Great Plays For Chautauqua

Green and His Band and Other Fine Musical Attractions

Two dramatic productions of very different character are scheduled for our Chautauqua which begins July 17th and continues for five days. The three act dialect comedy "The Bubble" on the first night will afford much laughter and enjoyment. "A Message From Mars," a fantastic and spectacular drama of three acts, one of the great dramatic successes of this generation, will be the feature on the fifth night. This play will be presented by the well known MacMurray-Kackley Players who have, under the direction of Arthur MacMurray and Olive Kackley, established themselves in the hearts of drama lovers.

Another widely known organization which we are to have is Green and his Band, famous for the great variety of its programs, in which one pleasing novelty or surprise follows another in rapid succession. A two hour concert by these entertainers, seems but a few minutes.

Other musical attractions, entertainers and three fine lecturers will appear in pleasing and interesting programs.

The officers and committee men in charge of the Chautauqua report an increased advance sale of season tickets, which of course, is to be expected with such high grade attractions as have been selected this year.

Quakes, Storms, Floods

Kill, Maim and Damage

The Hague.—Reports from Sumatra state that 51 are dead as a result of the recent earthquake.

Cairo, Egypt.—The final figures show that the recent quake destroyed or damaged 4,286 houses, killed 110 and injured 66 throughout Egypt.

Santiago, Chile.—The trans-Andean train to Buenos Aires was held up for five and a half days at Los Andes, completely snow blocked in the worst storm in years. Chile is inundated everywhere. A cyclonic 60-mile-an-hour gale carried away houses and trees, causing several deaths. Santiago is practically isolated.

The Valparaiso press states that the new port works, commenced in 1922 at an initial cost of $8,000,000, are totally destroyed.

Mexico City.—In the state of Morelos several towns are under water. In Yauatepec four feet of water rushing through the streets, swept away the station and three wards of the city so completely that no vestige is left.

Bucharest.—Thousands of houses were reported to have been demolished by floods in Galatz and Klausenburg. Numerous communities were completely cut off from communication.

Chicago Murder Rate Declines

Chicago.—Sharp downward trend in the murder rate for Chicago and Cook county was shown in official figures released by Coroner Oscar Wolf.

Cupid Was Busy in Chicago

Chicago.—More marriage licenses were issued here in June than have been issued in any June in the last five years. Five thousand six hundred and ninety licenses were issued, eighty more than in 1925.

New President for Howard

Washington.—Election of Dr. Mordecai W. Johnson of Charleston, W. Va., to be president of Howard university is announced by the board of trustees.

New Premier Defeated

Ottawa, Ont.—The new government of Arthur Meighen, Conservative, three days old, was defeated by one vote in the house of commons. The vote was 96 to 95. Fourteen Conservatives voted against the government.

Australian Film Tariff Stands

Melbourne.—The senate's suggestion that Australia increase the duty on moving-picture film imports, except British, by a penny a foot, was rejected by the house of representatives.

Kidnaper Draws 35 Years

Coalgate, Okla.—B. B. Hamlin pleaded guilty to a charge of kidnaping John Simpson, wholesale grocer of this city, and was sentenced to 35 years in the state penitentiary.

A box of candy has remarkable effect upon sweet young things.

Flies Not To Blame For Low Milk Flow

Flies and hot weather, generally blamed for all falling off in production of dairy cows in the summer months, are largely exonerated by Prof. O. E. Reed, of the Michigan State College, in a statement just given out on keeping up the milk flow.

Underfeeding is named by Reed as the primary reason for summer decline in milk flow. Tests have shown that flies, in spite of the discomfort caused the animals, are not the most important factors in controlling production.

"The average cow usually suffers more from underfeeding during the winter," says Professor Reed. "During the first few weeks when cows are turned to pasture, the milk flow will usually increase, but as the grass matures and hot, dry weather comes on, there are times when the cows actually suffer from lack of food. Scanty rations always result in decline in milk flow."

"More attention should be given to the condition of the pastures during this season, and effort should be made to provide a sufficient amount of feed to insure the maximum production of milk at the lowest possible cost."

"Perhaps the best way to supplement the native pasture is to provide temporary pasture, such as sweet clover. Alfalfa will also make an excellent pasture if properly handled. Other crops have been used with good results. Heavy producing cows should receive some grain regardless of how good the pasture might be, because they can not consume enough grass to obtain the nutrients they require."

"CO-OP" BILL AND AMENDMENTS O. K'D

House Concurs in Changes in Administration Marketing Measure.

Washington.—By a vote of 156 to 77 the house concurred in senate amendments to the administration co-operative marketing bill and the measure now goes to the President.

Struggling with the problem in a bitter ten-hour session, the senate voted down the Fess credits measure, which, like the co-operative marketing bill, had the avowed support of President Coolidge, by a majority of 28 votes (54 to 26), a margin nearly five times as great as that by which the McNary equalization-fee rider was defeated.

Then in rapid succession one substitute proposal after another was rejected. With only a relatively small part of the senate membership remaining in the chamber, the co-operative marketing bill was passed without a record vote.

This measure, which would establish a new division in the Agriculture department to handle co-operative marketing problems and authorize an appropriation of $225,000 for its work, already had been passed by the house, but because of senate amendments, including one eliminating naval stores from its provisions, it was planned to send it to conference between the two chambers for adjustment of these differences, but this action was later abandoned.

Practically no opposition to the co-operative marketing bill developed since it was passed by the house some weeks ago, the principal criticism of it by members of congress from agricultural sections being that, in their opinion, it was inadequate to solve the farmers' problems.

In the senate its chief function was to serve as a vehicle for the proposals which provided the issues for the battle over surplus-crop legislation. It was the "unfinished business" of the senate for three weeks before it was passed, but received scant attention in the flood of discussion which occupied the chamber during that period.

First, Senator McNary (Rep., Ore.) brought forward his equalization-fee proposal as an amendment. Similar to the Haugen bill, which had been rejected in the house, this rider produced most of the discussion in the senate, but, although numerous changes were made in it, the equalization-fee principle, strongly opposed by administration forces, remained, and it was voted down by a majority of six.

Senator Fess (Rep., Ohio) then offered his measure. It resembled the credit bill offered in the house by Representative Fincher (Rep., Kans.) but withdrawn by him before the vote was taken on the Haugen measure. Both called for appropriation of $100,000,000 for loans to farmer-controlled co-operative marketing associations to assist them in handling crop surpluses.

Summer Invasion

18,000-Gallon Still Is Seized in Chicago Raid

Chicago.—All previous claims for the country's largest wildcat distillery were thrown in the discard when prohibition agents under Administrator E. C. Yellowley landed one here, which is said to be almost double the size of anything grabbed during the Volstead era.

In addition to $200,000 worth of equipment and a $130,000 building, the agents took into custody 12 men, several of whom were said to be old-time distillers from Peoria. Records in the plant indicated that it was largely backed by Peoria capital and distilling expertise.

The layout had a normal running capacity of 18,000 gallons of 188-proof grain alcohol a week. The establishment included four 30-foot-column stills, 12 100-1000-gallon mash mixer, and innumerable storage tanks, doublers, flake stands, and other paraphernalia. More than $4,800 worth of corn sugar alone had been used in the mash found in process of fermentation.

Loyal Order of Moose Adds 5,000 New Members

Chicago.—The fraternal spirit has brought more than 50,000 members of the Supreme Lodge of the World, Loyal Order of Moose, with their wives and families, to Chicago to attend the thirty-eighth annual convention.

At the Coliseum the national order, already 600,000 strong, added 5,000 more members to their rolls in the largest mass initiation the order has had.

DIPPING INTO SCIENCE

Federal Coast Survey

Although a complete survey of the entire coast of the United States was first proposed in 1800, work did not begin until 1817. Working intermittently until 1844, nine states on the Atlantic seaboard were finished. Progress thereafter was rapid. Later the work was extended to the Pacific coast, Alaska, and the Great Lakes.

DIPPING INTO SCIENCE

Animals of Long Life

While the domesticated animals with which we are most familiar are comparatively short lived, many others live hundreds of years. Among the most notable examples are the whale, alligator, eagle and elephant. Whales are said to live 500 years, alligators 300, eagles 200 and elephants 100. (Camels live about 40 years.)

Daring Test of a Safety Device

Skat Hanson is pictured above, risking his life to prove the infallibility of a new safety train device by lying on the track before an onrushing locomotive equipped with the apparatus. The test was made on the Chesapeake Beach railway. The safety device is the brain child of George C. Witty of New York city, an engineer. Members of the interstate commerce commission and officials of railroads witnessed the test.

ANDREWS' 4,000 ARMY OUT TO BANISH RUM

Beginning of Most Extensive Campaign Against Liquor in Seven Years.

Washington.—Prohibition's largest army of 4,000 men has been mobilized for the most extensive campaign planned against liquor in the seven years of national prohibition.

Gen. Lincoln C. Andrews, West Pointer and assistant secretary of the treasury in charge of prohibition enforcement, planned the campaign on the basis of the largest appropriation ever granted for dry enforcement in one year—about $29,000,000.

The campaign will be waged on land and sea, with the attack centered principally on sources of supply.

Within two years, General Andrews promises not only more effective enforcement, but reduced costs and more popularity for the law.

Increased popularity will result, he holds, when it is proved that "we can protect the legitimate business from illegitimate competition."

The dry war will be carried on principally against smuggling and diversion of industrial alcohol and the "flood of high-powered beer." The territory east of the Mississippi and north of the Potomac rivers will be the main battleground, although the regular prohibition staff will be maintained throughout the country.

The additional forces of 906 men necessary to carry out this program also go into action this week, when the appropriation of $2,900,000 carried in the deficiency bill, is expected to become available. Those forces have been mobilized, however, and are awaiting the word.

The new fighting units organized by General Andrews will include mobile squads of 88 men each to combat industrial alcohol and beer leaks. John A. Foster will direct the former squad, which has been ordered by Andrews to plug the leak of 15,000,000 gallons of industrial alcohol getting into bootleg trade annually. Thomas E. Stone will supervise the beer squad with the task of getting "real beer" off the market by Christmas.

Other additions to the prohibition army will include 285 new men for border patrol, 318 new inspectors, 28 new smuggling investigators, 51 "under cover" men, and 62 men for an assessment squad.

A large unit of the new border patrol staff will be stationed at Detroit, where 37 will be added to the staff of three. General Andrews considers this point the principal "leak" from Canada.

The new inspectors, who will be charged with supervision of permits and drug stores, will be allocated as follows: 100, New York district; 25, Buffalo; 15, Pittsburgh; 75, Philadelphia; 5, Baltimore; 1, Virginia; 3, Kentucky; 10, Ohio; 50, Chicago; 3, St. Paul; 2, Omaha; 10, St. Louis; 10, Texas; 8, Seattle, and 6 in the San Francisco district.

"This will result, within a year," General Andrews said, "in the revocation of permits that have been granted in the past to illegitimate operators, both as druggists and doctors and as manufacturers, or users of industrial alcohol."

Warship Needed Mascot

The bad luck that attended the United States battleship Texas was attributed by old men-o-warsmen to the fact that she had no mascot. Goats as mascots have a bad reputation with sailors. And most seamen believe that if a cat falls overboard and is drowned the vessel is doomed.

To Users Of City Water

Owing to the continued dry season, users of City Water are warned to carefully observe the hours for sprinkling; viz:—

6:00 to 8:00 a. m. standard
6:00 to 8:00 p. m., standard.

This ordinance must be enforced, and violators will be subject to the penalties provided.

HER CHILDREN'S TOYS

By DOUGLAS MALLOCH

THE things of old are laid away, With which the children used to play.

For now they play with larger things: The gleam of gold, the deeds of kings, And woman's world, and men's affairs.

And so the little dolly lies And at the attic ceiling stares, And so the little soldier sighs And wonders now if no one cares?

They well remember boy and girl: Her hair, and how it used to curl; His legs and how they used to run And never got their romping done. Yes, childhood hours they well recall, But now those happy hours are past:

One day he let the soldier fall, And she laid down her doll at last; And now does no one care at all?

As, yes. They hear it now and then: Another step approach again; Another hand the dolly's dress Will smooth with quiet tenderness. When far the foot of childhood fares The children's playthings mean so much!

Another climbs the attic stairs, Another comes their toys to touch— Yes, there is some one still who cares. (© by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

How It Started

By JEAN NEWTON

THE MENAGERIE

THE menagerie, in the strict sense of the word, is as old as civilization itself. As soon as man became separated from the animals came his desire to know something of them, which resulted in collections of the wild inhabitants of the forests and the plains, first for private and then for public amusement.

The Romans had their lions and other wild beasts, and Julius Caesar made a note of the fact that the rich British chieftains kept hares, geese and domestic animals for their amusement. When the Conqueror went to England he kept bears, and Henry I had a collection of lynxes, lions and leopards.

The first real menagerie in the modern sense was founded in England in the Thirteenth century, when the king of England received as a gift from his kinsman, Louis IX of France an elephant, the first ever seen in England. This was exhibited and kept at the expense of the city of London, and before long was joined by other unfamiliar specimens which became known as the Menagerie of the Tower, where they were housed.

The development of the zoological parks which we find in large cities today had its origin in a movement started in Paris in 1804 in the Jardin des Plantes, resulting in the establishment of menageries in the principal cities of Europe. The first important zoological institution in this country was that founded in Philadelphia in 1827.

Amateur Designed Capitol

The original capitol building at Washington was in reality designed by an amateur architect, William Thornton of Philadelphia. He had not submitted the plans in reply to the advertisement for bids, but showed them after his return from the West Indies, and they were liked by President Washington, they were placed before the commissioners and accepted. Later there was much wrangling over the award, especially because Stephen Hallett's plans were held by some to be quite similar. Lathrobe was the actual architect during the construction of the first building, later burned by the British.

JACOBS AND DRINK

By THOMAS ARKLE CLARK
Dean of Men, University of Illinois.

DO MEN change much after they get out of college? I have always argued not. Their habits are pretty well formed by the time they are twenty-two or twenty-three; their tendencies determined, they are likely to change only in degree and not in any fundamental personal characteristic. Only a crisis or a sudden shock of some sort will bring about any great change. In the majority of cases they go on in the same general direction as they have started. Not even marriage or business responsibility can be counted upon to bring about a moral or intellectual revolution.

Jacobs was in college before the passage of the Volstead act, and even before local option had put the open saloon out of business in our towns. There were a dozen or more places where the thirsty student could slake his thirst, and it was rumored that Jacobs knew intimately all the bartenders in town. There were a good many rumors about Jacobs' drinking, and statements were not uncommon that he frequently took more than was good for him.

These were rumors only, so that I had no specific facts with which to confront him when we met in an official way.

"Don't you believe anything you hear," he said to me. "I do take an occasional glass of beer, but it isn't going further than that. When I graduate I'm going to stop the whole thing. I know it isn't a good practice." He really seemed to mean it, too.

That was fifteen years ago or so. He went into the insurance business or real estate or something like that, and I heard he was making more money than anyone else in Omaha and then that he had lost it all.

I was coming out of a hotel in St. Louis not long ago, when I ran into Jacobs. He was as pleased to meet me as if I were a long lost brother. He introduced me rather incoherently to a friend who was with him.

"Where have you been?" he inquired, "and why didn't you let me know you were coming to town. Didn't you know that I could give you a better time than anyone else here?"

"He was smelling of whisky," his tongue was a little thick; he was more than half drunk—so much so. In fact that a crowd began to gather to see what was going on, and I grew embarrassed and red in the face.

"Say," he said to me in a whisper that could have been heard all over the lobby, as he thrust his hand into his hip pocket.

"Wouldn't you like a little scotch?" I shook my head. Some girls passing by grasped the situation and giggled.

"Wouldn't you really?" "I don't drink, you know," I explained.

He was unshaven, his eyes were bloodshot, his clothes were untidy; he had a general run down appearance. The habit had simply grown on him through the years.

Pretty Furbelows Vary Summer Modes

The fashionable summer girl— young or old—has made up her mind to keep cool and look cool. She no longer courts a deep shade of tan, but overshadows her face and figure with wide brimmed hats and Japanese parasols. For jewelry she chooses clear crystal beads, like bits of ice, for necklaces, and rhinestones that sparkle like frost for earrings, bracelets and brooches. Sometimes the crystal beads are interspersed with black or colored glass. Next to clear crystal the cool and delicate blue of the aqua marine is favored. Gloves are short, the one-button type, in silk or kid, with fancy cuff, and the washable slip-on of doekin or fabric are preferred. But in midsummer one is privileged to go gloveless much of the time.

A MESSAGE FROM MARS

Heretofore the dramatic productions possible on Chautauqua platforms have been limited because of the lack of stage room and the theatrical paraphernalia necessary to attain special effects. With the marvelous stage and lighting effects provided by the new tent equipments being used this year for our Chautauqua, this handicap is overcome and on the fifth night of the Chautauqua we will have the fantastical comedy, "A Message from Mars." From a scenic and spectacular standpoint, this is a pretentious production.

The story of the play is one of intense interest. It is a play which once seen will never be forgotten. Its successful runs in London, New York, Chicago and other dramatic centers are pleasantly remembered by lovers of the drama.

The superb cast which presents this play includes Hugh Douglass as "The Messenger," Frances Parkinson as Aunt Martha; Edward Green as Arthur Dicey; Florence Hood as Bella; J. Allen Saunders as Horace Parker and Ruth Lash as Minnie Templar. Other members of the cast playing the parts of Mrs. Clarence, Sir Edward Vivian, Dr. Chapman, Polly and other characters, are equally strong.

The production contains all the elements of a great play. Without taking away the element of surprise as the story unfolds, it may be said that the play, the scene of which is laid in London, depicts a self centered man, a pseudo astronomer, who is visited by an inhabitant of the planet Mars, sent to earth to accomplish a definite purpose, with the necessity of seeing his task fully completed before he may return home. The play is fantastic in its conception and its execution. For such a production the big Chautauqua tent will unquestionably be packed to capacity.

Lemon Juice Valuable
In itself lemon juice is a valuable food, for its vitamin content is high and it has the desired alkaline reaction in the body. As food for either child or adult it is food, but it is especially desirable for the child. As a substitute for other fruit juices which sometimes pall, or as a delicious flavor, it is excellent.

A MAN OF MYSTERY

What do you know about the planet Mars? Is it inhabited? If so, by what kind of people? Are they like the men of earth in form and character? Are they subject to the same emotions? Are they peaceful or war like? Does intellect or brute force prevail? Has civilization on that planet reached the high stage that it has on earth? These as well as many other questions will be answered by the mysterious Messenger who will travel 35,000,000 miles on the fifth night of the Chautauqua to appear before our audience. His coming, as well as his going, is shrouded in mystery. Even the source of the uncanny power which he wields is mysterious. All will agree that "The Message from Mars" is from every standpoint a great play

Old Mr. Carter Helped By Simple Mixture

"After taking Adlerika I feel better than for years. At my age (60) it is ideal—so different from other medicines." (signed) W. W. Carter, Adlerika is a simple mixture of buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., which removes GAS in ten minutes and often brings surprising relief to the stomach. Stops that full, bloated feeling. Brings out old waste-matter you never thought was in your system. Excellent for chronic constipation. GIDLEY & MAC Druggists, adv.

Bows Against Clubs

In England recently a golf team was opposed by a team of archers. The latter shot their way around with a smaller score than the golfers and won the match. Orhand there seems to be but little connection between the two sports, but on second thought are there not many golfers who are expert in drawing the longbow?—Boston Transcript.

Poetical Fancy

"Lo," applied to uncivilized peoples, is the obsolete imperative of the verb "look," and the expression, "Lo, the poor Indian," has merely been adapted from Pope's "Essay on Man." It runs: "Lo, the poor Indian whose untutored mind sees God in trees and hears Him in the wind."

U. S. DEBT IS CUT $875,000,000 IN YEAR

Secretary Mellon Cites Country's Prosperity.

Washington.—Continuation of the high level of prosperity in the United States was responsible for the unanticipated increases in government receipts in the last fiscal year, Secretary of the Treasury Mellon declared. Receipts during the last six months exceeded estimates by $111,000,000. The government began the new fiscal year with a total public debt of $19,433,000,000. Surplus for the fiscal year was officially set at $377,768,000. The public debt is $875,000,000 less than on July 1 a year ago. "In the year just closed the treasury's position with respect to public debt structure has been materially strengthened," Mellon said. Interest paid during 1926, according to the secretary, was $831,937,000 and should be $785,000,000 in 1927, a reduction of about $47,000,000. The average rate of interest on maturing securities refunded during the year was 8.90 per cent, as compared with 8.64 per cent on new quarterly issues.

WASHINGTON BRIEFS

The army air bill met the almost unanimous approval of the house of representatives, which voted 256 to 12 in favor of the measure, already passed by the senate.

Captured German field guns, "Big Berthas," tanks and other war trophies have been allotted to various American cities until the supply is exhausted.

Establishment of a moving-picture division in the Department of Commerce to stimulate the fourth largest industry in the United States, has been announced by Secretary of Commerce Hoover.

A bill to advance to Greece the remaining $38,000,000 of a war loan negotiated in 1917, has been introduced by Representative Wood (Rep., Ind.). Greece has refused to fund the debt until she receives the balance, and the treasury has turned to congress for advice.

59 Ships Ordered to Carry Grain Overseas

Washington.—At the suggestion of President Coolidge, the shipping board has assigned 27 available ships for the grain-carrying trade and ordered 32 additional ships put into condition for use in the same trade to assure adequate ocean transportation facilities for grain exports.

Action by the board came after Secretary Jardine of the Department of Agriculture and Secretary Hoover of the Department of Commerce had appeared before the board as emissaries of the President.

Chairman O'Connor said the cabinet members came to the board at the suggestion of the President "to call to the shipping board's attention the acute grain situation and the lack of sufficient ships to transport grain to the markets of the world."

FAIR GROUNDS ARE MOST ACCESSIBLE MICHIGAN POINT

World Famous Highway System Focuses There—1926 Visitors Can Dodge All Dense Traffic.

With the recent construction of new roads near Detroit and the widening of others, the State Fair Grounds in Detroit has now become admittedly the most easily accessible point within the borders of Michigan, for the hundreds of thousands who will visit it September 5 to September 11.

When the site of the State Fair Grounds was selected years ago, members of the State Fair Board little realized that it would sometime become the focal point of motorists from all over Michigan. They selected that location on Woodward avenue because a large tract of land could be secured within easy access of Detroiters at a nominal price. The city has now grown to the State Fair Grounds and around it and what were formerly only lanes and country roads near the grounds have become important motoring thoroughfares.

During the past year the Seven-Mile Road, which runs east and west at right angles to Woodward avenue, has been widened on both sides, so that motorists coming from the western part of the state or from the direction of Lansing or Grand Rapids, find a quick way of reaching the State Fair. The Seven-Mile Road intersects both Grand River avenue, which runs northwest from Detroit to Lansing and Grand Rapids, and also intersects Gratiot avenue, the main thoroughfare to Mt. Clemens, Port Huron, and other cities along the St. Clair River. All residents of the state coming from the direction of Jackson, Kalamazoo, Battle Creek and Benton Harbor find it now possible to cut north from Michigan avenue to the Seven-Mile Road by any one of a number of concrete highways which will take them around the crowded portion of Detroit.

For those living north of Michigan's metropolis, in Pontiac, Bay City, Saginaw, Alpena, and Mackinaw, Woodward Avenue, now the finest highway in the United States, offers the quickest and safest way of reaching the State Fair Grounds.

In order to save the annoyance which motorists experience in making inquiries as to the proper direction to follow in reaching the State Fair Grounds, officials of the State Fair Board are planning on placing at important intersections of highways in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb Counties, signs pointing in the direction of the State Fair. These signs are expected to help motorists very considerably in saving much time that would otherwise be lost in Detroit's dense traffic.

Utility Fowl Gets Recognition In State Fair List

A change is being made in the classification of the poultry exhibit at the next annual Michigan State Fair which will be held at the State Fair Grounds in Detroit from September 5 to September 11.

Members of the State Fair Board have decided this year to recognize the value of the utility and the production birds, and are offering substantial premiums in these classes.

The size of the premiums will be based on the number of entries in each class.

It is pointed out that the reclassification in these two classes will not effect the regular exhibition classes which will compete as formerly, but for prizes which have been very materially increased for 1926.

This announcement is expected to lead to the entrance of many birds that would otherwise not be exhibited by poultry farmers of Michigan.

STATE FAIR ADDS CLASS FOR BEST MICHIGAN FLEECES

A new department will have an exhibit at the Michigan State Fair to be held at the State Fair Grounds in Detroit from September 5 to September 11.

This is the Wool Department which will be housed in the Sheep Building. In previous years, there has been no wool-exhibit, and although Michigan ranks among the largest wool-producing states in the country, the proper prominence to wool has not been given.

Sheep growers of the state are being asked to save their best fleeces to exhibit at the Fair. Competent judges are being secured who are thoroughly cognizant with all the factors to be taken into consideration in judging wool, and sheep growers of the state may rest assured that although new, this department will be carried out with the same care which is given to the other departments of the Michigan State Fair.

Sold Matches by Telephone in The Dull Season

Business was dull the first of July, so the salesman tried the Long Distance sales plan suggested by the Telephone Manager. He went to the telephone office in Jackson, gave the operator a list of 20 stores in eight nearby towns and asked that the calls be set up one after another—sequence calls, they are called.

The plan with the consequent saving of money to the match company and therefore to the dealer, appealed. The idea went over big—and so did the matches. And the salesman covered the eight towns in five hours.

If Back Hurts Begin on Salts

Flush Your Kidneys Occasionally by Drinking Quarts of Good Water

No man or woman can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Too much rich food creates acids which clog the kidney pores so that they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood. Then you get sick. Rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders often come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage, or attended by a sensation of scalding, begin to drink soft water in quantities; also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine.

The famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to help neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer cause irritation; thus often relieving bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and can not injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, which everyone can take now and then to help keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby often preventing serious kidney complications. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys, at least twice a year.

SAGE TEA TURNS GRAY HAIR DARK

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Lustre to Hair

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray or streaked, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the mixture; you can get this famous old recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients at a small cost, all ready for use. It is called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color and lustre of your hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's" Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy and lustrous.

Dressed for Parties in Gay Sheer Frocks

Leading the procession of gayly-colored, sheer fabrics that are fashionable for little girls' party frocks, come voile and dotted swiss, followed by georgette and crepe de chine. Taffeta silk, net and fine batiste are well represented, but voile holds the lead, and often two light pastel colors are combined in the same dress, one of them introduced in applique or other decoration. In the quaint frock of pink voile pictured here cream-colored dotted net ruffles between groups of tucks are used for trimming. A band of ribbon ending in a bow finishes the round neck. It also defines the short yoke and falls in streamers from each shoulder, where a little bloom is posed.

STATE NEWS IN BRIEF

Ann Arbor—Sixty-two students in the literary and engineering colleges of the University of Michigan attained a perfect average in their scholastic work during the past semester. Seventeen of those obtaining the "All A" record were girls. Thirty-eight of the ranking students are Michigan residents.

Ann Arbor—John Chomies, 10 years old, is recovering in St. Joseph's Mercy hospital here from a bullet wound in his chest inflicted by his playmate, Ray Schleichler, 15 years old, during a pretended "cow-boy and Indian" duel. John was shot with a .32 caliber revolver that his friend had taken from home.

Mt. Pleasant—A lecture course at which tourists and other visitors will be especially welcome will be offered during the first three weeks of the summer term at Central Michigan Normal. The trend of thought for the lecture course will be problems of the school and the home, especially as they pertain to Parent-Teacher association work. The classes will meet twice daily, from June 29 to July 18.

Grand Rapids—Western Michigan sportsmen met here recently at the call of Henry Schull, president of the Michigan division of the Isaac Walton League, to protest against the proposed erection of dams on the Pere Marquette river by the Pere Marquette River Co., Ltd., for development of water power. The league has retained Jay W. Lindsey, of Grand Rapids, counsel in the Collins-Gerhardt case, to handle the matter.

Ann Arbor—An expedition that will penetrate into northern wastes never before trod by man and that will seek scientific data that may aid navigation on the Atlantic ocean, has been started on its way by the University of Michigan Three scientists, headed by Prof. William H. Hobbs, of the geology department, have left for Boston where they will be joined by three other experts and will sail immediately for Greenland to begin their work.

Pontiac—Enumeration of persons of school age in this city has gone above the 10,000 mark for the first time in the history of the community, according to figures released by the board of education. It was announced that 10,238 are named on the school census, checking on which has been completed. This figure is 633 larger than a year ago, and marks an increase of more than twice the census of 10 years ago when 4,242 names were checked.

Allegan—Mr. and Mrs. Peter Blanchard and Mr. and Mrs. Adam Plotts recently celebrated together the fiftieth anniversary of their double wedding. The two couples were married June 28, 1876, at Monterey Center, Mich., by the Rev. N. D. Marsh, Methodist Episcopal minister of that place. The marriage vows were taken again at the First Federated church, the pastor, Rev. Samuel E. Kelley, officiating. Mrs. Blanchard and Mr. Plotts are sister and brother.

Grand Rapids—Grand Rapids' biggest bonfire, in which nearly a score of old-time, worn out street cars provided the fuel, was held at the West Michigan State Fair Grounds when the Grand Rapids Railway Co., celebrating the passing of the old fashioned cars and the advent of the new deluxe coaches, was host at a free celebration. The 27 new noiseless, lightweight street cars which were recently placed in service, are said to be of the most modern type developed.

Detroit—One of the largest conventions ever held in Detroit, from the viewpoint of attendance, will be that of the National Dairy Association and its affiliated organizations, from October 6 to 13. A large group of workers from various cities are in Detroit laying their plans. There will be exhibitions from manufacturers of machinery and other equipment used in all branches of the dairy industry. This will bring to Detroit several thousand persons all directly interested in some phase of the industry.

Benton Harbor—Regulations governing the operations of roadside fruit stands, and terms of an agreement which all such merchants will be asked to observe were presented when Michigan roadside market owners met here June 24 to further their organization, formed recently and known as the Michigan Roadside Market Association. The agreement pledges the market operator to maintain his place of business in "the best possible sanitary condition and endeavor at all times to improve its attractiveness."

Lansing—An application for permission to consolidate several electric light and power companies serving counties in the northern part of the Lower Peninsula has been filed with the State Utilities Commission. The proposed merger would join the Michigan United Light & Power Co., the White River Power Co., the Boyne City River Power Co., the Michigan Public Service Co., the Elk Electric Co., and the Grayling Electric Co. The proposed name of the consolidated company is the Michigan United Light & Power Co.

Paying the Piper
By THOMAS ARKLE CLARK
Dean of Men, University of Illinois.

"WHOEVER would dance," the Scotch proverb had it, "must pay the piper," which in the parlance of today would mean that if you would do the charleston successfully you must be in a financial condition to contribute to the support of the saxophone player, and the rates these days are high.

Daily had a tremendously good time in college last year. He had a raccoon coat and a Ford car and a girl and a generous allowance from his father, who, when he was in college, stoked a furnace for his room rent and waited table for his board. Daily, senior, is one of these fond fathers who got where he is by hard work, and who doesn't want his son to repeat that experience, and son feels about it just as his father does. He likes work so well that he can easily lie down beside it and go to sleep.

I had young Daily keep an account of his activities for a week once, with the result that it appeared that he had been to a show on an average of once a day during the week, had traveled several hundreds of miles in the car, had spent twenty dollars or so for mere pleasure, and had studied four hours. He would have spent more money, he admitted frankly to me, excepting for the fact that it was near the end of the month and his allowance was exhausted.

Daily didn't pass anything and was, as is the custom, dropped from college. He had danced regularly and gayly, and now when it came to settling his account with the piper he thought that the rate was too high.

"The piper never plays for nothing," the piper is always standing at the door as we go out insisting on his money.

"You were dancing, you see, during all that time, and when it was over, you did not have money enough to pay the fiddler."

"Can't I have another chance?" he asked.

"You've had two already," the dean replied.

"But I've learned my lesson," Daily pleaded.

"What did you do the first twelve weeks?" I inquired. "It's the good beginning that counts most."

"Well, I did play around a good deal, but I thought I could make it up at the last."

It is a hard lesson for youth to learn, and for middle age also at times, that when we dance, no matter whether it is in the form of extravagance or dissipation or loafing, we have to pay.

Green and His Band to Return

Green and His Band are always favorites with Chautauqua audiences in all parts of the country. Charles E. Green, the organizer of this Band, has a fine sense of program building. He knows what people like. Also he knows how to mix just enough of both to make his program entertaining and at the same time, musically right.

The afternoon and evening concerts of this Band on the third day, while including well known band selections such as "Raymond Overture" and "William Tell," are not made up of time worn numbers. Descriptive numbers, humorous numbers, characteristic numbers and novelties, as well as stirring marches, are features of the program. Practically all of the numbers used in these programs are specially arranged for this Band, many of the arrangements being made by Herman Bellstedt, who for many years has written the principal arrangements for Sousa's Band.

Not only do Green and His Band provide a feast for the ear but they are pictorially perfect. Uniforms are striking, the instruments are beautiful and the stage is set in gold satin hangings. Special colored lighting effects are employed to enhance the effectiveness of the interpretation of many numbers.

Most of the towns on this circuit had the pleasure of hearing Green and His Band in the summer of 1923. Since that time the Band has made a tour of the principal cities of the mid-west and east, where it has been enthusiastically acclaimed as one of the great bands of the country.

Helping Yanks to Victory

Herewith is pictured Tony Lazzari, youthful infield star of the New York Yankees, whose bat has cleaved many a hit in the trip through the West. Lazzari, with Koenig and Gehrig, form the youngest infield on any big league team, yet all three have come up to snuff and are showing their heels to others on the team. It is on their heavy swatting bats that the Yanks are riding to victory in the American league race.

STATE NEWS IN BRIEF

Detroit—Two wooden buildings were badly damaged by fire at the Michigan State Fair grounds June 30, causing a loss estimated at several thousand dollars. The blaze had made such headway that upon arrival of the first fire companies, a second alarm was sounded.

Detroit—Founders' day was observed June 30 in Detroit in connection with the noting of Patriotic week under auspices of the Detroit Jefferson centennial committee that has been named by Mayor John W. Smith to arrange Detroit's part in the national movement to purchase and preserve as a patriotic shrine the home of Thomas Jefferson.

Caro—State firemen will come to Caro July 18, 14 and 15, for convention. Besides exhibitions of modern fire fighting equipment several persons including James Niven of Saginaw, Dr. William T. Shaw, of the state accident board, and R. C. Longhead, of the Michigan inspection bureau, will speak. The convention will be held in the high school auditorium.

Lansing—Acting under a 1925 legislative act authorizing the addition of 500 miles to the State Trunkline highway system, the State Administrative Board has accepted 108 miles of road as trunk lines. The designation of the routes as trunk lines means they will be subject to State improvement, although it is not likely such improvements will be made this year.

Mt. Clemens—New bus service to Mt. Clemens over Jefferson avenue began recently and presaged the possible abandonment of the electric lines now operated on the lake shore by the D. U. R. Six busses will be operated in two divisions of three each over Jefferson to Mack avenue and the French Claims road to Mack. They will leave Mt. Clemens and Detroit every 25 minutes.

Ludington—A spotted fawn about three weeks old was found in Meade township, five miles east of here, by Joseph Lemmer. The creature was nearly starved, its mother having been chased away by dogs. Game Warden Elms sent it to the state game farm at Mason last week. It probably will be sent to the state forest near Grayling when it is old enough to forage for itself.

Lansing—Special rates have been promised by the railroads for the Michigan state fair in Detroit in September. L. Whitney Watkins, commissioner of agriculture has announced. Live stock and exhibits will be transported for a one way charge, passengers will be given one-half fares for the round trip and on Michigan day special excursions will be run at one way fare for the round trip.

Battle Creek—Highway robbery is the charge placed against a 12-year-old boy, Eugene Reich, of this city. He is alleged to have attacked Robert Shannon, 10 years old and taken a $20 bill from him while the latter was on his way to a grocery store to pay a bill for his mother. Reich was under commitment to the Boys' Vocational School at Lansing when arrested, for having assisted in stealing an automobile here recently.

Lansing—Students of Michigan State college are invited to attend the all-college dancing parties, but men and women must leave their cigarettes at home, according to an edict that was issued at the first convocation of the summer session. Dr. R. C. Huston, who made the announcement in outlining the social program of the summer session, referred to the first party of the season on June 25 as the one to which some exception was made in the above rule.

Pontiac—Pontiac has adopted an ordinance permitting the sale of water to persons living outside the city limits. The rate is twice that paid by city dwellers and the consumption is limited to a quarter of that supplied inside the limits. Pontiac has been growing so rapidly that it was considered advisable to adopt a policy of selling water outside which is a reversal of the policy the city had had in effect for several years. Pontiac gets its water supply from deep wells.

Ann Arbor—One-fifth of the students attending the summer session of the University of Michigan are Methodists by faith, surpassing the Presbyterians, their nearest rivals, by a considerable percentage, according to the religious census of the Student Christian association. Twelve per cent of the students are not members of any church or have no preference, the census showed. Congregationalists, Catholics and Episcopalians rank next in order after the two leaders.

Lansing—Plans for raising a $250,000 fund to fight the dope evil in Michigan were outlined recently at a meeting of the campaign committee of the Narcotic Education Association of Michigan. The campaign, committee includes the mayor of every city in the state of more than 10,000 population and two citizens selected by each mayor. It is planned to educate the public to the evils of the narcotic situation in the hope that legislative action will be demanded by the voters to remedy conditions.

Jackson—Of 211 passenger cars examined on M-24, near Cambridge Junction, 17 had faulty brakes and 79 had poor lights, the officers reported. Twenty-three drivers failed to carry proper drivers' licenses.

Flint—An increase in the total valuation of Genesee County property of approximately $5,000,000, nearly all of Flint, in the last year is shown by the report of the committee on footing of tax rolls and equalization made to the board of supervisors recently.

Sturgis—A program of supervised playground work in this city is to be followed out again this year during the months of July and August. C. A. Light, playground director, has announced. Five school playgrounds and a municipal playground are being used.

St. Clair—A carrier pigeon is being held here by Charles S. Misamore, pending inquiries from its owner. The bird was found completely exhausted in Misamore's yard two weeks ago. On one foot was a metal tag bearing the identification T. F. C. 35-2005. On the other was a band with the inscription 600-8.

Detroit—The immigration border patrol is seeking an airplane which is said to be smuggling aliens from Canada into the United States. In the last three months, the United States Immigration Service has received several reports of the alleged smuggler's plane. It is thought that the plane lands its passengers in Ohio.

Jonesville—Arton Smith, 18 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Smith, of Jonesville, was killed recently at the gravel pit of the Jonesville Gravel Co. here. Smith was carried through a chute into a bin and buried under tons of wet gravel, when a bank on which he was standing caved. The body was removed in less than an hour, but life was extinct.

Pontiac—Mrs. Palmer Glover, 19 years old, and her two children, Viola, 4, and Pearl, a year old, are dead at Orion, supposedly from ptomaine poisoning caused by eating a pickle relish. Mr. and Mrs. Glover and the children lived at the home of F. J. Lessiter, one of the members of the county poor commission. The husband and a son, 2 years old, did not eat the relish.

Ann Arbor—Proceedings to condemn certain property now held by 25 local persons or estates have been instituted by the Board of Regents of the University of Michigan. The regents have filed a bill against the property owners, in which they declare the ground now held by the defendants is necessary to the proper expansion of the University physical education programme.

Grand Rapids—A Michigan fur pageant will be staged at the sequel centennial exposition at Philadelphia as part of an elaborate exhibit of the Michigan Fur Producers, Inc. It was decided at a membership meeting here. The exhibit will include a model fur ranch with silver black foxes on display and a fur exhibit which will include the various processes of preparing furs.

DeKerville—Michael Pitcock, 18 years old, accidentally shot his own birthday when he shot off his head. Pitcock, son of Mr. and Mrs. Pitcock, farmers, living two miles west of here, was preparing to shoot a cat. In some manner or other the hammer of the double-barreled gun which he was using had caught on the shelf when he attempted to take it down exploding the charge in his face.

Grand Rapids—Several patent cases of importance to the automobile industry were decided on appeal by the United States circuit court of appeals in session here. In the case of the Hayes Wheel company vs. Michelin, appealed from Detroit, the decision of the appellate court reversed a decree and dismissed the action on the grounds there was no infringement on a patent for a demountable rim.

Lansing—Police recently arrested four boys, all of whom are under 10 years old, who are charged with driving away automobiles without the owner's consent. It is charged by the police that the boys would steal a car, take a joy ride to one of the nearby lakes and on their return, leave it on one of the streets in the outlying districts. When located, it would be found stripped of tires and many of the other parts.

Lansing—Hearings on the revocation of the licenses of persons found guilty of speeding on Detroit streets are being held before Charles J. DeLand, Secretary of State. Under the existing statutes the Secretary cannot revoke the licenses of speeders unless he is satisfied that they are mentally or physically incompetent to operate motor cars. Under the law the state can revoke the license of drunk drivers, persons leaving the scene of an accident or reckless drivers, but not speeders.

Saginaw—Declaring at the banquet of the Michigan Federation of Typographical Unions that the International Typographical Union "stands squarely behind conciliation, mediation and fair arbitration." Seth R. Brown, of Los Angeles, first vice-president of the I. T. U., said that with such an attitude between publishers and printers there was little probability of difficulty between the union printer and his employer. Plans are being made to extend the benefits of membership in the state organization to country printers.

Old Gambling Game

Faro is one of the oldest gambling games and is supposed to be of Italian origin. It belongs to the same family as lansquenet, florentini and monte bank. Under the name of pharon it was in great favor during the reign of Louis XIV and came to America by way of New Orleans.

Copper is Permanent

Copper, very often referred to "as the metal eternal" represents permanence in building materials. Many old boilers constructed of copper are still in use today after years of hard service. Copper proves to be an investment rather than a luxury when one considers its wearing qualities.

Hint for Husbands

A thoughtful husband should remember that his poor tired wife likes to be taken out to dinner once in a while and let some one else open the cans for a change.—Ohio State Journal.

In the old days the people thought that appendicitis was caused eating green peaches.

SULPHUR IS BEST TO CLEAR UP UGLY, BROKEN OUT SKIN

Any breaking out or skin irritation on face, neck or body is overcome quickest by applying Mentho-Sulphur, says a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, nothing has ever been found to take the place of this sulphur preparation that instantly brings ease from the itching, burning and irritation. Mentho-Sulphur heals eczema right up, leaving the skin clear and smooth. It seldom fails to relieve the torment or disfigurement. A little jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur may be obtained at any drug store. It is used like cold cream.

DIPPING INTO SCIENCE

Origin of Tomato

The tomato, a native of South America, was introduced into Europe in 1493 by the Spaniards, and thence to America. In the United States it was called "love apple" prior to 1890, being a translation of the French name, pomme d'amour. The English word "tomato," is derived from the Spanish-American "tamate." "TIZ" GLADDENS SORE, TIRED FEET

"Tiz" makes sore, burning, tired feet fairly dance with delight. Away go the aches and pains, the corns, callouses, blisters and bunions. "Tiz" draws out the acids and poisons that puff up your feet. No matter how hard you work, how long you dance, how far you walk, or how long you remain on your feet, "Tiz" brings restful foot comfort. "Tiz" is wonderful for tired, aching, swollen, smarting feet. Your feet just tingle for joy; shoes never hurt or seem tight. Get a box of "Tiz" now from any drug or department store. End foot torture forever—wear smaller shoes, keep your feet fresh, sweet and happy.

Notice To Contractors

Sealed bids will be received by the Board of Charlevoix County Road Commissioners, at their office in the Court House, Charlevoix, Michigan, until Ten o'clock July 17, 1926, for the construction of the following pieces of roads: 5213 feet of Class A-12 Ft. Cross in High Place

On the top of Gross-Glockner, the highest point in the Austrian Alps, is a ten-foot cross anchored to the rock. The first successful ascent of this peak was made in the year 1800.

On Safe Ground

They inquired about his trip abroad. He began enthusiastically, but stopped short. "Has any one here been to Europe?" "No." "Well, then, I can speak freely."—Boston Transcript.
