NUMBER 21

Schools Win Scholastic Honor

East Jordan Wins Seven Places At State Scholastic Contest.

The entrance of East Jordan High School into the State Scholastic Contest at Mount Pleasant last week added several more honors to this year's list. The contestants from East Jordan were awarded in Class C, two first places, four seconds, and one third, the places being distributed among three departments of the high school. In English XI Ruth Clark placed first and Evelyn Webster second. In Clothing XI and XII Ruth Clark placed first and Evelyn Webster second. In Typing II Margaret Staley placed second and Anna Leu third. In Shorthand II Anna Leu placed second. East Jordan's five places in the Vocational Division of the contest gave them 15 points, which made them tie with Anton Rapids for second place in that division. Ruth Clark ranked among the high point winners of the contest because of winning two first places.

The first scholastic contest among Michigan high schools was held in 1926. In response to a general desire for a repetition of the event, the second contest was held at Mount Pleasant, Friday, May 20, 1927. This year 1147 students entered, representing 75 schools.

The entrants from East Jordan were as follows:

Division I—Academic Chemistry—Harold Clark, Gerrit Steinhagen.
English X—Mary Hufton, Henrietta Severance.
English XI—Ruth Clark, Evelyn Webster.
Plane Geometry—Harold Gidley, Frank Severance.
American History—Harold Clark.
Latin IX—Mary Hufton, Henrietta Severance.

Division II—Vocational Clothing—Grades XI and XII—Ruth Clark, Evelyn Webster.
Shorthand II—Anna Leu.
Typing I—Isabel Kitsman, Minnie Webster.
Typing II—Anna Leu, Margaret Staley.

The following schools won awards for taking highest number of points in the division named:

Academic
Classes A and B—St. Johns.
Class C—Eaton Rapids.
Class D—Sacred Heart, Mount Pleasant.

Vocational Classes A and B—Mount Pleasant.
Class C—St. Louis.
Class D—Akron.

Iron Mountain—Clifford Conners, 48, crawled two miles on his hands and knees after his horse threw him and broke his leg. He was found near a construction camp nearly exhausted, and is in a hospital.

Martin—A nervous breakdown, caused by over study, resulted in the death of Eleanore Young, 17 years old, valedictorian of the Martin High school graduating class. She was the daughter of Mrs. Leo Bailey.

Kalamazoo—Falling from a cross bar on a heavy farm roller, Charles Ames, 10 years old, was killed instantly when crushed by the machine. The boy's father, Charles Ames, Sr., was driving a truck to which the roller had been attached.

Sebawaing—More than 200 Mexican workers have arrived from the south for employment in the sugar beet fields of this territory. The Sebawaing factory of the Michigan Sugar Co. now has about 3,000 acres under contract and will need about 600 workers in all.

Jackson—Robert Lehr, 7-year-old son of Arthur B. Lehr, has been treated at a local hospital for severe burns about the face and head, as a result of the explosion of a railroad torpedo. The youngster found the torpedo and when he tried to open it with a hammer it blew up.

Lansing—Gov. Fred W. Green has signed the following bills: The Leland three-cent gasoline tax, providing approximately $6,000,000 additional revenue for highway purposes. The Dystra sewage disposal act, permitting cities under the Home Rule Act to construct reduction plants on a public utility basis and charge a fee for the service.

Lansing—Gov. Fred W. Green has vetoed the Wood bill, providing that banks remain open at all spring and local elections. In his veto message the Governor said: "There is a constant battle to get voters to exercise their franchise on election day. This bill would have a tendency to keep a number away and it smacks too much of commercialism."

Fatal Auto Accident Near Kalkaska

Henry Gilkerson, aged 45, and Dorothy Keller, aged 12, were killed at Barker Creek, May 20th when the auto in which they were riding became unmanageable and plunged over a steep embankment. Others in the car escaped serious injuries.

Mr. Gilkerson was a former East Jordan resident and brother of Claude Gilkerson, Mrs. Green Stallard and Mrs. Harry Sloop of this city. Miss Keller was niece of Walter Woodcock of this city.

What Reforestation Means

A few years ago the lumber industry held an important place in the commercial life of Michigan. Great sawmills, operating day and night, provided employment to thousands of men. The logs and lumber furnished tonnage for the railroads and the industry paid immense amounts in taxes. As the supply of timber grew less the sawmills stopped operation one by one, and many a prosperous community became nothing more than a bare landscape as the sawmills closed and milling operations ceased.

Reforestation will bring new life to many of these communities that are now looking to a dreary future. It will keep the wheels of manufacturing institutions turning. It will add to the tax rolls. It will give employment to thousands of men, and, besides all this, it will mean that we will import less lumber for our own needs. Michigan's vast acreage of cut over lands are capable of producing more than pine and timber suitable for the manufacture of building material. Jack pine and other quick growing timber suitable for the manufacture of paper can be raised and another gigantic industry can be saved to the State. Reforestation is an economic proposition in every sense of the word. It means millions to Michigan.

Farmers Put Control First In Borer War

That the financial reward involved is merely a secondary consideration in the present corn borer war is evidenced by the scarcity of inquiries received from farmers by the Michigan Department of Agriculture concerning the payment of the extra labor fee. The primary aim of everybody concerned is to rid the State of the corn borer, according to Commissioner Powell.

"During my experience in public service work, extending over a third of a century," says Director A. C. Carton of the State bureau of agricultural industry, "I have never been connected with a project which has received the whole-hearted co-operation accorded the campaign against the European corn borer."

Regulatory officials report that farmers are chiefly concerned with doing a good clean-up job and are wide awake to the seriousness of the corn borer situation. M. S. C. extension workers believe the farmers realize that their real reward will come in benefits which will accrue from better cultural practices.

Arrangements are now being made whereby the extra labor award will be dispatched with a minimum of delay to those farmers whose premises pass inspection. The compensation will be sent out direct from Washington.

WHEN POLLY WAS QUEEN OF MAY

Polly, a poor little girl, stumbles into the play ground of some children who are going to crown the Queen of May. Polly goes to sleep on the throne, the children enter and find Polly. Feeling sorry for her they decide to make her their Queen. Contains drills and the May Pole Dance. Pageant starts at six o'clock standard time at the West Side school this Friday evening, May 27th.

DOCTOR ORDERS VINOL FOR NERVOUS WOMAN

"I was weak, nervous and anemic. Could hardly walk. My doctor ordered Vinol, and I feel 100 per cent better."—Mrs. H. Willis. For over 25 years, this simple, strengthening iron and cod liver compound has been prescribed for weak, nervous women and men and frail children. The very FIRST week you take Vinol you begin to feel stronger, eat and sleep better. Contains no oil—you'll like its taste.—GIDLEY & MAC, Druggists.

Council Proceedings

Adjourned regular meeting of the common council of the City of East Jordan held at the council rooms, Monday evening, May 23, 1927.

Meeting was called to order by the Mayor. Present: Mayor Dicken, and Aldermen Ross, Gidley, Taylor, Watson, Sedgman and Williams. Absent: None.

Minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

Moved by Alderman Sedgman, supported by Alderman Watson, to dispense with a night policeman until July 1. Motion lost by an aye and nay vote as follows:

Ayes—Ross, Watson and Sedgman.
Nays—Taylor, Williams, Dicken and Gidley.

The Mayor appointed Delbert Hale as night policeman, and on motion by Alderman Watson, the appointment was confirmed.

A petition, signed by W. H. Sloan and eleven others, asking that Second street, from its intersection with Garfield street, to its intersection with Division street, be improved by the construction of curb and gutter, it being understood that the property owners shall pay 50% of the cost of same, was presented and read.

Moved by Alderman Sedgman, supported by Alderman Williams, that the petition be accepted, the improvement made, and that the clerk be, and hereby is, authorized and instructed to advertise for bids. Motion carried.

The following resolution was offered by Alderman Sedgman, who moved its adoption, seconded by Alderman Ross:

Whereas, notice to repair sidewalks in accordance with the provisions of Ordinance No. 28, as amended, entitled: "An Ordinance Relative to the Construction of Sidewalks, and to Repeal all ordinances inconsistent therewith," has been served on the owners or occupants of the following descriptions of property, to-wit: South 7-10 of Lot 5, Block 3, Original Plat; also commencing at the S. E. corner of Lot 12, Block 1, Original Plat, thence N. 72 feet, thence W. 27 ft., thence S. 12 ft., thence E. 2 ft., thence S. 60 ft., thence E. 25 ft. to place of beginning, and,

Whereas, the owners of said property have failed to comply with the requirements of said notice, and,

Whereas, the City of East Jordan, through its council, has ordered the said sidewalks to be repaired, or rebuilt, and the cost thereof has been paid from the funds of the said city, said amounts being $6.68 and $42.56 respectively, therefore,

Resolved, that the city clerk be, and hereby is, authorized and instructed to report the several amounts due, together with the descriptions of property on which the same are to be levied, to the city assessor, instructing him to spread the same on the city tax roll, together with 10% additional, to be collected with the general city taxes for the year 1927.

Adopted by the council of the City of East Jordan on the 23rd day of May 1927, by an aye and nay vote as follows:

Ayes—Ross, Gidley, Taylor, Watson, Sedgman, Williams and Dicken.
Nays—None.

The following resolution was offered by Alderman Sedgman, who moved its adoption, seconded by Alderman Gidley:

Whereas, in the year 1926, the City of East Jordan constructed curb and gutter along Third Street from its intersection with William Street to its intersection with Mill Street, it being agreed that property owners were to pay 40% of the cost thereof, and,

Whereas certain property owners have failed to pay their proportionate share of the said improvement, therefore,

Resolved, that the City Clerk be, and hereby is, authorized and instructed to report to the city assessor the several amounts due, together with descriptions of property on which the said amounts are to be levied, instructing him to spread the same on the city tax roll, together with 10% additional, to be collected with the general city taxes for the year 1927, said descriptions and amounts due being as follows:

Lot 8, Block 7, Nicholls First Addition, except commencing at the N. E. corner of Lot 8, Block 7, of said addition; thence S. 25 ft., thence W. 60 ft., thence N. 25 ft., thence E. 60 ft., to place of beginning, $16.80

Lot 9, Block 7, Nicholls First Add. $16.80.

West 97 ft. of Lot 7, Block 7, Nicholls First Add. $16.80

Lot 6, Block 5, Nicholls First Add. $17.08.

Adopted by the council of the City of East Jordan on the 23rd day of May 1927, by an aye and nay vote as follows:

Ayes—Ross, Gidley, Taylor, Watson, Sedgman, Williams and Dicken.
Nays—None.

Ordinance No. 50, entitled: "An Ordinance to regulate the use, by vehicles, of the public highways within the City of East Jordan, and to repeal Ordinance No. 49, and all other ordinances and sections of ordinances in conflict herewith," was introduced and read, and on motion by Alderman Ross, was laid on the table until the next regular meeting.

The following resolution was offered by Alderman Ross, who moved its adoption, seconded by Alderman Taylor:

Resolved by the Council of the City of East Jordan, that the board of County Road Commissioners be, and hereby are, requested to take over the following described streets of the City of East Jordan as part of the county roads of Charlevoix County: Beginning at the city limits on the East Jordan and Deer Lake road, thence west to Main Street, thence north to Division Street, thence west to Nicholls Street, thence north to city limits, said streets being in good condition. Further

Resolved, that upon the adoption of said streets as county roads by the said board of county road commissioners, the City of East Jordan release and give over to the said board of county road commissioners all further control and responsibility over the same.

Adopted by the council of the City of East Jordan on the 23rd day of May 1927, by an aye and nay vote as follows:

Ayes—Ross, Taylor, Watson, Sedgman and Williams.

Nays—Gidley and Dicken.

Moved by Alderman Ross, supported by Alderman Watson, that the sum of $500 be appropriated for cemetery purposes. Motion carried by an aye and nay vote as follows:

Smart Frocks Evolved By Combining Materials

Checks and embroidery emphasize new spring jumper frocks. Patricia Avery, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer player, shows how smart a frock may be by combining materials. With a plaid skirt of cocoa-brown she wears a blouse of the same shade embroidered in an all-over pattern of white.

Earns Education
 With a five dollar loan from her family, Lita Holladay of Estancia, N. M., has acquired four years of education at the Illinois Women's college in Jacksonville, Ill. She has been washerwoman, waitress, maid, librarian and cook at summer resorts to earn her way. When she finishes this summer she will owe only the five dollars which enabled her to reach college in a silver. She will teach history in New Mexico.

What has become of the old-fashioned justice of the peace who 'lowed that about two dollars would be enough for a minor infraction of the law.

A GOOD THING—DON'T OVERLOOK IT.
 From Jas. Edwards, Montgomery, Ala., comes this letter which contains a valuable suggestion: "I feel like a new man since taking Foley's Honey and Tar. I can now sleep all night, soreness in chest and the bad cough entirely gone. My whole family use it—for coughs, colds and croup, and it always helps." Stops tickling throat, nervous hacking cough, puts a healing, soothing coating on an inflamed throat. Sold and recommended everywhere. Ask for it—Hite's Drug Store. adv.

CHESTONIA
 (Edited by Jesse Morse)
 Some rain. Some mosquitos. Earl Gould begins as Carrier supply on the rural route Thursday. Sam Colter of Green River and wife and friends called at Mr. Pineys, Sunday, with a new "Pontiac Six."

Through mistake we omitted the name of Gould Pinney from our 7th grade list of pupils last week. We heartily thank the Editor of the Herald for putting in our items just as written. With so many names, it is difficult to get them spelled just right in print, especially as our writing when it turns cold is rather hard to decipher.

 Twenty-three ladies and several children of the Peninsula met with Mrs. Frank Hayden Thursday, May 19th to learn more about what we should eat, etc. The leaders, Mrs. Jas. Arnott and Mrs. Ray Loomis gave the lesson and demonstrated the cooking of two new dishes. Everyone spent a very pleasant and instructive afternoon. The last meeting will be at the home of Mrs. W. Scott in Mountain Dist., Thurs. June 2nd.

NOWLAND HILL
 (Edited by Mrs. C. M. Nowland)

Mrs. Eugene Kurchinski and children spent Saturday with her sister-in-law, Mrs. Roy Zinck in Boyne City.

Mrs. S. R. Nowland called on Mrs. Frank Derby at Boyne City Saturday afternoon.

George Nowland visited his friend, Joe Boyd at East Jordan, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Joel Sutton and granddaughter, Christabel, visited Mr. and Mrs. John Martin Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Thompson and neice, of Rockery, Antrim Co., were Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Nowland.

Mrs. O. Scott and daughter, Elda, of Boyne City spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Nowland.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Nowland, Merritt Shaw and Beatrice Burbanks of East Jordan were Sunday evening visitors of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Nowland.

Mrs. George Jaquays received a message recently of the death of her father, Chris. Boggs of Bellaire.

A number from here went on a fishing and picnic trip to Green River Sunday. No fish till some of them tried nearer home where they got a few beauties, proud to show any game warden.

Miss Leatha Cox, the Afton school teacher made out her report of Dist. No. 3 to the Director, E. L. Nowland, Monday afternoon.

Saturday, Mrs. Alma and Edith

Nowland called on Mrs. William Tate at the Charlevoix hospital. Mrs. Tate returned home Sunday, after being at the hospital a week, much improved in health.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Shepard of Afton have moved on their farm on the Hill to put in a number of acres of buckwheat and care for other crops. This farm is well known as the Richard Lewis farm.

DEER CREEK DISTRICT

(Edited by Mrs. Tom Kiser)

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Lanway and daughter, Beatrice, and Mrs. Peter Lanway were Sunday visitors at Jack Carneys home Sunday, May 15th.

Ernest Lanway left for Flint Wednesday, May 17th, where he has work. Isabel and Ellen Murray spent Thursday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Pete Lanway.

Joe Etcher, Loyal Murray and Pete Sommerville were home over Sunday from Bay Shore.

Lewis Bashaw, who has been quite ill, is better now.

Ray Williams and family, Tom Kiser and family, Archie Olney, Paul and Pete Sommerville were Sunday visitors at Geo. Etcher's home.

Loyal and Isabel Murray were Central Lake visitors Sunday.

Mrs. Guy King called on Mrs. Dalton Gay and family Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Harnden called on Tom Kiser and family Thursday evening.

Miss Marguerite Rogers spent Saturday and Sunday of last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Rogers. Sam Rogers was home over Sunday from Honor.

Tom Kiser and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kiser attended the funeral of C. C. Boggs at Bellaire Wednesday afternoon.

The heavy rainfall we have had helps to keep plenty of water to run the dam steady. We now have 27 feet, 9 inches of water.

Kit Carson, who owns land next to Jordan River, back of Mr. Keller's farm, is building a cottage there.

Mrs. Geo. Etcher has been having one of those very bad colds, also Donna Gay and Marjorie Kiser. At present writing Donna and Marjorie are better, but Mrs. Etcher seems to keep her cold.

Orlando Blair spent Saturday afternoon and Sunday with Robt. Carson and family.

Miss Delia Lenosky of Charlevoix spent Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lenosky.

IN MEMORIAM

The Doughboys Who Never Came Home.—American Cemetery at Suresnes, Outside Paris, Where 1,497 Soldiers of the A. E. F. Lie Buried. Always Decorated on Memorial Day.

Fields of Honor in Fair France

Crosses Row on Row Mark Graves of Our Boys in Honored Rest.

Ten years after the declaration of war by the United States against Germany in the year 1917 there remain in Europe few traces of the American Expeditionary forces which proved the deciding factors in the conflict.

For the most part, the battlefields have grown up with weeds, or have been restored to cultivation by the plow. The hotels, the barracks, the hospitals we used have been returned long since to peace time duty. A few unofficial monuments mark certain battle scenes, but the official battle monuments are yet in the preliminary stages. The American Legionnaires who return to Europe for their convention at Paris next September will miss a great many sights which were familiar in 1917 and 1918.

But there are eight permanent, plain and prominent mementoes of the Legionnaires of ten years ago—the eight American military cemeteries overseas.

These cemeteries, the final resting places of more than 30,000 of those who followed Pershing overseas, are now handsome, well-kept, solemn fields of honor. At dawn the flag is raised over each of them. Each sunset it is lowered. In each the crosses stand in steady rows, white against a background of green sod, and a first budding of young trees gives promise of greater beauty as the years roll by. Here are the lasting records of the A. E. F.

Six Mark Battlefields.

Six of the American cemeteries are on the battlefields, on ground taken from the enemy by the power of American arms, on ground restored to France and to Belgium by our delivering sword. The other two are near the great cities of London and Paris. Here is the list of them and the number of those who lie therein:

Official Name	Location	Near	Graves
Flanders field	Waerghem	Bel.	865
Somme cemetery	Bony	France	1,326
Meuse-Argonne cemetery	Romagne-sous-Montfaucon		14,107
St. Mihiel cemetery	Thiaucourt		4,141
Oise-Aisne cemetery	Fere-en-Tardenois		5,944
Aisne-Marne cemetery	Belleau		3,212
Brookwood cemetery	London		437
Eng.			437
Suresnes cemetery	Paris	France	1,504

More than half of our soldier dead overseas were brought home to the States for burial.

Of the dead not brought back to America, those which were in 1919 already resting at Suresnes or Brookwood, or at the sites selected for the battlefield cemeteries, remained undisturbed. The others, from scattering, temporary battlefield cemeteries, were reverently moved to their permanent resting places. This task, carefully and thoroughly performed by the graves registration service of the army, resulted in an almost complete identification of our soldier dead.

Monument Problem.
The cemeteries remain in charge of the graves registration service, which maintains rest houses at each, has caretakers in charge, keeps complete records for the use of visitors and maintains the grounds, landscape gardening and improvements. Further beautifying of the cemeteries has been placed in charge of the American Battle Monuments commission, a body created by congress to take charge of the whole plan and problem of American memorials in Europe.

This monument question is no simple one, as anyone who ever visited the battlefield at Gettysburg, Pa., will bear witness. States, cities, divisions, brigades, companies, and private citizens, not to mention memorial associations and societies, are already vying for the privilege of placing a monument at this point, a memorial at that. The government commission must decide where there shall be monuments and who shall raise them. In a similar way the cemeteries have offered a problem. Should individuals be allowed to place special headstones or monuments for their loved ones? Shall churches or societies be allowed to erect chapels at the cemeteries? And so forth.

The chairman of the Battle Monuments commission is Gen. John J. Pershing. Its membership, appointed by President Coolidge and serving without salary, includes Robert G. Woodside, of Pittsburgh, vice chairman; Senator David A. Reed, of Pennsylvania; Representative John Phillip Hill; Representative Finis J. Garrett; Col. D. John Markey of Maryland, and Mrs. Frederic W. Bentley, Maj. X. H. Price, a regular army officer on duty at Washington, is secretary.

After careful studies, this commission outlined a complete plan for official battle monuments in the zones occupied by American forces in offensive operations, and a corresponding plan for the improvement of American cemeteries.

The most expensive phase of the cemetery work to be done is the erection of chapels. These will be suitable for sacred purposes, but nonsectarian. The larger ones will probably have a room that will be something of a museum of battle relics, as well as the chapel room. Another matter now well in hand is completing masonry walls around the cemeteries, a work only delayed in places

OUR BOYS IN FRANCE

After the grewsome sound has died Of the last shrieking shell, We pause and ponder, dewy-eyed, Over the ones who fell.

They sleep. The world goes marching on. The world must halt today Thinking of those but lately gone Resting so far away.

Solemn yet grand the hero's fate Soft let the Requiem be Whilst tender fingers decorate Those graves across the sea.

—Louisville Courier-Journal.

while waiting for the determination of definite plans for the chapels, as these in many cemeteries will have an effect on the location of the walls.

How Graves Are Marked.

In so far as personal monuments in the cemeteries are concerned, the commission adopted an iron-clad final rule that there will be no special personal monuments. Over each grave will be a headstone, and there will be the same for officers and privates, rich and poor, young and old. The name, rank, organization and home state will be engraved on each stone. And they will lie side by side, as they fell, equal in glory and sacrifice.

The plans for battle monuments are another and even larger task of the commission. They are well under way, and form a project which should be completed in about two years. The first of the American cemeteries to be so designated, and to receive American dead, was that hillside tract on Mont Valerian, overlooking Paris and the Seine valley, and called Suresnes. Everyone from America goes to Suresnes, both in tribute to our honored dead, and because there is no finer view of the city of Paris from any nearby hilltops. Suresnes is three miles from the city limits, on the right of the Seine below the city. The cemetery stands well up on the highest of several hills, and from its gates the panorama is uninterrupted for many miles.

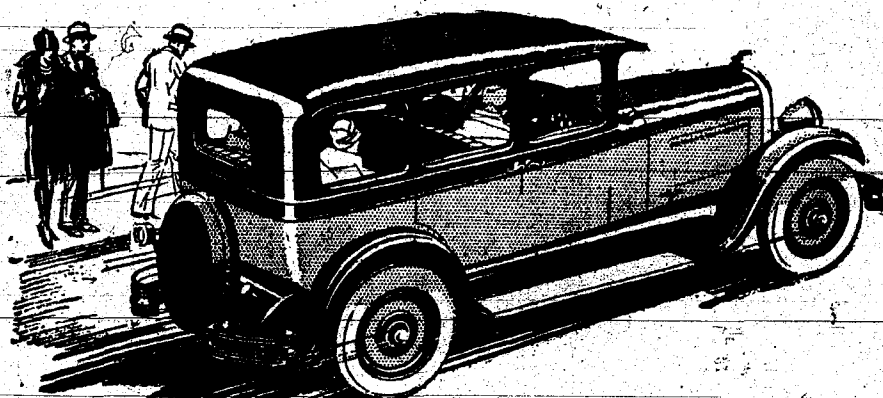

At Suresnes are buried many who died in Paris hospitals from wounds sustained in battle, and others who fell victims of disease and accidents. It is most complete of all the American cemeteries in France, in so far as time has completed it by growing the trees larger, the shrubbery thicker and finer. Suresnes already belongs to the ages, a fit resting place for heroes, far up above the towers of Notre Dame and the Arc de Triomphe, commanding forever what is perhaps the loveliest of the famous valleys of the world.

Ours to Keep the Faith

Memorial day is best celebrated by that deep appreciation of the loyalty, devotion and heroism which made this a united nation and which should impress us with our own responsibility for keeping it united for generations that are to follow us.—Grit.

More Glory for Studebaker Commander

Tests show 17¼ miles per gallon

First—5000 miles in 4909 minutes—the fastest going for the greatest distance of any enclosed car in the world or any strictly stock car, open or closed.

Next, in 33 nation-wide hill-climbing contests. The Commander demonstrated its thrilling power over some of the steepest hills in the country.

17¼ miles per gallon!

And now—in 61 tests held all over the United States, The Commander delivered an average of 17¼ miles per gallon of gasoline. In every instance, the carburetor was drained and connected to an accurately measured one-gallon container. Each test was carefully checked by motor club officials or newspaper representatives.

And remember, this average of 17¼ miles per gallon was made by a Big Six equal in rated horsepower by only seven other American cars—and they cost from $4,000 to $10,000! No wonder the Studebaker Big Six outsells the combined total of all other cars in the world of equal or greater rated horsepower.

There is a sound basis for the statement that The Commander is "the greatest post-war achievement in automotive engineering."

The astounding feat of covering 5000 continuous miles in less than 5000 consecutive minutes merely dramatized the thrilling performance, the freedom from repair expense, the peace of mind and economy which all owners of this plus-powered car enjoy.

What Harry Harts Says About The Commander:

"It is my opinion that The Commander will maintain any given speed, up to 65 miles per hour, longer, more smoothly, and at less expense per hour traveled, for gasoline, oil and repairs, than any other stock automobile now being built in the United States."

Commander Prices: Commander Sedan, $1585; Victoria, $1775; (Broadcloth upholstery, $1645); Coupe, $1545; (with rumble seat, $1645) . . . Prices f. o. b. factory, including front and rear bumpers, rubber and leather brakes. Other Studebaker and Erskine models from $945 to $2495.

Drive The Commander yourself!

Get behind the wheel, step on the throttle and step out in front—try it in traffic for flexible handling—or level out the steepest hills. Any gain of travel suits The Commander—it answers instantly to the spur of its accelerator or the curb of its positive-acting 4-wheel brakes.

An exact duplicate of the champion Commander is ready and waiting for you. Come in today!

Firestone GUM-DIPPED TIRES

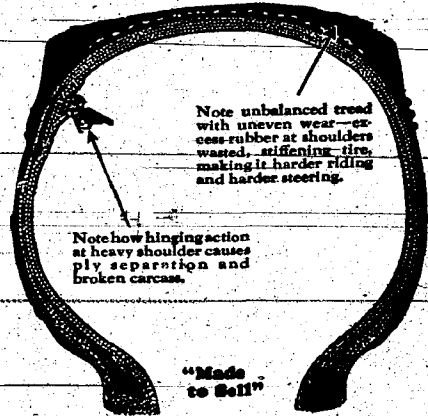

"Built for Service"

Firestone Round Tread Balloon

MANY Firestone Dealers are prepared to take in your old tires, offering you a liberal allowance on a new set of Gum-Dipped Balloons.

Firestone Dealers are given the advantages of attending Tire Educational Meetings held throughout the country, where tire design and construction are discussed. The sections of used tires reproduced here are a part of this program. Study these two sections and you, too, will understand what Firestone means by tires built for service and tires made to sell.

"Made to Sell"

Flat Tread Balloon

The Firestone Gum-Dipped Balloon with its scientifically designed tread permits free flexing, easier riding, extra comfort and safety.

The balloon tire with heavy, flat tread design is obviously stiffer and rides harder. The excess rubber, placed for appearance at the edges of the tread, is not only wasted but produces hinging action causing ply separation and "shoulder breaks."

Firestone designed and manufactures Oldfield Tires and Tubes, distributing them direct to Firestone Dealers only, through 148 Factory Warehouses. This efficient and economical distribution assures tire buyers everywhere, clean, fresh stocks of Firestone and Oldfield Tires in all types and sizes, and has helped to make possible today's remarkably low prices—the lowest in tire history. Sanitation Kills
All Swine Risks

Use of System Transforms Industry on Many Farms,
at Small Cost.

On many farms the hog business has been transformed through the use of the simple system of swine sanitation which the college of agriculture, University of Illinois, has been demonstrating over the state during the past few years in co-operation with county farm advisers and interested farmers, according to E. T. Robbins, live stock extension specialist.
Last year, for instance, 1,218 farmers in 75 counties of the state co-operated in demonstrating the methods and results of the system to their neighbors. Before the end of the year there were 160 written reports sent in by farm demonstrators from 88 counties. These have been summarized to show results under practical farm conditions.

Sanitation Pays Best.

These farmers raised 94 per cent of the pigs which were saved at farrowing time, and only one runt developed among every 71 pigs on the average, as compared with one runt to each 11
pigs among those raised the old way.
With sanitation the litters raised averaged 1.5 pigs more than previously upon the same farms; the pigs averaged 24 pounds heavier when four months old, and they were ready for market at usual weights when they averaged six weeks younger than usual.
The sanitation pigs proved to be more profitable than others, and the men plan to continue to use this sanitation system.

Reports from 89 counties indicate that sanitation herds are comparatively free from "serum breaks" and other troubles after vaccination; that they seem to "escape" "flu" better than other herds, and that they seem to show more resistance to cholera than do herds raised the old-style "wormy way."

Expensive Equipment Not Needed.

The sanitation system does not require expensive equipment nor supplies. The reports show that the size of litters raised to four months old was actually increased by the use of small field houses for farrowing. The size of litters raised was not much affected by the month of farrowing.
The average was 6.3 pigs a litter.
There were fewest runts to 100 pigs
where no hogs had been on the pasture for at least a year. The percentage of runts was smallest in large pastures. There were also the fewest runts where there was running water to drink.

There was very little loss of sanitation pigs from sore mouth whether their sharp teeth were cut at birth or not. The size of litters raised was not increased nor the number of runts reduced by the use of expensive minerals. The largest litters were raised and there were the fewest runts where the sanitation work was thoroughly done.

With such a splendid showing in health, vigor, uniformity, cheap gains and larger profits in sanitation herds, it is safe to conclude, as many farmers have said, that "This is the right way to raise pigs in Illinois," Robbins said.

Early Radishes Favored
Over Later Varieties

Radishes have been cultivated by men for many ages. In medieval times, barons spiced the feasts in the castles with dishes of the long and very hot varieties now grown for summer use, such as Charter and White Strasbourg. These take twice as long to mature as the early varieties now available to us, such as the earliest White Olive, Twenty Day, Saxa and Scarlet Globe. Improvements in most vegetables run decidedly to the production of varieties which mature earlier, and probably the greatest advantage which we have over our ancestors in the vegetable garden is the possession of more early kinds. The early radishes are more tender and milder in flavor than the late sorts, but at the same time, quick to turn pithy, so they must be eaten as soon as they mature.

Agricultural Facts

High wages accent the "saving" in labor-saving equipment.

Chickens need sunlight to prevent rickets. Don't be stingy—sunlight is free.

Soy bean hay is a close second to alfalfa. Ground soy beans are fully equal to linseed meal in feeding value.

A coating of wax on the kitchen linoleum makes it easier to clean, makes it wear better, and gives it a rich luster.

Nine times out of ten cheap seed is priced low because it contains much dirt or weed seeds, or it has a low germination.

An excellent way to stimulate demand for any commodity is to improve the quality of that thing and then tell everybody about it.

"Roadside markets in a community are a daily fair where farm products may be exhibited and studied for the good of the producer and the consumer."—Hedrick.

Cities Require Protected Milk

Ordinances Are Adopted in Many Towns Demanding Tuberculin Test.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Extensive interest of cities in the nation-wide campaign against tuberculosis of live stock is seen in results of a survey recently conducted by the United States Department of Agriculture. A total of 874 cities and towns have ordinances requiring the tuberculin testing of cattle furnishing milk for consumption. Official reports indicate that with the exception of about 1 per cent the ordinances are fairly well enforced.

The action of such cities as Chicago, Cleveland, Detroit and Louisville, in promulgating tuberculin-test requirements has stimulated recent interest in this subject. The survey showed, however, that the smaller communities
also are fully as active in safeguarding their milk supplies.

Steps Taken to Safeguard

In addition to the 874 cities having tuberculin-test ordinances, 735 provide an option between tuberculin testing and pasteurization. Thus a total of 1,249 municipalities have taken steps to safeguard their milk supplies from possibility of disease transmission.

Fourteen states also have enacted laws or have issued regulations authorized by law requiring the tuberculin testing of cattle. Though varying in details, the laws have the same general purpose—to safeguard the wholesomeness of milk supplies. In all cases tuberculin tests must be applied by approved graduate veterinarians.

As a Basis for Skilled Tuberculin

Testing in which the public may have confidence, the federal and state veterinary officials have prepared lists of "accredited" and "approved" veterinarians. These terms apply to private practitioners who have satisfied federal and state authorities as to their qualifications.

Forms of Supervision.

An examination of the forms of supervision over the tuberculin testing of cattle supplying cities with milk shows the large extent to which cities have accepted the so-called uniform plan of drinking. This plan provides federal and state indemnities for cattle which prove to be tubercular and which are removed from the herd and slaughtered. The plan is followed by 634 cities. Cities that rely on municipal inspection alone number 498, while 117 other cities and towns use a combination of the two safeguards or make some other provision for tuberculin testing.

A study of reports from the various states explains the rather general adoption of pasteurization as an additional safeguard even when the cattle are tuberculin tested. Proper pasteurization, as is well known, destroys any infection from other disease-producing organisms that may be present.
It also gives double assurance that no living tubercle bacilli are present.

Milk From Other States.

Some states, of which Florida is a typical example, receive large quantities of milk from other states. Florida does not have a state-wide tuberculin-testing law, but the city of Miami, for instance, requires pasteuriza-tion in addition to tuberculin testing.
Much other milk received in the state is also pasteurized since its origin, outside of the state, is beyond the jurisdiction of local inspectors. In several small towns tuberculin testing of cattle is conducted in response to a demand of patrons, though no official ordinance requires such tests.

These safeguards appear to show the strength of public opinion and the extent to which milk consumers demand safety with respect to their milk supplies. The condition appears to be especially true in states to which tourists and homeseekers go for their health.

Several states have issued educational literature dealing with bovine tuberculosis, the evidence of transmission to human beings, plans for eradication, and laws and regulations for suppressing the disease.

Besides this means of stimulating interest in safe milk supplies, various state officials have drafted sample milk ordinances based on successful ordinances elsewhere. In these are embodied effective and practical provisions for dealing with the tuberculosis problem.

Some cities have taken more definite action than others, but evidence is abundant that city "fathers" are becoming more and more concerned in guarding the milk consumed in their communities.

We operate two complete factories, one in Detroit and one in Chicago. We also have branch warehouse facilities in Cleveland and New York City. The large volume of correspondence between these facilities
our considerable use of the long distance telephone.
We would scarcely know how to operate without your facilities. We encourage prompt action by permitting our subordinates to call each other at will. The resultant rapid turnover of inventory is alone worth the telephone cost.
Our exclusive operating license in Canada is in close touch with us by telephone and within the past few months, since you changed your lower rates to begin at 5:00 in the evening, we have talked with the president of our California license in Los Angeles several times. This service has been surprisingly clear, prompt and economical in every way.
In one of these conversations with our Los Angeles connection, my young daughter talked to our Mr. Gilpin, just for the experience. The best expressed opinion was: "Why it's no different than talking right in town."
Respectfully yours,

Oil exploitation in Michigan will soon be very active throughout the southern peninsula. Thousands of acres of leases are being taken in almost every part of the peninsula. Much of the contemplated exploration is being carefully planned, although there are a few scattered tests which must rely chiefly on blind luck for success. It is probable that the next two years will determine rather definitely whether or not Michigan is to become an important oil State.

Lansing—The three-cent gasoline tax law which has been signed by Gov. Green, failed of immediate effect in the legislature and will not become operative until about September 1. The counties will not receive half the weight tax receipts for this year except those collected after that time and the cities probably will not be benefitted by the $2,000-a-mile cause for trunk line routes in cities until next year.

Flint—Flint has won its fight for a new Grand Trunk passenger station, to be built outside the downtown business area, according to a message received here from Montreal. The railroad has agreed to erect the new station on the south side of the city at South Saginaw and Fifteenth streets. The agreement means that passenger trains of the railroad no longer will be routed through the downtown district.

Lansing—The State Conservation Commission has approved the establishment of a 5,000-acre park, embracing the Tahquamenon River Falls in Luce County, Michigan. The big Falls of the Tahquamenon has a sheer drop of some 40 feet from the crest over 200 feet wide. The volume of water runnings over this falls is exceeded only by Niagara and St. Anthony's Falls at St. Paul. Down stream four or five miles there are other similar falls and soothing rapids of great width and beauty.

FOOD CLUB NOTES

The proper foods in the proper amounts, cooked in the proper way; these are the problems of every wife and mother every day. The health of the family and incidentally of the nation as a whole depends upon its cook or cooks. At the last meeting of the Pleasant Hill Food Club at Mrs. Hawleys there were five ladies present. After the lecture by our leader on the cooking of vegetables, we demonstrated making escalloped cabbage, it was delicious.

We also discussed Achievement Day. The meeting adjourned at five o'clock, everyone declaring they had enjoyed a pleasant and profitable afternoon. "Get in the swim! Come to Mrs. Hawleys Thursday, June 2nd. We promise you a good time.

"The Brave Who Have Died"

On Memorial Day Every Citizen Should Join in Tribute to Those Who Have Passed That We Might Live.

State News in Brief

Monroe—John Michael Godfried, 39 years old, died here recently after an illness of less than a week. He was a railroad foreman for many years.

Lakeview—Nine-year-old Russell King held a dynamite cap in his fingers while a playmate shot at it with an air gun to see what would happen. Russell lost two fingers. He is a son of E. H. King.

Howell—Damage to his crops by the European corn borer was given by friends as the reason for the self destruction of Floyd Cameron, 35 years old, whose body with the throat cut, was found near here recently.

Albion—A fire in Susanna Wesley hall, new quarter of a million dollar women's dormitory of Albion College, caused $2,000 damage. The blaze resulted from a short circuit. Most of the damage was caused by dripping water.

Jackson—John B. Depweg, 63-year-old retired tailor, ended his life here by kneeling on the tracks of the Michigan Central Railroad near Monroe street in the path of two freight cars which were being switched. Ill health was given as the motive.

Ann Arbor—"Sid" Dewey played in 21 foot ball games in the last three years for Michigan and emerged from every game without a scratch. Now that his college football career is over, he has taken up refereeing, and in the first game in which he officiated—a practice session—he suffered a banged up foot that has him limping to and from his classes.

Monroe—Two spraying machines owned by the federal government and loaned to the city of Monroe, with which to spray trees infested with elm leaf beetle, have been sent here from Howell. There are thousands of elm trees in Monroe, many more than a hundred years old. It is said that Monroe is the only place in Michigan where this beetle is known to exist.

Muskegon—One thousand salesmen are putting over the $75,000 bond sale for the first wing of the new stadium at Hackley Field. 1,000 students were assigned the work of selling the bonds. Daily meetings are held at which reports are given of the previous day's sales. The bonds are being sold in denominations of $50 and are to be retired in 20 years.

Ludington—Arthur Weber of Shelby, was elected president of the Master Horsehoers and Blacksmiths Association of Michigan, at the close of the two-day convention held here recently. Frank Hazen of Ludington, was elected vice-president and Larry H. Kistler of Summit township, Mason county, secretary-treasurer. Ninety delegates attended. Lack of apprentices are deplored. Most of the delegates have passed the half century mark.

Lansing—Governor Fred W. Green has signed House Bill, No. 102, which provides for the application of the Baumes law principle to the automobile accessory thief, the law now carries teeth which are expected to drive the accessory thief from the state. With the enactment of this law Michigan is now the most severe state in the union in dealing with the tire and accessory thief, whose thefts during the past year amounted to more than $1,000,000 in Detroit alone.

Grand Rapids—Two men were burned seriously in an explosion in the lethal chamber of the city pound, which they believe was caused by a spark from the fur of a cat. The explosion occurred shortly after the animal had been placed in the chamber. The cat was blown across the room and killed. Both men were taken to a hospital and found to be suffering from first and second degree burns on the head, face, neck and hands. Both will recover.

Constantine—For gallantry in action against the Spanish at El Caney Heights above Santiago de Cuba July 1, 1898, the late General Harry H. Bandholtz has been awarded a war department citation by Dwight F. Davis, secretary of war. The certificate has just been received by the widow, a year after General Bandholtz died. The honor was voted by congress in July, 1918, while he was serving as provost marshal-general of the American expeditionary forces.

Bath—Seeking vengeance against society in general for the foreclosure of a mortgage on his farm, Andrew Kehoe, a childless farmer, set off a blast of dynamite, which wrecked part of the consolidated school here, killing outright 37 children, five adults, including himself, and injuring more than two score of other pupils. The children in the blast ranged in age from six to 16 years. Of the injured some are not expected to recover. Kehoe also killed his wife and burned his farm buildings before blowing himself into eternity.

Muskegon—L. B. Plough, a motorcycle officer here, was in pursuit of an automobile without license plates, but his mission was soon turned into one of mercy. He heard screams for help. Two Negroes in the pursued car stopped and so did the officer. They saw a boy's feet sticking out of the ground and grabbing shovels, the three men quickly freed the boy, Robert Diesel, 8 years old. He had stopped breathing, but the motorcycle officer restored life by artificial respiration. A cave, in which he had been playing, gave way.

FEAR

By THOMAS ARKLE CLARK
Dean of Men, University of Illinois

"IF IT is a fear you would dispel," Kahlil Gibran says in "The Prophet," "the seat of that fear is in your heart and not in the hand of the feared. And if it is a care you would cast off, that care has never been chosen by you rather than imposed upon you."

Most of our fears and most of our cares are imagined, are conceived and kept alive in our own imaginations. Mrs. Gibbons has a deadly fear of snakes. She has never known anyone who was in the slightest degree injured by a snake, she has never herself come into dangerous contact with snakes. All the snakes which she has ever met, with one exception have been perfectly harmless and have run away as fast as their supple bodies would permit. And the rattler which she did see was disposed of before it could make any threatening movement. And yet she never goes to the woods or to a new environment without inquiring about snakes, looking for snakes, attempting to run one down and showing almost disappointment if she does not find one. Even a dead snake six inches long lying in the roadway and fattened almost to a wafer by passing cars causes her to shriek and run as if she were pursued by a pack of ravenous wolves. The fear is entirely in her mind.

Simmons is afraid of fire. He is sixty years old and has never yet been able to realize the cause of his fear. His house is carefully built and properly wired and so has never been aflame. He comes into the house sniffing.

"I think I smell burning wood," he says at once. He is quite right, for the maid has just lighted the fire in the kitchen stove and has employed a few splinters of kindling to facilitate matters, but Simmons is not satisfied with this explanation. He makes a pilgrimage from cellar to garret in an eager attempt to prove that his fear is not groundless. He makes himself daily miserable in his constant search for fire.

Mrs. Jamison's obsession is burglars. She has been looking for a burglar ever since she was a young girl. She wakes at night and breaks into a cold sweat at the thought that some one may be in the room. They even tell the story that when folding beds were in vogue Mrs. Jamison never pulled down the tiding bed without immediately looking under it to see if possibly a burglar were not underneath. When she goes out of an afternoon she locks every door and window in the house securely and then just before shutting the front door from the outside, she goes about and shakes each door and window to be sure that the locks are holding; and yet she has never seen a burglar and there has never been one in the town in which she lives.

I have a neighbor who for thirty years has been in deadly fear of a lawsuit.

"We'll get into trouble about this, mark my words," he says over and over again. He is an old man now, and yet the fear that has haunted him has so far been groundless. It has been only in his mind.

Stock Exchanges Old

The idea of a stock exchange is an old one, and stock brokers, so-called, have existed for many years. In fact, Nelson states that as early as 1235 in England the term "broker" is referred to in an act of parliament.

SULPHUR CLEARS A PIMPLY SKIN

Apply Sulphur as Told When Your Skin Breaks Out

Any breaking out of the skin on face, neck, arms or body is overcome quickest by applying Mentho-Sulphur. The pimples seem to dry right up and go away, declares a noted skin specialist. Nothing has ever been found to take the place of sulphur as a pimple remover. It is harmless and inexpensive. Just ask any druggist for a small jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur and use it like cold cream.

Faulty Elimination

Should Be Corrected—Good Elimination Is Essential to Good Health.

If you would be well, see to your elimination. Faulty kidney action permits toxic material to remain in the blood and upset the whole system. Then, one is apt to have a tired, languid feeling and, sometimes, a toxic backache or headache, and often some irregularity of secretions, such as scanty or burning passages. More and more people are appreciating the value of Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, in this condition. For more than forty years Doan's have been winning favor of the country over. Ask your neighbor!

Showed Way at Chateau-Thierry

American Divisions Pushed Far Ahead of French Shock Troops.

From the War Diary of Maj. Gen. James G. Harbord in the Saturday Evening Post.

THE famous First Moroccan division of the French army was to attack in the center; the American First division, already a day in place, was to attack on its left; the American Second division, ours, on its right. This attack by three divisions was to push eastward toward the highway which ran from Soissons to Chateau-Thierry, and cut off the great salient which the Germans had made in the last days of May by their attack between Soissons and Rheims, which had been pushed as far south as the Marne, and which they were now trying to widen.

The Moroccans are the best shock and assault troops in France, reserved always for work requiring dash and desperate bravery, and were evidently in this fight not only for their own fine qualities but to set the pace for the amusing but unprofessional Americans, of whom some French staff officers are still apparently doubtful. The Moroccans are North African Moslems with white officers.

On the left of the First American division was another French colonial division, while still another was on our right. Thus we had three French colonial divisions, the only French troops who wear khaki, and our own two American divisions.

Went Forward With French.

Off south of us, extending below the Marne was the Sixth French army prepared to conform to our movement on the eighteenth, and to press the Germans on the Marne front. East of the salient and opposite to us were French and American troops pressing toward us to help pinch off the great salient. Actually the one Moroccan and the two American divisions were to deliver the main attack and all others were to conform to our movement.

Our men in the Second division had had no sleep for two nights, they were to attack over terrain devoid of water except what they carried, and had only their reserve rations.

The attack began at the appointed hour of 4:35 a. m. It was out of my hands when they went over the top, and there was nothing to do but pray for victory and wait for news. I had told the divisions that we were side by side with the best shock troops in France, and that if we were left behind or faltered we were dishonored. The division in 36 hours had been transported from the Marne to the neighborhood of Soissons. Severed from the control of its responsible commander, it had been reformed, and under the most trying conditions, carrying such of its machine guns as it had been able to get to the front, it more than justified the confidence placed in it.

Pushed Ahead of Moroccans.

The day was clear, bright and hot, and its story is not a long one. By two o'clock the division had advanced six kilometers into the German lines and had captured more than 50 cannon and 2,000 prisoners. During the initial stages of the attack the rear echelons had been gotten up; the medical contingents arriving were pushed forward and established dressing stations at points indicated in the attack order.

As the attack advanced, the division headquarters were moved to Verte Feuille Farms, on the eastern edge of the forest, where the road to Soissons emerges from it. From here stretched eastward the great undulating plain that slopes upward to the heights crowned by the Soissons-Chateau-Thierry road. It was St. Privat reversed. The Germans were on the defensive and the victorious assault was being delivered by American regulars.

Both brigades (of the Second division) were pushing steadily forward. In their rapid advance the left of the division had passed the Moroccan division on our left and put it on echelon. By night we had 3,000 prisoners, 11 batteries of German artillery, hundreds of machine guns, and dozens of Minenwerfers, had pushed the enemy before us six miles, and were a mile ahead of the best shock troops in France—the fanatical Moslems from Morocco.

True American Spirit.

But some of the best men America ever produced had watered with their blood those sunny slopes and wooded crests. The losses were heavy, but the effect for the allied cause was worth it all, even if every member of the division from the commander to the last recruit, had died that day.

Nothing in all history is finer than the spirit with which these men went forward, tired, hungry and thirsty and pushed the Germans back. At Gettysburg when Pickett's charge was falling on July 3, 1863, the high tide of the Confederacy broke and receded at a little stone wall on the heights, over which few men went. At the very spearhead of the charge was a dead Confederate captain of whom it is said that on reaching the wall he stood on it for a moment in the withering Union fire, and turning waved his hat at his men and shouted: "Come on, you —! Do you want to live forever?" That was the spirit in which the marines, the Ninth and Twenty-third Infantry, went toward the Soissons-Chateau-Thierry road on this 18th of July, 1918.

Marks Jewish Graves

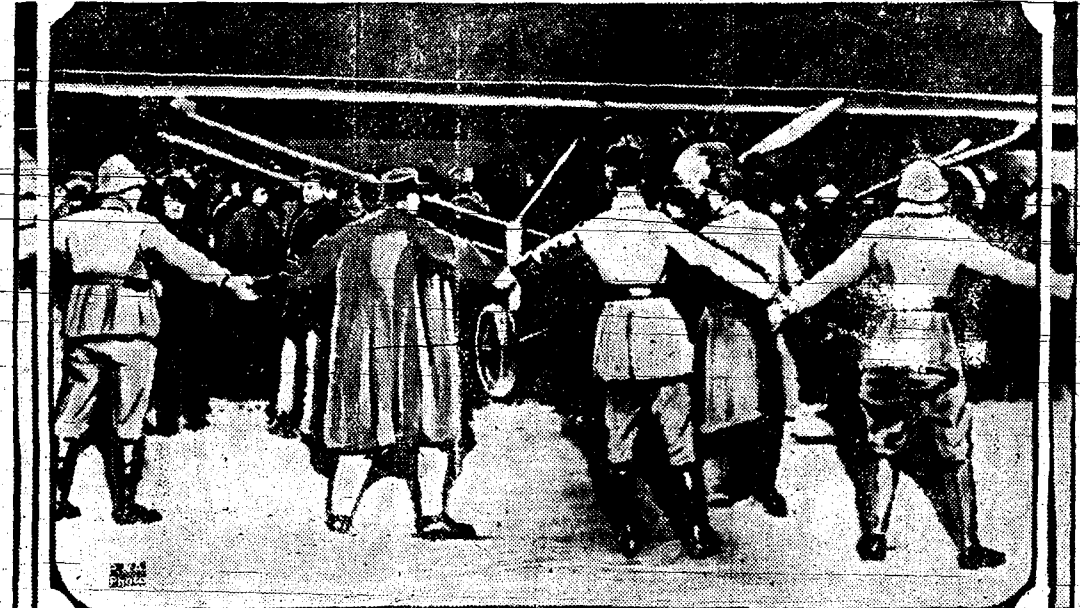

Early in the war the graves of all "doughboys" who fell in battle or succumbed to wounds or illness were indiscriminately marked with white wooden crosses. Because the Jews did not acknowledge this symbol of Christianity, the War department acceded to the request that graves of Jewish soldiers be distinguished by the "Star of David," the emblem of Judaism. So today the graves of Christian soldiers are marked with crosses while those of the Hebrew faith are indicated by stars. For the same reason during the war the collar insignia of the chaplain of Jewish faith was changed from a cross to a shepherd's crook.
