EAST JORDAN, MICHIGAN, FRIDAY, JUNE 24, 1927.

NUMBER 25

East Jordan Is Assured M-66 Extension

Many From Charlevoix and Antrim Counties Attend Hearing.

The proposition to extend the State Trunk Line, M-66 from its present terminus, Lodi, to East Jordan and Charlevoix, via Kalkaska and Mancelona, was received favorably by the State Administrative Board and the State Highway Committee in meetings held at Lansing last Monday.

A large delegation of citizens from both Charlevoix and Antrim Counties were present. State Representative J. M. Harris, acting as Chairman of the combined delegation introduced the request for the road extension to the Administrative Board. Following him were J. L. McGregor and Dr. J. W. Verdier of Mancelona; Len Adams of Charlevoix; Frank Thompson of Boyne City; C. I. B. McLean of Lansing; H. P. Porter and Atty. E. N. Clink of East Jordan, all presenting the reason why the above cities should have the extension of trunk line M-66 routed as above stated.

After meeting with the Administrative Board they were invited to meet with the State Highway Committee, where again the situation was presented.

Those who were at Lansing in the interest of the proposed route were as follows:

East Jordan—H. P. Porter, Atty. E. N. Clink, R. Mackey, L. G. Balch, Mayor H. W. Dicken, W. A. Stroebel, Dr. C. H. Pray.

Charlevoix—Len Adams, Chas. Novak, O. Solomon, Robt. Paddock, Boyne City—Atty J. M. Harris, Frank Thompson.

Mancelona—E. J. Mills, J. L. McGregor, Frank Schroeder, E. S. Allen, George Brown, Emil Johnson, H. E. Williams, Dr. J. W. Verdier.

Delegation from other places were: John J. Mikula, of Ionia; R. O. Bisee of Jackson; C. I. B. McLean of Lansing and Sen. James C. Quinlin of Grand Rapids.

Council Proceedings

Regular meeting of the common council of the city of East Jordan held at the council rooms Monday evening, June 20th. No quorum being present, meeting was adjourned until Tuesday evening, June 21st.

Adjourned regular meeting of the common council of the City of East Jordan held at the council rooms, Tuesday evening, June 21, 1927.

Meeting was called to order by the Mayor. Present: Mayor Dicken, and Aldermen Ross, Gidley, Taylor, Sedgman and Williams. Absent—Alderman Watson.

Minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

The committee appointed to investigate the advisability of installing street signs and house numbers, reported that it would take approximately 167 street signs and 2,024 house numbers, and recommended that the improvement be made.

Moved by Alderman Gidley, supported by Alderman Taylor, that the street signs be installed, and that the City also purchase the house numbers, place the same and collect 50c from each property owner or tenant. Motion carried.

The following resolution was offered by Alderman Sedgman, who moved its adoption; seconded by Alderman Ross:

Whereas, it is deemed by this council that the Road Committee of the Business Men's Club, through their efforts to secure a Trunk Line highway leading to and through our city, have rendered an invaluable service to the city and community at large, therefore,

Resolved, that in behalf of the people of the said city and community, we do hereby extend to the said Road Committee a vote of sincere thanks.

Adopted by the Council of the City of East Jordan on the 21st day of June, by an aye and nay vote as follows:

Ayes—Ross, Gidley, Taylor, Sedgman, Williams and Dicken.

Nays—None.

Ingrid's a Judge

When Municipal Judge M. F. Cox of Cluquot, Minn., went on a vacation trip to Belgium, the governor appointed Miss Ingrid Eckstrom to serve in his place. She is the only woman jurist in Minnesota, and is an attractive young blonde.

Wins Metropolitan Open

Johnny Farrell of Quaker Ridge, won the Metropolitan Open Golf championship at the Wykagyl country club at New Rochelle, N. Y., with a score of 296, one stroke ahead of Bobby Cruickshank of Progress.

The only objection that we have to local advertisers is that there is not always enough of them.

Wednesday, June 29th EAST JORDAN

Read the big 12-page circular, then come to East Jordan that day and take advantage of the many exceptional values offered.

UNCLE TOM'S CABIN

Generations of playgoers have enjoyed "Uncle Tom's Cabin," the play that moved the world and made history. While the text of Harriet Beecher Stowe's masterpiece is preserved in its entirety in the Stowe production that will exhibit here in their big waterproof tent—MONDAY JULY 4TH—there are other features introduced that makes the entertainment a novelty even to those who have laughed with Topsy and wept with Eva years ago.

So far Lindy has been too modest to brag about how many miles he got to the gallon.

This New York and Paris stuff will be all right if the ladies do not take it up as an excuse to make shopping trips.

Frederick Bergman Dies Suddenly

Frederick Bergman passed away at his farm home in the German Settlement (Wilson Township) Tuesday, June 21st, following a paralytic stroke received the same day. Deceased was born at Belyard, Germany 68 years ago.

Funeral services were held Friday forenoon from the German Lutheran Church at that place.

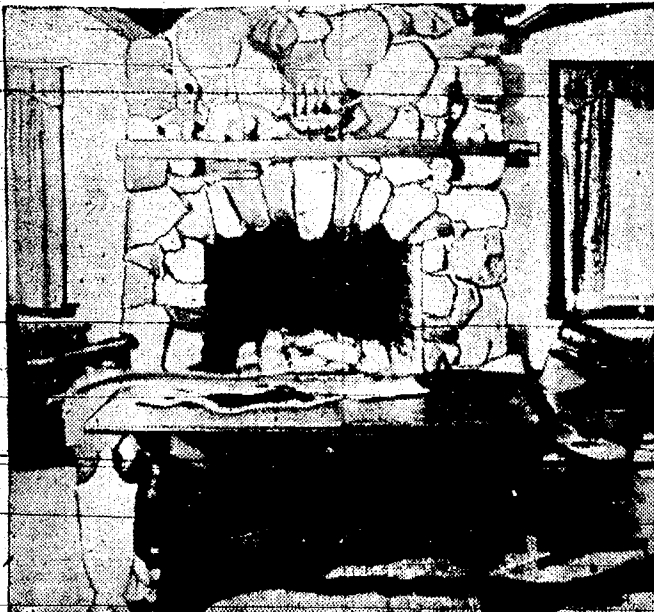

As we understand it, the wets are annoyed because there is more liquor in the country than before prohibition.

Mrs. Blount Dies Suddenly

Passes Away Thursday, Following Brief Illness.

Mrs. H. C. Blount passed away at her home in this city, Thursday, following a brief illness from cardiac embolism. Her sudden death came as a distinct shock to her many friends.

Katherine Maude Cady was born in Nankin Township, Wayne County, Mich., Sept. 11th, 1864, her parents being Samuel and Lydia Cady. She graduated from the Wayne High School and later on from the Michigan State Normal at Ypsilanti. She taught school at Sault Ste Marie, Cadillac, the Michigan State Normal Training School at Ypsilanti, and at Ottawa, Ill.

On Aug. 10th, 1897, she was united in marriage to H. C. Blount at Wayne Mich. They resided at Wayne some six years, at Standish for three years, coming to East Jordan some sixteen years ago and have since made this city their home. Mrs. Blount taught school at Standish while there, and for the past nine years has been an instructor in the East Jordan Public schools, where her knowledge and ability were appreciated by both pupils and our citizens in general.

Mrs. Blount was a member of the order of Eastern Stars.

Besides the husband, she leaves a daughter, Miss Lydia.

Funeral services will be held from her late home next Monday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock, conducted by Rev. C. W. Sidebotham of the Presbyterian Church. Interment will be at Sunset Hill.

Royal Oak—Royal Oak high school closed its baseball season by defeating Flint Central, 5 to 2, to remain unbeaten over a three-year period. By virtue of this success, the Acorns are laying claim to the state class A championship. Jack Tompkins also shares in the glory of his school as in turning back Flint, he rounded out three seasons on the team without suffering a defeat. Included in his list of performances this season are two no hit games.

Port Huron—A gar pike weighing five pounds, with a six inch sword, was caught in the St. Clair river by an unidentified fisherman, who left his unusual trophy in a local hardware store where it is on display. The gar is almost unknown to veteran fishermen here and no specimens have been caught here in years. The gar's bite is often fatal and it is protected by a granite like shell which cannot be pierced by the usual weapon. It was caught with an ordinary net.

Lansing—Gov. Fred W. Green has announced that he soon would make a personal inspection of all state institutions. The purpose of the inspection, he said would be to study at first hand the needs of the institutions and determine whether he can cut their appropriations further or whether the appropriations have been reduced too much. It is not my "intention to spread the $28,440,000 in appropriations as approved on the tax rolls this year," the Governor said.

Lansing—Governor Fred W. Green, who has been uncovering deficits in state funds since he took office January 1, told the administrative board that the general fund would be approximately $4,179,000 in the red August 1. He declared that Auditor-General O. B. Fuller would begin using red ink on the records of this principal state fund and that the overdraft will increase daily until August, when receipts from the corporation tax and other sources will return the treasury to normalcy.

Grand Rapids—The national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic, scheduled for Dayton, O., in September, may be transferred to Grand Rapids, it was indicated in an inquiry received by Walter L. Funk, of this city from the national quartermaster-general, asking whether Grand Rapids can accommodate the veterans. It has been proposed the 1928 encampment should be held here. The city commission and the convention bureau notified the quartermaster-general that Grand Rapids desires the meeting.

East Lansing—The first efforts to get all potato growing and marketing interests together for a State-wide potato tour were made recently at Michigan State College when a committee representing all the various interests met to plan the tour which has been scheduled for Aug. 9 to 13. The organizations represented at the meeting included the Michigan State College, the State Department of Agriculture, the Michigan Potato Growers Exchange, of Cadillac, the Michigan Crop Improvement Association and numerous independent growers.

Jersey Show At Ellsworth

Second Annual Event Will Have Exhibit of 25 Jerseys.

The Second Annual Jersey Show and Picnic will be held at the Ellsworth Park on June 29th with 25 of the leading Jerseys in this section on exhibit and pitted against each other in the showing. On the same date the North Antrim Cow-test Ass'n will have their picnic and program in the forenoon.

The "Jersey Day" is sponsored by the Antrim-Charlevoix Jersey Breeders Association, and comes as a result of the progress and development of the Ellsworth section as a Jersey center. The Ellsworth Chamber of Commerce is on the job every minute and are co-operating by furnishing ribbons to the prize winners, by transporting the cattle to and from Ellsworth and by furnishing coffee to the picnickers.

The following program will be presented:—

10:00 a. m.—Cow-test Ass'n Picnic. Talks by H. E. Dennison, Jersey Fieldman and by several members of the Association.

12:00 to 1:30—Picnic Dinner.

1:30—Address by H. E. Dennison on "The Future of the Jersey."

2:30—Judging and placing Jerseys.

3:30—Sale of several young registered Sires.

It will be well worth your time to see the kind of Jerseys that are being developed in this section, and learn how to select the best ones.

Bring your well-filled lunch basket and enjoy the day with us. Come early and stay late. The sires are of excellent breeding and should be a big improvement for your herds. Don't miss this opportunity.

B. C. MELENKAMP, Co. Agr'l Agent.

Holland—Hope College at its sixty-third annual commencement when 90 members of the senior class received their diplomas from the college department, conferred the degree of Doctor of Laws on Gov. Fred W. Green.

Grand Rapids—Struck on the head by the iron bar of a swing in which she was playing at one of the city's playgrounds, Catherine Dryer, 15 years old, received injuries which resulted in her death. She was the daughter of Eli Dryer.

Howell—William I. Griffin was injured seriously when a motor car struck a mowing machine he was driving along highway U. S. 16 about two miles west of Howell. Griffin was thrown from the mower, but his horses were uninjured. The motorist was not held.

East Lansing—The Michigan State College of Agriculture has been designated by the war department at Washington as distinguished in military training. For the entire country the list of colleges thus distinguished numbers only 36. Nearly half the states are unrepresented.

Lansing—Byron F. Hicks, of Owosso, and James Elice, former chief inspecting engineer of the Michigan Public Utilities Commission, appointed as new members of the commission, and Samuel O'Dell, of Shelby, re-appointed, have taken oaths of office before Atty. Gen. W. W. Potter.

Lapeer—Mrs. Walter Zuhke, 88 years old, is dead as the result of burns received when oil exploded while she was filling a lantern at her home three and one half miles east of here. Her husband, working in the basement had requested her to fill the lantern with oil. The cause of the explosion has not been determined.

Muskegon—Isaac Keur, 29 years old, known as the strongest man in this county, died in the county jail, while officers were awaiting commitment papers to take him to the state hospital at Traverse City. Keur was six feet six inches tall and weighed nearly 300 pounds. On a wager a few years ago he carried a 600-pound weight on his back a city block.

Pontiac—Bees, swarming on the shiny hood, under the top of a new roadster and across the walk in a busy section of the downtown shopping district here, terrorized pedestrians and kept the owner of the machine away from it, a considerable time. The insects' buzz attracted a crowd that flowed out into the street, while persons who passed that way went into the street, to avoid contact with them. They left later of their own volition.

The next time a peddler comes to your door tell him you know where you live and you hope he does.

Houghton—Application has been made by the Mineral Range Railroad company to the inter-state commerce commission at Washington, for authority to abandon a branch line nine miles long, between St. Mary's Junction and Point Mills, in Houghton County. The branch, built in 1899 to carry copper rock from mines, now closed or using other facilities, was said to have deteriorated to such an extent that it is unsafe for operation.

Detroit—A farmer near Farmington found upon examining the records in the Wayne county clerk's office that his wife had been previously married to a Detroit man. "What do you know about that," he remarked to a clerk. "She often told me she had been married, but I thought she was joking until one morning she told me she had decided to return to her old husband." He said he didn't know whether he would look for her or not.

Lansing—Suit for $30,000 has been started by the state in the Ingham circuit court against Thomas E. Johnson, former superintendent of public instruction. The amount sought is $14,300, the amount of damages asked being doubled to cover any unforeseen developments. Johnson is said to be short $5,800 in his accounts and the return of $8,500 received by him as salary is asked because former Governor Alex J. Groesbeck held that the salary was received illegally.

TEACHING THE PEOPLE

By THOMAS ARKLE CLARK
Dean of Men, University of Illinois

IT WOULD seem to one who does not know anything about it, that if you are going to try to teach anything you should know something about it, and yet—

Crawford was criticizing very caustically the way I run my affairs. He has never associated with the sort of people with whom I do business excepting for the briefest period of his life; he has never had any experience with the problems which take my attention from morning until night; he has no conception of the variety of things which come to me for adjustment, and yet he was willing and even eager to tell me how all these things should be managed. It is a very common point of view.

Gordon is taking a theme course in college. His teacher is younger than Gordon himself, in fact, is less experienced even. Gordon has done some writing before coming to college and has in truth supported himself by doing so, and he and his teacher do not agree as to constructions, and uses of words, and arrangement and general effects. Gordon is getting rather low grades.

"Did Mr. Whalen ever write anything himself?" the young man asks me.
"Nothing that he has ever been able to sell, I think," I am forced to reply. "How can he teach other people to write, if he can't write himself?" he inquires.

It seems a good question, but it is one I can answer only inadequately. Perhaps he knows the principles underlying successful authorship, he knows good technique when he comes up against it, he can recognize good style, and so he is something of a critic, but knowing these things so completely it does seem as if he might reasonably be expected at times to utilize these in his own practice. It is quite possible that Mr. Whalen is short on ideas that are requisite usually in obtaining literary recognition. Perhaps Mr. Whalen is so busy teaching other people that he has no time to practice his own art. Very few people who guarantee, if you will put yourself into their hands, to make you a great writer or a great artist, have ever shown any striking ability to function in literature or in art.

Jones is an authority on investments. He carries a half-page advertisement in his local paper, and he assures his readers that if they will follow his advice in the investment of their savings, they will soon be on easy street. He recommends this and condemns that, and yet Jones has himself not got on well in a financial way. His own investments have proved in most instances to be thinly gilded tricks. He alleges to teach other people what he has found it impossible to do for himself.

Reno has been teaching music for a considerable number of years and does not do it for nothing. If one wants to obtain Reno's instruction he will need to get his application in early, so popular is he. People come from considerable distance to be under his instruction, and yet Reno cannot play much. When asked to perform he excuses himself by saying that he is out of practice or he hasn't his music with him. He just knows how to teach other people.

PENINSULA

(Edited by Mrs. E. Hayden)

A very large delegation from Peninsula attended Achievement Day at East Jordan June 15th and had a very jolly time.

R. G. Short, the McNess man from Bay Shore was on the Peninsula June 15th in the interest of his firm.

All the 8th graders of Star School Alfreda and Daniel Reich, Earl and Alice Stollard and Francis Russell received their 8th grade diplomas, which speaks very well for their teacher of the last two years, Miss Frances Gould. The 7th graders, John A. Reich, Leslie Arnott and Alice Russell each failed by a small margin.

Isaac Flora and Mr. and Mrs. Will Flora and son, of Grand Rapids motored up through this section and called at the Elmer Faust place, Mountain Ash farm, Friday.

Messrs. C. A. Crane and W. G. Little returned to Detroit Sunday, after spending a week at Cedar Lodge with Mrs. Crane and Mrs. Little.

Hubert Gabrielson returned to Detroit Saturday, after spending 18 days at Orchard Hill, the guest of his brother-in-law, S. A. Hayden. He was very much taken up with Charlevoix County and said he was coming back in the not very distant future to go to farming.

Miss Ocole Scott who has been attending Normal School at Kalamazoo the past year, called at the Fire Tower, Friday afternoon to see her father, Omar Scott, she having arrived home that day.

Ten girls met with Miss Frances Gould at her home in Mountain Dist. Thursday afternoon and organized a Canning Club. The next meeting will be with Miss Pauline Loomis at her home, Gravel Hill, north side, June 30th.

Mr. Hoover of Grand Rapids was on the Peninsula several days soliciting for the Michigan Farmer and Accident Insurance Co.

Our faithful "Pat" is back on R. 2 after taking three weeks vacation.
Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Bogart and son, Clare of Boyne City; Martin Staley and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Staley of Charlevoix; Mrs. Earl Walters of Houghton, and the Misses Margaret and Ethel Staley of East Jordan made up a dinner party at the Joel Bennett home Sunday. There were four generations present.

The Misses Margaret and Ethel Staley of East Jordan visited their aunt, Mrs. Joel Bennett and family at Honey Slope farm Saturday and Sunday.

Joe Courier, County Highway Com'r has his machinery moved into the Hayden gravel pit and began work June 21st regrading the Advance-Ironton road.

Mr. Marvin, the Rawleigh man of East Jordan was on the Peninsula Monday in the interest of his firm.

Master Galen Seiler of East Jordan visited his aunt, Mrs. Will Sanderson at Northwood last week.

Mrs. W. G. Little of Royal Oak, who is stopping at Cedar Lodge, states she recently saw Glenn Sandford, an old resident of the Peninsula, but who is now employed at the D. M. Ferry Seed Farms at Rochester, Mich. He said he was going to drive up here for the Fourth.

Master Robert Hayden of Orchard Hill returned home Sunday, after visiting in East Jordan at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Hitchcock since Wednesday.

Mrs. Will Scott of Mountain Dist. is receiving a visit from her brother-in-law, Mr. Bell and sisters, Mrs. Cotton and children and Mrs. Miller of Harvey, Ill.

A nice rain Tuesday relieved the quite noticeable drought.
Three frosts the third week in June is some record even for Northern Mich., but no damage is reported.
Mrs. J. W. Hayden of Orchard Hill and son, S. A. Hayden of Detroit took a very pleasant drive Sunday afternoon, starting south going thru Whiting Park, thence across the Ironton Ferry, taking the beautiful Ironton-East Jordan road to Jordan River, where they called on Mr. and Mrs. Sam Rogers Sr., then on around by the Fair Grounds to East Jordan, where they called on Mr. and Mrs. Sam Hayden, then back home by the East Jordan-Ironton road. The country was never more beautiful.

Hay is a good crop and sweet clover is splendid, and is cut in some places.
Strawberries are beginning to ripen with just a fair crop.
About 30 relatives gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ira McKee in Star Dist. Sunday to celebrate Mr. McKee's birthday with a grand dinner. The same crowd have enjoyed a series of birthday parties this spring. It is needless to say they have a good time. Because telephone service is impaired by the high wind, names could not be learned.
Mr. and Mrs. Charles Healey and sons, John and Clayton of Star Dist., attended a family picnic at the C. H. Dewey Cottage on South Arm Lake, Sunday. About 20 relatives from Chicago, East Jordan, Boyne City and other places. They report a very pleasant time.
Spring crops are nearly all planted, only a small acreage of beans and potatoes yet remain to be planted. Some buckwheat is already sowed, and this week will nearly finish that job. Cultivating has started.

RANNEY DISTRICT

(Edited by Mrs. E. Evans.)

Mr. and Mrs. James Isaman visited James Nice and family Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Liskum with son, grandson and granddaughter, took dinner with Ira Olney and family of Traverse City, who have just recently moved on the Boswick cherry farm, where Mr. Olney has employment.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Evans of Flint motored up to East Jordan Saturday to visit friends and relatives; they returned home Tuesday.

Most of the neighbors attended the Nutrition meeting at East Jordan last week, which was fine.
Miss Sadie Murphy came home last Saturday evening for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Murphy, and will return by auto Sunday evening with a lady friend from Petoskey.

Miss Alice Moore of Flint is home for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Moore.
Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Zoulek and family of Iron Mountain took dinner at the home of his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Canda on Monday. They also visited other friends and relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Flora and daughter of Grand Rapids visited over the week end with their daughter, Mrs. Charles Murphy and family.
Carl Ellsworth and mother of East Jordan called at the Fred Martin home Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Ranney and family visited at the home of Ed. Moore at Grayling, Sunday.
Mr. and Mrs. R. Evans and sons called on H. Ranney and family Sunday evening.
Glad to know we have new neighbors on the farm formerly owned by Roy Bradshaw.

Mr. and Mrs. J. McPherson called at the R. Evans home last Friday.
James Evans caught a large horned owl in a trap Wednesday morning, which had been making regular trips to the chicken coops.

WILSON

(Edited by Mrs. O. D. Smith)

Mrs. Verne Shepard of Flint was visiting relatives in this place several days last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Hott left last Friday on an auto trip to Ionia, Detroit and Lansing.
Miss Annie Shepard is home from Muskegon for a visit with her parents in this place.

The Standard Oil Co. have established a new oil tank at Deer Lake, near the schoolhouse, which will be a great convenience to the people in that vicinity.

Mrs. Ida Hayner, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Shepard and Chas. Hayner and family picniced at Cheboygan last Sunday.

Miss Christobel Sutton is entertaining her two older sisters, Eleanor and Winifred from Boyne City this week.

Mrs. Richard Shepard visited at the home of Thos. Shepard in this place one day last week.
R. E. Pearsall was so unfortunate as to lose a valuable dog recently, the animal getting hold of some poison used for killing rats.

Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Smith started Wednesday night on a business trip to Southern Michigan, Coldwater being their objective point.
Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Brown and daughter of Detroit are spending a few days this week with friends in East Jordan.

Miss Alice Newland made an auto trip to Marquette last Saturday to spend the week end with her aunt, Mrs. Sylvester Garberson.

Our extra slice of pie for this week is awarded to the near sighted man who sees no knees.

Watch your gardens and lawns this time of the year; a dry week can do a lot of damage.

FARM For Sale!

160-Acre Farm, 80 acres under cultivation and 60 acres in second growth timber, and balance in pasture. Good fences, good buildings, running water through pasture, water forced by air motor to the house, in the barn and yard.

This is a good money making farm; it is in good condition. This farm is suitable for dairying, or cherry and all kinds of fruit, as it is free from frost.

You can buy this farm with crops, tools, stock and household goods, or without. If you want to buy a farm, then come up and look it over, see the crops and the soil, tools, stock and everything that is on the farm.

And if you don't want to take my word for it, then ask some of the business men in East Jordan and they will tell you if I made a success on the farm or not, so if you want to buy a farm this is the right time to buy one, come up and look it over and see it with your own eyes.

I shall sell this farm on easy payments. Most anyone can buy this farm. It is located 4 miles southeast of East Jordan, on the Bohemian Settlement road. For particulars see—

How It Started

By JEAN NEWTON

"TO SMELL A RAT"

THIS admittedly inelegant phrase, which is frequently heard nevertheless, in everyday speech, had its origin in a circumstance which, fortunately, is very rare in this day of enlightenment and official regulation of sanitation and home-building.

The expression is a product of olden times, when the dog known as a rat was an adjunct of almost every household, so infested were contemporary homes with rats. And to "smell a rat" was by no means the unusual and, horrifying experience, that it would be today.

It is easily comprehensible, then, that the phrase should have come into use in the figurative significance of sensing something wrong or having one's suspicions aroused. An early use of the words in this sense is found in Samuel Butler's "Hudibras," published first in 1663.

Do You Know That:??

"A POUND of flesh" is a phrase used in "The Merchant of Venice." The allusion is to Shylock, the Jew, who bargained with Antonio for a "pound of flesh." He was felled in his suit by Portia, who said the bond was expressly a pound of flesh, and therefore the Jew must carry out the expressed terms of the agreement. He must cut the exact quantity, neither more nor less than a just pound; and in so doing he must not shed a drop of blood.

"A Pound of Flesh" has now come to mean the exact terms of an agreement, the whole bargain, the bond just as expressed.—Anna S. Turnquist. (© 1927, Western Newspaper Union.)

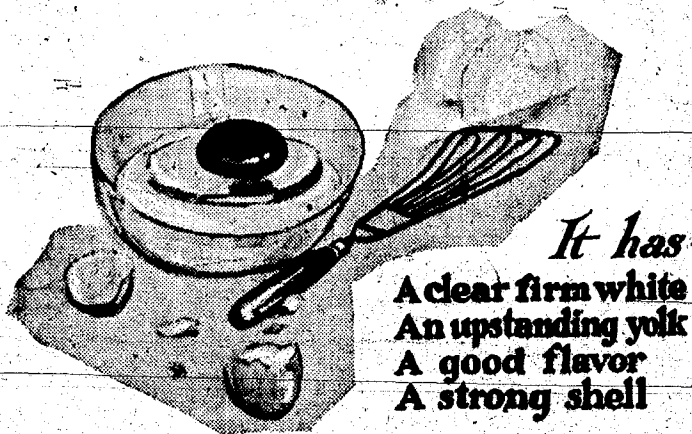

Indian Peace Sign

When used to mean "friend," the Indian sign of the pipe or of smoking is made as follows: (1) Tips of the two first fingers of the right hand placed against or at right angles to the mouth; (2) suddenly elevated upward and outward to imitate smoke expelled. A ceremonial sign for peace or friendship is the extended fingers, separated, interlocked in front of the breast, hands horizontal, backs outward. When the idea conveyed is peace or friendship with the whites, the handshaking of the latter is adopted.

DO YOU KNOW A GOOD EGG?

It has
A clear firm white
An upstanding yolk
A good flavor
A strong shell

Look for these qualities and encourage the PRODUCTION & MARKETING of BETTER EGGS

CONSERVE FOOD VALUE AND GOOD FLAVOR BY KEEPING EGGS IN A CLEAN COOL PLACE

U.S. DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE WASHINGTON, D.C.

A poster emphasizing the more important qualities of a good egg has just been issued by the United States Department of Agriculture. It shows an egg broken into a dish, yolk and white in natural colors. There is also shown in the poster a group of egg dishes, and the text is devoted to giving information to the consumer concerning the more important qualities of a good egg as brought out when it is broken out of the shell.

Quality of Eggs.

It is explained, for instance, that the consumer can tell the quality of eggs used in the home by the condition of the yolk and the white. If the egg has a strong shell, one of the qualities mentioned, breakage losses are reduced. The egg should also have a good flavor, which is best maintained by keeping eggs in sanitary places. When the egg is broken out for cooking or baking purposes, the white should be clear and divided into two portions, the thicker and firmer portion which tends to stand up well in a fresh egg, and immediately surrounds the yolk, the other portion a little thinner and tending to flatten out into the dish into which the egg is broken. The yolk itself should be of uniform yellow color throughout and should stand up well.

Encourage Better Eggs.

Housekeepers can encourage the production and marketing of better eggs by giving attention to the qualities of a good egg, and exercising greater discrimination in purchasing eggs for home use.

Those who wish to display the poster, which is 14 by 20 inches, may obtain copies from the United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

All Vegetable Crops Hurt by Wireworms

Clover Dipped in Paris Green Water Gets Them.

The gardener who has to fight wireworms may make use of various kinds of poisoned baits. The best time to fight them, further, is before the garden is planted, declares the New Jersey state agricultural college. Small bunches of clover or similar plants may be dipped into paris green water and scattered over the ground after it has been fitted, but before planting.

It is well to cover these with pieces of board or earth. Sweetened cornmeal dough poisoned with arsenate of lead or paris green is almost always effective. It is unnecessary to add that all poisoned baits should be used most carefully to avoid danger to children, to chickens, and to animals.

Practically all vegetable crops which have fleshy roots such as corn, wheat, cabbage and potatoes are attacked by wireworms. When plantings are made on lands previously in sod, they are likely to be especially troublesome. To fight the worms in field crops the practice of rotation will help. In this rotation, lands should not be left in grass more than two years, or at the most three years. It is often desirable to plant peas, clover or buckwheat between sod and potatoes and other susceptible crops.

Deep and thorough cultivation in late July or August will destroy many of the pests in their undeveloped state.

Korean Lespedeza Good as Pasture

Plant Is Drought Resistant and Grows Readily on Poor Acid Soils.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

A small package of seed sent to the United States Department of Agriculture from Korea seven years ago has upheld the old saying, "good things come in small packages." Sown at the department's experimental farm at Arlington, Va., in a row a rod long, which yielded eight ounces of seed, the material proved to be a species of lespedeza new to the United States. Careful handling to increase this small seed supply and subsequent testing at various state experiment stations has shown the new introduction to be a valuable addition to the forage crops of this country.

Quite Drought-Resistant.

The Korean lespedeza, although closely related to the Japanese species commonly found in the South, is earlier and adaptable to regions farther north. It is quite drought resistant and grows readily on poor acid soils. It is a legume and is recommended chiefly as a summer pasture crop rather than as a hay crop. Its value lies in the fact that it will reseed the ground and will grow in the hot months when grass on poor, droughty land is brown and dead.

Although grown only on a limited acreage as yet, on account of an insufficient seed supply, Korean lespedeza promises to be especially important for a section of the country described as lying between southern Pennsylvania and northern Ohio on the north and the southern border of Virginia and Kentucky on the south, extending from the Atlantic coast to Iowa. It has also given promise in Kansas, on the eastern border of the Great Plains, but how far west it may prove valuable is not yet known.

Seed Supply Inadequate.

The great need at present to further the establishment of this new legume is a sufficient seed supply. There is a demand for all the seed that can be grown for several years yet to come, says the department, and the few farmers who already have a small acreage are urged to harvest a supply of seed for sale. Although lespedeza will grow readily at points farther north than the zone described, it does not mature seed there. In the adapted region mentioned the plant produces a plentiful supply of seed.

By which we rise;
To try is good, but not enough where-by
To gain the prize.
We win by what we do—not by the thing
We meant to do;
Tis where we stand—not where we ought to be,
That makes our view.

For power is given every one to be

Be fine and good;
But effort must be followed up by work
Accomplished, done;

WHEN I WAS TWENTY-ONE

BY JOSEPH KAYE

At 21—Ex-Senator Sherman Was a Detective Force Unto Himself.

AT THE age of twenty-one I was a college student. Not long after I began practicing as a country lawyer in Illinois. I remember I had no detective force to help me in my cases. I had to be my own detective. I had to go after my own witnesses. I had to penetrate the mask of delinquent character in the interest of public morals by examining, divining, analyzing human motive. In this way, the habit of tracing the personal elements of private ambition, of revenge or power in the minds of others became a legal asset.—Lawrence Y. Sherman.

TODAY—Mr. Sherman has retired from official politics and has resumed his law practice. He has had a distinguished political career. At the age of twenty-eight he was made county judge and some years later elected to the Illinois house of representatives, becoming speaker of that body. The lieutenant governorship followed and then he was elected to the United States senate.

Salt Very Important for All Live Stock

It Is Not Wise to Allow Animals All They Want.

In an article calling attention to the fact that all kinds of live stock need salt, Prof. E. S. Good, head of the animal husbandry department of the Kentucky College of Agriculture and experiment station, says that working horses require about two ounces each daily. They throw off considerable salt in perspiration. An idle horse requires only about an ounce daily.

Cows giving milk and steers require an ounce daily. A sheep does well on half an ounce daily, while a pig requires only about an eighth of an ounce. Hogs are often provided salt in mineral mixtures. The Kentucky experiment station recommends a mixture of one part of salt, two parts of ground limestone and three parts of steam bone meal, all by weight.

Six level teaspoonfuls of barrel salt weigh about an ounce, which means that a working horse requires a dozen teaspoonfuls of salt daily.

Many farmers find that keeping salt in boxes before stock is the best and simplest way of caring for this requirement of animals.

It is not wise to allow animals all the salt they want; after it has been withheld from them for any length of time. Hogs, especially, sometimes eat fatal quantities. Stock accustomed to salt obtain proper amounts to meet health requirements, when it is available in boxes at all times.

Fitting Horse Collars

Is Most Important Job

The collar on a work horse should lie easily on the shoulders and not require any force to push it into place. If force is necessary, it is too narrow and injury to the neck is sure to result from its use. It should also rest evenly upon the shoulders from top to bottom and not permit any see-saw motion. The top of the collar at the neck in front of the withers should rest on the neck.

The next thing to determine is that the collar is not so narrow as to pinch the animal's neck. Between the inside of the collar and the neck there should be a space that will admit the fingers and this space should extend from top to bottom. Some horses are very heavy at the top of the neck and here the desired width may be found but at the lower part of the neck where the development may not be so heavy, the play is far too great.

Horses that are compelled to work hard for any length of time in such collars invariably get sore shoulders. The secret in collar fitting consists in preventing any sidewise movement of the collar, as they produce friction which soon results in a sore neck.

Chick Activity Sought by Successful Farmers

In brooding chicks successful poultrymen take considerable pains to keep them active, points out L. M. Black, assistant extension poultry specialist for New Jersey. It is known that inactivity is the first cause of toe-picking, feather-picking, and other vices.

Both the feeding system and the management of the chicks receive close attention. Plenty of room in the brooder house, sufficient mash hoppers, space, and plenty of drinking fountains are to be found on the farms where the best flocks are produced.

To prevent overfeeding and the resultant sluggishness and inactivity a careful watch is kept on how well the chicks clean up what is given them. "For," says Mr. Black, "a hungry chick is active and the only time at which its appetite should be satisfied is in the evening. Inactivity breeds mischief and a mischievous chick is a source of trouble."

Hubam Is Good as White Clover as Honey Plant

Hubam is equally as good as the biennial white sweet clover as a honey plant. Some think that it is even better, but there is no definite proof of this. In some localities this plant is giving excellent results in keeping up the fertility of the soil, and its extremely rapid growth makes it a valuable plant for pasture. It grows so rapidly under favorable conditions that it furnishes a large amount of food per acre when used as pasture. Being an annual, a year is saved in the rotation of crops compared with the time required by the biennial sweet clover, red clover, or alsike clover, although it probably does not add as much fertility to the soil in the one year as the others do in the two years. It grows so rapidly that it is able to smother out weeds, which are often quite a nuisance in fields of biennial clover the first season after seeding.

Renovate Old Pastures to Aid Carrying Power

Not one farmer in a hundred makes any effort to increase the carrying power of old blue grass pasture. And yet experiments at Ames (Iowa Agricultural college) have proved beyond much question that it pays to disk up hide-bound blue grass pasture and broadcast and harrow in on each acre some such seeding per acre as a couple pounds of alsike, a pound of red clover and three pounds of scarlet sweet clover. An application of 100 pounds per acre of acid phosphate also helps but the cheapest results are obtained with merely disking and reseeding with a clover mixture.

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT

By F. A. WALKER

LAYING A FOUNDATION

IF YOU are a close observer and given to winnowing the golden grain from the sheaves that are falling all about you, you are laying a solid foundation on which to build your structure of success.

You have noticed how carefully masons select stones which are to bear the weight of skyscrapers, with what precision these stones are placed side by side, kept level and plumb, and imbedded in cement.

Every layer, mark you, must be level and plumb. And mark again that no building can be stronger than the base upon which it rests.

What is true of stone structure is likewise true of mental and moral formation.

If the groundwork is weak, the fundamentals slatternly, the corniced and capitulated summit is in danger of falling.

The reason why so many men and women fall in their efforts to reach the apex of their dreams is because they failed to construct substantial supports in early life.

There has been much newspaper discussion about the value of college education, and whether it really fits young men and women for the practical duties in professional and industrial pursuits. In a series of questions, Edison some time ago tested numbers of university graduates. The result, it is alleged, was not satisfactory.

Schools and colleges should not be censured for these shortcomings, but rather the students themselves, who had overlooked the vital importance of laying in their early days a solid foundation on which to build.

Whatever you attempt, begin at the base and build solidly.

Test the strength of this base at every stage of your progress.

Don't be afraid of hard work and long hours.

In music you must first master the elementary principles, embodied in the active; in surgery you must acquaint yourself with the location of the 263 bones in the human body. And so in all branches of art, science and industry, you must dig deeply and erect an enduring foundation.

Work, work, work and have faith. Dig through the difficulties and if you failer not in your endeavors your building will survive the storms and stand unshaken while the world tumbles all around you.

EVERYDAY GOOD THINGS

PEAS are one of our valuable protein foods and when served will take the place of meat.

Green Pea Soup.

Rub a can of green peas through a sieve; a pint will be sufficient for an ordinary family. Season to taste with salt and pepper and add a tablespoonful of scraped onion, or cook a small onion minced to a little fat; add to this one tablespoonful of flour and a pint of stock or water; use the stock on the peas with water. Cook five minutes, add the puree of peas, heat all together and serve with croutons or fingers of toasted bread.

Sour Cream Shave.

Shred cabbage very fine, plunge into cold water until crisp, drain and cover with a cupful of thick sour cream heated and added to two well-beaten eggs. Add two tablespoonfuls of vinegar, two tablespoonfuls of butter, a teaspoonful of salt and a few dashes of cayenne. Cover the drained cabbage with the hot sauce and serve.

Cabbage Salad.

Shred very fine one small firm head of cabbage, add one-half cupful of chopped almonds which have been blanched and four or five ripe bananas finely cut; mix with one cupful of sour cream; if cream is not very sour add a dash of vinegar. Serve with crackers and cheese.

Different Dried Beef.

Take dried beef, cut into strips with scissors and fry in a tablespoonful of butter. Place on a hot platter and surround with halved and quartered bananas also fried, long enough to become thoroughly hot.

Unusual Dessert.

Take a pint can of condensed milk and put into a deep dish, cover with boiling water and keep boiling for two and one-half hours. Remove, cool and slip out the contents by cutting the can carefully. Slice and serve well chilled with a cherry on top. Several cans may be cooked at once and opened when needed. This will serve four to six persons and has a flavor much like maple.

Sour Cream Icing.

Take two-thirds of a cupful of sour cream, add two cupfuls of granulated sugar, and boil gently until it threads. Cool until tepid, add a teaspoonful of orange extract and beat until creamy. Spread on the cake, or use as filling.

Sunstorms

How can one, who is bewildered and appalled by the fury of our planet's cyclones and volcanic eruptions, form a conception of the terrible energy of natural operations on the sun? Newcomb suggested that if we call the solar chromosphere an ocean of fire we must remember that it is an ocean indefinitely hotter than the fiercest furnace and as deep as the Atlantic is broad. If we call its movements hurricanes we must remember that our hurricanes blow only about 100 miles an hour, while those of the chromosphere blow as far in a single second. There are such hurricanes as, coming down from the North, would, in 30 seconds after they had crossed the St. Lawrence river, be in the gulf of Mexico, carrying with them the whole surface of the continent in a mass not simply of ruin, but of glowing vapor.

Hay Equipment and Practices

Certain Methods Often Employed When Others Would Be Superior.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Many different methods and practices of putting up hay are followed by growers in large hay-producing sections. Some growers follow certain practices because of the size of the haying operations, some because of climatic conditions, some because of the kind of hay or the quality desired. Through continuous use certain practices are often employed when others would be superior. Many hay growers are getting satisfactory results with the methods they now use, but there are others who could lower their costs by changing, according to L. A. Reynolds, economist, and C. D. Kinsman, agricultural engineer of the United States Department of Agriculture. Have Equipment Ready.

Putting up hay is an operation that, even under the most favorable conditions, requires more constant attention and efficient handling than most other farm operations. Because of the comparatively short season, delays are costly. It is essential, therefore, that the equipment be in good shape before haying begins and that sufficient repair parts are always on hand.

The best equipment to use for haying varies according to the kind of hay, yield per acre, quality of hay desired, topography of the hay land, quantity produced each year and the distance hay is hauled from field to stacks.

Different Mower Types.

Some of the different types and sizes of mowers, sulky rakes, sweep rakes and stackers used by hay growers in certain sections are better adapted to conditions in other sections than those now in use there. Many of the items of special equipment and some of the labor-saving devices and methods used by different men could be employed with profit by others.

In Idaho a crew of 14 men will stack 80 to 90 tons of alfalfa daily, using slips and a Mormon derrick. This hay brings a premium of 10 to 20 per cent over that put up by other methods. In Colorado a seven-man crew stacks only 30 tons with a similar outfit. In Montana, a five-man crew stacks 30 to 40 tons with an overhead stacker and sweep rakes.

A crew of eight men in Colorado using a slide stacker and home-made sweep rakes will stack about 65 tons of wild hay per day. In Nebraska, a four-man crew using an overhead stacker with a backboard and front-board will put up 32 tons. Without the latter device, another man would be necessary.

A crew of six men using a slide stacker and sweep rakes stacks 60 tons of irrigated timothy and alsike hay per day.

Farmers who feed cattle should be interested in a method of handling hay in Nebraska whereby four to five tons can be taken from the stack, put on a wagon and pitched off in the feed lot in about one hour.

This and other information is contained in Farmers' Bulletin 1523-F, "Effective Haying Equipment and Practices," a copy of which may be obtained free, as long as the supply lasts, upon request to the United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

Pasture Without Grain

Is Not Enough for Pigs

That it is not profitable nor advisable to attempt to grow pigs on pasture without grain is shown by some work done at the Kentucky station a few years ago. Some pigs weighing 68 pounds each were turned on rye pasture on March 19 and kept there for 42 days, no grain being fed. They did not maintain their weight, in fact they lost 5 pounds during the time. Some other pigs weighing 82 pounds each were turned on clover and bluegrass pasture on May 13. On July 4 these pigs averaged 90 pounds each, having gained only 8 pounds in 53 days.

Agricultural Notes

Legume bacteria work for nothing.

Every farm should have some means of extinguishing fire.

Doves are important weed destroyers, it is said. One dove was found to eat 9,200 weed seeds at a single meal.

Only ten minutes of actual human labor is required to produce a bushel of wheat.

Crops grown on the farm or locally usually form the most economical feeding ration.

When cutting soy beans for hay, cut when the beans are formed in one-third of the pods.

Rape is a garden crop, or should be. Many people do not know it, but out of rape can be made one of the best salads, or "greens," known.

After grain is cut and stacked or threshed the stubble field furnishes a cheap pasture for sheep. Rape sown in the stubblefield will also make excellent sheep pasture.

As we understand it, the wets are Lansing—Sweeping through this capital city, 3,000 white plumed Knights Templar from 38 Michigan commandaries marched through the main thoroughfares of Lansing while more than 20,000 visitors and Lansing residents stood along the curbs and cheered. It was the largest assembly of Knights in the 71 years history of the Grand Commandery. Detroit will be host to the conclave in 1928, when it will merge with the triennial conclave of Knights-Templar in the United States.

Detroit—Eleven-year-old Bolesaw Biazynski, narrowly escaped death recently from two causes, drowning and electrocution. The boy was playing on the banks of the Rouge river when he came in contact with an electric wire. The shock sent him hurtling into the river. His playmate, 11 years old, leaped in after him and brought him out of the water. A rescue squad of the fire department revived him and upon examination at a hospital later his condition was reported not serious and will recover.

Lansing—Herbert E. Powell, State Commissioner of agriculture, has asked the Federal Horticultural Board at Washington to establish a corn borer quarantine against the State of Ohio, for the protection of Michigan farmers. The reason advanced is that the State of Ohio has exempted large areas from the provisions of the cleanup, and late developments indicate Federal and state forces will not be supported in enforcing cleanup in heavily infested areas adjoining Michigan, and danger of reinfection in Michigan is feared.

State News in Brief

Detroit—"Closed for the summer," read a sign on a downtown Detroit theater, and below it, a notice posted by the caretaker: "Back in a few minutes."

Hastings—Despondent because doctors had told him he could live only a short time, William Deprester, 39 years old, living nine miles south of this city, committed suicide. The body was found by his father as he was going to work. Deprester had blown off the entire top of his head with a double-barreled shotgun.

Lansing—The administrative board has authorized Frank D. McKay, state treasurer, to borrow $250,000 to meet the state payroll for the months of June and July. McKay was also authorized to cash a certificate of deposit of $576,637 which is the only thing of value remaining in the general fund of the state.

Lansing—Senator James Couzens announced here he would donate the entire amount necessary to build a new consolidated school at Bath. The school was destroyed in the explosion last month which cost 44 lives. The money, already collected, will be used to defray hospital and funeral bills of victims of the disaster.

Lansing—The State Administrative Board has authorized the expenditure of $12,500 to aid in lowering the locks and opening to navigation approximately 200 miles of the Cheboygan River and connecting lakes. The remainder of the cost, estimated at $12,500, probably will be borne by the counties of Cheboygan and Emmet.

Lansing—No more road contracts can be let, Frank F. Rogers, highway commissioner, declared until the fate of the 3-cent gasoline tax law is decided and the administration determines whether it is to pay the counties all that is due them. The gas tax is threatened by a proposed referendum which would amend the George Washington fought with Gates at Saratoga, and witnessed the surrender of Burgoyne and Cornwallis.

Bay City—Alec Schiminsky, 23 years old, was injured seriously while working at the Beaver mine. He was guiding a car of coal in the mine, when the car got away from him, and in trying to stop it, he slipped, falling in front of the car. The heavy load stopped on top of him. At Mercy hospital, an examination showed what is believed to be a fracture of the pelvic bone, and possibly hip injuries.

Grand Rapids—Prediction that the expansion of cities and the increase in land values ultimately will force the abandonment of the present style of landscaped cemetery, was made in an address recently at the second annual convention of the Michigan Association of Cemetery Superintendents and Officials, who visioned mausoleums in the form of miniature skyscrapers and penetrating far under the ground.

Lansing—George A. Moore, 65 years old, father of Sergeant John Moore of the Lansing police department, has left Lansing afoot for Los Angeles, Calif. He hopes to ride a large part of the distance with passing motorists. Mr. Moore, who lives in California, has made the trip to Lansing several times. He feels that walking is good for the health and prefers that mode of travel. He does not expect to reach the coast before fall.

Saginaw—A new development in the Saginaw field focused the attention of oil men to the territory in Birch Run township when a well being drilled by W. E. Ellis, Detroit operator, struck gas in the Saginaw sand. The gas ignited and burned down the rig. After some difficulty the flames were extinguished and the well capped to permit the reconstruction of the rig. It is estimated that the flow of gas will approach 175,000 cubic feet a day.

Owosso—Forty years of faithful service as a teacher in the Owosso schools, was recognized officially by the board of education here when Miss Effie Ayres, principal at Central, was tendered a reception. She ended two score years of service with the end of the school year. In all of her 40 years of service Miss Ayres has missed less than two weeks of work. When Miss Ayres started teaching here, there were less than 600 students in the schools, compared with 3,600 now.

Detroit—Statistics of automobile fatalities compiled by the department of commerce for the four weeks ending May 21, and covering 77 cities of the country, show that the ratio of these killings continues to advance much faster than the growth of population, and also that Detroit's rate of increase is decidedly ahead of that of the statistical area as a whole. Detroit's score of fatalities for the four weeks ending May 21 was 29 deaths, while Grand Rapids and Flint did not have a single fatality.

All THAT, and Then Some!

When Goodyear announced "The Greatest Tire in the World" we sat up and took notice.

Knowing Goodyear, that seemed to us a pretty sensational statement for such a solid, long-established Company.

Now that we've seen the Tire, tested it, and tried in vain to find something the matter with it, we add our bit to Goodyear's statement:—

It's the most wonderfully designed and built Tire we have ever seen. It's everything Goodyear said, and then some!

You ought to catch up on Tire news. Get the 1927 story. Come in and see just how a new specially-designed tread, and the Goodyear Supertwist casing, brings a new day in balloon tire performance.

This is an authorized Goodyear Service Station rendering the assistance Goodyear pledges to help get every last mile out of Goodyear Tires and Tubes. More people ride on Goodyear Tires than on any other kind.

Detroit—Baisei Mahar, 22, is dead as the result of blood poisoning caused by the bite of a horse which he was watering on the farm of his father, Michael Mahar, near Emmett. Not until several days later the bite did the poisoning set in and this was complicated by pneumonia.

Lansing—Preparations are under way to make seven state parks available as camping grounds for boy and girl scouts and other organizations. The administrative board has authorized the expenditure of $1,340 for construction at each of the parks of a mess hall, purchase of army ranges, improvement of camp roads and minor preparations for the development of a new type of training camp.

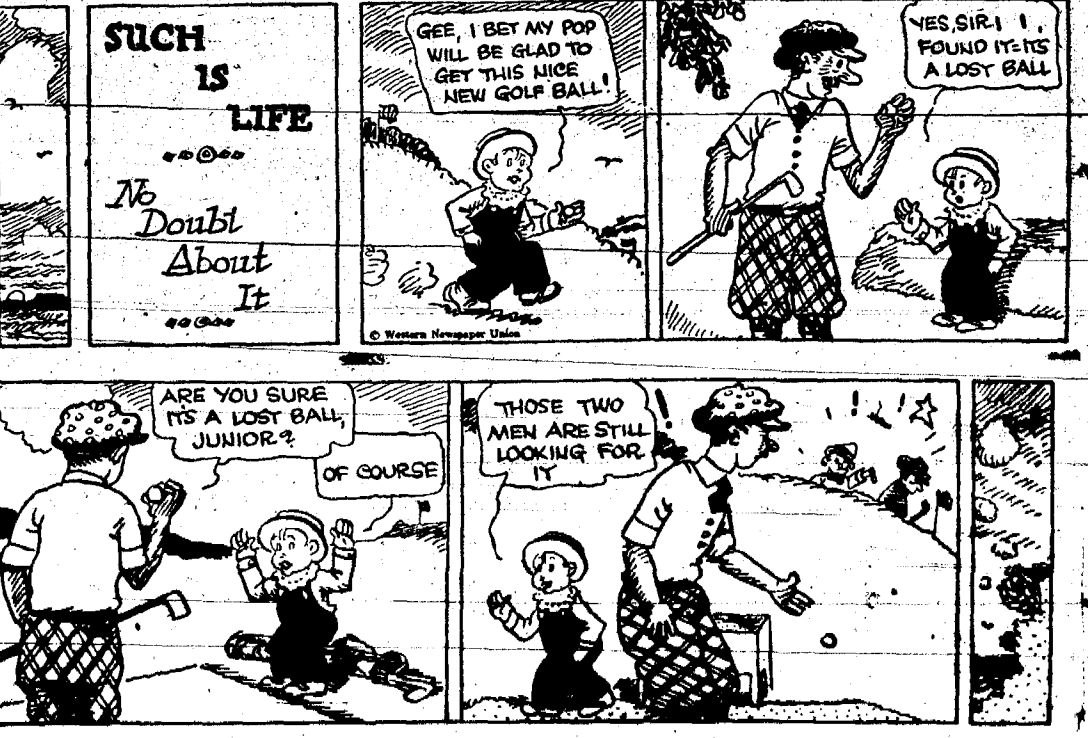

Monroe—C. Wesley Kemmerling, 55 years old, president of the Hurd-Sterling company, escaped death here after being entombed an hour in a freight car loaded with sand in the Pere Marquette yards. He was buried in the sand after a workman opened the pocket of the car. A hose was pushed through to enable him to breathe. A heavy braided straw hat he wore which pressed against his face, probably saved his life.

Lobster Color
Do you think that lobsters are naturally red in color? They are not. When boiled certain chemical changes occur in the brown shell of the lobster which cause it to turn red. His brown color enables the lobster to hide and protect himself much more easily than if he were red.
