Cow-Test Ass'n Re-organized

Starts Fourth Consecutive Year With Membership of 26.

The leading dairymen of Charlevoix County have again re-organized and started the new year the first of Aug. with some 26 members, and over 320 cows to be tested.

The results of last year's work are sufficient proof that the members are receiving many benefits and are finding that cow-test work is the greatest agency yet devised for dairymen to make money out of their cows. In 1924 the average cow in the Ass'n made 272 lbs. of butterfat, in 1925, the average was raised to 280 lbs., while this last year every cow made an average of 320 lbs., or an increase of nearly 50 lbs more production per cow in this short length of time. A grade Jersey cow owned by Geo. Meggison, Charlevoix, finished the year with the remarkable production of 721 lbs. of fat. Arthur Shepard, East Jordan, had a high herd average with 465 lbs. per cow. Each year a gain is being made, more than sufficient to pay the cost of the work.

The following men will guide the destinies for the new year:

Arthur Shepard, Pres., East Jordan. Bert Lumley, Vice-Pres., Boyne City. E. J. Edwards, Sec'y-Treas., Charlevoix.

Clinton Blanchard, Director, Phelps. Dan Swanson, Director, East Jordan.

Two East Jordan young couples journeyed to LaPorte, Ind., last week where they were united in marriage Saturday afternoon, Aug. 7th, at the Presbyterian Manse, the pastor, Rev. S. P. Stewart officiating.

The contracting parties were:—Miss Fern Flannery, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Flannery, who was wedded to James M. Sloan, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Sloan. And Miss Mabel Maddock daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Maddock, wedded to Ingwald Olson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Olson—all of East Jordan.

The newlyweds returned to East Jordan first of the week, and on Wednesday the new benedicts left for Grand Rapids, where they have employment. Mrs. Olson and Mrs. Sloan plan to join them there at a later date.

SEVERAL ARE SLAIN IN CHURCH BATTLES

Army Takes Mexican Sanctuary; Churchmen Prisoners; Judge Is Killed.

Mexico City.—Both sides to the religious controversy apparently are prepared for an indefinite endurance contest.

Ambassador Sheffield has delivered a new United States note with reference to Mexico's petroleum and land laws to the Mexican foreign office, it was learned here.

Plymouth, Vt.—Mexico's bitter religious contest between state and church will be fought out without intervention by the United States.

The administration attitude was explicitly announced here in an official press conference held by President Coolidge while visiting at the old family homestead.

The President has received no reports of offenses against Americans in connection with the religious troubles. So far as he is aware, the State department is without complaints.

In view of this attitude, appeals of Knights of Columbus and others for intervention will be futile.

Mexico City.—Guadalajara, the largest city in western Mexico, was the scene of furious fighting between Catholics and government troops, with the Catholics entrenched and stubbornly resisting efforts to dislodge them, according to an official statement issued by the Mexican episcopate.

Archbishop Pascual Diaz, acting head of the Catholic church of Mexico, in issuing the bulletin, said:

"Grave events are occurring at this moment at Guadalajara.

"The government forces succeeded in capturing the sanctuary of the Virgin of Guadalupe after brisk fighting. Five Catholics and several soldiers were killed and 416 Catholics made prisoners.

"At the Church of Jesus there were two killed and one wounded, but the Catholics continued defending the church.

"A grave encounter is feared in a Mexican district, where the Catholics have entrenched themselves in the temple and surrounding buildings and are resolved upon defense.

"In Tlajomulco there was bloodshed, but the number of dead is not known. "In Coacala, a judge attempting to make an inventory of church property was killed by worshippers."

Episcopate advises received from

When Corn Is in Tassel

Morella, the capital of Michoacan, assert the economic boycott is having a formidable effect with cities and towns in mourning and Catholics blacklisting merchants and professional men considered enemies of their cause. Theaters, picture houses and business places are deserted in many towns. The San Francisco temple at Puebla has been robbed of the greater part of its paintings and art treasures.

WASHINGTON BRIEFS

Ships of 24 nations were re-presented in the traffic through the Panama canal during the last fiscal year.

According to statistics compiled and made public by the bureau of agricultural economics of the Department of Agriculture, exports of American cotton for the cotton year which came to a close on August 1 will be more than 8,150,000 bales, with the exports to Canada for July not included.

Exports of wood from Rio de Janeiro to the United States continue to show a decrease from similar exports in 1925.

In a bulletin directed to housewives of the United States, the Department of Agriculture urges use of the "budget system" in domestic purchasing.

President and Wife at His Boyhood Home

Plymouth, Vt.—President Coolidge visited friends and neighbors of his boyhood days here after he and Mrs. Coolidge had spent some time about the farm. The President pruned some apple trees and later went to the hillside cemetery where four generations of Coolidges lie. After a few days in the President's home state the party returned to the Paul Smith camp in New York.

Beggs, Okla.—The Farmers' National bank of Beggs was looted of $5,000 by four masked men. They escaped in an automobile.

W. C. T. U. Convention Was Held At Boyne City

The annual meeting of the W. C. T. U. was held at the M. E. Church in Boyne City Aug. 6th. It was to have been a picnic at Whiting Park, but the weather being inclement, we were more comfortable in the church.

The afternoon was spent in visiting and enjoying a program consisting of music, led by Miss Correll, an Address by Co. Pres. Mrs. B. Saltonstall, readings by Mrs. E. E. Cross and Mrs. Scott.

The guest of honor was our District President, rs. H. A. Lockhoff of Mancelona, who gave a helpful talk; reminding us of the coming Primary Election, and that the policy of the Organization is to vote for men who are for observing and enforcing the present Prohibition Laws, and will publicly as well as privately declare. At 5 o'clock (after much urging and coaxing as usual) we went to the dining room to find that the refreshment committee had transformed out pot luck contributions into a banquet.

The Boyne City Union then had charge of ceremonies, and after appealing our physical appetites, and while seated around the table we were given a feast of songs, recitations and readings by young people, and a splendid address by Rev. Peetling, pastor of the M. E. Church of Boyne City. We acknowledged our appreciation of the good time afforded us by rising a vote of thanks. Joined in singing "God Be With You 'Till We Meet Again" and was dismissed with the benediction. Intending to meet at the District Meeting which will be held in Charlevoix some time before election. Watch for the announcement and plan to be in attendance, if you are interested in the welfare of humanity.

Historic Town to Be Inundated

Conowingo, a historic Maryland town of 300 souls, situated in a prosperous farming area about forty miles north of Baltimore, is to give way to the press of modern economics and progress. The little town, that has been in existence since the years preceding the Revolution, is in the center of the land that will be utilized for the new projected dam that will bridge the Susquehanna river to furnish power to the system of the Philadelphia Electric Company, a distance of seventy-five miles away. Therefore Conowingo will soon be deep under water. The photograph shows a view of the village's main street with the old post office.

Jacob M. Quick Passes Away

Jacob M. Quick died at his residence on the West Side, Friday morning, Aug. 6th, following an illness from dropsy.

Jacob Mark Quick was born at Brighton, Ont., June 30th, 1850, his parents being William and Lucinda Quick. He came to Michigan in 1872 and in 1882 (44 years ago) located in East Jordan and has made this place his home since. He was united in marriage to Miss Elizabeth Brown at Flint. Mrs. Quick passed away March 23rd, 1916 at East Jordan.

Deceased is survived by one son, Archie Ray Quick; and one daughter, Mrs. Alice Maude Hughes.

Funeral services were held from his late home Monday afternoon, Aug. 9th, conducted by Rev. C. W. Sidebotham. Deceased was a member of East Jordan Lodge No. 379, F. & A. M., and the remains were laid to rest at Sunset Hill with Masonic honors.

East Jordan Appreciates Music By Prof. H. Miller

The many East Jordan friends of Prof. H. Miller of Elgin, Ill., deeply appreciate his willingness to play once or twice each summer at the local Presbyterian Church. His rendition of sacred music, which satisfies the most fastidious in its technique, blends with the technique a deep sympathy and a high tone of reverence that creates a rare worshipful atmosphere. The summer congregation which includes reporters from several large city churches and members of the faculties of many institutions of higher learning, are grateful for his ministry of music. One visitor from New York City said it was worth coming from New York to hear.

Prof. Miller's friends will be interested in learning that he was the first violinist in America to play the well-known selection he rendered last Sunday morning, "Ave Maria," by Schubert-Wilhelmj. Not only does Prof. Miller have a quick-retentive memory, but he is an adept at impromptu work, as in East Jordan he has improvised obligatos for vocal solos, not having seen the solo music until after reaching church.

Ypsilanti—The Business and Professional Women's club recently presented the city with a $3,500 ambulance, the president, Miss Russell Wardoper, making the presentation on the city hall lawn, and Mayor Hugh Vandewalker accepting in behalf of the city. Since becoming a public utility the ambulance will be housed and kept up by the city.

Grand Rapids—The gooseberry crop of western Michigan again has taken an important position on the market. According to reliable sources of information, Michigan produces about 90 per cent of the gooseberries grown in the United States and nearly three-quarters of the Michigan crop is raised in the district immediately surrounding Shelby and New Era. Growers report that this year the market has been stimulated and the sales are good.

Jackson—The new Michigan state prison will be partially ready for occupancy this fall, according to Warden Harry H. Jackson, who pointed out that when the summer season ends and outdoor employment of many of the prisoners becomes impossible, the present institution will be congested. Two new cell blocks are expected to be completed in October. When the new prison is entirely completed, quarters will be available for 5,510 inmates.

The Salvation Army Home Service Campaign

The week of Aug. 16-21 the Salvation Army will conduct its annual appeal for funds to carry on the work in Charlevoix County.

Captain J. W. Arnold stationed at Boyne City, is contemplating opening a Salvation Army Corps in connection with Boyne City corps. Captain and Mrs. Arnold are experienced in the Salvation Army work, having spent several years in Canada, and their last appointment was in Petoskey where they had a very successful stay.

The people of East Jordan conversant as they are with the activities of the S. A. will no doubt meet their quota as in past years and put it over. We know of no other organization that can replace the Salvation Army, with all due respect of every organization that is planned to alleviate suffering and need, we can honestly say, that without fear of contradiction, that the Army is alone in the field it fills. No emergency is too great, and this was effectively demonstrated during the war when the Salvation Army took upon itself a task which seemed almost super-human, and came out of the war with the heartfelt thanks of everyone. We have pointed out what the Salvation Army can do in an emergency, and this is only one phase of its activities.

In Detroit and Grand Rapids where girls in our rescue homes and hospitals are cared for, we cannot reprint the pathetic stories that have originated in these homes or tell you how these girls have been able to regain foothold and have taken their places in the community. In the last year nearly 500 girls and their babies from every section of the State, have been cared for in these institutions, and through Christian teachings have been given a new lease of life. Charlevoix County has been represented in these rescue homes, with other counties in the State. When you see the Salvation Army holding open-air meetings, you give little thought, but this is the starting point for its successful activities, men and women who are not reached by the Church are rescued and brought back into the fold. The Salvation Army has a daily duty to perform, and reaches people the churches cannot reach. Many an individual has been given a new lease of life and made to understand that he is welcome at least in one place, The Salvation Army.

For every dollar expended, we get accrued interest. There is no better dividend bearing investment in the world today. Kindly help when called upon to support such a worthy cause. The local committee in charge of the Campaign are Mrs. C. H. Whittington, Chairman; Mrs. W. E. Patmter, Treas.

MORE THAN MILLION IN ILLINOIS' SLUSH

Senate Committee Ends Chicago Hearing—Five Face Contempt Proceedings.

Neenah, Wis.—Blame for "primary scandals in Illinois and Pennsylvania" was laid to Senator Irvine L. Lenroot and other senators who voted to seat Senator Newberry of Michigan, by Senator Robert M. La Follette here. Senator La Follette said those senators "broadcast to the world that seats in the senate were for sale."

Chicago.—More than $1,000,000 spent in the primary and five witnesses threatened with contempt proceedings to be brought by the United States senate.

That was the score chalked up against Illinois as the senate investigating committee adjourned its Chicago hearing. Senator Robert M. La Follette returned to Wisconsin and Senator James A. Reed, chairman, to Missouri. Senator Reed intimated that the committee may hold hearings in other states as evidence is revealed concerning excessive expenditures in election campaigns.

The summary of expenditures in the Illinois senatorial primary, as developed by the committee, is:
 For McKinley $ 361,001.72
 For Smith 800,882.70
 Deneen county slate 133,298.10
 Crowe county slate 171,500.00
 Brennan slate 20,841.42
 Anti-Saloon league 40,000.00
 Total $1,027,814.03

Those who will be reported to the senate as refusing to answer questions are:

Samuel Insull, traction magnate.
 Daniel F. Schuyler, attorney for Insull.

Edward H. Wright, colored member of the state commerce commission, of which Col. Frank L. Smith, successful Republican candidate, is chairman.

Robert E. Crowe, state's attorney.
 Thomas V. Cunningham, clerk of the Court of General Sessions in Philadelphia.

Cunningham, on a salary of $3,000 a year, admitted donating $50,000 to the campaign fund of William S. Vare, successful Republican nominee for the United States senate from that state, but refused to state where he got the money. He was known during the Washington inquiry into the Pennsylvania primary as the "lost witness," because he could not be reached with a subpoena then, and was brought here later to give his testimony.

Crowe, Wright, Insull and Schuyler refused to divulge information regarding campaign funds, their defense being that the funds on which they refused to testify were not used in the senatorial primary, but for local issues, only. Chairman Reed declared that was for the committee and not for the witnesses to decide. At the close of the hearing the Missourian said:

"Some of these gentlemen may yet face a jail."

Gertrude Ederle, First Woman to Swim Channel

G. O. P. Chooses Stewart to Succeed A. B. Cummins

Des Moines, Iowa.—David W. Stewart, Sioux City lawyer and progressive Republican, is the choice of the Republican party of Iowa for the unfinished United States senate term of the late Albert B. Cummins. He will go before the voters in the November election as the candidate for the short term. Col. Smith W. Broekhart, the party's primary nominee, will run for the full six-year term.

Kansas City, Mo.—The first cargo of river freight from up the Missouri River in more than 20 years was brought here when the steamboat B. A. Douglas docked at the municipal wharf with 25 tons of machinery to be used in government work on the Missouri river. The Douglas came from Sioux City, Iowa.

THE BUSY MAN

By THOMAS ARKLE CLARK
 Dean of Men, University of Illinois.

"IT IS a great gift," C. H. Henderson says in John Percyfield, "that of being occupied without being busy. I have a friend at home, Graham Harlowe, who is forever busy without being occupied. When I go to see him I am always shown directly up to his den, and there the poor youth sits, half buried in papers and rubbish of all sorts, up to his ears in work, and never accomplishing anything. Harlowe never rises when I enter. He always holds out his hand and says, 'Ah, Percyfield, so glad to see you. Won't you sit down and just excuse me for a minute till I finish looking up this reference.' I do sit down, and I seldom wait less than ten minutes."

Hewlett was that sort of man—always extremely busy but seldom occupied. One of his subordinates would be summoned hastily to his office for a conference only to find him dictating to a stenographer or reading some of his mail, or engaged in fumbling with some papers. He might not even look up when the man came in, and when he did finally turn his attention in that direction it was a kind of semi-attention which indicated that his mind was wandering, that the business in hand had not been well thought out.

"There was something important I wanted to see you about. What was it? Oh, yes, I recall the matter," he would go on, and then it might be ten minutes before he could dig out the correspondence or discover the notes he had made. He was frightfully busy, but he could never quickly dispatch business because his mind was preoccupied.

We are the busiest people in the world, foreigners tell us—so busy that we give ourselves no leisure to read or play or to do the things which would relax our high-strung nervous systems.

"The greatest vice of American education," an Englishman recently said, "is that there is too much of it. The American student is engaged in too many things. He is so busy that he has no time to think, no time for the things which are for him the most important to do."

There are some men so busy that they have little or no chance of doing much business. Bender is one of these. It is the unimportant thing on which he wastes his time, the trifling matter that keeps him constantly running round in a circle, trying, as it were, to catch up with himself. He gives himself no leisure because he is so busy. He gets very little accomplished because he can never get to the things that are really worth while. He is burdened, swamped with work. If he were less busy he would get more done. His trouble is that he does not know how to dispatch work, and so to give himself a little time to think things out.

CAN'T BEAT "TIZ" WHEN FEET HURT

Just take your shoes off and then put those weary, shoe-crinkled, aching, burning, corn-pestered, bunion-tortured feet of yours in a "Tiz" bath. Your toes will wriggle with joy; they'll look up at you and almost talk and then they'll take another dive in that "Tiz" bath.

When your feet feel like lumps of lead—all tired-out—just try "Tiz." It's grand—it's glorious. Your feet will dance with joy; also you will find all pain gone from corns, callouses and bunions.
 There's nothing like "Tiz." It's the only remedy that draws out all the poisonous exudations which puff up your feet and cause foot torture. A few cents buy a box of "Tiz" at any drug or department store—don't wait. Ah! how glad your feet get; how comfortable your shoes feel.

DIPPING INTO SCIENCE

Greeks Discovered Earth Is Round

That the earth is round was a well-established fact long before the time of Columbus. As far back as 400 B. C. estimates were being made on the number of miles around the earth. Aristotle told this figure at 40,000 miles, and later, about 200 B. C., Eratosthenes figured more accurately 25,000 miles.

Big Demand for Pencils
In spite of the advent of trick pencils it is estimated that more than a billion of the old-fashioned lead pencils are used yearly in the United States. This number includes only the hard and soft lead or graphite pencils and does not necessarily take in the many crayons that come under the general classification of pencils.

ALWAYS TIRED AT NIGHT—TRY THIS
A healthy person never feels constantly tired. Being "tired" is usually a sign of something wrong. When John R. Gordon, Danville, Ill. found himself "always tired at night and burdened with backache," he took Foley's Pills, a diuretic stimulant for the kidneys, and writes: "After a few doses, I felt better, could work with more ease, became stronger and could sleep better." What Foley's Pills have done for others they may do for you. Guaranteed to give satisfaction. Ask for Foley's Pills.—Hite's Drug Store, adv.

STATE NEWS IN BRIEF

Grand Haven—The Peninsula and Northern Navigation Co. has temporarily postponed plans for re-organization and the Goodrich Line will take over the operation of boats between Milwaukee, Grand Haven and Muskegon.

Detroit—Henry Ford celebrated his sixty-third birthday on July 30. The automobile manufacturer followed his annual custom of making no special observance of the day. In other years he frequently has inspected his more important plants on his birthday.

Traverse City—Announcement that state trunk line M-11, from Benzonia to a point six miles south of Traverse City will be paved and that Traverse City will be the western terminus of M-73, was made here by A. L. Burrige, state highway engineer, in an address.

Lansing—The city of Iron Mountain cannot levy a local gasoline tax independent of the state tax for paying purposes, Deputy Attorney General Clare Retan informed city officials in an opinion. Wording of the state gas tax statute prohibits any other tax of this nature, Retan said.

Ann Arbor—Herbert G. Watkins of Ann Arbor, has been named assistant secretary of the University of Michigan to succeed Paul Buckley. The appointment was approved by the executive board of regents. Buckley has been appointed general manager of the Michigan Union. Watkins will assume his new position September 1.

East Lansing—Sixty Michigan bankers forsook their financial duties to attend Banker Farmer Day, an annual event, held at Michigan State College. The purpose of the conference, sponsored by the Michigan Bankers' Association, was to acquaint bankers with the agricultural program for the state which is being backed by the college.

Monroe—S. H. Jensen, 2462 Kendall avenue, Detroit, discovered the skull and bones of a human body while digging a trench on a lot north of here along Lake Erie. It was found 40 feet from the edge of the lake. Coroner George Huber was summoned and is making an investigation. The skull and bones were buried in 2-12 feet of dirt.

Saginaw—Saginaw's oil field has been extended a half mile farther toward the northwest with the Ohio Fuel Corp. drilling in its first well here, the sixteenth producer in the Saginaw field. The second hole here, the Gardner Petroleum Co. well, southeast of Saginaw, five miles from production, is to be drilled deeper in search of oil in the Saginaw Sand at a level of about 2,300 feet.

Ann Arbor—There are 1,892 students from this state enrolled in the summer session of the University of Michigan, according to Dean Edward E. Krauss. Fourteen foreign countries and 47 states are represented in the enrollment of 3,323 students. The figures for the foreign countries and the states are: China, 47 students; Canada, 26; India, 13; Ohio, 332; Indiana, 131; Illinois, 122; New York, 120; Pennsylvania, 117.

Adrian—The colonial home property on East Maumet street in the business district has been disposed of for $18,500 in a sale conducted by George W. Ayers, Lenawee circuit court commissioner. The home is one of the oldest houses in Adrian, having been built 75 years ago, and for the last 40 years has been used as a boarding house.

Port Huron—The first step of moment in the amalgamation of the Ladies of the Maccabees and the Maccabees was the transfer of securities valued at $2,800,000 from the local vaults of the order to Detroit headquarters. The fortune in negotiable paper was transported through the streets of Port Huron and to Detroit in an armored car sent from Detroit for the purpose. The officers of the order have been working on the amalgamation project for 30 years.

Ypsilanti—The aviation committee of the Board of Commerce is advertising for a piece of land near Ypsilanti to be used as a site for an airport. As the city is on the air route between Detroit and Chicago and with other routes being established, local business men consider that no time should be lost in establishing a suitable port here. Farmers within five miles of the city are being asked to communicate with the Board of Commerce if they have suitable fields which they desire to sell.

Sault Ste. Marie—When his car stalled on a steep hill James Henderson of this city became excited and failed to apply his brakes. The car sped backwards downhill and over a 15-foot embankment, turning over and pinning Henderson and his wife under it, where they lay severely injured for more than a half hour before Mrs. John Davidson, a passenger, extricated herself from the back seat and ran screaming down the road finally attracting attention. Both are in a local hospital.

JOE

By THOMAS ARKLE CLARK Dean of Men, University of Illinois.

THE hired man on the farm is passing, according to the newspapers and magazine articles, and his place is being taken, when taken at all, by cunningly devised machinery which does everything but think, and which at times comes close to doing that. I can hardly conceive of life on the farm without the hired man. He was a foregone conclusion, a picturesque part of the machinery necessary to keep things going. He was the one thing often which kept life on the farm from growing dull.

It was a small farm on which I lived where, for the greater part of the year, one man or a man and a boy could perform all the necessary tasks. We should have been lost, however, something vital would have dropped out of our existence, life would not have been quite the same if it had not been for Joe.

Joe was a nomad, a knight of the road; he was filled with the wanderlust and had seen the world. He was a rather prosperous, well-dressed, well-groomed workman. He spent his winters in Hot Springs or New Orleans, the attaché of some well-to-do citizen who needed intelligent service. Had he been living now he would no doubt make Los Angeles or Coral Gables his winter quarters. He drifted in every spring just when work was heaviest and when we were wondering how we could manage. He fitted into our menage perfectly. He knew the idiosyncrasies of the horses and of the farm machinery, and he took hold as if he had been on the place since birth.

He was a versatile genius who could do well almost anything to which he set himself. He had worked his way up from the South picking strawberries or shearing sheep. I had never seen him at the sheep-shearing business, but according to his own estimate of himself he would have had Jacob pushed back into the primer class if Laban had ever got his eyes on Joe.

He stayed through harvest time usually—a dollar-a-day we paid him, as I recall, for a working day that averaged fourteen hours at least, and then he drifted away to cooler and more varied scenes in the North. There was some place up in Wisconsin or Michigan that attracted him. He was back by November to help with the corn husking. He had a record as a corn husker and admitted it. When the corn was in the crib he set out for the South; he didn't like cold weather.

Joe was the center of things in a crowd of men. He was a good story teller. He had seen the world, and in recounting his adventures he was never handicapped by truth or fact; he let his imagination have free rein. He had escaped matrimony, he asserted, a hundred times only by running away. He had never killed anyone, but he had seriously damaged a great many.

I'm sorry that his kind is passing. He was a great education to us. (© 1924, Western Newspaper Union.)

Lansing—The State Highway Department announced that the counties are to be paid another $1,000,000 from weight tax automobile license revenues. The money will be distributed in proportion to the amount received from each county. Thus far this year $2,000,000 of the $6,000,000 to which the counties are entitled has been distributed. With the additional $1,000,000, the counties will have received one-half of their share. The entire debt will not be met until after Jan. 1, 1927.

Flint—The first theft of airplane parts and equipment in the city, his story was reported to police recently, when Howard Walker, 501 Harriet street, complained that some aeronautical thief had stripped his airplane of all movable parts and hauled the wreckage to the rear of his home. When Walker completed the enumeration of parts stolen from his plane, the police revised his report and informed him that the thief had stolen his airplane and left him a few parts.

WINS THREE DEGREES

To win three college degrees although fifty-one years of age is the distinction of James R. Postlethwait, train rule examiner for the Chicago & Alton railroad at Bloomington, Ill. Unable to secure a college membership, he has been studying at night for thirty-five years after his railroad work was completed, and has just been rewarded for his persistency by receiving degrees of doctor of divinity, doctor of psychology, and doctor of metaphysics.

FARMERS STILL AT A FINANCIAL LOSS

Industrial Workers More Fortunate, Report Says.

Washington.—While there was a moderate improvement in income from farm production for the last season, 1925-26, the Department of Agriculture says that farmers as a class are still at a financial disadvantage to industrial workers.

"If a conservative interest return is allowed on investment, the average farm family earned $648 for labor and management, or $24 more than in the preceding year," the department said. "Although this is considerably above the very meager earnings during the severe years of depression, it is still nearly 30 per cent below the earnings of 1919-20."

"Factory wage earners, on the other hand, for the last three years have earned approximately the same that they did in 1919-20, and have been able to buy about 18 per cent more than they could in 1919-20, while the farmer with his income has been able to buy about 30 per cent less."

Gross income from agriculture was estimated at $12,415,000,000, compared with $12,008,000,000 for 1924-25. The total was made up of $9,891,000,000 computed as cash income from crops and $2,524,000,000, the value of food and fuel consumed on farms.

Net income available for all capital employed, including reward for managing the industry, increased 4 per cent, compared with a 13 per cent increase in 1924-25.

Out of the gross income of $12,415,000,000, farmers paid $9,812,000,000, including $1,218,000,000 for wages; $3,078,000,000 for products and services of other industries, repairs and maintenance of buildings and equipment; $683,000,000 for taxes and operator-owned investment; $1,127,000,000 for rent of property, and $758,000,000 interest on mortgage and other indebtedness.

Of the other $5,603,000,000, the value of food and fuel consumed on farms represents $2,524,000,000, and $3,078,000,000 is the net cash income, which gives an average per farm of $979, compared with $854 in 1924-25 for operators' capital, labor and management.

The analysts show that the farm operators earned on their own investment, including management after paying rent and interest on debts, 3.5 per cent, compared with 3 2-10 per cent in 1924-25.

Denmark Gets Loan in U. S.

Copenhagen.—The Danish government has obtained a loan of $6,000,000 from the Guaranty Trust company of New York to be used in stabilizing the price of farm exports.

Distinctive Hand-Painted Frock of Pink Chiffon

Individuality is achieved in this hand-painted frock of chiffon worn by Dorothy Phillips, famous movie star who recently returned to the films via a Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer contract after an absence of several years.

The frock, of shell pink chiffon, is hand painted in pastel shades in charming landscape design, with further novelty achieved in the very chic hand-painted vestee and sleeves. The belt tied at the natural waistline adds to its Parisian chic.

With this frock, Miss Phillips wears a soft white felt hat and white kid pumps.

BARGAINS

By THOMAS ARKLE CLARK
Dean of Men, University of Illinois.

NANCY came into the room with a great deal of coarse yellow lace in her hands. She was getting things together for a rummage sale, and she wanted to ask my advice.

"Do you mind if I let this go?" she asked, holding the lace up before me. I wondered for a time why she should ask me, and then I remembered that I had bought the useless stuff at a bargain sale shortly after we were married. I had no use for it, nor had she; it just seemed to me cheap. It seemed so still, as I looked at it. Twenty-five years had not improved it in any detail.

"It won't hurt my feelings," I said. "Sell it if you can get a quarter for it, or give it away."

Some one has defined a bargain as "something you want at a price less than you expect to pay." The ordinary bargain, as we find it in real life, is something you don't want, for which you haven't the slightest use, that is being sold at a reduction from the regular price.

Roland bought a somewhat dilapidated car last spring, cheap. It was, in fact, a real bargain, he admitted, costing him originally $13. Roland has no real need of a car, and reasonable as the price named may seem, much less has he $13 to throw away. The machine had to have new tires before it was fit for regular service, and a readjustment of the carburetor, and a refitting of the brakes. After it had all been gone over it had set Roland back financially something like $137, but he still held that it was a bargain even if it was of no practical use to him, and was far beyond his means to afford.

Mandy brought home from the rummage sale a pair of delicately embroidered satin slippers which she had got at a bargain. Mandy is no Cinderella. She wears regularly number sevens and would be more comfortable if her shoes were a size or two larger. The slippers were number three and a half. AA last, and Mandy couldn't have got her foot started into one of them, nor could any member of her family; but they were such a bargain, you see!

Gregory picked up a considerable tract of land two or three years ago. He has been kept on the financial rack ever since in an attempt to keep up the payments. He didn't need the land, he doesn't know anything about the management of real estate, and there is no market for his possessions.

"How did you come to buy it?" I asked when he was discussing with me the possibility of disposing of it.

"I don't know," he said. "It was for sale, and some one, whom I thought I knew, told me it was a bargain, so I took it."

I repeated to Gregory the definition of a bargain and he admitted that possibly he didn't get one when he sunk his money in real estate.

Red Grange Back on Wagon

"Red" Grange, the phantom of football, returned to his little-old-home town of Wheaton, Ill., from the studios of Hollywood and immediately went back to his now famous job of hauling ice. The picture shows Grange, the ice man, who states that this is the best means of hardening up for football.

Ann Arbor—One hundred and ten industrial problems, of which 75 have been completed, have been handled by the department of engineering research of the University of Michigan during the 12 months just ended, according to the annual report of Professor A. B. White, director of the department. Most of these problems have been undertaken for different Michigan manufacturing concerns, but some of the work has been done for industries outside the state.

Lansing—Out of 1,140 new corporations organized in Michigan during the first six months of 1926, 68 per cent or 680, have located in Detroit for their operations. Mother's Cook Book

When happiness can be manufactured so cheaply and sold so high, and is always wanted in the market, it seems a pity that more of us do not set up in the business.—W. C. Gannett.

EASY DESSERTS

THE dessert adds the finishing touch to a good meal. It should be appropriate to the meal it follows. If a light meal, then a heartier dessert may follow, like steamed pudding, apple dumplings, pie and such desserts. Following a heavy meal, dainty dishes of sweets or fruits are best liked.

Date Pudding.
Boil together ten minutes two cups of water, three-fourths of a cup of brown sugar and three table-spoonfuls of cornstarch. Add one cup of sliced dates. Mold in sherbet cups, garnish with chopped nuts and serve with whipped cream.

Apple Snow.
Pare and cut four apples into quarters. Cover with boiling water and cook until the apples are soft and the water almost evaporated. Cool, put through a sieve, add powdered sugar to taste and fold in an equal quantity of whipped cream. Chill before serving.

Apricot Ice.
Take four cups of dried apricots, four cups of water, the juice of three lemons, one-half cup of sugar and the whites of three eggs. Soak the apricots until soft, then cook until tender. Press through a potato ricer to remove skins. Add the sugar to the pulp, then the water and cook ten minutes. Remove from the heat, cool, add lemon juice and freeze. When the mixture is partly frozen, remove the cover and stir in the stiffly beaten egg whites. Cover and finish freezing.

Date Pie.
Cook one-third of a pound of dates in two cups of milk twenty minutes, strain and rub through a sieve, then add two eggs, a fourth of a teaspoonful of salt, nutmeg to flavor and sugar to taste. Bake in one crust as a custard pie.
A date pie is a very rich and well-liked dessert. This should follow a light meal as it is a highly nourishing dessert.

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT

By F. A. WALKER

MAKING OPPORTUNITY

WHATEVER may be the common belief about opportunity and its disinclination to knock more than once at your door, will, if you look into the matter, be found wholly untrue.

A plain, cut and dry explanation concerning the activities of opportunity disproves its alleged caprices and its unwillingness to be helpful to mankind, for it is ever ready to serve men and women, whether it knocks at their doors, or is attacked in the street, and made to stand and deliver by the mere force of a smile. Alas! for the man who does not recognize opportunity when he meets it, which may be a dozen times a day while he is bemoaning his lot or lamenting his fate.

He flounders and pants through mazes of doubt and despair, when, if he would sit down a while and take stock of his surroundings, he would probably find that opportunity had been playing hide and seek with him all day, and wondering why he was so blind.

Tried as you may be by the squalls and cross-currents, opportunity is often sitting beside you waiting for a friendly nod, or a good, old-fashioned handshake. It respects your aspirations and knows your shortcomings. It knows, too, your inward resolution, your weakness, lack of faith and hope, and would at the slightest hint rush to your assistance.

"Well, when?" you may ask cynically.
"Right now," comes back the reply, "but you must do your part and play the man in doing it."

Stick a flower in the lapel of your threadbare coat, draw in your chin, puff out your breast, inhale the life-giving morning air and walk like a supercilious drill-master, and opportunity will give you a snappy salute. Never drag your feet, wear a woe-begone expression, nor let the crowd trample you down. Never admit defeat.

Make friends with faith and cheerfulness. Pursue this course from the moment you open your eyes in the morning, and you will find before night that opportunity has been waiting for you in places you had heretofore labeled "impossible."

Opportunity is yours whenever you may elect to accept it, notwithstanding all the time-worn sayings to the contrary.

How It Started

By JEAN NEWTON

"CRESTFALLEN"

THIS is a word popularly used in common speech to indicate dejection, to describe one in a dejected mood. The term comes to us from the parlance of the barnyard. For while the crest which gave the word its origin is correctly the upper part of the head of any bird or animal, it is associated particularly with the comb of the cock who struts animatedly about poultry domain.

Frequenters of the barnyard know that when life goes hard with the cock his crest, which at other times protrudes proudly up into the air, is seen to fall dejectedly. This might be said, like the wagging or drooping tail on the part of the dog, to be his medium of self-expression.

The aptness of the term "crest-fallen" in its figurative use for a person who is dejected and aggrieved can hardly be questioned.

TOMORROW

By THOMAS ARKLE CLARK
Dean of Men, University of Illinois.

King Hassan, well beloved, was wont to say, "When I ought went wrong or any project failed, 'Tomorrow, friends, will be another day!' And in that faith he slept and so prevailed."

IT IS as foolish to think that tomorrow will not offer us an opportunity to correct our mistakes, to repair our failures, as it is to think that these mistakes and failures will not have to be paid for. Tomorrow offers every man another chance, if he will only take it. There is a vast difference between putting off until tomorrow what should be done today and finding in tomorrow a new day and a new opportunity to be taken advantage of. Constantly I see people—young people, too, who have everything necessary to success—who fall from discouragement.

Griffith could not get on because he could never forget yesterday. He had made a mistake, he had been dishonest, and he had had to pay a penalty. He would not, however, let the penalty suffice, but let the memory of his error eat into his consciousness, disturb his day, and haunt his dreams. So for a long time he wasted his todays in grieving over his yesterdays.

"You've made a mistake and you've paid the penalty," I said to him. "Forget about it."

"Other people don't forget," he said. "Not many people know about it." I answered, "and those who do know are so much concerned about their own affairs and their own petty troubles, that they are quite unlikely to give any serious or critical thought to you."

He came to see this in time and made the most of his tomorrows.

There is an ant climbing up the window casing in front of me as I write. A dozen times he tries to reach the top and as many times he has tried again and discouraged. Finally, under a little more favorable circumstance, perhaps, or with a little more persistent and well-directed effort he goes over the top and reaches the goal for which he was striving.

I can imagine other ants standing by and laughing at him, when, after so many failures, he still kept on. It is the way people do.

It is said that Paderewski's first teacher of piano gave his young pupil very little encouragement. He showed no particular talent, things went wrong with his practicing pretty often. "Perhaps you'd make a teacher," the instructor is said to have remarked, "but there is little likelihood of your ever amounting to much as a player." But the boy kept on, remembering that tomorrow would be another day. His success may well be a lesson to us all. New day, new hope, new courage!

Let this be O soul, thy cheerful creed! What's yesterday, With all its shards and wrack and grief, to thee? Forget it, then—here lies the victor's way.

COMB SAGE TEA INTO GRAY HAIR

Darkens Beautifully and Restores Its Natural Color and Luster At Once

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use preparation improved by the addition of other ingredients a large bottle, at little cost, at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of mess.

While gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant and you appear years younger.

If Back Hurts Flush Kidneys

Drink Plenty of Water and Take Glass of Salts Before Breakfast Occasionally.

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salt, which helps to remove the body's urinous waste and stimulate them to their normal activity.

The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grams of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of good water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts. Take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in the system so they are no longer a source of irritation, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts in inexpensive; can not injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to help keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this; also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.
