EAST JORDAN, MICHIGAN, FRIDAY, OCTOBER 7, 1927.

NUMBER 40

Lee's Men Run Wild

E. J. H. S. DEFEAT KALKASKA
H. S., NINETY TO 0.

In the first Football game of the season, held last Saturday, East Jordan defeated Kalkaska by a score of 90 to 0.

The visitors offered very little opposition to the attacks of the local team, and not once in the entire game did Kalkaska make a first down. In the first three minutes East Jordan carried the ball forty yards for the first touchdown of the year. The first half ended 38 to 0, and in the second part of the game Coach Lee sent in all of the reserves. They succeeded in running up the score to 90. Every man on the squad played for at least a few minutes and some of the new material showed considerable promise.

The officials were:—Referee, Dickie, of Central State; Umpire, Keefe, of Michigan State; and Head Linesman, Walker, of East Jordan.

A good sized crowd watched the contest and it is expected that the game Friday afternoon with Gaylord will draw an even larger crowd. The game will start promptly at 4:00 o'clock and will be held as usual at the Fair Grounds field.

Gaylord is expected to give the Lee men a real battle. With two star backfield men as a foundation Coach Burket has built a football machine that will be hard to stop. This will probably be one of the best games of the season and it has been put on Friday afternoon in order that the business men and others who cannot leave their work on Saturday may attend.

Teachers Don't Like Smock Deal

FOR CAN SEE REASONS COVERING UP ANKLES PARENTS TOLD.

Hazel Park, Mich., Sept. 29.—Two hundred shapely limbs boldly exposed from instep to knee cap, scored a moral victory over ankle-length smocks here last night.

The limbs belonged to school-ma'ams who have been ordered by the board of education to wear smocks in the class room on the ground that the young idea should not be distracted by tapering expanses of silk stockings. The teachers appeared at a school reception minus the smocks.

The judges were members of the parent-teacher association. Having stopped, looked and listened, they asked, "what of it?"

Mrs. Lottie Tribos, president of the board and belived responsible for the smock edict, avoided the subject of raiment in her address, but John Dower, a member who supported the proposal, gave his eyes a chance and admitted, "maybe I made a mistake in voting for that resolution."

Frank J. Koukol, the only member to disapprove the order, announced his intention of writing a book to be entitled, "How To Preserve the Eyes of School Board Members," dedicated to one-eye Connolly.

Sam Durbin and A. L. Carlson, sponsors of the smock resolution, were "unavoidably absent." The announcement seemed to tickle the audience.

Unless repealed, the smock order goes into effect Monday morning. But beauty unadorned still has a chance on last night's showing.

What has become of the old-fashioned thrifty swain who used to go around to his girl's house to eat the candy that somebody else left?

The average sweet young thing feels sure that her beauty will keep something in the pot even if hubby fails to make good at his work.

Correct this sentence: "Mr. Editor, I am so hard up that I really cannot afford to spend a few cents a week to take your paper. I have quit smoking, drinking and chewing and am unable to save money."

ALL COVET IT—WORKERS MUST HAVE IT

Good Health! Men and women workers must possess it to be acceptable, satisfactory, successful. Kidney ailments and resulting ills are serious disorders, causing loss of health and efficiency, lack of energy and ambition, dull headaches, tired feeling, nervous depression. FOLEY PILLS, a diuretic stimulant for the kidneys, are a reliable, valuable, effective medicine. Men and women everywhere use and recommend them. John Gordon, Danville, Ill., says, "FOLEY PILLS diuretic made it possible for me to work steadily, to sleep better, to become stronger." Hite's Drug Store. adv.

Ladies' Nutrition Project Starts

Nutrition for all ages is the theme of the Home Nutrition project for extension groups of women for the winter. The first training meetings have just been held at East Jordan and Boyne City for leaders from surrounding communities.

Under the direction of Miss Mariel Dundas, Extension Nutrition Specialist, Michigan State College, local leaders are receiving instruction in nutrition, which they in turn will give to their community groups. Miss Dundas, formerly a County Home Demonstration Agent in Allegan and Oakland Counties, has just returned to the extension staff at M. S. C., after a year's study at Columbia University from which she received her Master of Arts degree in June.

Training meetings for leaders will occur once each month for 6 months. The second annual Achievement Day for the County will be held at the conclusion of the project. Many of the groups represented at the first meetings have been enrolled in the foods project given last spring by Mrs. Bernice Wells, Extension Specialist. Several new groups were added at these meetings and it is expected that others will enroll before the second training meetings, Nov. 10 and 11. Any group which desires to send leaders may do so by conferring with B. C. Mellenkamp, Co. Agr'l Agent, through whose efforts the work is available to the women of the county. Similar projects are being carried on in Emmet and Antrim counties also.

The course as outlined will include the following topics:

1. Relation of nutrition and right living to general health.

2. The health fortune telling game.

3. Eating for health and efficiency.

4. Building the body house (The protein foods.)

5. Building the body house (Minerals-Phosphorus Iron Lime.)

6. The growth promoting and protective foods or the body guards—the vitamins iodine.

In addition to the discussion exercises for health, posture and for the feet will be included in the course. Menu planning to meet the requirements of all ages and conditions, care and protection of the teeth and bones, and the health score for the individual will be stressed.

The home nutrition is to be supplemented by the school nutrition series which will be sent to teachers, who wish to have it for their schools. The school series includes stories, one to be given each month stressing the formation of proper food and health habits. Such as drinking milk, eating fruits and vegetables. Proper sleep and rest, brushing the teeth, eating three good meals daily. A nutrition and growth creed for the school room is included with the first month's story. The children are to be weighed and measured at the beginning and end of the project and their progress checked according to height and body build.

The music appreciation project which is a feature of the State Home Demonstration program will be given at each training meeting.

Members of the local groups were invited to attend the lecture "Food Makes a Difference" given with slide illustrations at the afternoon session.

Co. Agr'l Agent.

Co-operate in Advertising

Many merchants, some of them in East Jordan, are accustomed to think of advertising as a means of taking business from competitors instead of looking upon it as a proper method of stimulating sales of the commodities advertised. This is being illustrated forcefully in many national campaigns, where manufacturers of certain things have banded themselves into a national association for the purpose, not of fighting the other man's product, but of selling the consumer the machine that both made.

The laundry association is using much space to tell the people about the benefits of laundries, and in doing so, are striking at the washing machines that are fast spreading into homes all over the country. Florists long ago learned to work for the common good, and "Say it with Flowers," is recognized everywhere.

The same idea should apply to local advertising. Merchants who advertise in the Charlevoix County Herald do not necessarily compete for a minimum amount of business, which one must take from the other. Rather, it is true that their up-to-date advertising will create an impression throughout the county that East Jordan is a real shopping center, and much business will come in, enough to give all worthwhile business a share.

Charlevoix To Improve Main Street

(Charlevoix Courier)

Charlevoix's main business thoroughfare, Bridge street, is due for a general "overhauling" and will present a far more attractive appearance to our thousands of summer visitors when they arrive next summer.

Work has already commenced. All telephone, telegraph and electric light poles will be removed, as will also curb signs, gasoline pumping stations and any other obstructions on the street. This includes everything from the bridge to the intersection of Bridge street and Hurlbut avenue at the top of the hill.

October 1st will see a Michigan Bell Telephone company crew here to start their share of the work, which will be removing their poles from the west side of Bridge street. All wiring will be run under ground in conduits. Poles will be moved into the alley behind business places and wires for telephones and lights run to the rear of all buildings. The Western Union Telegraph company will run their wires through the telephone company's conduit to their office on Bridge street.

The city of Charlevoix's job will be confined to the east side of Bridge street, where a similar program will be carried out. Poles for the new boulevard street lighting system have been received and are being placed along the street. The city will start their job as soon as the conduits arrive here.

In all there will be 44 new light poles of hollow-spun, reinforced concrete and granite. They are 12 feet from the base to the top of each pole and when placed and assembled the 600 candle power globe will be 13 feet from the sidewalk. The poles will be set from 80 to 100 feet apart, according to the length of the block and will be set opposite one another on each side of the street.

The new improvement has been contemplated for some time and was finally brought to a close this fall. The removal of all poles, signs and other objects obstructing the street will be a great step toward improving the appearance of our business district and the new boulevard lighting system will be one of beauty to our city.

SIC TRANSIT

Five years ago Carlyle Blackwell, a popular movie star, sailed for Europe. He was given a farewell banquet by his admirers and police protected him as he boarded the steamer, to the dismay of his many friends who had crowded to the pier to see their idol off.

Last week he returned to this country. The only people who were on the pier when he arrived were newspaper reporters covering the waterfront news.

Schools To Compete In Essay Contest

Announcements were sent out this week to all the schools in the County announcing the Essay Contest that is held each year in connection with the Top O' Michigan Potato and Apple Show.

The school children of the county have come to look upon this contest with as much anticipation as the older folks who exhibit their best hand picked potatoes. It offers them an opportunity to win some of the prize money awarded by The Bloom Company of Detroit, and to be the guest of the Potato Show Association on Friday, Nov. 4th, the last day of the show, which has been designated Boys' and Girls' Day.

This year the subject of the Essay has been changed from the formal "How I would do so and so." The officers of the show have decided that inasmuch as this is the fifth anniversary of the show and that outstanding results are being shown, that an appropriate subject to write about would be, "What the Top O' Michigan Potato & Apple Show is doing for northern Michigan."

Prizes will range from fifteen dollars for first place down to three dollars for fifth, a total of forty dollars being offered for the contest.

Rules for the contest as received from A. C. Lytle, Secretary, are as follows:

1.—Candidates must be enrolled in school. All grades below the 9th will be eligible.

2.—The length of the essay must not exceed 1,000 words.

3.—The essay must be written in pen and on smooth office paper about 8 1/2 by 11 inches.

Any child desiring to enter this contest should consult their teacher who in turn will receive complete instructions from the County School Commissioner or the Secretary of the Show. All essays must be in the hands of the County School Comm'r by Oct. 25th.

Judges this year will be Bert Wermuth, Editor of the Michigan Farmer; Milton Grinnell, Editor of the Michigan Business Farmer; and Fred Henshaw, of the Detroit News.

School Notes

DEBATE IN THE HIGH SCHOOL

A meeting was called last Friday afternoon at 2:30 for all persons interested in Debate for the following year. About 18 students from the ninth, tenth, eleventh and twelfth grades responded to the call. The State question sent to all High Schools who have entered or are going to enter the League, is "Resolved: That the Direct Primary System of Nominating Candidates for Public Office in the United States Should be Abolished." From all appearances, the debating team of the East Jordan High School will make itself heard and seen in the near future.

SENIOR PLAY

The Seniors, who, as Juniors gave a very successful play, are planning another such production. Several plays have been ordered and they plan to select the most suitable one. The play will be presented about the third week in November.

MISS GARDEI RECOVERING

Miss Grace Gardel, who last week underwent an operation for appendicitis at the Charlevoix hospital, is recovering rapidly. During her absence, Rev. C. W. Sidebotham is teaching the Latin classes.

TRY-OUT FOR YELL LEADER

Last Wednesday in assembly the annual try-out for yell leader was held. The judges were Miss Bryant, Miss Crofoot, Miss White and Mr. Rogers. The four candidates for yell leader were Marshall Shepard, Billy Taylor, Peter Hegerberg and Billy Kitsman. The candidates demonstrated their actions and then led in two yells. The final decision of the judges was three to one in favor of Billy Taylor.

SCHOOL LIBRARY

One of the requirements of the University of Michigan and the North Central Association of Colleges and secondary schools is that each school shall have a library in a room for that purpose in the school building. Within a week or ten days the East Jordan High School will have a fully equipped library. A number of the required books have been purchased to supplement the books already owned by the school.

The room to be used for the Library is the one now known as the Mechanical Drawing Room. The Manual Training Department is making the shelves and tables needed and these will soon be ready. Two or three students will be in charge of the library and will check out the books as is done in the Public Library.

Porter-Leenhouts Wedding, At Grand Rapids

(Grand Rapids Press.)

Miss Ruth Gertrude Leenhouts and Donald James Porter pronounced their marriage vows at 8:30 last Saturday evening, October 1st at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Leenhouts on Fountain St., Grand Rapids, with Rev. J. A. Dykstra officiating.

The bridal party stood before the fireplace in the living room beneath a canopy of vines with clusters of Japanese and Easter Lilies tied with gold ribbons trailing through the vines. On either side of a platform before the grate which was banked with Cyboteum ferns, Italian urns filled with yellow chrysanthemums, Easter and Japanese lilies and roses were placed.

Miss Elsa Hoertz and Mrs. Hazel Clark Quick played harp and violin selections preceding and during the ceremony.

The bride, descending the stairway with her father, was gowned in a lovely period model of ivory taffeta.

The only adornment to the tight bodice was a Bertha collar of fine lace and embroidery, edged with pale pink grosgrain ribbon which formed a large bow at the waistline in back, from which streamers of ribbon fell to the hemline nearly reaching the floor. A band of Venetian rose point lace through her hair held the tulle veil and she carried a shower bouquet of orchid, Lilies-of-the-valley and Butterfly roses.

Miss Katherine Anne Cudlip of Iron Mountain, maid of honor, wore a dress of apple georgette. Her colonial bouquet combined Pernet and Columbia roses and deep lavender heather with a ruche of gold malines and gold-tie.

The bridesmaids, Miss Winifred Fletcher of Grand Rapids, and Miss Virginia Cray of Streator, Ill., were dressed alike in frocks of pale yellow chiffon. Their bouquets in the shape of butterflies, were of pink and yellow roses and heather with gold malines edging and ties. The maids all wore strings of pearls with frozen crystal pendants, the gifts of the bride.

LeGrande A. Gaines of New York City attended Mr. Porter, and the ushers were Willis R. Leenhouts and Lee M. Woodruff. Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Dooge were master and mistress of ceremonies.

A reception for 150 guests was held after the ceremony. Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Howard Porter, Mr. and Mrs. John Porter, Mr. and Mrs. Walter G. Cornell, all of East Jordan; Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Bisbee of Jackson; Mrs. Esther Bliss of Rochester, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Lewis of Saginaw; Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Austgen and B. R. Hoffman of Detroit, and Miss Dorothy and Donald Goss of Ann Arbor.

Mr. and Mrs. Porter left for a motor trip to New York and other eastern cities, and upon their return will reside at 1414-Bates St. S. E., Grand Rapids.

Mr. Porter is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Porter of East Jordan.

Jordan school are placed on the University approved list for only two years. However the local High School was on for three years and last year, because an inspection could not be made, the time was extended to June 30, 1928. So our school has been on the list for four years with only one inspection. Another is scheduled for this fall or next spring, and a special effort is being made to meet all requirements.

Annual Fire Prevention Week

Fire Prevention Week is to be held this year from Oct. 9 to 15. Throughout the country various organizations will again attempt to train the public in offsetting the greatest menace in the United States today. Our people will do well to learn, and profit by example.

The tragedy of fire is that it is almost entirely preventable. There are, of course, natural causes for conflagrations that cannot be helped, but these are a very small percentage of the total. The greatest damage is caused by carelessness and ignorance. Billions of dollars are wasted and destroyed each year by a few people's carelessness. It would not be so reprehensible if the loss were borne by them alone. But it must be shared, directly or indirectly, by every citizen and taxpayer.

It is the duty of every citizen to co-operate in the observation of Fire Prevention Week. And it should be his pleasure. Fire loss can be stopped. And in a single week, if everyone will observe and learn, a great deal can be accomplished in the way of reducing it.

TERROR OF THE UNKNOWN
By THOMAS ARKLE CLARK
Dean of Men, University of Illinois.

THE troubles and the pains which we contemplate are generally far more serious than those which we have experienced. I am to have a tooth extracted tomorrow, and I shudder at the thought, and yet as I recall the dental experiences which I have previously gone through, I found them not nearly so dreadful as I had anticipated. I am to meet an angry and disgruntled parent this afternoon, who will have come five hundred miles to voice his dissatisfaction at the way his offspring has been mentally handled by his instructors and the administration generally. I dread the ordeal, and yet I know I shall get through it quite amicably when the moment arrives.
Elizabeth had come down from the country to enter high school. She had never been away from home alone before, and the people young and old whom she was to meet next day were all strangers to her. The subjects she was to take up were new and strange; the methods of teaching were to be quite unfamiliar to her. Her face took on a very serious look as we sat quietly before the fire in the dusk of Sunday evening. There were tears in her eyes as she turned to me, and a tremor in her voice.
"Won't tomorrow be an awful day!" she said. It was the terror of the unknown and the inexperienced which was taking hold of her. When she met it, she found that her fears had been for nothing. She had had a very happy day she announced when she came home at night, and through the years that followed, the experience continued. When it was through, there were tears in her eyes again because the experience which she had so dreaded was over.
Mack was going out to a new job. He had worked hard in college and had undertaken a number of things which he had carried to a conclusion very successfully. He was to try something entirely new this time in a distant city which he had never yet seen. His heart failed him a little.
"Tell me what to do," he asked.
"How shall I meet the new situation?"
"The new job," I explained, "is going to be very little different from the old ones you have had. People are about the same wherever you find them. Make yourself useful and necessary to the people for whom you are working, and you will get on; and, above all, be yourself."
Mack is getting on. The terror of the inexperienced left him shortly, and he is as much at home on the new job as he used to be on the old.
I wonder often, as most of us do, I imagine, how I shall meet the great change which comes at the end of life. My father used to say when he thought of the "last judgment," "That will be an awful day," but he went very peacefully as if he were dropping off to sleep. His terror of the unknown vanished.

Many Types of Blouses to Intrigue Shoppers

The blouse, as it is created by Paris inspiration, is decidedly more interesting than was the simple shirt or gilet which has been the accepted model in past years. In many cases of the Paris creations, the blouse is apparently a three-quarter part of the entire costume, covering the hips, over a simple skirt finely plaited.
There are many types of blouses seen to intrigue shoppers and their uses are many. They may, apparently, make the entire costume by chic lines, or may appear as just a part of a smart ensemble.
Chiffons, printed silks and crepes in all sorts of lovely designs are used to accompany skirts in a harmonizing manner.
Laces, satins, brocaded fabrics and other materials suited to the formal mode appear, too, accompanying skirts of a formal nature. Long tie ends at the waist, sleeves quaintly designed and necks of interest are usually features of the formal blouse.
Lilyan Tashman, seen in the First National film, "The Prince of Heidelberg," wears a lame blouse of decided appeal and formal qualities.

THE FLOWER HE MISSED

By DOUGLAS MALLOCH

MANY the songs they sing you, mothers of men. Many the flow'rs they bring you, mother of men.

But think, if you see and know, There is a fairer blossom, though, Just a daisy of long ago, Mothers of men.

Once from a wilder garden, mothers of men, Asking your praise and pardon, mothers of men, Came a child with a little fist Bearing a daisy, that you kissed, Just a flow'r that the reaper missed, Mothers of men.

Soon will our blossoms perish, mothers of men, But there is one you cherish, mothers of men.

Never long will the flowers last, Flowers wither and fade so fast, But there is one that the reaper passed, Mothers of men.

One you will wear in heaven, mothers of men,

One in our childhood given, mothers of men.

Once a child with a little fist Brought you a daisy, that you kissed— There is one that the reaper missed, Mothers of men.

SAWS

By Viola Brothers Shore

FOR THE GOOSE—

THE difference between a successful marriage and an unsuccessful one is often no more'n the difference between a good sport and a martyr.

Behn' a good sport don't mean puttin' up with everything. It means reduc' the things y' gotta put up with to a minimum and then behn' game about them.

Husbands appreciate good sportsmanship just as much as they appreciate any other good quality—that is to say, they think it's comin' to 'em.

FOR THE GANDER—

Women used to ask themselves—"I wonder if he'll try to kiss me?" Now they ask—"I wonder when?"

If you gotta fight with a woman, fight with everything you got. It's only after a good war that you can expect peace.

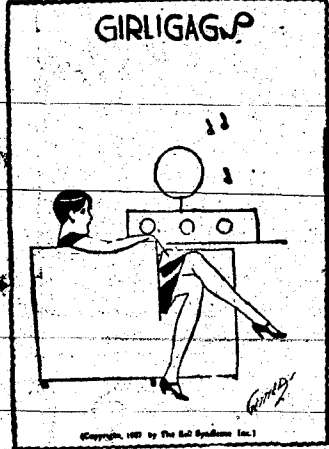

However, holdin' your peace is worth three times as much as makin' it. The Phillistines wasn't the only people that was put out of business by the jawbone of an ass. (Copyright.)

Do You Know That: ...??...

THE phrase to "bury the hatchet" came from our own Indians. It is an illusion to a command given to the North American Indians by their "Great Spirit" when they smoked the peace-pipe to "bury the hatchet," war clubs and scalping knives in the ground so that all thought of enmity might be buried out of sight and so out of mind.

To "bury the hatchet" has now come to mean a desire for friendliness and a wish to end the strife and enmity.—Anna S. Turnquist.

"The radio must have been known longer ago than is generally supposed," says Antiquarian Anne, "else what did they mean when they spoke of making Rome howl?"

Left Biddy Lonesome

A sitting hen at East Hampton, Conn., did a motherly task for 15 eggs for three weeks. The eggs were in a quilt's nest uncovered while Albert Saltus was mowing. Michael Daley had the hen and eight chicks were hatched. Biddy took the family for a walk and Mother Quail appeared, called the eight little ones and disappeared with them in the woods.

LIVE STOCK

COST OF MAKING PORK VARIABLE

Variations from one farm to another in the cost of producing pork are far wider than the market fluctuations in the prices which farmers get for their pork when they send the fattened hogs to market. It is shown by figures gathered from Illinois farms during the past three years by the farm management of the college of agriculture, University of Illinois.

It was found, for instance, that on some 40 farms in the same general community, the 1925 costs of producing pork ranged from $8.62 on one farm to $16.97 a hundred pounds on another farm. Naturally, such differences as these make most of the difference between profit and loss in the hog enterprise, it is pointed out by R. H. Wilcox, of the department.

"Of course some farms may have an unusually bad year now and then, but the four farms having the lowest cost of production in 1925 kept their costs down to $8.85 a hundred, while the four farms having the highest costs produced their pork at $10.62 a hundred."

It was found that one of the important reasons for differences in costs was in the number of pigs weaned by each sow. Low cost farms weaned 7.4 pigs to the litter, while the farms having the high costs weaned only 5.2 pigs on the average. This means that the farms having high costs carried along and fed for several months some sows that did not produce any pigs, and other sows that weaned only a few.

All the blame, however, cannot be placed upon the sow, for it was found that the methods of handling and feeding her during gestation and the sanitary conditions under which she farrowed and suckled her pigs greatly influenced the size of her litter. Care at the time of farrowing was also found to show itself in the number of pigs saved.

Death losses after farrowing pulled down the size of the litter and was one of the important factors in making costs of production high. On these Illinois farms 28 per cent of the pigs were lost before weaning. Yet when one knows that this loss of 28 per cent is about 5 per cent below the average in the corn belt, the influence of sanitation and care of young pigs upon costs is at once apparent. Individual farms practicing careful sanitary measures saved more than 90 per cent of their pigs. The four farms in the low cost group in 1925 with costs of $8.85 a hundred saved 10 per cent more pigs than the four farms having a cost of $10.62."

Trim Lambs Bring Top Price at All Markets

According to statistics gathered from stockyards, companies and packers, it is a fact that farmers are paid approximately a dollar more for each docked and castrated lamb they put on the market than they receive for their untrimmed lambs. R. S. Matheson, lamb buyer for a packing company, recently stated that ewe and wether lambs at 14 cents are better bought than mixed lots of equal quality at 13 cents.

The job of docking and castrating is a simple one, and it is easily mastered with a small amount of practice. Farm boys quickly acquire the knack of doing the job in clean-cut fashion, if they are given proper instruction.

The fact that such a large proportion of all lambs received at central markets each year consists of untrimmed lambs is due purely to neglect. If five minutes' work on a lamb will add a dollar to its market value, time spent in this work will be paid for at a very high rate. Docking and castrating the lambs should be an annual job on all farms where sheep are raised, and one which is always done with painstaking care.

Live Stock Notes

Not all balanced rations will yield equal profits.

Sheep can use profitably a lot of waste feed around the farm.

Cholera killed one and a half million hogs in the United States during the past year.

The farmer who buys live-stock herds before growing feeds for them is putting the cart before the horse.

As a stop for young pigs, what about this feed? Equal parts ground corn, ground oats, wheat bran and wheat middlings?

More pigs raised by each sow, fewer runts, cheaper gains and quicker market weights, and less infestation by round worms, are some of the main benefits derived last year by farmers who practiced sanitary swine production.

Corn by itself is about the most unsatisfactory feed known for fattening and growing hogs. When used in conjunction with concentrates high in protein and mineral matter, or in connection with green pastures, corn is about the best feed obtainable.

OCTOBER DISHES

THE fall months when the nuts and games are in season, we turn to some of the cherished dishes which so many enjoy.

New York Chestnut Bread.

Take two cupfuls of unsifted
graham flour, one cupful of pastry flour, two-thirds of a cupful of brown sugar, one teaspoonful of salt, three teaspoonfuls of baking powder, two cupfuls of buttermilk, one and one-eighth teaspoonfuls of soda, one cupful of finely chopped chestnuts. To the flours add the sugar, salt and baking powder; when well mixed add the remaining ingredients. Turn into a buttered pan, cover and let stand twenty-four minutes. Bake in a moderate oven for forty-five minutes.

Old-fashioned Gingerbread.

Take one cupful of butter, two cupfuls of brown sugar, three eggs, one tablespoonful of ginger, one cupful of milk, one teaspoonful of soda and seven cupfuls of pastry flour. When the butter and sugar are well creamed, break in an egg and beat well; repeat until all the eggs are used, then add ginger, salt, soda with the latter dissolved in the milk.
Now add the sifted flour. Put a small cake of dough on a well greased baking sheet and roll out to a quarter inch in thickness. Bake in a rather hot oven until brown. Remove from the oven, cut in squares or oblongs, lay on a cake cobbler and frost if desired. These gingerbread cakes will keep for a long time if kept in tin boxes.

Chestnut Stuffing for Turkey.

Remove the shells from as many chestnuts as needed, then holl in their skins in salted water. When they are soft, remove the nuts and peel them. Now mash as thoroughly as potatoes. Take equal portions of fine bread crumbs, sweet mashed potatoes and chestnuts, mix well, adding butter and, if too dry, a little cream. Season with fine herbs, finely chopped onion and pepper to taste.
Some prefer all chestnuts, omitting
the potato and crumbs.

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT

By F. A. WALKER

THE EARTH'S BIRTHDAY

IF WE knew just the date of the earth's birth we could add another holiday to the ones we now celebrate.

Professor Moreaux of the observatory of Bourges in France, while he has not attempted to fix the exact birth of the earth, issued a statement that his study and investigations establish the age of the earth at not less than 500,000,000 years and the period of life on this planet at about 250,000,000 years.

If the French professor is right Mother Earth is getting old enough to be quite sensible and life has been here long enough to have established pretty substantial evidence of what natural development can accomplish.
The greatest age hitherto ascribed to the earth has been the figures arrived at by the calculations of the time which it has taken the earth to cool from a white hot mass to its present temperature and the retarding effects of the tides on the period of the earth's revolution.

Sir William Thomson, applying the Fourier method of heat conduction, concluded that the earth could not be less than 20,000,000 years old else it would still be too hot to live on and not more than 400,000,000 years old or we would not find any increase in temperature in deep excavations.

The same scientist computing the effects of the tides concluded that the earth was about 100,000,000 years old.

These computations are, of course largely theoretical, but in geology we have a more direct evidence both as to the age of the earth, and as to the time life has been existent.

The study of rock formation and the investigation of fossil remains definitely establish the age of the earth at millions on millions of years and the existence of life to have been of almost equal millions.

Certain it is that the stalactites and the stalagmites in the caves at Luray in Virginia have been millions of years in formation for this is proven by direct computation from the present rate of increase in size.

It is certain that man, or at least a being endowed with reason, has been in existence since before the age of the mastodons and while the horse was still a four-toed animal no larger than a good-sized dog.

Man as he then existed knew of fire and its uses and had already devised for himself simple weapons of offense and defense, and the remains of human skulls such as the Skull of Engis or that of Cro Magnon would evidence that even at that remote time the human race was high above its animal associates and had established its dominion over the lower forms of life and intelligence.

Slowly we are learning something of the history of the globe on which we live. More slowly man is developing and advancing.

The next 500,000,000 years of the earth's existence should be worth living, the next 250,000,000 years of the development of life should bring forth some human beings who will have a genuine excuse for existence; who will accomplish something well worth while.

So far the human race has not been a very great success.

There is so much that we do not know compared with what there is to know that the wisest of the world are, in reality, hopelessly ignorant.

The only thing to do is to keep on seeking to improve. Delving a little more deeply into the unknown and trying every day to be a little wiser and a little more civilized than we were yesterday.

of Agriculture.)

A summary of tuberculosis-eradication work conducted by the United States Department of Agriculture in co-operation with the various states shows excellent results during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1927. An outstanding achievement was the large increase in the number of entire counties which have completed the tuberculin-testing of all cattle within their boundaries. The summary of progress shows 347 such counties distributed among 27 states. Thus more than half of the states have one or more such tuberculosis-free counties. The three leading states in this respect are North Carolina with 82 counties on the modified-accredited list, Michigan with 42 and Iowa with 30 such counties.

On July 1 a total of 17,600,390 cattle in the United States were under supervision for the eradication of bovine tuberculosis. Besides this number considerably more than four million cattle are on waiting lists and will be tested as soon as the federal, state and county veterinary inspectors complete other work for those owners who signed up earlier for tuberculin testing.

The total number of cattle in herds accredited as free from tuberculosis exceeds 1,885,000. The work of tuberculosis eradication is going forward systematically in all states. During the last month of the fiscal year the inspectors engaged in tuberculin testing applied the test to more than 800,000 cattle, of which approximately 24,000 were found to be affected with the disease. The removal of such reactors from contact with healthy cattle, followed by the slaughter of diseased animals under federal inspection, is gradually reducing the extent of bovine tuberculosis throug-out the country and benefiting both the live-stock industry and public health.

Plan for Determining Sex of Guinea Fowls

In raising guinea fowls, many amateurs and some not so amateurish, are puzzled when the time comes for marketing, as they find it difficult to select males and females to be retained for breeding purposes.

To a casual observer the male and female of the species are identical in shape, size and plumage. But a closer inspection will reveal that one has a richer color of the neck feathers, its wattles are more plump and firm, and the plumage in general is more compact. This is the male.

The "buck-wheat" call that is so commonly supposed to come from the male is, in fact, the cry of the female,
usually when frightened or excited.
She may be further detected by her rougher coat of feathers, and by her wattles—which are somewhat pale and shrunken.

When guinea fowls are in the prime of condition, as they should be after spending the summer on free range, the difference between the male and female will not be so pronounced as it is in the early summer, just after mating time, and one should study the birds carefully to insure a balanced selection of stock for breeding purposes.

Harvest Silage Corn

When Ears Are Mature

When corn is to be harvested for silage, it should be cut when the ears are mature but the leaves and stalks are still green. Corn cut and bound to be fed as dry forage should be cut at the same time. It should be allowed to cure in shocks until dry and then hauled in and piled. By this method the ears are mature and well filled and all of the forage value of the stalks is saved.

Corn should not be shucked out of the field until it has dried for several weeks, after it has quit growing. Otherwise the corn will be hard to shuck, will be apt to heat and mold and make poor feed. In shucking from the field it is a good practice to have a box in which to throw the better ears. These can be specially dried out and sorted for seed supply if field-selection has not been practiced, or if there is a market for seed corn.

As the corn is shucked out it should be hauled to a crib that is well ventilated, and if possible protected against rats and mice.—Extension Bulletin 237-A, Colorado Agricultural College.

Rye and Wheat Are Good
as Spring Soiling Crop.

For a spring soiling crop, fall-sown rye and wheat are excellent and are especially adaptable in the North.
These can be followed with either barley or oats for an early summer soiling crop in the North. Sudan grass is, also, an excellent soiling crop for this season, and in the South sorghums and Japanese cane in particular are probably the best. Sorghums may be cut at two to three feet, but much better yields are realized if they are allowed to head.

The big need for a soiling crop is in midsummer, however, when pastures are dry. For a short season crop at this time, corn is the leader in the corn belt. It is palatable, yields heavily, and remains in good condition over a long period of time.

Briefs of the Week

Peninsula Grange meets Oct. 12th. Election of officers.

Mrs. Anna Bulow returned home Thursday from a visit with relatives in New York and Detroit.

A. W. Bliss of Harbor Springs was here Thursday, for a visit at the home of Dr. and Mrs. C. H. Pray.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Berg left Thursday for a visit with their daughter, Mrs. Thomas Copping, at Bay Shore.

A Doughnut Sale will be held by the Methodist Missionary Society at the Church kitchen, Saturday forenoon, Oct. 8th. adv.

F. R. Bulow and Kit Carson, of this city, and Frank Bird and Charles Bartlett of Charlevoix were at Detroit on business first of the week.

Mrs. Earl Gee and family expect to leave this week for Melstrand, Mich., where Mr. Gee is employed, and where they will make their home.

La Poudre Puff Beaute Shoppe at Petoskey will be open Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays during October. Permanent Wave, Special at $10.00. Phone 316. Evenings by appointment. adv.

Milton Palmer, who has been employed at Beaver Island erecting a new wharf from which many hundreds of cords of chemical wood will be loaded out by boat for East Jordan, spent the week end in Petoskey visiting friends.—Petoskey News.

Mrs. R. J. Holman with Miss Elsie Layman of Petoskey, and Mrs. F. P. Ramsey and Mrs. G. A. Bell of this city, spent the week end at Howe, Ind., where they visited the former's son, Joe Boyd, who is attending Howe Military School.

Josie Irene, aged 11 years, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hollie Bayliss, passed away Sunday, Oct. 2nd, at the home of her parents near the Fair Grounds. Funeral services were held from the home Tuesday afternoon, conducted by Rev. V. J. Hurton. Interment at Sunset Hill.

The Rev. R. N. Holsapple, superintendent of the Michigan anti-saloon league, and Walter A. Rice, Detroit attorney, will debate the question, "Can The Law be Enforced?" at a mass meeting in the Central M. E. Church at Traverse City next Sunday it was announced at last Sunday's service there.

Mr. and Mrs. George Geck expect to leave this week by auto for their new home at San Luis Obispo, Calif. Mr. Geck has held a position at the East Jordan Lumber Co. office for a number of years, and their many friends regret their leaving. They have a daughter and son-in-law who reside at the above place.

John Kwiatkowski, of Detroit, was accidentally killed at Camp Davis, on Douglas Lake, last Saturday afternoon, when his foot became caught in a door of a car and he fell. Mr. Kwiatkowski was showing a party of guests about the camp and had gone to put the truck in the garage when the accident occurred. The guests, investigating the reason for his non-return to their camp cottage, found the man dead. A brother, James Kwiatkowski, is caretaker at the camp.

A large black bear was killed Sunday near Springvale, the sixth in that locality during the past year. The bear was caught in a trap placed by Game Warden Henry Fike in the beeyard at the A. W. Lashaw farm, but the animal dragged the trap, weighted with a six foot railroad rail, about a mile and a half before being overtaken. In the game warden's party which trailed the bear were Stanley Cherry, Mrs. Fike, Harvey Thompson and his mother, and the Misses Eva Case and Gladys Hetrick. All of the party live at Boyne Falls.

Harbor Springs football team fell before Boyne City on Boyne's field Saturday, 13 to 6. The victory came in the closing minutes of the game when Boyne forward passed her way down the field for a touchdown. Boyne has always fought hard until the final whistle, no matter what the odds. The two teams were evenly matched, giving the region several teams of about equal ability. The Saturday previous, Boyne and Charlevoix tied, 6 to 6, and the week previous luck favored Boyne and she won, 19 to 12, from Gaylord.

In an effort to determine just what ails upper peninsula radio reception, a scientific radio expedition will leave Sault Ste. Marie shortly to make readings in a great circle round Sault Ste. Marie. The purpose of the expedition in charge of C. B. Robinson, United States army radio engineer, will be to find out whether the vast deposits of copper and iron ore in the upper peninsula influence radio reception and transmission. For years the upper peninsula has been a puzzle to national radio experts. Conditions here are unique. At times reception is good, at other times poor. Reception is better from some directions than from others. The Fort Brady transmitting station can send signals 400 miles in one direction and only 200 miles in others.—Soo Evening News.

Att'y D. L. Wilson of Lansing was here on business first of the week.

Mrs. B. E. Waterman spent the week end with her daughter at Bates.

Mrs. Earl Blair who has been visiting friends in Detroit, returned first of the week.

Mrs. John Severance returned home Monday from a visit at South Haven and Chicago.

Rev. C. W. Sidebotham was in Detroit last week attending the meeting of the Synod of Michigan.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Loveday returned Thursday p. m. from a few days' absence at Lansing and Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Pringle of Flint are here this week for a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Pringle.

Presbyterian Ladies Aid will meet with Mrs. W. E. Malpass, Friday, Oct. 14th. Mrs. W. H. Malpass will assist in entertaining.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gothro of Grayling were here the past week visiting at the home of his brother, Bert Gothro and family.

The Good Will S. S. class of the Methodist Church will hold a Bake and Rummage Sale, Saturday, Oct. 22nd. Place to be announced later. adv.

M. E. Ladies Aid will be entertained at the home of Mrs. C. Barrie on Wednesday, Oct. 12th at 2:00 o'clock standard. Annual election of officers. Every member requested to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Porter, Mr. and Mrs. John Porter, and Mr. and Mrs. Walter G. Cornell spent the week end in Grand Rapids, where they attended the wedding of the former's brother, Donald Porter.

We never could understand the man who told us all about his health when we merely asked him, "How are you, today?"

Pontiac—New census figures for Pontiac revealed by City Manager Clifford W. Ham, show a population of 54,203. The figures, received from the census bureau at Washington, represent the work of a special census here this summer. The city has gained 40,000 during the last 17 years. In 1910, its population was 14,532. Males predominate, 30,526 being listed. As a result of the census, Pontiac will be entitled to a greater representation on the board of supervisors.

Lansing—An investigation of the operation of the Roosevelt Memorial Hospital at Camp Custer has been ordered by the finance committee of the state administrative board. The hospital is operated by the state welfare committee of the American Legion in conjunction with the state and federal governments. Auditor General O. B. Fuller pointed out that during the last year the hospital officials spent $1,300 per patient. This is twice as much a patient as the cost at other state hospitals.

Calumet—A $10,000,000 bond trust by the State for the establishment of forest and game preserves and public shooting grounds, and the establishment of a base hatchery in the Upper Peninsula to prevent extinction of the fish, was the resolution passed by the Northern Michigan Sportsmen's Association at its annual convention held here recently. Officers were re-elected as follows: President, Peter Trudell, Jr., of Negaunee; secretary, M. G. Degraeble, of Negaunee; treasurer, Floyd W. Marble, of Gladstone.

East Lansing—Representatives of Michigan's sugar beet industry have been invited to become members of a commission which will inspect the German sugar beet establishments next July, according to J. G. Lill and Charles Lavis, of Michigan State College, who recently entertained M. C. Bellowsky, of Germany. Bellowsky visited State college as a representative of a leading German sugar beet firm and inspected the experimental work at the college. He is touring the United States.

Owosso—Governor Fred W. Green will come to Owosso this fall to discuss conservation with leaders of the Shiawassee conservation association, according to a letter received from him by A. L. Chandler, of Owosso. Chandler wrote the governor, following severe criticism expressed here of the action in removing the ban on spearing, and other steps construed as overturning the program of the late James Oliver Curwood. The governor said he was in accord with the association on conservation matters.

Greenville—Potato growers of Montcalm County are to take part in several contests as features of the Greenville potato show here in November. A silver cup will be awarded by the Greenville Potato club to the person residing in Montcalm county who averages the highest yield of five or more acres of potatoes while a special prize is offered for boy and girl potato growers by the Michigan state farm bureau. Other preparations for the four-day event, November 9, 10, 11 and 12, are nearing completion.

Centennial State

Colorado is called the Centennial state because it was admitted into the Union as a state in 1876, the centennial of the adoption of the Declaration of Independence. Colorado was proclaimed a state on August 1, 1876, by President Grant. The name Colorado is merely the Spanish word for red.

State News in Brief

Stanton—An application for a hunting license by Ned Lilly, 11 year old son of Dr. I. S. Lilly, national junior trap shooting champion, has been refused by the State Conservation Department.

Kalamazoo—Three cases of infantile paralysis have been reported to Health Officer A. H. Rockwell from Kalamazoo and vicinity. Parents have been warned by Dr. Rockwell to keep their children out of crowds.

Painesville—An apple tree on Oscar Hirvonen's farm is in full bloom, Hirvonen reported here. The tree bore fruit which was picked several weeks ago and then started budding again. Hirvonen said he has ripe pears picked from his trees; an unusual circumstance for this time of year in this region.

Ann Arbor—Movies of student life at the University of Michigan are to be made this fall. Dr. Clarence Cook Little, president of the University, has approved a film to be shown at alumni gatherings throughout the country. Class rooms, football games, research laboratories, fraternity and sorority life and the university hospital are to be shown.

Kalamazoo—Henry Little of Richland, one of the earliest pioneers of Kalamazoo county and also one of the oldest, celebrated his ninetieth birthday anniversary here at a family gathering held at the home of his son, George E. Little. The nonagenarian resides at Richland, nine miles north of Kalamazoo, where he has lived in the county nearly 70 years.

Ann Arbor—Ineligibility has reduced the number of University of Michigan men trying out for the annual Union Opera, it was learned here. Of 185 who were rehearsing dances in the various choruses, 52 have been declared scholastically ineligible. Two of the candidates for leading roles were eliminated. William "Bud" Lewis, Jr., of Muskegon, "leading lady" of last year's opera, "Front Page Stuff," is expected to take a leading role again this year.

Lansing—The State Conservation Commission will be asked to replace some of the bars it let down when it recently revoked orders prohibiting spearing in inland lakes and streams. Director Leigh J. Young said he will recommend that all trout streams be closed to spearing. What will be done about lake spearing will not entirely settled, but the fish experts of the department insist that some prohibitory regulations must be enforced or the fish will suffer.

Grand Rapids—A project to raise more than $100,000 for the celebration of Grand Rapids' hundredth furniture market next January has been endorsed here by business men of the city at a luncheon given by Robert W. Irwin, dean of Grand Rapids furniture men. Mr. Irwin pointed out no other market can boast of 100 successive meetings and the building up of a volume of business to approach that of the Grand Rapids market. He declared the furniture business employs directly more than 70 per cent of the residents of the city.

Harbor Beach—The excuse given by hunters who have been caught by deputy game wardens shooting ducks before sunrise that their watches were wrong will not be considered officials said. The Harbor Beach lighthouse marine signal goes out one minute before sunrise and game wardens in the vicinity of Harbor Beach say hunters seeking ducks will have to watch that light if they suspect their timepieces are incorrect. Hunters that were arrested had their guns confiscated.

Adrian—A campaign has been started here for the paving of the Carleton highway from Adrian through Hudson and Hillsdale to Jonesville where it joins U. S. 112. This road of stone construction with gravel surface has failed under the heavy traffic it recently has carried, according to John L. Richard, Lenawee County highway engineer, and Perry L. Vanvalgenburg, county supervisor. Last spring the bottom dropped out at many points under the weight of heavily loaded trucks which finally were barred.

Lansing—Receipts showing the amount of money received will be issued for 1928 automobile licenses, according to Sidney A. Shulte, deputy secretary of state. The sale of licenses begins Dec. 1. Receipts showing the amount paid never have been issued, Mr. Shulte said. Numerous complaints have been made by auto owners who had license brokers get their licenses and later charged more money was collected from them than the weight of car demanded. "It will be easier under the new plan to detect fraud," Mr. Shulte said.

Lansing—A bullet which lodged in her brain 11 years ago, was the cause of the death here, of Mrs. Erma Lake, 26 years old. Suffering a coughing spell, the woman, it is said, freed the missile which jarred against a vital spot of the brain and led to her death. When Mrs. Lake was 15 years of age, she was cleaning her father's revolver when it exploded. The bullet entered her head, severed an optic nerve and caused total blindness. Surgeons feared that an operation might prove fatal and the shot was left undisturbed.

The Sandman Story

THE HAPPY BEAVERS

"I AM GOING to marry a bullder," said Miss Betty Beaver. "And a fine bullder he is, too," she added. "He has asked me to be his mate, and I have consented! He gave me a handsome twig for an engagement present. Oh, it was delicious." "I ate it at once. We so love to eat twigs and bits of bark," Miss Beaver continued. "All Beavers do, but my Mr. Beaver picked out such a nice one on his engagement day. "We shall be married this very day and together we shall make our home. "Of course," Miss Betty Beaver added, and the other Beavers listened.

Her Mr. Beaver Was One of the Best Beaver Builders.

"Beavers are all famous for being fine builders, but I think my Mr. Beaver stands at the head of his trade. "Yes, I do not think any Beaver is so fine a bullder." "Not so very polite to us," said the other Beavers, "but still Miss Betty Beaver is in love and she naturally thinks her Mr. Beaver is the best of all in every way. "It would be very strange if she didn't think so, very strange indeed. "And the nice part is that she will always think so, for Beavers do not change their minds.

"And they are devoted to their mates throughout their lives. "Then, too, her Mr. Beaver is a fine Mr. Beaver and one of the best of Beaver builders." They talked almost as though Miss Betty Beaver could not hear what they were saying, but of course she heard, and she, too, was pleased that others thought as she did.

"Mr. Beaver has started our home," said Miss Betty Beaver after a few moments. "He is going to have it so that floods will not overtake our dwelling and so people will not see it and come and disturb us. "He says he doesn't like to be disturbed and I quite agree with him. "We all agree to that," said the other Beavers. "We don't like to be disturbed by people. "They're so apt to be rude and hunt us. Yes, they're apt to be very rude and try to get us in their horrible traps. "So your Mr. Beaver is very wise."

Then Miss Betty Beaver saw Mr. Beaver coming to get her, and they went off together while the other Beavers wished them well and said they hoped to see them soon again.

So Miss Betty Beaver became Mrs. Beaver, and they built one of the finest homes ever had in Beaver Meadow, where these Beavers lived.

All the other Beavers admired it and said it was one of the most perfectly built homes they had ever seen.

"It was Mr. Beaver's splendid work," said his mate. "He just comes by building naturally." "But it was Mrs. Beaver," her mate added, "who gave it the lovely touch of home. She has done that."

Beaver building, Beaver building, Beaver building is fine; Of clever brains and skilful ways is this a certain sign; But the best of homes we've ever seen or rather, almost ever, is this home of the Beaver pair whose love will never sever.

This was what the Beavers recited for Mr. and Mrs. Beaver, and then one of them added before leaving: "When we said your love will never sever we meant that it would never be parted from you, and that we know you would keep your love for each other and wouldn't let it run away! "We might have chosen another word, but never did so beautifully for the rhyme!"

And Mr. and Mrs. Beaver laughed happily as they said good-by to their guests.

How It Started

By JEAN NEWTON

"STEREOTYPED"

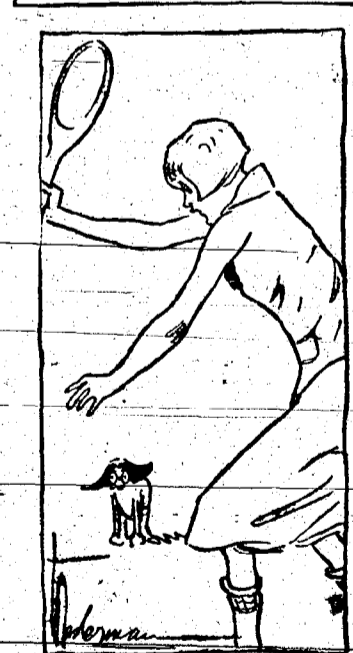

"OH, THE same old thing again—styles are getting so 'stereotyped'!"—a remark overheard on a street car, where two women were discussing the season's fashions. It is becoming quite common in every-day speech to use the word "stereotyped" as a synonym for the conventional, the "cut and dried," and the term is accepted in quite good usage, though the dictionary does not sanction this significance.

The term comes to us from the parlance of the printing-room. Before "copy," as material to be printed is called, can be turned out the type has to be "set" or composed—that is, the letters must be assembled into words and the words into the sentences and paragraphs, as they are to be "run off." This composing is the most expensive element of the procedure because it takes so much time. Therefore, when it is known that certain material is subsequently to be run off several times, that future editions will be required, the pages are "stereotyped," a process by which the composed or set type is cast into one piece. In this way it can be kept and re-used and the time and labor of re-setting are saved.

When we stop to consider that a page that is stereotyped admits of not the slightest change, but remains always the same, it is easily comprehensible how the term came to be used with its popular significance in common speech.

Lipsticks Make Trouble

Managers of Atlantic City hotels say that their maintenance costs have increased enormously because women use so much lipstick and other cosmetics. The women, according to the managers, not only use napkins, bath and face towels to wipe off the lipstick, but also employ tablecloths on occasion. And the lipstick is so strong that bleaching agents are necessary to restore the goods to their pristine whiteness.

THE WHY of SUPERSTITIONS

By H. IRVING KING

THROWING THE SHOE

THE custom of throwing an old shoe after a bridal couple is regarded by most authorities as the survival of a very ancient custom connected with the transfer of property. Among the peoples where the custom is first found existing women were regarded as a species of property and in some ancient civilizations, that of the Jews especially, the removal and giving of the shoe or sandal confirmed an exchange or sale; a custom asserted to have been derived from the Egyptians or some other peoples with whom the Jews were brought in contact.

A superstition with regard to the worn shoe was very widespread and existed even among the barbarous races. Some have even tried to ascribe it to the time when the bridegroom carried off the bride by force and the bride's family threw things after him as he decamped. In old Saxon marriages the bride's father handed the bridegroom the bride's shoe and he touched her with it on the forehead in token of authority. The idea of luck which attaches to the throwing of the shoe would indicate that originally it had to do with some religious rite—the propitiation of some god or goddess.

WHEN I WAS TWENTY-ONE

BY JOSEPH KAYE

At 211 Ople Road Began a Journalistic Career.

AT TWENTY-ONE I began work as a journalist on a newspaper in Franklin, Kentucky. I had just been spanned by a shady-nook college-over whose portals was chiseled the name 'Neophogen.' It was a learned institution and so worshiped the extreme of antiquity that it died under an operation of Neoplatonism.

A professor had told me that the one thing in which American Journalism stood in need of was dignity of learned expression. He did not object to news; perhaps news was essential, viewed narrowly; but in even a news item there should be the dignity of scholarship. "A classic grace, if you understand me," said the professor. "And you have essayed, or rather I should say that you shall, by predilection essay, to write as a profession. I have heard you express appreciation of the quick gesture of literature but I do not believe that you are yet ripe enough in scholarship to estimate properly the statutes of permanent thought. But go forth and conquer!"

So off I trudged, searching for the sensitive nerves of the journalistic world, having been told that this was the way to find the ultimate muscle of literature.—Ople Read.

TODAY: Ople Read is one of America's most beloved writers, although perhaps better known to an earlier generation. He is the author of such favorites as "A Kentucky Colonel," "Len Gansett," "A Tennessee Judge," "An Arkansas Planter" and "The Carpetbagger," etc.

Mother Duck Drowns Hawk

Londoners visiting at West Lock, in Argylshire, England, saw a mother duck drown a sea hawk which swooped down upon her little brood. The hawk gilded down for the sixth time after killing five baby ducklings. The frenzied mother gathered the two remaining ducklings under her wings and awaited the antagonist. With a sudden dart the duck caught the hawk by the neck and kept its head submerged until it suffocated. Then the duck and young paddled away, leaving the floating carcass of the killer on the pond.

ITCHING ECZEMA DRIED RIGHT UP BY THIS SULPHUR

Any breaking out of the skin, even fiery, itching eczema, can be quickly overcome by applying a little Mentho-Sulphur, says a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, this sulphur preparation instantly brings ease from skin irritation, soothes and heals the eczema right up and leaves the skin clear and smooth. It seldom fails to relieve the torment and disfigurement. Sufferers from skin trouble should get a little jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur from any good druggist.

BEING "TOO TIRED" DOESN'T PAY.

A healthy person never feels constantly tired. Being "too tired" continually is a sign of something wrong. Watch the kidneys. A very able physician said, "When they are affected, life is in danger." If elimination is too frequent, or too scanty and burning, take FOLEY PILLS diuretic. W. K. Holland, Harlingen, Texas, says: "I bet that 90 per cent of sufferers from kidney irregularities never take anything until it is too late, whereas FOLEY PILLS diuretic would be a God-send to them.
