EAST JORDAN, MICHIGAN, FRIDAY, MARCH 13, 1931.

SMELT RUN ON JORDAN RIVER AT HEIGHT

Over 1500 People On The River, Thursday Night.

Estimated Over Two Tons Were Taken Wednesday Night.

Jordan River's biggest Smelt Run is now at its height and every night sees hundreds of people in the river and on the banks dipping, dipping, dipping. And every dip means many smelt.

Enthusiastic Isaac Waltons from Toledo, Detroit, Pontiac, Lansing, Grand Rapids, as well as every town and hamlet in Northern Michigan have contributed their quota to the thousands who have come to East Jordan the past week. And none had to go away without a good-size mess of this most delectable fish. Those who netted many have been generous in sharing with their brother-fisherman—the spirit of comradeship among the many assembled seems prevalent.

Already many bushels of Smelt have been sent from East Jordan to various places in Michigan as well as points outside the State.

Northern Michigan's annual Smelt Run got under way at East Jordan, Wednesday night, March 4th, where the deep, wide Jordan River, emptying its rush of warm water into Lake Charlevoix, so warm the water that the smelt are attracted up this stream far in advance of other Northern Michigan streams.

Thursday night, March 5th, saw the river lined with fishermen, and every night the past week has seen an increase in the size of the crowds. Owing to the cold weather, the run last Saturday was the poorest and those who failed to stick it out till the midnight run were somewhat disappointed. Monday, with renewed warm weather saw a corresponding increase in the size of the run. Up until Tuesday night the males were running, but on Wednesday night the females predominated. This would indicate that the run was about half over.

The best time to dip is from about 6:00 to 7:30 standard time, around the mouth of the Jordan. From then until midnight there seems to be a lull in the run but around midnight they appear in great numbers at the river-screen across the Jordan river and above Deer Creek. The smelt return to Lake Charlevoix before daylight. For some reason, so far, very few smelt have gone up into Deer Creek.

Regulations—Outside the size of the "net," five feet in circumference, there are no restrictions as to pole length or hours of dipping. Owing to the wide river, many are using a pike-pole up to a 12-foot length. Hip-boots or waders are desirable for best results. Some fishermen coming from outside have made the mistake of bringing a common fish-landing net. This becomes easily tangled and is a nuisance. A cone-shaped wire net on a long pole is very satisfactory.

Mr. Clark of the local weather bureau station, took the temperature of the waters of Jordan River and Deer Creek, Wednesday night. Both streams have about a 31 degree temperature.

It is expected that other smelt

Notice of Special Stockholders Meeting

Jordan Valley Co-operative Creamery East Jordan, Michigan.

To the Stockholders of the Jordan Valley Co-operative Creamery Take Notice:

You are hereby notified that a special meeting of the Stockholders of the Jordan Valley Co-operative Creamery will be held in the High School Auditorium in the City of East Jordan on the 17th day of March, A. D. 1931, at 1:30 central standard time for the purpose of adopting permanent by-laws and electing a permanent Board of Directors, and for the transaction of such other business as may properly come before the meeting.

JORDAN VALLEY CO-OPERATIVE CREAMERY.
By—Archie M. Murphy, Secretary.

ELECTORS OF CHARLEVOIX CO.

Because of the encouragement of friends from many parts of the County, the light vote cast in most precincts, and only 126 votes difference at the primary election, I have decided to try again for the position of Commissioner of Schools at the regular election, April 6th. Slips for use at the polls will be distributed to those wishing the same, and any help given me will be greatly appreciated. adv. 1t

MASONS & ATHLETICS ARE VICTIMS OF SLUGGING BEE

To the very fine ladies and other offended parties, we wish to apologize for the caustic sentiment so maliciously injected in last week's baseball column.

Through no fault of his, our regular sports writer was unable to report, and his substitute unwittingly filled this article with personal lamentation.

It is not the desire or purpose of the baseball magnates to curb the hilarious interest displayed at these games. If in rooting for your favorite team you get your opponent's goat, as seems to be the case, you have accomplished the very purpose of cheering, and are entitled to a share in the spoils of victory. More power to you.

Not in all the annals of baseball history have so many runs been scored as were tallied last Monday evening.

Davis, Athletic seemed to be off form and the men of Tubal Cain overwhelmed them in a slugfest which netted the "Iron Men" 45 runs and the Athletics 22.

In the second charge of the evening the "Santa Claus boys" again became imbued with Christmas spirit and donated another game, this time to the Legion.

But low, the gift without the giver is bare, so we must not forget "Santa" yet; even he who pitched for the Masons and allowed the army to score in such number, that they resembled Smelt running up the River Jordan.

Finally, by using the milkman's process of Reductio ad Absurdum it was determined that the Masons were on the small end of a 39 to 23 score.

Next week's games are to be played on Tuesday between the Legion and Foundry, and Masons vs. Athletics.

League	Standings		Percent.
	Won	Lost
Masons	4	3	57 1/2
Iron Works	4	3	57 1/2
Athletics	3	4	42 8/11
Am. Legion	3	4	42 8/11

Charlotte—The Eaton County Agricultural Society has voted to ask authority of Circuit Court to sell the fair grounds in Charlotte if the proposition to turn over management of the fair to the board of supervisors does not carry at the spring election.

Monroe—The water level of Lake Erie is three feet lower in comparison with the same period of 1930, while the majority of wells in Monroe County are dry due to lack of rain and snow. Farmers cannot remember when wells ever were dry in January and February.

Escanaba—Dr. William A. Lemire, 53-year-old physician, was killed by electricity while operating a machine in his office, when 4,500 volts passed through his body. Dr. Lemire practiced in Garden before coming to Escanaba. He served terms in the Michigan Senate and House. He leaves three sons and five daughters.

Sebawaing—The Sebawaing plant of the Michigan Sugar Co. will be the only one of the eight plants of that company to be operated this year, it is announced by W. H. Wallace, president of the company. Twelve thousand acres will be under contract and farmers will be paid $6 per ton at stations and $6.75 a ton at the factory.

Mason—Through the loan of 25 hand-reared Hungarian partridges to the Wisconsin State Game Farm, the Michigan Game Farm expects not only to secure further information as to Hungarian partridge propagation, but to insure a supply of hand-reared breeding birds to draw from should sudden losses destroy the foundation stock which will be worked with here.

Lansing—A bill which would empower the director of conservation to designate spawning beds in the inland waters of the state and which would make it unlawful to catch, or attempt to catch, any fish on such beds from June 16 to July 15, was introduced by Rep. Otis Huff, of Marcellus. The bill also provides that no pike under 14 inches and no muskellunge under 30 inches may be taken.

Grand Rapids—Mud lake, which Mud lake? Blue lake, which Blue lake? Long lake, which Long lake? Round lake, which Round lake? The Kent county board of supervisors has put an end to such questions by eliminating duplicated names in the long list of the county's lakes. Solon township did the most complete job; as that district had six Mud lakes. Now not only is there not a Mud lake in the township, but not a single lake of that name in the county.

Dr. F. Goodrich To Speak Here

AT HIGH SCHOOL AUDITORIUM, SUNDAY, APRIL 5.

Dr. F. S. Goodrich, of Albion College, Albion, Michigan, offers East Jordan an unusual opportunity when he appears here to speak Sunday night, April 5th, at the High School Auditorium, on the subject "Palestine in 1930."

DR. F. S. GOODRICH

Dr. Goodrich has been at Albion College since 1892, where he has served as Professor of English Literature, Greek, and Biblical Literature. He is now head of the department of English Bible. His appearance in East Jordan in 1929 when he gave the High School Commencement address has already acquainted the public with his ability as a speaker. The material for Dr. Goodrich's lecture, "Palestine in 1930," was gathered last summer in the Holy Land. With Professors and students from all over the country he went as a member of the American University Seminar on a twelve weeks' trip through Europe and the Orient. Six weeks were spent in study at the American School of Oriental Research at Jerusalem, Palestine.

With the Jewish-Moslem situation at a crisis, this last summer was a very interesting and enlightening time to study Palestine. Having Dr. Goodrich as the interpreter, one can be certain of hearing the impressions of his first-hand observations presented in a way that is sympathetic and tolerant as well as authentic.

East Jordan is to be congratulated upon its good fortune to be able to hear such a speaker on such a subject and at such a time—Easter, when all the world turns its thoughts to Him who came from an obscure town of Palestine and gave His life that we might have eternal life.

This lecture, which is open to the public, will be supplemented by seven persons dressed in native costumes that have been obtained by Dr. Goodrich on his three trips to the Orient. Further details, including the hour of the address, will follow later in this paper.—Remember the date, April 5.

AN ERRONEOUS IDEA PERTAINING TO RETURNED TAXES

As "tax time" is practically over, but paying returned taxes to the County Treasurer. One often hears by paying the County Treasurer is just as cheap, etc., and they escape the 4%, which is not the case. One can readily see on a returned tax receipt, which can easily be found in the files if one has kept them. The County Treasurer collects three-fourths per cent per month on all State and County taxes and in addition a 4% for collection. The moment taxes are returned is a three-fourths per cent per month besides the 4% for collection. This can be verified by the receipt itself.

AN APPRECIATION

We wish to express our sincere appreciation to Ira Bartlett, who was the first to take notice, the local fire department, and all others who responded so promptly to the call of fire last Saturday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Millman.

ANNOUNCEMENT

I am a candidate for the office of Alderman of the Third Ward, City of East Jordan at the coming City Election. Your support and vote will be appreciated.

IMPORTANT MEETING OF P. T. A. NEXT MONDAY

The March meeting of the P. T. A. took place Thursday afternoon. The program was built around the subject "Home Study." There was music by the fourth grade and a health play and musical number by some of the second graders. Miss Dorothy Stroop gave the leading talk on the above subject, "Home Study." Miss Nell Maddaugh of Ferndale gave a short talk on what their P. T. A. does.

One of the most important P. T. A. meetings of the entire year takes place Monday night, March 16th at 7:00 o'clock standard time, when Mrs. Pattengill, President of the P. T. A. of Michigan will address the local organization.

The local Association feels highly honored in entertaining the State President and it presents an opportunity of unusual merit to patrons of the school and community. The P. T. A. is very anxious that a large number of parents and teachers be in attendance to hear what Mrs. Pattengill has to say.

Friday and Saturday of next week the P. T. A. will sponsor the movie, "Tom Sawyer." There will be a matinee for the children also.

CITY BASKETBALL GAMES, WEDNESDAY

In spite of the many events which one may attend in East Jordan, the City Basketball League still holds quite a good deal of attraction for many.

Wednesday night proved O. K. for the Duck-In-Cagers over the Foundry, and an easy game for the K. P.'s against "Don's Icemen."

To date the teams stand as follows:

	Won	Lost	Standing
Foundry	2	1	666
K. P.'s	2	1	666
Duck-In-Cagers	2	1	666
Icemen	0	3	000

Parma—The Rev. James F. Bowerman, of Parma, lone crusader against what he called vice conditions in Jackson County, announces he is through crusading. "The public doesn't want a clean-up," he said. "I refuse to worry further about bootleggers and dope rings. There is no chance that I could obtain a grand jury investigation. Jackson County ministers prefer the pussyfoot method of running down criminals and refuse to assist me in bringing about a drastic clean-up."

Lansing—An appeal to 17,000 dairymen in the state to "sell off" their poor cows and help relieve the market of surplus milk was issued recently by the Michigan Milk Producers' Association. The association's market plan committee has just completed a study of the situation, and it suggests three ways that producers solve their market problem. They are listed as follows: Sell poor cows and produce less milk; feed more milk to calves, hogs and chickens; consume more milk and dairy products on farms.

Ann Arbor—Two men, one a prison inmate on temporary parole, were sentenced in Circuit Court here to serve life in the Michigan State Prison at Jackson for a five-year-old slaying from which they realized 40 cents. Grover Terry and Fred Lagness, prison inmate, pleaded guilty before Judge, George W. Sample to the slaying of Harry Cyb, gasoline station operator, the night of Sept. 18, 1925. Lagness' wife recently told a deputy sheriff she believed her husband and Terry were involved in the slaying.

Detroit—Detroit is to be the terminal of an air passenger line which will bring it within 25 hours of Brownsville, Tex., and will give fast service to such intermediate points as Cincinnati, St. Louis, Dallas, and Fort Worth. It was announced here. The line will be known as International Air Express and its schedules will be laid out with a view to passenger rather than mail accommodation, it is said. No date for the inauguration of the north-south service has been announced, but it is understood that all organizations plans are complete.

Grand Rapids—While former service men of the World War lined up at Red Cross headquarters to make application for loans, the will of Nathan Rounds, 87-year-old Civil War veteran, was filed in Probate Court, where it was revealed that approximately $3,000 of his small estate had been left to the Government of the United States in gratitude for a soldier's pension. The veteran, a resident of Rockford, bequeathed $5,000 to a niece, and ordered that the balance of his estate be left to the United States.

Clean Up Your Orchard

HIGH SCHOOL AGR'L DEPT. STARTS PRUNING AND CLEAN-UP CAMPAIGN.

This means WORK and plenty of it. People in this region are beginning to recognize the value of fruit and give it a place in their cropping system. The question at once arises, "Can fruit grow without constant attention and care?" The answer is a very definite "NO."

We often hear the statement that "years ago there were no diseases and insects here, and our fruit was good without having to be sprayed. It wasn't necessary." True enough—but through natural means and CARELESSNESS on our part they are here now, and must be controlled if we expect to raise that fruit.

The outstanding ways insects and diseases are spread are by harboring in rubbish and diseased wood over winter. We can't expect to grow a disease-free orchard or fruit planting of any kind, regardless of the amount of care we give it, if we have an untended orchard or disease-filled planting next door that will re-infect our fruit with the very pests we have been fighting. In other words one grower cannot carry on a successful fight alone. Everyone must cooperate. One or two badly diseased trees in a back yard can literally contaminate a one hundred acre orchard with apple scab. The same holds true for other diseases and insects including cherry maggot.

This district will be a success or failure for fruit growing according to how we clean out these diseases and disease-harboring places before our fruit is planted, as well as while it is growing.

If a few trees or bushes are worth having on a farm or in a yard they are worth the care it takes to keep them in good healthy growing condition.

California has laws that do not allow diseased fruit to remain uncared for. It must either be tilled or dug out. California has a market for its fruit. Shall Michigan take a back seat?

The Horticulture class has started pruning operations. Will you help us with this job by cleaning up your fruit? Bulletins on pruning and spraying may be obtained free of charge by writing to Prof. V. R. Gardner, Horticulture Dept., East Lansing, Mich.

SHOULD TEST HERDS EVEN IN BAD TIMES

The dairyman who permits his membership in the Herd Improvement Association to lapse in the belief that his pocketbook will be benefited by the elimination of this expense is apt to forget that the feed eaten by one poor cow or the sale of a good cow whose worth is not known from testing records will cost the owner much more than the expense for testing, according to members of the dairy department at Michigan State College.

This tendency to false economy is shown by the decrease in the number of herd associations in Michigan which dropped from 90 one year ago to 88 at the present time. Dairy husbandry men point out that test records are more important in times of small profit than when there is a wider margin between feed costs and production receipts.

Production records furnish the least expensive exact means of determining the amount of milk or butterfat produced by a cow, and a record of the amount of feed eaten by the cow furnishes the rest of the data needed to show how much profit the cow makes for her owner or the amount of money lost.

The Herd Improvement Associations are co-operative organizations in which each member pays an amount proportionate to the number of cows in his herd. The tester's wages are practically the only expense and these are divided among the twenty-five members of the Association.

New Fabric May Cut Bills for Pressing

Bradford, England.—The discovery of a process which may appreciably cut women's pressing bills and solve one of the greatest problems of the dress trade has just been made known here. It is a creaseless fabric which is to make its appearance for the spring fashions.

The new material is made from a combination of artificial silk yarns with fine woolsens. It will have a "crepe" finish, and is expected to start a new fad.

Dyers have been busy experimenting with the colors most suitable for the new fabric. They have decreed that "prune" shade dresses will be very popular next year. The new "prune" shade materials will be both in wool and silk, both for evening and afternoon wear. Electric blues and pearl grays also will be popular, they predict.

Edison's Home Town Plans to "Light Up"

West Orange, N. J.—The home town of Thomas A. Edison recently made plans to "light up" after it was charged the town was the "most poorly lighted." The board of trade agreed a committee should be named to "do something about it" after Terence A. Mulvey, president of the board, said strangers were "shocked" at the badly lighted streets in the inventor's home city.

Inscription Reveals "Modesty" of Queen

Cairo.—The carved hieroglyphics covering the obelisk built to the order of Queen Hatsue have just been deciphered by a group of Anglo-Egyptian experts. The inscription concludes: "I, Queen Hatsue, have caused this obelisk to be erected here, that travelers from all over the earth may come to see—and seeing, say, 'what a wonderful woman she was.'"

Cat Causes Crash

West Newton, Pa.—A cat riding on the rear seat of an automobile was the innocent cause of a crash here. When the cat meowed, Jasper Yex, Collinsburg, driver of the car, turned to see what it was all about. The machine hit a telephone pole. The cat was uninjured.

State News in Brief

Adrian—Less than 50 cents was obtained by safe blowers who visited the office of the Purity Ice & Ice Cream Co. here. The safe was found blasted by nitroglycerine. The robbers left no fingerprints.

Sheridan—Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hanchett celebrated their diamond wedding in their farm home six miles from here. Hanchett is 96 and Mrs. Hanchett 91. They have lived the 75 years of their married life here.

Coldwater—As firemen fought a garage fire a large caliber shell exploded, tearing out a portion of the building. A bystander's arm was broken by flying timbers. The shell was brought here from France by a veteran of the late war.

Howard City—Mrs. Sylvia Holmes, 35 years old, wife of Lyle Holmes, farmer in Ensey Township, Newaygo County, died of burns suffered when she used kerosene to khalde a fire. Her clothing was ignited by an explosion. She leaves her husband and three children.

Marine City—A crew of wreckers has commenced the job of dismantling the plant of the Michigan Salt works, which has been sold to a Port Huron junk firm. With the passing of the Michigan Salt company, the salt industry disappears from Marine City. There was at one time 11 salt plants in operation here.

Fishery—Michigan commercial fishermen, at a meeting here considered ways of combating what they termed "deplorable market conditions in New York." It was charged that an eastern combination has dealt unfairly with Michigan fishermen since last spring. Fishermen asserted that they have lost hundreds of thousands of dollars.

onia—John Morey, high school student, may lose the sight of his right eye as the result of an explosion in the junior chemistry class. Twenty pupils were conducting an experiment on making matches when there was an explosion. Donald D. Haller, instructor, found Morey enveloped in flames. He beat them out. A classmate, Maxine Hutchins, suffered neck burns. Four other pupils were injured slightly.

Lansing—Governor Wilbur M. Brucker has signed the Foster capital punishment bill, which goes to the voters for approval at the April election. After he had affixed his signature the governor issued a lengthy statement in which he endorsed fully the adoption of the death penalty and urged its popular approval as a heavy weapon to combat killing and lawlessness. The bill specifies the electric chair as the means of exacting the penalty.

St. Ignace—A small piece of wood recently unearthed, is preserved here by Rev. J. T. Holland, pastor of St. Ignatius Catholic church, as an authentic relic of Father Marquette. The wood, Father Holland believes, is a portion of a cedar post which served as a prop to the chapel which the great explorer and missionary built here in 1671. The chapel was burned in 1706 after Cadillac, who had quarreled with the Jesuits, induced the Indians to join him in Detroit.

Mt. Clemens—Students in the biology class in Mt. Clemens High School provided a specimen for study which proved so lively that his future presence in the classroom was waived by the professor. It was a pet raccoon. While the students endeavored to get close enough to him to make an intensive study, the little animal endeavored to fight his way out of the crowd. This caused too much uproar to suit the faculty and "Zip" was expelled.

Dearborn—Dearborn Inn, Henry Ford's new hotel located opposite the airport in Dearborn, will be opened to the public in June. It will have 109 guest rooms with bath and is said by hotel architects to be one of the finest hotels of its type in the United States. Furnishings will harmonize with the surroundings, designed to administer to the comforts of visitors at the Ford plant, Greenfield Village and the Edison Institute of Technology. It was announced that the staff to operate the hotel will be imported from New England.

Jackson—Nine hours after he had shot and killed his divorced wife, Charles Monroe, of Jackson, was under a life sentence. Monroe, who was divorced by Dorothy Monroe, met his former wife and her sister, Mrs. Esther Parks, on the porch of her home. Mrs. Monroe was shot in the temple and her sister was wounded in the arm. Monroe was arrested. He waived examination in justice court and was taken to Circuit Court, where he pleaded guilty and was sentenced to life imprisonment in Marquette Branch Prison.

Port Huron—Frederick Brunner, 101 years old August 29, 1930, died recently in the home of his daughter, Mrs. Henry McCallum, near Jeddo. He was born in Switzerland, and at the age of 20 came to Akron, O. He moved to Jeddo about 40 years ago. Mr. Brunner advocated righteous living as one means of attaining long life. "At the age of 100 years, you do not feel any different than at 50 or 75, if you enjoy good health, for it is health that counts, not age," Brunner said. "When one reaches 100, birthdays cease to be important."

WILSON TOWNSHIP

(Edited by Mrs. C. M. Nowland)

Mrs. Johanna Behling and sons have been having a siege of the flu. Miss Cora Dening, Fred Schroeder and Louise Behling are absent from Boyne City High School with the measles.

Mrs. David Shepard visited her son, Charles and wife from Sunday until Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Nowland entertained Saturday evening with a pedro party. Three tables were at 'play. Ed. Nowland won first prize and Aida Scott, consolation prize. A bounteous luncheon was served to 16.

The worst storm of the winter hit here Sunday and continued Monday and Tuesday, piling up the snow in huge drifts. The Rural Mail Carriers had great difficulty in making their rounds in Wilson Monday. Tuesday and Wednesday is the first time Ted Ecker, R. 1, Boyne City has missed his round trip.

Miss Harriet Behling, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Behling Sr., of Wilson, was united in marriage to Frank F. Stone of Grand Rapids on March 4th.

Ernest Slaughter is running his shingle mill at present.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Nowland, Mr. and Mrs. Anson Hull and Roland Bowen of East Jordan were Sunday dinner guests of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Nowland, Mr. and Mrs. Hull remained until Wednesday.

Louise Behling of the Soo visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Frank Behling Tuesday and Wednesday. His wife was snowbound at the Fred Benzer home in Boyne City. They returned to the Soo, Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Nowland celebrated his 71st birthday anniversary Sunday by a family dinner. Their daughter and family of Boyne City, Mr. and Mrs. Omar Scott with son and daughter; Mr. and Mrs. Ray Nowland of Mud Lake; Roy Nowland and Clarence Healey of East Jordan. Roy presented his dad with a fine radio set.

Mr. and Mrs. Milo Clute and family were Sunday dinner guests of his mother, Mrs. Louella Clute and family of Tainter Dist. They also attended a surprise birthday party on Wednesday evening at the same place with 52 guests present.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Shepard were Sunday dinner guests of his sister, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Kowalske, March 13th.

Mrs. Roland Bowen and daughter of East Jordan spent the week end with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Nowland.

Eugene Kurchinski attended nearly all of the Basketball Tournament at Boyne City, directing the Boys Band.

Milo-Clute was surprised by a party of 22 friends coming to remind him of another birthday anniversary Saturday evening. It was spent in cards and listening to the radio. A delicious lunch was served at a late hour.

Television Brings Out New Methods in Make-Up

New York.—Television has required a brand new art of makeup. And it is a strange one.

In order that lips may appear as lips should, they are coated with chocolate brown. The face is covered with a deep ivory. Grease paint and dark shades are used to bring out high lights around the nose. In the case of men, the entire face is covered with a paint almost dark enough to be called brown.

Extraordinary makeup methods are required in television, in order to preserve such important features as the nose, which has an unpleasant way of disappearing when the usual paints and creams are used.

The workman in this picture is winding up Big Ben, the famous clock on the Houses of Parliament in London, the operation being somewhat intricate. The huge timepiece was cleaned and repaired the other day.

Rode a Bull From Texas to New York

All his life Ralph Sanders, a long, gangling cow hand from the Texas plains, had wanted to ride a bull in a really big way. And now his ambition has taken him all the way to New York astride a 1,000-pound animal of Mexican antecedents. Ralph is shown on Jerry, the bull that carried him to New York from Brownsville, Texas, in 254 days.

HIS $15,000 FARM COST HIM 2 CENTS

Writes Washington, Finds Unclaimed Land.

Freemont, Neb.—A few weeks ago Irvin Bucklin, Fremont disabled war veteran, wrote to the Department of the Interior at Washington, asking for information as to government lands still open to homesteaders.

There was correspondence back and forth—a blue print or two and legal descriptions.

The upshot of this correspondence was that a few weeks ago Bucklin hauled a load of lumber for a cabin to a strip of choice land right in the center of what is generally known as the "bread basket of the nation." It is called this because the land is unusually fertile and especially adapted to wheat raising.

Within a few days after Bucklin had built his little cabin on the homesteaded property, L. O. Fitzsimmons of Fremont, husband of former Catherine Husenetter, who is a daughter of the original homesteader of the land in this area, came up to Bucklin's shack with a deputy sheriff and ordered Bucklin off.

He showed his papers. Bucklin said nothing, but next day he visited the sheriff's office and showed papers which tended to prove he had filed a homesteader's claim on the strip and had got clear rights from the government.

The sheriff blinked his eyes, but was finally convinced this was an amazing truth. Here was a strip of the finest land in Nebraska, right in the heart of the thickly populated section of the state which had been completely overlooked for forty years or more.

In all there is nearly a fifty-acre strip which was forgotten and to which Bucklin will receive his patent to the land as soon as he has proved it up, which will be on April 1. Conservatively the land is worth between $12,000 and $15,000. A nice gift from the government for only a two-cent stamp and a little figuring.

There was no road to the homestead and Bucklin was told that passing over adjoining land would be considered as act of trespass and would result in prosecution.

Find a Way Out—and In. Bucklin consulted county surveys and discovered that a field road that he desired to use was on the county line and in reality county property for use as a public highway. However, it has not been used in years and the Husenetter family had just appropriated the highway and were farming it.

Now, Bucklin has been assured of possession, access and exit to his new farm. All is cleared up now and he will have a deed to the land and be richer by many thousand dollars.

"I was just lucky," he said, while in his one-room shack on his newly acquired farm. "Nobody else ever happened to make inquiries I guess."

Recently he was offered $9,000 for the place but he says he is going to live on it with his mother and does not desire to sell at any price.

Roman Soldier of 400

A. D. Unearthed in Italy

Rome.—A sarcophagus of a warrior, one of the largest hitherto found, adorned with bas-reliefs representing battle and hunting scenes, was unearthed recently by workmen employed in digging drains in the city of Brescia.

On removing the lid which weighed over two tons, the body of a warrior was found still in a very good state of preservation.

Several tufts of reddish hair covered his skull, which was pierced on the left side by a spear thrust; his teeth were intact, as were the armor, helmet and sword.

Five bronze coins, greatly corroded by time but believed to belong to the Fourth century after Christ, were found clutched in the soldier's right hand.

3 Men Able to Push

417,500-Pound Engine

Boston.—Although weighing 417,500 pounds—slightly more than 208 tons—a new-type locomotive placed in service on the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad, can be pushed along a stretch of level track by three men.

The huge engine will be used for experimental purposes on a freight route between New Haven, Conn., and New Bedford, Mass. It is equipped with a new type of bearings.

Faces Life Term

in Theft of Copper

Shanghai.—Theft of a single copper worth only a small fraction of an American cent may bring capital punishment to Li Lin-fa.

Li is accused of nine robberies within a fortnight, ranging from $8,000 (Mex.) to one copper. The one-copper robbery was committed in company with two accomplices and, according to Chinese law, robbery in a group of three persons or more may be punished by death.

In view of the complete circumstances, the prosecutor has indicated that he will press for the extreme penalty in the small-out-of-the-size cases.

LIGHTS OF NEW YORK

A girl, pretty and young, rented a room in Brooklyn. It was in one of those houses where lodgers are permitted to cook their own meals and the girl was particular to see that the little gas stove was in working order. She paid a week's room rent in advance, as is the custom in such cases, went out and bought a small bunch of flowers, came back and put them in a glass, plugged the keyhole and door cracks, lay down and turned on the gas.

When at last they opened the gas-filled room, the girl was asleep forever. Her purse held a little money, but neither there nor on her clothes could any identifying mark be found. The police finally discovered, in the waste-paper basket, a torn and crumpled sheet of paper with the names of some illustrators on it. They visited the first one on the list, told him he would have to go to the morgue and see if he could identify the girl.

This didn't make much of a hit with him, as he is naturally a highly-strung, nervous fellow, but he took a friend with him and accompanied the police. For purposes of this story, we will call the friend John Doe. It was night. As the party reached the street, the policeman saw a large automobile and evidently knew the chauffeur, because they asked him to drive them around to the morgue. He said he would, as he was on his way back to the garage and had nothing to do. They told him the story and the name of the artist and his friend.

It seemed to the artist that the morgue was a dark and mysterious place.

They showed him the girl, and it was a bit of a relief to him to discover that he never had seen her before. When they came out and shut the door behind them, the automobile was still waiting. They started toward it, when suddenly from the dark doorway they had left, came a walling voice, saying:

"John Doe! John Doe!"

To say that the artist and his friend were startled would be to understate the case. Pale and trembling, they hung on to each other. A laugh came from the walling car.

"Don't be scared," called the chauffeur. "I just couldn't resist it. I once was a stage ventriloquist. I called 'John Doe' because I couldn't remember the other guy's name."

That is the end of the story, but I might say that the police never identified the girl. None of the artists whose names she had written down had ever seen her. Apparently she had thought of trying to get work as a model and had copied their names out of magazines or a telephone book. The car, by the way, was said to belong to a dignitary of the church.

Those who turn out articles under the name of some prominent person have become commonly known as "ghost writers." A new wave of interest in the collection of autographs, especially among schoolboys, has given this profession a new twist. There are now "ghost-autographers." If some of those most in the public eye stopped to write their names for all who ask, they wouldn't have time for anything else and also would develop writer's cramp. So substitutes autograph practically everything except their checks.

Although he happens to go with a crowd who have their shirts made, a man I know, for reasons of economy and because he thinks they are just as good, buys his at the nearest furnishing store. Everything is all right except the sleeves, which are always too long. For a couple of years he has been trying to persuade his wife to shorten them. The other day she met him with a smile, saying:

"Well, those shirts are all right now."

"Great," said the man. "You certainly were sweet to fix those sleeves."

"Yes," said the wife, "they'll be all right now. I bought you a pair of arm garters."

Some men went to a seaside resort to play golf and put up at a hotel. One of them, who takes his game very seriously, announced that he was going to bed early so that he would be fit to shoot the game of his life in the morning. The others gave him time to get to sleep and then called him on the telephone. One of them told the serious golfer he was sorry to disturb him, but that he was the trouble man of the telephone company and that a break in the circuit had been traced to his room. The man protested that he wanted to sleep, but was told that the break had put the whole circuit out of order and that repairs must be made at once. Would he stand a foot from the telephone and speak? Would he stand three feet away and speak? Would he go to the middle of the room and speak? The victim each time did as requested. Coming back to the telephone, he asked:

"Could you hear me then?"

"Yes," came the reply. "Now, please stand on your head and speak, and then go back to bed, you big mutt."

The golfer lay awake most of the remainder of the night trying to figure out the most painful death for persons who needed killing.

HE IS EVER DOWN, BUT NEVER IS OUT

"Worm-Man" Bucks Fate 32 Years on Hands and Knees.

Kimbloton, Ohio.—Down on his knees, the Quincy county worm man has crawled the mud trails of a hill wilderness around here for 32 years.

Humping along on knuckles and knees, through briar and mire, snow and summer dust, Homer Shuman has made his lowly, heroic way. Through it all he has earned a bread and has fed and reared his family of six children.

It was just 32 years ago, just a few days before Christmas, that the worm-brood was caught beneath a pile of rock in one of the gloomy mines burrowing for coal in his backwoods.

They carried Homer to his bride's back broken and legs crushed. The doctors told him he could not live the few days to Christmas.

Christmas came and went, and bleak months stretched ahead. Then the young wife told him of the new life that quickened within her.

Homer set his jaw. Quietly he made himself leather-pads for his knees, he put heavy leather over the toes of his dragging boots. He whittled out wooden buffers to keep his knuckles off the earth.

Then one day he set out for the mine again.

Thereafter awhile he found that he had an edge on the others. His shoulders and arms and hands grew mighty, bearing the burden of his crippled legs. He got so he could lie on his back and hack away all day with a hand pick under the shallowest veins of coal.

His first child was born. Through the years others followed. The strange figure became familiar to the scattered families along the trail between his cabin and the mine.

But the last few years his age—his fifty-five now—has begun to tell. No longer can he struggle with the long trail to his cabin. He now has a little shack close to the mine, which he and his son-in-law have rented. His wife brings meals to him. He spends the night in the shack alone.

And every morning at dawn he lowers himself into the mine, not to come up again until darkness has arrived.

Reclamation Payments Dodged by Settlers

Washington.—The federal government is handicapped in its development of reclamation projects by politicians who aid settlers in avoiding their annual payments, according to Reclamation Commissioner Elwood Mead.

Mead explained to the house appropriations committee, that while the government advances money to build reclamation projects under contracts with settlers to repay, that "many users do not regard these contracts as serious obligations."

"They expect and demand the aid of their senators and congressmen to help them escape payment. The result is that reclamation is a warring combination of politics and business."

Mead reported that, otherwise, conditions on reclamation projects were excellent. Crop values on reclamation projects increased $17,608,810 in 1929 over 1928, the total in 1929 being $101,179,880. The irrigated area in 1929 was 2,718,130 acres, an increase of 41,000 over 1928.

Minneapolis Man Thanks Judge for Five Years

Minneapolis.—Julius Johnson had his wish.

For the next five years he will be safe from the tolls of women.

When Johnson appeared in District court, facing the charge of abandonment, he voiced the hope that Judge W. C. Leary would place him on probation, but send him to jail.

"I'm through with women and want to go somewhere where there aren't any," he said.

Judge Leary sentenced Johnson to serve up to five years in Stillwater prison.

"Thanks, judge," Johnson said smiling.

Youths From Many Lands Students at Y. M. C. A.

Springfield, Mass.—The Springfield International Y. M. C. A. college was appropriately named, it is indicated by the composition of this year's total enrollment. The 135 students come from 22 different lands. America leads with 78. Russia has 14, Italy has 8, Lithuania and Cuba 6 each, Poland 4, Mexico, 3, Albania, Armenia, Colombia, Peru, Portugal and Spain 2, while Bulgaria, Croatia, Holland, England, Finland, Germany, Greece, Jamaica, and Norway have 1 each.

Dog Population Down

Red Wing, Minn.—Red Wing's annual dog census showed an alarming drop in the city's canine population. Last year 350 dogs were counted. This year only 80 were found and licenses had been paid on only 232.

New York.—According to statistics, Hunter college is the largest woman's college in the world and the sixth largest college in the United States.

Bears Five Crops

Bakersfield, Calif.—J. B. Henton boasts of the only tree local agriculturists ever heard of that bore five crops in one season.

LIGHTS OF NEW YORK

One great trouble New York department stores have is with returned goods. Either things look more attractive to persons at the time they buy them or, when they get home, they figure they really couldn't afford to buy what they did. Then the purchases are sent back. They tell me that one big department store has many thousands of things sent back each week. It is, of course, harder to return things at stores, which run no charge accounts, but customers get around this by having goods sent collect. Then, if they decide they don't want them, they merely decline to pay for them, and back they go.

It seems there is a class of customer who orders things while never having the faintest idea of keeping them. Merchants think they often do this to make an impression on the people they are with. These shoppers will ask the price of an expensive article and then languidly order it sent to them collect. When the purchase is delivered, they refuse to receive it.

At stores where charge accounts are run, there are cases on record where dresses have been sent back, which showed unmistakable signs of having been worn. Nor is this always done by poor customers. Some woman, whose account has been valuable to the store, orders a dress and wears it, only to have somebody tell her it is not becoming. If this type of customer returns an article, the store has to stop and figure whether the account is valuable enough to let the customer get away with it.

Henry C. Smith, of Duttons, told me of a case where a customer returned five books on bridge, for credit after having kept them five weeks. An even stranger case was that of a man who came in and inquired for some unusual scientific books. The store didn't keep them in stock, but at the man's request, ordered them. A couple of weeks later, he came in and the books were there. He said that he would like to examine them, so the clerk seated him at a table and left him. The man sat there for several hours, looking through the books and making notes. Then he quietly walked out of the shop and has not been seen since. The books are still on hand. The hotel the man had given as an address reported that nobody of that name had stopped there. The queer part of the whole proceedings is that he probably could have obtained the books at the public library.

But the existence of a book store is not all grief. One day a man entered a shop and asked that a collection of books on a certain subject be assembled. He would come back in a couple of days. The collection was made for him and he did come back and looked over the books carefully. They did not expect him to take them all, but when he laid three books aside, they were disappointed, as they thought that those were the only ones of the large lot he intended to buy. But he said he didn't care for those and asked how much the remainder amounted to. When it was figured out, the bill came to $4,800, as there were some rare and expensive books among them. The man drew his check for the amount and ordered the books delivered. That was a good sale.

There are some rare books in the circulation department of the New York public library. One book, for example, which may be taken home, just like any other volume, is listed in catalogues at $900. My informant didn't tell me its name.

Just as stewards on shipboard always try to seat Dean Cornwell, the mural painter, with church and college deans; so many persons introduced to Dr. S. Griswold Morley, famous archeologist, for the first time, begin at once to tell him their symptoms, under the impression that he is a doctor of medicine. More times than a few, he has been tempted to prescribe chloroform, without charge. Once, however, his scientific title stood him in good stead. He was taken to a hospital for an operation so immediate that there was no chance to ask him the usual questions of record. When the bill came in, he was pleased to see that they had made a deduction, giving him professional rates.

New York hotels have carefully been revising their credit accounts. The credit manager of one of them told me they suddenly discovered that possessors of city accounts, opened during those good old days in Wall Street, had moved, without leaving any addresses for the forwarding of bills. This discovery originally was made by the fact that checks for small amounts suddenly began bouncing back at the hotels that cashed them.

Dr. Frank H. Vizetelly calls one of his lectures "Spell of the Dictionary." I hope this lecture is not aimed at me and John Held, Jr. When Johnny Held can't spell a word, he just starts it with a couple of letters and then draws a wavy line. His secretary then has three guesses as to what he meant. As for me, Herbert Bayard Swope once said that I kept my spelling in my wife's name.

TO RENT

By THOMAS APKLE CLARK
Dean of Mass. University of Illinois.

The Culver house has been standing for a good many years. It was one of the first houses built in the town and one with which I was pretty familiar when a boy. We thought it an elegant place then, for the Culver family was one of the oldest and most aristocratic in the community. Like all such families are likely to do, they had disintegrated.

Marriage and death and a desire for change had each done its work and there was no member of the family left, and the house had passed into other hands.

I walked by it one day recently and there was a "To Rent" sign on the porch and in the window. The house still had character, though there were no modern touches in its architecture. But it was unkempt. Whoever now owned it had not recently spent any money in keeping it in repair, hoping, I suppose, to get a reasonable return upon his investment without sinking anything further in the property.

And yet there were great possibilities in the house. Its lines were excellent, its situation attractive, situated as it was far back from the street amid pine trees and overhanging elms. A little paint, a few repairs, a clearing up of the yard, and a few hours given to trimming the shrubbery and the trees, would have made the place beautiful as it had once been. As it is, it will stand a long time bearing the sign "To Rent." The man who owns it is not a good business man. Grant was a great horse trader in our rural community, and what is more uncommon, he seemed to prosper in the business. He could see more possibilities in a skinny ill-groomed horse than anyone else I have ever known. He would pick up one of these crows, feed him well, curry and brush him until, he used to say, he could see his face in the animal's glossy coat, and then sell him for three times what he cost. He believed that if he had anything to sell he should first put it into the best possible condition to attract attention. He put up no "To Rent" signs on rundown property.

More than 73,000 miles in a New Ford

THE substantial worth of the new Ford is reflected in its good performance, economy and reliability. Its stamina and endurance are particularly apparent in sections where bad roads and severe weather put a heavy extra burden on the automobile.

In less than a year a new Ford Tudor Sedan has driven more than seventy-three thousand miles over a difficult route. The operating cost per mile was very low and practically the only expense for repairs was for new piston rings and a new bearing for the generator.

The car carried an average load of 1200 pounds of mail and was driven 250 miles daily. "The Ford has never failed to go when I was ready," writes one of the three mail carriers operating the car. "The starter did the trick last winter even at 34 degrees below zero. The gas runs about 20 miles per gallon. At times I pull a trailer whenever I have a bulky load."

Many other Ford owners report the same satisfactory performance. Every part has been made to endure — to serve you faithfully and well for many thousands of miles.

State News in Brief

Port Huron—The plant, machinery and land of the defunct Michigan Salt Co., at Marine City, have been purchased by Jacob S. Goldman, of Port Huron. The plant will be dismantled and the land subdivided.

Cheboygan—Spring is just around the corner, in the opinion of Andrew Jarvis, of Cheboygan, who says he saw a flock of about 75 wild ducks flying north. Residents say this is the earliest that ducks have been seen here.

Belding—The Res-A-Dale Club a resort on Long Lake, has been sold by Harry Rhodes to Albert Race of this city, in exchange for the following: One dollar in cash; three rabbits; two cords of wood; one horse; 400 bushels of onions; 75 bushels of carrots, and one city lot.

Mt. Morris—Work has begun on the commercial airport to be developed on a 70-acre site, north of here by the Northern Aircraft Corp., of Bay City. The proposed hangar is to be 158 by 80 feet and will cost about $12,000. Runways are to be built after the site has been cleared.

Bellevue—The Farmers' State Bank has been taken over by the Bellevue State Bank which has purchased all the holdings of its competitor, including real estate. The transaction, which will give the village a single bank, will create an institution with deposits totaling $800,000.

Detroit—On the honor roll of stations which have remained on their assigned wavelength, deviating less than 100 cycles, are WJR and WMBC of Detroit. The report has just been made by the radio division of the department of commerce at Washington. Stations are allowed a variation of 500 cycles.

Pontiac—Stricken by a heart attack as a skidding car threatened to crash into his automobile Eli Ashby, route 1, Pontiac, died at the wheel. The automobile halted after jumping a curb and striking a tree. Francis Van Horn, 20 years old, was the driver of the second car. Ashby was serving on the circuit court jury.

Munising—Charles Korski, Michael Korski and Charles Raisanen, arrested by conservation officers, were convicted of having killed seven deer in the vicinity of Miners River for commercial purposes. Each was fined $100 and costs and given 30 days in the Alger County jail. In default of payment they will serve 90 days more.

Kalamazoo—The Rev. Henry W. Harvey, a retired minister, died suddenly at his home here. He was chaplain of the G. A. R. posts at Paw Paw and Allegan, where he formerly held pastorates, and for 15 years had been commander of the local post of the Grand Army. He had lived here 34 years. He enlisted in the 11th Michigan Cavalry when 16 years old and served throughout the Civil War.

Highland Park—One hundred recently naturalized citizens, who were graduated from the Americanization class of the Highland Park schools, were taken to Lansing in school busses recently. They were escorted by 148 friends and relatives in automobiles. The group filled the hall of the House of Representatives, where the new citizens were presented to Gov. Brucker by Mayor Shields, of Highland Park.

Detroit—A sentence of one to five years in the Detroit House of Correction was imposed by Judge John J. Maher on Mrs. Christine Stan, 20 years old, the first woman to be found guilty in Traffic Court on a charge of negligent homicide. Judge Maher recommended she serve one year. At her trial it was shown that Mrs. Stan last June 24, while driving a car equipped with faulty brakes and steering gear, struck and fatally injured Mrs. Nellie Kazark.

Lansing—Two bills providing for the consolidation of two or more counties or two or more townships, on petition of 5 per cent of the voters in each political unit and a majority vote in each unit, was introduced by Rep. James N. McBride, of Burton. Officers of the newly-formed county or township would be appointed by the Governor from those holding corresponding offices in the old political subdivisions and they would serve until their successors were elected in the next general election.

Mason—Mrs. Elias Culyer, 70 years old, died in a Mason hospital of burns suffered when a gas explosion blew the side from her home. Neighbors who heard the explosion broke in the locked doors, beat out the fire on Mrs. Culyer's clothing and carried her out. They reported she was tied in a chair near the gas stove, all burners of which were open. Officers said a note addressed by Mrs. Culyer to her husband indicated she had planned to take her life. A candle left burning in an adjoining room ignited the gas.

Lansing—Michigan's automobile license plates for 1932 will have white block numerals on a dark blue background. Frank D. Fitzgerald, secretary state, made this announcement, after committees from the House and the Senate had agreed with him that a plate of this type was the most desirable of several samples submitted by the Michigan State Prison at Jackson, which manufactures the plates. The plates will be put into production at once. High legibility is regarded as the chief merit of the plate selected.

Rhodes—Leroy Church, 65, is dead. Church was a Rough Rider under Theodore Roosevelt during the Spanish-American War.

Charlotte—The State Highway Department, which has been considering changing the route of U. S. 27 from Olivet to Charlotte, has decided to retain the route.

Grand Rapids—Funeral services for John Pylman, of Grand Rapids, killed by a former schoolmate, Patrolman Art Sakkers, were held at the Franklin Street Reformed Church, which he is said to have attempted to rob. Pylman formerly was an attendant at the church.

Menominee—Bill Leavick, of Daggett, Mich., chased the bee that stung him while he was cutting slashings in the woods. In his anger, he swung an axe at the bee, as it took refuge in a stump. The blow of the axe uncovered a cache of honey—40 pounds of it.

Monroe—Damage estimated at from $15,000 to $20,000 was caused by fire in plants three and four of the River Raisin Paper company here. The blaze started in waste paper and it was more than an hour and a half before it was brought under control. The loss is covered by insurance.

Lansing—Purchase for a public park of some portion of a 700-acre tract of land in Cass County known as the "Newton Woods" as the Conservation Department shall deem suitable, is provided in a bill introduced by Rep. Otis Huff, of Marcellus. The bill appropriates $60,000 for the purpose.

Blissfield—A post of the Michigan State Police may be established at Blissfield, according to the State Department of Public Safety. A representative of that office is negotiating for quarters here. The post at Tipton, also in Lenawee County, would be continued if funds appropriated by the Legislature are sufficient.

Jackson—Manufacture of an improved oilburner is to be started in Jackson in about six weeks by the Combustion Products Corp. moving its plant here from Columbus, Ohio. Clarence M. Day, of Jackson, is president and general manager. Machinery is now being moved into the plant of the Knickerbocker Manufacturing Co. here.

Jackson—Parole Commissioner Harold J. Waples paid his first visit to Michigan State Prison, joining Deputy Commissioner M. D. Kirby at hearings for 210 inmates. Paroles were recommended in 110 cases, with the stipulation that the prisoners may not be released unless they can give assurance they will have employment or maintenance outside.

Port Huron—Capt. John H. Oles, in charge of the local Coast Guard station, has been notified that work on a new Coast Guard station on the Fort Gratiot Lighthouse Reservation, for which Congress has appropriated $35,000, will begin in the spring. The present station is seven miles north of here on the shore of Lake Huron, where it is difficult to launch a lifeboat in a storm.

Roscommon—A message has been received here from R. C. Durant, former racing driver whose $350,000 home near Roscommon burned recently, giving assurance that he will "renew operations shortly which will add more to the community program than heretofore." The message was in reply to a telegram of regret sent him by Roscommon business men. Durant's statement was taken here to mean that the home will be rebuilt.

Rochester—The St. James hotel, probably the village's oldest landmark and a tavern more than 80 years ago when Rochester was an outpost in the wilderness surrounding Detroit, was gutted by fire which caused damage of between $2,500 and $3,000, according to Fire Chief George Axford. Although the two-story frame building was still in use as a hotel, it enjoyed its greatest prosperity more than 30 years ago when it was known as the Lambertson house.

St. Ignace—Bones found in the ashes of a cabin near here revealed the deaths of Isaac Payleo, of St. Ignace, and Jerry Klögine, of Cross Village. Klögine and Payleo were together in the home when Payleo's wife left to visit friends, with whom she spent the night. When she returned home the next day she discovered the cabin had been destroyed. Searchers found the bones of two men in the ruins. The cabin was a mile and a half west of St. Ignace.

Lansing—Michigan has fewer unnaturalized aliens than in 1920, in spite of an increase in the total foreign-born population of the state, according to census figures placed in the Congressional Record by Rep. Clarence J. McLeod. The foreign-born population, according to the 1920 census count, was 840,368, as compared with 726,635 in 1920. In 1920, however, 51.3 per cent of the foreign-born had sought and obtained citizenship, while in 1920 the percentage of those naturalized was 47.5.

Lansing—Few reports of hardship among Michigan farmers because of a shortage of water have come to the State Department of Agriculture, according to Peter Dukeshorer, deputy commissioner. "The summer and fall were unusually dry," said Mr. Dukeshorer, "and the rainfall and snowfall of the winter have been light, but the reports coming to us do not indicate a serious situation in this state. We do not believe conditions in Michigan will become serious unless the rainfall of the spring is less than usual."

For Street Wear

The ever smart black and white combination is the ideal choice for street wear. The narrow band of ermine that edges the flared bertha collar is a distinctly new note.

POTPOURRI

Mountain Etna, the Volcanic

Its base covering a circumference of more than 100 miles, Mt. Etna rises 11,000 feet above sea level. Two cities and sixty-three towns on this mountain make it the most densely populated part of Sicily. Its first eruption of record occurred in the Eighth century B. C. Eighty eruptions have since taken place, that of 1823 being very violent.

Teacher: Joseph, what are you going to give your little sister for a birthday present?
Joseph: I dunno, last year I gave her the measles.

"Why do old maids wear cotton gloves?"
"Because they haven't any kids!"

"What an innocent girl she is."
"Yes—it has taken her years to acquire that innocence."

"How do you like the clothes the girls are wearing?"
"Oh, they're not so much."

"So he's a musical cop."
"Sure thing. Why, he's so musical even his bullets sing."

Semper idem

"ALWAYS THE SAME" . . . a good slogan for any one of a thousand advertised articles whose superior qualities are maintained year in and year out.

Have you ever stopped to consider the time, patience, skill, money and experience invested in every one of the articles you see advertised in this paper? No matter what it may be—a lead pencil or an expensive automobile—the problems of maintaining and improving quality are constantly in the minds of those responsible for their manufacture. Quality must be maintained at all hazards. Quality must be bettered wherever and whenever possible. Price must be kept at a level that will insure the utmost in value.

Advertised goods must, and do, live up to their advertising. "Semper idem"—always the same. They cannot afford to vary in the least.

Trust advertised goods. Buy them Regularly. Read the advertising columns every day to learn what is new. Read them to know what others are buying. Read them to ascertain how you can save money and yet get better merchandise.

Peiping "Night Life"

Enlivened by Cabarets

Peiping China.—While the government at Nanking has issued a mandate forbidding western-style dancing in the capital, Peiping's "night life" has been stimulated by the addition of a number of Chinese cabarets, in which Chinese girl partners are available at fixed fees for each dance.

At the same time Chinese politicians who flocked to Peiping hunting for jobs in the new government are finding recreation in the foreign-style hotels.

For a number of years Peiping (then Peking) was satisfied with two "night clubs," in which Russian girls acted as partners. These cabarets had their ups and downs, but managed to keep going. Today they are profiting by the renewed activity.

But the latest novelties are the purely Chinese night clubs, of which there are now several. They are owned and operated by Chinese, with Chinese dancing partners, and their patrons are mostly Chinese. Managers who learned the business in Shanghai are in charge.

Sing-song girls in Peiping, who have had two bad years before the city again became a sort of capital, are determined to learn western dancing and qualifying as dancing partners. Several of them already have abandoned the old-style methods for the western innovation.

Woman Regains Eyesight When Teeth Are Pulled

Chicago.—For fourteen years Mrs. Lillian Wallace, thirty-eight years old, wife of a chef at the Great Lakes Naval Training station, had been blind in the left eye. Visits to expert oculists were futile and she was advised to have the sightless eye removed to save the good right eye. She refused.

Recently Mrs. Wallace had five teeth extracted. She went home and set the table.

Her jaw ached and to ease the pain she rubbed it. In doing so she covered her right eye. As she rubbed she seemed to brush away a web from the left eye. Suddenly the blurred image of a fork appeared. Then furniture and walls appeared. Doctors said that sight had been almost completely restored after a lapse of fourteen years.

Woman Recives Letter Mailed to Her in 1907

Wapanucka, Okla.—A letter written January 23, 1907, has just been received by Mrs. Susie E. Standifer at her home in Wapanucka.

The letter was written by the late Tams Bixby, chairman of the Dawes commission, which had charge of the allotment of lands of the Five Civilized Tribes.

It referred to a claim Mrs. Standifer and members of her family had filed on a Choctaw allotment. It stated the secretary of interior had denied the claim.

Mrs. Standifer was unable to explain the reason for the long delay in delivery of the letter.

VETERANS CROWD SOLDIERS' HOMES

Federal Wards Mostly Heroes of World War.

Washington.—Nearly 70 per cent of the men who are living in soldiers' homes in the United States today are veterans of the World war, and still in increasing numbers each year they call for help from the government for which they dared death 12 years ago. The World war veterans who seek the haven of the soldiers' homes, besides, are younger than the men of other wars who ask help. Their average age is estimated at thirty-four years.

From 1921 until 1927 the total population of the dozen homes averaged throughout the year from 12,500 to 14,000. In the fiscal year ending last July the total increased to 19,518, and November 30 of this year there were 28,908 inmates, including more than 5,000 on leave.

Once a man who became such a ward of the government was ranked a pauper, and his family kept his whereabouts secret. Today, however, there is an eagerness evident in the attitude of the veterans and of their relatives.

Welfare organizations and charitable groups have the same view. They believe they are doing a good work in getting veterans permanent homes in these institutions and they believe that needy veterans belong in the care of the government.

There are accommodations for 22,320 men in the soldiers' homes, and most of them today are caring for more than their capacity.

Briefs of the Week

Barney Milstein was at Bay City this week on business.

Miss Laura Helleman is home from Grand Rapids for a visit.

Miss Helen Severance was home from Saginaw over the week end.

Will Montroy and James Palmiter of Detroit are here for the Smelt run and visiting friends.

Henry Alexander of Sparta is here for the Smelt run and visiting former acquaintances.

Miss Cathola Lorraine of Midland spent the week end here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Lorraine.

Mrs. Ira Lee is expected home this week from Lockwood Hospital, Petoskey, where she underwent an operation.

Lutheran Young Peoples League will meet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Wagbo, Saturday, March 21st.

Mrs. Cort Hayes was taken to Lockwood Hospital, Petoskey last week and expects to undergo an operation this Saturday.

Mrs. Ida Pinney with daughter, Miss Ethel, and son, Glenn, have returned here from Muskegon and will make their home here again.

Mrs. Mae Ward with son-in-law, M. M. Caldwell, and E. J. Link were here from Lansing first of the week, guests of Mr. and Mrs. B. Milstein.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Enoch Hawkins of near St. Ignace, a son, Richard Albert, March 10th. Mrs. Hawkins was formerly Miss Lydia Beyer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Beyer.

James D. Frost and family, former East Jordan residents, who have been at Edinburg, Texas the past few months, recently moved to Lafayette, Louisiana, 510 Madison St., where Mr. Frost is now engaged in agriculture.

The East Jordan Fire Department was called out last Saturday to subdue a couple of minor blazes. The first at the home of Lewis Millman, Saturday morning was caused by sparks from a chimney igniting a part of a dormer roof. The second at the home of Leonard Dudley on the West Side at midnight was evidently caused by a defective chimney. Mr. Dudley and family had rebuilt their home on the West Side which was partially destroyed by fire a few months ago and had moved into their home the day before.

Special Communication of East Jordan Lodge No. 379, F. & A. M., Saturday night, March 14th, commencing at 8:00 o'clock. Work in the E. A. degree.

One of the best advertisers for East Jordan's Smelt Run is one of our former business men—Carl Stroebel, located at 12928 Michigan Ave., Dearborn, Mich., with a hardware store. Carl has a window display in his store with a quantity of smelt on ice, together with pictures of East Jordan and the Jordan River, a placard telling facts about the smelt run, and a map about 3 1/2 feet high, showing the route from Detroit to East Jordan. The window display is attracting hundreds of people daily, and he is kept busy detailing information to those interested.

J. A. Jackson of this city was honored on his 73rd birthday anniversary, Sunday, March 8th, by a gathering of his children and grandchildren, and one great-granddaughter. There were 25 people assembled at the dinner. Among those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Marion Jackson with children of Ironton; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Klooster and children of Horton Bay; Mr. and Mrs. Dan Swartz and Mr. and Mrs. Leon Brooks with daughter of Charlevoix; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stephens and children of Phelps. Mr. Jackson was remembered with many gifts.

Desire for Power

By THOMAS ARKLE CLARK
Dean of Men, University of Illinois.

George, who was twelve, was the oldest of the five Van den Berg children and made the most of his position. He felt that his mature age and experience gave him the right to give advice and directions and in no small way to control the actions of the younger members of the family. George very much enjoyed the power which his seniority gave him, and though the younger boys were often galled by his authority—it was easier on the whole to submit in most cases than to revolt and have a riot. It is the same point of view which we not infrequently assume in our more mature human relationships. We are irked by the arrogance of those who exercise authority over us, but we say nothing.

But George's authority was for the time being coming to an end. He was going off for six weeks to a summer camp and Fred, who was the next oldest in the family, was looking forward with eagerness to his own ascension to the throne. He had the desire to run things himself and he felt that with George out of the way it would be easy. When George was on the train and well on the way to camp Fred turned to his mother and remarked with a sigh of satisfaction: "Well, mother, it's a great relief to be rid of George." With George gone his desires for power were to have fewer inhibitions.

It is strange how many people want to be chairman of the committee, or president of the Rotary club, or head of this or that, and all because the position gives them some prominence or authority. There is never an office open that some one is not eager to fill it.

I had two letters in this morning's mail from members of an organization to which I belong. Each one wants to be national president of the organization, and they are sending out much literature, and expending much time and money to bring about that result. It is the thirst for authority, the desire for power which is urging them on, and they are quite willing to spend time and money to reach that end.

Two boys were in my office today. Each one wants to be appointed to a position of authority in college—a position which carries with it a considerable amount of power. But neither one has given much consideration to the responsibility which goes with authority and power. There is work to be done; there are decisions to be made; there are embarrassing situations to be met by those who have executive position and power, and it is these things rather than the honor attached which has always loomed up before me when I have considered any position of power or authority. Too many men whom I have known do not know how intelligently to use authority. They do not realize that power is sometimes the most delicate, the most dangerous, the most difficult thing to use properly.

AMERICAN HISTORY

The American History class is studying about the time when Taft was President. The history class at present seems more like a civics class. They are also studying about the election of Senators and things pertaining to voting.

ECONOMICS

The Economics class is now studying about Monopoly. They are finding out the different things that determine the market price. We'll admit that more than the Economics class are interested in market prices at present.

ENGLISH

The first year English class is still studying "The Lady of the Lake." They find Ellen Douglas, who is the lady of the lake, a very interesting character. We know how the "Freshies" love character study.

The second year English class is studying drama. We thought the "Sophs" knew how to act without studying about it, but their is always the essential parts.

Third year—Discoverley papers.

The fourth year English class is just starting a new section of their Literature and Life books entitled "The Voice of America." Some special reports are to be given Friday. They are "Autobiography and the Novel," by Jason Snyder, and "Elsie Singmaster," by Margaret Bayliss.

GRADES

First Grade—The farm project suggests for us the elements that help to make spring such a wonderful season. They tell us their meadow grass is growing rapidly and the farm animals are enjoying it immensely.

Second Grade—The second grade tell us they enjoy their new green curtains and wonder if we have noticed them. We'll let them know that they are very attractive.

Third Grade—The third grade is preparing for Easter. The attractive Easter posters are telling us this. They are also very much interested in the Dutch people.

Fourth Grade—The fourth grade had a program last Friday and it was enjoyed by all. There was some piano solos given by Louise Bechtold, Virginia Davis, Billy Inmann and John Pray. Some vocal duets were given by Betty and Helen Sturgell and Jane Ellen and Patricia Vance. Everyone agreed these people did very well. There was a dutch play given by six girls. A very attractive poster with a very attractive name has been started. The name of it is "Tulip Time in Holland."

Fifth Grade—We are now studying Holland. We are making posters, collecting pictures and reading about the Dutch people.

Miss Beeth is reading the story of "The Silver Skates."

The A-B-C reading classes are reading orally "The Dutch Twins."

In Language we had the picture, "The Orphanage," by Artz, a dutch artist. The scene was laid in a dutch orphanage.

We have some dutch flowers in the room. They are tulips and white and blue hyacinths.

The fifth grade received the statue "The Young Student" for the best attendance, but we are sorry to say not for the least tardy marks. We are trying hard this month to really earn the statue for both attendance and tardy marks.

Sixth Grade—A spell down was held last Friday and the heroine of the day was Violet Trumpour.

The sixth grade are now writing an essay on "The Bad Effects of Alcohol." Miss Clark will select the ten best essays, then she will have three judges choose the two best from these ten. The best two will probably be published in the local paper.

Some very interesting maps are being made of Charlevoix County.

Last week Alice Persons had 100% in Arithmetic every day.

The ones having 100% in spelling were: Thelma Looze, Ann Reich, Katherine McDonald, Ruth Sturgell, Jane Roberts and Winifred Zoulek. What's the matter boys?

The Health officer for this week is Jacklyn Cook.

DAIRY THE DAIRY

SUGGEST RATIONS TO LOWER COSTS

Use Wheat, Barley and Oats in Feeding Cows.

Dairymen can cut feed costs by substituting wheat, barley, and oats for corn and hominy feed in dairy rations, at present prices, and by feeding a grain mixture with a protein content that corresponds to the roughage fed, advises Prof. F. B. Morrison, head of the department of animal husbandry at the New York State College of Agriculture. He suggests formulas for use with various types of roughage for feeding dairy cows.

In these formulas wheat or barley may be used, depending on the local prices. For dairy cows these grains have substantially the same value, ton for ton. Since wheat is a heavy, concentrated feed, it is best not to use more than 600 pounds of ground wheat per ton of dairy feed. Also some bulky feed, like oats or wheat bran, should be included in the mixture.

Ground rye may be substituted for wheat or barley in these formulas. Since rye is usually not quite as palatable as these grains, it is best not to use more than 800 to 900 pounds of rye per ton of feed.

When little or no legume hay is used, feed a 24 per cent total protein mixture, as: 800 pounds of ground wheat or barley; 300 pounds of ground oats; 350 pounds of wheat bran; 350 pounds of gluten feed; 400 pounds of cottonseed meal; 200 pounds of linseed meal, and 100 pounds of gluten meal.

With mixed clover and timothy hay and corn silage use a 20 per cent total protein feed, as: 600 pounds of ground wheat or barley; 600 pounds of ground oats; 300 pounds of gluten feed; 200 pounds of cottonseed meal; 200 pounds of linseed meal; and 100 pounds of soy bean meal or gluten meal. With clover hay and corn silage only 18 per cent total protein is needed in the grain mixture, made as follows: 700 pounds of barley or wheat; 700 pounds of oats; 200 pounds of gluten feed; 200 pounds of linseed meal, and 200 pounds of cottonseed meal.

With alfalfa hay and corn silage the grain mixture can be reduced to 16 per cent total protein, containing: 800 pounds of ground barley or wheat and barley; 800 pounds of ground oats; 200 pounds of gluten feed; 100 pounds of linseed meal; and 100 pounds of cottonseed meal.

Fish Oil as Corrective for All Dairy Cattle

There is a possibility that dairymen will soon be feeding fish oils as generally as do the poultrymen. The latter feed cod liver oil to avoid rickets in growing stock, to hold the health of the laying flock and to improve hatchability. It is now being demonstrated that fish oil that is rich in vitamin D will result in healthier calves. Will increase the useful life of the cow and is, in a measure at least, a safeguard against breeding troubles. There is still an excess of cod liver oil over what is used for human consumption and for poultry. Investigations in the United States prove the pilchard oil, 4,000,000 gallons of which are produced annually from California sardines, is as rich in vitamin D as cod liver oil. Tuna oil, less abundant, is equally rich. Salmon oil is half as rich. The use of these oils in dairy rations should receive more attention from the research men on our experimental farms and in our colleges.

During First Two Weeks. Feed Calves Whole Milk

It is preferable to feed whole milk to calves during the first two weeks after birth, but in case this cannot well be done, whole milk feeding may be limited to one week. Small calves, such as Jerseys and Guernseys, should be given about seven and one-half pounds of milk a day. Larger calves, such as Holsteins, Ayrshires, Short-horns, etc., should be given ten pounds a day until they are at least two weeks old. If this cannot be done without too much trouble, two feedings a day will suffice, but a little smaller quantity of milk should be given. That is, a calf that will consume seven and one-half pounds a day in three feedings should not be given more than about six and one-half pounds a day in two feedings. Overloading the calf's stomach should be carefully avoided. See to it that the milk is always fed at an even temperature of about 95 degrees Fahrenheit.

Mixture for Cows

A grain mixture for cows can be compounded from three or four feeds, but a variety of five to seven grains is advisable. Such a mixture will usually be more palatable and carry plenty of bulk, both features necessary to get the best results. A mixture that is palatable will stimulate the flow of digestive juices which in turn will mix best with the ration when it is bulky. In this way the grain mixture is more thoroughly digested and the best results are obtained.

REGISTRATION NOTICE.

FOR ALL ELECTIONS HELD APRIL 6, 1931

To the Qualified Electors of the City of East Jordan, State of Michigan.

Notice is hereby given that in conformity with the "Michigan Election Law," I, the undersigned City Clerk, will, upon any day except Sunday and a legal holiday, the day of any regular or special election or primary election, receive for registration the name of any legal voter in said City not already registered who may APPLY TO ME PERSONALLY for such registration. Provided, however, that I can receive no names for registration during the time intervening between the Second Saturday before any regular, special, or official primary election and the day of such election.

The last day for General Registration does not apply to persons who vote under the Absent Voters' Law. (See Registration by Affidavit.)

Notice is hereby given that I will be at my Office under Postoffice on—TUESDAY, MARCH 17th, 1931 the 20th day preceding said election.

As provided by Sec. 3, Chapter 3, Part II, P. A. 806, Session of 1929. From 8 o'clock a. m., until 8 o'clock p. m. on each said day for the purpose of REVIEWING the REGISTRATION and REGISTERING such of the qualified electors in said CITY as SHALL PROPERLY apply therefor.

Notice is hereby further given to the Qualified Electors of this City that I, the undersigned Clerk of said City, will register qualified electors who may apply at my office on any business day in the year up to and including SATURDAY, MARCH 28, 1931—LAST DAY—

For General Registration by Personal Application for Said Election.

The name of no person but an ACTUAL RESIDENT of the precinct at the time of registration, and entitled under the constitution, if remaining such resident, to vote at the next election, shall be entered in the registration book.

REGISTRATION BY AFFIDAVIT Sec. 10—Registering of Electors: Regular Session of 1925—Any absent voter, as defined in this act, whose name is not registered and who shall claim the right to vote by absent voter's ballot at any election or primary election, may at the time of making application for absent voter's ballot, present to the City Clerk an affidavit for registration which shall be in substantially the following form:

AFFIDAVIT FOR REGISTRATION
STATE OF MICHIGAN,
County of _____,

I, _____ being duly sworn, depose and say that I am a citizen and duly qualified elector of the _____ Ward of the City of _____ in the County of _____ and State of Michigan; that my postoffice address is No. _____ street, or R. F. D. No. _____ P. O. _____ that I am not now registered as an elector therein and that I am voting by absent voter's ballot at the election (or primary election) to be held upon the _____ day of _____ 1931, the application for which ballot accompanies this application; that I make this affidavit for the purpose of procuring my registration as an elector in accordance with the statute that I make the following statements in compliance with the Michigan Election Law: Age _____; Race _____; Birthplace _____; Date of naturalization _____ I further swear or affirm that the answers given to the above questions concerning my qualifications as an elector are true and correct to the best of my knowledge and belief.

Taken, subscribed and sworn to before me this _____ day of _____ 1931.

Signed _____ Notary Public in and for said County, State of Michigan.

My Commission expires _____ 1931. Note—If this acknowledgement is taken outside of the State, the Certificate of the Court that the person taking the acknowledgement is a notary must be attached.

REGISTRATION OF ABSENTEE BY OATH.

If any person whose name is not registered shall offer and claim the right to vote at any election, or primary election, and shall UNDER OATH, state that he or she is a resident of such precinct and has resided in the WARD TWENTY DAYS next preceding such election, designating particularly the place of his or her residence and that he or she possesses the other qualifications of an elector under the constitution; and that, owing to the sickness or bodily infirmity of himself or herself, or some member of his or her family or owing to his or her absence from the City on public business or his or her own business, and without intent to avoid or delay his or her registration he or she was unable to make application for registration on the last day provided by law for the registering of electors preceding such election, then the name of such person shall be registered, and he or she shall then be permitted to vote at such election. If such applicant shall in said matter, wilfully make any false statement, he or she shall be deemed guilty of perjury, and upon conviction, be subject to the pains and penalties thereof.

Provided, That any city may provide by its charter or by resolution approved by a majority of the members of its legislative body for the registration of such sick and absent voters on the last Saturday preceding any election or primary election at the places of voting in the several voting districts of such city, instead of on election or primary election day.

PROVISION IN CASE OF REMOVAL TO ANOTHER PRECINCT.

Any registered and qualified voter who has MOVED from ONE ELECTION PRECINCT of a Ward to another election precinct of the same Ward shall have the right, on any day previous to election day, on application to the City Clerk, to have his or her name transferred from the registration book of the precinct from which he or she HAS REMOVED to the registration book of the precinct in which he or she THEN RESIDES. Such elector shall have the right to have such transfer made ON ELECTION DAY, or Primary election day, by obtaining from the board of inspectors of election of the precinct from which he or she HAS MOVED a CERTIFICATE OF TRANSFER, and presenting the said certificate to the BOARD OF ELECTION INSPECTORS OF THE PRECINCT IN WHICH HE OR SHE THEN RESIDES.

Dated February 28, A. D. 1931.

Last Requests

19th Century: Leave me if you must, but spare our family honor!
20th Century: Leave me tomorrow, but leave me plenty of alimony.

"How much are you worth?"
"Five thousand dollars in Canada."
"How so?"
"That's what the government offers for my return."

One: How come women can't vote in England until thirty?
Two: Who ever heard of a woman acknowledging she was of age until she was at least thirty?

WHAT A WORLD OF GRIEF IT SAVES YOU

WE KNOW a seed house that proves each season's crop of seeds in their own trial gardens before they offer them to the public. Flowers and vegetables grown from these seeds must measure up to definite standards, or else the entire crops from which the samples were taken are burned.

We know a manufacturer of dry batteries who tested a new product two years before he sold a single battery to a single dealer.

We know a manufacturer of an anti-freeze solution for automobile radiators who spent two years testing his product under all conditions before he said a word in advertising about the merits of his goods.

We know a manufacturer of household pharmaceutical products whose self-imposed standard of purity and efficacy is even higher than that laid down by the United States Pharmacopoeia and the National Formulary.

If we mentioned their names you would recognize them immediately. You probably would say, "I plant those seeds," "I use that battery," "I use that anti-freeze," "My medicine cabinet contains those products."

Those four instances cited are typical of every reliable manufacturer in America. Millions of dollars are spent annually to develop, to improve, to standardize, and to take the guesswork out of merchandise. Other millions of dollars are spent in advertising to tell you about them.

All of which is to say that in putting your trust in advertised merchandise you save yourself the bother, the expense, the disappointment—yes the danger—of experimenting and discovering for yourself which make of soap, breakfast food, radio tubes, lingerie, gasoline, tea, electrical device, stationery—or what-not—give you the most service for your money.

The news columns of this paper keep you informed of the latest international, national and local happenings. The advertisements keep you informed of the newest, most advantageous, most reliable merchandise that America's most progressive makers are producing.
