Canning Factory Now Operating

Started Canning Cherries on Wednesday Morning.

East Jordan's newest industry—The East Jordan Canning Company—is now an actuality, work on canning the season's crop of cherries in this section starting Wednesday morning, July 21st.

Since its incorporation a few months ago work has been pushed hard to erect the building and install the necessary machinery. That this could be accomplished in so short a time is remarkable and the officers in charge of the work are to be commended.

The East Jordan Canning Factory has several large contracts with local growers of cherries, but the small grower with only a few trees now has a market for his fruit. Those having cherries to sell should get in touch with the Secretary-Manager, R. C. Superhaw.

Will Use Funds To Improve New City Park

On Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, July 23-25-26, there will be presented at the Temple Theatre "Never the Twain Shall Meet"—a motion picture dramatization of Peter B. Kyne's famous novel.

This three day entertainment is being sponsored by the Improvement Club and the Study Club of East Jordan. Already some money has been expended in improving our City's new park by the outlet of Jordan River, and the funds derived from these shows will be used to further the necessary improvements.

Jersey Breeders To Picnic At Ellsworth

Plans have been definitely arranged for the Antrim-Charlevoix Jersey Breeders Annual Picnic to be held at Ellsworth on Saturday, July 24th, at the Camp Grounds.

Mr. H. E. Dennison, fieldman from the American Jersey Cattle Club will be the main speaker of the day. The Ellsworth Co-operative Ass'n have kindly donated lemonade to add to the well filled lunch baskets.

Another big feature of the day will be the exhibit of Jersey cattle from the herds of our best Jersey breeders, and don't forget there are some fine Jerseys in those two counties and some that are real producers.

Mr. H. E. Dennison will act as Judge and ribbons will be awarded to the winners in their respective classes. Much of the credit for the big day must be given to the small thriving village of Ellsworth for their generosity in donating the ribbons and also in taking care of the transportation of the Jersey cattle to and from the picnic grounds.

If you own Jersey cattle or are interested in Jerseys you can not afford to miss this big day. Mr. Dennison will show you the correct type to get in Jerseys and how to select your best cows. See for yourselves the kind of Jerseys these two Counties have. Bring your well filled lunch-basket and plan to spend the day at Ellsworth on Saturday July 24th.

Tuberculosis Clinic For Charlevoix Co. In Near Future

One death a month, year in year out, during all of a ten year period, such has been the average number of deaths from tuberculosis in Charlevoix County. It is to reduce this average to less than this death rate that a series of clinics is being arranged for Charlevoix County and all other counties in this section of the state. These clinics offer to any person who wishes it a thorough chest examination by a tuberculosis specialist, an examination that costs the patient nothing but is paid by the Michigan Tuberculosis Association through the sale of the tuberculosis Christmas seals.

Miss Laura Bauch, director of clinics for the Michigan Tuberculosis Association, is already on the ground making arrangements for the clinics. She declares that Tuberculosis is preventable and curable. "The earlier it is discovered," she says, "the greater the chance of cure." "So it is especially important," she states, "that the early case be found. While the percentage of cures is lower for the more advanced case, yet they too are curable, and discovery of these cases makes possible protection for others, so these too must be found."

Miss Bauch especially urges those who have lived in contact with a case of tuberculosis to be on guard against it, and to come to the clinic for examination. She urges that those who have the symptoms of tuberculosis—a persistent and unreasonable languor, a sudden loss of weight or a fever occurring in the afternoon or evening, take advantage of this opportunity for a thorough chest examination.

To Eradicate The Common Barberry

Charlevoix County is to be visited during this week end by a party of officials from the U. S. Department of Agriculture. The party is making a tour through the Upper Peninsula and the upper part of the lower Peninsula and are coming to Charlevoix County to get some first hand information in regard to the common barberry bush. At the present time a vigorous campaign is being conducted here against the bush by their department in cooperation with the State Department of Agriculture and Michigan State College. The common barberry is the cause of black stem rust on wheat, oats, barley, rye and other grains and grasses.

The party consists of: Dr. C. R. Ball, head of office of Cereal Crops and Diseases; Dr. H. B. Humphrey, head of rust investigation work throughout the entire U. S.; Mr. Lynn Hutton, Statistician for office of Cereal Crops and Diseases; W. F. Reddy, in charge of Barberry Eradication Campaign in this state, and G. D. George, cartoonist and photographer for office of Cereal Crops and Diseases.

County Clerk Emrey To Withdraw From County Office

July 19th, 1926

The Charlevoix Co. Herald,
East Jordan, Mich.

Dear Sirs:—
After due consideration of the matter, I have decided not to be a candidate for re-election for the office of County Clerk.

Having been inside continuously, caring for the offices of County Treasurer and County Clerk the past eight years, I feel that I should have a change and be outside more.

I shall be associated with the Pine Shores Realty Co. and Kinsey and Buys Co. of Grand Rapids, in developing their resort lands on Lake Charlevoix and shall manage Kinsey & Buys Co. Branch Real Estate & Insurance Office in Charlevoix, which is being opened this week in the K. of P. building on Bridge St. These companies own and intend to develop their two miles of water front on Lake Charlevoix and a crew of workmen have been on the premises the past ten days.

Spring Water Beach, located two miles East of Hortons Bay on the north side of Lake Charlevoix will be put on the market at once and many improvements are now being worked out to beautify this plat of Ninety-nine Lots. I am surely greatly indebted to my many friends who have made it possible for me to enter politics and remain in the Court House for the past eight years and I assure these friends that I have attempted to conduct the offices under my supervision with justice to the patrons and to our County.

Respectfully submitted,
CHARLES H. EMREY.

Interlocking System

The human nervous system is comparable to a telephone or telegraph system of extraordinary complexity and efficiency. Countless wires carry impressions from all parts of the body to the brain, and another set of wires sends out orders for action to every part. The whole system is linked up by a large number of local exchange centers.

More Remarks By Uncle George Anent Good Roads

In reading my first letter which I wrote June 30, 1926, to our Board of Supervisors in Charlevoix County, I am inclined to think that I did not make myself quite so clear on the subject as I had intended. The Thirteen Million Dollar Concern as the assets of Charlevoix County is all OK because that is an honest valuation of the county which no one will deny.

Referring to the County Board of Supervisors ten or a dozen years ago, who voted to allow the tax payers of county to vote for bonding for the sum of $350,000, they did a very wise thing, but not so wise when they took it upon themselves to build the road. That was a great and a serious mistake, for none of them know anything about building concrete roads; and neither did the men they engaged to build it know much about it. They also allowed the building of this road to drag along, for which I blame the business men, so-called, till prices had advanced that they were almost prohibitive.

However, the material in this road to Petoskey was, and still is good, as was proven by my sending a piece of a curve which had been laid wrong to the Lewis Institute for a test of its strength. The report came back that it was good and stood a pressure of 4000 pounds to the square inch. This road was so strong that it could not be broken with heavy sledges, and they had to resort to the use of dynamite in tearing it out. This quieted the false reports which had been circulated regarding the quality of the material being used in building this road.

We must all admit, however, that we made a great mistake when we built the six miles of road from the Emmet-Charlevoix County line to Greensky Hill; but it was a lack of understanding on the part of our supervisors—not dishonesty or crookedness. At that time we were quite early in the concrete road business, we knew absolutely nothing about it. That was why I said in my address to the Board of Supervisors that the business of a Thirteen Million Dollar Concern should be conducted in the same manner as that of a private corporation, for profit and not for loss. But even at that, we have an actual valuation of $350,000; and inasmuch it is true that the older concrete grows the better it is, no one knows, no one can tell how long concrete roads will last for as yet none have worn out. A concrete road may be broken by over loading just as a bridge would break.

The best talk I ever heard on good concrete roads was given by an old farmer at one of our Illinois State Highway meetings. It was at Danville, Illinois, the home of our great United States Senator, Uncle Joe Cannon. The old German asked to be excused, and said:

"I did not come here to speak—I came here to listen and learn."

Then the president of the meeting, Mr. Wm. G. Edens, who knows more about roads and farm lands than any man I ever met, asked the German:

"Do you not own 320 acres of land in section . . . on . . . road?"

"Yes, Sir,"

"When did you buy it?"

"Twenty-one years ago."

"How much did you pay for it?"

"Fifty dollars an acre."

"How much can you sell it for now?"

"Oh," and the German raised his voice and said, "Three hundred and fifty dollars an acre."

What is the cause of this great advance in the price of your land?"

"Oh, sir, Mr. President, I have a good concrete road within one mile of my house. Now I can hitch up my team, put on a load, as much as the team can haul to the concrete road, unhitch the team, walk back to the house, put another load on another wagon, haul it to the concrete road, put this load on the wagon with the first load, and go to town. Sometimes I take 3 or 4 loads; put them all in one and go to town. Oh, the concrete roads they make all us farmers rich. Yes, Mr. President, we all like, these concrete roads—we would like to pay for them; but you are too smart for us. You built all these roads with your sixty million dollar bonds and you make the automobile owner pay it all. But I speck some day you will bond for more money and build more roads."

And so we did—100 miles. And now Governor Small wants another 100 miles. He says every road a good road—a good road a concrete road—and then there will be no more repairs, except for fixing shoulders, cutting weeds, setting out trees, etc.

I am also reminded of what Bill Wild said when the concrete road was finished to the south:

"Now boys, pick up your tools, go back to your farms, and go to work in earnest for there will never be another day's work to be done on this road. It's too bad that it can't be finished to the Antrim County line, but it will show the difference between a concrete road that is a road and a lot of loose gravel, out of which we try to make a road, but as yet have never succeeded."

A concrete road around Pine Lake, 20 feet wide, with the grading already done, should be built in one year, and should not exceed $20,000 a mile, as the state has already taken over the road from Charlevoix to Greensky Hill. This drive itself will do more to the advantage of Charlevoix County than any one thing, and it will also bring thousands of settlers, who have millions of dollars and the value of our property and our land will so advance that our taxes will be lessened instead of increased.

A continuous record of successful accomplishments of good concrete roads backs the statements that concrete roads are here to stay. We have seen dirt roads give way to gravel, gravel to black top soft stuff, and the latter to concrete; but we have never discovered anything to take the place of concrete.

Quack Grass Named With Worst Weeds

Quack grass is rated one of Michigan's worst weed pests by crops men at the State College. The mere appearance of small patches on uninfested farms brings alarm to those who know its habits of growth.

While there is no easy way to handle this tenacious pest, there are effective methods of control which can be followed out successfully. The following outline for quack grass control is given by Prof. J. F. Cox, farm crops department at the college.

"Quack grass can be controlled, on a field scale, only by effective plowing and cultivation at the right time. If quack grass is in sod form or well distributed over your fields, it would be advisable to plow in late July or early August to a shallow depth—three or four inches, or barely turning sod. The field should then be disced and cross-disced with discs set almost straight so as to cut sod into pieces. After drying, the quack grass (sod and roots) should be raked together and burned.

"Every ten days or two weeks the field should be harrowed with spring-tooth harrow, or disced after rains which cake the surface. The next spring the field should be plowed as early as possible to depth of seven to nine inches and planted to a cultivated crop such as corn or beans. The cultivated crop should be given thorough cultivation and gone over with sharp hoes to get quack grass wherever it is in the rows."

Quart of Water Cleans Kidneys

Take a Little Salts if Your Back Hurts, or Bladder is Troubling You

No man or woman can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Eating too much rich food creates acids, which excite the kidneys. They become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood. Then we get sick. Rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders often come from sluggish kidneys. The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys, or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, begin drinking a quart of water each day, also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, and in a few days your kidneys may act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to flush and stimulate the kidneys; also to help neutralize the acids in the system, so they no longer cause irritation, thus often relieving bladder weakness. Jad Salts is inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to help keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure, thereby often avoiding serious kidney complications. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

NO RAISE IN RATES FOR WESTERN LINES

I. C. C. Also Denies Plea of Farmers for Decrease in Carrier Charges.

Washington.—The application of western railroads for a 5 per cent increase in freight rates was denied in a lengthy opinion handed down by the Interstate Commerce Commission, and in the same opinion the application of farm organizations for lower freight rates on agricultural products was also denied. Both applications were based upon the alleged depression in agriculture throughout the western states.

The commission supported the view that depression has existed and exists at present, but held that the effects of the depression had not been reflected in the earnings of the roads to an extent to justify an increase in rates, and also that if the reduction asked for by the farming interests were granted the solvency of the roads would be threatened unless other commodities could be found to be carried at a higher rate.

Conclusions reached by the commission in its decision are:

1. No such financial emergency exists in the western district as to demand an increase in rates.
 2. The earnings of carriers as a whole in the western district have not been such as to warrant any general revision of rates downward on products of agriculture or industries subject to depression. However, the decision with respect to the farmers' application for reduction disclosed that further investigation would be conducted under the authority of the Hoch-Smith resolution passed by congress in January of last year, directing the commission to make a thorough study of the freight-rate structure with a view to determining what rates, if any, are unjust, unreasonable, discriminatory or unduly preferential.
- In the petition filed by the western roads it was said that the western carriers have not earned, and are not now earning a fair return upon the aggregate value of their property, despite the fact that they have been operating honestly, efficiently and economically and that their earnings were not sufficient to make it possible for them to maintain the adequate transportation system contemplated by congress nor procure necessary capital, and that by reason of the confiscatory rate of return under which they have been operating their condition had become precarious and that they were in need of increased revenues.

Answering the contention for the railroads that costs of operation have increased, the commission in its decision found that still greater economies can be effected and waste in operation can be further decreased.

Discussing the situation in agriculture, the commission found that there has been a decided downward trend in prices received for agricultural products, but expressed the opinion that conditions are improving.

The carriers answered the farmers' plea of depression by pointing to the large increase in the number of automobiles in use among the farmers.

Elks Close Grand Lodge Session With Big Parade

Chicago.—Dedication of the magnificent $2,000,000 memorial building, a poem in stone commemorating the deeds and sacrifices of the 70,000 Elks who served in the World War, the installation of Charles H. Grakelaw as grand exalted ruler along with his newly elected officers, a closing business session, followed by a monster parade in which 30,000 participated, including 50 bands, brought the sixty-second annual grand lodge reunion of the Benevolent Protective Order of Elks to a close.

Cincinnati will entertain the next lodge session. Landing at Jennings, Fla., approximately 825 miles by air from Chicago, the balloon Detroit, one of the four entries in the Elks' national air race, was unofficially held to be the winner.

Indiana was awarded the trophy for the finest float; Cleveland, Mich., second; Philadelphia, third; Oakland, Calif., fourth; and Ohio state, fifth.

Philadelphia was adjudged the best appearing lodge in the parade. Oakland and Detroit placed second and third, respectively; and Oakland won a third point in competition for having brought a full platoon the greatest distance.

Bakersfield, Calif., won the drill team competition by three one-hundredths of a point from Buffalo, N. Y. Jackson, Mich., was fourth; Oakland, Calif., fifth. The winning team scored 96.5 per cent perfect.

STANDARD OIL PLAN TO CALL PREFERRED

Proposal Is One of Most Stupendous Operations.

New York.—It was officially announced here that the Standard Oil company of New Jersey, keystone of the farflung Standard Oil interests, has determined to retire its $200,000,000 of 7 per cent cumulative preferred stock now outstanding.

Calling of this stock will represent one of the most stupendous operations of its kind in the history of American industry. To accomplish the task, Standard Oil of New Jersey must raise approximately $230,000,000, as the stock is callable at $115. It was officially said that the preferred shares would be retired as soon as a plan for the readjustment of the capital structure of the company had been worked out.

Two plans, it was said, are under consideration, as follows:

The offering of new common shares to present stockholders at $30 in the ratio of one new share for three now held, and which would give "rights" to the present holders, valued at about $3.50 each.

The sale of an amount of convertible bonds equal in size to the present preferred stock issue, giving holders of these bonds an opportunity of conversion as the common shares advance.

Holders of the common stock will receive "rights" of a tremendous aggregate value under any of the plans that are being considered. The plan most favored at this time is that calling for the issuance of additional common stock to be offered to present stockholders at $30 a share. The common stock, which is certain to benefit by whatever plan is finally adopted is now on a $1 annual-dividend basis, but it has been strongly indicated in circles close to the management that an increase in the rate is contemplated.

U. S. RADIO CONTROL GONE, SAYS HOOVER

Secretary Merely to Suggest Wave Lengths, Result of Federal Ruling.

Washington.—Government regulation of radio has broken down and voluntary self-regulation by the broadcasting industry is the only bulwark between the $200,000,000 radio industry and chaos, Secretary Hoover has announced.

His pronouncement followed an opinion by Attorney General Sargent which holds that the secretary of commerce is utterly without power to enforce or deny the use of particular wave lengths or fix the power of individual broadcasting stations.

While the attorney general's opinion leaves the door wide open for the pirating of wave lengths which have been previously denied, officials of the Commerce department expressed the opinion that the industry itself would act to avert undue interference with the regular broadcasting programs.

Present-day radio sets can pick up signals between 200 and 900 meters. Between these limits there are about 90 wave bands, now being used by nearly 550 stations. Last fall the department stopped issuing broadcasting licenses because of the crowded condition of the air, and as a result there are more than 650 applications on file in Secretary Hoover's office.

In view of the Department of Justice ruling, Mr. Hoover has no longer any authority to deny licenses, and they will be granted. Officials of the department said, however, that in the new licenses issued no wave length will be prescribed unless the applicant announces that he plans to use a certain one. In that case the wave length will be incorporated in the license.

Secretary Hoover said that he will endeavor to maintain the reciprocal relation between this country and Canada in the matter of selecting wave length, and expressed the hope that "in the interest of fair play," no American station will interfere with any wave length in use by a Canadian station.

It is believed that the legislation which failed at the last session will be enacted when congress meets in December, the secretary said, but in the meantime all that the department can do is to issue licenses to all applicants and trust to luck there will be no interference.

Giant Camera for Airplane Work

This composite drawing and photograph shows the method of using the "five-mile high" camera designed at Dayton, Ohio, for the army service and soon to be used there by Lieut. George W. Goddard. This aerial camera has the largest photographic lens ever ground. With its aluminum mounting the lens is nine inches across. A specially sensitized film is to be used to record light at the infra red end of the spectrum, and the actual size of each negative is 9 by 9 inches, with 100 exposures to the film. Photographs may be taken from an altitude of 35,000 feet, if the plane can make it, which should show a city the size of Detroit to be about three inches long in the picture.

Needle Mystery

A western Kansas man found the proverbial needle in the straw stack. How it got there he doesn't know, but after he slid down the stack it required an hour for the surgeon to get the needle out. PROBATE ORDER

STATE OF MICHIGAN, The Probate Court for the County of Charlevoix. At a session of said Court, held at the Probate Office in the City of Charlevoix, in said County, on the 16th day of July, A. D. 1926.

Long Distance Saves Money for the Grocers Customers

There is no quicker, more certain way of buying or selling—whether it be butter, eggs, fresh vegetables or canned goods—than by Long Distance telephone service.

Ask the jobber or wholesale grocer—they know. For they use Long Distance regularly and sell many thousands of dollars worth of produce over the telephone circuits.

It saves money for the grocer's customers, too, by eliminating delays, giving assurance of fresh stocks and making it possible to buy or sell when the market is right.

Not Piling Up Reasons "Don't you have any insurance on your life?" asked the new agent. "Naw!" yawned the village no-account; "my wife's got enough reasons now wakin' I'd croak without adding that one."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Saginaw—Elector of Frankenmuth by a vote of 94-2 approved the sale of the municipal power plant in the village to the Consumers Power Company. The state rate will be given residents of Frankenmuth.

East Lansing—Editors from 18 states were at the fourteenth annual convention of the American Association of Agricultural Editors, which met July 7-9, at the Michigan State College for the first time in its history.

Mt. Clemens—Macomb County deputy sheriffs and James Murphy, a Detroit detective, are endeavoring to trace thieves who rifled the alms box of St. Gertrude's church, at New Baltimore, eight miles northeast of here the night of July 4.

Petoskey—Northern Michigan Odd Fellows and Rebekahs gathered at Indian River state park July 5th to help celebrate the one hundred fiftieth anniversary of American independence. Thousands attended, every family bringing friends.

Ironia—An unusually small number of teachers quit the schools at the close of the last school year, and all but one place has been filled for next year. A. A. Rather remains as superintendent, and Lloyd T. Smith as principal of the high school.

Detroit—Detroit's Fourth of July cost 14 lives—seven Sunday and seven Monday—while several other Detroiters died in drownings and accidents upstate. Of those killed in and near the city, seven died in traffic, two were drowned, and five were burned.

Marquette—A Fourth of July celebration at Marquette branch prison was featured by four baseball games among the inmates. Monday was a general holiday at the prison, with two special meals, moving pictures, band and orchestra concerts and an athletic program.

Sault Ste. Marie—Because Mrs. Esther Keeler refused to give her son James, 16, money to buy gasoline for his auto, he beat her almost to unconsciousness, breaking two ribs and badly bruising her face. It is believed that the mother will not live, as pneumonia has developed. The son is now under arrest.

Grand Rapids—Mrs. Clyde Brown, 34, wife of a Pennsylvania railroad man, committed suicide here July 4, presumably jealous of her husband's attention to other women. In a note left for her husband, she begged forgiveness for "disgracing" him, and instructed him to give the best of care to "Billie" a huge tiger cat of which she was very fond.

Marquette—Henry Krause, trustee at Marquette branch prison, who made his getaway recently while working in the lumber yard, was captured by a guard, who found him walking along a road about four miles from here. No trace has been found of Bert Farrar, another trustee who escaped while driving a prison car. Officials expressed the belief that Farrar fled with a woman in another automobile.

Menominee—Arley Emmes, 23 years old, airplane parachute jumper, was drowned here July 5th when he leaped from a plane above the city and fell into Green Bay. Emmes and John Sporer, aviator, had been giving an Independence Day exhibition at a park. Emmes jumped with the parachute and the wind carried him out over the water. Although he succeeded in freeing himself from the parachute he sank.

Sault Ste. Marie—A 600-pound moose is dead here as a result of a rampage through the city which ended only when the animal was drowned in a power canal. The animal crossed the river from Canada, raced across lawns and gardens and blindly on into the waters of the canal. The current carried the moose against the guard gates at the Michigan Northern Power Company, and when finally reached was dead from exhaustion and drowning.

Marquette—The controversy which started here over an ordinance banning fireworks resulted in the rescinding of the ban and youngsters shot off fireworks to their hearts' content on the Fourth. A special meeting of the city commission amended the ordinance to allow the use of fireworks in accordance with the state law. The same fourth rule was adopted in 1917 and city officials had not tried to enforce it until this year, when agitation caused its annulment.

Iron Mountain—A search for the instigators of a plot to shoot and dynamite a path to freedom from the Marquette branch prison here, is under way with Alfred Hanson, former Detroit policeman, one of the principal suspects. Dynamite and guns were found in Hanson's cell. Two of the guns were found in the cell of Rev. Daniel F. Tucker, former Methodist minister, of lower Michigan, who is serving a long term for criminal assault upon his 10-year-old daughter.

Clare—Several forest fires in Clare County, most of them being along the Ann Arbor Railroad track and evidently set by the sparks from the locomotives, recently assumed dangerous proportions. Deputy Warden Lambert and a large force of men are working night and day to keep these fires under control. Several unoccupied buildings north of Lake George have been destroyed and cottages at some of the other lakes have been threatened. The fire hazard is increased by the dry weather and the fallen timber and brush.

SCHOOL DAYS

Mother's Cook Book

We are like little children in our poor unreasoning ways. As we reach after joys that at best can please but for a season, and then are broken toys.

WARM WEATHER FOODS

DURING the summer the wise mother serves plenty of fresh vegetables and fruits, using less of meats and no such desserts as steamed puddings and rich pastries. This is not only a saving in time for the cook, but also a saving on the family digestion.

No dinner seems quite complete without a bit of something sweet to finish the meal—dates and figs and raisins have a place in the menu. A few stuffed dates will be sufficiently satisfying; they are easy to prepare and are not expensive.

Nuts and raisins have always been liked for dessert; these, too, are quickly made ready. Ices and ice creams may be purchased or made in the home. With a good freezer it takes no more time than many other well-liked desserts and they are much more wholesome.

For meats that are especially good for warm weather, the following are suggestive: Jellied Veal. Wipe a knuckle of veal and cut into pieces, put it into a kettle with two quarts of water, bring slowly to the simmering point and simmer for two hours; then add two onions, one blade of mace, one bay leaf, twelve whole cloves, six peppercorns, one-half teaspoonful of ground allspice and simmer one hour longer. Take out the knuckle, carefully remove the bones and put the meat into a square mold. Boil the liquor until reduced to one quart, strain, add a fourth of a cupful of good vinegar, salt and pepper to taste; pour it over the meat and set away to cool over night. When cold turn out carefully and slice.

Italian Cheese. Take one pound of veal, one and one-half pounds of calf's liver, one-half pound of ham, one small onion, half a teaspoonful of sage, two tablespoonfuls of chopped parsley, one-fourth of a box of gelatin, two teaspoonfuls of salt, one-fourth of a teaspoonful of black pepper, and a dash of cayenne. Chop all the meat fine, add seasonings and grated onion. Grease a mold, press the meat into it, cover and steam three hours. Remove the cover, pour off the broth, add to it the gelatin which has been soaking in a little cold water, mix well and chill.

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT

By F. A. WALKER

LET IN THE SUNLIGHT

OPEN the windows of your soul and let in the living sunlight. There are too many curtained casements in the bodyhouse, too many barred doors and closed shutters. Why grope around in the dark, stumble, fall and hurt yourself when by a little regard for the world at large you may walk forth in the glorious light and find your way to noble achievement?

Why live in the somber shadows when the measureless blue beckons you to the summits of the golden hills, where the air is clean and inspiring? Unclose the heart to friendship, faith and charity.

Step out into the open an unfettered man or woman, ready to assume your duties, willing to help the burden bearers, glad to face obstacles and determined to make your mark.

Heed not the sneers of those hapless mortals who pine away in gloomy houses, too proud to turn their faces to the dome of heaven, for they know not where they tread or where they go.

Choose your path in the blazing day and follow the footprints of the great men and women who are doing, achieving and creating in the genial light of the sun.

Read in the shining pages of history about the illustrious, their early struggles, how they flung open their windows, let in the divine light of trust, and rose under its illuminating luster to honor and fame.

With similar efforts, and like resolves you can do the same. There is no limit to the possibilities that in you lie if once you decide to progress and stoutly refuse to turn back into darkness.

Impossible has no place in the brave man's vocabulary. Get the best from life by doing your best. You are free. The privilege of accepting or rejecting is yours.

Stop complaining of gloom which in most cases you make yourself. Cease finding fault with others and blaming them for obscurity that darkens your vision and hurls your footsteps.

Look to your own windows and make sure that they are open to the spiritual rays of heaven. Do these things, hold firmly to a straightforward course, and nothing can stop you on your upward march, or keep you from praiseworthy accomplishments.

AN ABBREVIATED STORY

THE LONG OF IT

"SISSONBY, old fellow, old top," said Eton Juicer, "really, you know, it would be a deucedly jolly thing if you would look about you, make a selection from these four-legged, ingenious contrivances known as chairs, stand in front of it for a fraction of a second, hitch up your trousers the veriest trifle, and then allow your knees to bend until you find yourself in that not uncommon posture familiarly known as a sitting position."

Yes, too patient reader, you are perfectly right in wondering why, for the love of Mike, Eton Juicer didn't simply ask Stossonby to sit down, and have done with it. The truth is, Clarence Inken Eraser, the author who wrote the paragraph, is paid at the rate of fifty cents a word, instead of by piecework like his brother, Ed, the one that works in the cigar factory. Silk Secret

Delicate smooth fingers are essential to good work in artificial silk factories. "Silk hands" are needed for silk work, and grade 1 quality silk may very easily deteriorate into grade 2, by fingers being rough. Manicurists may become part of the staff of every big artificial silk factory in this country, as they are already in Germany.

Marvelous Human Body

The human body is, according to Dorsey, composed of the inconceivable number of about 28,000,000,000,000 cells. Each cell springs from the original single one. Each acts like a live being, choosing or refusing and digesting its food from the bloodstream, excreting refuse, multiplying and eventually dying, and doing its allotted work.

Odd Design for Necklace

Elephants are carved in ivory in many sizes, and these are used for all manner of purposes. The last word is probably represented by a necklace of ivory elephants. In the ornament of this order seen recently in London there were nine ivory elephants, the largest and central animal being between three and four inches long.

Fitting Pictures to Space

One of the numerous advantages of hanging reproductions of famous paintings in your rooms is that you can get reproductions in just the best size for your available space. Originals are taken as they come, but reproductions come in many sizes and it is only a matter of selecting the most suitable.

Sand Pocket in Marble

A large pocket of sand was discovered in a solid block of marble at Middlebury, Vt. This sand is unlike any found in that vicinity. It is like beach sand. Geologists who have looked at it say that the marble was formed under water and probably the sand was caught in the center of the formation.

Official Printer

The government printing office opened March 4, 1831. The man in charge was called the superintendent of public printing. In 1837 the title was changed to congressional printer. In 1876 it was changed to public printer and has remained so until the present time.

He's a Good Digger

The skunk's naked, fat soles are wrinkled crossways, says Nature Magazine. The hind feet show no claw-marks in the snow, but the forepaws have claws which make him one of the best-diggers among all the wild folk, surpassed only by the badger and the woodchuck.

ALWAYS TIRED AT NIGHT—TRY THIS

A healthy person never feels constantly tired. Being "too tired" continually is a sign of something wrong. When John R. Gordan, Danville, Ill., found himself "always tired at night and burdened with backache," he took Foley Pills, a diuretic stimulant for the kidneys, and writes: "After a few doses, I felt better, could work with more ease, became stronger and could sleep better." What Foley's Pills have done for others they may do for you. Guaranteed to give satisfaction. Ask for Foley Pills.—Hite's Drug Store, adv.

FEW FOLKS HAVE GRAY HAIR NOW

Druggist Says Ladies Are Using Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur

Hair that loses its color and lustre, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmothers made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture improved by the addition of other ingredients by asking at any drug store for a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears—but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance.

Architectural Ornament

An interrupted arch-shaped pediment, the central portion of which is cut away, is very frequently found in early Georgian furniture and architecture with or without a central motive.

MANY GEORGIA BANKS HAVE CLOSED DOORS

Florida Institutions Also Affected; Some May Be Reopened Soon.

Atlanta, Ga.—Bankruptcy proceedings of the Bankers' Trust company and subsequent closing of 86 of the chain of 190 banks in Georgia and Florida which it served as agent was climaxed by the suicide by shooting of J. E. Smith, president of the Atlanta Real Estate board and a director and heavy stockholder of the Bankers' Trust company.

Atlanta, Ga.—In consequence of the bankruptcy proceedings taken against the Bankers' Trust Company of Atlanta, sixteen additional state banks in Georgia and several other state banks in Florida have been forced to suspend payments.

Since the epidemic of bank failures began a few days ago, no less than eighty-five Georgia institutions have closed their doors.

In financial circles here, the continuance of the bank failures is attributed to two general reasons. The first of these is that nearly all the banks affected were in some way or another connected with the Bankers' Trust company, which conducted financing for one hundred and twenty banks. The second is that public confidence, shaken by the news of the failures, has had the inevitable result of precipitating a general withdrawal of funds.

In cases where withdrawals occur in a volume which cannot be met because of the nonliquid nature of assets, there is no alternative to suspension of payments. This insures, according to officials of the state department, the reopening of a number of the institutions within a few days.

Among the banks in Georgia which closed together with their capitalization, total resources and liabilities as at the close of 1925, are the following:

Taylor County bank, Butler, $15,000 and $24,879; Bank of Lyerly, $15,000 and $28,670; Bank of Cussetta, $15,000 and $174,289; Rock Mart bank, $50,000 and $412,980; Bank of Smyrna, $18,800 and $204,179; Fairmount bank, $15,000 and $178,227; Macon County bank, Oglethorpe, $15,000 and $148,819; Lakewood bank, Atlanta, $50,000 and $184,485; Bank of Echelle, $25,000, and $198,781; Habersham bank, Clarksville, $25,000 and $391,411; Cornelia bank, Cornelia, $40,000 and $784,429; Bank of Lula, $15,000 and $14,278; Bank of Cassville, $15,000 and $86,433; Bank of Williamson, $25,000 and $178,812, and the Cornelia bank, Damarost, whose financial statement was not available.

Among Florida banks which suspended payment were:

The Ottisens Bank of Buxita, Bank of Mount Dora, Bank of Tavares, and the Bank of Umatilla.

The Florida banks, in each case, announced they were closing "for the protection of depositors."

Recently the Bank of Umatilla started suit against the Bankers' Trust company, asking that a receiver for that concern be appointed, and obtained a temporary injunction to prevent company officials from altering the status of any bank in the chain. The Umatilla bank executives charged that the trust company had horrowed close to half a million dollars from them and had admitted inability to pay.

The Federal court assumed jurisdiction of the action against the Bankers' Trust company when creditors of the institution in Atlanta took a hand. Creditors in Florida had resisted federal intervention on the ground that the trust company was not a bank, but merely financed and insured bank transactions and, on the admission of its officials, did not receive deposits subject to withdrawal by check.

Judge Samuel H. Sibley of the North Georgia District Federal court named former Governor Hugh M. Dorsey, and J. K. Otley of the Fourth National bank, Atlanta, as receivers for the trust company.

A CURIOUS CREATURE

MOTHER PERIPATUS was talking to her child. Now a peripatus is a curious creature, as might almost be imagined by her name. With such a name as that she should not really be an ordinary creature.

"I am something like a worm," she told her child, "and yet I have breathing tubes which make me something like an insect. I have a nice soft body and am of a nice color. I have little legs, which make me look something like a centipede, and I like to live in an old log. I'm not a daytime creature. Night time is the time for me and for you, too, my child. I live here, far away in this tropical section of the country. When anyone touches me I squirt forth a funny kind of juice.

"Not a very polite habit, perhaps, but it is my way! We, as a family like it where it is warm. In fact, we will be found only in warm, warm countries. Now, you are very smart, my child. Soon after you were born you were able to creep about. You knew enough to hide when danger was near, and now you have become so wise and so smart and so independent that you hide under the bark of the log just as the older members of our family do.

"There is something about our coloring which helps to protect us. We are smart in having such ways. But, my child, some people who are here studying the ways of curious animals were talking the other day.

"It seems they were down here before and they took photographs and moving pictures, and they showed these before a great audience when they went up to their own country last year.

"They have been talking about it, and they have said many things which showed how interesting it was to others to see pictures of curious animals and their ways and of the scenery around these parts.

"They showed a picture they had taken of a Mother Peripatus and her young, and everyone, it seemed, whispered to each other and said, 'What in the world is a peripatus?'

"First they showed some pictures of our part of the country here. They showed the tropical scenery. Then they had a moving picture of a sloth, and of a Capuchin Monkey swimming along a river which, they explained, was a mile wide and which was haunted by crocodiles and by earth snakes which the people had never heard of before. At least many of them had not.

"Then they showed pictures of Mother Sloth and her baby climbing and they were much amused to see the upside-down way in which she climbed.

"There were moving pictures shown of wild animals of America, wild moose; caribou, mountain sheep, goats and elk, as well as the mule deer.

"Next they had pictures of sea lions, bears and birds and of a play-fight between a keeper and a kangaroo which was very curious, they said, to see just what actions were made. Oh, they laughed at that and at the pictures which went so slowly of the sea lions, showing each little movement they made. But it was the picture of Mother Peripatus and her child which was the really big event of the evening for most of the audience learned about a creature they had never heard of before."

The Hotel Stenographer

YOU don't look so good this morning," said the House Detective.

"Since when has it been your duty to tell me I am looking tough?" demanded the Hotel Stenographer. "If you want to fatten your battling average around this desk, Kelly, come here with good news and peddle your scrape some place else.

"If you can't see any little thing about me that you can compliment or admire, park yourself at the other end of the hall where that bunch of old sports sits around and listen to their arteries harden as they talk about their symptoms.

"I am not sure you will be popular there, either. Mighty few in this world who don't like to be complimented Kelly. Many a happily married woman serves a lot of underdone chops and overdone toast and gets by with it because there is no such thing as an underdone or overdone compliment, and the dame who feeds her husband enough flattery can get away with murder.

"Take yourself, for instance. You are getting so fat that if somebody cut off your arms and legs you would look like a prehistoric mastadonic goose egg. I heard the boss say that as a detective you would make a fine hitching post, and that you had about as much chance of catching a real criminal as an elephant had of threading a cambric needle, and that if you did not get busy around here he would get a derrick and a two-ton truck and fire you out of the hotel.

"Did I tell you these things? I did not. I am a diplomat. If I cannot pay a compliment I keep my lip buttoned. Nobody can accuse me of peddling sadness. If I cannot say something pleasant, I just keep still, for bad news comes anyhow, and there isn't any use to hurry to a person with it. I know I look bad this morning, Kelly, and I feel worse than I look, but you need not remind me of it."

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT
By F. A. WALKER

FILLING THE RANKS

IF IN the exuberant spirit of youth you are just stepping on the threshold of human activities, equipped with talents which should permit you to take a leading part in the stirring scenes, but for some reason you are unable to participate, hold your patience and bide your time. If opportunity does not call today, he may knock at your door tomorrow. To every human comes the time of entrance and the period of exit. The tide of life is ever moving. Somebody in the waters is being cast on the rocks; somebody is drifting out to sea; somebody is being sucked under.

The old, the worn and the incompetent are being swept ruthlessly aside by the currents and whirlpools. It is the natural trend of things. Those who occupy the high places today, conspicuous for ability and wisdom, must in the cosmos order of things yield the right of way to fresh recruits, as must the decrepit in all the great armies of men.

Every day somewhere there is a vacancy. Every hour there is a call for young men and women of sterling worth to step up to the front and help bear the world's burdens.

The vacant chairs and the broken ranks must be filled. Art, science, industry and business must move forward.

The black smoke must curl from the factory chimney; the shuttles must dart to and fro; the forge must ring with steel upon steel; trains must move and ships must sail, else the world and the peoples of earth would retrograde and perish.

While waiting for Opportunity, the thing for young men and women to do is to improve themselves, even though they may hold university diplomas, mere tickets certifying that they have paid first-class fare on a through train, but not designating destinations.

When the old conductor shouts: "All tickets, please!" where will you tell him you are going?

Are you on your way to uplift humanity, or work for human good—to do things and not merely talk about them?

If you are willing to work, willing to bear the knocks and rubs, willing to sacrifice, to love and to stand the true test, there is a place waiting for you in the depleted ranks, where by giving much you will receive much, from hand and heart.

Cool, Cut-out Linen Enters Summer Modes

Everywhere the two-piece dress is flourishing like the green bay tree and designers are thinking up new ways of varying this popular mode. Their latest achievement appears in new fabric combinations and some charming late summer frocks show printed silk in the company of cut-out linen, with very alluring results. An example is pictured consisting of a frock of printed silk banded at the bottom and at the top of the plaits in the skirt with plain silk. Over this there is a long jacket of cut-out linen, with a band of printed silk as a finish at the bottom. The same silk is used in a belt across the back and, in combination with the plain silk, for collar and cuffs. Many novel and pretty jackets to be worn with separate skirts have come to the fore in sports and-tailored clothes. Twill, serge, flannel or kasha are the materials most popular for making them.
