Errors In Directory

CHARLEVOIX COUNTY OFFICERS AND TEACHERS DIRECTORY FAULTY.

Due to an error in the County Officers and Teachers Directory gotten out by the School Commissioner, the following corrections are made.

Many people might not notice that in the Boyne City and East Jordan Public School list many of the people have "life" after their names, which means "Life Certificate"; while a great many of these people should have either Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science degrees. This makes a great deal of difference for the reason that it is required by the University and State Department Accrediting Officers that the regular teachers in the High School must have degrees. This does not require that the special teachers have degrees, such as Manual Arts, Commercial, and Music. However in the case of the East Jordan teachers, three of the teachers lack very little of having a degree. In this list are the Misses Merritt and Faunce, and Mr. Maynard.

There is a small correction in East Jordan's tax rate. The rate is sixteen and three quarters (16 3/4) mills, which with the Supervisor's one mill tax would be seventeen and three quarters (17 3/4).

DR. RUTHVEN URGES PURCHASE OF SEALS

Wholehearted support of the 1930 sale of tuberculosis Christmas seals is requested by Dr. Alexander G. Ruthven, president of the University of Michigan and chairman of the State Christmas Seal Honorary Committee, in a statement officially designating Thanksgiving Day as the opening date for the sale.

The traditional Thanksgiving Day start of the sale, according to the Michigan Tuberculosis Association, will be signalized in Charlevoix County by the sending of 167,400 seals to residents of the county. In 1929 Charlevoix County residents purchased $478.42 worth of the seals. This figure represents an average per person sale of 3.91 cents, compared to 4.81 cents for the State at large. "Thanksgiving Day," Dr. Ruthven's statement reads, "marks the beginning of the sale of Christmas seals, by which the campaign against tuberculosis is financed. Tuberculosis becomes increasingly a problem when many are forced to do without proper food and are subjected to other privations. Present conditions of unemployment and restricted diet prophesy a pronounced increase in the number of tuberculosis deaths such as occurred in European countries, for example, at the time of the World War.

"The Christmas seal sale furnishes the opportunity to guard against this threat of added tuberculosis, with all that it implies in costly sickness, premature death, and bereaved families. All who can do so should purchase the seals. Not only will such purchases help save lives now, but, equally important, they will allow institution of measures to prevent future deaths having their origin in present circumstances."

Killed In Auto Mishap, Sunday

BENJAMIN H. WEIKEL PINNED UNDER OVERTURNED CAR.

A fatal auto accident took place on M-66 at a curve near Mt. Bliss, at an early hour Sunday morning in which Benjamin Weikel was instantly killed. George Winstone received a dislocated shoulder, and the other occupants of the auto—Bruce Isaman, Franklin Severance and Gordon Sweet, all of East Jordan, received minor bruises. Severance, Sweet, Isaman and Weikel left East Jordan about 1:00 a. m. Enroute they picked up a woman, near his home, and headed south on M-66. The auto failed to make a sharp turn on a dangerous curve near Mt. Bliss and the car rolled into a deep ditch, pinning Weikel under the car and killing him. The other four escaped serious injury. The auto which was badly damaged was owned and driven by Franklin Severance.

Benjamin Harrison Weikel was born at East Jordan, August 14, 1888, his parents being Howard and Caroline Weikel. In 1922 he was united in marriage to Louise Crispie of Windsor, Ont., at Detroit. Of late years he has made his home at Detroit, and during the past summer conducted a restaurant at Charlevoix, which was recently sold.

Deceased is survived by his wife of Windsor, Ont.; his father, Howard Weikel of Hewins, Kansas; and brothers and sisters as follows: Robert J. Weikel of Munising; Mrs. Rebecca Smith and Mrs. Lillian Ramsey of East Jordan; Mrs. Retta LaTour of Detroit; Jack Weikel of Washington, D. C. Also a nephew, Clare Myers of Detroit.

Funeral services, which was largely attended, was held from the home of his sister, Dr. and Mrs. Frank P. Ramsey, Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 18, conducted by Rev. James Leitch, pastor of the East Jordan Methodist Church. Interment at Sunset Hill.

POTPOURRI

The Tower of Pisa

The marble tower of Pisa, already fourteen feet off the perpendicular, is increasing almost one foot per century. It is a bell tower, and although only 179 feet high, with eight stories, required 176 years to build. The marble walls are thirteen feet thick at the base and seven at the top. Will it ever fall, and when?

Packers Take First Game of Season

WIN FROM STRONG COLLEGIAN QUINTET, 23-14.

(From Ellsworth Tradesman)

Those who gathered at the High School Gym last Friday night were served a real treat in the way of a Basketball game. Those who stayed away missed the time of their lives, as they failed to see a great Packers Basketball team decisively defeat the strong northern Collegian quintet of East Jordan, 23-14. It was the Packers' first game of the season, and although getting away to a rather slow start they clearly showed their superiority by uncorking a dazzling offense in three quarters of the game, combined with an excellent defense to win very handily.

The game was scarcely three minutes old when the Collegians had sunk two shots to give them a four point lead, and the Packers called time out to talk things over. When play was resumed, Elzinga promptly hoisted one through the net from the foul line, and Peebles followed with a fine under the basket shot tying the score. The Packers had perked up considerably and their offense was beginning to click, but fast work by the Collegian guards and poor basket shooting by the Packers held the score down. Swafford made a free shot just before the quarter ended with the score 5-4, Collegians leading.

Taylor fouled to open the second quarter but Peebles missed the shot. The Packers got going in this frame and Art got two goals in rapid succession, so the Collegians called time out. They were unable to solve the Packer's offense and were outscored in this quarter 8-1, their only marker coming on a foul shot by Tryon. The half ended with the score 12-6, Packers leading.

The third quarter was fast and furious with both teams driving for points. Peebles made a nice corner shot and Taylor countered with one through the net. The Packers put Klooster in at Guard and George certainly played a bang-up game at this position, smearing up plays and making it very uncomfortable for any basket shooting in his corner. When the smoke cleared away from this eight minutes, the Packers were still in the lead 19-11. The remainder of the game was marked by sparkling plays on both sides but the Collegians were unable to overcome the Packer's lead. "Red" VanderArk was put in at Guard during this period and played a real game of ball, as did the rest of the team. The final whistle found the Packers on the long end of a 23-14 count.

It was a real treat to see the fast breaking attack of the home team, with the Guards taking the ball to the center of the floor on very fast plays to the Forwards. The Collegian's defense was caught flat-footed several times when a short snappy passing game brought the ball up to the basket. The only trouble was that the boys missed most of their shots. Peebles and Elzinga were high point men for the Packers, scoring 22 of the 23 points between them. Yettaw showed some very nice floor work as did Road and DeJonge at Guards. Fox, former Boyne City star, was high point man for the Collegians with two field goals.

Line-up and Summary:

Collegians	Packers
Taylor	RF Elzinga
Tryon	LF Yettaw
Fox	C Peebles
Barnette	RG Rood
Swafford	LG DeJonge

Score by quarters:
Packers 4 8 7 4—23
Collegians 5 1 5 3—14

MANY FARMERS USE ELECTRICAL POWER

The building of 1,200 miles of rural-electrical lines, and the addition of 5,500 new rural users of electricity in Michigan is pointed out as a trend of modern farm methods by members of the agricultural engineering department at Michigan State College.

The department estimates that 27,000 Michigan farmers now use central service electrical power for operating farm or household equipment. The number of farmers using electric power four years ago was 6,800.

The change has been not only in the number of users but also in the use to which electricity is put. The average monthly consumption of current four years ago was 30 kilowatts per month which is the average load for lighting a home. The average amount used by rural residents is now nearly 90 kilowatts, which shows that the electricity is used not only for lights but for power requirements.

The agricultural engineering and the home economics departments of the College, this year, sent specialists to 80 meetings attended by 13,919 people where the use of electricity for running farm and household equipment was discussed. Specially built trucks, taken to the meetings, carried models showing economical ways of adapting electrical power to farm uses.

Sixteen per cent of Michigan's farms now use electricity.

Thanksgiving Day Proclamation

"Let never day nor night unhallow'd pass, but still remember what the Lord hath done."

More than three centuries ago Governor Bradford of the Plymouth Colony appointed a day for public praise and prayer. Since that time Thanksgiving Day has most properly become a national institution. One day of all the year is little enough to us, without distinction of race or creed, to unite with the peoples of every other state in giving reverent heartfelt thanks to Almighty God for all of His mercies and blessings.

We have passed through a year of business and industrial stagnation with its attendant discomforts but out of it should come a manifest spiritual strengthening. We have many problems to solve but the good sense of the American people has always been equal to their solution. Every one of us is charged with a civic obligation of how we can best serve one another and thus restore industry to its normal condition and promote greater markets for our agricultural products.

Our achievements of the past provide cheer and inspiration with which to look hopefully to the future. Above all the vicissitudes there exists a confidence that, having earnestly dedicated ourselves to the task, we shall build a better and more prosperous State and Nation.

It is, therefore, eminently fitting that Thursday, November 27, shall be set aside as a special day for Thanksgiving, a day for all the people of this Commonwealth to observe in thanksgiving and prayer that our glorious nation, under the wise direction of our President, may go forward unswervingly as the leader of all the world.

Given under my hand and the Great Seal of the State this seventeenth day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and thirty, and of the Commonwealth the ninety-fourth.

FRED W. GREEN,
Governor.

UNION THANKS-GIVING SERVICE

The annual Union Thanksgiving service will be held at the Presbyterian Church Thanksgiving morning at 10 o'clock. The sermon will be preached by Rev. James Leitch, Pastor of the Methodist Church. The offering will be divided between the co-operating churches to be used for benevolent purposes in this vicinity.

1931 Auto Licenses

SOME OF THE REGULATIONS COVERING NEW PLATES.

Pursuant to the request of Governor, Fred W. Green, John S. Haggerty, Secretary of State, has ordered immediate shipment of 1931 automobile license plates to be made to all branch offices in the State and same will be issued immediately upon their receipt to the public in advance of the regular date—December 1st. Up until that date however, they can only be sold to owners of new cars and those who have not driven their cars during 1930 nor purchased license for that year. All others must wait until December 1st. It will be necessary for owners who have licensed their cars in 1929, but not in 1930, to accompany their applications for 1931 license plates with an affidavit to the effect that they have not driven their cars on the highways of Michigan prior to the date on which they make application for 1931 license. Forms for this purpose may be procured at the branch office.

Some changes have been made in the application forms this year. On applications for either passenger or commercial plates, those owners who reside "outside" of an incorporated village or city must give the township in which they live, as well as the rural route. On the application forms for operator's license, an additional question appears—"Are you now, or have you ever been subject to epilepsy?" On the application for duplicate certificate of title, in cases where the original title has been lost or destroyed, it is necessary for the applicant to swear that the original title has not been assigned to anyone else. With these exceptions, the forms are the same as last year.

Remember to bring your certificate of title with you when applying for plates, as none will be issued without it. If you have purchased a second-hand car, make sure that the assignment and re-assignment sections on the reverse of the certificate are completely filled out and signed before a notary before presenting the certificate to the branch office for plates. This will save much inconvenience and delay.

CULLING COWS HELPS SOLVE FEED PROBLEM

Cutting down the number of cows in Michigan's dairy herds by removing those producing the least milk is a better economic measure than to cut down the amount of feed given to the herd, according to the dairy department at Michigan State College.

Last year's Herd Improvement Association records revealed 59 cows which had average productions of only 110 pounds of butterfat and 294 cows averaged only 163 pounds of fat per year. The 20 per cent of the cows tested which had the lowest average production of butterfat produced 217 pounds of fat per year.

If the owners of this 20 per cent had culled these cows from their herds, the return in money above feed costs would have been increased $15 per cow for the remaining cattle in the herds. The profit made on the 20 per cent was so low that the average profit on all the cows was reduced materially.

The dairy department advises the culling out of such low producing cows and the adequate feeding of the remaining cattle in order to obtain maximum profits this year when roughages are scarce and expensive.

A reward of a good deed is to have done it.

Smart Street Frock

This smart street frock is of bottle green crepe. The large bertha collar that forms the sleeves, and is cut into a draped neckline in front, is an interesting new note.

The Belt Is a Feature of Travel and Sports Coats

Coats for the grandstand and for travel are more "sportsy" looking than ever. Made of sturdy weather-defying materials, they glory in generous sleeves of novel cut, in odd shaped pockets, intriguing capes, an abundance of intricate and tasteful seamwork and the belt is seldom omitted.

It is better to appreciate things we cannot have than to have things we are not able to appreciate.

State News in Brief

Sturgis—Determined to do away with all reasonably preventable radio interference, the Sturgis Council has drafted an ordinance making such interference illegal between 6 p. m. and midnight. Violations of the ordinance will bring fines up to $50 or 30 days in jail.

Kalamazoo—Two bandits went to the home of Michael Tullponki, farmer living near Paw Paw, bound him and escaped with $2,300 which he had secreted in the house. Tullponki said the bandits came to the house in an automobile bearing Indiana license plates. Tullponki lives alone.

Kalamazoo—Kalamazoo is operating on Central Standard Time for the first time in nearly eight months. All other southwestern Michigan communities that adopt daylight saving time during the summer months reverted to slow time sometime ago. Eastern time will be effective here again the middle of March.

Kalamazoo—The clothing of Rudolph Jagersma, pet store clerk, was in tatters when he was rescued after a 10-minute pursuit across counters and desks by two bears, recently arrived from South America. The bears escaped from their cages when Jagersma, while feeding them, answered a telephone call.

Marquette—The Marquette Hotel, one of the oldest and best known hostilities in the Upper Peninsula, was destroyed by fire of undetermined origin recently. Two hours after the alarm was turned in only the walls and elevator shaft were standing. The loss is estimated at $150,000. There were 28 guests in the hotel and all escaped.

Lansing—The foundation for one of the largest state-owned bathing houses in Michigan is being dug at present in the Walter J. Hayes State Park on the shore of Wampler's Lake in the Irish Hills. The building will probably be completed in May, 1931. This is the first of a number of improvements that are being planned for the park.

Leslie—Dorothy Andrews, 14 years old, and Harlan Smith, 10, suffered burns when a bottle of acid fell from the Leslie fire truck and splattered over them. They were walking on the road when the truck passed. The boy's face, arms and eyelids were burned and the girl suffered burns on her arms and legs. The boy is the son of one of the firemen.

Blaney—Those who delight in the ancient sport of archery have at last come into their own in Michigan. G. H. Earle, president of the Wisconsin Land Company, announced that his company has excluded rifle hunters from its 22,000-acre tract of land near here and that 7,000 acres have been designated for the exclusive use of archery enthusiasts who may hunt game with bows and arrows.

Detroit—His efforts to aid his sister in taking down a clothesline resulted in the death of Wesley LaFullier, Jr., 8 years old, when he tugged at the line and dislodged a heavy flower box which struck him on the head in falling. The boy was dead on admission to a hospital. Mrs. Mina LaFullier, 1 1/2 mother, told police the flower box, about five feet long, fell from the porch of her home. The sister, Dorothy, 11, witnessed the tragedy.

Plymouth—Two of the youngest travelers who ever made an ocean voyage alone were home after a voyage to Scotland. They are Isabell Burrows, 5, and her sister, Ann, 3, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Octave Burrows of Rockford, Mich. Unaccompanied, the children sailed from New York in 1929 to visit their grandmother, Mrs. Margaret Ferguson of Glasgow. The infant travelers liked Scotland so well they stayed with Mrs. Ferguson until a few weeks ago.

Paw Paw—A farmer who engaged in a pitchfork-battle with a neighbor is in a hospital here in a serious condition and the neighbor is in jail. The injured man is Steve Agardy, 60 years old, of Covert Township. The neighbor is John Forgy, 53. The two quarreled over rights to a pasture and the battle followed, each man wielding a pitchfork, it is said. Agardy fell unconscious, with serious wounds in the head and chest. His wife, who witnessed the battle, carried Agardy to the house and notified the sheriff.

Ann Arbor—Princeton replaces Harvard on University of Michigan's football schedule for 1931. Michigan will play at Princeton on October 31, in the Wolverines' only inter-sectional game of the year. The universities have met on the gridiron only once in football history, in 1881. The Wolverines' Big Ten opponents will be Chicago, Ohio State, Illinois, Indiana and Minnesota. Michigan State, a traditional though usually weaker rival, fills out the schedule, except for the opening date which is still unfilled.

Saginaw—As guest of honor at a banquet of the Washington Avenue Presbyterian Church, which he has attended since boyhood, Wilbur M. Brucker, Governor-elect, saw 350 of his fellow townsmen leap to their feet and cheer wildly as one of the speakers pointed to the White House as the ultimate goal of the man Michigan elected as its governor. Brucker, overcome by emotion was unable to deliver his set speech on "The Church and State." Tears trickled down his cheeks as he thanked the speaker for their expressions of esteem.

Bay City—Herman Fisher, Frank-smuth, hotel-owner, paid a fine of $8,800 for a liquor violation. Judge Arthur J. Tuttle of Federal Court said it was the highest fine ever imposed and collected in this district for such an offense. His wife was fined one cent.

Pontiac—While E. F. Aber, of Wauwatosa, Wis., slept in a local hotel, thieves broke into his car in a parking lot and stole sample leather goods valued at $900, and owned by the firm for which he was a salesman. The loot included suit cases, traveling bags and purses.

Martin—Fire, which destroyed a large barn on the Lyman Bender farm, four miles northeast of here, is believed to have been set by wheat thieves to cover their crime. As the fire broke out a passing motorist saw a large truck, evidently loaded with wheat, drive away from the scene. The barn was filled with wheat.

Lansing—Production of the Mathis, small French automobile will start here about January 1, when several hundred men will be put to work by Durant Motors, Harry J. Shorter, general sales manager, announced. Plans for the manufacture of the car, which will be built in Lansing for American distribution east of the Rockies, are progressing rapidly, he said.

Reed City—Michigan-grown golden russet rural potatoes, otherwise known as Petoskeys, proved far superior in flavor and baking quality to russet Burbanks or so-called Idaho bakers, in a baking contest at the seventh annual Western Michigan Potato and Apple Show. All awards went either to russet rurals or white rurals, two leading varieties produced in this state.

Saginaw—Double funeral services were held at Birch Run for two Civil War veterans, William Ransom Butler and Barney B. Butler, brothers, who died within 48 hours. Barney B. Butler, 84 years old, died at the home of a daughter at Mt. Morris, Genesee County, and William Ransom Butler, 82, died at the home of a daughter in Birch Run. Both were born in Tioga County, New York.

Port Huron—The war department has granted a deed quit-claiming all of the title of the United States in the unsold portions of Fort Gratiot, near Port Huron, to the Grand Trunk Western Railroad company. The company wishes to use part of the land for purposes other than railroad, as specified in the original grant in 1859, and paid $23,288.11 to the government for the quit-claim deed, as authorized by congress.

Lansing—A recommendation that its appropriation for the next two years be slashed $100,000 annually by the 1931 Legislature was voted by the State Conservation Commission. Considered on a basis of the usual annual increase in budget recommendations, the recommended cut will be close to $500,000. The department is the first large unit in state governmental activity to ask that its funds be curtailed to meet present economic conditions.

Grand Rapids—Eleven workmen employed in construction work on the new municipal sewage disposal plant were made ill, one of them with typhoid fever, as the result of drinking water dipped from a nearby hollow, Dr. A. H. Edwards, city health officer, announced. A boy explained that he thought the water was all right and drew it in preference to going to the city tap nearby. Dangerous bacteria were found on analysis of the water, Dr. Edwards announced.

Detroit—Harvey S. Firestone, president of the Firestone Tire & Rubber Co., announced the breaking of ground in Detroit for the largest automobile service store in the United States. It is to be located at the northeast corner of Vesper highway and Trumbull avenue, and cover a city block. The store will be so large and so complete that more than 100 cars can be serviced at one time for tires, tubes, rims, batteries, brake-lining, accessories, gasoline, oil, lubrication and washing.

Lansing—New license plates for new automobiles recently were placed on sale in Michigan. Described as a move to inspire the sale of new cars and contribute toward the return of prosperity, through increase of factory production schedules, the order to sell 1931 plates to new car buyers was issued by John S. Haggerty, secretary of state. It followed a conference with Governor Green. The plates—black, with dark red numerals—will go on sale to present car owners Dec. 1.

Lansing—Complete reconstruction of US-10 (Woodward avenue) between Clarkston forks and Flint, has been started it was announced by Highway Commissioner Grover C. Dillman, adding another link to the wider Woodward project that will extend eventually from Detroit to Saginaw. The improved highway now ends at Clarkston forks, the junction of Woodward with M-15 just north of Waterford. The worn macadam road from M-15 to Flint is to be replaced by 40-foot pavement that will be completed within a year, Dillman said.

Sturgis—Fighting four bandits to save $800 which he secreted in his wooden leg, George Harid, of Sturgis, was shot in the back by one of the thugs. Harid sold his gasoline station six miles east of here and put the money he received inside his wooden leg. As he was about to close the station the bandits appeared and attacked him. He was beating one of the bandits when another fired. The bandits drove away without obtaining the money and Harid was left on the ground until a motorist found him and brought him to the hospital here.

BABIES BORN IN MERTIC CITY LIFE

Births Show a Decline of 78,063 in Year.

Washington.—There is a premium on babies in the United States. Last year 78,063 fewer children were born than in 1929, bearing out a theory which has become yearly more pronounced since 1921, the vital statistics division of the Commerce department reports. And this, according to Dr. T. F. Murphy, chief statistician of the division, is the price of modern social standards which move Americans to settle in cities, to share, man and wife alike, in the rigors of earning a living and to practice the principles of birth control.

To no one of these factors, nor to all combined, however, would Dr. Murphy attribute the declining birth rate which last year alone reduced the number of babies born in every 1,000 of population from 19.7 in 1929 to 19.

Due to Many Factors.

The cause underlying the surprising trend is much more complex and due to a combination of factors so involved as to become almost impossible to interpret, he believes.

He thinks that America's restrictive immigration laws are in a large measure responsible, citing statistics to show that the birthrate has always been higher among the immigrant class, the foreign-born population.

Doctor Murphy observes also that Americans are marrying later in life than in the days of the nation's youth, and that the number of marriages are decreasing year by year.

"We are becoming a nation of cliff dwellers," he said. "People are leaving the rural districts and going to work in the cities. They marry, both members of the union continue to work for a living, and there is neither time nor always the inclination to raise a family."

Results Felt in Schools.

According to the United States officers of education, the results are felt in the schools. Communities which are increasing in population are showing actual decreases in the number of children in the lower grades, the office reports.

In all but four of the states, Arizona, Michigan, Montana and Tennessee, the number of births was smaller in 1929. The greatest decrease for any one state was in Pennsylvania, where 11,245 fewer births were reported. Florida, with a decline of 9.8 per cent, reported the greatest percentage decrease.

Violet Light Expert

Finds Remedy for Crime

Chicago.—A defense against forgeries is reported by Dr. A. J. Pacini, expert in ultraviolet light. To Dr. Clarence Muehlberger and the heads of the crime detection bureau of the Northwestern university, he said:

"If a business executive makes a rule of using a few drops of a particular chemical solution in the ink with which he signs all of his important documents, the fluorescence or glow peculiar to that solution will always be visible in the signature when it is placed under ultraviolet light. A forgery of that man's signature, on the other hand, would reveal an absence of this characteristic and the signature would be branded indisputably as a fake."

Find Strange, New Sect

Known as "Tremblers"

Bucharest, Rumania.—There was recently discovered at Veresti, in the Botolani district in Rumania, a strange new sect styling itself the "Sect of the Tremblers." Its leader gives himself the title of patriarch. It has no many adherents. At their meetings the members lie flat on the ground trembling continually; they believe that they are able to shake off their sins in this way. They have assemblies twice a week at which they weep for many hours.

Oldest Soldier

London.—Sergt. William Brerton, ninety-two, Britain's oldest soldier, joined the army as a drummer boy in 1853, lived for months in India on salt junk and biscuits after a four months' journey on a sailing ship, and received two pence a day for "real fighting with bayonets all the time."

Parachute Jumpers

Must Carry Spares

Washington.—Individuals making parachute jumps for exhibition, testing, training or demonstration will be requested to wear an auxiliary parachute, under a new amendment to the air commerce regulations announced today by Clarence M. Young, assistant secretary of commerce for aeronautics. The amendment becomes effective August 1, 1930.

"The auxiliary parachute must be so arranged that it can be operated in the event the first parachute either fails to function or becomes fouled on any part of the plane or body of the jumper," Mr. Young said. "While it is common practice for parachute jumpers, to carry an auxiliary parachute, there have been times in the past when this has been neglected."

LIGHTS OF NEW YORK

Frank Craven claims to be one man whose ambition is not to be President of the United States. His heart's hope some day is to be president of the United States Golf association; that official being, Mr. Craven declares, the only living person who ever really sees the open golf championship.

Frank is close to correct. We have watched several open tournaments together and, although we claim to be friends of the management, the best standing room we ever could get at the eighteenth green, with Jones putting, was about twelve rows back.

You may imagine that the conversation at the Lemba Club is constantly theatrical; but frequently it is political. It was while the affairs of the nation, rather than the drama, were being settled that De Wolf Hopper happened along, paused long enough to tell a story, and bidding us good-by in that marvelously resonant voice, departed to make a speech somewhere. As we saw him go, with that youthful, springy walk, we agreed that he was one of the most remarkable men any of us had known and tried to guess his age.

Conceding that he didn't look or act over fifty, we knew that he must be considerably older than that. I had seen him several times in "Wang"—I wish I could see him in it again—and some of the others could go a lot farther back. After much figuring we decided he must be about sixty-six. As a matter of fact, De Wolf Hopper was born in New York city in 1858. What a young man that old boy is!

Nothing has grown faster in New York than the moving picture business. I don't think that it was over a dozen years ago that there were summer movie shows in fixed-up vacant lots. There was, for example, the Moorish Garden on One Hundred and Tenth street between Broadway and Riverside drive. This was a vacant piece of ground surrounded on three sides by apartment buildings. They put a fence in front of it, a sign over the gate, rows of benches inside, and were ready for business. I think that some one once told me that either Goldman or Lasky had an interest in this movie show.

We frequently used to go to the Moorish Gardens on summer evenings. They had, of course, to wait until it was dark before they could show a film. The crowd usually filled the place, but not all who saw the picture paid to get in. The tenants in the apartment against which the screen was set could see nothing but all the inhabitants of the apartments on the sides had to do was to look out of their windows, which they did, to enjoy a free show. There was only one price of admission and I think it was a quarter.

In those days John Bunny and Flora Finch still were great screen comedians. If at that time you had declared that movie theaters would be built with seating capacities greater than those of the Manhattan and Metropolitan opera houses, you would have been laughed at. Those temples of art could seat a little over 3,000 persons each. The Hippodrome, with its 5,000 capacity, was the last word in marvels.

Today, Roxy's and the Capitol both seat more than the Hippodrome. The Paramount in Brooklyn seats 4,000, and the Paramount in New York 3,500. The Paradise, in the Bronx, has a capacity of 3,800, and the State seats 3,600. You can pack 3,000 into the Strand. And on a Saturday, Sunday or holiday evening, practically all of these places are sold out. There are several movie stars who can sell them out any night in the week.

Harvey Epstein, a jewelry salesman, parked his car at a Bronx curb while he stepped across the sidewalk to ring a bell in the hall of an apartment. When he turned around a thief was driving the car down the street. In the machine, Mr. Epstein had left diamonds, valued at $40,000. Next time, it seems safe to say, he will lock the transmission.

Ever since Frankie Yale was killed, the police seem to hook most shootings up with the followers of that Brooklyn gang leader. A certain New Haven graduate has grown weary of reading headlines: "Another Yale murder."

"Why," he demanded plaintively, "don't they publish stories about some of these Harvard racketeers?"

An insurance adjuster's wife who is suing for divorce, alleges, among other things, that he played bridge for three days and three nights. It seems a harmless amusement, especially as he won. Just supposing his hobby had been the saxophone.

All Beekeepers May Grade Honey

Special Permission Not Necessary to Use Standard Grades.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)
Many beekeepers mistakenly believe that they are forbidden to use the United States standard grades for honey unless they have special permission or unless a federal agent has inspected and graded their honey, says James I. Hambleton of the bureau of entomology, United States Department of Agriculture.

Must Comply With Rules.

"It should be clearly understood," says Mr. Hambleton, "that anyone who complies with the United States grading rules for honey is entitled to use the United States grades and grading stamp. He may use the official grading stamps or may incorporate the stamp into his own label if he so wishes." A circular has been issued suggesting a way in which this can be done. This will be sent with other information on grading, upon application to the Division of Bee Culture Investigations, Bureau of Entomology, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

The process of grading extracted honey is simple, Mr. Hambleton says. The honey must be of good flavor, of proper density, and as clear as specified for the grade. When packed in opaque containers, the color of the honey must be marked on the grade label. Most beekeepers may have samples of the honey graded as to color, free of charge, by sending a two-ounce sample to the state division of markets, the state specialist in beekeeping; or to the state agricultural college.

Lack of Color Grader.

Many states now have one or more standard color graders at the service of the beekeepers, but if no grader is available in the state, beekeepers may send samples of honey to the Division of Bee Culture Investigations, Bureau of Entomology, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

This free color grading is educational and unofficial and does not carry with it a certificate of grade, color and purity such as is issued by the federal honey inspectors of the United States bureau of agricultural economics, who are at the service of anyone who wishes to pay for official inspection and certification. This inspector service is now used for the most part by exporters, but could be made more generally available if the demand were sufficient.

Wild Onion Destroyed

by Careful Plowing

On cultivated land wild onion can seldom be destroyed in one season. The first step is to plow in the fall as late as practicable, the depth of the furrow being gauged to bring the roots, or bulbs, to the surface where they will be killed by freezing. As some of the roots will live through the winter, the land should be plowed again in the spring, at a depth which will throw the roots to the surface where many more of them will be killed by spring frost. Following this treatment, a clean cultivated crop followed in turn by wheat and clover, or any other thickly sown crop, will usually completely rid the land of the pest. Liming and fertilizing is also effective as it helps the crop to crowd out the weed.

Destroy Cutworm Moth

by Plowing in Autumn

The cutworm moth lays her eggs on weeds and grass in late summer. When the eggs hatch, the worms feed for a while and then enter the ground where they make a little nest for the winter. In the spring they come out and feed on the vegetation available. It is recommended that the garden be plowed in the fall so as to disturb the nests and many will be killed. In the spring keep the land free from grass and weeds and put out some poison to kill those that feed on it. If you keep the garden clear of weeds and grass during the summer and fall, cutworms may come in from the grass borders in the spring when they are hungry.

FARM NOTES

Fall plowing is an important aid in the war on insect and weed pests.

Plant a less expensive crop than potatoes on the wireworm-infested field.

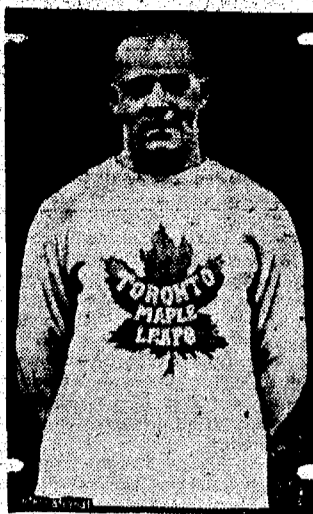

Holdings of creamery butter on May 1 are reported at 22,088,000 pounds compared with 5,883,000 pounds on May 1 last year.

A New York survey shows that alfalfa paid 82 cents an hour for the time spent to grow it, while timothy paid minus two cents an hour.

Separate your cockerels from the pullets as soon as you can detect the sex, and get your cockerels ready and market them as soon as possible.

Fruit thinning is more profitable on trees carrying an excessively heavy crop than on those where the set is slightly more than what is wanted. The return is likely to be greater on fancy varieties like Jonathan and McIntosh than on Ben Davis and Bald win.

Start at Hockey Game

Frank "King" Clancy, former star hockey player of the Ottawa Senators and who was purchased by the Toronto Maple Leafs for $40,000. This is said to be the highest price ever paid for a National league stick-wielder. Clancy is shown wearing the uniform of the Maple Leafs for the first time.

Speedy Halfback "Fired"

Rolf Carlsen, halfback of the University of Pennsylvania football squad, was "fired" from the varsity squad by Head Coach Lud Wray to the junior varsity or "scrub" team during practice at Franklin field. Carlsen then decided he would quit the football team altogether rather than accept the demotion. The speedy halfback was rated the best forward-passer in the Pennsylvania camp.

Think It Over
Impatient people water their miseries and hoe up their comforts.

If people would buy, there would soon be plenty of work. Also if people had work, there would soon be plenty of buying.

Never try to fool a woman. Women are too smart to be fooled. Just marry 'em and make 'em happy with a fool.

Doing work ahead of time is one of the hardest things that the average man or woman undertakes, but it is an effort that pays rewards.

OF COURSE!

When you want to get down-town in a hurry, you don't sprint ten or twenty blocks in order to be there on time. You take an automobile or a street car, of course.

When you want to ask a question of a friend who lives a mile or so away, you don't walk to his house to find out what you want to know. You call him on the telephone, of course.

And so it goes—in all the affairs of your daily life. You take the easy, intelligent means of accomplishment every time.

When you want to buy a refrigerator or a car or a piano, you don't need to look all over town to discover the kind you want. You read the advertisements in your newspaper. They bring you all the facts necessary to decide just which refrigerator or car or piano will give you the satisfaction, how much to pay, where to buy it.

You buy through the advertisements because they save you time and effort. Because they enable you to command certain values. Because they assure you of getting reliable and economical products every time.

Why is a ladder like a boxing match? Because both are made up of rounds. Appearances are deceptive. Many a man who is always active doesn't know whether he is coming or going.

WE ALL DO IT

I didn't hear the question.
 I did not study that far.
 That is as far as I got.
 Did we take that far today?
 I was absent yesterday.
 I know it, but I can't express myself.

Where is the place?
 I had a large assignment in Algebra and did not have time to study my English.

It soon will be Thanksgiving recess. Then it will be hurra for turkey and cranberries.

Second and Third Grades
 The second and third grades are having a spelling review. Monday they wrote for their first Palmer Method pins. Some of them are making bird houses. The second graders are making arithmetic books.

Many Students Get "A"
 The fifth grade had a test in addition and subtraction of fractions. Ten out of twenty-five received one hundred. They are making interesting scrap-books in geography.

These were three pupils who got one hundred in arithmetic every day last week. They are: Harold Carney, Willard Howe and Jessie McDonald.

GRADES

Third Grade—We are all sorry to hear that Tommy Galmore has a broken collar bone. There is a new picture in the third grade room now. As this is National Book Week, the third graders are going to read as much as they can. A new book will be given as a prize to the pupil who reads the most books this week.

Fourth Grade—On the spelling list this week we have: Anna Kraemer, Buddy Porter, John Pray, Richard Saxton, Betty Sturgill, Jane Ellen Vance, Elaine Collins, Buddy Staley, Beatrice Valencourt, Melvin Gould, Dorothy Umlor.

The new poster, "The First Thanksgiving Dinner," has now been completed. It was made by Anna Kraemer, Beatrice Valencourt and Elaine Collins.

Sixth Grade—A new pupil, Violet Trumpour, of Central Lake has been enrolled in the sixth grade.

Twenty pupils had 100 in spelling every day last week, and three had 100 in arithmetic. They were Virginia Saxton, Gladys Staley, George Johnston.

Jane Davis is the pianist this week. The room monitors are Alice Persons and Mae Richards, and the hall monitor is Elba Gould.

The A class in geography are studying the homes and habits of the people of Central Europe, and are making stories about them. They also have geography note books in which they have pictures of the people and countries that they study about.

The sixth graders have learned how to use the encyclopedia.

BASKETBALL

Expectations and promise of a very successful season in Basketball is in store by the spirit of the different groups of boys for the game in the High School.

In the Junior High School which is composed of the seventh, eighth and ninth grades, there will be over 40 boys taking part in the games.

The High School team will start practice next week and there will be more than 20 boys fighting and working hard for a much coveted position on the team. We expect a great year for the team. There will be five games for the High School before the Xmas vacation.

The boys from the country will also have an opportunity to enjoy the popular winter sport by the noon hour program that is being arranged for their welfare and enjoyment.

Several leagues of basketball are being formed.

The Athletic department of the school expects to have three or four leagues of basketball in "full steam" and well organized and going at high speed by the first of December.

The Gymnasium will be used at all times for basketball from 2:30 in the afternoon to 6:00 at night.

Besides the activity of the sport of basketball for the boys in the Junior High in East Jordan—The Junior High School will also have games with outside teams such as Boyne City, Charlevoix, Mancelona and Ellsworth Junior Highs, in conjunction with the High School games.

What do the boys gain by playing basketball?

Loyalty to fellow players.
 Team Work—Work with others.
 Scholarship—He must be passing in his work.
 Unity of Spirit—Spirit to play his best.

IN HONOR OF BOOK WEEK

If you were to visit Miss Perkin's room now, as you are cordially invited to do, you would see some interesting pictures on the bulletin board. They're pictures of famous authors and among them you will probably recognize the face of Mark Twain.

You would also see a poster on book week and a short verse about books. We are making posters too and each one will have an original slogan. This is fun since we may "double up" on the work, one making the slogan and one the drawing.

Some students are writing essays on subjects such as, "The Five Books I Would Like to Own," and "Books as Friends."

Everyone is also making a list of his favorite book and the one he likes "next best." These lists will all be compiled into one long one which will probably contain some very interesting titles.

HOME ECONOMICS

The ninth grade girls are still working on the study of different dishes, suitable for supper. They are now taking up the study of vegetables, their value and how they should be combined. Also they are learning, by practice, how to cook the different vegetables.

 The tenth grade girls are still sewing and they shall soon be starting their wool and silk garments. Some have already begun.

A committee was appointed last week to take up the study of fitting dresses. The girls who are working on this are: Agnes Stanek, Eva LaLonde, Doris Russell, Ruth Stallard and Ozella Scofield. Agnes was chosen chairman and the work was divided among the girls. Each girl is to make a pattern and give her explanation and demonstration by fitting this pattern to a girl and by showing how it can be altered.

REWARD AT LAST

When the Home Economics girls were working to put on the show, "The Virginian," which was given a little while back, they were promised a party if they earned a certain amount. They made this amount and more too. This party is going to be Wednesday, Nov. 19th. They are not taking any of the money they earned, but each one is bringing something. Everyone is planning on being present and having a good time.

"Royalty Queen"

The small town boy who went forth to conquer the world and returned home rolling in wealth has nothing on Miss Ann B. Gordon of Dallas, Texas. Ten years ago she set forth from the village of Flat Creek, Tenn., to make her way in the world. She recently returned to Flat Creek worth $3,000,000 and president of her own oil company. She is known as "The Royalty Queen of Texas." She opened a real estate office in Dallas in 1920, and during the post-war boom she prospered. A little later she invested heavily in oil lands which produced ten oil wells.

Leaf-Spot Causes Big Beet Losses

May Be Controlled to Some Degree by Timely Dusting or Spraying.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

The leaf-spot disease of sugar beets which is responsible for serious losses to beet growers in some areas, may be controlled to a considerable degree by spraying or dusting, say experimenters of the bureau of plant industry in Circular 115-C, published by the United States Department of Agriculture. The development of the disease depends primarily on temperature conditions and the distribution of rainfall. Only in years of unusual weather conditions does the leaf-spot disease cause severe losses in the eastern area of sugar-beet culture. The situation is more serious in Iowa, southern Minnesota, Nebraska, and northern Colorado; the disease does its greatest damage in the Arkansas valley of southern Colorado and it is only in exceptional years that beet growers escape serious losses.

Cause of Disease.

The disease is caused by a parasitic fungus which is introduced into the field by infected seed or it may enter as wind-blown spores. The spore-bearing material from the beet tops and refuse of a previously diseased field is the most important source of infection. Long rotations help to restrict the infection. Careful control of irrigation and good drainage in beet fields create conditions unfavorable for the multiplication and spread of the parasite. There is hope that plant breeders may eventually develop beets of commercial value which are resistant to the leaf-spot disease. In the meantime the Department of Agriculture offers the results of spraying and dusting experiments which promise to be of value to growers, particularly in the areas where leaf-spot damage is severe.

For control of leaf-spot in the vicinity of Rocky Ford, Colo., either Bordeaux spray or copper sulphate-lime dust applied from three to five times during the growing season at intervals of approximately two weeks gave favorable results. The treated plots on the average produced a heavier tonnage of beets, and the beets showed a higher sugar content. The cost for a season's dusting is estimated at $6 to $8 an acre, with the probability that the cost can be reduced if dusting becomes common enough to warrant development of efficient machinery and the purchase of materials in carload lots. The gains from treatment, measured in increase in tonnage and sugar sometimes amounted to $20 an acre or more.

Heavy Leaf-Spot Toll.

"Present knowledge of leaf-spot epidemiology does not permit forecasting the years of heavy leaf-spot occurrence," say the authors of circular 115-C, "and such plant protection must be viewed as a form of crop insurance. From the experience of the last 20 years in the Arkansas valley of Colorado in which all but four or five have been years of heavy leaf-spot toll, such insurance seems warranted for that area. In many other areas, such as Michigan, for example, this type of plant protection will probably be most serviceable as an emergency control measure."

Those interested in the details of the experiments, and in the discussion of the application of the experimental results, may obtain a copy of circular 115-C, "The Sugar-Beet Leaf-Spot Disease and Its Control by Direct Measures," by applying to the Office of Information, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

Close Grazing Keeps Grass Young and Rich

Since young grass, consisting largely of leaves and comparatively little stalk, is richer in proteins and soluble carbohydrates and is more readily digestible than older grass to which more stalks have developed, a pasture should be grazed sufficiently close to keep young leaves growing and prevent development of too much stalk, the United States Department of Agriculture says.

British investigations show that complete grazing once in three weeks during a good growing season is sufficient to maintain a high nutritive content in the pasture.

The relatively high protein content of leaves and the high nutritive value of proteins indicate that the supplement needed for young and closely grazed pastures is a relatively high carbohydrate feed, such as corn.

In seasons of heavy rainfall, when grass grows rapidly, pastures should be grazed more closely than in dry periods, when grass grows slowly, the department says.

Effect of Fertilizer on Quality of Corn

Numerous reports of fertilizer experiments with corn have demonstrated the effect in improving the quality of the crop. Generally increased yields are accompanied by higher quality. A number of records show the relation between yield and quality of corn harvested on experimental plots by the Purdue university agricultural experiment station. The results are averages of yields for five years on eleven fertilizer plots located at five different parts of the state. Increased yields due to fertilizer applications are accompanied in every case by a marked increase in percentage of sound corn.
