CATTLE HARM GRASS IF PASTURED EARLY

Turning stock on pasture before the grass has a well-established top and root growth will result in damage to the pasture and will reduce the season's total of feed from the pasture lot which is the cheapest source of nutrients for milk and meat production.

Cows on good pasture can produce milk at a cost of 10 cents per day but the grass must be thick and have a good growth to enable the cow to gather enough grass in a few hours to supply feed to maintain her body weight and to manufacture a profitable amount of milk. If the cow has to range over a large area to get the required amount of grass, part of the nutrients obtained are wasted in providing energy for the cow.

A 1000 pound cow which is producing 25 pounds of milk daily will need 100 pounds of grass each day. An area of pasture 40 by 40 feet will produce this amount if the grass is eight inches tall. Sweet clover has become a very popular pasture crop for dairy cattle in Michigan. It grows rapidly and contains a better supply of protein and minerals than the pasture grasses. Cattle very seldom bloat on sweet clover pasture and they eat this plant readily after they become accustomed to it.

Records in the dairy department at Michigan State College show that 10 cows produced 192 pounds more butterfat on sweet clover pasture than the same animals produced the preceding year on ordinary pasture grasses.

Infant Daughter of Harry Kowalske Passes Away

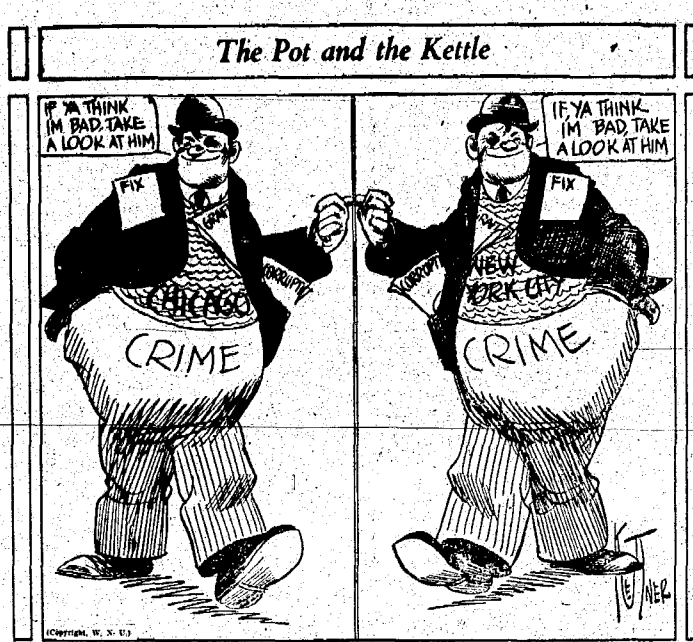

Marjorie Jean, infant daughter of Harry Kowalske, passed away Thursday night, April 9th, at the home of the child's aunt, Mrs. Manuel Bartholomew at Cherryvale. She was born Feb'y 23rd, 1931, and her mother died a few days later, Feb'y 28th. Funeral services will be held from the Bartholomew residence this Saturday afternoon at 1:00 o'clock standard, conducted by Rev. James Leitch, pastor of the M. E. Church. Interment at Sunset Hill.

Detroit—Two hours after she drank poison on the grave of her baby in Mt. Elliott cemetery, Mrs. Karoline Strychartz, 31 years old, died in a hospital. She was found unconscious on the grave and rushed to the hospital. A card in her purse identified her. Her husband, Steve, said she had brooded ever since the child's death last June.

Saginaw—Saginaw Valley coal miners are idle and 1,200 miners are out of work, because miners and operators were unable, after several weeks negotiation, to agree on a new wage scale to replace one expiring April 1. The mine operators offered the miners a scale carrying a reduction of approximately $1 a day, asserting they could not operate the mines at the old wage rates. The miners demanded continuance of the wage scale in effect for two years.

Port Huron—As an aftermath of the dynamiting of the Radike dam in Belle river, March 26, 1929, a suit for $5,000 was instituted by Frank Witnicko, owner of the Radike mills, against four men. The four, William Raymond, Frank Wagner, Norman Vanantwerp, and Sylvester Clink, two years ago, pleaded guilty to the destruction of the dam, saying that the dam prevented the seasonal migration of fish in the river. The men were released on probation.

Battle Creek—A new flying fraternity, the Calhoun Pilots association, has been organized at Battle Creek. Its membership is open to all transport, commercial and private pilots living in Battle Creek or the remainder of Calhoun county. The purpose of the organization, it has been announced, is to safeguard the interests of pilots through unified action and to promote confidence in aviation. E. A. Goff, Jr., prominent in Calhoun county aeronautical circles, has been elected president.

OPEN POTATO PITS TO EXAMINE STOCK

Michigan potato growers who stored their seed stock in pits last fall are advised by members of the farm crops department at Michigan State College to examine the pits immediately to determine whether frost injury has damaged the seed to an extent which makes it necessary to buy seed from the restricted supply now available in this State.

At the present time, there is a small amount of certified seed for sale, there is a moderate supply of No. 2 size potatoes from the certified stock; and there are some uncertified potatoes grown from certified seed but the crops men predict that all of these classes of stock will be exhausted before planting time.

Considerable field frost injury in the pitted potatoes makes them unsuitable for seed. The injury will be shown by flabby tubers and by discolored spots, usually near the stem end, in the flesh of the potato. If it is necessary to use seed from frost injured stock, every tuber showing flesh discolorations should be discarded when the seed is cut.

The pitted stock as well as other seed potatoes should be green-sprouted before planting. Spread the potatoes in a layer four to six inches deep on a barn floor where they will have plenty of light and will not be chilled. The seed should be left on the floor for about two weeks and should be treated with corrosive sublimate before it is placed there. All potatoes showing weak white sprouts should be thrown out.

KITE FLYING IN OPEN SPACES IS DESIRABLE

Go to the open spaces for kite flying, do not use wire strings, and stay away from electric wires and pole lines.

This is the advice that electric companies are giving young America in an endeavor to prevent accidents incident to following the popular sport of kite flying.

The dangers from kite flying are said to be increasing each year with the added congestion in city areas where tangled kite strings tempt boys to climb poles and other structures not intended for youthful explorers. The use of wire flying strings is said to be a modern development in kite flying that is a most dangerous practice, as contact with almost any overhead wire is apt to result in accident from electric shock. Especial warning is also given against the flying of kites with metal frames. Some cities have ordinance against the flying of such metal kites within the corporate limits of cities.

The companies point out that they do not mean to discourage or prohibit the pleasure that comes to a boy from flying his kite, but they do advise that an open space should be used for the purpose and that in no case should wire strings be substituted.

Benton Harbor—Jane Filstrup, 20, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Filstrup of this city is queen of the fifth annual blossom festival to be staged here and in St. Joseph the week of May 4. Miss Filstrup was selected from among 33 contestants by a committee which included Carol Frink of the Chicago Herald and Examiner, Ben Bernie, noted orchestra leader and Frank Carideo, Notre Dame football star. Mildred Griffin, 18, of Kalamazoo was runner-up in the competition. Like Miss Filstrup she is a blonde, as were 15 other entrants.

Flint—Road building in Genesee County this year will cost much less than the average of former years, it was announced by the road commission after tabulation of bids received recently. Estimates on 12 1/2 miles of concrete showed a low bid of $21,250. The previous bid had been approximately $30,000 a mile. Costs of inspection extras are eliminated in both figures. The bids received on 12 1/2 miles of gravel roads show a cost of less than $4,000 a mile, against $9,000 previous average and $17,000 during war times.

"I should think Josephus would get a lot of fun out of his old flivver."
"Why?"
"Because there's so much play in his wheel."

"Why are you fishing in that swamp? There aren't any fish there."
"That's the reason. I don't want to be bothered by them."

Discuss White House Ancestors

56 COUNTY FARMERS KEEPING ACCOUNTS

The farmers of Charlevoix County again justify our belief that they are as progressive and efficient as are found in any section of Michigan, by their desire to keep an accurate account of their farm situation. Within the last few weeks 36 Farm Account Books were closed for the year 1930, and that many farmers DON'T GUESS any longer, but know what they are doing.

Furthermore, 20 farmers are keeping records for the 3rd year in succession, 16 are entering their 2nd year and 20 are starting for the first time.

My only regret is that more farmers don't keep records. The following are taking advantage of the opportunity of KNOWING and not GUESSING. The number following the name indicates the year in the project. Those from Charlevoix are: H. L. Francisco, 1; Arlo Wickersham 1; George Block 1; James Block 1; Mrs. Fred Moline 1; Charles Mascho 1; Louis Shapton 1; Harold Hamlin 2; Milo L. Kane 2; L. D. Welsheimer 2; D. E. Ingalls 2; Datus Dean 2; Ecklund Brothers 2; Oakley Saunders 3; George Meggison 3; H. C. Newman 3; Lee Sneathen 3; Richard Paddock 3; Mrs. Orson Cook 3; W. K. Straw 3; and Charles Withers 3. Co-operators from East Jordan are: R. V. Liskum 1; James Nice 1; Herbert Gould 1; Earl Bricker 1; Harry Daugherty 1; Ludwick Larson 1; Mark Saunders 2; Ole Omland 2; Ray Loomis 2; Art Nicloy 2; Walter Heileman 2; Robert Sherman 2; and George Nelson 2; Orval Bennett 3; Douglas Tibbitts 3; and Dan Swanson 3. Those from Boyne City are Clifford Peck 1; Mrs. Lewis Lochman 1; Tracy LaCroix 1; Roy Hardy 2; Albert Bathke 2; H. E. Sommerville 2; Harry Behling 3; Howard Stephens 3; Clyde Clute 3; Burt Lumley 3; Robert Tainter 3; Mrs. E. T. Davis 3; Henry Korhase 3; and Mrs. T. J. Smith 3. Mrs. Henry Hair 1; and Wm. Hair 3, are from Bay Shore. From Boyne Falls, Carl Clark 1, and O. H. Nuckles 1, and Clyde Kent 1, of Clarion.

Rochester—An infection developing after he cut himself while shaving caused the death here of Cecil O'Dell, 19-year-old son of George O'Dell. The youth was an eagle scout and was graduated last year from Rochester High School.

Coldwater—A fisherman, Lawrence Seags, spearing on North Lake, near Coldwater, speared a pike whose gullet and stomach contained the following fish: a six-inch perch, an eight-inch bluegill and an 11-inch black bass. The big pike weighed .18 pounds.

Peru—The local shops of the Pere Marquette Railway have resumed operations, calling back the force of 72 men laid off some weeks ago. The schedule at the Ionia shops during the months of January, February and March has been 10 days of work per month.

Kalamazoo—Alice, 10-year-old daughter of Carl Roby, of near Lawrence, died in a hospital here of burns suffered when her clothing caught fire as she stood near a heating stove. The child's mother suffered serious burns on her arms when she attempted to beat out the flames.

Petoskey—Louis Chingwa and Jonas Gibson, Chippewa Indians, of this city, were killed instantly when they were struck by a Pere Marquette switch train; Authorities believe they had been sleeping on the railroad tracks. A broken bottle that had contained denatured alcohol was found near the bodies.

Are the department store elevators the "shoplifters" we read about?

SPRING WEDDING AT ST. FRANCIS CHURCH, TUESDAY

One of the most charming spring weddings, which was marked with the utmost dignity, was that of Miss Mary Kortan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anton Kortan of East Jordan, and Frederick J. Hoffman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hoffman, of Petoskey, which took place Tuesday morning, April 7th, at 8:00 o'clock in the St. Francis Church.

Standards of Easter lilies, carnations and roses interspersed with cathedral candelabra, holding burning tapers, provided a stately setting for the solemn nuptial high mass celebrated by Rev. Donulus Evers, assisted by Rev. Engelbert Biemek as deacon and Rev. Aubert Keuter as sub-deacon.

The choir of twelve voices, accompanied by Mrs. Linda Pochtman, pianist, and Mrs. Earl Kneal violinist, sang a beautiful mass following the wedding ceremony. The bride was charming in a white satin lace gown. Her veil of tulle was caught with a beautiful wreath of orange blossoms. She wore slippers to match her gown and carried a bridal bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley interspersed with maiden hair fern.

Miss Anna Kortan, who attended her sister as maid-of-honor, wore a salmon pink chiffon gown with matching slippers and hat. Her bouquet was formed of sweet peas and carnations. Miss Regina Hoffman, sister of the groom, was the bridesmaid and wore a pink gown with hat and slippers to match. She carried sweet peas and carnations. The groom was attended by his brother, Eugene Hoffman, as best man, and Frank Kortan, brother of the bride.

A 1:00 o'clock dinner followed the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents at East Jordan. Dinner covers at one long table, prettily embellished with vari-colored spring flowers surrounded with tapers, marked places for twenty-three guests. After an extended honeymoon trip in the East, Mr. and Mrs. Hoffman will reside in Petoskey.—Petoskey News.

Gibbons Finally Wins Title

Mike Gibbons, Jr., son of the famous old "St. Paul Phantom," former middleweight title confederer, became handball champion at the University of Detroit the other day. With the winning of the title, Mike, Jr., broke a spell that has hung over the Gibbons family for years, viz.: that no member of the famous boxing family ever won any kind of sports title. His father was generally regarded as the leader in his division, although he never held the championship, due to no-decision bouts. What was true of Mike Gibbons was also true of the other member of the famous boxing family, Tom Gibbons, who was looked upon as the most clever boxer among the heavyweights, yet not quite good enough to be champion.

AFTON SCHOOL NOTES

A number of the children have been ill with colds. Only a few names are on the Honor Roll for attendance this month. We hope that with the fine spring weather, our attendance will be normal again. The pupils neither absent nor tardy during March were: Martha Guzniczak, Billy Guzniczak, Evelyn Hardy.

Miss Conglin, the county nurse, called at Afton School a week ago. We are always glad to see her.

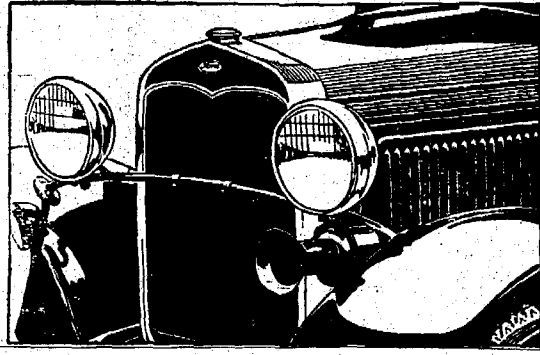

A party was held at the Afton school on Friday afternoon in celebration of Easter. The children read Easter poems and compositions which they had written, after which they had a fine time hunting for eggs in the yard. After a short time for outdoor play the children went inside to find an Easter nest with a bountiful supply of candy and popcorn for each one. Their guests were: Laurel Timmer, Mrs. Roy Hardy, Mary Guzniczak, Christabel Sutton, Mrs. O. D. Smith and Johnny Guzniczak.

Bill: Mary wears less clothes than any girl I know.
Till: I'd say she was a girl without much honor.

Dr. Arrowsmith: Think your son will soon forget what he learned at college?
Mr. Babbitt: I hope so.—He can't make a living drinking.

ANOTHER EXAMPLE OF FORD VALUE

Bright, enduring RUSTLESS STEEL is used for many exposed bright metal parts of the Ford

WHEN YOU BUY a Ford you buy enduring beauty. The body finish is made to last for the life of the car and practically all exposed bright metal parts except the bumpers are made of enduring Rustless Steel.

This Rustless Steel has great tensile strength. It is the same bright metal all the way through. A salt test equivalent to forty years' service under the severest weather conditions failed to have any effect on its brilliance. It never requires polishing. All you do is wipe it with a damp cloth, as you do your windshield.

This is just one of many features that show the substantial worth of the Ford. In speed, comfort, safety, economy and long life—in the richness of its finish and upholstery—it brings you everything you want or need in a motor car at an unusually low price.

Five Telephone Employees Awarded 1930 Vail Medal

Four Michigan men honored for action in emergencies that resulted in saving lives. Operator receives medal for aiding in the capture of armed bandits. 1—Clarence J. Tietsma, cable splicer, Grand Rapids; 2—Mrs. Minnie Haas, operator at Romeo; 3—Glenn Bettens, lineman, Houghton; 4—Laurance Earl Harvey, splicer's helper, Flint; 5—William L. Rabe, repairman, Detroit.

THEODORE N. VAIL MEDAL IN BRONZE AWARDED TO FIVE

FOUR MEN AND ONE WOMAN EMPLOYED BY MICHIGAN BELL CITED FOR UNUSUAL SERVICE

INITIATIVE AND PROMPT ACTION OF TELEPHONE WORKERS SAVE LIVES; OPERATOR AIDS IN CAPTURE OF BANDITS

Burch Foraker, president of the Michigan Bell telephone company, announces the award of the Theodore N. Vail medal in bronze, for 1930, to five employees of the company—four men and one woman—for outstanding acts of service in moments of extreme emergency. They are Clarence J. Tietsma, Grand Rapids cable splicer; Glenn Bettens, Houghton lineman; Laurance Earl Harvey, Flint splicer's helper; William L. Rabe, Detroit repairman, and Mrs. Minnie Haas, Romeo operator.

The four men will receive the Vail Medal for the exercise of unusual initiative, quick action, and the application of methods learned in telephone company First Aid classes, which resulted in the saving of human lives, three from drowning and one from asphyxiation. Mrs. Haas is cited for rendering material aid in the capture of armed bandits.

Awards of the medals in bronze, silver and gold are made under the Theodore N. Vail Memorial Fund, created eleven years ago in memory of a man whose life-work was devoted to the development of universal telephone service and who inculcated into the Bell System many of its high ideals of service. The silver and gold medals are national awards. Since the establishment of the fund, 48 bronze medals have been awarded to Michigan people, 44 of them employees of the Michigan Bell company and four employed by connecting telephone companies. Two silver medals have been awarded Michigan people.

Clarence J. Tietsma, Grand Rapids, is cited for prompt action and courage, and the application of first aid, in saving the life of a young woman. While on a raft in Big White Fish Lake, near Plerson, Michigan, last August 4, he heard the girl call for help and saw her sink, approximately 100 feet distant. Mr. Tietsma swam to the spot, dived and brought her to the surface, and started with her toward the shore. He was met by a row boat, into which the girl was placed. He applied artificial respiration and, unaided, restored breathing. Prompt action, and persistent application of first aid by Glenn Bettens, of Houghton, saved the life of a ten year old boy August 3. While bathing in Portage lake, near Hancock, he was attracted by the screams of children, who pointed toward deep water, where he saw the head of a child disappear. Swimming to the spot he recovered the boy at a depth of 12 feet. Returning to shore, he applied artificial respiration. Continued effort resulted in the restoration of normal respiration and consciousness.

Potts: "I hear your daughter married a struggling young man." Totts: "Well, he did struggle, but he couldn't get away."

A similar citation was made in the case of Laurance Earl Harvey, Flint splicer's helper. While swimming in Bush lake, near Holly, August 4, he witnessed an accident in which a young woman, stunned and unconscious, fell into the water. He sent for a doctor, applied artificial respiration, and directed others in helping him restore consciousness, which was accomplished after more than an hour of continuous effort. Later he learned that the young woman was a fellow employee.

William L. Rabe, Detroit repairman, saved a woman from death by asphyxiation. While using a telephone in a gasoline station on May 27, he overheard a girl appeal to the attendant for help in gaining entrance to the home of her grandmother because she had been unable to arouse the elderly woman and feared for her safety. The attendant and Mr. Rabe forced entrance through a window, and found the house filled with gas and the woman unconscious. Mr. Rabe applied artificial respiration and restored consciousness.

Mrs. Minnie Haas, night operator at Romeo, is cited for initiative, prompt action and the exercise of good judgment in emergency. While on duty at 3:30 a. m., October 19, she received a call from a gasoline station owner, asking that the village marshal be summoned. She switched on the police call light and, after repeated effort, located the officer by telephone. As a result, the marshal and members of the Michigan State Police surprised four men in an attempt to gain entrance to the gas station. Shots were exchanged, one man was wounded, two were captured and two escaped. Mrs. Haas called rural line subscribers and a small connecting telephone company in the direction she believed the escaped bandits likely had taken, and both men were captured because of the alarm she spread.

The four telephone men are holders of certificates awarded jointly by the American Red Cross and the Michigan Bell Telephone company upon completion of first aid training conducted by the company. Letters of commendation for noteworthy acts also were recommended by the Michigan committee of award for Wilbur C. Marsh, cable splicer, and Oscar B. Holcomb, his helper; Carroll L. Bills, lineman; and Foster I. Huber, assistant division traffic engineer, all of Grand Rapids.

It was customary for the congregation to repeat the twenty-third Psalm in unison, but invariably Mrs. Spielfast would keep about a dozen words ahead of all the rest. "Who," asked a visitor of an old church-member one Sunday, "was the lady who was already by the still waters while the rest of us were lying down in green pastures?"

No matter how unhappy a woman is in her own marriage, she always wants her daughter to marry.

BUS COMPETITION HITS RAILROADS

Bankers Association President Asks if Unfair Aid is Given Motorized Transport—For Rail Mergers.

NEW YORK.—Fair treatment for the railroads in respect to highway motor competition was called for by Rome C. Stephenson, President American Bankers Association, in a recent address here. He also strongly endorsed "sound economic railway consolidation" and praised President Hoover for his initiative in this respect. "I am very strongly of the opinion that one of the measures which would help materially to put back business where it ought to be is the Eastern four-system plan of railroad consolidation as announced recently following negotiations instituted by President Hoover," said Mr. Stephenson. "Its adoption by the Interstate Commerce Commission would tend to stabilize the transportation industry, facilitate operation and exert a favorable influence on business in general.

"It is a fact well known to business leaders that our railroads are now facing a crisis. Not only do they need protective laws to meet competitive situations arising from increased use of our highways and waterways by other carriers, but they need unification such as the proposed four-system plan provides. Our President has acted wisely in assuming a leadership in this respect and his move deserves the support of every clear-thinking citizen."

Mr. Stephenson declared that the railroads have served this country "so superlatively well that we are prone in our public affairs to overlook our dependence upon them and our obligations to them. The past, present and future progress of the United States is inseparably bound up with their welfare. In neglecting just consideration for them we are even more neglectful of the public's best economic interests.

A Question of Public Interest
"We are confronted with the question as to how much more the public economic interest will stand an invasion of the welfare of the railroads by forces and difficulties not of their own creating and not within the scope of their own unaided powers to combat," said Mr. Stephenson. "I refer especially to new competitions that are undermining the hard-earned position of the railroads, not only with the aid of natural economic forces but also through the aid of government policies which, positive or negative, tend to give these competitors undue advantages over the railroads.

"It goes without saying that the railroads have no right, nor claim any, so far as I have been able to discern, to complain at legitimate competition in the field of transportation, for the public is entitled to the best possible transportation at the lowest practical cost. But equally does it go without saying that this cannot be fairly brought about by using, or by failing to use, the taxing powers of government to enable competitive methods of transportation to do things they could not otherwise do as unaided private enterprises, particularly when such action impairs the invested rights held in good faith by great masses of our people in established enterprises that are serving the public well."

Mr. Stephenson said it was not his purpose to argue against such competitive transportation as the highway passenger motorbus and motor truck as such, when conducted under proper conditions and in keeping with public welfare and benefit. He declared, however, there is need for serious consideration whether such competition is being developed under conditions that are unfair to the railroads, because either the outright or obscure aid of government policy is the deciding economic factor in that competition.

Would Investigate Bus Traffic
Railroad rights of way, he declared, represent tremendous capital investments, on which the railroads have also heavy current costs to meet. "They pay every day a million dollars in taxes and most of this is on their rights of way," he said. "Also they spend daily over two million dollars additional for the proper maintenance of way." He asserted that the motorbuses have not had to pay for their rights of way in any sense that the railroads paid for theirs.

"They have simply taken possession of public highways built by public funds, both state and national," he continued, "and they have extensively made those highways vastly less comfortable, less safe and less serviceable for private motorists and others who are contributing chiefly to their creation and maintenance."

Mr. Stephenson declared that all these matters should be thoroughly inquired into by competent public bodies, both state and national, with a view of determining the equities and basic public economic interests involved, "particularly in respect to their effects upon the nation's railroads."

DISTINCT SPEECH

By THOMAS ARKLE CLARK
Dean of Men, University of Illinois.

In general it is safe to say that when one speaks he should do so in such a clear and distinct manner as to be understood. There may be instances when irritated or excited or confronted with sudden disaster one mumbles under his breath words or sentences which he would as lief his wife or the children or the minister or the boss did not hear, but these are times of stress as it were. All teachers of speech come down heavily upon the principle that distinctness of utterance is essential to any successful speech. Generally we understood what people are trying to say to us.

I came out to Evanston on the elevated not long ago. I am only fairly well acquainted with the stations on the way, and I am never quite certain how many stops there are before one arrives at Central street. I sat near the conductor and tried to make out what sounds he was attempting to utter. I have some physical weaknesses, but deafness is not one of these. I was never able to understand the name of a single station. There was a pause and silence at each stop while the passengers were getting off and getting on—a silence which he might have taken advantage of in announcing the next station. But this opportunity did not make any appeal to him. It was not until the confusion of slamming doors and jostling brakes and the roll of wheels was at its height that he got around to shouting the name of the next station.

Craig is said to be one of the greatest authorities in the United States on his particular subject. He is called in by all sorts of organizations to give advice and suggestions. As a lecturer in college, however, he is almost a total loss. He drops his head when he talks and his sentences fade away into almost complete silence. No one in his classes beyond the third row have the slightest idea what he is talking about. He might as well be speaking in Sanskrit as English for all his students get. Some one ought to take him in hand and teach him to speak distinctly.

GRATITUDE

By THOMAS ARKLE CLARK
Dean of Men, University of Illinois.

I have no doubt that people in general feel a greater sense of appreciation for their friends than they usually do. It is gratification or gratitude or whatever you please to call it for the many favors or courtesies which they receive from the hands of press. The Boy Scout is under obligation to do a gratuitous kind act daily. I believe it would be a fine thing to organize a society which should have as one of its tenets that each member orally or in writing should every day give expression to some words of gratitude for kind acts received. It is quite as much a duty to acknowledge a courtesy as it is to offer one. Nothing gives me more pleasure than the unexpected gratitude of some one to whom I have shown, consciously or unconsciously, some little attention.

For instance, I had in this morning's mail a letter from Dunken who has been out of college two years or so, and has in reality almost passed out of my memory, so slight was our acquaintance. I had indirectly been responsible for his getting a small loan in his senior year which tided him over a financial difficulty and kept him from leaving college before graduation. His note was to thank me for the service I had done him and to say how much the money had meant to him. He had met the obligation before it was due with the hope that some other unfortunate might be helped as he himself had been. I suppose I had officially and otherwise been able to help a hundred boys out of a hole who had taken the service as a routine attention to which they were entitled, but here was one who was grateful and who had expressed his gratitude.

I suppose there are reasons why more people do not do as Dunken did—carelessness, ignorance, laziness, procrastination—you can name a few yourself, but be that as it may, it is a good business procedure to make acknowledgements; it cements friendships, it gives the people pleasure who have shown us the attention, and often it suggests to them the obligation to do the same things.

Gratitude sincerely expressed is a lubricant which tremendously aids the smooth running of all sorts of social and business machinery.

INVENTOR OF BOMB TURNS TO BULBS

Mills' Story Forms Interesting Bit of History.

London.—In a beautiful garden on the French Riviera, Sir William Mills, inventor, is forgetting the WWI war, whose horrors were multiplied by the bomb his brilliant brain devised.

More than 75,000,000 Mills bombs were used during the war and military authorities said their effectiveness threatened to replace the rifle. However, the seventy-four-year-old inventor got little but thanks and a knighthood for his work. He maintains he lost money through his invention.

The story of the bombmaker is an interesting one. In April, 1915, after he had spent thousands of dollars in experimental work, government experts were convinced of the effectiveness of the bomb and ordered 50,000 supplied quickly. By working day and night Mills was able to deliver 8,000 the following month.

In 1921 Mills asked one English penny for each of the 75,000,000 used as a commercial royalty, but the royal commission on awards to inventors granted him approximately $138,000.

Two years ago, in contesting a tax action by the government, Mills said he had been given orders for the manufacture of only 4,000,000 of the bombs, from which he derived a net profit of $390,485. On this amount he paid an income tax of $80,265 and an excess profits tax of $365,710, leaving an excess of taxes over profits of $87,490 and in addition was paying a supertax of $50,000.

The master of rolls expressed his sympathy with Mills' predicament, but said sympathy could not affect the question of law and Mills was ordered to pay.

The change from bombs to bulbs was an easy one for the inventor, who has maintained an interest in horticulture for years. He is a collector of art and books, of which he has an extensive knowledge.

To Divide Five Pups Is Odd Issue Up to Jurist

San Francisco.—The judge who hears the divorce suit of Mrs. May Ellen Bruton will have to be a Solomon. He's going to be obliged to divide five pups between two persons.

The five small fox terriers were named as community property by Mrs. Bruton in her suit for divorce filed by Attorney S. M. Modry.

Mrs. Bruton charged Arthur J. Bruton, a roofer, with cruelty. He falsely accused her of associating with other men, was jealous, and failed to provide for her, she claimed. Also, he made her nervous when they went automobile riding, by driving too fast and cutting in, she says.

The Brutons were married October 6, 1923, in Reno, and separated September 18, 1930. The plaintiff asks a divorce and half the community property, which consists of furniture and automobiles—and the five pups.

Scottish Schools Ban Stories of the Flood

Glasgow.—The story of the Garden of Eden will in future be omitted from the religious teaching given to pupils on the elementary schools here. Stories dealing with Noah and the flood, the sacrifice of Isaac by Abraham, and other Old Testament subjects also are to be banned as unsuitable for young children. They will be given instead a simple story based on the life of Christ. It is to be told sympathetically and left to make its own impression.

The narrative of the fall of Adam and Eve is to be omitted from the teaching of junior pupils. Senior pupils will be taught the story of Jesus as a hero, then as a friend, and finally as the Saviour.

The new teaching is based on the revised code agreed between the Church of Scotland and the Educational Institute of Scotland.

University Builds Model High School for Students

Columbus, Ohio.—A model high school, which will employ the newest methods in efficient instruction and will embody an economical arrangement of classrooms, laboratories and offices, is being built on the campus of Ohio State university for $450,000. The new building will be a teachers' training school and an experimental plant. It will offer high school and preparatory instruction to 450 pupils, assuring them the most advanced principles of scientific teaching. It will be completed by January 1, 1932.

Halve Diamond Output to Maintain Price Level

Paris.—The chief diamond producers of the world agreed to cut their output in half to maintain the existing price level.

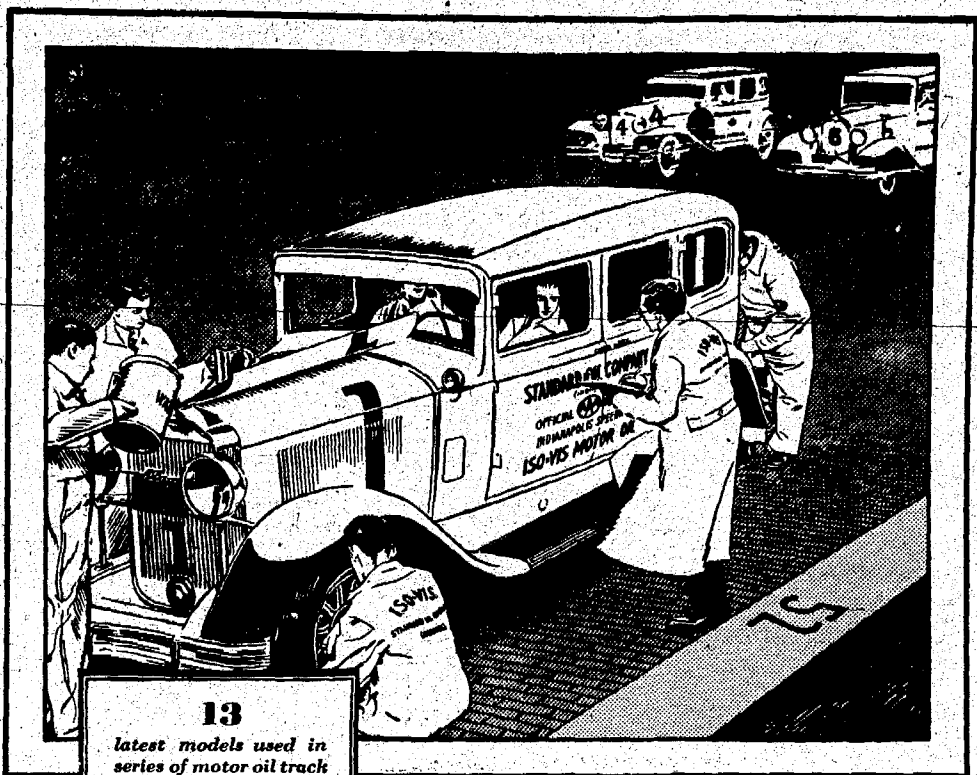

The decision was reached at Amsterdam recently by the international diamond commission and was ratified by the Amsterdam Diamond association. Hereafter diamond cutters will work only one week out of two.

"Kissing Booth" Barred at Carnival for New Gym

Palo Alto, Calif.—They called it a "mystery maze that promises to be intriguing," but authorities held that Stanford university girl students, seeking to raise $20,000 by a carnival for a new gym, could not maintain "an old-fashioned kissing booth."

This is probably the most thorough and comprehensive lubrication study ever made.

The Contest Board of the American Automobile Association conducted the work and is compiling the results for certification. Car manufacturers sent representatives to the track for observation.

Here are some of the technical questions included in this study:

- 1 Extent to which motor oil thins out in the crankcase?
  - 2 Effect of speed on oil consumption?
  - 3 Volume of carbon formed with various grades (viscosities) of oil at different speeds?
  - 4 Engine wear at known speeds with various grades of motor oil?
- Soon these cars will take to the road on extensive individual tours. These tours will serve a dual purpose. First, to deliver to automobile dealers the certified results of the lubrication study and give them the privilege of inspecting their car. Second, to carry on the lubrication study under the identical conditions that your car faces every day. Watch for these cars. Inspect them if you have the opportunity.

The broad scope and thoroughness of this work explains why Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is able to provide you with motor oil that meets exactly the lubricating requirements of your car.

Five Improvements In Horsehide Workshoes

Perfected By Wolverine

Made of Shell Cordovan Horsehide—the longest-wearing leather. Dries soft after soaking. Remains scuffproof. Fifty percent greater resistance to acids. Try on a pair today.

Here is the best value in a work shoe we know—the Shell Cordovan Horsehide work shoe made only by Wolverine, America's leading tanners of horsehide. The leather is taken from only one-sixth of the hide, just the part over the horse's hips. Men tell us a single pair often wears as long as two or three years! That's because of the shell beneath the hide. It smooths off and shows no sign of wear for months.

For farm or shop work—for hunting, too—you'll find Wolverine ideal. They dry soft after walking through water and slush. They're double-tanned to defeat acid burns and scuffs. And they're mighty hard to rip or tear. All styles, ankle-lengths to knee-highs, flexible or grease-filled soles. One trial will win you. Come in today.

Save Money When You BUY A NEW ROOF!

Here's a Simple Yet Sure Way To Do It

When a salesman representing some unknown or out-of-town company comes to your door to talk to you about putting on a new roof don't be fooled into signing a contract right away. Don't sign anything right away, for if you do you will probably get "stung."

In fairness to yourself, have the salesman submit a written bid for the work, have him specify the number of squares that are required to cover your roof, the style* of roofing he proposes to use and last but not least, HAVE HIM SUBMIT A SAMPLE CONTAINING AT LEAST TWO SQUARE FEET OF THE MATERIAL HE INTENDS TO USE. Then have the salesman sign the bid, but DON'T YOU sign it.

Tell the salesman to come back a few days later. Meanwhile secure bids from the local lumber dealer. Nine times out of ten you will find that the local lumber dealer can give you a better job of better material at a price 25% to 50% lower than is offered by the out-of-town roofing salesman.

Don't be fooled by statements made by salesmen who try to tell you that local workmen can't do a good job of roofing. Local workmen who have built most of the homes in this community can certainly apply roofing as well and in most cases better than the so-called roofing specialists.

BE SAFE, DON'T SIGN RIGHT AWAY. If the salesman is sincere and honest he will be glad to submit a bid and leave a sample with you. But, if he tries to talk you into signing right away and tries to give some excuse saying he won't be able to come back later—then he is the man you want to avoid.

*NOTE: Slick salesmen have been fooling the public and selling ROLL ROOFING as SHINGLES. There's a big difference between ROLL ROOFING and SHINGLES that your lumber dealer will explain.

Ypsilanti—Students at Michigan State Normal College held a benefit athletic exhibition for Roger Arnett of Owosso, student who was critically injured while en route to Notre Dame for a track meet. Arnett was taken to University of Michigan Hospital. He suffered a broken vertebrae which caused paralysis of the legs.

Birmingham—Because Durwood Mills, 23 years old, bought an automobile with $50 given him by the county poor commissioner for train fare to St. Louis, where he said he was to work on his father's farm, he was sentenced to from one to 14 years at Ionia reformatory. He said his father needed his help but that he lacked funds to reach his home.

Jackson—Frank Dalton, awaiting trial as a fourth offender under the Habitual Criminal Law, sawed the lock from the door of his cell in the County Jail, while three deputies sat within 20 feet, and escaped. Dalton was in his cell when a check was made and was missed a half hour later. Deputies said he walked from the cell room through the jail pantry and kitchen and out a rear door.

Muskegon—Two girls, sisters, have pleaded guilty to arson charges for the burning of a neighbor's barn. The girls, Barbara, 17 years old, and Diamond Malavazos, 21, of Sullivan Township, pleaded guilty to firing the barn of Gus Larson. They were motivated, they said, by the hope their act would discourage Larson from occupying the property. They accused him of using rough language to their younger brother.

Ann Arbor—We're off on a trip to see the world, a group of runaway boys told police before being returned to their homes in Detroit. Stanley Madij, 13, Joseph, 15, his brother; Henry Machanski, 13; Walter Horbowy, 13; and Anthony Jablonowski, 13, were arrested by police while seeing the sights of the town. The five told officers they were on the first leg of a trip to California and had left home without informing their parents.

Later he was an instructor at West Point. He leaves his wife and one son, Arthur Reichert, the latter in the flying service of Hawaii.

Muskegon—Walter Henry, 24 years old, suffered severe cuts when he kicked a bandit from the running board of his car. Henry and Miss Florence Johnson, his fiancée, were driving south of the city when an armed bandit leaped to the running board of the car and shoved a pistol through the partly open window. Henry kicked at the robber, he said, shattering the glass of the window, but knocking the bandit to the road. Henry's leg was cut by the glass.

Newberry—Deer are being killed by a pack of wolves in the deer yards in the Tahquamenon Swamp, north of McMillan, according to Adam Mesick, caretaker at the Hatch Camp. Mesick says he has found eight deer, freshly killed. He believes there are a dozen or more wolves in the locality. The swamp at present is impassable. H. P. Williams, of Munising, predatory animal officer, has been summoned but it is believed little can be done to capture or kill the wolves unless there is freezing weather.

Detroit—The Immigration service here has recommended that eight persons be sent to their homelands by the Government under its plan to provide passage for aliens here less than three years, who are suffering from the economic depression. Most of these were heads of families, who will take their families with them. There were seven Scotsmen and one German in the group. William Bagley sought recognition for return to England, but the fact that he arrived here Feb. 25, 1923, less than a month over the time limit, disqualified him.

ONLY FLYING LION IN WORLD GROUNDED

Gilmore Grows Too Large to Fit in Airplane.

Los Angeles, Calif.—Gilmore, the only flying lion in the world, who has traveled 25,000 miles by air in the last nine months—is on the ground for good.

He took his last ride from United airport here recently with his master, Lieut. Col. Roscoe Turner, in the Gilmore Lockheed monoplane which practically has been his "home" since he was four weeks of age.

When Turner "adopted" Gilmore the animal was a furry little cub, barely tipping the scales at 17 pounds.

But he is almost full grown now—125 pounds of African lion, with the start of a mane, growl and all.

His size, however, is all that cut short his air career. Turner points out Gilmore's disposition is remarkable and at the age of ten months he still allows strangers to pet him and is as playful as when he used to take nourishment from a bottle instead of indulging in his present diet of six pounds of fresh meat daily.

Just because he is going to lose his place as Turner's air mascot does not mean that Gilmore is to be relegated to an ordinary cage on a lion farm or in a circus.

A special arena, playground, house and all, has been completed for him at a cost of $2,300 at the corner of Fairfax avenue and Beverly boulevard.

"It's going to be as tough on me as on Gilmore—his having to give up flying," Turner declared.

"I have become attached to him. He has been a model air passenger and I'll miss him plenty, particularly on long solo flights. He has hardly been out of my sight during the time I have had him. He still minds, is as affectionate as ever and only his size is against him."

Among Gilmore's most noted flights were the transcontinental hops of last May, in which Turner piloted the Lockheed to a new east-west record, and the nonstop air race from here to the Chicago national air races last September.

On these and many other trips Gilmore wore a special parachute which Turner could have opened preparatory to dropping him overboard had the occasion arisen for a midair escape.

Gilmore has been a "guest" in practically every major hotel in the country, and some in Canada and Mexico, during his travels with his master. He stayed in Turner's room, ate choice steaks and, so to speak, has had a lion's share of thrills and happiness during his short life. He was born at Goebel's Lion farm. His mother is named Queen and his father Andy, who recently was poisoned.

From now on Gilmore will have plenty of time to rest in his special home, but he is "grounded" for keeps and will only be able to cast an envious eye as swift craft skimming overhead to recall the days when he was in his way a hero of the skies.

Cold Weather Freezes Up Pet Turtle's Neck

Ely, Nev.—After withstanding weather extremities for 500 years, a turtle owned by Roy Rigsby just got too cold and froze up.

Old age may have something to do with it, but when Rigsby went out to feed his pet one morning he couldn't find its head. He turned the turtle on its back and found the wrinkles on the head projection apparatus frozen tight in perfect accordion platts.

He placed his pet in an oven to thaw out and shipped it to a southern Nevada ranch, where turtle care and comfort is a specialty.

Pastor Quits After 21 Years; Gets Job as Clerk

Oklahoma City, Okla.—Rev. Newton H. Royer, former pastor of the First Lutheran church here—a post he had held for 21 years—was not unemployed long. Royer resigned recently as the result of a controversy over his "modern and liberal" views among his congregation. He has secured employment as a clerk in the office of Paul Huston, assistant county treasurer.

Swedes to Drag River in Search for Historic Bell

Lulea, Sweden.—Search will soon begin for a 400-year-old church bell which was accidentally dropped into a river near here when transported across in a rowboat in the sixteenth century. Farmers and village officials of Langtrask, through which flows the Klockan, or "Bell river," are hoping to find the relic and hang it in their church.

He is the Valedictorian of the class while Christine DeMaio came a close second with 3.48%. The highest rating is 4%. Both of these people have had to work very hard in this four year race. Although they have had their good times. Ask Francis. Ask him if he doesn't like throwing erasers when the teacher isn't looking. Francis has played in the Orchestra for four years and in the Band three years. He has also helped in all the work for athletics. Selling tickets, taking tickets at the door, etc. We are glad that both Francis and Christine have the highest honors of the class. Lois Healey rated third in this contest with 3.45 per cent. #### HOME ECONOMICS DEPT.

The eighth grade girls have been divided into groups. Next week each group is going to serve a breakfast. They are busy planning for it now.

The ninth grade girls have studied care of clothing. They are now studying the care of their bedrooms. All the girls are doing this as home project work. They find that the home is the ideal situation for forming correct habits.

The tenth grade girls have finished the study of habits children of different ages should form. Now they are studying suitable stories for them.

Ruth Stallard, Eva LaLonde and Florence Weaver conducted a nursery school during spring vacation as one of their home projects.—Gwen Malpass

VICTORY FOR US

The eighth grade the other Friday played the "Freshies" and came out with a victory of 16 to 12. The 8th grade basketball girls are going to play the "Sophs" this Friday. We are all eagerly looking forward to the outcome.—Margaret Baylies

ECONOMICS

In Economics class they have been studying money and prices. How to find index numbers and how the value of money is determined is being discussed.

ALGEBRA

The Algebra classes are still studying about fractions and finding the algebraic sums of different numbers.—Eloise Davis

ENGLISH

Miss Perkins read to her seventh grade English class some poems written by the smaller children. After reading the poems to her class they thought it would be interesting if they might try their hand at this work. The outcome was very interesting. We may yet produce another great poet. Here is a sample of some of their efforts:

SPRING

By Ruth Bulow

Old man Winter has been chased away
Everything now is happy and gay.
The birds are so busy building their nests,
Everybody's hustling, no one's at rest.

Bright old sunshine looks down upon us.
He laughs and snickers and purifies the dust.
The children are playing and having great fun.
Come on everybody, let's be on the run.

Throw away your old woollens,
Put on your spring clothes.
Come on everybody, get that air up your nose.

WEARY OLD WINTER HAS GONE

By Anna Mae Thorsen

Birds are singing in the trees,
Hopping in the breezes,
For weary old Winter has gone.
Tulips are growing,
In sunshine they're glowing.

For weary old Winter has gone.
Green is peeping out of the ground,
Trees aren't dropping so very sound,
For weary old Winter has gone.
Birds have been singing,
Fat worms are crawling,
For weary old Winter has gone.
—Margaret Baylies

GRADES

The second grade have adopted the name of the Happy Sunbeams. They have a large chart made with the sun of yellow paper and the rays or sunbeams out from the outer extremities. Each sunbeam has the name of one person of the grade. When they are naughty or whisper without permission as Harry Hammond did, a dot is put on the beam beside the person's name or a cloud has enveloped that sunbeam.

Third Grade—The pupils are studying birds, robins, woodpeckers and bluebirds. They are also drawing pictures and writing stories of them. They have a new pupil, Elmer Richardson. Blanche Davis and Jean Campbell were tied selling tickets for the P. T. A. play. They were the only pupils who sold.

Fourth Grade—The third division started reading their new books, "Facts and Fancies." They like them very much. All the pupils are finishing their Easter posters this week. They started them week before last but did not get them finished.

"Not at all. But only on the condition that you do not tell him mine."
"Remember that cherry tree you sold me last fall?"
"Yeah, how is it?"

WHAT A WORLD OF GRIEF IT SAVES YOU

WE KNOW a seed house that proves each season's crop of seeds in their own trial gardens before they offer them to the public. Flowers and vegetables grown from these seeds must measure up to definite standards, or else the entire crops from which the samples were taken are burned.

We know a manufacturer of dry batteries who tested a new product two years before he sold a single battery to a single dealer.

We know a manufacturer of an anti-freeze solution for automobile radiators who spent two years testing his product under all conditions before he said a word in advertising about the merits of his goods.

We know a manufacturer of household pharmaceutical products whose self-imposed standard of purity and efficacy is even higher than that laid down by the United States Pharmacopoeia and the National Formulary.

If we mentioned their names you would recognize them immediately. You probably would say, "I plant those seeds," "I use that battery," "I use that anti-freeze," "My medicine cabinet contains those products."

Those four instances cited are typical of every reliable manufacturer in America. Millions of dollars are spent annually to develop, to improve, to standardize, and to take the guesswork out of merchandise. Other millions of dollars are spent in advertising to tell you about them.

All of which is to say that in putting your trust in advertised merchandise you save yourself the bother, the expense, the disappointment—yes the danger—of experimenting and discovering for yourself which make of soap, breakfast food, radio tubes, lingerie, gasoline, tea, electrical device, stationery—or what—not—give you the most service for your money.

The news columns of this paper keep you informed of the latest international, national and local happenings. The advertisements keep you informed of the newest, most advantageous, most reliable merchandise that America's most progressive makers are producing.
