Many Attractions At County Fair Sept. 14-15-16

A Full Day's Program For Each Day.

Charlevoix County's Big Annual Event will be held next week when the Forty-Second annual meet of the Charlevoix County Agricultural Society will be staged at East Jordan.

Secretary Frank Bird, backed by a live-wire bunch of Directors, has been busy for some time past getting a program arranged, and when the many details are considered, this is no small matter.

Already a fine string of race horses have been entered and the speed events will be better than usual. Free attractions have been provided in abundance, and the exhibits will be the largest in the history of the Association.

Go To THE FAIR Next Week.

TRI-COUNTY REALTORS FINISH ORGANIZATION

All preliminaries to the organization of the Tri-County Real Estate Board, were completed Tuesday, Aug. 31st at a meeting held at Wolverine Hotel, Boyne City. This board is composed of real estate brokers from Antrim, Charlevoix and Emmet counties who have banded together to promote standardized real estate practice, a code of ethics, co-operation among themselves, and protection for the public against dishonesty and irregularity. It will apply for membership in the Michigan Real Estate Association and the National Association of Real Estate Boards, which will give local members the privilege of using the title "realtor" and enjoying the benefits that go with that title.

Constitution and by-laws were adopted at this meeting; and the officers elected are: T. B. McCutcheon of Bellaire, president; E. C. Mathews of Harbor Springs, vice president; S. C. Smith of Petoskey, treasurer; and Charles Emery of Charlevoix, secretary. In all, fourteen members were enrolled Tuesday and others who were unable to be present have signified their intention of joining later.

This board has the distinction of drawing upon larger territory for its membership than other boards of the kind; but it is felt by the founders that with the interests of the three counties being so nearly similar their co-operation will be highly profitable.

IRONTON FERRY HAS BUSY TIME

The new ferry for autos and passengers which bridges the gap in the Charlevoix-Boyne City section of the drive around Pine Lake, is doing a thriving business, and it is estimated there were transported 5,000 cars during the month of August. In one day this season it handled 500.

The boat is named the Charlevoix, is 24x50 feet, of steel construction and has a capacity for six cars. It was built at Ferrysburg and was towed up Lake Michigan to Pine Lake. It is maintained by Charlevoix county, and the total cost of ferry and docks was $15,000.

There is a continuous 24 hour service excepting midnight and 4 a. m. when trips are made hourly. The craft is modern in every respect, being equipped with a Diesel oil-burning engine and other up-to-date accessories. It has a displacement of 37 gross tons and the engine is of 45 horsepower.

Samuel Alexander is in command, and has operated a ferry at that point for the last 23 years, and has built-up a well deserved business through courteous treatment, and is known to tourists from one end of the country to the other. His assistants are his son, Ross Alexander, and Lyle Wangeman.

The Ironton ferry, as it is called, was started in 1882 by a man named Bedwin who began business with a small row boat. There were no autos in those days, but tourists already had discovered that northern Michigan was an ideal summer resort section. Later Bedwin enlarged his business with a scow and then came the ferry Eveline, which has been succeeded by the Charlevoix.

READJUSTMENT OF LONG DISTANCE TELEPHONE RATES

General readjustment of long distance telephone rates between points in Michigan and points outside the state and in the evening and night period during which reduced rates apply, are announced by C. L. Johnson, manager here for the Michigan Bell Telephone, the changes becoming effective October 1. Mr. Johnson states that these changes are made in the interests of public convenience and to eliminate service difficulties encountered under the present schedule of rates to points outside the state. Readjustment of long distance rates between points within the state were made effective July 10.

According to the telephone official, the net result of the readjustment in rates will be a saving to the telephone users of the United States of approximately $3,000,000 a year.

To points outside the 150 miles or more distant, rates will be substantially reduced, as they already have between points in Michigan. The reduction will become greater with increased distance. For example, from Detroit to St. Louis the basic station-to-station rate will be $2.30 instead of the present $3.00; $5.25 instead of $7.40 to Denver, to San Francisco, $9.30 instead of $13.45. These reductions are made possible partially through the use of long distance cables, vacuum tube repeaters and other improved devices and methods resulting from the continuous scientific research and development applied to the telephone business.

Many rates for distances between 24 and 110 miles will be adjusted to make the schedule consistent throughout, but in these cases the increase of the basic station-to-station (Anyone) rate will be only five cents.

The reduced night and evening period has been lengthened one and a half hours, under the proposed readjustment and will affect service between points within the state as well as that between Michigan cities and outside points. Reduced rates on station-to-station (Anyone) calls will begin at 7 p. m., instead of 8:30 as formerly, the discount to be approximately 25 per cent of the day station-to-station (Anyone) rates, increasing to a discount of approximately 50 per cent of the day station-to-station (Anyone) rates between 8:30 p. m. and 4:30 a. m. These discounts will apply on calls on which the station-to-station (Anyone) rate is 40 cents or more, with a minimum reduced rate of 35 cents. Because of the unsatisfactory service conditions encountered under the discount still in effect on calls to night and 4:30 a. m., that discount is to be discontinued.

By lengthening the period of the reduced rates on this class of calls, Mr. Johnson says, it is expected that complications of service after midnight which have resulted in delays and have placed a heavy burden on the facilities and the employees, will be eliminated, very largely. The midnight reduction, he states, has made it necessary, particularly in the larger centers, to retain on duty large forces of operators to care for merely a brief rush of calls. It is anticipated that with the longer reduced rate period, many of these calls will be spread over other hours.

The extension of the reversed charge privilege to station-to-station (Anyone) calls, both day and night rates, is another advantage to the user of the long distance service included in the proposed changes. This will apply on all calls of this classification of service on which the rate is 25 cents or more. In the past, this privilege has been applied only to person-to-person (Particular Person) calls. With the ever-increasing use of the long distance service, however, and with many occasions arising in which reversing of charges would be an advantage to the customer who calls for a certain number, the company has decided to extend this privilege.

Time For State Senator

It will take more than a thin and flimsy excuse to remove the suspicion that one is lacking in the finer qualities of citizenship if they fail to cast their vote at the primaries next Tuesday, September 14th. The man or woman who never loses an opportunity to advance their claim to pure Americanism, and then because it happens to be a rainy day, or they are too busy, should realize that the greatest danger to this Republic today is not the Communist, but the one who stays away from the voting booth and thereby permits a government by minorities.

We are coming to the closing hours of a primary campaign that has been out in the open for over four months, and which has been carried to every part of the state. The issues of the present campaign have been clearly defined and the field limited to two candidates so that for the first time a majority vote will be cast in favor of a single candidate.

For the sake of the primary and the cause of good government in Michigan the present battle should be settled in a decisive manner by an overwhelming vote, and not by a small percentage of those entitled to the rights by franchise. You would shoulder a gun and die in the defense of your country, if need be; then show your patriotic love by the simple matter of going to the polls next Tuesday. You will be a better citizen by doing this—and your friends and neighbors will not fail to recognize that fact.

The citizen and not the primary is on trial. Cast your ballot early next Tuesday.

What would the answer be if you were refused the ballot—a musket on the shoulder and the tread of marching feet. Be a better citizen and vote Tuesday, September 14th.

This Baby Has Two Birthdays

When the United States navy transport Chaumont arrived at San Francisco recently there was a baby on board who will celebrate two birthdays. The Chaumont was crossing the 180th meridian when little Harold Chaumont Flynn came into the world. Inasmuch as he was born on a forty-eight-hour day, he will hereafter celebrate two days a year as his birthday. The father is Quartermaster Sergeant Harold Flynn of the marine corps who was en route with his family from Cavite, P. I., to the aviation field at Quantico, Va. Our photograph shows Mrs. Flynn with little Harold.

URGES VOTERS TO ENDORSE DRY CANDIDATES

August 27, 1926.
To the Women of Charlevoix County: Because Michigan is so largely Republican, the candidates for State offices who win out at the September primaries are practically sure of being elected in November. This is also true of County candidates in this county, so the primary election is very important here.

The best way to show approval of the prohibition amendment and its enforcement is to vote for dry candidates at the primaries. We can hardly expect those who are not in sympathy with the laws to enforce them wholeheartedly.

One of the oddities of American life is the fact that millions of voters do not vote. Many organizations in order to change this condition are working for a 100% vote and are making it their business to interest the voters and get them to the polls.

What most women want is a 100% Dry Vote, and to insure this we urge them in every locality to organize a house to house canvass and to talk everywhere the danger of a wet majority unless every dry vote is cast. Saturday, September 4th, is the last day to register. The Primary Election is Tuesday, September 14th. EVERY PATRIOTIC CITIZEN WILL VOTE!

Being Ahead of the Times

Office of Uncle George Has Been Removed From in the Saddle and on the Jump to Hotel Lobbies and Hotel Porches.

Charlevoix, Michigan, Sept. 5th, 1926.

Mr. Editor: You know and I know that all those who have been ahead of the times in which he lived, has been harassed and persecuted and made little of because of their increasing devotion to any pet hobby that they may have accumulated. So it has been with me. In my case I have come off the victor. I was not because I had discovered or invented anything new, but for having examined and gone thoroughly into the merits of Good Concrete Roads, and saw the needs of the people for transportation purposes, and the absolute durability of this road. I saw plainly that it was the only permanent road that could be built.

God Almighty made everything that was made and He called it good, and He gave to some men more intelligence than He did to others. It fell to the lot of men who had the greatest amount of brains (intelligence) to select the different materials, which when combined would make the best roads, and they called it cement. Then a few more of God's great men got together and selected other materials which had good wearing qualities, made a mixture of them with cement and so they had it. Nothing has been discovered since, that has or is its equal for buildings, bridges, docks, dams, or roads. It will outlast any and all other materials that have as yet been discovered, for any of the above purposes. It will not wear out it will neither corrode nor waste away, and it will last for all time.

While I am writing this, I raise my eyes and look out on a perfect piece of Concrete Road laid eighteen years ago, and yet with this and other strips in our three cities and two strips of six or seven miles each in our county, we go on spending thousands and thousands of dollars every year building soft stuff roads without a single bit of wearing qualities in their mixture, and these fellows "have to have" a concrete foundation on which to put their soft black top stuff in order to hold it up. If they put it on the ground—as the cement fellows do, heavy trucks would sink into it on a warm day, as our old wagons did in a muddy road.

Now I am getting down to earth again. By this I mean gravel. Gravel is all right if a wagon loaded with that stuff could go behind every car that goes over the road to repair the

Labor Leaders Endorse Scott

Letter Showing How Congressman From This District Acted and Worked With Labor Leaders is Published Below.

That organized labor in this section of Michigan has a true friend in Washington in Congressman Frank D. Scott, is clearly evidenced in a personal letter direct from one of the greatest labor leaders in the United States, Andrew Furuseth, President of the International Seamen's Union of America. Mr. Furuseth without hesitation plainly states that Mr. Scott has given organized labor every possible assistance and courtesy. He goes so far as to express his appreciation points outside Michigan between mid-to Mr. Scott for his efforts in behalf of organized labor.

The letter follows:
International Seamen's Union of America
Andrew Furuseth, President,
Rooms 409-10 A. F. of L. Bldg.
Washington, D. C.
Cable address:
Seamanship Washington.
Victor A. Olander, Sec.-Treas.
359 North Wells St.
Chicago, Ill.
Cable Address:
Seamanship Chicago.
Washington, D. C.
May 2, 1926.

Hon. Frank D. Scott, Chairman.
Merchant Marine and Fisheries Committee, House Office Building, Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. Congressman:
Replying to your letter asking for an expression from me as to the treatment accorded the seamen presenting their case before the committee on any question brought before it affecting them, I can say that we have been accorded every opportunity to present our side fully before your Committee and we have been given courteous treatment in the presentation of our case.

I will further state that we have no possible complaint in any way of the manner in which you have conducted the Committee during your term as Chairman.
Very truly yours,
ANDREW FURUSETH.

Knowing that Frank D. Scott is friendly to labor and that he is lending every support to the organization leaders, as is clearly stated in the above letter, it would appear that the working people of this great district could not afford to take a chance in the election of its congressman. The public knows where Frank D. Scott stands. The workers know from the above letter how the labor leaders at Washington regard him and when an endorsement, such as is given above, coming directly from one of the greatest labor leaders in the country, it would appear a good, safe bet that Scott can be entrusted with the working man's interests. Changes are not always beneficial and now that labor has a man in Washington who is friendly, one who is interested and one who has proven his support of their interests, it hardly would pay to take a chance. The change might be beneficial and then again, it might not, but with Frank D. Scott in Washington, the people know he has their interests at heart and that they have a friend. They are taking no chances therefore in returning him to congress and your vote on Sept. 14 will help return Scott to congress.

Their another discovery was made by some wise guy. He said to his pals, "Well, we'll put a lot of black oil or tar on the gravel. That will do away with the dust. Among this crowd of wise men I think there must have been an automobile man, for he said, that's fine. That surely will raise hell with all the new cars. Put it on thick, for the more miles of roads we put it on, and the thicker it is, the greater number of cars it will injure and spoil. And yet we have a lot of people who insist that these are the kind of roads to build, and the tax payers and the automobile owners stand for it, which is something that no good business man would do.

Yours truly,
Uncle George H. Van Pelt,
This is the year your vote counts—don't lose it by staying at home.

Northern Michigan Needs Men Like Cal Campbell

Square, Two-Fisted Fighter Who Will Take Off His Coat and Do Things for Northern Mich., Can Help Tremendously in Next Few Years.

With the future of Northern Michigan considerably brighter than it has been for many years, in fact brighter than it ever has been, a great deal depends upon the action of the state this year. Much depends on the attitude of the state toward this great playground and therefore, a great deal depends upon who the voters send to Lansing for the next two years to represent this district.

Northern Michigan needs big business men to handle its affairs. It needs men who are willing to sacrifice their own interests to some extent, in order that Northern Michigan may progress. It needs men with vision, men with brains and men with that spirit of aggressiveness that will cause the state to become active in this development, now.

Northern Michigan's development is just beginning. There are many things the state could and should do to help in this great undertaking. The organization that would help them in their negotiations for wage increases, he did and the result was the formation of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen. This organization has continued through the years and has spread from division to division and from one railroad to another until today, it covers every railroad in the world.

Back in that time, Cal Campbell was working in the interests of his fellow men. He was a keen thinker and a worker, as will be recognized when it is known that following the formation of the brotherhood, he was elected chairman of the grievance committee whose duties were many and varied. One of the most important tasks he had to perform was submitting to the railroad a request for more pay for the entire body of trainmen. This request resulted in the first pay schedule ever submitted. The practice has remained through the years. Cal Campbell still holds his membership in the Brotherhood to this day.

As a railroad man all the workmen liked him and put their faith in him, for he was honest, friendly and square with all.

When he started the stone business his workmen joined the organization and worked hard to help in his success. Has Mr. Campbell forgotten them? No sir! They swear by him at the plant and all over the north. Old, old men who have worked for years are still drawing their pay although their work produces considerably less than younger men could produce, but they stay on with Cal Campbell, for he knows the workers side of life, and when they get too old to work they get pensioned.

But he also knows business. He has taken the stone quarry at Afton and from a mere hole in the ground has step by step, builded up one of the finest stone plants in this section of the state. During all this time, Mr. Campbell personally looked after the interests of the business and took care of its progress. Notwithstanding this he always had time to do his part for his community and his friends.

In making the race for the senatorship, Mr. Campbell has not done so out of his own ambitions. He had no thoughts of entering politics. He had no thoughts of becoming a candidate, but his friends throughout the district, realizing the opportunity of sending a big business man to Lansing, to represent this district, prevailed upon Mr. Campbell, after a time, to finally make the race.

He did not then immediately enter the contest. There were other candidates who had been proposed and Mr. Campbell made a tour of the district on two or three occasions. On each, he was assured of hearty support from those who were interested in the development of this great north country and finally after careful study, and assurance from all over the district, he entered the campaign.

If elected to the office of State Senator, the people of this great playground will come to know more intimately, one of the squarest, most enterprising, and most likeable men in this section of the state and they will come to know also, the value of sending to Lansing to represent this district, a man whose word has never been questioned. A man who will stand squarely in the middle of the road and fight for the things that will make northern Michigan blossom into the great playground that is beginning to develop at this time. A vote for Cal Campbell on Sept 14, is a vote for the development of northern Michigan.

FOR STATE SENATOR "CAL" CAMPBELL, of INDIAN RIVER.

matter of opening up resort property by new roads, would have more to do with progress of this section of the state in the next five years, than anything else so far proposed.

To what extent the state becomes interested in this development depends entirely upon the man who will represent this section in the senate. For 48 years Cal Campbell has lived in Northern Michigan. During all these years he has watched, hoped and helped Northern Michigan advance. He has been an active worker. He has been a developer. Year after year he has given his best efforts to the progress of this section of the state. In addition, he has developed from nothing but a hole in the ground, one of the most important business enterprises in this section of the state, the Campbell Stone Co. at Afton.

Cal Campbell is a big business man. He is therefore a man of keen judgment, a square shooter whose word is as good as his bond. Starting years and years ago as a young man on the Michigan Central Railroad, Cal Campbell worked his way up to Conductor, only because he was fair, square and honest.

Later, he started in the stone business in a limited way. While he was on the railroad, he was chosen by his fellow workmen to formulate an or-

EXPLANATION.

A little question came up at the annual meeting whether the children would be allowed to come all day in the Kindergarten. In explanation, I said that we had divided the Kindergarten into two sessions because I was sure that nearly all of the best authorities agreed that a half day session was long enough to accomplish the purpose of the Kindergarten. At that time I stated that those who insisted upon sending their boys and girls all day to the Kindergarten could not be prevented by law.

Immediately upon my return to Michigan, I found that Columbia, the Training School at the University, all of the Normals, and most of the better schools of the country have but a half day session in the Kindergarten. This Wednesday morning I talked with Mr. Otwell, the expert of the Department of Public Instruction at Lansing on the question, so that I could make a very clear statement of just what the authorities agree on the matter. He said "that the half day sessions prevail in all of the State institutions where Kindergartens are maintained, that it is a very well established educational practice."

To clear up any misapprehension on the part of any of the parents as to why the Kindergarten has been divided I am making the above statement. It is nothing but the simple idea to do the best for the boys and girls. At the present time we have an enrollment of 42 in the Kindergarten on the east side, which is more than any Kindergarten teacher can handle and obtain the desired results, and I assure you that at the end of the year and especially at the beginning of next year that your boy or girl will have a far better attitude toward school and be farther advanced after they attend the half day session in the Kindergarten. However, as stated above, the few who would like to have their children come all day in the kindergarten may have that privilege. I hope this will make clear to everyone our attitude on this matter.

Rubber
The usefulness of rubber was discovered by natives of South America hundreds of years ago, although it was not introduced into Europe until 1820, where it sold for $1.50 an inch. Its real value was not realized until Charles Goodrich, an American, perfected the process of making it into a hard substance by adding to it heated sulphur. (See 1926, Western Newspaper Union.)

We don't blame people for changing their names.

What Is a Diuretic?

People Are Learning the Value of Occasional Use.

EVERYONE knows that a laxative stimulates the bowels. A diuretic performs a similar function to the kidneys. Under the strain of our modern life, our organs are apt to become sluggish and require assistance. More and more people are learning to use Doan's Pills, occasionally, to insure good elimination which is so essential to good health. More than 50,000 grateful users have given Doan's signed recommendations. Scarcely a community but has its representation. Ask your neighbor!

GRASSHOPPER CIRCUS

"THEY showed pictures of members of our family the other night," said Mr. Grasshopper. "Yes, there was a meeting of naturalists.
 Naturalists are creatures who study creatures such as us!"
 "And, of course, they study other animals and insects and birds and so forth and so on."
 "So on?" asked George Grasshopper.
 "Just an expression, George, meaning that they study others along the very same lines."
 "But grasshoppers haven't the same lines as lions," said George Grasshopper.
 "Oh, I don't mean such lines," said Mr. Grasshopper. "I mean along the ing nature creatures and trying to be learned.

 "They showed pictures of the naughty Praying Mantis. You know, or at least you have heard, how she looks as though she were praying to hide from people: the fact that she is really a very naughty creature. She's a humbug, though her name is Praying Mantis.
 "And they showed pictures of the compound eyes of the fly, and how the fly sees the same thing so many times over—at the same time, too.
 "That may sound curious, but you know what I mean. A fly has so many eyes one would say, or at least can see so many times over with the eyes he has because of their being compound eyes. And then they showed pictures of us as I have told you.
 "They were splendid pictures, I heard, and the people laughed with delight over the wonderful circus stunts we could do.
 "Now, that makes me think I'd like to get up a circus now," said George Grasshopper.
 "The same thought that just went through my grasshopper mind," said
 Mr. Grasshopper.
 "Let us tell the other grasshoppers about it," said George.
 So Mr. Grasshopper and George Grasshopper went about and told the other grasshoppers that they were going to give a circus.
 And all the grasshoppers joined in the preparations.
 Some formed a band, others decided they would do tricks on twigs—pulling themselves up and over the twigs,
 and doing really nothing short of fine
 trapeze stunts.
 Then others began thinking of all the funny things they could say and do so they could take the parts of clowns.
 Still others decided they would ride each other and have races and super-or exhibitions. And still others said they would have famous grasshopper hopping races.
 They all practiced and practiced and Mr. Grasshopper was chosen as the ring master.
 They invited the mothers and fathers in the grasshopper families to come, and they invited the very young grasshoppers, too.
 And when they all arrived and then saw the circus—well, there was such applause and such excitement.
 They, too, hopped about with excitement and cried:
 "Bravo, grasshoppers, bravo!"
 And Mr. Grasshopper and George Grasshopper were delighted at the success of the Grasshopper circus.

WHEN I WAS TWENTY-ONE

BY JOSEPH KAYE

At Twenty-one, Robert Forman Horton, famous English divine, took college examinations together with Oscar Wilde.
 "AT THIS age I was taking examinations at Oxford.
 One of these who was in with me at this examination was Oscar Wilde.
 I can see him now, with his flabby face and ruffled hair, striding up to the desk for fresh paper after the first hour; then handing in his book half an hour before time was up. He was a genius, and for him to pose was second nature. Of course, he was in the first class; he reached by sheer ability a position which I had gained only by the concentrated and interested labor of two years.—Robert Forman Horton."
 TODAY: Doctor Horton is one of the highest theological authorities in the world. He is chairman of the London Congregational union and of the Union of England and Wales. He was also Lyman Beecher lecturer at

THE WHY OF SUPERSTITIONS

BY H. IRVING KING

IN FRONT, OUT BACK
THAT going in a house at the front door and out by the back door brings strangers is a superstition practically universal in this country and Europe. Doors were most serious matters to the ancients and a decided ting-of superstition hung about them.
 Among the Romans, Janus, a most eccepted deity, was the god of doors. He was double-faced and, looking both ways, could watch the front and rear entrances. The door of his temple was opened only when there was war. At such times it was necessary to release his full influence to guard the entrances—the doorways—of the country.
 But our superstition that going in the front door and out at the back brings strangers is evidently a survival not from any mythology, but arises from an actual experience of our barbarian ancestors, an experience not infrequent even in our own day. A barbarian feeling from the avengers of blood or of other detesttion of his tribe, and taking shelter in a friendly hut, would sneak out by the back way to the safety of the forest when he heard his pursuers approaching and the trackers, strangers to the owner of the hut, would trail him to the front door by which he had entered. If the hut had no back door—as was probable—the fugitive's necessity for avoiding observation impelled him to make one by going through the back of the building. In the middle ages, when houses generally had two doors, men were literally hunted and a fugitive going in at the front door of his friend's dwelling often literally "brought strangers" in pursuit.

LONG DISTANCE TELEPHONE SERVICE CHANGES

Effective October 1, 1926

Reductions in Long Distance Rates to Points Outside Michigan

To points outside Michigan that are 150 miles or more distant, Long Distance rates will be reduced substantially—the greater the distance, the greater the reduction. For example, from Detroit to St. Louis the basic station-to-station rate will be $2.30 instead of $3.00; to Denver, $5.25 instead of $7.40; to San Francisco, $9.30 instead of $13.45; to New York, $2.40 instead of $3.15. Reductions in rates from this city will be in like proportions.

Rates for distances between 24 and 110 miles will be adjusted, in many cases, to make the schedule consistent throughout, but in these cases any increase of the basic station-to-station (Anyone) rate will be only five cents.

Reversed Charges on Station-to-Station (Anyone) Calls

Heretofore the reversal of charges has been available only on person-to-person (Particular Person) calls. As a further convenience to the public, this privilege will be extended to station-to-station (Anyone) calls where the rate is 25 cents or more, both to points outside of Michigan and between-points within the state.

Longer Reduced Rate Period

Reduced rate hours for station-to-station (Anyone) calls, both to Michigan points and to outside points, will begin at 7:00 p. m., instead of 8:30 p. m. as formerly. Between 7:00 p. m. and 8:30 p. m., the discount will be approximately 25 per cent of the day station-to-station (Anyone) rates; from 8:30 p. m. to 4:30 a. m., the discount will be about 50 per cent of the day rates. These discounts will apply where the day station-to-station (Anyone) rate is 40 cents or more, with a minimum reduced rate of 35 cents. Because of the unsatisfactory service conditions which it brought about, the midnight discount still in effect on calls to points outside Michigan will be discontinued.

The net result of these rate changes will be a saving to the telephone users of the United States of approximately $3,000,000 a year. The service changes are made in the interests of public convenience, to relieve the burden now imposed by the congestion of business at midnight and to furnish still better long distance service.

Reductions and adjustments in long distance rates between points within the state became effective July 10.

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT By F. A. WALKER

MENTAL RUTS If a lower general condition prevails than usual in the person or in the community in which he lives, the probabilities are that this state of things is due to the loose mode of thinking rather than to the affected manner of expression. By words we convey our thoughts to one another. If our impressions and musings are made of flimsy stuff, words soon become commonplace, lose their charm and inspirational influence. Yes, and may may suffice for answers until conversation lags or dies of its own inertia. Men and women who are intent in work, taking but a passive part in the world's activities, doing what they are obliged to do by rote rather than by thought, will be found, if but indifferently examined, to be wedged in mental ruts from which they lack energy to wrench themselves. But whether they concern themselves over their plight or not, the habit grows upon them with advancing years, and buries them in its rut. Such persons become old before their time, fit subjects to be wrapped up in their own seedy material and stored away upon dusty shelves. If you would be alert, have the sparkle and the spirit of youth at sixty or seventy, you must look arms with juvenility; become a part of it and turn sharply aside from the ruts that obstruct your passage. The great things that are being done today in art, literature, science and in the inventive fields emanate from minds that are ever young and active. They refuse to stick in ruts or to become sluggish or supine. Such minds are in perpetual flower—keen, intense, transcendent and brisk as quicksilver. To these brilliant intellects the world is indebted for the wonderful radio-concerts. At the swing of their wand music leaps through vast spaces of ether and gives unalloyed enjoyment to peoples in their homes hundreds of miles away from the voices of the singers and the stirring strains of the bands. Keeping youthful by avoiding mental ruts is, after all is said and done, but holding to the faith that overturns mountains and topples them into the sea. (© by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

TO PLAN three meals a day for a family, trying to serve the food that is pleasing, keeping one's bills within the limit, and providing a variety, with the day's food well balanced, is the task of twenty thousand cooks in this land, or at least it should be; a task that takes real training and practice to be successful. Ill-nourished children, dyspeptic husbands and unhappy homes will always follow the inefficient and indifferent cook. With the opportunity for everybody, of any class, who can read, there is no excuse for any girl going into the home of her husband without any equipment for caring for a home; otherwise she is not a partner in the marriage, but a parasite. No matter how poor, with planning and study one may serve wholesome meals. A man who is working at hard labor is able to digest heartier foods and they should be well-cooked and served. The cheaper cuts of meat, though taking longer to cook than steaks, are far more nourishing and full of flavor. By combining with vegetables, a small piece of meat which, when served alone with one vegetable, would not be sufficient, will, with two or more vegetables cooked with it, make a good meal for the average family. For example: A pound of mutton, if carefully skinned and cut into serving-sized pieces, browned in a little fat and then cooked slowly for two hours or more on the back of the stove with a few carrots sliced, an onion or two for flavor and as many potatoes as will supply the appetite of the family, adding water to cover, makes a most satisfying dish. Lamb would cost more, and the flavor would not be so good. A piece of beef from the chuck or neck, cooked a long time after browning, is tender and delicious in flavor. Seasonings may vary to give variety and suit the family taste. With a small garden spot in which many of the small vegetables may be raised, a very poor family will have a good living at low cost. The protein foods, such as butter, eggs, meat and fish are the expensive foods, so if they are stretched with rice, macaroni, vegetables and grains the food bill is very much less.

How It Started By JEAN NEWTON THE "BIG WIG" FREQUENTLY in common speech today we come across the slang expression "big wig" to describe some one in authority, a person of prominence who wields influence and power. The expression is a relic of the days when fashion decreed the wig, with whose long curls we are familiar through old pictures and the costumes used in revival plays. And the queue wig with hair powder is still worn on the English bench. The heyday of wigs was the early Seventeenth century when no gentleman of fashion could appear without one. King, courtiers and ecclesiastics had their heads clipped in order to display false curls and ringlets of huge proportions. And when it is known that as much as fifteen dollars an ounce was paid in England for the great manes of high dignitaries were made at a cost of hundreds of dollars, the modern adaptation of the term "big wig" is easily comprehensible! MORTGAGE FORECLOSURE Default having been made in the terms and conditions of a certain mortgage made and executed by Sarah Duchane of the township of Wilson, county of Charlevoix and state of Michigan, to the State Bank of East Jordan, a corporation organized, existing and doing business under and by virtue of the laws of the state of Michigan, and having its principal office and place of business in the city of East Jordan, Michigan, which said mortgage bears date the 11th day of November, 1916, and was recorded on the 25th day of November, 1916, in Liber 57 of mortgages on page 6, in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for said county of Charlevoix, Michigan. That said mortgage is past due and there is now claimed to be due and unpaid on said mortgage the sum of four hundred ninety-two and seventy-six one-hundredths ($492.76) dollars at the date of this notice, including principal and interest, and no suit or proceedings at law or in equity having been instituted to recover the moneys secured by said mortgage or any part thereof. St. Joseph—A motion to dismiss the state's receivership suit against the House of David colony at Benton Harbor has been denied in Circuit Court here. The State suit asks that the colony be enjoined from operating and that the property and assets of the association be turned over to the State for distribution to persons found lawfully entitled to them, on the ground that the colony is a public nuisance. Grand Rapids—Fire blight in apple and pear orchards this season is the worst in recent years, causing pomologists at the Graham Horticultural Experiment Station here to feel that there is some definite relationship between the percentage of bloom in the spring and the prevalence of the blight in midseason. The worst infections are in orchards which bloom early last spring. Blights that did not bloom have little or no tip blight. Lansing—Cabbage aphids are destroying truck crops in several parts of the state, particularly in Southern Michigan, according to reports received here. The pests have centered their attack in some communities upon radishes, destroying whole fields which were being grown for seed. Growers have tried to combat aphids with sprays and dusts but these materials have proved ineffective where pests were present in large numbers before spraying began.

A GOOD OLD AGE

By THOMAS ARKLE CLARK
Dean of Men, University of Illinois.

MR. JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER had a birthday last July—eighty-seven years old I believe he was—and, if he and his medical advisers may be believed, he is good for a considerable number of active years yet.

If the stories which we read in the newspapers are true—and who would doubt them—thirty-five years ago or so, Mr. Rockefeller was in a rather bad way physically. His ambition to live to "a good old age" which in his mind was one hundred, seemed very unlikely to be realized. One can attain to almost any reasonable ambition, I believe, if he is willing to pay what his personal ambition costs and Mr. Rockefeller, it is said, expressed a willingness to pay. The physician to whom he went for advice laid down five laws for the conduct of the oil magnate's life. They were simple and brief though not so easy to follow as they might at first seem. Here they are:

1. Don't worry.
  2. Don't acquire overweight.
  3. Drink three quarts of water every day.
  4. Exercise daily.
  5. Sleep in fresh air.
- At first it might seem quite unnecessary for Mr. Rockefeller to be cautioned against worry. He was at least comfortably fixed financially and need not have concerned himself unnecessarily about meeting the grocery bill on the first of the month, or paying for gasoline, or anything of that sort. His $500,000,000 should have kept him free from financial worries. But he had heavy business responsibilities; he was at the head of a great organization whose management took time and thought and nervous energy. It involved serious problems, and he saw that if he were to be well he must give up much of this responsibility, and he did.

He probably liked a good dinner as well as the next man, and he was in a position to have what he liked. But rich food and heavy dinners cause indigestion often, and result in an increasing waist measure, and fatty degeneration of the heart, and kindred unpleasantnesses. One must be thin if he is to live to a good old age, and if one would be thin he must be abstemious in his eating. Hence the bowl of milk and cracker of which

The newspapers speak so ironically at times. One pays for the slender figure, and Mr. Rockefeller has been willing to do so.

Water instead of wine, and a lot of it! Mr. Rockefeller has been true to his principles in subscribing so generously to the anti-saloon league. He knows what is good for a man's health, and he shows no selfishness in making it easier if possible for the other man to live as temperately as he does himself.

Exercise and the open air! Almost every picture that one sees of the octogenarian shows him with a golf club in his hand. At eighty-seven he did his nine holes. He has been paying the price and will no doubt, as he deserves, live to "a good old age."

Foley & Co., 2835 Sheffield Ave., Chicago, value so highly the medicinal qualities of Foley Pills, a diuretic stimulant for the kidneys, that they guarantee them to give satisfaction. I am so glad to recommend them." A reliable, valuable medicine, constantly in use over 25 years. Guaranteed. Ask for Foley Pills, diuretic.

Made Himself Unpopular

A Belgian chemist, van Helmont, coined the word "gas" in the first half of the Seventeenth century. The Dutch word "geest," signifying "ghost," suggested the term to him, and his superstitious neighbors hounded him into obscurity for talking of ghosts.

IF SKIN BREAKS OUT AND ITCHES
APPLY SULPHUR

Just the moment you apply Mentho-Sulphur to an itching, burning or broken out skin, the itching stops and healing begins, says a noted skin specialist. This sulphur preparation, made into a pleasant cold cream, gives such a quick relief, even to fiery eczema, that nothing has ever been found to take its place.

Because of its germ-destroying properties, it quickly subdues the itching, cools the irritation and heals the eczema right up, leaving a clear, smooth skin in place of ugly eruptions, rash, pimples or roughness.

You do not have to wait for improvement. It quickly shows. You can get a little jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur at any drug store.
