To Eradicate The Barberry

U. S. Scouts Campaigning In Charlevoix County.

Over five tons of salt has already been used to kill the common barberry bushes found in Charlevoix County. The work on eradicating the bush has so far been confined to the southwest part of the County where the townships of Norwood and Charlevoix, and the city of Charlevoix have been completed. No large acres have been located and most of the bushes found were not of any great size. At the present time the barberry scouts are starting to work in an area of the bush which covers about 8 square miles. One bush started this area and shows well the ability of the common barberry to spread with only nature's help. This one bush was brought in from New York State by a Mrs. Brown between the years of 1865 and 1870 and the berries from it were used by her to make jelly. When areas such as this are found every fence row is scouted and when woodlots are encountered the men go through them abreast and about six feet apart. This intensive covering of all territory

Antrim Co. Girls Win Third Place

At the sectional demonstration contest held at the Boys' and Girls Club Camp at Gaylord this last week the Echo Domican Food Club demonstration team consisting of Wilma Schroeder and Marguerite Carney and their local leader, Martha Wagbo, won third honors.

The Domican girls demonstrated the new method of making crisp flaky pie crust with a minimum amount of shortening. Their technique and presentation passed an "A" test, but the nature of demonstration counted against them as it was contended that pie "was not a wholesome food." Nevertheless, as American people will continue to eat pie, we think it essential that the best and most healthful method of making it should be emphasized.

Considering the fact that the girls had to work with a broken rolling pin and an oil stove with which they were not familiar, we think they did a nice piece of work. They also hold the distinction of giving the only "food" demonstration in the 16 northeastern counties, the others were all canning demonstrations.

Bigger and Better Than Ever

STATE NEWS IN BRIEF

Sault Ste. Marie—Louis Retman, head of the Ann Arbor Kiwanis club, was elected president of Michigan Kiwanis clubs in convention here. Battle Creek won a spirited contest for the next convention, being opposed by Benton Harbor and St. Joseph.

Monroe—Police recently destroyed 65 cases of beer, a quantity of home brew beer, four stills and seven slot machines on the city dump. The stuff had been seized during the past two months and lodged in the police station. A crowd witnessed the destruction of the contraband.

Sturgis—The present indebtedness of the city of Sturgis is to be wiped out by 1947, according to a sinking fund plan adopted by the city commission. A second plan providing for a refund of bonds and an extension of payments over a longer period of years was rejected as additional interest would amount to about $30,000.

Wyandotte—Smashing the glass doors in their closed machine which had stalled on the tracks of the Detroit, Monroe & Toledo interurban line in Wyandotte, Stanley Potrozepka, 107 Ford avenue, Wyandotte, escaped just as a two-car train crashed into the automobile, tearing it into a mass of unrecognizable steel and wood.

Ludington—During the past year there has not been an acquittal in a criminal case in Mason County, the report of Prosecutor K. B. Matthews shows. During the last six months of 1925 there were 148 convictions and during the first six months of 1926 there were 71 arrests and 71 convictions. In the last six months the county realized $3,449.45 in fines and costs.

Grand Rapids—Formal observance of the 100th anniversary of the arrival of Louis Campau, the first white settler, at the rapids of the Grand will be held September 23 to 26 inclusive. Through a general committee named by Mayor Elvin Swarthout, the city has arranged a four-day celebration, in which hundreds of Grand Rapids citizens will participate actively and which is expected to bring thousands of former residents here.

Cadillac—Fred Hibst, manager of the Michigan Potato Growers Exchange, in his annual report showed 2,982 cars of potatoes had been marketed during the year for a total return of more than $4,000,000. This was 21.2 per cent. of the total crop of the state, the largest percentage ever handled co-operatively. Ohio, which took 850 cars, was the leading customer. Net pool prices ranged from $1.76 a hundredweight in September to $4.78 in April.

Ann Arbor—Regents of the University of Michigan received gifts from 100 different institutions and corporations during the fiscal year 1925-6. A list of the gifts, compiled for each year by Dr. F. E. Robbins, president's assistant, shows that the value of the last year's transfers to the university totaled about $200,000. This is far below the aggregate of the preceding year when the total was close to $1,000,000, due to the large gift for the Simpson Memorial Institute.

Imlay City—Concrete pouring on M-21 now has been practically completed. A small portion of the newly constructed road will have to be torn up and relaid because of the center being lower than the sides. The east end of the new road now is being used and after the west portion has stood the required length of time to season it will be opened. The goal aimed at the past few weeks has been to have the entire stretch opened when the Imlay fair opens September 14.

Bay City—Arthur O. Foote, of Grand Rapids, was charged with trespass, as a result of forcing an entrance into a school near Kawkawlin, where he and a group of other campers took shelter for the night. Foote explained that threatening showers caused him to climb through a window and open the door for the others. A school inspector happened along and ordered the door closed and the sheriff happened along and ordered whereupon he called, the sheriff Foote was dismissed on payment of costs.

NEW MEXICAN PLOT IS BARED BY U. S.

Papers Seized by Officials Reveal Extensive Revolutionary Scheme.

San Diego, Calif. — Information showing a widespread revolutionary plot against the Mexican government has been uncovered by United States officials, Capt. A. A. Hopkins, Department of Justice agent, announced.

The information indicates that the Insurrecto band, led by Gen. Enrique Estrada, former Mexican secretary of war, constituted only a small part of the plan.

Hopkins said that a partial study of the papers seized when Estrada and his band were arrested, near here a few days ago shows an extensive revolutionary plot.

El Paso, Texas.—Conflicting announcements by Mexican officials failed to shed light on reports that Mexican troops had been ordered to a border point opposite Columbus, N. M., following the discovery of an alleged plot by a band of heavily armed men to cross into Mexico in a revolutionary movement.

Manuel M. Marcarenas, collector of customs at Juarez, said no troops had been ordered from Chihuahua City to Palomas, the border point. Gen. Roman Lopez, commandant at Juarez, however, insisted that troops have been sent to Palomas.

Mexico City.—Considerable hope has been aroused that the religious question may be solved, as President Calles has suggested in a communication to the Catholic episcopate, by bringing the matter before congress with a view to securing a constitutional amendment.

If the episcopate offered amendments to the constitution, the President declares he would not use his power to have them withdrawn from congress.

In a statement replying to the letter of President Calles, the episcopate neither accepts nor rejects the President's proposal that it seek congressional or Supreme court relief.

Los Angeles, Calif.—Federal Judge Paul J. McCormick signed a warrant of detention authorizing official seizure of arms taken from Gen. Enrique Estrada's band rounded up near the border.

Peoples S. S. Bank Makes Survey of Farm Conditions

Results Show East Jordan To Be In Good Dairy Section.

According to information received from replies in response to questionnaires sent to 507 farmers in Banks, Jordan, Echo, Wilson, South Arm and Eveline Townships, by The Peoples State Savings Bank of East Jordan, our community is fast progressing along lines of dairy farming.

From the replies received the information shows that 2,958 milch cows are now owned by farmers to whom inquiries were sent.

The Peoples State Savings Bank has always taken an interest in promoting the welfare of the farmer and has been particularly interested in dairy farming, and at the Charlevoix County Fair held in East Jordan on Sept. 14-15-16 will give away to some one farmer in the community on Wednesday the 15th a Pure-bred registered Guernsey heifer.

B. C. Mellicamp, Charlevoix County Agricultural agent will be in charge and everyone is invited to see the animal on any one of the three days of the fair.

ROSENWALD, CAPPER, PRESIDENT CONFER

Needed Legislation Chief Topic of Session—Market Plan Is Boosted.

Paul Smiths, N. Y.—Divergent views on farm-relief legislation were reported to President Coolidge by Julius Rosenwald of Chicago, chairman of the board of a large mail-order firm, and Senator Arthur Capper, Republican, of Kansas.

Mr. Rosenwald came to White Pine camp at the President's invitation. Mr. Rosenwald in his talk with the President approved strongly the plans to strengthen the co-operative marketing movement in the country. He urged especially a tariff on hides and suggested that a reduction or complete removal of the tariff on aluminum might be desirable.

Mr. Rosenwald also discussed the general business conditions of the nation with the President. He showed Mr. Coolidge a chart that he had prepared before he left Chicago. The chart covered the period from July 1 to August 14, and showed a general healthy increase over the same period a year ago in the mail-order business amounting to between 20 and 25 per cent. The Northwest, according to Mr. Rosenwald, was the only section of the country that did not show a satisfactory increase in volume of business.

Senator Capper told the President that the farm bloc will try for two pieces of legislation after the November elections. He said there would be an effort made to adjust the tariff to aid the farmer and that the McNary-Haugen bill, perhaps in another guise, would be put forward again. In an interview, after his talks with the President, Senator Capper said:

"The farmers of the West are protectionists, and do not desire to tear down the tariff wall that has been built for the safety of this country's business. At the same time they feel they are not getting all the benefit they should from its protection.

"For example, they believe there should be a duty on beef and hides. Also, the impost on wheat should be raised.

"The cattle man is getting nothing like his share of the general wave of prosperity because he is not sufficiently protected. Argentine canned beef and Argentine hides are sold in Kansas City and other places throughout the West in direct competition with American producers.

"Wheat from the Argentine also has its place in the midwestern market."

Regarding the McNary-Haugen bill, Senator Capper said "the farmers will believe some form of price stabilization should be tried out."

The Kansas senator indicated it was not likely the farm bloc would attempt to put over any of its legislation in the short session of congress convening in December. The idea is to build on results at the polls this fall.

Senator Capper approved the plan of price stabilization contained in the McNary-Haugen farm bill, but Mr. Rosenwald said any price stabilization attempt was sure to end in a vicious circle. They agreed substantially regarding the business and economic conditions of the country.

Mr. Rosenwald is strong for the co-operative marketing movement and suggested that he thought it should be strengthened. Senator Capper said that phase of farm relief was recognized, but other steps were essential, referring to some revision of the tariff without injuring the protective fabric.

Battling The Barberry

where the common barberry is likely to be found is called "stip scouting."

The Barberry Eradication Campaign which is being carried on in Charlevoix County this summer is being directed by the U. S. Department of Agriculture who is working in co-operation with the State Department of Agriculture and the Michigan State College. The common barberry bush causes the black stem rust on wheat, oats, barley, rye and other grains and grasses. This rust is very injurious and it is estimated that it costs the farmers of the county over sixty million dollars every year.

Salt, which is being used in Charlevoix County to destroy the common barberry, has been found to be the most satisfactory chemical to use, due to its great killing power. It takes only ten pounds of salt to kill a barberry in which the clump of stems is not over 12 inches in diameter at the surface of the ground. In pasture land it is, however, many times necessary to use kerosene due to the danger of cattle eating to much salt. In the use of kerosene it has been found that one gallon is equal to ten pounds of salt; that is 1 gallon of salt will kill a barberry the crown of which is 12 inches in diameter at the base.

That barberries in most cases should be chemically treated and not dug is very important. When the bushes are dug small fragments or roots left in the ground will sprout. This means that where digging is difficult, as in rocky ground and around stumps and trees, unless unusual care is taken to remove all fragments and roots, sprouts are sure to develop. In lawns or gardens where careful watch can be kept the problem is not so serious for in a year or so all roots left at the first digging may be removed. With bushes which are growing wild in pasture or wood lots the problem is different and chemicals must be employed.

The navy placed an order for a 200,000 cubic foot, metal clad, dirigible with the Aircraft Development company at Detroit, the machine to be finished in 400 days. The cost of the ship, as fixed by congress, will be $300,000.

Hall Kin Held Without Bail in Double Murder

Somerville, N. J.—Henry de La Bruyere Carpender and "Willie" Stevens were held without bail awaiting action of the grand jury on the charge that they murdered Rev. Dr. Edward W. Hall and Mrs. Eleanor Mills four years ago on the Phillips farm near New Brunswick, N. J.

Mrs. Frances Stevens Hall, widow of the slain clergyman, is at liberty in $15,000 bail. She also is awaiting the action of a Somerset county grand jury on a charge of murder. Fast on the heels of the state's decision to seek first degree indictments against Carpender and Stevens came the announcement that an effort would be made to revoke Mrs. Hall's bail.

Fire in Kaniksu National Forest

Charred ruins are all that remain in the wake of the forest fires that for the last month have been sweeping the Kaniksu National forest in northern Idaho. More than 70,000 acres have been covered by the fire. Valuable stands of white pine and cedar, and reproduction stands that have reached a growth of 50 to 80 years have been rased. The conflagration, started probably by a careless camper, sweeps through the forest at the rate of 15 miles an hour.

DOING AS THE OTHERS DO

By THOMAS ARKLE CLARK, Dean of Men, University of Illinois.

"FOR I had gone with the multitude," David wrote thousands of years ago, but he was going to church, and not everyone goes in that direction now, though there is still a good many people who follow rather than lead.

It is curious, however, to what extent we do follow the multitude and justify ourselves in doing so, and even turn the critical eye upon those who do not. I am looked upon with some curiosity because I never played a game of mah-jongg, nor have I listened in on a radio, nor invested any money in Florida, nor talked a great deal either for or against prohibition.

It is far easier to follow the multitude than to keep out of its way. One attracts less attention, arouses less comment, is less likely to be thought freakish or queer. Those who wish to be inconspicuous must conform.

Many young people who are going to college these days are merely following the crowd. They have joined themselves to the multitude. They are chasing down the intellectual streets without purpose or definite intention. They don't know whether they are going to a fire or to a fight. They move because the crowd is moving.

"Why did you come to college?" I asked Browning. He seemed not to be working much; he was absent a great deal; he was passing little or nothing. "I don't know," he replied, "I never thought much about it. The other fellows whom I knew were going, so I thought I would go, too."

He was going to college as David was going to church. I have never known whether or not David was interested in church for its own sake or whether he was going because the others were.

Everyone was riding bicycles thirty years ago—for pleasure, for profit, for exercise. Four of us went off on a jaunt of a thousand miles or more right in the middle of July, too, with the sun pouring down fit to roast us alive and the roads in some places inches deep in dust. Everybody rode then—young and old, rich and poor, as people drive cars today. They were all doing it and boasting of how many "centuries" they had made and in what time they could go a mile. I recall now two old people, past eighty both of them, who cycled out every day just for the pleasure of it, as many today are practicing the strenuous movements of the charleston. They could not resist the influence of the crowd.

If some prominent person would start the custom of going to church, we should be as enthusiastic as David was, no doubt, and fall in-line because our neighbors were doing so.

WORLD WILL NEVER BE WITHOUT FOOD

No Limit on Synthetic Products, Chemist Says

Williamsport, Pa.—The world will never want for food. There will always be enough to eat for everybody, and if we ever reach the very unlikely situation when there will be too many mouths to feed because of increase of population over the available food supply, we can live on yeast food products, which the chemist stands ready to supply in limitless quantities.

This, in substance, was the cheerful statement made before the institute of politics by Dr. H. E. Barnard, president of the American Institute of Baking and a noted chemist, in a discussion of the world food problem.

"To the chemist, the malthusian doctrine is but the sad reflection of a pessimistic world," said Doctor Barnard to the approval of many scientists in the audience. "It may be possible theoretically to foresee a time when our food supply will not be sufficient to meet the increase in population, but that time cannot be measured in terms of the extension of areas available for the production of cereal grains nor the ability of tillable lands to produce forage for conversion into meat."

"It is not too soon in the development of the synthetic food industry," Doctor Barnard continued, "to predict that if the need ever comes, the chemist will find a way to convert the light of sun and the nitrogen of the air into food for the human family. Already processes have been developed for the production of human food through the growth of the yeast plant which makes it possible to produce food at a very low cost and in enormous quantities."

Retail Food Prices on Decline in 44 Cities

Washington.—For the month ending July 15, retail prices of food in the United States declined in 44 major cities for which government records were kept, it was announced by the Labor department. The department's food price index for the period showed a decline of more than 2 per cent to a 157 index, as compared with 159.7 June 15, the report said.

Fourteen articles, the report said, were cheaper during the month, potatoes leading the decline with an 18 per cent slump. Thirteen articles increased, a 3 per cent advance in fresh eggs being the highest. Fifteen showed no change.

Of the 44 cities showing decreases, Cleveland, with a 6 per cent, had the largest, while Kansas City was second, with a 4 per cent drop in average costs. Butte, Manchester and New Orleans, with a 1 per cent average increase, and Birmingham, Houston, Los Angeles and Mobile, with less than one-half of 1 per cent, were the cities where prices were higher.

45,064,000 Acres Wheat to Be Sown This Year

Washington.—According to reports received by the Department of Agriculture from about 40,000 farmers, a total of 45,064,000 acres will be sown to winter wheat this year.

The acreage is 14.4 per cent in excess of that sown last fall and, if the intentions as indicated by the report are carried out, greater than the acreage of any year except the years of 1918, 1920, 1921 and 1922.

EASY TO DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR
You Can Bring Back Color and Lustre With Sage Tea and Sulphur

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it's done so naturally, so evenly. Preparing this mixture, though, at home is messy and troublesome. At little cost you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully darkened, glossy and luxuriant.

Drink Water If Kidneys Bother
Take a Tablespoonful of Salts if Back Pains or Bladder is Irritated

Flush your kidneys by drinking a quart of water each day, also take salts occasionally, says a noted authority, who tells us that too much rich food fortifies acids which almost-paralyze the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaker; then you may suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To help neutralize these irritating acids; to help cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste, get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here. Take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days, and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder weakness. Jad Salts is inexpensive; can not injure and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

Woman Urged Inoculation

Lady Mary Wortley Montagu, wife of a British ambassador to Constantinople, is credited with having been the first person to encourage inoculation against smallpox among the British doctors. She had such good results in Turkey that she later persuaded Doctor Maitland to introduce it into England. Dr. Edward Jenner is the one who placed inoculation upon scientific basis.

Northern Michigan
Needs Man Like
Cal Campbell

Has Interest of Entire District at Heart and Has No Acre to Grind or Projects to Father—Stands Fair and Squares in Interests For 48 Years as a Resident of the People Just as He Has of Northern Michigan.

In seeking the office of State Senator from this district, Cal Campbell, former railroad man and now owner of the Campbell Stone Company at Afton, Mich., has no axes to grind. He has no normal schools to locate, and no pet projects to father. He does, however, have the utmost faith in the great north country and if nominated and elected will devote his best efforts in its development.

Mr. Campbell, prior to the time he started in the stone business, was a conductor on the Michigan Central Railroad and for years, ran trains into that great wilderness. Gradually it became settled and began to develop. Since the first time Mr. Campbell came into the north (that was back when he was 12 years of age) he has been a lover of this north country and wants to see it made into the great playground that it should be.

It was 48 years ago that Mr. Campbell, then a boy of 12, landed at Gaylord. His family took up residence there and each of the children are now well known throughout the entire north. Mr. Campbell has had ideas about the development of the north.
He has watched the progress made by the individual localities. He has watched the growth and has helped in it, but the efforts must be co-ordinated and to this end, Mr. Campbell has pledged himself. The resort property around the great lakes in this region is one of the biggest assets. To get this resort property opened up, the State must take an active interest.

Along the east side of the State from Alpena to Mackinaw City, the State should begin at once to open up a shoreline road that will place upon the tax rolls of the counties, hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of taxable property and at the same time will open up to development miles and miles of beautiful shore line property.

The road along Lake Michigan shore
from Mackinaw City to Harbor Springs should be built at once.

These are things that Cal Campbell stands for and there are more, but they are not of a selfish nature. He believes that the whole northern section of the State should unite for the common good of the people and the region. He believes that co-operation among the counties of the north, should and will,
if properly directed, do more to develop this section of the State, than any other one thing.

Cal Campbell is not a politician. He is not an office holder. He has never before let his name appear as a candidate for anything. He has never asked favors of the Republican party altho-he has been an active worker in the organization all his life. Mr. Campbell entered the race, not through choice,
but because the people of this district urged him to. They wanted a fair and square big, two-fisted man to represent them in the legislature. A man whom they could put their faith in and know that Northern Michigan had a champion from the ground up. Such a man is Cal Campbell and because he is, he agreed after friends had asked him for months, to let his name appear on the ballots.

The legislature needs such men as Cal Campbell who will stand squarely
for the things Northern Michigan
needs, and Northern Michigan needs
such a man in the legislature.

The people of this district can therefore work to their own interests and the interests of the entire north, if they will but stand together and elect a man as Senator who will represent the entire district. Such a man is Cal Campbell of Indian River. In the 48 years he has lived in Northern Michigan, no man has ever said he was not fair, square and above board. Can the people of this great playground ask for more in a man who is to represent them? Let's forget personal prejudices and elect a man who will do something for Northern Michigan in the next two years.—Advertisement.

Earliest Kind of Soap

Mankind in a very early period in its history discovered the necessity of soap to remove dirt and grease. The publican Ticket, at the Primary Election September 14th, 1926.

I Will Appreciate Your

Pros. Att'y Fitch
Has Made A Commendable Record

To the Electors of Charlevoix County:
In response to inquiries from various parts of the county, I am taking this means of advising you that I have decided to be a candidate for another term as your Prosecuting Attorney. I have never been in favor of continued office holding, although it is a fact that too frequent changes are detrimental to the public service and expensive to the taxpayers. It happens to be the case at this time that the only other candidate for the office would be a third term holder, if elected, so both stand on the same footing in that respect.

Another thing that prompted me to be a candidate is that I wish to see the successful completion of important changes and improvements in the methods of handling county business.
The records will convince you that during the past three and one-half years considerable has been accomplished of a constructive character that has saved
the taxpayers of the county many thousands of dollars. But the time has been altogether too short to do what I believe should be done. There is a lot more to this office than the mere enforcement of the criminal laws. During my term I have tried to keep in touch with the county business with the object in view of co-operating with other county officials and with the city, village and township authorities, to provide better service and cut down county expenses.

I am told by friends that I owe it to you and also to myself to publish a full statement of the facts, but I don't believe this is the proper time to do it for the reason that it could be considered as a political move on my part and that I was "tooting my own horn."
The records are public records and show for themselves. Besides I have not sufficient space here to do it.
However, here are a few things which the records show.

1. A large reduction in the expenses of the office, the total being less than one-half of the expenses of former years, all in spite of an increased volume of work.

2. A close supervision over the item of costs in criminal cases to re-emburse
the general fund. To date close to $8000 has been paid into the County
Treasury in fines and costs, a sum more than three times that of any like previous period. I do not claim all the credit for this result, but I do claim that I was instrumental in correcting a former loose condition of affairs.

3. Putting into effect a uniform system of accounts of Justices of the Peace whereby all accounts are passed through the county auditing committee.
The County Treasurer's books show that up to April 1st, 1926, the Justices of the County turned into the county treasury the tidy sum of $3,134.48.

4. In co-operation with the County Clerk putting into effect a system of probation and alimony records whereby all money payments are handled
through the County Clerks office.

5. Advice and assistance to Township and school officers without charge.

6. A careful avoidance of petty prosecutions, thorough investigation before authorizing warrants, and few acquittals by a jury.

7. Not dollar of county money paid out for the assistance of other attorneys in the trial of cases.

I shall not make an active campaign for the nomination, but will leave the choice entirely to you without any solicitation on my part. If selected by you, I shall give the office the best I have and improve the service where-ever possible. I have made mistakes, I know, but they were not wilful nor intentional. I have also made enemies because of the nature of my duties,
but I have persecuted no one.

This is a longer statement than I intended to make, but I hope it shows you just where I stand, and exactly how I feel. Whatever your decision may be, I shall always be an earnest candidate for the friendship and goodwill of the people of Charlevoix County.

Sincerely yours,
A. L. FITCH.

Telescope and Field Glass

A telescope is in general of higher power than the field glass and will enable one to distinguish detail at a greater distance. It is more difficult to hold steady because of its length, and the increased magnification makes steady holding more necessary. These are the disadvantages of the telescope.

Combines Duty and Joy

Many things that once seemed essential and indispensable have been abandoned in our hurried times; but there are a few things that we cannot give up without tragic loss. One of these is little likelihood that we shall ever abandon this, when we have once discovered that it is not only a duty and a privilege but a joy.

Frank D. Scott, Now A Power At Washington,
Is Able To Get Things

This District Now Among Leaders In Congress Due To Frank Scott's Continued Efforts To Do What Is Right. He Is Now a Power In The Lower House.

When the voters of this great Congressional district, the largest in the entire state, go to the polls on Sept.
14th to decide the question of sending Frank D. Scott back to Washington to represent the interests of this district
there are some extremely important questions to be answered.

Probably the most important is the one which every voter should keep constantly in mind—what can this district expect from Congress? Outwardly this would appear a selfish question, but it is not. This 11th Michigan district, to the people who reside in it, is just as important as the wealthiest district in the United States. It is just as important to the people of this district to get things done, as it is to the people of the great metropolitan centers. If therefor, is not selfish to consider as a first question, what can we expect of Congress for our own district? On this one question alone, the people of this district should decide who is to be the next Congressman.

As an example of how strongly Frank Scott is entrenched at Washington, the following letter from "Nick" Longworth, speaker of the house, is published. It will be noted that the speaker is sufficiently acquainted with Frank Scott to call him by his first name. This, when it is considered that there are over 400 congressmen
in the house, from all parts of the country indicates in itself, the esteem in which he is regarded by the powers there.

The Speaker's Rooms,

July 6th, 1926

Hon. Frank D. Scott,
House of Representatives,
Washington, D. C.

Dear Frank: I was sorry not to see you after adjournment on Saturday to say good-bye, and to wish you every success in the coming campaign.

I haven't heard whether you are going to have any serious opposition, but I surely hope you will not. I don't want to flatter you, but I do want to say that while I was majority Leader and since I have been Speaker, I have always counted on you as one of our wheel horses, in carrying out our legislative program. And another thing about it is that I always know that I always know that when you, as Chairman, report a bill from your committee, it has been carefully and thoroughly considered.

Wishing you a pleasant vacation, and hoping that the people of your district will return you to congress, I am

Very sincerely yours,
NICHOLAS LONGWORTH.

With the prestige evidenced by this letter, and the esteem in which Frank Scott is regarded by the most powerful member of Congress, can the people of this district afford not to return him?
Congressman Scott has reached the point in Washington where he can and does accomplish things. It will be serving the best interests of the district if you vote for him on Sept. 14th.

STATE NEWS IN BRIEF

Muskegon—People at Lake Harbor colony, all in attendance at the Paul Rader summer evangelistic conference, are more numerous now than they have been at any time since Mr. Rader made the Muskegon resort his summer headquarters.

Flint—Buick automobiles exceeded in retail sales all previous records during the fiscal year ending July 31, according to an announcement made by E. T. Strong, general sales manager. The company sold 240,424 automobiles during the year, according to the annual report.

Grand Rapids—Superintendent of Police A. A. Carroll has called a halt to motorists whose originality in tire carrier slogans has led them into display of suggestive banners. "We will ask for warrants if exhibition of suggestive slogans is continued," said the police superintendent.

Lansing—Absorption of the Southern Michigan Light & Power company operating near Hudson, by the Consumers Power company has been authorized by the state public utilities commission. No changes in rates were ordered. The issuance of securities to finance the merger and improvements was allowed.

Grand Rapids—Fifty-five officers and men of the Grand Rapids Naval contingent of the Ninth Naval District left here Friday, August 18, for Philadelphia where they were scheduled to board the United States torpedo boat destroyer Smith Thompson for a 15-day cruise. The contingent is a part of the Thirteenth division which was chosen for this sea cruise because it stood third in efficiency in the 53 district in the entire middle west.

Lansing—The state public utilities commission has approved a permit authorizing the United States Trucking service to operate freight carrying motor vehicles from Port Huron to Detroit. The route will be by way of Algonac, Marine City and St. Clair. The company has been doing a contract business for some time. Other permits granted were for the Davis Truck company, from Port Huron to Croswell and J. W. Armsted, from Saginaw to Bad Axe.

Lansing—Approximately $16,500,000 must be withdrawn at once from the 200 banks which are state depositories to permit the distribution of the state primary school fund to the counties. According to Frank D. McKay, state treasurer, there is about $22,000,000 on deposit, including all classes of funds. The withdrawal of the primary school fund will leave a balance of only about $5,500,000, a considerably smaller surplus than was on hand last year and in previous years.

Ypsilanti—Plans are under way here for a celebration Aug. 30 of the opening of the last link in the Ypsilanti-Saline pavement on M-23. The route of M-23 follows the old Chicago turnpike, rich in legend and history, which formerly was a military road connecting Fort Wayne at Detroit with Fort Dearborn, at Chicago. The new road will provide a route from Detroit to Chicago which will be about 85 miles shorter than the present route through Kalamazoo and St. Joseph.

Grand Rapids—Through friends smuggling to his bedside liquor which he concealed in his cast, David Donatits, 40 years old, a farmer, managed to stay in an intoxicated condition for a week, according to his attendants. The manner in which he acquired the liquor remained a mystery for several days. It was stated. Finally nurses examined a cast placed upon his hip, which was fractured in an automobile accident and discovered a bottle partly filled with liquor. It is said.

Escanaba—Unable to raise money to buy a license for his automobile, A. G. Brattland, 55 years old, of Lethrop, Mich., is said to have manufactured a pair of plates so skillfully that it was not until a mortgage on the car was foreclosed that the forgery was discovered. Brattland was arrested by Dan Vangawner, deputy inspector for the Michigan department of state and bound over to Circuit Court on a charge of counterfeiting. Vangawner believes the case is the first of its kind in Michigan.

Battle Creek—Declaring he had been the victim of confidence men for a total of $55,000, Phillip E. Beltrano, of West Walnut, Pa., a guest at a sanitarium here, appealed to the local police here for aid in locating the swindlers. Beltrano said he was swindled on a horse race betting proposition after two men had gained his confidence by placing small winning wagers. Returns were good for several days, Beltrano said, and then he allowed the swindlers to place large bets for him.

Edmore—Leonard Templer, gasoline truck driver, was perhaps fatally burned when Louis Murphy, who was standing near the truck as it discharged its supply of gasoline at a service station here, is said to have struck a match to light a cigaret. The gasoline was ignited and Templer was surrounded by flames. Murphy, fearing an explosion might cause a disastrous fire, jumped into the driver's seat of the truck and drove the flaming vehicle to the village limits, where the fire was extinguished with chemicals.

CLINE'S REFORMATION

By THOMAS ARKLE CLARK Dean of Men, University of Illinois.

THERE was no doubt of it, Cline needed very much to be reformed, and the obligation seemed to be upon the organization to which he belonged to bring it about. He was a talented fellow about whom everyone gathered as soon as he came into the house. He told stories delightfully with an engaging humor that was irresistible. His narratives were never encumbered or handicapped by fact. He could sing beautifully and improvised his own accompaniments without the least hesitation. The songs he chose were not always the most refined; the stories he told not always the most elevating, and though he was always amusing, it was pretty generally agreed that his influence upon the freshmen was hardly wholesome. He had too much to say of bibulous escapades of which he had been a part; his references to women, whom he had known or who had tried to know him, were not infrequently unpleasantly suggestive; the sums of money he admitted that he had won in games of chance were not likely to help to eliminate gambling; and he told a good many tales of examinations passed by questionable methods. Whatever happens to the rest of the members of an organization, the freshmen at least must be kept innocent so the fellows were worried.

There was a good deal of discussion on the part of the older men. They didn't want to offend Cline; they wanted to save the freshman to a life of temperance and virtue, and so they took up the matter with the executive committee. The executive committee saw the situation, and met it at once. Cline was disciplined; he was denied the privilege of the clubhouse; he was to keep away from the freshmen. Poor Cline had never realized his derelictions; he had thought himself in favor with everyone. He was crushed; he was humiliated; he burst into tears when called before the committee to discuss his penalty.

"You've been a fool, and you've got to reform," the chairman of the committee said to Cline. "Maybe you are not worse than a lot of other people, but you talk about it too much. You perpetrate all your irregularities in the midst of your friends. When you get drunk, everyone knows it. When you run about with careless women you do it openly. You don't use your head. When Gregory here, for instance, wants to do the indiscreet thing he goes to Chicago or New York or New Orleans. At home his influence is fine. He is looked upon as a most exemplary citizen. He never talks about his evil practices. If you've got to raise Cain, go out of town."

And so Cline was reformed, and youth was no longer subjected to evil influences. The boys knew that Cline was no better than he had been before, but he didn't talk any more. He had learned the theory which many people accept, that it doesn't so much matter what you do, as where you do it. If you are going to rob a bank or commit murder, go out of town. Climbers

Social climbers are particularly amusing in towns where there isn't much to climb to.—Baltimore Sun.

Bay City—The tribe of Ben Hur held its annual state convention here August 20 and 21. Two hundred attended the sessions. A banquet and recreational program are the features.

Owosso—The Michigan Association of Cleaners & Dyers held its summer convention here August 16, with 100 delegates in attendance. Sports followed a picnic luncheon at noon, and in the evening city officials and officers of the association spoke at a banquet for the visitors.

Marshall—State police are on duty at the Knight farm on M-17 at the Union church on the Gorsline road and east of Burlington on M-80 in an effort to check the spread of the corn borer. All automobiles on route west are stopped and searched for corn. If any is found in the cars it is confiscated.

Lansing—A warning that the state should not overtax resort property unless it wishes to kill the industry that is building up the northern part of the state was sounded by representatives of Emmet, Clare, Charlevoix and other counties at the recent hearings before the state board of equalization.

Battle Creek—Mrs. James J. Davis, wife of the secretary of labor in the President Coolidge cabinet, has registered at the Sanitarium. She was accompanied by her four daughters. Mr. Davis is making a trip to California, accompanied by his son. He expects to join his wife and daughters here in about a month.

Grand Rapids—Within the next fortnight the Shore Line Motor Coach company will have a new bus line in operation between Grand Rapids and Chicago, according to a recent announcement. The company is owned in part by the Chicago, South Shore & South Bend railroad, which is a subsidiary of the Midland Utilities company.

Brooklyn—Despite the masculine appearance and development of capons, they make ideal foster mothers for chickens on the farm, according to Mrs. Garnet B. Thatcher, poultry woman, who has been very successful rearing chickens under big capons. A flock of chickens is perfectly safe so long as it has the protection of a "motherly" capon, Mrs. Thatcher reports.

Munising—The most disastrous fire to visit Munising in 10 years occurred here August 15, when a blaze of undetermined origin swept the Cleveland Cliffs Iron Co.'s saw-mill, causing a loss estimated to exceed $100,000. A brisk south wind is believed to have been all that prevented the flying sparks from igniting the lumber yard, and subsequently endangering the entire city.

Lansing—Reduced valuations in upper peninsula mining counties have been recommended by the state tax commission because the industry is at a low ebb and mining may be at an end in a few years unless new processes for using low grade ore are developed. George Lord, chairman of the commission, stated when hearings opened before the state board of equalization recently.

Port Huron—Miss Bina M. West, first woman president of the National Fraternal Congress of America, presided at the annual convention in Buffalo, N. Y., August 16 to 20. Harbor Springs—Squaws and aristocrats, red men and whites mingled at the annual Indian picnic held at Cross Village. The event was held under the direction of the Catholic parish and a substantial sum was realized to assist in the education of the Indian children. Resorters, local residents and visitors from neighboring towns attended. The feature event was a regular Indian powwow in ancient costume, war paint and feathers by Dave Saganokwaada and Helen Kykove.

Grand Rapids—The tuber worm, a new pest in the fields of eastern Virginia, promises to open up a new and important outlet for Michigan seed and table potatoes, according to B. O. Hagerman, agricultural agent of the Pennsylvania Railroad, who has returned from a tour of the Atlantic Coast potato producing states. Restrictions have been placed on planting potatoes in that state in an effort to control the pest, making these growers dependent on northern states for seed and table potatoes.

Lansing—Escanaba and other Northern Michigan cities may intervene in the suit instituted recently by the Detroit Board of Education seeking an injunction to prevent the distribution of five per cent of the primary school fund to the so-called poorer counties. Several other cities may participate in the litigation. Detroit charges the proposed distribution is unconstitutional. The Detroit Board of Education alleges it will be damaged to the amount of $200,000 if five per cent of the fund is held out for the poorer counties.

The GIRL IN THE MIRROR

by Elizabeth Jordan

The graceful writer, Elizabeth Jordan, who has utilized the experiences and observations of her long career as a newspaper woman in New York as a source for fiction plots, is never better than when dealing with romance and adventure in a setting of mystery. Here is one of her most pleasant and satisfactory stories. The characters are delightful, there is a thrill on almost every page and an absolutely unguessable mystery that is not cleared up until the very end.

Do you know what God made is good enough for me, and I ain't got to grow myself out of it.—Atlanta Constitution.

ALWAYS TIRED AT NIGHT—TRY THIS

A healthy person never feels constantly tired. Being "too tired" continually is a sign of something wrong. When John E. Gordon, Danville, Ill., found himself "always tired at night and burdened with headache," he took Foley Pills, a diuretic stimulant for the kidneys, and writes: "After a few doses, I felt better, could work with more ease, became stronger and could sleep better." What Foley Pills have done for others they may do for you. Guaranteed to give satisfaction. Ask for Foley Pills.—Hite's Drug Store, adv.

SCHOOL DAYS

WHEN I WAS TWENTY-ONE

BY JOSEPH KAYE

At 21—Henry Holt, the Publisher, studied Law.

AT THE age of twenty-one I was a student at Yale, but with the ambition to be an author.

"When I got out of college, however, I did as the other boys without any particular bent did in those days—studied law.

"I married at the end of my first year in the college law school. My patrimony was not quite equal to matrimony and I began to think of quicker avenues to a livelihood than law.

"Having always had an itch for authorship, I also had doubts whether depending upon authorship for a living is either good for the authorship or the living. So I began to think of the publishing business.

"A classmate of mine had become clerk in the internal revenue office in New York. The collector of the district was G. P. Putnam, who had a publishing office, but his publishing interests were subordinate to his collectorship. He was then doing the 'Artist's' edition of Washington Irving's 'Sketch Book.' It was costing much more than he expected and he gave me an opportunity to invest a little to complete it.

"All my experience in the venture, however, was restricted to going, by Mr. Putnam's advice, to the bindery and printing office to see how the work was done.—Henry Holt.

TODAY—Mr. Holt is one of the most noted publishers in America. He has now retired from business, having reached the good old age of eighty-six. He founded the firm of Henry Holt & Co., and for some years he published the "Unpopular Review," a famous publication in its time, distinguished by its wit, cleverness and high standards.

It is an interesting coincidence that Mr. G. P. Putnam, another publisher whom Mr. Holt mentions above, has also reached the years beyond the eighties.

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT

By F. A. WALKER

DARKENED WINDOWS

IT IS not for you who dwell continually behind darkened windows to see the beautiful things that are everywhere about you, beckoning you to look and be filled with the joy unspoken.

It is not for you who have been made sightless by the gloom of evil thoughts, envies and hates, to know and feel the tranquilizing influence of the green earth, the cedar groves, the grazing kine and the inspiring grandeur of the boundless outdoors, when the light of day is fading and the clear new moon shines in the west like a crescent of lustrous silver.

The glorious dome above, with its ever-changing cloud-lands, with its sordid hills below, the winding streams lit by golden sunlight, the shaded woods and the purple pools are always calling you to friendly communion.

Through the winds come their invitation to closer companionship and friendliness.

If you will listen you will hear their voices in the sigh of the trees, in the pattering rain, in the roaring storm, or in the silent night, when you suddenly awake as if waiting for the fulfillment of some splendid promise!

You may be versed in language, letters and art; you may be accomplished beyond the highest accomplishments of those upon whom you look as friends; you may have a superabundance of wealth, able by a mere gesture of a hand to compel thousands to yield to your wishes, but if you live behind darkened windows you are not getting from life the great things intended to make of you a better man or woman, by giving you glimpses of heaven.

Of the nobler impulses, the higher aspirations, the greater emotions and the loftier dreams, you are utterly destitute.

Your heart is as bare as a desert, bereft of verdure and flowers, barren of faith and unhappiness.

And it is quite possible, too, that you know nothing of true love, nothing of the fine intimacies between souls, which tongues cannot name or express, for you have broken the vial and spilled the essence of truth and imperishability.

If you are living behind darkened windows, fling aside the curtains, open wide the casements and let God's sunshine flood your house of clay until you, ennobled therein, shall feel the living warmth of His enduring love and praise Him.

THE YOUNG LADY ACROSS THE WAY

The young lady across the way says she believes in perfect equality and when women do equal work with men they ought to receive equal pay, if not more.

(By McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

The Right Man

"Won't you give me one kiss?" he begged.

"No," she replied shyly. "I'm saving my kisses until the right man comes along."

A harsh voice spoke up from under the sofa:

"You mean that Wednesday nights guy, don't you, hey?" it asked.
