Wild Life Exhibit At County Fair

AT EAST JORDAN, SEPT. 23-24-25-26, 1930.

A Department of Conservation exhibit, carrying with it a great display of wild life animals, native to Michigan, will be shown at the Charlevoix County Fair at East Jordan, Sept. 23 to 26, 1930.

The local fair is one of the 27 at which the exhibit will be shown this year, although more than twice that number of applications had been received.

In addition to the wild life display which will include from 20 to 30 species of native animals and birds, the exhibit will include displays of a large variety of Michigan furs, confiscated guns and other hunting and fishing equipment.

Starting with exhibits at but two or three fairs a few years ago, the popularity of these wild life exhibits has increased remarkably, until now the Department of Conservation finds itself physically and financially able to accept but a portion of the applications received each year.

All of the animals shown in the wild life exhibit were captured in Michigan, most of them by Conservation officers and State trappers. Among the animals to be shown at the Fair grounds will be wolves, bear cubs, coyotes, porcupines, badgers, foxes, beaver, fawns, mink, opossum, muskrats, and among the birds, Canada Goose, ducks and pheasants.

For the first time in their lives, many of the people of this county will see a real live mink, a live raccoon or a living badger.

If it were not for the little signs over each cage there would be few people who could readily identify all of the animals shown in this exhibit of wild life, according to those who are in charge of the display. The mink is mistaken for everything from a muskrat to a weasel.

Fawns, cub bears, wolves, beaver and porcupines are usually readily identified, it was said, but the lesser known animals, despite their abundance in various parts of the State, are often mistaken for something else.

In addition to its wild life display the Department has a large booth filled with a variety of confiscated furs, guns confiscated from law violators, and a mass of hunting and fishing equipment that was once used illegally.

Those in charge of the exhibit are constantly answering questions concerning every angle of conservation.

A small folder outlining the 1930-31 game laws is being distributed at the booth.

State News in Brief

Bronson—Clarence Shaffer was smothered when he was buried beneath 14 feet of dirt, when a gravel pit in which he was working caved in here. Shaffer leaves a wife and four children.

Marshall—Five-year-old Fred Spindlow, Jr., son of Fred Spindlow, Sr., was killed by an automobile driven by Arthur Wilson, of Marshall, in front of the Spindlow home. The parents witnessed the accident.

Saginaw—Vicente Nunez, Jr., 18-month-old son of Vicente Nunez, Sr., was injured fatally when crushed beneath a wheel of his father's automobile. The baby was one of two children who fell out of the open door of the automobile as it was being backed from a driveway.

Ishpeming—Fire believed to have started from a short circuit destroyed the Ishpeming High School and the Central Grade School, east of the high school. School board officials have not estimated the loss. The Negaunee Fire Department was called to help the Ishpeming firemen.

Lansing—What is believed to be a world's golf record was established here when two members of a threesome made hole-in-ones only two greens apart. Frank Fitzgerald laid his drives on the 165-yard No. three green and the ball rolled into the cup while M. R. Berg evened things up on the 115-yard No. five green.

Manistee—The body of Gustaf Sakowski, 63-year-old night watchman at the Manistee Tanning & Extract Co. plant, was found in Manistee Lake, near the plant by the day watchman, who began a search when he found Sakowski missing. Sakowski, who had been despondent since the death of his wife several years ago, is believed to have ended his life.

Monroe—Officers found the skeleton of the torso of a man, three miles southeast of Monroe, in eight inches of water. The body is believed to belong to a head found by officers two months ago. The discovery was made by Jacob Buser of Toledo, who pointed it out to officers. The body is believed to be that of a fisherman drowned a number of years ago.

Ann Arbor—Applications for admission to the University of Michigan by those entering as freshmen are off more than 10 per cent in comparison with last year's figures, it was said by Ira M. Smith, registrar. A count of applications made at the time of this writing, showed 1,163 on file as against 1,285 on the corresponding day in 1929, a drop of 10.27 per cent. The decrease is attributed to general conditions by Smith, and a falling off in the total enrollment is anticipated.

Grand Rapids—Tony Heldrop, 21 years old, and Wesley Foster, 23, of Grand Haven, are serving 30-day jail sentences for a Halloween prank played two years ago. They also were sentenced to pay $90 fines each. The two had pleaded guilty of destroying 1,500 cabbages, nearly ready for harvest, in the cabbage patch of Bystert Barendregt, in Cascade Township. They were motivated by a desire for revenge after they had been accused falsely by the man of gasoline theft, they said.

Lansing—Lansing's two high schools, Central and Eastern, will play night football this year, the first in the state to employ nightcap games. Night football was approved by the board of education for a number of reasons. It will eliminate doubleheaders in midseason. One school will play Friday night and the other Saturday afternoon, alternating the next Saturday. Games which have proved financial losses will be shifted to the night side in an effort to place them on a paying basis.

Atlanta—Thomas Hunt, one of the two bandits who held up the Montmorency County Savings Bank at Hillman July 29, escaping with $15,000 in cash and securities, was sentenced to from 50 to 60 years in the Michigan State Prison at Jackson by Judge Fred P. Smith. He had pleaded guilty. Hunt was captured recently after he had spent more than a week hiding in a swamp. Alex Graham, sought as the other bandit, still is at large. Some officers believe he has died of exposure in the swamp.

Detroit—W. G. Armstrong, of Niles, was elected president of the National Rural Letter Carriers Association, at the closing business session of the organization's twenty-seventh annual convention in Detroit. At the same time Mr. Armstrong was announced as the new president of the association. Mrs. Armstrong was elected president of the Ladies Auxiliary for a second term. Mr. Armstrong succeeds N. H. Goodell, of Edinburgh, Pa. Los Angeles was chosen as the convention city for 1931 after six other cities had made bids in a spirited contest.

Lansing—The state's proposal to rebuild U. S. 12 between Detroit and the Indiana line, at a cost of several million dollars, was approved here at a meeting of representatives of cities and counties through which the highway passes. No contracts have yet been awarded, but it is expected work will be started next year if the new administration approves the plan. Highway Commissioner Grover C. Dillman explained to the gathering that he hopes to make U. S. 12 practically a super-highway between Detroit and Chicago.

One Tree—16 Varieties of Fruit

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. McMillan of Oakland, Calif., shown with a tree in their back yard which produces sixteen varieties of fruit. McMillan began the building on a young plum tree years ago and now it bears peaches, plums, prunes, apricots and almonds of various varieties. Any time of the year there is fruit ripening on the branches.

SUPERVISORS ORGANIZE TO GET SANATORIUM

The first united action of counties of the northern portion of the lower peninsula to obtain a State Tuberculosis Sanatorium was taken at a meeting of Supervisors of 22 counties at the AuSable Club in Otsego county on August 27. The organization formed is called the Northern Michigan Sanatorium Association. The area to be served by the proposed sanatorium would include northern counties of the State which provide no beds for tuberculosis patients.

The supervisors adopted resolutions to work through their representatives in the State Legislature to get action on the sanatorium at the 1931 legislative session. The group also pledged itself not to discuss a site for the sanatorium until the institution is assured by the legislature.

The Rev. Wm. S. Carpenter of Marshall, representing Wilber Brucker, said the Attorney General would view favorably any action of the group if he were elected Governor. F. E. Mills and T. J. Werle, both of Lansing, president and executive secretary respectively of the Michigan Tuberculosis Association, addressed the supervisors, emphasizing the need for a northern sanatorium because of the great distance and the crowded conditions of the Howell State Sanatorium.

J. C. McLin, of Pellston, was made permanent chairman of the group, and Ray McKinley, of Gaylord, was selected as secretary-treasurer. A legislative committee consisting of H. S. Karcher, Rose City; W. J. Fish, Thompsonville, and McLin was selected to see that the legislature is made aware of the economic necessity of the sanatorium. The board of directors chosen for the group is composed of Dr. C. R. Keyport, Grayling; D. A. Waite, Manistee; A. R. Flynn, Curran; Frank Richardson, Roscommon, and J. W. Thomson, Egreeland.

"WOMEN EVERYWHERE," FOREIGN LEGION STORY

The Foreign Legion, that daring and desperate body of men whose martial qualities do much toward preserving peace in France's vast African colonies, plays a big part in "Women Everywhere," at the Temple Theatre, East Jordan, Sunday and Monday, Sept. 7-8, with J. Harold Murray and Fif' Dorsay in the leading roles.

In the picture Murray portrays the commander of a rumrunning vessel who accepts a cargo of arms and ammunition destined for the rebellious natives of Morocco. He is captured by the French, saved from death by a cafe entertainer, serves on the desert front with the Legion and returns covered with wounds and glory to claim the girl.

Well-known players in the supporting cast include George Grossmith, Rose Dione, Clyde Cook and Ralph Kellard. Alexander Korda directed the production from the original story of George Grossmith and Zoltan Korda. William Kernell contributed the words and music of the songs.

Perry—Injuries received when he was kicked by a horse proved fatal to George Ferrell, farmer, who lived near here.

Charlotte—Pouring of concrete on M-78 between Charlotte and Olivet has been completed, closing the last gap in the pavement between Battle Creek and Lansing.

Lansing—Construction of an additional cottage at the state public school at Coldwater is to begin immediately, following awarding of contracts totaling $61,200 by the administrative board here. The cottage was provided for in the institutional building programme adopted by the 1929 Legislature.

Bay City—That Bay County soils contain more humus than most land in the state is believed by farmers to be the reason their crops did not suffer as severely as those of other sections in the drought this summer. Wheat, oats and barley are at least average. The sugar beet crop may not be normal, however.

Kalamazoo—George Taylor, 8-year-old son of Fred Taylor, Schoolcraft farmer, suffered a broken leg when a stray bull, infuriated by its capture on the Taylor farm, charged through a gate and trampled the child. The boy was holding the gate while his father went to the house to get a hammer and nails to make it secure.

Sault Ste. Marie—Edward Steele, of Rogers City, was drowned in St. Mary's River at Detour. An outboard motor boat, in which he was riding passed under a cable attached to a dock. The cable caught Steele and dropped him into the water. He apparently was stunned and sank at once. His body was recovered. He leaves his wife.

Public Schools Open Doors

ENROLLMENT IS FAR ABOVE THE NORMAL NUMBER.

Every teacher was on the job except for the fifth grade and this vacancy was filled by Miss Julia Booth of Harbor Springs.

The enrollment for the first day was about as large as the East Jordan school has had in its history with 657 pupils. Many have not entered school yet so this perhaps will run close to the seven hundred mark within a week or two. Compared with last year's enrollment at the end of the second week, there is just one more pupil enrolled this year—rather an interesting coincidence. On the whole the grades are somewhat smaller, better balanced and not as crowded as a year ago, especially in the lower grades. The High School has by far the largest enrollment in the history of the East Jordan schools. There are 291 enrolled in the Junior and Senior High School—119 in the Junior High and 172 in the upper four grades.

Quite a large number of new families have moved into some of the outlying parts of the district and others are coming from surrounding districts as tuition students. The Ranney district is sending thirteen non-resident students to the local High School this year. Perhaps the largest number that any one district has sent to the local school in a good many years. Some tuition students are coming within a few miles of neighboring towns.

Quite a number of farmers are asking to have their farms transferred to the East Jordan Rural Agricultural School district, which seems to speak favorably for the local district. Contrary to some reports, the School Board is not going to charge anyone from any surrounding districts to ride in the busses, neither are they going to raise the tuition. The local institution is here largely to serve this community and no matter what the attitude of any individual has been, the policy of the Board and Superintendent is to use everybody absolutely alike. All they ask, is that the pupils and patrons appreciate the fact that the above generous policy will necessitate a crowding of some busses. At the same time a little hardship on the busses is much better than having to walk three or four miles to school. If everyone will kindly keep this in mind, the Board will continue to carry out the above policy. It is altogether likely that some of the larger boys will be asked to walk part of the distance in to the High School in order to pick-up smaller children near the end of the route. This should not work any real hardship on anyone and at the same time keep the bus loads to a minimum.

The busses are carrying 243 pupils at the present time—which is eight more than was carried two weeks after school had started a year ago. The local Board and Superintendent hope that any dissatisfaction will be made known and if within the power of the school authorities they will adjust the matter to the best interest of the greatest number. However, keep in mind that the school is run for the good of the greatest number and may at times work a hardship on particular pupils or patrons.

The Anonymous Letter

By THOMAS ARKLE CLARK
Dean of Men, University of Illinois.

I have never written an anonymous letter, though I can easily see the advantages of such a procedure. One could so easily by this method correct social and civic errors, jack up one's friends and all without being detected, or criticized or getting into trouble of any sort. It would be necessary, of course, the disguising of one's handwriting or possibly the borrowing of a neighbor's typewriter or stationery and the mailing of the epistle in some other post office than one's own, but these details would be easily managed by any resourceful person, so that detection would be difficult, if not impossible. And think of the advantages! How easy it would be to prod the indifferent, to correct the erring, to tell some people we know frankly just what we think of them. One could threaten without the slightest physical danger, nor need one be particular as to the language he used.

I have always wanted to tell Greene of his grammatical errors. He is a graduate of two colleges and has a string of degrees after his name, but he never gets onto his feet without saying, "Every person should look after their own business," or, "If anyone has anything to say they should speak out," and so on. He seems never to have learned that there is a definite relation between pronouns and antecedents. An anonymous letter would do the work admirably, I am sure.

Rollins was telling me of certain goings-on in his neighborhood—scandalous, quite illegal in fact. He would like to put the local authorities wise to things, but in doing so it might involve him in some personal embarrassment; he might get his name in the paper, or be called as a witness or sit up a row with his neighbors. He does not want to be the recognized cause of getting some one into trouble. Here is where the anonymous letter comes in beautifully.

Corrigan is not doing his duty; he is lying down on his job, if one's eyes do not deceive one; he is actually not honest. What could do the work better in such a case and get a moral wanderer more quickly back upon the straight path of virtue than a good hot anonymous letter? It is personally safe, and if might be effective, or so a good many people think.

We all get anonymous letters, or at least those of us do who occupy any positions of public trust or influence. Sometimes in spite of the effort at disguise it is easy to determine the authors, and in every case it is the coward who writes such a letter. The man who writes you anonymously is the one who has not the backbone or the courage to stand before you face to face and say what he thinks. He is not willing to take the responsibility of citizenship. There are certain evils to be corrected, certain irregularities which should be called to the attention of officials, certain facts which he might easily establish, but he is afraid. He is interesting but he does not disturb many people, for he is just a plain coward.

TO THE VOTERS OF CHARLEVOIX COUNTY:

LOUIS E. ANDERSON
Your Representative

You will be given an opportunity on September 9th to select a candidate for State Representative on the Republican ticket.

This article is contributed by several representative citizens and summer residents of the Charlevoix-Leelanau District—not necessarily friends of Mr. Anderson, but men who firmly believe that a change in the office at this time would not be for the best interests of the Charlevoix District.

Mr. Anderson's record in the Legislature has been outstanding. He has not been a so-called "rubber stamp legislator"—placing his approval on everything that certain faction may advance—but has fought consistently for legislation that he thought should be enacted and equally hard against bills that he conscientiously believed would not be for the best interests of the State of Michigan and particularly the District which he represents.

It was Mr. Anderson who, in demanding a roll call on a reconsideration of the $20,000,000 proposed bond issue, killed the issue in the House of Representatives and by his action saved the State a million dollars a year in interest charges alone. (See the House Journal February 28, 1929, or the story in the Michigan Digest of March 7, 1929.)

It was Mr. Anderson alone who, taking the floor at the psychological moment and taking advantage of a technicality, knocked out a bill just fifteen minutes before the Legislature adjourned, which would place city policemen and firemen on pensions at the expense of the State of Michigan.

Mr. Anderson has been able to meet all issues as they arise; has made no promises; has never been guilty of trading votes and, if nominated and elected, will return to the Legislature with no specific promise but the one pledge which is sacred to him: viz, The pledge to protect the best interests of the Great State of Michigan and the Charlevoix-Leelanau District, which he loves so dearly.

The farmer needs Mr. Anderson in the Legislature.

The fisherman needs the prestige he will have as a second term. Mr. Anderson was mindful of the fishing industry in the Charlevoix District when he with two other Representatives attempted to stop the steam roller tactics used by the interests behind the new fish law. (See the Grand Rapids Herald of March 14, 1929.)

The Cherry Grower and Cherry Canner needs his experience to follow up horticultural legislation which he introduced in the last session.

Mr. Anderson is a merchant. The business and professional men need him because his interests in the home town and community life are allied with theirs.

M-22 and M-66 need Mr. Anderson's co-operation before the Administrative Board. His personal acquaintance and influence is important.

Talk Anderson, Work for Anderson, and Vote for Anderson on September 9th, and he will be nominated by a larger majority than before.

HOW LENIN'S BEARD WAS CUT BY STALIN

Story of Leader's Escape Told by Zinoviev.

Moscow, U. S. S. R.—How Joseph Stalin, undisputed leader of the Soviet domain, once turned barber and cut the beard and mustache of Lenin is revealed in a dramatic account of the scene just written by Gregory Zinoviev.

"I remember how Stalin, armed with scissors, clipped beard and mustache at the very moment," Zinoviev writes in an article in Pravda telling of Lenin's escape in July, 1917.

Hidden in Apartment.

The arrest of the foremost Bolshevik had been ordered by Kerevsky's provisional government as a measure of public safety. Lenin was hidden in the apartment of a certain Alldouev and a great controversy raged in Bolshevik ranks as to whether he ought to give himself up.

Zinoviev gives Stalin much of the credit for the fact that the leader was not handed over. Lenin himself was inclined to give up, on the theory advanced by many friends that the government would not dare hurt him. Moreover, the widespread charge that he was a German agent, some of the Bolsheviks feared, would find support if Lenin continued to hide.

But Stalin, Ordzhonikidze and others insisted that the risk was not worth it. According to Zinoviev their work helped the central committee of the Bolshevik faction to reach the decision—by which Lenin was bound—that he must not let himself be arrested.

Stalin Does Barbering.

It was after that decision was taken that Stalin and some comrades went to the Alldouev flat and arranged details of the escape. Stalin's final contribution to the plan was to find the scissors and perform the barbering on his leader.

Zinoviev is convinced that had Lenin surrendered he would have been summarily executed and the whole course of Russian history would have been different. Stalin's foresight is thus shown to be in part responsible for saving not only Lenin's life but the whole Soviet revolution. Thus, as Stalin's power increases, more and more stories of his early wisdom and importance are resurrected in the memories of those who knew him in the early days.

U. S. Population Center Moves 25 Miles West

Washington.—The center of population of the United States has moved westward 25 to 30 miles in the last decade, census bureau officials estimate.

Although it will be several months before census statisticians determine the exact point representing the center of population, it is likely to be close to Hymera, Sullivan county, Indiana, a town of about 1,500 population, 20 miles from the western boundary of the state.

In 1920 the center of population was found to be 1.9 miles west of Whitehall, Clay township, Owen county, Indiana. In 1910 it was in Bloomington, Ind.

THINK of it! A new automatic electric iron (every housewife wants one) and the "Quick Action" ironing board—at a price lower than the wholesale price of the iron alone!

Our special arrangement with the manufacturer makes this amazing offer possible. But only for a short time. Decide now!

The new Fedelco iron has adjustable automatic heat control, with wider range of heat; it's hotter at high heat, and cooler at low heat—ideal for all kinds of ironing. Lifetime thermostatic control means lifetime service. Chromium plated throughout—will not rust or discolor. The new "Quick Action" Self Locking Ironing Board is the biggest improvement in boards in years. To set up merely lift leg and slide down into automatic lock. Legs cannot move when locked—can be lifted, slid, or even sat on with safety. When folded legs cannot fall down like old-type boards.

This is a bargain! You really pay nothing for the "Quick Action" Ironing Board—yet you get the iron for less than the regular retail price. Don't miss this sensational opportunity!

CHASE S. OSBORN has a long record of public service behind him. He served Michigan as Governor in 1911 and 1912, and refused to be a candidate for a second term. As Governor, Chase Osborn gave Michigan:

- The first Industrial Accident Board and the workmen's compensation and employers' liability law, which has served as a model for other states. More than $50,000,000.00 have been paid employees under this act.
- The opportunity to adopt a constitutional amendment granting the right of suffrage to women.
- The presidential preference primary.
- The first forward step toward prohibition, in a law which prohibited the ownership of saloons by breweries or anyone interested in the wholesale liquor traffic.
- One of the first regulatory laws covering charges by railroads and express companies.
- Its first forward step toward tax revision.
- A reorganized Michigan national guard and took it out of politics.
- Abolished scores of useless state offices; put more property on the tax rolls than any governor, before or since.
- Legislation that exempted war veterans from taxation.

As Senator he will make an equally outstanding record

Control Noxious Perennial Weeds

Chlorates of Calcium, Sodium or Magnesium Are Effective.

Noxious perennial weeds which cause heavy losses on many farms can be controlled under certain conditions by spraying with chlorates of calcium, sodium or magnesium, it is indicated by tests conducted by the Colorado Agricultural college.

Although more definite information is needed before final recommendations can be announced, a recent survey of plots of weeds throughout the state where killing tests were made gives some light on the problem, according to Bruce J. Thornton, assistant botanist for the Colorado experiment station, and T. G. Stewart, extension agronomist at the college.

Obtain Best Results. Observations made during this survey indicate that the best results from these chemical sprays may be obtained as follows:

1. Allow the perennial weed pest to reach full maturity, and perhaps make a few seed.
2. Use two pounds or more of chlorate salt per square rod in a fine spray evenly distributed over the foliage.
3. Spraying the weed during the late afternoon or evening seems to give the best results.
4. Follow-up treatments are necessary, using the same strength of solution, late this summer or next year. The amount of material required will be determined by the number of plants re-appearing in the area sprayed.

These are only tentative recommendations. It is emphasized. Additional experimental and demonstrational work is now under way in many sections of the state, and more complete results will be announced as soon as they are available.

Danger of Fire.

Farmers are warned that there is serious danger of fire in using sodium chlorate. Calcium chlorate gives approximately equal results, as far as present tests indicate, and has no fire hazard.

It is suggested that those who have serious perennial weed problems get in touch with their county extension agent or with Mr. Thornton of the botany department at the college. If one is in doubt as to the identification of any weed he should dig up a complete plant including roots and flower parts and send it to the botany department for identification and advice as to the most likely method of control.

Bright Shiny Yellow

Corn Best for Fowls

Watch the corn supply that you are buying from the elevator and try and obtain bright shiny yellow corn. Sometimes an order of corn may contain a lot of black or brown kernels or grain that smells musty or shows signs of mold. Such corn is not good for chicken feed. It seems that a dog can eat a spoiled product and disgorge it and immediately reduce the unfavorable effects. The unfortunate chicken that eats spoiled corn, tainted canned goods or moldy or decayed feed, must allow the material to pass through the entire digestive system. That is why hens must have clean feed in order to thrive and lay. The old idea that anything was good enough for scavenger hens has probably killed a lot of good hens.

Clipping Queen's Wings to Control Swarming

Some beekeepers make a practice of clipping the wing of each queen, not only to control swarming, but to keep a check on the age of the queen. There are arguments for and against this practice and its value is occasionally a subject of controversy among beekeepers.

Instead of trying to control swarming by clipping the queen's wing, it would be much better to manage bees so that swarming is prevented. Swarming is usually brought about by overcrowding and congestion of bees in the brood part of the hive. Remedying this cause will reduce swarming to the minimum.

Sodium Chlorate Must Be Handled Carefully

One of the most important precautions in the use of sodium chlorate as a weed spray is its inflammability. Large quantities of sodium chlorate were used throughout the United States in the last two years and several workers were severely burned. Sodium chlorate does not catch fire quickly but burns rapidly after once started. Fire must be kept away from all articles such as clothing, rubbish, refuse, and any other inflammable material which has been sprayed with sodium chlorate.

Utensils for Picking

Apples for a fancy market should be picked in suitable containers, care being taken at all times not to bruise the fruit or puncture the skin. The commercial apple crop is usually picked in picking bags or aprons. The apples should not be allowed to fall a long distance into the container, and the picker should not let his picking bag or apron bounce from round to round of the ladder when descending. Reasonable care should be exercised in dumping the fruit into the barrels, boxes, or on the packing table.

Seek Larger Supply of New Insecticide

Malay States Urged to Grow Rotenone-Bearing Plants.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Finding rotenone, a new insecticide, superior to materials now generally used for insect control, the United States Department of Agriculture is urging the Malay states to grow rotenone-bearing plants on a commercial scale for the American trade.

This new insecticide is found in quantities up to 7 per cent in the roots of the South American "cube" plant (pronounced cooby), up to 5 1/2 per cent in Derris roots, and to a lesser extent in three other plants. The cube now grows in a part of South America where the climate is similar to that of the Malay states and surrounding countries.

R. C. Roark, insecticide specialist of the Department of Agriculture, advances the theory that Derris plants containing greater quantities of rotenone might be derived by careful selection and breeding. He points out that cube roots are not yet available commercially.

Tests by the Department of Agriculture indicate that rotenone is highly poisonous to both sucking and chewing insects. In tests conducted privately, rotenone was fed to dogs, cats, sheep and chickens in quantities up to 1 grain per pound of body weight and no injury was noticeable.

Remove All Old Canes

From the Berry Patches

Immediately following the harvest of both blackberries and raspberries the old fruiting canes should be removed. The removal will destroy many diseases and insects harmful to the berry patch and additional nourishment will be given to the new canes which are left. At this time the new shoots of raspberries should be thinned so there will be four or five strong vigorous canes to each plant. On account of the tendency of the blackberries to produce new and rather weak shoots, they should not be thinned until spring. This may be done at the time the laterals are shortened. Blackberries are thinned to leave strong vigorous canes about 8-10 inches apart.

"Somebody to See You!"

IF EVERYBODY with something to interest you should come and ring your bell, what a nuisance it would be! Think of the swarming, jostling crowd, the stamping of feet on your porch and carpets!

Every day we know of many callers who come to see you. They never jangle the bell—they don't take up your whole day trying to get your attention. Instead, they do it in a way that is most considerate of your privacy and your convenience. They advertise in your newspaper!

In this way you have only to listen to those you know at a glance have something that interests you. They make it short, too, so you can gather quickly just what you want to know. You can receive and hear them, all without noise or confusion in comparatively few minutes.

In fairness to yourself look over all the advertisements. The smallest and the largest—you never can be sure which one will tell something you really want to know.

Although the very early "bells" were long, metal bars rather than the later cup-shaped affair we know, the latter came into being early in the fourth century. FINDS NEW DATA ON THE FOURTH GOSPEL

Englishman Says John the Younger Wrote It.

London, England.—Evidence that the fourth gospel was not written by John the apostle, but by one of his disciples, John the younger, has been brought forward by Dr. A. Mingana, keeper of oriental manuscripts at the John Rylands library, Manchester, and has renewed a controversy among New Testament scholars which has been going on for more than 300 years.

Doctor Mingana says the statements which bear out his contention are contained in a Syriac manuscript which is relatively modern, being dated Saturday, September 23, of the year 2000 of the Greeks (A. D. 1749), but it is a faithful copy of a much older original which may be ascribed to about A. D. 750.

Doctor Mingana, who discusses the manuscript in a recent issue of the Library Bulletin, says he arrives at this conclusion from the nature and character of the Massoretic signs that the copyist reproduces in his transcription. The manuscript contains the Peshita New Testament of the East Syrian or Nestorian church.

Challenges Place of Writing.

The manuscript also challenges the tradition that the fourth gospel was written at Ephesus or Patmos, the island of the apostle's banishment, on the eve of his return to Ephesus. In view of its statements, he says, the possibility of its having been written at Bithynia has to be considered. At the beginning of it the following words occur:

"The Holy Gospel of Our Lord Jesus Christ according to the preaching of John the younger."

And at the end of the gospel itself appears the colophon: "Here ends the writing of the Holy Gospel according to the preaching of John, who spoke in Greek in Bithynia."

Doctor Mingana adds that, to his knowledge, the above statements do not appear in any other Syriac manuscript of the Gospels preserved in the British museum, in Cambridge, in the Vatican, in Paris, or among those of his own collection which have so far been catalogued. He feels confident that it will be worth while further investigating them, as they appear to represent a relic of an ancient tradition.

Expert Knows of Theory.

The appendices discovered in his manuscript are, however, unknown elsewhere, he says. According to Jacob Leveen, assistant keeper of oriental manuscripts in the British museum, he has known for some time of Doctor Mingana's theory, although he has not yet studied the manuscript.

"From photographs which I have seen of the pages in question," says Leveen, "it is clear that the manuscript is an Eighteenth century hand, and I am not quite sure as to what Doctor Mingana is referring in ascribing it to an early original of the Eighth century. In the reproduction which I have seen the colophon referred to appears in much fainter hand and this may have some significance. Certainly it will require very strong evidence to convince scholars of the Gospel texts that an Eighteenth century manuscript contains valuable new readings which had escaped the scribes of preceding centuries."

Robbers Work All Year On Job and Get $10

Armonk, N. Y.—Twelve times during the last year attempts have been made to rob the Paramount garage here, according to police records, but always the burglar alarm has rung and frightened the miscreants away.

The other night the visitors apparently became exasperated and stole the burglar alarm, but after carting off the 150-pound apparatus they found only $10 in the cash register.

This, the proprietor of the garage said, is considered small pay for a year's work.

Cat Falls Three Floors; Only Scratches Chin

Poughkeepsie, N. Y.—Blackie, courthouse cat, has only a scratch on his chin to show for his three story fall from the county courthouse. Blackie was playfully engaged in watching pedestrians below when the mishap occurred. He landed on all fours, but the impact was so great he struck his chin.

Firemen Now Equipped to Save Cows in Wells

Methuen, Mass.—A cow-rescuing outfit has been added to the equipment of the local fire department. It includes, among other things, an improvised derrick. The unusual equipment was obtained because of the large number of calls from farmers whose cows had fallen into wells.

"Disremember" Her Age

Atlanta, Ga.—Laura Watson, negro cook who "disremembers" her age, has cooked for four generations for the same family using fireplace, coal-stove, gas stove and electric stove respectively. She was born in slavery.

Snake Takes Sun Baths

Longmont, Colo.—Snakes have taken to sun baths. Dorothy and Doris Young, out on a picnic, ran across a rattlesnake so busy sunning itself that it refused to budge at their approach.

WATERTOWN READY FOR BANK ROBBERS

Machine Gun Concealed at Strategic Point.

Watertown, S. D.—Bank robbers recently active in states of the Northwest who attempt to raid any of the three banks of Watertown will have to come to town in a way tank, for they will have to face machine gun and rifle fire. Through efforts of bank officers the police department has been provided with a machine gun and two extra magazines of cartridges for direct protection of the banks. A second machine gun will be kept at police headquarters for emergency purposes.

The machine gun used for the direct protection of the banks has been mounted at a concealed point where it commands the intersection on which the three banks are located, and in the event of an attempted bank robbery the bandits would at once be exposed to the fire of this machine gun, which in an instant could sweep clean the street corners housing the banks.

In addition to this machine gun protection, eight citizens who are expert marksmen and possess high powered rifles have formed an organization and will co-operate with the police and the sheriff and his deputies in protecting the banks.

Thus at the slightest alarm, should bank robbers appear at any of the banks, they would instantly be under a hail of machine gun and rifle bullets from which no living thing could emerge. "We are ready," said Chief of Police Olson, "to make it hot for any bandits who pick a Watertown bank to rob."

Bill to Make Poles Bathe Weekly Amuses Writer

Paris.—A bill said to be pending before the Polish parliament to require Poles to bathe at least once a week has struck a distinctly unsympathetic chord in the breast of Clement Vautelet, columnist of the Paris Le Journal. "One bath every week isn't much to put up with, one must admit," he writes. "Still, we know a lot of Parisians who do not immerse themselves even that much, and if you ask them the reason they say: 'We don't intend to die in a bathtub, like Marat!'"

"Bath houses are rare enough in Paris—much more rare, we should say than those places which provide water for aperitifs. We won't bother to talk about the provinces, where a bath is the big event of a lifetime."

"In Poland the bath is about to become an accessory of organized democracy, somewhat like the public school and the voting booth. What a victory for the doctrine of the state! The citizen today has finally become an infant, a real ward of his government. Soon we shall all be sent to bed and ordered to stay there."

"If this thing is passed the Poles may well wish themselves back under the comparative freedom of the czars."

Sentences Topsy Negro to Sing Tenor in Choir

Paulsboro, N. J.—Instead of going to jail for intoxication in Paulsboro, whistly tenors and gin barytones hereafter may be sentenced to public duty.

Precedent for this form of punishment was established when Mayor James A. Wert, in imposing a fine of $5 on Harry Harris, forty years old, a negro, ordered him to join the choir of the Second Baptist colored church.

"They tell me you have a very good tenor voice," said the mayor, sitting as police recorder, "and I'm going to make it my business to see that it isn't wasted. Maybe a job singing in the church choir will keep you out of trouble."

"I'll try it, boss," promised the amazed defendant.

"Hard Boiled," but This Rooster Hatches Eggs

Kinston, N. C.—Edgar Trotman's barred Plymouth Rock rooster, that hatched two broods of chickens last summer, now is the proud parent of a half dozen young guineas. The rooster failed to take as a joke Trotman's act of placing the guinea eggs under him. The rooster, although a hard boiled bird, has motherly inclinations.

Cane Sold for $30

Leeds, England.—A walking stick that formerly belonged to Charles I was sold for 6 guineas ($30) and canes used by Lord Byron and the king of the Sandwich Isles brought only $2.75 each at the sale of the contents of Hornby castle, property of the duke of Leeds.

Bee Expert Captures Swarm on Busy Street

London, England.—Ernest Melrose, bee expert, stepped off a bus in Oxford street and saw traffic paralyzed by thousands of bees swarming on a street light. He received hundreds of cheers and only one sting after he borrowed a ladder from the electric light company, a cardboard box lined with glycerin from a drug store, a mosquito net from a draper's, a pair of gloves from a department store and got most of the bees in the box and several hundred of them inside his coat, shirt and trousers.

Make War on Pocket Gophers in October

Spread Out Poisoned Wheat in Systematic Manner.

Pocket gophers, pests of alfalfa fields, have life habits that tend to lull the farmers into allowing them more security than they deserve. In spring and summer when the alfalfa grower is in his field cutting his hay crop he finds new evidences of the multiplication of pocket gophers in the form of new mounds of loose earth thrown up from the tunnels they dig. It is not until late in September or until October that the mounds multiply. All during spring and summer the pocket gophers are rearing their young and working from the old tunnels, clipping and eating the tap roots and laterals of the alfalfa and causing scanty nourishment or death to the plants. The animals are out of sight, but they are really busy at work. Each pair of old pocket gophers is raising four or five youngsters that are intense individualists and that in fall will strike out for themselves, dig their own burrows, make the fields bumpy and difficult for the hay makers, and prepare for more multiplication the next spring.

The practical procedure for ridding the fields of pocket gophers is to let them make a fair start with their new burrows in the fall, and then put out poisoned wheat in a systematic manner so that all may have their fill. In the autumn fields the new burrows can be located easily and effectively, and this is the season when the pocket gophers are laying in their winter hoard of food.

The following suggestions are made as offering means of avoiding losses due to hog flu:

Suggestions Made to Avoid Hog Flu Losses

1. Have animals accustomed to their winter quarters before time for unseasonable weather. Do not wait until cold rains or snow have fallen to provide good shelter. Herds that are hogging down corn should not be allowed to sleep in the open but should be trained to seek good sleeping quarters every night.

2. Furnish an abundance of clean, dry bedding for sleeping quarters. Avoid dampness or dust by frequent change of bedding.

3. Avoid closed, unventilated shelter. Overheated hogs are the ones most apt to contract respiratory diseases through chilling on leaving the house in the morning.

4. Keep the hogs' bowels in good condition, dot with drugs but with proper feed. Linseed meal is laxative and may well be used for this purpose.

Feeding Soil Bacteria to Release Fertility

"Feed the bacteria and they will feed you" is a slogan that is true in relation to soil fertility, according to O. H. Sears, University of Illinois. Bacteria are largely responsible for the changes in soil whereby soil fertility is liberated to produce good crops.

"Plowing under straw just ahead of a corn crop has a detrimental effect on the corn crop, as the organisms that break down the straw use the nitrates of the soil that should go to corn, while if the straw is plowed under in the fall the straw may favor the utilization of nitrates by bacteria and thus prevent the leaching of nitrates during the dormant season of the wheat plants."

Rotating Clover

If a large field of clover is grown as a part of a crop rotation and hogs are moved from one field to another during successive seasons, as a part of a sanitation scheme, the crop may be handled in the following manner: A cultivated crop such as corn should preferably precede it but this is not necessary. It is most advantageous to follow sweet clover with a tilled crop to eradicate volunteer plants not desired in the rotation.

FARM FACTS

Plenty of exercise, less grain and more roughage, such as alfalfa, will tend to prevent a large amount of paralysis in pregnant ewes.

When the cows fall off in production rapidly it indicates lack of sufficient nutrients. Some supplement should be provided at once.

Sunflower seeds in limited amount make splendid winter feed for chickens. Because of the tough fibrous hull, it does not do to feed in great amounts.

Low prices for eggs and making room for the growing pullets are two good reasons for reducing the laying flock at the same time the roosters leave the farm.

One of the more common troubles on many farms is overcrowding in the hog house. Hogs compelled to pile up become too hot and the building will likely be damp and steamy.

The calf's digestive capacity is not large enough to allow it to consume enough grass alone to meet its needs. Some grain should be fed all through the summer as well as in the winter.

FOR GOVERNOR

-vote for

WILBER M. BRUCKER

—saved $3,000,000 for the people in the Bell Telephone case.

—out the state of Woodward avenue widening by $1,000,000.

—collected $3,000,000 worth of "bad debts" for the state.

—curbed the "loan shark" business.

—procured the return of David case.

—won the lake level case, that will eventually make Michigan ports ocean ports.

He has devoted his life to service for Michigan

The record of Wilber M. Brucker has been a record of true public service—of full-time, whole-hearted service to the people of Michigan.

As assistant Attorney General, he attracted widespread praise because of his effective work in the notorious House of David case.

Consistently—since he has held office for the State—all his effort and talent and time have been devoted to the State—to Michigan interests, Michigan welfare, Michigan advancement. Private practice and personal business have found no place in his long and distinguished public career.

And later, as Attorney General, he realized the full scope of his abilities with a series of unusual legal and administrative achievements—thwarting the famous "Chicago water deal"—sustaining the negligent homicide act—winning the State's radio case—and making the Telephone company submit to state legislation.

A University of Michigan graduate—and member of a Michigan division during the World War—Mr. Brucker first served the people in the role of assistant prosecutor and later, prosecutor of Saginaw county. In this capacity, he soon became known as one of the outstanding prosecutors in Michigan.

Obviously—your vote for Wilber M. Brucker will be a vote for Michigan, because Wilber M. Brucker has devoted his life to serving the people of Michigan. He is, above all, the people's candidate—your candidate for governor.

REPUBLICAN PRIMARY — SEPTEMBER 9th

WILBER M. BRUCKER

Detroit—Figures released by the census bureau at Washington show an increase of 1,324 deaths in Michigan during 1929 as compared to 1928. The greatest number of deaths were caused by heart diseases. Cancer claimed 4,482 lives, 6,000 less than heart disease. Nearly half of the increased number of deaths were caused by meningitis, the report shows. Two-thirds of these deaths occurred in Detroit.

Pontiac—A cut on the nose of Barnard Rawson, of Bay City, the pilot, was the only injury suffered by five persons in an airplane which caught fire while 3,000 feet in the air. Rawson landed the plane on the farm of George Hilliker, in Farmington Township, and he and the passengers disembarked before flames destroyed the plane. A broken gas line caused the fire. The plane was on the way from Cleveland to Bay City.
