Fine Talk To Farmers

MR. BERKHARDT GIVES BEST
TALK HEARD LOCALLY.

Mr. Berkhardt of Traverse City, whose farms are near Old Mission, gave the best talk the farmers of this locality perhaps have ever heard. It is difficult to imagine a crowd of farmers hearing a better, practical talk than that given by Mr. Berkhardt at the Business Men's Club last Wednesday evening. It was the first of a series of farm meetings. This one for the cherry growers of the region. Next Wednesday night the farmers will listen to Cliff Bennett and others on raising certified seed potatoes, followed by a meeting of the dairy farmers.

Without question these are valuable meetings to the farmers of this section. Any farmer who doubts this I am sure could ask any of the 37 cherry growers that attended the meeting Wednesday night.

Mr. Berkhardt of the "Cherry Home Farms and Canning Plant" near Old Mission on the Traverse peninsula gave a cherry talk that was based on successful and practical experience, nothing was left to theory. Everything he said has been proved. Any man who can raise two hundred tons of number one cherries in one season should know what he is talking about on the subject of cherries. Any cherry man will grant that Berkhardt knows his stuff and in this case it happens to be cherries. He grows cherries, cans cherries, sells cherries and lives cherries, and I guess that is the way to handle cherries.

Mr. Berkhardt's subject was "Where to Grow, How to Grow, and When to Grow Cherries." He certainly literally told us just this. Sorrow was expressed by the business men that a stenographer was not present to take down the speech verbatim. We will do the best we can to hint some of the things Mr. Berkhardt said.

"Among other things, possibly by the help of experts, select your farm. Try to have an easy slope toward the lake. Not more than two or three miles from a body of water. Find out from those who know, County Agent, Michigan State College men, or some practical grower from the Grand Traverse Cherry region, whether or not you have the necessary air drainage. You do not need heavy soil but good soil, sandy loam and even this sometimes needs building up." By the way Berkhardt indicated there is just as good chance to raise cherries at East Jordan and vicinity and in fact he said we have better land than they have in Traverse City and that there was no reason whatever that East Jordan should not become one of the famous cherry sections. "Your trees should be planted on the east, west, or north slopes. After the land has been THOROUGHLY cultivated, plant your trees at least twenty feet apart one way and twenty-four the other, for the reason that later you will want to run a truck or wagon through to get your fruit as well as the sprayer, and it also helps the air drainage. You have to know about the kind of roots to plant for this particular region; that is the roots of the tree. As soon as the trees start to mature, start to spray. When it comes to the time they are bearing the rule is to spray until the blossoms appear at least two or three times and after the blossoms drop off, if you do not know any other rule for spraying the best one is to keep right on spraying, almost to the time that you pick the cherries. Of course most of the farmers know about the cover crop."

He said that some people keep the weeds out entirely but he considered a pig weed or other well known weeds to make a very good protection for the cherries during the hotter part of the summer. He does not advise spraying at all after the cherries are picked. Let the trees alone from that period on. There were many other interesting suggestions made and we are only sorry we are not able to recall more of them. We also hope that we have not mis-stated anything in this article. We do not believe we have unless it is the statement about the early part of the spraying. Most farmers that know anything about spraying know when to spray if they only do enough of it according to Mr. Berkhardt.

The farmers received information that they could not have received in any other way and they did appear very enthusiastic over Mr. Berkhardt's talk. Prominent cherry growers were present, among others were Mr. Abbotts of Boyne City and Prof. L. R. Taft of Eveline Orchards. There were also one or two large nursery men at the meeting. Mr. Berkhardt is an enthusiast and that not without reason, for this region. He also shows his enthusiasm in another way by bringing his son along with him to the meeting. And he came for nothing else but to preach the gospel of Northern Michigan's greatest crop—cherries. Coming entirely at his own expense and considering it a pleasure even at that. East Jordan

Business Men and Farmers are very grateful they were able to hear Mr. Berkhardt's talk and hope he will accept their appreciation.

Over 500 In Attendance

AT MICHIGAN COUNCIL OF RELIGIOUS EDUCATION.

The Michigan Council of Religious Education is holding its 68th annual Convention in two regional groups this fall. One section is in session this week at Adrian. The other was held last week in the neighboring city of Petoskey and was largely attended by people in this part of the State. Thirty counties were represented. 541 persons registered, nearly one hundred of whom were from Charlevoix County.

Eighteen denominations co-operate through this interdenominational organization to extend and deepen the interests and activities of Sunday School and other religious education efforts in Michigan. The challenge and goal briefly stated is "Instruction and training in religion and morals for every child, youth and adult in Michigan."

The report of the Business Superintendent of the Council showed the following accomplishments during the past year:

Institutes for 3,500 teachers of little children.
Many leaders of young people have been gathered in county councils.
2,500 young people themselves have come into conferences.
12,000 copies of the Michigan S. S. Advance distributed.
Numerous county picnics and rallies.

Tens of thousands of pieces of literature distributed.
3,000 county and district officers have been at work.

1,000 personal interviews with county workers.
Thousands of books loaned by State library.

3,500 have taken ten hours class room work in our Training Schools.
Hundreds of S. S. workers in State Convention.

8,500 attended county conventions. In spite of the fine work done, the State Council is financially embarrassed and will have to retrench because counties and individuals for economic reasons are unable to meet the demands. The statement was made that all the money raised by the counties for State S. S. work doesn't amount to as much as it costs to transport criminals to State Institutions.

It was a great Convention, helpful and inspiring. Miss Ione Catton formerly of Charlevoix, who is now State Children's Division Superintendent had her department headquarters at the Baptist Church, with an exhibit of handwork on display. She met the County Children's Division Superintendents at a banquet and conference on Thursday evening and Friday forenoon all children's workers met with her in a group session. At the same time sessions were conducted elsewhere for other groups of workers.

Prof. M. A. Honline of Pasadena, Calif., delivered three outstanding lectures during the Convention, using the topics "The Bible in an Age of Science," "Religion and the Younger Generation," "Christianity and Modern Thought." The speaker asserted, "God has made two revelations to man, one scientific, the other religious. One through nature, the other through a Book. These revelations have been progressive. The Bible was written to teach religion, not for instruction in science. We have no right to go to the Bible for instruction in science. We should go to nature. Don't travel a road so narrow you can't turn around if you find you are wrong. Nature makes us religious. Nature makes us denominational. Man's lower nature says "Go the limit." His higher nature says "Thou shalt not." Between these two extremes lies the whole field of religious education. This is largely a problem of self control. What will it profit us if we gain the whole world and lose our boys and girls? They are our greatest asset."

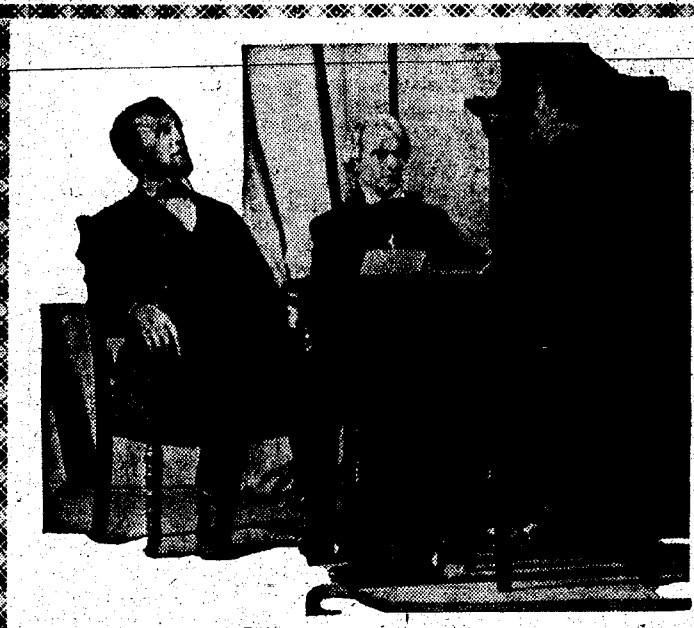

TO THE VOTERS OF CHARLEVOIX COUNTY

We appeal to every Republican Voter in Charlevoix County to get out and vote on Election Day—Nov. 6th. We urge you not to relax your effort until after the poles have been closed. Charlevoix County contribution to the State of Michigan Hoover-Green victory will be great if we poll a full vote.

"ABRAHAM LINCOLN"

This great play will be presented at the High School Auditorium, Thursday, Nov. 8th, at 7:30 p. m. standard time, by a cast of twelve New York actors chosen especially for their ability to fit into the historical characters they portray. This is without question one of the most notable dramatic productions ever offered by the Redpath Bureau during its entire history of nearly sixty years.

Auspices of East Jordan Lyceum Course. Single admission, $1.50, no charge for reservation. This drama has not been played north of Grand Rapids. This is not a screen picture. Get your seats reserved now at Gidley's drug store.

MRS. WALTERHOUSE PASSES AWAY

Mrs. Amelia Walterhouse passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. E. N. Clink, Friday, Oct. 26th, following an illness of some duration from paralysis.

Amelia Atwood was born near Howell, Michigan, August 7th, 1840, her parents being David and Esther Atwood. In 1857 she was united in marriage to Daniel L. Copeland at Vassar. He died at Dexter in 1865. In 1867 she married A. D. Walterhouse at Millington, who died at East Jordan July 1st, 1901. For the past 27 years she has made her home with her daughter, Mrs. Clink of this city.

Deceased is survived by three daughters, viz.—Mrs. E. N. Clink of East Jordan; Mrs. J. D. Storms of Chicago and Mrs. John Bolton of Saint Lambert, Quebec. Also by a sister, Mrs. Lucia Dutcher of Oshkosh, Wis.

Mrs. Walterhouse was a charter member of the Women's Relief Corps and a member of the Millington Rebekah Lodge. During her many years residence in East Jordan she was esteemed and loved by all who knew her.

Funeral services were held from her late home Monday, Oct. 29th, conducted by Rev. C. W. Sidebotham, pastor of the Presbyterian Church of this city. Interment at Sunset Hill.

PROHIBITION

It is easy to prove that any institution is a failure.

Take any human effort—government, for instance. It is of easy proof to show the failure, the injustice, the shortcomings of State and Nation. Look at the church. Much of its history is a record of tolerance, oppression, failure. The educational system has its weaknesses. They are apparent. The home fails in vital respects.

But in passing judgment upon anything, we dwell not alone on failures. We compare the good and the evil. We see not only the shortcomings of the church, but its wonderful goodness. We compare our imperfect government with the state of anarchy that would prevail without it. If we are reasonable we see the greatness of education institutions. The home should be seen, not in its failures but in its happiness, its sanctity, its permanence. In all cases we balance the weak against the strong, failure against success.

It is easy to point out the failure of prohibition. We see the present violations of law, the corruption in government, the failure to enforce. We know that there are places where the law is violated. We know of individuals who violate the laws. We hear discussions, evidence of undesirable things. From all of this we conclude hastily that prohibition is a failure.

But unless we are blind or prejudiced, we do not stop with merely recounting the evils. We record the good. We see drunkenness declining. We find prosperous people among those who formerly spent most of what they had for drink. We balance the present lawlessness against that which always accompanied the saloon. We find in our homes and schools the finest, cleanest generation of young people which America has produced. We find an efficient industry, and despite all corruption a government which is more honorable and more efficient than any which history has recorded. We are living in a time of wonderful industrial, social, educational, national progress. On the whole prohibition has been a success.

To come to such a conclusion should not blind us to a view that problems exist. There are those who would break down the Eighteenth Amendment and the Volstead act. They would break it down by misrepresentation, by derision, by violation. Most of those who would do so are those who objected to the law when it was passed. Most of those who object to it are those who violate it—and save their consciences by claiming that the law is wrong.

The prohibition amendment was approved by 92 out of the 96 legislative bodies to which it was submitted. It represented at the time of passage and it represents today the opinion of the vast majority of the American people.

Today we face an issue. One candidate for the presidency of the United States, Alfred E. Smith, is opposed to the prohibition laws. It is never denied that he personally violates them. To claim that Mr. Smith used liquor only in moderation is no defense. Mr. Smith represents an element, in his own State, which always opposed the progress of prohibition and still opposes it. Those who oppose these laws throughout the nation will rally to the Smith cause. The election of Mr. Smith would lend confidence, courage, to all those who would break down a fundamental law of the land.

Opposed to this is the platform of the republican party, the personal record and declaration of a wonderful man—Herbert Hoover.

Some people expect too much of the prohibition laws. They have thought that the mere passage of a law would transform the customs and blot out the habits of generations. Such expectations were unreasonable. We are making splendid progress. It is no time to falter. A generation is required to adopt the nation to new ideals and new conditions. Crime and lawlessness never endure. Conditions will improve, either through a slow, gradual process or through a sudden awakening of the nation to its problems.

Prohibition, by and large, is a success. With co-operation—support, much of what we now condemn may be removed. Stand by it. See it through.—Grand Rapids (Minn.) Herald Review.

INTERNATIONAL STOCK SHOW DEC. 1ST TO 8TH

Thanksgiving will see the Horn of Plenty tipped decidedly in the direction of Chicago, when the International Live Stock Exposition opens its doors on the first Saturday following Thanksgiving. Dec. 1 to 8 are the dates of the exposition.

At no other time of the year and at no other place is there to be seen so complete a collection of the very choicest products of American farm homes, fields, and feed-lots. Breeders and feeders of fat cattle have sent in their entries from the far-away west coast, according to Manager B. H. Heide, while others, he says, are being received from the tide-water country of the Atlantic.

The northern border States, as well as the southern, and that great live stock area, the Corn Belt, will each and all be represented in this final and crowning event of the live stock and agricultural show season.

Grain and hay from the Corn Belt will vie for the attention of the public along with crop samples from far-away Australia and New South Wales. Over 5,000 samples of 22 different varieties of grains and hays are expected to be received in the coming International Grain and Hay Show, declares Mr. Heide.

In the brilliant evening horse show, which will be the close and climax of each day's program, the very best specimens of the country's foremost stables will strive for recognition in this national competition. Farm youth has its day at the International. The National Boys' and Girls' Club Congress, held within the gates of the show, will be attended by some 1500 boys and girls from almost every State in the Union.

Educational displays, judging and auctions of about 2500 of the finest quality steers fed during the past year, five great auctions of breeding cattle, the familiar and widely attended "Meat Shoppe" (given from a new angle this year), a Wool Show, to be held for the first time in the history of the exposition, will all compete for the attention of the visitor and tax the skill of the exhibitor.

Railroads entering Chicago have indicated that they will offer special reduced round-trip rates from points along their lines to Chicago, during International week.

E. J. Loses To Gaylord

E. J. HANDICAPPED BY LOSS OF BLOSSIE AND BAKER.

As surmised beforehand East Jordan had her hands full on the grid iron Friday. Although Gaylord has lost a number of games, every team has had its trouble defeating them. In fact local fans think that perhaps Gaylord carries one of the most dangerous football kicks in northern Michigan—barring none. They are perhaps the heaviest team in northern Michigan as well as active. The locals lost their full back and kicker, Blossie and Howard Baker at center which proved to be a real loss. However we do not intend to take anything from Gaylord's victory. They deserved to win. They played better all around football than East Jordan and perhaps were in a little better shape to do so. Nevertheless the locals put up an exceptionally scrappy game against this strong team.

The game opened with East Jordan kicking. Gaylord carried the ball 60 yards down the field before they were stopped on the 9 yard line. Miller and Meyers alternating in carrying the pig-skin. Either of these men are had to stop. They tore East Jordan's line to pieces in the first half. East Jordan took the ball on downs and carried it some 40 yards down the field. Gaylord carried it back another 40; failing to score again within Jordan's 20 yard line. At this time Francis Quinn got off a beautiful punt for 50 yards on the clear, rolling another 10. We were confident the Gaylord man touched the ball but the referee handling the game without an umpire did not see it. This cost East Jordan about 80 yards and a possible touchdown. The ball saw-sawed pretty much in the middle of the field until the second half.

East Jordan received but was soon held for downs. Gaylord got the ball and started a march for the goal that could not be denied. Finally carrying it over for a touchdown. These same men for Gaylord toting the ball most of the distance. East Jordan did not quit here. Quinn, Pray and Muma did some exceptional fine line bucking and end running against the heavy Gaylord line. Quinn getting away for 20 yards one time. Dennis for a 30 yard pass. Shepard received another for 20 yards. Two or three other passes were lost only because the receiver dropped the ball when it was practically in his hands. However, East Jordan could not put it over the final chalk mark and the game ended with the ball on East Jordan's 20 yard line. Although

Relative To U. S. Senator

ELECTORS SHOULD CHOOSE
SAME MAN FOR BOTH TERMS.

Grand Rapids, Michigan,
October 25, 1928
Editor, Charlevoix County Herald,
East Jordan, Michigan.

Dear Sir:—
I am taking the liberty of suggesting to you that there is a specific point, in connection with the November ballot in Michigan, at which the Michigan electorate needs enlightenment in the interest of a wholly intelligent poll.

In the September Primaries there was a 20 per cent smaller vote cast, in both Parties, for the Short Term United States Senator than for the Long Term United States Senator. This proves a lack of popular understanding as to why TWO votes must be cast in connection with the Senatorship. Many voters do not understand that your appointment under the law ran only until an election could be held, that at the election, November 6, a Senator must be named to fill the balance of the Senator Ferris' term running from December to March (The Short Term) while the "Long Term" is the regular six year term beginning March 4.

It is vital to consecutive public service that the SAME SENATOR should be elected to BOTH places. In other words, it seems necessary to emphasize the fact that the voter should vote for the SAME CANDIDATE for BOTH places—(regardless of whether his choice be me or my distinguished opponent.) Otherwise, in the event of a close election, the default in 20 per cent of the ballots might produce two different Senators for the Short and Long Terms.

I do not need to point out to you that this would impair the usefulness to Michigan of whomsoever shall be chosen for the Long Term, because it would rob him (and therefore his State) of the seniority advantage to be gained during the brief months of the Short Term. This seniority advantage is of paramount importance in the Senate. For example, the brief turn which I already have served in the Senate puts me ahead of all other new Senators who may qualify at the December session; and this advantage wholly governs Committee places and precedence. By the same token Michigan's Short Term Senator in December will gain kindred advantage for his State over all other new Senators who qualify next March.

For the sake of its own influence in Washington, Michigan should elect the SAME SENATOR—whichever he may be—for both the Short Term and the Long Term. Because this situation is of such importance to the STATE itself, I take the very great liberty of expressing the hope that you will find it advisable to emphasize this situation editorially to your constituency.

Cordially and Faithfully Yours,
A. H. VANDENBERG.

East Jordan lost, the boys are to be congratulated on the kind of game they played. Shepard and Dennis played steller defensive games as did Quinn, Pray, Muma, Hipp and Severance. For Gaylord Meyers and Miller in the back field starred. On the defensive, Captain Scuer at end played an exceptional game as did Marquart at tackle.

NEWAYGO COUNTY TO FEEL LOSS OF REV. JAMES LEITCH

Fremont, Oct. 24.—With the appointment of Rev. James Leitch, formerly of Newaygo, to the Methodist Episcopal Church at East Jordan, Newaygo County has lost a minister who added much to the life of the community. Coming to Newaygo 6 years ago, he led a remarkable up-building of his church. When he arrived on the field both the church and the parsonage were inadequate to serve their purpose. First he led a campaign for rebuilding of the church which was completed in a short time, with the full amount of the project subscribed. Considerable of the cost of rebuilding was borne by people outside the church. Following the completion of the church, the parsonage also was rebuilt.

Soon after coming to Newaygo he re-organized the Newaygo Portland Cement Co., and was its leader. Through his leadership the band won several State contests. He also was instrumental in starting the band contest that is held at Newaygo each Labor Day.

Last February he was offered the position of Chaplain at the Michigan State Reformatory at Ionia, but he was unable to accept the offer. Before coming to Michigan he was chaplain of the Idaho State penitentiary.—Grand Rapids Daily Press.

WOMEN RALLYING TO STANDARD OF HERBERT HOOVER

"Through the length and breadth of Michigan, women are rallying to the standard of Herbert Hoover," says Mrs. Craig C. Miller, organizing chairman for the State of the Woman's Hoover Committee. "Not only in cities but in small towns and rural districts are women volunteering to work for Hoover's cause, and taking an active part in rousing their sisters to the importance of this election to the future of this nation."

"Women do not wish the United States again to give the sanction of law to the gratification of a purely sensuous desire which leads to misery, disease, poverty and crime. They recognize that prohibition means protection to the American home, the American woman, the American child and they rally to the leader who fearlessly holds aloft this banner—a man who 'wishes prohibition to succeed.'"

The home makers of Michigan heed well the call of one of the best known and best loved women of Michigan, Mrs. Dorian Russell of Grand Rapids who thus addresses them, "I do not know whether you are a Republican or a Democrat; it makes little difference for it is expected that the home makers of the country generally will support Herbert Hoover who has demonstrated his confidence in woman as an important factor in nation and world wide citizenship. I am urging that you stand by Mr. Hoover as he stood by us during the war. Herbert Hoover will not be an experiment, his experience has been such that his vision will be measured by facts as well as dreams."

RELIEF FROM CURSE OF CONSTIPATION

A Battle Creek physician says, "Constipation is responsible for more misery than any other cause."
But immediate relief has been found. A tablet called Rexall Orderlies attracts water from the system into the lazy, dry, evacuating bowel called the colon. The water loosens, the dry food waste and causes a gentle, thorough movement without forming a habit or ever increasing the dose.

Stop suffering from constipation. Chew a Rexall Orderlie at night. Next day bright. Get 24 for 25c today at the nearest Rexall Drug Store. GIDLEY & MAC, Druggists, adv.

PROBATE ORDER

STATE OF MICHIGAN, The Probate Court for the County of Charlevoix.

At a session of said Court, held at the Probate Office in the City of Charlevoix, in said County, on the 12th day of October A. D. 1926.

Present: Servetus A. Correll, Probate Judge.
In the Matter of the Estate of Charles Ericks, Deceased.

The above estate having been admitted to probate and Ada Gilmartin appointed executrix thereof.

It is ordered that four months from this date be allowed for creditors to present their claims against said estate, and that such claims will be heard by said court on Monday, the 18th day of February A. D. 1927, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, at the Probate office in the city of Charlevoix.

It is Further Ordered, That public notice thereof be given by publication of a copy of this order, for three successive weeks previous to said day of hearing, in the Charlevoix County Herald, a newspaper printed and circulated in said county.

SERVETUS A. CORRELL,
Judge of Probate.

HOW U. S. BROKE ALIEN MONOPOLY

Hoover Saved American Consumers Many Millions by Peaceful Resistance.

HE CUT COFFEE BILL Reduced Crude Rubber Cost to Country by More Than 600 Million Dollars.

WASHINGTON.—How Herbert Hoover as Secretary of Commerce waged a fight on foreign monopolies which had been controlling raw materials essential to industry, agriculture and homes of the United States is described in a pamphlet just issued by the Republican National Committee.

This struggle was one which affected every home, for the foreign monopolies not only levied a tax on certain products used in the home but also on other important articles of commerce. If it had been lost, it would have seriously menaced many branches of business, which made extensive use of these raw materials, thus affecting consumers.

Saved America Millions
The victory which Mr. Hoover achieved by peaceful means resulted in savings of hundreds of millions of dollars to the American consumer, the pamphlet points out.

"Governmentally-controlled foreign combinations had been set up in a number of raw materials which, because of our inability to produce, we must depend upon purchased abroad," says the pamphlet. "Among them are rubber, coffee, nitrates, potash, sisal, camphor, iodine, mercury and long-staple cotton. These combinations fixed both production and prices."

Mr. Hoover's campaign was waged by showing business how to handle the problem largely by itself. He asked Congress for funds to investigate the foreign control, and also obtained authorization to use scientists from other Government departments. Laboratories made studies of reclamation and development of substitutes while scientists sought new sources of these materials, it is shown. Other investigators gathered full data on availability of other territory to produce these essentials.

Government officials, Mr. Hoover and others, told the interested industries of their findings, and at the same time, without any clash with any foreign government or agency, let the nations of the world know how the United States was prepared to meet this monopolization policy.

Some of the results of these efforts, as cited by the pamphlet, are:

Broke Rubber Monopoly
Saved American rubber consumers upwards of $500,000,000 by action breaking the British control of rubber production and prices. This control is being abandoned and new sources of rubber development promise to hold the prices down.

Saved the American people about $100,000,000 in its bill for coffee through shifting purchases from Brazil to other sources to a sufficient degree to effect the decline.

Urged the growing of long-staple cotton in the United States to break the control exercised in Egypt over acreage and supplies.

Encouraged exploration for native beds of potash and aided in promoting the fixation of free nitrogen of the air to help relieve the American farmers from the levy imposed by Chile and the Franco-German potash trust.

By demonstrating to the other nations that the United States determined not to tolerate foreign control, and by the example afforded in the case of rubber, the signal has been given for abandonment of others of the more deleterious controls.

Mr. Hoover, the pamphlet points out, has consistently clung to the position "that economic progress must depend upon the driving force of competition." He has reiterated that:

"The problem should be met on the ground of what in the long run will produce good will and prosperity to the entire world, for no single nation can dissociate its prosperity from the prosperity and good will of all of them. . . ."

And his method has sought to bring this about, rather than to develop trade wars, in which there lie the seeds of international friction and a menace to friendly relations.

Hoover in Hearts of People

"In my opinion, Mr. Hoover stands in the hearts of the American people equal to any man in the United States. I am sure that there is no member of the Senate who, if he ran for President against Hoover, would be able to poll as many votes as he would poll."—Senator Hitchcock, Democrat, of Nebraska, in 1919.

Community Building

Home Site Situation of Prime Importance

In considering a site for your own home it is quite necessary that your home lot be at least 40 feet wide. A lot narrower than this does not permit a proper distance between buildings, and cuts off the necessary amount of air and light.

A reasonable space is also necessary in order to guard against spread of fire from one building to another. A lot that is too narrow necessitates a certain type of house—one that is long and narrow, and this is not usually the most attractive style. On the other hand, a lot that is too wide is a source of unnecessary labor and expense. There will be more terrace or curb lawn to care for and a longer expanse of sidewalk to build and keep clean. The assessment for street improvements is also estimated from the number of feet frontage.

A lot should not be selected that is too shallow for a few outbuildings, a clothes yard and a small space for vegetables or flowers. The buyer of a lot should always bear in mind the possibility of some day selling, and should select a site which will appear attractive to others. If possible, choose a lot with some shade trees on it. If there be none, set some out at once, but do not make the mistake of buying quick-growing trees, which will afterward prove a nuisance.

Be careful to select a lot on the most favorable side of the street. No matter whether the morning or the afternoon sun will shine into the rooms where you most desire it, or vice versa. Will your front porch be cool in the afternoon? Will your sleeping rooms have a good sweep of air?

Beauty and Coloring in Brick Treatment

For those who desire to brighten the landscape in the building of their homes there are the certain effects to be obtained by either painting or whitewashing the common brick walls. Here, too, economy can be indulged, for any well-burned, run-of-the-mill brick will give as good results as the highest priced. If a stucco effect is desired it may be had, or the sharp contrast of white against the green of the background.

Linker bricks, English architecture with timbered treatments and stuccoed gables, stone trim with inset irregular boulders to intensify the mass, variety, all are emphasized in these later-day eastern Pennsylvania homes of common brick which are adding so much to the beauty, the permanence, the fire safety and the real value of their communities. And both home owners and architects are coming to appreciate all this.—Building Economy.

Work to Preserve Beauty

An organized movement toward preserving the scenic beauty of Delaware county Pennsylvania, has been launched through the co-operation of the Chester (Pa.) Real Estate board and business and civic organizations of the county.

The Delaware County Parks and Boulevards association, a citizens organization, has been incorporated to make possible the acquirement by the county of waste land along the scenic creeks and to conserve such land in its natural state.

Because of the rapid increase in values of the land every year of delay in starting such a scheme has cost the county $1,000,000. It has been estimated that stream valley land, which sold for $700 an acre only a few years ago, has been discovered to have development advantages and is now bringing as high as $8,000 an acre, park engineers state.

Traffic in Large Cities

Several leading cities in the country are adopting the policy of separating the crosswise motor traffic from the main thoroughfare at busy intersections by elevating or depressing the crosswise thoroughfare. In some cases the grade separation is effected by raising the level of one street slightly and depressing the level of the other so that there is a minimum change of grade at either thoroughfare. Among the cities which have adopted such improvements are New York, Chicago, Detroit, Pittsburgh, St. Louis and San Francisco.

Trees Spell Town's Name

The villagers of Ilion, N. Y., in the historic Mohawk valley, are setting out 5,000 pine trees in groups so as to spell the word "Ilion." Each letter will be outlined by low white birches along the outer edge of dark evergreens. The foliage sign will occupy a 1,000-acre field on the peak of Oak Hill. Every letter will be ten yards wide to make this aircraft signboard visible from a great height.

Conduct Clean Up

Boy Scouts of Montezuma, Wash., recently volunteered their services to clean up rubbish along one of the principal highways of the town. At the highway runs the fence of the local baseball park Bill posters for the circus which recently showed nearby had fastened this fence with their posters. The scouts did another good turn in removing the stickers.

Less Poisoning by Liberal Feed

Overgrazing of Pastures Forced Animals to Eat Inferior Plants.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Conservative grazing, which assures an abundant supply of nutritious range forage, is an important factor in reducing losses of live stock from poisonous plants, says the forest service, United States Department of Agriculture.

Cause of Losses.
At a recent meeting of the Inter-mountain Live Stock Sanitary Association Prof. C. E. Fleming of the University of Nevada pointed out that a great many of the death losses from eating poisonous plants were the result of overgrazing and depletion of the better forage plants, which forced the live stock to eat plants of inferior value—including those that are poisonous—in sufficient quantity to prove fatal. Doctor Murray of Salt Lake City also stated that in his opinion many losses on the winter range were due to malnutrition as a result of live stock having to subsist mainly on inferior range plants and having an inadequate forage supply.

Reduce Losses.
In the drought region of southern Arizona it is extremely important, the forest service has found, to graze the range conservatively, since short rainfall may result in the production of a feed supply materially smaller than usual. It was found that by utilizing approximately 80 per cent of the growth of the important palatable plants in the average year and by reserving a part of the grama range, on which the vegetation cures well on the stalk and is excellent winter feed, losses could be reduced from the average for that region of about 10 per cent to about 2 to 3 per cent of the animals grazed. Not only is there a direct saving to the live-stock producer from fewer death losses, but the better condition of animals results in a greater production of young and better development with a more satisfactory price. Thus, profits have been made from cattle during the recent trying years where conservative grazing has been practiced, although net losses were shown by those outfits in the region which utilized their range forage too closely.

Get Seed Wheat Free of Objectionable Weeds

Many wheat growers in the Corn Belt, because of the extensive winter killing that occurred in this area last season, will be faced with the necessity this year of providing themselves with seed wheat. Seed may often be obtained from neighboring farmers, but it may sometimes be necessary, or it may appear advisable to bring in seed from greater distances. In any case, says the United States Department of Agriculture, the farmer should assure himself that the wheat seed he buys is free from weed seeds. Garlic, cockle, and cheat or chess are especially objectionable and unfortunately are widely prevalent in many wheat-growing areas. When once introduced on a farm they are difficult to eradicate, and grain containing such weed seeds is discounted on the market. A little care in preventing the introduction of noxious weeds in seed wheat may save a lot of trouble.

Highest Grade Alfalfa Is Marketed Profitably

A much greater quantity of high grade alfalfa could be produced and marketed profitably in the United States, the United States Department of Agriculture believes, if producers would study market demands and make their production and loading practices conform to the market requirements. Hay dealers in all the big alfalfa distributing markets receive each year thousands of orders for high-grade alfalfa hay which can not be filled because of an insufficient quantity of hay of this grade. The chief demand for haled alfalfa hay is from dairymen, and large numbers of them who now depend largely upon mill feeds as sources of protein would doubtless become buyers of alfalfa if supplies of a high-grade hay were available.

Agricultural Notes

The poultier who markets only plump, juicy broilers, and attractive, delicious roasters, commands the trade.

The safest procedure of all is to vaccinate all pigs at weaning time. In the long run that is cheap insurance.

Lambs that receive a good supply of milk and grow rapidly are apt to carry the highly prized "milk or baby fat" when they reach market weight.

Soy bean hay is considered a very good feed for horses; in fact, it is in a class with alfalfa and clover hay. If the beans are fairly well matured, horses which are merely being maintained need little other feed.

The term "permanent pasture" commonly includes all the land that is left in pasture year after year for a long time. If it is plowed up once in four or five years it can scarcely be included with the permanent pasture land.

THE modern automobile is a finely built piece of machinery and it will stand a lot of abuse. Considering the work it does, it gives surprisingly little trouble. But there isn't a car made that will not run better and longer if given proper care.

The first few hundred miles are especially important because that is when the mechanism of your car is being broken in.

Proper attention during this period will lengthen its life and prevent unnecessary trouble later on.

We are particularly interested in this matter because we believe it is our duty not only to make a good automobile, but to help the owner get the greatest possible use over the longest period of time at a minimum of trouble and expense.

With this in view, the entire Ford dealer organization has been specially trained and equipped to service the new Model A car.

Let's Keep This Advantage For Michigan

United States Senator A. H. Vandenberg
Senator Vandenberg is the Republican candidate to succeed himself. He has a powerful place in Washington which Michigan cannot afford to lose. Vice President Dawes says he knows no Senator "who has started so auspiciously or who gives such promise of statesmanship" as Vandenberg. He has important committee places which can be reached only by the "Seniority" which he now enjoys. He has demonstrated that he is a dependable friend to Agriculture and to Labor and to Industry. He is Michigan's prime reliance in the fight for the St. Lawrence Waterway which means so much to our state. He is a man of unchallenged moral character and ideals and honor and integrity. He is one of the leading Constitutional Authorities in the United States. Michigan cannot afford to lose this advantage. Think of your own welfare when you vote for U. S. Senator. If you do, you will unhesitatingly vote for Vandenberg. (You have to vote for him TWICE—Long and Short Terms—because one follows the other.)

NOTICE

Proposed Amendments to the Constitution

NOTICE is hereby given to the Qualified Electors that at the time and places of holding the next GENERAL ELECTION in each of the several voting precincts of the County on

Tuesday, Nov. 6 A. D. 1928

There will be submitted at said election, three proposed Amendments to the Constitution of Michigan as follows:

Relative to Fixing legislative territory and districts.
Amendment to Section 3 of Article V of the Constitution relative to fixing legislative territory and districts.

Section 3. The House of Representatives shall consist of not less than sixty-four nor more than one hundred members. Representatives shall be chosen for two years and by single districts, which shall contain as nearly as may be an equal number of inhabitants and shall consist of convenient and contiguous territory; but no township or city shall be divided in the formation of a representative district, except that when a city is composed of territory in more than one county, it may be divided at the county line or lines: And provided, That in the case of cities hereafter organized or created or territory annexed to an existing city, the territory thereof shall remain in its present representative district until the next apportionment. When any township or city shall contain a population which entitles it to more than one representative, then such township or city shall elect by general ticket the number of representatives to which it is entitled. Each county, with such territory as may be attached thereto, shall be entitled to a separate representative when it has attained a population equal to a moiety of the ratio of representation. In every county entitled to more than one representative, the board of supervisors shall assemble at such time and place as shall be prescribed by law, divide the same into representative districts equal to the number of representatives to which such county is entitled by law, and shall cause to be filed in the offices of the secretary of State and clerk of such county a description of such representative districts, specifying the number of each district and population thereof according to the last preceding enumeration.

Relative to Acquiring land and property for boulevards, streets and alleys.

Amendment to Article XIII of the Constitution relative to acquiring land and property for boulevards, streets and alleys.

Section 5. In exercising the powers of eminent domain and in taking the fee of land and property that is needed for the acquiring, opening and widening of boulevards, streets and alleys, municipalities shall not be limited to the acquisition of the land to be covered by the proposed improvement, but may take such other land and property adjacent to the proposed improvement as may be appropriate to secure the greatest degree of public advantage from such improvement. After so much of the land and property has been appropriated for any such needed public purpose, the remainder may be sold or leased with or without such restrictions as may be appropriate to the improvement made. Bonds may be issued to supply the funds to pay in whole or in part for the property so appropriated, but such bonds shall be a lien only on the property so acquired and they shall not be included in any limitation of the bonded indebtedness of such municipality.

Relative to Compensation of members of the legislature.

Amendment to Section 9 of Article V of the Constitution relative to compensation of members of the legislature.

Section 9. The compensation of the members of the legislature shall be three dollars per diem during the term for which they are elected, and they shall receive no further compensation than as specified in this section for service when the legislature is convened in extra session. Members shall be entitled to ten cents per mile and no more for one round trip to each regular and special session of the legislature by the usually traveled route. Each member shall be entitled to one copy of the laws, journals and documents of the legislature of which he is a member, but shall not receive, at the expense of the State, books, newspapers or perquisites of the office not expressly authorized by this constitution.

NOTICE is further hereby given that the place for voting upon the above Amendments to the Constitution in each of the several Wards and Precincts of the City will be the same as for the General November Election, and the hours for voting upon said Amendments will be the same as for voting upon all other matters at said election.

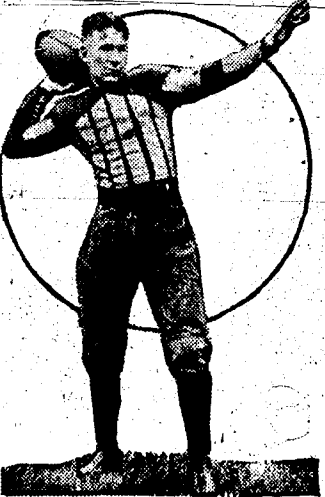

Dated October 8, A. D. 1928.

House Owner Profits by Regular Painting

Top often painting is of a trial and error process. It takes us once to learn how, and experience is, in this case, a costly teacher. Yet there are other equally effective ways of learning. Inform yourself of the facts before you plunge ahead. Incidentally, informing yourself of the facts will not mean delay and prolonged deliberation, but on the contrary, earlier painting than you had probably planned. For if you will investigate appraisal statistics you will find an amazing difference between the relative values of regularly painted and partially neglected houses. Paint prevents weathering of wood and corrosion of metal, and in doing so maintains property values. The economical time to repaint a frame house, under average weather conditions, is every three to five years.

Regular painting alone does not mean the best that can be had in economy. A good job is likewise a requisite. The first requisite for a good job is good paint. And the second is good workmanship.

Inferior paint covers less surface and for this reason alone equals or even exceeds the cost of good paint—that is, if you are considering cost per square foot rather than cost per gallon. Inferior paint will probably require renewal in two years or less whereas four years would otherwise have been the interval. When it is remembered that the cost of application is usually about three times the cost of the paint itself, the importance of this factor may be thoroughly appreciated. In addition to being of good quality, paint should be used only for the purpose for which it is intended—for exteriors, exterior paint only, and so on.

Home Ownership First Basis of Prosperity

Home ownership as the best road to the prosperity of the individual and the country was the keynote of a conference of representative retail lumber dealers from various sections of the United States, held recently at Chicago.

Organization of a council whose object will be to help home builders build better and more livable homes was the outcome of the gathering. The lumbermen met primarily to discuss many of their merchandising problems, but the home ownership theme was injected into the conference.

"The soundest thing in America today is absolute home ownership," said one speaker. "It is the keynote to the real prosperity of the individual. People should own a home before they own an automobile or a radio. A man who owns a home is a better citizen and a better influence for the community in which he lives."

Good Paint Pays

When painting your house, it pays to go a good job: one which will leave a foundation of sound paint for the next time the work has to be done.

It will pay you in dollars and cents when it comes time to paint your house again, for instance. The cost of painting materials after all is small compared to the cost of the painter's time. When that time has to be spent laboriously removing scaled and cracked paint before the repainting job can even be commenced, the expense is high.

Paint authorities have estimated that 82 per cent of the paint used is applied to old surfaces. Therefore, the importance of a good surface for repainting can be seen.

Architectural Expression

Communities built to look like "peas in a pod" have aroused the American Institute of Architects into developing a plan for a union of effort in the arts of designing. C. Herrick Hammond, president of the institute, announced.

The movement would bring about collaboration among architects, sculptors, mural painters, landscape designers and craftsmen in creating a new mode of architectural expression. Mr. Hammond said.

The institute's committee on allied art, headed by J. Monroe Hewlett of New York, will direct the movement.

Reforestation in Parks

Reforestation of tracts in Denver's municipal park system has been undertaken by 1,000 boys and girls. The American Tree association says. Activities under the direction of the forestry committee of the chamber of commerce include the planting of pine trees in the park of the Red Rocks near Morrison. The boys of the State industrial school near Golden set out trees on their campus. Manual Training high school set out groups of trees in Dix park.

Single Family Home Ideal

The family is the unit of society and the single-family home is the best setting for that unit. There it gets its best opportunity for development for light and air and sunshine and the companionship of growing things, all of which are desirable from the family viewpoint. A community built upon homes is solidly built, and will endure.

Homer—George Marsh, 97 years old, who went to California in the gold rush of 1849, is dead at his home here.

Saginaw—Nine thousand rural school children of Saginaw county are being immunized against diphtheria by toxin-antitoxin treatments.

Kalamazoo—Rover Buss, 77 years old, whose home is in Vicksburg, died in Bronson hospital, two days after the death of his wife, Anna Buss Mrs. Buss had been in the same hospital.

Kalamazoo—Four members of the John G. Bleeker family recently recovered from ptomaine poisoning, resulting from eating warmed-over meat. Bleeker was stricken at work. Reaching home, he found his wife and two children violently ill.

Battle Creek—Howard Sowers, 24 years old, suffered minor injuries when hit by a Michigan Central passenger train. The impact with the locomotive, as Sowers stepped in front of it from behind a box car, threw him clear of the rails.

Muskegon—Probably no high school football team in the country has established the record Muskegon has made since 1919. Since that year, Muskegon High School teams have won 69 games, tied for and lost three. One of the defeats and one of the tie games were played with out-state teams, and had no bearing on the Michigan race. Muskegon has not lost a game since Union of Grand Rapids defeated it 3 to 0 in Nov. 1925.

Bay City—Fire of undetermined origin which broke out in the basement of the Seitzer Dry Goods Co. store on Center avenue caused damage estimated at $50,000. A general alarm brought all fire fighting apparatus in the city to the scene, but because of the dense smoke firemen were able to make but little headway in fighting the flames. The store occupies a three-story brick building. Several other stores suffered from smoke.

Muskegon—Quick action by Albert Spence, 13-year-old Boy Scout, probably saved the life of his chum, Robert Fortenbacher. The boys were hunting ducks on Mona Lake when Fortenbacher was shot in the right arm by his own gun. Spence applied a tourniquet with his handkerchief, but then could be unable to hit the anchor. He shot the anchor rope in two and rowed his injured companion to shore, called an ambulance and sent him to a hospital.

Tecumseh—The effort to obtain an improved State trunkline highway from Chelsea through Manchester, Clinton and Tecumseh to Palmyra, where it would join U. S. 127, is being made in a series of public meetings at Chelsea, Clinton, Tecumseh and Palmyra. A round-up rally will be held in Tecumseh Nov. 12. The Chelsea meeting approved a proposal that the road be named the Rogers highway in honor of the State highway commissioner, Frank F. Rogers.

Mt. Clemens—Throwing his two small daughters, one only 8 months old, through the windows of an automobile and dragging his wife out a side door, James Bolrad, of Broad acres, near here, saved his own life and that of his family when his automobile was wrecked by a Detroit-Port Huron interurban on Gratiot avenue, near Wolf road. The motor of his car stalled as he started to cross the tracks and he started coasting down a slight grade into the path of the interurban.

Albion—Two boys attending a rural school, Sheldon Hoag, 14 years old and Bernard Schmidt, 13, swam the Kalamazoo River and saved the life of A. W. McConnell, bookkeeper for the Albion Gas Co., who was pinned beneath his automobile in the river. The boys saw McConnell's car crash through a guard rail and hurtle into the river. They pulled the unconscious driver from under the machine and held his head above water until two farmers heard their calls and completed the rescue.

Lansing—Michigan crop production in 1928 will be 10 per cent greater than in 1927, it was estimated in a crop report issued by the United States Department of Agriculture crop statistical bureau, in co-operation with the State Department of Agriculture. Potatoes are much better this year than last, the report said, and the fruit crop is estimated as more than one-third larger than in 1927. Sugar beets are poorer than any other year on record. The October forecast for potatoes is 35,700,000 bushels.

Menominee—Beneath a windfall where it is believed he sought shelter to die of starvation and exposure, the body of Charles Lecroix, 42 years old of Faithorn, Mich., missing since July 28, when he went after his cows, was found by a rabbit hunter within 200 yards of a main highway, but 13 miles from his home. For two weeks scores of neighbors, State Police and deputy sheriffs searched for the missing man spurred by a $100 reward offered by the father, Peter Lecroix. The reward goes to John Pondak, of Wilson, Mich.

East Lansing—About 20 hens in the sixth international egg laying contest at Michigan State College have prospects of making 300-egg records this year, J. L. Boyd, contest manager, reported recently. The contest closes October 31. At the time of the report one White Leghorn hen entered by Lafayette Poultry Farm, Lafayette, Ind., produced 116 eggs in 116 consecutive days. Two others have each produced 107 eggs in 107 days. A hen from the Battle Springs Poultry Farm, Hudson, Mich., deposited 199 eggs in 201 trips to the nest.

New models and THE OPEN MIND

THE public, with its healthy desire for the new and the better, insists upon continuous improvement, and will withdraw its patronage from any product or service which stands still.

Nowhere is this more true than in the automobile industry. The car is more than a utility. It is a personal thing, involving your convenience, your comfort, your safety, your sense of beauty and color, your pride of ownership, your complete environment for many hours of your life. Customs and habits of living change fast; and the past holds many warnings of how quickly your favor can shift when an automobile, for even a single year, fails to show progress.

So continuous improvement is more than a policy with General Motors. It is a vital necessity.

THE PUBLIC DEMANDS NEW MODELS

And the public is right. Out of that demand have come electric starting and lighting, the closed body, Duco finish, four-wheel brakes and hundreds of refinements, big and little. Improvements that might have taken a generation have been born within a few years because people want greater performance, beauty and comfort.

Equipped with the largest research laboratories, proving ground and body building plants, and guided by an Open Mind which is ready to revise its thinking in response to new facts, General Motors believes that it is peculiarly fitted not only to sense but to anticipate public demand and to give the people better automobiles at better values year after year.

As evidence of that faith we presented some months ago the New Chevrolet, the New Pontiac, the New Oldsmobile. And now we offer, with equal pride, the New Buick, the New Cadillac, the New LaSalle and the New Oakland.

CHEVROLET. 7 Bigger and Better models, $495 to $715. 4-wheel brakes. More powerful engine. Luxurious Fisher Bodies. New colors. Also Light Delivery Truck chassis; $375; Utility Truck chassis with 4 speeds forward; $520.

PONTIAC. 7 models, $745 to $875. Lowest priced General Motors Six—now offers more power, greater economy—more speed, greater acceleration. Arresting beauty of bodies by Fisher expresses the vogue of the hour.

OLDSMOBILE. 7 models, $925 to $1085. Also 5 Deluxe models, $1145 to $1235. "The fine Car at Low Price." Completely redesigned and improved by General Motors. More powerful. 4-wheel-brakes. Longer, roomier Fisher Bodies.

OAKLAND. 7 models of the new All American Six, recently announced, $1145 to $1375. Distinctively new original appearance. Solendid new performance. Luxurious appointments, in new bodies by Fisher. A car you'll be proud to own.

BUICK. 18 Silver Anniversary models on 3 wheel-bases. $1195 to $2145. Lightning flash get-away. Masterpiece Bodies by Fisher. Comfort and luxury in every mile. Power for the steepest hill and the longest run.

LASALLE. 13 new models, $2295 to $2875. Attractive car of Continental line. Companion car to Cadillac. 90 degree V-type 8-cylinder engine. Beautiful Bodies by Fisher. Striking Duco color combinations.

CADILLAC. 26 models, $3295 to $7000. Standard of the world. Famous 90 degree V-type 8 cylinder engine. Luxurious Bodies by Fisher and Fleetwood. An extensive range of color and upholstery combinations.

There is a surprising demand for muskrat trappers' licenses in the first year that they have been issued. The conservation department offices have been flooded with applications thus far and there seems to be no indication of a let-down before the season opens, November 15th. There has been some confusion about making application for the licenses. Requests for the permits must be made through local conservation officers and they in turn will submit them to the head office.

Under date of Oct. 29th, the following item appeared in several of the Dailies of Michigan, from Ludington:—"From a teamster to a millionaire may be the luck of Charles H. Foley Pills diuretic have my heartiest recommendations." Satisfaction guaranteed. Men and women everywhere use and recommend them.—Hite's Drug Store. adv.

TWO REASONS

There are two reasons why we endeavor to give more in service than even the most exacting of the banking public demand.

In the first place, it contributes to the pleasure of doing business to have all of our many customers more than satisfied.

In the second place, superior service means increased business, for our customers recommend this bank to their friends.

You, too, will find it not only pleasant but profitable to do your banking here.

Essay On Abr'm Lincoln

16 STUDENTS FROM 8 SCHOOLS PARTICIPATE.

The below paper is one of sixteen handed in by eight schools near enough to East Jordan for the students to attend the "Abraham Lincoln Play," the second number on the Lyceum Course, Nov. 8th. Through the generosity of Mrs. Henry Timmer of Afton the opportunity was given to these sixteen students to see this play. The Lyceum Course committee appreciates very much Mrs. Timmer's interest in this work and also her help in the purchase of these tickets.

"LIFE OF ABRAHAM LINCOLN"

By Arlene Liskum, age 12 years, 8th grade student of Ranney School.

Abraham Lincoln, grandfather of the President, entered four hundred acres of land on the south side of Licking Creek, under the Government warrant and he built a log cabin near the site of what now is called Louisville, Kentucky. The family began by breaking up the virgin soil and planting their crops. Abraham Lincoln and his son Thomas were working in the field one day when an Indian sneaked up and fired from the brush, killing Thomas's father. Mordecai and Josiah, the eldest brothers were chopping in the forest near at hand, and while Josiah ran to the fort for help, Mordecai ran into the cabin and seized the rifle which was always ready for use. Then he looked through a hole in the log and he saw an Indian taking his little brother, Tom, he shot the Indian, and the little boy ran home to his mother. Josiah then returned from the port with a party of settlers who took up the bodies of Abraham Lincoln and his slayer.

Thomas Lincoln, Abraham's boy, and father of the President, was married in eighteen hundred and six to Nancy Hanks, in Virginia. The young bride taken by her husband to a rude log cabin that he had built for himself near Nolin Creek, in what is now Lane County, Kentucky. In this cabin was born Abraham Lincoln, February 12th, 1809, who was to be the sixteenth President of the United States. While he was still an infant, the family moved to another log cabin, not far distant, and in these two homes Abraham Lincoln spent the first seven years of his life.

The mother of Abraham could use a rifle and not only did she bring down the bear or deer, and dress its flesh for the family table, but her skillful hands made garments and moccasins from the skins.

Mrs. Lincoln taught her two children their first lessons in the alphabet and spelling. When Abraham was seven years old, Zachariah Riney came into the country and the lad was sent to his school.

Then Thomas Lincoln got tired of Kentucky so he thought he would move, he sold his farm for two barrels of whiskey and twenty dollars in cash. So he took his family and went to Indiana.

Then a disease called "milk sickness" came around. Some of Nancy's relations were taken sick with it and she had them brought to her place so they could have better care. Then Mr. and Mrs. Hanks died, and Nancy was taken sick and died also. Then Abe's and Sarah's father went away, leaving Dennis, Hanks with them.

Then he came back about a year later with Mrs. Sally Johnston. The children greeted her and were glad to see their father. Abraham Lincoln liked his stepmother and never said anything about her that was mean. She said that on nothing she could say about Abraham Lincoln was that "he never said a word mean or looked at me mean and always did as I told him."

Abraham's stepmother said of him, "he read everything he could lay his hands on, and when he came across a passage that struck him, he would write it down on boards if he had no paper, and keep it until he could get some paper, then he would copy it."

Most men are generous to a fault—when the fault happens to be their own.

State News in Brief

Onsted—Fingerlings, including 16,000 bass and 10,000 bluegills, from the nursery of the Lenawee Isaak Walton League, are being planted in the lakes in and near Lenawee County.

Lapeer—Two large barns belonging to John E. Forney of Mayfield township, burned early one morning with loss of about $6,000. Reflection of the blaze on the windows awakened the family.

Detroit—Donald LeBlanc, 27 years old, an elevator rigger employed in the new Stott building at Griswold and State streets, was killed when an elevator fell two stories and crushed his skull.

Vassar—Lee Kennard, 27 years old, was instantly killed early one morning when he drove his auto into the side of a motionless freight train on the Pere Marquette crossing here. He leaves his widow and parents.

Bay City—Abandonment of the four-mile branch line extending to the What Cheer coal mine near Bay City, by the Pere Marquette Railway Co., has been authorized by the Interstate Commerce Commission. The mine is no longer being operated.

Grand Rapids—Purchase of Fish Knob, a four-acre tract in Solon township, the highest point in Kent County, was announced here by the county park commission. An observation tower will be erected upon the property, which will be developed as a park.

Benton Harbor—Chewing on a pencil seven years ago in school at Three Oaks cost the life of 20-year-old Albert Johns, son of a prominent farmer, at University Hospital, Ann Arbor, where a second operation failed to relieve. The pencil end had lodged in a lung.

Grand Rapids—Gas struck at 600 feet by the Mid-Continent Development Co., drilling at Homes Acres, caused the big mast of the drilling rig to be pulled down. The gas is being eased off and drilling will be continued. It is the first well to be sunk in this vicinity.

Bozette City—Struck by an automobile as she was walking from her home to a store, Mrs. James Stackus, 77 years old, was killed instantly. She leaves two sons, Schuyler Stackus, Bozette City undertaker, and Loren Stackus, of Jackson, and a daughter, Mrs. Maude Smith, of this city.

Three Rivers—Her skull fractured when the automobile in which she was riding skidded on the pavement near this city, recently, Miss Anna Bakeman, of White Pigeon, died at the Three Rivers Hospital. Her companion, Mrs. E. C. Brockway, also of White Pigeon, was seriously injured, but will recover.

Battle Creek—The shock of having lost her father, step-mother and two brothers in a railroad crossing accident, at Three Rivers three months ago was held responsible for the death here of Mrs. Roy McComb, 80 years old. Mrs. McComb was in poor health when Mr. and Mrs. Harold Titus and their two sons were killed by a New York Central passenger train. The shock of the accident aggravated her illness, physicians declared.

Grand Rapids—Improvement of the Grand Haven and Holland harbors and the Grand River for the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence waterway to the ocean would cost $265,000, according to specifications prepared by Government engineers for the National Rivers and Harbors Congress. Mayor Elvin Swarthout and ex-Mayor Edwin F. Sweet will attend the convention of the congress in Washington, D. C., Dec. 5 and 6. Improvement of the Saginaw River would cost about $100,000.

Detroit—The life of 3-year-old Giacoma Malorana, 3465 Henriks street, who dashed in front of a moving Kercheval avenue street car was saved by the presence of mind of Raymond Martin, 3042 Lyncaste avenue, the motorman. According to Martin, he realized that it was too late to stop the car when the child dashed into its path, and his first move was to lower a scoop-like fender provided as a safety device in front of the car's front truck. Giacoma was knocked down and picked up by the scoop.

Petoskey—The Pere Marquette railway has won a hotly contested neighborhood fight with the Pennsylvania when the Interstate Commerce Commission denied permission to the Grand Rapids & Indiana railway, a subsidiary of the Pennsylvania, to build a two-mile extension of its line at Petoskey to the plant of the Portland Cement company of Little Traverse Bay. The Pere Marquette contended that all the traffic which the Pennsylvania could gain by the extension would be diverted from the Pere Marquette.

Lansing—Contempt proceedings against the Continental Sugar Co., of Blissfield, will be filed at once in the Circuit Court at Adrian, Atty. Gen. Wilber M. Brucker announced here. According to complaints reaching George R. Hogarth, Director of Conservation, the company has been polluting the River Raisin by dumping waste material. An injunction forbidding this practice was issued against the company some years ago. Residents of the vicinity have told Mr. Hogarth large numbers of fish are being poisoned.

Quincy—Fred Knirk, 45 years old, a farmer, was killed here when he was struck by a train.

Adrian—Miss Luella Naah has deeded her 18-room home on West Maumee street to the city for use as a museum. The house, built in 1834, is the oldest in Adrian.

Petoskey—A sudden hail storm, accompanied by a high wind, swept the Petoskey district recently. Late apples were blown from the trees in orchards and some damage done to the trees.

Saranac—Hale, hearty, and with better eyesight than two years ago, Mrs. Marian Kimball Jepson celebrated her ninety-eighth birthday anniversary recently at her home here. She has resided in Ionia county 80 years.

Grand Haven—Kenneth Casperson, 19 years old, was found dead with a .22 caliber rifle by his side. It is believed he was cleaning the rifle in a boat house he used as a hunting lodge, when it was discharged accidentally. He leaves his parents and four brothers.

Lansing—The state has collected $8,400 in recent months from trappers who have bootlegged furs out of the state, and scores of cases remain to be tried. More than 360 convictions figured in the recovery. Beaver, muskrat, mink and coon were the principal furs bootlegged.

Detroit—The first death caused by automobile exhaust fumes this fall has been reported. The victim was Charles Campbell, 38 years old, who drove into his garage at 11 p. m. and closed the doors while the engine of the machine still was running. His body was found about midnight by his wife.

Mt. Clemens—Joseph Forton, 45 years old, of Mt. Clemens, died in a hospital after he struck an automobile driven by August Zundt, of near Roseville. Forton, who was riding a bicycle, suffered a fractured skull when he collided with Zundt's automobile at the corner of New and Lincoln streets here.

Lansing—The pheasant season has opened in Michigan with indications of an unprecedented number of hunters. Reports to the State Conservation Department indicate that the birds, which were introduced in Michigan only a few years ago, have increased rapidly. A flood of applications for small game hunters' licenses was reported throughout the State.

Ann Arbor—Michigan will have a dry football field for the remaining home games on its schedule, regardless of the weather conditions. A giant field raincoat arrived recently and is ready for placement whenever clouds appear. The "coat" is in eight sections, each section weighing 1,200 pounds. Two or three of the sections will be used to cover the base ball diamond during that season.

Detroit—Detroit will be brought closer to Chicago by a matter of several hours with the inauguration on November 1 of a new air passenger service between these cities, according to an announcement made by the Stout Air Services, Inc. The schedule calls for one trip a day from each city, a plane leaving both Chicago and Detroit at 2 p. m. daily except Sunday. The fare will be $30 one way or $50 round trip, and the scheduled time for the flight is 2 hours and 50 minutes.

Bay City—For the first time in its history of more than a decade, Wayne County and Detroit will appear officially in the proceedings of the East Michigan Tourist Association, members of which assembled here recently for their annual session. Another county that comes in this year, joining with the 25 heretofore represented, is Jackson. Official participation of a county in the activities of the association is determined by the county board of supervisors voting a contribution.

Detroit—Leo, candidate for mastery of the Detroit Zoological park lion den since his arrival there last summer, became the enclosure's undisputed master recently in a battle to the death with Menelik, his principal rival. A fire hose, which knocked the embattled lions about the cage but failed to separate them, blank cartridges and iron bars all proved futile as means of halting the fight. It ended only when Leo sank his fangs into Menelik's throat and brought forth a rush of blood. Menelik bled to death before keepers could treat his injuries.

Lansing—Michigan brook trout have the same instincts as homing pigeons, according to the first results of the tagging of young fish released from hatcheries and planted in the streams. George R. Hogarth, director of conservation said here. Hogarth received a telegram from P. J. Salsman, superintendent of the Grayling hatchery, saying that one of the 15-month-old brook trout taken from the hatchery, tagged and planted 15 miles down the Au Sable River, has returned to the hatchery and managed to get over the barriers and join the other trout in the hatchery ponds.

Menominee—No disabled war veteran at the Battle Creek Sanitarium, no orphan kiddies at the American Legion's Otter Lake Billet, will be forced to forego canned fruits, jellies and jams this winter, if each woman's auxiliary of the Legion in the department of Michigan contributes comparably to the Menominee unit. More than 5,500 pint jars have been sent Legion institutions. The annual canned fruit drive for the veterans was put up to the school children of Menominee this year. Their response swamped the auxiliary committees.

Hitchcock Lauds Hoover

Senator Hitchcock (Dem.) of Nebraska, Administration leader in the Senate, quoted in Herbert Hoover's behalf in the Senate January 23, 1919, said then: "I know something of the struggle Mr. Hoover has had with the packing companies in the United States, and I want to say that if there had not been a Hoover and a Food Administration, the packers would have made a great deal more than they did make. Mr. Hoover has been vindicated. He came out of the war, I believe, with a better reputation than any other public official."

NIGHT COUGHS QUICKLY RELIEVED.

Coughs and colds usually grow worse at nightfall. Most coughing is caused by an irritation of the throat or bronchial tubes, which continued coughing only aggravates. Such coughs are quickly stopped and controlled by Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. Hold the dose for a time, low in the throat as for a gargle, then swallow. Relief follows at once. Effective alike for children and grown persons. Try it.—Hite's Drug Store. adv.

Stick To The Old Party

SENATOR CAL. A. CAMPBELL

Senator Campbell is a candidate for re-election to a second term. Staunch, true and influential in the councils of the administration and a fighter for his district.

That has given our country all of its prosperous times. To the party that always talks in constructive terms, and never in fault-finding, pessimistic, complaining terms. The old party needs the support of every loyal Republican. It has nominated a ticket of men that can be vouched for, men of tried experience, men of sterling worth, men that have been responsible for our county, state and nation's progress. You will be inclined to split your ticket for this one and that one as a favor, or a compliment or through friendship. Don't do it. Party solidity is essential to party success. Your vote, wrongly placed, may do an irreparable harm. The principles of our glorious old party are worth fighting for and the least you can do is to put a cross at the head of the Republican Ticket and you will not thereafter be called upon to make excuses for your action.

Protect your home investment with a first floor of concrete

The far-seeing man buys or builds a home of durable, fire-safe construction and thus insures himself against costly repair bills and irreparable fire losses.

A house is not reasonably fire-safe unless at least the first floor is built of concrete. The cost is surprisingly low.

You can afford to make your home durable and fire-safe as well as beautiful.
