested squeezed through the final jam of congress in which hundreds of others less fortunate were caught. The two measures for public parks were passed during the last session. These were the bills authorizing the county of Huron to convey a parcel of land to the state for public park purposes, also the bill ceding to Michigan islands in the Isle Royale group, of an area of 32.7 acres, for public park purposes.
