EAST JORDAN, MICHIGAN, FRIDAY, MAY 17, 1929.

NUMBER 20

Great Consolidation Meeting

HELD AT H. S. AUDITORIUM LAST THURSDAY NIGHT.

Assistant Supt. of Public Instruction, B. J. Ford gives information on Consolidation. Over 125 business men, school board members and interested parties attended the meeting. Fifty school board members representing 13 or 15 rural districts were present. Mr. Ford remarked after the meeting last Thursday night that it was the best of its kind he had attended in Michigan this year. The most interesting and keenest questions asked of any meeting he had attended. Supt. Ford, and H. C. Meyers of Boyne Falls answered any possible objection to consolidation. The reaction to the above meeting was that some districts have already decided to come in and others are going to consider the matter at once.

Petitions from the State Department are expected this week. After which they will be circulated in all the districts interested in petitioning for consolidation. It was found by comparing the local situation with other consolidation projects in the past and at the present time in Michigan that the situation at East Jordan and vicinity is ideal for consolidation. As Mr. Ford said, "East Jordan has one of the best school buildings and schools (for the building is only the beginning of a good school) anywhere in this section. And it is all paid for. The local district will owe nothing at the end of the year but a possible small temporary loan. To cap the climax East Jordan will receive a very substantial aid from the State, amounting to a good many thousand dollars. So much, so that another year without question they will have as low a tax as perhaps any rural school district in the County. Therefore the rural districts can not argue high taxes. Mr. Ford said that "East Jordan School District was like a business man buying his store building, filling the shelves with goods and asking a man who had invested nothing to come in with him and share the profits." He said that he could not possibly imagine anyone that would not consider East Jordan's consolidation proposition. An opportunity to be seized at once. Some people object that the roads cannot be kept open. This is really more of an excuse than an objection for hundreds of schools have been consolidated in the Northern Peninsula and other northern sections and this has been handled with ease and dispatch. This is true of Boyne Falls, a nearby example. With a large unit as this one would be, a plough could be sent out to open the roads. If not a local plough, then the county plough. Because the territory asking for such help would be able to get it because of their size and influence.

Some people even object that their children would freeze waiting for a bus. This is also a minor objection. In fact it is hardly an objection at all because naturally the people in other districts that are coming in to East Jordan are just as interested in your boys and girls convenience as any one else. Mr. Ford said it is doubtful if any bus in the State under any ordinary circumstances would be five minutes off schedule. There are times of course when such storms come that even the people in the towns themselves do not venture out. Even if an entire week was missed during the year because of very severe storms, what of it. This is not going to really handicap anyone. In many cases it is arranged with a nearby neighbor at the bus stop for any children to step in and keep warm and wait until the bus arrives. Another way this matter is handled is to have a local shelter built for the children. Another person objected that he lives on a cross road and inasmuch as he had to pay taxes he ought to have as much service as any one on the main road. He said his children would have to walk about three-quarters of a mile to get where the bus would stop. It was asked—how far do your children walk now? He ventured the information that they now walk better than 1 and 1/4 miles at the present time. Someone suggested that possibly they might walk the 1/4 of a mile to the bus instead of a mile and a quarter. However it stands to reason that the bus cannot go in on all cross roads and over the hills to pick up every child. If this were done the bus would not arrive much before noon. It will have to be admitted that some of the children will have to walk to a certain corner and bus stop in order to come in. However at all times keep in mind that you are dealing with the boy's and girl's education for all their future. As it was generally agreed at this meeting it is not a question entirely of dollars and cents but the education of boys and girls. Even at higher taxes it is a real opportunity.

A cordial invitation is extended to all ladies in the County to be present and to inspect the many exhibits on display, to hear the interesting report of the project, and to listen to the highly attractive program that will be offered to the public. The two main speakers are of State-wide reputation and will have a wonderful message for all. Come and enjoy the day.

With The State Legislature

LIST OF SOME OF THE MOST IMPORTANT ENACTMENTS.

Michigan Press Association, Lansing Bureau, May 9, 1929.

Providing in the closing hours for the Hospital building and rehabilitation program which has been a bone of controversy all during the session, the legislature of 1929 wound up its affairs Wednesday night at 9:30 and adjourned sine die. Appropriation bills will make a new record of high taxes for Michigan, but that was unavoidable if the long neglected institutions of Michigan are to be even moderately modernized. Members of the legislature as well as all the people of the State fully realize that it is imperative that State Hospitals have more buildings and that old buildings must be repaired and made usable. With every such institution in the State seriously overcrowded and with hundreds of patients on the waiting list, the present condition is nearly if not all of these institutions is a disgrace to Michigan. The program as outlined will cover four years of building and repairing, the most pressing needs to be taken care of first and the others to follow as rapidly as is humanly possible. Members realize that in making appropriations for this purpose for a longer period than two years they were going beyond their present term of office, but realizing that the legislature of 1931 may change the program they felt they were right in instituting the program and getting it under way without further delay.

The final action of Senate and House removed the proposition for a mill tax, as proposed in the Hartman bill, changing it to direct appropriations. The bill as passed by both houses calls for an institutional tax of $6,040,000 for 1930; $3,880,000 of which is for hospital purposes, and the 1931 figures total $5,717,300, of which $4,287,300 is for hospital purposes. The figures for 1932 and 1933 are still higher, being $7,429,500 for 1932 and $7,840,500 for 1933, but of course these figures may be changed by the next legislature.

The only call of the House for this session was made on this bill, on the demand of Representative Gus Hartman, author of the bill. The call brought in, however, not more than half a dozen members who were out-

Meguzees To East Jordan

1930 CONVENTION WILL BE HELD HERE NEXT MAY.

At the annual meeting of Meguzee Association, O. E. S., held at Elk Rapids last week, the invitation of the East Jordan delegation to hold their 1930 Convention in this city was accepted.

The Elk Rapids Convention was well attended, the work well handled, the banquet and dinner enjoyable, with 126 delegates remaining over the second day.

Officers elected were:— President—Mrs. F. H. Crowl, Harbor Springs.

First Vice President—Mrs. Louise Richards, Bellaire.

Second Vice President—W. A. Gardner, Mancelona.

Secretary—Mrs. W. E. Ellis, Petoskey.

Treasurer—Mrs. Alice Palmer, Kalkaska.

Member of the executive committee—Mrs. Margaret Herrington, Traverse City (retiring President.)

side the bar of the House when the measure came up for final action, and the vote on the bill, concurring in amendments made in the Senate after a report of a conference committee, was 75 for the bill to 17 against. The members voting against the proposition were Representatives Calvert, Coleman, Clarence Dacey, Vincent Dacey, DeLand, Espie, Goodwin, Hall, Harnly, Holland, Kistler, MacDonald, Miller, Snow, Watson, Williams and Wilson.

Among the last hour activities were the passing of the malt tax bill and the killing of the medical "basic science" bill, both of which have been subject of much controversy. The osteopath bill, however, giving the osteos their own examining board, went through both houses and is in the hands of the governor.

Another last-minute measure saw the passing of the so-called "garnishment" bill, which has been extensively lobbied for and against. The bill as finally passed does not change the provisions of the present law except to provide that the plaintiff must furnish the address or the "shop number" of the defendant, which will enable the large employer of labor to identify the particular John Jones or Sam Smith from among the dozen of that name which might be in his employ, which is fair enough.

The capital punishment measure was called back this week to correct an error which might have let murderers escape any penalty prior to this law going into effect. While this was being corrected a determined effort was made in both houses to attach the referendum clause which had been removed on its first trip through the mill, but these attempts failed miserably and the bill is in the hands of the Governor.

The conservation department's fish and game bills finally went through both houses, but so changed and mangled that they could not have been recognized by their authors. A provision which would have compelled the conservation department to spend about $300,000 for game refuges was finally stricken from the game bill, after a bitter fight on the floor of the House.

The Howell bill, which would have required all drivers of automobiles to undergo an examination for a renewal of their drivers' licenses was killed in the transportation committee of the House.

The Cuthbertson bill for the sterilization of mentally incompetent or insane persons was approved by the Senate, where it had been held in committee until it was thought among the dead issues.

Among the more important bills to be passed during the session are: A new election code providing for permanent registrations in cities of 5,000 or over.

The capital punishment bill. Important amendments to the criminal code.

Strenuous penalties for infringements of the liquor laws.

Establishing a State Police radio broadcasting station.

Prohibiting sale and use of fireworks, except by special permit.

The cigarette tax.

Michigan's first budget bill.

Regulation of oil and gas industry.

Re-enactment of the teachers' retirement fund.

Freeing owner of automobile from liability of damages for injury to free passenger.

Amending inheritance tax laws.

Establishing council to study court procedure with a view to simplifying court practice.

Creating state board of aeronautics.

More stringent narcotics restrictions.

Providing $2,000,000 to aid poorer school districts.

Landscape Demonstrations

TWO FARMS WILL BE PLANTED BY SPECIALIST, O. I. GREGG.

Of great interest to many farmers who are endeavoring to beautify their farm homes will be the two planting demonstrations conducted by O. I. Gregg, Landscaping Specialist of Michigan State College next week.

The first will be held on the farm of W. K. Straw, located one-half mile south of the new Belvedere Golf Links, Charlevoix, on Wednesday forenoon, May 22nd. The second, on the farm of Ben Gardner, Boyne City, located about 2 1/2 miles north on Wildwood Harbor road, Friday forenoon, May 24th.

Both of the above farms have been landscaped by O. I. Gregg last year and these public demonstrations are conducted for the purpose of showing interested farmers some of the principles of good landscaping involved, the number of native shrubs that are available and can be used to good advantage, as well as the remarkable change in the appearance of a farm home that a very small expenditure of money will bring about.

Nothing adds so much to personal enjoyment and happiness as to have a fine farm home, neat, clean, attractive, and with its natural beauty brought out by proper landscaping. Many of the flowers, shrubs, and trees will actually be planted at each of the two farms, so that the public can note the manner of planting, care of shrubs, and the proper place for each planting.

Come and spend an enjoyable and profitable few hours at one of these demonstrations and see for yourself what a great difference a few dollars will make. Don't forget the dates—Wednesday a. m., May 22, at W. K. Straws, and Friday a. m., May 24, at Ben Gardner's.

B. C. MELLENCAMP, County Agr'l Agent.

"ARE YOU A MASON" PLEASES A LARGE AUDIENCE

The public has been entertained for the second time within the last few weeks by a High School production when the Junior Class of the East Jordan High School presented their annual play to an unusually large audience on Friday evening, May 10th. The play—"Are You A Mason," a comedy in three acts, provided plenty of laughs at the humorous predicaments that resulted from a father and son-in-law pretending to be Masons, and a young man attempting to pass as a French designer.

The following students made up the large cast of fourteen characters: Frank Perry, Carl Weaver, Eva Perry, his wife, Cecilia Burbank Mrs. Bloodgood, Eva's mother, Frances Brown, a hen-pecked husband, Wm. Taylor, Annie Bloodgood and Lulu Bloodgood daughters, Thelma Sommerville and Katherine Wangeman.

George Fisher, a suitor of Annie's, Wm. Kitsman, Ernest Morrison, a suitor of Lulu's, Sam Kling, Hamilton Travers, a would-be actor.

Mr. and Mrs. Halton, country friends of the Perry's, Howard Darbee and Alice Keats.

Fanchon Armitage, a French Dressmaker, Cathola Lorraine, Lottie, an Irish Maid, Clara Leu, Policeman, Joseph Boyd.

Considerable talent was exhibited by every member of the cast. The play which was really a heavy one for amateurs was remarkably well given, each character doing his very best to make it the splendid success that it was.

Some innovations accompanied the play in the form of an announcer, Arthur Arnston, who helped prepare the audience for the mood of the play, the other was had in the songs and dances given between acts by Ethel Staley, Moreen Bulow, Helen Severance, Louise Bretz, Louise Hipp and Virginia Hite, with Mrs. Wylie accompanying them.

To Mr. Wylie, who, as advisor of the class, directed the play, much credit is due for the admirable way in which it was presented. He was assisted by Miss Perkins. The cast and directors wish to express their appreciation for the many helps and suggestions given them by Mr. Warda also for Miss Crofoot's assistance in the choosing of costumes, to Miss Merritt as ticket sales manager, and to Miss White and Miss Cook who helped with the make-up.

It is estimated that over $150 was the amount cleared.

Great Consolidation Meeting

Wherever a consolidation has taken place in Michigan they have never gone back to the old system. A pretty good indication that it is a good thing. Someone suggested that if the boys and girls were in the East Jordan system one year and it was decided to let them vote on whether or not they would go back to the rural system the thing would be quickly decided in favor of the consolidated school.

Of course everyone knows that it does away with the tuition, that it keeps the roads open, and that the boys and girls get a real education if they are interested in such a thing at all. The grade people get a foundation that will prepare them to enter High School that is absolutely out of the question at the present time.

It was also shown that many of the rural districts expect a good deal of State aid but quoting Mr. Pierce in a conversation with the local Superintendent a few days ago he said, "that the school that had a relatively large percentage of attendance in comparison with the census and a fairly high tax rate is the one that would get the real State aid and not many little isolated districts as many people think." It was also shown by Mr. Ford, and Mr. Meyers of Boyne Falls, giving one of the best examples of all Michigan how a combination of high taxed districts have consolidated and largely reduced the taxes. A combination of the rural districts about East Jordan and the East Jordan system will work to the interest of both parties and from all that has been said since the meeting it has been shown that practically everyone who attended the meeting agrees that it is the best solution of a serious problem. It does away with all local annoyances that often come up in the smaller school unit.

It was suggested that local meetings be held where all interested parties of two or three districts could come together and discuss the matter further. If such meetings are arranged it may be possible to get Herman Meyers of Boyne Falls to assist some local people in going over the discussion that took place at the above meeting. It is even possible as Mr. Ford suggested to get one or two men from the State Department to come up at two or three large rural meetings to discuss the matter.

East Jordan's Superintendent of Schools is in a position to give any technical facts and any figures in regard to the East Jordan system and any other system in Michigan or any figures on the districts of county-census, valuation or consolidation of districts if necessary. If not this man, this can also be said for almost any school board member as four of them were at the meeting the other night and would be glad to discuss the matter. The following East Jordan School Board members attending the above meeting and would be able to give anyone almost any information on the subject of Consolidation: A. L. Darbee, G. W. Bechtold, C. H. Pray and W. P. Porter.

7th and 8th Grades Held Track Meet Monday, May 6th

A Junior High School Track Meet was held at the East Jordan High School grounds between the seventh and eighth grades.

There will be a series of meets between these two grades and a great interest is shown by all the students, both boys and girls. The spirit is very high and keen rivalry (which makes in the long run) the idea of sportsmanship, friendship and competitive sacrifice comes forth in the efforts of the boys.

The eighth grade defeated the 7th grade in the first meet, Monday afternoon, May 6th by the score of 40½ to 15½.

The seventh grade was weakened by the absence of Lawrence Hayes and the illness of Bobbie Sommerville. Also Clare Batterbee stubbed his toe in the relay race in a sand pit and lost a comfortable lead for the 7th grade.

Some good talent is being developed and future high school teams will benefit by the addition of this future athletic material. Summary score of the meet is as follows:

Tax commission to study methods of taxation and recommend possible changes to next legislature.

Political booms began to make their appearance during the closing days of the session. Among the many were those for possible candidates for governor, lieutenant governor, state treasurer, attorney general, congress and other important places.

Governor Green remains silent as to his plans for the future but it is not thought likely he will stand for a third term.

Fred Ming of Cheboygan, the most efficient speaker of the House for many years, is spoken of as a most likely aspirant for gubernatorial honors. He would have many warm supporters from among the members of the legislature. Other possible candidates are Charles DeLand, John S. Haggerty, Wilbur Brucker, and of course Luren Dickinson.

Senator Chas. S. Sink, Ann Arbor, is seriously mentioned as a candidate for lieutenant governor. He has had many years of legislative experience in both houses and has many friends in political circles.

Senator Wm. F. Turner of Morley is prominently mentioned as a candidate for State Treasurer.

Representative Geo. C. Watson of Capac, who has been a most efficient chairman of the judiciary committee of the House for several years, will very likely be a candidate for attorney general.

Representative Gus Hartman of Marquette is apparently away out in front for the position of speaker of the next House. He is an outstanding member of the House, a hard worker, and has many friends.

And these are but a few from among the many.

He's quite "uppish" is Benny Lom—but not quite as "uppish" as would appear. That is to say, the California football player does not attain quite seven feet altitude in the broad jump, as he seems to have here. Benny ought to add a few yards to his punts on such training.

Detroit—A new sedan was parked on Lafayette boulevard near the Elks Temple. In the rear window was a placard reading: "This car is a lemon. I've driven it three weeks and have had three new rear systems and a new axle." And, to make it realistic, he had half a dozen lemons strung about the rear windows.

St. Louis—Mrs. Rachel Kimberling, who celebrated her ninety-ninth birthday, January 23, died at the home of her daughter-in-law, Mrs. I. W. Kimberling. She was probably the oldest resident of Gratiot county and had resided in Michigan most of her life. Mrs. Kimberling fell and injured her hip and the shock caused her death.

Young People Will Be Young People

By THOMAS ARKLE CLARK
Dean of Men, University of Illinois.

Youth has always taken chances wherever we find youth, and in the eyes of middle age has ever leaned toward unconventional. No one hates advice and regulation so much as young people; they are eager to go their own way, and possibly not more so today than they have previously been.

I am just reading Northanger Abbey, written one hundred and thirty years ago, so Miss Austen's biographer says. Isabella, reckless and daring to ignore the conventions of the time, was going off unchaperoned in an open carriage to drive fifteen miles or so with her brother John and Mr. Morland. It was as bad as if a pair of lovers today should park their car on a side road at midnight with the lights out. Catherine was discussing the matter with the Allens whose guest she was at Bath.

"Well," said Mr. Allen, "do you think of going too?"
"No, I had just engaged myself to walk with Miss Tilney before they told me of it; and therefore, you know, I could not go with them, could I?"

"No, certainly not," Mr. Allen replies, "and I am glad you do not think of it. These schemes are not at all the thing. Young men and young women driving about the country in open carriages! Now and then it is very well; but going to luns and public places together! It is not right, and I wonder Mrs. Thorpe should allow it. I am glad you do not think of going; I am sure Mrs. Morland would not be pleased. Mrs. Allen, are you of my thinking? Do you not think these kind of projects objectionable?"

"Yes, very much so, indeed. Open carriages are nasty things," Mrs. Allen replies, thinking more of her clothes than of the awful immorality of which the wild young people were committing. "A clean gown is not five minutes wear in them. You are splashed getting in and getting out, and the wind takes your hair and your bonnet in every direction. I hate an open carriage myself."

"I know you do; but that is not the question. Do not you think it has an odd appearance if young ladies are frequently driven about in them by young men to whom they are not even related?"

"Yes, my dear, a very odd appearance, indeed. I cannot bear to see it."
And then Mr. Allen, more philosophical possibly than his wife, "But one must not be over particular. Young people will be young people as your good mother says herself. Young people do not like to be always thwarted."

No more do they today any more than they did one hundred and thirty years ago when Jane Austen was a girl. Perhaps the best solution is not to take their irregularities too seriously but to be philosophical about it as Mr. Allen was. They are going to do quite as they please anyway in spite of our protests.

Monster With Almost Human Head Found.

Paris.—A strange monster with an "almost human" head, which was killed in the Venezuelan jungles ten years ago, was described by Dr. Georges Montandon, noted French scientist, in a paper read before the members of the French Anthropological Institute. Photographs of the monster were projected on a screen. The animal was described as having 32 teeth, no tail and being about the size of a large man.

The photograph, according to the scientists, revealed an unknown anthropoid, akin to the orang-outang species but closely resembling the Neanderthal man.

Doctor Montandon placed particular emphasis in his lecture on the size of the animal, saying it was much larger than the Atele apes which it resembles in some ways and larger than any anthropoid species ever found in Latin-America. This, ever alone, he said, made the discovery of outstanding importance.

The scientist's paper told how the monster was killed by Francois De Lays, a French geologist and friend of Doctor Montandon, who penetrated unexplored depths of the Venezuelan jungle on a scientific expedition. One day, while seated in a temporary camp with a companion, the geologist heard a crashing in the branches of nearby trees.

A moment later two ape-like creatures jumped down into the camp clearing, waving their hairy arms. The two men fired and one animal fell.

The geologist immediately propped up the dead animal and photographed it at close range. He attempted to preserve the body or head but, owing to grave danger which overtook the party, was forced to abandon everything but his records in a notebook and the photograph.

A copy of the notes and the photograph were sent to Doctor Montandon who said he had made extensive studies of the subject and hoped that an expedition could be formed to search the area where the animal was killed. He said hope of forming such an expedition was the cause of his silence on the subject in the past, but now he would be pleased if others undertook the journey.

Holds Burial Service

Over Amputated Leg.

Warsaw.—All Warsaw has been startled by the recent funeral ceremony conducted in connection with the burial of the amputated leg of a seventy-year-old Jew, Chl Weinberg, who was himself the most interested spectator. The old man was so grateful for the success of the operation for the removal of his limb, that he did not wish the amputated member to be destroyed, but instead, preserved it in alcohol. After several months in the hospital, where the leg was also kept, Weinberg was able to leave for his home.

He had not forgotten the leg, however, and a few days later arrived to convey it from the hospital to the Jewish cemetery, where a grave had been prepared. In the cemetery office where a special tub had been prepared, the limb was taken from alcohol, washed in accordance with Jewish rites, enveloped in white linen placed upon a miniature bier and covered with a black cloth.

The funeral procession then proceeded towards that part of the cemetery consecrated to the Weinberg family, where the leg was interred, the funeral oration being delivered by Weinberg himself, who praised the lost limb for its endurance, as well as its sturdy resistance to colds and gout.

Washington.—Uncle Sam is out to make "scientific farmers" of federal prisoners.

Those assigned to farm work, under Department of Justice plans, will be given "a course equivalent to a short course in an agricultural college."

Plans for this and for development of farms connected with the prisons have been discussed by prison, Department of Agriculture and bureau of education officials. It is proposed to obtain assistance of county agents and co-operation of land grant colleges, the department said.

Chemist Figures Out Weight of One Hair

Seattle, Wash.—Albert Jacobson, city chemist, has a pair of new scales and here are a few of the calculations he has worked out with his latest play thing:

A strand of human hair long enough to encircle the world at the equator would weigh 750 pounds.

The ordinary domestic variety of pin weighs 0.247975 ounce.

The ordinary 2-cent postage stamp is lighter than the smallest stamp, the weights respectively being 0.1297324 ounce and 0.0565 ounce.

The ordinary human hair, one inch long, weighs 0.0002 gram or 0.00007938 ounce.

TO PRESERVE GLORY OF 20TH CENTURY

Ozark Pyramid to Hold Records of Civilization.

Monte Ne, Ark.—Long after our Twentieth century civilization is gone and perhaps forgotten, a permanent and complete record of it may be found in a 130-foot pyramid being built here.

Even as the ancient inhabitants of Egypt preserved records of their civilization in the massive pyramids in the Nile valley, so will this towering pyramid in the foothills of the Ozarks preserve that of the Twentieth century.

Every item that goes to make up our modern civilization, from the now almost extinct hair pin to television and radio devices, is to be included.

It was years ago that William Hope Harvey, Rogers, (Ark.) millionaire first conceived the idea of the Civilization pyramid, as it is to be known.

Student of History.

As a close student of history in college he studied the rise and fall of former civilizations and read how they had perished with records of their glory now almost extinct.

As he accumulated wealth his dreams to preserve the present civilization began to take definite form and the starting of the present pyramid is the result.

The site of the unique structure is at the end of a spur of the Ozark mountains in the edge of a wide and fertile valley. These mountains are said by geologists to have been 14,000 feet high at one time and are among the oldest in the world. At their greatest height they are said to have dwarfed the Rockies by comparison.

The base is of concrete construction 60 feet square. The pyramid resting on this base will be 20 feet square and 10 feet high. It will then be reduced to 32 feet square and extend an additional 25 feet and then 22 feet square and rise another 85 feet, shaftlike, ending at the top 6 feet square, to a total height of 130 feet.

In the part 32 feet square, now under construction, will be a room 16 feet square surrounded by a wall 8 feet thick. Two huge steel vaults will be built in this part. Other rooms of the same general construction are to be built above this.

Extensive tests have been made of all materials to go into the construction of the pyramid and it is predicted it will resist erosion for millions of years.

On a giant concrete foyer that has been built on the hillside above the pyramid is room for 1,000 persons to sit down and listen to a band that may play on a concrete bandstand in a like 20 feet below.

On top of the shaft, for fear of erosive and volcanic disturbances, will be placed a plate of enduring metal underneath a layer of concrete, on which will rest:

"When this can be read, go below and find a record of and cause of the death of a former civilization." Similar plates will be placed still lower reading: "Go within."

Books in Glass Cases.

In one of the large vaults in the base will be placed a book giving the rise and growth of the present civilization. The book will be printed with special paper and between the pages will be transparent paper to help preserve the ink. Three copies of the book will be printed.

These books will be placed in heavy glass containers at a glass factory and the lid molded thereon. In one of the vaults also will be placed volumes of each industrial and scientific attainment and containing pictures and blue prints of all inventions. Pictures of animals and persons of different ages will be included.

The Bible, reference books, encyclopedias and histories also will have a niche in the vault. A key book to the English as well as all other languages will be included.

After everything is placed in the vaults the pyramid will be closed with reinforced concrete and plates bolted over the entrances.

Harvey and his associates fear this civilization, like others, may decay through selfishness, and like its predecessors, pass without any formal record of its accomplishments, thus the pyramid.

Black in Monte Carlo After Plane's Collapse

Paris.—Van Lear Black, Baltimore publisher, was in Monte Carlo recently, following his airplane's forced landing near Bordighera, Italy.

Engine trouble forced the plane down while Black and his staff of five persons were returning to London from Capetown.

Repeated attempts of the plane to land alarmed spectators at Bordighera. The landing was finally accomplished near the shore at Torrente, Nervi.

Brunettes Older Than Blondes, Says Expert

Waco, Texas.—Gentlemen may prefer blondes, but Adam was a brunette. Mrs. Martha Fowkes-Haun, who recently lectured at the Domestic Science club here, is authority for the statement.

She declared all of our remote ancestors were brunettes. Time and environment produced blondes, she said. The brunette thinks retrospectively, according to Mrs. Fowkes-Haun, while the blondes are the promoters of the world.

IT is the gasoline that "knocks out that knock"—makes your car eager to get away—hungry for hills—and powerful in hard going.

There are a number of ethyl gasolines on the market but there is only one Red Crown Ethyl. It is made by combining proved, dependable Red Crown gasoline and Ethyl Brand Anti-knock Compound.

Red Crown Ethyl is sweet, clean and fast. All gums, sulphur compounds and other matter which might cause you endless trouble have been eliminated.

To rid gasoline of these harmful agents is expensive but it must be done. Their presence means corroded wrist pins and driving rods, etched cylinders and faulty pistons which call for expensive repairs.

You can buy cheap gasoline but can you afford to use it?

You'll never know what your car can do until you use Red Crown Ethyl. You can get it anywhere. It is sold at as low a price as you can afford to pay for an Ethyl gasoline.

THE WHY of SUPERSTITIONS
By H. IRVING KING

SHOOTING STARS

THERE are various superstitions connected with shooting stars or meteorites. In this country and in England the most common ones are that a "falling star" means a birth; and that if you wish when you see a star fall you will get your wish. The mystery of the heavenly bodies to the primitive mind caused them to be regarded as gods or the abodes of gods and endowed them with a living animal character as well as a spiritual one. And out of the belief that the stars in their course influenced human life sprang the pseudo science of astrology in which the position of the planets at the hour of a man's birth played so important a part—the casting of activities or horoscopes.

From earliest times the mystery of birth and the mystery of the stars appear to have been joined in some way in the primitive mind. Naturally therefore, primitive man saw in a falling star a celestial visitant from the realms of the gods; a new soul come to earth; as does the persistent primitive in man today when, seeing a shooting star—one man remarks to another, "Hi! we'll hear of a birth in the neighborhood tomorrow."

Wishing on the shooting star is a remnant of the primitive tendency to star-deification. The meteorite is a god suddenly manifesting himself and to him you appeal for the fulfillment of your wish. This idea will be found in the beliefs of many savage peoples today; the New Zealand natives, for instance, say that a falling star is a god kicked out of heaven by a god stronger than himself.

MOTHER'S QUILT

By DOUGLAS MALLOCH

STRANGE that I carry this quilt around?
Well I never think that it's strange at all.

For many a comforting thought I've found
In this patchwork quilt when the shadows fall.

For here's a bit of my sister's dress,
The one that you never knew, I guess.
The little saint of my childhood hours
The reaper took like the first spring flow'rs.

My mother fashioned this patchwork quilt,
She made it out of the things of old,
And maybe you cannot see the gilt,
But this patchwork quilt is a cloth of gold.

For here's a bit of her Sunday best,
And here's a square of my father's vest,
And here's a waist that belonged to me,
I tore when I fell from the apple tree.

Strange that I carry from town to town
This queer old quilt of my poorer days?
Yet every night when I lay me down
It warms my heart in a hundred ways.

Wherever my feet may chance to roam,
Here's a thought of her, here's a touch of home;
And, a castle roof or the sky above,
It covers a boy like his mother's love.

Why We Do What We Do
by M. K. THOMSON, Ph. D.

WHY WE ARE STINGY

I KNOW a man who makes no fuss about paying the bills on his automobile. No matter how big the repair bill may be he pays it. It hurts him to pay hotel bills.

We are all like that in some things. It may not be hotel bills in our case. It may be anything. There are many personal differences in this respect.

There are those who hate to pay any and all bills. They hang on to their money just as long as they possibly can. They are the people who rub off the eagle from the coin. But even this class of folk hate some bills worse than others.

We all have a different sense of values. If the market price on these values is in accord with ours or is below it we become very extravagant in these matters. If, on the other hand, the market price is beyond what we regard as a fair price for the commodity, we become stingy in that respect and either do not purchase at all or do so grudgingly. Thus strawberries out of season may be worth 40 cents a dish to a man because he thinks strawberries are cheap at any price, while another man fully as well off financially will think it extremely extravagant because he has it in his mind that strawberries should never be more than 15 cents a dish at any time.

It is not a matter of how much money you have. No matter how rich or how poor you are there are some things in which you are stingy and some things in which you are extravagant. We spend money gladly for the things that are familiar to us; the things that give us direct satisfaction. We are stingy in the things that we regard as unnecessary or exorbitant. At each new advance in price we need to be re-educated before we can enjoy the purchase.

Mother's Cook Book

Don't worry when you stumble; remember a worm is about the only thing that can't fall down.

A vigorous temper is not altogether an evil; men who are as easy as an old shoe are generally of as little worth—Spurgeon.

VARIOUS GOOD THINGS

THOSE who are fortunate enough to live where the delicious shad may be served fresh on their tables also enjoy the shad roe in season. Other roe may be used and is really very appetizing if one is not already used to shad.

To prepare it it must be fresh from the water if possible. Plunge at once into boiling water to which a little salt and a tablespoonful of lemon juice or vinegar has been added. This keeps it from spoiling and makes it firm. Cook gently for ten minutes then remove from the water with a skimmer; drop into ice water to chill then drain and it is ready to be cooked in different ways.

Baked Shad Roe.

Parboil the roe, drain it and lay on a buttered tin plate. Dredge with pepper and salt, spread soft butter over it and then cover with flour lightly dredged over it. Bake thirty minutes, basting frequently with water, butter, pepper and salt, dusting with flour after each basting.

Broiled Roe.

When ready to cook split lengthwise and brush over with cooking oil, broil over a clear fire or under gas. Serve with maitre d'hotel butter, hot baked potatoes, crisp radishes, hot rolls and coffee.

Brown Shad With Roe.

This is a favorite spring dish at Atlantic City. Split the fish as for broiling, cook the roe as above, cool. Into the baking pan with vegetable oil, put the fish skin-side down. Season with salt and pepper and dot with bits of butter. Put into a hot oven for a few minutes. Remove the skin or casing from the roe, separate the little eggs, roll in fine cracker crumbs and sprinkle all over the fish. Return to the oven and let the shad bake on top until a rich brown. Serve the maitre d'hotel sauce. To make it, mix two tablespoonfuls of butter with the juice of half a lemon added slowly, then a few sprigs of finely chopped parsley; add pepper and salt and spread over the fish.

Baked Shad Roe With Cream Sauce.

After preparing the roe place it in a buttered casserole. Make a good cream sauce, using two tablespoonfuls each of butter and flour and a pint of milk; stir and cook until thick, add salt and pepper. Pour four tablespoonfuls over the roe and cover and bake twenty minutes. Uncover and pour on more of the sauce, bake twenty minutes longer, basting frequently. At last pour the last of the sauce over and when hot serve.

Stone for Fireplaces

The bureau of standards says in regard to the use of lake shore pebbles or boulders in fireplaces there are certain types of stone which should not be placed where they will receive an intensity of heat. The firebox should be lined with firebrick, but many types of stone may be used in the facing and arch, where the heat is not great. Granite or quartz rock is usually the least resistant to heat, and may be cracked if placed where the fire may reach them. Sandstone, limestone or quartzite will withstand considerable heat without cracking.

Ann Arbor—Donald M. Matthews, professor of forest management at the University of Michigan, and William T. Cox, former state forester of Minnesota, have been appointed by the government of Brazil to organize a forest service in that country.

Potoskey—Louis Muchinski, an employe of the Pennsylvania railroad for 25 years, was fatally injured here when a timber, used in switching freight cars, broke, one piece striking him in the abdomen. He died a few hours later. His widow and four children survive.

Battle Creek—Plans for the establishment of a bird sanctuary at Goguc Lake, south of this city, have been announced by W. K. Kellogg, millionaire manufacturer, who last year presented the Michigan State College with a demonstration farm and bird sanctuary at Gull Lake.

Lansing—A bill to outlaw all soldier bonus claims not brought before January 1, 1930 was defeated in the House of Representatives. It was sent to the Military Affairs Committee for burial, after opponents pointed out that thousands of war veterans would suffer financial loss if it became law.

Lansing—An amendment to the act regulating and licensing the selling and possession of firearms, which would include weapons, cartridges or containers for the ejection of gas which will cause either permanent or temporary disability, was passed by the Senate. It previously had been approved by the House.

Bad Axe—Sunday movie shows in Bad Axe were approved and a referendum at a special election was asked in motions passed by the Bad Axe Community Club recently. The council refused 18 months ago to call a special election on the ground that the state law prohibits Sunday shows and no vote in Bad Axe could change the law.

Flint—A 50-pound coyote, the first reported killed in Genesee County in a half century, was shot by a party of hunters near Montrose, after they had trailed the animal four miles with dogs. The animal was sighted after having made raids on many chicken yards. It is believed to have come across the Straits of Mackinac during the winter.

Jackson—Sheriff Thomas Lovitt and his deputies are mystified by the disappearance of an airplane from the municipal airport that was brought here several days ago on a writ of attachment. Several parts were removed to render it useless. The parts are held by the county officers while an effort is being made to find the missing plane.

Adrian—Veronica, 3-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Kelly, of Gorman near here, was drowned in a creek near her home. With her sister, Mary, 6, the child had been searching for spring flowers. She lost her balance while picking a blossom near the creek and fell into the water. The sister summoned the parents, who took the girl from the water, but she was dead before medical aid arrived.

It costs very little to recondition a MODEL T FORD

THE Ford Motor Company is making a new car, but it is still proud of the Model T. It wants every owner of one of these cars to run it as long as possible at a minimum of trouble and expense.

Because of this policy and because of the investment that millions of motorists have in Model T cars, the Ford Motor Company will continue to supply parts as long as they are needed by Ford owners.

So that you may get the greatest use from your Model T, we suggest that you take it to the nearest Ford dealer and have him estimate on the cost of any replacement parts that may be necessary.

You will find this the economical thing to do because a small expenditure now will help to prevent costlier repairs later on, increase the value of the car, and give you thousands of miles of additional service.

For a labor charge of only $2.60 you can have your generator put in first-class condition. A new universal joint will be installed for a labor cost of $3. Overhauling the carburetor costs $1.50; steering gear, $3.50; radiator, $7.50. A complete overhauling of the rear axle assembly runs between $5.75 and $7 for labor. An average price of $22.50 covers the overhauling of the motor and transmission.

These prices are for labor only because the need and number of new parts depend on the condition of each car. The cost of these parts is low, however, because of the Ford policy of manufacturing and selling at a small margin of profit.
