SHIRLEY R. LACROIX AGE 17 YEARS PASSES AWAY

Shirley Ralph LaCroix, the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor LaCroix, was born Dec. 14th, 1912, on the farm home near Monroe Creek, and passed away from the same home May 6th 1930, at the age of 17 years 4 months and 21 days.

From the age of three years Shirley has been more or less of a sufferer, which prevented him from entering into the usual activities of the normal boy, but it did not prevent him from possessing a very congenial disposition, always good natured, gentlemanly, pleasant towards all.

He attended the Rock Elm School, where he finished the eighth grade and entered the local High School last Sept. spending but a short time there as the frail body could hold up no longer under the severe strain of heart trouble. He was confined to his bed for the past three months and bore his last illness with that same fortitude which characterized his whole life, always patient, and appreciative of all that was done for him.

He leaves to mourn his going his father and mother, two brothers and three sisters, and a large number of relatives and friends.

The funeral services were held from the Methodist Episcopal church, Thursday afternoon conducted by the pastor Rev. James Leitch. Interment at Sunset Hill.

FEEDING AND MANAGEMENT OF BABY CHICKS

The feeding, early care, and management of baby chicks many times presents a large number of problems to the owners. The first three or four weeks decides the success you will enjoy. In some cases diseases cause a great loss during this time. In others temperature and feeding conditions cause a heavy mortality.

For the purpose of assisting poultry owners a series of two meetings will be held on Tuesday, May 13th as follows:

Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock fast time at Marion Center Townhall. (South of Charlevoix)

Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock fast time at Cherryvale Hatchery owned by A. L. Warda, one mile east of East Jordan.

Mr. L. R. Arnold, Poultry Extension Specialist of the Michigan State College will be present at each meeting. He will discuss all poultry problems and more especially those connected with baby chicks. If you are experiencing difficulties attend the nearest meeting and no doubt Mr. Arnold can help you. Bring your neighbors and their friends, and not be afraid of the 13th.

B. C. Mellenkamp County Ag'l Agent.

Already Cut Out

Hubby—This extravagance must stop! Surely there's something you can cut out.

Wife—I don't know what else can be cut out. I've had six operations.

ARBORETUM AT CHARLEVOIX COUNTY NURSERIES

Word comes from Charlevoix County Nurseries of the plan to have an Arboretum—which may have national fame.

The Arboretum will feature evergreens of many varieties and it is the purpose of the plan to have every known variety of evergreen which will stand the severe winters of Northern Michigan.

Edwin L. Nott, a noted landscape architect of Chicago, has been engaged to prepare the plan for the planting.

Geo. R. Hemingway, of Oak Park, Illinois, who is the owner of the Charlevoix County Nurseries, advises us that the development of the Arboretum will take many years. It will have an educational purpose and will be in reality a tree museum. The public who are interested will be at all times welcome to view the specimens.

The nursery contains some seventy varieties of flowering shrubs, ornamental trees and evergreens.

It is beautifully located on Lake Charlevoix, about six miles south east of Charlevoix, just east of the Iron-ton Ferry.

The nursery was established seventeen years ago and is fulfilling a definite aim—namely, being a real builders of beauty.

JOHN WILLIAMS PASSES AWAY AT KALAMAZOO

John Williams passed away at the Bronson hospital, Kalamazoo, Tuesday night, May 6th, 1930, following a second operation for hemorrhage of the bladder.

Mr. Williams, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Patrick A. McKinnon and Mrs. Edward Brintnall left here by auto April 18th to spend Easter Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Carl Heinzelman at Kalamazoo. Upon his arrival there he was taken seriously ill and was removed to the hospital where he underwent an operation. A second operation was given Tuesday morning of this week from which Mr. Williams failed to recover.

Deceased was born in Germany June 13, 1857. At the age of 17 years he came to the United States, and has been a resident of Northern Michigan for some fifty years, locating first at Grayling and coming to East Jordan 43 years ago. He operated a meat market for a number of years and was employed on the D. & C. R. R. for several years.

On Oct. 21, 1896 he was united in marriage to Mrs. Sarah Ida Stohlman who passed away June 29, 1921.

Mr. Williams is survived by two step-daughters, Mrs. Patrick McKinnon of this city and Mrs. Carl Heinzelman of Kalamazoo.

The remains were brought to his late home on the West Side Thursday and funeral services were held from there Friday afternoon conducted by Rev. James Leitch, pastor of the M. E. Church. Interment at Sunset Hill.

A streak of luck often also goes like one.

Win Honors In Contests

EAST JORDAN COMMERCIAL STUDENTS BREAK RECORDS

In the Northern Michigan Commercial Contest held at Charlevoix Saturday the local Department made an unusual record. Largely due to the fact that Cheboygan got first, second and third and double points for each place in two events in which there was no competition, they won first place in the District.

In spite of the above fact, East Jordan ran them a close second with thirty-four points and Cheboygan having forty-seven. Charlevoix had 15, Boyne City, 11, Petoskey 6, Harbor Springs 1 and Grayling 1.

In the most important events of the day with the possible exception of one, East Jordan won the highest honors. East Jordan without question made the most outstanding record of any school in Northern Michigan that has ever been made in this section. Katherine Wageman and Bea Boswell won first and second places and made the phenomenal High School record for two people of 78.8 and 75.8 words per minute.

Third place in the second year typing went to Dorothy Riggs of Cheboygan with 64.9 words per minute—the best record of any other girl in northern Michigan.

In first year shorthand Bea Boswell, at sixty words per minute dictation won first place with one error. Charlevoix got second with three and Cheboygan third with 6. In second year shorthand (10 word dictation) Cheboygan won first place with 11 errors and Ellen Reich of East Jordan won second place with 14 errors. Then in the most important event of the day the East Jordan team made what looks like the best record for a typing team in Michigan; comparing results from some of the other districts, East Jordan is still ahead. With Katherine Wageman making the phenomenal record of 84 words per minute with four errors and Bea Boswell 77.3 and Ivis Pickel 62—making an average of 74.7 words for a team of three members. This looks like a State record for High Schools in any class.

Although Cheboygan had the greatest total points by entering more students than the extra events referred to, East Jordan is perfectly confident that they will out-class any team in northern Michigan at the State meet at Kalamazoo, May 24. Last year Katherine Wageman and Bea Boswell won first and second place in first year typing and it is hoped they will do as well in second year.

It appears that to have two events get double points, it does not seem clear that in an event where, practically, no other school has the course, the points should count double. It naturally favors the larger school, whereas the smaller school should at least have an even break. The local Department is doing a piece of work of which East Jordan and community may well be proud.

ELIZABETH M. BAKER PASSES AWAY AT DETROIT

Elizabeth M. Baker, wife of Edward Baker of Flint formerly of Alpena, passed away at St. Mary's hospital, Detroit, Friday, May 2nd following an operation for appendicitis.

Elizabeth LaLonde, born December 10, 1899. She was married Mar. 4, 1930 just two months ago.

Mrs. Baker graduated from St. Joseph's High School at East Jordan and later from St. Mary's Training School for Nurses in Grand Rapids. For the last few years she has made her home in Flint and at the time of her death was employed at St. Joseph's Hospital there. Mrs. Baker who was the daughter of Mrs. Frank LaLonde of East Jordan was loved by all and will be missed by all her many friends.

Besides her mother and husband, she leaves 2 brothers and 5 sisters. Clarence LaLonde and Agnes LaLonde of East Jordan, Mrs. Chas. Withers of Charlevoix, Mrs. Ernest St. Charles of Pontiac and Albert LaLonde, Mrs. Allie Carr and Mrs. Russell Dean of Flint.

The funeral services were held Monday morning conducted by the Rev. Fr. Liebek from St. Joseph's Catholic Church at East Jordan. Interment in Sunset Hill Cemetery.

Those from out of town attending the services were Miss Agnes Langley and Harry McDonald and Mr. and Mrs. James Livingston of Flint, Thomas Baker, Mrs. Jack McDonald, Misses, Genevieve and Viola Baker, and Mr. Young of Alpena.

The backyard fence might be called the exchange department.

Our Band at Ann Arbor

DISTRICT CHAMPIONS FAIL TO WIN COVETED HONOR

Although the local band did not win one of the first three places at Ann Arbor, they did well. In fact so well that many impartial observers told and thought they placed at least first or second for the local band collectively and individually played even better than any of its supporters expected. The East Jordan boys and girls never played as well in all their band experience. Not one boy or girl or any section of the band fell down yet the locals got worse than third place. This seem to indicate to everyone locally that the competition was keen—which was true.

Ludington with a seventy-five piece band won first place. A town that is practically in Class A with around about twelve thousand people. Mt. Clemens got second—a High School with nine hundred students. Fordson, a town of nearly forty-five thousand with six hundred in the High School got third place. The rating for the rest of the bands has not been received to date. The other bands competing with East Jordan were the Grand Rapids Catholic School Boys' Band, Lapeer and South Haven.

The spirit of the local organization is that they may be back another time in the near future. Defeat for the East Jordan boys and girls simply means that there is further trouble ahead for their opponents. With a great many green members that made a surprise record when they won the district band contest and with the band practically intact outside of five or six members and coming in next year—unfolds a different story.

The accommodations at Ann Arbor were not good and rather poorly organized. Although a definite place was mentioned at Ann Arbor for the band to assemble, no one appeared to meet them and although every arrangement was made in advance the rooms were not allotted until late at night. However the entire band enjoyed a most wonderful trip. The band expected to be back in East Jordan about twelve o'clock Saturday evening but inasmuch as every member of the band had some very interesting thing to do or see, the chaperons permitted them to remain until four o'clock standard time necessitated driving home at night but no one seems to be any worse for the experience. It was unfortunate that any groundless story about one of the buses going into the ditch should have been circulated. Just a little thought on the part of any one would have indicated that had anything happened they would have been notified at once.

Everything was carried through as entirely planned and anyone who had a son or daughter on the trip was fortunate for they had an experience that was worth a great deal to them even if they did not win.

Our Band Master, John TerWee was highly complimented on his interpretation of the pieces played and, in the presence of other local people, was paid a flattering compliment by one or two of the judges. It is only a question of getting the instruments and the boys and girls in the hands of Mr. TerWee the necessary length of time to have one of the best bands in Michigan.

Mr. and Mrs. Duncanson chaperoned the band. Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Porter were present and everyone was well cared for in every particular.

It is hoped that East Jordan will be in the contest again next year with a fine fifty piece band. Lets keep the Old Town on the map!

County Achievement Day

AT CHARLEVOIX GYMNASIUM ON SATURDAY, MAY 10TH.

All members of Boys' and Girls' Clubs are most cordially invited and urged to attend the County Achievement Day to be held in the Charlevoix Gymnasium on May 10th beginning at 1:30 o'clock fast time. This will be most interesting and instructive to all club members, and their parents and friends, and a splendid program will be offered.

Each of the Local Champions from all the different clubs in the county will have their winning exhibits on display, which means that you can see the work done by approximately thirty club members representing the handicraft and clothing clubs. Not only that, but these are the best from each club so it will be a worth-while exhibit and no guess work.

Mrs. Ruth Schubert, Petoskey, will judge the exhibits of the clothing club and select the County Champions. Mrs. Schubert, formerly Miss Featherly will be remembered by all club members from her contacts made while acting as Ass't State Boys' and Girls' Club Leader. Mr. A. R. Schubert, County Ag'l Agent of Emmet County, will judge the handicraft club exhibits.

The program will consist of songs, games, and stunts with several short talks and musical numbers. Among the speakers will be Mr. Walter Gogill, District Y. M. C. A. Director, who is vitally interested in the welfare of boys and girls. Space does not permit giving all the details, but there will be surprises in store for you.

Remember Saturday, May 10th, at Charlevoix Gymnasium and come one and all, club members, and friends. The entire public is urged to see this splendid type of work being done by our fine rural boys and girls.

"You don't seem to realize on which side your bread is buttered."

Class C Track Meet Today

TIP OF MICHIGAN CONFERENCE TEAMS GO TO EAST JORDAN.

(Charlevoix Courier)

The first annual track and field meet of the Tip of Michigan conference of class C schools will be held Saturday of this week at East Jordan.

Schools entering teams of their class are Charlevoix, Harbor Springs, Gaylord, East Jordan, Mancelona and Boyne City. The meet will mark the first concerted effort of Northern Michigan class C schools in Athletic circles and will be followed by competition along other lines of sports such as golf, tennis, football, basketball, hockey, etc.

Figuring from pre-season performance, Boyne City is favored to cop Saturday's honors. They won the regional class C competition at Cadillac a year ago and last Saturday defeated Petoskey 68 to 48 in a dual meet at Petoskey. In other Saturday meet, Coach Ike Tillotson's Gaylord trackmen won a three-corned field event from Alba and Mancelona. The latter two schools scored 36 points each, while Gaylord's total was 44. Both Gaylord and Mancelona will compete Saturday.

At Petoskey last Saturday, Boyne City showed themselves to be exceptionally strong in field events. Van-Hoesen, Walker, Tompkins, Fox and White are their big points winners, and these men can be figured on to make competition tough at East Jordan.

Coach Kipke will put a strong representation in the field for Charlevoix at East Jordan. He has a lot of material for the dashes and some pretty good distance men. Kipke's men have had no chance to show their stuff so far this season and most any result can be looked for. Bergman, Dave Livingston, Levi Gib-lyou, Dick Warner, Oscar Stroud, Bill Clark, Wesley Manley, Pet Moran and Stan Cartier make up the local team.

The boys have put in two weeks of tremendous practice and are in good condition. They can be relied upon to come home with some of the honors from East Jordan Saturday.

MCKINNON IS FORD DEALER FOR OTSEGO COUNTY.

C. H. McKinnon, for the past two years local manager for the Northern Auto Co., of Petoskey, is now the independent dealer for Ford and Lincoln cars in this territory. Mr. McKinnon returned from Detroit, Monday, having signed his contract just before leaving there.

The fact that Mr. McKinnon has taken over the business of Ford here, is very pleasing, for during the two years he has been here, he has gained the confidence of everyone in the community. He was the salesman for 5 years of the Ford business in East Jordan, and before that had several years experience in the auto business, and it is believed that now he is operating an auto sales independent of outside business policies that he will experience a substantial increase in the future.

In the future the business here will be known here as the McKinnon Auto Sales. The Northern Auto Co. have men working here inventorying the business and preparing to move the parts and supplies from here to some of their other garages, and Mr. McKinnon will put in an entirely new supply of auto parts and accessories.

Wednesday afternoon, Mr. McKinnon completed arrangements for buying the building from the Northern Auto Co., and he will continue to conduct the business from the same building as heretofore.—Gaylord Herald-Times.

CHOOSING AN OCCUPATION

By THOMAS ARKLE CLARK
Dean of Men, University of Illinois.

Jim is eighteen and very much in love—or at least that is what he thinks is the matter with him. There is only one girl in the world, for Jim, being a Presbyterian, he is thoroughly convinced that long before the creation of the world, when the whole universe was in a state of chaos, it was foreordained that ultimately he and Ruth should be created for each other. If by some misstep he had failed to meet her, he is sure that he would have gone through life alone, disconsolate, or if otherwise mated, unhappily and unsuccessfully so. He does not realize that possibly twenty years from now he will have difficulty in recalling her name, and when it does come back to him the memory will not stir in him the slightest emotion. There are whole counties full of girls who would make Jim as happy as Ruth does if he could only meet them and who would make him as happy as the one he will finally marry will do.

There are thousands of young people who feel about their jobs as Jim does about his girl. They have special talents, they think, they are designed by nature to do a certain job and if they should fail to get into that particular position in life it would mean complete and hopeless ruin for them. It is because this idea is so prevalent that we hear so much today concerning vocational guidance—so very much in fact that we might well believe that every man and woman is designed for some specific profession or occupation, and if by any unlucky chance he should fall into something else he will meet his professional Waterloo.

I meet young fellows every day who are so much concerned about what they are best fitted for in the way of a life work, so eager to find some branch of learning or education or some occupation that will be suitable and pleasing to them—not to say easy—that they do nothing well or with any particular interest. Fearful of not doing the right thing, they neglect what opportunity is before them.

Now the fact is, as I have watched young people come and go for the last forty years or more, the average normal person could do one sort of work about as well as another if he would only set himself to it. Lloyd was brought up on a farm and would have made a very good farmer if he had set himself to it. As it was he studied engineering when he went to college and was elected to an honorary engineering society in his senior year. He is not an engineer today but a banker who goes about the country telling people who know less than he does how to run their banks. I haven't the slightest doubt that if he had so chosen he could have done just as well in medicine or law as he is doing as a banker.

It seems to me it doesn't so much matter what occupation a man chooses as it does how he goes at what he chooses.

Bay City—G. H. Wilson, F. S. Mack and G. M. Downs, all of Detroit, suffered cuts and bruises when the airplane in which they were riding, piloted by Downs, was forced to land in a swamp near Clements Airport and overturned. Ascending to airport officials, the three had flown to Bay City on business and soon after taking off on the return trip, the motor failed. Downs brought the plane down to a good landing but the wheels caught and forced the ship over. The plane was damaged slightly.

Grand Rapids—You can't always tell the contents of the package by looking at the container, Thomas Brower, police clerk, decided. Robert S. Johnson, Chicago negro, went into court and wanted to sign a $2,500 bond for the release of his sister, Mary, brought here from Chicago to answer charges of stealing two fur coats valued at $375 from a local store. "You couldn't raise $2,500," Clerk Brower demurred. Whereupon Johnson sat, down, took off his left shoe and extracted one $1,000 bill and three $500 bills.

Poultry Disease Easy to Control

Of Much Importance to Prevent Coccidiosis at Start of Season.

Coccidiosis, which is caused by a protozoan parasite which infests the intestinal walls, can be controlled, in a measure, by raising chicks on clean grounds. The organism can live in the soil for some time unless the soil is tilled and kept free from poultry in alternating years, at least, and for this reason chicks should be raised on ground that has not been frequented by chicks or older birds the year previous. Since treatment for this disease is rather difficult, it is far more important to prevent it at the start of the chick brooding season, than to attempt to cure it later in the summer or early fall.

Thorough scrubbing of the brooding equipment and brooder house, along with the other steps in the fresh ground method of brooding chicks, will also prove valuable aids in controlling the spread of bacillary white diarrhea among the chicks. Keeping the chicks in a darkened box the first three days of their lives and feeding all of the sour milk or buttermilk that they care to drink, are two other steps that go hand in hand with fresh ground methods in preventing an epidemic of this disease in the chick flock.

Other Diseases Succumb.
Fowl cholera and fowl typhoid are two other diseases that succumb quickly in the face of a fresh ground brooding program. The former disease usually causes rather sudden death and is practically incurable, as is the latter. As in the case of other diseases, prevention is to be recommended in preference to cure. Clean grounds for the chicks will prevent them from coming in contact with older birds and with infected houses and yards where they would undoubtedly be able to pick up the cholera or typhoid germs in their feed and drinking water.

Tuberculosis is another disease that can be controlled very effectively by raising all chicks on fresh ground. Baby chicks cannot inherit this disease, contrary to the opinion of a number of poultry breeders who feel that the disease is transmitted from parents to offspring. Since this is true, birds under a year of age seldom die of tuberculosis or show any serious effects of the disease. Because of this the fresh ground program fits into the production scheme very nicely, and at the same time enables the flock owner to get rid of the tuberculosis losses in his flock.

Thorough Cleaning.
In starting a fresh ground chick raising program this spring, plans should be made to extend the program over a long period of time, as suggested. Another step that is essential to success with the plan is the thorough cleaning of the brooder house and all brooding equipment. Scrubbing with a boiling, concentrated solution of high-test lye water is a very good method of destroying worm eggs and disease germs. Boiling water is practically the only agent that will destroy the worms after they are hatched. The lye in the solution aids in removing the eggs and dirt.

This scrubbing solution should be applied not only to the brooder house, but also to the drinking fountains, feeders, hovers and all other equipment. A thorough scrubbing of part of the brooding equipment will be of little value if another part is left contaminated with worm eggs and disease germs to inhabit the chicks from the time they are placed in the brooder through their entire growing period. Thoroughness is essential to success with the plan.

Jack Rabbit Skins Give Profit to Many Farmers

War against the jack rabbit last year in the West netted more than 8,000,000 skins and a profit to farmers and stockmen, from the sale of the pelts, of about $2,000,000. Control operations against injurious rabbits are conducted by the bureau of biological survey of the United States Department of Agriculture. Jack rabbits are particularly destructive to alfalfa, range grasses and fruit trees, says the bureau. They also destroy cotton plants in the Southwest, and in the Northwest ruin large quantities of stacked hay during the winter.

Condensed History of Mankind for Monarch

The history of mankind was one word, according to a story credited to the Talmud, in but seven words. The Talmud tale recounts the wish of an ancient king for the history of mankind. He summoned his wise men to go out into the world and bring him the essence of knowledge as man knew it. They returned in ten years with twenty camels loaded with manuscripts. Aghast at such a tremendous amount of material he ordered them to bring him a briefer account and they went out and returned with one camel weighed down with volumes. Again, still unsatisfied, he sent them forth and they came back with but one book, a thick volume containing hundreds of pages. "But I have no time to read this," the king rebuked them, "is there not one among you who can give me, in a few words, what I wish?" "Sire," said an old sage, "there is but this: 'Man is born, he lives, he dies!'" And that, it might be remarked, is something to shoot at.

Streets of Old London Dangerous in Storms

Whatever the terrors of the gale we ought perhaps to congratulate ourselves that life in a city is rather less dangerous in a high wind than it was in the past. Perhaps the Seventeenth century was the most dangerous; before that time, when London, for instance, was largely made up of wooden houses with thatched roofs, discomfort may have been very great, but danger was probably less. In the Seventeenth century, discomfort and danger must have been pretty equally matched. Unfortunately Pepys did not live to record his impressions of the great storm of 1703, but we have his lively account of that "very fowle, windy, and rainy morning of January 24, 1665" when "my Lord (Bruncker) and I, the wind being again very furious, so as we durst not go by water, walked to London quite round the bridge; and Lord, what a dirty walk we had, that in the fields we many times could not carry our bodies against it, but were driven backwards. It was dangerous to walk the streets, the bricks and tiles falling from the houses that the whole streets were covered with them; and whole chimneys, nay, the houses in two or three places blown down. But, above all, the pales on London bridge on both sides were blown away, so that we were fain to stoop very low for fear of blowing off of the bridge." Manchester Guardian.

Ecuador Offers Much of Interest to Explorer

Ecuador may look small on the map, but to the explorer it is an immensely large country, because of the greatly varied nature of its physical characteristics and the absorbingly interesting things seen on all sides. Rising from the lowlands of the Pacific it extends back over the Andes and then down into the jungle land about the headwaters of the Amazon. Many of its ancient tribes still exist, with their tribal customs of hundreds of years ago, such as grotesque painting of the bodies and disfiguring of the faces.

The main industry of the country is grazing, although large quantities of chocolate and smaller quantities of bananas, rice, cotton, cacao and other lowland products are raised. Fairly good quantities of cotton and woolen goods are also manufactured.

Rachel's Busy Life

Rachel Bunker of Nantucket lived and kept well occupied back in an age when large families were the fashion. A resident of the island in looking over some old manuscripts and papers came across a note in which the following vital facts were recorded:

"Rachel Bunker was taken ill on the 7th, died on the 9th and was buried on the 11th of the 11th month, aged 80 years, 7 months, 23 days."
"She had 12 children, 113 grandchildren and 60 great-grandchildren."
"About 70 years of her life was devoted to public service, in which time she assisted in the birth of 2,694 children. There were 31 pair of twins in the number."

Rachel assuredly did all that one woman could be expected to do toward adding to the island's population and its fine strain of sturdy seafarers and capable home-makers.—Brockton Enterprise.

Agricultural Notes

A new harness ordinarily does not need oiling before being put into service.
Soy beans have the same beneficial effects on soil as that produced by other legumes.
Hogs glean a maximum of profit from soy bean pasture when it supplements a corn ration.
Harness and leather experts generally agree that only animal or vegetable oils should be used on harness.
The fertilizing value of soy beans compares favorably with that of other legumes usually grown for green manure.
Feeding plenty of yellow corn to the pullets helps to develop firm, meaty bodies and store up the energy which is helpful in producing fall and winter eggs without a moult.

BETTER CARS IN NEED OF ROADS

Greatest Improvement Must Come Through Building Better Highways.

(By E. E. DUFFY.)
Competition is bringing the motoring public, which includes about 125,000,000 citizens of the United States, almost unbelievable values. Eight-cylinder cars are coming within reach of those who because of worldly cares must conserve the contents of their billfolds. Automobiles are being made better and better, and of parallel importance, cheaper and cheaper.
But there is one thing wrong with the motoring picture. More has been done in creating speed and comfort in vehicles than in providing highways over which they may best operate. To say that automobile manufacturers have done all they can in the way of making cars efficient would not be quite true, for mechanical improvements are to continue. But the great betterment that is to come in motoring cannot be accomplished by motor car manufacturers. More well-paved highways must be built and by John Public.

Automobile Ownership.
The saturation point of automobile ownership is as elusive as a bootlegger's address. In addition to the replacement of some two million worn out cars each year, the total vehicle registration is being increased by a million and a half. There are now some 26,000,000 cars on the highways and byways and by the end of 1930 the registration will have mounted to 27,500,000.

It is difficult to visualize the importance of such large figures, but they do show that the motoring appetite is far from being appeased. Most cars are owned in population centers—but they do not stay there. Hence the highway problem is not only statewide but nationwide.

Few states have really made an attempt to serve the motorist but those that have made any commendable headway have done so through the aid of the bond issue plan which enables the state or local community to purchase roads in installments, as homes and cars are purchased by individuals.

Meet Highway Problem.
To meet the highway problem most successfully it is necessary to make use of assured future income. Plans of various states indicate that greater use is to be made of the bond issue plan. In the meantime motorists in those communities evidencing little road building energy will continue to be deprived of true motoring comfort—at a greater motoring cost than their neighbors.

Even the Humblest Can Make the World Brighter

As I sit writing in my study, the radio downstairs is bringing a splendid concert through the air from more than 1,000 miles away.
I hear the sound of an airplane overhead. It is carrying the mail 100 miles an hour across the continent.
An automobile dashes up to the door and delivers the purchase made from a store less than an hour ago.
Today was clean-up day in the home; the vacuum cleaner was going and the dirt disappeared as if by magic.

The telephone bell rings; it may be a friend nearby or a long-distance call from clear across the nation.
The shadows lengthen; I press a button and the room is flooded with light.

What are you and I doing to deserve all this? Frank G. Moorhead asks, in the Farib Journal.
Do something for somebody else, and find out how honest and useful you are, after all. If nothing else, try saying "Good morning" cheerfully to everybody you meet. That's a long way from flying an airplane with the night mail. But it may do somebody a world of good.

The best way you could possibly repay Thomas A. Edison, or Lee de Forest, or the Wright boys, or Alexander Graham Bell, or Cyrus McCormick, would be to be kind to somebody else, to give him a lift in life, to make things easier and better and brighter for everybody else. Reduced to essentials, that's all they did!

Seemingly, Citizens of New Orleans Live Well

But in New Orleans! Here you find no one dish, but an army that promises years of varied delight. The oysters of Bayou Cook and Four Bayous. The lake shrimp and the river shrimp, those last-thing ones gelled with the pepper. The pompano. The Spanish mackerel. The redfish. The green trout. The flounder. The court-bouillon and the jambalaya. The beca-sine, served au borde du lac. The penitence, served chasseur. The canard, either with boiled turnips or roasted rare so the blood runs as you cut the breast. The tender, delicate creole lettuce; the blushing, gentle tomato. Olives and shallots; romaine and endive. Frog legs that thrill you as never the legs of the chorus could thrill. More ways of cooking a chicken than there are chickens. And cor-fec such as Petronius and Lucullus and Epicurus would have drunk had they known how to drip it.
But why tamalize a nation of standardized food? They can't all live in New Orleans.—New Orleans States.

RIGHT-OF-WAY IS OFTEN PUZZLING

In Many States Courts Will Rule in Favor of Car on the Right Hand.

When two motorists, driving at right angles to each other, meet at an intersection, some skillful bluffing sometimes takes place. Frequently, the bolder of the two secures the right of way.

Right-of-Way Law.
Should a collision occur, however, courts in those states where the right-of-way law prevails will rule in favor of the vehicle approaching from the right, and against the car owner on the left, according to the law department of the Chicago Motor club, which declared that the courts hold the right hand right-of-way rule in high regard.

Many states have incorporated this right-of-way regulation in their motor vehicle laws. The regulation provides, in substance, that motor vehicles traveling upon public highways shall give the right-of-way to vehicles approaching along intersecting highways from the right and shall have the right-of-way over those approaching from the left. This regulation does not apply, however, where main highways and secondary highways intersect, nor at the intersections of through streets and ordinary thoroughfares. The stop signs or other regulations in force at those points shall indicate the right-of-way.

Excerpts From Decision.
As an example of the manner in which courts decide right-of-way cases, the motor club law department cited excerpts from the decision of the Illinois Appellate court in the case of Johnson vs. Duke. A large touring car being driven east, according to the evidence, came to an intersection and collided with the left side of a truck being driven north. Part of the decision follows:

"Under the circumstances appellee (the truck owner) had the right-of-way. While this right would not relieve him from the duty of exercising due care, he was entitled to assume that persons approaching on his left would observe the law and respect his right."

Why does the omelet-recipe say SERVE AT ONCE?

THE minute an omelet is hot from the pan, it is puffed up, tender . . . at its best . . . And the minute vegetables are fresh from the garden, all their flavor, all their juice are at their high point.

The way to have white wax beans while they are tender; and carrots when so crisp they cook creamy before they are creamed . . . the way to have all vegetables at their climactic time of freshness, is to pick them from a garden of your own. And the way to grow vegetables approaching perfection is to plant FERRY'S purebred Seeds.

These seeds are perfected the way breeders perfect cattle. A Ferry-bred tomato is no more like an ordinary tomato than Ferry's sweet corn is like horse corn. Find Ferry's purebred Seeds at the "store around the corner." And write for Ferry's Seed Annual. This gives you 73 years' experience in gardens before you start—news of mulch paper—and even of better ways to cook vegetables. D. M. Ferry & Co., Detroit, Michigan.

FERRY'S PUREBRED SEEDS

Community Building

Proper Conception of Duty Man Owes to City

John H. Harrison, editor of the Danville Commercial-News, has given to his home city a public park consisting of 233.47 acres of choice land, including 64 acres now incorporated in the Danville Country Club. In explaining the gift, which he says has been a "family secret" for a dozen years, Mr. Harrison explains his philosophy of the relation of the citizen toward the community. "It has always been my idea," he says, "that every man should put something back into his home town. I have held the theory that if a city furnishes a man his opportunity to make a living and to develop his business affairs, he is under obligation to that city to do something more than just live in it. If a man cannot contribute materially to the public welfare, he can contribute of his effort in working for civic matters."

It is a wholesome idea worth cultivating. How vastly it differs from the too readily adopted theory that "the world owes me a living," the watchword of those looking for soft snaps. Every community in every generation has a number of men able to contribute to civic improvements in some form or other. The others can devote themselves to the no less important work of striving for clean government, for the best possible administration of public affairs, the securing of which lies entirely in their hands.—Chicago Post.

Right Now Good Time for Home Modernizing

The following resolution on maintenance, repair and equipment of homes and other buildings was adopted at a conference in Philadelphia, called by Mayor Harry A. Mackay.

"This conference recommends that every organization in Philadelphia be asked to suggest to its entire membership that there be done at once, wherever possible, all necessary or desirable maintenance, repair and equipment work with respect to existing homes and other buildings; and that such a modernization problem be undertaken in the interest, not alone of immediate employment of a large number of people, but in the interest of health and the improvement and conservation of property.

"This conference further expresses the hope that all organizations, individuals and the press and publications of this city will co-operate in making effective this procedure as a highly desirable immediate step in the prosperity program initiated by the President of the United States."

Make Chimney Attractive

About the chimney of stone there is always the appeal of things which are a direct product of nature. In such material, the chimney will blend with the color and texture of almost anything else. As evidence of this, we see stone chimneys used on houses of stucco, brick and wood.

Like all other chimneys, that of stone requires an adequate footing of concrete, placed on firm, tamped ground or stable stone. This should extend well below the frost line. Good cement mortar should be used for all the joints, and the flues should all be lined with fireclay lining, preferably in round shape to insure proper draught. All framing woodwork should be insulated from the chimney by asbestos or metal.

Village Growth Significant

What the future role of the village in our national drama will be is a matter of speculation, but it is certain that the village is growing in numerical and social importance. In the past 20 years villages have increased from five to nine times as fast as the open country population, and considerably more than the nation's population as a whole. In three out of eight regions villages have grown faster even than the cities. Since village mothers have fewer children than those on the farm, these facts emphasize the exodus from the open country districts, but raise the question whether the trek does not lead to the village as much as to the city.

Limit the Load Weight

Indiana's state highway department is to try to induce the legislature to limit the weight and length of motor vehicles, as "our permanent highways were not designed for the tremendous tonnage that is now placed on them." The latter portion of the statement is as true of New Jersey as of Indiana. It is doubtful whether any state roads have as heavy traffic as ours, which carry that of the great cities of New York and Philadelphia. There should be restriction of the weight of the load, and of the length of the train of trucks.—Trenton Times.

Big Rural Fire Losses

More than 3,500 lives a year are part of the annual toll collected by fire in the rural and small-town communities of the United States. It is estimated that the average loss to flames amounts to about $450,000,000 a year, and of this amount one-third occurs on farms and in small towns of 2,500 or less population. The figures are indicative of the need for better fire prevention and fire protection in the rural sections.

Seed Comes From All Over World

Some Plants Require Specialized Skill in Proper Management.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

When you open a packet of garden seed in the spring, do you have any idea where the seed came from and who grew it? The stock in any wholesale seed house is likely to represent an assembly of items from many parts of the United States and from foreign countries as well, says the United States Department of Agriculture.

Development of Seed. Temperature, humidity, soil and water supply naturally have an important effect on the development of the seed crop. Some plants require specialized skill and experience in the management of the seedling plants. In other cases a plentiful supply of cheap labor determines the production area. Transportation expense, particularly if it is high, may favor seed production in a certain area. Plant pests and crop diseases may play an important part in ending seed production in one area and stimulating it in another.

Bavarian Village Like Part of Another World The little village of Oberammergau lies in the midst of the Bavarian mountains, and from the moment you arrive you feel that you have been transported to a new world. The very porter who shoulders your bag to your villa (as likely as not you will be lodging with Pontius Pilate, or St. John the Divine) has the "face and flaxen curls of an angel, though in his earthly form he wears the embroidered costume of these parts. As you walk the streets you will meet with men and women who, for all you know, have stepped from the pages of the New Testament. Yet with all this, there is not a hint of artificiality, not a suggestion of anything in the least theatrical. The performance of their parts in the Passion play is as natural a part of the lives of these good villagers as are the wood carving and pottery making or other humble crafts which they pursue.—Edwin Petrie.

Wanted to Match Book Ends A sweet young thing, after pawing about in the bookshop for some time, finally selected three beautifully bound volumes, approached the proprietor with them in her hand and inquired the price. When told, she replied that it was too much and asked whether he had nothing cheaper. He replied that he had no cheaper editions of these three books, whereupon the S. Y. T. replied:

"Oh, I don't care whether I get these particular books or not. You see I was given a beautiful pair of book ends some time ago and several of my friends have asked me why I didn't get some books other than Webster's dictionary to put between them. 'I don't care what the books are about, but these three have beautiful bindings which will go so well with my book ends.'—Springfield Union.

Historic Furniture One of the interesting little souvenirs of important events which are being preserved for posterity in the national Capitol is the furniture which was used at the disarmament conference in Washington. This is now in a large room on the ground floor of the house, which is used as a conference room for the largest committee of the house—the committee on appropriations. On the back of each one of the mahogany swivel desk chairs is a silver plate, carrying the name and official title of the official representative from each of the great nations engaged in the conference.

Good Seed Is Essential in Potato Production

"Use of good seed is the first essential in economical potato production."

Advice to potato growers from the horticulture extension specialists of the Ohio State university, lays stress upon this fact. The county agents have been urged to encourage the use of certified seed for this year's crop, by all growers who can obtain this seed.

When the good seed has been obtained, the specialists say, a well-drained field should be chosen in which to plant the potatoes. Fields not naturally drained should be tilled.

Fertility of the soil requires an adequate supply of fresh organic matter. Potatoes should follow a green manure crop, in the opinion of the specialists. Very heavy applications of complete chemical fertilizers are not recommended unless other conditions are good. As conditions improve the application of fertilizer may profitably be increased. Complete fertilizers are recommended. As growing conditions are improved, applications may be increased to 1,000 or 1,500 pounds, or even more, per acre; this can profitably be applied in the row where fertilizer and the seed pieces are kept separate, the specialists say. Row applications have been found most effective in increasing yields.

Agricultural Hints

Among the small grains barley is the most satisfactory substitute for corn.

The feeding value of soy bean seed compares favorably with that of other concentrates.

A potato weeder which is liked by growers who have used it was put on the market last season.

In no other crop can 0.000 to 10.000 pounds of rich, palatable dry matter be grown per acre at as low a cost as in corn.

No other crop can be used in so many different ways as can corn. Its grain is the most appetizing of all grains for animals.

Pernanganate of potash is often used in the water given to turkeys to ward off germs that might get in the water. Unless the pernanganate is fresh, it is no good.

Many valuable by-products such as starch, oil, paper, animal feeds, and even substitutes for lumber are made from the corn plant. Its usefulness has not yet been tested to the limit.

Art is All the Ages

Matter of Environment There is no such thing as a first-class artist in a second-class country. The artist must be able to draw on the total energies that surround him. Nothing but an Elizabethan England could have produced Shakespeare; nothing but an England in the full tide of business and inventive energy could have produced that galaxy of talent which we find at the time of Dickens, Thackeray and Tennyson. When energy takes the form of war, as it did in France, we find that the artistic equivalent of it is criticism. The country that develops a theory of social organization is almost always bound to develop a great music, as was true in Germany. But one can see these various energies slowly declining in the countries to which at this moment they seem to belong. Money and literature are steadily retreating from England to America. Ideas of war and of criticism are steadily departing from France to Italy. Theories of social organization and music seem to be slipping from Germany to Russia.—James Stephens in the Forum.

Yellowstone History

The Yellowstone region was originally occupied by peaceful Shoshone-Indians. There are evidences that white trappers had entered the region as early as 1808, but the rumors of its wonders which from time to time reached the civilized world were given little credence until Henry D. Washburn, surveyor general of Montana, published the first real account of it in 1870. In 1871 the region was explored and mapped by the United States geological and geographical survey of the territories, and in 1872 congress made it a national park.

Golf Terminology

"Which is the better course," asked an ardent follower of the royal and ancient game, addressing a Chicago newspaper, "is it a puzzle one's putt or to fetter on the tee?"

The racing editor, pinch hitting for the golf editor, tilted his feet upon the desk, smoked a long black cigar, then wrote: "Should a player snuggle his iron it is permissible for him to fuzzle his putt; but the better plan would be to drop his guppy into the pringle and snoodle it out with his nibble."

Many Odd Birds Found

Placed as it is so near the tropics, and its southern tip being actually in the tropic zone, Florida includes in its avifauna tropical birds not found elsewhere in North America. The frigate bird, says Nature Magazine, most magnificent in flight of all American birds, is found at all seasons along the southern coasts. The scarlet flamingo may be seen in the Cape Sable region, and rarely, farther to the north. Several West Indian doves have been taken at Key West, and on other nearby keys.

"Yes," said the bumptious young man, "I'm a thought reader. I can tell exactly what a person is thinking." "In that case," said the elderly man, "I beg your pardon."

Raspberry growers are likely to be disappointed if they fertilize their plantations in the spring, the horticultural department at Michigan State college, stated today. The department base their statement upon data compiled for the last few years. The horticulture department advises the application of fertilizers in mid-September if any are to be used, and they state that it is doubtful if a profit can be obtained from the use of fertilizers for raspberries which are growing on heavy, fairly rich soils. Plants yielding at the rate of 150 crates per acre require no additional plant food according to the college experiments.

KINDLY FEELING

Boarder—Mrs. Stewprune, I found a mouse in the milk this morning. Mrs. Stewprune—Oh, the poor thing! Was it dead?

State News in Brief

Carleton—Plans are being completed for a new municipal building here, costing $40,000. The building would house the fire equipment, the village council chamber, police headquarters and justice court.

Redford—A farmer living near Redford has a trained rooster that has been in the family for almost 10 years. The rooster pecks on the rear door each morning about breakfast time, and during the day will run to the door when his name is called. The name is Willie.

Port Huron—Mrs. Eliza Boardman, 78 years old, was found dead in her home, of gas asphyxiation. Her son, Matthew Boardman, who was found unconscious, was revived with a pulmonary. Gas was escaping from two open burners in the kitchen range, believed to have been accidentally opened.

Bay City—Charles Sasa, Pinconning farmer, is in Mercy hospital here, both legs having been broken when he was run over by a tractor with which he had been moving chicken coops on his farm. Sasa was behind the tractor making some adjustment, when the clutch slipped and reversed the heavy machine.

Lansing—Frank Corser, Livingston County, killed a whistling swan on Bass Lake. He called it a "snow goose." He was arrested by conservation officers, convicted and paid a fine of $50 and costs of $15. The swan had a wing spread of 6 feet, 9 inches. It was sent to the University Museum, Ann Arbor, for mounting.

Sault Ste. Marie—Thomas Germain, 106 years old, one of the oldest and perhaps the oldest resident of the upper peninsula, recently died at his home here. He came to Chippewa county in 1890. He was born in Quebec, March 20, 1824. He is survived by four daughters, four sons, 38 grand children and 17 great grandchildren.

Mt. Pleasant—An inventor has been discovered in the manual arts department at Central State Teachers' college. Lewis Hodges, of Owosso, is a third year student in the manual arts department and has recently come upon the idea of a rapid lumber calculator. The calculator determines the cost of any quantity of lumber, at any price.

Bay City—Faster mail to the Thumb district was promised by Chief Clerk E. C. Jefferies, of district six railway mail service in response to a petition circulated through the Thumb asking for improved delivery. Jefferies said methods of speeding service are being considered. The petition suggested that mail be carried out of here on buses.

Lansing—Merger of the Michigan State Farm bureau wool pool, active since 1919, and the Michigan Co-operative Wool Marketing association to operate hereafter under the name of the latter association, was announced here by Secretary C. L. Brody, of the farm bureau, at the close of a meeting of the two boards of directors, held at state farm bureau headquarters.

Mt. Clemens—The entire faculty of East Detroit's public schools has offered to donate their salaries for one, two or three months, in order to help prevent reducing the efficiency of the present school system, if the financial situation becomes so acute that this is necessary. The only provision made in the offer is that the board of education would be expected to do likewise.

Calumet—Children playing in a forest on the outskirts of Calumet, came upon a bundle of old clothes which, when opened, revealed the burned body of an infant boy. Investigation showed that the child apparently was burned to death shortly after birth and had been hidden in the woods. A physician stated the child had been dead only a few hours when the body was found.

Edmore—Curt Hale, 65 years old, a Gratiot County farmer, died in Edmore Hospital as the result of burns suffered when he attempted to recover goods from his blazing home, near Riverdale. Hale had carried his wife to safety after fire had broken out in his farm home and returned to rescue some of the contents. He was overcome by smoke and it was some time before neighbors were able to carry him out.

Buchanan—Maple sugar producers of southern Berrien county are polishing up their maple syrup and sugar making utensils and closing up shop after one of the most successful seasons in the history of the industry here. There was a long flow of sap this year, starting in early February and running until a short time ago. According to a leading producer who has sold almost 500 gallons of syrup this season, 35 gallons of sap was required to make a gallon of pure syrup.

Mt. Clemens—Detroit street railway service to Mt. Clemens, which was to have been discontinued May 1 will continue at least until June 30. Announcement of the extension was made after a conference between the D. S. R. officials, representatives of the Eastern Michigan System and the Bond Holders Protective Committee of the old D. U. R., whose tracks the D. S. R. is using on the Mt. Clemens operation. The D. S. R. announced that it was losing money on the Mt. Clemens service, although no charge is being made for use of the tracks.

Opolis—Mrs. W. E. Smith, 71 years old, of this city, dropped dead while answering questions of a census enumerator. Apoplexy is given as the cause of death.

Battle Creek—Battle Creek's 1930 population is 49,301, according to figures announced by census officials. This is an increase of 5,923 in the last 10 years. Marshall's population now is 4,831, an increase of 561 over 1920.

Lapeer—William Gallagher, Ed McGunagle and Judson Baldoock, of Marathon and Oregon Townships, paid fines and costs when they were found guilty in justice court of dynamiting fish in the Flint River near Columbiaville.

Niles—Earl Parker, 22 years old, and Homer Benjamin, 22 years old, both of Niles, were killed almost instantly when their motorcycles collided head-on with an automobile driven by Joseph Barrea, 19 years old, of South Bend, Ind. The accident occurred on highway U. S. 31.

Ypsilanti—The west bank of the Huron River, from Michigan avenue south, is being cleared under the direction of city authorities, and will be used as a parking place for automobiles owned by business men in the downtown district, thus providing more space along the streets for the parking of transient cars.

Marshall—Two men were killed at an alley crossing by a Michigan Central train which hit their truck.
