EAST JORDAN NOW HAS A TOURISTS' PARK

CITY PURCHASES SITE OF FIFTEEN ACRES, WITH LAKE FRONTAGE, ON WEST SIDE.

Big Celebration Next Wednesday

CITY OF EAST JORDAN AND OUR SCHOOL DISTRICT NOW FREE FROM ALL INDEBTEDNESS.

The long mooted question of a Tourists' Park for the City of East Jordan was definitely settled last Monday evening at a regular meeting of our Common Council when that body, by unanimous vote, purchased a Tourists' Camp site of Realtor W. A. Loveday.

The site purchased is located on the West Side, beyond the Schoolhouse. It consists of fifteen acres with a most excellent lake frontage. It has one of the finest bathing beaches on Lake Charlevoix.

Civic Holiday, Next Wednesday. At a meeting of the East Jordan Business Men's Club held Wednesday evening, it was decided to set apart Wednesday, April 27th as a Civic Holiday. Weather permitting, all places of business and our Public Schools will close on this day and one and all will unite in devoting the day to making the necessary improvements on the newly-acquired Tourists' Park. A basket picnic dinner will be partaken, the City to furnish coffee.

CITY OF EAST JORDAN AND PUBLIC SCHOOLS FREE FROM DEBT. The City of East Jordan and our School District are among the very few in Michigan who can boast the fact that both have retired their last bonded indebtedness and are now free from debt of any nature. And next Wednesday has been set aside by our Mayor to celebrate the event.

Grove Herbert Last Lyceum Number

Famous Speaker of the International Lyceum and Chautauqua Ass'n to Appear April 27th.

Mr. Herbert is a man who is worth going a long way to hear. He is one of the very ablest and most eloquent inspirational lecturers of the present day. He is known as "Pinch Hitter" of the International Lyceum and Chautauqua Association. Mr. Herbert has substituted frequently for such men as William J. Bryan, Robert M. LaFollette, and others on the Chautauqua platforms. Mr. Herbert has lectured in every State in the Union and every province in Canada and has been called back for more return dates than any other Lyceum and Chautauqua speaker. He has been in great demand before civic bodies.

Mr. Herbert has spoken from two to five times in 300 different places, giving addresses before Commercial

Its War On Bank Bandits

Farmers Co-operating With State Bankers To Check Robbers Activities.

The farmers of Michigan have joined forces with the Bankers of the State in its war on bank bandits, according to Paul J. Ulrich, Mt. Clemens, Chairman of the Protective Committee of the Wolverine financiers.

The bankers in each county are enlisting the services of the farmers to be on the lookout for suspicious cars parked along lonely roads during the daytime, acting on the theory that bank bandits rarely make their get-away in the same car they use in robbing the banks.

The farmers are lining up with the local county vigilantes and are prepared, on given signals, to barricade roads with farm implements until word is received from the sheriff to release traffic according to Mr. Ulrich.

"Most farmers," said Mr. Ulrich, are equipped with some sort of firearms for use in hunting, and the local bankers are arranging with the various county sheriffs to deputize such men who are located at strategic points along the highway.

"A system of sirens and factory whistles has been inaugurated," Ulrich continued, which will emit a series of staccato blasts for a period of fifteen minutes after a robbery has occurred. These sirens and whistles can be heard over a great area and will warn the farmer auxiliaries that bandits are escaping over the highways.

"All local telephone companies are being instructed in the method of wide-spread alarm which will throw a vigilante net over all the contiguous counties to the scene of the robbery," declared Mr. Ulrich.

"An alliance is also being formed with the bankers and vigilantes of Indiana and Wisconsin to co-operate in the pursuit of bandits," Mr. Ulrich said.

Organization meetings have thus far been held in St. Clair, Huron, Lapeer, Shiawassee, Livingston, Kent, Muskegon, Otsego and Montcalm Counties, according to Joseph Rylands director of organization for the bankers. At each of these meetings the vigilante plan has been adopted with enthusiasm, he said.

The bankers are also joining hands with the merchants and manufacturers in the larger cities who have been infected with the successful operation of the vigilante plan, Rylands stated.

Organization meetings are scheduled for Macomb, Benzie, Oakland, Monroe, Lenawee, Berrien, Ingham, Eaton, St. Joseph, Genesee, Isabella, Barry, Clinton, Kalamazoo, Cass, Mason and Benzie Counties during the next two weeks, Rylands stated.

In the counties already organized, over four hundred vigilantes have been sworn in as special deputy sheriffs and additional forces are being added each day, according to Rylands. The state highway police are co-operating with the bankers in their bandit warfare wherever the vigilantes have been appointed, he said.

bodies, Rotary, Kiwanis, Lion, Exchange and similar clubs, and many times under the auspices of Women's Clubs, Industrial workers and Financial bodies.

Mr. Herbert is not only a speaker but an author and has written a series of inspirational pamphlets that have had wide circulation. Some of them are "When Gideon Got to Goring" and "Peddlers of Piffle," and others of less note. A visit of a man like Herbert is a real event in a community. He not only instructs, but he interests, and best of all he inspires.

The lecture to be given by Mr. Herbert in East Jordan is "The Crisis and the Call" and is an analysis of the world's dilemma and America's opportunity. It is the last number of this year's Lyceum Course and from all accounts should be the best number of the Course.

Miss Belle Roy, an Esteemed Resident Passes Away

On Tuesday, April 19th, the people of our city were greatly shocked to learn of the sudden and unexpected death of Miss Belle Roy at the Battle Creek Sanitarium, where she had gone for treatment on April 13, the cause of her death being an acute attack of Bright's disease.

Her body was returned to her home at East Jordan on the 20th and funeral services were held on the following day at the Presbyterian Church, of which she was a member, conducted by her pastor, Rev. C. W. Sidebotham, and she was laid to rest by the side of her parents at Sunset Hill Cemetery.

Her brothers, Charles and John Roy, and her sisters, Ida Daley and Mary Barknier, and other relatives attended the funeral. Her father died while the family was living at Sault Ste. Marie, and her mother, some years after, while residing in this city with the deceased. No person ever received more patient, attentive or better care during their final illness than was given her by her daughter, Miss Belle.

The beautiful casket in which Miss Roy was taking her final sleep was embalmed with lovely flowers, tokens of esteem of her many friends.

Of the large number of people who attended the services many were from outside the city and county as the deceased, on account of her legal learning and ability and the work she was engaged in, was well and favorably known throughout the State, which acquaintance included many judges and lawyers of large practice.

During her twenty-three years of employment with our local Attorneys, Clink & Williams, she had prepared many pleadings and briefs for the Circuit Court and bills of exceptions and briefs for the Supreme Court, and was an expert in that line. She was aggressive and a hard worker, full of initiative, and knew what to do and when to do it. Her heart was in her work and she was loyal to her employers at all times and never neglected an opportunity to boost their interests.

For many years Miss Roy had aided the G. A. R. and their widows in obtaining reserved pensions, and during the World War took an active part and devoted much of her time in organizing into clubs the women of this county for the purpose of aiding the soldier boys, and since their return from overseas she had given considerable time helping the wounded and deserving to obtain pensions.

Miss Roy was also a member of the Improvement Club and other social clubs of the city, and her death will be a great loss to all who knew her. All business places were closed during the services as a mark of respect to the deceased.

The entire public is cordially invited to inspect the many dairy, alfalfa, and lime exhibits housed in the three cars and to listen to short talks by representatives of the Michigan State College on problems of vital interest to every farmer and to explain the exhibits.

The train will be equipped to test soil samples for lime requirements while you wait. Question boxes will be placed in convenient places to receive written questions. Miniature marl digging machinery will be on display. Don't miss the demonstration showing how to recognize high producing characteristics in young heifers. Three purebred heifers of the three leading breeds, will be carried on the train for your inspection. See the European Corn Borer exhibit showing methods of prevention and control.

Miss Inez Colden United In Marriage to John Edward Metz

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mrs. James R. Colden Friday evening, April 15th, when her daughter, Inez Irene was united in holy matrimony to John Edward Metz by Rev. V. J. Hufton, pastor of the M. E. Church of East Jordan.

Promptly at nine o'clock the tones of the wedding march were heard and the groom attended by his best man, James Colden, brother of the bride, approached the altar, where they awaited the arrival of the bride with her maid-of-honor, Miss Doris Colden.

The beautiful ring ceremony was performed before a bank of roses and ferns.

The bride was attired in a shell pink flat crepe gown and carried a beautiful bouquet of Columbia roses and sweet peas. The maid of honor wore a very pretty gown of ivory Georgette and ribbon.

After receiving the best wishes and congratulations of their friends, the bride cut her cake and all partook of the dainty refreshments served.

The many beautiful and useful gifts, among which was a large box of orange and lotus blossoms from Florida, received, showed the high esteem in which the young couple were held.

The out-of-town guests were Miss Sadie Metz and Miss Annie Colden, both of Mt. Pleasant.

The happy couple left the following day amid showers of rice and old shoes for Traverse City, where they will visit the groom's sister, Mrs. Thomas Cox, and then go on to their future home in Chicago, where they will welcome their many friends.

DIPPING INTO SCIENCE

Why Walls Do Not Keep Out Noises

Remembering that sound is a disturbance in air waves, it might seem that sound could not enter a room through a wall. But this is possible, nevertheless, for sound waves encountering a wall communicate themselves to the wall, causing it to be thrown into corresponding waves, with a resulting disturbance of the air on the other side, which causes the sound to continue.

Fine Tribute To Judge Harris

Pontiac Daily Says Michigan Owes Great Debt To Charlevoix State Representative.

Under the caption of "Dental Salvage" the Pontiac Daily Press of April 9th, published the following column editorial relative to the work of Charlevoix's Representative in the State Legislature.

DENTAL SALVAGE
Thanks for Judge J. M. Harris of Charlevoix!
Without him we are not so sure what would have happened to the crime code which has just passed the House at Lansing.

It was a happy hour when Judge Harris was elected to the House of Representatives. He is not only a lawyer of standing and character, but he belongs to the stalwarts, which Michigan needs in emergent days.

When the proposed code reached the House, it was discovered that the work of the Crime Commission which had spent two years drafting a new bill had been too largely set at naught. Although the Commission was made up of able attorneys, the Judiciary Committee set at work picking out various features deliberately inserted to protect the citizens of Michigan from a growing brigandage which has now come to be the accepted order.

Judge Harris fought to restore Chapter 10, which covers appeals. Everyone who follows the work of the Courts understands that appeals are now possible on the most flimsy pretext. They are demanded under the present system. They are not regarded as privileges, but as an unquestioned right. The Crime Commission resolved to remove one of the outstanding obstacles in the way of prompt punishment, after conviction. It was provided that a respondent should be required to petition the Supreme Court, setting forth errors and other matters upon which he based his demand for appeal. If the Supreme Court regarded the substance of the petition as warranting a review, that privilege could be granted. But if the Court looked upon the assignments of error and the other contentions as subterfuge, intended for delay, procrastination and postponement, they could refuse to grant the appeal.

Judge Harris got this section back into the code where it belongs. There were a score of other important amendments which had been deleted by the House Judiciary Committee and one by one Judge Harris pointed out the urgent need for them in Michigan and one by one the House voted to put them back into the new code.

The BAUMES law and of the highest importance, the right of Judge, Prosecutors and Attorneys to comment on the failure of a respondent to take the witness stand, were changes that were in imminent danger of falling by the wayside, until Judge Harris presented the subject with such skill and such manifest understanding that they were restored to the code.

In its major objectives the report of the Crime Commission has been embodied in the code passed by the House—thanks again and again to

Japanese Laundry Work
Much of the washing of garments in Japan is done out of doors with plenty of cold water and no soap. Cotton garments are hung up on bamboo poles passed through the armholes, and are pulled smooth and straight before they dry. Usually silken garments are taken to pieces before washing, are smoothed out on a long board while wet, then are set up on the board in the sun to dry. Ironing is unnecessary.

Battle Creek—The war department at Washington has approved the lease to Gleen Ketchum, of Augusta, of a tract of 101 acres within Camp Custer military reservation.

Ludington—A shift in the wind and a light rain averted possible serious damage by two forest fires which had been gaining headway in the jack pines and scrub oak covering a section of Mead township, in Mason county.

Owosso—Although the seven small children of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Eldridge, living south of Owosso, were home alone when their house caught fire recently, they all escaped. The building was destroyed at a loss of $4,000.

Iron Mountain—The holdings of the Ford Motor Company at L'Anse near here total nearly a quarter million acres. Ford recently bought 60,000 acres from the Cleveland Cliffs Iron Company. Much of the Ford holdings is virgin forest.

Lansing—The senate has passed the Wade workmen's compensation bill and it has been sent to the governor. The measure increases the maximum compensation for disability from $14 a week to $18 and provides other changes. It was supported by Governor Fred W. Green.

Detroit—The proposed Windsor-Detroit bridge came a step nearer realization when the common council formally adopted a resolution approving plans for the Detroit end of the span. Unless the war department orders a material alteration of the plans, May 14 will see construction started, according to the bridge's backers.

Muskegon—Permission to erect a $100,000 commercial dock, 1000 feet long and 165 feet wide, in Muskegon Lake, has been granted to Love Construction company by the war department. It will be the only dock in Muskegon harbor to which deep draft boats can tie up, and is expected to effect a saving of several hundred thousand dollars each year in freight rates. A $20,000 warehouse will be constructed this summer.

East Lansing—Corn borer cleanup regulations must be applied to gardens in cities and villages within the quarantined area. L. H. Worthley, Federal administrator, informed the State Department. "City growers are not immune to the provisions of the regulatory acts governing the suppression of the European corn borer," declared Mr. Worthley, "and they will be required to destroy all corn debris just as farmers are, prior to May 1."

Ann Arbor—Coach E. J. Mather, of the Michigan basketball team, has received an invitation from the University of Washington for a series of three games between the University of Washington and Michigan basketball teams at Seattle during the Christmas vacation. Washington has just started a $600,000 field house and desired the Michigan team as an opponent for the opening ceremonies. The Michigan coach has not yet made a final decision on the acceptance or rejection of the invitation.

Ann Arbor—University Hall has been declared a fire hazard by State Fire Marshal Charles V. Lane, following an inspection of the building. The fire marshal recommended "that use of the theater and balcony of the building be discontinued for plays or entertainments of any kind, as the construction and age in itself which would endanger life even though proper escapes and exits were installed. All officers and class rooms should be provided with exterior exits or approved fire escapes."

Grand Haven—Tobacco was restored to inmates of the Ottawa County Infirmary through action of the board of supervisors. The ban against smoking, imposed at the infirmary three years ago, had attracted statewide interest. At the time it went into effect members of the poor commission said the inmates would be satisfied to give up tobacco if provided with new suits and candy. The clothing is now worn out and the candy has long since been consumed. Now the board may buy the tobacco for the inmates.

Highland Park—After Don Burgess, 45 years old, had been conveyed by the police to the Highland Park General Hospital in the belief that one of his legs had been severed when his automobile was struck by a switch engine and he was thrown beneath the wheels, it was discovered that the leg Burgess lost was a cork one. Burgess, who is employed as a mechanic at the Highland Park plant of the Ford Motor Co., lost his leg in an accident on the Northern Pacific Railway 14 years ago. He suffered only a slight bruise.

Holland—Upwards of 85 or more cottages, many of them richly furnished, were destroyed by fire which swept the summer resort town of Maastawa Park near here. With but limited fire fighting apparatus the fire raged unabated. Local officials were unable to give an estimate of the damage, but was thought to be between $300,000 and a half million dollars. There were about 125 cottages in the section where the fire raged, most of which were owned by residents of St. Louis, Chicago, Detroit and Grand Rapids, Mich.

Marquette—Edward Reau, 45, was killed here when he attempted to drive his new automobile for the first time alone. He lost control of the machine as he backed it out of the garage, and it plunged down a 75-foot embankment at the rear of his home.

Various communities and interests which have been served by these branches are fighting the application.

Lansing—Michigan ranked 10th among the states in production of minerals in 1925, according to an announcement by the Bureau of Mines at Washington. The mineral output of the states in that year is said by the bureau to have had a total value of $122,212,000, the principal products having been iron ore, copper, cement, and salt.

Lansing—The total assessed valuation of public utilities, as tentatively fixed by the State Board of Assessors, exceeds by $9,798,050 the valuation of 1925, the report of George Lord, state tax commissioner, disclosed. The tentative valuation totals $297,324,100. The total tax under these figures would approximate $12,000,000 to go to the primary school fund.

Benton Harbor—The international Labor Defense of Chicago has threatened to sue Berrien County to recover $7,500 posted by that organization for bail for the late C. E. Ruthenberg, Ruthenberg, who died several weeks ago, was one of the prominent "reds" taken in a raid at Bridgman, near here in 1922. He was tried in this county. County officials say the suit will be contested.

Lansing—Two bills passed by the legislature became laws without the signature of Gov. Fred W. Green. In February not only those two cities, but also Los Angeles exceeded Detroit.

Detroit—Those vallant couriers of the air, the carrier pigeons, inscribed another number on their roll of honor. The pigeon was carrying to Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Byers the news that their daughter, Mrs. Bartz, had died in Receiving Hospital, April 1.

Of the total collected, $3,000,000 will be divided among the counties in proportion to the receipts.

Ludington—Edward Cahill, 64 years old, a bachelor farmer residing on the West Michigan Pike, 10 miles from Scottville, is said to be the only able-bodied man in the county who has never attended a motion picture theatre. Only once has it been possible to coax him into an automobile. Further, Mr. Cahill says he has no desire to see a "movie" or go motoring. Mr. Cahill has lived on the same farm for 49 years, and has made less than a dozen trips to Manistee or Scottville. "Automobiles go too fast," he says. "I would rather walk."

Explains Lack of Fossils

The geological survey says that the sandhills of Nebraska are mostly wind-blown sands derived from the Tertiary formations. It may be possible for fossils to have been washed by streams to this section, but the lack of fossils is due to the fact that they are too heavy to be carried by winds.

Nowhere to Be

Our idea of nowhere to be is on the one-hundred-and-tenth floor of that proposed new New York skyscraper when a sign goes up saying: "Elevators temporarily out of order."

Woods That Sink

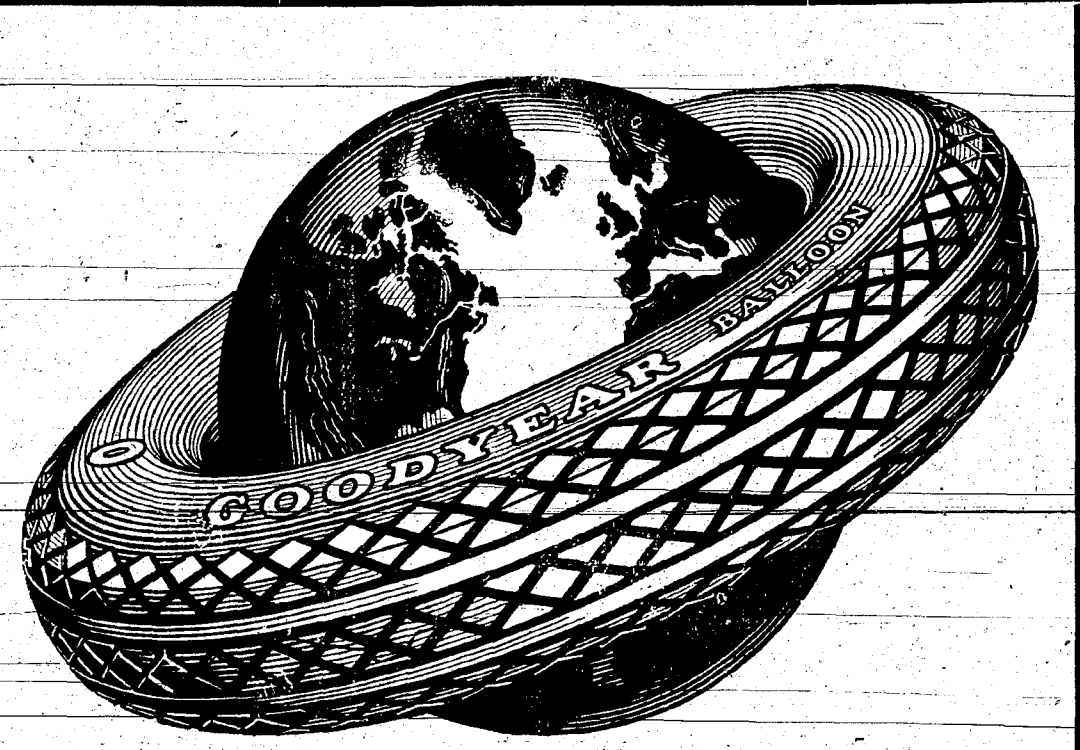

The common foreign woods that will sink in water when thoroughly dry are: Greenheart, mora, West Indian stamwood, cocos wood, Pernambuco wood, various eucalyptus, African blackwood, black ebony, African oak, cocobola, rosewood, snakewood, partridge wood, black ironwood and ebony.

FIERY, ITCHY SKIN QUICKLY SOOTHED BY THIS SULPHUR

Mentho-Sulphur, a pleasant cream, will soothe and heal skin that is irritated or broken out with eczema; that is covered with ugly rash or pimples, or is rough or dry. Nothing subdues fiery skin eruptions so quickly, says a noted skin specialist.

The moment this sulphur preparation is applied the itching stops and after two or three applications, the eczema is gone and the skin is delightfully clear and smooth. Sulphur is so precious as a skin remedy because it destroys the parasites that cause the burning, itching or disfigurement. Mentho-Sulphur always heals eczema right up.

A small jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur may be had at any good drug store.

Long Distance keeps costs down for Paper Salesman and Printer

SEAMAN-PATRICK PAPER COMPANY
Wholesale Paper Merchants
Detroit
December 4th-1926

Michigan Bell Telephone Co.
1385 Cass Avenue,
Detroit, Mich.

Dear Sirs:

What would we do without long distance service? Business would stop! Immediately.

There are thousands of rush orders in the wholesale paper business. Merchandise not in stock needed tomorrow is ordered by long distance phone today. Printers cannot afford to keep their presses waiting for paper. Idle presses, like other manufacturing machinery, are expensive. To secure paper, therefore, on time, we use long distance and thus the telephone does its duty in keeping down the production cost of printed matter.

Again, the long distance phone saves in many many cases, several exchanges of correspondence. Business is expedited, detail work reduced, and serious delays eliminated.

Telephone selling has become a necessity. Hours are saved in this way. Selling cost reduced.

Need we say more?
Sincerely yours,
SEAMAN-PATRICK PAPER COMPANY

Community Building

Owners of Property Real City "Boosters"

Homes can be bought practically on a rent basis and no one can conscientiously boost a city who deliberately refuses to become a property owner and taxpayer, the Atlanta Constitution remarks editorially. "Atlanta spirit" is noted all over the world. It should not be known locally as a tinkling symbol, but firm on stern realities of citizen loyalty, demonstrated by actual investments.

A property owner has more weight in a community than one who rents, and as long as a man rents and does not own property he is not in a position to sell others home development ideas.

Nothing is more dignifying or convincing or forceful to man or woman, in attracting others, than the fact of possession. Therefore, if people who would boost to others with a view of attracting them for residential and business purposes, do not break the ice by demonstrating their own faith, they cannot hope to impress outsiders with the sincerity of their motives.

The "forward Atlanta" movement deserves every encouragement. It was a happy thought a year ago—a happy thought now. It has paid enormous dividends.

Suggestions for Good Use of "Waste" Land

A new use for land in the rights of way of railroad companies and that adjacent to public highways has been found by Dr. L. H. Pammel, chairman of the Iowa board of conservation.

Doctor Pammel proposes to use this "waste" land as a pasturage for bees, by planting wild flowers in perpetuating types of flora native to the states.

The plan has the triple purpose of conserving wild flora, augmenting the honey supply and making gravel a delight because of the pleasant floral aspects of scent and color.

Trees also are in the project, including wild plum, red haw, Washington thorn, choke cherry and elderberry.

Among railroad companies which have come to the support of the scientist in his plan are the Chicago and North Western and the Wabash.

Good Design Not Costly

The idea that cost is the primary fundamental of good design and beauty seems to have fastened itself upon the average person—a conception that has done infinite harm and caused our cities to become in many places monstrosities. The smallest of homes, with the same amount of material, with no more work can be made beautiful, well proportioned and convenient.

All that is needed is a knowledge of conditions to be met, a full understanding of the materials and their proper application together with a sense of proportion and design. When this fundamental is properly understood by the people our cities and homes will be beautiful, sensible places to live in, for along with this idea follows the desire for more fitting surroundings, having beauty, comfort, convenience and utility working hand in hand, in place of the unscrupulous real estate's idea of profits and a quick turnover.

High Price for Neglect

The neglect tax on the home is more than double the fire loss, about which so much is written. This matter of depreciation is not given the dramatic attention which is accorded the fire loss because its slow accumulation leads people to overlook it.

The fable of the hare and the tortoise teaches that it is the slow and sure that win the race against the sprightly and occasional. Decay moves on with the dread certainty of the glacier which plows its way through the mountains. Its daily progress is not noticed by the eye, but it is as certain as the rising and setting of the sun.

Build Your Own Home

Every good American wants a home of his own. There is a satisfaction in owning a home that cannot be measured by its cost. And the best way to secure a home is to build it. Only in this way can a home owner secure the kind of residence that will exactly suit the needs of his family and fulfill his ideas of what a home should be in exterior appearance and interior arrangement.—Exchange.

Help Push the Load

Just put your shoulders to the wheel and help push the community load over the hill. It belongs to you as much as it does to any of the rest of us and by all terms that are right you should kick in and do your part of the work.—Huntsville Times.

Too Busy to Kick

The fellow who is always complaining of hard times and complaining of his town should remember that a working mule hasn't time to kick.

CAREFUL PRUNING OF GRAPEVINES

Although most grape arbors are designed primarily to furnish shade, or to shut out undesirable views, proper care, especially in pruning, should insure the production of a fair amount of fruit, advises J. Harold Clark, instructor in pomology at the New Jersey State College of Agriculture.

Pruning may be done any time before the buds begin to swell. Vigorous, one-year-old canes, the ones with smooth, light-colored bark, comprise the fruit-bearing part of the vine. When these canes are all pruned out, very little if any fruit can be produced. It is important, however, to remove as much of the old (over one year old) as possible. Leave just enough of it to support four to eight of the one-year canes well distributed over the arbor and not too far removed from the roots. These one-year canes should then be cut back to six to ten buds each. This may make the arbor look too thin, but the new shoot growth will quickly become dense enough to furnish plenty of shade. Vines pruned in this way will be more productive than where more canes are used and each cut back to a spur bearing two to three buds.

With old, tangled vines which have not been pruned for several years, it may take two or three years of careful pruning to get a desirable type of vine with a minimum of old wood and capable of producing a fair crop.

If the vines are planted closer together than six feet, some of them should be removed or else the pruning will have to be more severe than has been recommended.

Spray for Peach Leaf Curl in Dormant Season

Peach leaf curl does a great deal of damage each year. The unfortunate thing about this disease is that when it makes its presence known it is too late to treat it. This disease must be treated during the dormant season or it cannot be treated at all.

It is too late now to treat the disease effectively in southern peach sections, but in northern sections where the buds are still dormant, there is still time to treat the disease effectively.

For controlling peach leaf curl, the trees must be sprayed thoroughly with lime sulphur solution, 1 part to 20 parts of water, or with 4-50 Bordeaux mixture. The spray must be applied before the buds begin to swell. Thoroughness of application is absolutely necessary. The twigs must be entirely coated on all sides if control is to be efficient. If the wind is blowing strong from one direction, the trees should be sprayed a second time from the other side, provided this will insure more complete covering of the twigs.

Delay in application until after the buds begin to swell frequently allows the spores of peach leaf curl to germinate, and thus the disease may be beyond control when the spray is applied. The tree should be sprayed when completely dormant. If San Jose scale is present, lime sulphur solution at a dilution of one part in nine parts of water should be used in place of the weaker solution.

Watch for Woolly Aphis

Woolly aphis is a pest for which nursery trees should be particularly examined. Signs of this disease will be found on the roots of the nursery trees. The appearance is whitish wax or mold like growth. This is an exudate from the bodies of the aphids, which can frequently be found in the crevices of the bark below it. Such trees should be rejected for planting or thoroughly fumigated.

Horticultural Facts

An acre of raspberries will yield from 1,800 to 1,400 quarts in eastern America, though yields have been known as high as 4,000 quarts.

Give all top-heavy trees a close and careful pruning, because the apples in the tops of the trees as a rule grow in large clusters or bunches and are almost sure to be caught in the wind and your trees will be greatly damaged or likely ruined.

In the bearing apple tree remember that it is the plump, well-nourished bud which produces blossoms and fruit. Secure such buds for next year by a careful thinning out of the ends of the branches which will insure plenty of sunlight and plant food reaching the buds on the remaining twigs.

Leave three to six new canes to each raspberry or blackberry, and remove the surplus old wood from the currants and gooseberries. Both of the latter bear mostly on two-year-old wood.

Grapes may be pruned during the winter. The fruit is borne on wood of the present season which grows from last year's canes. Select several of the best canes, cut them back to three or four buds, and prune the others away. Those eyes will make this year's new fruiting wood.

HORSE PLAY
By THOMAS ARKLE CLARK
Dean of Men, University of Illinois

FROM the time when I was a boy, in the country and joined the grange through youth and middle-age I have been familiar with horse play and mild forms of hazing in the various secret organizations of which I have become a member. There is nothing more ignoble and less helpful and effective in impressing the principles of any organization upon the candidate for initiation than the foolish physical stunts through which candidates are frequently put even in so-called honorary organizations or in organizations whose members are for the most part middle-aged men. I suppose no one has talked or written or used his influence against these foolish practices more than I have done.

The fact is they are decreasing. Many college organizations have legislated against horse play, and many more have advised against it. The practice is not nearly so universal as it was when I was an undergraduate, and the particular stunts indulged in neither so prolonged nor so brutal. They never were so horrible as they were depicted afterwards by those who had gone through with them, for exaggeration and imagination played a great part. Horse play would disappear from college very rapidly if it were not kept alive by the practices of older men in organizations whose purposes are said to be more serious, and were not fostered by tales of bald heads of "What happened when I was in college."

Recently I have been getting communications, unsigned, of course, from a man who is all "het up" over horse play in college. He sends me clippings and he wants me to have the practice stopped at once. I wish I could. He writes: "I have witnessed an after midnight paddling party in a fraternity by a sophomore to a freshman in a private room with no one around. Am sorry that I cannot give you the details nor my name, as it will endanger the life of my son on the campus. In fact, I was threatened that should I reveal same, it would mean suicide for my son. I hardly think you need to know the name of the fraternity, for I understand every fraternity on the campus is following the same practice, which is barbaric, and if you will investigate you will soon know the conditions that exist."

He takes the matter all too seriously. If son doesn't like what is going on in his fraternity he can at any time turn in his pledge button and be free. No one's life is really in serious danger either from outside or abuse. It is simply foolishness; it wastes time; it takes the boy's mind off his studies. In fact he really likes it, and he would be sorry to have it omitted whether he be the one who is applying the torture or submitting to it. He especially likes to write home about it and get the folks all stirred up, and to tell about it after it is over, and the oftener he tells the tale the more lurid it becomes. And next year when he is a sophomore he will wield the paddle himself with the most vigorous and enthusiastic hand. But, of course, it ought to be stopped.

Lansing—The Lennon bill which gives authority to the Michigan public utilities commission to demand the books and records of the American Telephone & Telegraph Co., has been adopted by the senate.

Albion—Marjorie, 2-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Matichik, of Albion, died after physicians had been unsuccessful in removing a kidney bean which had lodged in her throat. She had put several beans in her mouth while at play and a slight cough caused one to enter his wind pipe.

Grand Rapids—Michigan ranks third in the manufacture of furniture, with New York first and Illinois second, a compilation of the biennial census of manufactures for 1925 by the Department of Commerce shows. The census further revealed that the values of products as recorded by the leading states ranged from $38,638,886 to $155,828,177. The value of Michigan products was $99,180,108.

Lansing—Effort to keep a more careful account of confiscated liquor was made when Representative Fred R. Ming, of Cheboygan, introduced a bill to place control of all confiscated liquor under the state board of auditors. The bill would revert to the old law, changed a few years ago, under which police authorities were required to report all confiscations to the state auditors. Since the old law was changed no report is made of liquor confiscated.

Lansing—A new bill to require the registration of all sales of revolvers and similar firearms and to provide more harsh penalties for carrying concealed weapons was introduced in the Senate by Sen. Seth Q. Pulver of Owosso. A bill was passed to prohibit the sale of imitation fruit juices and flowers without showing they are imitations, by printed notice on the label, the notice to be in type as large as that used for the name of the drink.

Manistique—Proposed legislation to cut the bag limit on ducks is strongly opposed by Northern Michigan sportsmen. This attitude is not taken because it is believed the ducks are becoming more scarce but simply because the shooting in this territory has been very poor during the past few seasons. There are just as many ducks, it is believed, but the birds have not made sufficient stops here to afford any great amount of sport to the hunters.

Grand Haven—Grand Haven was added to the list of Michigan cities which hope to be the site of the summer White House when Rep. Carl E. Mapes called on President Coolidge. The Judson residence is the third Michigan home to be offered to the President this year. The other Michigan aspirants to the title of summer White House are the Mackinac Island home of Mrs. Alvin T. Hart and the summer home of Alfred Owen Crozier at Harbor Springs.

Lansing—Without a dissenting vote, the House passed and transmitted to the Senate the Birksolm and Warner bills appropriating funds for the rehabilitation of the State Sanatorium at Howell and $500,000 for a new tuberculosis hospital at Ann Arbor. The measures were adopted as they recently were amended in committee of the whole, with Howell and Ann Arbor dividing equally the $500,000 appropriated by the last Legislature for a new institution.

Lansing—Municipalities, when operating governmental enterprises for a profit, are liable for personal injury damages, the same as private corporations, the State Supreme Court held here in a case tried recently. Catherine Foss was injured by a Lansing garbage truck. A lower court refused to grant her damages on the ground the municipality was engaged in governmental work and was exempt. The court reversed the lower court ruling and ordered a new trial.

Monroe—Active war on the corn borer started here when 1,000 insects, enemies of the borer, were released on the Heck farm, along the South Dixie highway, by Dr. Philip Luginbill, federal expert in charge of corn borer eradication in Michigan. The corn borer enemies were part of a consignment of 47,000 shipped from Europe to Arlington, Mass., last fall, and brought here recently. Other consignments of insects will be released as fast as they emerge from the cocoons.

Jackson—Six hundred potato demonstration farms have been established in Southwestern Michigan by the special spud train which has just completed a visit to 12 counties under the joint auspices of the Michigan State College and the M. C. railroad. The train made stops at 26 stations where it was visited by 5,165 farmers. It carried 2,800 bushels of northern grown certified seed which were placed with 600 farmers to demonstrate the superior yielding qualities of the certified product compared with the common seed used on the farms.

Charlevoix—Announcement has been made that R. E. Olds, Lansing automobile manufacturer, has offered President Coolidge his summer home, Olds Wood Lodge, on Lake Charlevoix, near this city. The Lodge is prominently situated on Olds Wood Point, a wooded tract comprising 160 acres. Accommodations include a large living room, dining room, library and 17 bedrooms with all modern conveniences. Mr. Olds has offered the use of his 99-foot yacht, Reomar, for the President's use.

Studebaker Commander maintains mile-a-minute speed for 81 hours, 49 minutes

5 amazing records for speed and endurance established by Big Six

NEVER before has any automobile in America traversed 5,000 miles in less than 5,000 consecutive minutes.

A stock Studebaker did it—The Commander, a closed car fully equipped, including even spare tire.

In official tests under the sanction and observation of the American Automobile Association this stock Studebaker, identical with the car you can buy in any Studebaker sales room, not only established the amazing new record of 5,000 miles in 4909 minutes total elapsed time, but also set four other records.

2500 miles in 40 hours, 12 minutes, 54 seconds total elapsed time. An average speed of 62.16 miles per hour.

3102 1/2 miles in 50 hours total elapsed time. An average of 62.05 miles per hour.

3500 miles in 56 hours, 47 minutes, 32 1/2 seconds total elapsed time. An average speed of 61.62 miles per hour.

4,414 miles in 72 hours total elapsed time. An average speed of 61.3 miles per hour.

5,000 miles in 81 hours, 48 minutes, 22 seconds total elapsed time. An average speed of 61.12 miles per hour. No automobile or other vehicle in America has travelled so far so fast. No stock closed car has ever approached this record.

Here is what these records mean to you

1 It is possible to purchase a truly great automobile at a moderate price. These records prove that The Commander has justly been called "the greatest post-war achievement of automotive engineering."

2 The Commander, because of the super-abundant power of its Big Six engine, will perform eagerly, easily, smoothly, with no labor or effort, any and all tasks placed upon it.

3 Studebaker has produced in these new models, cars which will excel even the staunch, dependable Studebakers of the past, in low repair and maintenance costs.

Any motor expert will tell you that 5,000 miles at more than a mile a minute is equivalent in strain and stress to 25,000 miles of ordinary driving. Yet in this terrible test the only replacements or repairs were three grease-cups, one spark-plug and one punctured tire. Only one pint of water was used.

NOW! Drive a Commander yourself. Know this great car through your own hands and feet. These shattered records merely dramatize the thrilling performance which Studebaker Commander owners everywhere are enjoying. They explain why the Studebaker Big Six is far out-selling the combined totals of all other cars in the world of equal or greater rated horsepower. The exact duplicate of this record-shattering car is waiting for you at Studebaker show-rooms.

Commander Models and their One-Price: Sedan, $1585; Victoria, $1575; (with broadcloth upholstery, $1645); Coupe, $1545; (with rumble seat, $1645). Other Studebaker and Erskine models range in price from $945 to $2245. All prices f. o. b. factory.

Too Much "Acid?"

Excess Uric Acid Gives Rise to Many Unpleasant Troubles.

Authorities agree that an excess of uric acid is primarily due to faulty kidney action. Retention of this toxic material often makes its presence felt by sore, painful joints, a tired, languid feeling and, sometimes, toxic backache and headache. That the kidneys are not functioning right is often shown by scanty or burning passage of secretions. Thousands assist their kidneys at such times by the use of Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic. Model Displays Latest of French Innovations

This exclusive model, worn by June Marlowe, Universal player, was designed by Johanna Mathleson. The gown is made of imported black French lace over nude satin. The bodice is quite tight fitting and the lace is used to represent a sort of bolero jacket with a loose cape-like back. The skirt is gathered over the satin underskirt. Much can be said of the lace used in fashioning this gown. It consists of many lace medallions held together with small pieces of tulle. It is one of the latest French innovations.
