RED CROSS FUND DAY FOR FLOOD SUFFERERS

CITIZENS OF EAST JORDAN ASKED TO CONTRIBUTE LIBERALLY FOR SOUTHERN FLOOD RELIEF.

Saturday, May 7th

Is The Day Set By City Officials For Raising of Funds.

The citizens of East Jordan will be called upon to contribute as liberally as possible this Saturday, for funds to aid the Red Cross in their relief work among the southern flood sufferers.

The matter was taken up at a meeting of East Jordan Business Men's Ass'n, Wednesday evening, and it was the consensus of opinion that East Jordan should more than do its share in this relief work. Owing to the fact that Charlevoix County has had no Red Cross organization for several years, no particular quota has been set for this county. The necessity for immediate action is imperative however, and this Saturday, May 7th, was designated as the day for raising funds for East Jordan.

All funds collected will be in charge of the officials of the City of East Jordan, and all monies received will be forwarded to the proper Red Cross officers. The two Banks of East Jordan have been named as depositaries, and should anyone be overlooked in the canvass Saturday, they are requested to make their offerings direct to either of these two banks.

It was at first thought advisable to hold a tag day, but was reconsidered. The City has been blocked off into districts and a soliciting committee, with Howard Porter as Chairman, will have charge of the work. Following are the members of this committee:

A. J. Duncanson Dr. H. W. Dicken
Mrs. Roy Sherman Mrs. M. Palmister
Mrs. John Porter Mrs. W. H. Fuller
Mrs. G. Kiteman Mrs. Jas. Gidley
R. C. Supernaw Mrs. Roy Webster
C. H. McKinnon L. Dudley
Mrs. H. P. Porter Mrs. Gus Muma
Mrs. Walter Davis A. K. Hill
Roscoe Mackey H. P. Porter

JUST SUPPOSING!

Supposing: It rained, day after day for two months. Not a gentle sizzle, but a downpour, as high, sometimes as 12 inches in 36 hours.

Supposing: The Jordan River instead of 25 miles was 2500 miles long draining 20 states.

Supposing: That added to the excessive rain fall around East Jordan was the melting snows and spring rains of half the United States.

Supposing: That Lake Charlevoix, instead of being surrounded with land, three or four hundred feet above the water, was confined to its banks by a flat plain, only a few inches above its normal level, and held in its place by a mud bank, 20, 30 or 40 ft. high.

Supposing: That a 5 ft. raise would cover the whole of Charlevoix County, without a raise of land, for miles, great enough to get out of it.

Supposing: These artificial banks, were filled to the brim, and in spite of desperate work, breaking over in places, and washing the soft mud away covering whole counties, filling your homes, your stores and barns, with filthy, muddy water. This is the condition that prevails in the Mississippi valley from Cairo, Illinois to the Gulf of Mexico. An area greater than the State of Michigan is under water. People are driven to the levee banks, crowded together on little hill tops, hills that a Michigan man could not see as such, on house tops, without food or clothing. All their possessions either swept away or spoiled by the water.

In this emergency the American Red Cross, as always has been called upon for help. The American Red Cross has no money but what comes from you and me. The American Red Cross has asked East Jordan and the surrounding country to come to their help in relieving this distress. Can East Jordan be depended on to do its share, and more in relieving the distress of this national calamity. Make it a thank offering that we are permitted to live where nature smiles on us from years end to years end.

A very small amount from each person will make a big lot. $50, $1.00, $5.00. The cost of the gas for one Sunday afternoon trip to Petoskey or Charlevoix from each automobile owner will make more than our share.

Give your money to the solicitors this Saturday, and if anyone is overlooked, make your offering with the State Bank of East Jordan or the Peoples State Savings Bank.

Complimentary Band Concert

FRIDAY EVENING, MAY 13TH

High School Band Will Give a Free Concert to the East Jordan Public Before Leaving for Lansing.

It is generally known that the East Jordan High School Band has entered the State Band Tournament at Lansing, Tuesday, May 17th. The boys feel that East Jordan deserves to hear them on some of the selections that they are to play at Lansing. The East Jordan people have been so loyal, not only to the band, but other High School organizations, that they are giving the concert free to the public.

A number of the selections to be played at the above concert are among those to be given at Lansing. For instance you will notice in the program that No. 3, Suite from Sigurd the Jorsalfar, by Edward Grieg, is a piece requested by the committee in charge of the tournament at Lansing, and selection No. 5, Norwegian Dances number 2 and 3, by Edward Grieg is the number chosen by Band Master Ter Wee for the boys to play as their choice of numbers at the contest. Semper Pedelis March—Sousa, and El Capitan March—Sousa, are the two numbers to be played in unison with the other thirty-nine bands who are entering the tournament at Lansing.

The older people from outside of the school should get to the concert reasonably early as the center section of seats and five rows on each side section will be reserved for the older people of the city. We are asking the parents, if possible, not to take too many younger children that would occupy a seat, for perhaps the auditorium will not be able to accommodate all. We have asked the high school and upper grades to take the seats outside of the reserved section. A little surprise is in store for the band and general public at this concert. Remember the date and be there.

Are you sure that you have enough alfalfa and sweet clover? These meetings are the most important and beneficial to be held this year. Plan on attending your nearest meeting. Read the following schedule closely: Time is Eastern or "Fast."

Mrs. B. Greenwood Dies at Nashville

Mrs. Bessie Greenwood passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Eva Dean, at Nashville, Mich., on Saturday, April 30th, following a four months illness from Bright's disease.

Eliza Bessie Bennett was born at Exeter, Devonshire, England, in 1853. In 1860 she came to the United States and Michigan, and in 1882 located in East Jordan, where she continued to make her residence until recently; since then spending part of each year with her daughters and son.

In 1874 she was united in marriage to Albert H. Greenwood at Grand Rapids, Mich. The husband died in 1891. Mrs. Greenwood is survived by two daughters and one son—Mrs. Eva G. Dean of Nashville, Mich.; Mrs. Bessie A. Hoffman of Florida, and Albert E. Greenwood of Traverse City, Mich.

Funeral services were held at Nashville and the remains brought to East Jordan Monday afternoon, May 2nd, where short funeral services were conducted by Rev. Sidebotham and the remains laid to rest at Sunset Hill.

If some men worked as hard as they played they would be bankers. Any merchant will tell you that you can't sell it when the people don't want it.

We hope that the local citizens who started out this spring to beautify their yards will keep at it this summer. It is the everlasting persistence that will tell the story in improved appearances.

Wednesday Was Wedding Day

For A Number of Young People in East Jordan and Vicinity.

Wednesday of this week was an epoch in the lives of a number of our young people, who launched their ships on the sea of matrimony. They all have a host of friends who extended sincere congratulations. Many of the young friends yaxed enthusiastic over the occasions, and that evening charivari parties were indulged in, much to the enjoyment of the said young people, and the distaste of the older ones in the neighborhoods, whose slumbers were broken.

SHERMAN—LA CLAIR

Miss Sarah Sherman, daughter of Mrs. John Sherman, and Clifford LaClair were united in marriage at the Methodist parsonage, of this city, Wednesday afternoon, May 4th, the pastor, Rev. V. J. Hufton officiating. They were attended by Carl and Grace Moblo. The contracting parties are both well-known young people of our city. The bride has, for a few years past, served as operator on the East Jordan telephone exchange, and the groom operates a barber shop in our city.

ROBERTS—MOBLO

Miss Grace Roberts and Carl Moblo were united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Roberts, East Jordan, West Side, Wednesday forenoon, May 4th. Elder L. Dudley performed the ceremony. They were attended by Miss Sarah Sherman and Clifford LaClair. The groom is son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Moblo of the Miles Dist. They left that day for a visit with friends at Traverse City.

SUMNER—LEU

Miss Hazel Sumner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Sumner, and Herman Leu, son of Mr. and Mrs. August Leu, both of East Jordan, were united in marriage at Petoskey Wednesday evening, May 4th, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Wm. Oplitz, pastor of the German Lutheran Church. They were attended by Miss Anna Leu and Lyle Sumner. They plan to occupy the home of the bride's parents in this city. Mr. and Mrs. Sumner leaving this week for their new home at Charlevoix, Mich.

GREEN—SCOTT

Harriett Marie Green and Thomas W. Scott, both of Alba, were united in marriage at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Scott, near Alba, Wednesday evening May 4th. Elder G. H. McKinnon of this city officiated. They were attended by Jackson Scott and Miss Dorothy Green. The bride was a former East Jordan girl, having been born here, and making this place her home up to a few years ago. They plan to make their home in Southern Michigan.

Business Is Built Upon Three "Ships"

The Trade Extension Tour of the Grand Rapids wholesalers and jobbers has completed plans for the 21st Annual Tour May 23rd to 26th inclusive.

It is expected that this tour, with the various wholesale and jobbing concerns of Grand Rapids represented, will build more acquaintanceship, fellowship and friendship than any previous trip, coming just before the resort season starts should make for the various concerns of Grand Rapids a lasting friendship among the merchants and business men of each community visited. The object of these tours, where the heads of the concerns leave their offices and spend many hours each day calling upon the concerns their salesmen call upon, is to build the above THREE SHIPS.

Business today is built upon these ships, plus service and co-operation with each other, and for this purpose only are these trips made. The wholesale and jobbing concerns of Grand Rapids are very heavy contributors to the Michigan Tourist & Resort Association, which makes it possible for Western Michigan to be advertised to the world, and the trip this year will be known as the "Grand Rapids Wholesaler's Resort Special."

Arrangements have been made with schools in the various towns to have the scholars assembled on the Main Street upon our arrival to hear the celebrated Furniture City Band play, while the wholesalers on the trip are calling upon the various business concerns.

School Notes

JUNIOR HOP AND BANQUET

Always looked forward to by the students as one of the biggest social events of the year, the Junior Hop put on by the class of '28, Friday evening was no exception. It would seem, to many of us, that the boys and girls would be at a loss to know how to decorate and put the affair on so that it would be different from the Hops of former years. But this again was done for the color scheme, and decorations of this year's Hop surely compares favorably with any other that has been given in the East Jordan High School.

The class colors are green and white and the decorations carried the scheme of green and white throughout, even to the color of the punch. Not only did these particular colors look pretty in decorations but the idea of a complete inclosure was quite unique and cannot be described very well to anyone who did not see it.

The attitude and general moral tone at this year's Hop was of a high order, all the dancing was above criticism and the parents are to be congratulated on their young people. Fuller's orchestra of Traverse City furnished the music.

Grant Keefer, Agriculture teacher and Class Advisor was largely responsible for the success of one of the best Hops ever put on at the High School. Miss Staley, is President of the class, Miss Dorothy Clark, chairman of the invitation committee, and the class may well be proud of their committee.

In addition to the Junior Hop, another affair was put on by the class and some of their mothers, the following Saturday evening in the form of a banquet and a variety of social games for many of the students, some forty in number, who did not care to dance. Of course the general sentiment in regard to the Junior Hop was that everyone had a good time, and just the same is to be said for the party the following evening for everyone reports one of the best times of their experience. A very fine banquet was given the students of both the Junior and Senior class who did not attend the evening before. The committee in charge who deserve much credit were Evelyn Webster, Chairman, and the Misses Ruth Clark and Thelma MacDonal, on the committee, and Miss Campbell who assisted the above committee.

The banquet and social games is a feature that has not been added for a number of years until this year and pleased many of the students and parents. We hope to have the custom continued. The class wants to thank the mothers for making it possible for many of the boys and girls of the High School to have an enjoyable evening.

FINE SHOWING IN COMMERCIAL

That the Commercial Department of our High School has had the best year in its history is attested by the fact that more medals for speed and accuracy in typewriting have been won this year than ever before. Margaret Staley has qualified for the pearl medal; the gold medal has been awarded to Viola Snyder, Isabel Lintner, Fern Gidley, and Anna Leu, the silver to Thelma McDonald, Minnie Webster, Margaret Gunderson, Beatrice LaLonde, Marie Kenny, and Dorothy Joyn, and the bronze to Bernice Bashaw, Betty Kitzman, Opal MacDonald, and Gladys Nelson.

At the Sectional Contest in Typewriting and Shorthand held at Petoskey, April 23 East Jordan High School, in competition with Petoskey, Charlevoix, Grayling, Harbor Springs, Boyne City and Cheboygan won three first places and one second place out of the four in typewriting. Minnie Webster took first place in first year typewriting, Isabel Lintner second place in second year typewriting.

500 Trees Being Transplanted Today

From Charlevoix Nurseries to East Jordan's New Tourist Park.

Following the work of our 500 citizens last week Wednesday in developing East Jordan's newly-acquired Tourist's Park, it was decided that some trees should be planted. The matter was taken up with Mr. Hemmingway, proprietor of the Charlevoix Nurseries near Ironton, and he made the City of East Jordan such a liberal offer that it was deemed most advisable to accept it. The collection consists of the following trees:

100 Elms, 100 Sugar Maples, 20 Tulips, 50 Walnuts, 25 Red Cedars, 25 Black Hill Spruce, 25 Mountain Ash, 50 Lilacs.

The matter of transplanting this large quantity of nursery stock was the next big problem, and at a meeting of our Business Men's Association Wednesday night, nearly a hundred men and school students were pledged to set apart today—Friday—and assist in the transfer. The crew of workmen are working under men who are thoroughly conversant with the subject of transplanting trees, and with the season of the year just right for this work and most favorable weather conditions, the loss of trees in the transfer will probably be very small.

Margaret Staley first place in third year typewriting and Viola Snyder third place. Anna Leu, Isabel Lintner, and Margaret Staley took first place in team typewriting with an average speed of sixty words a minute. Miss Staley's individual record of sixty-seven words made on the team was the best typing record made at the contest by anyone. In shorthand also, the girls made a fine showing. In ninety word dictation Viola Snyder placed second; in one hundred word dictation Anna Leu placed third and Margaret Staley fourth; in 70 word dictation Norma Griffin placed seventh and Bernice Bashaw eighth.

The Board of Education has voted to send all winners of first places to Kalamazoo to the State Contest May 13th. The winners in the state contest will go to New York City as the guests of the Underwood Typewriting Company to enter the national contest. While at the State Contest, the representatives of the various schools will be entertained by the students of Western State Normal at a banquet and party.

Besides regular work this year the Commercial Department has made copies of the high school songs for every member of the high school, has made the programs for one of the Missionary societies, has typed many of the news articles written for the local paper, and has taken care of all the teachers' dictation. It has been a valuable help to many worthwhile activities. The girls and their teachers have spent many hours outside of school, working to complete extra pieces of work that they have been asked to do. Their unselfishness and their willingness to put in this extra time deserves a great measure of appreciation. The fine quality of this extra work is indicative of the grade of work done every day in the classroom of that department.

Statistics show that East Jordan has the best Commercial Department in Northern Michigan and one of the leading ones in the State. Much credit goes to our very able commercial instructor, Miss Bryant, whose teaching in accuracy and speed has placed the department in its present place of recognition.

Ideas about good times differ.

Michigan Farmers Realize Clean-Up Need After Viewing Damage At First Hand.

East Lansing, May 2nd.—The need for the clean-up campaign now being waged in the corn borer infested area was vividly shown to a group of farmers who visited Essex County, Ontario, recently.

Accompanied by Ira Graham, President of the Essex County Farm Bureau, the group visited farms throughout Essex County and witnessed the destruction wrought by the borer.

Essex County formerly raised 100,000 acres of corn which has now dwindled down to less than 30,000 acres. In 1922, there was only a slight infestation over the county. In 1926, the crop was practically a total loss from the ravages of the borer.

President Graham stated that the loan companies had issued orders to decrease loans $10.00 per acre and to be extremely cautious in appraisals on new applications. He anticipated the largest number of mortgage foreclosures this year that has ever occurred in the history of Canada.

Every member of the party was given an opportunity to discuss the corn borer with the owners of the visited farms. Although a few in the group were skeptical at first, they all returned home with the firm conviction that the present clean-up campaign is one of the most constructive programs ever formulated for American agriculture.

AFTER COLLEGE

By THOMAS ARKLE CLARK
 Dean of Men, University of Illinois

WE WROTE orations when I was in college. Each senior prepared laboriously an effort of a thousand words or so upon some topic which he but vaguely understood, and then, after a certain amount of drilling on the part of the professor of elocution, perpetrated the thing upon the assembled student body in chapel. The oration gave interest and zest and variety to the dull routine of daily chapel exercises. Its delivery was often crude and awkward and halting. Sometimes the speaker halted indefinitely, having memorized his speech badly. In whatever way he performed, however, he was greeted with uproarious applause.

A good many of these efforts I still vividly recall, and one of them especially. "After College, What?" was the title which one of my classmates enlarged upon. He was a lazy, shiftless fellow who did his work indifferently and seemed to have little ambition or purpose in life. If he passed his courses, it was by the slightest possible margin. If he ever showed enthusiasm in class, it was a shock and a surprise to every one who knew him. His oration was, however, a rosy prophecy of what the future held not only for him, but for all those intellectual workers with whom he was associated. The present might be dull and uninteresting, the work in which he and his friends were now engaged might be heavy and depressing, but there was a bright and glorious future confronting each one of them immediately upon their exit from the college halls. After college there was to be one round of excitement and success after another. I met him a few weeks ago and he borrowed two dollars of me to get himself back home. I kissed the bills goodby as I placed them in his eager hands, for I knew that was the last time we should ever meet.

A man's career after he gets out of college is seldom very different excepting in degree from what was suggested when he was an undergraduate. Occasionally he wakes up after toasting along through his studies; once in a while he picks out an energetic wife who injects some snap into him; less often, I think, an energetic man in college slumps after he gets out; but in general you can tell about what a man will accomplish when he is forty by the way he goes at things at twenty.

Of all the men I knew in college thirty-five or forty years ago, not many have changed excepting in degree from what they were when we were studying physics and chemistry and calculus and German together. The slow and lazy ones still come in on the freight trains. The fellows who went to Sunday school are now the pillars of the various churches to which they belonged. The men who got the assignments even if it took all night to do it, are forging an in business as they did in book, and women after college are about the same sort as they were in college. We don't change much.

Old Musical Instrument

The Jewish shophar, a ram's horn usually straightened and flattened, is the only ancient musical instrument actually preserved in the Mosaic ritual and the oldest wind instrument known to be retained in present use in the world. It is still sounded by the Jews on the New Year and on the Day of Atonement. It is first named in the Bible as sounding when the Lord descended upon Mount Sinai.

State News in Brief

Lansing—The committees of the House and Senate have tentatively agreed to adjournment Friday, May 13.

Paw Paw—Grapes and other fruits in the Paw Paw district suffered little damage as a result of frost, growers reported after examining the buds on the vines and trees. The most severe damage was sustained by the sweet cherry trees. It was announced.

Ann Arbor—Summarizing the campus news for parents of students at the University of Michigan, "The Michigan Weekly," sponsored by the Michigan Daily, student newspaper, will be published next fall. The paper will contain four pages and will carry news reprinted from the week's issues of the Daily.

Lansing—The house has passed a bill to raise justice courts in Detroit to the standing of courts of common pleas, and to add four new judges. The measure, offered by Representative William Walters of Detroit, would raise the jurisdiction of the court to $1,000. In addition it would allow the judges to employ clerks and bailiffs, and would pave the way for pay increases for the judges.

Detroit—Five hundred sacks of corn sugar, seized in raids on bootleggers, were dumped into the Detroit River at the foot of Woodward avenue, under the direction of Abel Lezotte, deputy United States marshal. The sugar is worth $3 a sack, Lezotte said, and one bag is used for every eight gallons of mash. "We prefer to dump the sugar rather than auction it because it usually through the sale finds its way back into the hands of the moonshiners," Lezotte said.

Lansing—The Senate on receipt of the Governor's veto of the Palmer "salary grab amendment" to the legislative appropriation bill, providing members of the Legislature with $5 a day as expense money during the time actually spent in Lansing during a session or on junketing trips, voted unanimously to uphold the veto. At the time the amendment was adopted more than two-thirds the membership of the Senate and House voted for its adoption. The House took no action on the veto.

East Jordan—Because the city, as a corporation, is out of debt, Mayor H. W. Dicken declared a holiday recently and the school children and the business men's clubs celebrated by making the city's newly acquired tourist park ready for the season. The East Jordan school district paid off the last of its $80,000 indebtedness April 1 and the city officials took up the last of their $1,800 debt. The city has a fine school, paved streets, a boulevard lighting system, fire protection and artesian spring water.

Kalamazoo—An option taken on a 355-acre tract east of Galesburg, Kalamazoo County, revealed the intention of the Masonic Grand Lodge to erect a $3,000,000 home and school within the next year. Final action probably will be taken at the Grand Lodge meeting in May. Announcement of the option was accompanied by a statement from members of the Grand Lodge board that the Galesburg site is one of two which will be placed before the Grand Lodge for final approval.

Lansing—The proposed fifth, normal school, political football of the 1925 session is alive again through the introduction of a bill by Sen. Calvin A. Campbell of Indian River, of a bill to appropriate $350,000 for the proposed school. Practically every city and several villages in the northern part of the Lower Peninsula made a bid for the fifth normal but ex-Gov. Alex. J. Groesbeck vetoed the selection of Petoskey made by the state board of education and no site was chosen.

Lansing—Rep. Charles H. Culver, of Detroit, has succeeded in adding his whipping post amendment to a third crime bill. Unanimously the House added the last provision to a robbery armed measure. The bill was Senator Baxter's act, providing life or any number of years for the person committing robbery with any object which might be mistaken for a dangerous weapon. A robbery with a toy gun, thus, makes the robber liable to conviction for robbery armed and liable to the whipping post penalty.

East Lansing—Although the jumping Henrys and dixie Lizzies, as campus flivvers are variously termed, have not been forbidden at Michigan State College, the student body, led by a few adventurous co-eds, shows every indication of accepting roller skating as a convenient means of locomotion, emulating the example of the University of Michigan, Princeton and other institutions. College leaders forecast that even though no ban has been placed on cars, the roller skating craze will spread, and the campus sidewalks will be turned into roller rinks.

Lansing—Michigan's gasoline tax will stay at two cents a gallon, the house decided when it defeated a 2-cent gas tax bill by a 38 to 50 vote. Defeat of the bill, offered by Senator George Leland, of Fennville, is seen as the end of all efforts to either raise the gas tax, or revise the weight tax schedule at this session of the legislature. Although the vote, by which the measure was defeated was subsequently reconsidered, and the bill laid on the table, it is considered unlikely that it will be revived.

Community Building

Roadside Trees Need Care and Protection

Farmers' bulletin No. 1481, says: "Roadside plantings also furnish nesting sites, food and protection for desirable birds. The under plantings especially might be selected with the needs of our feathered friends in mind. In view of this widespread and increasing interest it is well that communities, especially country districts and officials responsible for the roads, seriously consider the desirability of advancing some scheme of roadside improvement by making a study of the advantages and disadvantages of plantings. Such a study should include the preparation of alternative plans, so that an intelligent decision as to the method to be employed may be made. In order that trees may be grown successfully they must be given reasonable care and protection. In addition, roadside tree planting, even more than tree planting in village and city streets, needs unity of idea and expression over considerable distance. As a rule, longer stretches of country road are visible at one time than of a city street, and the rate of travel is faster, so that different sections of the road will be passed so rapidly that it will appear as a jumble if the same material is not used over long distances."

Laying Out Highways for Enjoyable Travel

In the United States we do not have the settled, definite conformings of rural beauty to be found in older countries, save, perhaps, in the environs of our oldest cities. Ours is more a problem of controlling development than of preventing destruction. Land owners along the highways could and should, by agreement, even for selfish reasons alone, bar that which detracts from the enjoyment of highway travel. When settlements are laid out, even if it is only a little cross-roads business center backed by a few residences, there should be co-operation for order and beauty. The values of the land, of the business, of the home and of the vacant ground would be enhanced. The orderly, restricted development of numerous community centers within Kansas City illustrate this point. Other things being equal, all the values in and about such centers are much greater for the standards maintained. Helter-skelter policy never rewarded anybody for anything.—Kansas City Star.

Avoiding Property Loss

It is estimated by Save the Surface campaign that American property owners suffer a loss of more than $1,119,000,000 a year which is measured in terms of shrinking valuations, lower rental returns, repairs and replacements. This bill is the tax we pay for neglect. We neglect 70 per cent of our property. We allow it to become run-down and shabby; this causes values to tumble; neighboring properties suffer, rents decrease, vacancies increase, and the way is opened to undesirable tenants. If the neglect continues, deterioration sets in. Wood weathers, warps, checks and cracks. Nails rust and pull out. Metal rusts. Masonry becomes strained and weakened. Replacements are necessary. Due to the higher prices of materials and labor, repairs are costly. The rate of depreciation increases rapidly, as neglect goes on. It may be but 1 per cent for three or four years, then it climbs higher each month.

Give Thought to Building

The home builder today is short-sighted if he puts his money into anything but a well-built and well-designed home. It costs very little, if any more, to build from a good plan that puts in these clever little touches here and there that give the house that individual and attractive look which means so much when the place is offered for sale. Many builders are still drawing their own plans and are not giving enough thought and study to them to keep them up to date and in line with what the best people want today.

Financing One's Home

Financing is the big problem of the home builder and the big problem of the prospective home owner. The own-your-home movement was popular in the average city in direct proportion to the liberality of terms of purchase. Before the builder can make it easy for his customers to buy homes, he must make it easy for them to provide operating capital with which to continue building.

And Many Large Cities

Many small cities like Hartford city spend a good deal of money in passing ordinances and never follow them up to see that they are properly enforced. Few of them have "teeth" in them, or if they do they are too soon overtaken with pyorrhea.—Hartford News.

Best Home Section

The best residential property is always away from the industrial section, and sections of building sites should be made in the direction of the residential growth of the city.

Pure-Bred Sires Winning Favor

Three New Counties Took Up Work During the Past Three Months.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

The last report of progress in livestock improvement under the systematic "Better Sires-Better Stock" plan conducted by the bureau of animal industry of the United States Department of Agriculture and various states shows 17,047 participants. Some of these persons have large herds and flocks, while others are beginners, but all have agreed to follow the department's recommendation in using pure-bred sires for all classes of live stock raised.

Three New Counties Enter.

The report, which summarizes progress to January 1, 1927, shows that three new counties took up the work during the last three months. These new centers of activity were Placata, Maine; Breathitt, Kentucky, and Cascade, Montana. In the last-named county the 15 newly enrolled participants owned among them more than 1,000 cattle and 3,000 sheep.

During the last three months' period of activity Campbell county, Kentucky, of which Gordon B. Nance is county agent, qualified for the honor roll of counties containing 100 or more live-stock owners enrolled in this progressive means for improving the domestic animals in the country. The list of such counties, several of which have more than 500 persons so enrolled, now totals 44 distributed among 10 states.

Outstanding Achievement.

The outstanding achievement during the calendar year in the better-sires campaign was the success of Union county, Kentucky, in graduating all grade and scrub bulls, thereby being the first county in the United States to achieve this much-sought distinction. Persons participating in the campaign receive a suitably engrossed certificate of recognition and, also, on request, an attractive barn sign entitled "Pure-Bred Sires Exclusively Used on This Farm." It is lithographed on heavy weather-proof cardboard and resembles a metal tablet. Further details concerning the conduct and progress of the work may be obtained from county agricultural agents or from the bureau of animal industry, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

Alsike and Soy Beans

Good as Protein Feed

Many farmers are feeding a hay crop that will afford a good supply of protein other than alfalfa and red clover. These two legumes require a nitrified soil, but not every farm is in this condition. And not every owner is financially able to apply enough lime so that the soil will raise sufficient protein hay for his feeding needs.

Fortunately, there are two good legumes that will help out a farmer who finds himself in this fix. These are alsike clover and soy beans.

Both will grow in a relatively acid soil, and both are able to hold their own as a protein feed with their prouder relatives, alfalfa and red clover.

Plant alsike and soy beans for hay till you can have your farm limed all over, by applying a little each year as your funds will allow. That's good business.

On the fields that are limed sufficiently, alsike and red clover may be grown.

Sudan Grass Furnishes Good Midsummer Pasture

H. D. Hughes and F. S. Wilkins are the authors of a new bulletin just published by the Iowa agricultural experiment station, Ames, which reports the results and conclusions reached following 14 years of observation and experimental work with sudan grass. The new bulletin, No. 288, is entitled "Sudan Grass." Copies will be sent to any one interested upon request to the Bulletin Section, Iowa State College, Ames.

Sudan grass is one of the best emergency, nonleguminous crops to use for hay or pasture in Iowa, the bulletin declares. Among the strong points found for this crop, are: "Its heavy yield of forage, low seed cost, ability to furnish midsummer pasture, extreme drought resistance, ease and cheapness of growing, dependability, adaptability to almost any soil and the long period over which it may be sown following corn planting."

Farm Hints

Get a stump a day, it will help make the farm pay.

Good care and regular overhauling will materially extend the life, and add to the usefulness of farm equipment.

Head lettuce cannot stand hot dry weather so the plants should be started early in a hotbed or colframe, hardened off by a boiling of the glass off during mild weather.

From a soil fertility standpoint, not much dependence could be placed on soy beans grown in corn. For such a purpose they would probably not be worth the corn they would displace.

SOME PICTURES

By DOUGLAS MALLOCH

I'D LIKE some pictures I could hang in our new house, but where to go to find the artist I don't know. He'd have to understand the gang. That used to play around the creek—
I'd like a portrait made of Mick, The freckled boy who made us smile. But Mick has wandered many a mile, And all the kids I knew of yore Who hung around the harness store.

I'd like a picture of a horse, A certain horse—no noble steed And yet the finest horse, indeed, I ever saw—raw-boned, of course, But that's the horse I used to ride Around the old-time countryside. I'd like to have a picture of That one-eyed peltier that I love For wife to hang above the fire Beside the portrait of her sire.

I'd like a picture of our barn, Our old red barn, to deck the wall, And our old house—but best of all Was that old barn where many a yarn Was spun, where many a dance was held, And pop was there, and peanuts shelled.

I'd like a painting of the place Our brand-new drawing room to grace. When 'round about the young folks prance, To bring me back a good, old dance.

I'd like some pictures, but the wife, I don't suppose she'd stand it, though. She says, "I wish you wouldn't, Joe, Keep telling folks of our old life. You know we've left that all behind." And that's the saddest fact I find. I'd like some pictures, but I guess, The only ones I will possess Are just the pictures memory's art Has hung within my lonesome heart. ### THE WHY of SUPERSTITIONS

By H. IRVING KING

TOUCHING THE DEAD

IN MRS. BERGEN'S "Current Superstitions" appears the following communication: "I have noticed at funerals of the aged that when elderly people passed by the casket they would touch the forehead of the dead person. I was confident there was some superstition connected with the act because the same look was apparent on every face; but on being asked why this was done they pretended it was bidding an old comrade good-by. At last one told me that it was that they might not dream of the dead or see them."

It would be interesting to know how widespread this superstition is. It is probably more general than most people imagine. People who "hold by" such superstitions are apt to be extremely reticent about them when talking with "unbelievers," partly from a fear of ridicule and partly because of that feeling which causes certain savage people to "hold his fetish from the white man's gaze apart."

The superstition in question is a patent belief in the power of the touch. A good example of this is the custom of touching for the king's evil, alias scrofula, which was practiced by the English monarchs down to the time of Queen Anne. Homer tells us how, some four thousand years ago, Agamemnon "touched the chiefs and steeled their manly souls." Look over the long list of definitions in the dictionary of the word "touch" and see how nearly all of them have in them the idea of the exertion of a mental or spiritual power by the toucher over the touched. It is an idea of primitive man who appears to have conceived a sort of magnetic spiritual fluid flowing from the finger that touched. When we touch the dead, as in the superstitious practice mentioned, we exert the power of the "touch" over their disembodied spirits to keep them away from us. (© by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

DAIRY FACTS

CARING FOR COW AT CALVING TIME

Many of the complications and losses which occur in connection with calving can be prevented by taking a few precautions, asserts Fred Gaunt, herdman for the college of agriculture, Rutgers university.

Let the cow be dry from four to six weeks before calving, to give her a rest and prepare her for the next lactation period.

Ten days before calving time pit her in a clean, roomy box-stall that has been thoroughly disinfected and supplied with plenty of bedding.

The ration should be light and bulky, containing two parts of bran and two parts of ground oats with one part of linseed oil meal and about two tablespoonfuls of a good live-stock tonic.

At calving time keep a close watch on the animal. If the cow needs help, care should be taken that the person in charge first thoroughly washes his hands in warm water which contains some good disinfectant, such as lysol, and soap. After birth see that the calf's throat is cleaned of mucus and that breathing is started.

With an ordinary pair of scissors cut the naval cord and disinfect with iodine. Give the new calf colostrum milk (the cow's first milk) as soon as possible from a 16-ounce nursing bottle with nipple attached, as this milk is nature's disease preventive. Next remove any cold drinking water from the stall and give the cow warm water to drink.

After four to five hours give the cow a hot sloppy bran mash, blanket her and leave her.

If after forty-eight hours the placenta has not appeared it should be removed, but only by an experienced person. The cow's ration at first should be the same as before calving time, and then gradually changed over to the regular milking ration. Keep the cow just a little grain hungry for the first two weeks, but give her all the hay she will eat.

In order to avoid a cold or milk fever, keep the cow away from and do not turn her out on the wet ground to lie down.

Dairyman Must Supply

Water to Produce Milk
The dairyman who watered his milk would soon be condemned, but water must be supplied to the cows before the milk is manufactured by them or no milk will be produced.

More than 87 per cent of milk is water and a cow will consume about three pounds of water for every pound of milk she produces. To maintain efficiency in production cows must have available an ample supply of water at all seasons of the year.

In winter the water supply is especially important and it must be borne in mind that warm water is necessary if the cow functions properly as a milk factory. According to G. A. Williams of Purdue university the simple tank heater is very efficient in providing water of the right temperature and is easily and inexpensively operated. The temperature most desirable and the one producing the best results is that ranging between 80 degrees and 80 degrees Fahrenheit.

Feeding of Minerals

One of the best dairymen considers the feeding of minerals so important that he does not leave the matter to his cows, but adds, twice daily, four ounces of a mixture to the grain feed. In addition to this he gives five drops of tincture of iodine twice a week to each cow during the first sixty days of her pregnancy. Since he has followed this practice he has not had an abortion nor have his calves been troubled with goitre.

Dairy Hints

Calves should have plenty of fresh water even though they are getting milk.

Going at it blind in dairying cannot pay—plan your work, then work the plan.

Iowa ranks fourth among the states of the Union in number of cow testing associations.

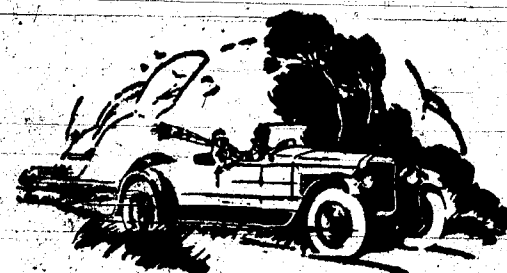

The mere fact that an animal has a pedigree, is not always sufficient reason for raising it.

The farmer who has both milk cows and green pastures of any sort should plan to bring them together.

More contented cows would make more contented farmers.

The hand separator that is not properly adjusted is stealing part of your profits.

The kind of mineral mixture dairy cows need will depend upon the feed they are getting. In addition to salt, one of the principal minerals needed is lime. The best way for the cow to get the lime needed is in legume hay, such as alfalfa, clover or soy-bean hay.

Red Crown Ethyl Puts New Thrill in Driving

Whether you are a city driver, making frequent stops, or a country driver, touring the highways with infrequent stops, RED CROWN ETHYL comes as a boon and a blessing—it "knocks out that knock".

Highways Invite You

- 1—Northern Forest Park, Wisconsin, located on Highways 10, 26 and 32. Within its 76,000 acres of state owned land are forty-two lakes. Here are old pines scarred with Indian hatchets where the Red men obtained pitch for the cementing of their canoes and birch bark which have probably never been penetrated except by wild game.
- 2—Scott Field, near Belleville, Illinois, on State Highway 13. America's greatest air ship port covering over 800 acres of land. The Scott Field Hangar is three city blocks in length, nearly a block wide and as high as a sixteen-story building.
- 3—Scenic State Park, Minnesota. 1632 acres of virgin pine forest surrounding Sandwick and Coon Lakes. North of Big Fork on State Highway 61.
- 4—Mt. Clemens, Michigan, known throughout America as the bath city, where 30,000 people sojourn annually to take advantage of the remarkable mineral water baths. State Highway 19.
- 5—Caruthersville, in the southeastern section of Missouri. Atmosphere of the south—vast fields of snow white cotton—cotton pickers—the rustling of the "fingers" as they separate the seed and bale the short-staple cotton. Lofly spreading pecan and walnut trees laden with green fruit. Groves of cottonwood. State Highway 84.
- 6—The Turtle Mountains, ten miles north of Bismarck, North Dakota. Hundreds of wooded lakes ideal for camping and fishing. State Highway 5.
- 7—Uncle Sam's largest manufacturing Arsenal, located on an island in the center of the Mississippi between Davenport, Iowa, Rock Island and Moline, Illinois. Only inland arsenal in the United States, representing an investment of $380,000,000. One of the finest golf courses in the country. U. S. Highway 32.
- 8—The Roundup at Belle Fourche, South Dakota, held during the week of July 4th. A fine exhibition of horsemanship—rounding up the cattle for cutting out, dividing and shipping to market. This noted roundup or rodeo attracts people from many states. U. S. Highways 16 and 85.
- 9—Tippecanoe Battlefield, in the southern end of the town of Battleground, Indiana. Reached by the River Road, running north from Lafayette.
- 10—Pyramids and Sphinx, near Osley, Kansas, on State Highway 40. These great natural wonders rise from the level prairie in the shape of great sandstone rocks. One of them bears a striking resemblance to the famous Sphinx of Egypt. The fact that there is such a similarity between the ancient Egyptian tombs and these sandstone rocks on the windwept Kansas plains makes them of great interest to the tourist.

ACCIDENT AT THE FERRY

What came near being a serious accident Friday morning happened at the Ironton Ferry. Frank Taylor of Oak Park, Ill., who spends his summers at Ironton, is here with his friend, George Hemmingway, also of Oak Park, Ill., who owns and conducts the Charlevoix Co. Nurseries on Pine Lake in Mountain Dist. Mr. Taylor, came to be here at the opening of the trout season, and was doing some nursery work and had started to Charlevoix with a Ford truck load of nursery stock, as he approached the ferry from the east side, he killed the engine of the truck and in starting it again, in some unaccountable way the truck shot forward at a terrific speed and smashed clear through the ferry gate, tearing it from both hinges. Mr. Taylor was thrown into the water, but the truck did not go clear of the wrecked gate but hung with the rear wheels partly above the water. Ross Alexander, who was in charge of the ferry threw a life buoy into the water, and as luck would have it Mr. Taylor came up right inside of the buoy and was pulled onto the ferry, where it was found he was none the worse for the experience, except the ducking. Almost on the instant, Will Scott arrived and an S. O. S. was sent out and in very short order help arrived from every direction, some from Charlevoix with hoisting tackle and the truck was raised from the water by hand power and was found to be hardly damaged at all, only one fender wrecked and some slight bruises and scratches. The ferry service resumed its usual regularity.

After each lesson these leaders go back to their respective communities and carry the message to all the ladies interested in receiving the work. They are doing this work without pay in any way whatsoever. And are donating at least eight days of their time to be of service to their communities. With the following array of ladies acting as leaders there is no reason why all ladies should not be interested in attending the classes and receive this beneficial information without pay.

Infant's Speech

That part of the brain which controls talking is not developed when the baby is born. Even when this function does develop, it requires a lot of practice before the baby can control the muscles which aid it in talking—the lip, throat and tongue. Imitation of sounds plays a large part in the baby's development.
