NUMBER 45

Hoover Elected To Presidency

POLLS LARGEST VOTE EVER RECORDED IN COUNTRY.

Herbert Hoover was elected president of the United States, on Tuesday, by a majority that assumed overwhelming proportions, administering to his opponent, Alfred E. Smith, one of the most crushing defeats ever inflicted on a Democratic candidate for the presidency.

Hoover's strength came from North, East, South and West. For the first time since Civil War days, the "Solid South" which has always gone Democratic has had the barriers broken down.

On returns tabulated up to late Wednesday, it seemed certain that at least 3 of the 10 "Solid South" states had gone to Hoover—Florida, Virginia and North Carolina—while the vote in Texas was so close that final official returns may be necessary to decide the result.

Returns late Wednesday definitely gave Hoover 412 electoral votes as against 89 for Smith. The states conceded to Smith were: Alabama, Arkansas, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, Rhode Island, and South Carolina. Doubtful states at the time of this tabulation were: Massachusetts, with 13 electoral votes, Texas, with 20 electoral votes, and North Carolina with 12 electoral votes. All the others went to Hoover.

Smith Loses New York

Governor Smith lost his own state of New York by approximately 100,000. New York City gave him a majority of about 450,000, but the up-state vote was so overwhelmingly for Hoover that the lead given Smith in the metropolis was overshadowed.

Greater New York embracing the five boroughs that four times have combined to send him to the executive mansion at Albany, threw him down in his great thrust for the presidency.

Smith Congratulates Hoover

Shortly after midnight Tuesday when the returns from all parts of the country unmistakably showed that Hoover was elected, Governor Alfred E. Smith, his Democratic opponent, sent the following telegram of congratulations to Hoover: "Hon. Herbert Hoover, Palo Alto, California: "I congratulate you heartily on your victory and extend to you my sincere good wishes for your health and happiness and for the success of your administration. (Signed): "Alfred E. Smith."

In his fight against Roosevelt for the governorship four years ago, the greater city sent him northward into the Republican up-state counties with 520,000 majority. Two years ago in his fight for re-election against Ogden L. Mills his home town sent him on his way again with 484,000.

This year, with the presidency at stake, and with enormously increased registration Governor Smith and his managers had confidently looked forward to 600,000 majority in New York City. It gave him, instead, about 450,000, a cool hundred thousand less than it gave him four years ago, and that was just about the difference between victory and defeat.

Senate Is Republican

Equally important as affecting the course of governmental events in the next four years is the fact that the avalanche of votes for Mr. Hoover has carried with it a Congress more strongly Republican even than was produced by the Harding landslide in 1920. The majority party has gained at least nine seats in the Senate with the possibility of one or two additional. On the minimum calculation of Republican strength the Senate will stand 59 Republicans, 38 Democrats and one Farmer-Laborite.

Returns on the House of Representatives still are incomplete, but the indications are that the Republicans have increased their present safe working majority of 36 in that body by 25 or more.

For the first time in eight years the Republicans will be able to organize both branches without the aid of the group of insurgents typified by Senators George W. Norris of Nebraska, and Robert M. LaFollette, Jr., of Wisconsin.

Break in South Decisive

The break in the South, although long delayed, was no half-hearted affair. On the basis of the returns so far received, Florida promised to go Republican by 25,000 or more. Virginia, almost complete, showed a majority of 20,000 and in North Carolina the Hoover-Curtis ticket was leading by nearly 6,000 with many of the normally Republican precincts of the western, mountain section of the state still to be heard from. With 216 of the 353 counties in Texas all or partially reported Mr. Hoover was leading there with 244,354 votes to 235,376 for Smith.

The result in the border states was equally decisive. The Hoover majority in Kentucky, it was indicated, would reach near 200,000; in Oklahoma 25,000 and Tennessee 20,000. The Maryland majority was approximately 65,000.

Without exception the 13 Republican senators who were candidates for re-election have been returned and to these have been added Theodore E. Burton, nominated in Ohio for the vacancy created by the death of Frank B. Willis; Frederick C. Walcott, close personal friend of Mr. Hoover, who will replace George P. McLean of Connecticut, voluntarily retired; and O. F. Glenn, chosen for the Illinois seat from which Frank L. Smith was ousted.

Democratic Veterans Lose

The Hoover sweep, on the other hand, carried down to defeat a large number of veteran Democratic senators, despite the fact that most of these ran well ahead of the presidential candidates of their party.

Thomas F. Bayard of Delaware; William Cabell Bruce of Maryland; Edward I. Edwards of New Jersey; Peter Goelet Gerry of Rhode Island; M. M. Neely of West Virginia; and Clarence C. Dill of Washington are certainly defeated. In their places in the order named will come John G. Townsend, Phillips Lee Goldsborough, Hamilton F. Kean, Felix Hebert, Henry D. Hatfield and Kenneth Mackintosh, all regular Republicans.

Roscoe Patterson, Republican, has been elected as successor to James A. Reed of Missouri, who declined to run for re-election.

Royal S. Copeland of New York; John B. Kendrick of Wyoming; Ke Pittman of Nevada; David I. Walsh of Massachusetts; William H. King of Utah; and Burton K. Wheeler of Montana, are other Democrats of long service in the Senate who are now in the lead.

Henrik Shipstead, the lone Farmer-Laborite, from Minnesota, was leading his Republican opponent, Arthur F. Nelson, by a substantial majority.

Gains in Lower House

Returns as to members of the House of Representatives still are meagre but the gains mostly are on the Republican side.

In Kentucky, for example, where the delegation now stands eight Democratic and three Republican, there is a possibility that the division may be approximately reversed. Reps. John W. Moore, Henry D. Moorman, Virgil Chapman, Ralph Gilbert and Fred A. Vison, all Democrats, have been defeated.

Missouri is another state where the Republicans are certain of a substantial gain in number of representatives, and it is probable that they will pick up seats in other border states, notably Oklahoma and North Carolina.

One notable victory for a Democrat was in Philadelphia where the unusually large vote polled for Gov. Smith apparently has carried down to defeat James M. Beck, distinguished lawyer and diplomat. His successful opponent is L. C. McCarrson.

Two more women will be added to the membership of the House by the victory of Ruth Hanna McCormick to congressman-at-large in Illinois and Ruth Bryan Owen in Florida.

ELECTION NOTES

Warren G. Harding received 401 electoral votes in 1920 and Calvin Coolidge received 395 in 1924.

Herbert Hoover's birthplace, West Branch, Iowa, returned a majority of fourteen to one in favor of its native son over Governor Alfred E. Smith. The vote was the largest ever cast in this Quaker settlement.

Governor Smith's former neighbor in the old Oliver street district, where he lived as a boy, did not forget him. When the votes in that election district were counted they totaled Smith, 610; Hoover, 66.

Women voters apparently were responsible for the large increase in the volume of votes in all parts of the country. Throughout the nation reports indicated that in many sections they were responsible for increases ranging from 10 to 50 per cent in comparison with past elections.

The record number of electoral votes up to this election was polled by Woodrow Wilson in 1912 when he won 435 electors, to 88 for Theodore Roosevelt and 8 for W. H. Taft. This was due to the split in the Republican party precipitated by Roosevelt when he balked and organized the Bull Moose party.

Gov. Smith's defeat to a great degree was due to the failure of his cities to come up to their promises to vote for him. New York, Chicago, Boston, Baltimore and St. Louis gave him majorities but not sufficient to wipe out the margin of votes piled up for Mr. Hoover in the contiguous country districts.

E. J. Voters Poll Heavily

OVER SIX HUNDRED BALLOTS CAST IN THREE WARDS.

There were 621 Ballots cast for Presidential Electors in the three wards of the City of East Jordan. These were for Republican and Democrat candidates.

A remarkable feature was that only the two major parties received any attention in East Jordan. The other four tickets on the ballot—Prohibition, Socialist, Worker's, and Socialist Labor were ignored entirely.

Frank H. Crowell, Democrat candidate for Sheriff from East Jordan polled the heaviest for his party, receiving 203 votes against 420 for the Republican candidate.

Following is a tabulation of the ballot for the three Wards of East Jordan:

EAST JORDAN DEBATE MANTON

East Jordan opens her debate season at Manton, Friday, Nov. 16th. Miss Perkins has been working with a squad of four debaters for a number of weeks. The following people compose the squad: Carl Weaver, Thelma Somerville, Cathola Lorraine and Francis Brown. Only one of the debaters has had previous experience, this being Miss Frances Brown who did some very good debating a year ago and should be a great help to the team during the present season. A debate on the local platform will be announced soon, by the State Debating League. The question for debate this year over all Michigan is—"Resolved That a Federal Subsidy for the Development of an American Merchant Marine Would be a Wise National Policy."

A man's credit is getting very low when he can't borrow trouble. A woman's change of mind is an example of effect without a cause. So carve your career that the university which kicked you out in your sophomore year will eventually ask you back to accept a doctorate of something. The only excuse nine-tenths of our monuments have for standing is that they would look more ridiculous lying down.

Michigan Again Goes Republican

ALL STATE OFFICERS ELECTED BY LARGE MAJORITIES.

Michigan went solidly Republican in the November 6th election, the entire state ticket being swept to victory in a veritable landslide that carried Hoover to the presidency of the United States. The Republican plurality in the entire state will probably exceed two to one when all the votes are officially tabulated.

Governor Green and all Republican candidates were elected by majorities that closely approach the total given Hoover.

Returns from the state show that the Republicans won by the overwhelming odds of approximately 2 1/2 or 3 to 1. Wayne County, including the City of Detroit, will cut this lead down to the estimated 2 to 1 as the big city vote did not go so heavily Republican as did the smaller communities and the rural districts.

Detroit was heavily counted on by Democratic leaders to give them a lead as it was assumed that Smith's stand on the liquor question would influence a large number of normally Republican voters. This vote, however, did not materialize.

Republicans Win Every County

Every county, including Alpena, the home county of William A. Comstock, Democratic candidate for governor, appears to have given more than a safe majority to the Republicans. One or two Upper Peninsula precincts favored Smith for president, but the Democratic candidate was not the favorite in any large unit of the state.

Besides Governor Green, the state officials elected are as follows: Luren D. Dickinson, Lieutenant Governor.

John S. Haggerty, Secretary of State.

William M. Brucker, Attorney General.

Frank D. McKay, Secretary of Treasury.

O. B. Fuller, Auditor General.

W. W. Potter, Louis H. Fead, and Walter North, Justices of Supreme Court, were elected to fill vacancies.

Arthur H. Vandenberg was elected to the United States Senate.

All of the Republican state officers will have a majority of several hundred thousand votes over their Democratic opponents.

Congress Solid Republican

All Republican congressmen were elected from the state. They are:

- First District: Rep. Robert H. Clancy, of Detroit, over William M. Donnelly, of Detroit.
- Second District: Rep. Earl C. Michener, of Adrian, over Grover Morden, of Sibley.
- Third District: Rep. Joseph L. Hooper, of Battle Creek, over W. L. Fitzgerald, of Kalamazoo.
- Fourth District: Rep. J. C. Ketcham, of Hastings, over Roman I. Jarvis, of Benton Harbor.
- Fifth District: Rep. Carl E. Mapes, of Grand Rapids, over Frank C. Jarvis, of Grand Rapids.
- Sixth District: Rep. Grant M. Hudson, of East Lansing, over A. Bruce Atwell, of Detroit.
- Seventh District: Rep. Louis C. Cramton, of Lapeer, over Varnum J. Bowers, of Mt. Clemens.
- Eighth District: Rep. Bird J. Vincent, of Saginaw, over B. J. Abbott, of Saginaw.
- Tenth District: Rep. Roy O. Woodruff, of Bay City, over Judson Richardson, of Ewart.
- Eleventh District: Rep. Frank P. Bohn, of Newberry, over Carl R. Henry, of Alpena.
- Twelfth District: Rep. Frank James, of Hancock, over L. A. Barry, of Baraga.
- Thirteenth District: Rep. Clarence J. McLeod, of Detroit, over Dr. John S. Hall, of Detroit.

Record-Breaking Vote Cast

The record-breaking vote registered in all parts of the state made the work of the election officials difficult. In some precincts the ballot boxes were full to overflowing long before the polls closed and ballots had to be kept in improvised containers.

Fair weather throughout the state contributed to the excitement of the pre-election campaign in assisting to bring out the voters. Women cast more ballots than ever before and for the first time since they obtained the suffrage were recognized as a decisive factor in the election.

It is to the women voters that some political leaders attribute the unusual showing made by dry candidates in the supposedly wet areas of the state. Their scores of organizations for Herbert Hoover were an important factor in getting the voters to the polls, hundreds of women drivers having acted as chauffeurs throughout the day so that every woman would have a chance to cast her ballot.

Advice is the only thing you can offer some people that they won't take.

EPWORTH LEAGUE CONVENTION GREAT SUCCESS

The Grand Traverse District Epworth League Convention met in the local Methodist Church beginning Friday night, Nov. 2nd and closing Sunday morning. The Convention began with a banquet served by the Ladies Aid Society, at which time music was furnished by the District Orchestra. Rev. Wm. M. Puffer, Superintendent of the Bronson Methodist Hospital, of Kalamazoo, Mich., gave the address of the evening, after which the delegates witnessed the great picture "The King of Kings" at the local Theatre. Saturday morning a memorial service was held, when Dr. J. O. Randall, District Supt. delivered the address. The program throughout the day was very interesting. At the night session an address on "Christian Citizenship" was given by Rev. C. E. Pollock, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church of Big Rapids, which was well received. Rev. C. E. Pollock delivered the convention sermon Sunday morning to a capacity house, which was also well received. There were 150 registered delegates present as well as a number of the pastors from the District. This was considered the most successful Convention held in years.

CHARLEVOIX COUNTY GOES SOLIDLY REPUBLICAN

According to unofficial returns about 4,450 ballots were cast by the voters of Charlevoix County. For Presidential Electors, the Republican Ticket received 3,509, Democrat 838.

East Jordan had three Democratic aspirants for office, and the unofficial vote is as follows:—

- For Judge of Probate—Correll (R) 3,583; Severance (D) 857.
 - For Sheriff—Vaughn (R) 3,434; Crowell (D) 898.
 - For Treasurer—Flanders (R) 3,498; Freiberg (D) 836.
- The City of Charlevoix polled 1,057 votes, and Boyne City 946 according to reports.

Charlevoix Co. at Gaylord Show

HARRY BEHLING AND EVELINE ORCHARDS HEAVY WINNERS.

This year's Top O' Michigan Apple and Potato Show held in Gaylord last week was the largest and best ever held in Northern Michigan. A careful check-up showed that a total of 510 exhibits of apples and potatoes competed for the fine premium money offered.

Charlevoix County was represented by a far better group of exhibits than last year, in both number of exhibitors and quality of exhibits. For the first time it was possible to have a County Exhibit, which consisted of twelve individual pecks of Russett Rurals and which was placed third in competition with six other counties. Otsego County again won the County Exhibit, thus having a record of six successive triumphs.

As near as can be determined, Charlevoix farmers won $269.00 in cash in addition to several other special prizes, giving us the honor of being one of the largest winners in the Show.

In the potato division, Harry Behling, Boyne City, won first on a bushel of certified seed of the Russett Rural Variety. Harry merits this honor as last year he won 4th in the same class, thus showing it was not luck, but skill. Again Chas. Kotesky, Hortons Bay, repeated winning 2nd in the same class, while last year he won first. Lee Sneathen, Charlevoix, gave us more glory by placing 4th on his bushel of certified seed. In addition, A. B. Todd, Boyne City, and W. H. Henley Charlevoix, won Awards of Merit. Out of $100.00 offered in this class, Charlevoix was successful in winning $65.00. Not so bad, eh? Lee Sneathen won 1st in the certified seed bushel class with Irish Cobblers for another win. His peck of the same variety of potatoes won third, and his peck of Russetts won an Award of Merit in the open class, thus making Lee Sneathen, one of the heavy winners of the Show.

In the peck class of Russett Rurals, W. H. Henley, Charlevoix, was our highest winner. His peck was the best in Charlevoix County, third in the Beginner's Class, and 7th in the open class. Joe Leu of East Jordan, won 5th in the beginner's class. A. Jensen, Walloon Lake, and A. B. Todd, Boyne City, won Awards of Merit, in the same class. A total of $130.00 was won in the potato section.

In the Apple Division, Eveline Orchards of East Jordan, repeated their feat of being the highest winner of the entire Show. They were first in plates of Wolf River, Jonathan, and Starks Delicious, 3rd in Wealthy, Spy, Golden Russett, and Grimes Golden, 1st in trays of Wolf River, Wagner, Jonathan, Golden Russett, Starks Delicious, and Wealthy, 2nd in trays of McIntosh, Snow, Spy, Grimes Golden and any other variety, 3rd, 4th, 5th, 6th, and two Awards of Merits in the bushel class, and 2nd, 3rd, and 4th in the Paney-Pack Class. Douglas Tibbitts of Boyne City, had the best apple of the show, a King apple. In addition he won, 1st on plates of Wagner and Any Other Variety, 2nd in plate of Wealthy and 3rd on McIntosh. Lee Sneathen, of Charlevoix, won 1st on a plate of Golden Russett.

The Charlevoix Board of Supervisors appropriated $110.00 to permit the farmers showing at this great Show. For this $110.00, close to $300 in cash and special prizes came back to the County. Not a bad investment.

POMONA GRANGE AT MARION CENTER

Pomona Grange No. 40 will meet with Marion Center Grange Saturday evening, Nov. 10th. The meeting will be called to order at 7:30 p. m. This will be the last meeting held this year.

The Pomona delegates to State Grange will give their report at this time. Each Pomona officer will give a short report also. Several other interesting features will be given, among them the surprise feature put on by Charlevoix Pomona at State Grange. Barnard will put on a darky play. B. C. Melencamp, County Agr'l Agent has several very interesting things to tell us.

A pot luck supper will be served after the meeting. All our meetings have been well attended this year, so let's make this the banner meeting of the year.

UNDISCOVERED COUNTRIES

By THOMAS ARKLE CLARK
Dean of Men, University of Illinois.

To most of us the places we have not ourselves seen are virtually undiscovered countries. All that we know about them is what we have heard or read and what we have thus discovered is usually the worst. Now there is Africa. It looks to me like a huge reversed capital letter P on the map, and it contains notes to me wild elephants, desert wastes, untraversed jungles teeming with strange animals and deadly serpents. It is a land of unclothed savages with rings in their noses and poisoned arrows in their quivers which they carry on their backs. My cousin Tracy has just come from Africa and his account of what he has seen there is quite different from the picture which I have painted of that, to me, undiscovered country. There are Ford cars in Africa, Tracy tells me, and radios and moving picture shows, and water softeners, and electric lights, and hard roads, and the girls bob their hair and carry lipstick just as they do in other civilized countries. I have been quite mistaken in my judgment of Africa.

When Nancy and I were in Cambridge, Mass., 25 years ago or so, we got our meals with a group of dyed-in-the-wool New Englanders. One woman had been out West, she said—that is as far as Troy, N. Y., but none of them had ever looked across the Mississippi river, and they looked upon us as semi-civilized savages from a wild and unconquered West. They believed everything we told them about rattlesnakes, buffaloes, and Indian raids. They were astonished that we were able with as little dialect as we showed to communicate in the English language. The Mississippi valley to them was an undiscovered country. White, whom I later met, born in New England and imbued with a holy desire to do something to raise the moral and religious standards of the illiterate West, had a call to Austin, Texas, as assistant pastor of one of the southern churches. He was courageous but wary. He asked me incidentally, as of one who had had wider experiences in such things than himself, if I didn't think it would be a wise precaution for him to take pistols with him in going to so dangerous a locality.

I was in Herrin, Ill., a few weeks ago—Herrin in bloody Williamson county. It is a beautiful little city with a wide clean boulevard running through it 100 feet wide. It seems like a quiet well-ordered place. It is full of comfortable houses sitting in the midst of well-kept lawns and surrounded by beautiful gardens. It was in rose time that I was there, and I have never seen anywhere, not even in England nor in Italy, more beautiful roses than there were in Herrin. They have beautiful school buildings. I do not know another city of 10,000 population which has a better designed and more attractive high school building than Herrin. The people seem to love beauty and to stand for education. Maybe we have not discovered Herrin!

NIGHT COUGHS QUICKLY RELIEVED.

Coughs and colds usually grow worse at nightfall. Most coughing is caused by an irritation of the throat or bronchial tubes, which continued coughing only aggravates. Such coughs are quickly stopped and controlled by Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. Hold the dose for a time, low in the throat as for a gargle, then swallow. Relief follows at once. Cleaning Up to Increase Yields

Diseases of Wheat and Corn Are Causing Big Losses to Farmers.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Wheat scab and corn-ear rots are causing large annual losses in the central states by reducing acre yields and lowering the quality of the corn and wheat crops, according to the United States Department of Agriculture. Losses from wheat scab have averaged about 12,000,000 bushels of wheat annually for the last nine years. Corn-ear rots, some of which are produced by the wheat-scab organism, have caused a loss of approximately 100,000,000 bushels of corn annually for the last five years.

Cause of Scab and Rots.
The fungous parasites causing wheat scab and most of the corn-ear rots live over winter on dead cornstalks, wheat straw, stubble and other crop refuse. Spores produced by these organisms ripen in the late spring and summer and are blown from the old stalks and straw to the wheat heads and corn-ears and cause wheat scab and corn-ear rots.

Much of this damage could be prevented by crop rotation, by clean-up of cornstalks, straw and stubble, and by thorough plowing, says the department. Removing or plowing under all crop refuse, if done in the fall, prevents development of the winter spores, and if done in the spring prevents their movement by wind to the wheat and corn plants.

Studies made in 1919, when these diseases were particularly heavy in several different states in the Corn Belt, provide figures showing the effectiveness of such clean-up measures. In Iowa, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Tennessee and Wisconsin the average amount of wheat scab was 40 per cent where the wheat was sown in cornstalks and only 18 per cent where it was sown in plowed out and wheat fields.

Control of Rots.
The control of the corn-ear rots is just as striking. In 1926 corn was planted on two similar fields, the only difference being in crop rotation and soil preparation. The first field was on clover sod well plowed; the second was on continuous cornland with old stalks poorly plowed under. There was no damage on the first field, while on the second, 45.9 per cent of the ears were affected.

The clean-up program developed for the control of the European corn borer also will control wheat scab and materially reduce the amount of corn-ear rots. These facts should be taken into consideration in advancing the clean-up program in the borer-infested area.

Well-Drained Soil Will Make Conditions Right

When soil is thoroughly drained the plant roots are able to grow deeper and secure a large part of their food from the subsoil. A well-drained soil makes conditions right for the growth of the millions of micro-organisms that play an essential part in preparing food for crop plants. When a soil is waterlogged the air is prevented from passing into it where it is needed for the respiration of these organisms. Wet soils are too cold for the best growth of plants and prevent the decomposition of organic matter and the formation of humus. This keeps such a soil in a poor physical condition.

Soy Bean in Demand for Great Variety of Uses

The soy bean is now in demand for a great variety of uses aside from its value as hay and a green manure to turn under for soil improvement. Several oils are made from soy beans for cooking and salads; soy bean meal is an excellent stock feed; a health flour is made from the bean; it is used to manufacture a rubber substitute, the sprouts are used as green salads, and there are a variety of other uses to which the oriental visitor may be put. The demand for it is growing as manufacturers expand their fields.

Agricultural Notes

The majority of chickens that are marketed are entirely too lean and lanky.

The neighbor with sick hogs is likely to carry infection on his shoes or his clothing to your hog lots if he is permitted to visit them.

Don't crowd the late thin lambs on the market. Send only the fat ones, the others can be made to sell higher by good care and some feed.

'Tud liver oil, to prevent leg weakness and promote growth, can be fed to growing chicks in the proportion of one pound to 100 pounds of mash.

According to results obtained at the University of Alberta, Canada, 50 per cent of the lambs weaned by ewes fed timothy hay die within four weeks after birth.

The young cockerels should be separated from the pullets by the time they are big enough to fatten, or at the latest by the time they weigh a couple of pounds.

FOOD FOR THE FAMILY

A MOST appetizing salad when one has no idea what to make for the family, is Peanut and Lettuce Salad.

Crush with a rolling pin one-half cupful of fresh peanuts. Arrange tender lettuce on salad plates, sprinkle the nuts over it with a bit of minced onion and serve with a French dressing.

To keep in touch with new ways of serving foods, one needs to take occasional outings into various restaurants. One may usually come home with enough new ideas to last for some time. Common foods served in an uncommon way, make much difference in the appetite of the family. Before the frost takes all the good mushrooms, serve a few meals of the delectable vegetable.

Creamed Mushrooms.

Clean, peel and slice a pound or two of fresh field mushrooms, add two to three tablespoonfuls of butter and place over the heat, cook five minutes, stirring frequently. Add thin cream, thickened very lightly with a bit of flour and butter cooked together and pour over well-buttered rounds of toast and serve.

Combine sweetbreads with mushrooms and serve cooked as above, in party shells.

Hollandaise sauce is delicious served with young tender turnips, cut into cubes or latticed.

Cauliflower With Mushrooms.

Break into flowerettes one head of cauliflower and cook in boiling salted water until tender. Prepare rounds of toast, butter and heap with the cauliflower. Pour over them the following sauce: Chop one cupful of fresh mushrooms, add two tablespoonfuls of butter and some of the cauliflower liquor. Simmer until the mushrooms are tender then add one cupful of cream; boil, add one tablespoonful each of flour and butter cooked together, season with salt and pepper and serve poured over the toast and cauliflower.

Celery With Pigs in Blanket.

Cook the coarser stalks of celery until tender, adding a rich white sauce. Around the celery arrange oysters cooked in bacon and serve very hot. Veal birds are also good served this way instead of oysters.

THE "CRUCIBLE" OF LIFE

CONSTANTLY in speech today, as well as in literature, we meet with the expression the "crucible" of experience or the "crucible" of affliction, or of life.

The term is used in the figurative sense, a crucible being a vessel in which metals and ores are melted or pulverized. In other words, it is a melting pot where a metal is tested and tried, where gold is separated from dross.

Such a severe trial which tests human mettle and from which one emerges chastened and wiser, is spoken of as "going through the crucible" of the experience.

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT

By F. A. WALKER

THE COST OF VANITY

WHEN at last the scales fall from the eyes of thoughtful, earnest aspirants to the high places, they see that vanity is not only a jester but one of the most troublesome and tricky liars with which they have continually to contend.

The paces of history replete with failures of brilliant world-leaders who have stubbed their toes against egotism and fallen so desperately hurt and humiliated that their usefulness ended in dismal mishap.

The want of substance to satisfy his inflated mind brought Napoleon to ignominious defeat and banishment. And what was true in the Nineteenth century is true today, and will always be true.

The same elements of peril crouch ready to spring upon and overwhelm individuals who have an empty pride inspired by an overwhelming conceit of personal attainments.

The young men who prate over dinner tables, boast without blush of their wonderful abilities and ostentatiously tell one another what the "old man" at the head of the house should do to whip his competitors, are as palpably vain and absurd as their empty vapourings.

They are piling up debts which vanity sooner or later will proceed to collect with compound interest.

And so it is with puffed-up young women who volunteer pretentious advice to their tired-out mothers, without lifting a jeweled hand to lighten household burdens, or cheer hearts craving sympathy and love.

The world is overcrowded with these priggish people, who through some caprice of fortune have risen a step or two and foolishly imagine that they are in a position to instruct their elders and pull them about by the nose.

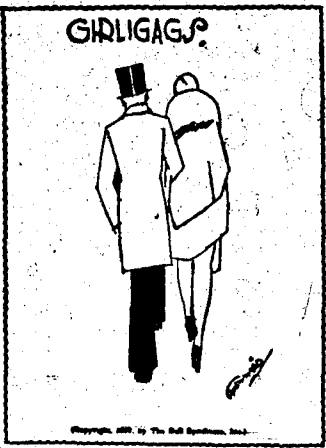

In their conceit they know more about the intricate arts and sciences than do the tutors in universities, more about finance than do the bankers who have spent a lifetime in the harness, pulling and tugging to overcome difficulties.

Instead of being courted and followed by over-fond parents, they should be pitied, for they are bound straight to failure.

Each knows more than can be uttered; each lives not by faith, but by pomp, builded on a crumbling foundation.

They can speak no language under heaven save that of the boastful; give no encouragement to others, nor do any work of value.

Over 500 Miles of Concrete Highways in a Single County!

Wayne county, Michigan, (Detroit) has over 500 miles of concrete highways, with pavements from eighteen to eighty feet wide.

Nineteen years ago, this county built its first stretch of concrete road. Year after year, the Board of County Road Commissioners has continued building concrete highways, to complete a road system planned in 1906.

Many of the older pavements have been widened. Some have been torn up to make way for wider pavements at a different grade—but no concrete pavement has worn out!

No wonder Wayne County keeps on building concrete roads!

A CRAZY QUILT

By DOUGLAS MALLOCH

THEY do not make them any more. For quilts are cheaper at the store than woman's labor, though a wife men think the cheapest thing in life. But now and then a quilt is spread upon a quaint, old, walnut bed, a crazy quilt of those old days that I am old enough to praise.

Some woman sewed these points and squares into a pattern like life's cares. Here is a flannel that was strong. The poplin that she wore so long. A fragment from a daughter's dress. Like her, a vanished loveliness. Old patches of such things as these. Old garments and old memories.

And what is life? A crazy quilt; Sorrow and joy, and grace and guilt. With here and there a square of blue for some old happiness we knew. For so the hand of time will take the fragments of our lives and make out of life's remnants as they fall. A thing of beauty, after all.

Uncommon Sense

By John Blake

FRONT RUNNERS

THERE is a type of race horse that is known as a front runner. While he is out in front he is unbeatable. But let another horse pass him and he immediately becomes discouraged.

He lacks the pluck and persistence to pull victory out of apparent defeat. When conditions are not favorable to himself he just gives up and quits.

Race horses are not the only front runners. Men may be front runners, too.

We see the occasional exhibitions of front-running in athletic contests. A prize fighter, for instance, who is outpointing his opponent by a wide margin, may suddenly receive a heavy punch in the body. From then on he becomes discouraged and remains on the defensive, intent only on staying the limit.

A tennis player who is winning his match is the victim of a poor decision by the referee. He immediately abandons all interest in the match and eventually loses it.

Such an athlete is often called a quitter. Those who know him say he is yellow, because he is skillful and capable only when things are going his way.

But all front runners are not athletes, either. We can see any number of them in everyday life.

A man may be an excellent salesman, for instance, as long as his product sells itself. But let him come up against a tough, skeptical customer and all his sales ability disappears.

A lawyer may be a whirlwind when the case is favorable to his client. Then the other side introduces an unexpectedly damaging witness and he gives up all hope of winning.

A public official supports a good piece of legislation until some powerful opponent appears. Then he pockets his self-respect and turns his attention to something else.

There are front runners in every business. But they never get very far.

Every truly successful person has had to fight discouragement and despondence. Nobody wins his way to any heights that are worth winning without a battle.

That is what the front runners do not realize. They think they have a monopoly on bad luck and disappointment. And so they excuse themselves for what amounts to quitting under fire.

Few things in this world are handed to you on a silver platter. You have to fight for the things that are worth having.

That is why they are worth having.

CHANGING ONE'S THOUGHTS

By THOMAS ARKLE CLARK
Dean of Men, University of Illinois.

I was talking to Shafer not long ago concerning his son who has not proved a particularly good influence in the organization to which he belongs. He is a very radical thinker. Now I may have done him an injustice in making this last statement, for I have not yet been convinced that young Shafer has ever done a great deal of real thinking; what I should have said is that he is a somewhat wild and unbalanced talker. He claims not to believe in such notions as God and temperance and virtue and unselfish co-operation of any sort, and some of his putty-brained associates take him seriously.

"It is quite possible and necessary I can see," Mr. Shafer admitted to me, "for George to stop talking so much, but of course he cannot control his thoughts. You don't object to his thinking these things, do you?"

My answer to his final question is for this purpose irrelevant. It is his statement that it is impossible for one to control his thoughts with which I take issue. Thought is not a process beyond our control; education, in the main, consists in learning how to direct and develop and control thought processes.

"I can't get down to studying" is as common and as imbecile a statement from freshmen as that "I can never learn to spell." In each instance there is usually very little desire to do the thing mentioned. One can manage his own thoughts and one can learn judgment and reason and one can even change his opinions through reading and observation and serious reflection. If one could not change his thoughts school and college and educational processes of all sorts would be useless. If George's brain is so hardened that he cannot change his thoughts then his father is wasting good money in sending him to college—the boy in such a case would be only a machine controlled and limited in its actions by its own mechanical construction.

Concentration, a mental attitude which we all attempt to cultivate and in which some of us succeed, is simply another name for the ability to direct our thoughts to one thing to the exclusion of others.

Of course what George's father meant is that George need not give expression to his opinions or to his beliefs, but that he cannot change these points of view. If at seventeen, he feels that virtue and honesty are negligible qualities, there is nothing to be done about it. If he considers law an Old Man of the Sea clinging to his neck only to impede his progress, that settles the matter. But if George will use his head a little, if he will take time to look about him, if by study and contemplation he can really learn to think logically, he will find it quite easy in many instances completely to change his thoughts.

DIPPING INTO SCIENCE

Discovery of Neptune

Because they felt that an irregularity in the movement of Uranus was due to the influence of an undiscovered heavenly body, astronomers in 1846 deliberately calculated the position of this possible disturber and found it. This new planet they called Neptune. It is thought to be the farthest away of any in the solar system.

THE WHY of SUPERSTITIONS

By H. IRVING KING

APPLE SEEDS

WHAT maiden has not, at some time in her life, sought to divine the future of her love matters by taking the seeds out of an apple and counting them with the following mystic incantation:

One I love, two I love, three I love I say;
Four I love with all my heart and five I cast away.

Six he loves, seven she loves, eight they both love.
Nine he comes, ten he tarries,
Eleven he courts and twelve he marries.

We have here the old, old magic of arithmancy, the magic of numbers; practiced by the Babylonians and forming a part of the philosophy of the Pythagoreans and the Platonists. Apple seeds are used because in the minds of the ancients there was a "heap of magic" in apples. A long list might be made of the appearance of apples and apple-trees in the mystic lore and mythology of the ancients and in modern superstitions inherited therefrom. In the case of the love charm under discussion, however, we have to do only with the relation of the apple to Juno. At her marriage with Jupiter the earth goddess gave golden apples to Juno. These apples became the celebrated apples of her Hesperides which it was one of Hercules' labors to obtain. Because of this exploit of the apples of Hesperides apples were offered at the shrine of Hercules instead of an ox or a ram. Thus as apples were the offering of the Earth Goddess to Juno, and as Juno was the patroness of marriage, apple seeds are peculiarly fitting for purposes of divination by marriageable maidens.

"Shooting" Less Hazardous

Likelihood of a premature explosion is reduced in shooting oil wells by using a time bomb a western engineer has devised, says Popular Mechanics Magazine. It is set off by means of an alarm clock mechanism at any interval desired, from one to eleven hours. This gives the operators ample time to pull out the casing before the shot goes off.

The bomb itself is of cast iron, 18 inches long, and contains slightly more than a pound of dynamite which explodes the shot previously lowered into the well.

Charming New Model

Hats to create an air of newness must emphasize the feminine feeling which prevails. This is obtained by a general softening of the outline as well as an attention to feminine details in trimming.

Billie Dove wears several charming models which emphasize the feminine trend in "The Night Watch."

Miss Dove, in general, leans toward the off-face hat, the turban and toque. She finds the small hat gives the most chic to afternoon and evening costumes. However, drooping brims are not neglected in the hats which constitute Miss Dove's collection of chic millinery.

ARMISTICE DAY

Sunday, November 11, is Armistice Day.

Ten years have passed since the great World War closed.

No one wishes to have his mind harrowed with a recital of its horror. We are confident we will never see another war.

But how about our children and our grandchildren?

If the nations of the world stress reverence for God and good will toward our fellowmen in the teaching of the young, there will be no more war.

In 1918 President Wilson asked the people to assemble in their churches on Memorial Day to invoke Divine assistance. We were then in a dark crisis of the war, and in the cities the churches were crowded. Those same churches were well nigh empty when meetings were called to praise God for the close of the war.

If we fail to remember God in times of peace we are sowing the wind and our children and our grandchildren will reap the whirlwind.

The tenth anniversary of peace is a fitting time for all to assemble in their respective places of worship.

Let us sow the seeds of peace by reverencing God and promoting good will toward our fellowmen.

Sunday, November 11, is Armistice Day. On that day let us worship the PRINCE OF PEACE.

State News in Brief

Fort Huron—Arthur Ehlert, 2 years old, is dead as the result of swallowing rat poison.

Owosso—The contract for erection of the new Owosso High School has been let to D. Boschma & Son, of Royal Oak, for $316,000. Work will start at once.

Blissfield—Wells driven on South street in an effort to add to Blissfield's water supply have been declared failures. The next effort will be made north of town.

Caro—M. K. Kent, 80-year-old employe of the Michigan Sugar Co., was killed by a Michigan Central train here one night while walking along the tracks on his way home.

Lapeer—Fire of undetermined origin one night recently destroyed the grain elevator at Hunters Creek, six miles south of Lapeer. The elevator was owned by Andrews Brothers, of Detroit.

Owosso—Twenty-five employes of the Ann Arbor Railroad will be transferred to Owosso from Cadillac and Frankfort as the result of the discontinuance of Cadillac as a division point.

Owosso—Frank Strauch, 61 years old, Shiawassee township farmer, lost two fingers in a hunting accident. He was cleaning mud out of the end of the barrel of his gun when it discharged.

Grand Rapids—Seven-year-old Robert Thomas Phillips submitted to amputation of his right arm, burned October 6, when he fell across the third rail of the Michigan Railroad company line. He will recover.

Muskegon—A woman, who became curious because Frank Wilder, 65 years old, had not harvested his grapes, found Wilder's body in the kitchen of his home. Wilder is believed to have been dead a month.

Kalamazoo—Tripping on some underbrush while hunting near Crooked Lake, in Barry County, cost the life of Louis O. Bahlman, 40 years old, an employe of a Kalamazoo department store. Bahlman was killed instantly when he fell over his gun. The shot penetrated his chest.

Grand Rapids—Caroline Wood, 11 years old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wood, died of burns received when her crepe paper masquerade suit caught fire as, with other children, she was dancing around a Halloween bonfire at the home of A. E. Miller. The children had been roasting marshmallows.

Homer—Marc Hagerman, of Quincy, 32-year-old rural mail carrier, was wounded fatally while hunting near Homer when a rifle carried by Floyd Swartout, of Homer, was discharged accidentally. Hagerman died before reaching a hospital at Albion. He was a World War veteran and a member of the Masonic Lodge.

Muskegon—The third large producer of oil in the Dundee formation was brought in recently in the Muskegon field when the McAfee-Bohor No. 1 well began flowing gas and oil at the rate of about 5,000,000 cubic feet and 500 barrels a day. It was estimated that the well will make possibly 800 barrels a day when hooked up with auxiliary tanks.

Marshall—Employment of an additional 150 men in Marshall's industries was assured here with announcement by the Marshall Furnace Co. that it has purchased the Monitor Furnace Co., of Cincinnati, and will produce both lines in Marshall. The Cincinnati plant will be dismantled and the Marshall company soon will be employing approximately 300 men.

Detroit—Marie Ferguson, Negro, 27 years old, an elevator operator in the Stevens building, was instantly killed when her head was caught between the elevator and the first floor of the building. She was nearly decapitated. The woman had just come to work and apparently failed to close the door, police who investigated the tragedy reported. She was an experienced operator, according to the building management, having been employed as an operator in the building more than two years.

Lansing—Ingham County officials are investigating three deaths which occurred two miles south of Mason, on U. S. 127. One, they believe, may have been a slaying. The dead: Mr. and Mrs. George Brodock, of Jackson, and Loren Blume, of Lansing. Blume's body was found lying beside the highway. Howard McClure, a Grand Rapids auto body truck driver, found the body and went to a farmhouse to notify authorities by telephone. While he was in the house Mr. and Mrs. Brodock crashed into the rear of the McClure truck and were decapitated. The top of their auto was torn off as the car plunged beneath the platform of the truck.

Grand Rapids—What is believed to be a record in football, that of 57 consecutive games without a time out for injuries, was terminated here when Grand Rapids South had a man knocked unconscious on a pass play and was forced to call a temporary halt in its game with Central. The South team started its record back in 1924, and for two years South took no time out for any cause whatsoever, making substitutions at the quarter or half. The no-time-out-for-injuries record had run for nearly five years when it was broken.

PROPRIETORS

W. E. Byers, Auctioneer. H. J. Timmer, Clerk. Guy E. White, Note Clerk.

Memphis—Buhl Yaeger, 17 years old, accidentally shot two fingers from his left hand while hunting pheasants.

Port Huron—Mildred Bailey, 11 months old, is dead of burns. The child's clothing became ignited while older children were playing with papers and set them afire.

Ypsilanti—Floyd D. Fuller, 18-month-old son of Robert Fuller, was burned to death when fire damaged the Fuller home. It is believed older children playing with matches started the fire.

Kalamazoo—John J. Barrand, 65, lost his right hand when his dog ran into a shotgun leaning against the running board of his car, discharging the gun. Barrand was hunting with a friend near Crooked Lake.

Grand Rapids—Edward Ressel, 16 years old, died of a wound received when struck by a bullet from a .38 caliber revolver accidentally fired by his father, Frank Ressel, Ball Park watchman. The father, examining the weapon after having had it cleaned, said he did not know it was loaded.

Caro—Fire recently swept the business section of Fairgrove, 10 miles northwest of here, and was brought under control only after three buildings had been destroyed with a loss estimated at $20,000. Fire apparatus was sent from Bay City, Saginaw, and Caro, in response to calls for aid.

East Lansing—Radio station WKAR, of the Michigan State College, has under advisement the question of an agricultural broadcast to farmers at their breakfast hour. The college station may be removed from the evening field by a decision of the Federal Radio Commission and college officials look to the breakfast hour as the best substitute.

Ionia—Judge Royal A. Hawley of the Ionia-Montcalm Circuit sentenced William Fisher of Carson City to six months to one year in the Michigan Reformatory at Ionia with a recommendation of six months for stealing a bushel of potatoes, his second felony. Good potatoes are bringing 40 cents per bushel in Ionia. Larceny is larceny under Michigan's new criminal code.

Lansing—Illegal capture of muskrat and racoon by G. M. Lockwood of Williamston cost him $264.30, the state being reimbursed to that amount. Vigilance of conservation department law enforcement officers brought this money into the coffers 10 months after the illegal deed had been enacted. Clever detective work by the men working on the case was responsible for the reimbursement.

Dowagiac—Only five men, now wrinkled and gray, of the once gallant Nineteenth Michigan Infantry, organized in Dowagiac in 1863, lone surviving palsied band of the once great fighting unit that left Dowagiac 65 years ago to join the blue horde over the Mason-Dixie line, gathered here for their annual convention. During the last year, ten of the veterans who attended the last meeting have died.

Battle Creek—Accidents cost the life of one hunter and resulted in serious injury to another near this city. Russel Decker, 7 years old, was killed instantly when he walked in front of a shotgun which his brother, Donald, 15, discharged at a rabbit. Robert Jordan, 16 years old, lost his right hand when he crawled through a fence, pulling his shotgun after him. The gun was discharged.

Lansing—The American Railway Association places Michigan fourth among the states in grade crossing fatalities during the first six months of this year, in statistics just given out. Michigan had 77 grade crossing fatalities on record during the half year. Illinois had 99 fatalities, the largest of any state. Ohio had 85 and Indiana, 84. Among states with less fatalities than Michigan were: Pennsylvania, 57; New York, 48; California, 39, and Texas, 27.

Mancelona-E. J. Play Tie

PLAY HARD FOUGHT GAME LAST SATURDAY. SCORE 6-6.

Mancelona High School Football team came to East Jordan last Saturday with a large delegation of fans, rather certain of another football triumph and the way they started out in the first quarter and half of the second, it looked very much as though their hopes would be realized; but Coach Cohen and his boys had a little surprise in store for Wiles' men even if it came late in the game. The party for East Jordan really began about the middle of the second quarter. From that time on the locals completely out-played Mancelona. Mancelona came with an uncrossed goal and naturally were heavy favorites in fact many local fans conceded that Mancelona would win, but not the boys and Coach Cohen. They were only stopped by a fumble less than five yards from the goal line in the last quarter with four downs to make it and were within the ten yard line at another time.

The breaks were against the Jordan team here and only the toughest kind of luck kept victory from the locals. On the other hand a little break came Jordan's way the second quarter when the aggressive Jordan team came thundering down on Smith who received Quinn's beautiful punt, missed it and Shepard fell on it, giving the locals a chance to score, but as already related, even better breaks in the last half saved Mancelona from defeat. A large crowd was in attendance—many of them from Mancelona.

The game opened with East Jordan receiving. Pray received on the 20 yard line where East Jordan was held and Quinn booted the ball to Mancelona's 40 yard line. Mancy, largely through the end running of Smith and the off tackle of smashing Makel carried the ball for four successive first downs. East Jordan, was held after three plays. Quinn was forced to boot again. Mancelona made first down, started back toward East Jordan's goal but the East Jordan defensive began to stiffen and Mancelona was forced to kick. A similar situation occurred and East Jordan was again forced to kick. Mancelona outplayed East Jordan in this quarter. A third time Mancelona started for East Jordan's goal line from the 40 yard mark. Through some brilliant end running by Smith and Makel, carried it to Jordan's 40 yard line; where Smith circled East Jordan on a fake forward pass for 40 yards and a touch down. Mancelona failed to score the extra point.

The second quarter opened with East Jordan receiving but again was held for downs. Mancelona was still out-playing the locals. Quinn's good kicking was holding them off, while defensive work of Muma and East Jordan's line was beginning to show to advantage. From this time on the Jordan boys took charge of the game. East Jordan was held and Quinn got off a nice 45 yard line punt and East Jordan was down on top of Mancy's team so quickly it seemed to get their nerves. A fumbled punt resulting, where Shepard playing a sensational game, falling on the ball on Mancelona's 10 yard line where Quinn carried it on the first play for 9 yards to the one yard line where Pray carried it over on a quarterback sneak. East Jordan failed to score the extra point. At this point Shepard was hurt and had to be taken out of the game. Severance going in at left end and Lee in at tackle for Severance. Mancelona threatened the Jordan goal by going to their 20 yard line again, but this was the last threat from Mancelona. From that time on to the end of this quarter the game was played pretty much in the middle of the field. In the second half Cohen's men started to play an inspired game. Mancelona was on the defensive from that time on. Besides a charging line, Quinn, Pray and Muma circled Mancy's ends and plunged their line to a point less than 10 yards from Mancelona's goal line two different times and as related above, only good fortune saved Mancelona from defeat. The playing of Allen, Mancelona's left end, Makel at half, and Smith at quarter, was outstanding for the Mancelona team. Smith being the all-around star, playing a stellar defensive game as well as offensive. For East Jordan, the lion's share of the credit should go to them, and the ends, Dennis and Shepard, again showing that they are playing first rate football, while Beyer, Severance, and Hart—the latter playing his first game after two days practice at center, played great defensive football. In the backfield, Quinn, Pray, and Capt. Muma played very good football.

The game put the locals back in the running. If Mancelona loses to Boyne City, and East Jordan wins from Charlevoix, at least it would have to be recognized as a mixed up championship with East Jordan and Mancelona claiming the lion's share of Class C Football honors of Northern Michigan the present season. Only a return game on a neutral field could decide it. (Just a suggestion and might easily be possible.)

Score by quarters: Mancelona 6 0 0 0—6 East Jordan 0 6 0 0—6 Referee—Howard Dickie, Harbor Springs. Umpire—Tex Buchen, Vanderbit. Head Linesman—Tillotson of M. S. C.

Charlevoix comes for the final game of the season, Friday. This game is important as a direct bearing on the North Class C championship. The locals are out to win. Game called at 2:30 standard time, Friday.

NUTRITION PROJECT CLASS MEET WITH MRS. BARTHOLOMEW

The Nutrition Project meeting of the Home Economics Extension Course was held at the home of Mrs. Gladys Bartholomew on Wednesday, Nov. 7th. Twelve ladies and several children were present. Two new members were added to the Club. A balanced dinner was served at noon. Interesting and instructive discussions led by Mrs. Ruth Vance and Mrs. Gladys Bartholomew stressing the value of fruit and vegetables in the diet for health and of balanced meals for the proper development of the body were features of this meeting.

These discussions were followed by a demonstration of salad making by the Leaders. Two salads were made. A mayonnaise dressing was used with a raw vegetable and fruit salad. A boiled dressing was used in making a delicious cooked vegetable salad, composed of carrots, string beans and celery.

The meeting then adjourned. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. J. R. Schroeder on Monday, November 26th, at 10 o'clock. Everyone is invited to attend.
