NUMBER 48

Snow Plows Started Sunday

EARLIEST STORM IN YEARS CALLS OUT ROAD EQUIPMENT.

Snow removal equipment was called out in Charlevoix County for the first time this year, Sunday, Nov. 24. One of the earliest heavy storms in years, coupled with the necessity of opening the roads for the Monday morning school busses to get through to the East Jordan Schools called out the plows with the result that the five busses were able to run on scheduled time.

Charlevoix County was well prepared for the first invasion of "Old King Winter." Workmen under the supervision of R. T. Davis, County maintenance engineer, have been busy several weeks placing snow fences and making other preparations.

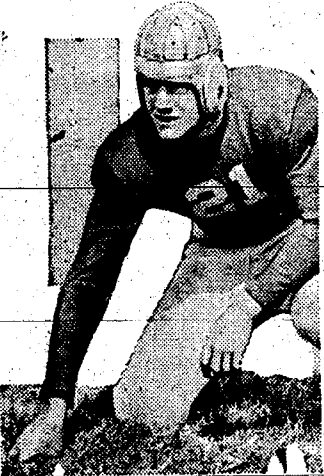

As in former years, all trunk lines allotted to this division will be kept open. In addition, a greater portion of the main county roads are coming in for attention. It is understood the county roads listed for snow removal include the Boyne City-Charlevoix, East Jordan-Charlevoix lower road, Ironton to Boyne City through Advance, the Peninsula road, East Jordan-Ellsworth, East Jordan-Boyne City and M-66 through to Chestonia.

Work of putting up snow fence is practically completed, according to the latest reports. Five carloads of new fence have been distributed throughout the county this year. Two were sent in by the State, the county purchased two and a half carloads and school districts a half carload. This new material is in addition to that already on hand. It is estimated that a total of 35 miles of fence is being used.

To the machinery equipment, a new 4 1/2 ton Acme truck, the largest now owned by the county, has been purchased and delivered. It has the latest plow attachment and was greatly needed. It is also intimated that other snow removal equipment will be added to that already available.

Culverts and other obstructions along the highways have been marked and everything was in readiness before heavy snowfall.

Claim Ohio End Offside

Iowa football officials claim they were robbed of the 7 to 6 victory by Ohio. They claim that when the blocked ball was recovered by Larkins for Ohio's only touchdown that the Ohio end was offside. Larkins is much pleased at his play.

Fesler Is Bright Star

Wesley Fesler, of Ohio State, is proving to be the bright star of the Buckeye team, his playing in the Michigan game being particularly brilliant.

MOTION PICTURE LOAN AND LIBRARY SERVICE

Lansing, Nov. 29.—The Department of Conservation Motion Picture Loan Service and Motion Picture Library Service, authorized by the Conservation Commission several months ago are now in operation. The loan services are being handled through the Educational Division.

Two pictures have been assembled and completed; "Wild Wings," two reels of Michigan birds, and "Michigan Mammals," two reels of Michigan animals. Other pictures including Michigan logging operations; fish and fish culture; Isle Royale scenes, Michigan's State Parks, and others are now being assembled, and a complete wild life library is expected to be finished by January 1.

Prints of each picture are being placed in many of the school systems of the State as rapidly as they are completed. The pictures are permanent loans to these schools and the only obligation to the schools is that they repair and maintain the films and report on attendance.

The Film Loan Service makes it possible to obtain any picture the Department has, as a loan. The only obligation is the cost of transportation of the film. Several copies of each picture have been printed so that they are always available to luncheon clubs, women's clubs, sports men's clubs and others who want them. This service will take the place of lectures on the particular subject represented.

Prof. Hollister To Speak Here

DEC. 5TH, AUSPICES PARENT-TEACHER'S ASS'N.

Professor Hollister of the Dramatics Department of the University of Michigan will give one of the University Extension Courses at the High School Auditorium Thursday, Dec. 5th, his subject will be "Androcles and the Lion."

Professor Hollister is one of the strongest Extension lecturers the University sends out. Usually things that come absolutely free are not always appreciated.

The Parent-Teachers Association has charge of this meeting and expect to have a fine program. This includes a chance also to hear the High School Band publically for the first time this year. The social evening will be followed by coffee, sandwiches and fried cakes. A fine plant will be presented to the Grade Room who has the greatest percentage of fathers and mothers in attendance—so most of you will be notified in a more affective way than even through the press.

We hope that many of the people from the country districts take this opportunity to enjoy a profitable and wholesome evening.

Highland Park—A Highland Park grocer is thinking of putting a potful of hot coffee in front of his store every morning for the convenience of men going to work at 5 a. m. "Doughnuts and cakes are delivered every morning before 6, and I usually get down about then to put them in, but frequently a dozen or so doughnuts have disappeared before I arrive," he said. "Anything to make life easier for people. If they want these doughnuts I guess I'll have to put coffee out for them, too."

Monroe—Plans have been announced for the building of a Masonic Temple here at a cost of $175,000. It will be located on the site at Washington and Second streets. The old temple was destroyed by fire in February.

Ann Arbor—Walter Steffy, of Ann Arbor, believes he is the champion plowman of Michigan. In six years he has plowed more than 4,000 acres on 62 farms in Washtenaw County. He still is using the same tractor with which he started plowing six years ago.

Jackson—Samuel Matteson, 44 years old, who lived near Jackson, was killed by electricity while working for the Consumers Power Co., at Brooklyn. Matteson was testing a fuse in the substation in Brooklyn when he received a charge of 10,000 volts.

Sault Ste. Marie—Although the freight tonnage passing the Government canals here in October was 2,000,000 tons under October of last year, 70,457,113 tons of freight had passed here by water up to Nov. 1. This is a new record for the canals here. The previous record was 68,370,264 tons in 1916.

State News in Brief

Ishpeming—Leroy S. Slayton, 46-year-old Alma deer hunter, died in the Ishpeming Hospital where his legs were amputated after the bones were shattered when he was struck by a bullet in the woods near Sidnaw.

Marshall—Drilling for oil has started in Calhoun County. The first piping was sunk in the test well at the O. L. Hubbard farm near here by the St. Clair Gas and Oil Corporation of Mt. Clemens. The St. Clair Corporation has leased 70,000 acres in the townships of Marengo, Marshall and Fredonia.

Kalamazoo—An ordinance to require bells on cats running at large in the city has been asked by the Boy Scouts of Troop 9, in an appeal to the City Commission. The purpose is to give birds warning of every cat's approach. The commission also is requested to legalize the killing of cats not wearing bells.

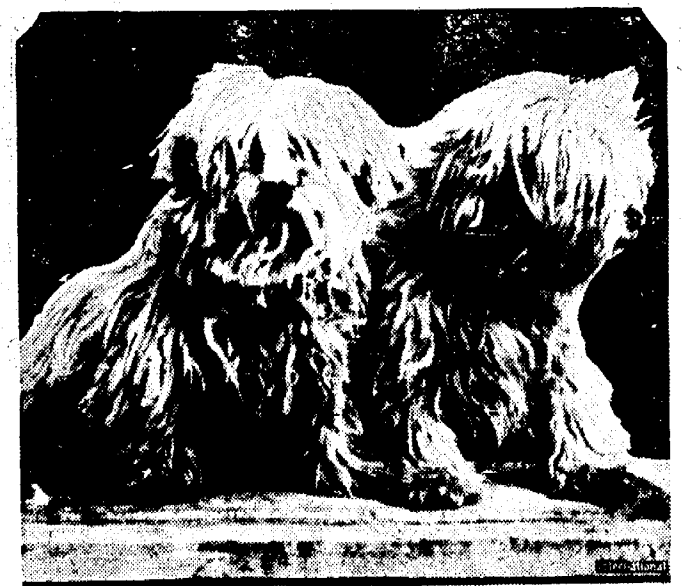

Howell—Overcome by fumes from a gas stove after a coffee pot had boiled over, putting out the fire, William Griffin, a Howell letter carrier, died in his home here. The body was not discovered until late in the evening. He was alone in the house, his wife being away on a visit. Griffin evidently lighted the gas under the coffee pot, then went to sleep.

Lake Odessa—Miss Helen Fellows, 19-year-old Lake Odessa beauty shop operator, was killed when the automobile in which she was riding with her mother, Mrs. James Fellows, collided with one driven by an unidentified man who fled. His car, the license of which had been issued to a Lansing insurance salesman, was ditched and destroyed by fire.

Manistee—When his friend, Bernard Oswald, failed to offer a lift as he passed Veto Daraskiviz, 14 years old, on a road near here, Daraskiviz, in a sudden fit of anger, raised his double-barreled shotgun and fired both charges into the back of the passing car, according to officers. Oswald was wounded in the neck. Daraskiviz was turned over to juvenile authorities.

Lansing—The heaviest penalty ever inflicted for game law violation in Michigan was imposed on John H. Maxwell, Crystal Falls, when he was sentenced to pay a fine of $400 and costs of $100 and three years' probation under one charge and was fined $100 under another charge. In addition to this punishment, Maxwell lost

Humbert's Betrothal Gift to Marie

These two Mastiff dogs of a rare breed are a betrothal present to Princess Marie of Belgium, made by her fiance, Prince Humbert of Italy. The princess expressed a desire some time ago to own a pair like this and Humbert, after a long search, found a pair of perfect specimens near London.

CAFETERIA ARRANGED FOR STUDENTS OF OUR SCHOOLS

I wonder if everyone in the East Jordan Consolidated District appreciates what it means to have their children get a good, hot bowl of soup, cocoa or other warm dish at the noon hour and to be able to eat in a warm room.

The above will be possible starting Monday after Thanksgiving Vacation and all of the children in the grades below the Junior High and some above who possibly may be a little under weight will receive this FREE. The others not included in this list will be charged five cents to help take care of the expenses of a lady who will be required to assist in the preparation of the vegetables, etc.

The expenses of the above undertaking are being taken care of without expense to the District. This article is in the form of a notice and request. All that is required of the boys and girls that come in from the former country districts, is that they bring their own bowl and spoon and a cup the days that they have cocoa.

The Menu as made out by Miss Hazel Crofoot is attached to this article for your convenience. Arrangements have not been entirely completed for the West Side, inasmuch as it is quite a difficult matter to arrange for a cafeteria in the same room in which the pupils have their classes. But announcements will be made through the children. Some arrangements will be made to take care of them for a week or so by transporting soup, etc., to the West Side Building.

MENU
Monday—Soup. Wednesday—Cocoa
Tuesday—Soup. Thursday—Soup
Friday—Baked Dish.

Bank Robber Is At Large

DESCRIPTION OF BANDIT IS BROADCAST TO AUTHORITIES ALL OVER STATE.

Police officials all over Michigan were on the lookout Monday for a young man answering the description of the lone bandit who single handedly held up the Wolverine State Savings Bank Saturday afternoon and escaped with over $1500. A description of the robber was broadcast to police authorities all over the State, and everywhere a vigilant watch is being kept.

However, up to the last information The Tribune received this afternoon, the bandit was still at large, although officials expressed confidence that he would be located and put behind iron bars in a short time.

The records of the bank were carefully audited following the holdup, and according to Wilbur Jones, Cashier, the loss was a little over $1500. However, neither the bank nor any of its depositors suffered from the robbery, as the bank was entirely protected by insurance. The bank was reimbursed for what had been taken away under the threat of the bandit's gun, and business was going on today as usual.

Only gold and currency was stolen. When the bandit pointed a gun at Miss Beatrice Palmer, assistant cashier, and demanded all the money the bank had on hand, she passed him only a heap of gold coins and currency, with which the bandit departed. However, he was unable to get any of the customers' bonds that had been deposited there, as in accordance with the bank's policy they had all been placed for safe keeping at a well known Detroit depository.—Cheboygan Tribune, Nov. 25.

Lansing—Appointment of two inspectors, who will occupy somewhat the same positions as such officers in police departments, is announced by Hugh Green, head of the law enforcement division of the department of conservation. The appointments are H. M. Agler, Lansing, and Palmer Landon, Mt. Pleasant. For the past two years Mr. Agler has been in charge of the Lansing office of the division; Mr. Landon was formerly assistant to the chief conservation officer of the lower peninsula.

Mt. Clemens—Louis Fisher, 30 years old, of Willard avenue, East Detroit, a mechanic at the Kaiser Motor Sales, Nine-Mile road and Gratiot avenue, and his sister, Mrs. Mitchell Cox, also of Willard avenue, East Detroit, received word recently that the two were among the heirs to a $5,000,000 estate, left by an uncle. Fisher's portion, as well as his sister's, will amount to approximately $100,000 each. Louis Fisher is one of a family of 11. Both he and Mrs. Cox came to East Detroit from southern Minnesota, about six years ago.

School Busses Carrying 225

STUDENTS. BUSES RAN ON TIME IN SPITE OF STORM.

It was pleasing to the people interested in the local schools, particularly the idea of consolidation, that in spite of one of the worst storms in thirty years at this time of year, there was no delay in the busses Monday morning. Every bus was in on time. In fact all of the busses made their regular route they have been following this fall except one. Mr. Crowell did not make his regular route that morning for the reason that arrangements had been made to have the sub-bus bring the Vance children to meet him. Two sub-busses started on the Miles and Rock Elm districts, Monday.

There are some localities where possibly an extra snow fence should be placed, for instance on the side of a hill or cut. Should more snow come in the near future, we hope people interested in their children will make it known to the School Board or Superintendent of Schools, just where extra fence is needed and we'll try to see that it is placed.

The district is in a far better position to take care of the transportation of boys and girls than they at first anticipated for the reason that a sixth emergency Chevrolet bus has been put into service. A number of things has been done by friends of the school beyond anything promised or expected at the time consolidation was discussed.

It might be interesting to many to know that 225 children are being transported to the East Jordan schools. The total enrollment the middle of September was 656. Since that time 34 more children have entered, bringing the present enrollment to 690 and almost as large as our enrollment has ever been. A number of children are about to enter too—ten have entered within the past week.

The consolidation along with the busses has proved an asset far beyond our fullest expectations for many children are in school that could not otherwise be here at all. This is especially true of boys and girls who have entered the High School.

Some interesting figures on the number of children in the rural districts as received from the best district authorities as compared to the number now in school will be given in The Herald at a later issue.

OIL INDUSTRY IN MICHIGAN IS DEVELOPING

Lansing, Nov. 27.—During the first three quarters of the year 1929 Michigan's oil wells produced 3,084,000 barrels, valued at approximately $4,500,000. During the same period in 1928 the production was 363,000 barrels.

There are approximately 400 producing wells in the Muskegon district with 65 producing wells near Mt. Pleasant, where the higher individual well production prevails, according to figures obtained by the Geological Survey Division of the Department of Conservation.

Since it became necessary to secure a permit to drill an oil well in Michigan, September 1927, the Department of Conservation has issued 850 such permits. No figures are available to indicate how many of the wells drilled produced oil.

March, 1929, saw the record for activity in the oil fields. During that month the Department issued 66 permits to drill wells. Since July, however, there has been a gradual decline in the number of requests for permits.

The enormous increase in oil production in 1929 over 1928 was due to the opening and high production of the Muskegon oil fields, which succeeded the Saginaw district as the oil center of Michigan. However, during the summer large production began in the vicinity of Mt. Pleasant.

BETTER HEALTH—FOR WIFE AND MOTHER.

Just how hard it is sometimes for wife or mother to nerve herself up to her daily tasks no one but the sufferer can tell. Mrs. A. G. Wells, Rocky Mount, N. C., says: "I want women everywhere to know of the wonderful benefit I derived from taking Foley Pills diuretic. They drove away my physical ills, and I am now never 'too-tired' to attend to my family and household, as I could not do while suffering from those distressing kidney ailments." WHY WOMEN DRESS

WHY women dress is a mooted question. Some would be authorities; claim that women dress to please the men. Others say that women dress to make other women envious.

Probably there is some truth in each of these explanations but they do not tell the whole story. Women are a little differently sensitized to the opinions of other people. They have the curious combination of being more sensitive than men in some respects and less in others. They are more eager to be admired and yet they are less disturbed by criticism.

Consider what tortures a man will endure before he will get up and leave in the midst of a public performance where people are likely to be disturbed. A woman has no such fear. Note also a difference in their attitude when late to church or a recital. The man will sink into the back seat and try to appear inconspicuous. The woman will walk right up to the front row and take her seat as unconcerned as you please.

Men tolerate clothes; women adore them.

Men dress in order to avoid something, the loss of morale and self-esteem or perhaps the censure of some woman; women dress to gain something, self-expression, display of good taste and affluence, the envy of other women, to attract men, and to exercise their esthetic love of beauty and fine things.

Some one has said that a woman's future depends on her looks. Her face, meaning her personal appearance, is her fortune, while a man's future depends largely on his brains. If this be true we have an additional motive for the fact that women make so much bigger fuss over dress. It means more to them. It means everything to some of them.

ANOTHER LINDBERGH

"WHAT do you think of the boy who stowed away in the French plane. Wasn't it wonderful?"

"No, I don't think it was wonderful. And if our correspondent had been one of those Frenchmen, who measured the gasoline upon which their lives depended in drops and ounces I think she, too, would not be so enthusiastic about the boy who admitted that he knew the danger of his extra weight, to the success of the expedition, hid in the tail of the plane which recently crossed the Atlantic.

Nervy the boy was—even brave, we must admit. But it was not bravery of a very constructive kind, nor was it motivated by a constructive purpose. The world's heart, of course, goes out to nerve and bravery, and one is touched by the boy's note to his parents in which he said "I shall be able to do more for you after this."

But even the desire to benefit his parents by the fame and fortune accruing from vaudeville engagements resulting from "getting away with" the stunt of hiding in the plane, can hardly excuse the boy's selfishness and his lack of consideration of those men who were risking their all on the success of the flight which they had worked hard to bring to a successful conclusion, those other men who had cut down even their food to a minimum to conserve the weight-carrying capacity of the plane, and whose lives as well as whose success in a constructive endeavor he was endangering by his exploit.

Those other men had not only nerve and courage, they had an idea! They had worked for months to prepare for the event of their lives. They were giving of themselves to accomplish a transatlantic flight. In contrast the young man who gave nothing but added risk, who took a chance on achieving this vicarious fame and fortune merely through exploiting his nerve—no, while he seems courageous he hardly seems "wonderful" to me.

Incidentally it is interesting to note reports of his reference to the successful flyers as "we," and to speak of himself as "another Lindbergh." Funny that, but not so "wonderful."

THE WHY of SUPERSTITIONS
By H. IRVING KING

KILLING CATS

FROM Maine to California it is considered bad luck to kill a cat. That is because the Egyptians of old regarded the cat as a sacred animal under the protection of the cat-headed goddess, Pakht, who was identified with Isis as a moon-goddess; or rather—it seems probable, represented some attributes of Isis. Some Egyptologists even speak of a cat-headed god called Pasht, though the moon was considered feminine as a rule and Isis was its goddess. It appears as if Egyptian mythology varied under the different dynasties. At any rate the moon and the cat were intimately connected in the ancient beliefs, the cat was considered a sacred animal and mummies of cats were reverently placed in the tombs.

It is thought that the domestic cat originated in Egypt, and spread from there to other countries. It was sacrilege to kill a cat in the land of the Pharaohs and as we have inherited the cat from Egypt so have we inherited the idea that it brings bad luck to kill one. Sailors are particularly firm in their belief in the mystic qualities of a cat and while they are sure that she can bring on a storm if she wishes yet they are convinced that some disaster is sure to happen if one is killed on board the ship—the moon goddess avenging its own.

Thomas Won't Mislaid This Pen

Thomas McClure of Washington, D. C. got tired of fountain pens which run out of ink at inopportune moments, and so bought the novel and heroic sized instrument which he is shown here using. SEASONABLE HINTS

DURING the season when fresh fish of various kinds are plentiful is the time to prepare a few cans of them for use in the winter when such food is scarce or unobtainable.

Pickled Fish.

Clean and prepare the fish. Take one quart of vinegar, one quart of water (salt to taste), four dozen pepper corns, three dozen allspice, eight slices of lemon, ten bay leaves, five medium-sized onions. Cook the vinegar and water with the spices half an hour, then add the lemon and cook five minutes. Add the fish a few, at a time and cook until the fish pull out easily. Pour the boiling vinegar over them and can in well-sealed jars. Keep in a cool place.

Sometimes when you wish an especially dainty dish, scald a dozen oysters in their own liquor. Take seasoned mashed potato (hot), add finely minced parsley, make a cavity in the center of a tablespoonful of the potato and insert two large oysters which have been dipped into melted butter and pepper. Fry in fat and serve very hot. This is called oyster surprise.

Date Bars.

Dates are so well liked and as we now have them all pitted and packed ready for use in perfectly clean and sanitary boxes, one may enjoy serving them with no time lost for preparation.

Sift one-half cupful of flour, one eighth teaspoonful of salt and one teaspoonful of baking powder together. Mix two cupfuls of sliced dates, one cupful of chopped nuts (pecans are especially good, so are Hickory nuts), add to the flour and mix well, beat two eggs and add one half cupful of sugar; add a teaspoonful of vanilla, mix all together and pour into a shallow pan eight inches square. Bake in a slow oven until the surface springs back when touched. Turn out, cool and cut into bars. Roll in confectioner's sugar if desired. This makes two dozen bars.

Date and Peanut Butter Sandwiches.

Soften the butter for spreading the sandwiches, for the same sized loaf one pound, use one-fourth of a cupful, four tablespoonfuls of butter, or one-eighth of a pound. To three-fourths of a cup of peanut butter, add one-third of a cupful of thin cream or rich milk, beat it into the peanut butter until well blended. This does away with the clinging habit of the peanut butter. Spread one slice with butter and the next with peanut butter.

Marquette—Victor Donato, 15 years old, of Ishpeming, was killed when a shotgun was fired accidentally. The Charge entered his chest. Donato and three other boys had gone into the woods to practice with a shotgun.

Coldwater—John Thompson and Dorothy Gono, both 8, both of Coldwater, were awarded first prizes as the healthiest children in Branch County. Loretta Corey, Union City, Richard Buchanan, Batavia; John Sommer and Hattie Sours, Bronson, were runners-up.

Homer—Dr. A. E. Howell, 92, Homer, the oldest practicing veterinary in Michigan and oldest Master Mason in the state, has retired from activity after 60 years' service. The doctor takes pride in ownership of a Bible of British origin which was printed in 1752. Family history over a period of 178 years is recorded in the book. He has no relatives.

Pontiac—By making an acre of ground yield 155 bushels of potatoes, as compared to the state average this year of 75 bushels an acre, James Tays, Oxford, won the title of champion potato grower of Oakland county, the Kiwanis club here announced. A. D. DeGarmo, West Highland, took second place with 145 bushels, and Clifford Miller, Andersonville, third with 144 bushels.

Manistee—A total of $2,905 has been raised by popular subscription toward the purchase of a new airport for Manistee, according to announcements. This amount will be used to supplement the $5,000 promised by the city commission under condition the local Board of Commerce stands a portion of operating expenses of the port. The total cost of the land under consideration is $7,500.

Detroit—A resident of northwestern Detroit, on returning from work, was informed by his children that their pet kitten had been buried under two tons of coke, dumped in the cellar that day. The father started digging into the pile with a shovel, and when near the bottom, a black streak flashed away. The streak was the cat. Thus proving, the father said, that at least a cat has more than one life.

Lansing—Hunters in Lenawee County are cautioned to be on the lookout for signs of tularemia in cotton-tailed rabbits. It is reported that some of the carcasses of rabbits shot in that county showed signs of this fatal rabbit disease which is easily transmitted to man if care isn't taken in dressing them. Cooking destroys the germ and renders the flesh fit for table consumption, but the danger lies in the handling with bare hands of the carcass.

Lansing—Income from trout fishermen, collected through the rod license, increased 25 per cent this year to a total of $70,170, George R. Hoar, director of conservation announced here. Wayne County, which usually leads the state in the number of licenses of all kinds taken by its citizens, is low in the trout fishing list, only 2,647 licenses having been issued within the county. Kent County leads with 5,592 and Marquette County is second with 3,240.

Pontiac—Adopting the methods of modern warfare, thieves broke into the chicken coop of Lew Robinson, who lives one-half mile south of Oakwood on the Baldwin road, gassed his poultry, and escaped with 50 hens. Robinson was unaware of the robbery until men, hunting skunks in the vicinity, who saw an automobile leave the Robinson home awakened him. When he investigated, the odor of gas was so strong that he was unable to enter the chicken house.

Pontiac—The village of Birmingham is named defendant in a suit filed by William F. Ward, who, as the William F. Ward company, was unsuccessfully engaged in well drilling in Birmingham for about a year. Ward recently appeared before the Birmingham commission and asked to be reimbursed for his labor, although he had been unable to find water. The commission refused to pay, pointing out that his contract provided for payment only upon condition that water was found.

Pontiac—Approximately $850,000 will be spent on roadside beautifications by the Michigan Highway Department during the coming season, according to Grover C. Dillman, highway commissioner. The department plans to set out 12,500 deciduous trees, 500,000 pine seedlings and 5,000 shrubs at a cost of $50,000. Another $50,000 will be expended for virgin timber along trunkline highways. Sodding and seeding and the trimming and transplanting of trees and shrubs will cost, it is estimated, $250,000.

Lansing—The state parks of Michigan were visited by 7,454,741 people during the season just closed. This is an increase of 39 per cent over the number of visitors in 1928 and represents more than twice the population of the entire state. During the season of 1929, 138,308 men, women, and children camped at the state parks, representing an increase of 8.5 per cent over last year. They built 40,181 camps. Of these camps 32,013 were those of Michigan residents and 8,168 were of residents of other states.

Lansing—More than 1,600,000 of Michigan's men, women and children attended the 24 fairs and exhibitions at which the department of conservation displayed exhibits through the state in August, September and October. Exhibits representing every activity of the department were represented. These included fish, wild life, furs and guns confiscated by the law enforcement division, predatory animal control, parks, geology, land economic survey, game, forest fire control, forestry, pollution control and education exhibits.

Mining and The Telephone

A bell clangs, gates crash shut, and the "skip" sinks rapidly into the earth! Tightly packed with stalwart miners, the car drops down the shaft, the hat lamps fade and the bantering voices recede into the darkness. Down, down, down, a mile or more they go, to blast and pick for copper-bearing rock.

Linking these subterranean workers and their companions on the surface is a telephone system, keeping the miners in constant communication with "the top". On each underground "level", a telephone enables the "shift bosses" to receive directions from the superintendent above, or to report particular developments.

*As a safety device, the telephone is indispensable.

The far-reaching telephone wireways are partners of mining, not only underground but in the surface plant, in the offices, and between all points in the nation. The copper, iron, salt, oil, and other mining industries of our state utilize the telephone to sell their products, to buy materials and to direct shipping.

Michigan is proud of her mining industry, proud of her position in the production of these minerals. The Michigan Bell Telephone Company is proud to be a partner of this industry and to do its part in aiding its development.

Our policy—"To continue to furnish the best possible telephone service at the lowest cost consistent with financial safety".

GOODNESS FOR ITS OWN SAKE

By THOMAS ARKLE CLARK
Dean of Men, University of Illinois.

Lizette is a very pretty, self-possessed young girl whom I met at a dinner dance.

There was smoking in the lounge after the dinner was over and the young people were waiting to have the floor cleared so that they might dance, and, as is common these days, smoking by the young women. Lizette smiled and shook her head when her escort offered her a cigarette.

"No, thank you, I don't smoke," she said, but there was no criticism or reproach in her voice.

"You're a good little girl," I said, for I really don't like a girl's smoking and I surmised that Lizette was refusing on principle.

"I don't mind smoking," she explained to me, "but father promised to give each of us girls a sport car if we would not smoke until after we were twenty-one. I haven't long to go."

It was not goodness, as I had supposed which had kept Lizette from smoking, but the hope of reward. When she has earned that there is no telling what she will do when a fellow tells out his cigarette case and offers to light up for her.

A lot of us are good, not for mere goodness' sake, but for what goodness may bring us—security, reputation, advancement, freedom from gossip and criticism. In the old revival meetings which used to occupy a considerable amount of our attention during the winter months of my boyhood, the speaker spent a good deal of his time in warning his hearers against dangers and unpleasantnesses of hell. Men turned to goodness because of what virtue would help them to evade; they were good because of the incomparable things in the next world which goodness would bring them. There was little emphasis upon what immediate joy and happiness goodness in itself brought to one. We were urged to be good largely because of our inherent fear of being bad. It was really very poor psychology but we did not know so very much about psychology in those days.

Renfrew did remarkably well in his work last semester. I was curious to know what his real motive was in thus applying himself to a difficult task.

"Why, it was the only right thing to do," he said. "If father and mother are willing to trust me and sacrifice to send me the money to give me a chance to get an education, I ought to do the best I can. I'm not expecting praise or reward for doing right. There is enough pleasure in doing the right thing."

The story is told that when in the olden times the crusaders were entering the Holy City a prophetess confronted them and arrested their progress. In her hand she carried a brazier of live coals and on her shoulders a jar of water. When asked what these symbols meant she said, "The water is to put out the fires of hell and the coals to burn up the joys of heaven so that men might be good for goodness' sake."

Backs Hard to Pick

Pickers of All-America football teams this season have the sympathy of Amos Alonzo Stagg, the "grand old man" of the University of Chicago. "In my 40 years of football, I have never known a season when there was such a super-abundance of real backs," Stagg said. "There are at least a dozen players who stand out from the pack—men who are entitled to consideration for All-America honors."

Bonkura Treatment Brought Amazingly Quick Relief To My Stomach Trouble

BURTON MAN HAD GIVEN UP HOPE, STOMACH FINE NOW.

Tried Other Medicines But All Failed.

MR. CHARLES VOSBURG

"For many years I was the victim of constipation, stomach, kidney and liver trouble," said Mr. Charles Vosburg, P. O. Box 13, Burton, Mich. Gas pains and a stuffy crowded feeling were features of my indigestion. After eating peaches and certain kinds of fruit, I would spit up a hot liquid and particles of undigested food. I was troubled with dizzy spells from a disarranged liver and have been subject to backaches and pains across my kidneys. "Bonkura Treatment proved to be just the medicine I needed, because it went right to the spot. The first treatment cleaned out my system and corrected my stomach disorders. In a week's time I felt myself again, could eat anything, had no more dizzy spells and my kidney trouble disappeared. I can not praise this marvelous treatment highly enough and gladly recommend it to any one." Bonkura is sold by GIDLEY & MAC DRUG STORE. adv.

HOW ABOUT IT?

The Freshman loves his sling-shot, Paper wads, and sharpened tacks. He plays with these so very much; True, intellect he lacks. The Sophomore cares not for these things,

Nor does he love his books. What bothers him is how the girls will take his handsome looks. The Junior is so grown up; Unnatural does he seem. Yet signs of understanding From his bright face do beam. The Senior is most perfect.

So very learned is he; The aim of all the others Is to a Senior be.

And yet the Freshmen holler "Frosh," The Sophomores loyal stand; The Juniors stubbornly unite Into their own class band. But when it comes to doing things, And having them done well, Just ask the Senior; he'll bake the cake, And garnish it with jell.

THE JOY KILLER

Although monthly tests have again crept into the foreground, they can not succeed in driving away our happy anticipations of the Thanksgiving turkey and feast. We trust that whatever joy our exams and quizzes take out of us will be replaced by the pumpkin pies, cranberry sauce, etc.

JUNIOR PARTY

The Junior Party was a social success also. Robert Kenny proved to be an entertaining host, and everyone enjoyed playing games and listening to the radio at his home. A supper consisting of cake, sandwiches, salad and coffee were served.

Of course the majority of the class were present for this event. What we are wondering about is this: Can the Junior Class President wash dishes as well as our class president did after OUR supper? Of course, there were several pretty girls helping President Darbee Friday night.

SENIOR PARTY

The Senior Party on Friday night went over big. The high school victrola was a sufficient substitute for an orchestra, and most everyone enjoyed dancing. Three long tables were well filled with sandwiches, cake, scalloped potatoes, pickles, salad and coffee. The boys were held responsible for speeches and they might have been successful, had they not confined their talks to mere introductions of one another. However, a prominent man of the evening was Mr. Samuel Kling, who succeeded in giving everyone a laugh. A good time was had by all.

DEBATE

Two of the pace-making High Schools in last year's schedule of the Michigan High School Debating League suffered defeat in their opening battles this season, according to information received Saturday from Professor C. E. Densmore of the University of Michigan, manager of the League.

Cheboygan High School, last year's champion, won its opening contest, defeating Petoskey, but Grand Rapids South, winner of second honors last year, was defeated by Kalamazoo Central. The two semi-finalist schools of last season fared as follows in their opening encounters: Mason defeated Stockbridge, but Royal Oak lost to Birmingham.

Reports received by Prof. Densmore show that 26,000 people attended the opening debates in which 262 schools, stretching from Laurium, on the north, to Morenci, on the Ohio border, participated. The large attendance is attributed to the popularity of the debate question and the fact that noon-day luncheon clubs, Chambers of Commerce and Parent-Teacher organizations are sponsoring the teams.

The second debate of the preliminary series will be Dec. 6. The question for all debates is: "Resolved, that a Judge or Board of Judges be substituted for the Jury in all trials in the State and municipal courts of Michigan."

For this debate the East Jordan team will entertain Mancelona, East Jordan taking the negative—"That a Judge or Board of Judges should not be substituted for the Jury in all trials in the State and municipal courts of Michigan." The local team will consist of Frances Brown, first speaker; Carl Weaver second speaker and Helen Severance, third speaker. Professor Brokenshire of the Public Speaking Departments of Alma College will act as Judge of the debate. It is beginning to be realized more and more the value of having a sole judge decision. The real educational value of having some one acquainted with technique of debate is that after it is over, he will be able to give helpful and constructive criticism that will prove beneficial to all concerned. Not only is there the interest of having one judge decide the debate, but we will remember that Mancelona defeated Harbor Springs, who is considered very capable. Also East Jordan's winning from Charlevoix gives promise of a real close and interesting fight. When the team went to Charlevoix 25 East Jordan representatives went over with them. Because the debate is at home this time, we expect an unusually large crowd to attend and support our team. The debate will take place at 7:30 standard time at the High School. Admission—Adults, 25c; Students, 15c.

HIGH SCHOOL AG. CLUB

The High School Ag. Club held its bi-weekly meeting last Wednesday. The high lights of the meeting were some very interesting talks by Mr. Lee and Mr. Umior of their trip down to East Lansing.

Another interesting thing was the discussion on whether spring or fall planting is better for cherry trees. This meeting was a strictly business meeting, the amusement being left at home.

The High School is waiting for another surprise by the Ag. Club, and we are hoping they will give us a dance, party, a keg of nails to drink, or something along that line.

ATHLETICS

Basketball
East Jordan High School Basketball practice has been resumed this week with Coach Cohen still undecided as to his Varsity team of ten. Wednesday, Nov. 27, the team clashes with the Alumni which will prove a bitterly fought game. The Ellsworth Cannons again will journey to East Jordan in the main go of the evening. WEST SIDE SCHOOL

The second and third grades have some new books for their reading tables. Some of the boys and girls have cut interesting stories from magazines and put them together. In this way, they have made a very attractive book for their reading table.

They have also been making pilgrims for window decorations for Thanksgiving. Very attractive song books with covers having the design of a turkey on the front, were made by second and third graders.

The fifth grade have been making a map of the United States, showing the products produced by each State. Each child takes two States.

The boys of the West Side have played the East Side several times and have always been victorious. Come on boys! Let's see if you can't win at least one game with the West Side.

GRADES

Kindergarten. The Kindergarten-ers are busy little workers and have a new work bench.

First Grade. The first grade have two new boys in the room from the Bennett school. The first grade is also studying about pilgrims, because this month is November.

Second Grade. The second grade are also studying about the Pilgrims. They have made a wigwam of nokomis and have yet the forest to make.

Third Grade. The third grade is preparing for their Thanksgiving program which is to be held Wednesday. They have also completed a poster of Pilgrims. They have some new curtains which have decorations on them pertaining to Thanksgiving.

There may be nothing new under the sun, but there are quite a number of fresh things around.

The great trouble with the people who don't like us is that they have such poor taste.

One reason truth is stranger than fiction is that folks don't have a chance to become so familiar with it.
