THORSEN--HEISE

Miss Clara Thorsen, daughter of Mrs. Christine Thorsen of East Jordan, and Charles A. Heise of Charlevoix, were united in marriage at the German Lutheran Church at Traverse City at 10:00 a. m., Tuesday, Oct. 20th.

They were attended by the bride's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence LaLonde of Traverse City. Following the ceremony they left on a wedding trip to Grand Rapids, St. Joseph and other places, and will be at home to their friends at Charlevoix after November 1st.

Everybody come with some resolutions to be drafted and sent to State Grange with our representatives.

No organization will get anywhere when its members stay home and grumble at what some members are trying to make good.—Contributed.

Amundsen wants to fly to the pole next year. Hearing no objections to the gentleman's trip the motion is carried.

DIPPING INTO SCIENCE

Thunder

When lightning flashes the air through which it travels becomes heated. Expansion and compression result, followed by a quick rush of air into the vacuum thus produced. A straight, short flash creates a sharp clap of thunder, while a long and zig-zag one is followed by peals, rattles, and finally a rumble.—The rumble is the echo from the clouds. ## It's Going to Be a Tough Winter

Poultry Men To Hold First State Meeting

Several hundred leading poultry men of the state will gather here on October 29 and 30 for the first annual meeting of the newly organized Michigan Poultry Improvement Association.

Nationally known poultry authorities have been scheduled for the two-day conference, in an effort to insure unusually high class material for the first state meeting. Dr. M. A. Jull, senior poultryman of the U. S. Department of Agriculture; Prof. W. R. Graham, Ontario agricultural college; and other equally prominent speakers are included in the announced program.

Complimentary banquets and other features of entertainment are listed, in addition to the strictly business side of the gathering.

Chief work of the poultry improvement association lies in the field of certification, according to J. A. Hannah, M. S. C. poultry department, who serves as secretary of the association. About three million egg hatching capacity in commercial hatcheries of the state has been signed up already for inspection and certification this year, it is said.

Election of officers and final plans for the certification work will be handled at a business session of Friday, Oct. 30th.

Alpena—The Thunder Bay Golf club, Alpena's first public course, is now in the process of organization. The new course is for the use of local townpeople and tourists. Work on the new course will begin in a few days. Several thousand dollars in stock subscriptions have been pledged and 255 acres of land less than two miles from the heart of the business district has been optioned.

Houghton—John Watson, of Ironwood, commissioner of schools for Gogebic county, was elected president and the convention went on record in favor of Ironwood as the meeting place in 1926, at the annual business meeting of the Upper Peninsula Educational association held here. The 1926 convention city, however, will be selected by the executive committee of the Michigan State Teachers' association.

Big Potato Show Is Farm Week Feature

A big state potato show, with all potato interests of Michigan joining hands to put on a blue ribbon exhibit, will be one of the features of Farmers Week at Michigan State College this year. The potato show is the first of the Farm Week meetings and attractions which has been announced formally.

The East Lansing show will be a championship event, the best entries from former local exhibits being shown. Potato shows have been held in connection with farmers week exhibits in former years, but this will be the first of the state-wide exhibit.

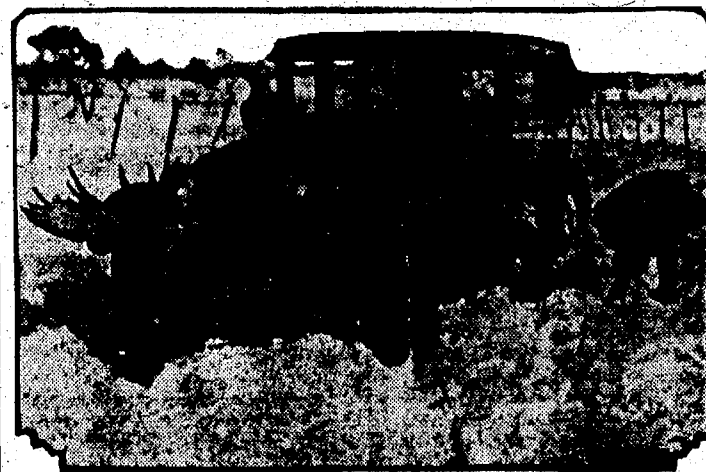

Practically all potato associations and interests in the state are represented on the committee which is handling arrangements for the show. H. C. Moore extension specialist at M. S. C. is serving as chairman, along with the following members: A. C. Lytle, Gaylord; E. W. Lincoln, Greenville; V. I. Whittemore, East Lansing; John Sims, Caro; Wm. Bowers, Central Lake; Ernest Pettifor, Gaylord; David Inglis, Van.

Smith post of the American Legion, to act as general chairman of the American Legion's $5,000,000 endowment fund committee for Jackson county.

Bay City—Garland "Chief" Nevitt, coach and athletic instructor of Central High school, who is to have a hearing on an assault and battery charge as the result of an altercation with George O. Martin, chemistry instructor at Central high school, will be reprimanded with the understanding that repetition of his temper display will not be tolerated.

Lansing—A request that the valuation of the Manistee & Northeastern railroad be reduced from $400,000 to $200,000 was submitted to the state administrative board by the general manager. If this reduction in taxes is granted the road can be operated until the property is disposed of and the receivership dissolved, he said. His request was referred to the attorney general.

Biggest Moose and Biggest Storm

A group of New York hunters looking for moose in the Canadian North came out with a record not only of the largest pair of moose antlers ever taken out of Quebec province, but also of having met the most terrific snow storm in years. The tremendous moose antlers measured 56 inches across and had 37 points. The animal was shot by Asa B. Clark of Flushing, N. Y. In the illustration the hunters' car is shown stuck in the snow. On its front are the antlers.

Cheboygan Overcomes Local Football Team

Last Friday afternoon, in the football game between East Jordan and Cheboygan at Cheboygan, the local team was defeated by a score of 7 to 18. All during the first quarter the East Jordan team looked very superior to Cheboygan. By a brilliant series of end runs and line smashes, the ball was advanced to the Cheboygan two yard line and was lost on downs. Cheboygan then took the ball under line smash, and carried it to the seven yard line. At this position Brackett took it on a long end run to East Jordan's 40 yard line. He ran around the entire team and would have made a touchdown except that he was overtaken and pulled down by Leu. Throughout the first half Brackett continued to make his brilliant runs and Cheboygan managed to secure a touchdown but were unable to kick the goal.

At the beginning of the second half, James Gleason grabbed a Cheboygan forward pass and ran for a touchdown, Taylor kicking the goal. East Jordan continued to remain in the lead until the fourth quarter when Brackett again tore loose and succeeded in putting over two more touchdowns. In the fourth quarter, the East Jordan team did some brilliant forward passing but were unable to make the necessary counters. The school and people of Cheboygan gave the East Jordan team and fans an excellent welcome and showed real hospitality.

Officials for the game were: Smith of Grayling, referee; Brown of Mackinaw City, umpire; McLaughlin of St. Ignace, head linesman.

Cadillac—Michigan Potato Growers Exchange has promoted Fred H. Hibst, for five years in charge of its accounting department, to general manager, succeeding Fred Smith, of Elk Rapids, who will remain in an advisory capacity until the first of the year.

Ypsilanti—Bus service between Ypsilanti and Saline, 10 miles west of here, was inaugurated recently. This is the first regular service to be established between the two towns since the D. J. & C. railway discontinued service on the Saline branch Sept. 27, after 26 years of continuous operation.

Monroe—Fire of unknown origin practically destroyed the plant of the Monroe Auto Equipment Manufacturing company located on East First street. Charles B. McIntyre, president stated that the plant would be rebuilt at once and would be in full operation within 60 days. The building will be constructed of brick.

Battle Creek—Plans for a district scout leaders' conference, November 7 and 8, at Camp Ben Johnston, Sherman Lake, are proceeding favorably, according to T. Ben Johnston, boy scout executive. The purpose of the conference will be to train adult leaders to better carry on the scout work of the coming winter.

Muskegon—The recommendation to negotiate a contract with the Detroit house of correction, whereby all persons sentenced to serve time for driving automobiles while intoxicated could be sent to that institution, was given the Muskegon board of supervisors by Judge Vanderwerp. The board adopted the resolution.

Cadillac—Fred Smith, director and acting manager of the Michigan Potato Growers' exchange, must resign one of his offices. That is the decision of the board of mediation, to which the question was put by the directors after a bitter debate over the interpretation of the by-laws of the co-operative marketing bureau.

Alma—Eric Steenberg, an employe of the Republic Motor Truck Co., is held in $2,000 bail here on a charge of forgery. Officials of the company say that Steenberg punched a time clock for employes not working and collected the checks of these men. No estimate of the amount alleged to have been obtained in this way was given.

Lansing—The State Tax Commission virtually has completed preparation to make extensive investigations of the so-called charity property on the State's tax exempt list, George Lord, chairman, announced. Hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of property that has been escaping taxation, may be assessed for the first time.

The Different Types Of "Communists"

We have today in the United States communists and anarchists, reds and radicals, and men who have no other purpose than to destroy our government. These men are of the same character as the loafer on the curb, the taker of the doles in England; men who will not work, who are parasites, who are vicious, and who seek neither the god of the country nor of society. They earn a certain amount of by debauching themselves. But it is not the crowd which is the most dangerous, because their money does not come from Moscow, and certainly none of them puts his hand in his pocket to contribute to communistic activities. Yet we have a certain number of wealthy citizens who believe that it is smart to proclaim themselves radicals and communists, just as they have in England, Earl's neices and nephews, Baron's brothers, and Knight's remote cousins, all subsisting on unearned income, who proclaim their full belief in communism. Now when a Duke's daughter in England espouses socialism's thousand tuff-hunters in the United States become wildly excited over the radicalism and give liberally of their money. They do not realize that the Duke's daughter in England is bait there as well as here for the feeble-minded who follow the royal and the titled. Lack of intelligence is, of course, one of the fundamental reasons for this limitation. In fact, it is a strong argument in favor of the theory of evolution. There is danger in this country from the weak-minded who possess money and who follow, into the communist camp, the flag of a few socially prominent.

Family Reunion

Warden and Mrs. Ollie Warden and daughter, who expect to start for Adrian in a short time to remain indefinitely. A bounteous pot luck dinner was enjoyed by all.

WHEN WE ARE GONE.

By THOMAS ARKLE CLARK
Dean of Men, University of Illinois.

MRS. GIDDINGS was going away for a visit to her mother for two or three weeks out in Kansas and was leaving Joe, her husband, to take care of himself. This was the first time she had left him during the twenty-five years that they had been married, and she was a good deal concerned as to how he would get on. She had always looked after him and her own household affairs, and she was convinced that if she were not in charge the entire menage would go upon the rocks.

It was only the fact that her mother was seriously ill and needed her care that induced her to leave her home and her husband for so long a time. But she had a reliable maid, and she'd written out specific directions for the guidance of her husband's movements with regard to his meals and his clothing and the cat and the canary, and she thought that things could be allowed to drift for two weeks without serious disaster. She knew, however, that she'd be terribly missed.

Her stay was prolonged to a month, and when she finally got away and started back home it was with the feeling that she would find the house a mess and her husband melancholy and unkempt from lack of attention. She came in on him unexpectedly. The house seemed in its perfect order as when she left it, and Joe was just going in to dinner, clean shaven, his clothes carefully groomed, and the table set with all her best things. Whoever had ordered the dinner had shown good judgment.

Mrs. Giddings was disappointed; she was almost on the verge of tears. She had expected to find household affairs all topsy-turvy and apparently they had gone as smoothly during her absence as when she had the steering wheel in her hands. It was annoying, to say the least.

"Didn't you miss me at all?" she asked Joe.

"Oh, yes, of course," he said; "but Katy and I got on very well. In fact, I gave a dinner party to half a dozen of our friends while you were away. You see a man has to do something to entertain himself."

She had supposed she was absolutely essential to the running of the house, and she found that things had been running as smoothly during her absence as when she had been on the job. It was humiliating; it took the conceit out of her.

Nobody is indispensable—not even a baseball player, or a college president, or the king of England. You may be doing your job well with the thought that there is no one quite like you in the world, but if you die things will go on just the same. It may take six men to do the work that you have been doing, but they will be waiting to step into your shoes as soon as the funeral is over. If we can only add an idea to the world's stock of knowledge or do our job a little more efficiently than it has been done before, we have made it possible for things to go on better rather than worse when we are gone.

CHURCHES PROSPER IN DRY UNITED STATES

One of the most impressive features of this nation's five billion dollar building program for 1925 is the item of $400,000,000 for new church buildings and equipment, says an editorial in the Chicago Daily News of August 29. The estimate is made by C. Stanley Taylor, one of the editors of the Architectural Forum, and is based on reports from 1,562 architects. The News says that this is by far the most extensive church building program ever carried forward in the United States, that the expenditures for church construction will run twice as high as those for 1924, notwithstanding the fact that the expenditures for 1924 almost doubled those of 1923. The News concludes:

Congregations are giving as they never gave before for new houses of worship. Where $10,000 to $50,000 was the goal a few years ago, now the building programs call for structures costing from $50,000 to $1,000,000 each, with $50,000 and $60,000 buildings exceedingly common. Notwithstanding changes which always accompany an advanced social and economic order and rapid material development, the religious life of the nation is growing deeper and richer all the time.

And it would show lack of understanding not to recognize the abolition of the liquor traffic as one of the greatest contributing factors to this marvelous increase in church building construction. Not only is the prosperity of the churches indicated by the large building program, but also by a phenomenal growth in membership.

When the various church denominational bodies of the United States, recognizing the organized liquor traffic as the greatest enemy of the things for which they labored, joined forces in an assault upon it, the liquor traffic's fate was sealed. The saloon was continually tearing down what the church sought to build up. Twenty-five years ago the saloons in this country far outnumbered the church congregations. These liquor-selling establishments were on the job 365 days and nights in the year. But Christian citizenship became aroused, with the result that the Eighteenth Amendment was written into the Constitution closing 177,000 legalized liquor-selling establishments (thousands in the decade preceding had been closed by local option) and since then the church has prospered as never before.

There is no cause for astonishment. The greatest obstacle to the church's program has been removed.

PETITION FOR DRY GERMANY

Petitions containing the names of 466,000 voters urging the enactment of a law which it is believed will eventually place Germany in the dry column, have been presented at the Reichstag. These petitions are the result of a ten-day postal card canvass.

FOUR FOOTBALL STARS

"I have four All-American stars helping me at Michigan," says Hurry-up Yost, who for thirty years has believed football to be one of the great factors in building American youth. "Among those four assistants there isn't one who has ever taken a drink, ever smoked, ever used profanity or ever told a dirty story. Are they effeminate? Well, the four can take thirty of the other type and break them into a number of pieces without straining a muscle. They are men of the highest order, and their influence will carry far beyond the football field. I'd like to see every youngster in this country play football because the game teaches what every youngster needs—discipline, self-sacrifice, clean spirit, clean living, quick thinking and the knack of facing heavy pressure and still fighting on."—Grantland Rice in Collier's, The National Weekly.

OUR RAILROADS

We are just beginning the second century of railway transportation. The world's first railroad, in England was opened September 27, 1825, and railway operation in this country began a short time later. It is particularly fitting that the centennial of the railroads should remind us of the important benefits which our country has delivered from railway transportation.

Our political unity is one beneficial result of railway transportation. One hundred years ago our country was made up of isolated towns and villages with transportation limited to rivers which were difficult and dangerous to navigate and to roads which were frequently impassable. Our development as a politically united people, united in speech and ideals, has followed closely the growth of the railroads, which have linked together the communities that comprise our nation and have provided channels of easy communication among them.

Our economic unity is another beneficial result of the railway transportation. No longer is the commerce of a community restricted to commodities produced in its immediate vicinity. Cheap, adequate, widely available transportation has enlarged the areas of distribution and developed the system of specialization that characterizes American industry, agriculture and commerce. Each section of the country is enabled to produce the commodities for which it is best adapted and receive in return for its surplus products of other regions. As such specialization has taken place, industrial agricultural efficiency has increased and progress in civilization has been made.

The improved social life of our people is still another result of railway transportation. Standards of living have improved. What were the luxuries of our forefathers are nowadays often regarded as necessities. Travel, instead of an ordeal to be avoided, has become a means of recreation and enjoyment, and the cultural background travel provides is within the reach of all. The rapid conveyance of mail by the railroads facilitates business and social relationships.

The service now provided by the railroads is the best that has ever been known. The efficiency and adequacy of railroad service must be maintained and increased if our nation is to continue to prosper and develop.

Ours is a country of great distances, with large areas accessible only by land; so above all other nations the United States is dependent for its present prosperity, indeed for its continued existence, upon railway transportation. Railway transportation is woven into the very fabric of our national life. Recognition of the vital position which it occupies in the lives of our people ought to insure the maintenance of a constructive public attitude toward the railroads.

Ontario's 4.4 Beer Not Proving Satisfactory

Special Committee of Congress Now Investigating Workings of Beer Law of Ontario

The 4.4 beer of Ontario has not been found satisfactory, from the standpoint of either the drinker or the government's enforcement officials, in the opinion of the special committee of the United States Congress, appointed to inquire into the workings of the Eighteenth Amendment to the Constitution, says an Associated Press dispatch. The committee are now touring Ontario to obtain information on the sale of 4.4 beer in that province and the effectiveness and workings of temperance laws in general. The group of Americans, headed by Representative Grant M. Hudson of Michigan, were guests at dinner of the Ontario Prohibition Union, and at the dinner Mr. Hudson spoke of what they had learned regarding the sale of the beer.

"We first asked whether 4.4 beer had satisfied those who wanted a stronger alcoholic beverage," he said. "and fully 95 per cent replied that it had not. We were told that, after a trial of it, the populace turned away from it as being no better but more costly than the old 2.5 beer."

"Our next question was whether the sale of 4.4 beer had increased the sale of bootleg liquor. The universal reply was that it had increased, rather than decreased it. Also we inquired whether the beer had weaned the drinker of hard liquor to the mild beverage, and we learned that it had not. In fact, virtually every person we interviewed declared the whole system most satisfactory."

ALL OUT OF SORTS?

So Was This East Jordan Woman Who Tells Her Experience.

All too often women accept their pains and aches as natural to their sex. They fail to realize that weak kidneys are often to blame for that "backache," those headaches, dizzy spells and that tired, depressed feeling. Thousands have found new health and strength by helping the weakened kidneys with Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic. This East Jordan case is one of many:

Mrs. Walter F. Woodcock, Merritt St., says: "I had a dull, nagging ache through the small of my back and when I stooped to do any household work knife-like pains darted across my kidneys. Constant headaches wore me out and I often had dizzy spells, when black specks came before my eyes, blurring my sight. My kidneys were sluggish and failed to act often enough. Doan's Pills from the Hite Drug Co. soon gave me a complete cure."

TURN HAIR DARK WITH SAGE TEA

If Mixed with Sulphur It Darkens So Naturally Nobody Can Tell

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's recipe, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage. Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustrous and appearance of abundance which is so attractive.

Drink Water to Help Wash Out Kidney Poison

If Your Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers You, Begin Taking Salts

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salt which helps to remove the body's urinous waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active. Drink lots of good water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four quinces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in the system so they are no longer a source of irritation, thus often relieving bladder weakness. Jad Salts is inexpensive; can not injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, which everyone should take now and then to help keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this; also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

GREEN RE-ELECTED HEAD OF A. F. OF L.

Labor Body Opposed to Recognition of Russian Soviet by United States.

Atlantic City, N. J.—The American Federation of Labor re-elected President William Green and his associate officers by acclamation; those Detroit as next year's convention city; declared against formation of an independent labor party and opposed recognition of the Russian Soviet by the United States.

Many other resolutions also were adopted. Mr. Green's re-election was overshadowed. He was elected president in New York last winter by the executive council after the death of Samuel Gompers. Previously he had been secretary treasurer of the United Mine Workers of America. During the year he was instrumental in settling three vexatious interunion disputes after others had failed, and he acquired a reputation as a peacemaker.

John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, made the nominating speech. He brought the delegates to their feet cheering when he recounted that Mr. Green was the son of a coal miner; "had labored in the dungeons and learned the language of those who toil," and had risen to a position where he was "a great American, great and wise in council, and great in battle."

The resolution proposing support of a movement to bring about a world conference of trade unions was defeated unanimously.

45,000 Baseball Fans See Pittsburgh Win Flag

Pittsburgh, Pa.—Pittsburgh was crowned a new world's champion after the maddest, wildest, and most pathetic battle in the history of America's pastime.

With 45,000 fanatics screaming in delicious joy, then roaring in partisan rage when the Senators forged ahead, the old and crippled Walter Johnson fell before the youth and speed of the Pirates by a score of 9 to 7.

With two out in that inning, with the game seemingly saved, Johnson's strength at last failed. Before the wildly joyous Pirates could be stopped they had scored three times, and for the first time in the feverish battle, were leading. Aldridge and Kremer were the winning pitchers.

Mine's Head Says U. S. Faces Big Coal Shortage

Atlantic City, N. J.—Support by the American Federation of Labor of the 158,000 striking miners in the anthracite field was accorded after President John W. Lewis of the United Mine Workers had addressed the delegates and stirred them to enthusiasm by his recital of conditions in the industry.

Mr. Lewis said the miners would not flatter or depart from the policy laid down, and he warned the public that it was due to a "rude awakening" if it believed there was an ample supply of coal on hand. "Hundreds of thousands of homes will be without fuel and will be unable to secure fuel," he said, "until it can be produced at the mines and distributed."

Unique in Fiction

Oliver October

By GEORGE BARR MCCUTCHEON

THIS author who has invented such a great number of clever plots in fiction, placed his characters in such agreeably tantalizing positions, invested his tales with the very spirit of romance and who has had about as many imitators as any other writer, has given these imitators another good one to aim at in "Oliver October." Here is a story of today, of people such as we meet every day, yet into the life of the chief character comes an experience as amazing as anything to be found in fact or fiction. Another hit by McCutcheon and another delight for his hundreds of thousands of admirers.

New and exciting story by the famous author of "Graustark," "Brewster's Millions," "Viola Gwyn," etc. Combines thrills with a delightful romance. The bulrushes in the story of Moses were probably papyrus. This plant is a kind of perennial rush which grows in swampy places, has a small triangular stem and reaches a height of 6 to 10 feet. It was formerly found on the banks of the Nile and still is found in Syria.

SENATOR RALSTON DIES AFTER LONG ILLNESS

Lawmaker Succumbs on His Farm, "Hoosier Home," Near Indianapolis.

Indianapolis.—Samuel M. Ralston, United States senator from Indiana, died at his country home just north of this city.

Senator Ralston's death was preceded by a long illness, caused by a kidney disorder. He returned from Washington last March in poor health. On September 5 his condition became aggravated and he was ordered to bed. He would have been sixty-eight years old December 1.

Death came to the statesman at the place he loved best, "Hoosier Home," located just outside the city limits of Indianapolis.

"God is good and I am His child." So wrote Senator Ralston to a friend shortly before his death.

It is said he refused to accept the Presidential nomination at the last Democratic convention because he had a premonition he would not serve out the term at the White House.

Samuel Moffet Ralston was born on a farm in Tuscarawas county, Ohio, December 1, 1857.

Senator S. M. Ralston.

Through all of his civic and community life Mrs. Ralston, whom he married in 1889, and who was Jennie Craven of Center Valley before her marriage, took an active part.

Panama Landlords Cut Rents to Pacify Rioters

Balboa.—Panama City landlords, in an agreement with President Rodolfo Chiari, promised to reduce the rents ten per cent for the cheaper dwellings and not to increase the rentals of any type of house. The agreement is to be effective for a year.

This action, taken as a result of the riots by workers against high rents, is expected to end the disorders which resulted in the deaths of several persons and wounding of many others, as well as the calling in of about 600 United States troops from Fort Clayton to restore order in Panama.

The landlords' offer of a rent reduction, which was better than has been demanded, was accepted by many of the tenants.

Meanwhile, Panama is calm under the watchful eyes of the American soldiers, although business has not been completely restored to normal.

Bishop Murray Is Named to Head Episcopalians

New Orleans.—From Methodist and bookkeeper to presiding bishop of the Protestant Episcopal church of the United States is the ecclesiastical romance of the hour in this country.

That is what the election of Rt. Rev. John Gardner Murray, bishop of Maryland, to this office accomplished Bishop Murray is sixty-eight years old.

Upon assuming the office of presiding bishop of the church, Bishop Murray will also take over the duties of president of the national council of the church. In Federal court Judge Louis H. Burns took under advisement the injunction suit brought against the house of bishops by the deposed bishop, William Montgomery Brown.

Hard Coal Famine Strikes New York

New York.—New York found itself in the midst of a coal famine when all large dealers of anthracite coal refused to accept orders at any price or to issue quotations, declaring they are altogether out of the precious commodity.

Sales were suspended just as Maj. Gen. Charles W. Berry, chairman of the newly created state coal commission, announced that $16 a ton had been fixed as a fair price for hard coal in Manhattan and the Bronx.

Waterway Survey Incomplete

Washington.—The engineering survey of the Great Lakes to the St. Lawrence channel is not completed, members of the deep waterway commission were told when they met with Secretary of Commerce Hoover.

RHINO HAS THE BLUES

"H O, HUM!" grunted Ranny Rhino, as he rolled over in the muddy water of the Yellow River and turned one tiny shiny eye toward Big Bright Mr. Sun who was just going down behind the tall Palm Tree.

"I suppose I might as well get up and look for my supper. It's a long way to the nearest plantation, but that sugar cane is well worth it. Maybe I'll find some bamboo, too. Nothing is much fun, though, when you can't see well, now is it?" he grumbled, as he caught sight of Polly Parrot in the tree above him.

"Well, that depends on what you are trying to see," cried Polly saucily. "If it's a joke or your duty, then I say it's all very well to have good eyesight, but—"

"Oh, Polly, please do be sensible," wailed Ranny. "I'm serious about this, really I am. I go ploughing around with these dull little eyes of mine, charging at things and generally missing them. Even if I don't get into much trouble because I am big and folks are afraid of the two fierce horns on my nose, still I never feel comfortable because I am so in doubt about danger being near."

"Big, Ranny Rhino! Why, I should think you were. There's nobody in the whole Jungle larger, except Gray Ears the Elephant. And what you are grumbling about I don't know when you are so swift that you can outrun a horse. Then there's your keen scent and your two fine horns. Your cousin in India has but one. You've a nose to be proud of, I say."

"Yes, I know all that, Polly; but I can't help it; I'm blue," complained Ranny. "You seem jolly this morning. I wish you could make me feel so."

"Well, I am happy, Ranny Rhino. It doesn't take good eyesight to find that out, does it? And I'll just take you to the person who made me so, if you would like to go. Maybe he can help you too. His name is Cheerups, and he came all the way from America to broaden his acquaintance. I should think he would like you, Ranny; goodness knows, you are broad enough."

"How lovely that is of you, Polly!" said Ranny, opening his mouth in a wide smile and showing so many teeth that Polly gave a little shiver and moved away. It didn't look to her like a good place for an accidental fall.

"Yes, Cheerups showed me how to make Mr. Parrot do his share of sitting on our nest. And what do you suppose he told me? Why, just to be kind and polite. It sounds simple, but it worked. So that's the reason I can be away this morning. I don't have to worry any more about my fine eggs getting cold. Come on now, Ranny, let's be off to find Cheerups," chuckled Polly.

Ranny was so pleased and happy that he came right out of the water and frisked along by the Yellow River, down the Winding Way and through the Twisty Vines, with Polly Parrot flying overhead, until they came to the little clear place in the Jungle where Cheerups lived.

OLIVER OCTOBER

By GEORGE BARR McCUTCHEON

A MYSTERIOUS Gypsy fortune teller foretold the future of Oliver October Baxter on the day he was born.

She predicted for him much of the good things of life—love, wealth and power.

But angered by some slighting remark, she turned fiercely to Baxter, senior, and shouted: "But that is not all!"

What else she predicted furnishes the framework for one of the most dramatic plots of all the popular novels by George Barr McCutcheon.

Among the NOTABLES

HERBERT C. HOOVER

WHEN a man's name is incorporated as a part of the language, he is truly great. Nowadays, we never say we are eliminating waste or practicing economy; we simply say we are "Hooverizing." And it's quite likely the word will become a permanent part of the language.

Herbert Hoover is undoubtedly one of the greatest men the World has brought out. He was born in Iowa, August 10, 1874, studied mining engineering, was graduated from Leland Stanford, and, after various experiences in mining in this country, went to Australia as a mining chief. This led him into China, where he did a lot of exploration work through the interior, and where he took part in the defense of Tientsin during the Boxer trouble.

That was about twenty-five years ago, and after these exciting happenings, he settled in London, holding several important positions with mining concerns. Then Germany went through Belgium in 1914, and one of the great problems to be met while the armies fought, was—who was to feed Belgium and how? Herbert Hoover was appointed head of the Belgian relief, and did work so remarkable that no one could appreciate it until after the war was over and there was time to view events in proper perspective. He procured food, distributed it, fixed it so starving communities should have their share, made sure that the hungry people, and not the German army, got the food.

Naturally he was appointed food administrator in the United States when we went into the war. Among other things, he curtailed profiteering; encouraged home production and canning; keeping food properly distributed; preventing waste; and shipping supplies to our allies.

AN ABBREVIATED STORY

SOME OF EACH

DINWEEVIE DOGGS, president of the Soottown chamber of commerce, was showing the wonders of the town to the distinguished visitor, Jazzbo, the man from Mars.

"And last but not least, Mr. Jazzbo," beamed Doggs, "I must show you that great American institution, the five and ten-cent store. There's nothing there over ten cents or under five or in between, and there's nothing that's not on sale there."

"Well, well!" wellwelled Jazzbo—"even obsolete whisky glasses and things to fix whatcaallums with?"

"Even those," smiled Doggs.

"Well, well," wellwelled Jazzbo. And they went to the five and ten-cent store, and Dinweevie Doggs radiated, "Here we are! Did you ever see such variety in your life. Look at that stack of hair straighteners! Here's a handful for souvenirs. Look at all the patent monkey wrenches for training monkeys! Stick a couple in your pocket for souvenirs! I'll pay for the cork dishes that float if water or gravy is spilled on them! Do have a half dozen as souvenirs."

An hour later, at the corner of Might and Main streets, Jazzbo was dug out from under a pile of miscellaneous articles including transferable cigar bands, noodle slicers, Javanese ankle scratchers, pocket squirt guns for re-flavoring overexercised chewing gum, rubber shoestrings, spark plugs, pin wheels, umbrellas, ivory-handled barrel openers, demitasse forks, dandelion wine, boiler buttons, baby banks, floor lamps, curtain poles and cobweb ladders.

"Well, well!" wellwelled the semi-conscious Jazzbo. "Such a planet!"

Red Indian Chemistry

The Indians are said to have been the first chemists in America. They had wonderful methods of making flint arrow heads, spears and knives by using a piece of bone scoured or soaked in ashes and water. They tanned hides, made glue from fish scales, waterproofed canoe seams with pitch, tempered clay for pottery and dyed clothing.

IF SKIN BREAKS OUT AND ITCHES APPLY SULPHUR

Just the moment you apply Mentho-Sulphur to an itching, burning or broken out skin, the itching stops and healing begins, says a noted skin specialist. This sulphur preparation, made into a pleasant cold cream, gives such a quick relief, even to fiery eczema, that nothing has ever been found to take its place.

Because of its germ-destroying properties, it quickly subdues the itching, cools the irritation and heals the eczema right up, leaving a clear, smooth skin in place of ugly eruptions, rashes, pimples or ringworms.

You do not have to wait for improvement. It quickly shows. You can get a little jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur at any drug store.

A LINE O' CHEER

By John Kendrick Bangs.

SHADOWS

NO SHADOW'er can bother me, And on my way I walk straight past it, Unless unhappily I see That I unwittingly have cast it.

And if it be that mine's the fault, That brings that shadow there on my way, I step aside, and from the vault Let golden Light stream on the highway.

And when I face that Light I find, Even though its radiant luster blind me, The shadow that hath vexed my mind, Is left forevermore behind me.

In this age of luxury a silken negligee is considered almost as necessary to feminine happiness. Tried and found most satisfactory is shimmering satin for the making of the bondiorobe. The two-toned effects are loveliest, such as pale pink reversing deep rose, lilac with dark pansy lining, canary yellow with orange for the under-side. The long silken ribbons used as a fastening supplemented with a cluster of hand-craft satin roses, of course repeat the duo-colorings. As to the lace bordering, so exquisitely defined in this picture, it may or may not be of the washable kind. The newest idea is lace patterned throughout with silver metal thread. Deft fingers could accomplish this ornate threading at home. Surely one's dearest girl friend would rejoice at such a holiday gift as this.
