Boyer Cement Mill Assured

Our Neighboring City To Have Fine New Industry.

At 10 a. m. Saturday, Jan. 10th, the first annual meeting of the new company was held, as advertised, in the temporary offices of the company in the First National Bank block. Nearly all the stockholders were present in person or by proxy. The president, W. H. White after greeting the stockholders called upon Mr. F. D. Gerard General Manager and Chief Engineer to address the meeting. Mr. Gerard, who has had many years experience in building cement plants and operating them, told the stockholders of the plans he had recommended for Boyne City and gave in detail how and why he had arrived at his conclusions. He assured his hearers there was no reason why the location selected was not one of the best in Northern Michigan and there was no doubt in his mind as to the immediate success of the undertaking. The speaker said he was pleased with the activities evinced by the local stockholders and also the fact that a large number of the citizens are stockholders and many of those that are not have shown a lively interest and are making plans to become stockholders. He assured his audience that the most up-to-date plant in the country was planned and when in operation would manufacture cement of high quality at a cost per barrel that would please the owners of which he is one. He gave the manufacturing costs per barrel of neighboring plants and stated that our costs per barrel would be less owing to the favorable location of the raw material. Mr. Gerard voiced the opinion that construction of the plant would be commenced in the spring. The stock is now being sold by expert salesmen where funds are known to exist, the speaker stated. At the conclusion of the address the annual election of the board of directors was held which resulted as follows:

Wm. H. White
W. L. Martin
Wm. J. Pearson
John Yuill
F. B. Gerard
J. H. Parker

At the close of the stockholders meeting the board of directors held their first annual meeting and elected the following officers:

Wm. H. White, President.
F. B. Gerard, Vice-president.
W. L. Martin, Treasurer.
The By-Laws provide that the Board of Directors shall elect an executive committee, therefore the following directors were duly elected:

Wm. H. White, Chairman
W. L. Martin
J. H. Parker

The board appointed Lou W. Seigel, Secretary.

The action taken at this meeting completes the formation of the largest stock company in Boyne City's history and is the result of the untiring efforts of Wm. H. White and L. H. White for several years past, together with the necessary funds to promote so great an enterprise which they alone have supplied.—Boyer Citizen.

Basket Ball Season In Full Swing At High School

The first real game of the season is here at the High School Gym., Friday, Jan. 16 at 7:00. The Bellaire Boys and Girls teams are coming over here determined to win both games—but we say they can't do it. The boys have been working hard for the past five weeks. They have won each of the five games they have played by a good score, but the real games are just starting. They have eight games left on their schedule and they are out to win all of them. Then comes the test of the season, the sectional tournament at Petoskey and this year we're out to win that tournament. The boys trying for the team are, Taylor, Shedina, Ross, Snyder, Walker, Shaw, Smith, Palmer, Best, Wright, Benson, Johnson and Mackey. Walker makes a good leader. He's a hard, consistent player himself, and has the rest of the team with him every minute. East Jordan has always been a good sport town. Now this year without many other things going on we want the school and town support behind the team. We have a real team this year and we want real support in attendance at the games. You can't have a winning team without the winning spirit behind it, so show the boys you appreciate their effort by your attendance at the games.

If you have never seen a basket-ball game come to the High School Gym., Friday night and if you don't get 32c worth of enjoyment you won't have to come again. We know you'll be a real basket-ball fan if you see the team play, so everybody out! Let's go—East Jordan!

Best Of All Is The Girls Team.

From the greenest of the country, to the flappers of the city they are developing into the most vicious fighting girls team ever turned out at the school. We guarantee to keep you on your toes from start to finish. They have a fighting spirit and determination that makes a winning team. Uphold the East Jordan sporting spirit in Basket Ball as in Base Ball.

RATE WAR OPENED BY SHIPPERS

Michigan Men Seek to Modify Zone Adjustments By I. C. C.

Washington, D. C.—Oral arguments were heard last week by the interstate commerce commission in the case brought by the Michigan Traffic league against the Ann Arbor connecting roads.

The case originally was decided by the commission December 3, 1923, and required railroads to modify the zone adjustment of the Michigan rates in issue or before March 21, 1924. January 25, 1924, the railroads petitioned for a re-argument, which was granted. Supplemental hearings were held during October and November, 1924.

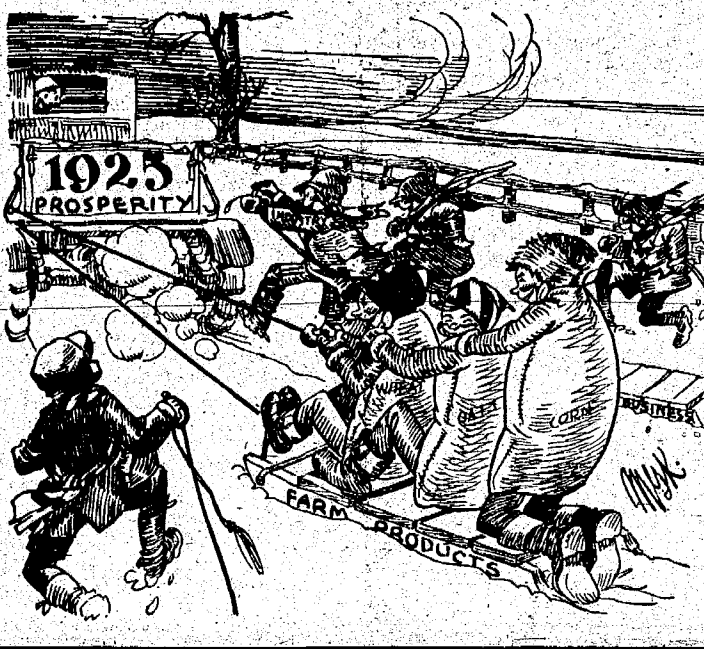

Ernest L. Ewing, Grand Rapids counsel for the Traffic league, in a statement declared that both the Interstate Commerce commission and the Michigan Public Utilities commission have found that the Michigan rates are unreasonable and unduly prejudicial. The league accepts these findings and is desirous of having the benefits of the orders accrue to the Michigan public without undue delay. Ewing stated.

Money seems to be one commodity defying the law of supply and demand.

MANY WOMEN USE GLYCERINE MIXTURE

Women appreciate the quick action of simple glycerine, buckthorn bark, etc., as mixed in Adlerika. Most medicines act only on lower bowel but Adlerika acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel, and removes all gasses and poisons. Excellent for obstinate constipation and to guard against appendicitis. Helps any case gas on stomach in TEN minutes.—GIDLEY & MAC, Druggists.

CHICAGO "LOOP" HIT BY BLAZE

Congress Hotel Guests Forced To Flee By Adjoining Fire

Chicago—Eight hundred guests in the exclusive Congress hotel fled to the streets, many in night attire last Sunday, when fire destroyed an adjoining building, with damage estimated at $1,000,000.

Twelve firemen were overcome as the fire swept through the six-story William H. Hoops building, adjoining the Congress. After the blaze was controlled guests were permitted to return to the hotel.

Valuable antiques were destroyed. No damage was done to the hotel, but guests whose windows faced on the fire found smoke pouring in. Crowds filled the lobbies.

The blaze was declared to be the worst of the winter here. It was not until the ice-sheeted building had been deluged with water for five hours that the fire was extinguished.

McGOY GIVEN 1 TO 10 YEAR TERM

Sentenced to San Quentin Prison For Slaying of Mrs. Theresa Mors

Los Angeles, Calif.—Kid McCoy, ex-pugilist, has been sentenced to serve from one to ten years in the San Quentin penitentiary on a manslaughter conviction in connection with the slaying of Mrs. Theresa W. Mors.

Mrs. Mors was found dead of a bullet wound in an apartment occupied by "Mr. and Mrs. Shields."

Her body was discovered about 9 a. m. August 13. At about the same hour McCoy is alleged to have entered the antique shop owned by Albert A. Mors, divorced husband of Mrs. Mors, and held up several employees of the place while he waited for the appearance of Mors whom he announced he was going to "get."

The men, after handing over their money and valuables, were forced to remove shoes and trousers to prevent their escape; the women were allowed to wait unmolested.

One of them, William G. Ross, made a break for liberty. He was shot in the thigh, and then, it was testified, McCoy went next door to the shop of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Schapp and wounded them after which he surrendered to authorities.

Our idea of international humor is the statement in the recent note to the Allies from the German government, saying that "the feelings of the German people have sustained a severe blow."

Ice Firms Form $30,000,000 Merger

Chicago—A $30,000,000 merger of eight ice companies with plants in 31 cities in the United States and Canada has been completed here. The principal factors in the consolidation are the City Ice and Fuel company of Ohio concern, and the Hygienic Ice company of Chicago. The merged companies will have 62 ice manufacturing plants with an annual output of more than 3,000,000 tons. The merger will also operate in Detroit and Springwells, Michigan.

Michigan Steps Up In Dairy Standing

With more than thirty thousand cows under test in official cow testing associations during 1924, Michigan has suddenly taken rank as one of the leading dairy states of the nation in point of definite improvement work being done among its milk producers.

A census just completed by the dairy extension men of the Michigan Agricultural College shows that these 30,506 cows, to be exact, represent nearly four per cent of all the cows in the state, the highest percentage of cows on official test shown by all the states of the country.

Genesee County, with 14.3 per cent of all its cows entered in the county's nine cow test associations, also leads among all counties in the United States in respect to percentage of animals on test.

A striking illustration of what may be accomplished in cow test associations by way of increasing production is shown by production figures of the survey. While the average production of all Michigan cows is only 3,700 lbs. of milk a year, the average production of the thirty thousand cow test association animals reaches the comparatively high figure of 7,201 pounds of milk and 277.3 pounds of butterfat a year.

Wisconsin alone leads Michigan in total number of cow test associations in operation, boasting 164 associations to Michigan's 105. Percentage of cows on test, however, gives Michigan first place. Another record which falls to state dairymen is that of greatest increase in association work during 1924, when 40 cow test associations were stated in the state.

Get Special Fares For Farmers Week

Visitors at the annual Farmers Week at the Michigan Agricultural College Feb. 2 to 6 will have the benefit of reduced fares on all railroads in the state while traveling to and from East Lansing, according to announcement made here this week.

The special rates are expected to result in considerably increased attendance at the gathering, especially if road conditions make driving difficult. Visitors from distant points in the state depends on the railroads for transportation to the winter conference in almost all cases, and it is to them that the lowered ticket cost will mean the most.

Round-trip tickets may be purchased from any point in the state (to Lansing and return) for one and one-half times the regular one-way fare. Tickets should be purchased from the local ticket agents in advance.

Soils Association Meets at Farm Week

The maintenance of soils fertility on Michigan farms and the lowering of the cost of crop production by proper methods of soil management will be two major problems discussed by the Michigan Soils Association, in annual meeting at M. A. C. during the Farmers Week, Feb. 2 to 6.

While the meetings of the association are to be held on Tuesday and Wednesday mornings of Farmers Week, a special soil testing demonstration will be put on every morning of the week. Farmers who wish to have their soil tested "clinically." They are urged by the college soils men to take the samples several days in advance, so that they may dry out; and to take two samples—one of the surface soil to a depth of about seven inches and one of the soils at a depth of two or three feet.

Be careful how you hiccup. If it lasts two weeks it will probably kill you.

Everybody agrees that law enforcement is a great thing—for the rest of the guys.

Well, the postal employees won't have to spend the money they expected to get as a "raise."

Many a young man starts out in life with the idea of pleasing everybody. Then he gets married.

Most people are so busy figuring out increased income that they fail to see where the leak is in the outgo.

If a politician wants to do the farmers a favor he will turn his attention to breeding a hen which will not try to cross the road.

Charlevoix County Is Richer By A Hundred Thousand

Charlevoix County is richer yearly by $100,000 because of the soil fertility produced as a by-product of dairymen, according to the Blue Valley Creamery Institute. The figure is based on data resulting from many carefully kept records on a considerable number of farms.

The average quantity of manure recovered for use on crop lands in the area studied was 7.4 tons per cow, and since the fertilizing value of a ton of manure is $2.50 the by-product value of each cow is approximately twenty dollars. The application of this figure to the 5,000 dairy cattle in this county brings the total value to the soil fertility here to the most unbelievable figure given above.

In keeping with its better feeding program the Institute estimates that from 25 to 50 per cent greater profit from each ton to feed can be made by local farmers who milk cows through improved feeding methods, alone. This was demonstrated, it states, by the experiment recently concluded by the University of Minnesota. The school's dairy division about a year ago purchased four average cows with available records but without a scientific feeding ration and by merely placing them on a home-grown ration suitable to their needs, increased each cow's production almost forty per cent.

Brother, Sister As Principals In Double Wedding

Mr. John M. Makel of Mancelona and Miss Anna Farrell of East Jordan and Mr. John Berry of Detroit and Miss Lydia Makel of Mancelona were the principals in a double wedding at Grand Rapids Monday evening, December 29, 1924.

Mr. Berry is the son of a banker at Gaylord, and is a pharmacist employed in Detroit. His bride graduated both from the Mancelona High School and from the County Normal, and has been teaching school near Mancelona. She returned here Saturday from Gaylord and will complete her school before joining her husband at Detroit where they will make their home.—Mancelona Herald.

Your Income Tax

Your income tax for the year 1924 is less, in proportion to your income, than was the tax for 1923. A rate reduction, however, is not the only benefit afforded by the revenue act of 1924. Increase in the exemption for married persons, a 25 per cent reduction on "earned income," and other changes in revenue legislation are of immediate interest to every taxpayer.

The revenue act of 1924 requires that returns be filed by every single person whose net income for 1924 was $1,000 or more, or whose gross income was $5,000 or more, and by every married couple whose aggregate net income was $2,500 or more, or whose aggregate gross income was $5,000 or more. Last year returns were required of married couples whose aggregate net income was $2,000 or more. Husband and wife, living together, may include the income of each in a single joint return, or each may file a separate return showing the income of each. Net income is gross income less certain specified reductions for business expenses, losses, bad debts, contributions, etc.

The period for filing returns is from January 1 to March 15, 1925. The return, accompanied by at least one-fourth of the amount of tax due, must be filed with the collector of internal revenue for the district in which the taxpayer has his legal residence or has his principal place of business.

There is nothing strange about great men; they are like us, only deeper, higher, broader; they think as we do, but with more intensity; they suffer as we do, more keenly; they love us as we do, more tenderly.—David Grayson.

Land of Cockaigne

Cockaigne was a fabled land invented as a satire on Avignon. It was a place of joy and luxury. The houses were built of things to eat, the rivers ran wine, roasted geese paraded the streets.

Owosso—Loss estimated at between $50,000 and $75,000 was caused here when a warehouse of the J. A. Byerly company was destroyed by fire. Firemen fought the conflagration hampered by near zero weather.
Boyne City—An official announcement has been made here of the organization of the Boyne City Portland cement Co. with an authorized capitalization of $2,000,000. W. H. White was named president of the company.

Grand Haven—The Pere Marquette car ferry No. 19 has been released from a sand bar at the Grand Haven harbor entrance after it was imprisoned for 78 hours and was imperiled by the storms and ice drives during the recent cold weather.

Jackson—Plans have been completed for the construction of at least two $1,000,000 buildings here with the coming of spring. The two $1,000,000 projects are the new community hotel and a new general office building for the Consumers' Power company.

Grand Haven—Eleven coast guard stations in Michigan closed January 1, under orders from the district superintendent here. The officer and two enlisted men will remain on duty all winter but the remainder of the crew will be released until spring.

Menominee—John Kachinsky, 42-year-old farmer of Carney, is in the county jail in connection with the death of his wife, who froze to death, the result of a holiday celebration in which moonshine liquor is alleged to have played a prominent and fatal part.

Calumet—Matt Loyja was found frozen to death near his cabin on a farm five miles from here. He had spent Christmas Eve on a farm adjoining his own and apparently he became confused while skiing to his cabin in a severe storm. His body was found 50 feet from his home.

Ann Arbor—The Michigan Audubon Society, which has headquarters here, has sent out appeals to farmers, rural mail carriers, game wardens and others, to feed quail which are reported starving in Michigan. Farmers are urged to put scratch food, such as alfalfa and screenings on the snow for the quail.

Chicago—Charles S. Sharov and other attorneys who defended Richard Loeb and Nathan Leopold, Jr., for the kidnaping and slaying of Robert Franks, have agreed with the families of the youths to accept $150,000 for their services, according to an announcement by the Chicago Bar Association, which has agreed the settlement as fair.

The announcement of the bar association in part, follows:
"The three attorneys having requested the opinion of the board of managers of the bar association concerning their fees pursuant to an agreement with their clients previously publicly announced; and having informed the board that subject to its approval they have agreed with the clients by whom they were retained on a total fee of $150,000 for all their services; this board is of the opinion that in view of the responsibility involved, the difficulty of the questions raised, and the professional skill of counsel, and also of the outcome of the trial, the sum of $150,000 is a reasonable total professional fee for all their services in that case."

He had only returned that day, and she spoke to him in desperation, as they went in to dinner together.

"I know!" he broke in eagerly. "I'm dying to hear everything! It was a beautiful nuisance having to go away just then; but it couldn't be helped. Araid we shan't get a chance tonight, though."

"Tomorrow, then? Hugh, I must see you alone tomorrow!" There was a passionate urgency in her voice, a tragic pleading in her eyes—both signs which she entirely misunderstood.

"I am so deeply interested in your work among the natives," he began, his clear, clerical tones arresting everybody's attention.

"I've been thinking of you ever since I saw you at the table, Barbara," he said, smiling at her. "I wonder you weren't scared stiff, Bab!"

"I was at first," she owned. "But I grew very fond of them."

"Capital!" beamed the vicar. "Our brothers, in spite of difference in color, doubtless they responded to your affectionate overtures, poor souls?"

"I imagine Croft got 'em under more by bullying than affection; didn't he?" he laughed.

unlike by many reasons. For such things we had to play upon their superstitions to insure our own safety and obtain any influence at all. It needed great patience.

"We were not missionaries!" she reminded him sharply. She looked impatiently at his self-complacent, horrified face and short-sighted eyes.

"Apparently your success was not very great," she observed tartly. Old Mr. Rochdale hastily smoothed over possible trouble by inquiring concerning the personal character of the natives.

"They are very simple and real," the girl replied warmly. "You find the same fears and jealousies and faults as everywhere else; but they are not hidden by any thin veneer of civilization. When they love or hate, they do so openly."

"I hope," remarked Miss Davies, not much liking her tone, "you made them wear decent clothing?"

"Most of them were naked," said Barbara; "some wore a little matting." Everybody rather hurriedly went on eating. Hugh buried himself into the silence, thinking to change the subject.

"What did you do about clothes, Bab? Did your own last out?" "Fairly well. I made some breeches, and wore them."

The vicar coughed; Mrs. Stockley refused her favorite game in her embarrassment. Mrs. Rochdale remarked tactfully: "Dear, dear! Isn't it all like a novel? If you had been there, Hugh, it would have been really romantic!"

Hugh laughed. "I shouldn't be much good on a desert island," he observed modestly. "Must have been beastly uncomfortable."

"I bet Bab often wished you were there!" smiled old Mr. Rochdale, in his genial way. "Only she won't own it. Now, Hugh, make her confess!"

chair, she heard her mother's voice: "Her time will soon be full again until her wedding, with all her old duties."

Then Hugh came up and chatted, in his usual cheery way, and somebody played and sang. But all the time those two words beat upon her brain. God! was it true? Was this net once more to capture her? Was this nightmare to become the reality, and the splendid real—all the very essence of life—to fade into the dream?

Then Hugh Came Up and Chatted.

The morning was cold and bright. After a pretense at breakfast, she put on her coat, Hugh not being expected before lunch, and her mother not yet down.

A craving for freedom from stone walls, for vigorous action, had seized her. The cold air stinging her face, the wind buffeting her skirts, dulled momentarily the agony within.

The lake glistened in the sunshine; here and there sprigs of ling still showed purple amid the russet of dead heather and bracken upon the common; the white sandy paths were crisp with frost.

At the corner where the lane joined the main road, she paused. Here, she and that other had first met. With exquisite pain, memories of those far-off first encounters seethed into her mind.

She saw again the half-mocking smile upon his lips; remembered his teasing words and her own annoyance, after speaking of her heart's desire.

Presently she turned her steps to the house where so many happy hours had been spent. The garden looked deserted now, the tennis court frost-bound and dreary.

He faced her, something nearer to a sneer than she had ever known curling his good-natured lips. "In what way? By betraying the greatest trust one man can put in another? By dragging you down?"

"He kept his word to you," she repeated. "He saved my life at the risk of his own. In every possible way he looked after my safety and comfort; nobody could have done more. Although he cared—all the time, I never even guessed it! He—he thought I belonged to you." She paused, shading her eyes.

"Months went by, and no rescue came. Then—I—oh, Hughie, I couldn't help it—I realized—I loved him, and—and he—knew it, too. We meant to wait—and tell you. But months passed again, and—the position became impossible. You can't understand here. But there we had to face facts—quite differently from ordinary standpoints—to make our own laws. He left the decision to me. At last, after months again of struggle and—uncertainty—I became convinced that it would be right to make our own marriage, too." She touched her finger. "This was the only ring he had."

Her words went into silence. A faint relief replaced the look of horror in Hugh's face. To an essentially clean-living British sportsman, the idea of wantonness between the girl he loved and the man he had trusted was unbearable.

"This was Hugh's first plunge into such complications; he was utterly lost, adrift from every mooring. Barbara, watching him, half held out her hand."

"You must not think hardily of Alan," she appealed wistfully. "If he had not behaved honorably, I should not have loved him—as I did. Surely you believe that, Hugh?"

"Mechanically he took her hand: "Oh, lord!" he ejaculated. "What a mess it all is!"

"It's hell for me!" she exclaimed, a bitter agony in her voice that startled him. He looked at her strangely, amazed. This tragic-eyed woman who had suffered so much, learning to love with such fierce intensity, was far removed from his old girlish companion.

"I—I can never marry you." "He caught at a chair, but said nothing. "I care for you—as much as ever," she went on hurriedly, seeing the look on his face. "But—it was never love! I have learned that, Hugh. I know now."

"You mean—" he asked again huskily, as her voice faltered. "Croft?" She nodded. The color ebbed still more from his cheeks, and he laid a hand on her arm. "But—my poor Bab! he is—dead—"

"And he kept it," she said quickly. He faced her, something nearer to a sneer than she had ever known curling his good-natured lips. "In what way? By betraying the greatest trust one man can put in another? By dragging you down?"

OLD ALBERT FULLILLS HIS PENITENTIARY DEATH SENTENCE

SENTERVED ONLY 34 DAYS OF TERM

Bayano Oil Bubble Promoter Would Have Been Hanged For Parole At End of Eleven Months

Stateville Ill.—Leo Koretz, promoter of the Bayano Oil Bubble, who secured scores of friends and relatives out of millions of dollars, died last week in the state penitentiary here after serving 34 days of his prison term, from chronic diabetes.

The promoter declared, when he went to prison a few weeks ago, that he did not expect to come out alive. His lawyers urged a light sentence for this reason and doctors who examined him said it was doubtful if he could endure prison life.

Leo Koretz fled from Chicago in December, 1922, a few days before his Bayano Oil bubble burst and with him went a little black satchel containing about $2,000,000 in money and securities. A day or two after he left a committee of business men who had gone to Panama to investigate his rich oil lands in the Bayano River valley, and all of them heavy investors in it, reported there was no oil in the territory.

A few days after Koretz fled he returned to relatives upward of $300,000, and also sent jewelry valued at several thousands of dollars to his wife. Most of this was turned over to the referee in bankruptcy.

Almost a year to a day from the time Koretz fled from Chicago, he was found in Halifax, Nova Scotia, where he had purchased a large estate and was living as a retired business man under the name of Lou Keyte.

He was given from one to ten years on each of three charges, but the court ruled he might serve the sentences concurrently, making him eligible for parole at the end of 11 months.

JAPANESE O. K. NAVAL PROGRAM

Holds U. S. Has Right Under Arms Treaty to Elevate Warship Guns.

Washington—Congress has been informed that the administration does not regard the much debated proposals to modernize American battleships as conflicting with the arms treaty, but that President Coolidge believes both the modernization program, which, according to Secretary of the Navy Wilbur, would require an expenditure of $110,000,000 annually for 10 years, and certain proposed new construction would conflict with his policy of economy.

Secretary Hughes, in a letter to the house naval committee, declared Japan and the United States agreed that elevation of guns on American capital ships would be in harmony with the treaty, although Great Britain had taken the opposite view.

LEAGUE COST SET AT $4,371,963

England Leads List of Fifty-Five Contributing Nations.

New York—The expenses of the League of Nations for the present year will total $4,371,963, according to figures compiled by the secretary-general of the league and made public last week by the League of Nations Non-partisan association.

Fifty-five nations are contributing to this year's budget of the league, the figures show, with Great Britain as the largest contributor to the amount of $411,478. France will be second, with $264,719.

Other large contributors will be China with $233,794; India, $230,553; Italy and Japan, $225,229 each; Argentina and Canada, $163,656 each; Spain, $137,035 and Czechoslovakia, $154,304.

VETO OF POSTAL BILL UPHELD

Senate Sustains Presidential Act in Disallowing Pay Increase.

Washington—President Coolidge's recent veto of the postal pay bill, which would have increased the pay of postal employees, was sustained by the senate. The vote was 35 to 29, or one less than the two-thirds majority necessary to pass the measure over executive disapproval.

With the veto sustained, salary increases now are dependent upon the enactment of the pending administration measure to advance pay and postal rates simultaneously.

Disabled Vets Get Total Insurance.

Washington—A war veteran who has become totally disabled and who carries life insurance with the government may recover the entire amount of insurance, according to a ruling by the supreme court of the United States. The decision was given in the case of a Montana veteran, who lost an arm and leg and was rated totally disabled. The veterans bureau refused to pay his insurance and was upheld by the court of appeals.

John L. Cable

Representative John L. Cable, Republican, of Ohio, introduced in the house a bill which proposes that should the house and senate fail to elect a President after a deadlock, the secretary of state would automatically become President. If anything prevented the secretary of state from assuming the Presidency, the next ranking cabinet member would take the office.

Washing His Car
By THOMAS ARKLE CLARK
Dean of Men, University of Illinois.

I HAVE always been convinced that if Tom Sawyer had had more than one fence to whitewash he might have had considerable trouble in getting the neighbor boys to take the job off his hands. It was the novelty of the thing that deceived them. Later they would have awakened to the fact that it was real work they were up against, and Tom would have been compelled to take a little exercise himself.

When Tam—Tam O'Shanter is the name of our car—when Tam was new and shiny and a novelty to our friends, every member of the family from the maid to the boy who mows the lawn was interested in keeping him polished to the highest degree.

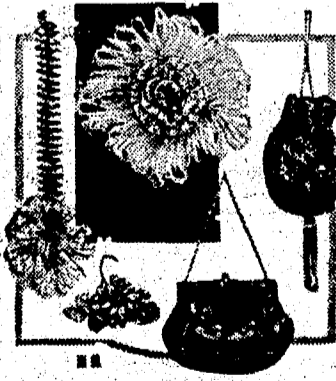

When I would open up the garage and begin the bathing process even the neighbors would come running out with wet chamomile cloths to assist at the ceremonies or to stand around with words of encouragement or suggestion. It was a privilege to help in the ablutions.

"It's all right when it's new," one of my pessimistic neighbors said to me as, passing through the yard one morning, he caught me polishing up Tam, "but just wait a while."

He was quite right. Conditions have changed now; Tam's body is a trifle duller from contact with the elements, the process of keeping him clean has grown commonplace and arduous. Even the friends who most often take advantage of his motive power to save them from physical exertion are no longer interested in the vulgar details of his personal toilet. They speak to me, perhaps, as they catch me at work, but their business needs immediate attention, and they pass on quickly.

It takes courage and persistence to keep at a task after the novelty of it has passed and only the dull, tiresome, and regularly recurring details remain. It takes courage, I say, whether the task be washing the car, studying an uninteresting lesson, or sticking to a principle which people think is old fashioned or out of date, like being honest or going to church, or respecting old-time conventions. It takes character to stick to a hard uninteresting job until it is finished, but the satisfaction of finishing something one has begun, of doing something well, usually more than pays for the effort. One's self-respect and self-satisfaction are worth a lot.

Pretty Furbelows of Metallic Ribbons

There are a lot of pretty new furbelows made of ribbons with the glitz of gold or silver in them. Hair ornaments, dress trimmings, corsage flowers, boutonnières and bags, place as much emphasis on shimmer as on color—they go together.

Narrow silver ribbon is a favorite medium just now for hair ornaments, in bands or braided strands or folds. One of these is shown here, finished with a little such fancy in orchid color. A dress trimming is made of shaded yellow ribbon with gold edge, forming a rosette set in yellow ostrich feathers. The small boutonniere is of silver ribbon and silver foliage and the bugs of wide, metallic bronzed—shown in many colors and patterns.

YOUR CONVENTION "SALARY"

The only thing which relieves the blues, which most of us feel at the first of the month is the "salary" check, which just about covers our bills. "Salary" is derived from the "salarium," or salt money, which formerly was a definite part of the money received by soldiers in the armies of imperial Rome. Eventually the word came to mean the entire pay received. Salt was originally enough of a luxury to justify a designated sum for its purchase in each pay envelope.

NEWS FROM THE STATE CAPITAL

PROPOSED AUTO AND GAS TAX RECEIVES APPROVAL OF GOVERNOR.

Lansing—The State highway finance program for the next two years which Gov. Groesbeck will support has been introduced in the Senate by Senator Baxter, of Grand Rapids. The program provides for a 70 cents a hundredweight tax on passenger cars, 80 cents to $1.00 a hundred on trucks and a 2-cent a gallon gasoline tax. The weight tax would be given immediate effect to permit the issuance of 1925 licenses and the collection of funds for a construction program next summer. The gasoline tax would not take effect until Jan. 1, 1926.

The program is so drawn as to provide sufficient money for highway purposes, no matter what steps may be taken to block the enactment of a gasoline tax. The minimum requirement to maintain present highways is given as $13,760,000 a year, while a 70-cent a hundredweight on passenger cars plus an average of 90 cents a hundred on trucks would yield better than $20,000,000, according to estimates.

A two cents a gallon gasoline tax it is estimated would return $7,000,000 to $8,000,000 a year. The administration plan provides that if the people should vote a gasoline tax that the return from this source should be used to reduce the weight tax, the total receipts for highway purposes being held at approximately $20,000,000. The plan is the work of the administration officials and Senator Howard F. Baxter, of Grand Rapids.

Governor Delivers Message.
Governor Alex J. Groesbeck, in his message delivered to the legislature last week, featured the proposed highways and conservation program. He recommended an auto weight or gasoline tax, or both, to raise revenues for road purposes. He also pointed out the necessity for stricter supervision of public utilities, finance corporations and building and loan associations and recommended to the legislature's attention the need for new buildings at many State institutions. The message was delivered before a joint meeting of the Senate and House in the House chamber.

He declared that there is no reason why automobile taxation in Michigan should become onerous and urged up on the assembly the enactment of weight tax rather than the present tax based on horsepower. He declared that many of the present trunk lines should be re-routed to straighten and shorten them and that the legislature should grant the additional authority.

Change in Judiciary Sought.
Bills have been introduced by Senators George M. Condon and Arthur E. Wood, of Detroit, which provides that in cities operating under the Recorder's Court Act, there shall be one Recorder's court judge for each 100,000 of population, provided the voters approve of such a regulation at an election of Detroit Recorder's Court judges from seven to probably 10 or more.

Welsh Names Committee.
Lieutenant Governor George Welsh has announced a complete list of committee appointments to serve in the state senate. Senator Burney Brower of Jackson, was given the chairmanship of finance and appropriations committee, which is the equivalent of the ways and means committee in the House.

Reapportionment Bill Up.
Senator Arthur E. Wood, of Detroit, has introduced in the senate a bill providing for redistricting and reapportioning of the entire lower peninsula. The bill was referred to the apportionment committee. Wood's bill would allot one state senator for approximately every 120,000 population.

Wells Chosen Speaker.
Rep. Fred B. Wells, of Cassopolis, who has represented Cass County in the House for the past 10 years, was named the Republican candidate for speaker over Rep. George C. Watson, of Capac, by a caucus vote of 62 to 33. The House ratified the nomination.

Pierce Named House Clerk.
Charles Pierce of Lansing, was unanimously chosen clerk of the house. This is his tenth term and if he finishes, he will have served 20 years, a record in the state. A previous clerk in Michigan's early history served 18 years.

House May Offer All Pay Bills.
The suggestion from Speaker Fred B. Wells and other members of the House that legislative procedure would be quickened if all appropriation bills were introduced in the House as they are in the House of Congress has already met considerable opposition in the Senate and apparently will not be realized. Speaker Wells also proposes that all of the House appropriation bills be introduced by one member. In 1923, they were parcelled out and as a result several put in a tardy appearance in the House

Federal Onion Grades Revised

Principal Change Is That Minimum Size Shall Be One and a Half Inches.

Revisions in the United States grades for northern-grown onions have been announced by the United States Department of Agriculture.

The principal change is the separation of size and grade with the provision that unless otherwise specified the minimum size shall be 1 1/2 inches.

U. S. No. 1 grade now includes specifications as to firmness, maturity and shape. A limitation has also been placed upon the amount of decay in connection with the usual tolerance which is allowed to cover mistakes which happen in the course of trading and handling.

The revised grades are as follows: U. S. No. 1. U. S. No. 1 shall consist of onions of similar varietal characteristics which are firm, mature, well shaped, free from doubles, splits, bottlenecks, scallions, dirt, tops or other foreign matter and from damage caused by sprouting, freezing, disease, insects or mechanical or other means.

In order to allow for variations incident to proper grading and handling, not more than 5 per cent, by weight, of any lot may be below the requirements of this grade, but not more than a total of two-fifths of this tolerance or 2 per cent, may be allowed for onions which are affected by decay.

U. S. No. 2 shall consist of onions which do not meet the requirements of U. S. No. 1. See size classification.

Unless otherwise specified the minimum size shall be 1 1/2 inches in diameter. Onions may be classified for size on the following basis: 1/2 to 1 1/4 inches; small, 1 1/4 to 1 3/4 inches; medium, 1 3/4 to 2 1/4 inches; large, over 2 1/4 inches.

In order to provide a class for very large Spanish-type onions grown in some localities, a "Very Large" class is recommended for onions over 3 inches in diameter. Onions may also be described as "Small to Medium" or "Medium to Large" in accordance with the facts.

In order to allow for variations incident to proper sizing, not more than 5 per cent, by weight, may be below the specified minimum size and in addition, not more than 10 per cent, by weight, may be larger than the specified maximum size.

"Mature" means firm, dry and well cured. Mid-season onions which are not customarily held in storage shall be considered mature when harvested in accordance with good commercial practice at a stage which will not result in the onions becoming soft or spongy.

"Well shaped" means having the shape characteristic of the variety, but slightly off-type or slightly misshapen onions shall be admitted to U. S. No. 1. "Doubles" and "splits" are onions which have developed more than one distinct bulb. All such onions which are either distinctly misshapen or which show a splitting of the outer scales shall be excluded from U. S. No. 1.

"Bottlenecks" are onions with abnormally thick necks. "Scallions" are onions which have thick necks and relatively small and poorly developed bulbs.

"Diameter" means the greatest diameter at right angles to a straight line running from the stem to the root. "Minimum sizes other than 1 1/2 inches shall be specified in connection with the grade as "U. S. No. 1, 1 1/4 in. min." or "U. S. No. 1, 2 in. min."

Sweet clover silage is distinctly inferior to corn silage for steers, although it does have some succulent merit. Silage can be made of it alone when it is first wilted or partly dried so as to reduce the water content to about 65 or 70 per cent.

Geese should have range. Geese require fresh air in plenty, and will not bear confinement in tight houses. A good place for them is a pen under an open shed from which they can run into the barnyard or fenced-in pasture during the day, when they cannot be given free range.

Geese continue to bring out an annual brood of goslings until quite aged. An instance is known where a pair of geese produced every year for twenty years. Geese seem to be quite free from disease, death resulting from old age, accident, or the hand of the owner.

Alice Terry

Alice Terry's home, before she entered the "movies," was in Vincennes, Ind. In a recent popular picture she was described as follows: "Just eighteen years old, with skin like silk and damask tinted rose pink, her figure lithe and graceful, and oval face crowned with a mass of spun gold hair, eyes 'Mediterranean blue,' a Grecian nose, a sensitive expressive mouth."

Have You This Habit?

By Margaret Morison

ALWAYS A SMILE

CAPTAIN VALLIANT stepped with the crowd into the elevator. Since he had come back from France these unwhirled, purposeless streams of people worried him, and he wished he had left shopping for his collars to his sister, as she had offered.

"First floor!" called out the elevator man. "Ladies' suits, dresses, shoes; children's and misses' hats and coats." Valliant racked his brain: where had he heard that voice before?

"Second floor! Misses' department; wrappers and kimonos; manicure parlor, lan-je-ee." Then they shot up another story, and once more the voice that was so familiar sang out its song: "Third floor! Misses' department; manicure parlor; lan-je-ee." Suddenly he halted half way, realized he was repeating instead of going on with his list, and broke into a roar of laughter that sounded above the hum of the shuffling feet.

"Did you give him the job?" asked the captain. "No," said the other, "I wish I had. Someone else was ahead of him; a fellow I've just fired because he couldn't fit in."

"Who was that fellow with the pleasant face you sent me the other day?" asked the manufacturer of machine parts.

"No," said the other, "I wish I had. Someone else was ahead of him; a fellow I've just fired because he couldn't fit in."

Corn Silage Hints Made by Experts

Prepare When the Moisture Content is 65 per Cent.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Corn silage is best prepared when the corn is cut at a stage containing about 65 or 70 per cent moisture, say specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture. This may be told when the lower leaves on the stalk are turning brown; about 90 per cent of the kernels are dented, and 75 per cent are so hardened that no moisture can be squeezed out.

The length to which the silage is cut should be from one-half to one inch. Silage cut this short will pack better and the silo will hold its maximum tonnage. Also the chances for the silage to spoil are considerably reduced.

In filling the silo packing is essential. The common practice is to keep the sides slightly higher than the center and to tramp the whole surface thoroughly.

If the silage is too dry to pack well, water should be added. This is best done by directing a hose in the blower. Well-packed and moistened silage is less likely to mold.

When the silo is filled the silage should be covered to prevent spoilage. A layer of cut corn or sorghum stalks from which the ears or grain have been removed does this effectively.

Unproductive Idle Land Made to Yield Profits

Idle land like idle labor is a detriment to any country. Taxes must be paid on all land. Why not grow a crop of timber on worn-out, sandy, broken, or wet lands not needed for agriculture? This pertinent question for farmers is answered by W. R. Mattoon, extension forester, with the United States Department of Agriculture, who reminds us that there are several million acres of such land which should be producing timber because it is the most profitable crop that can be grown on such lands.

Timberland that has been cut heavily and burned over usually has so few seed-bearing trees that it does not get well set in young growth. All sorts of "weed trees" come in, like sweet gums, sassafras, persimmon, and others, often preventing the more valuable trees from coming in.

Pines are easily propagated, and denuded lands can be made to grow a full crop of pine with a little effort. Experiments show that slash pine seed can be successfully sown on wet lands, such as savannah or crawfish lands. About two pounds of seed per acre should be used. Sowings on land with one year's grass have given better results than on freshly burned-over land.

Jobred Wheat Is Again Ready for Distribution

Jobred wheat is again ready for distribution in lots of sufficient size to seed one acre in comparison with some home-grown variety. This wheat is being distributed by the Iowa Agricultural Experiment station this year for a charge of $2.50 for 1 1/2 bushels.

Reports received from a number of those receiving this wheat last fall indicate that it came through the winter in fine shape in all parts of the state. Its record at the experiment station during the past several years would indicate that it is an unusually hardy strain as well as a good yielder.

Jobred is a variety which can quite readily be distinguished from other varieties as it has a very plump berry and also a very distinct bronze-colored chaff which makes it rather distinct from the average variety of winter wheat.

Those interested in securing enough of this seed to try one acre of it should write to the Iowa Agricultural Experiment station, Ames, Iowa, sending $2.50 to cover cost of seed before the limited supply is exhausted. It is now ready for distribution.

Agricultural Exports

Agricultural products exported by this country each year are valued at $1,800,000,000.

RUM OCCUPATION PROTESTED

Germany Claims to Have Fulfilled Terms of Versailles Treaty.

Berlin—Germany has sent a note to the allied powers, in which it protests the failure of the allies to withdraw troops from the Cologne district. Charges contained in the note of the allies to Germany were emphatically denied.

A storm of protest has been aroused in the German press by the allied note explaining the delay in the evacuation of Cologne. The ambassador's note asserted the allies hold proof that Germany had not lived up to the Versailles treaty, but had continued the manufacture of war materials and the storage of arms and munitions in quantities far above those permitted by the treaty.

A LINE O' CHEER

By John Kendrick Bangs. THE SURE CURE. WHEN I am passing through there is no doubt I feel its sting. But there's no cure of pressing rue. In an impatient murmuring. In wrathfully condemning Fate.
