"Married In Hollywood" At Temple Theatre Sunday and Monday

Romance in glittering uniform, amid the gaiety and color of Vienna and the glaring Klieg lights of Hollywood, forms the basis of "Married In Hollywood," the speaking screen's first original operetta, which will attract capacity crowds to the Temple Theatre, Sunday and Monday, Sept. 31, Oct. 1.

With dozens of sparkling operatic numbers by Oscar Straus and Dave Stamper woven into the fabric of its charming love story, and scores of unique pictorial and audible novelties introduced into the narrative, "Married In Hollywood," a Fox Movietone song romance, is rated by screen critics as the finest production of its type.

Norma Terris of "Showboat" fame and J. Harold Murray of "Rio Rita" fame, act and sing the leading roles, and reveal voices of calibre unrivaled in picture history. Walter Catlett, Tom Patricia, Irene Palasty, John Garrick, Lelia Karnelly and Lennox Pawle are in the cast, and a large chorus of trained singers, symphony orchestra under the direction of Arthur Kay, and a large dancer group forms a colorful background for the delightful operatic sequences.

"He invented the process of cutting a pie into five quarters!"

Roll Over, You're Dreaming
"What's your idea of an ideal place for a vacation?"
"A place where the fish bite and the mosquitoes don't, and where neither the bees nor hotel keepers sting you."

Fortune Teller: "You want to know your future husband, beautiful lady?"
Lady: "No... I want to know something about the past of my present husband for future use."

Emmet County Free Fair

AT PETOSKEY NEXT WEEK, SEPT. 2-3-4-5.

The Emmet County Free Fair will be held this year at the Fair Grounds at Petoskey on Sept. 2, 3, 4 and 5. Roy V. Otto, Secretary of the Fair, stated that "this year's showing, entertainments, etc., will be the best in years and will be a mark which will be hard to surpass next year."

The grounds have undergone several great improvements one of which is the midway. A new 24-foot street has been laid down and no longer will people have to walk on muddy ground. Concessions are of a better character than in previous years and many high class eating places will be had. There will be just plenty of places on the midway where one can find amusement.

This year the committee has completed arrangements with four of the best free acts which they could get and these will perform afternoon and evening for the benefit of the crowd. The final night of the fair will be the large public wedding which will be done in royal fashion. The couple who will agree to be married on, this night will receive $50 in gold besides the pleasure of having a wedding similar to a Royal Wedding.

Horse races, ball games, band concerts, drum and bugle corps, will also form entertainment for the patrons of the fair. The exhibitions of stock, produce, and handicraft promises to excel anything ever seen. Two new features will be a fox show and a rabbit show. Hundreds of these animals will be brought to the Emmet County Free Fair this year.

HIGH SCHOOL AGR'L BOYS TAKE TRIP

Students of the Agricultural Dept. who are carrying some project for part of their summer's work, and who have kept that project up to date, had the opportunity to take a three day camping trip through the southern part of the State.

The object of the trip was not only to reward the students for work done as well as they could do it, but mostly to give them an idea of what crops are being grown in the State, and what becomes of a lot of the raw materials we produce.

We left East Jordan Thursday morning in one of the school busses with Mr. Grutsch as driver. Each boy had brought along something in the line of food which helped out our expenses. We also had tents and blankets.

The first day we went down US-31 stopping at Ludington to go through the salt mills. The process of converting salt brine pumped from wells 2300 ft. deep into salt used on our tables, and for feeding our livestock, was found to be very interesting.

From Ludington we went on south to camp at St. Joseph for the night. At this city the boys spent a pleasant two hours at the Silver Beach amusement park, and then rolled up in their blankets for the little sleep such a group us. ly gets.

Friday morning we drove through Benton Harbor and the grounds at the "House David" From there we went through the rest of the fruit district (grapes, berries, peaches and plums) to Kalamazoo. Here we saw Western State Normal College and Kalamazoo College.

Still traveling eastward we passed through what was formerly Camp Custer, and stopped at Battle Creek to go through the Kellogg Breakfast Food Factory. This was one of the most interesting features of the trip, especially so since everyone who goes on a tour through the factory is served with ice cream in the cafeteria and is given sample boxes of breakfast foods as souvenirs. We saw corn converted into appetizing foods and these foods packed in boxes and the latter sealed, scarcely being touched by human hands. This is being done at such a rate that it requires 150 tons of paper boxes a day to hold the products.

Our next stop was at Jackson prison. Here we were allowed to enter through five steel gates, under guard, to be taken around inside the four forbidding looking walls that enclose an area of 57 acres. Inside these walls at present are over 3,000 prisoners. These men are all engaged at some kind of work; some in shops, working with wood or steel; others working in the clothing factory where everything is made from the raw cotton, and we saw all of the processes—carding spinning yarn, weaving, cleaning, and dyeing. We also passed through the kitchen, dining room, chapel and blocks of cells. By this time all of the boys had decided they did not care to stay so we asked to be let out.

Lansing was the next point of interest and here we saw the State Capitol building, then went to East Lansing and looked over the Agricultural College campus, barns and some of the livestock.

After spending the night in a tourist park outside of Lansing, we left for East Jordan and home Saturday morning.

Everyone had a very enjoyable trip and saw many things of great educational value, and cannot help but have a much broader outlook on things going on about us.

"Can you send paw down to help me out?" begged the young man over the phone.

"What's the matter with you?" his mother asked, in a tired voice. "And where have you been all night?"

"I'm in jail," he confessed.

"Oh, you are, are you?" she snapped. "Well, so's your old man."

According to a lecturer, a married man is a far more attentive listener than a bachelor. He has to be.

Prohibitionists need feel no fear of a return of the corner saloon. The corners are all taken up with filling stations.

EUGENE COLE DIES IN CALIF.

Another old settler passed away August 12, 1930 at Los Angeles, Calif. Eugene Cole was born in Oneida County, New York in 1844, and with his parents lived in Wisconsin and Iowa until 1867, when he and his wife came to Charlevoix County and took up a homestead, when the whole country was covered with virgin forest, and their home was the only house beyond Ellsworth. Later, he in company with Sol. Isaman and Henry B. Stohman and others helped to build up the West Side, then known as South Arm. Some of the old buildings he put up still remain near the bridge, the hotel being razed to the ground for an oil station in recent years. The lake was the most important thoroughfare then for business, connecting East Jordan via Charlevoix with all important cities. Mr. Cole was affiliated with the F. & A. M. and other lodges.

He has spent the latter part of his life in the West, near Los Angeles, California, where he passed in his 86th year. He has been an invalid in a hospital for the past three years, which was caused from a fall.

He is survived by a son, Arthur Cole, of the West, and a sister, Mrs. Edith Root, of Boyne City, Mich.

CONTROL WHEAT SMUT WITH CHEAP METHODS

Reports from the millers in Michigan that one out of every five cars of wheat coming to market has to be graded as smutty is the reason given by the crops department of Michigan State College for advising the use of the treatments which with little cost will prevent smut in next year's crop.

The treatments recommended are simple and inexpensive and either the formaldehyde or the copper carbonate methods will control the disease.

Stinking smut, which show at maturity as a mass of dark colored, dily spores inside the wheat kernel, is the disease for which treatment is recommended. Loose smut is difficult to control and is not a serious check on the Michigan wheat crop.

With the formaldehyde method, the seed wheat is soaked for 10 minutes in a solution made by adding on pint of formaldehyde to 40 gallons of water. The wheat should be spread out to dry after treating and then should be planted as soon as it will pass through the drill readily.

Copper carbonate dust at the rate of two or three ounces to each bushel of seed can be applied in a barrel churn, an oil drum, or other similar container which can be rolled to insure the thorough coating of the wheat with the chemical. A gauze mask should be worn while the seed is being treated, and the treated grain is poisonous so it can not be fed.

Tests made with Berkley Rock wheat indicate that it is immune to both loose and stinking smut.

Owosso—Six lawsuits for damages totaling $90,000 have been filed in Circuit Court by Mrs. Belle Watkins of Ypsilanti, against the Flint-Owosso Bus line, which has headquarters here. The suits are the result of a collision between a car driven by Thomas Watkins, husband of the plaintiff, and a bus owned by the company. Watkins and one child were killed instantly and another child died four days later. Mrs. Watkins and a third child were injured.

Coldwater—Possibility of a gold strike near Bronson, Branch County, caused excitement among residents. Drillers for oil brought up particles of gold from a drilling at Matheon Lake. The gold ore was sent to the state chemist at Lansing for analysis. Considerable drilling has been going on in this vicinity for oil, but no wells have come in. The gold, drillers said, was found beneath the quicksand which has been holding up the oil drilling operations.

Detroit—George E. Buchanan and his 1930 geography class have returned to Detroit after an 8,000 mile trip that took them through the Western states, Canada, and Alaska. There were 44 boys in the party, ranging in age from 10 to 17 years. The trip is the eighth of its kind. The boys earn a third of their expenses, a third is paid by their parents, and the other third advanced by Mr. Buchanan as an honor debt to be paid back, without interest, at some future time. The round trip fare, including all expenses, is $375.

Dearborn—Henry Ford's Dearborn estate was the scene of an exciting hunt Wednesday when the only bear on the grounds yielded to the call of the wild, breaking the bars of his cage. A band of 50 employes were called out and started beating the bush. The hunt was concluded when the animal became fatigued. He dozed off in the shade of a tree and gave one of the more stalwart hunters an opportunity to swing a club on his cranium. Bruin was roped before he regained consciousness.

Eighth Annual County Picnic

LABOR DAY, SEPT. 1, AT WHITING COUNTY PARK.

Great plans have been made for your entertainment on Labor Day at Whiting Park, when the business and rural interests of Charlevoix County unite in putting on the eighth annual Charlevoix County Picnic.

Nothing has been left undone to make this day one that will never be forgotten. There will be something doing every minute of the day.

Sports that will make your blood run wild, speeches that will hold your rapt attention, music that will thrill, and above all three real boxing bouts. Then don't forget the picnic dinner at noon. Food will never taste better than in this beautiful site located near the shoreline of Lake Charlevoix where the atmosphere is perfect and the spring water is 100 per cent pure.

Throw away your cares and troubles, pack up the old lunch basket and bring along the family for the big occasion.

Music for the day will be furnished by the Barnard Band, a group of young musicians all under eighteen years of age, who know their stuff when it comes to producing music.

Doughnuts, coffee, cream and sugar will be furnished free of charge. Come and help yourself. Then several Legion Posts in the County will have stands to quench your thirst and satisfy your appetite.

The sports will start at 11:00 fast time, with running races for the children and men, a potato race, sack race, and tug-of-war between the city men and country men. Basket dinner at noon. The speaking program starts at 1:30 o'clock, featured by the appearance of several orators of local reputation.

At 2:00 o'clock the boxing contests start. Three evenly matched bouts are listed that will be red-hot battles from the go. The first bout is between two Charlevoix boys, Alex Bolton and Guy John. Second match, Cecil Yettaw and Joe Writer, of Charlevoix. Third match, Frank Winnick, Charlevoix; and Bugs Glute, Boyne City. Matchmaker Powers of Charlevoix fame will be in charge.

At 3:00 o'clock comes the Indoor Baseball game between the American Legion teams of East Jordan and Boyne City. Watch the fur fly when these two aggregations tangle.

Space does not permit giving any more details, but come and enjoy the day at Whiting Park on Labor Day, Sept. 1st.

MODEL HOUSES MAKE POULTRY WORK FAST

Model poultry houses with all the latest conveniences to shelter 100 to 125 hens in such a manner that they will have no other desire than to do their daily stint of an egg a day will be built in 20 Michigan counties in the next three months by poultry specialists from Michigan State College.

Similar work done in some parts of Michigan last year led to so many requests for this project that only 50 per cent of the requests could be met. The State was divided at the Bay County line and the demonstration houses will be built in counties south of that line this year and north of it next year.

A shed roof type house on a concrete foundation and with concrete floor 20 by 20 feet will be built in two days at each demonstration. Anyone interested is invited to watch the construction and to attend the meetings which will be held the afternoon of the second day at each place.

Screened dropping boards, a set of nest boxes, and a mash hopper will also be built during the two days. All the houses have the King modified ventilating system, floor insulation against dampness, and insulation for heat control.

Dates set for the counties are Gratiot, Sept. 4-5; Missaukee, 9-10; Mecosta, 11-12-13; Midland, 16-17; Bay, 18-19; Tuscola, 23-24; Huron, 25-26; Sanilac, 30 and Oct. 1; St. Clair, 2-3; Jackson, 7-8; Monroe, 9-10; Clinton, 14-15; Macomb, 16-17; Ingham, 21-22; Eaton, 23-24; Kent, 27-28; Allegan, 29-30; Van Buren, Oct. 31-Nov. 1; Berrien, 4-5; Cass, 6-7.

All women are born equal, but some spoil it by getting married.

The sad part of it is that so much of the money spent in beauty parlors would have shown up better if applied on the grocery bills.

Making the Safety Vault Safer

This young woman is trying out a new microphone device installed in a bank vault in Chicago. The microphone is smaller than those used in radio broadcasting and is so sensitive that a slight noise will set off the alarm, which is heard at all police stations.

THE QUEER ONES

By THOMAS ARKLE CLARK
Dean of Men, University of Illinois.

If things went on normally in every community and every one was regular and conventional and followed custom, life would be duller than it is. It is the unusual that gives zest and color and interest to life. It gives one something to talk about, it changes the dull monotony of a regular routine to have some one in the community who refuses to follow the regular road which the crowd follows.

We should have missed a good deal if we had not had Horton in our village. He ran the grocery store in town. Long after every merchant was delivering his merchandise by automobile Horton continued to drive his old piebald nag to a rickety delivery wagon. He did not care for automobiles. He did the delivering himself, sitting on the high seat of the cart as unrelaxed as a wooden Indian, his frock coat tails hanging over the back of the seat and his old "stove pipe" hat cocked at a perceptible angle on his gray head. He was a figure that no one ever forgot. He kept to his old ways and his old dress until the undertaker conveyed him to the cemetery, but as long as he lived he gave class to the town.

They have automobiles and electric lights and furnaces and running water and radios and safety razors and telephones in most of the farm houses in the community in which I once lived—that is they all do but McGinnis. He lets his whiskers grow, he rides to town still in a glittering surry behind a span of spirited horses. He wouldn't trade a good horse for the best automobile he ever set eyes on. He is the richest man in the community who could have everything he wants, but the facts are he wants nothing modern. The old ways are good enough for him. He has no use for a telephone and the radio drives him crazy. He carries all the water he uses from a spring a hundred yards or so from the house. Why dig a well or put in a force pump? He still clings to the old base burner and thinks a kerosene lamp quite good enough for any of his purposes. He is just a freak, the neighbors say, but it is immensely interesting to see, in a community where every one else is crazy to get some place else in a hurry, one man who is satisfied to go slowly and contented with the same conveniences as his grandfather had.

Mrs. Clester, who leads the social procession in the town, like Queen Mary, has never followed the styles as reproduced in the pages of the fashion magazines. She sets her own. She has never fallen for short skirts or the uneven hemline or bobbed hair or even silk stockings. Lisle thread ones are good enough for her, and she still wears these big wide brimmed floppy hats covered with waving feathers and flowers. But she attracts attention when she walks down the street.

They have courage these queer ones. They help to stabilize custom and to keep the radicals from going wild over social and sartorial novelties. More power to them.

Lifesaver at Five

The bright sparkle in little Calvin L. Morris' eyes is not there for nothing. Calvin, who is only five years old, recently saved the life of four-year-old Bobbie Nielsen, of Logan, Utah, when the latter fell from a bridge over the Thatcher mill creek and was being swept towards a 30-foot water fall. Calvin, who saw the accident, rushed down the creek bank until he could lean over and clutch Bobbie's arm. Then he held on doggedly until Bobbie's father heard their screams and snatched his boy from the current.

Charlotte—Charlotte's first airplane owner is Claude Cooper, who has purchased a Waco 90, three-passenger plane. Cooper plans to take further lessons in aviation, with the view of securing a pilot's license and then operate his plane for passenger service.

Kalamazoo—An average crop of grapes is predicted for the Kalamazoo district this year, by fruit growers. The quality of the grapes will be excellent and the dry weather this summer has helped the grapes by keeping the black rot out of the vineyards.

Detroit—Adela Scott, 5 years old, was seriously burned on the face and body while playing with matches. The child was on a back porch alone when her parents heard her scream. They ran out to find her clothing in flames. The father and mother were also burned on the hands while they were extinguishing the fire.

Milford—Burglars escaped with a large part of the stock of the Arms Brothers' clothing store. The stolen merchandise, which included 25 suits, 15 top coats, 25 knickers, 25 hats, 50 neckties and an undetermined number of shoes, was valued at more than $1,500. The thieves broke in through a rear window and used automobiles to haul away the clothing.

Owosso—After spending a week-end digging up evergreens near Evart to be planted at his Detroit home, A. R. Morrison had a forest fire enroute to Detroit. Transported on a trailer, the trees caught fire near this city and were destroyed. Two men were burned in saving the trailer. It is believed a lighted cigar tossed by a passing motorist ignited the trees.

Monroe—Stealing four chickens worth $4 was an expensive proposition for Russell Campbell, 20 years old, of Scofield, near here. When arraigned in police court for the theft of the chickens from the farm of Mrs. Mary Wykenhelsler of Exeter Township, the youth was sentenced to pay a fine of $50 and costs or to serve 30 days in the county jail. He took the jail sentence.

PRIMARY FUND AMOUNTS TO $17.12 PER CHILD

Apportionment of the primary school fund was completed recently by the State Department of Public Instruction. The record-breaking distribution of $24,070,285 will return to a number of smaller counties more than they pay the State in taxes.

The primary fund last year was $20,029,985 and the rate of apportionment was $15.70 for each school child. This year the rate, because of the larger fund, had advanced to $17.12. The fund is made up of taxes paid by public utilities, inheritances and other special levies. It is returned to the districts, as an aid to education, in direct proportion to the number of children in the districts.

The number of children of school age, according to the apportionment, is 1,335,911, as compared with 1,274,221 last year.

DON'T MISS IT!

Not Explorer, but Salesman, Dr. Charcot Says

Paris.—Christopher Columbus had fructose and a dimple in his chin, was a strict vegetarian, a 100-per-cent dry who drank only water flavored with sugar and orange blossoms, and had the habit of sprinkling himself with perfume, particularly after of roses and odor of black currants.

That is the picture Dr. Jean Charcot, of the Institute of France, himself famed as an explorer in polar waters, has drawn of the hardy navigator after nearly a lifetime study of the history of Columbus.

In the opinion of Doctor Charcot, Columbus was not an explorer, but a traveling salesman, who had been sent often by the government to buy sugar in African isles and to sell Spanish and Portuguese goods.

Didn't Even Swear.
Doctor Charcot pictures Columbus as a kind father and perfect gentleman, almost saintly in character. He never swore, beyond an occasional oath "by San Fernando," and he knew nothing of the traditional vocabulary of seamen.

"Those who have twice attempted to beautify Columbus have been forcing things a bit," Doctor Charcot says. "There were times when his intimate life was not exactly virtuous and there were times when his hand was heavy, but in all he was a clean, religious man. After four and one-half centuries, we are just beginning to be able to draw a picture of what Columbus looked like.

"We know now that he was taller than average, had a long face and a long aquiline nose. His dimpled chin portrayed strength of character. His cheeks were like red apples, but his gray eyes were wells of emotion. His whole face was freckled, and by thirty his hair was gray.

"Columbus was one of the first vegetarians in history, living on fruits and vegetables, and he never drank alcoholic drinks. His folly for perfumes was his only bad habit, and it must have been disagreeable to share the ward room with a man who doused himself with attar of roses.

Just an Average Man.
"He was, above all else, modest never having exaggerated opinion of himself. He did not even claim to be a savant, but he had a robust opinion of his own sea qualities. He was probably less perfect than his admirers picture him, and better than his detractors would portray him.

"Even if he had not discovered America, he would have gone down in history as the admiral who gave the hammock to ships, and ever since his day seamen have slept at night in that sort of bed."

Although thirteen different Italian towns, as well as Corsica, France and Spain have laid claim to being the birthplace of Columbus, Doctor Charcot is of the opinion that Columbus was born in 1452 in Genoa, an issue of the marriage of Domenico Colombo, a weaver, and Susanna Fontanarossa, and that he had three brothers, Giovanni, Bartolomeo and Giacomo, and a sister, Bianchinetta, who married Giacomo Bavarello, a dealer in cheeses and sausages.

Indian, 60, and Worth $150,000, Gives Up Tent
Pawhuska, Okla.—John Stink, Osage Indian, has been persuaded to live under a roof. Stink is sixty years old and is worth $150,000.

He lived on his allotment, about five miles south of Pawhuska in a tent until J. George Wright, Indian agent, persuaded Stink to occupy a small frame house built for him.

For the last ten years Stink has refused to visit Pawhuska and draw his tribal funds. Formerly he lived in an old frame building near the agency, but one morning while absent from home a policeman killed his four dogs. Stink turned his back on Pawhuska and never has been in town since that time. He lived alone until recently the Osage agency provided him with a Sioux Indian as housekeeper.

Ancient Flivver Likes Egg-nogs; It Runs, Too

San Francisco, Calif.—Harken to the tale of Lizzie, the egg eater. An ancient flivver which seems to be suffering from arteriosclerosis of the carburetor, cirrhosis of the differential and fendered gears, has been discovered by Dr. C. H. Cummings, San Francisco dentist.

Doctor Cummings declares the cursed driver brings the car gaily to a grocery near his window, takes off the radiator cap, breaks three eggs and drops them in.

"Curious," he reflects, "but then perhaps it wouldn't be a bad idea if it developed a taste for beefsteaks. Think of the dental work necessary to outfit it with plates."

Housekeeper Leaves Estate to De Valera

Boston.—A housekeeper, who was known only as Bridget, has not died, leaving $1,000 to James De Valera, Dublin, Ireland. The rest of the residue of her estate, which is estimated to be $500, goes to Aidan's (twelve) in Dublin.

Copper Prize to Go to Dr. Babcock

Is Honored for Distinguished Service to Agriculture

Chicago.—The first annual Copper prize of $5,000 and a gold medal recognizing distinguished service to American agriculture has been awarded to Stephen Moulton Babcock, professor emeritus of agricultural chemistry at the University of Wisconsin. His invention in 1890 of the test weighing his name for butterfat in milk made possible the growth of today's important industry of dairying, so eminently a part of American agriculture. The test was not patented so that it might more fully benefit the dairy industry. In creating the annual award, Arthur Capper, senior Kansas senator, said he desired to provide a concrete expression of gratitude to some of the persons who make contributions of national importance to agriculture.

Doctor Babcock is an agricultural chemist. He was awarded a bronze medal by the Wisconsin legislature in 1889, the grand prize at the Paris exposition in 1900 and the grand prize at the St. Louis exposition in 1904.

Heretofore the outstanding men in science, literature, and in various other creative arts have been awarded valuable prizes for their achievements. This is the first time that the men who devote their lives to working for agriculture and those engaged in the basic industry have been eligible for a prize of any kind, nationally speaking. The award will be formally made to Doctor Babcock this October at the National Country Life association convention in Madison, Wis., where the recipient lives.

Mother, 42, Graduates From Grammar School

St. Louis.—A forty-two-year-old mother of five children is proud of her new grade school diploma.

In September, 1920, Mrs. Lulu Ruh, took up her grammar school studies where she left off at the age of twelve when illness forced her to remain home. The other day, just a few days before her eighteen-year-old daughter, Catherine, graduated from high school, Mrs. Ruh attended commencement ceremonies and received her eighth-grade diploma from night school.

"Next September," Mrs. Ruh asserts, "I'm going to start my high school course."

Taxicab Driver Helps Bandits Escape Police

Detroit.—Charles Mason, a taxicab driver, admitted wrecking a police scout car with his own cab in order that two bandits might escape, but he was not prosecuted.

Mason drove alongside the police car as it careened down the street in pursuit of a car containing two youthful bandits. They had just held up a store. Mason shouted to the officers asking them not to shoot.

As they continued their headlong pace Mason forced the police car over the curb and the bandits escaped.

In court he explained his action. He recognized his "kid brother" in the bandit car.

Composer Makes Perfect Score in Radio Test

Du Bois, Pa.—George W. Rosenkrans, a composer of Penfield, submitted to a test conducted over the country by a radio firm. It is a test to see how well cultivated the ear is from a musical standpoint.

Rosenkrans made 100 per cent by telling how many voices he heard in a selection; by telling how many male voices; how many female voices; which of tones were higher; harmony, discord; the names of different instruments that were played.

He is the first person in the section to make a perfect score.

All Beekeepers May Grade Honey

Special Permission Not Necessary to Use Standard Grades.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)
Many beekeepers mistakenly believe that they are forbidden to use the United States standard grades for honey unless they have special permission or unless a federal agent has inspected and graded their honey, says James I. Hambleton of the bureau of entomology, United States Department of Agriculture.

Most Comply With Rules.
"It should be clearly understood," says Mr. Hambleton, "that anyone who complies with the United States grading rules for honey is entitled to use the United States grades and grading stamp. He may use the official grading stamps or may incorporate the stamp into his own label if he so wishes." A circular has been issued suggesting a way in which this can be done. This will be sent with other information on grading, upon application to the Division of Bee Culture Investigations, Bureau of Entomology, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

The process of grading extracted honey is simple, Mr. Hambleton says. The honey must be of good flavor, of proper density, and as clean as specified for the grade. When packed in opaque containers, the color of the honey must be marked on the grade label. Most beekeepers may have samples of the honey graded as to color, free of charge, by sending a two-ounce sample to the state division of markets, the state specialist in beekeeping, or to the state agricultural college.

Lack of Color Grader.
Many states now have one or more standard color graders at the service of the beekeepers, but if no grader is available in the state, beekeepers may send samples of honey to the Division of Bee Culture Investigations, Bureau of Entomology, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

This free color grading is educational and unofficial and does not carry with it a certificate of grade, color and purity such as is issued by the federal honey inspectors of the United States bureau of agricultural economics, who are at the service of anyone who wishes to pay for official inspection and certification. This inspection service is now used for the most part by exporters, but could be made more generally available if the demand were sufficient.

Wild Onion Destroyed by Careful Plowing

On cultivated land wild onion can seldom be destroyed in one season. The first step is to plow in the fall as late as practicable, the depth of the furrow being gauged to bring the roots, or bulbs, to the surface where they will be killed by freezing. As some of the roots will live through the winter, the land should be plowed again in the spring, at a depth which will throw the roots to the surface where many more of them will be killed by spring frost. Following this treatment, a clean cultivated crop followed in turn by wheat and clover, or any other thickly sown crop, will usually completely rid the land of the pest. Liming and fertilizing is also effective as it helps the crop to crowd out the weed.

Destroy Cutworm Moth by Plowing in Autumn

The cutworm moth lays her eggs on weeds and grass in late summer. When the eggs hatch, the worms feed for a while and then enter the ground where they make a little nest for the winter. In the spring they come out and feed on the vegetation available. It is recommended that the garden be plowed in the fall so as to disturb the nests and many will be killed.

In the spring keep the land free from grass and weeds and put out some poison to kill those that feed on it. If you keep the garden clear of weeds and grass during the summer and fall, cutworms may come in from the grass borders in the spring when they are hungry.

FARM NOTES

Full plowing is an important aid in the war on insect and weed pests.

Separate your cockerels from the pullets as soon as you can detect the sex, and get your cockerels ready and market them as soon as possible.

Fruit thinning is more profitable on trees carrying an excessively heavy crop than on those where the set is slightly more than what is wanted. The return is likely to be greater on fuzzy varieties like Jonathan and McIntosh than on Ben Davis and Baldwin.

He Says He Is 119

Thomas Kent of near Poplar Bluff Mo., claims that he will be one hundred and nineteen years old on September 10 next, and he is believed to be the oldest person in Missouri. He is in fine health and enjoys long walks and rabbit hunting.

Mt. Pleasant.—Gerald Fox, 21 years old, of Beal City, suffered a broken back when he dived off the red bridge into shallow water in the Chippewa river at Mt. Pleasant. He was completely paralyzed. He was taken to Ann Arbor, where doctors said they may be able to save his life.

Coldwater.—Lester Jenkins saved the life of Ariene Pash, daughter of C. C. Pash, of Coldwater, from death beneath a scow at the Narrows, a resort near here. The girl was swimming near the scow and as it passed the suction of the water drew her under. Jenkins went to her rescue and grabbed her as she started to go under the craft.

MICHIGAN BELL TELEPHONE CO.

"It's great to hear your voice, Mary. How are the children?"

Nothing can equal the satisfaction of a telephone call home, while away. Occasional calls to home or office will keep you in close touch with family and business affairs, and will relieve you of worry.

And if you give the folks at home the number of the telephone at which you can be called, they will be enabled to reach you quickly and easily, if necessary.

Long Distance rates are surprisingly low and the service is fast.

Nothing agitates some people more than telling them to keep calm. "Telling is selling"—if you have the goods and the price is right.

IN WOMEN'S HANDS

IN THE FREEDOM of women's hands is to be read much of the story of this modern day. Hands that press electric buttons, that lift telephone receivers, that turn the pages of newspapers. Hands no longer fettered by the endless household labors of a generation ago.

In woman's hands today are the advertisements in the newspaper. They speak to every woman's judgement. They appeal to her sense of efficiency. They answer her desire for a life unhampered by needless difficulties and restraints.

By helping her in the intelligent management of her household, advertisements free her hands for direction, for pleasure, for the graces of living. They tell her of products and appliances that lighten her work. They tell her of foods, clothing and equipment that can be advantageously bought. They tell her of countless ways in which she can manage her home more economically and with more success.

In women's hands advertisements are symbols of a new power in a new day. They are eloquent of progress, of comfort, of accomplishment. They serve well. Read them.

OTIS J. SMITH, City Clerk.

To the Electors of Charlevoix County

It is my duty as a candidate for nomination as County Treasurer to inform you, and particularly those of you who do not personally know me, as to who I am, my reasons for being a candidate and what I stand for. I have lived in Charlevoix County the greater part of my life, was graduated from Boyne City High School in 1912. After taking a year of commercial work in Albion College and general agriculture in M. S. C., I purchased a farm in Hayes Township where I have lived fifteen years. For ten consecutive years I have been Supervisor of Hayes Township and also a member of the Auditing Committee of the Board of Supervisors. During that time it has been my duty to keep in close touch with the financial affairs of the county and I have discharged that duty to the best of my ability. The knowledge of county business gained by this experience naturally leads me to feel that I could be of some service to the people in the office of County Treasurer. I know the burden of taxation and the need of lessening that burden whenever and wherever possible. The office of County Treasurer affords many opportunities in this respect. If chosen to the office it will be my earnest and constant endeavor to perform my duties always in the interest of the people and give them the benefit of a careful and safe business policy.

I am offering my candidacy for your consideration at the Primary Election, Sept. 9, 1930. It will be impossible to see all of you personally but I welcome inquiries and am willing to leave the whole matter to your best judgment.

Sincerely yours,

HOWARD C. STEPHENS

WHY DON'T THEY ANSWER

By THOMAS ARKLE CLARK
Dean of Men, University of Illinois.

Mr. Micawber had a good deal of trouble with his correspondents. The difficulty was that they would not answer.

"I am aware," Mrs. Micawber said to Mr. Copperfield, "that I am now about to cast my lot among strangers; and I am also aware that the various members of my family, to whom Mr. Micawber has written in the most gentlemanly terms, announcing that fact, have not taken the least notice of Mr. Micawber's communication. Indeed, I may be superstitious, but it appears to me that Mr. Micawber is destined never to receive any answers whatever to the great majority of the communications he writes."

Mrs. Micawber was quite right in her predictions. He was only having the experience which most of us have in receiving no answers to our letters. Her husband was asking for financial aid from his wife's relatives, and nothing is so little likely to arouse enthusiasm and bring a quick response in letter writing as a request for money.

I wrote Simons twice a year for seven years concerning a little obligation I held against him without receiving a word of acknowledgment. It was only when I threatened suit, and he thought trouble might be brewing, that I got a reply to my letters which I am sure had been couched in quite as gentlemanly terms as were Mr. Micawber's.

There is a reason why people do not answer letters, and the first of these is that selfish people see no use in replying to a letter if it is no advantage to them to do so. Mr. Micawber's "in-laws" had no desire to lend him money which they were convinced they would never see again. The man who owed me had no intention of paying unless forced to do so, so why waste time and a postage stamp in writing a letter?

A great many people have the best intentions to answer, but procrastination puts off the evil day until they are ashamed to write or the obligation may pass entirely out of their memory. Not everyone writes easily. The proper word or the correct form eludes one. It is a problem to know just what to say, and not knowing there is the excuse for not writing at all. How many people when giving an excuse for failing to acknowledge a letter, say, "Well, I just didn't know what to say, so I put it off until I was really ashamed to write."

Other people have no regular place in which to write or possibly no materials at hand when the time is available or the inspiration seizes them. The letter which is not answered today is pretty sure to be put off until day after tomorrow if not until later. A man I once knew said that if you let letters lie around long enough they will answer themselves. He was quite wrong. It is bad from a business standpoint not to answer letters promptly, bad socially, bad for the cultivation of friends and for the development of a reputation for dependability.

TEST TELEPHONES IN SOUND-PROOF ROOMS

Sound-proof rooms are required for research and development work on telephone instruments, acoustics and audition in Bell Telephone Laboratories in New York City, where is carried on all the research and development work for the Bell System. The Bell Laboratories undoubtedly is one of the best equipped institutions of its kind in the world. It is located at 463 West Street, overlooking the Hudson River.

There are now thirteen of these sound-proof rooms in the Bell Laboratories, varying in size from booths in which one or two persons can work to large rooms thirty by thirty feet square. They prevent absolutely the entry of sound and have specially treated interiors to eliminate reverberation. They also have special ventilating systems to admit fresh air without allowing noise to enter.

These sound-proof rooms are used in tests on various kinds of telephone transmitters and receivers, and in studies of speech and hearing.

OVERSEA RADIO CALLS EXTENDED TO THE VATICAN

1,800 Phones in Papal State Now Reached by Service Across Atlantic

Transatlantic telephone service was extended this summer to the State of Vatican City, residence of the Pope, so that the See of the Vicars of the Roman Catholic Church has now been brought within voice range of a continent which was a wilderness when Rome was the center of a great civilization.

The Papal State has an automatic telephone system of the latest design, with about 400 lines and with a capacity of 1800 stations. There are only 525 inhabitants in the Papal State so that the new telephone system which was installed only this year provides ample facilities. Service to the outside world is provided by about thirty circuits through a switchboard, which is partly automatic.

The Pope has a personal telephone on an exclusive line. His telephone is of solid gold, with mother-of-pearl ornaments, and bears the Pontifical seal. Special lines also are installed for the Secretary of State and other dignitaries. The Pope's private telephone is connected directly with the Rome central exchange by a special line which does not have to pass through the Vatican City central exchange, but with which it can be placed in communication by means of a switch.

Service to the Vatican City is open to all of the United States and Cuba and to the principal cities of Canada and Mexico. It involves a further extension of America's overseas connection in Italy, service being previously available to all of Northern Italy and to the City of Rome.

THE MOTOR QUIZ

(How Many Can You Answer?)

Q. Why does an old car use more oil than a new one?

Ans. Primarily because different joints in old cars are looser, permitting the oil to leak out. Also pistons and rings which have been worn will pass oil into the combustion chamber where it is burned.

Q. If after parking one finds oil has leaked from the engine of his car, what should he do?

Ans. The car should be inspected and loose parts tightened in order to conserve oil. This will make a big difference in oil consumption.

Q. What is the most important oil saving device on the automobile?

Ans. The oil filter. It removes the foreign matter from the oil, thus making it possible to use the oil much longer. Every 10,000 miles the oil filter cartridge should be renewed as it becomes filled with this mileage.

Q. If the oil filter is not renewed when it becomes filled with foreign matter, what happens?

Ans. It will be necessary to change oil more frequently as the oil is not filtered.

Agriculture in Belgium

Little Belgium is important agriculturally, and has recovered remarkably since the war. Of its total area of almost seven and a half million acres, more than half is under cultivation. The country produces more per acre of potatoes, barley, tobacco, flax than any of its neighbors including Great Britain, France and Germany. Very small farms prevail.

Play a new role

YOU can't be yourself many years at a stretch, without being somebody new! All at once, you will be using different cosmetics, eating different foods, setting your table differently, re-arranging your surroundings, re-adjusting your whole scheme of life.

Advertisements lead you to do this—even when you are least aware. They announce the new discoveries. Others try them. You try them. Of a sudden, you've changed! The old is at once too out-of-date. It is too slow in this age of speed. Too ineffective in this age of perfection.

Somewhere, in advertisements you have not read yet, are things other people are reading about that will make a change in you. Read the advertisements here today. You will discover some of the things you will want to use habitually. You might even get ahead and start using some today.

Advertisements enlighten about the new . . . and enlighten your life with their news.
