The Teachers for 1923-24

Public School Faculty is Stronger in Years.

The East Jordan school patrons were to be congratulated on their Public School faculty for the year 1922-23, but if our Superintendent is a Judge of teaching corps, and he ought surely to be in a position to judge, our faculty is even stronger for 1923-24.

There have been some important changes made. An extra man will be on the faculty in the person of Richard L. Waggoner, High School Principal to take Miss Shipp's place. Mr. Waggoner is an Alma man who comes very highly recommended. Not alone is he a great athlete, but a strong teacher of English and History.

Miss Sarah West will have charge of the Domestic Science and Art, and is a graduate of M. A. C., having the regular four year course from that institution, which is two years more than any teacher we have had in that department. By putting in a teacher with the qualifications of Miss West, it is possible to draw $240 federal aid to help pay her salary. Miss West has strong credentials.

Our Science and Agricultural man, J. H. Jacklin has already been on the job. Prof. French, head of the Educational Dept., M. A. C. considered Mr. Jacklin one of the strongest men graduated in five years.

Mr. Everett Douglass who takes Mr. Gibbs place has the best of qualifications as Mr. Ellsworth, Supt. of the Training School Western Normal said he would have to be good to take Mr. Gibbs place. Above the usual work Mr. Douglass may give some work in metals.

Miss Ruth Knowles, who will have charge of Latin comes very highly recommended. Having five years experience and being recognized to the extent of being asked to appear on the M. S. T. A. program at Kalamazoo in the Fall. Being an excellent English teacher also.

The school is also going back to a regular music course throughout the system. There was such a demand for Penmanship that we asked for a Music and Penmanship teacher which was almost an impossible combination. However, the services of Miss Gertrude Sanford of the Western Normal, who can teach these subjects was finally secured. She has taught a number of years. Mr. Maybe, head of the Dept. of Music gave Miss Sanford a good recommendation.

Mr. Masselink of Ferris Institute said Miss Phillips was another Commercial teacher of the same caliber as Miss Filkins and Sibley. This recommendation is enough. Miss Phillips has had seven years experience.

The grades are well taken care of. Mrs. Snellenberger comes very highly recommended and will take Miss Meysers place in the sixth grade. Miss Dowd who comes to the 4th grade is a teacher of three years experience with a life certificate and is working for her degree.

Miss Lundquist comes from Western Normal and was considered a strong teacher and will take charge of the third grade.

Miss Greenhoe is a teacher of experience and very well recommended from Western Normal.

There has been a small change on the West Side. The Sixth grade will come over to the central building. Leaving Kindergarten, First, Second, Third, Fourth and Fifth grades to be taken care of by good experienced teachers in the persons of Mrs. Jessie Heger, Mrs. Florence Swoboda, Miss Blanding and a Kindergarten teacher who will be secured in a few days. Miss Blanding will have but the one grade, the first, as the 1st and 2nd were too large.

All the teachers are secured but the Kindergarten mentioned and a First grade teacher on the east side.

The rest of the force are well known and appear on the list below.

A. J. Duncanson, East Jordan, Supt.

Richard L. Waggoner, Bad Axe, Principal.

Clyde F. Snellenberger, Mt. Pleasant, Mathematics.

Mrs. Anna L. Sebring, East Jordan, English.

Chautauqua Next Week

Five Days of Talented Numbers for $2.00

The Herald is printing advertising on our big Chautauqua starting next Wednesday and along with booklets that are being distributed will give you a very good idea of what is in store for us. Nothing can take the place of a fine Chautauqua program. It is an institution by itself, something no community can afford not to have. Usually the finest talent found in the country go to make up a Chautauqua. The most wholesome instruction go to make up the program. Our own Chautauqua starting Wednesday evening is no exception, but is even of a superior quality. Most cities in America have Chautauquas every year. We will have one this year anyway, for 23 progressive citizens have guaranteed it. But why not make it a permanent institution? We can if we all pull together. Lets do our very best to support the fine home town spirit as exemplified by these citizens in their effort to attract people to our town and give the finest entertainment to our young people. A fine rendition on a musical instrument, or by the human voice, or in acting, etc. is always a great source of inspiration to young people. Unless, however, nearly who can take a very personal interest in the matter we will go behind, the directors will have to go into their pockets and the noble effort will not be repeated.

Tickets may be had from the following people: Mrs. Carl Stroebel, Mrs. R. T. McDonald, Mrs. Ira D. Bartlett, Mrs. LeRoy Sherman, A. J. Duncanson, Mrs. Dick Dicken, Mr. C. H. Pray, Addie M. Richardson, Miss Merle Dean, Mrs. James Gidley, Mrs. C. A. Brabant, Fr. D. M. Drinan, J. E. Houghton, Mrs. Howard Porter. Remember it is the season tickets which count for us. Nearly any three numbers will cost $2.25 while a season ticket transferable in the family costs but $2.00, youths tickets $1.00. The committee guarantee $900.00.

EAST JORDAN—DETROIT FOURTH ANNUAL PICNIC SUNDAY, JULY 29TH.

COUNTY CLERKS OF STATE CONVENE AT CHARLEVOIX JULY 24TH AND 25TH.

The fifteenth annual State Convention of the County Clerks of Michigan will convene at the Court House at Charlevoix July 24th and 25th.

It is expected that 150 persons will be in attendance at this Convention as a great many of the Clerks will be accompanied by their wives and families and several State officials will also be in attendance.

Ex-County Clerk, Richard Lewis and County Clerk, Charles H. Emrey are making every effort to formulate plans of Entertainment that will be of lasting interest to the visitors. Among the features of the entertainment will be an Auto ride around Pine Lake with short stops at the Famous Loeb Farms and at East Jordan and the partaking of a Chicken Dinner at the Wolverine Hotel on the 24th of July, leaving Charlevoix at 3:00 p. m.

On Tuesday morning at 8:30 the U. S. Coast Guards at Charlevoix will give both their Land and Boat Drills which will be greatly appreciated by the visitors.

The Halletts Inn at Charlevoix has been designated by the Clerks Association as Headquarters for the Convention and they are making many arrangements to handle the crowd along with their many summer visitors.

East Jordan Wins Again

Defeats Boyne City Last Sunday By 7 to 3 Score.

East Jordan's Base Ball team again took the measure of Boyne City last Sunday, this time by a 7 to 3 score.

The game was tight until the seventh inning when East Jordan's sluggers fell upon Saffron and pounded through six runs. Our boys found a nice large hole in center field and there the ball was laid repeatedly.

Seventh Inning—LaLonde struck out. Davis hit to second baseman who fumbled the ball, Davis reaching first. Johnson singled to right field, Davis going to third. Johnson stole second. Davis scored on slow peg to second. Morgan singled to center, Johnson scoring. Ward doubled to center, scoring Morgan. H. Kamradt sacrificed, Ward going to third. S. Kamradt doubled to center, Ward scoring. Gunderson doubled to center, S. Kamradt scoring. Covey doubled to center, Gunderson scoring. LaLonde pops to pitcher.

On account of the heavy downpour of rain the game was postponed to 4:00 p. m.

Considerable dissatisfaction was manifest over the decisions of the umpire. Gunderson has a fast break in his delivery and it is claimed that the umpire mis-judged these repeatedly. Several times the umpire "dodged" these, and was in no position to judge.

As a result Gunderson was forced to wheel over a straight ball to get a fair decision, thereby playing into the hands of the opposing batters. The management of the East Jordan team have notified league officials that this team will play no more games under this umpire. The umpire in question desires to be fair, but is not the man for the job.

Why Boyne City fans are sad—

Cheboygan 12 East Jordan 0

Local Team Goes To Pieces Making Ten Errors

The fast Cheboygan team secured a 12 to 0 victory over East Jordan at Cheboygan, Wednesday evening. The whole East Jordan team was off form and Gunderson, who started, had not recovered from last Sunday's game.

Every team and every player have slumps and the whole local team gave a poor exhibition of the national pastime. Summed up, two errors, wild pitching and twilight ball was undoubtedly the cause of Cheboygan's many runs. Cheboygan secured their twelve runs from a total of nine hits and ten errors.

It's a good thing that every local player slumped the same day. It's all out of their system now and future games will be another story. So far East Jordan has secured twelve victories, many of them shut-outs, with one defeat. This isn't so bad. Our boys have found themselves—watch 'em go from now on.

How we lost it—

Designer's Costly Joke.

The dies for one of the earlier issues of Kruger sovereigns was engraved in Europe, and the designer engraved his own initials, "O. S.," directly underneath the bust of Kruger. Now "O. S." means, in Dutch, first an ox; then, secondly, an ox-like, bovine fellow; and, thirdly, in its most vulgar sense, a fool. The coins, or as many of them as could be retrieved, were hastily withdrawn from circulation.

A Student of Nature.

HALF A MILLION TO SEE BIG FAIR

$1,000,000 BEING SPENT TO CARE FOR GROWING ATTENDANCE

"Half a Million." That is the slogan of the 1923 Michigan State Fair which will be held in Detroit August 31 to September 9. "Our annual attendance has just about reached the 400,000 figure already," said Secretary-Manager George W. Dickinson, "but with an additional $1,000,000 being spent this year for extensive improvements we expect fully half a million persons to visit the fair during the ten days."

"This is the nation's greatest exposition. It is a $5,000,000 show given by the state of Michigan for the education and entertainment of the people. It is the state's great playground as well as an agricultural school so there is every reason to believe that the hosts that come from near and far each year will become an army of half a million this fall."

"Already we have arranged for stupendous attractions and many more are being planned that will be a most pleasant surprise to the people of cities and farms. "Our agricultural and live stock exhibits this year will surpass by far anything of the kind ever seen, everything seems to indicate. And our races and other sports, our great spectacular stunts and our lively midway where the carnival spirit reigns will be without parallel. "Every man should try to spend at least a few days at this great exposition, bringing his family along to enjoy an educational vacation in the finest weather of the year."

ALL GOVERNORS INVITED TO FAIR

BIG RECEPTION PLANNED AT STATE EXPOSITION IN DETROIT

The governors of every state in the Union will be invited to be the guests of the state of Michigan at the Michigan state fair on Governors' Day, in Detroit, Friday, September 7, Secretary-Manager Geo. W. Dickinson announces.

"Because of the general interest in state fairs throughout the nation, and because of the remarkable success of the Michigan State Fair, it is likely that our invitation to the governors will meet with general acceptance," Mr. Dickinson said.

"Here the governors will have an opportunity to observe the nation's most successful fair and to study the methods that have resulted in its growth," he added.

It is planned to have a great reception for the governors. First, they probably will be driven in automobiles throughout the downtown streets, the automobiles bearing banners of the state from which the governors come. Then a great public reception will be held for the executives in the big new Coliseum in the state fair grounds, where about 18,000 persons will have an opportunity to see and hear the governors.

An automobile trip through Detroit, an inspection of the fair, luncheons and other affairs are being tentatively arranged.

During the governor's visit the downtown streets of Detroit will be profusely decorated with banners to give the whole city a gala appearance.

Bands will parade the streets in buses and the metropolis will take on the atmosphere of a great holiday.

A plan that will be of great interest to farmers is the contemplated erection in the state fair grounds of a $200,000 pavilion for the exhibition of sheep and swine. The Michigan State Fair is progressing so rapidly that in a year from now still larger quarters for the exhibits will be imperative. It is the policy of the management to try to accommodate every possible exhibit, not only for the satisfaction of the individual farmer, but for the benefit of all other farmers who find valuable lessons in the observation of the neighbors' products.

CRAYON ARTIST ON CHAUTAUQUA PROGRAM

UNIQUE lighting effects add greatly to the artistic value of the splendid crayon pictures of Paul J. Barnaby, who appears at the afternoon and evening sessions on the fourth day of the Chautauqua. In addition to his excellent work with the crayon, Mr. Barnaby also, by the use of pieces of colored cloth, makes pleasing pictures on his easel. He is ably supported by Dorothy Barnaby in presenting programs that are distinctively different than anything you have ever heard. Most of their numbers are original and copyrighted by them.

Rose Has No Other Name.

Is it not strange that the emblem flower of England should have a Latin name? For there is no other name for a rose than the Latin word rosa, which the Romans brought us. What did the countryfolk of Kent or Sussex call the dog-rose before the Romans came? "Eglantine," another old name for it, is French, derived from a Latin word which takes you back eventually to acus, a needle. Was there never another name to set beside such English names as cowslip, buttercup, daisy?

SUMMER ETIQUETTE

THERE is always the temptation in warm weather to let down a little in matters of etiquette. It is easier to sit up properly at the table and manage one's knife and fork with care when it is cool enough for comfort than when the mercury stands ninety in the shade and you are fairly melting with heat. The heat is enervating and has taken from you that starch which is necessary to achieve really perfect manners.

But remember this summer that manners are far less difficult than they used to be. One can now be suitably clothed for any time of day and still be comfortable. A man can wear a Palm Beach suit suitable anywhere in extremely warm weather. When he had to stick to his heavy dark woolen suits then there may have been reason why he should go in shirt sleeves but with the Palm Beach coat this is not necessary. Moreover it is quite possible for him to wear an unstarched shirt and a belt strap, thus eliminating the necessity for suspenders, and this get-up passes muster for almost any informal daytime wear in summer.

Remember, too, that it is far better to wear a negligee soft collar and to wear it fastened than to wear a stiff collar undone at the neckband.

THE ROMANCE OF WORDS

"HOOSIER"

WHILE Indiana is known throughout the country as the "Hoosier State," the origin of the term "hoosier" is lost somewhere in the strange changes which came over the English language as spoken in this country during the early part of the last century. When the number of uneducated persons and the different nationalities which comprised the United States at this time is remembered, it is not strange that some words slipped into the colloquial tongue without proper parentage.

Etymologists, however, are about equally divided as to whether "hoosier" is a contraction of the phrase "Who's there?" commonly used as a challenge among the early settlers of the Middle West or whether it comes from "Husher," frequently lengthened to "hoosher," a nickname for the lumbermen who were skilled in hushing or stilling their opponents during an encounter. The word "whoeser" appears in American literature as early as 1630 and appears to be derived from the Scotch "whush" or "whisper," possibly with the added American meaning connected with the lumbermen, many of whom settled in the section now known as Indiana.

How Sects Grow.

Probably many religious sects rest on just as trivial differences in belief. Two men, prominent in church work were traveling through a sparsely settled community when they noticed two churches immediately opposite each other. Stopping a native they inquired why there were two churches for so few people.

"Well, it's like this," he replied. "The church members on the right believe that Eve tempted Adam, the one on the left believe that Adam was a rascal from the beginning."—Columbus Dispatch.

The Branding Iron

By Katharine Newlin Burt

Contains some rare pictures of life in the West, but more than that is the thrilling record of the tangled loves of three persons.

You will be amazed, in this human triangle, at the strange incident from which the story takes its name; at the devil-inspired use of a white-hot cattle brand and the resulting effects upon the lives of two men and a woman.

A tense and charming love story with exceptional grace and fervor.

"THE STORM," AT CHAUTAUQUA

AFTER THE FOREST FIRE—SCENE FROM "THE STORM"

THESE four people having survived a severe winter and having come through a great forest fire by narrow and thrilling escapes, are, at the tense moment pictured above, eager to know whether one of their number will regain his sight, which they fear he has lost as a result of his heroic rescue of another member of the party. When the bandage is removed will they find that the healing herbs applied by the Indian trapper have been effective, or will his eyes remain sightless? You will share this tense moment of their anxiety after you have experienced the realism of a great blizzard and snow storm with the wind howling through the great forest trees and about the cabin and have, in your emotions, fought with them against the great forest fire which it seems will inevitably destroy all in its path.

This tense moment and many others in the play are so realistic that you will be unconsciously transported from the mimicry of the stage to the land of the actual and will follow every incident with breathless interest. And the final triumph of the man who was right and knew he was right—who was honest with himself and with others regardless of the consequences, will thrill you and inspire you.

If you fail to see this great production you will be one of the minority in this community and will always regret it. The tent is certain to be packed to capacity on the first night of the Assembly when this great play is presented.

Studebaker Light-Six
Touring Car

We Want to Talk to Every Prospect Who Plans to Pay More Than $500 for a Car

We want to tell you something about the Studebaker Light-Six Touring Car. Want you to examine it—and to drive it.

Stop in and let us prove what a vast difference there is between the Light-Six and other cars at about the same price—or between the Light-Six and cars of other makes costing several hundred dollars more.

To be able to buy a Six, practically free from vibration, for less than $1,000 is an opportunity not duplicated anywhere in the world. Elimination of vibration adds immeasurably to the life of the motor. It is one of the reasons for the universal high resale value of the Light-Six.

The Touring Car body is all-steel—even to its framework. Seat cushions—of genuine leather—are ten inches deep and are placed at the most restful angle.

The one-piece windshield is handsome and practical because it gives unobstructed view of the road ahead and is rain-proof. The quick-action cowl ventilator and the parking lights are but indications of the quality and completeness of the appointments.

No other make of car ever built, by anyone, at any price, represents so great a dollar-for-dollar value as the Light-Six Touring Car. The savings resulting from large volume, complete manufacture and the fact that Studebaker's overhead is shared by three distinct models make possible its low price and high value.

The Light-Six upholds Studebaker's 71-year reputation for honest value.

RETURN CARD SHOULD NOT BE ON BACKS OF ENVELOPES

Some business men and concerns, as well as individuals, place their return card on the backs of envelopes. All postal employees know how objectionable and inconvenient this is, and postmasters should make special effort to have the practice discontinued. It should be pointed out that the proper place for the sender's return card is in the upper left corner of the address side where postal employees are accustomed to look for it, and that the placing of the return card on the backs of envelopes not only consumes unwarranted time and labor, as the letters must be turned over to read the return address, but it may cause letters when undeliverable to be sent to the dead letter office instead of being returned to the senders. All this could be avoided by placing the return card in the upper left corner of the address side.

Postmasters are requested to interview envelope manufacturers and proprietors of printing establishments and endeavor to obtain their hearty cooperation by advising their customers as to the proper location of the return card on mail.

W. Irving Glover
 Third Ass't Postmaster General
 Washington, July 13, 1923.

Nothing Good Comes From Evil. That which is won ill will never wear well, for there is a curse attends it which will waste it; and the same corrupt dispositions which incline men to the sinful ways of getting will incline them to the like sinful ways of spending.—Matthew Henry.

Amend Regulations Under The Grain Standards Act.

An amendment to the regulations under the United States grain standards act recently promulgated by the Secretary of Agriculture provides that grain may be sold by grade and shipped in interstate commerce without inspection between points at which no licensed inspector is located upon compliance with the rules and regulations prescribed by the Secretary of Agriculture and subject to the right of either party to the transaction to refer any dispute as to the grade of the grain to the Secretary of Agriculture. The new regulation requires shippers of such grain to transmit to the purchaser an invoice bearing a statement to the following effect: "This grain not inspected by licensed inspector; grade subject to dispute under United States grain standards act."

In addition, shippers are required by the terms of the regulation to report the details of such shipments if requested by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics. The amendment became effective July 1, 1923.

It's usually a sign of sick kidneys, especially if the kidney action is disordered, passages scanty or too frequent. Don't wait for more serious troubles. Begin using Doan's Kidney Pills. Read this East Jordan man's testimony. Albert Turk says "Mornings my back felt lame and at times I found it hard to get up. Those jerky pains pulled me back more than once. I was handling lumber at that time and my back got so weak and sore I couldn't stoop over. I couldn't get rested and always felt tired and worn out. When dizzy spells came over me I couldn't see anything. My kidneys were often weak and irregular and I had to get up during the night. The secretions were often badly colored and painful in passage. I used Doan's Kidney Pills and they cured me." Price 50c, at all Dealers. Doan's simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Turk had. BRITAIN SEES GERMAN RUIN

PREMIER BALDWIN BITTERLY ATTACKS OCCUPATION OF RUHR

WORLD'S PEACE UP TO FRANCE

England Hints She Will Treat With Germans Without Allied Aid on Reparations.

London—Premier Stanley Baldwin, in his statement of the British reparations policy in the house of commons Thursday contrary to general expectations, bitterly assailed France whose course, he charged, "endangered the peace of the world." As a result of that course, the Premier intimated, Germany "appears to be rapidly moving towards economic chaos and recovery of her credit and her consequent ability to pay her debts appears to be receding into the dim distance." Great Britain will draft a reply to the latest German note on reparations, and submit it to the allied powers for their approval, he announced.

"If they do not England will be forced to act independently." England has never wavered, Baldwin said, in her determination that Germany should pay. "We are as determined as any of our allies that Germany should make reparations for damages of the great war to her fullest capacity. "But," he said, "we are convinced that measures which will result in the ruin of Germany will be fatal to England, her allies and the whole of Europe."

The occupation of Germany has not had beneficial results, Baldwin said. "The allies are obtaining less towards reparations payments now than before the occupation of the Ruhr," he declared.

"And the reparations they are receiving are exacted at a price of growing dislocation of the German economic system and the probable collapse of that system." The Premier pointed out that England had never agreed that the occupation would secure the desired payments and had suggested other alternatives. "We are convinced that the present state of affairs is fraught with grave peril," he declared.

YANK DEMANDS HIT TURK PACT

Allies Angered as U. S. Envoy Fights for "Open Door"

Lausanne—The fight of America to maintain an open door to Turkey is threatening to break up the Turkish peace conference, now on its seventeenth day.

Minister Grew's eleventh hour intervention against an obscure French railway concession and an obscure British oil concession, both of which are monopolistic in their effect, being legalized by the allied peace treaty has thrown consternation into the allied camps.

As Ismet Pasha withdrew his acceptance of the concessions proposed after receiving Mr. Grew's support, the allied delegates are blaming the Americans and are talking of returning home.

The French and British foreign offices are angry at the American intervention and are excitedly exchanging notes.

The oil and railway concessions in British and French hands would practically shut out America in the development of Turkey.

ALIEN MARATHONS ARE BANNED

Immigrant Chief Sounds Knell of Races to Port.

London—Races between American-bound ocean liners which attempt to reach port and unload immigrants before quotas are exhausted must be stopped, Secretary of Labor Davis declared in an interview here.

"My mission in Europe is to talk the situation over with consular officers and to try to obtain legislation whereby immigrants will be selected in Europe and not at Ellis Island," Secretary Davis said.

"We must institute our own visa control and grant only a certain number each month to persons who desire to go to America. We must also cancel unused visas to prevent Europeans, who might have visas that are months old, from joining groups eligible to entry and overriding the quota."

Wireless Clocks Correct

London—Wireless time signals are received at Greenwich from France, Germany, Russia and America, and automatically recorded, and the comparisons of these with the actual Greenwich mean time show that they are usually slow, but rarely by more than one-tenth of a second. Big Ben sent a noon wireless time signal to Greenwich on 293 days last year, and its error was less than one second on 203 days entitling it to almost a perfect record.

THE CHURCH MOUSE

LITTLE MISS MOUSEIE lived all alone in one corner of the big church, that is, she did until one day she spied Mr. Tim Mouse wandering about the church.

"How did you get in here?" asked Miss Mouseie. "This is my church and no other mouse has ever lived here."

Then Mr. Mouse told a fib. "I came in to call on you, Miss Mouseie," he replied.

Mr. Mouse had come in through a hole he found under the church steps and after wandering about in the church had decided that it was a very nice place to live, no traps, no pussies and plenty of mice to run about.

"How trim and smart you look in your gray clothes," said the clever Mr. Mouse. "Your eyes look brighter than those of the pantry mice and your figure is much more graceful."

"Now what do you say, Miss Mouseie, if we get married and I come here to live with you, for I know of no other place that would make so nice a home."

Miss Mouseie was very much pleased by all these compliments, so she hung her head and pined with one tiny foot at the soft carpet, but if she was silly enough to be flattered she also had a wise little head and in a second she realized it and looked at Mr. Mouse.

"You have never lived in a church, have you?" she asked.

Mr. Mouse had to confess he never had and Miss Mouseie told him there were many things that had to be lived up to in a church that did not matter at all in a pantry.

"You may not do at all for the husband of a church mouse," said Miss

Has Anyone Laughed At You Because

You are ashamed to ride in a cheap car? This laughter may or may not be well deserved. If you are ashamed of the car you should get the laugh. If you are ashamed that you cannot earn money enough to have a better car, you are not quite so culpable. If you are ashamed that you cannot make your mother more comfortable than having her weak back ache in too long automobile parties, then you are a bit less blameworthy. However, some folk have no cars at all. You should be glad that you can have any car—after all, they all carry you about and make you independent of trolleys and jitneys!

Marriage Register of the Abbey.

The marriage register of the abbey—the Collegiate church of St. Peter at Westminster—signed the duke of York and his bride witness on their wedding day is a record of curious and unexpected contrasts. It contains, of course, many names of the famous and the great, but has almost equally numerous signatures of those of humbler sort. This is due largely to the fact that not only members of the body collegiate but their servants can claim the right to an abbey wedding. As the privilege of an abbey ceremony is not one that is too readily accorded, it may easily arise that a peer falls to scrimp it, while the handmaiden of one of the collegiate clergy and her bridegroom may have no difficulty in arranging their nuptials in the central church of the empire.—London Times.

THE SANDMAN STORY

Mouse, "so I will tell you what we will do. You will live in the cupboard at the back of the church where the books are kept for a week and then I will give you my answer."

Mr. Mouse did not mind in the least doing this. What he wanted was to make his home in the church, so he ran into the cupboard and that was the last he saw of Miss Mouseie for a week.

But Miss Mouseie saw him every day and at the end of the week she had decided that he would not do at all for the husband of a refined creature as a church mouse.

"Such manners and such taste," said Miss Mouseie to herself as she ran about eating the crumbs and making the place tidy every day when Mr. Mouse ran out for a while. "No, he won't do at all and I will wait and tell him so this very day."

Pretty soon Mr. Mouse returned carrying a piece of cheese which he dropped when he saw Miss Mouseie primly seated by the cupboard door.

The smell of the cheese almost caused Miss Mouseie to change her mind, but she remembered that she was an aristocratic church mouse and above being tempted by such things as mere food.

"Well, when shall we get married?" asked Mr. Mouse, never dreaming that Miss Mouseie could refuse to marry him, he was so plump and handsome.

"I deeply appreciate the honor, Mr. Mouse, but I cannot marry you," said Miss Mouseie. "I find you are not fitted to become a church mouse."

"In the first place, you do not seem to care for nibbling books and old paste, but run to the pantry every day and bring back all sorts of queer things, making the place most untidy."

"If it had not been for me, the sexton would have had you in a trap long ago, for you were easy to track by the crumbs you dropped about. No, Mr. Mouse, we must part and at once."

Mr. Mouse was so surprised that he forgot to pick up his piece of cheese, or perhaps the sexton, who saw him and throw his broom, made him leave it. Anyway, he ran into the hole and out of the church and never returned.

Miss Mouseie, when all was still again, crept out from under a pew and nibbled at the cheese. "I must say," she murmured, "the food of those common pantry mice is rather nice; but I am sure I should soon lose my trim figure if I ate it all the time. A church mouse has much to live up to and many sacrifices to make."

Facts about your name; its history; meaning; whence it was derived; significant; your lucky day and lucky hour!

FREDERICA

FREDERICA is the feminine counterpart of the popular masculine name Frederick. It signifies "peace ruler" and comes originally from the old Freyr of Teutonic mythology. Freyr meant "free," which is loosely translated to "love of peace."

The idea was personified into a god of very high rank, who later was disintegrated into a brother and sister, called Freyr and Freya.

Freyr named the sixth day of the week and drove over battlefields in a chariot drawn by panthers to conduct the slain to their appointed places in Valhalla. While Freyr was progressing by direct route into Frederick, the feminine form was slower in becoming Frederica. There are records of such queer deviations as Frithswith, Fridweld and Frithesanta in the Eighth century.

The saintly daughter of the lord of Oxford bore the name of Frithswith and lived in a little cell at Thornbury, and had curious adventures which are portrayed in a window of the cathedral at Oxford. She was also patroness of the university and cathedral. The cumbersome name of Frithesanta was borne by the wife of Geoffrey Luttrell in the Fourteenth century.

FredERICA is purely an English invention, though Portugal and Italy had adapted it intact. The French call it Frederique and the German Friderike. Onyx is Frederica's talismanic stone. It will guard her from lovers' quarrels and assures her of a sweet, lovable nature. Thursday is her lucky day and I her lucky number.

New Idea in Cigar Lighter. A novel-looking cigar lighter resembles a telephone in appearance. What would be the receiver of the telephone is in this case the lighter, which is connected with a flexible tubing to the gas service. When the "receiver" is taken from the book, the gas is automatically turned on and lighted by an electric spark from a battery. When the user "hangs up," the light is extinguished.
