Farm Account Project Starts

NEW YEAR MARCH 1. BEGINNERS URGED TO ENROLL.

One of the most important and in fact, fundamental projects to be carried on by Charlevoix County farmers is that of keeping Farm Records to enable them to find out the result of the year's work, as well as to discover the relative efficiency of each part of the farm business.

On March 1st two year's records will have been finished and the third year started. One of the greatest surprises that the Co-operators have noted thus far is the large amount of money being handled during the year, from the sale of eggs, dairy products and crop sales and the cost of the feed and supply bills necessary to make the income possible.

Farmers who keep Farm Records have found it to be of great value to take inventory of the land, farm buildings, equipment, machinery, feed and supplies on hand at the beginning. When this is done the farmers begin to realize what a large business he is managing and the importance of having accurate knowledge of how efficient each farm department is toward the entire total.

Different from the previous two years there will be no school of instruction for new beginners as this project has grown so rapidly in the State that not enough extension help is possible to hold these local meetings. Instead, County Agent Mellenkamp will be very glad to outline the project to all farmers desiring to enroll for the new year, beginning Mar. 1st. In this method every beginner can have a complete outline of the project and the manner and method of keeping records will be carefully explained.

I am very hopeful that a large number will want to enroll this year. Please notify County Agent Mellenkamp, at Boyne City, and he will be very glad to visit you and include your name with some forty others already carrying out this most important activity associated with successful agriculture.

B. C. MELLENCAMP,
County Agr'l Agent.

Following Orders

"So you have been bedridden for three years?"
"Yes, the doctor came three years ago and said I was not to get up until he came again, and he has never been here since."

"That young bride worships her husband—doesn't she?"
"Well, she places burnt offerings before him three times a day."

Teacher: "What are the constituents of quarts?"
Bright Boy: "Pints."

MILF F. FAY WAS RESIDENT HERE SINCE 1883

Milo Feltón Fay passed away at his home in this city, Tuesday, Feb'y 10th, 1931, following an illness of four weeks.

Mr. Fay was born at Geddes, New York, June 20, 1852, his parents being Aaron and Lucia Fay. He came to Michigan in 1863. In 1876 he was united in marriage to Sarah A. Wilber at Quincy, Mich. They came to East Jordan in 1883 and have since made this place their home, where Mr. Fay has been engaged in his occupation of mechanical engineer. He was a veteran member of South Lake Lodge No. 180, Knights of Pythias and was always faithful to his fraternal obligations.

Deceased is survived by his wife, and two daughters—Mrs. A. J. Suffer of Greenville, Mich.; and Mrs. Ervin A. Hiatt of East Jordan. Also a brother, George Fay of Bay City.

Funeral services were held from his late home Thursday afternoon, Feb'y 12th, conducted by Rev. C. W. Sidebotham, pastor of the Presbyterian Church. Interment at Sunset Hill.

SHEEP BREEDERS TO HOLD IMPORTANT MEETING

The lambing season will soon be here and with that most important event many problems and situations will arise.

The number of twins that are dropped depends largely on how you have grained your ewes and how your flock has been managed. Feeding the ewes a proper and sufficient amount of grain at the right time is no doubt the most important factor. How will you feed the ewes after lambing? How will you manage the flock then? What about the treatment to eradicate worms? How will you divide your flock for most efficient growth and development of the lambs?

These and all other questions will be discussed in detail by Delmar LaVoi, Sheep Specialist, at an all-day Sheep Meeting to be held at Ironton in the Grange Hall on Wednesday, Feb'y 18th. The morning meeting will begin at 10:00 o'clock fast time and the afternoon session at 1:30 o'clock fast time.

You are most cordially invited to spend the entire day with us and bring your lunch with you. Ironton has been selected as it is the most central location for all sheep breeders to attend. A real Short Course will be given, covering all sheep problems and you will not regret spending all day for this purpose. Invite your neighbors and make your plans right away. Let nothing prevent your coming. Wednesday, Feb. 18th at Ironton, beginning at 10 o'clock, is the date, place and time.

Saginaw—Because electricity used to operate street cars causes interference with radio reception in their homes, 77 residents along the Lapeer avenue car line have asked the city council to compel the Saginaw Transit Co. to abandon street car service on that line and substitute buses.

Grand Rapids—More than 400 men, working only a day or two weekly for several months in the Wyoming shops of the Pere Marquette Railway, have been restored to five-day-a-week jobs. R. J. Bowman, of Detroit, vice-president and general manager, said the shops are employing 1,050 workers, but 200 less than normal.

Benton Harbor — A truck load of food, donated by Benton Harbor residents, recently was sent to Arkansas drouth victims. Contributions were asked after Chester Curtis, Millburg fruit grower and trucker, offered to haul the food to Arkansas. John M. Benson, fruit market broker, has made a similar offer, and a second shipment may be dispatched.

Manistee—Charles Totch, 76 years old, was sentenced to 15 days in jail when he pleaded guilty to selling illegal fish. Officers said 200 pounds of rainbow trout were seized in his automobile. A. B. Buckner, of Bear Lake, was arrested on a charge of buying fish protected by law on information said to have been supplied by Totch.

Grand Rapids—Cattle rustling was the case on a court blotter here. The accused pleaded guilty to the charge before John C. Louck in justice court and received jail sentences. Russell Crowder was committed for 45 days in default of a $50 fine, while Frank Szmanaki was given 30 days. They were alleged to have operated with a cattle stealing ring in this vicinity for several months.

Four Ages of Man: Bossed by mother; bossed by sister; bossed by wife; bossed by daughter.

LINCOLN AND LAW

The president of Boston University has published what he describes as "Ten Commandments for True Patriots." The fourth commandment in his list may appropriately be quoted.

"Thou shalt reverence and obey all laws as the political religion of the nation. Abraham Lincoln saw more clearly and farther than most men, and Abraham Lincoln pleaded that obedience to the law and respect for the law should be taught in our schools, proclaimed in our legislative halls, preached from pulpits, and enforced in courts of justice. He pleaded that reverence for the law and obedience to the law should become the political religion of the nation."

Reference is here made to the following statement of Lincoln uttered on a public occasion: "Let reverence for the laws be breathed by every American mother to the lisping babe that prattles on her lap; let it be taught in schools, in seminaries, and in colleges; let it be written in primers, spelling books, and in almanacs; let it be preached from the pulpit, proclaimed in legislative halls, and enforced in courts of justice. And, in short, let it become the political religion of the nation; and let old and young, the rich and the poor, the grave and the gay of all sexes and tongues and colors and conditions, sacrifice unceasingly upon its altars."

The great man who so pleaded with the people to obey the law of the land was himself a product of democratic government. He was not a king born of a royal family with undisputed right to rule. He had been reared in humble surroundings, and had risen to be the leader of the nation through hard work, foresight, honesty, persistence, integrity, and faith.

Abraham Lincoln was thoroughly qualified to speak on the matter of obedience to law in a nation experimenting with self-government. He realized that here in America the binding conventionalities of the kings could be broken with liberty. He rejoiced with his fellow countrymen in their freedom, but he was wise enough to see that there lurked in this liberty a subtle danger. He was prophet enough to perceive that if the people of the democracy did not obey the laws, the government would topple.

If Lincoln were alive today, would he not say, "Obey the law?" He would come down to specific laws, and tell his countrymen to obey the prohibition laws, for he was a prohibitionist. Lincoln quarreled with the partner with whom he was associated in running a little store because that partner insisted upon selling liquor.

In addressing the Sons of Temperance, of which he was a member, Lincoln said, "When I was a young man, I in a humble way, made temperance speeches, and I think I may say that to this day I have never by my example belied what I then said."

When we contemplate the lawlessness that seems to be running wild in the nation, we may despair of the future of the democracy. But there is saving salt. In his first inaugural address, in 1861, Lincoln declared, "Intelligence, patriotism, Christianity, and a firm reliance on Him, who has never yet forsaken this favored land are still competent to adjust in the best way all our present difficulty."

PRESCRIPTION FILES AT GIDLEY & MAC'S PRACTICALLY INTACT

Through some error, it is rumored that our prescription files were destroyed in the recent fire at our store. All prescriptions from July, 1928, to date were on file in our main store away from the fire and are intact.

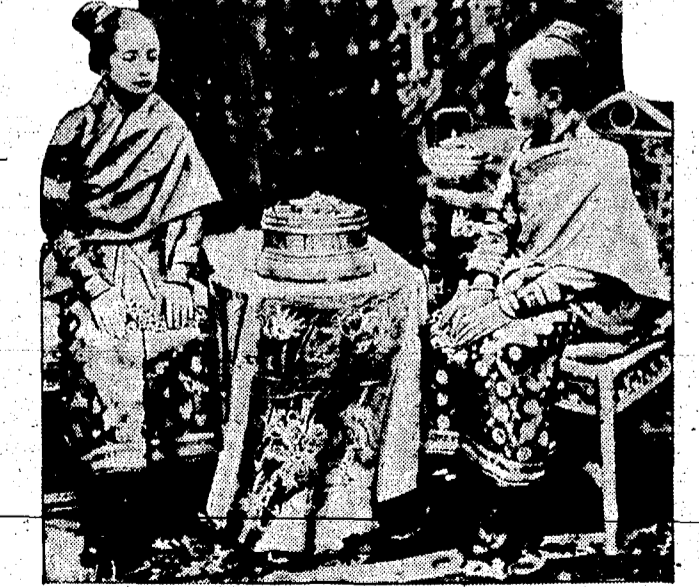

Prescription files previous to July, 1928, were burned on their edges and most of these can be duplicated. Anyone having such prescriptions will be glad to search through these old files and try and locate and re-write them.

A new stock of prescription drugs have been received and we are now prepared to take care of all prescription work as usual. We solicit a continuance of your valued patronage. GIDLEY & MAC, Druggists. adv. 7-1

The Real Law
"Everybody must bow to the law."
"I know people who scorn the authority of the law."
"Who are they?"
"Wives of policemen."

World's Only Twin Rulers

The young Queens Thusa and Insati of Laos, in French Indo-China, photographed in the drawing room of their palace. Their state is independent, although they have a French political adviser. Laos is a Chinese word meaning "ancient." The people of the country are called Shans by the Burmese, but by themselves Tai Yai (the Elder Tai), in contradistinction to Tai Noi (the Lesser or Younger Tai), the name which they give to the Siamese. In habits, customs, religion and language, the Laos people resemble the Burmese and the Siamese.

MASONS & LEGION WERE WINNERS MONDAY NIGHT

On last Monday evening, Feb. 9th the Masons and the Legion immersed victorious in two Indoor Baseball titts.

The Masons defeated the Iron Works in the first game of the evening to the tune of 12-7. It was a spirited, though one-sided game, the Masons having the strongest team which they have put on the floor this year, due to the fact that they weeded out their questionable batters and used a six man team. This combination is not a new idea, it has always been a hard aggregation to pitch to as it presents an array of picked sluggers with not a weak hitter in the group for the pitchers to work on. We hope the Masons next Monday night will use the customary nine man team as the other clubs are doing. If they make it necessary for the other teams to follow suit, only twenty-four men will receive the exercise and sport of baseball instead of four nine men teams or 36 men.

In the second game of the evening the Legion defeated the Athletics in a close score of 13-12. This very lively game showed a tense interest on both sides.

Last Monday evening due to some misunderstanding the balls were not delivered in time for the first game which is scheduled at eight o'clock. The League tries to be very prompt in starting the game and will make an effort to avoid a delayed game in the future.

Next Monday night, Feb. 16th, the Athletics will compete with the Iron Works and the Masons with the Legions. This promises to be a very exciting evening. Don't fail to attend.

Next Thursday night the strong Petoskey City team will play here against a picked local team.

Lansing.—Wayne county is entitled to all of Michigan's four new congressmen, the senate committee on apportionment decided after receiving an opinion from Attorney-General Paul W. Voorhies declaring that population alone shall be the basis for fixing representation. The opinion blocks a move by outstate legislators to reapportion the state according to community interest, industrial development, character of citizens and other issues.

Detroit.—The Fox-Washington theater at Washington boulevard and Clifford street erected in 1911 at a reported cost of $300,000 is to be razed about March 1, according to announcement by real estate operators. No plans have been made for a structure to replace the theater. The Fox-Washington, originally a house for legitimate stage productions, later was converted to the exhibition of feature motion pictures. The theater has been dark since 1928.

Detroit.—The Wayne County Airport, Goddard and Middle Belt roads, is the fourth airport in the country to obtain an A-1 rating from the Department of Commerce, Leroy C. Smith, manager of the airport and engineer-manager of the Wayne County Road Commission, received word of the rating from Washington, following an inspection of the port by Federal inspectors. Other airports holding the rating, which is the highest obtainable, are those at Pontiac, Denver and Sioux City, Iowa.

Lansing.—Sixteen wild turkeys, raised during the summer and fall at the Wolfe Lake game and fish hatchery, were released on the private game preserve of former Mayor James B. Balch, near Pullman, Allegan County. The 1,260-acre tract is situated not far from the eastern shore of Lake Michigan. The turkeys were hatched from eggs purchased by the William Locher Chapter, of the Isaac Walton League, from breeders at Blanton, North Dakota. There were 17 of the young turkeys until a few days before Thanksgiving. Then one of them disappeared.

Lansing.—The whipping post bill was introduced in the house again by Representative Charles H. Culver, of Detroit, who has fathered this measure in several sessions, once getting it adopted only to meet with a veto at the hands of the then governor, Fred W. Green. Prisoners convicted of murder, robbery, arson, burglary and assault would be subjected to punishment with a cowhide strap up to six lashes at stated intervals, if directed by the sentencing judge. The warden or one of his aides would administer the punishment.

'Dixie Minstrels' Next Wednesd'y

SPLENDID PROGRAM TO BE OFFERED BY AMERICAN LEGION.

On Wednesday, Feb. 18th, the local American Legion will have Al Warda and his troupe of merry Dixie Minstrels present their rousing, up-to-the-minute program at the High School Auditorium. There will be plenty of fun and jokes interspersed by attractive solos and quartet numbers.

The second part is a one-act comedy—"Joint Owners in Spain." The four characters in this number are well suited for their parts and the result is that its a scream from start to finish. If you have worries, troubles, aches, or pains, come and "Laff 'em Off."

The money derived from the show will be used by the Legion Post in local civic improvement, welfare work, hospitalization, and Otter Lake Orphan's Home for children of Legion men. Your patronage will be appreciated.

Don't forget the date, Wednesday, Feb'y 18th at 8:00 p. m., standard time. Admission 10c and 25c.

NEED UNITED EFFORT TO AID AGRICULTURE

Organized groups of Michigan farmers are responsible for adding millions of dollars to the annual farm income of the State, according to J. F. Cox, dean of agriculture at Michigan State College, who says that the presence of such organizations will be one of the major factors in assisting agriculture to a better economic condition in the future.

Dean Cox pointed to the various crops and livestock associations as examples of organizations which have been successful in bringing about the adoption of better methods of production, and he cited the Grange, the Farm Bureau, and the Farmers Clubs as agencies which have aided in improving economic and social conditions.

The need for organized effort during the present difficult period was emphasized by Dean Cox and he pointed out that the 35 different associations meeting at the College during Farmers Week would have a leading part in securing such united effort. The local organizations now have the benefits of a national policy for the betterment of farm conditions under the direction of the Federal Farm Board, the Dean said.

Dean Cox said that livestock organization members now can finance their feeding operations if they are affiliated with the Livestock Exchange, and the Federal Farm Board has given financial assistance to fruit, potato, and grain organizations in Michigan.

Owosso.—The Ann Arbor Railroad shops, which have been closed since Jan. 5, have resumed operations, putting 250 men to work.
Lansing.—A bill to make November 11 a legal holiday, designated as "Armistice day," was introduced in the house by Representative Frank P. Darin, River Rouge.
Croswell.—Arthur Stone, Croswell High School student, was killed, and Rex Harvey, student in the same school, was injured seriously, when the automobile in which they were riding struck a tree here.
Lansing.—State protection given the black bear since 1925 would be removed by a bill introduced by Rep. Martin B. Bradley, of Menominee. The State's liability for damage done by bears also would be ended.
Lansing.—Earl McLaughlin was crushed to death under a house which he and a companion, Elmer Coffey, were raising on jacks here. One of the jacks buckled, dropping a corner of the house on McLaughlin.
Flint.—Mrs. Benjamin Proper, wife of a Gaines Township farmer, was killed when their automobile skidded and crashed into a telephone pole 20 miles west of here, while they were on their way to church.
Lansing.—The milk-fat content of ice cream would be increased from 10 to 12 per cent and the fruit juice content of sherbets from 8 to 10 per cent by a bill introduced by Rep. John P. Espie, of Eagle. Ice cream not measuring up to specifications would have to be labeled "imitation."
Lansing.—Appropriations of $725,000 for the Ypsilanti State Hospital and $400,000 for the Michigan State Prison at Jackson were released by the State Administrative Board recently with several small appropriations for other institutions. The Ypsilanti appropriation is to continue building operations, the Jackson one for operating expenses.
Lansing.—A bill taking eradication of tuberculosis in livestock from the hands of county authorities and making it solely a responsibility of the Department of Agriculture was introduced by Rep. John P. Espie, of Eagle. The bill appropriates $500,000 to continue the work during the next two years. Federal, State and county governments now participate in the expense.
Grand Rapids.—A normal and healthy baby was born here 10 minutes after the death of its mother. Mrs. James B. Rozells, 39, of Moseley, the mother, died in St. Mary's Hospital, after a heart attack. A caesarian operation saved the life of the baby. Obstetricians here declare this is the first time in medical history that a child has been born 10 minutes after the death of the mother.
Lansing.—The Lieutenant-Governor, secretary of state, state treasurer, justices of the Supreme Court, regents of the University of Michigan, members of the State Board of Education and State Board of Agriculture would be appointed by the Governor, with the advice and consent of the Senate, under the provisions of a joint resolution to amend the constitution introduced by Rep. Ate Dykstra, of Grand Rapids.
Saginaw.—Floyd Jones, 43, was killed by an automobile while changing a tire in Dixie highway, a few miles south of here. Robert Scott, 24, of Saginaw, driver, is in a critical condition in a Saginaw hospital. Jones was driving a truck load of potatoes from Alpena, his home, to Flint. He was crushed between the truck and Scott's car, which was badly wrecked. Jones' young nephew, sitting in the truck, was unhurt.
Lansing.—Peter Spears, acquitted recently of a charge of attempting to kill his estranged wife by shooting, killed himself and his 12-year-old son when he barricaded himself in his home and turned on all the burners of a gas stove. Both were asphyxiated. Spears evidently intended to take only his own life. His son was asleep on the cot in an adjoining room and gas from the kitchen filled the sleeping room.
Kalamazoo.—Perjury in obtaining a deer hunter's license cost Warren Kriesel, of Hammond, Ind., $500 in fine and costs when he was arraigned before Judge George V. Weimer. Kriesel swore he was a resident of Michigan when he made application for the license. He is manager of the Northern Indiana Petroleum Co., and half owner of a string of filling stations in Northern Indiana. His partner, Louis Joers, recently was fined $500 on a similar charge.
Lansing.—Gasoline price wars, such as metropolitan Detroit motorists have enjoyed the past few months, would have to be state-wide under an amendment to the petroleum products act, introduced in the house by Representative Fred C. Holbeck, of Long Lake. The amendment specifically proposes that prices throughout Michigan be the same, reductions or increases to be general. "Unfair commercial discrimination between different localities for the purpose of ruining competition" is prohibited by the act.

CENTRAL LAKE
(Edited by Jesse Morse)

Eastport Sunday School had an attendance of 85 last Sunday.
O. R. Morse returned from Cope-minah, where he has been contracting last week.
Frank Hooper of Eastport was a business visitor in town, Saturday.
The M. E. Aid Society was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Farrell. Rev. Kendall and wife attended.
Rev. G. A. Weaver says that he will probably remain at home this winter. He is remodeling his house and his daughter, Laura and family will move in with him.
Joseph Gill of south Lansing hitchhiked into Central Lake last Sunday and is visiting at the Snyder home. He says business is awfully dull in Lansing, the Olds Company giving work but three days of the week.
A former resorter here, on hearing of the illness of Mrs. Fred Ford sent her a box of chocolates. They came too late, however for Mrs. Ford's death had already occurred. Mrs. Ford shook hands with her husband about five minutes before she expired.
The Central Lake Lecture Course has its last number next Monday evening with a chalk talk. The West Holland Church choir will also sing. The next day an all-day and evening meeting of the Antrim County Sunday School Convention will be held. Mrs. James Williams of Mancelona will give a talk on the harmfulness of cigarettes. Dinner will be served by the W. C. T. U. ladies for 50c a plate.
Several Central Lake people are interested in the Co-op. Creamery being located at East Jordan. Bob Watson, our present Supervisor is one of the members. The Canning Factory is also contracting for next year's crops. The cherry trees have budded quite well, and signs are good for next year's crop if not frosted as last year.

PLEASANT HILL
(Edited by Anson Hayward)

John Schroeder was up to the farm Monday after wood.
Harold Bigelow and Bud Busseler were up to George Carpenters for a couple of days last week.
Ruth Taylor and son, Lloyd were up to see her brother, John Hawley. They say he is improving. They also called on her mother, Mrs. John Hawley.
Mrs. Thomas Derenzy called on her mother, Mrs. Charles Ruggles.
Pleasant Hill Sunday School had an attendance of 19 on Feb. 8th.
Edward Thorson's son, Walter, has been to Petoskey for treatment, but is getting along fine now.

The new Ford is an economical car to own and drive

Low first cost, low cost of operation and up-keep, and low yearly depreciation mean a distinct saving to every purchaser

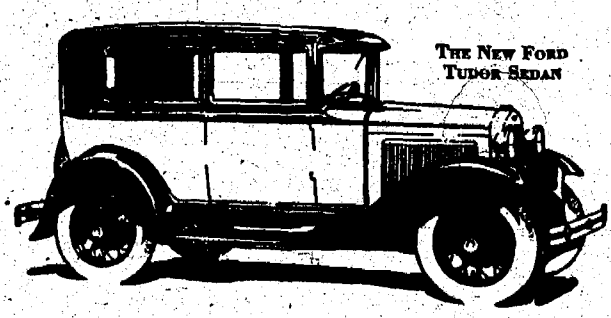

THE NEW FORD is a splendid car to own and drive because of its attractive lines and colors, safety, comfort, speed, reliability and long life.

There are, in addition, three other features of importance to every far-seeing automobile owner... low first cost, low cost of operation and up-keep, and low yearly depreciation.

During the life of the car, the day-by-day economy of owning a Ford will amount to considerably more than the saving on the first cost. You save when you buy the Ford and you save every mile you drive.

The reasons for this economy are simplicity of design, high quality of materials and care in manufacturing and assembling. Many vital parts are made to limits of one one-thousandth of an inch. Some to three ten-thousandths of an inch. Throughout, the new Ford is an outstanding example of fine craftsmanship in automobile engineering.

The more you see of the new Ford—the more you talk to Ford owners and experienced mechanics—the more certain you become of this fact. . . . It brings you everything you want or need in a motor car at an unusually low price.

THE NEW FORD TUDOR SEDAN

LOW PRICES OF FORD CARS
$430 to $630

Includes freight and delivery. Bumpers and spare tire extra at small cost. You can purchase a Ford on economical terms through the Authorized Ford Finance Plans of the National Credit Company.

DAIRY FACTS

WATER REQUIRED BY DAIRY COWS

Of Much Importance to Supply Abundantly Always.

It is a well known fact that heavy producing milk cows require a large amount of water—more than many people realize. When cows have free access to water at all times during the winter months, as when supplied with drinking cups, they consume more than when they have an opportunity to drink only once or twice a day; especially is this true when they are forced to drink ice water.

The fact that milk contains 87 per cent of water in itself indicates that a large supply is needed when a cow produces from 40 to 50 pounds of milk a day. The chief function of water in the animal's body, however, is not to supply the amount needed for her milk. She also needs it for dissolving her food materials, to help distribute the nutritive matter through the body and to remove the waste body cells. It has been stated that 56 per cent of the water consumed by a dairy cow is excreted in the feces, about 13 per cent in the urine, 12 per cent through the skin and about 18 per cent through the milk. In summer more is eliminated through the skin than in winter.

At the Michigan station water consumption by ten dairy cows was measured from the latter part of March to the latter part of July in 1928, while the cows were producing an average of 44 pounds of milk daily. The consumption during that period was 16.11 gallons per cow or about 140 pounds per day. Thus they consumed about 3.2 pounds of water for every pound of milk produced.

The large daily requirement of water calls attention to the importance of providing an abundance at all times. On most farms the water supply is not as adequate during winter as it is during summer, even though the cows may not need quite so much. Where drinking cups can be installed in the dairy barn they will pay good dividends.

Care of Cow Essential for Making Cheap Milk

Clean, palatable foods are necessary in order to make the cheapest milk, the most milk and the best quality of milk. Moldy, dusty hay, musty grains, and all such containing dust make the cleanest and cheapest milk impossible.

Clean straw or clean shavings make splendid bedding, whereas dusty straw, dirt from the hay loft, cheap, dusty hay, and the like mean a dusty barn and dirty, poor-keeping milk.

The best milk pail is the one with the smallest opening at the top. The poorest milk pail is the large, open-topped pail which will collect the most dust.

The milk pails, cans, separators, and all other utensils used for milk must be thoroughly washed and sterilized immediately before milking.

After Freshening Feed Small Amount of Grain

After freshening—only a small amount of grain should be fed. A warm bran mash is also beneficial during this period. In fact, bran should form most of the grain fed for two or three days after calving. The cow may be brought on feed gradually, depending on the condition of the udder. If the udder is badly caked or congested, grain should be fed sparingly. If the udder is not badly congested, then the cow may be brought onto feed gradually, having her on a full grain ration at about three weeks after freshening.

Dairy Notes

Milk is approximately 87 per cent water. Too often water is looked upon simply as something to quench thirst.

Roughage is the backbone of the real dairy ration. It determines, to a large extent, the feed cost of producing milk.

A calf well started is a calf half grown. It takes a long time to overcome a setback that a calf may get in the first few days or weeks of its life.

The owner of a low producing dairy herd has no choice—he must send the poorest cows to the butcher, or else he will find himself working for nothing, or less than nothing.

If water is handy cows drink in proportion to the way they milk. If not, the cows milk in proportion to the way they drink.

If cows cannot have water at will or cannot fill up on it two or three times per day they must come down in milk production.

Distance is no handicap in dairy record clubs. A box of samples taken in Holland recently reached the testing laboratory in Wisconsin in good condition after a 21-day trip.

MARITAL MIXUPS DON'T STIR RENO

Odd Cases Viewed With Good Natured Tolerance.

Reno, Nev.—Almost anything in the matrimonial line can happen in this gay little city—and frequently does. Nuptial entanglements of the most singular nature are often found and are viewed with good natured tolerance by the townsfolk.

There is, for example, the case of an insurance agent who has been married 19 times and is on the most friendly terms with practically all of his ex-wives. This man is not attempting to establish a matrimonial record, it just happens.

The affairs of one couple were so involved they both came here to straighten them out. The pair engaged adjoining apartments and told neighbors they were here to divorce their respective spouses with the intention to marry each other. She cooked his meals and they chummed around together during the 90-day residence period here.

When the residence was established she secured a divorce from her husband, her companion here was granted an annulment of his marriage, and the two married each other again. It was learned she had married a second time under the belief her former husband was dead, and then found he was still alive, so to avoid embarrassment and make everything legal, they came to Reno.

But perhaps the most curious marital entanglement is that concerning two families who still live in perfect harmony directly across the street from each other.

The husband of the first family fell in love with the wife in the second and yet each loved their own children, there being two children in the first and three in the second. So the husband divorced his wife, who was perfectly agreeable to the arrangement, and the wife of the second family divorced her husband and he was satisfied also. The two couples exchanged spouses, the man of the first family taking one child with him and the mother in the second family taking two children with her. The children all play together and attend the same school.

A Chinese woman is here getting a divorce from her occidental husband and a Japanese is establishing his residence to obtain a divorce from his white wife.

Colorado Highway Rests on Gold Ore Foundation

Fort Morgan, Colo.—In the southern part of Colorado, noted for its mountain scenery, there is a stretch of five miles of highway that is perhaps different from any other highway in the world. Every mile of it contains $3,000 in virgin gold.

The precious metal found its humble resting place by reason of the fact that the crushed rock which was used in making the foundation of the highway was shipped from the ore dumps of the Cripple Creek gold field, one of the richest gold fields in the world.

The gold in this material—assayed $1.50 to the ton and with 2,000 tons of the crushed ore used to each mile, the gold content of the highway is $3,000 a mile, or $15,000 for the stretch of five miles.

The reason that the ore was not refined again is that the cost of extracting the gold would have cost more than what the gold was worth.

Farmer Trades Wife to Friend for Live Stock

Muscataine, Iowa.—Tired of his wife, Rosie, Alex Grosheim, seventy years old, of Muscataine, Iowa, traded her to his best friend, receiving seven hogs, a dozen chickens, and a dog in return.

After ten years of married life Grosheim decided he and his wife were not well mated.

"Of course," he said, "I didn't want to divorce her without fixing things up so she would have another husband, so I remembered my old friend, Oscar Vogel."

A bargain was struck and Rosie procured her divorce. With Grosheim as best man, Rosie and Oscar were wed the other day.

Plugs Up a Job on Bees to Get Two Crops Year

Seattle, Wash.—Can bees be persuaded to produce two crops of honey annually, instead of one? This is the problem which James Baldwin, apiarist of Hoquiam, Wash., is attempting to solve by shipping a number of colonies of his best bees to Honolulu where, during the mild Hawaiian winter, many sweet smelling flowers bloom.

If successful the experiment will be continued in Panama canal zone and other semi-tropical climes opposite our summer.

New York Farmer Kills First Bear

Mountandale, N. Y.—George Engert, a farmer, after hunting for more than thirty years, has bagged his first bear.

Embarking on a deer hunting trip, Engert saw the animal, a 250-pounder, a short distance from him. He fired and the bullet struck the heart. A few hours later he shot a deer.

LIGHTS of NEW YORK

If you stop and calculate how many persons pass through the big railroad stations of New York every day, you can figure that running them is something of a business. There are, for example, the lost property departments. If you leave anything in a pullman car, it is turned in to a special department. If you lose anything in a day coach, or in the stations themselves, it is turned in somewhere else. Thousands of articles are lost; hundreds are returned. Great storage rooms, on the lower levels of the stations, are filled with various things, waiting for their owners to come and claim them. Everything that can be carried outside of a baggage or freight car is there.

I asked the custodian of one of these lost property caches whether men or women, as a rule, were most forgetful. He told me that it was about an even thing. Then I asked him what articles were most frequently forgotten. He said that the most common things left behind probably, were umbrellas, coats, bags and hats. Hats are something fairly new in his experience. He charges the sudden influx of headwear to the fact that has been developed for going barchanded. That was started by college boys and their elders took it up. A man who never wears a hat in the country, puts one on to come to town, chucks it up in the rack and forgets it.

The peculiar thing about bags is that many persons do not remember where they left them. They will declare they left a bag at a ticket window. Then one of the plain-clothes operatives in the station goes on a still hunt. He first looks where the owner claims the bag was left. Then he covers the station in a fashion taught by long experience. The news stands, the telegraph desk, the telephone booths, often bring results. One woman asserted she had left her bag at a ticket window, only to have it found in a hotel adjoining the station. The lost property departments of the stations always check up with adjoining hotels.

You might not think that travelers would leave their false teeth in trains, but it is a common occurrence. The teeth hurt them, they take them out, wrap them in a handkerchief and put them in a pocket. Later, they pull out the handkerchief, the teeth drop on the seat, and there they stay. Papers and tickets often drop out of pockets or handbags. A man who redeems a ticket must make affidavit that he was the purchaser. This doesn't appear to bother some persons. There is many a ticket that never finds its way back to the rightful owner.

Some individuals always are losing things. These repeaters come to be well known to the lost and found department. There is one woman, a commuter, who loses her handbag on an average of once a week. When she doesn't lose the bag, she loses something out of it. Men are likely to leave wrist watches in washrooms. They also leave knives, pencils and pens. Jewelry is almost always left on parlor or sleeping cars. Sleeping cars also produce pajamas, purses and wallets. Many travelers have a habit of slipping a wallet inside the pillowcase. A lot of them leave it there.

Enough spectacles and eye-glasses are left behind to start a store. You might think that a person who used glasses would miss them, but it isn't so. Musical instruments, books, briefcases, vanity boxes, soap dishes, razors, hair brushes, combs, over-shoes, rings, pins, necklaces, pipes, portable phonographs, all are left behind.

I tried to check up on common honesty. It seems that 85 per cent of such articles as bags and coats are returned. When it comes to pencils, pens and umbrellas, the average drops to about 50 per cent. Such articles seem to lack individuality. The finder frequently walks off with them. After all, one fountain pen looks pretty much like another. Tickets also are a bad risk.

Remembers 29 Wives and 400 Sweethearts

San Quentin Prison, Calif.—Norman A. L. Flood, forty, reflects nowadays on his fatal attraction for women while serving a one to ten year prison sentence for bigamy. "I guess I've got it," Flood says. "I can remember 29 wives and 400 sweethearts, and I've forgotten some of them." According to Flood the way to get women is to make them believe "you want them for pals as well as sweethearts."

Son Succeeds Dad as Peace Officer

Memphis—Police Capt. Hulet Smith, prominent peace officer of Tennessee, who died recently, will be replaced by his son, Hamric Smith.

The younger Smith was employed in another department, but arranged for the transfer after his father's death. His first assignment was a "beat" his father once walked.

PREHISTORIC BEAST DISCOVERED IN ICE

Unlike Any Animal Known to Northern Regions.

Cordova, Alaska.—Definite confirmation of the discovery of a huge prehistoric animal, well preserved in ice that has held it for ages, was brought here by W. J. McDonald, supervisor of the Chugach National forest, and a party of six others who went to Glacier Island, near Valdez, to investigate the report.

The animal, McDonald said, is 24 feet long, shaped unlike any other prehistoric beast that was known to have roamed the northern regions. It resembles a sort of mammoth lizard more than a dinosaur, but has reptilian characteristics, with a long tail and tapering head, he said.

Encased in Glacier. McDonald believes that the animal became encased in the Columbia glacier and slowly was carried to the sea with the movement of the Glacier island in the past centuries.

Reports of the animal for reptile were regarded dubiously here until investigating parties went to the island to view it. Many were of the opinion that the report was the outgrowth of some native's superstitious imagination. Dr. Charles E. Bunnell, president of the Alaska College of Agriculture, at Fairbanks, was requested finally by the American Museum of Natural History. It was said, to look into the matter.

Men of letters in this vicinity were at loss to explain what kind of animal or reptile it was. Dinosaurs were not known to have reached Alaskan regions. No trace of one ever has been found there.

Head Like an Elephant's.

The description of the creature was given in detail by McDonald, who said it was 24 feet long, with a 14-foot tail which started at the rib section. The body back of its head to the end of the rib section was 6 feet long; head, 59 inches long; snout from end to center of the forehead, 39 inches; width midsection, 11 inches; circumference, 29 inches; the length of the vertebrae in center, 7 inches; vertebrae consists of three blades, top blade, 14 inches long, side blades of 12 inches each.

Continuing McDonald reported a flipper was found on each side of the body behind the head measuring 40 inches long and 8 inches wide. The flippers, he said, have three joints with five fingers; the width of the skeleton at the widest part was 38 inches. The skeleton was estimated to weigh 1,000 pounds. No sign of teeth was found. The flesh on the body resembled horseflesh; its head was much like that of an elephant.

Only a small portion of the body had meat on it.

British Planes to Be

Equipped With Brakes

London.—All of Great Britain's heavy bombing aircraft are to be fitted with wheel brakes in the future.

This decision has been made by the air ministry following prolonged tests climaxed when one of the test machines was forced down in a field across which ran a sunken road. The big machine was headed straight for this road and without brakes a crash would have been certain, but by use of the brakes the pilot was able to check the forward speed, and by jamming on the brakes on one side only, just before he reached the road, was able to swing around and come to a halt.

Wheel brakes also are to be standard equipment for all 1931 Puss Moth machines.

It also has been found with both the bombers and the Puss Moth machines that the distance of run on a takeoff can be considerably shortened by opening the engine out wide and getting the tail off the ground before the brakes are released.

Seattle Rooster Takes

Daily Dips With Ducks

Seattle, Wash.—Proof that environment may overcome hereditary influences is illustrated by Seattle's swimming rooster, "Swiftwater Bill." Bill lives on a raft adjoining the boat-house of Capt. E. A. Swift in Lake Union canal. His only playmates are ducks. Several months ago, Swiftwater Bill stood watching his playmates in the water. They swooped in, glided around and had a good time. That situation continued until Bill forgot about his hereditary training and jumped into the water. He started swimming to keep from drowning. Now he takes his daily dip with the ducks.

Rich Man's Wife Wears

One Coat for 22 Years

New York.—Although her husband is worth a million and a half, he has bought her only one coat in 22 years, Mrs. Anastasia O'Keefe told a court here in asking for a divorce. She also said that he has a seven-passenger limousine but never lets her ride in it; that he has made her buy her own clothes and pay for her amusements out of a $30-a-week allowance.

Longest Railroad Curve

New Orleans.—The sweeping arc described by the tracks of the Illinois Central railroad as they circle Lake Pontchartrain above New Orleans, is the longest railroad curve in the world. The tracks curve with the lake for nearly 30 miles.

AGED CIRCUS MAN WEDS GIRL ONLY 26

Seeks Companionship for Few Years Left to Him.

Great Bend, Kan.—"Well, well. So Uncle Charley's married? Humph! Never expected him to hook up with Virginia Pritchard. Why, he has known her ever since she had to howl for food—he's old enough to be her grandfather."

But Uncle Charley's married, anyway, despite what the folks think about it. Uncle Charley is Charles Andrew. He is seventy-eight years old. It surprised many here when he married Virginia Pritchard, twenty-six, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ike Pritchard, for fifty years owners of Great Bend's circus lots.

Florida Honeymoon. Uncle Charley and his bride are now in Florida on their honeymoon.

"Yes," said the young-old bridegroom, "there is considerable difference in our ages. But we have found a happy companionship."

"I have been lonely and I have but a few years to live. I want them to be happy years with Virginia."

And so it was that the December-May honeymooners left for the sunshine and warm breezes, while the gossipers still warmed over the marriage to Virginia Pritchard.

Uncle Charley's friendship for the Pritchards developed through their mutual contacts with circus life. For years Andrew was a member of the executive staff of the Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey circuses.

Met Her in Infancy.

Through these connections he met Mr. and Mrs. Pritchard and incidentally their daughter, Virginia, when she was an infant. He saw her grow from infancy to womanhood and finally asked her to marry him.

The bride's parents first met Andrew when he was operating his own show—a trained bird and magic show. Andrew acted as the magician.

Years passed and Andrew ended his own show and became attached to the "big top." His connections with the circuses brought him to Great Bend annually and a close friendship arose between him and the Pritchards.

In later years when Uncle Charley severed his connection with circus life, he returned to Great Bend to make his home and to look after his extensive farming interests. Being a widower, Andrew made frequent trips to the Pritchard home and it was on the visits that his friendship with the oldest daughter of the family developed.

Having no family of his own, Andrew was looked upon by the Pritchards as a member of their family. He dined with them frequently, and when the marriage took place on November 9 it united two families whose chief thought was circus happenings.

British Columbia Hen

Lays 357 Eggs in Year

Agassiz, B. C.—Failing to produce only eight days out of 365, a white Leghorn pullet, owned by Mr. and Mrs. W. Whiting of Port-Kells, B. C., has just established what is claimed as a new world record by laying 357 eggs in a year.

The previous record holder was a white Leghorn of the same stock, owned by the University of British Columbia. She laid 351 eggs in 364 days—but her eggs averaged only 22 ounces to the dozen, as compared with a 26-ounce average for the Whiting's pullet.

The latter pullet's production for the year weighed a total of 52 pounds—just exactly ten times the weight of the hen at the conclusion of the test.

W. H. Hicks, superintendent of the Dominion experimental farm here where the test was held, attributed the bird's remarkable record to the fact that she received an abundance of skimmed milk and grain feed, in addition to the usual scratch grain and mash.

It Was Only a Dream,

But He Took No Chances

Flint, Mich.—When Alex Schoeffer dreams he does it sincerely and you can't take a chance on one of them coming true. For instance:

The other evening he retired for a much needed rest. He dreamed the house was afire and that flames were licking up the side of his bed. He awoke, saw no fire, but called the fire department just the same. Then he went back to bed.

As he explained to the firemen after they had broken down the door to get into the house:

"I can't tell a thing about my dreams. I might have been awake when I was asleep or I might have been asleep when I was awake. You can't always tell. So I took no chances and called you up."

Pheasant Bagged Alive

by Hunter; Breaks In!

Cedar Rapids, Iowa.—One of the three pheasants the law permits a hunter to kill in one day was alive here because he saw the hunter coming.

Ben T. Sorum left here for Independence to kill the three birds. While his machine was traveling at 50 miles an hour a pheasant crashed through the windshield of his car and dropped down beside him.

Sorum, though hit by flying glass, continued his hunting trip, bagged two more pheasants, and brought the live one home.

The DAIRY

CUT DOWN DAIRY CHORES BY SILO

Labor Saving Plan of Moving Feed Is Big Help.

Farmers travel farther in feeding than in any other operation connected with dairy production. Any practical method of reducing travel should be beneficial. Convenient silos and feed bins, with a labor saving plan of moving feed to the cows or live stock, are a big help. In the dairy, carrier trucks which will hold enough ensilage or meal for several cows will cut the work in two, as compared with carrying feed in baskets. Arrangement of the barn, smooth floors, accessible mangers that are easily cleaned, are all factors in making feeding a shorter task.

Live stock men know that silo location affects time required to feed. Silage should not have to be hauled to distant feed bunks. A valuable silage cart is described in Circular No. 75, prepared at Iowa State college. The feed bunks are built in a long row out from the silo, and the cart runs on a track supported by posts over the bunk.

Conveniently located milk houses save time for dairy operators. Construction is also important. Smooth floors and walls which can be easily cleaned will prove a good investment. Handy arrangement of equipment, such as wash troughs, drying racks and sterilizers for the milk, often bring thanks from hurried workers. Running water and some means of heating it should be considered essential.

It is hard to conceive of a well managed barn today that does not have a convenient means of removing litter. Carriers are indispensable in transporting manure to a storage pit, but some barns are now constructed so that the spreader can be driven between rows of stalls. This saves time when weather conditions are not fit for hauling manure to the field immediately.

Steel stanchions and stalls have proved themselves more economical than those of wooden construction. They are easier to keep sanitary and are far more durable. Single stalls protect the cows and help make them comfortable. Drinking cups are nearly as essential from a financial standpoint as are mangers or any other standard dairy fixtures.

Silage Excellent for

Winter Dairy Feeding

With the exception of legumes in the dairy ration, there is nothing that will make as much improvement or help as much in winter feeding as silage.

"Silage is of advantage in dairy feeding, for it furnishes succulence. It is, as nearly an approach to sum mer pasture as it is possible to get," according to J. W. Linn, extension dairyman, Kansas State Agricultural college, in way of encouraging the growing of silage for greater dairy profits in Kansas the coming year. "Silage furnishes a cheap carbohydrate roughage with more pounds of 1931 value per acre than any other common farm grown feed."

But to get the most feed per acre it is essential to select the right silage crop for any particular section of the state, warns the dairy specialist. Since it is found that the dairyman wants in silage and because the cane or sweet stalk variety of the sorghums usually grow more forage yield and the stalk retains more juice or sap, they are usually considered best for silage purposes. Acre per acre, cane will average making 20 to 30 per cent more milk per acre than corn.

Practical Plan to Build Profitable Dairy Herd

It is a well-established fact that there is only one way for the dairyman to build up a profitable herd and that consists in breeding to good registered bulls and raising the heifer calves from his best cows to take the place of the old ones or such as prove to be unprofitable or for other reasons undesirable. The man who sells cream finds no difficulties in the way of such a program, because he has an abundance of skim milk available at all times. Where whole milk is sold the question is different. When there is no surplus milk available he can raise his calves on a very small amount of whole milk and supplement this with powdered skim milk or powdered buttermilk, both of which products may be secured from almost any feed dealer.

Wheat for Cows

Durum wheat has been proved to be a very palatable feed for dairy cows and in some cases it has been possible to use it for as much as two-thirds of the ration. In North Dakota, tests with a basal ration of oats, corn, bran, and alfalfa hay, together with corn silage, ground wheat compared very favorably with ground barley. If wheat becomes too low in price, this will be found to be one satisfactory disposition of at least a part of the crop.

"Venus de Milo Hopelessly Shelved by Modern Sisters," Says Loretta Young

By Betty Bonsal

ANATOMICALLY we may be the same through the ages, but figure ideals have changed and, therefore, the figure proportions. At one time, the Venus de Milo with her broad shoulders and waist and thick torso was the standard of feminine beauty. A marvelous museum piece, as far as Miss 1931 is concerned—far too Herculean to win a beauty contest today. Whether they are for sports or evening wear, the new styles which are being hailed as an alluring return to true femininity, are extremely exacting. It is no secret that the new clothes demand a new sort of good looks. There is no secret about anything, in fact! Miss 1931 stands revealed, whether she wears a sun-bath bathing suit, sports clothes or backless gown. Never has a good figure—slender yet softly rounded—meant so much, for the new styles are nothing more nor less than the graceful draping of the youthful ideal which is your energetic and radiantly healthful modern miss.

New Measurements

Even the United States Government is taking a hand. Study of this all-important question by a corps of government scientists has gone so far as to define the new ideal with mathematical exactness. According to the standard of commercial measurement recently registered in Washington as the proportions of the average figure, Miss 1931, size 14, has a bust of 32, waist of 27 and hips of 35 inches.

For every girl who possesses such a figure, of course, there are thousands dieting to gain the rounded slenderness they would give the world to have. The irony of it is that so many lose in dieting the very beauty they are trying to achieve. Hollywood, which has been through all the throes of the food faddists and has learned its lesson, knows the secret. Out there—purchasing is queen, of course. The new ideal is commonplace on the movie lots. And yet, the answer is simple. As Miss Loretta Young, charming First National star whose figure typifies perfectly the ideal demanded by screen and fashions, explained it to the writer: "It's been a painful lesson but the movie colonies have found out at last that the only successful dietary system is the common-sense one. The balanced diet is the only answer, because a healthy body, the first requisite to a clear and glowing complexion, must have several distinct types of nourishment. Loss of vitality, ill-health and bad complexion are inevitable effects of starvation. "If your curves are too accentuated and your weight above normal, make certain that your health is what it should be, and take plenty of exercise. Then reduce the quantity of food you eat, but—this is the important point—be sure that your diet every day includes some of each of the following food groups. "Sugar and starches, among the least fattening of which are fruits, vegetables and crisp cereals. "Proteins, such as fish, lean meat, milk, and eggs—avoid fat meats. "Mineral foods, including celery, spinach, chard, lettuce, cabbage, tomatoes. "Vitamins, which are found in apples, raw cabbage, lettuce, lemons, liver, milk, oranges, grapefruit, fresh pineapple. "Roughage of the least fattening sorts, such as bran, lettuce, celery, cabbage, string beans, asparagus."

Car Won't Do 50; Proves It for Judge and Cop

Omaha, Neb.—Leo Curtis was haled into court and fined when police from the speed detail testified he was driving 50 miles an hour when they waved him to the curb.

Curtis protested his old bus could not go 35, the Omaha limit, let alone 50.

Judge Lester Palmer was impressed and sent a plain clothes man out to try out Curtis' machine. He was promptly pinched by the same men who caught Curtis. He swore he was going only 34.

Judge Palmer ordered all speedometers on police cars tested.

Arab Stallion Once King's Brought to U. S.

New York.—Mirage, a snow-white Arabian stallion, who has been ridden by the king of Egypt, an Arab chieftain and a titled English lady, set his hoofs for the first time on democratic soil. The steed was purchased by Roger A. Selby, shoe manufacturer of Portsmouth, Ohio, from Lady Wentworth of Sussex, England. He will spend his remaining days on Selby's stock farm.

Abner Monday Finds Ill Luck Falls on Mondays

Los Angeles.—Monday sure is blue Monday for Abner Monday. He has quite an extensive record at the Hollywood police station. The books there show that he has been arrested 17 times on Monday, all arrests having followed asserted drunkenness, which, in all probability, caused his Mondays to be bluer because of a headache. He is fifty-three.

Portland—Fire of undetermined origin destroyed the former St. Patrick's Roman Catholic Church, a frame structure, used as a parish house since a new church was completed a few years ago.

Saginaw—Trapped in his garage when the wind blew the door shut, Richard P. Stericker, 71-year-old retired hide and fur dealer, died of carbon monoxide poisoning. The body was found by his 15-year-old daughter, Irene.

Lansing — The reconditioning of automobiles sold for junk would be forbidden under a bill introduced by Senator Ernest T. Conlon, of Grand Rapids. It even would be illegal to make an automobile out of parts of junked cars.

Richmond—The Baptist church of Richmond, sold two years ago when the membership was deemed too small to justify the employment of a pastor, has been turned into a community hall where a horseshoe pitching court has been installed as the main attraction.

Bay City—Frederick W. Gross, 20 years old, of Millington, who admitted passing a crude $5 bill which he manufactured with a brush and green ink, fainted when sentenced by Judge Arthur J. Tuttle in Federal Court to two years in the Federal Reformatory at Chillicothe, O.

Gaines—Awakened by smoke, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Whitehead, of Gaines, discovered their bed in flames. They escaped from the house in night clothing. They had been sleeping in an upstairs room. The house and its contents were destroyed, despite efforts of firemen. An overheated furnace was blamed.

Ionla—An oil strike in Oklahoma has brought hope to Albert King, 62 years old and blind for 12 years, that he may recover his sight. A message told him oil has been discovered on land owned by a brother, Fred, and that income from the well will be devoted to an operation which surgeons believe will restore sight in at least one eye.

Mt. Clemens—Mrs. Clarence Moore, 29 years old, of Van Dyke, died from burns received when a stove in her home exploded. The blast blew windows out of the home and wrecked a small store operated in connection with the home. Mrs. Moore poured kerosene oil into the coal stove. A daughter, Lucille, 10 years old, was injured.

Calumet—Her hand caught in an elevator cable, Mary Kobe, bookkeeper in a store here, stood for an hour in the elevator until electricians dismantled the machinery so her hand might be freed. Miss Kobe was ascending in the elevator when her hand came in contact with the cable. The hand was lacerated and amputation of a finger was necessary.

Big Rapids—Sheriff Caesar J. Hempel is out to stop the chicken stealing and other widespread thievery in Mecosta County which has just been outlawed by the bold theft of a cow. An Altona farmer who tied his cow to the barn at night returned in the morning to find only the animal's head tied to the barn. Thieves had carried away the body.

Big Rapids—Detroit's hawk may be avenged. Pigeons in the tower of the Mecosta County Courthouse have ceased to be county wards, and are just a nuisance, according to officials. The last straw was added when the birds roosted in sufficient numbers on the hands of the tower clock to stop the time piece. An effort is being made to locate the city's best marksmen.

LINCOLN BELIEVED IN SAVING

He proved it not only in his addresses, but in his personal life. At one time he said: "Teach economy." That is one of the first and highest virtues. It begins by SAVING MONEY.

"THE BANK ON THE CORNER"

Doctor: "See here, I told you to stick to a vegetable diet and you are eating rabbit."
Sick One: "It's all right, doctor, this rabbit's the one that ate up my vegetable garden."

Second: "Why did you fall down, he didn't hit you?"
Boxer: "Ah, but I read his thoughts!"

"What a nuisance! It's my birthday tomorrow, and I've forgotten to tell my husband what to surprise me with."
She: "No two people on earth think alike."

He: "I have only a dollar to spend, Edythe, what do you suggest?"
She: "Let me call up another boy friend."

HERE AND THERE

Actions speak louder than words, but not in class. For goodness sakes, let's not have another history assignment until we get caught up with this one. Speaking of lighting changes, where does conversation go when Mr. Snellenberger suddenly appears in the door way? Many pupils who are unable to rule their own element, appear to know exactly what is wrong with other classes. Juniors may adopt the new slogan, "Ask Marie, she knows."

ASSEMBLY

Assembly was held last Friday afternoon before the Harbor game. Ethel Staley gave a speech on a subject entitled "We." The speech won the favor of everyone. Then a few high school yells were given. Dad Perkins gave a speech which fired us all with enthusiasm. Mr. Clink delivered a speech on the subject of honesty and loyalty. We would not mind if Mr. Clink gave us a speech every Friday. Then the band struck up some lively pieces which were fully enjoyed. The meeting was brought to a close with the high school song and the band playing a lively number.

SENIOR PLAY

"Laugh and the World Laughs with You." Do you like to laugh? Of course, who doesn't. Then you will want to be at the High School Auditorium the night of Feb'y 25th and see the play of all plays—"The Absent Minded Bridegroom."

Don't forget the Seniors are giving a dance after the basketball game, Friday night.

CHEMISTRY

Tuesday the Chemistry class had a short test on sodium compounds. The two most important of these are salt and sodium hydroxide. Although salt is made up of two very combustible substances, chlorine and sodium, they form a harmless and indispensible substance. Sodium hydroxide is important for its use in soap making and hypochlorite for bleaching solutions.

BOTANY

The Botany class also had a test. It was about the importance of leaf arrangement. One question was about the difference between the leaves of desert plants and common plants of our climate.

HORTICULTURE

We have been studying the fruiting habits of the several different fruits grown in this locality but mainly apples and cherries. We are now starting a study of raspberries, both the black and red varieties.

REGISTRATION OF ABSENTEE BY OATH

If any person whose name is not registered shall offer and claim the right to vote at any election, or primary election, and shall UNDER OATH, state that he or she is a resident of such precinct and has resided in the WARD TWENTY DAYS next preceding such election, designating particularly the place of his or her residence and that he or she possesses the other qualifications of an elector under the constitution; and that, owing to the sickness or bodily infirmity of himself or herself, or some member of his or her family or owing to his or her absence from the City on public business or his or her own business, and without intent to avoid or delay his or her registration he or she was unable to make application for registration on the last day provided by law for the registering of electors preceding such election, then the name of such person shall be registered, and he or she shall then be permitted to vote at such election. If such applicant shall in said matter, wilfully make any false statement, he or she shall be deemed guilty of perjury, and upon conviction, be subject to the pains and penalties thereof.

Provided, That any city may provide by its charter or by resolution approved by a majority of the members of its legislative body for the registration of such sick and absent voters on the last Saturday preceding any election or primary election at the places of voting in the several voting districts of such city, instead of on election or primary election day.

PROVISION IN CASE OF REMOVAL TO ANOTHER PRECINCT

Any registered and qualified voter who has MOVED from ONE ELECTION PRECINCT of a Ward to another election precinct of the same Ward shall have the right, on any day previous to election day, on application to the City Clerk, to have his or her name transferred from the registration-book of the precinct from which he or she HAS REMOVED to the registration book of the precinct in which he or she THEN RESIDES. Such elector shall have the right to have such transfer made ON ELECTION DAY, or Primary election day, by obtaining from the board of inspectors of election of the precinct from which he or she HAS MOVED a CERTIFICATE OF TRANSFER, and presenting the said certificate to the BOARD OF ELECTION INSPECTORS OF THE PRECINCT IN WHICH HE OR SHE THEN RESIDES.

Dated February 2, A. D. 1931. OTIS J. SMITH, City Clerk.

Beats No. 1 Rating

Midshipman Horacio Rivero of the United States Naval academy at Annapolis has won a scholastic rating even higher than "No. 1," hitherto regarded as top rating. He has been rated "No. 1/2," being followed by Midshipman Tom D. Tyra as No. 1. Rivero, who was appointed to the naval academy from Porto Rico, was coxswain of the varsity crew last year.

"Where are you going?"
"To Paris—with my wife, we are going by air."
"But there's no air service to Paris."
"There will be by the time my wife is ready."

POTPOURRI

Solid Matter in the Air

Although usually unseen, there are tons of solid matter in the air, especially in the vicinity of cities. It is estimated that a five-day rainfall in London will wash 3,738 tons of solid impurities from the atmosphere, including 2,000 tons of soot, 237 tons of sulphate of ammonia, and "other suspended matter."

Who? What? When? Where? Why?

The first rule a newspaper reporter learns is to answer five basic questions in the lead of his story: Who? What? When? Where? Why? It is a rule equally good for all people in buying goods. In the answers to those five questions lie the fundamental facts you should know about every article you purchase.

Who made it? Is he reliable? Is he experienced? Will he be in business if the article needs repair or replacement?

What will the article do for you? Will it improve your appearance? Will it save you time, money, effort? Will it make you more comfortable, more happy?

When was it made? Designed? Packed? Is it fresh? Is it the newest model, or latest development?

Where can you buy it? Does your own store carry it? If not, can you place dependence in the store that does?

Why should you buy it in preference to some similar product? Is it superior in design, materials, workmanship? Will it fit your needs more closely?

The answer to these questions, and others, are contained in the advertisements here. They are set forth by manufacturers and merchants for your convenience and guidance. The advertisements are interestingly and sincerely written. They contain information you want to know, and should know, before you make purchases. You will find it well worth while to follow them.

When you buy advertised goods, you know what you are buying—and why.
