Memorial Day Well Observed

East Jordan Pays Tribute to Its Soldiers Dead.

Our citizens have always observed Memorial Day in a most fitting manner, but as the years go by, each year seems to develop more an intense interest in observance of the day and without question this year's observance was among the most fittingly carried through.

The program as published in our last issue was carried out in its entirety. The afternoon's parade was one of the largest ever staged, some seven hundred school pupils participating, in addition to the many other organizations. Two features of the parade are worthy of note—the music furnished by the East Jordan High School Band and that of the Methodist Church Boy Scout Bugle Corps.

At the High School Auditorium the program as arranged was carried out in its entirety. The address by Hon. J. M. Harris leaving many a thought for his audience to carry home with them.

Following the program, the Boy Scout Bugle Corps headed the American Legion Firing Squad in a march to Sunset Hill where the decorating of graves of our soldier dead was observed.

Oregon School Law Invalid

U. S. Supreme Court Holds It Is Unconstitutional.

The United States Supreme Court at Washington, Monday, ruled that a state cannot abolish private and parochial schools.

The high court held the Oregon public school law which did away with parochial schools by requiring all children between the ages of 8 and 16 to attend public schools was unconstitutional.

Decision of the United States Supreme court holding the Oregon anti-parochial law unconstitutional relieves Michigan of a political issue.

While a proposal was defeated in Michigan last fall to amend the state constitution to include provisions similar to those of the Oregon laws, interest behind the movement were reported preparing to receive the issue.

"Better Mailing Week"

Are You Guilty of Mailing a "Nixie" This Week?

While it is generally accepted that this is not the age of miracles, nevertheless, there are thousands of patrons of the United States mails who take it for granted that Uncle Sam has many wonder-workers on his pay roll.

The very fact that there are wizards in the employ of the Post Office Department—men and women who are uncanny, to say the least, in deciphering illegible hand-writing—has caused no end of trouble and expense to the government as well as to the tax-payer, along with inconvenience in the receipt and delivery of mail matter.

Yet, with all this expert handling and careful study of hand-writing on the part of the clerks the annual revenue from dead mail matter received by the government amounts to approximately $300,000.

Last year the Dead Letter Office received $120,000 from the sale of orphaned packages which could neither be forwarded to the addressee nor returned to the sender because of inadequate addresses. The same office turned into the United States Treasury $55,523.98 in cash removed from misdirected letters or found loose in the mails.

Postage stamps were taken from letters or found loose in the mails having a value of $12,165.67, almost double the entire revenue of the postal service in 1789.

Three-cent collected for the return to senders of letters which could not be delivered totaled $92,007.54. But this is not half the story. Checks drafts and money orders, whose owners could not be located, and amounting to $3,246,542.54 finally found a resting place in the Dead Letter Office.

For want of correct or complete addresses 21,000,000 letters were deposited in the Dead Letter Office, not to speak of 800,000 parcels which had been improperly addressed or wrapped.

Strange to say, this depositing of letters and packages in the mails with incomplete, inadequate or incorrect addresses and wrapping comes, in a large majority of cases, from those patrons who are the most liberal contributors to this branch of the United States government.

It has been estimated by postal officials that 200,000,000 pieces of mail are given "directory service" every year, which means that employees must take time from the regular handling and dispatching of mail in the endeavor to provide correct addresses for this huge volume of misdirected matter. In New York City alone, the cost of this service approximates $500 every day in the year and the total amount through the country is stupendous.

While the revenue from the Dead Letter Office is sufficient to keep that branch of the postal service functioning it is not nearly enough to pay the annual toll for support of the "NIXIE."

A "NIXIE" is a letter or parcel so improperly addressed that it can neither be delivered to the addressee nor returned to the sender without special treatment. This special treatment costs the Post Office Department or the taxpayer in the final analysis, approximately $1,740,000 every year.

In order to lift this tremendous burden from the shoulders of the Post Office Department and on the pocketbook of the American people, the first week in June has been set aside by Postmaster General New as "Better Mailing Week." An active, nation-wide campaign will be conducted during that period for the purpose of impressing on the mailer the necessity from every viewpoint of using more care in the addressing of his mail, not only letters but parcels as well.

Free T. B. Clinic at Boyne City This Saturday

Every man, woman and child in Charlevoix Co. will have an opportunity to collect returns on the pennies invested through the purchase of Tuberculosis Christmas Seals, when the Michigan Tuberculosis Ass'n in co-operation with Charlevoix Co. medical association conducts a Free Chest Clinic in the library at Boyne City, June 6, beginning at 8:30 o'clock in the morning. Children 14 years or younger should be accompanied by parent or guardian.

Tuberculosis is not an inherited disease, it is preventable, and when discovered in time usually preventable. Of the cases discovered early, 90 percent recover, hence the need of frequent examinations, especially on the part of those living in contact with the disease, also those who are losing weight, strength and energy, etc. In fact any one who has reason to think he may have tuberculosis is urged to attend the clinic. This examination which is free, will be conducted by a physician on the staff of the Michigan Tuberculosis Ass'n. Mrs. Laura Bauch director of clinics for the Michigan Tuberculosis Association is in the county making the preliminary arrangements.

Golden Text Series.

He was a Cashier of one of the Banks in a busy manufacturing city, trusted and respected. No one ever dreamed that he, above all, the men employed in the bank, was fighting a terrible fight with temptation, but he was and to himself he admitted he was daily losing grounds.

The temptations to take from the funds entrusted into his care, and leave for a foreign country to live in luxury and away from the daily toil and worry finally conquered him and he planned each step carefully.

The eventful night came, as he left his home after mid-night to become a thief and live an out-cast, he calmed his conscience by saying, "I had no help to fight against this and the struggle was to great."

Then these words came to him, almost as if they had been spoken, "I will look unto the hills from whence cometh my strength," a Golden Text of Sunday School days forty years ago. And he did look upward to God and the hills and through looking and believing gained a victory over the demon of dishonesty forever. He also found his way back to the God, Church and Sunday School he had almost forgotten. Kindly Class Presbyterian Sunday School.

Our extra slice of pie this week is awarded to the school child who plans to write an essay for commencement without asking somebody else to do it.

FOR INACTIVE KIDNEYS

When the kidneys are in need of a good flushing take FOLEY PILLS, a diuretic stimulant for the kidneys. They promptly and effectively flush the kidneys, increase their activity and bring pleasant relief. Landon Taylor, Dorchester, Iowa, writes: "I can truthfully say that FOLEY PILLS are the best I ever used. I had lots of trouble with my kidneys and liver; I couldn't lift anything my back was so weak. Every morning I was dizzy, could hardly walk, but now I feel fine." Hite's Drug Store. adv.

"Mon-dah-min"

(CORN) Among the Ojibwa Indians each spring, a chosen maid must walk around the field of young corn, at night alone, with trailing blanket, thus providing magic protection for the growing corn, from beetle, bug, and crow, and assuring a bountiful harvest.

This legend has been set to music by Paul Bliss, whose Cantata, "The Mound-Builders" was given by the High School Chorus two years ago.

The Cantata "Mon-dah-min" and a program of other Indian music will be given, in costume, by the Music Group of the East Jordan Study Club, Monday evening, June 8th, at 8:00 standard, at the Methodist Church. Mrs. Harry Oldham of Charlevoix will be the accompanist.

"The Legend"

In the springtime very early When the corn plant first is showing, Choose they out the fairest maiden Who must walk alone at night time; Walk around the cornfield growing, With her bright and beaded blanket. Walk alone and unattended Weaving magic with her blanket, Magic with her trailing blanket So no dragon fly nor beetle In the cornfield e'er may enter. Neither bug nor caterpillar, So no crow with beak like sharp knife May come in and pluck the young corn So no blight nor sun's hot burning May delay the tender growing.

"The Cantata"

On a spring night when the moon hides And the fawns rest by the river. Feet uplifted, all a-quiver; Forth she steals, no eye can see her. Silently and unattended, Walking slow around the cornfield, Magic, weaves the lovely maiden Till the circle is completed. And the maidens in the village Dance together in the corn dance Till she comes back to the wigwam Comes back weary from her journey. Then the fawns on bank of river, Feet uplifted, all a-quiver, Raise their heads and quickly vanish Vanish in the restful forest.

You Will Never Forget The LOST BATTALION

AMERICA DEFIES THE ENEMY

In the "Pocket" of the Argonne, one October day, sat Colonel C. W. Whittlesey and Captain George G. McMurtry of the First Battalion, 308th Infantry, U. S. A. Hopelessly cut off from their own forces because the troops had moved forward so rapidly, the group of 550 Americans were at the mercy of the enemy. For nearly six days they held on, hoping for relief, endeavoring to attract aid by use of carrier pigeons and signals to allied airplanes. Runners sent out had been captured. Then one man came back with a message for Colonel Whittlesey. It told the commander of the little group of brave "Yanks" how futile was their fight against the superior German forces opposite. "Surrender," Whittlesey read in the message, as he sat there grim-visaged and determined.

Free Chest Clinic For Charlevoix Co.

Charlevoix County is soon to have the advantage of a Free Chest Clinic. Miss Laura Bauch, director of clinics for the Tuberculosis Association and a trained tuberculosis worker is now making arrangements for a clinic to be held in the Library at Boyne City, Saturday, June 6th, commencing at 8:30 a. m.

"An examination given at this clinic may reveal the presence of a disease which would prove fatal if not discovered in an early state. Other diseases than tuberculosis are often found and brought to the patient's attention so that they may be given proper treatment," says Miss Bauch.

"If you have symptoms of the disease or have been in recent contact with tuberculosis, the only safe way to protect yourself and your family is to be examined at once. There is no longer any question that tuberculosis can be entirely cured if discovered in its early stages. The clinic offers this service free of charge.

"Free Chest Clinics are a part of the policy that the prevention of disease is worth much more and costs much less time and suffering and money, than the curing of disease."

The examinations will be made by a member of the staff of the Michigan Tuberculosis Association. Patients will not be treated but it will be commended that they see a competent physician if the diagnosis makes this necessary.

Free Chest Clinics and numerous other health activities are made possible by the sale of Christmas Seals.

Your Part in Local Progress

One of the finest ways to help our community is to increase the intelligence, the good feeling, the courage and the righteousness in it. As an individual citizen there is a best way for you to do this, and it is very simple. All you do is to take care of your intelligence, your feeling towards your neighbors, your courage, and your rectity.

As Americans we are always prone to look into the business of someone else a little too much, and neglect that belonging to ourselves. The least citizen of this town can do much to help the town if he will do himself the favor of helping himself. The greatest citizen of the community can do no more.

What we want to develop here is an inquisitive intelligence, a desire to learn the truth. We will need a real form of courage, very often, to swallow the detailed information which will surprise us in our local conceits. We must have a genuine good feeling, a desire to mutually assist each other, if we are to digest the realities without stirring up evil passions to blast progress. We must also possess, individually, strong characters based upon right as we understand it, but subject, always, to the like privilege of others, and the revelation of advancing truth.

A community of citizens, each working to make himself the best citizen possible, will be the best community possible. There will be an easy solution of minor problems, such as law and order, good schools, public morality etc.

Evolution In Tennessee

The forthcoming trial of the teacher in Tennessee who is accused of violating the newly enacted act regarding the teaching of evolution is attracting much national interest on account of the counsel said to be available in the prosecution and defense of the accused.

The guilt or innocence of the teacher however, is not to be determined by a judicial decision upon the correctness of the theory of evolution. The truth of the teaching will have little bearing in the trial. The real point at issue is whether a state has the right to prohibit the teaching of any subject in the public schools.

If the state has such a right Tennessee is within the bounds of legality in saying that no teacher in her boundaries shall teach evolution, regardless of the truth or falsity of those who violate the law.

The Auto's
Ghostly Toll

It is estimated that 19,000 persons were killed last year by automobiles in the United States. It is rare that one reads a newspaper that does not recount the tales of several road accidents. The public, however, seems to accept the death list as a fair cost to be paid for modern transportation.

The same number of deaths, from an unknown cause, would arouse the entire population. Millions of dollars would be spent to remedy the situation. The death toll should be kept before the public mind until stricter regulations regarding drivers are generally enforced. Minors and persons with physical defects affecting vision or quick response should not be permitted to operate cars. It is needless to add that those guilty of driving while under the influence of intoxicants should be sternly repressed.

Advertising and Mail Orders

Merchants who are inclined to ease up on their advertising during the "dull" summer months fail to take cognizance of several important factors in successful advertising.

If, for example, you can advertise your business in a dull season, while your competitor is waiting for the busy period, you enjoy an exclusive field, and should be able to sow seed that will harvest unmistakably when the people begin to buy heavily. That truth should be self evident to an advertiser who thinks; it has been proven too often for serious dispute.

Again, advertisers should realize that merchants advertising the same class of goods are not necessarily cutting each other's business. Very often, such persistent advertising emphasizes in the public mind the class of good so thoroughly that there is a marked increase in business. An easy illustration of this peculiar effect of advertising is the development of the various fads which often sweep the country.

If only one merchant had advertised, mah jong, for example, how limited the spread of the Chinese game would have been. Consider also that the public has a limited buying power. The people of this community will be able to spend a certain amount of money in 1925. It is an unknown, but a fixed, sum. Now, there are many who seek to persuade the buyer. The merchandise that is persistently advertised, whether by one merchant or many, is certain of getting more than its average share of the money spent during the year. This too has been proven so often as to be practically above dispute.

The familiar cry of the local merchant is "trade at home" and this newspaper is glad to endorse the stand of the merchants, but, too often, the merchant expects the people of the community to be loyal when the merchant is not using the force of the modern selling force. Mail order houses sell their goods by catalogs that advertise them; they send local citizens up-to-date advertising concerning the goods to be purchased. The buyer reacts to the stimulus of the printed word in the catalog because it is easy to do and because the merchant fails to employ the appropriate counter-attack, an attractive advertisement in the home paper which is read by nearly everybody.

The purpose of this discussion is not to persuade local merchants to over advertise. We realize that there is a limitation to the amount which a local merchant can spend for this purpose. But, we want the merchants here, as a body, to realize that if all of them would persistently advertise, even using small advertisements, the cumulative effect upon the reader would do considerable to offset the alluring claims of the mail order catalog.

No single local advertiser can fight the mail order catalog alone, if in each issue of every local newspaper there is printed a number of attractive local advertisements, covering the various lines handled in our city, the local papers would render effective service to the community and the merchants by keeping money here.

Poultry Men Plan
New Organization

Certificate of baby chicks, in order that purchasers may know the stock they are buying, is one of the chief aims of a newly formed state poultrymen's organization, known as the Michigan Poultry Improvement Association. Final steps of organization are to be taken at a meeting in Grand Rapids on June 4, according to J. A. Hannah, of East Lansing, secretary of the new body, and extension specialist at M. S. C.

"The association is designed as a parent organization under which hatcherymen, certified flock owners, and poultrymen interested in breeding birds for show purposes can work harmoniously for the benefit of the poultry industry in the state," says Hannah. The certification work with baby chicks is considered one of the most important activities of the new association. The present plans are said to call for culling and eventually blood testing of all flocks under the supervision of the State Department of Agriculture. Neighboring states are said to have been certifying chicks for several years. Representatives of the poultry department at the college, the State Department of Agriculture, and hatcherymen themselves will attend the Grand Rapids meeting.

Tuberculosis a Good Stimulus

Good Results Induce People of Michigan Community to Expand Work.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

The farmers of Hilldale county, Mich., demonstrated their practical foresight when in 1921 they decided to rid the entire county of bovine tuberculosis. It was the first county in the country to be put on this free list, the work being done in co-operation with the United States Department of Agriculture. Instead of sinking into their feather bed of laurels, the people of this community have gone ahead with other improvements, stimulated by the good results of their big venture in disease eradication, which has increased their returns from dairy products and breeding stock.

Once the county had been freed of tuberculosis in its cattle herds, the economic benefits were so satisfactory that the farmers were stimulated to search for other ways of increasing the returns from their live stock. Next to the securing of healthy stock, the improvement in the quality of the animals appealed to them as being a logical step toward the realization of a better live-stock industry. As a result there has been a noticeable increase in the quality of dairy stock through the use of better blood and the elimination of poor producers through keeping production records.

Improve Poultry Flocks.

The most recent move which may be said to have had its origin in the campaign against bovine tuberculosis is a determined effort to improve the poultry flocks by the eradication of the same disease from feathered live stock and by culling out the poor producers.

The work of poultry improvement through these means was started the past summer in one township by a representative of the bureau of animal industry, United States Department of Agriculture, and a poultry expert from the college of agriculture, the county paying all their expenses except salaries. The culling of the first 40 flocks revealed that the average farmer, in spite of the popular impression to the contrary, was losing money on his chickens. It was found that of these flocks a little more than 40 per cent had tuberculosis. This condition is looked upon as a plausible explanation of the fact that 22 per cent of the hogs shipped from the county are found to have the disease, as hogs are particularly susceptible to the avian type of the disease.

Help Poor Results.

At the same time that the prevalence of tuberculosis was disclosed among the poultry flocks, other conditions were revealed which help to account for the poor results obtained. Among them are poor stock or culs, improper feeding, having pullets hatched too late in the spring, and keeping old birds. The conclusion has been reached as a result of this study of conditions that it is advisable to keep the poultry flock fenced in away from contact with other live stock on the farm.

It Pays to Haul Manure From Stable to Field

It costs a farmer 53 cents on every ton of manure he lets accumulate in the barnyard, a 21-year test at the Ohio agricultural experiment station at Wooster shows.

That's why it pays to haul manure directly from the stable to the field, says Earl Jones, soils extension specialist at the Ohio state university.

"Crop yields tell the story of the results of manure storage more clearly than a chemical test," Mr. Jones points out. "In an experiment at the Ohio station manure has, for 21 years, been applied to the clover sod in a three-year rotation of corn, wheat and clover.

"On one series of plots, the manure has been hauled directly from the stall to the field early in the winter. For another series of plots an equal weight of manure has been left in a pile in the barnyard for three months before it was spread on the field.

"Stable manure produced 23 bushels of corn an acre, 10.5 bushels of wheat and 1,363 pounds of hay; manure from the barnyard produced an average of 19.5 bushels of corn, 9 bushels of wheat and 840 pounds of hay. Measured by the average value of crop increase, one ton of yard manure is worth $2.92, and one ton of stall manure $3.45."

Before Freshening Cow Should Be Given Rest

During the last six or eight weeks of the lactation period, that is, before freshening, the dairy cow must be given a rest so that she may store up some extra flesh on her body. It is a mistake to think that a dry cow can be neglected so far as feed and care are concerned. Neglect at this time will show itself in a poorer calf and in reduced production during the next lactation period. In regard to the time of calving an effort should be made to have the cows freshen at different periods of the year so as to secure a reasonably even production of milk throughout the entire year if all dairymen would follow that plan no objection could be raised against it, for the public consumes about as much butter and cheese one time of the year as another, but so long as the great majority of farmers have their cows freshen in the spring, those who are anxious to make the most money possible should reverse that process and, at least, have most of them freshen in the fall.

IT TAKES a great deal of coaxing on the part of Lysander John Appleton to induce his wife to buy an old hen and stew it down, and he finds that this is the cause of her objection: There is no French name for a stewed-down old hen.

Lysander John Appleton is never sure that his wife has forgiven him for an offense until apple dumplings appear. She may say she forgives him; she may even refrain from saying mean things about his kin, but he is never positive that forgiveness is full and complete until the apple dumplings appear.

Daysey Mayme Appleton claims to be such a good judge of cooking that she can go by any house and tell by the whiffs from the kitchen what is on the stove, how long it has been on, and if the cook is leaving it on too long.

When Chauncey Devere Appleton was three years old he stopped kissing and hugging his father when he wanted a favor in return, making the discovery by himself that it wasn't the manly thing to do, but Daysey Mayme still keeps up the practice, and she is so old she has worn out three pianos.

Powers Omit Congratulations

Paris—The French, British, Italian and Belgian governments have decided to omit the usual formal congratulations to a newly elected chief of state in the case of Field Marshal von Hindenburg, Germany's president, in view of the fact that his name is still on the list of those charged with war crimes. The four powers, it is stated, will simply forward a brief acknowledgment when notified of his assumption of the presidency.

Kalamazoo—Western State Normal School's new $300,000 gymnasium will be dedicated June 19. The structure stands at the eastern edge of the athletic field, just off Oakland drive. Knute Rockne, football coach at Notre Dame University, will be the principal speaker. William H. Spaulding, for 14 years coach of the institution and now coach at the University of Minnesota, will be the guest of honor. Ann Arbor—Advocating a separation of any world court from international politics and scoring the League of Nations on the basis that its foundation is upon force rather than justice, Senator William E. Borah, of Idaho, spoke on "Peace and the Peace Problem" before the student body of the University of Michigan, here. He not only attacked the League of Nations and the World Court, but also explained his stand on the recognition of Russia.

Hog Tuberculosis Is Easy to Eradicate

New Poster Tells Farmer How to Improve Swine.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Pointing out that tuberculosis of swine is easier to eradicate entirely than to control when present on a farm, a new poster of the United States Department of Agriculture tells what farmers can do to improve health conditions among their hogs with respect to this disease. The department's recommendations are:

- Burn dead hogs and chickens to ashes.
- Prevent accumulations of manure and old bedding in hog pens and lots.
- Never feed any carcasses to hogs.
- Cook all milk products fed to hogs.
- Feed no slaughterhouse offal, unless cooked.
- Get rid of tuberculous hogs—start with a clean herd.
- Heed the first warnings from slaughterhouse reports which show disease in your herd.

The poster shows pictorially how tuberculosis is commonly spread. A typical barnyard scene containing cattle, hogs and chickens is accompanied by the explanation that diseased chickens and cattle spread the disease among hogs. Persons who suspect the disease are advised to apply to their state veterinarian or the nearest federal inspector for a slaughterhouse report on their next shipment of swine.

The poster measures 18 by 18 inches and is printed in two colors. It is intended to hasten the progress of tuberculosis eradication conducted by the bureau of animal industry in co-operation with the various states. Copies of the poster, and also of Farmers' Bulletin 781, "Tuberculosis of Hogs," which discusses the subject in detail, may be obtained free on application to the United States Department of Agriculture, Washington.

Farm Without Records Like Handless Clock

Income tax days are hard on the memory.

Many Badger farmers who have not kept a systematic record of their year's business are finding this out. On the other hand scores of them are testifying to the work saved by a simple system of bookkeeping.

John S. Donald, farm-management expert of the Wisconsin college of agriculture, has many such testimonials from men who are using the Wisconsin farm account and record book.

"I have used this system of accounts for three years and find it very simple and easy to keep, and yet classified so one can determine the profit and loss in a certain department very easily. They make the income tax report very easy to figure out," says a Hebron (Ill.) farmer.

"I received one of these books as a Christmas present in 1923 and I feel I cannot get along without one now," writes a farmer from Erie, N. D. A Montana farmer wrote for two copies saying that he preferred the Wisconsin book to any he had ever seen.

A Jefferson county farmer said that he tried to get along during 1924 without the account book, but never again. He believes as Donald does that running a farm without accounts and records is like running a clock without hands.

Bridge Grafting Saves Girdled Fruit Trees

Mice and rabbits damaged fruit trees to a very great extent this last winter, according to reports received by fruit-extension specialists of the Pennsylvania State college.

Bridge grafting is recommended for all trees that have been girdled. Where it is possible the grafting work should be done before growth starts. Regardless of when the work is done, the scions should be cut, preferably from one-year-old growth, such as the sucker wood, states R. S. Snyder, extension horticulturist at the college.

"If the bridge grafting cannot be done during the early rush of the spring season, heel in the scions in moist sand until the work is done," he says. "Mound the trees, or, better still, paint them with liquid grafting wax or with white lead mixed with a little linseed oil."

Farm Hints

- Carrots, cabbages and sprouted oats help make strong chicks.
- Many a good-tempered colt is spoiled by a bad-tempered owner.
- To work more horses to the man helps get the most out of man labor.
- Coal ashes have very little if any fertilizing value, the beneficial effect is chiefly physical.
- We pay for the farm machinery which we need if we do without it; it pays for itself if we buy it.
- Good hatches are obtained only when the laying stock has been selected for vigor and made to exercise.
- Are the brood sows getting plenty of exercise and not too much fattening feed? Remember that little pigs promise to be valuable this year. Save all of yours by careful attention before and at farrowing time.

E., first Viscount Willingdon, who will come to Canada, bringing with him the grand shield of the chief city of Quebec, seized when the English stormed the city in 1709, and presented 100 years ago to the Sussex town of Hastings by Col. It is through the friendly offices of Lord Willingdon, who formerly represented Hastings in parliament, that the city has consented to return the trophy to Quebec.

SECURED RELIEF THRU FOLEY PILLS

John R. Gordan, Danville, Ill., writes: "I have suffered with kidney trouble five years; could not sleep at night and was always tired. I was not strong and hard work made my back ache. I got some FOLEY PILLS and after a few treatments I felt better and could work with more ease, became stronger and could sleep better." FOLEY PILLS are a diuretic stimulant for the kidneys—make them more active. Get a bottle today.—Hite's Drug Co. adv.

Service Suits Foretell Carefree Vacations

Wisfully and impatiently the city or town dweller's fancy turns to visions of vacation days spent in the country or in the wilderness where there is no need to be dressed up. The annual wanderlust finds her considering the wherewithal she shall be clothed for camping, hiking, fishing, mountain climbing or long motor tours. This question has been settled once for all by those who have worn the practical and slightly service suits designed for outdoor pastimes. A flannel blouse, a pair of khaki knickers that button below the knees, a soft felt or fabric hat and a sturdy topcoat of khaki or tweed make up an outfit that is equal to all sorts of outdooring. An example of such a suit is shown here and it is worn with woolen stockings and laced sport shoes that match it in sturdiness.

Up at Alba, up to Saturday morning, a total of $59,890.03 had been paid out to farmers round about since March 15 for potatoes. This does not exactly mean that all of it went to Alba potato growers, because some of the money was paid to farmers around Mancelona and up around Elmira. The bulk of it, something like $40,000, however, was for Alba farmers and material greases the wheels of business and progress thereabouts. Alba farmers raise other produce than certified seed potatoes. But their certified seed brings in a good and guaranteed cash return. Another thing, sacks are furnished the farmers for sacking certified seed, and means they earned another $3,000 by not having to buy sacks themselves to ship their spuds.—Mancelona Herald.

One of the largest Mackinaw trout captured in the Straits of Mackinac waters was landed Thursday by Frank King, pioneer fisherman of the Island. King landed the monster in his fishing net, the fish weighing 36 pounds, dressed. Old fishermen say this is the largest fish of this kind ever seen at the Island. Among the things removed from the monster's stomach was a three-pound catfish and other smaller fish.

RESULTS THAT LAST!

Proven by East Jordan People.

Thousands of kidney sufferers have tried remedy after remedy with only temporary benefit. That's mighty discouraging! But one kidney remedy has earned a reputation for lasting results and there's plenty of proof right here in East Jordan.

Read the experience of one who used Doan's Pills years ago and how makes her endorsement even stronger.

Mrs. Henry Ribble, Bridge St., East Jordan, says: "I had a lameness in my back and when I stooped, knife-like pains took me across my kidneys. I felt nervous and depressed and headaches and dizzy spells were frequent, too. I saw Doan's Pills advertised and I used a few boxes from Gidley & Mac's Drug Store. They cured me." (Statement given April 23, 1920.)

On Oct. 11, 1924, Mrs. Ribble said: "The cure Doan's Pills made for me has stood the test of years. It is a pleasure to recommend them."

Jackson—Officials of the Michigan State Prison at Jackson are searching for Vito Mangalapa, who made his escape from the State cement plant at Chelsea. The prisoner, serving a life term for homicide, was a trusty at the plant.

Kalamazoo—J. D. Long, Frank King, Edward W. Murray, Ed Summers and John Marshall, the five Milburg bank robbers convicted in circuit court here and sentenced to life terms in Marquette prison, have begun their sentences.

Drink Water If Back or Kidneys Hurt

Begin Taking Salts if You Feel Backache or Have Bladder Weakness

Too much rich food forms acids which excite and overwork the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the system. Flush the kidneys occasionally to relieve them like you relieve the bowels, removing acids, waste and poison, else you may feel a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, the stomach sour, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get irritated, obliging one to get up two or three times during the night.

To help neutralize these irritating acids and flush off the body's urinous waste, begin drinking water. Also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine and bladder disorders disappear.

This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys and stop bladder irritation. Jad Salts is inexpensive and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to help prevent serious kidney and bladder disorders.

By all means, drink lots of good water every day. Have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

"After a long, hot day on my feet I run for Tiz," writes a city salesman. "No matter how my feet ache and burn, Tiz draws out all the pain and I'm as good as new." Tiz is magical. Acts right off. Stops the pain of corns, bunions, callouses, sore spots.

A few cents buy a box of Tiz at any drug or department store. Have feet that never swell, never hurt, never get tired.

NEWS DISPATCHES FROM EVERYWHERE

Sixty Miners Killed In North Carolina Coal Mine Disaster

Coal Glen, N. C.—Trapped by a series of explosions which sent through the underground passages the deadly after-damp, some three-score miners lost their lives in the mine of the Carolina Coal Co.

Four hours after the disaster hope that the imprisoned men might still live was nurtured by the report that fresh air had been encountered by rescue workers.

Time after time fresh crews of rescuers replaced tired workers until the 1,800-foot level had been reached without bringing evidence of the imprisoned men.

Mine officials expressed the opinion that 50 to 60 men still were buried beneath the 1,500-foot level.

Mine officials believed the men would be found in the main shaft after a wall of debris blocking the main passageway had been cleared away.

Speedway Records Broken

Indianapolis—Automobile racing created a new ideal in the person of Peter DePaolo, who won the thirteenth annual 500-mile race at the speedway on Memorial Day. His speed for the distance averaged better than 101 miles an hour.

De Paolo not only shattered all speedway records for the distance, but came in ahead of three others who themselves had smashed the track record.

Bennie Hill and Red Shafer, second and third place winners, shared honors with DePaolo in one of the most spectacular races ever held on the Speedway.

Oil Indictments Returned

Washington—Former Secretary of the Interior Albert B. Fall and the oil magnates, E. L. Doheny, and Harry F. Sinclair, were indicted here again by a federal grand jury for alleged conspiracy to defraud the government in the California and Wyoming naval oil leases.

This is the second time the three men have been indicted on the same charge. The first indictment was dismissed by the District of Columbia Supreme Court because unauthorized persons were in the grand jury room while the inquiry was being made.

Treaty Not Violated

Washington—Under the interpretation placed here on the Rush-Bagot agreement, the controlling treaty, plans for augmenting the prohibition navy in the vicinity of the Detroit River could be executed without the necessity of entering upon negotiations with Canada.

The agreement limited "naval craft" to one boat on each lake, armed with an "18-pound cannon." Such limitation would not embrace speed boats armed with machine guns, departmental experts hold.

Gold Star Mothers in France

Paris—The American Gold Star Mothers, who have come to France to visit the cemeteries where their sons are buried, were welcomed to the American Embassy by Ambassador Myron T. Herrick at a touchingly intimate family party. The ambassador in an impromptu speech moved them to tears.

The delegations were presented by the ambassador to President Doumergue at Elysee Palace.

Debt Evasion Denied

Paris—Foreign Minister Briand declared in the senate that France has already begun serious conversations with the United States for the settlement of French war debts.

M. Briand's declaration regarding war debts was made in response to a statement by Senator Taft of Ohio, who said France had made a great error in allowing the idea to spread that France did not want to pay what she owed.

Santo Domingo Confirms Treaty

Santo Domingo—The convention between the Dominican government and the United States of Dec. 27, 1924, was passed by both houses of the government. Tranquility prevails in the republic. One confirms the evacuation of the American forces and the other provides for refunding of the debt of $25,000,000 to various corporations and individuals.

Haiti Protests U. S. Occupation

Washington—A drive to force withdrawal of United States military forces from Haiti has been begun by the Patriotic Union of Haiti in addressing a sharp protest to President Coolidge against the occupation. The United States has invaded and destroyed the independence and sovereign rights of the Haitian people, the document charges.

Indian Tribes Sue For Lands

Washington—Two suits for nearly $14,000,000, involving more than 1,500,000 acres of land alleged to have been erroneously taken over by the government, were filed in the Court of Claims by the Klamath and Modoc tribes and Yahooskin band of Snake Indians in Oregon and California.

FOSDICK LIMITS SALARY TO $5000

New York—The Rev. Harry Emerson Fosdick has formally accepted the pastorate of the Park Avenue Baptist church here. The church is the one attended by the Rockefeller family. He specified that he would not accept a salary of more than $5,000 annually and the church agreed that he would not be restricted to Baptists in his choice of assistant pastors.

The Rev. Fosdick, leader of the "modernists," has been under fire for his advanced religious thought.

Rub Rheumatic Pain From Aching Joints

Stop "dosing" Rheumatism. It's pain only; not one case in fifty requires internal treatment. Rub soothing, penetrating "St. Jacobs Oil" right on the "tender spot," and by the time you say Jack Robinson—out comes the rheumatic pain and distress. "St. Jacobs Oil" is a harmless rheumatism liniment which never disappears and doesn't burn the skin. It takes pain, soreness and stiffness from aching joints, muscles and bones; stops sciatica, lumbago, backache and neuralgia.

Limber up! Get a small trial bottle of old-time, honest "St. Jacobs Oil" from any drug store, and in a moment, you'll be free from pains, aches and stiffness. Don't suffer! Rub rheumatism away.

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks streaked, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred-fold. Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the recipe at home or get from any drug store a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" which is merely the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients. Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully, besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger.

A man may fight bitterly for supremacy but his corps will lay low.
