Crossman of Grand Rapids, died last Friday in a hospital at that city as a result of injuries received Wednesday when a large touring car containing five high school students over-turned near Grand Rapids. The accident proved fatal to another boy, and injuries to the others. The father was a former East Jordan resident and the son, with his parents, were here on a visit with friends last summer. The son is a second child to die within a year, a daughter passing away about a year ago of heart disease. The parents were at Rochester, Minn., at the time of the accident and arrived at Grand Rapids a few hours after the death of their son.
Funeral services were held Sunday with burial at Oak Hill cemetery next to the sister's grave.

East Jordan To Celebrate Fourth of July

To Out-Do All Past Performances. American Legion and City To Be Sponsors.

Committees Picked And A Mass of Detail Now Being Worked Out To Make This Fourth One Out Of The Ordinary.

GENERAL OUTLINE OF PROGRAM

Charlevoix County, this year, is to Celebrate the Fun-Day of the year at East Jordan, already plans have been laid to keep East Jordan's name in lead which it attained in the years past. In the morning there will be the usual Parade, but, if present plans carry, this parade will not be of the usual type, the prizes will be more liberal and many participants are expected. The Floats are to be a galaxy of splendor, while the Calithumpians are to be a decided feature.

There will be Street Sports of all descriptions—A Water Battle, a huge Tug-of-War, Tub Races, Log Burling Contest, Swimming Races, and many other new features.

BALL GAME—Our "Friendly Enemies" Boyne City and "Doc" Park's veterans are to clash at the Fair Grounds. "Doc" is more than pleased for another chance to show "Bill" Vaught and his pill tossers that the mere matter of a few months rest is not suffice to cop the honors, or the large purse. It has leaked out that some of the champions of 23 and 24 are to be on hand, while our friend "Bill" is tight as a clam about his line-up.

MUSIC—THREE BIG BANDS. Never before has East Jordan sported three Bands and there will be music everywhere you go from early morning until late in the evening.

FIREWORKS—A large sum is to be spent on this feature and the committee in charge promises the biggest display ever attempted in the north.

The above is only part of the entertainment to be provided. Further announcements will be made next week. East Jordan wishes to extend a very cordial invitation to this community to be their guests on the Fourth, and they plan to look after your comfort as well as your entertainment.

The business section is to be washed and roped off, shade trees planted, seats will be placed all along the street so that you can enjoy the goings-on in comfort. Coffee will be served free of charge and all visitors are urged to bring along a picnic lunch. A large Welcoming Committee will meet you and tell you the time and the place of all events.

This is East Jordan's and YOUR Celebration.

Notice-Flower Lovers!

The Florentine Iris at the Gardens of Maketon should be at its best from June 10th to 15th. You will enjoy seeing it. adv.

AN APPRECIATION

We wish to thank the West Side mothers who gave us their co-operation and help in making the costumes for the Pageant.

Signed,
West Side School Teachers.

One trouble with modern speeches is that you never know what the speaker means.

In the good old days more than six rigs in a row generally meant a funeral procession. Now we think nothing of a traffic jam a couple miles long.

The old-fashioned kid who was tickled pink when mother made a freezer of ice cream for the family dinner, now has an offspring that thinks nothing of sweeping up all the dinner checks in a fashionable hotel and asking the head waiter to have them charged to the old gent's account at the desk.

Collect Data For New State Normal

Information Is Gathered to Fix Location; No Definite Action Soon.

Information is being gathered by the state department of public instruction for determining the proper location of the fifth normal school to be built in the lower peninsula north of Bay City, according to Thomas E. Johnson, superintendent.

The bill passed by the legislature appropriating $250,000 for construction of the school will not go into effect until 90 days have elapsed from the date the measure was signed by the governor. Nothing will be done therefore toward organizing the data and deciding on a site until early in August at least Mr. Johnson said.

Under the bill selection of the location of the school is left to the state board of education subject to approval of the governor.

Quotas For The Citizens M. T. C. Rapidly Filling

The War Department quotas for the Citizens' Military Training Camp is being filled, in fact has been filled in several of the nine corps areas throughout the United States.

Major General Harry C. Hale, the Commanding General of the Sixth Corps Area in connection upon the Citizens' Military Training Camps, emphasized the necessity for early application of those young men who desire to be accepted for attendance. General Hale is responsible for the enrollment of applicants from the states of Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin and is also charged with conducting the camps for the corps area, which will be held at Camp Custer, Michigan, and Jefferson Barracks, Mo., from July 23 to August 21, 1926.

The minimum quota for the Sixth Corps Area is 5600 applications, and of this number 5350 formal applications have been received up to June 1, leaving but 250 more applications needed to fill the minimum quota.

Applicants must be between 17 and 24 years of age and of good moral character. The government pays all necessary expenses including railroad fare to and from camp, food uniforms, clothing, housing, laundry and necessary medical attention while at camp. The only obligation for those attending the first three years in the C. M. T. C. is that students must attend for the entire period of the camp, abide by the rules and regulations and undergo the instruction provided.

With but 250 more applications needed to meet the minimum quota it behooves any young man who is interested in attending this year's camp to submit his application at once.

Applications and any further information about applying for attendance at the C. M. T. Camps will be furnished by the Commanding General, Sixth Corps Area, 1819 West Pershing Road, Chicago, Illinois, upon request.

May Festival At West Side

West Side Schools Present Fine Entertainment.

On Friday, June 5th at 8:00 o'clock a very pretty May Festival program was given by the West Side pupils on the West Side lawn. The grounds were prettily decorated with a throne and May poles for the festivities. Flowers, butterflies, birds, leaves were all represented in their pretty costumes. Mother earth, and her two friends, spring and the May queen with the attendants, occupied the throne. Frost king and his fairies came, but could not stay for the warm sun of spring chased them away. Then the little flower girls danced and wound the May pole for mother earth. After singing and presenting the flowers, the big flower girls danced and wound their May pole. At the close of the festivities, they all joined in a grand march which was a pretty sight with all the various colors in the costumes.

The West Side teachers are to be congratulated upon the results of their efforts in presenting such a program. The audience which gathered to witness the Festival was very enthusiastic in their praise and commendation.

A real interest was manifested by the parents of the children taking part and some of the mothers helped to make the costumes, showing a fine spirit of cooperation. It is to be hoped the West Side School will give us more of this fine work in the future.

You Should Have Name and Address On Your Letters

There is something of sacredness about the contents of a letter. The writer often reveals more of himself on the written page than he would in direct conversation. This revelation of course, is designed only for the eyes of the correspondent.

The average American would be filled with wrath and the timid soul would shrink with horror at the thought of a third person, and a stranger at that, reading his "personal correspondence."

Yet that is exactly what happens to 21,000,000 letters a year and will continue so long as letter writers fail to put return addresses on their envelopes.
When a letter, without a return address, can not be delivered for any reason, it is sent, after a certain time, to the Dead Letter Office.

There it is opened and read for the possible scandal it may contain—but with a clew which will enable forwarding on to the address or returning to the sender.

Out of every five letters received at the Dead Letter Office, such a clue is found in one and it is sent merrily on its delayed way to one or the other of the two persons most interested in its disposition. The other four are destroyed.

Every person knows his own address and if he would put it on the envelope, the contents would remain inviolate and the letter would be returned with notice of non-delivery.

Warning To City Water Users

Hours for using City water for sprinkling purposes are from 6:00 to 8:00 a. m. and 6:00 to 8:00 p. m. Anyone violating above ordinance will be subject to having water shut off from their premises, and a penalty fine.

HENRY COOK
Supt. of Water Works.

Our extra slice of pie is awarded to the "sweet girl graduate" who is not so sweet.

FOR INACTIVE KIDNEYS

When the kidneys are in need of a good flushing take FOLEY PILLS, a diuretic stimulant for the kidneys. They promptly and effectively flush the kidneys, increase their activity and bring pleasant relief. Landon Taylor, Dorchester, Iowa, writes: "I can truthfully say that FOLEY PILLS are the best I ever used. I had lots of trouble with my kidneys and liver; I couldn't lift anything my back was so weak. Every morning I was dizzy, could hardly walk, but now I feel fine." Hite's Drug Store. adv.

American Legion Endowment Fund

East Jordan Post to Present "The Lost Battalion."

The City, every man, woman and child in this community has on June 19 an obligation to meet. The American Legion Endowment Fund not only protects your sons and brothers who served in the late war and who through sickness or wounds is in need of help to meet the doctor's bills and other indebtedness, this is not alone for your own protection, but for your friends, sons, and brothers, and their children who are in a like position awaiting the checking of nearly 2 million claims which has been in progress for the last six years, but due to the mass of detail has been held up with no provision made for the sick and needy for the past six years. The American Legion Endowment Fund furnishes immediate relief in the way of food, shelter, clothing and funds for those in need. An urgent request is made of all organizations to help this movement that East Jordan may meet its quota in the National American Legion Endowment Fund.

On June 19th a Drive will be made and all should take part in this effort. The American Legion will present at the Temple Theatre on Friday evening June 19th a motion picture written from actual life on the battle front. Lansing—Reports to the State Conservation Department stated that all danger of further damage from forest fires is passed. Rains and snows throughout the state where the flames were raging extinguished the fires. No estimate of the damage done was available here.

Saut Ste Marie—The steamer Huron, of the Wyandotte Steamship company, narrowly escaped sinking in St. Mary's river when she collided with the steamer Ispheming of the Cleveland Cliffs line, during a snow storm on the river. Both ships have docked at Brady pier, below the locks, where possibly the Huron will be temporarily repaired.

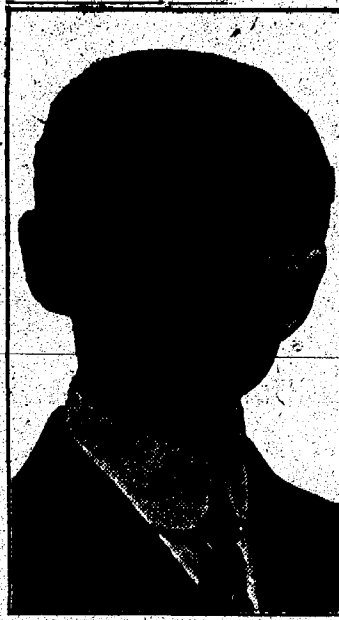

Ionla—"Don't point that gun at me. My mother says never to point a gun at anybody," said Emery Wilkins, 11 years old, to his playmate, Milton Morgan, 12 years old. "Aw, it isn't loaded," Milton replied, as he pulled the trigger. There was a sharp report from the rifle Milton was holding in his hands. The bullet entered Emery's head and he died instantly.

Saut Ste. Marie—The storm that whipped Lake Superior recently cost two lives, caused heavy damage to vessels and brought much anxiety to marine circles. The first mate and the wheelman of the steamer Pentecost Mitchell, of the Pittsburgh Steamship Co. were washed overboard and drowned eight miles off Split Rock Light. The names of the victims were withheld by the company.

Mt. Clemens—Four Detroit boys were killed and four others were seriously injured here when their automobile overturned while attempting to avoid another collision with another motor car near Brady's Station, and threw the eight youths onto the right of way of the D. U. R. and directly into the path of a moving construction train. All of the youths were pupils of St. Theresa's high school in Detroit.

Grand Rapids—A 13-year-old son dead and a father rescued in the nick of time was the result of a sand cave-in in Richmond Hill, just north of Grand Rapids, where the boy, James Hoogerhyde, had been playing in a cave. The father went to rescue his son when he was trapped by a cave-in. Scores of officials and work men worked frantically for two hours before the rescue of Conrad Hoogerhyde, 40, the father, was effected.

THOMAS RILEY MARSHALL

Washington—Thomas Riley Marshall, vice-president of the United States for eight momentous years of its history, has followed his chief, Woodrow Wilson, into death.

Recurrence of a heart attack, which sent him to his bed immediately after a trip from Indiana, brought the end unexpectedly June 1, after reports had come from the sick room throughout the week that, despite his 71 years, he was steadily recovering from nervous exhaustion and a cold.

Brief services, attended by the nation's highest officials were held in the hotel and then the body was placed aboard a train for Indianapolis, where the funeral was held under the auspices of the Scottish Rite Masons.

Skyscraper Church for N. Y.

New York—New York City was assured of its first skyscraper church tonight when the board of directors of the Broadway Temple brought the campaign for $2,000,000 to a successful conclusion by agreeing to underwrite whatever amount remained to be subscribed. In its last days the campaign has assumed the aspects of a race against a quarter of a million dollars, in that that amount had been given toward the project by John D. Rockefeller, Jr., contingent on the organization's raising $1,750,000 from other sources by June 1.

Auto Industry Prospers

Washington—An increase of 91 per cent in the value of products turned out by Michigan automobile factories in 1923, as compared to the record for 1921, is shown in the figures compiled in the biennial census of manufacturers, made public by the department of commerce. The total output of Michigan's leading industry, at factory prices, was $1,551,990,000 for 1923, as compared to $812,379,000 for 1921. The number of workers employed in this industry increased 76.5 per cent.

Plan Open Air University

Miami, Fla.—A charter has been granted and plans made to have the new University of Miami, an open air institution, ready for the opening of the school season of 1926-27, it is announced. The college is to be built in Coral Gables, a newly incorporated town near here. The university will be non-sectarian and co-educational. The matriculation qualifications will be the same as other recognized American universities. Tuition will be the same as that of Florida State University.

"Roxy" to Build Theatre

New York—S. A. Rothafel, of the Capitol Theatre known to radio fans all over the country as "Roxy," who got his start in the theatrical business 15 years ago when he converted a Pennsylvania miner's bar room into a 'movie house,' has announced that he is to have his own theatre soon, the largest moving picture theatre in the world, and to cost $8,000,000.

Wage War on Mosquitoes

Chicago—A nation wide campaign for the extermination of mosquitoes has been launched here by the Gorgas Memorial Institute. Every effort is being made to enlist the active support of the householders of the country, for within a few weeks at most, and possibly within a few days, the female mosquitoes will be seeking their blood meal which they must have to mature their eggs.

Bulgaria Discharges Troops

Sofia, Bulgaria—The minister of war has issued orders for the immediate discharge of the additional troops which Bulgaria has recruited for protection against the Communists. This is due to the refusal of the ambassadors' council to permit further retention.

Fires Cause Great Loss

New York—Fire destruction mounted to $548,810,639 in this country in 1924, the largest total ever known, according to estimates announced at the annual meeting of the national board of fire underwriters.

Your Own Home Town

Taken by and large, your own home town is a pretty good town to live in after all.

Its stores, shops, schools and churches make it all that one looks for in a residential town, and its many business enterprises and the surrounding farming community make it a good place to work.

This bank has done much toward making this a desirable place to live. We have been a leader in the march toward progress, and our aim is to maintain this place of leadership.

You will enjoy connections with this bank. An account here will enable you to share with us this place of leadership.

STATE BANK OF EAST JORDAN

"Strength and Ability Plus the Willingness to Serve."

Signs of progress continue to appear throughout the land. Following the conviction of the North Carolina mob comes the news that five "leading churchmen" of a small town in Louisiana have been given seven months in jail for flogging a man who went with a lady who had not yet secured her divorce.

Because a Bulgarian court sentenced three prisoners to death, after finding them guilty of complicity in the cathedral bombing disaster, the Bolshevik press cries out against the "new and ugly sight at Sofia." Does the Moscow paper think they deserve war medals?

The French "successful offensive" against the Riffs turns out to the evacuation of exposed blockhouses in order to shorten the line!

Newspapers know what the public thinks of newspapers but no newspaper has the nerve to say what it thinks of the public.

What has become of World Peace?

Trials and Truth

We are but mildly interested in the trial about to be staged in Tennessee. The truth cannot be stifled by law nor can false teaching become the truth merely through the process of teaching.

While it is natural to understand the feelings of many who think things being taught will harm the youthful minds if scientific inquiry is too limited by the theologians.

You do not have to know much of history to realize that many things, accepted by everybody today, were opposed by churchmen.

What of the Babies?

Giving to every child a fair chance in life is a wonderful ideal, but the business end of making the ideal true is a hard problem. You may select the most democratic village of the nation, and there are children, so circumstanced, that any talk about equal opportunity is farcical.

If unborn spirits in another world await opportunities to enter human bodies, as so many believe, it is extremely difficult to work out any analysis of the system which allots to one of the system which allots to one of the privileges of wealthy birth, with the conveniences of the best people, and to another a destiny amid poverty, squalor and crime, very often handicapped by a body of a less dominant race.

If the real worshippers of the Almighty would busy themselves with the births of the present generation they would not have so much time to dispute over the birth of the human race. Making this world safe for democracy is a laudable aim but making it safe and fair to the babies that annually arrive is more worthy.

Develop Without Imitating

It is perfectly natural for small towns to look hopefully forward in the expectation of being larger towns, and to dream cheerfully of the time when the advantages of the community will be widely known as to cause it to outstrip its competing municipalities.

In their efforts to achieve success, however, the small towns invariably seek to imitate other larger towns or cities. Their vision is limited to the duplication of the progress of some natural or geographical advantage, which would insure certain growth if properly handled.

Our citizens would do well if they turn their attention to our city, and attempt to develop it along lines that are novel.

Be Careful With Fire

Michigan highways are being placarded with signs asking automobilists to be careful about starting fires. "Throw the stub on the road," and "Help prevent fires," are some of the slogans being used in an effort to check the great and increasing toll of the fire demon in this state. It is now the season of the vacationists. Many of them are careless to criminal degree. They ride along in their automobiles and throw lighted cigar and cigarette stubs in the dry grass and bushes along the highway and leave live coals in their campfires. Fires swept over thousands of acres in Michigan last summer and fall, and due to the dry weather have been raging in some parts of the state this spring. The loss is appalling and every citizen bound for a vacation this year should have it thoroughly impressed upon his mind the great care that should be exercised in preventing this unnecessary destruction of the remaining timber zones in Michigan, which at one time boasted of the greatest forests in all the world.

Advice to Investors

If all the schemes for making money were laid end to end and a penny placed on each to keep the wind from blowing it off the face of the earth it would take more money than there is in the world to serve as paper weights.

If all the schemes for skinning somebody else out of the money made by some scheme for money making, which worked, were laid end to end the number of pennies required would make you think you were reading about astronomy.

Yet, the few people in the United States who make money are yearly supporting a gang of confidence men, swindlers and sharpers of the first magnitude. It is reported that a confidence game which recently worked in California acquired patronage so vast that the human fish had to be lined up in columns before the receiving tellers.

The human being is very apt to take a chance, and nothing intrigues him more than to dream about profits vast and quickly made. This is the reason you hear so many stories about sudden rises to wealth. The other side of the picture is so common as to be without news value, or so foolish as to be hidden behind a veil of shamefaced ignorance.

If you have the good fortune to make some money just make up your mind that you will be satisfied with reasonable returns from any and all investments. Then stick to it, and you will not be among those who reach the age of sixty dependent upon relatives for a meal ticket. If you make a great deal more than you need, your children will probably throw themselves away throwing away your money and in the end you will have no money and your children, if alive, will have neither money or character.

Governmental Interference With Industry Denounced

Senator James A. Reed, in a vigorous speech recently before the Manufacturers and Merchants Ass'n of St. Louis, denounced governmental interference with legitimate business, demanded the abolition of the numerous regulatory bureaus, and the repeal of a majority of the laws now on the statute books. The senator declared that ne'er-do-wells and failures at home have been employed by Bureau chiefs in Washington to pry into affairs of American industry, and in trying to regulate the lives and conduct of the people themselves. "We have an epidemic of bills," he said. "Every time a crank conceives a wild idea for reforming the world, he starts for Washington. Little by little, legal restraints are being thrown about the people. The government has appointed itself a wet-nurse to the conscience of the American people, to tell them what they shall drink, how they shall raise their babies, and how they shall conduct their business. It was proposed that Congress should be given the power to forbid any person under 18 from working, and this monstrous proposition, which, thank God, was rejected by the states, was supported by many fine women, and numerous idiotic men." The senator warned that unless the American people guard their liberties and restore their government to its fundamentals, that "a tyranny will be set up on the ruins of the Republic." Governmental interference in business, according to the senator, produces discord, dissatisfaction, and, to a large extent, depreciates the progress and the prosperity of the land.

Obituary--Ransom Jones, Sr.

Ransom Jones was born in St. Lawrence Co., N. Y., July 30th, 1846, where his early childhood years were spent. When a young man he came to Leland Mich., where he worked a few years. Then coming to South Arm Township he took up the homestead that has since been his home. Nov. 2nd, 1868 he was married to Miss Martha Close, who died March 19, 1909.

Lured by the beauty of the virgin forests and glittering lakes he was one of the advance guards who substituted rawhide for leather, buckskin for cloth and venison for beefsteak.

He delighted in relating the hardships, the struggles and joys of the early days when the only road was a blazed trail through the wilderness. While working at Traverse City and Elk Rapids he walked the distance to his home often carrying a sack of flour on his back, and in the winter making the trip on snow-shoes and drawing groceries on a hand-sleigh.

He was always deep in politics and served several times as Supervisor and Justice of the Peace. His vision was clear until the last, and he passed away May 27th 1925 at the age of 78 years, 8 months and 27 days.

Ann Arbor--Charging brutality, recklessness, and childishness. Dr. P. R. Waldron, a local physician who was graduate from the University of Michigan medical school in 1901, attacked the "honorary societies" of the university in a letter to the editor of the Michigan Daily. The charge was made following the regular initiation of "Sphinx", honorary Junior literary society. During the course of the initiation the neophytes were strapped on their backs to a dray, and the initiators paddled the victims' feet, at the same time sprinkling them with a hose.

Monroe--Major Robert Knages, 90 years old, permanent resident of the famous old Seventh Michigan Voluntary Infantry, which participated in every battle of any prominence during the Civil War expects to preside at the 40th reunion of the regiment to be held here in June. The regiment was formed in Monroe and was composed of companies from Port Huron, Mason, Jonesville, Tuscola, Farmington, Pontiac, Prairieville, Burr Oak and Detroit. The regiment left here September 1, 1861, and only about 300 returned from the war.

Congressman Martin L. The essay contest was announced by the Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs and that organization, with a membership of 300,000 women, will have charge of it. It will be open to all students in the state and will end January 1, 1926.

"SALT RIVER"
Spending politicians and parties up "Salt River" is a familiar term in political slang. It signifies defeat. The real Salt River is a narrow Kentucky stream whose windings, shallows and bars make it navigable only with extreme difficulty. The politician who is sent up Salt River is in reality, sent to oblivion.

MR. MASON'S FUNERAL
By THOMAS ARKLE CLARK
Dean of Men, University of Illinois.

MASON was dead after a long illness, and I was going to his funeral. His death had not been unexpected; indeed it had been anticipated for months, but Mason had never done anything on time in his life, so why should he surprise or disappoint his friends at this time by doing things in a regular way. He was true to his habit.

As I said, I was going to Mason's funeral, and all through the morning I had been held up and delayed, and interrupted until I was distressed for fear I should not get there on time, and being late to a funeral is only less objectionable than being late to a wedding. The taxi did not come on time, there was considerable congestion in the street, which held us up, and the driver misunderstood the address, so while we should have arrived at three, it was twenty minutes past when we drove up to the church in which the ceremony was to occur. I was in plenty of time, however for the funeral started late.

Mason had been a faithful soul--generous and thoughtful of his friends, of whom there were not a few, but he seldom thought of anything on time. If he wrote a letter of congratulation to Jones upon the arrival of Jones, Jr., the boy was usually in rompers before the epistle arrived. If he sent a note of condolence to a bereaved friend upon the death of a member of the family, the grief had become pretty completely assuaged before his words of comfort and sympathy got into the mails. If his wife asked him to post a letter or to bring home a few lamb chops for luncheon, he never failed to do so, but he posted the letter usually the next day, and delivered the chops after the cook had the table laid and all the preparations made for the meal.

Mason was a very religious man and I think, sincerely so. It was his intention to be regular at church services, but no matter how early he started to get himself ready for the service, he always miscalculated. He got in ordinarily just about the time the collection was being taken up. If he ever did arrive early it was because he had misunderstood the hour when the exercises were supposed to begin.

His office hours were from nine until four but I've looked out of my window at half-past nine to see him pushing himself hastily down the street in an effort not to be later than usual, for ultimately no one really expected Mason to be on time. It was his habit lateness had come to be ingrained into his character, so that it was quite impossible for him to be otherwise.

It was fitting that he should go to his grave a little late. Lying there in his coffin I could imagine that he would otherwise not have rested comfortably, not have seemed quite at home. It would have been something of a criticism upon his life to have started his funeral on time.

Summer Ensembles. Vindicate Their Vogue

Over tea and cakes, in fall and winter, the feminine world discourses on the modes, and over cooling drinks, now that midsummer is here, it continues to discuss the same topic. There are plenty of opportunities to pass judgment on the ensemble suit, as it has been developed for warm weather, and these judgments are so favorable that the ensemble is sure to reappear in the fall.

The most popular version of the ensemble appears in frocks of printed silk worn with coats of a plain fabric lined with silk, like that in the frock. Another beautiful combination appears in printed silk with georgette used for making the frock, worn under a coat of the georgette. Frocks in vivid colors are thus veiled with georgette coats in black or dark blue, but tan and other light colors provide coats to be worn over dresses in pastel colors. The all-white ensemble, with coat of flannel or crepe is a joy and among the loveliest offerings of midsummer, but it is not as practical as ensembles with darker coats—like the one shown here.

"ATONEMENT"

Instances of the combination of words to form new terms are comparatively rare in the English language. We have such an instance in the word "atonement." "Atonement" does not appear in the Bible, but is a religious term which has been invented to express the doctrine that the crucifixion has made possible the forgiveness of sin. "Atonement" is composed of the three syllables, "at," "one" and "ment." It means reconciliation.

CONVERSATION

By THOMAS ARKLE CLARK
Dean of Men, University of Illinois.

IT IS generally conceded, I believe, that the gentle art of letter-writing, which once flourished so freely, has been lost. I am convinced that the equally refined art of conversation disappeared with it or it gradually doing so.

The Boston train on which I was going from Chicago to Albany was crowded with college students returning to their work after the Christmas vacation. There were young fellows bound for Cornell and Harvard and "Tech," and all of the well-known college shops of New England. There were young women returning to Wellesley and Smith and Radcliffe, and they were all talking continuously. They were not commonplace undergraduates, and they admitted it. The young fellow across the aisle from me spent his leisure moments in reading a monthly magazine, and the young woman sitting next to him confessed that at the various educational institutions which she had attended she had been introduced to four foreign languages and that she had something more than a speaking acquaintance with at least two of these. Yet their conversation never was interesting, never rose above the commonest, most ordinary plane. It was chatter, silly, forceless drivel.

There is a delicate art in conversation which is well worth learning. It takes infinite skill to listen graciously, to drop in the right word when the talk lags, or needs to be turned in another direction. It is a rare quality that enables one, especially a woman, to keep conversation interesting and yet divert it from unkind personalities and vulgar, common gossip. It is difficult to carry on a conversation long without getting on to people and without saying things that would scarcely be uttered if the individuals referred to were present.

There is little substance and no unity in the ordinary conversation. It requires only a limited acquaintance with words and the frailest stock of ideas to carry it on, whether the scene be in a street car or a card party or about a fireplace. A conversation between intelligent people ought to be helpful, stimulating, inspiring. It should be a real exchange of connected ideas pleasantly expressed. What it really is you can determine for yourself by listening thoughtfully to the next conversation you hear between two or three people and then analyzing it. You'll be surprised, and perhaps disappointed.

It is now revealed that Premier Stanley Baldwin, of Great Britain, in 1919, estimating his financial condition, invested one-fifth of his funds in British bonds, and then give the bonds to his government for cancellation. His contribution was $750,000. Few others followed his example, but we think more of Premier Stanley Baldwin.

Democracy is making progress, it appears. A Spanish duke has sold two of his large estates to his tenants on long deferred payments.

Emergency Hay Crop Must Meet Shortage

With a greatly reduced red clover and timothy hay crop staring them in the face as a result of the dry spring season, Michigan farmers will in many cases be forced to resort to emergency short-season hay crops, according to crops men at the Michigan State College.

Alfalfa and sweet clover are said to be coming through nicely, and those who have fields of these crops to cut for hay are congratulating themselves. Many others, however, will not even bother to cut their clover and timothy fields unless relief comes soon in the way of general rains. For these, the emergency "short-season" crops are important.

"The present emergency can be met partially by getting busy and seeding some shorter seasoned crop, to tide over the shortage," says L. D. Kurtz, extension specialist in farm crops at the college. "These emergency crops produce excellent yields within a single season.

"Soy beans, sudan grass, the millets, and fodder corn are among the short season crops which can be recommended. These crops should be seeded as soon as possible—the earlier the better. Well prepared seed beds are important."

More detailed information on handling these short-season crops can be obtained from local county agricultural agents, or directly from the farm crops department at the Michigan State College.

Lansing—The state administrative board has sold $1,493,000 worth of highway refunding bonds to the A. M. Lamport company, of New York. The average interest cost to the state was 3.982.

Ann Arbor—Irwin Prieskorn Post No. 46, of the American Legion, will present a bronze marker on Memorial Day in memory of Dr. Marion LeRoy Burton, president of the University of Michigan, who died some time ago.

Saginaw—Justice Louis Wmlecko, of Zilwaukee township, is trying out a new wrinkle on the speeders who appear in his court. He is sentencing them to attend church. He also has them read the speed laws aloud so they will better know it.
