Organization of Co-op Creamery Underway

IMPORTANT MEETING AT EAST JORDAN, MONDAY NIGHT.

All farmers and others interested in developing a more profitable market for cream are cordially invited and urged to attend a Dairy Meeting to be held in East Jordan in the High School Auditorium on Monday night, October 27 at 8:00 fast time.

During the past several months the organization of a Co-operative Creamery has been discussed very frequently and the dairy situation of Charlevoix County carefully analyzed. Several committees of farmers have visited several outstanding successful co-operative creameries in this State and report our local situation very favorable for organization.

At this meeting you will have the pleasure of hearing Mr. Ruetz, Manager of the Remus Co-operative Creamery, who will tell the story of their success. Also Arthur Howland and John Martin from the Marketing Department of the Michigan State College will be present to assist the organization.

The dairymen of this section are receiving from 3c to 6c less per lb., for butterfat than is being received in areas where successful creameries are in operation. It is planned to establish routes and to pick up cream from each individual.

Remember the place—East Jordan H. S. Auditorium.

Date—Monday night, Oct. 27th.

Time—8:00 o'clock fast time.

Be sure and be present. Tell your neighbors. Bring a car load.

Works in a Triple Role

A triple role is being played by George Atkeson, star guard of the University of Kansas football team. George is a regularly enrolled student in the morning. In the afternoon he dons his grid uniform and at night he changes into the uniform of night chief of police of the city of Lawrence. Working nights affords him a way of earning money and preparing his next day's lesson. He is shown here in a characteristic football pose.

No Chance to Catch Him
She—You—you worm!
He—Worm? Perhaps. But don't you flatter yourself—you're not the early bird.

What is the favorite fruit of history? Dates.

GET OUT AND VOTE

Detroit and Wayne County, aided by nearby urban centers of populations are putting up a tremendous battle for reapportionment. In Detroit, an army of stenographers is being used at public expense to send out appeals for support of this measure, which if adopted, would result in Wayne domination of affairs at Lansing.

This is no time to discuss the merits or demerits of this proposed change in our method of selecting members of the State Senate and House. Adoption of the amendment at the November election will result in wide areas in certain parts of the State being deprived of representation in the legislature. We must not let this become a city controlled state.

There is only one way to meet this threat—GET OUT AND VOTE! Don't take any chances. See that every voter in your precinct is registered—then see that on election day they get out and vote—NO!

Our Football Team Defeated

LOSE TO GAYLORD H. S. BY 53 TO 0 SCORE.

(Contributed)

The local High School Football team went to the "Tip of Michigan" last Friday and fell off. The air seemed to be too rarefied for the local boys, because as near as the writer can make out they lost their breath in the first three minutes of the game and didn't catch it again until the "potato eaters" had made 53 points to 0 for Coach Cohen's boys. Through inquiry from people who saw the game apparently does not disclose just why this should be. Some of the boys said it was cold but any boy that has any football in his system can get warm the first three minutes of any football game, if not, should be yanked and taught to play ping-pong or some other less strenuous game. Both teams played on the same field and we can not accept this as any alibi for the slaughter the locals received at the hands of Gaylord. If one team was cold the other must have been cold too, they battled on the same hill top. The boys simply could not stop the hard charging, fast moving team who did nothing but play football. The leader in this massacre was a former friend of ours, Omar McKinnon. Certainly not a very large gent in avoirdupois but he looked like a young mountain running from at least thirty to sixty yards down the field and returning punt after punt forty to fifty yards. The lack of tackling ability and plain ordinary fight seemed to be the locals' real fault. Many boys individually are good scrappers but as a team seemed to lack the necessary drive to stop an ordinary good football team. This was shown in the last half of the Harbor Springs game.

We HOPE that the locals will reverse their form against the next two opponents—Mancelona and Boyne City—two teams that can be depended upon to fight.

The locals go to Mancelona tomorrow afternoon and it is up to them to show whether they have the stuff that football players are made of or not. They certainly will not be up against any heavier team than Gaylord or any more experienced one.

It would be absolutely impossible to pick a local individual who starred at Gaylord. The one man who was sent in near the middle of the game and played stellar football was Clifford Dennis. This could be expected of this gent because he carries a world of drive in any game. Possibly the team has reached its depth and can give a good account of itself from now on.

The Gaylord team however showed real football, good tackling, hard charging and an excellent attack. It looks very much as though they might mess things up a good deal in the Class C championship. It looks to some as though the locals were not so weak but that Gaylord is strong so it may be that the locals simply were beaten by a real great Class C team. This will be shown within the next two weeks.

The local boys did not show much of an attack for they were spilled almost before they got started. Although the locals got their punts away pretty well, McKinnon not only brought them back the full distance but added ten or fifteen yards besides, so it would have even been better had East Jordan given them the ball on downs. In other words there is nothing to say but that Coach Cohen's boys were completely out-classed Friday. It can be said for the boys, although they did not mention it as an alibi, but coming from old football heads, the refereeing was simply and distinctly second rate and apparently did not know anything about the game or didn't want to.

This could not help but take the heart out of the boys although that alone had very little to do with the final results.

Score by quarters:
1 2 3 4
Gaylord 15 13 12 13—53
Referee—Dye of Vanderbilt.
Umpire—Brotherston, B. City.
Linesman—Gaylord man.

AN ACCIDENT

Last Saturday evening while returning from a trip to East Jordan, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Glass had a narrow escape from serious injuries.

On account of the blinding snow storm, and the blinding glare of the head-lights of a car they were attempting to pass, Mr. Glass drove into the railing of the bridge.

Fortunately no one was injured. The damage to the car consisted of a bent radius rod and fender, and a broken axle.—Elsworth Tradesman.

Top O' Michigan Potato and Apple Show

AT GAYLORD NEXT WEEK FOR THREE DAYS.

Next week is the big Potato and Apple Show at Gaylord.

For three days beginning Wednesday morning, farmers and business men of the Top O' Michigan will meet together to further improve the potato and apple industry of this northern Michigan country.

Excellent programs have been arranged and the premium list offers the most attractive prizes in the eight years of the Show.

This Show has had a phenomenal growth since its inception back in 1923 when only five counties pooled their efforts to put on the first Show.

During the last three years, all 12 of the northern most counties of the lower peninsula have joined hands to make this the leading potato section of the State.

Last year the Show had a total of nearly 700 exhibitors in potatoes and apples and approximately 2,000 persons attended the three days' activities.

The management expects another record in attendance and exhibits this year in spite of the rather poor potato crop this fall.

The excellent program arranged on the fact that over $1,700 will be paid to exhibitors and contestants is the reason for this optimism of the officers and directors.

This Show is the outstanding agricultural institution of the Top O' Michigan and everyone should make it a point to attend.

Elsewhere in this issue will be found an advertisement concerning this Show.

Secretary.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Staley and two sons, and Martin Staley of Traverse City motored up to the Joel Bennett home Sunday, and experienced a very unpleasant trip because of the blizzard, the roads were almost impassable in places. They planned to return Sunday evening, but went as far as Boyne City where they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Bogart, and tried the return trip Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Bogart and son Clare, and J. F. Evans, of Boyne City were guests Sunday at Honey Slope farm.

Mrs. Nellie Evans of Honey Slope farm returned Saturday from a few days visit with the Joe Courier and "Pat" Foote families in East Jordan.

Mr. and Mrs. Jay Bailey and children arrived from Detroit Saturday for a week's visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Faust.

Mrs. Elmer Faust of Mountain Ash farm has been very uncomfortably ill the past week with a severe cold on her lungs, but is some better now.

A caterpillar tractor came Saturday to pull the apple trees on the corner, known to old residents as the Dan Staley place, but now owned by W. P. Porter of East Jordan, preparatory to setting it out to cherry trees.

H. B. Russell of Gravel Hill, north side and Bob Jarman of Gravel Hill, south side returned Friday morning from a week's motor trip to southern points. They visited Mr. Russell's sister, Mrs. Nellie Pohlman and family in Grand Rapids and the Fred Stanley family in Flint and had a delightful trip.

For the first time since motor vehicles have become common, roads were blockaded so the cars had to be towed through the drifts Sunday, Oct. 19th.

A blizzard which started Friday afternoon is still raging and there are snow drifts 3 feet deep in places. There has been no killing frost and unusually warm weather has prevailed all fall until the mercury dropped to 26 Saturday a. m.

W. P. Vought of the Boyne City Hardware has made several trips on the Peninsula the past week, delivering well material to Price & Everest who are driving a well.

The blizzard has compelled farmers to take their stock in from pastures the earliest in a good many years.

HOME ECONOMICS

Educating the communities to call the department "Home Economics" instead of "Domestic Science" and "Domestic Art" has been a problem. "Domestic Science" refers to days of long ago when it was necessary to include much science in our courses and use these terms in order to satisfy the "academic minds" that there was sufficient content in our work to justify its existence. Presently it was realized that in satisfying these demands we had failed in our purpose of training girls to meet home situations, so we changed our courses, but it has not been so simple to change our names in the minds of the general public.

You may be interested in knowing that East Jordan was one of the seventeen schools in Michigan which conducted home projects last summer. Miss Crofoot, the Home Economics teacher remained for one month and visited the homes of the girls.

The home project work is a particular feature of the programs required of schools qualifying for State and Federal aid under the new George-Paul Act, which is an amendment to the Smith-Hughes Law.

Pupils may earn 1/4 of a High School credit for home projects conducted during summer, on satisfactory completion in quality and in amount of time spent. Next week will be given the names of the girls who completed summer projects, and the kind of projects.

Now the Home Economics girls are busy starting their home practice and home projects, which are required during the school year. Home practice and home projects are two effective ways of applying home economics training of the school in the more natural setting of the home, where skill and ability are required more quickly. A distinction is made between home practice and home projects. Home practice is repeating at home some lesson taught at school. Home projects usually precede home projects. A home project is undertaken by the girls with co-operation of the mother and teacher and is a well rounded plan for conducting an activity in the home during which an appreciable degree of skill is attained.

The girls taking first year Home Economics are required to do 90 hours of home practice, including three properly planned and supervised home projects carried to completion in three phases of home economics. While the second year home economic girls must do 135 hours of home work including at least four projects in not less than three phases of home economics. These projects may be chosen from any aspect of home economics, as child care, family relationships, family meal, budgets, etc. Through this work the girls hope to become more worthy home, school and community members.

AGRICULTURE DEPT.

There has not been anything of very great importance happening in Mr. Eggert's classes this week. Everything is going along smoothly and everyone is busy studying every minute they can. Of course, I am not saying that the boys and girls don't always just love to study and be busy, as you all know that they do.

In the ninth grade zoology classes they have just finished the study of crabs, lobsters and other animals along that line. Monday, they started the study of bees. Pamphlets were given out to certain individuals who are to report on them in the near future. If you want to know anything about the care or life of bees, just ask some of the Freshmen.

Last Thursday the Soils class went on a field trip. The purpose of the trip was to examine the different types of soils, and marl beds.

They have also made some experiments lately. One was made to show the amount of carbon in sugar, another was how temperature effects the rate of absorption of water by seeds, and the third, that salt retards the rate of absorption of water by seeds.

Now the soils class is studying the plant-food elements which are required by the different plants at different times in their growth.

JUNIOR HIGH Manual Training

The eighth grade manual training class seem to be getting along fine in spite of the large class. At present, necktie racks are being made. If the boys have enough ties to fill up the racks, we hope they will be able to keep their necks warm this winter.

Stitch! Stitch!

That's what the eighth grade girls are doing. They are still working on their pajamas. They are also studying about wool, silk, cotton and linen.

Note Book Work

One section of the seventh grade history are making a note-book. It is divided in two parts. One part is "Who's Who in America." The other part is "Who's Who in 1930-1931." Last Monday the seventh grade had a weenie roast at the Tourist Park.

Students Study About Virgil

The students of Latin II class studied about Virgil, a great Roman poet. Aug. 15 was the two thousandth anniversary of his birth. Many interesting things were discovered about him.

HIGH SCHOOL ENGLISH Complete Interesting Study

The fourth year English class has completed a study of the play, "Macbeth," by Shakespeare. They made a very good analytical study of it, and each student now possesses a note-book containing the analytical outline of the play. The study was enjoyed immensely and everyone was deeply interested.

Quite a Drop

The third year English students have dropped from the interesting study of "The Idylls of the King" to mere grammatical study.

A New Line of Work

The Sophomore English class has left composition work behind and is plunging into work on sentence analysis.

HIGH SCHOOL HISTORY Interesting Reports Given

The Ancient History class has been enjoying some very interesting reports, among them were a report on "The Odyssey" by Max Bader, and one on "Iliad" by Dale Clark.

Begin the Real Work

The Modern History class has just finished work on the events preceding the French Revolution and will now take up work on the Revolution itself.

Helen Kratoch gave a fine report on the life of Marie Antoinette and the class eagerly awaits the three other reports promised it. They will provide a pleasing change of work, we're sure that Helen agrees.

Enjoy New Method of Study

The American History class, numbering forty-seven pupils, has enjoyed studying history divided up into periods instead of taking it by chapters or four or five pages. They have just completed the Revolutionary period and are beginning the organizing of the nation, the making of the Constitution, etc.

GRADES

The first graders are making a project of Little Black Sambo on their sand table.

The third graders have made a large Halloween poster. They now have a doctor and a nurse for health inspection. Anyone who has dirty hands or face will have his name on the black list.

The fourth grade are making Halloween decorations for their room. The reading class is divided into groups and the leaders are Louise Bechtold, Betty Sturgill, John Pray, Alice Pinney, Elaine Collins. They are enjoying audience reading. The following fourth graders had "A" in spelling this week: Francis Holland, William Royce, Anna Kraemer, Marie Essenberg, Elaine Collins, Jane Ellen Vance, John Pray, Cornell Schultz, Margaret Decker, Gale Brintnall, Marion Hudkins, Betty Sturgill, Beatrice Valencourt, Richard Saxton, Albert Clark, Charles Chaddock.

The fifth graders made spelling booklets for October. The cover is a brownie on a pumpkin. The Arithmetic A section are studying their multiplication tables, and the B section are finishing their Roman numerals.

The sixth graders have sent for some new material for penmanship. Phyllis Inmann is the pianist this week. The A class in Geography are dressing dolls to show the costumes of the people in the countries they are studying. They will soon have an interesting display. Thirty-two pupils had 100 in spelling last week. Keep it up, sixth graders. The committee is working on a Halloween program to be given next week Friday.

The members of this committee are: Ruth Hott, Jane Davis, Phyllis Inmann, Mae Richards, Irene Beahn, Eloise Gaunt.

WEST SIDE

The second and third graders now have a coping saw. Sunny Bulow brought one too. He also brought some sand paper and a vice. They are making things for the Christmas box. As another chair was needed in their room, they made it themselves and painted it green. Charles Burbank made a standard for the flag. The students are also working for their penmanship plaques.

The fourth and fifth grades have started fractions and like to work the problems very much. They have made charts on squared paper and keep a record of their marks each day. At the end of the month they will see what kind of curve they have. Daphne Keller has been absent two weeks, because of measles, so each classmate wrote a letter to her.

Both fourth and fifth grades have been busy making things for Christmas. They work on them noon hours and recesses. The Junior Red Cross Calendar came and tells many interesting things they can do to help others.

What hands work all day long? The hands of a clock.

There are nuts on many varieties of trees, especially family trees.

Some women like a man with a past but the majority prefer a man with a present.

In education it matters more which way one's face is set than how fast he proceeds.

MAKING A WILL

By THOMAS ARKLE CLARK
Dean of Men, University of Illinois.

"You ought to make your will," I heard Brown say to Mason, "no one ought to neglect a matter so important as that."

They were talking over business matters and the fact came out that Mason, generally considered a shrewd business man, had never made a will.

"Oh, I'm not so old, and I'm not going to die right away," he replied. "and I don't know what I might want to do with my property when I am older."

It is a curious point of view that many otherwise sensible people take that mention of making a will always suggests the thought of immediate and sudden death, just as if the idea of getting one's house insured would of itself make a fire more imminent. Every man, even if he owns only a yellow dog, should decide upon the proper disposal of his property by making a will. There is no formality about such an act.

Life is a very uncertain thing. For all we know, there is an automobile slipping around the corner ready to run over us while we are looking in the other direction. Accidents and disease give little or no warning to anyone of us, and the law if left to its own devices does some very strange things to one's earthly possessions. The train I was on between Minneapolis and Chicago last week ran over a man and killed him. I wondered if he had a will.

Ferguson was considered a very good lawyer. He had made scores of wills for other people, and he had urged upon many others of his clients the wisdom of making a will. He was a married man with no children, and in very moderate circumstances. He had always intended that his wife, when he died, should have all that he possessed, as she, by all rights, should have had, for she had carried her half of the domestic load for twenty-five years or more. But Ferguson made no will; he just meant to do so. His wife received only a part of his estate, the rest going to relatives whom Ferguson had never seen, and for whom he did not care a penny.

As it was, the wife was left with a very meager and inadequate income, as her husband never intended should happen.

Whoever makes a will should go to a lawyer to have it done. A great many contingencies may arise which the inexperienced may not foresee. Sixty thousand dollars are tied up in the estate of a man I knew just because in his will he did not say the thing he intended to say. Even an ordinary lawyer would have told him that, and have saved his family infinite embarrassment.

"I'm too young," I hear a good many people say, "to make a will. What I would do now, twenty-five years from now I might not want to do at all." Well, it is quite possible to change a will and quite easy. If you don't make one somebody may have a lot of trouble in deciding just what to do with the thousand and one things which a man leaves behind him when he dies.

We have a hunch that good times will be back again just as soon as the people earn the money they spent last year.

State News in Brief

Coldwater—The last of Branch County's blacksmiths, Timothy Vail, 69 years old, who operated a shop at East Gilead, is dead.

Marquette—Marcel Nantel, 99 years old, died in St. Mary's Hospital, where he had lived for three years. For many years he was a trapper and guide.

Lansing—Running through a red light in his automobile cost Jack Turner $100 in Municipal Court. He was arrested after he ignored the traffic signal and he pleaded guilty to a charge of drunk driving.

Bay City—William Nelson, 68-year-old Bay County farmer, preferred death to appearing in justice court on a charge of violating the State game law. His body, with a wound in the head, was found in a field on his farm by two sons, Arthur and Edward. A shotgun was nearby.

Saginaw—A subnormal sugar beet crop resulting from the Summer drought will make it impossible for the Michigan Sugar Company to operate more than five of its nine plants, it was announced here. Plants in Saginaw, Lansing, Crosswell and Owosso will remain idle.

Lansing—The State Administrative Board voted to accept with thanks the gift of a tract of land on Wampler Lake, worth $85,000, to be added to the Cedar Hills State Park, in the Irish Hills. Mrs. Mercy J. Hayes, of Grosse Pointe Park, is the donor. The enlarged park will be known as the Walter J. Hayes State Park.

Detroit—The huge steel tube in the vehicular tunnel underneath the Detroit River is good for only about 300 years, engineers have said. But there is little chance, even then, of the tunnel being forced to stop serving its patrons, they explain, as by that time the concrete around the tube will have amalgamated with the river mud and will be solid rock.

Owosso—A few fish in the Shiawassee River killed by dynamite October 2, proved costly to three men. Frank Stralk, who did the dynamiting, was fined $50 and sent to jail for 30 days. Austin Spittler was fined $50 and must serve 30 days unless he pays, while John Karchovitch was sentenced to serve five days in default of costs. The latter two picked up some of the fish.

Grand Ledge—Mrs. Nancy Morineaux, who celebrated her hundredth birthday here last December, died at her residence on River road. She had been blind for the last 50 years. Born in Wayne county, New York, she came to Michigan when a child. She was married first to W. M. Peck, and later was wedded to Isaac Morineaux. Her only child died many years ago.

Ann Arbor—Mrs. Emily Zick, of Saline, is in a serious condition at University hospital, the result of a blow with a flat-iron, which her husband, Crist Zick, is said to have hurled at her. The iron struck the woman on the side of the head, and fractured her skull. Zick, who was hiding in his barn, was taken to the county jail, and is being held on a charge of attempted murder.

Detroit—With the completion about Jan. 1 of a mammoth intake tunnel leading from the old Rouge River channel and Jefferson avenue to the Rouge Plant, a distance of 2.3 miles, the Ford Motor Co. will have for its private use a water supply with a daily capacity of 118,000,000 gallons, amounting annually to $33,464,000,000 gallons, or 80,000,000,000 more than is used by the cities of Detroit, Cincinnati, Washington and Philadelphia combined, officials of the company said.

Lansing—The cost of the recent state-wide primary recount has dwindled from an estimated $250,000 to an approximate $50,000. According to the auditor-general's department, vouchers covering the cost of all clerks and employees at $1 an hour have been issued and the total was $44,000. There remains to be paid only the county and township clerks who are limited by law to $2 a day, plus mileage one way at 10 cents a mile. John P. Kirk, counsel for the State Board of Censors, and miscellaneous bills.

Jackson—Abandonment of the buildings at the Onondaga clay pit, once an important branch of the Michigan State Prison, has been ordered by the State Prison Commission. Preparatory to demolition of the structures and removal of the machinery, the commission requested the State efficiency engineer, and the director of prison construction, to inspect the clay pit property and estimate the salvage value. The manufacture of brick and tile at the Onondaga plant was discontinued several years ago when labor unions blacklisted prison products.

Detroit—Construction of new school buildings valued at $4,000,000 and $396,090 worth of houses of correction structures was authorized formally by the common council. Bids on the first of the new schools or additions will be sought at once, while the houses of correction program will begin immediately. School district bonds, the first ever issued here, will finance the board of education construction, the New York firm of bond attorneys, having ruled such an issue would be legal. The new schools will house 3,000 pupils, it is estimated.

Jackson—Charles Shesser was killed while unloading coal at the yards of the Scheels Fuel & Supply Co. He was operating a conveyor when a wire developed a short circuit and the current passed through his body.

Harrison—There is no better bait for brown trout than mice, says Fred Bailey of Harrison, who landed a seven-pound brown from the headwaters of the Tobacco River while using a small field mouse as a lure.

Charlotte—The State Highway Department has decided to re-route U. S. 27 on a straight line between Olivet and Marshall, which will shorten the distance a mile and save $40,000 on the paving to be done next year.

Melvin—Roy Henry Utter, 12 years old, is dead of gun shot wounds. He was accidentally shot by a companion, Leland Trainor, 7 years old, while the latter was handing him a small rifle. The bullet entered Utter's head above the left eye.

Escanaba—Struck on the head three times with a club, Louis Martens, a farmer, was rendered unconscious in his home by an unidentified assailant and died before medical aid could be summoned by neighbors, who found him dying. Martens, who lived alone, had no known relatives.

Grand Rapids—A "buy a bushel of wheat" campaign to absorb the nation's surplus of 200,000,000 bushels, was advanced here by C. B. Kelsey, president of the Home State Bank for Savings. Such a drive would advance the price of stocks and bonds, as well as raise the price of wheat 10 cents a bushel, he believes.

Muskegon—Frank Goets, mate on the tug Fitzgerald, which had a narrow escape from sinking in the storm on Lake Michigan Sept. 27, was killed in a traffic accident at Manitowoc, Wis., according to a message received here. The Fitzgerald was towing the barge Salvor, which broke loose and grounded, bringing death to five of the crew.

Oscoda—Detailed statistics from the census bureau at Washington, D. C., on the farming industry in Oscoda county, show but 220 farms in this county in 1930, or a loss of 58 during the decennial period since 1920. The value of lands and building, according to this census, was $1,038,275, representing a reduction of $280,540 in 10 years.

Pontiac—Glen Downey, 23 years old, Detroit, former Detroit-Pontiac bus driver, was sentenced in circuit court to serve from one to 10 years at the Michigan reformatory at Ionia for stealing cash from Eastern Michigan fare boxes. Downey was specifically accused of possessing burglar's tools in the form of a device with which he opened the boxes.

Jackson—Failure of Frank Rooney, 68, a farmer residing three miles south of Jackson, to carry a lantern while driving his cows across the highway near his home, resulted in his death from injuries suffered when he was struck by an automobile driven by Kenneth Bruce, 18, a neighbor. Bruce told officers he failed to see the old man walking behind the cattle until too late to avert the accident.

Lansing—Michigan is without authority under its Constitution to own airports, according to Governor Fred W. Green, at whose order the state administrative board turned down a request for $65,000 for building runways on the Lansing flying field. Wilber M. Brucker, attorney general, held the state could build the runways and call them roads, but such a subterfuge would violate the spirit of the Constitution, Green said.

Lansing—Two months ago Lafe Johnson, superintendent of the Lake City State Park, and his men, rescued a doe that a dog had chased out into the lake. Johnson took the deer to the park and fed it. Two days later the doe became the mother of twin fawns. The doe and her youngsters have refused to leave the park and have become one of the park's main attractions. The deer are free to roam where they please.

Lansing—Harry McClennan, of Flint, killed his mother three years ago in order to inherit her estate, but the supreme court barred him from benefiting financially as a result of his crime. It was the first time such a question had been before the bench, and although the legislature has provided by statute that a son must share in the estate of his parents, the justices reverted to the common law maxim that "no man shall take advantage of his own wrong."

Shepherd—Two men were killed and three injured when their automobile crashed into the side of an Ann Arbor Railroad freight train two miles south of Mt. Pleasant. A heavy fog was blamed. The dead are Melvin Sullivan, father of three children, who was driving, and John Bruskotter, father of nine children. The injured are Hubert Doepker, Alfred Robinson, and Otter Meyer. All were residents of Shepherd. The automobile wedged beneath a box car and was dragged 200 feet before it rolled into a ditch.

Bay City—The Thalia, 169 foot steel yacht, built at the Defoe boat and motor works here for Thomas Howell, New York and Chicago capitalist, was launched recently. The boat is the largest yacht to be constructed on the Great Lakes this season. It is of 24-foot 6 inches beam and is powered with two 600-horsepower Winton Diesel motors capable of driving the vessel 18 to 20 knots per hour. Miss Helen Howell, daughter of the owner, christened the vessel as it left the ways.

WORKING FOR PERFECTION

By THOMAS ARKLE CLARK
Dean of Men, University of Illinois.

Edna was darned some stockings as I came through the living room of her house the other day. I am no connoisseur of needle work, but even to my untrained eye it was evident that the work was being done crudely. The edges of the hole were being drawn together rather than fitted in, and the stitches were uneven and irregular. She was making of the job, as my mother used to say, "A short horse soon curried." She noticed that I was watching her, and she gave me a half-embarrassed, half-ashamed look.

"I know I'm not doing it well," she explained, "I'm in a hurry and it takes time and patience to darn a hole like that well. Besides what difference does it make; it's inside my shoe and it won't show."

"But you'd know about it," I suggested. But Edna was not longing for perfection and so was not likely to attain it.

Albert was a healthy young Hawaiian, who drove the automobile in which we rode around Oahu. He was married and had five children, he explained to us, and incidentally was an enthusiastic supporter of the Mormon faith. It was when he was showing us the beautiful Mormon temple at Laie that I discovered this fact. Only members of the church are permitted to enter the temple.

"Have you seen the inside?" I inquired of Albert.

"No," he replied. "I am not yet worthy. I am not so good a man as I should be and not so good as I one day hope to be. I am working for perfection, but just now I am too far from it to go into the temple."

His wife was a good woman, he said. She went in, and some day he hoped he might have the privilege.

Bates is a young artist with whom I have been acquainted for a dozen years. He is a tireless worker and a rapid one and produces an amazing number of canvasses. His studio is littered with them—oils and water colors, and pastels—and yet he keeps on working. Those who know far more about such artistic matters than I do say that Bates is a genius and that he will one day be recognized as one of the leading artists of the country. But the young man is not satisfied with what he does. He refuses to sell any of the pictures which he has so far painted.

"They are not good enough," he says. "If I should sell them now, I am sure that I should one day be sorry and ashamed of them. I can do better, and I do not want to sell anything that is not my best."

He, too, was working for perfection. I suppose it is the only way to do whether we are darning stockings or painting pictures, or trying to develop a character that is worth while, or working at any task which engages our attention.

Velveteen in Vogue for Well-Dressed Tots

POTPOURRI

Air in the Lungs

A normal person breathes from sixteen to twenty times per minute. Each act of breathing exchanges from twenty to thirty cubic inches of air in the lungs. Exercise of course increases the amount. During every twenty-four hours about 986,000 cubic inches pass through the lungs of an adult. Continued exercise would increase this amount as much as two-fold.

Onion Seed and Set Management

Some Soils and Climatic Extremes Are Not Suited for Industry.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)
To assure themselves of better seed than the general market offers, many leading onion growers in the North and on the West coast now raise their own seed. About 2,500 or 3,000 acres of onion sets are grown for market each year in districts centering in Louisville, Ky., and Chicago, Ill., in the Platte river valley of Nebraska, and in southwestern New Jersey.

Most Satisfactory Soil.
The United States Department of Agriculture points out that the rich sandy loam soils near the North Atlantic, bordering the Great Lakes, and on the Pacific Coast are satisfactory for the onion seed industry, but that the soils and climatic extremes in temperature and rainfall over most of the country are not so suitable.

It is common to grow two crops simultaneously—a planting of seed to produce bulbs and a planting of bulbs to produce seed. In California, where a large part of the onion seed grows, the producers take care to harvest seed when the interior of the seed is doughy. As a means of removing inferior seed they submerge the threshed seed in troughs of water for ten or fifteen minutes and discard the lighter seed that floats to the surface.

Disease Precaution.
As a precaution against diseases, onion-set growers in the vicinity of Louisville, Ky., select and store their over-size bulbs and in the spring send them to farmers in the hill country for seed production on bluegrass land never before planted to onions. Onion-set growers in New Jersey have found it more profitable to grow a mixed crop of all sizes from sets to marketable bulbs and to sell onions smaller than the standard market size as "stewers," "picklers," and "sets."

Farmers' Bulletin 434-F, "The Home Production of Onion Seed and Sets," by W. R. Beattie, recently revised by the United States Department of Agriculture, gives directions for growing both seed and sets, with special reference to the market gardener and truck farmer. This bulletin will be sent free to those requesting it.

Increase Corn Crop by

Use of Lime on Soil

Ten bushels of corn for one dollar is the price that Clifton Davis, Morgan county, Illinois, farmer, pays for production of corn since he applied lime to his fields where he grew corn the last two years, according to C. M. Linsley, University of Illinois.

Two corn crops grown on a field that was limed yielded 60 bushels an acre more than similar land not limed. The three-ton-an-acre application cost him about $6 and his increase has been added for 10 cents a bushel and the lime is in the soil to last many years yet to benefit other crops.

The yield was not the only improvement in the corn crop, but the land where sweet clover had grown and was plowed under produced a higher quality of corn.

Canada Thistle Worst

Weed in Iowa State

Dr. L. H. Pammel of the Iowa experiment station considers Canada thistle the worst weed in his state. For this weed and others similar to it, Doctor Pammel recommends deep plowing, harrowing with a spring tooth harrow and then raking and burning the roots. Next, he says to smooth the ground with a disc, and harrow once a week until freezing weather. More harrowing can be done in the spring until time to put in the following crops, which should preferably be a heavy smothering crop like sudan grass or sorghum.

Farm Hints

A worn-out mowing machine guard makes an excellent staple puller. Drive the point of the guard through the staple between the wire and the post.

Any time is a good time to kill burdocks. Cut them below the crown with a sharp spade. This will prevent future sprouts coming from the same root.

Cleanliness is an important item which no dairyman can afford to neglect, so everything about his dairy is kept in perfect condition from a standpoint of sanitation.

It is important to maintain a high level of production during the late summer and early fall months, since a high yearly production must be secured, if greatest profits are to be realized.

A good remedy for scours in calves is warm lime water in half-pint doses. This can be made up by dissolving ordinary slaked lime in a gallon of warm water. Use all the lime the water will dissolve.

Strainers and strainer cloths, as soon as used, should be thoroughly washed with warm water and washing powder. They should then be rinsed in clean water and sterilized by boiling for five minutes, or with steam for the same length of time.

Frenchman Would Show Toe-Dancing Fleas Here

Paris, France.—The flea-tamer, Jean Rochet, who has presented his performing flea at fairs all over France, was preparing his troupe recently for a forthcoming visit to the United States, provided he can get it through immigration and quarantine stations. Rochet has devoted a lifetime to the study of fleas, teaching them tricks of toe dancing, gymnastics and juggling.

"Each one is trained according to his particular character and temperament," said Rochet. "When first caught, each one is tied with a fine strand of golden wire, which is fixed with the aid of a microscope. This prevents the flea from escaping, since he can only jump a certain distance owing to the weight of the golden wire."

"The fleas begin to show propensities for either dancing, juggling or 'strong-man' feats and these qualities are developed carefully over a period of weeks."

"They get to know me soon and are extremely obedient. They can even be taught to respond to the dinner gong. I prefer the male flea because he is more conscientious."

Coat Silhouettes Fit Flare and Slenderize

It does not matter whether the coat is of fur or cloth, to measure up to fashion's standard it must be snug at the waist, flare at the hemline and boast novel fur-trimmed sleeves. Coats of flat fur with lavish trim of long haired fur tell an exciting story of what's doing in the ways of fall and winter wraps.

Habits are often silken threads that grow into cables.

MICHIGAN BELL TELEPHONE CO.

When a man settles down in his easy chair, he wants undisturbed comfort, above all. What will add more to his comfort and ease than an extension telephone beside him, so that he can make and receive calls without getting up? . . . The cost of extension telephones is so little—only a few cents a day each—that a great many people have them installed in several convenient locations about the home, such as bedroom, kitchen, den and basement. . . . IF EVERYBODY with something to interest you should come and ring your bell, what a nuisance it would be! Think of the swarming, jostling crowd, the stamping of feet on your porch and carpets!

Much important business is transacted over the telephone after working hours.

Every day we know of many callers who come to see you. They never jangle the bell—they don't take up your whole day trying to get your attention. Instead, they do it in a way that is most considerate of your privacy and your convenience. They advertise in your newspaper!

In this way you have only to listen to those you know at a glance have something that interests you. They make it short, too, so you can gather quickly just what you want to know. You can receive and hear them all without noise or confusion in comparatively few minutes.

In fairness to yourself look over all the advertisements. The smallest and the largest—you never can be sure which one will tell something you really want to know.

Such exemptions shall not extend to any mortgage thereon lawfully obtained, but such mortgage or other alienation of such land by the owner thereof, if a married man, shall not be valid without the signature of his wife to the same."

Relative to the number and apportionment of Representatives and Senators in the State Legislature.

Amendment to Sections 3 and 4 of Article V of the Constitution relative to number and apportionment of Representatives and Senators in the State Legislature.

"Section 3. The house of representatives shall consist of one hundred members. Representatives shall be chosen for two years and by single districts, which shall contain as nearly as may be an equal number of inhabitants and shall consist of convenient and contiguous territory; but no township or city shall be divided in the formation of a representative district, except that when a city is composed of territory in more than one county, it may be divided at the county line or lines: And provided, That in the case of cities hereafter organized or created or territory annexed to an existing city, the territory thereof shall remain in its present representative district until the next apportionment. When any township or city shall contain a population which entitles it to more than one representative, then such township or city shall elect by general ticket the number of representatives to which it is entitled. In every county entitled to more than one representative, the board of supervisors shall assemble at such time and place as shall be prescribed by law, divide the same into representative districts equal to the number of representatives to which such county is entitled by law, and shall cause to be filed in the offices of the secretary of state and clerk of such county a description of such representative districts, specifying the number of each district and population thereof, according to the last preceding enumeration."

"Section 4. At the first regular or special session of the legislature following the enumeration of the inhabitants of this state in each United States decennial census, the legislature shall by law in accordance with the provisions of this constitution rearrange the senatorial districts and apportion anew representatives among the counties and districts, according to the number of inhabitants, using as the basis thereof said preceding enumeration; provided, however, that if the figures as to the population of this State by counties according to said enumeration are not available before or during such session, then the legislature shall carry out the provisions of this section at the first regular or special session following the time when such figures are available. If, for any reason the legislature shall not comply with the provisions of this section, then the Secretary of State shall forthwith re-arrange said senatorial districts and apportion anew the Representatives in the legislature. Immediately after the Secretary of State has performed the duties hereinbefore required of him, he shall file in his office a certificate showing the territory included in each senatorial district and showing the apportionment of the representatives among the several counties and districts, and such rearrangement and apportionment shall become effective at the time of said filing. Such certificate shall be included in the next succeeding publication of the Public Acts. When senatorial districts have been rearranged and representatives apportioned anew and any county divided into state representative districts by the board of supervisors, the same shall not be altered until after the enumeration of the inhabitants of this state in the next United States decennial census.

Relative to Referendum on proposed law to impose a specific tax upon the sale, etc., of cigarettes.

An act to impose a specific tax upon the sale, gift, exchange, barter or distribution of cigarettes in this state; to provide for the collection of such tax and the disposition thereof; and to prescribe penalties for the violation of this act.

The People of the State of Michigan enact:

Section 1. Every person, firm, association or corporation, selling or engaging in the business of selling cigarettes in this State, shall pay to the State a specific tax on all cigarettes sold, given away, exchanged or bartered, at the rate of one cent on each ten cigarettes or fractional part thereof. Only one sale of the same article shall be used in computing the amount due.

Section 2. The tax hereby imposed shall be paid and the stamps hereinafter provided for shall be affixed or attached by the person having possession or ownership of such cigarettes before the same is distributed, sold or given away in this State, unless such stamps shall have been affixed or attached thereto by the manufacturer or distributor of such cigarettes.

Section 3. The tax hereby imposed shall be paid by the purchase of stamps from the secretary of state, of such design and denominations as shall be prescribed by him. Unless such stamp is already affixed, each dealer, distributor or manufacturer in this State shall affix to each package of cigarettes the stamp so purchased from the secretary of state, which stamp shall be in the amount of the tax upon the contents of such package. The stamp so affixed shall be prima facie evidence of payment of the tax imposed by this act. Any person who shall open any package of cigarettes or remove any of the contents therefrom without the stamp required by this act having been affixed to said package, or any person who shall open any package of cigarettes or remove any of the contents therefrom, unless the stamp shall have been cancelled, mutilated or destroyed, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine of not more than ten dollars and costs of prosecution, or by imprisonment in the county jail not more than ten days, or both, in the discretion of the court.

Section 4. It shall be unlawful for any person to sell, offer for sale, display for sale, barter, exchange or give away any cigarettes in this state without there having been first affixed to each individual package of cigarettes the stamp required to be affixed thereto by this act. Any person who shall violate any of the provisions of this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine of not more than one hundred dollars or imprisonment in the county jail not more than ninety days, or both, in the discretion of the court.

Section 5. Any person who shall falsely or fraudulently make, forge, alter or counterfeit any stamp prescribed by the Secretary of State under the provisions of this act or who shall cause or procure to be falsely or fraudulently made, forged, altered or counterfeited any such stamp, or who shall knowingly and willfully utter, publish, pass or tender as true any false, altered, forged or counterfeited stamp prescribed by the secretary of state under the provisions of this act, or who shall knowingly possess any such false, altered, forged or counterfeited stamp, or who shall use more than once any stamp provided for and required by this act for the purpose of evading the tax hereby imposed, shall be deemed guilty of a felony and upon conviction thereof shall be imprisoned for a term of not less than one year and not more than ten years.

Section 6. Whenever the secretary of state or his assistants shall discover any cigarettes subject to tax as provided by this act, and upon which the tax has not been paid as herein required, said secretary of state or his assistants are hereby authorized and empowered to forthwith seize and take possession of such cigarettes which shall thereupon be deemed to be forfeited to the state, and the secretary of state may within a reasonable time thereafter by a notice posted upon the premises where such seizure is made, or by publication in some newspaper having circulation in the county wherein such seizure is made, at least five days before the day of sale, sell such forfeited cigarettes, and such sale shall be deemed to be payment to the state of the taxes due and the cost incurred in the collection thereof: Provided, however, that such seizure and sale shall not be deemed to relieve any person from fine or imprisonment provided herein for violation of this act. Such sale shall be made in the county where most convenient and economical. All moneys received or collected under the provisions of this act shall be deposited in the state treasury and credited to the general fund and shall be available for any purpose for which such general fund is made available by law.

Section 7. It shall be the duty of the secretary of state to enforce and administer the provisions of this act; to design, procure, furnish and sell the stamps herein provided for, to collect and keep a record of all taxes collected and stamps sold under the provisions hereof; to promulgate such rules and regulations as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this act, and the said secretary of state is hereby authorized to employ such assistants as may be necessary to administer the provisions hereof.

Section 8. The secretary of state or his assistants are hereby authorized and empowered to examine the books, papers, and records of any distributor or dealer in this State for the purpose of determining whether the tax as imposed by this act has been fully paid, and shall have the power to investigate and examine the stock of cigarettes in and upon any premises where such cigarettes are possessed, stored or sold, for the purpose of determining whether the provisions of this act are being obeyed.

Section 9. The provisions of this act are severable and if any part, section or sentence thereof shall be held unconstitutional or invalid, the same shall not affect the validity of any remaining portion of this act.

Section 10. As used in this act:

(a) The word "person" shall be construed to mean and include persons, firms, associations and corporations;

(b) The word "distributor" shall be construed to mean and include every person who engages in the business of receiving or importing cigarettes and making the original sale or gift thereof in this state;

(c) The word "dealer" shall be construed to mean and include every person other than a distributor who sells, offers for sale or engages in the business of distributing or selling cigarettes in this state;

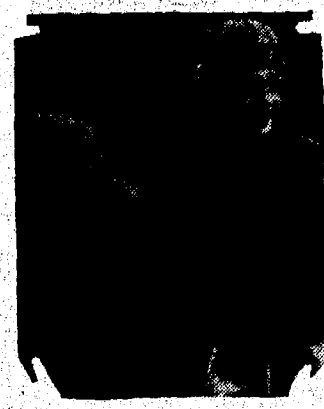

(d) The word "sale" shall be construed to mean and include gift, exchange, barter, offer for sale and distribution;

(e) The word "cigarette" shall be construed to mean all tobacco or any mixture of tobacco and other ingredients rolled in paper or in any substitute other than tobacco.

NOTICE is further hereby given that the place or places for voting upon the above Amendments to the Constitution and Referendum on Proposed Law, in each of the several Wards and Precincts of the City will be the same as for the General November Election, and the hours for voting upon said Amendments will be the same as for voting upon all other matters at said election.

There was no direct cable connection across the Pacific until 1902, when Canada, New Zealand, and Australia were joined. Fate sometimes makes a hero of a man, but he can't always hold the job.

It's fortunate for the average man that he doesn't know half the things he would like to know.

We Americans have little trouble keeping the commandments. It's the doggone amendments that bother us.

Bottom Alive

A certain man announced that he was marrying a widow.
"I could never be a widow's second husband," his friend said bluntly.
The newly engaged man smiled.
"Well," he murmured, "I'd much rather be her second than her first."

First Flapper: "I wouldn't wear a one-piece bathing suit; they are too immodest."
Second Ditto: "I haven't much of a shape either."

Teacher (looking over Teddy's home work): "I don't see how it's possible for one single person to make so many mistakes."
Teddy (proudly): "It isn't a single person, teacher. Father helped me."

AUCTION SALES

The most important thing connected with a sale is advertising it. Indeed that is practically the whole story. It makes all the difference between success and failure. Whether your sale is poor, fair, "pretty good," or extra good, depends on how well you advertise it.

Just as you are reading this advertisement because you are interested in Auctions, so the prospective buyer of the property you have for sale reads your advertisement.

A VERY IMPORTANT POINT

In advertising your Sale remember that it is necessary to cover the whole region to get the best results. Your Sale is not a neighborhood affair. Your neighbors will know about it anyway. You want bidders that come 10, 12, 15 and 20 miles, the strangers with the cash in their pockets.

To get these buyers you must place your advertisement where it will attract their attention. The Charlevoix County Herald of East Jordan and The Ellsworth Tradesman have a special combination offer for the same Auction Sale advertisement to appear in both publications. This assures a wide coverage in both Antrim and Charlevoix Counties.

DON'T BE "PENNY WISE"

Remember that all your goods are to be sold at one time, and upon that one day depends whether you make or lose perhaps several hundred dollars. A few dollars expense is nothing compared with having your sale well advertised.

If a merchant is going to have a sale he does not hesitate to advertise it liberally. Yet he is in business 365 days every year, his store is being advertised all the time, and if his sale is not a success he can make good the loss later on. But if your sale is not a success, you can never make good the loss, because you are in the selling business for only one day.

Don't forget this point: If you advertise your sale thoroughly, you will know that you have done your best, and you will always be satisfied. If you skimp on the advertising, and save a few dollars, then if your sale is not satisfactory you will always blame yourself for not spending a little more money and doing it right.

REMEMBER

Your eggs are all in one basket. You have $500 or $1,000 or $2,000 worth of property all to be sold in ONE day. Without a crowd your goods will sell at a loss. With a good crowd you may make hundreds of dollars. One bidder may make you enough money to pay all your advertising and your auctioneer besides. The cost of the advertising is NOTHING compared with the risk you run in selling a thousand dollars' worth of property. The question is not "Can I afford it?" but rather, "Dare I take any chances?"
